Board names principal

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Murray L. Murphy, 34, was named principal of Big Spring High School, effective July 1, during a district board meeting Tuesday.

Murphy's selection followed the promotion of Big Spring High School Principal Bill McQueary to assistant superintendent for personnel. McQueary is replacing Harold Bentley who is retiring this summer.

In a memo to trustees, Superintendent Lynn Hise said, "after careful screening and checking of references, three candidates were invited to Big Spring for personal interviews. All three exhibited desirable characteristics for this position. However, one candidate (Murphy), in the opinion of the superintendent, is uniquely qualified to be principal of Big Spring High School."

Trustees approved Murphy's contract, which runs from July 1, 1985, to June 30, 1987.

School trustees elect board president

Jimmy Anderson was elected president of the Big Spring school trustees Tuesday.

Trustees also elected Bill Brooks as vice president and Dan Wise as secretary.

Trustees elected officers after canvassing votes from the April 6 election. Ford Farris was welcomed as a new member to the board. Anderson was re-elected to a three year term.

Dwayne Fraser is immediate past president.

Trustees approved a policy concerning the teacher career ladder, a ladder which was implemented by recent educational reforms.

State law requires that teachers must have a bachelor's degree and three years teaching experience, plus nine hours of advanced study in their field to be eligible for the ladder. An alternative is a master's degree plus two years experience and nine hours of advanced study in their field.

In addition to state mandated requirements, local teachers must have two previous years teaching experience in the Big Spring district for local eligibility.

Named to a career ladder committee were Harold Bentley, Bill McQueary and Wendell Ware. The committee will assign teachers to the career ladder.

Trustees approved a promotion-retention policy Tuesday. In the past, parents could demand that their child be promoted, but state law now requires that students not be promoted if their average falls below 70 in certain areas such as language arts and math.

Under the policy, no student shall be required to repeat any grade level more than once. No student shall be required to repeat any grade if the student has repeated two different grades previously.

Any student having more than 10 unexcused absences during a school year will fail, regardless of whether they have repeated grades in the past.

In other business:

• Trustees approved an early dismissal day for May 30, the last day of school for the spring semester. The day will be shortened by 45 minutes.

Rules reform study habits

By JUDY GIANNETTINO
Associated Press Writer

MIDLAND — Forget the confusion. Forget the controversy. One thing is certain about the education reform measures passed last summer by the Texas Legislature — they're already having a dramatic effect on student life.

Whether because students are studying more or because they're participating in extracurricular activities less, or both, the lives of Texas public school students haven't been the same since the reforms were put in place, school officials and pupils agree.

Educating Texas

1st in a
5-part series

The most evident change is that students this year appear to have a more serious attitude toward education, said James Pennington, superintendent of the Andrews Independent School District.

"I think we're seeing students try harder," he said. "I think there's a concern about students being retained."

The bill, which adopted many recommendations made by the Select Committee on Public Education chaired by Dallas billionaire businessman H. Ross

Students at Big Spring High School form a circle around reading materials in the library.

Perot, stipulates that students must earn a 70 or better grade to pass.

It also bars students from participating in extracurricular activities for six weeks if they fail one or more classes.

Two other provisions are that students can miss no more than 10 school days because of participation in extracurricular activities and that pupils can have no more than five other absences each semester.

"We've had more dropouts because of the over-five absence rule," said Stan Cobb, principal of Lee High School in Midland.

Cobb said that at least 60 Lee students have quit school this year because they had gone over the allowed number of absences and "felt there was nothing they could do."

The trend, he said, probably would increase in the future.

Petroleum spokesman opposes tax proposal

MIDLAND (AP)—The president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America has told industry members that the United States is at the crossroads of a new energy crisis.

Jon Rex Jones of Houston, who heads the organization representing 15,000 domestic oil and gas producers nationwide, said the proposed U.S. Treasury tax plan threatens the industry's health and the nation's security.

The proposal calls for elimination of tax writeoffs for intangible drilling costs and for percentage depletion — two mainstays of the energy industry for the past 80 years.

In a Tuesday press conference in Midland, Jones warned that passage of the proposal could bring a 25 to 50 percent decline in oil and gas exploration in the Permian Basin.

"If the plan had been in effect last year," Jones said, "it would have put 4,000 independent producers out of business and resulted in the drilling of 30,000 fewer oil and gas wells."

"That would effect the entire community — legal services, accounting, supermarkets and clothing stores," he said.

Jones said the tax plan would remove investment incentive in the oil industry. And it is neither fair nor simple as portrayed by proponents in the Reagan administration, he said.

"The tax rate would be lower for many," he said. "But the amount of income on which they would pay tax would be increased. It would not bring that much simplicity to the system because 68 percent of taxpayers already fill out the short form."

Jones most emphatic warning came in the area of national security.

"We are moving toward the peril point of 30 percent, and could be back to 40 percent (dependence) on foreign crude" soon, he said. "By 1990, we could be in a crisis state in terms of petroleum supplies."

"National security is the number one issue, and this proposal would not be good for national security," he said.

Chamber president addresses leaders

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

During the Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday, community leaders were asked to attend a day-long assessment program April 24 in the east room of Garrett Coliseum.

Granville Hahn, president of the chamber, said leaders will meet and make "plans to go forward. It's time we address our problems. That's the objective of the meeting."

Directors were reminded of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting in San Angelo Sunday and Monday. Reservations for the meeting can be made through the local chamber office.

Two new directors were named to the board to replace two members who have moved from town. New members are Chris Christopher of the Christopher Companies and Fibertex, and Sam Hill, executive director of the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf. They are replacing Don Fisher, former JC Penney's manager, and Bob Jackson, former Western Container manager.

