1"-rain drowns drought

Heavy showers usher in spring to wet West Texas

By CAROL BALDWIN
 Staff Writer

The first day of spring dawned sunny and clear this morning but rain clouds soon moved into the area, bringing showers by mid-morning.

The spring rains brought hope that this year would be a good one for area farmers, ranchers and the local economy.

Area residents were reporting about 1 inch of rain today following late afternoon showers Tuesday. The total to date, according to the U.S.-Big Spring Field Station located north of the city, is 2.75 inches.

At this time last year the county was locked in a devastating drought and had received only .44 inches of rain by the first of April.

But this year, the total is running above the yearly average of 1.68. That, coupled with heavy fall rains, are indicators of a better chance at good cotton for the coming season, according to area farmers and agriculture officials.

Larry Shaw, a farmer in the Knott area, was reporting 1.2 inches of rain Tuesday. That brings his total for this year to 3.4 inches of rain.

Red Thomas, who lives near downtown Big Spring, said he received 1 inch of rain Tuesday.

Mrs. John Couch, a resident on the Gail

Route, said, "The rain really did come down" at her home late Tuesday. She received 1 inch of rain Tuesday and estimated the year's total at 2.8 inches.

Tommy Hart, who lives on the city's east side, was reporting .9 of an inch this morning. He estimates the year's total at 3.4 inches.

Residents on the city's southwest side were reporting about 1 inch of rain Tuesday and heavy accumulations in low-lying areas of roads and gullies.

A call to the Phinzy Ranch, on the Gail Highway near the Colorado River water shed, revealed about .6 of an inch of rain fell in that area Tuesday.

2 men charged in death

By KEELY COGHLAN
 Staff Writer

Police filed murder charges late Tuesday afternoon against two Big Spring men in the March 8 beating death of an 81-year-old retired woman.

Charged with murder and burglary of a habitation were Joe Angel Martinez, 22, of 808 Magnolia and Jorge Eloy Chavana, 21, of 817 W. Eighth.

Justice of the Peace China Long set bond for the murder charges at $75,000 each. She set bond for the burglary charges at $10,000 each. Both men remain in city jail.

The charges came after a two-week investigation by detectives Erwin Ballarta, Tony Chavez, Victor Brake and supervisor Sgt. Bud Jones, according to Police Chief Rick Turner and Capt. Lonnie Smith.

"It's the best detective work I've seen," Turner said of the investigation. "They haven't taken a day off since the assault, and they've worked 18-hour days."

According to Turner, Martinez and Chavana on March 5 hit Maurine Terrell, 81, of 1400 Scurry in the head with a blunt object. She died at 5 p.m. March 8 in the intensive care unit of Lubbock General Hospital, according to a hospital spokesman.

Both Chavana and Martinez are "considered participants" in the beating of Mrs. Terrell, Capt. Lonnie Smith said. Mrs. Terrell suffered a severe indented fractured skull, according to Dr. Don Crockett, who treated her at Malone-Hogan Hospital before she was transferred to Lubbock General.

Because the two allegedly committed the murder during the commission of the burglary, the grand jury could upgrade the charges to capital murder in an indictment. Capital murder carries a possible death sentence on conviction.

"The three detectives came up with all kinds of evidence and paperwork and we have to sift through it," said Assistant District Attorney Jeanene Walker today. "We felt it would be safer to charge them with murder until we see what kind of (additional) evidence we need (for a capital charge) and the grand jury meets."

Both Martinez and Chavana have made statements voluntarily to police about the murder, Turner said. Both were advised of their rights by Justice of the Peace Willie Grant before making the statements, Smith and Jones said.

Neither Chavana nor Martinez were named by Mrs. Terrell before she lost consciousness, police said. One of the two accused men did not know her at all, and the other may have known her through a relative, Smith said.

Smith and Ballarta said the motive for the killing was theft or

83 victim of 'no pass' rule

Staff reports

The "no pass, no play" rule that requires students to master all of their subjects with a grade of 70 or above before participating in extracurricular activities has knocked 83 students out of programs at Big Spring High School for the fifth six-week grading period, according to Bill McQueary, principal.

The rule is part of the educational curriculum package approved by the State Legislature last year. The rule went into effect during the fourth six-week grading period.

McQueary said the grading period affects "just those programs which are happening right now." The 83 students ineligible to play this grading period represent 21 percent of the total 384 students enrolled in extracurricular activities.

Activities not in season now, such as basketball and football would not be affected by these grades, he explained.

McQueary had a breakdown of activities affected by the "no pass, no play" rule. There are 135 students enrolled in the Big Spring High School band program. Of that number, 33 students, or 24 percent, failed a course during the last grading period and are ineligible to participate in any rehearsals or competitions after school hours.

In the choir program, 87 students are enrolled. Of that number, 16 students, or 18 percent, failed to pass all of their courses.

In literary events, 25 students have been participating in various events. Of that number, two students, or 8 percent, failed a course during the last grading period.

Twelve students participate in varsity baseball and all 12 students passed all of their courses during the last grading period. In tennis, all 15 participants passed all of their courses. In both sports, all students may continue through the next grading period.

In junior varsity baseball, 17 students enrolled to play and three students, or 18 percent, failed a course during the last grading period.

Happy Birthday, Bach

World goes for baroque on composer's 300th

By CAROL BALDWIN
 Staff Writer

There's going to be quite a party tomorrow as thousands of people gather in concert halls and churches to celebrate the 300th birthday of composer Johann Sebastian Bach.

The celebration locally will take place at First United Methodist Church, according to John Wilson, minister of music. Music lovers have been preparing for the special birthday for months.

Bach, one of the most celebrated composers in history, was born in Erfurt, Germany. The composer died at age 65 in Eisenach, Germany, in 1750. He did not enjoy the fame during his lifetime that has been generated in the years since his death. He, more than anyone, might be a little surprised at all the hoopla that surrounds his birthday.

But Wilson thinks a celebration of Bach's birthday is a fitting tribute to "the father of church music."

Wilson and church leaders from around the city will host a local birthday party to the legendary composer at noon in the youth hall of First United Methodist Church.

The party is opened to everyone in the community. Wilson advises everyone to bring their own "Bach's lunch." Coffee and tea will be provided.

No birthday party is complete without a birthday cake, and there will be one at the church tomorrow, Wilson said. After singing "Happy Birthday" to the great composer himself, everyone will move into the sanctuary for a taste of Bach's music.

Merry Lee Wilson and Keith Ross are organists for the celebration. Ross will play, "Tocatta Fuge in D Minor," and Ms. Wilson will play, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God."

Vocalists are John Wilson and Susan Dawes, who will sing "Sheep May Safely Graze," and "My Heart Ever Faithful."

Because of Bach's contributions to religious music, Wilson said, "We felt we owed him some kind of

Burglars make his day

Six-year-old Oklahoma boy saves family

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — A 6-year-old boy who pointed a rifle at a man holding a knife to his mother's throat knew the gun wasn't loaded, but bluffed his way through the rescue because "he didn't have time to find the shells," a sheriff said.

When his mother was gripped by the intruder with a knife, Jimmy Roland grabbed the family's .22-caliber rifle and leveled it at him, hollering, "Let my mommie loose!" Pottawatomie County Sheriff Paul Abel said Tuesday.

Abel called Jimmy "a real mature 6-year-old — a real gutty little fellow. I know of several awards he's going to end up getting."

The incident began when Jacquelyn Gail Roland, 35, went to investigate a noise outside the house Sunday. She grabbed a cooking pan and told her children to get the family's gun, Abel said.

Mrs. Roland confronted a man "masked with a red bandanna over his face," Abel said. "She tried to run, but he grabbed her around the neck and placed a knife to her throat."

Then Jimmy came outside with the rifle and shouted, "Let my mommie loose!"

When the man told him to put the weapon down, Jimmy cocked it.

The man, "apparently believing the little boy was going to shoot him ... loosened his grip on Mrs. Roland and she broke away," Abel said. "With that 6-year-old, you better believe him — he's been around guns all his life."

Six-year-old Jimmy Roland with a .22-caliber rifle in his hand, and his mother, Jacquelyn, are shown at their home Tuesday. Jimmy drew down a man attacking his mother with a knife and forced him to flee.

"I asked him 'Son, did you know the gun wasn't loaded?' and he said yes. I asked him why he didn't load the gun and he said he didn't have time to find the shells."

"And the amazing thing is, it was no big deal to him."

