SWCID bill gets good reception

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Sam Hill, executive director of the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, said today that, "We've had good luck in Austin" concerning a bill which may reduce tuition rates for out-of-state students by almost 50 percent.

Lowered tuition rates could be in place by this fall, Hill said.

The chairman of the Senate Education Committee has certified Senate Bill 265, the SWCID tuition bill, to appear on the local and uncontested calendar before the administration committee next Thursday, Hill said.

"Usually when that happens, (the bill) is as good as passed," Hill said today from Austin. Hill was told by Sen. John Montford that "he feels confident it will pass."

Montford told Hill that, "There is no opposition (to the bill) as far as he can see. The administration committee will meet next Thursday at 8:30 a.m. If no one appears to object to the bill, it is passed without having to go to the Senate for a full vote."

Tuition for out of state students at SWCID was hiked by 2,000 percent in 1983 because of the wording in the original SWCID bill which states that students would pay the full cost of their education. Students went from $40 an hour tuition to $205 per credit hour.

For most out-of-state students, that meant a yearly tuition rate of almost $9,000. Out of state attendance dropped dramatically over the coming months as students were forced out of the local institution because of inability to pay the exorbitant costs.

Legislation is pending which will bring out of state tuition rates up to $180. Although that will be a hike for most out of state students, it is a drop of about 50 percent for SWCID students.

Hill explained that SWCID and Howard County Junior College District officials did not fight the tuition hike last Legislative session because of other problems.

"It was a situation where we had two things that we wanted to accomplish. We had to decide which one was more important," Hill said.

During the last session, a Legislative committee "initially recommended zero funding" for SWCID, Hill said. "At the time we felt it was more important to focus on getting some funding for SWCID than to get the tuition changed. We put this on the back burner last session and focused on getting some money and to get a mechanism set up to assure us funding from now on. That was accomplished last session."

Should the bill pass uncontested, SWCID must then "go through the same process in the House," Hill said should the bill pass smoothly in the Senate, however. "That is an indicator to the House that it is not a controversial bill. It increases

Farmers lose out on rain

Early morning thunderstorms that dropped as much as one inch of rain on the city paid scant attention to farm lands in the Knott area.

"Farmers in the Knott area were reporting "no rain" and "just a trace" of moisture this morning while other area residents were reporting up to an inch of rain.

Cindy Hopper who lives in Knott said "we didn't even get a tenth of an inch. It was scattered." An employee of the Knott Co-Op Gin said no one was reporting any rain this morning.

The news was better along the Gail Route. Mrs. John Couch, who lives 16 miles out on the Gail Route, said, "We received one inch of rain. It was pretty general out in this area."

The U.S.-Big Spring Field Station was reporting .31 of an inch of rain this morning. That brings the total for 1985 to 3.33 inches. That is well above the normal to date of 2.48 inches, according to records there.

In the city, Red Thomas, who lives near downtown Big Spring, said he also received .3 of an inch. Residents on the city's east and southwest sides were reporting about .3 of an inch early this morning.

A slim chance of rain continues in the forecast through tonight. Isolated thunderstorms are forecast for the Big Spring area and partly cloudy skies should continue through tomorrow.

Liberty's call Pupils raise $4,000

By CAROL BALDWIN

It took hundreds of cereal box tops and hours of knocking on doors to sell candy and school supplies but children at Marcy Elementary have joined others around the nation in the effort to restore the Statue of Liberty.

When it was all over, almost $4,000 had been raised, according to Teresa Cauthorn, a fourth grade teacher at Marcy.

Mrs. Cauthorn and Pam Mitchell got the idea to aid in the nationwide effort to renovate the statue by seeing "advertisements on TV," Mrs. Cauthorn said. "I thought the kids would enjoy doing it and I wanted our school to participate."

Mrs. Cauthorn said the students were receptive to the idea. "They've been really excited about it. They've all wanted to help."

Fourth graders began selling pencils in October. Various sales continued until March.

And while attempting to raise money for the Statue of Liberty, students spent some time studying about the historic statue. "They were really interested in learning more about it and the history of it," Mrs. Cauthorn said.

Few children in the elementary school have seen the statue, Mrs. Cauthorn said. But, after spending months working for it, "They would like to go visit it now."

Mrs. Cauthorn and Mrs. Mitchell originated the drive at Marcy. They were joined by fourth grade teachers Dorothy Yater and Selma Hicks.

Postal service plans Westbrook building

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

The United States Postal Service is giving it another shot in Westbrook.

The attempt is to build a new post office — an issue that Westbrook residents protested against a year ago.

The construction bid comes at a time when the Grace Commission is proposing the closure of hundreds of rural post offices statewide.

The agency is currently asking for construction bids to build and lease a new main post office building in Westbrook, according to a postal service news release.

The postal service has acquired an option to buy a site containing 15,000 sq. ft. located on the northeast corner of Main and Bird Streets.

The proposed new building will have 725 sq. ft. of interior floor space and will be built with private funds and leased to the postal service for a 10-year period with renewal options for 20 additional years.

In March 1984, over 80 Westbrook residents signed a petition protesting former postmaster Bill

Sweek's attempt to move or build a new post office.

Sweek had requested to the building's owner Mrs. B.A. Oglesby, that the present structure be remodeled. Westbrook residents then drew up a petition that said if the present location was unsuitable to Sweek, then the new location be in the general vicinity of the present location.

Sweek defended himself in the controversy saying he had the residents best interests at heart.

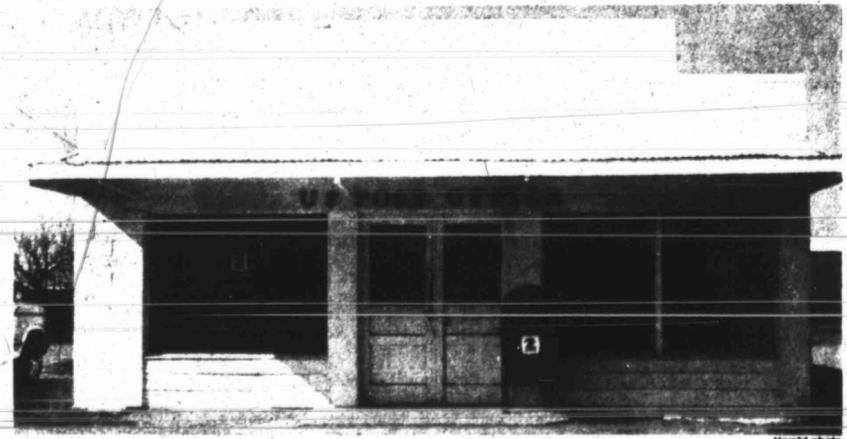

However, Sweek is no longer Westbrook's postmaster.

"He is officer in charge in Big Lake right now," Westbrook's officer-in-charge Barbara Casey said.

Casey said she didn't know anything about the past controversy over the post office.

Weldon Hutchison, Westbrook's sectional plant maintenance manager, said when the postal service attempts to build a new building, they first send a person from the real estate division to choose a site. The postal services then obtains an option on the site and advertises for construction bids.

Real estate specialist Gustave A.

The U.S. Postal Service has advertised for bids for the construct of a new post office building in Westbrook. Citizens complained about the construction of a proposed building in 1984. However, the postal service is making another attempt this year.

Saul of the postal service's southern regional office in Memphis said that there didn't seem to be any problem with the proposed new site of the building.

"The site is only a couple of blocks away from the present post office," Saul said.

According to the press release, construction bids are to be submitted to: Harold Robbins, real estate specialist, Field Real Estate and Buildings Office, U.S. Postal Service, P.O. Drawer 239, Dallas, Texas 75221-0239.

The FDR legacy lives

The world remembers statesman's death 40 years later

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — When President Franklin D. Roosevelt died 40 years ago Friday, Lloyd's of London tolled its Lutine Bell and Radio Tokyo broadcast condolences to the U.S. fleet under attack by Japan's kamikaze pilots off Okinawa.