Directors approved a salary increase for chamber executive secretary Patsy Wilbanks. Wilbanks salary was increased from $800 a month to $950 a month.

Hahn told directors that the Big Spring Industrial Foundation was being sued by the Sports Car Club of America.

Hahn said land at the Industrial Park was being leased to the club for $1 a year with the agreement that if an opportunity arose to lease the land to someone who wanted to develop it, the lease with the car club would be broken. The club had put up a $1,000 escrow to cover damages.

The car club "wanted $280,000 in improvements, and we refused," Hahn said. Industrial leaders leased half of the property to Allied Bank of Dallas. The car club then filed a lawsuit.

Hahn said the car club was harassing the Industrial Foundation to try and "get the runways."

Hahn discussed progress on a federal research project which may be placed somewhere in West Texas. The project, which will study the atom, will employ 2,000 people and will generate millions of dollars into the economy of the area where it is placed.

An area near Garden City "is the best engineering-wise," Hahn said.

"Big Spring, Midland and Odessa have joined together to try and attract" the project, Hahn said.

The Big Spring Industrial Foundation pledged the initial $25,000 to the project, followed by pledges from Midland and Odessa.

"We need a half-million dollars to prepare" a proposal for the project, Hahn said.

Union to play political role, says Branham

By KEELY COGHAN
Staff Writer

The Big Spring firefighters' union will become active in Democratic politics, Local president John Branham Tuesday night told members of the Howard County Democratic Club.

"We as the firefighters are going to get behind the Democrats. We are Democrats," said Branham, president of the Big Spring Professional Fire Fighters Association Local No. 2922.

"We are going to work in the city as well as state and presidential elections," he told the 25 people gathered for the club's pie supper Tuesday.

"We tried to work in elections before and it didn't work too well," he said. According to Branham, some union members had been involved in campaigning in the last presidential election.

Joking about Democratic nominee Walter Mondale's landslide loss to President Ronald Reagan, he said, "I'm surprised to see this many Democrats. After the election, I didn't think there were that many."

"But I've been talking to people since then, and I found out there's not any Republicans here," he said.

Now that the union has won the state civil service referendum, Branham said the group wanted to concentrate on implementing plans to improve the city's fire safety and consciousness.

County Treasurer Bonnie Franklin also told members she will run for re-election in 1986. Franklin, in office since 1978, said she would announce her intentions to run in January.

HC trustees approve sale of used X-ray equipment

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Howard County Junior College District trustees Tuesday agreed to sell some used X-ray equipment to Hi-Tech Medical of Santa Anna, Calif. for $13,500.

The equipment has been stored at the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf for years, Terry Hansen, business manager, said. "There is some deterioration," Hansen said.

The equipment is 10 to 15 years old. The California firm agreed to remove the equipment at their own expense.

Dr. Bob Riley, president of the district, said plans are to remodel the storage area into drafting classrooms for SWCID classes.

Trustees hired the law firm of Weaver and Ferguson to represent the district for the coming two years. The firm has represented the district for several years.

Schools and students have had to change many of their former practices to abide by the new laws regarding extracurricular activities.

Many school districts have begun rescheduling activities, including sports events, on weekends to avoid having students' missing classes.

But that, some students said, cuts into the amount of time they can devote to extracurricular activities.

And that, education reform proponents say, was the point — have students spend more time on academics.

Karen Wagner, a 17-year-old junior at Midland Lee, is a straight-A student, cheerleader, junior class officer and member of the band.

"I'd like to play tennis, but I really can't because there would be no time," she said. "You can only miss so many classes. It makes me mad sometimes."

visiting Big Spring today to find a home and to visit with district personnel. Murphy is interviewing several people for the position of assistant principal.

Murphy is a native of Graham. He graduated from Midwestern State University in 1973 and taught briefly in Wichita Falls before joining Lamesa Middle School. He taught social studies and special education in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

In 1975, Murphy was named assistant principal of the middle school in Lamesa. In 1978, he was named assistant principal at the high school, and he became principal in 1980.

He received his administrative certification and his master's degree in education from Texas Tech in Lubbock in 1976, and will receive his superintendent's certification in May from Tech.

Murphy said, "I feel very positive about this move, both professionally and personally."

He said Big Spring High School offers a "strong academic" program. "I've known Bill (McQueary) for five years. He has run a very strong program. I'm happy to follow him, pick up where he left off and keep it moving."

The Murphys are looking forward to living in "a bigger community," they said. "Big Spring has more services for the kids. I think it is a real good move from a personal standpoint," Murphy said.

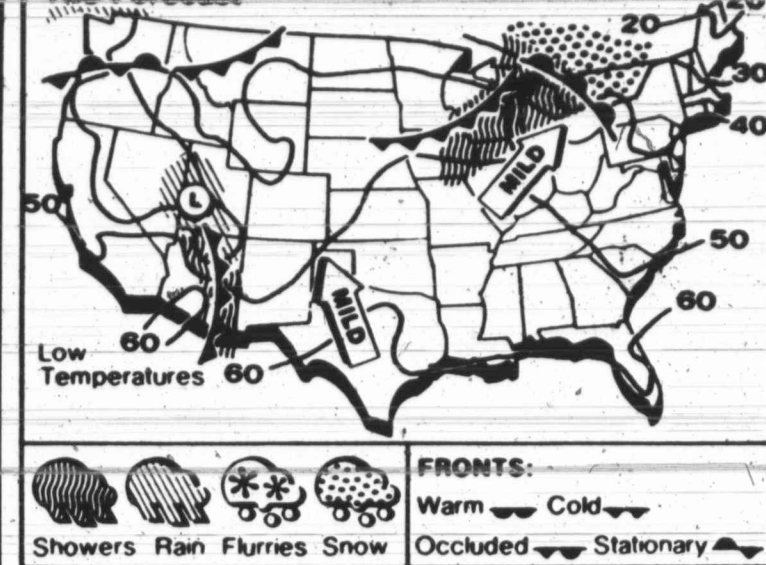

The Murphys have four children — Tyler, 5, Michael, 6, and Betsy and Mandy, 8.

