Howard County Grand Jurors returned two murder indictments Wednesday afternoon against suspects accused in the beating death of a Big Spring woman last month.

Jorge Loy Chavana, 21, of 817 W. Eighth and Angel Martinez, 22, of 808 Magnolia are charged with the murder of 81-year-old Maurine Terrell. She was assaulted in her home at 1400 Scurry on March 5.

injuries suffered during the attack.

Police charged Chavana and Martinez with murder and burglary on March 19. Justice of the Peace China Long set bonds at $75,000 apiece for murder and $10,000 apiece for burglary.

"This was a special grand jury that looked basically at the murder charges. There was absolutely no action taken on burglary charges as far as separate indictments are

She died three days later in Lub-concerned," said assistant district bock General Hospital from head attorney Jeanene Walker.

District Attorney Rick Hamby said his office was concerned with the murder charges that police had filed against the two suspects.

"I'm worried about a murder," Hamby said. "If I can't prove that, than there is no way to prove burglary.'

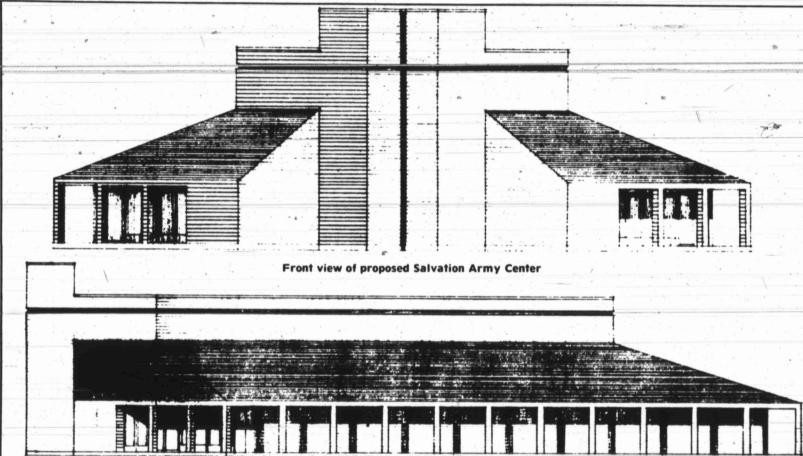

Hamby said that charges were not upgraded to capital murder because "the jury didn't feel the evidence was there.

The grand jury convened two weeks ago at Hamby's request after he reached an agreement with attorney Robert V. Garcia Jr. of Odessa.

Garcia had filed a writ of habeas corpus civil suit in the district clerk's office on behalf of Chavana. He had requested a bond hearing and claimed that the two suspects were being detained unlawfully. Hamby said the agreement was that Garcia would drop the bond hearing request if the district attorney would present the case quickly to the grand jury.

Grand jurors began hearing witnesses and reviewing evidence last week. They adjourned after meeting for one day until further evidence gathered from the scene of the crime had been returned from the Texas Department of Public Saftey laboratory in Midland. The 12-member jury reconvened again Wednesday

Salvation Army plans new center

By CAROL BALDWIN Staff Writer

Community leaders and supporters of the Salvation Army met Wednesday to start a fund-raising campaign they hope will raise $753,000 for new construction.

The group gathered at St. Paul Lutheran Church. The Rev. Carrol Kohl, pastor of St. Paul's, is steering committee chairman for the campaign.

Johnnie Lou Avery, general chairman, explained the project and introduced members of the Pacesetters, a committee seeking donations to the project. Mrs. Avery said $191,000 in "lead gifts" has already been pledged to the AUSTIN — Out-of-state students at the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf may be paying lower tuition as the result of a bill approved Wednesday by the Senate Education Committee.

Sam Hill, executive director of the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, said testimony before the committee Wednesday "went very well" in an effort to get tuition rates for out-of-state students at SWCID lowered.

Before final adoption, the bill must be approved in the Senate and House of Representatives. The committee voted 8-4 to recommend the bill for passage in the Senate. Out-of-state students at the college began paying close to $9,000 a year, or $365 per credit hour, after lawmakers raised tuition in 1983 to meet the cost of operating the school, said Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, sponsor of the bill.

Hill said Montford "did an excellent job" in making a case for lowering the tuition at the local facility.

Montford was joined by Hill, Dr. Bob Riley and Jerry Hassell, president of the Texas Association of the Montford told the committee that since that increase, out-of-state enrollment at the school has dropped from 50 to 4 percent of the total enrollment. Currently, there are 104 students enrolled at the college. Only four of these are out-of-state students.

"This is a unique college - one of only three such institutions in the United States offering postsecondary deaf instruction," Montford

No matter how routine, psychologists say work fills a psychic need to be needed, provides a participatory pattern in otherwise formless time. Pity the person who has no workplace to go to, observed George Bernard Shaw. "I don't care who he is — it is a trial of which you can have no conception."