FDR, who had been president longer than any of his 31 predecessors, was honored in death by an ally with a signal reserved for the sinking of a great ship and treated with unusual respect by an enemy.

"We indeed grieve to learn of the death of President Roosevelt," Radio Tokyo broadcast in English. "We didn't expect that he could pass away when the whole world is in such a state of chaos."

Winston S. Churchill, Adolf Hitler and Josef Stalin were his peers, the Great Depression, Pearl Harbor, D-Day his challenges. Eisenhower, Marshall, Patton and MacArthur were his generals. Herbert C. Hoover, Alfred M. Landon, Wendell Willkie, Thomas E. Dewey were his vanquished Republican foes.

Roosevelt died of a cerebral hemorrhage at the Little White House in Warm Springs, Ga., at 4:35 p.m. Eastern War Time on Thursday April 12, 1945.

American radio began 80 hours of commercial-free news broadcasts. In Manhattan, a woman said she did not need a radio, she could read the news on the faces of passersby. Newspaper editors nationwide added FDR, as commander in chief, to lists of Americans killed in action.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, a man described as having only two emotions, "solicitude and anger," wept; Pope Pius XII was awakened; Andrei Gromyko, Soviet ambassador to the United States, called FDR "one of the greatest statesmen the world has ever known."

"His ability to project American idealism and to project American democratic feeling led to the deep outpouring around the world at his death," said William R. Emerson, director of the Roosevelt library and museum in Hyde Park.

"I was serving in Okinawa at the time he died, but I think there was a feeling mainly of being stunned because most of the forces ... had never known a president other than Roosevelt, so there was a feeling of there being a great void," said Roosevelt biographer James McGregor Burns.

Emerson, director of the Roosevelt library and museum in Hyde Park, was a fighter pilot in Italy when the news came.

"My squad was the worst collection of retrogrades, all black-hearted Southerners like myself who to a man disliked Roosevelt," Emerson said. "I'll never forget how all that nonsense stopped (when he died)."

"While they reviled him, they legislative action formed a yardstick against which succeeding presidents have been measured.

He was the only president elected to four terms; a constitutional amendment ratified by Congress in 1951 now limits presidents to two.

Roosevelt has ranked among the top three presidents in many surveys of American historians taken in the last 25 years.

"I would rank him along with Lincoln and Washington," said Burns. "I would rank him that high on the basis of his capacity to meet the two biggest challenges faced by this country in this century — the Depression of the 1930s and the fight against fascism."

Another measure of the man, said Emerson, is his legacy. Not only did he approve the Manhattan Project, leading the world into the nuclear age, but FDR proposed legislation that changed American life.

"Roosevelt presided over the country at a time when it was not only facing the anguish of Depression, but when it was undergoing a social change that had nothing to do with the Depression," Emerson said.

Despite the widespread sadness at FDR's death, he was also a vilified president, Emerson said.

Roosevelt's philosophy and programs antagonized the nation's traditionally Republican, white Anglo-Saxon Protestant leadership, which began to lose power and blamed the president and his New Deal legislation.

"His enemies said he had had his smile — you know he had that wonderful, boyish smile — that he had had that smile grafted on by a plastic surgeon. You know people believed that?" said Emerson.

Roosevelt, who came from a wealthy family and attended Groton and Harvard, was called by some detractors a "traitor to his class," the historian recalled.

FDR died shortly after his return from the Yalta Conference with Stalin and Churchill and just before Nazi Germany's surrender May 7. The United Nations' opening was 13 days away; the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima less than five months later.

counted on him. It was the most striking reversal of form I've ever seen. All that stuff about 'that man in the White House,' stopped because they had come to rely upon him."

FDR was born at his family's Hyde Park home, overlooking the Hudson River, Jan. 30, 1882, and was buried in its rose garden on Sunday April 15, 1945. After serving as governor of New York, he survived an assassination attempt as president-elect on Feb. 15, 1933, in Miami, in which the mayor of Chicago was killed.

Roosevelt was inaugurated 32nd president on March 4, 1933 in the desperate days of the Great Depression. His first 100 days of

Although the drive began in the fourth grade, students in all grades at the school canvassed the city, selling candy to help raise the $4,000. Brian Meikle, a kindergarten student, won a $50 savings bond for selling 261 candy bars. Profits from the candy sale totaled $3,300.

In addition to selling candy and school supplies, Mrs. Cauthorn wrote to the Statue of Liberty foundation to get more information on money raising projects. "They sent us information from Kellogg's," Mrs. Cauthorn said. The cereal corporation will make a donation for any club or group which sends in 500 boxtops from cereal cartons, Mrs. Cauthorn said.

Kellogg's will make the donation in the name of Marcy Elementary and will send the school a certificate and a number of posters of the Statue of Liberty. Mrs. Cauthorn said the rest of the money collected by Marcy will be sent to New York this week.

Although it took months of work, Mrs. Cauthorn said, "We think it was worth it. We felt like this may be the only opportunity to participate in an event like this. This is something (the students) will remember."

She added, "If they do get to visit the Statue, there is a place on the base where there will be a record of everyone who has contributed money to restore the Statue. They can look for Marcy Elementary's name."

Texas House passes bill for farmworker benefits

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas House has given its tentative OK to requiring farmers and ranchers to pay unemployment taxes that will be used to pay benefits to out-of-work farm workers.

The compromise bill, which won support from some agriculture organizations, faces a final House vote today. Wednesday's tentative approval came in an 86-54 vote.

"It's a tremendous victory for farm workers. It will stabilize and give dignity to farm workers, as all the other workers in state of Texas have," said Rebecca Harrington, president of the Texas United Farm Workers Union.

Ms. Harrington said approximately 135,000 farm workers would be covered if the bill becomes law.

Since its inception in 1936, the unemployment system has excluded farm workers. In January, State District Judge Harley Clark ruled it was unconstitutional to bar farm workers from collecting the benefits available to others.

"This bill does exactly what Judge Clark wanted done," said

Rep. Lloyd Criss, D-Texas City, the bill's sponsor.

The lawsuit was filed by the Texas Civil Liberties Union, which praised the House vote.

"It's not that we're claiming any special treatment, it's just that we're finally bringing farm workers into the same basic, equal treatment that other workers in Texas have enjoyed," said Jim Harrington, TCLU legal director.

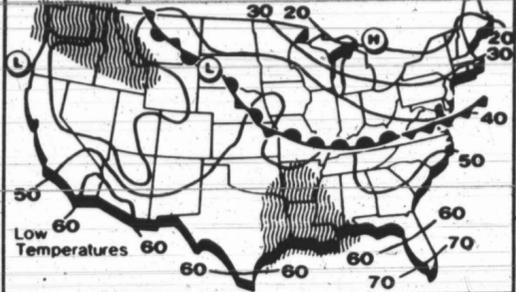

"Certainly, it's a historic day in Texas that this can occur after a history of years and years and decades of discrimination," he added. "The House today sounded the death knell of an era of discrimination against workers who are predominantly and overwhelmingly Hispanic and black."

House floor opposition came from Pampa Rep. Foster Whaley, who questioned whether farmers can afford to pay the unemployment tax. He said financial problems have driven two farmers in his district to suicide this year.

Criss later said it's fair for farmers to pay the tax paid by other employers.

More heavy rainfall was forecast today for the Texas Coastal Bend where rains of up to six inches caused some street and highway flooding late Wednesday.

Some of the heaviest rain was at Sinton and Aransas Pass, the National Weather Service said.

A flood and flash flood watch was in effect at dawn today for the Coastal Bend. Forecasters said more showers and scattered thundershowers were expected today in the Coastal Bend and warned that some might be heavy.

Light rain was reported at dawn in much of South Texas and portions of Southeast Texas.

Forecasts called for cloudy to partly cloudy skies statewide. Highs were to be mostly in the 70s, ranging upward to the 80s in Southwest Texas.