Murphy's wife is a home economics teacher at Lamesa Middle School. She said she is planning to work on her math certification after the couple moves to Big Spring.

"Big Spring is a good community. (People) are lucky to live here. It's a good looking place to live," Murphy said.

AT&T wants to cut rates

PITTSBURGH — American Telephone & Telegraph Co. today proposed rate cuts of more than $1 billion a year for its long-distance services and announced that its earnings shot up 55.9 percent in the first three months of 1985 from a year earlier.

AT&T's chairman, Charles L. Brown, said the company is filing a request today with the Federal Communications Commission to cut rates for its interstate long-distance telephone service and related services by 5.6 percent and to reduce rates to 87 international points by up to 6.6 percent as of June 1.

AT&T said profit rose to $354 million, or 31 cents a share, from $227 million, or 20 cents a share, in the first quarter of 1984. There were 1.044 billion average shares outstanding in the first quarter of this year against 983 million a year earlier.

Heart patient improves

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Artificial heart recipient Murray Haydon, slow to recover from his Jarvik-7 artificial heart implant two months ago, is doing much better, his chief surgeon said today.

Haydon, 58, the third person to receive a permanent mechanical heart, has been confined to the coronary care unit at Humana Hospital Audubon half the time since the operation because of breathing difficulties and the use of the respirator.

Doctors also said that Haydon spends part of his time watching television "and is just happy to be alive."

Poison strikes 6,000

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — As the number of confirmed cases of salmonella poisoning in five states topped 6,000, with four deaths linked to the infection, investigators said the milk blamed for the outbreak wasn't infected by a human carrier.

Meanwhile, the death of a Rockford man became the first in which salmonella was listed as the primary, rather than contributing, cause of death.

Health officials also said Tuesday that the strain of salmonella responsible for the nation's second worst outbreak does not survive the heat of pasteurization.

Consumers spend less

Consumer spending, a key factor in the economy's expansion, fell 0.5 percent in March, the steepest monthly decline in more than a year, the Commerce Department said today.

The decline in consumer spending, the biggest since a 0.9 percent fall in February 1984, was not a surprise.

Amtrak jumps track

26 injured when train derails in Colorado canyon

GRANBY, Colo. (AP) — Amtrak's California Zephyr thundered off its tracks in a remote mountain canyon and passengers "just flew," injuring 26 people, three of them seriously, authorities and passengers said early today.

Seven of the 14 cars on the train en route to Denver left the tracks southeast of here about 8 p.m. Tuesday and Amtrak spokesman Clifford Black in Washington D.C., tentatively blamed it on a "dry washout."

"The roadbed underneath the tracks seems to have been undermined," Black said. "There has been no rain or flooding in the area, but there has been considerable snowmelt."

A National Transportation Safety Board investigator was to arrive at the scene by daylight, said NTSB spokesman Ira J. Furman in Washington.

There were 163 passengers, 14 service workers and five crew members aboard the train, which had originated in Oakland, Calif., said Art Lloyd, corporate communications chief for Amtrak in San Francisco.

"I saw the actual train derailment. I screamed," said Joanne O'Reilly, 32, of Stoughton, Mass., who was sitting with her sister at the window of a car just behind the derailed units.

"A lot of people weren't sure what was going on. They just flew," Ms. O'Reilly said. "We were so close to falling off into the river. I heard this jolt. And then another real scary jolt. There were six or seven good jolts."

The train derailed in Fraser Canyon between the tiny mountain communities of Granby and Tabernash and east of Silver Creek ski area on the western side of the Continental Divide, about 45 miles northwest of Denver.

Lebanon's PM resigns

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Prime Minister Rashid Karami announced his resignation today to protest house-to-house fighting between Moslem militias in which at least 21 people were killed in west Beirut.

Karami, a member of the Sunni Moslem sect, said in a recorded statement broadcast by Beirut radio stations that the street fighting in the predominantly Moslem sector was a "horrific nightmare."

An official in President Amin Gemayel's office declined comment on whether Gemayel will accept Karami's resignation. Karami heads a nine-man national unity government formed last April 30 with Syria's blessing to try to end the 10-year civil war.

Israeli jets raid base

TEL AVIV, Israel — Israeli warplanes attacked a guerrilla base near the town of Barr Elias in Lebanon's Bekaa Valley today, the military command announced.

Meanwhile, U.N. spokesman Timur Goksel said Israeli soldiers sealed off and searched the Shiite Moslem village of Shahour along their front line in southern Lebanon. He said they rounded up 60 men for questioning.

The one-story building attacked by Israeli planes served as headquarters and a training base for Palestinian guerrillas from the pro-Soviet Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine, said Israeli military sources.

8 die in India riots

NEW DELHI, India — Army troops were deployed today in the western city of Ahmedabad where at least eight people have died in student riots protesting a proposed increase in college quotas for the disadvantaged.

Two months of agitation against the government's plan to increase the number of places in colleges reserved for applicants from lower class families has developed into a caste conflict, a breakdown in law and order and a political stalemate in the western state of Gujarat.

The death toll in two months of protests, rioting and arson has been estimated at about 35, but there has been no official report.