Jimmy "in all likelihood ... saved every one of those people's lives," Abel said. The Rolands' other son and three relatives, all under 11 years old, also were at the house.

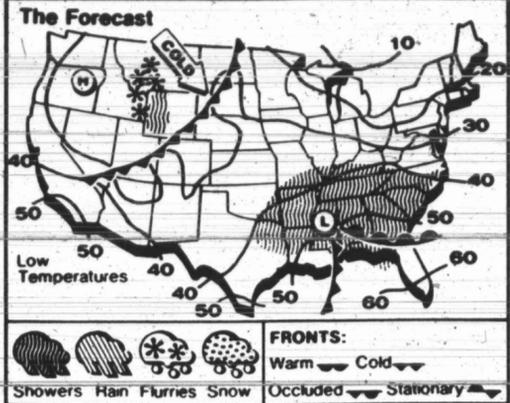

The boy's grandfather is a reserve deputy sheriff "and that whole family has been taught how to handle guns safely since they were little," the sheriff said. "They're not a bunch of gun nuts. They're just average working people that taught their children safety with guns from the time they were real little, because there are guns in that house as there are in most of the houses around here."

Arlen Henry Alexander, 29, of Tishomingo, and Joshua Shane Baldwin, 18, of Norman, were arrested near the Roland home, Abel said. Douglas Wayne Humphreys, 19, of Norman, was arrested later at the sheriff's office when he went to inquire about the other two, he said.

All three were being held on complaints of conspiracy to commit burglary and attempted first-degree burglary. Alexander also was jailed on a complaint of assault with a dangerous weapon, and Baldwin on attempted escape from custody when he briefly bolted from a jailer, Abel said.

The youth's father, Floyd Roland, was working as an oilfield welder in Konawa, about 35 miles southeast of Shawnee, at the time of the incident.

Organizations aid fire victims

Big Spring firemen and the city Red Cross chapter have collected $377 for the Joe and Mary Owen family, whose house was destroyed in a fire Thursday.

The couple's infant daughter, Amber Michelle Owen, died in the fire. Another child, 2-year-old Joedell Owen, was released from the hospital Friday after observation.

The firemen collected $300 through their disaster fund, according to Fire Marshal Jim Ryals. Citizens donated another $77, he said.

According to Ryals, a Big Spring man, Steve Sigmon, has offered to donate the family a rent-free house. The Holiday Inn also has offered the family quarters for a week, he said.

4-H members place at show

Three Garden City 4-H Club youths finished in the top ten at the Calf Scramble in the San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo. The calf scramble is a main arena attraction sponsored by Lone Star Beer.

The youths and their placings are: Doyle Schaefer, first; Allen Hoelscher, eighth; and Stewart Jost, tenth. Their vocational agriculture instructor is Norman Kohls.

Murder

Continued from page 1-A burglary. "They killed her for less than $10 in (costume) jewelry and cash," he said.

Police will not release details on the assault, including the description of the blunt object used to beat Mrs. Terrell, saying it could endanger their case.

Police arrested the two men Friday on different charges, they said.

Martinez was arrested on a capias pro fine warrant for public intoxication after he failed to report to Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt to arrange payment of a fine, Chavez said.

Chavana was arrested on a Class B misdemeanor charge of theft of more than $20 and less than $200. The offense occurred at the apartment of Mrs. Terrell's neighbor, Bernie Baker, two months prior to the murder, Smith said.

Baker called police to investigate a possible burglary at Mrs. Terrell's after he heard her pounding on the wall for help, according to Lt. Jerry Edwards.

In girls' track, 31 girls have been participating. Of that number, 15 students, or 48 percent, failed a course and are now ineligible.

In boys' track, 33 students have been participating. Nine students, or 27 percent, failed a course.

In golf, 29 students had been participating and five of those students, or 17 percent, failed a course in the last grading period.

In the Forsan school district, Superintendent J.F. Poyner said 27 positions on various teams have been affected by the ruling. Poyner said some of the positions may have been held by the same student.

Wilson and others thought up the idea of having a party locally "several months ago," Wilson said.

According to "The New Oxford Companion to Music" in the Howard County Library, Bach worked as an organist, choir-master and composer. At 15, he began earning a living as a member of the choir at St. Michael's in Luneburg, Germany.

As a young boy, he began composing and his desire to work on music he enjoyed caused him to change jobs several times when those he worked for tried to change his style or to discourage him from composing.

Bach was imprisoned once for a month when he attempted to change employers. He was offered the post of director of music to Prince Leopold of Cothen, but his employer, the Duke of Weimar, would not release him and instead had him jailed.

As he approached middle-age, critics told him his music was outdated. During his life, he saw his music rejected.

He also suffered personal tragedies. His first wife, Maria Barbara Bach, died in 1720, leaving him with four small children. He married again in 1721 to Anna Magdalena Wilcke. He was the father to 20 children, many of whom died in infancy.

Toward the end of his life, Bach lost his sight. After his death in 1750, his wife was treated as an outcast by many of his contemporaries. She died in poverty in 1760.

Years after his death Bach's music resurfaced and became popular with the German middle class. And that appreciation of his music will reach its height tomorrow, when the world stops for a moment to honor the man and his musical influence.

Georgia man executed

JACKSON, Ga. — John C. Young, who beat three elderly people to death during a 1974 rampage, was executed in the Georgia electric chair early today after telling witnesses that "being born black in America was against me."

The U.S. Supreme Court voted 5-3 Tuesday to hear an appeal based on the admission of Young's trial lawyer that he was under the influence of drugs while representing Young.

Young was the sixth man, and the fifth black, to be executed in Georgia since the state resumed using the electric chair in 1983 following a 19-year suspension. He was the 41st person put to death in the U.S. since the Supreme Court allowed states to restore the death penalty in 1976.

The condemned man was escorted into the execution chamber at the Georgia Diagnostic and Classification Center at 12:12 a.m. and strapped into the varnished wooden chair by six guards.

AMC plant may close

DETROIT — American Motors Corp. has told workers at the nation's oldest auto assembly plant that "there will be no more work" for them in three years unless labor costs and practices become more competitive with the Big Three and the Japanese.

AMC told the United Auto Workers union that under current conditions it could not afford to operate its Kenosha, Wis., plant after production of the subcompact Renault Alliance and Encore ends in 1988.

"We need to be competitive in all areas of our labor agreements," AMC President Jose Dedeurwaerder said in a letter to employees. "If we do so, Kenosha can gain future work and the additional job security which that work will bring," he said. "If we do not, Kenosha's current work will run out, and there will be no more work and no more jobs."

Writer asked to testify

LOS ANGELES — National Enquirer reporter Anthony Brenna must testify at the preliminary hearing for Cathy Evelyn Smith, who is charged with giving a fatal injection of cocaine and heroin to comedian John Belushi, a judge ruled.

Municipal Court Judge Brian D. Crahan said there is no absolute right to (claim a journalist's) privilege at a preliminary hearing in denying Brenna's motion Tuesday to dismiss a subpoena to testify.

The hearing to determine if there is enough evidence to hold Ms. Smith, 38, for trial, is scheduled to begin April 30 in Municipal Court.

Senate OKs spending pact for MX missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's decisive Senate victory on spending for the MX missile sets the stage for three other votes he must win before Congress will release $1.5 billion to resume MX production.

The Senate's 55-45 vote Tuesday to free funds to build and deploy a second batch of 21 of the highly accurate MX missiles underscored the president's powers of persuasion and gave Reagan the first major legislative victory of his second White House term.

Senator after senator credited the victory to Reagan's personal lobbying and his adroit use of the argument that killing the MX system would undermine U.S. arms control negotiators and set back both national security and the cause of world peace.

"The power of the presidency is amazing," said Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., an MX opponent.

"I just didn't know how many people were going to be influenced, both by the talks and by the president's efforts," said Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., leader of anti-MX forces on the Senate floor.

Serious doubts remain in Congress about the effectiveness of the MX system, its impact as an arms control bargaining chip and the wisdom of deploying the full fleet of 100 missiles envisioned by the administration.

And even if Reagan prevails in the battle to free the MX funds Congress impounded last year, the future of the weapons system and its place in national defense and arms control is far from secure.

Several key senators said they do not intend to vote to authorize or appropriate the $3.2 billion requested by the president to buy 48 more MX missiles during fiscal 1986.