Lows tonight will be mostly in the 50s and 60s. Highs Friday will be slightly warmer, mostly in the 70s and 80s.

Winds were southerly over much of the state while light and variable winds were reported in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and central portions of the state.

Skies were clear over West Texas early today and mostly cloudy elsewhere.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 50s and 60s.

Area firemen battle tank fire

Big Spring fire fighters joined crews from Coahoma and Lomax early this morning to extinguish an oil gun barrel tank fire on F.M. 821 six miles south of the city.

The tank, on a lease which belongs to D.L. Dorland, was hit by lightning, according to reports at the Big Spring Fire Department. The call was received about 1:45 a.m., and firemen from the Big Spring Fire Department were at the scene at 2:14 a.m. Coahoma and Lomax units were at the scene when local firefighters arrived.

According to reports, Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. provided 40 gallons of foam to use in extinguishing the fire.

Fire fighters stayed at the scene until 3:44 a.m. Damage was estimated at $2,000.

Robbery trial set for April 22

District Attorney Rick Hamby said Wednesday morning that trial for Robert Lewis Valentine, 25, of 205 N.W. Third has been set for April 22.

Valentine was arrested Feb. 7 in connection with a robbery that occurred at Allen's Grocery on Jan. 31. Howard County grand jury indicted him of the charge last month.

The Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles revoked Valentine's parole on Tuesday, said district parole officer David C. Harman.

Harman said parole hearings were conducted Tuesday for Joe Gustavo Rios, 27, of 404 Benjamin and Willie Ray Myles, 24, of 1500 B Virginia. Both were arrested March 4 on emergency warrants issued from the state board that charged each person with assault.

Harman said Myles' assault charge is still pending grand jury action. Myles was transferred early Thursday morning to the Midland County sheriff's department. He will be transferred from there back to the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville.

Sheriff's Log

Coahoma store burglarized

Sheriff's deputies are currently investigating a burglary reported this morning at 8 a.m. by Ross Roberts from Ross Roberts Auto Supply in Coahoma.

No other information about the incident was available.

Gary Hammer, manager of Big Spring County Club, reported a theft yesterday afternoon that occurred in the men's locker room at the club.

A sheriff's deputy incident report said $260 in cash was stolen from a person's locker and padlocks amounting to $100 were also removed.

Deputies continue to investigate. The sheriff's department released Ernesto Rivera, 25, of Route One Box 344 from county jail after he served 20 days for a revocation of probation charge for a prior driving while intoxicated judgment. He was given credit for 10 days jail time.

Wilford Eugene England, 38, of Gail Route Box FM 12 was released from county jail after someone posted $5,000 bond.

He was arrested last Monday and charged with burglary with intent to commit rape.

Big Spring Police transferred John Zant, 20, of 2911 W. Highway 80 (Sandra Gale Apartments) to county jail after he was charged with criminal mischief. He was released on $200 bond.

Thief takes stereo equipment

Michael Runion of 2523 Gunter told police Wednesday that someone broke into his home and took $900 in equipment.

Reports show that a cassette deck, valued at $300, several amplifiers, valued at $300, and a stereo, valued at $300, were taken in the incident which occurred last Tuesday or early Wednesday. A back bedroom window was damaged in the incident.

Bobbie Sealy of 2515 Dow told police Wednesday that someone she knows entered her home Tuesday night and took several items valued at more than $800.

Reports show that a wedding ring, valued at $750, assorted change and several other pieces of jewelry were taken in the incident.

Police arrested Robert Wayne Walker, no age given, of 910 Nolan, at 604 E. 14th Wednesday afternoon. Walker was arrested for public intoxication, disorderly conduct and criminal trespassing. Police had originally been called to the scene to investigate a disturbance.

Opinion

A new theory on life's origin

We all know life originated in the ocean. Science tells us so. Perhaps a bolt of lightning struck the ammonia and methane gases of a volcanic planet, igniting some form of life in the primordial soup of the storm-tormented sea.

But no scientific theory is sacrosanct. And now a group of scientists says we've got it all wrong: Life originated in clay.

What if the mother of life is not the vast ocean but a clay bank from which pots and bricks are made?

It would be a humbler origin, but the Bible tells us God made Adam from the earth. Dust thou art and to dust returneth. The Greeks believed that spontaneous generation created life in the fetid mud left behind when the flooding Nile receded. And, in our own times, Flash Gordon fought with the Clay People, who materialized from earthen walls dripping mud.

Science validates myth, as life imitates art.

If life came from clay, no wonder animals love mud wallows, mud pies are popular with children and mud wrestling appeals to adults. Now we know why people like adobe houses.

Why crime rate had fallen here

To the editor:

We humans often take so much for granted that we fail to stop and say thanks to those people we work for. In reviewing goals and objectives for the Crime Prevention Unit of the Big Spring Police Department, I have decided to list some of the accomplishments made by the department.

Criminal activity in the city was reduced by 8 percent overall during the past year. I feel this was accomplished by several programs. The fleet vehicle which allows the officer to keep his patrol vehicle and use when off duty giving more visibility and quicker response to emergency situations, Vacation House Watches, more patrol officers on the street, this due in part to less personnel turnover, FTO Programs for new officers resulting in better trained officers and Crime Prevention Programs presented to the public.

Now in the final evaluation stage is a Career Development Program for officers and civilian employees. This program offers career paths for each employee and incentives through education, training, work performance and evaluations for monetary and job satisfaction.

Local programs such as fingerprinting of children, showing educational films to children, Blue Badge Child Safety Program, Neighborhood Watch Programs, Business and Home Surveys and many other programs have been accomplished through local efforts.

The cooperative efforts of our local radio stations, the Big Spring Herald and local service organizations have been outstanding.

As I reviewed the results of all these programs, I realized how much support we have from our Chief of Police, City Manager, City Council, other City Departments and most of all the many citizens in Big Spring, Texas.

All of us who work for the City of Big Spring have the same goals in mind that is Protection of Life and Property making Big Spring, Texas a safer and better place to live.

Coming clean on trash issue

To the editor:

I would like to voice my opinion regarding the trash hauling in Coahoma.

I feel that it is a shame that the citizens of Coahoma (including myself) have stood by and let the situation come to what it has.

There are eighteen (18) (according to City personnel) people in Coahoma currently not paying for their trash service. That tells me that the majority of the people do want and appreciate this service. It is a shame that we have stood by and let some of our councilmen try to do away with the trash service because they don't want it when they were supposedly elected to represent the desires and best interests of the citizens of Coahoma. I feel that we should make as strong a stand for the trash hauling service as they have against it.

I say we should attend the next City council meeting and voice our opinion regarding this subject.

The numbers on soccer

To the editor:

Who cares about soccer in West Texas? In Big Spring over 350 kids played last fall (30 percent increase over the previous season) and nearly 70 adults are playing this spring. Midland registered over 1500 kids last fall, 1,000 in San Angelo, 1,600 in Abilene and Lubbock boasts over 3,000 players this spring. Overall, North Texas State Soccer Association which includes West Texas has over 80,000 players. These figures don't count the parents, coaches and friends who crowd the side lines. Do these figures answer Charlie Alcorn's question in Sunday's paper, who cares about soccer in West Texas?

As for the excitement factor of soccer, every soccer game played during the 1984 Olympics was before a sold out crowd. More people bought tickets for soccer than for any other Olympic sport. Would this have happened if soccer wasn't an exciting sport? World Cup soccer games are viewed by millions of people around the world — they don't watch because it's boring.

Perhaps Mr. Alcorn should check his facts before he makes statements about a sport he apparently doesn't understand.

Counting on intelligence

By JACK ANDERSON AND DALE VAN ATTA
WASHINGTON — As far as the United States is concerned, the most fundamental fact underlying any arms-control agreement is the number of nuclear warheads the Soviet Union can bring hurtling down on this country.