At the root of it all, work is essential to human life, to sheltering, feeding and clothing it and to rearing its young. It's fundamental to the whole process, mandated in the biblical story of human origins, a sanctified business.

God himself worked, the account says, saw it was "very good," and commanded people made in "the image of God" also to work, giving them dominion and stewardship of earth. It was a challenging assignment.

CBS discusses merger

NEW YORK — CBS Inc., reported to be a magnate Ted Turner and others, has discussed a "friendly" merger with General Electric Co. to head off any unwanted bids, a newspaper said today.

Wall Street sources told The New York Times the merger offer would be taken up only in the event of a serious, unfriendly attempt to purchase CBS.

CBS officials denied that the company was considering a merger or had held discussions with GE. GE declined to comment, the Times

The Times reported Wednesday that Turner was preparing to acquire CBS and had received financial commitments of $100 million from MCI Communications Corp. and former U.S. Treasury Secretary William Simon.

Chocolate kills canines

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Dogs that eat chocolate treats such as candy Easter bunnies can die from satisfying their sweet tooth, an Ohio State University veterinarian warns.

Pamela Hand, an instructor at Ohio State's outpatient clinic of the College of Veterinary Medicine, says veterinarians recently realized chocolate can be lethal to dogs.

'Chocolate contains theobromine, which is similar to caffeine. It has similar effects as caffeine - it causes cardiac muscle stimulation and central nervous system stimulation," Ms. Hand said Wednesday.

"Depending on the dose, the substance can cause illness or death in dogs, just like it could in humans," she said.

Raid on Lebanon

Israelis attack Shiite villages, kill 8 guerrillas

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Israeli forces raided two Shiite Moslem villages in south Lebanon today, Beirut radio stations said. The Israeli military command said its troops killed eight guerrillas who attempted to flee.

A roadside bomb injured three French soldiers of the U.N. peacekeeping force in Israeli-occupied south Lebanon, a U.N. spokesman said. Christians and Moslems battled for a seventh straight day in Sidon, killing two people and injuring 22, the radio stations

Government radio and private stations said Israeli troops in 40 armored personnel carriers and trucks rolled out of their occupation zone and entered the villages of Kawthariet Assiyad and Ghassanieh this morning

The Israelis ordered the men of both villages to assemble at mosques for questioning, and soldiers searched houses in the towns about 12 miles south of Sidon, provincial capital of south Lebanon, according to radio reports. The Israeli military command said in Tel Aviv that eight "armed terrorists" who tried to flee were killed in the raid on Kawthariet Assiyad. It said five died when they tried to escape in a car, and three others were killed as they attempted to flee a cave. Israeli soldiers found large caches of weapons, including Soviet-made Kalashnikov rifles, bombs and seven rocket-propelled grenade launchers, the an-

Military sources in Tel Aviv said there was Israeli army "activity" in Kawthariet Assiyad and a village within the occupation zone, Bourj al-Shemali. The sources, who declined to be identified, said they knew of no such activity in Ghassanieh.

The military sources confirmed that the Israeli army had carried out searches and made arrests Wednesday in the Shiite village of Teir Zebna, eight miles east of Tyre. They, had no details.

Israel has mounted more than 40 search-and-arrest operations in south Lebanon in the past six weeks in an effort to check escalating guerrilla attacks against Israeli troops, who are expected to complete their withdrawal from Lebanon by June.

Three French soldiers of the U.N. peacekeeping force were injured in the Israeli-occupied zone as a roadside bomb was detonated east of Jouaya, nine miles east of Tyre.

Timur Goksel, spokesman for the U.N. force, said it vas the first time such an attack had been directed against the force, which arrived in Lebanon in 1978.

Goksel declined to speculate on a motive. A security source who spoke on condition of anonymity said Shiite Moslem guerrillas had lately made the area east of Jouaya "very hot" for the Israelis. On Wednesday, Israel freed more than 750 Lebanese and Palestinian prisoners from its occupation zone. The freed men vowed to continue their fight against A day earlier, the Israelis took 1,100 other Ansar prisoners to a new detention center in Israel. The release of about a third of the prisoners was designed to ease tensions with southern Lebanon's increasingly hostile Shifte population.

The Red Cross made an unusual public protest, saying transfer of civilian detainees across an international border violated the Geneva Conventions. The U.S. State Department also said the move may have violated the Geneva accords.

Celibacy vows renewed

VATICAN CITY - Pope John Paul II opend four days of Easter celebrations today by leading nearly 1,100 clergy in renewing their celibacy vows at a solemn Mass.

An audience of several thousand watched as the pontiff, 10 cardinals, 50 bishops and more than 1,000 priests celebrated Mass and renewed their vows before the main altar of St. Peter's Basilica.

Later in the day, the pope was to drive to the Basilica of St. John the Lateran for another Mass during which he will wash the feet of 12 priests in a re-enactment of the Last Supper of esus and his Apostles

Ten of the 12 priests are Italians. Also included are a priest from the pope's native Poland and a Rome-based American, the Rev. Bernard Johnson.