The Senate, as part of an MX compromise reached last year, now must vote on whether to actually appropriate the impounded MX money for fiscal 1985. That vote is scheduled for today, and the House is set for an identical pair of votes next week.

A key Democratic aide, asking not to be identified by name, said a survey of all House members shows a near even split on the immediate issue of lifting restrictions on MX spending, with about 200 representatives for the MX, about 200 against it and the rest uncommitted.

"I think this is winnable in the House," Hart said of his anti-MX efforts. "But I think it's going to be tough. We'll be working on the swing vote."

Reagan, who already has begun lobbying House members, said Tuesday, "it will be real tight."

The House Appropriations and Armed Services committees both scheduled MX votes today. The House Democratic Caucus also was to meet to discuss the issue.

Reagan hailed the Senate vote as sending "a message of American resolve to the world."

President Reagan points to his smiling face after reporters asked him his reaction to the Senate on the funding for the MX missile, at the start of a State Dinner for the Argentine President at the White House Tuesday night.

"The MX Peacekeeper will strengthen our national security and our negotiating position at Geneva," Reagan said of the U.S.-Soviet arms control talks under way in the Swiss city.

But Hart said he believes the missile makes the nation less secure.

"When the red, white and blue bunting is taken off this missile system, it is no longer a peace keeper, it is a stick of dynamite," Hart said in the closing moments of debate.

This is true, he contended, because the administration has never solved the problem of how to ensure MX survivability against a Soviet attack.

Because Reagan now proposes to base the MX in existing Minuteman missile silos, the possibility exists that the United States might fire the MX on warning — right or wrong — that a Soviet attack was under way, Hart said.

And that, he said, erodes the stability of the strategic balance and makes nuclear war more likely.

Among the pro-MX votes Tuesday were 45 Republicans and 10 Democrats. Voting no were 37 Democrats and eight Republicans.

6 policemen go to trial

MEXICO CITY — A federal judge has ordered six policemen and a former officer to go on trial in the case of a kidnapped U.S. drug agent whose badly beaten body was found in a plastic bag on a Mexican ranch.

In announcing his decision on Tuesday, Judge Gonzalo Ballesteros Tena upheld kidnapping and murder charges against only three of the defendants. He said the other four would stand trial on charges of illegal possession of weapons and narcotics violations.

Mexico does not have jury trials. Instead, the judge hears testimony and evidence from the defense and prosecution and has one year to decide on a verdict.

Enrique Camarena Salazar, who worked for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, was abducted Feb. 7 in Guadalajara, near the American consulate. Alfredo Zavala Avelar, a Mexican pilot working with Camarena, was kidnapped the same day outside Guadalajara.

Khadafy and terrorism

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy was quoted today as threatening a "terrorist" campaign against pro-American Arab states, and wishing he could behead their leaders one-by-one.

"I am a terrorist when it comes to the dignity of this (Arab) nation," he was quoted as saying in the leftist newspaper as-Safir, Lebanon's second-largest.

The Libyan leader reportedly told as-Safir that if Arab rulers friendly to the United States do not reject American control, "I will take up my responsibility in deterring such weakness."

"I will take up responsibility and begin terrorism against the Arab rulers, threaten and frighten them, and sever relations. And if I could, I would behead them one by one."

Foreigners leave Iran

Iraq launched new air raids on Iranian cities today as hundreds of foreigners boarded special flights out of Iran's capital Tehran after Iraq vowed to shoot down any planes in Iranian skies.

Prime Minister Hussein Musavi of Iran called Iraq's threat "insane." He warned Iranian missiles would destroy Baghdad's airport and said the Iraqi capital would be turned into "a pile of rubble for its rulers" if the threat was carried out, Iran's media reported.

An Iraqi military spokesman said a series of raids on "selected targets" in the Iranian cities of Isfahan, Karmanshah and Bushehr were carried out today by Iraqi warplanes.

There were no immediate reports of casualties or damage.

Ohio passes bill to open lending firms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Legislature passed a bill today allowing 69 closed savings and loan associations to open and give depositors $750 per month until state officials permit the institutions to resume normal operations.

Gov. Richard Celeste, who on Friday ordered the savings and loans closed for three days to stem a run by depositors and then extended the so-called bank holiday through Tuesday, quickly signed the bill.

"We have achieved a great deal tonight with the passage of the legislation I am signing," Celeste said before making the measure of-ficial early today. "We are protecting $4 billion, the savings of 500,000 Ohioans."

"We are bringing people in today from each of the savings and loans to brief them on the procedures for complying with the law," the governor said in an interview on the "CBS Morning News."

"I think we will need at least this 24 hours to get ourselves in position before we can see institutions reopening."

Celeste expressed confidence most of the closed institutions would meet the terms of a bill requiring most of the privately insured institutions to obtain federal insurance.

"Many of these institutions will be able to qualify in some other fashion," he said. "It may involve a merger with another institution. It may involve some reorganization, recapitalizing their institutions. But we think that most of our S&Ls will be able to qualify in reasonably short order — and I'm talking about from several days to several weeks — to be in a position to reopen."

However, angry depositors at Home State Savings Bank in Cincinnati, which closed March 8, triggering the run on other thrifts and Celeste's order for a bank holiday, still don't know the fate of their money.

They planned a caravan from Dayton and Cincinnati to the Statehouse this morning in an attempt to talk with the governor. In Cincinnati, reporters and photographers outnumbered the five people who got into two cars for the trip to the state capital. But about 20 cars left from Dayton shortly before 8:30 a.m.

Celeste said he hoped to meet with the leaders of the motorcade.

"I understand their concern and frustration," Celeste said on ABC-TV's "Good Morning America" this morning. "We need to get that institution sold to someone who will reopen it promptly, and hopefully, fully protect the depositors."

CIA: Disclosure should be a crime

NEW YORK (AP) — The Central Intelligence Agency has proposed legislation making it a crime for government employees to "willfully" disclose national secrets without authorization. The New York Times reported today.

The proposal signed by CIA Director William Casey and sent to the White House provides for prison terms of up to five years and fines of $25,000 fine for anyone convicted of giving reporters or others outside the government "any classified information," with certain exceptions, the Times said.

According to the Times, information would be considered "properly classified" if its disclosure "reasonably could be expected to damage the national security."

The Times also said the proposed legislation does not appear to authorize prosecution of reporters or others who publish secrets leaked to them.

Reagan imposes abortion policy

The Reagan administration has struck another senseless blow against international population-control efforts. The latest maneuver is an extension of a policy unveiled at a world population-control conference last year. By law, no U.S. funds may be used for abortions overseas. But the administration announced it was denying U.S. support to private organizations involved in other countries, even if no U.S. money is involved in those activities.

The administration has used that policy to deny $17 million to the International Planned Parenthood Federation, the largest private family planning organization in the world, and to hold up $46 million for the United Nations fund for Population Activities, the largest supporter of government population control programs.

Having hamstrung the international organizations, the administration now has turned to other kinds — from nationally chartered groups to local hospitals, clinics and family-planning centers. A proposed clause in U.S. contracts with foreign family planning groups would require them to keep "books and records" to prove that they have no involvement with abortion — even if those activities are legal and paid for with private or another government's funds. The forbidden activity would include performing any abortion other than to save the life of the mother, providing information about abortion or making referrals.

In effect, the administration is attempting to impose on private organizations in other countries restrictions greater than are imposed in the United States; to censor the speech of private family-planning organizations; and to use private organizations to manipulate the population policies of their nations.

If foreign organizations cannot or will not meet the new requirements, the cost could be U.S. family-planning assistance to 1.5 billion people in 35 countries where abortion is allowed for reasons other than to save the life of the mother. The human cost will be paid by couples denied information and materials to prevent pregnancies or space births, by women driven to abortion, by babies born into hunger and sickness.

Unfortunately, the Reagan administration has confused abortion with family planning; tragically, it has used its antipathy to one to undermine the good work of the other. The result will be the opposite intended. Congress should intervene to restore U.S. support to International Planned Parenthood, to the U.N. fund and to the thousands of groups in other countries whose work makes a better world possible.

Farm crisis only a trend

The farm crisis is a constant feature of American life. Farmers are always being forced off the land by low prices or unpayable debts, and most of them understandably resent it. The latest squeeze is especially severe, but the exodus continues year in and year out — and for good reason. That fact is crucial to understanding farm policy.

American farmers are the victims of their own achievements. In the last 75 years, their productivity has soared, allowing each farmer to grow more with less. So fewer farmers are needed. Those with high costs go out of business.