Yet the Central Intelligence Agency and the Defense Intelligence Agency don't agree on this basic fact of life or death — and their disagreement is enormous.

The CIA thinks the Russians have 6,500 intercontinental ballistic missile warheads, or roughly three times the U.S. number. The DIA insists that the correct figure on Soviet warheads is 8,500, or roughly four times the U.S. arsenal.

The DIA has declared its higher figure in its last five secret reports on the subject. As late as last week some analysts in the DIA were trying to have their 8,500-warhead estimate published in the latest issue of "Soviet Military Power."

That's the booklet that is issued as part of the Defense Department's effort to persuade Congress, the American public and our European allies that the Soviet threat is real and growing.

But at the last minute, the DIA chickened out and allowed publication of the CIA's less scary estimate. The new booklet was scheduled for release this week — originally on Monday, until some Pentagon official wise in the ways of public relations pointed out that it would then be dubbed the "April Fool's Report."

Why can't the two intelligence agencies agree? How can they be 2,000 warheads apart?

Quite simply, intelligence on someone else's warheads is hard to obtain. There's no way to count what's inside an ICBM's nose as it's photographed in the silo. So it's basically a matter of guesswork based on known capability.

A Soviet SS-18 could hold some two dozen warheads. On that both agencies agree.

But the CIA believes the Soviets are abiding by the warhead-limitation portion of the unratified SALT II agreement, which sets a maximum of 10 warheads per ICBM. The DIA, however, assumes that the Soviets attached as many warheads as they have successfully tested — and that's 14 per ICBM.

With more than 300 SS-18s deployed, that accounts for much of the 2,000-warhead discrepancy between CIA and DIA estimates. The remaining 700 or 800 involve recently deployed new ICBM systems, including the mobile SS-16 missiles banned by SALT II.

So who's right? In this case, we'd be inclined to lean toward the DIA.

Though the Pentagon agency has gone off half-cocked at times, more often than not its view of the Soviet threat has proved correct over time, compared with the CIA's usually rosier analyses.

An example of this occurred in 1975, when the CIA finally agreed that its estimate of Soviet military spending had been seriously understated — by 50 percent for the year 1970, for instance. When the embarrassing figures could no longer be denied, the CIA brought in its word doctors to sugarcoat the bitter pill of confessed error. In its top-secret admission, the CIA wrote:

"The Soviets evidently have been spending substantially more rubles for defense than we had previously estimated. The indications of higher Soviet defense costs do not mean that we have discovered new defense programs or that the threat to the U.S. or its allies has increased."

"They do mean that Soviet defense industries are far less efficient relative to their U.S. counterparts than we once thought, and that the burden of defense programs on the Soviet economy is, therefore, greater than we previously believed...."

"New information has come from a number of different sources... according to this information, total defense spending was expected to amount to almost 50 billion rubles in 1970, about twice our estimate for that year."

What a relief to learn that such a whopping mistake wasn't serious after all.

DECLINING DOLLAR: What does the dollar's recent decline mean for you?

One internal government document that foresees a 15 percent decline in the dollar's international value this year predicts that the cost of living will go up for Americans.

"If the dollar's decline is sustained, it would increase the inflation rate over a long period," the analysis warns. That's because we'll no longer be able to import consumer goods at bargain prices.

U.S.-Japanese trade: dollars and sense

By CLIFF HAAS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Generations of cultural differences, diverse views of how to conduct business and a U.S. economy roaring ahead of the rest of the world are among the obstacles to lessening trade tensions between the United States and Japan.

"We really are talking about different ways in which two sovereign entities look at things," Lionel Olmer, undersecretary of commerce for international trade, said recently before a trade group in Washington.

Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone sought to go above the heads of an entrenched Japanese bureaucracy and his political opponents Tuesday when he spoke directly to the Japanese people, urging them to "please buy foreign products."

There is a long way to go before that happens.

The Japanese rely on exports to pay for the raw materials they must buy for their island nation and imports are shunned.

Japanese industry and a massive bureaucracy have set up a series of mazes on the way to the marketplace that foreign companies find almost impossible to navigate, and the prime minister in that country's political system is not strong enough by himself to decree an end to the situation.

Meanwhile, the United States is asking Japan to be less Japanese.

"A fundamental premise of American trade policy for a generation has been national treatment: you must do unto our companies essentially what you do for your own," Olmer said. "That is, treat American companies in Japan the way you treat Japanese companies in Japan."

But, he said, "We're now asking for

'The effort to open Japan's markets requires more than just the elimination of specific barriers. It requires a change in attitudes toward foreign imports.'

something quite different. We are asking for American companies in Japan to be treated as Japanese companies are treated in the United States."

That is something the Japanese are not yet willing to do.

Moreover, the Japanese do not see deregulation as the positive action it is viewed as in the United States.

"When we say deregulation, one of the things we mean is to get the government out of the way, to provide regulations, at least as few of them as you need, to prevent the intervention of the bureaucracy, to disallow discretionary authority," Olmer said.

"Well-intentioned people in Japan, serving in government ministries, cringe at that thought," he said, adding that such an attitude "stems from a deep-rooted belief that the government has a larger responsibility to the consumer... It is not a buyer-beware market."

White House Chief of Staff Donald T. Regan acknowledged, "The effort to open Japan's markets requires more than just the elimination of specific barriers. It requires a change in attitudes toward foreign imports... Changing deeply entrenched habits and attitudes is not an easy task."

The United States, meanwhile, has become a victim of its own prosperity.

Que le paso a la pasion?

By LUIS RIOS

La pasion que tenian los mexicanos por la vida en anos atras ya no existe. Yo ya estoy convencido. Y que tristeza. Y si esta muy muchacho para acordarse nomas preguntele a sus tios o a sus padres y si todavia viven preguntele a sus abuelitos.

Yo estoy muy muchacho para recordarme de esos tiempos pasados, pero mi familia siempre me ha dicho y ensenado que en realidad un de mexicano debe de estar encantado de la vida.

Pero que le paso a lo que hacia esta pasion vivir entre los mexicanos?

La musica de anos pasados ya no es. Los padres en estos dias no les dicen y les tocan a sus hijos la musica de los artistas viejos que ellos oian de muchachos en las placitas de diferentes pueblos donde vivian.

Pues que le paso a la musica de Javier Solis, Jose Alfredo Jimenez y el Trio de los Panchos? La musica que cantaban estos artistas es la mas bella que han oido los mexicanos.

Los mexicanos de anos pasados tenian iniciativa y a no tenian miedo a lo que tenia que ofrecer la vida.

Uno al otro se preguntaban, "Bueno Jose, vamos a california (o colorado o nebraska) a trabajar?"; Y el otro le respondia, "Pues vamos." Pero por que eran asi. Porque eran mexicanos y asi vivian sus vidas.

Ahora pensamos nosotros, "Pero como podian hacer algo asi?" Fijese hasta el entendimiento de los mexicanos muchachos a cambiado.

No es facil entender algo que no sabemos. Y lo que no sabemos es lo que nos dicen y nos explican los mexicanos mas viejos que nosotros.

Pero los padres han visto que la sociedad americana ha cambiado al mexicano. Nos ha hecho debiles y nos a quitado algo de ser mexicanos.

No es un crimen ensenales a lo muchachos los modos de anos pasados. No es un crimen oir las canciones de los cantadores mas famosos que mexico ha criado.

No es un crimen ser un mexicano y tener la pasion por la vida.

No es cualquier cosa esta pasion, es nuestro derecho.

Dear Abby

Good health not enough for lightweight

DEAR ABBY: I am a strong, healthy woman of 34. I just had a complete physical examination and passed with flying colors, so after my doctor gave me a clean bill of health, I went to the Red Cross blood donor center to build up a blood bank for my family. Guess what? I was turned down. Why? Because I don't weigh enough. I weigh 99 pounds and I'm 4 foot 11. I am not underweight for my height.