Tokyo market rebounds

TOKYO — Tokyo stock prices rebounded somewhat today after a record one-day plunge of 345 points on the Nikkei Dow Jones index. The recoup was helped in part by the dollar's continuing dive against Japan's yen. The dollar fell 1.20 yen in Tokyo today, closing at 248.50 yen, its lowest since Dec. 25.

Robot arm fails to rescue satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Discovery's astronauts twice snagged a power switch on a crippled satellite with their robot arm today, but the maneuver failed to restore the payload's electrical power as they had hoped and the effort was abandoned.

No additional attempts were planned, and the satellite was left in space as an $80 million derelict. "You did everything you possibly could," Mission Control communicator Dave Hilmers told the astronauts.

With the shuttle flying in formation 30 feet from the Syncom communications satellite, astronaut Margaret Rhea Seddon carefully guided the 50-foot arm so that makeshift "flyswatter" tools on the end brushed against the side of the slowly rotating payload.

A live television shot showed the device twice snag a four-inch power lever only to pass over without budging it. One rung of the three-rung plastic device broke under the pressure.

Seddon had only a six-minute period, or "window," in which to do the job. When that time passed, Hilmers radioed, "The window is closed, perform the separation maneuver."

If power had been switched on on the Syncom communications satellite, an antenna on top would have extended after 80 seconds and the payload would have spun up to 33 rpm after 6 minutes.

Costa Rica bags drug baron for us

Mexican drug trafficker Rafael Caro Quintero picked the wrong country as a refuge after he became the prime suspect in the killing of a U.S. narcotics agent in Mexico. Caro Quintero fled to Costa Rica, which happens to be one of the best friends that the United States has in Latin America.

When the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration informed Costa Rican authorities that Caro Quintero was in their country, the Costa Ricans sent 40 guardsmen to the estate where Caro Quintero was staying and picked him up after a brief gun fight.

The prompt action by the Costa Ricans contrasted with what U.S. authorities said was foot-dragging by the Mexicans after the agent was abducted Feb. 7.

Caro Quintero was a widely known figure in Guadalajara and had openly threatened to kill the U.S. agent, Enrique Camarena Salazar. The United States had applied pressure on Mexican authorities after Caro Quintero was seen taking off from the Guadalajara airport after embracing a high-ranking Mexican police official.

The 32-year-old Caro Quintero is no small-time operator. He is believed to be head of an interlocking group of drug traffickers whose worth is billions of dollars. He had been building a 45-acre high-walled estate in the hills outside Guadalajara. He reportedly owns about 350 ranches in Mexico.

He was believed by U.S. drug agents to have forged strong connections with some of the Mexican police, thus accounting for their slowness to react when the agent disappeared.

Costa Rica succeeded where Mexico failed.

U.S.-Nicaragua policy a failure

WASHINGTON — Ten years after, the lesson of Vietnam remains unlearned. The U.S. still lacks a strategy for dealing with Russia's clients in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

In Nicaragua, the current test case, this country keeps making the same old dumb mistakes. It chooses sides by virtue of outworn ideology and relies almost exclusively on brute force.

The American case against Nicaragua is not military. Nicaraguan forces are in rough balance with those of neighboring states, and U.S. officials on the spot doubt the Sandinista regime harbors aggressive designs. What Washington holds against the Sandinistas is their doctrine. Thus President Reagan speaks of Marxism-Leninism as if it were a deadly virus. Vice President George Bush waves aloft a Nicaraguan stamp with a picture of Karl Marx as if it were lethal.

Against that burnt-out creed, the U.S. has mustered significant military pressure. This country supports the covert guerrilla efforts of the "contras." It projects force through American "volunteers" who seem to be raised by the Central Intelligence Agency in direct defiance of congressional intention. It participates in extensive naval and ground maneuvers offshore and in Honduras. It provides military aid to other neighboring countries.

A reasonable purpose would be to use force as an adjunct to diplomacy. Military pressure would thus be brought to bear to keep the Sandinista regime in negotiations aimed at cutting Nicaragua's ties with Cuba and Russia. But this country has ended the bilateral talks conducted with the Nicaraguans in Manzanillo, Mexico. It has stalled, if not aborted, the Contadora negotiations by which Mexico, Panama, Colombia and Venezuela sought to neutralize Nicaragua.

Now the use of force is pointed in one direction only. President Reagan has called on the Sandinistas to say "uncle." He has virtually acknowledged that the American goal is the overthrow of the regime. In consequence, the Sandinistas have a national rallying cry — an excuse for demanding sacrifice at home. They have also acquired a grievance perfect for working on public opinion in this country. Already they command the support of much of Latin America and Europe.

So without putting in troops on the ground, the U.S. has been sucked in once again. The Reagan administration has made commitments unsupported by the Congress or the country. Unless it returns to negotiations with Nicaragua, unless it defines objectives that are feasible, Washington will take another drubbing at the hands of a Soviet client state.

As it happens, moreover, the Nicaraguan model has a broad reach. The empire of Russian client states in the Third World now evinces the telltale signs of acute crisis. The local leaders know full well how little Moscow has to offer in ideological appeal and economic dynamism. So from North Asia through Africa to Central America, committed Marxists are flirting with the U.S.

North Korea hints at coming to terms with South Korea in exchange for lighter economic ties with this country or Japan. Vietnam holds out the bait of access for journalists and for officials investigating those "missing in action."

Ethiopia turns to Europe and the U.S. for food. Mozambique and Angola let this country broker deals to prevent border raids by South Africa and its agents. And in Central America, besides the constant offers to negotiate from Nicaragua, there are Castro's endless monologues with American journalists.