An unusually high number of farmers now face the threat of foreclosure. But the change is one of degree, not kind. Since 1930, the number of Americans on farms has fallen by an average of nearly half a million a year every year.

Granted, farming is even dicier than usual these days. A strong dollar has depressed prices, and persistently high interest rates have squeezed borrowers. Roughly 15 percent of U.S. farmers have incurred heavy debt, banking on inflation to erode it, and probably can't repay it. Those who have kept their borrowing down, however, are doing tolerably well.

The troubles of a minority of farmers are no reason to expand federal programs. Federal programs helped to create the problem. In a modern society, powerful economic forces draw people off farms and into offices and factories. Farm programs have pointlessly resisted these forces.

By paying farmers more than their crops are worth, federal subsidies shield them from reality. Farmers who couldn't make money in a competitive environment are thus encouraged to keep trying. The subsidies also prod them to produce more, aggravating the oversupply that led to federal intervention.

These programs are expensive. Since Ronald Reagan took office, the USDA has spent $50 billion to help farmers. This greatly understates the real cost, because a lot of subsidies are paid through higher grocery prices, not government checks. Most farmers operate in markets molded as by supply and demand.

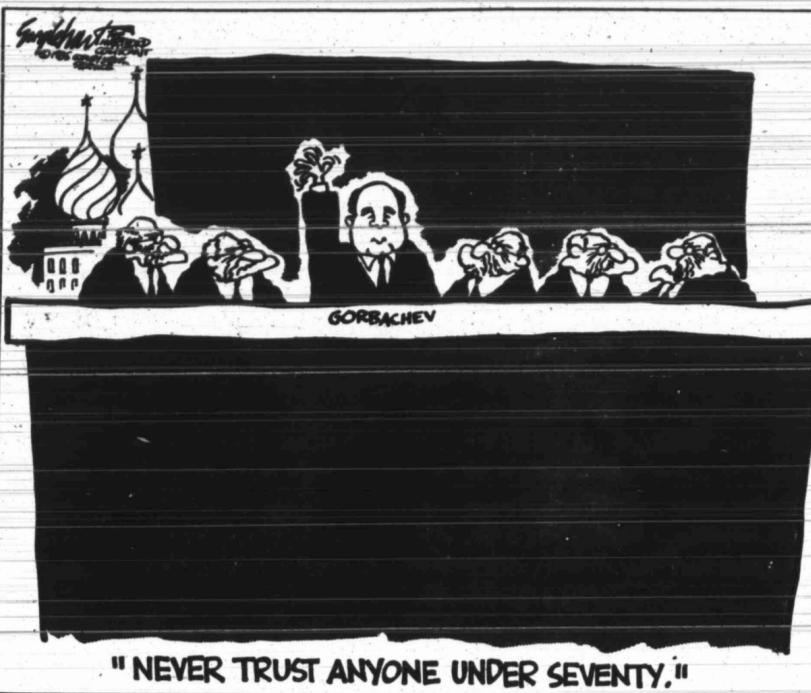

Despite all the help, farmers are in the worst straits since the Great Depression. That should cast doubt on the wisdom of doing more of the same. So should the other effects of existing policies, like stimulating foreign competition. The U.S. share of world wheat sales has fallen by 19 percent in the last three years.

A wise agriculture policy would get Washington off the farm, though the government arguably has a duty not to make a precipitate exit. After all, it has encouraged farmers to stay in business when economics argues otherwise. It has also irrationally punished farmers at times, as in the two grain embargoes of the last decade.

The Reagan administration's plan maps an orderly (though incomplete) withdrawal. It gradually reduces price supports and deficiency payments, phases out acreage restrictions and abolishes or severely prunes several federal credit subsidies.

For the immediate pinch, the program offers some credit help to those farmers most likely to benefit from it.

Saudi sheiks are shaky

WASHINGTON — The Reagan administration is quietly preparing a news arms package for Saudi Arabia, the premier Arab oil nation. This will likely provoke a major battle on Capitol Hill.

The State Department has already begun briefing members of Congress in secret, hoping to persuade them how important it is to bolster Saudi military power.

A crucial consideration is the stability of the imperial Saudi regime. Congress doesn't want a replay of Iran, where the shah was kept in power with the not-so-covert aid of the CIA. This embittered the populace against the United States.

When the shah was driven from the throne, he left behind a legacy of political extremism, hatred for America, economic disintegration and broken lives.

Congress will demand to know whether the Saudi royal family is more solidly entrenched and, therefore, a more dependable ally. The secret intelligence on this score does not square with the public assurance.

The royal rulers are vulnerable, for instance, to Shiite harassment. Shia fanatics respond to that wily old octopus, Ayatollah Khomeini.

What makes this all the more ominous is that the Shiites are concentrated in the Saudi oil fields and constitute one-third of the work force of Aramco, the state-owned oil monopoly.

The Shiites resent the years they have been treated as second-class citizens. Warns a secret, 100-page report obtained by my associate Lucette Lagnado: "One cannot totally reverse Shia antipathy toward the government, amounting in some cases to deep and abiding hatred for the royal family, which years of neglect has bred."

Some Shiites, roused by Khomeini's fulminations, will begin to associate their grievances with the United States, the report predicts.

The report was written by one of the State Department's leading Arab experts, David Long, in 1980. It emphasizes: "The consequences of possible Shia uprisings could be devastating to oil production," noting that the Shiites, influenced by Iran, are in a perfect position to sabotage Saudi oil installations.

So vast and empty a space as Saudi Arabia would be difficult to defend. The imperial family relies on a small army of dubious loyalty and a haphazard security apparatus.

"There is real fear for the security of the regime over the loyalty of the military," declares the Long report. It tells of past military arrests "for subversive activities" and "Saudi distrust in a professional military establishment."

Fear of attack has driven the Saudi rulers to arm their defense forces with sophisticated American weapons. But suspicion of the military has caused them to withhold the wherewithal. Notes the report: "Traditionally, the Saudi military has never been issued fuel and ammunition in large quantities or at the same time." How this arrangement would work in a crisis is anybody's guess.

"Royal family reluctance to trust too greatly in the loyalty of the military establishment," the report adds, has produced slowdowns and delays. "Military training and arms purchases are subject to several additional constraints."

Then the report offers this revelation, which might surprise members of Congress now being cajoled by the administration: "Due largely to Saudi ambivalence toward a modern military force, there is relatively little to show for nearly 30 years of U.S. military training..."

The instability of the Saudi regime and the shortcomings of its military forces are detailed in a soon-to-be-published book, "The American House of Saud," by former congressional investigator Steve Emerson.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Court says the law can't muzzle money

By MIKE FEINSILBER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money speaks. And in politics, when money speaks, what it says is protected by the First Amendment's guarantees against infringements of speech.

That's the gist of the decision the Supreme Court handed down Monday. It ruled, 7-2, that just as Congress cannot limit a person's right to speak, it cannot limit a political action committee's right — or anyone's right — to use money to seek to influence voters on behalf of one candidate.

The decision brought to the fore a problem that since the days of Watergate has beset those trying to reform the political process by limiting how much money can be spent on candidates.

The problem: How to limit the corrosive effects of big spending without corroding the constitutionally guaranteed right of free speech.

The rule that the court declared unconstitutional said a PAC could spend no more than $1,000 on behalf of a presidential candidate who accepts public financing.

There won't be any noticeable effect of the court's decision because that rule has never been enforced, having been ruled invalid by lower courts. Instead, the court blocks one potential avenue of campaign reform.

"Allowing the presentation of views while forbidding the expenditure of more than $1,000 to present them is much like allowing the speaker in a public hall to express his views while denying him the use of an amplifying system," Justice William H. Rehnquist wrote for the majority.

The same law that set up the limitation also provided for public financing of presidential candidates. That provision stands.

Candidates for the major parties can spend their own money, or their friends' money, seeking to win their parties' nominations.

Once nominated, if they accept public financing — and it is so tempting that no major party candidate has turned it down — they must forgo using any other resources for their campaign.

In 1984 the limit was $40.4 million, with both President Reagan and Democrat Walter F. Mondale getting that much from the federal government.

But the National Conservative Political Action Committee spent $9.8 million urging people to vote for Reagan and another $290,204 telling them why they ought to vote against Mondale. The Fund for a Conservative Majority spent $1.6 million advocating re-election of the president.

They would have been limited to $1,000 each if the court had ruled the other way.