I have four children, and I wanted so much to build up a blood bank in case someone in my family needs a transfusion. I'd feel so much better knowing it was my blood they were getting. Doesn't that make sense to you, Abby?

Please print this. Maybe the Red Cross will change the rules about donating blood. Thanks from...

CHARLESTON, W.VA.
DEAR W.VA.: It makes sense to me, and so does the idea of giving one's own blood to store at the blood bank in case a family member needs a transfusion. But, please be aware that stored blood is not "good" indefinitely. I am informed that 35 days is the time limit.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a dinner date riding on your answer. If someone says, "I don't like spinach," would you say, "Me neither" or "Me either"?

My husband grew up saying it one way, and I grew up saying it the other way.

QUIBBLING IN MADISON
DEAR QUIBBLING: I would say, "Neither do I." Unless, of course, I liked spinach.

DEAR ABBY: It's high time this subject had a good airing. I refer to fragrance pollution!

Now that men as well as women are using perfume and cologne, the commingling of fragrances in enclosed places such as elevators and offices can be nauseating.

Years ago, a lady applied a little dab of perfume behind each ear, and as she passed, the subtle scent of gardenia, orange blossom or lilac followed her. Today, fragrances are about as subtle as a meat cleaver. They're heavy, overpowering, and frequently used in suffocating quantities.

The first perfumer who comes out with a fragrance that smells like good old-fashioned soap and water is going to get my business. ALL CHOKED UP

DEAR CHOKED: Well said. Here's a plea for those who are fond of using scents: Use some common sense, please; and a little dab will do ya.

Bankowski and Roney present best speeches

Adrian Bankowski and Rich Roney won the best speech awards during the two Toastmaster Club meetings during March.

At the time of the March 18 meeting, plans for a visit with the Prison Toastmaster Club and the Tall Tale Contest in Midland were being made. The contest was Thursday.

Sonny Choate reported on his trip to Ohio, and Shirley Shroyer reported that she had presented a slide program.

Dene Sheppard was Toastmaster for the meeting. She is a Mary Kay director and has participated in many civic activities.

Topic master was Bill Sheppard. His word for the day was "ambivalence." The topic for each Toastmaster to talk about for one minute was on the last 150 years and the next 150 years since plans for the Sesquicentennial are underway.

Speeches for the day were "Art of Fishing" by Gail Earls and "Tips for Talking to the Dying" by Roney. Roney won the speech award, while Diane Moses won the bull award.

At the March 25 meeting, Mrs. Sheppard reported the Speech Contest as a preliminary for the International Contest would be during the week of April 1. The Area Contest hosted by the Federal Prison Toastmaster Club was at the prison camp April 4. The Tall Tales meeting in Midland will be Thursday, and the District 44 Spring Conference will be in San Angelo April 27.

Johnnie Lou Avery of Avery and Associates was the toastmaster for the meeting. Gail Earls was topic master. Mrs. Earls word for the day was "cogitate." Each Toastmaster had to speak for one minute on "Why I should run for a public office." Each person was encouraged to vote.

Speeches were "A Little More Happiness" by Dan Johnson, "A Gift to My Mother - Me" by Bankowski, and "Life and Times of Winnie" by Winnie Turney. The Best Speech Award went to Bankowski and the Bull award went to Sandra Waggoner.

Sylvia Jessie of Minnesota was a guest.

Dry mouth may be sign of damaged teeth and gums

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A dry mouth is not just uncomfortable.

If it happens often, it could be a symptom of damaged teeth and gums, according to Drs. Gregory Tetrault and Michael Weintraub of the University of Rochester Medical Center.

They say that if you are troubled by dry mouth to check your medications since the condition may be caused by many medicines. Ask your doctor if it's possible to alter the dose.

If that doesn't help, your doctor can treat dry-mouth symptoms either with a medicine that promotes saliva flow or with one of the artificial salivas available in spray dispensers.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective May 6, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Public Utility Commission of Texas has received the application as Docket 6200.

While proposals as to specific rates vary, it is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 10.5 percent increase in the Company's unadjusted test year intrastate revenues or 19.7% increase in test year revenues as adjusted for test year customer growth and annualization of test year rate increases. The rate application seeks an annual increase of $323.9 million in revenues. All customers and classes of customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company within Texas will be affected by the proposed changes.

Most rates proposed for increase would increase by about 18.5 percent, including local exchange rates. However, there are some exceptions. For example, those customers residing in cities that will be reclassified into larger rate groups will experience local exchange rate increases greater than 18.5 percent. Also, the rate increases proposed for private line services in El Paso, due to a proposal to restructure such rates, are greater than 18.5 percent.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas and with each affected incorporated municipality served by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's rate application. This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for local exchange service, intraLATA long distance, intraLATA interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for intraLATA long distance and for intraLATA, interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide certain services in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's tariffs.

Notice to All Customers Concerning Access Charges and Certain New Service Charges

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, as a part of this filing, is also proposing to reduce certain access rates charged such customers as AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI and other carriers. The resulting reduction in revenues is proposed to be offset by revenues from two new service charges, late payment charges applicable to business customers only and for certain operator services such as busy line verification, plus stimulation of access service charge revenues. Since this portion of the filing, if granted, would have essentially a zero net revenue effect on Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is proposing that this portion of the filing be expeditiously handled by the Commission and not await Final Order.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso Público

En conformidad con las disposiciones de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company anuncia mediante el presente aviso su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas telefónicas en Texas, con vigencia a partir del 6 de mayo de 1985, salvo disposición en contrario de la Comisión. La Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas a registrado esta solicitud bajo el Docket 6200.

Si bien existe variación entre las propuestas en cuanto a las tarifas precisas, se anticipa que el arancel tarifario solicitado aumentará en un 10.5% los ingresos intrastatales no ajustados de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company durante el año de prueba, o sea, un aumento del 9.7 por ciento en los ingresos del año de prueba, después de realizar el ajuste por la expansión de los usuarios y por la anualización del aumento de tarifas para el año de prueba. El objeto de esta solicitud de tarifas es lograr un aumento anual en los ingresos de $323.9 millones. Los cambios propuestos afectarán a todos los usuarios y grupos de usuarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company en el estado de Texas.

La mayoría de las tarifas que resultarían afectadas por el propuesto aumento aumentarían aproximadamente en un 18.5 por ciento, incluyendo las tarifas de centrales locales. Sin embargo, existen algunas excepciones. Por ejemplo, los usuarios que residen en ciudades que se reclasificarán para formar parte de grupos tarifarios mayores experimentarán aumentos más elevados del 18.5 por ciento. Por otra parte, los aumentos de las tarifas propuestas para servicios de línea privada en El Paso aumentarían en más de 18.5 por ciento, como resultado de una propuesta para reestructurar tales tarifas.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se halla archivada en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos en Austin, Texas, así como en cada municipalidad incorporada afectada que tenga servicio de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa se halla sujeta a cambio toda vez que Southwestern Bell Telephone Company solicite nuevas tarifas. El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de centrales locales, de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada interLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio de acceso.