These winks and hints come at a particularly opportune moment for this country. For the new leaders in Moscow have their plates full.

They have to reinvigorate a demoralized system and a flagging economy. They face extremely difficult problems in Eastern Europe and a no-win war in Afghanistan. China's push toward a market economy presents a sharp ideological challenge. Moscow is not in position to fight hard for its clients in the Third World.

So there is scope for what Charles Krauthammer, a sophisticated observer partial to the Reagan administration, calls a "Reagan Doctrine." The U.S. indeed needs a strategy for weaning away Russia's wavering Third World clients.

But in fact the Reagan administration has shown the opposite of a doctrine. It has responded to winks and hints from all quarters as if they were disconnected events. It has virtually ignored the signals from North Korea and Vietnam. It has followed humanitarian dictates in Ethiopia, while letting South Africa set the pace in dealings with Mozambique.

Soviet spies in the Mojave

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA
WASHINGTON — While the Soviets shoot an unarmed American army officer for photographing military equipment in East Germany, the United States leaves 32 known Soviet agents unmolested as they observe and take pictures of one of the most sensitive defense facilities in the country.

The Soviet spies concentrate on a 50-square-mile area in the Mojave desert near Lancaster and Palmdale, Calif., 60 miles northeast of downtown Los Angeles. The FBI's counterintelligence people know who the spies are and what they are doing, but do no more than keep them under constant surveillance.

The situation is too much for one furious FBI source. "Here we have deep-cover people that we know are doing all the photographic work and spying on these classified facilities, doing it every way they possibly can," he told us. "And we do nothing but monitor, at the same time as we've got a guy who takes a couple of photographs in East Germany and gets killed."

What's so interesting to Soviet spies in the sun-baked California desert? A sprawling industrial area known simply as U.S. Air Force Plant 42. Its corporate tenants manufacture, test and overhaul some of the most secret aircraft the United States has, including super-secret spy planes and the B-1 bomber.

"This is a very active facility, which was put there by the Air Force specifically for the building and test flying of military airplanes," said a source at Lockheed, one of the defense contractors housed at Plant 42. The companies have their own security forces to keep intruders out of their areas, but Plant 42's runways "are plainly visible from the public highway that passes along the edge of the facility," he said.

"As you know," the Lockheed man added, "at almost any military base in the United States, anybody who wants to take pictures of what's going on at that base from outside the base boundaries doesn't have much difficulty doing so."

Lockheed's famous Advanced Development Projects section is located at Plant 42. It's known as the "Skunk Works," after the Dogpatch still that produced the powerful Kickapoo Joy Juice for Li'l Abner's friends.

The Skunk Works has produced the Air Force's three most secret reconnaissance planes: the U-2, SR-71 and TR-1. The TR-1 is still being built there, while another facility is used to modify and overhaul all three aircraft.

The Russians have a particular reason to want information on the SR-71, also known as "The Blackbird." They've been trying to shoot it down ever since it replaced the U-2 in the 1960s, after the shootdown of Francis Gary Powers. But the SR-71, which can fly three times the speed of sound at 80,000 feet and higher, has survived more than 900 Soviet bloc attempts to nail it.

Plant 42 is the home of other secret projects. Rockwell International, for example, is building the B-1 bomber and the space shuttle orbiters at Plant 42. Northrop is working on the Navy's F-5 fighter nearby.

So why doesn't the FBI put the collar on the 32 Soviet spies it has identified lurking around Plant 42?

Our disgusted FBI source said the counterintelligence squad follows the rule, "Better the devil you know than the devil you don't."

The FBI agent doesn't buy it, though. "How do we justify these incursions and let them go — let them get away with it — and we got a guy who does some marginal things and they blow him away?" he asked. "I got a problem with that."

CONFIDENTIAL FILE: The anti-Sandinista contras have been earning their keep in Honduras by serving as a buffer force along the Nicaraguan border, a sort of 10,000-man border patrol. They perform such courtesies for their hosts as interrogating suspicious transients and turning those who are believed to be members of the leftist "Cinchonero" Honduran rebels over to the Honduran army.

And if they intercept arms smugglers on the way from Nicaragua through Honduras to leftist guerrillas in El Salvador, they "take them back across the border into Nicaragua and shoot them," according to a Honduran counterintelligence agent.

• The Vietnamese regime has made no secret of its hostility to the Catholic Church. Christmas is no longer a holiday in Vietnam, and parochial schools have been closed in Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon). But congressional travelers, who recently returned from Vietnam, are convinced that Vietnamese Catholics are still stubbornly practicing their faith. The churches are crowded every Sunday, and the former capital of South Vietnam still has at least 16 functioning parishes. Although the regime has forced the closing of the Catholic seminary, there's growing pressure to reopen it.

• Pakistani officials are apparently amused at U.S. concern over their suspected efforts to build a nuclear bomb — a suspicion they publicly deny. At a private party in Islamabad recently, a U.S. senator was introduced by a protocol officer to Munir Khan, the head of Pakistan's nuclear program. The statement obviously didn't register with the senator, so the protocol officer offered a jocular hint: "He's the man who's making our bomb."

Around The Rim

Tans for the memories

By KEELY COGHAN

What this country needs is not the return of the 5-cent cigar, the dime movie or the nickel candy bar.

What we need is another national holiday. We could capture the political fervor of a new generation if we just target it to the youth and yuppie markets and schedule it for late spring — sometime after Washington's Birthday, but earlier than Memorial Day.

Call it, oh, National Tanning Day. Think of it as a new Camelot waiting to be born, as the apathetic youths of America rediscover their political power through suntans, the mark of the New Patriotism.