Iran ends missile raids

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Iran said today it was ending missile attacks on Iraqi cities because Iraqi attacks on Iranian civilians had slowed. However, shortly afterwards it said an Iraqi missile hit a western Iranian city, killing 25 people and wounding 70.

The official Islamic Republic News Agency, monitored in Nicosia, Cyprus, said the missile hit Bakhtaran, an agricultural town in western Iran.

Earlier, IRNA reported an explosion on the fourth floor of a Tehran building. It said one one man was killed and five others wounded in

The explosion badly damaged the building and started a fire which was extinguished in 30 minutes, the agency said. IRNA quoted an unidentified spokesman for the Islamic Revolutionary Committee as saying the dead man may have been preparing a bomb. His identity was not released.

Agreement on missiles

GENEVA, Switzerland - U.S. and Soviet delegates met for more than 21/2 hours today in the second negotiating session devoted reaching a superpower agreement on medium-range missiles.

A U.S. spokesman said members of the two negotiating teams have also begun informal social contacts outside the sessions.

The spokesman, who spoke on condition he not be identified, said informal contacts at all levels of the U.S. and Soviet delegations began last week, and are "continuing and expanding.

The spokesman confirmed that Max M. Kampelman and Yuli A. Kvitsinsky, who head the subgroups on space and defense weapons, had lunch together on Wednesday.

A source who told The Associated Press of the encounter said the two men spent two hours at a Geneva restaurant and spoke in English. The source, who declined to be identified, said it was not known what was discussed.

Turkish airplane crash kills 13

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) - A Turkish air force jet crashed today into a business district in the western city of Balikesir, killing at least 13 people and injuring 21, a government official said. News agency reports said the plane was an F-104 and that one pilot was killed, but that the copilot ejected safely and suffered only minor injuries.

Provincial Gov. Bayram Ozen said the aircraft crashed into a coffeehouse in the middle of furniture and carpenter shops at the outskirts of Balikesir.

The governor told The Associated Press by telephone that the death toll could mount as rescue workers cleared away rubble.

Ozen declined to give any information about the aircraft, saying the Turkish military would have

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective April 29, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

While proposals as to specific rates vary, it is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 10.5 percent increase in the Company's unadjusted test year intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas and with each affected incorporated municipality served by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's rate application. This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for local exchange service, intraLATA long distance, intra-LATA interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates

Notice to Customers of Other

Telephone Companies This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for intraLATA long distance and for intraLATA, interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide certain services in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's tariffs.

Notice to All Customers Concerning Access Charges and Certain New Service Charges

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, as a part of this filing, is also proposing to reduce certain access rates charged such customers as AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI and other carriers. The resulting reduction in revenues is proposed to be offset by revenues from two new service charges, late payment charges applicable to business customers only and for certain operator services such as busy line verification, plus stimulation of access service charge revenues. Since this portion of the filing, if granted, would have essentially a zero net revenue effect on Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is proposing that this portion of the filing be expeditiously handled by the Commission and not await Final Order.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso Público

En conformidad con las disposiciones de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company anuncia mediante el presente aviso su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas telefónicas en Texas, con vigencia a partir del 29 de abril de 1985, salvo disposición en contrario de

Si bién existe variación entre las propuestas en cuanto a las tarifas precisas, se anticipa que el arancel tarifario solicitado aumentará en un 10.5% los ingresos intraestatales no ajustados de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company durante el año de prueba. Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se halla archivada en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos en Austin, Texas, así como en cada municipalidad incorporada afectada que tenga servicio de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa se halla sujeta a cambio toda vez que Southwestern Bell Telephone Company solicite nuevas tarifas. El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de centrales locales, de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada interLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio

Aviso a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada intraLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio de acceso. Los cambios en dichas tarifas también afectarían a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono, puesto que dichas compañías proporcionan ciertos servicios de acuerdo con las tarifas especificadas en los aranceles tarifarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Aviso a todos los clientes con respecto a los cargos de acceso y a determinados cargos nuevos

Al registrar esta tarifa, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company también propone reducir ciertas tarifas de acceso que se les cobran a clientes como AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI y otras compañías de larga distancia. La consecuente reducción de ingresos se piensa compensar por medio de dos cargos nuevos de servicio (cargos por pago atrasado que se aplicarían solamente a usuarios comerciales, y cargos por ciertos servicios de operadora, tales como verificación de línea ocupada) además de la estimulación de los ingresos por cargos por servicios de acceso. En vista de que, en caso de otorgarse esta parte del arancel tarifario registrado, su efecto real en los ingresos de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company sería igual a cero, ésta propone que la Comisión tramite dicha parte de la tarifa en forma expeditiva sin esperar la Orden Definitiva.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el presente proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Para obtener mayor información debe llamar a Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division, (512) 458-0223, o (512) 458-0227, o al (512) 458-0221 si requiere teletipo para personas con mpedimentos de audición

Endorsements

The endorsements of candidates which follow represent the view of this newspaper's editorial board. We encourage voters to consider our point of view in making their choice at the ballot box Saturday, but we do not presume to speak for the voters. Every voter's decision is one of personal choice.