Aviso a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono
El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada intraLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio de acceso. Los cambios en dichas tarifas también afectarían a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono, puesto que dichas compañías proporcionan ciertos servicios de acuerdo con las tarifas especificadas en los aranceles tarifarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Aviso a todos los clientes con respecto a los cargos de acceso y a determinados cargos nuevos de servicio

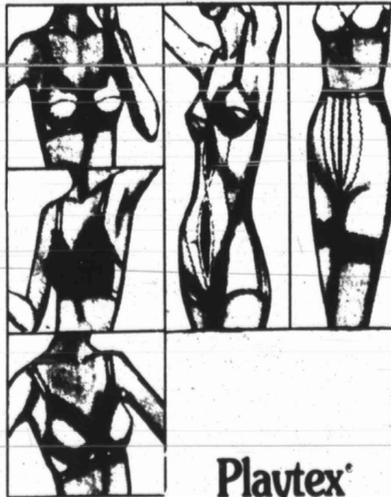

Al registrar esta tarifa, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company también propone reducir ciertas tarifas de acceso que se les cobran a clientes como AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI y otras compañías de larga distancia. La consiguiente reducción de ingresos se piensa compensar por medio de dos cargos nuevos de servicio (cargos por pago atrasado que se aplican solamente a usuarios comerciales, y cargos por ciertos servicios de operador, tales como verificación de línea ocupada) además de la estimulación de los ingresos por cargos por servicios de acceso. En vista de que, en caso de otorgarse esta parte del arancel tarifario registrado, su efecto real en los ingresos de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company sería igual a cero, esta propone que la Comisión tramite dicha parte de la tarifa en forma expeditiva sin esperar la Orden Definitiva.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el presente proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Para obtener mayor información debe llamar a Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division, (512) 458-0223, o (512) 458-0227, o al (512) 458-0221 si requiere teletipo para personas con impedimentos de audición.

Dr. Donohue

Don't leap to Alzheimer's diagnosis

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: How can you tell Alzheimer's disease? Our elderly mother is senile, but the doctor says it is not Alzheimer's. We haven't heard of a definite test to determine this. — Mrs. D.B.

The diagnosis of Alzheimer's disease cannot be easily or quickly made. Its early symptoms — forgetfulness, loss of interest, for example — are difficult to distinguish from those caused by other, treatable conditions. So Alzheimer's diagnosis is a kind of negative one, by which I mean elimination of those other factors.

There are tests to pick up brain tumors and an illness affecting the brain — normal pressure hydrocephalus. Artery hardening can be found as the cause of multiple small strokes. They can cause Alzheimer's-like symptoms, but a single overt stroke is the more likely cause.

Alzheimer's mental decline differs from that caused by the small strokes, where there is a step-down decline: periods of stability followed by drops in ability. In Alzheimer's, there is a steady and progressive decline.

The point is that in diagnosing Alzheimer's disease we are to a large degree treading unfamiliar ground because of the absence of a definitive test for it. Even medication in an older person can cloud mental faculties, adding to confusion.

If you want more information, I now have the correct address of the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Group. It's 360 N. Michigan Ave., Suite 1102, Chicago, Ill. 60601.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I had the shingles and apparently got out of it easy with only mild pain that hung on for only a couple of weeks. Yet, all I hear of is the awful experiences of others with shingles. Just out of curiosity, how many get it bad? — J.J.

There's no way to place objective labels on things like pain or discomfort. I can tell you that about 60 percent of shingles (herpes zoster) patients have pain. About 35 percent have pain that lingers six weeks or beyond. The chance of having lingering pain long after the blebs have disappeared from the skin increase with age. See the booklet, "Facts About Shingles." Order by writing me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents for printing and handling.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: It would be of interest to many of the people in our office if you could tell us whether it's true that drinking cranberry juice is very healthful for your kidneys. If this is true, why is it more helpful for your kidneys than, say, apple juice or orange juice? And what are the beneficial effects on the kidneys? — Mrs. B.B.

Here's the cranberry juice story. It has in it hippuric acid, which is a germ fighter, albeit a weak one.

And, in fact, you do have to drink a prodigious amount of the juice for it to be of much help as an infection fighter. But cranberry juice has another effect in preventing infection.

It makes the urine more acid, and that offers a less attractive environment for bacteria. Now, having said all this, I have to say also that all of the above is of really minor consequence in prevention of urinary tract infection. If you are going to get one, I doubt any amount of cranberry juice is going to stop it.

But cranberry juice is tasty, healthful and a dandy way to keep oneself properly hydrated. Proper hydration, from whatever source, is important in kidney health.

Patricia Meeks is Employee of Year

Patricia D. Meeks is Big Spring Federal Prison Camp's Employee of the Year for 1984. She is the superintendent's secretary.

The award is presented to an employee who has demonstrated above average or outstanding performance or who has provided a special service or contribution to a special program. Ms. Meeks contributed to the successful integration of a new superintendent and assistant superintendent who arrived at the camp at the same time.

The extent of her knowledge and accuracy of her insight of overall camp operations, community involvement, staff and inmate personalities, political and civic relationships, were an aid to the new management.

Ms. Meeks was presented with a plaque and cash award by John C. Gluch, superintendent, at a recent general staff meeting at the institution.

"The Fight" is a few days away and this little bit of information is just for you boxing fans. The Thomas Hearn-Marvin Hagler world middleweight championship bout is scheduled for Monday in Las Vegas. The closest place area fight fans can see the bout on a giant screen is Midland Chapparral Center.

There will be three other fights on the 8 p.m. card before these two sluggers duel it out.

Your viewing pleasure will be sponsored by 10 Count Productions and J&J Sports. Tickets can be purchased at the Chaps Center box office or Endless Horizons in Midland. Tickets are $25.

Anyone interested in hearing what either boxer has to say can dial 1-800-843-3483 to hear taped interviews with both Hagler and Hearn. There will be a different interview each day until April 15.

The Howard County Youth Horseman Club placed second at the Belt Buckle Playday held last Saturday.

Here are the finishes of the club.

The Big Spring Professional Fire Fighters Association will sponsor Softball Tournament '85 April 27-28 at Johnny Stone Park.

There will both men and women's competition, but no coed play. All Class C teams are eligible. Entry fee is $100. Deadline to enter is April 24. Proceeds go to the Fire Fighters Association Disaster Fund and the United Way.

For more information contact Paul Brown at (915) 263-3057 or 267-3817 or 267-3818. Sherrie Bordofsky can also be called at (915) 267-5201.

The Western Texas College Intercollegiate Rodeo will kick off tonight at the Scurry County Coliseum at 8 p.m. The rodeo will conclude Sunday night.

The Howard College rodeo team is scheduled to compete in the four-day event.

Big Spring bowler Beverly Martin is currently leading the Class B All Events category of the Texas Women's Bowling Association.

Martin has a total of 1752 and is 27 points ahead of her closest competition.

Now for the fishing report compiled by the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Crappie and catfish were biting at Lake Thomas. At Lake Spence black bass were coming to fore, along with white bass and channel catfish.

At Lake Thomas, Tom Stevens of Vincent and E. Alexander of Big Spring both took a seven pound blue catfish off their trot lines. Ray Franco and Cruz Rodriguez of Ackerly took a 12-pound yellow catfish off jug lines.

Speaking of fishing, the 5th Annual Bernard's Fishing Tournament will be held from April 12-14 at Oak Creek Lake, located 30 miles south of Sweetwater.

Entry deadline is April 6 and entry fee is $20 per person. For more information call Zeake Valles at (915) 263-6023.

The District 4-5A baseball stats through eight district games were recently released and Steers shortstop Sammy Watson is the only Steer batting .400. His .400 average places him in 14th place among the district leaders.

He is followed by outfielder David Ross who has a .389 average. Outfielder-pitcher Jay Pirkle is hitting at a .333 clip. Catcher Chris Lamb rounds out the list of Steers batting over .300, with his .310 average.

Steers junior pitcher Mike Dodd (2-1) has the fifth lowest earned run average in the district. He has a sparkling 0.93 ERA in 15 innings. Tommy Gartman (1-2) has a 4.35 ERA in 19 innings.

Gene Stallings will be the guest speaker at the Coahoma Athletic All-Sports Banquet scheduled for April 25 at the Coahoma elementary cafeteria at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets are $7 per person and can be purchased from any member of the Coahoma Booster Club.

Ex-Howard College coach Harold Wilder, now basketball coach at Conroe High School, was recently named the Greater Houston Area Coach of the Year by the Houston Chronicle.

Wilder, who coached at Howard for 13 seasons, led Conroe to the AAAAA State Championship Finals. The Tigers finished the season with a 34-3 record.