The case before the court Monday was narrow. It addressed only spending that is independent of the candidates' formal campaign.

If a candidate's supporters want to buy a billboard to advocate his candidacy and they act independently of him, they are free to do so. Under the law, the supporters could spend up to $1,000. Now they can spend as much as they please. Instead of a billboard, they can buy a string of commercials on national television.

The two justices who disagreed with Rehnquist seemed to argue that the public interest in avoiding the corrosive effects of political spending justified putting limits on how much people or committees can spend.

Justice Byron R. White said the court had turned into "a nonsensical, loophole-ridden patchwork" a coherent plan Congress had

'Kosher for Passover' has special meaning

By KIM KIRKHAM
Lifestyle Writer

With Passover right around the corner (April 5 to 13), Jewish families throughout the country are planning menus for their Seders. This high holiday brings with it the most defined food customs of the year and "kosher for Passover" takes on a special meaning in Jewish homes.

ELEGANT LEMON MERINGUE

3 egg whites
1/2 tsp. cream of tartar (optional)
3/4 cup sugar
3 egg yolks, beaten
Sugar
3 Tbsps. lemon juice
2 tps. grated lemon rind
Dash of salt
1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
Beat egg whites and cream of tartar until foamy; gradually add sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Pipe mixture using pastry tube or shape with back of spoon into 9-inch shell on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 250 degrees, one hour. Turn off oven; dry in oven 2 hours.

Combine egg yolks, 1/2 cup sugar, juice, rind and salt. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium heat 8 to 10 minutes or until thickened. Cool. Combine 2 tablespoons sugar and cream cheese, mixing until well blended. Gradually add egg yolk mixture to cream cheese, mixing until well blended. Fold in whipped cream. Spread cream cheese mixture into meringue shell; chill. Makes 8 servings.

Variation: Prepare meringue as directed. Shape into eight 3 1/2-inch shells on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 225 degrees, one hour. Continue as directed.

ONIONS IN GOD'S HONEY

8 white onions
1 pt. tomato juice
8 tps. honey
4 Tbsps. butter
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. After you peel the onions, slice off 1/4 inch of bottoms to sit well in a casserole dish. Pour in 1/4 inch tomato juice. Drop teaspoon of honey on each onion, dot with butter. Cover, and bake in oven for 1 hour. Makes 6 servings.

PERFECT ENDING — Elegant Lemon Meringue, a memorably delicious dessert for Passover made with cream cheese, is a nice ending for a Seder feast.

COLD KRAKOW BORSCH

2 lbs. fresh beets, cubed
2 onions, chopped
1 qt. water
1 Tbsp. each salt, sugar, lemon juice
3 eggs
4 hot boiled potatoes
1 pint sour cream
Cook the beets and onions in saucepan with 1 quart of water for one hour. Drain, reserving liquid; put through a food mill (or blender), using some of the liquid. Mix in salt, sugar and lemon juice. Beat the eggs, add gradually into reserved hot liquid, and beat 1 minute. Mix egg mixture with the pureed mixture. Chill soup for serving. Serve with hot potatoes and sour cream. Makes 8 servings.

HERBED BAKED CHICKEN

1 (3 1/2-lb.) fryer
5 Tbsps. margarine
3 Tbsps. flour
1 1/2 tsp. salt

1/4 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. thyme
1 1/2 tps. sage
2 1/2 cups chicken soup
1 Tbsp. chopped parsley
1 Tbsp. chopped chives
Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Wash chicken and dry. Brown in hot skillet on all sides in 2 tablespoons margarine. Remove to a casserole. Melt rest of margarine in skillet, blend in flour. Add all remaining ingredients. Cook until slightly thickened, stir constantly. Pour over chicken. Bake uncovered in oven at 325 degrees for 50 minutes, until the chicken is tender. Makes four servings.

POTATO KNISHES

The French Jews say the Russian and German refugees brought this recipe with them.
1 onion, minced
1 cup chicken fat
4 cups mashed potatoes
1/2 cup potato flour
3 eggs
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
Sauté onion in 4 tablespoons chicken fat and cool. Knead together remaining fat, potato flour, eggs, salt and pepper. Roll out and cut into 2-inch squares. Place a teaspoon of browned onions on each, fold, pinching edges together. Place on a greased baking sheet. Bake 25 minutes. Makes about 2 dozens.

WHITECHAPEL BAKED GEFILTE FISH

3 lbs. pike filets
1 onion
2 slices white bread, water-soaked
1/2 cup water
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 egg
2 Tbsps. salad oil
2 onions, sliced
1 cup tomato sauce
Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Grind together fish and onion. Move to a chopping bowl. Add soaked bread squeezed dry, salt, pepper and egg. Chop smooth. Make into 12 balls. Mix oil, sliced onions, green pepper, tomato sauce in a baking dish. Set balls on top. Bake in oven 45 minutes. Baste. Makes six servings.

MRS. RABBI WEISS'S CHEESE BLINTZES (ST. LOUIS)

For the blintz:
3/4 cup flour
1/2 tsp. salt
2 eggs, beaten

1 Tbsp. butter, melted
For the filling:
1/2 lb. cottage cheese
2 egg yolks
1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
2 Tbsps. sugar
Pinch of salt
Mix flour and salt. Combine with eggs, milk and butter. Beat smooth. Pour into small, hot, greased skillet enough batter to make a thin cake, tilting pan for batter to spread evenly. Cook until top is dry. Cook only one side. Mix filling ingredients and put 1 Tbsp. on each pancake. Fold over edges and press firmly. Fry both sides until brown. Serve with sour cream. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

REGAL CHOCOLATE SAUCE

1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, cubed
1/2 cup milk
2 1-oz. squares unsweetened chocolate
2 cups sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
Combine cream cheese, milk and chocolate; stir over low heat until smooth. Add sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved and sauce is smooth.

Remove from heat; blend in vanilla. Makes 2 1/2 cups. This sauce can be refrigerated and then reheated.

1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 cups orange segments
2 cups grapefruit segments

Pasties called latest entry in food trends

By JAN CORWIN
Easton Express

PEN ARGYL, Pa. — The pungent aroma of meat and onions still lingers in Real English Foods Inc.'s bakery in mid-afternoon as the seven workers start to clean up for the day.

"It was the best-kept secret of the Slate Belt," says Garnet T. Sleep Jr., a Slate Belt native who has been marketing pasties for the past two years but just recently bought the bakery.

Sleep says pasties — a meat-and-potatoes turnover resembling a giant pierogie — are the fast food of the '80s. Recently, the Armed Forces commissaries chose to add Real English's "Mr. Pastie" to its shelves, and Sleep noted that an Oriental businessman has approached him about establishing a chain of "Mr. Pastie" franchises in Korea.

"I actually had to put it off," Sleep says of the Korean deal. "I had to say we're not prepared for that."

Not bad for a dish best known as a hot lunch for Welsh and Cornish miners. In fact, Sleep says, pasty (pronounced PASS-tee) may be even older, possibly being part of the menu at King Arthur's round table in Camelot before forks were invented.

Pasties, the firm's only product, were made mostly for local consumption until Sleep, an advertising agency head now living in Washington, D.C., decided to fulfill a boyhood dream.

"I'd always had the idea to market pasties, ever since I lived here," he said. In December 1981, after receiving encouragement from some friends, he took some pasties from the Old English bakery in Pen Argyl to High's Dairy Stores, a convenience store chain based in Washington and a client of Sleep's advertising agency.

By March 1982, Sleep and his wife, Cecelia, who is vice president of the firm, had formed Real English Foods as the distributor for Old English Foods, marketing Mr. Pastie as a hot lunch through High's. And before long, he said, other stores and independent food brokers were asking for the product, either prebaked to reheat for over-the-counter lunch sales or as a frozen entree.

Now it has gone nationwide and soon will go international through the Armed Forces commissaries. Some of the first shipments will be to bases in the United Kingdom, Sleep said.

The pasty then will have gone full circle. There are as many ways to make pasties as there are villages in Wales and Cornwall, Sleep said.

The Slate Belt pasty consists of ground beef, diced potatoes and minced onion wrapped in dough to form a half-circle. Carrots, peas, rutabagas and turnips have all made their way into pasties at one time or another. Sleep says his company is considering making chicken, pork and ham pasties, which have been well-received in local tests.

There are a few other companies in the United States making pasties, Sleep said, but these are machine-made. Real English's pasties are made by hand, starting with the hands of Shirley Suprys.