Polls will be open 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. When all the votes are tallied, the three candidates who have more votes than any other of the 12 candidates will be elected to three at-large (citywide) positions on the city council.

However you vote, we encourage you to exercise that right.

Russ McEwen

Russ McEwen deserves re-election to the city council. McEwen's roster of accomplishments in civic and charitable activities for Big Spring are ample evidence of not only his ability to serve this city, but his willingness.

At 35, McEwen has a record of achievement: president of the United Way, director of the YMCA, Chamber of Commerce, city traffic commission, chairman of Citizens for a Better Big Spring ... the list goes on.

This newspaper's decision to offer its modest support to the McEwen re-election effort is no rubber stamp of the status quo. In editorial opinions, sometimes expressed with a great deal of vigor, we have disagreed with his actions and the actions of the governing body on which he serves - for example, in the decision to settle a voting rights tawsuit by extending the terms of some councilmen.

We have an underlying belief, however, that McEwen has acted in good faith, that he did what he did without ulterior motive. The disagreements have been honest disagreements on both sides; that's what a viable political process is all

McEwen brings vigor and a vision of the long term future of Big Spring to city government. He has earned re-election to

Jack Y. Smith

Jack Y. Smith has been active in Big Spring affairs for longer than many of its residents have been alive. He put in 41 years at Cosden Chemical and Oil Co. refinery. Now, at 73, he is free to devote long hours to city government.

He has done just that for three full terms in this stint. His current service was preceded by six years of city council government in the late '40s and early '50s.

"Jack Y.," as he is commonly called, has been around. He's been here when Big Spring was flush, and he's been here in tight times. His maturity gives him a "whole picture" view of the city that is needed on the city council.

Smith also represents Big Spring in larger concerns. He is active on the Permian Basin Review Committee and was appointed by the governor to serve on the Permian Basin Community Development Committee. Grant money sent the city's way were due in part to his ability to carry Big Spring's banner outside the city.

Smith is needed on the city council.

Johnny Rutherford

Perhaps there has been no greater rallying point for Big Spring recently than the cleanup campaigns engineered by the hard work and tenacity of council candidate Johnny

Rutherford, 33, is blessed with an unsinkable optimism that is catching. His is the spirit that says "we can." And he's more than just a man of ideas, he follows those ideas with organizational and motivational abilities and plain old-fashioned hard Rutherford already has proven he is an achiever who is committed to community betterment. He has dedicated his time and talent to the Chamber of Commerce, the Northside Community Center and the YMCA in addition to the CLEAN and 4x4 projects which unified the community and employed young people for summer jobs. He will be an asset to the Big Spring City Council.

Catch 22 for N-plant ills

WASHINGTON — Congressional investigators are looking into the possibility that the Energy Department has either covered up or ignored evidence that thousands of workers in its nuclear-weapons plants are exposed to serious long-term health hazards.

Concerned members of Congress, including Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, are pushing for legislation that would break the department's monopoly on regulation of nuclear wastes, environmental guidelines at its facilities and studies of health hazards related to radiation exposure. The idea is that other agencies would be more objective in setting and enforcing regulations in these areas

Relying on the Energy Department for regulating hazardous wastes and radiation exposure "is akin to asking the fox to guard the chicken coop," Glenn stated. The department, he added, "has a dubious record in the area of environmental protection."

Investigators told my associate Indy Badhwar they have heard several accusations that, in the past, DOE has tried to suppress research material it viewed as unfavorable or embarrassing.

For example, there have been recent revelations that the department's Materials Production Center Fernald, Ohio, has spewed 96 tons of uranium dust into the air in the past 30 years and leaked 74 tons of uranium into the surface water near the plant. An additional 337 tons of uranium are unaccounted for. Clearly, Energy has been running something less than a tight ship at Fernald.

Yet when a recent study of 4,000 past and present Fernald workers showed a high correlation between sometimes fatal lung disease and uranium dust exposure, Energy never published the report. The study was done with federal funding by Jerome Wilkson, a graduate student at the University of North Carolina, and was based on workers' health insurance records.

Jeff Sea, a union representative at the Fernald plant, said the union had to get the report from the university archives. "And at no time were the workers consulted for their input or even told that they were being studied," Sea complained. "I think it's a crime that a study confirming serious diseases and death among workers was hidden from them."

An earlier study, of 30,000 workers at the department's Hanford nuclear-weapons plan in Washington state, found a correlation between nuclear pollutants and higher levels of cancer of the pancreas. It was done in the late 1970s under contract to Thomas Mancuso of the University of Pittsburgh

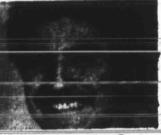

But Energy officials objected to Mancuso's findings, terminated his contract, and brought in their own expert to repudiate the report.