Some snide critics may argue that we already have too many spring-summer holidays. Not I. If you consider the current holidays, you'll see we need a national tanning day.

It's a matter of equal opportunity. We need to ensure that those hardworking bureaucratic office grubs do not have to cover in their offices at night because their skin color remains fluorescent-white after too many hours under the naked bulbs.

By July Fourth, our major sun and fun day in the U.S.A., we who have the skin tone of alabaster and corpses are reviled unmercifully.

In California, those who venture down to the beach on Memorial Day, their skin tone still peaches and cream instead of the color of burnished bronze, are greeted by protesters yelling, "Go home, polar bear!"

An ugly sight, indeed. Because of this fear of pale pigmentation, workers in America are calling in sick to work on their tans. The absenteeism rate in our factories and offices are climbing; traditionally skyrocketing in late spring and early summer.

Let's face it, America. Labor Day is too late to work on a tan. We are becoming a society divided by classes; soon, only the unemployed, the financially independent and the sports jocks will be able to enjoy the luxury of the perfect tan.

Maybe we could combine it with tax day. Figure your taxes in the sun and deduct those last-minute medical bills for heat stroke.

In 1964, Jerrie Mock of Columbus, Ohio, became the first woman to complete a solo airplane flight around the world.

Ten years ago: Phnom Penh fell to communist insurgents, ending Cambodia's five-year war.

Five years ago: President Carter told a news conference the U.S. might have to take "some sort of military action" against Iran should economic and political sanctions fail to free the hostages.

One year ago: Gunfire erupted from the Libyan Embassy in London at a group of anti-Khaddafy demonstrators. The shots killed a policewoman, Yvonne Fletcher, and wounded 11 others.

Thought for today: "A great many people think they are thinking when they are merely rearranging their prejudices." — William James, American philosopher and psychologist (1842-1910).

Lawyers to study Coahoma trash contract

COAHOMA — City Council members Tuesday night okayed a meeting between attorneys Brian Pollard of Waco and Lance Hall of Sweetwater to review the city's 1983 trash collection contract.

Hall represents Gerald King, a private contractor who has been collecting Coahoma's garbage.

Mayor Eleanor Garrett said the council, meeting in emergency session, "did not actually come to any conclusion or decision if Pollard (an attorney with the McDonald, Harmon and Malone of Waco) was representing the city."

Pollard in an April 3 letter told King and his wife they were no longer under contract with the city and would be sued if they collected trash in Coahoma. However, the City Council Monday night voted unanimously to allow the Kings to haul trash.

Garrett said the City Council went into executive session to discuss the legality of the issue.

Gallaudet College officials plan SWCID visit tomorrow

Several administrators from Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C. will be in Big Spring Thursday to visit the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf.

Sam Hill, executive director of SWCID, said Malcolm Grossinger, coordinator of the national recruiting office, Dr. Robert Davila, vice president for the pre-college program, Dr. Marvin Garretson, special assistant to the president, and Jack Gannon, director of alumni relations, are among the Gallaudet representatives to be here.

SWCID is hosting a reception for the men at 2 p.m. Thursday in the SWCID lobby.

Hill said Gallaudet is looking for an area to locate a Gallaudet regional center. The center would be similar to a university extension center.

Big Spring is joining cities such as Denton, McClellan, San Antonio and Houston in making a bid for the center, Hill said.

Herald Recipe Exchange

Recipes offer many ways to use a microwave oven

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

This week's Herald Recipe Exchange features some of my favorite microwave recipes, including some that were presented during a microwave cooking school by Jean Durkee last year. The school was sponsored by the Big Spring Junior Woman's Club.

All are very easy to make and delicious. Have you ever heard of preparing fudge from processed cheese? My mother-in-law provided the recipe for Velveeta Cheese Fudge, and it is good.

If you have some favorite microwave recipes, send them to the Herald Recipe Exchange, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. I'd like to try them, and I'm sure others would, too.

MICROWAVE TREAT — Cheesy Spinach Pie, today's Herald Recipe Exchange that the home cook can try out in a microwave oven.

CHEESY SPINACH PIE

1 9-inch frozen deep dish pie shell
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
3 eggs
2/3 cup evaporated milk
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
Cayenne pepper
Grated Parmesan cheese

Place pie shell in oven glass pie plate. When slightly thawed, press to shape of plate. Prick with fork. Bake in conventional oven until golden brown. Place spinach and onion in 1-quart microwave-safe dish. Cover with plastic wrap, turning back one edge to vent.

Microwave on high power 6 minutes, stirring once; drain thoroughly. Layer half of spinach mixture and cheese into bottom of pie shell; repeat layers. Beat together remaining ingredients, except Parmesan cheese. Pour over spinach mixture; sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Shield with a foil ring. Microwave on medium (50 percent) power 10 to 11 minutes or until set, rotating dish and removing foil ring after five minutes cooking time. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Makes 4 servings.

*How to shield with foil ring: Shield pie to allow the center to cook first. Make a 12-inch diameter circle of aluminum foil; remove center to leave a ring three inches wide. Center foil ring on pie; fold edges smoothly around outside of pie plate. Remove foil ring after 5 minutes cooking time.

Note: Covering parts of a large food item with thin strips of aluminum foil before cooking shields some portions of a food product from microwave energy. Metals, like aluminum foil, should not be used in small food loads, such as for T.V. dinners. Use foil strips only when recommended in recipes.