For 17 years, Ms. Suprys, a Pen Argyl resident, has been the dough lady at the bakery. She has been making pasties since her childhood and estimates she probably has made dough for more than a million pasties in her career.

The dough recipe is simple: "Flour, salt, shortening and water to suit my fingers," Ms. Suprys said. There's no need for a measuring cup. Ms. Suprys knows if the dough is right from "just the way it feels."

The dough then is rolled in a rolling machine that produces flat sheets that are cut into circles. The dough circles are placed into 6-inch-deep pie tins and the onions, potatoes and ground beef are spooned in individually.

The pasty then is closed — the dough folded over the filling and crimped — and frozen or baked.

Kitchen safety begins with child-proofing

SAN FRANCISCO — Kitchens should be "child-proofed," with dangerous objects put out of reach, advises Donna Higgins, director of Del Monte Kitchens here. She suggests that adults should help young children prepare a simple recipe so that they can become familiar with rules of the kitchen.

Dear Abby

Husband gives wife broken heart

DEAR ABBY: I'm terribly upset because my husband forgot Valentine's Day. I used to drop subtle hints before my birthday, anniversary, etc., but it never did any good, so I started to come right out and ask him to please remember me. Even that didn't help.

The week before Valentine's Day I reminded him that I would just love a card, a rosebud or some cute earrings. I reminded him again the day before, but the next day when I gave him his Valentine's Day gift, he just stared at me stupidly and said, "Gee, I guess I should have gotten you something, huh?"

The same thing happens every birthday and anniversary. Last Mother's Day was my first (our baby is 6 months old), so the day before, I told my husband I'd like a card, breakfast in bed, or just being able to sleep in while he looked after the baby. I would have been thrilled with any one of these gifts, but I got nothing. Instead he went bowling.

I am so disappointed when he forgets. I end up crying myself to sleep. Do you have any suggestions?

HURT IN ALBANY, ORE.

DEAR HURT: Face it, you are married to a thoughtless, insensitive man. He doesn't forget — he cares nothing for sentiment, and refuses to put himself out to please you.

You can't change anyone but yourself, so accept these glaring deficiencies in the man you loved enough to marry. Expect nothing, and you'll not be disappointed. And concentrate on his good qualities — if you can find them.

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "Mother of the Groom" was totally off-base. You said the stepmother should not have been in the receiving line at all.

as "How long has the stepfather been remarried?" and "With whom do the children live?" were not answered in the letter. The relationship between the step-parent and the child or his or her new spouse must also be considered.

It's their wedding, and they should have a say in the matter.

STEEPARENT-TO-BE

DEAR STEEPARENT-TO-BE: I agree, the circumstances can make all the difference in the world. In this case, the parents of the groom had a bitter divorce, after which the father promptly married his girlfriend, who had been waiting in the wings for some time. These facts should have been included in the letter but were not.

In my eagerness to stay within the space allotted for my column, it's often necessary to cut the original letter to the bone. Or sometimes a local editor cuts a letter, eliminating some important facts.

Country's flag subject of DAR program

Mrs. John Key presented a program on the United States flag during a meeting of the Captain Elisha Mack Chapter of Daughters of American Revolution, Saturday.

According to Mrs. Key, legends say that George Washington needed a flag of national status and contacted Betsy Ross, who agreed to make the flag which she completed in one day on June 14, 1777. On that day, Congress resolved that the national flag should have 13 stripes, alternated with red and white, and 13 stars on a blue field. Thus, June 14 is designated Flag Day.

A message from the president general of DAR stated the restoration of the exterior of Constitution Hall had been completed. The exterior had deteriorated due to pollution causing the mortar to crumble. She said there is a need for humidity control in the Museum Gallery, State Rooms and books in the DAR Library, which will require extensive expenditure and will be on the agenda of the Continental Congress in April.

The next meeting will be at La Posada Restaurant, April 20.

Abby, in some cases, a step-parent most certainly should be in the receiving line. Some step-parents play an important role in the stepchild's life. Questions such as "How long has the stepfather been remarried?" and "With whom do the children live?" were not answered in the letter. The relationship between the step-parent and the child or his or her new spouse must also be considered.

Dr. Donohue

Emphysema a smoking legacy

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: After a lifetime of smoking (two packs a day) I was convinced I should quit. I have done this, but now I am very dismayed that my breathing function has not returned the way I expected. My doctor gave me the bad news. He said all the emphysema I got from those years of smoking cannot be reversed. Once you get emphysema you get it for life. True? So for me, what's the advantage in quitting? — J.I.

Let me discuss emphysema and first, give you a picture of what your lungs look like. If you saw inside your lungs you might think you were looking at a bunch of grapes. The grapes are actually the hollow air sacs that fill up with oxygen when you breathe.

cigarette smoke, those sacs wither and shrink. To all intents and purposes they are destroyed, and nothing will restore them. Oxygen can't get into the lungs and so you run out of breath easily. Some people can't even get up out of a chair without getting short of breath. A walk up a flight of stairs is for them an Olympic event.

Without even mentioning lung cancer, that's a pretty dim scenario for the smoker, isn't it? So let's try to brighten it up.

1. If only a few air sacs are destroyed, the outlook is much better.

2. Even in the worst cases of emphysema from smoking, quitting is very worthwhile, for some improvement is always possible. For example, bronchitis (irritation of the breathing tubes) almost always accompanies any emphysema and that can be helped immensely with medicines.

3. Exercise. Exercise won't reverse the emphysema problem, but it will train body muscles to use what little oxygen is available more efficiently. With exercise you can learn to get by on less oxygen. You won't get so breathless.

Your doctor should be able now to start you out on a sensible exercise program. It should begin slowly, a walking routine, for example. You will, now that you've quit smoking, notice a gradual improvement in your exercise tolerance.

If you wish, you can begin at your local hospital. Many have clinics to teach breathing techniques for those who have emphysema.

Stanton cattle win ribbons

Ranch beefs up reputation with show performances

Cattle from the V Bar Ranch in Stanton this year took awards at both the Houston Livestock Show and the San Antonio Livestock Exposition.

Also winning awards in the San Antonio show were two Sterling City youths and a Colorado City boy.

In the San Antonio show's Hereford breeders competition, the V Bar Ranch exhibited the grand champion female, V Bar Miss L1 18401. The calf, which also was named class-winning junior heifer calf and calf champion, is the Jan. 5, 1984, daughter of L1 Pacesetter, the 1983 and 1984 National Western Champion Hereford bull.

A winter heifer calf from the ranch, V Bar Classy 15302, was named grand champion female in the open and junior Hereford competition Friday at the San Antonio show.

That same calf was chosen reserve calf champion in the Hereford breeders' competition Feb. 28. The calf is the Oct. 4, 1983, daughter of SC Classic ET and was shown by Jeff Brandenberger of Stanton.

During that same competition, the V Bar Ranch won the senior yearling bulls class with V Bar L1 Domino 8209 and the early spring heifer calf class with V Bar Miss 4 18415. The ranch also captured top honors in the best six head competition.

At the Houston Show Feb. 27, the ranch's entry, V Bar L1 Domino 5322, was named the winner of the late spring yearling bulls.

Other Crossroad Country winners in the San Antonio Junior Hereford Show include:

- Rene Stewart of Sterling City, whose entry, Tex L1 Adeline 3537 was named best of the spring heifer calves;

- Reed Stewart of Sterling City, whose entry, H L1 Ms Hawley 308, was named the best of the junior yearling heifers;

- and Quentin Merket of Colorado City, whose 885-pound calf won the Lightweight Steers division.

DWI suspect pleads guilty before trial

A Brady man, after requesting a jury trial, decided to plead guilty in Howard County Courthouse yesterday to a second offense of driving while intoxicated.

Koen Lewis Davee, 26, was arrested by Texas Department of Public Safety Trooper Bill Jennings on Highway 87 last Nov. 4 and charged with DWI, records show.

"They (Davee and his attorney) had insisted on a jury all the way," said Jane Overman, legal assistant to Howard County attorney Tim Yeats.

Yeats said Davee pleaded guilty as prospective jurors arrived at the courthouse Tuesday morning.

Overman said Davee was fined $500, $106 court costs, received a 60-day jail probated sentence and was sentenced to 15 days in county jail. His driver's license also has been suspended for six months, Overman said.

Yeats said his office has received another trial by jury request on a DWI charge scheduled for April.