The peculiar setup of weapons plants, which are run by private management under contract to the Energy Department, makes it virtually impossible for the workers to negotiate health and safety measures in their union contracts, Sea said.

"When we asked the department to negotiate with he explained, "they tell us they have no authority to negotiate with us because we are employed by the contractor. When we try to negotiate with the contractor, he says he is powerless to do anything about health and safety ssues because the department has the sole regulatory authority. It's a game of 'Catch-22."

The legislation being considered would help solve this problem by divvying up the department's nowtotal authority among other federal agencies.

El Presidente Reagan y su administracion les importa poco de los derechos civiles y cosas de importancia que afectan a la gente del mundo.

Get the facts on civil service

To the editor: As the wife of a firefighter I would like to address one of the points on the Civil Service issue misrepresented by "Citizens for Home Rule." They say the vacation and sick leave earned by firefighters cost the taxpayers extra money. It does not.

When a firefighter requests vacation time, it is subject to how many men are on duty. If my husband schedules 3 days for a family trip, but is needed at the station because someone is out sick, we cancel our vacation. We accept this as part of the job.

When a firefighter is off duty and is needed, like when Cosden was ablaze, he is called back to work. Christmas and other holidays are worked just like any other day of

It is a slap in the face of every firefighter for "Citizens for Home Rule" to sarcastically say, "If it doesn't cost more, why not six more days (of vacation of sick leave)?" as they did in a recent ad. I hope part of their misconceptions are based on ignorance of the facts rather than deliberate malice. Last week I was talking with Johnny Rutherford, a city council candidate who opposes State Civil Service. He admitted he had not read the Civil Service Act and didn't know its contents. When I offered to get a copy for him, he told me not to bother. His mind was there is little recourse unless he is willing to take legal action against the city. Only then is his side of the story heard.

Unfortunately this attitude seems typical of Big Spring's current leadership. When a city employee is unjustly

Vote for city, not against it

To the editor:

My husband and I have lived in Big Spring for the past 13 years, as retired Senior Citizens. We have been active in senior citizen work and think Big Spring is an excellent place to live. We are very conscious of the problems of living on a fixed income and trying to live within it.

There are many reasons for not favoring a change to state civil service for our firemen, but our foremost reason is that the change would very probably increase our taxes. We consider our City government efficient, and we are voting against State Civil Service for firemen. M. B. IRLAND

Bureaucracy not needed here

Talk to a U.S. Congressman and learn that the most uncontrolled bureaucracies in Washington are the Civil Service and the Corps of Army Engineers. For those who are incompetent and lazy, it almost takes an act of God to get rid of Good and competent employees do not need civil service for protection in their jobs. Employers, including city governments, are always searching for good and competent employees Vote "NO" on the Civil Service measure on April 6.

Leave well enough alone

To the editor:

A serious issue confronts our voters this Saturday. Who is going to govern our Fire Department? The State of Texas or the City of Big Spring?

Now, if we vote to adopt State Civil Service for fireman, do you know what it takes to change our mind? It takes 51% of all registered voters to vote to repeal it. I cannot recall a city election that has had 51% of the registered voters exercise their right.

I hope you will leave "Well Enough Alone" and vote against State Civil Service for Fireman. JIM BILL LITTLE

Civil service gets bad rap

To the editor:

As a wife of a firefighter, I have been extremely upset by the media coverage over the upcoming vote on the firefighters state civil service plan. Our firefighters do a difficult and often times dangerous job that protects all of the citizens and property of Big Spring. The hours are long, longer than the majority of employees are required to work.

The Civil Service Plan would provide for stringent requirements for the Fire Department in regard toqualifications and training for firefighters, promotions and advancement within the department, firefighting equipment and standards for firehouses, job descriptions and job security.

Many of the figures published, especially in the area of finance cost to the citizens of Big Spring, are misleading, and the voters need to be aware of the true issues involved. The true cost to be paid will be the possible lost property and lives which would be the ultimate result if the Civil Service Plan is rejected

What if firemen go on strike?

To the editor: In response to the letter from Lorenzo E. Rodriquez about the recent fire at Cosden, most of the men were on lunch break when the fire broke out, there were only four or five men there when the fire broke out and they were in a safe place by the time the Fire Dept. got there, I know the Fire Dept. got there as quick as possible and done a great job, but you can look at it another way also, suppose the Fire Dept. was Civil Service, and the fire broke out, and the Fire Dept. was on strike for higher wages (the tax payers would have to pay more taxes) and would not go out and fight this fire, or any major fire in Big Spring for that matter, your fire insurance would go up as well as your taxes and this has happened to some of the northern states. I say if they don't like the job, or the way it is run, find another job, no one is making them stay in the Fire Dept. I'm going to vote NO and I hope most everyone will.