Masters play begins today

O'Meara wants to make cut

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Mark O'Meara has set a rather simple goal for the 49th Masters golf tournament.

"I would like to play well enough to make the cut and have a shot, just have a chance, on Sunday," O'Meara said Tuesday.

"If I get to swinging the way I know how, I think I'll do well," he said.

"I've proven I can win and winning is like a learning process. You have got to learn how to win out here."

O'Meara, who finished second to Tom Watson on the 1984 money list, won his first professional title at Milwaukee last season and then put together victories on consecutive weekends this year in the Crosby and Hawaiian tournaments.

He's been in a slump since those successive triumphs, missing cuts in three consecutive events and placing 65th and 17th in two others.

A major golfing event isn't the ideal place to try to break out of a slump, but O'Meara believes he began to get his game back in the Tournament Players Championship two weeks ago.

"I finished 17th but I hit the ball well," he said.

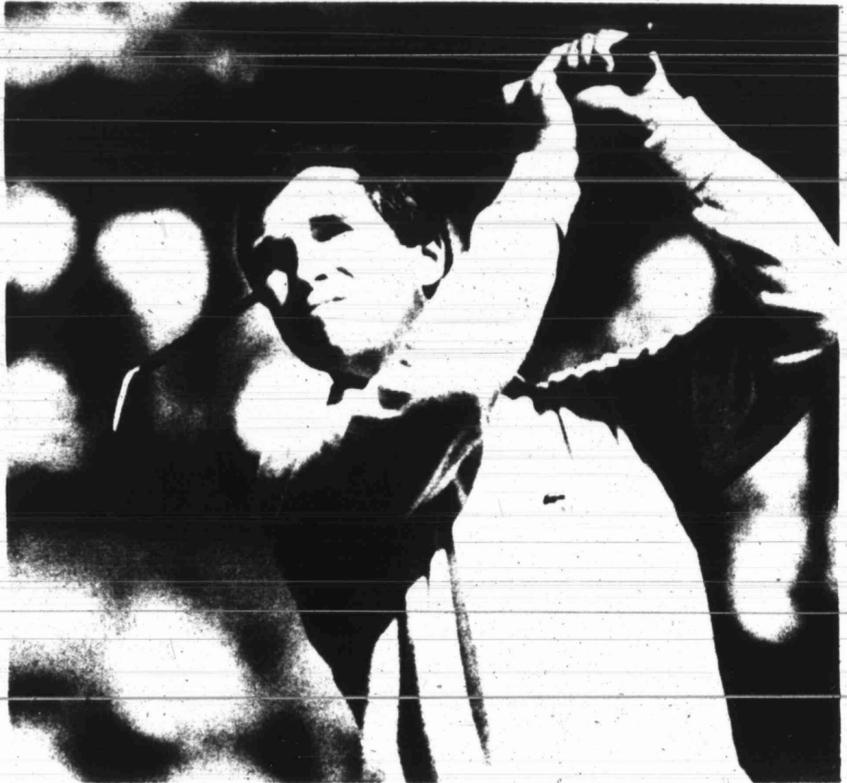

There is no clear-cut favorite in the field of 77 — including seven amateurs — that will begin the 72-hole chase for the coveted Masters title on Thursday.

Watson, a five-time British Open champion, has been considered the player to beat at Augusta in recent years, but he hasn't won a tournament this season. He has won the Masters twice and shared second place three times.

Jack Nicklaus, who owns a record five Masters titles and 17 major professional championships, has only one victory in the last two years.

Ben Crenshaw realized one of his greatest goals last year when he finally won this prestigious event, but he hasn't done anything since — missing the cut in nine of the 21 events he has entered since winning his green jacket 12 months ago.

Seve Ballesteros, the dashing Spaniard with two Masters titles, hasn't had a good season, either: He won the tournament at New Orleans, reduced to 54 holes because of inclement weather, but he did little before that and nothing since. He is the current British Open titleholder.

Lanny Wadkins, who like O'Meara won two events earlier in the year, has only two top ten finishes in his 12-year Masters career, and he's missed the cut at Augusta National five times.

The field also includes two other two-time winners this year — Calvin Peete, who captured the TPC after winning at Phoenix earlier, and Curtis Strange, who won the Honda Classic and Las Vegas Invitational.

PGA champion Lee Trevino, who has said the Augusta layout is not conducive to his game, is making his 14th Masters appearance and Fuzzy Zoeller, last year's U. S. Open champ, is shooting for his second Masters title.

Tom Kite also figures to challenge for the championship. He has finished sixth or better in eight of the last nine Masters, missing an opportunity to win last year when he carried a one-shot lead into the final round before falling out of it with a three-over-par 75.

Long-hitting Australian Greg Norman and 1983 champion Craig Stadler, who has three second-place finishes this year, could be a factor.

Two of the favorites of the gallery undoubtedly will be Arnold Palmer, a four-time winner, and South African Gary Player, who had won the Masters three times.

Player, who will be 50 on Nov. 1, hasn't played in a tournament since January.

"I've never done that before and I know it's not smart," Player said. "Realistically, if I can make the last day, I'll be happy. Everyone else is coming in here sharp, tuned. I'm not tournament sharp. I haven't played competitively."

Howe snuffs Astro rally, 5-4

By the Associated Press
Steve Howe simply "said a little prayer and went to war."

"I'd be lying if I said I wasn't nervous," Howe said after getting a save in his first appearance in the major leagues in more than a year Wednesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers held off the Houston Astros 5-4.

Howe, who was suspended for the 1984 season by then-Commissioner Bowie Kuhn because of cocaine use, had not pitched in the majors since September 1983. In addition to the suspension, he had undergone elbow surgery last winter.

On Howe's first pitch, Jose Cruz lined out to center field to end the game.

There were only two other National League games Wednesday, with Montreal beating Cincinnati 4-1 and San Diego halting San Francisco 3-0.

Jerry Reuss, who owns a 20-10 record against Houston, had helped himself with a two-run single in the sixth inning and took a five-hitter and a 5-0 lead into the eighth.

"He (Reuss) probably has pitched as well against us as any pitcher in the history of the franchise," Houston Manager Bob Lillis said.

But Reuss left after giving up two more hits in the eighth and Ken Howell took over. Howell uncorked a wild pitch, allowing one run to score, and Alan Ashby's two-run single made it 5-3.

In the ninth, Kevin Bass drew a leadoff walk from Howell and later came around to score on a sacrifice fly by Phil Garner. That's when Howe came in and retired Cruz, Houston's cleanup hitter.

Expos 4, Reds 1
Bill Gullickson overcame a history of poor April outings as he pitched seven strong innings and also helped himself with an RBI single.

Reds player-manager Pete Rose singled and had a run-scoring groundout in four at-bats. Rose's hit raised his career total to 4,100, now 91 behind Ty Cobb's all-time mark.

Padres 3, Giants 0
Eric Show tossed a four-hitter and struck out a career-high 11 as defending NL West-champion San Diego won its first game of the season.

Show, a 15-game winner the past two years, retired 13 straight batters between the first and fifth innings. He did not allow a San Francisco runner past second base during the game.

American Roundup

Fred Lynn, the $6.8-million free agent signed by Baltimore, stroked his first two hits for the Orioles while Mike Boddicker, the AL's only 20-game winner last season, went six innings for the victory.

Lynn singled twice during a six-run outburst in the fourth inning. His second hit drove in two runs. Rick Dempsey also had a two-run single in the fourth, off Texas starter Mike Mason.

Boddicker, 20-11 in 1984, gave up six hits, including Larry Parrish's home run in the sixth. Sammy Stewart held the visiting Rangers hitless over the last three innings for a save.

The only bad news for Baltimore came when Cal Ripken Jr. sprained his left ankle during an attempted pickoff. The team said Ripken, who has played every inning of 444 straight games, may miss the Orioles' next game Friday night against Toronto.