UCLA, Indiana roll up easy NIT wins

By The Associated Press
The regular season may have been disappointing for both the Indiana and UCLA basketball teams. However, both seem determined to make up for it in the National Invitation Tournament.

For the second game in a row, the Hoosiers and Bruins were big winners as Indiana crushed Richmond 75-53 and UCLA routed Nebraska 82-63 in second-round action Tuesday night.

Indiana, a 15-13 team during the regular season, had opened the tourney last week with a 79-57 bombing of Butler. UCLA, 16-12 before the start of the NIT, had routed Montana 78-47 in the NIT's opening round.

Their runaway victories Tuesday night sent Indiana and UCLA into Saturday night's quarterfinals. Also advancing were Virginia with a 68-61 triumph over St. Joseph's (Pa.), Marquette with a 56-54 decision over Cincinnati and Fresno State with a 66-55 defeat of New Mexico.

Uwe Blab scored 17 points as the Hoosiers, taking control with 12-3 spurts early in each half, rolled past Richmond in Bloomington, Ind.

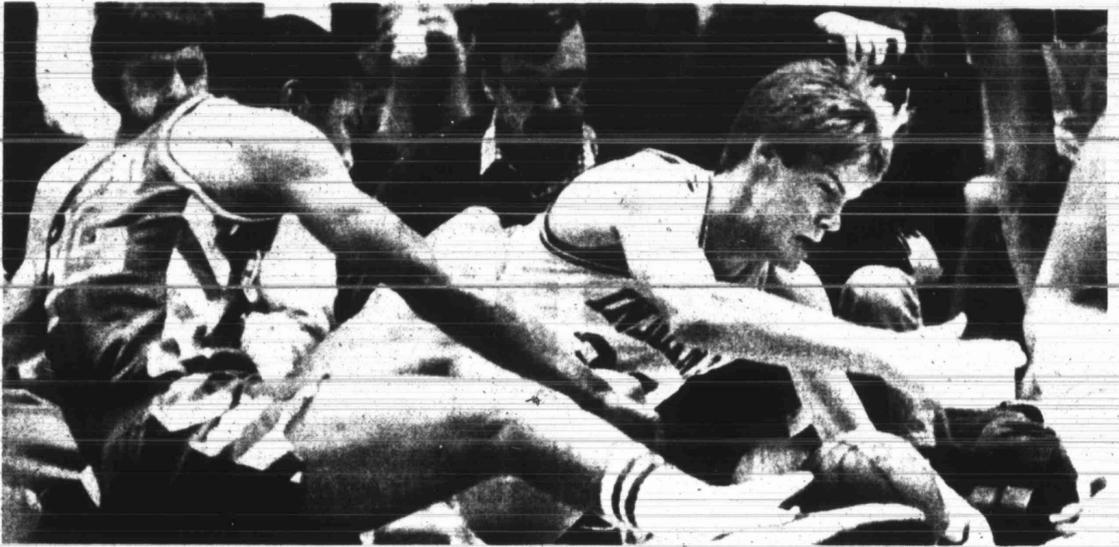

The smaller Spiders trailed by nine points at halftime and closed within seven before Indiana's second-half streak put the game out of Richmond's reach.

Indiana outrebounded Richmond 39-25 for the game, and the Hoosier passers — led by Stew Robinson and Dan Dakich with seven assists apiece — set up 22 baskets for their teammates, compared with only eight assists for the Spiders.

Reggie Miller scored a career-high 29 points to lead UCLA over Nebraska at Pauley Pavilion. The Bruins led by as many as 13 points in the first half and held a 41-31 lead at the intermission. Nebraska never seriously threatened thereafter, as the Bruins led by as many as 21 points.

In Charlottesville, Jim Miller, Tim Mullen and Olden Polynice led the Cavaliers defeated St. Joseph's. Polynice led the Cavaliers with 15 points while Miller added 14 and Mullen 12, and the trio accounted for 29 of the Cavaliers' 34 points in the second half.

Kerry Trotter and Mandy Johnson scored 12 points apiece to key Marquette's win at Cincinnati.

Indiana's STEVE EYL and Richmond's JOHN DAVIS scramble for the ball during National Invitation Tournament action in Bloomington, Ind. last night. The Hoosiers won 75-53.

Cougars hold off Steers, 9-5

ABILENE — The Abilene Cooper Cougars got an early lead and then held off the Big Spring Steers for a 9-5 victory in District 4-5A baseball play.

Cooper tallied nine runs in the first three innings off Big Spring starter Tommy Gartman, including six runs in the costly third inning. The Steers defense didn't help matters much by committing four errors in the third stanza alone. Ironically, Cooper had only two hits in the inning.

In fact, the Cougars were out-hit by Big Spring 10-5, while committing four errors to Big Spring's five.

Meanwhile Big Spring banged out 10 hits, behind the three-for-four hitting performance of shortstop Sammy Watson. But they left 10 runners stranded on base.

"After the third inning, Tommy (Gartman) settled down and pitched a good game," said Big Spring coach Roland Atkins. "The last three innings were the best I've seen him pitch. He was a pitcher not a thrower. The one inning (third) killed us."

The Steers finally got something going with two outs in the sixth inning. Catcher Chris Lamb, who had two hits in the game, singled to start things off. Randy Hayworth followed with a double and Gartman and Watson kept the inning alive with RBI singles, cutting the Cooper lead to 9-3.

Big Spring added its final run in the final inning when Lamb hit a long shot over the 395-foot mark in left-center field. Lamb's first homer of the season brought in Matt Garrett to put the final score at 9-5.

Cooper pitcher Mike McKellop got his third win of the season while Glen Freeman finished the last three innings for the No. 2 state-ranked Cougars.

Cooper is now 2-1 in district play and 12-1 overall. Big Spring falls to 2-6 overall and 1-2 in conference play.

The Steers will host Midland Lee Saturday at 2 p.m. in Steers Field. Atkins said that either Jay Pirkle or Mike Dodd would get the starting assignment.

Baylor basketball gets new coach

WACO (AP) — Gene Iba, who took Houston Baptist to the NCAA playoffs a year ago and posted three consecutive 20-victory seasons, will be the successor to Jim Haller as Baylor head basketball coach, The Associated Press learned Tuesday.

Iba, a member of a prestigious basketball family, will be formally named as Baylor coach at 3 p.m. Wednesday in a press conference called by the Southwest Conference school. The announcement will be made by Athletic Director Bill Menefee.

A Baylor source told the AP that Iba won out in a close battle with the University of Texas at San Antonio's Don Eddy.

Iba's disciplined teams are well drilled on fundamentals much like those of his father, Hank Iba, who turned Oklahoma State into a basketball power.

Houston Baptist Athletic Director Dr. Ed Billings called a press conference for 11 a.m. Thursday. He had no comment on the AP report only to say "It's not surprising."

Houston Baptist has already sent one coach into the Southwest Conference, Gerald Myers of Texas Tech.

Myers was the first coach of the Huskies. His Tech team won the SWC regular season and tournament titles this year.

Iba was only the second head coach in the school's history.

Haller resigned after nine seasons at Baylor effective with the end of the season after a player hid a recorder in his windbreaker and taped a conversation.

In the tape, Haller gave the player permission to use a $172 meals expense check for a car payment. Haller admitted he violated NCAA rules and resigned.

The AP source said one of the biggest chores ahead of Iba was to keep the discontented team at Baylor on the campus. The Bears had as many as five freshmen starters late in the year.

"He'll have to recruit the dormitory before he hits the recruiting trail on national signing day," the source said.

Iba has coached at HBU the past eight seasons and got the Huskies into the NCAA Playoffs last year for the first time.

The Huskies were 21-8 this year, their third straight 20-victory season under Iba. However, HBU lost to Mercer in the second round of the Trans America Athletic Conference and failed to make the NCAA playoffs.

HBU led the nation in field goal percentage at 55.2 per cent last season and set 25 university and TAAA records.

Iba had a 128-96 record over eight seasons.

Pepitone facing drug charges

NEW YORK (AP) — Former major league baseball player Joe Pepitone was arraigned following his arrest Monday night on charges of possession of heroin, cocaine, Quaaludes and a loaded handgun.

Pepitone, 44 years old, who starred for the New York Yankees during a 12-year big-league career that ended in 1973, was arrested in Brooklyn after the car in which he and two other men were riding was stopped by police for allegedly running a red light.