Senate OKs school reform changes

AUSTIN (AP) - The Senate Education Committee has approved 44 pages of changes it thinks should be made in the major public school reform legislation passed last summer at a special session.

Sen. Carl Parker, chairman of the Senate Public Education Committee, said he planned to offer the bill for debate early next week

The omnibus education revision bill was approved 10-0 Wednesday by the committee without discussion or debate.

"It fine tunes and streamlines," said Parker. A provision that would let the State Board of Education change the controversial no-pass, no-play eligibility rule captured most attention. But the overall measure contains numerous changes affecting both teachers and students in Texas' public If passed by the Senate and House, and signed by the governor, the measure would: • Tell the State Board of Education to reconsider its present rule that a student will be suspended from sports or other extracurricular activities for six weeks if failing in one subject. The bill suggests a

 Tell the State Board of Education to give teachers a basic skills test, mostly on reading, writing and math. It would allow the board to decide later, after the first test, if a more difficult examination on specific skills in teaching is needed to weed out incompetent teachers. The board has said it believes the first test will show up 90 percent of those who should not be teaching. Provide for probationary and permanent teaching certificates, with permanent certificates going only to teachers who have proved themselves satisfactory

- Set up a four-level career program for teachers that would give them a $2,000 raise for each level reached, based on above average talent, training and initiative. Librarians would be included with classroom teachers, but not teacher aides and counselors. School administrators also would be

 Provide for a system of school discipline that would give school officials power to suspend students for up to six days or to expel then from school for assaults on teachers or pupils or for distributing Tell each school to provide tutorial or make-up classes, outside regular school hours, for failing or

The no-pass, no-play issue was settled by the committee Tuesday when it voted, 9-0, for a compromise plan to let the Board of Education make another effort to settle the controversy

Upset parents and confused school officials have beseiged legislators for months to do something about the rule

Parker argued it was important to return the issue to the 15-member school board, with new instructions from the Legislature.

"This will free their hands and let them do what is best for students." Parker said.

The compromise amendment said merely that a student may be suspended from any extracurricular activity for failing grades, according to rules set by the Board of Education. It specifically gives the board authority to "provide for different grade reporting periods ... of less than six weeks.

We, as firefighters, ask you the voters to go to the polls and vote for State Civil Service. We desperately need your support in this issue to make sure Big Spring has and always will have the best fire protection possible.

Civil Service was adopted by the State Legislature almost 40 years ago to insure effective Fire Protection to Texas cities. This civil service act is a standardization of rules and regulations which our Fire Dept. needs to retain qualified personnel, free from political influences.

Our turnover rate is one of the highest in the state. We, as firefighters, are very concerned about Big Spring and its people. Help us keep Big Spring SAFE.

Weight yo-yos worsen fat problem

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My daughter is one of those weight yoyos — up and down, 148 one month, 125 the next. I was told years ago y my doctor that this could b worse than not dieting at all, that the person can be adding to her weight control difficulty. Isn't my daughter better off just staying at a moderate in-between weight than going up and down this way? -

I agree with you, that she would be better off going on a realistic weight loss plan than going up and down this way. Yo-yo dieters aren't really helping themselves. For one thing, their inability to stay at a reasonable weight indicates they are not learning good dietary habits, the most important part of any weight loss plan.

The other objection to the yo-yo dieting is more objective and based on statistics gathered by those who study such matters in depth. They say that weight loss initially is in both fat and protein, but that weight regained tends to be almost exclusively fat. This seems related to the fact that fat cells are never really lost from the body.

According to some authorities fat cells just shrink in size. Later, when they find an oversupply of calories around they take the opportunity to enlarge to their previous size. And, in fact, some think that these fat cells also multiply to as much as double their pre-diet numbers. Factors such as these lie behind objections to the crash-diet plans always going the

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What does the term, giant cell arteritis mean? - D.D.

It is inflammation of arteries, particularly the temporal arteries at the sides of the head. Very large (giant) cells accumulate in them to block blood flow. That causes headache an local tenderness.

If the blockage becomes complete, blindness may result. There's another name for this problem - temporal arteritis. Frequently, however, eye and other body arteries are affected.

K mart Corp. SWCID gets stiff fine the same tuition rates as out-of-

EL PASO (AP) — A state district judge has fined K mart Corp. more than $122,000 because the large retail chain remained open for business on Saturday and Sunday before Christmas last year in violation of Texas' blue law and a 1981 court order

In an order signed Wednesday. Judge Sam Callan found K mart in contempt for each of more than 500 separate violations of the closing

K mart's attorney in El Paso, Malcolm Harris, said the corporation still disagrees with the blue law, but agreed to the penalty as a compromise after negotiating with the El Paso Retailers Association. The state will receive the money from the fine.

According to court records, K mart agreed to a restraining order issued by Callan against the company four years ago after its outlets stayed open on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays, triggering a complaint from the El Paso Retailers Association.