SICILIAN LOAF
Jean Kellner Durkee

2 eggs, beaten
3/4 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 cup tomato juice
2 Tbsps. parsley
3/4 tsp. oregano
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. red pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
2 pounds lean ground beef
8 thin slices cooked ham
6 oz. Mozzarella cheese, grated
3 slices Mozzarella cheese, cut in half-triangle shape

In a large bowl combine eggs, bread crumbs, tomato juice, parsley, oregano, salt, pepper and garlic. Add meat and mix well. On a large piece of foil pat and shape meat into 10 x 12-inch rectangle. Arrange ham slices on top of meat leaving 1-inch borders around edges. Sprinkle cheese over ham. Roll meatloaf by starting on short side. Lift foil until meat begins to roll tightly. Peel back foil and continue to lift and peel until roll is formed. Seal edges and ends. Remove from foil and place in a greased 7x11-inch baking dish seam side down. Microwave on high (100 percent) 18 minutes. Rotate dish two times. Place cheese on top and microwave on high (100 percent) 2 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before serving. Makes 8 servings.

WHEAT CRUSTED QUICHE

3/4 cup wheat germ
3/4 cup all-purpose flour

9 to 10 slices (1/2 lb.) bacon, cooked and crumbled
3/4 cup shredded Swiss cheese
1/4 cup minced onion
3 eggs
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. cayenne pepper

Combine wheat germ, flour and salt. Cut in shortening. Stir in water. Press dough firmly against bottom and sides of 9-inch glass pie plate. Prick bottom and sides with tines of fork. Microwave on high (Full power for Radaranges) for 1 1/2 to 2 minutes, or until cooked but slightly moist. Sprinkle bacon, cheese and onion on crust. Beat together eggs, evaporated milk and seasonings until well-blended. Pour into shell. Cook on medium high (80 percent; level 8 for Radaranges) for 6 to 8 minutes or until knife inserted near center comes out clean. You may want to turn dish halfway through cooking time.

MICROWAVE FUDGE

Nuts, already chopped
1 lb. box powdered sugar
1/2 cup cocoa
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/4 cup canned milk
1 stick real butter

Dump all ingredients (except nuts) into a 2-quart bowl. Do not stir. Cook 1 to 2 minutes on full power. Remove. Stir. Add nuts. Pour on waxed paper or buttered plates. Put in freezer until hard.

VELVEETA CHEESE FUDGE

Opal Steffen
1 box (8 oz.) Velveeta cheese
1 cup butter
2 lbs. powdered sugar
1/2 cup cocoa
2 tps. vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts (2 cups may be used)

Melt chopped cheese and chopped butter in large bowl in the microwave for 1 1/2 minutes on high power or over low heat on stove in a saucepan. Gradually add powdered sugar and cocoa and mix well. Mix in vanilla and nuts. Pat into a buttered 13x9x2 inch pan and chill. Keep in refrigerator.

Tips for mastering microwave cooking

Fear of microwave cooking? You'll feel more secure if you remember these tips from Family Circle magazine.

- Because microwaves can't pass through metal don't use metal containers or dishes with metallic trim, screws, bands or handles (shallow aluminum TV-dinner trays can be used in some ovens; check your manual). If you're not sure whether a dish is safe to use — especially unlabeled pottery and china — test it: Place the dish next to a glass measuring cup filled with cool water in the microwave oven. Heat at full power (100 percent) for one minute. The water should be warm and the dish cool. If the dish is warm, too, it is not microwave-safe; do not use it.

- For reheating and most cooking, use a wide, shallow dish; spreading food thinly makes it cook faster and more evenly. Many of the new microwave-safe plastic dishes are specially designed for this reason.

- For more even cooking of casseroles, stews, etc., try to cut the meat and vegetables into pieces of similar shape and size.

- Moist foods microwave faster. Because microwaves are attracted to water, naturally moist or sauced foods cook faster and better than dry ones.

- Fruits and vegetables cook rapidly in the microwave oven, generally retaining more vitamin C than those cooked on top of the stove.

- Partly dry/partly moist foods usually don't cook or reheat evenly, since the moist areas will "rob" energy from dryer areas. In some cases, this creates a problem — don't add butter to bread or mustard to a hot dog in a bun until after heating. At other times, the uneven heating is an advantage — when heated briefly, a dry cracker or other canape base with a moist topping will stay crisp.

- When reheating dense or dry foods, such as cooked meat slices or cooked vegetables, add a sauce or pats of butter. The quickly heated topping will conduct heat to the food.

- Casseroles and other dense foods tend to cook faster at the edges of the dish, so they must be stirred or rotated periodically.

- To rotate food a half turn, turn the dish so the front faces the back wall of the oven.

The following are tips on covering, arranging foods, basic cooking tips and do's and don'ts.

- Never microwave eggs in the shell. Hard-cooked eggs may explode even when they're reheated out of the shell.

- Never put a narrow-necked bottle, open or closed, in a microwave oven. It might shatter.

- Always pierce the membrane around the yolks of eggs when "poaching" them in a dish. Pierce the skin of vegetables and fruits, such as potatoes, squash and apples. This allows steam to escape and prevents explosions.

- Always monitor cooking times carefully to avoid fires. Overheated paper toweling soaked in bacon fat can easily catch fire; even overcooked baked potatoes can burn.

- Do not microwave popcorn in a paper bag. Use a microwave popcorn popper or bags labeled "microwave popcorn."

- Do not attempt to cook in plastic storage bags.

- Never try to defeat or tamper with the safety features on your microwave oven.

Chicken is probably the most popular main-dish meat for microwave cooking. Plain chicken pieces are usually cooked at full power for three to five minutes per piece. For a taste of how delicious and time-saving microwave cooking can be, try the following recipe. In this recipe, the chicken is finished at medium high power (70 percent) for a slightly longer time to allow more flavor development of the chicken and the sauce. Because microwaving is a moist form of cooking, you can cook chicken without the skin for fewer calories. In a conventional oven, the skin is left on to shield the tender meat from the hot, dry oven air.