Following his arraignment, Pepitone's bail was set at $15,000. He faces a prison term of 15 years to life if convicted.

Cavaliers drum 'Sixers, 116-89

By The Associated Press
After seven seasons of playing for teams that failed to make the playoffs, Ben Poquette derives a lot of pleasure out of beating a top team in an important late-season game.

"It feels good when you beat the upper echelon of the National Basketball Association," Poquette said after he had 19 points and 13 rebounds to help the Cleveland Cavaliers hand the Philadelphia 76ers their worst loss of the season, 116-89, Tuesday night.

It was the ninth victory in the last 12 outings for Cleveland, which leads Atlanta by 1½ games for the eighth and final playoff spot in the Eastern Conference. For the Cavaliers, who recently won at Philadelphia for the first time since 1976, it is the first time since the 1974-75 season that they have beaten the 76ers three straight times.

In other games, it was Houston 106, Chicago 100; Milwaukee 130, New Jersey 111; Dallas 96, San Antonio 89; Atlanta 103, Washington 97; Los Angeles Lakers 130, Phoenix 112; and Portland 143, Detroit 123.

Cleveland went inside against the 76ers, to the area normally patrolled by the 6-foot-10 Malone, who was replaced by 6-8 Sam Williams.

Poquette scored 15 points in the first half as Cleveland built a 52-45 halftime advantage. Roy Hinson, who led all scorers with 21 points, then added 10 in the third quarter to push the Cavaliers' lead to 78-66.

In the final period, reserves Johnny Davis and Ron Anderson scored 13 and 10 points, respectively, as Cleveland rubbed it in, leading by as much as 109-77 and outscoring the 76ers 38-23 in the quarter.

The 76ers, whose worst previous loss this season had been by 19 points, committed 23 turnovers and shot just 40 percent from the field.

Hawks 163, Bullets 97 ... Atlanta kept pace with Cleveland in the playoff race as Dominique Wilkins scored 32 points, seven of them in the last three minutes, against Washington.

The Hawks led 56-34 in the second quarter, but a 12-2 run by the Bullets cut the deficit to 58-46 at halftime.

Washington continued to rally in the second half, led by guard Jeff Malone, who scored 18 of his 24 points in the final 13 minutes of the game.

Bucks 130, Nets 111 ... Milwaukee, the runaway leader in the Central Division, got 24 points from Terry Cummings and 18 from Paul Mokeski in the victory over New Jersey.

Cummings had 12 points in the first quarter to give the Bucks the lead. When the Nets, who got 20 points each from Buck Williams and Kelvin Ransey, cut the deficit to two in the third period, Mokeski responded with 14 points in the quarter to help the Bucks rebuild their advantage to seven.

Rockets 106, Bulls 100 ... Houston's Akeem Olajuwon had 24 points and 21 rebounds to 31 points for fellow rookie Michael Jordan of Chicago, but it was a late steal and dunk by Ralph Sampson that decided the outcome in favor of the Rockets.

Houston led only 102-100 and Chicago had the ball in the late going when Sampson blocked a shot by Jordan and drove for his ninth dunk of the game, giving the Rockets a 104-100 lead with five seconds left.

Sampson finished with 26 points and 11 rebounds, while Quintin Dailey had 30 points for the Bulls.

Mavericks 96, Spurs 89 ... Jay Vincent had 35 points and 10 rebounds to lead Dallas over San Antonio.

The Mavericks took control of the game with 14 consecutive points in a four-minute span of the third quarter. That gave Dallas an 81-67 lead despite the loss of star forward Mark Aguirre, who was ejected early in the period.

Fort Hayes State University forward DAN LIER celebrates with his teammates following his team's victory Tuesday night. The Tigers, won the NAIA national basketball tournament, beating Wayland Baptist University of Plainview, Texas 82-80.

Father-son team wins NAIA title

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — What could be better than coaching your team to a second straight national championship?

Having your son make the winning shot. "That makes it even more special," said Bill Morse, whose Fort Hays State Tigers slipped past Wayland Baptist 82-80 in overtime Tuesday night in the title game of the 48th annual NAIA basketball championship. "I'm thrilled it could be Ron."

Ron Morse, a reserve guard for the Tigers of Hays, Kan., went into the tensely played title game when starter Raymond Lee fouled out with 59 seconds left in regulation.

Moments later, Dean Jackson curled in a follow shot at the buzzer to knot the score at 67-67 and keep the hopes alive for Wayland Baptist of Plainview, Tex.

Fred Campbell, the hero of Fort Hays' last-second semifinal victory over Central Washington, became the second starter to foul out early in the overtime period. Nevertheless, the Tigers built a 76-71 lead with 1:34 left in overtime behind Edgar Eason, who led all scorers with 32 points and was named the tournament's most valuable player.

But Michael Parks made a bucket for Wayland Baptist with 22 seconds remaining to slice the Fort Hays lead to two points at 80-78.

Then after Eason missed the front end of a one-and-one free throw, Parks managed a bucket with five seconds to play.

The score was tied at 80-80 when, following a time out, Morse brought the ball down court. He stopped at the free-throw line and arched a soft jumper.

Followed by every eye in the arena, the ball rattled around the rim, dipped toward the net and popped out. The buzzer clanged and the ball seemed to rest motionless on the rim, in defiance of time and gravity.

Then, ever so gently, it fell through the net, giving the jubilant Tigers their second straight national title.

"It's a dream come true," said the younger Morse. "With five seconds left I'm sitting on the bench thinking someone had to hit the shot, and it turned out to be me."

Fort Hays, which plays its home games about seven hours' west of Kansas City, came into the small-college tournament as the defending champion and No. 1 seed. The Tigers were the definite favorite of the crowd.

"They had the winning edge with the fans on their side, the tradition and by being the defending national champions," said Wayland Baptist Coach Mark Adams.

The Pioneers finished their season 30-10.

Brown formally charged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pro football Hall of Fame member Jim Brown has been formally charged with one count each of rape, sexual battery and assault in connection with an alleged attack on a woman at his home last month, a prosecutor said.

The charges were filed Tuesday in Municipal Court and Brown was scheduled to appear Thursday morning for arraignment, said Deputy District Attorney Vivian Omoza.

Deputy District Attorney Sandra Buttitta said Monday that prosecutors decided to charge Brown after a 33-year-old teacher complained that Brown punched her repeatedly in his Hollywood Hills home Feb. 19 to force her to have sex with him and a companion, Carol Moses.

Brown, who maintains he is innocent, had until Monday morning to produce two witnesses he claimed would clear him before prosecutors decided whether to file charges, Buttitta said. He failed to produce those witnesses.

Brown has been free on a $17,500 bond. Moses, 22, who was free on $1,000 bond after being booked for investigation of sexual battery, was not charged.

Brown played nine years in the National Football League with the Cleveland Browns before retiring in 1965. He was pro football's all-time leading ground-gainer until his record was broken by Walter Payton of the Chicago Bears in 1984. After retiring from football, Brown became an actor, starring in such films as the "Dirty Dozen."

City employee's firing linked to drug charges

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

Big Spring Police Chief Rick Turner Monday fired an employee in the animal control department because the woman was implicated in a conspiracy to sell marijuana, he said Tuesday afternoon.

The employee, Mary Flores, 28, of 1305 Kindle, was fired after she was involved in a drug buy by an undercover agent, Turner said.

He said he could not release when the offense occurred because he did not want to "pinpoint" the identity of the undercover agent. He would not identify the law enforcement agency the undercover man worked for.

"It could lead to retaliation against the agent," Turner said.

Miss Flores will be charged with conspiracy to deliver less than one-quarter ounce of marijuana, a Class B misdemeanor, Turner said.

She and her boyfriend, who Turner said he could not name until charges have been filed against him, have been under investigation for some time, he said.

Her boyfriend, who Turner claims actually made the sale to the undercover agent, will be charged with a Class A misdemeanor, delivery of less than one-quarter ounce of marijuana, he said.

"Regardless of whether they work at the police department or where they work, we will treat them the same way we treat anybody else," Turner said. "Anyone dealing or conspiring to sell drugs will not be tolerated at the department."

Miss Flores can appeal Turner's decision through the city's appeals process, Turner said. First, she would have to appeal through the department, then to the city manager and then the city council, he said.

However, Turner said he did not think she had much chance of being hired. "There is no earthly way I will hire her back," he said.

"I can't tolerate that (drug-related offenses). And I'm not going to cover it up," he said.