But last year, K mart joined other Texas stores protesting the blue law and opened its El Paso stores Dec. 22 and 23 - again without restricting sales.
The next week, the El Paso

Retailers Association filed a motion that the corporation be held in contempt for violating the Callan's leges and universities. The bill passed in the House, but still pending in the Senate, recommends $180 a semester hour for out-ofstate students. Hill said today "there may be another possibility" in the statewide tuition controversy. The lieutenant governor "has a proposal that would set non-resident uition at $120 per credit. It could go either way.'

Before a tuition rate for all outof-state students is agreed upon, "It may go to a conference committee and be set in-between," Hill

Hill told the committee that lower out-of-state tuition will attract more students to the institution which will be an asset to the local economy.

Riley, president of the Howard County Junior College District, said more out-of-state students 'would allow programs to function easier than now.

"SWCID has contributed so much to Howard County. It is an important addition to the entire state," Riley said.

Addressing the committee in sign language, Hassell, who is also a member of the SWCID advisory committee, said SWCID was forced to reduce academic standards following the drop in enrollment.

Because of this, the school has been unable to recruit "bright, new faculty," Hassell said.

"A good education is mandatory for everyone and even more mandatory for the deaf individual. This school helps students to become contributors to the state's economy," he added.

Veteran Big Spring cop resigns

A five-year veteran of the Big Spring Police Department resigned last week, according to Police Chief Rick Turner.

Patrolman Bob Lester, who started work April 1, 1980, with the Big Spring Police Department, did not list any reasons for his action in his letter of resignation, Turner said.

"The letter said he enjoyed his tenure with the Big Spring Police Department and that he hoped in the future he would be able to work for the department again," Turner said.

Before working on the Big Spring force, Lester had worked a total of 10 years on police departments in Coleman and Waco, according to Turner.

TONY GWYNN is one of the main reasons the San Diego Padres are expected to win the National League West crown. Gwynn is the defending NL batting champ.

Padres get nod in N.L. West division

Dick Williams is well aware that history is against him as his San Diego Padres go for their second straight National League West

"There hasn't been a club do it in the past three years," Williams says. "There have been 12 different divisional winners in the last three seasons, and I don't see it being any easier this year.

Perhaps not. But the Padres won their division by 12 games last year, and Williams now has a better team than the one that took him to the World Series before losing to Detroit.

During the offseason, the Padres traded four players, including pitcher Tim Lollar and oustanding prospect Ozzie Guillen, to the Chicago White Sox for pitcher LaMarr Hoyt. They also signed free agents Tim Stoddard, a reliever, and Jerry Royster, a utility player.

In 1984, Atlanta and Houston were tied for second place, followed by Los Angeles, Cincinnati and San Francisco.

In 1985, the NL West should look like this: San Diego, Atlanta, Los Angeles, Houston, Cincinnati and San Francisco.

The right-hander Hoyt replaces free-agent Ed Whitson on a starting staff that might also include right-handers Eric Show and Andy Hawkins, and left-handers Mark Thurmond and Dave Dravecky. Stoddard's acquisition allows Williams to switch Hawkins and Dravecky from long relief.

Williams' short men are righthander Rich Gossage and lefthander Craig Lefferts, who had 35 saves between them.

Outfielders Kevin McReynolds and Carmelo Martinez both are the same team. coming off injuries, and their health will be important to the might enjoy is the comeback bid of club. The Dodgers, who finished 79-83 last season, made only one major change. It helped in one are but hurt in another, where the Dodgers already were weak.

Al Oliver brings a career .305 batting average over from Philadelphia, and Manager Tom Lasorda says he'll play left field. Oliver has been a first baseman most of the past four seasons, and his shaky defense in the outfield will worsen what already may be the worst defense in the division.

Still, with players such as Pedro Guerrero and Steve Sax coming off suppar seasons, the Dodgers should be able to finish around .500. HOUSTON

The Astros have gotten off to terrible starts the past two seasons, including 0-9 in 1984, and they have been out of it before the races even began. Bob Lillis will have to guard against this as he returns virtually

What others say-

Here are a few comments by officials and others who have had experience with 1269m (State Civil Service statute):

- •"It hinders us both in disciplining and promoting." Amarillo Mayor
- "We have found that 1269m (Civil Service) .. has a profoundly negative impact on the city without providing any significant improvement in ...fire protection." - Fort Worth Mayor, Bob Bolen.
- •"Under 1269m, a new chief inherits his subordinates who can and frequently do - roadblock his policies ... The law is deplorable and onerous, and digs deep into taxpayer pockets." - TEXAS MONTHLY.
- •"1269m is the most restrictive barrier to progressive fire service leadership that I am aware of." — Fort Worth Fire Chief Larry McMillen, (who won national recognition for his department in Phoenix, Ariz.)
- "If a man can secure test questions, cram with the aid of a sergeant or whoever, he, too, can be a sergeant." - State Sen. Bob McFarland, leading advocate of reform.
- "It handcuffs management and suffocates incentive." Dick Brown, director of Texas Municipal League.