Bill Caudill, the relief pitcher Toronto got in a trade and signed for $9 million over five years, pitched out of jams in the seventh, eighth and ninth innings for the victory and Gary Lavelle, acquired in another deal, worked a perfect 10th Wednesday night to preserve the Blue Jays' 1-0 triumph over the Kansas City Royals.

Last year, no team in the major leagues lost as many games in which they were tied or leading after seven innings as did Toronto. So the Blue Jays beefed up their beleaguered bullpen by getting Caudill from Oakland and Lavelle from San Francisco.

In other AL games, Detroit hammered Cleveland 8-1, Boston crunched New York 14-5, Baltimore trimmed Texas 7-1, Minnesota downed California 6-3 and Seattle beat Oakland 5-4.

Tigers 8, Indians 1
Lou Whitaker drove in Detroit's first four runs with a pair of homers and Kirk Gibson accounted for the final three runs with a monstrous home run.

Dan Petry, 18-8 last season, scattered four hits over six innings before Aurelio Lopez pitched three perfect innings for a save.

Whitaker unloaded a three-run blast in the third inning off Cleveland starter Vern Ruhle, and then poked a solo homer in the fifth.

Gibson's home run bounced off the facing at the top of the right field stands at Tiger Stadium. The blow came off Dave Van Ohlen and capped a four-run seventh inning.

Red Sox 14, Yankees 5
Tony Armas and Wade Boggs drove in three runs apiece and Bill

Buckner belted a two-run homer as Boston again routed New York.

The Red Sox broke the game open with a seven-run second inning against Ed Whitson, the big-money free agent signed by the Yankees. Whitson lasted only 1 2-3 innings and gave up nine runs — just three of them earned — on six hits.

Errors by Whitson and catcher Butch Wynegar, both on bunts, fueled the big inning. Rich Gedman, who went 4-for-4, doubled and singled in the second inning, and Buckner capped the uprising with his blast to right field.

Bruce Hurst got the victory, going seven innings.

The game in Boston was the second of the season for both teams. On Monday, the Red Sox beat New York 9-2.

Twins 6, Angels 3
Gary Gaetti was the hero of the night for visiting Minnesota.

Trailing 2-1 in the eighth inning, Tom Brunansky hit a bases-loaded single to tie the score and Gaetti followed with another single off loser Donnie Moore to put the Twins ahead 3-2.

Then, in the ninth, Minnesota loaded the bases against Moore and Pat Clements before Gaetti belted a three-run double off Doug Corbett.

Starter Mike Smithson got the victory, going 7 1-3 innings. He gave up Reggie Jackson's two-run homer, the 504th of his career, in the first.

Ron Davis recorded the final two outs for his second save in two nights.

Tim Lander homered in the fifth off California starter Geoff Zahn.

Mariners 5, A's 4
Mark Langston, the AL's rookie pitcher of the year in 1984, made a successful 1985 debut with the help of Jim Presley's three-run homer.

Langston, who went 17-10 last year and led the league in strikeouts, pitched 7 1-3 innings and gave up six hits. He struck out just one, and left the game after Dave Kingman, who homered 35 times in 1984, belted a two-run shot.

NBA Roundup

Nets settle Philly score

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

The New Jersey Nets would like to meet Detroit rather than Philadelphia in the first round of the National Basketball Association playoffs, but first they had a score to settle with the 76ers.

"In the back of my mind was the last game when they pushed us the whole game and seemed to try to embarrass us," Micheal Ray Richardson said after the Nets defeated Philadelphia 76ers 125-100 Wednesday night. "We wanted to show them what it felt like."

If the Nets finish fifth in the Eastern Conference, they will face Detroit, whom they have beaten in five of six meetings this season. If New Jersey is sixth, the 76ers will be the first-round opponent.

Bucks 106, Bullets 97
Milwaukee knocked Washington out of a fifth-place tie with New Jersey as Sidney Moncrief scored 27 points and Terry Cummings 23.

The Bucks, who won their 15th straight game at home, led 90-75 with 10 minutes left, but a 22-9 streak by the Bullets, who got 26 points from Greg Ballard, cut the deficit to two with 1:18 left.

Milwaukee scored the game's last seven points, however.

Clippers 129, Nuggets 127
Los Angeles got 29 points from Norm Nixon and survived a 27-2 Denver streak to beat the Nuggets.

The Clippers, who also got 26 points from Marques Johnson and 25 from Derek Smith, led 75-68 midway through the third quarter before the Nuggets' big run gave them a 95-77 advantage. An 8-0 run closed the gap to eight points at the end of the period.

Pistons 116, Pacers 114
Bill Laimbeer's last-second jumper gave Detroit its victory over Indiana and a sweep of the six-game season series.

Kelly Tripucka led the Pistons with 23 points, while Clark Kellogg had 31 points and 18 rebounds for the Pacers. Isiah Thomas had 16 assists for Detroit and needs only 11 in his last two games to break the single-season NBA record of 1,099.

Hawks 98, Knicks 94
Dominique Wilkins scored 27 points and helped Atlanta rally in the fourth period to hand New York its 10th straight loss.

The Knicks led 83-79 in the fourth period, but two free throws by Wilkins gave the Hawks the lead for good at 88-87.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can make considerable progress towards gaining your long-range hopes and wishes, especially where family affairs and property conditions are concerned.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A family discussion can bring fine ideas for your own advancement in the days ahead. Be at your charming best.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Know what it is that your partners expect of you, so listen carefully to their ideas and try to please them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) New financial arrangements with those with whom you work can lead to greater production and benefits accruing.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Go after the entertainment that most pleases you and be happy. Remember what it is that would please your mate.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Have a quiet talk with a family tie about real estate and other holdings and you get the right slant on how best to handle them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Contact that friend for whom you have much affection and you get the favor you need at this time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Show your admiration for a bigwig and you get fine suggestions for your advancement. Be sure of yourself and be happy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You get new ideas that can help you to analyze your true position in life and how to better it. Take control of your own life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You may think your obligations are too much for you to handle, but if you consult with an expert, they become easy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are more appreciated now by both associates and friends and they give good ideas how best to advance in life.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Help kin to get the house in fine order and add art pieces to make home more attractive and charming.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are inspired to gain your aims and can do so with relative ease, especially if you use your charm.

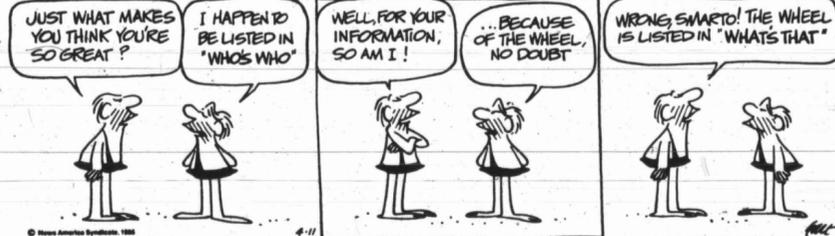

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she should not be rushed into anything or making decisions since your progeny is a stickler for making accurate plans and then carrying through with them meticulously even though you may think your progeny is slow. Provide with as fine an education as you can.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

PUBLIC NOTICE

CITY OF BIG SPRING
 Texas Community Development Program
 The City of Big Spring is planning to file an application with the Texas Department of Community Affairs (TDCA) for a Texas Community Development Program (TCDF) Grant. The City's application will be submitted to the TDCA on or before June 14, 1985.
 A public hearing will be held at 9:00 a.m. on Thursday, April 18, 1985 in the Council Chambers of City Hall, corner of East 4th and Nolan Streets, Big Spring, Texas. The purpose of this public hearing is to discuss the City's community development needs, eligible activities under the TCDF, available funding, and the City's use of past TCDF Funds.
 All citizens are encouraged to attend this public hearing and present their views to the City. Written comments will be accepted by the City up until the application is submitted to TDCA.
 The basic intent of the TCDF Program is the development of viable communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for persons of low and moderate income.