If you want to know how it works, ask these and scores of other city officials and administrators who have been stuck with it. Vote Saturday against adopting State Civil Service, for firemen.

FORECAST FOR PRI. APRIL 5, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A full moon day that brings about quick and decisive activity where relations and dealings between various parties are concerned so you would be wise to consider all sides.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study well both your opponents and associates and know how to come to a better agreement with all of them.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can accomplish a great deal, whether in business or personal life today, so get busy early in the day.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Early concentrate on entertainment that can bring great happiness. Make appointments which are necessary.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Get matters at home nicely arranged so that you can have a very hanpy weekend. Extend invitations to dinner. LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Study the important communications you have to handle today and do so with

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study your property and know how to improve it so that it becomes more valuable and comfortable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A good day to visit your beauty or barber shop and make yourself more attrac-tive. Then get social plans made with friends. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Some new plan you have for gaining your aims has a good chance of being successful, so go ahead with it.

show you how to proceed in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are mentally toying with new aims and get the right slant on how to make them work for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your intuition is good both today and tonight, and you can work out business affairs and romantic ones well in the evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she can tune in on the wants and needs of others and will want to do everything in his, or her power to assist them upon reaching maturity. However, teach early to first be good to the self so that your progeny will be in a better position to help others and not lose out in the game of life.

The Rangers have been in the red ink throughout the 1980s.

There are new executive suites that will provide more revenue. There's a new public relations man in John Blake, who replaced

When the Rangers take the field for their home opener Friday night against Milwaukee (plently of seats are still available), there will be plenty of new faces.

Toby Harrah, the old Ranger who still holds the club's home run leadership, was obtained in a trade for Billy Sample and will be starting at second base.

Cliff Johnson, a slugger deluxe, will be the new designated hitter and classy catcher Don Slaught, obtained from Kansas City, will be behind the plate.

The Ranger lineup averaged almost six runs a game in the spring and could be a potent run producer during the regular season. New pitchers counted on to help

Post office expands parking; has new exit

The public parking lot at Big Spring's U.S. Post Office on Main has been expanded to twice its former size, and two entances have been created to allow for better traffic control.

But construction has caused confusion as unwary drivers enter the new exits and exit the new entrances. And postal officials are worried the new parking lot design may "cause a bunch of fender benders if the people don't know where to go," said Postmaster Frank

Hardesty Carroll Osburn, superintendent of engineering at the federal building, said parking spaces have been increased from 24 to 57. The expansion, which does away with the circular drive, features two entrances from Main Street and one exit onto Sixth street. Exit and entrance signs have been posted around the new construction, but parking spaces cannot be outlined in paint until the lot's new seal coating is allowed to harden, Osburn said. Painting should be completed in seven to 10 days, he said.

Drivers, accustomed to entering and exiting off Main Street, may be confused initially over two entrances and the new Sixth Street exit he said

"But this should help those traffic jams on Main Street," he

The Postal Service has requested that the city install traffic lights or four-way stop signs at the intersections of Sixth and Runnels and Sixth and Main to regulate the exit traffic on Sixth Street, he said.

The next post office project will move the outdoor mailboxes from the corner of Fifth and Main to the intersection of Sixth and Runnels, Osburn said.

Big Spring residents, who paid 1.578 percent in property taxes of their property's market value, had the 92nd highest tax burden out of 335 Texas cities in 1983-84, according to the Texas Research League.

The Texas Research League is an Austin-based public policy research group.

The 1.578 rate consisted of .565 levied by the city, .706 percent by the Big Spring Independent School District, .116 percent by the Howard County Junior College the same-priced house in 1983-84 District and .191 percent by would be $1,166, or $1,127 if a Howard County.

Martin County along with 29 other counties statewide have been eliminated as potential sites for a low-level nuclear dump site, said a spokesman for the Texas Low-Level Waste Authority Thursday.

The waste disposal authority has narrowed its search for a potential dump site to 16 counties having state owned land, said Bob Avant, assistant general manager for the

Avant said the 16,000 acres of university-owned land in Martin County was not suitable for the construction of a low-level nuclear

The remaining counties under consideration include Andrews, Brewster, Crane, Culberson,

Duvall, Ector, Hudspeth, Loving, Leon, Knox, Presidio, Trinity, Up-ton, Ward, Winkler and Webb

The agency has eliminated any state-owned land for consideration in recharge zones of aquifers, coastal flood areas or large metropolitan areas. Property with inadequate geology and ground-water characteristics also was removed from the list.

Martin County Judge Bob Deavenport said he is surprised Andrews, which is adjacent to Martin County, is still being considered as a potential site location. Judge Deavenport said the sandy soil type found in Martin County can also be found in Andrews County.