CHICKEN WITH FRESH TOMATO SAUCE
2 small tomatoes (1/2 pound), chopped (1 1/2 cups)

1/4 cup chopped onion (1 small onion)
1/4 cup chopped sweet green pepper
1/2 cup canned tomato past (half 6-oz. can)
1 tsp. instant chicken bouillon granules
1 tsp. finely chopped garlic, or 1/4 tsp. garlic powder
1/2 tsp. sugar

1/2 tsp. leaf basil, crumbled
1/8 tsp. pepper
4 chicken pieces (1 1/2 pounds), such as 1 whole breast split, 1 leg and 1 thigh, skin removed

Place tomato, onion and green pepper in 1 1/2-quart microwave-safe casserole. Cover. Microwave at full power (100 percent) for 3 minutes or until vegetables are hot and softened. Add tomato paste, bouillon granules, garlic, sugar, basil and pepper; blend well. Place chicken pieces in dish with meatiest parts around outside edge of dish. Spoon sauce over top of each piece. Cover. Microwave at medium-high power (70 percent) for 9 to 11 minutes or until meat is no longer pink near bone, rotating dish half turn after 5 minutes. Serve chicken with pasta or rice, if you wish.

Doc Severinsen to perform in Midland

Trumpeter Doc Severinsen will join the Midland-Odessa Symphony for a performance at 8 p.m. Saturday at Midland's Chaparral Center. Tickets are available at Texas Commerce Bank in Midland and Odessa.

Severinsen is most closely identified with "The Tonight Show," on which he has been the trumpet-playing musical director since 1967. A much-in-demand nightclub star, he also headlines several weeks each year in Las Vegas and Atlantic City.

Most weekends he is on jets flying throughout the country to guest solo with symphonies or perform in small clubs and on college campuses with his group Xebro. He also finds time to be resident conductor of the Phoenix Pops.

Severinsen toured with Tommy Dorsey, Benny Goodman and Charlie Barnet bands before settling in New York as an NBC staff musician in 1949. He's been with NBC ever since, but it was as musical director of "The Tonight

...to perform

Show" that his trumpet talents and quick-witted banter made viewers aware of him as a personality.

In addition to his career, he is vice president of the C.G. Conn Company — a musical instrument manufacturer in Elkhart, Ind., is involved in the horse business of breeding and raising thoroughbreds and quarter horses on farms, is an accomplished chef and collects American art. He is married to television writer and story consultant Emily Marshall.

Importance of cancer education topic of program

Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. spoke to the Sew and Chatter Club April 10 on the "Importance of Cancer Education". The meeting was at the home of Marie Daniels.

Thomas stressed the importance of knowing the warning signals, seeking medical help for early detection and prompt treatment of cancer. The American Cancer Society, working with doctors, can often provide aid for patients.

Dorothy Reynolds and Mrs. Dean Porter were guests. Porter, who lives in Hong Kong, told of her experiences. Hong Kong is still a British colony and a modern city, she said.

Porter's husband's work sometimes takes them into the Republic of China. Travel there is often difficult, and some places are restricted, she said.

For anyone planning a trip into China, Porter advises they go with an organized tour. A visa is required to enter China, but only a passport is necessary to visit Hong Kong.

The next meeting will be April 24 in the home of Bernice Davis.

Head Start to celebrate birthday

Head Start will celebrate its 20th birthday May 14. Former students, ex-employees and former and present volunteers are invited to attend.

The celebration will be at 7 p.m. at the Lakeview School gym. For information call 267-7452.

Dear Abby

Wife fills gift-giving gab

DEAR ABBY: I wish to respond to "Hurt in Albany, Ore.," who complained because her husband never remembered her on special occasions such as birthdays, anniversaries, Valentine's Day, etc. I had a husband who never remembered me on special occasions either, so instead of sitting around feeling sorry for myself, I bought myself a present and told everyone it was from him.

On one occasion, I bought myself a beautiful diamond wristwatch. That was only the beginning.

Forget what he wants; get what you want. My husband has been dead for 15 years, and I still get beautiful gifts from "him" for every occasion.

BEEN THROUGH IT

DEAR BEEN: That's one way of handling a thoughtless spouse. Here's another:

DEAR ABBY: I want to tell "Hurt" that I share her disappointment. However, my husband went one step further. He always remembered his brother, sister-in-law and his friends on all gift-giving occasions, even though these people never gave him so much as the time of day!

Dr. Donohue

Drugs help myasthenia gravis

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have myasthenia gravis. It was first noted years ago. I have been on medication for it. I wonder if you could describe this disorder. I know only that it is "of neuromuscular junction" origin. Is there an organization for this, nationally or statewide? — Mrs. L.L.P.

I'll describe this for you, but I want to first give you the name and address of a fine organization that can provide you with a great deal more in the way of literature and other help. It's the Myasthenia Gravis Association, 15 East 26th Street, New York, N.Y. 10010. And further, Mrs. P., I happen to know there is an especially active chapter in your area (Detroit) which would welcome a call from you.

Myasthenia is the joining of a few Greek words — myelo, for muscles; sthenos, for strength, and "a" which means "to be without." Myasthenia gravis, then, is the lack of muscle strength.

In referring to it as an illness of neuromuscular junction, the doctors are locating the point where the defect causing it lies, the point where the end of a nerve touches muscle fiber. For muscle to react, it must get messages from these nerve ends. The message jumps the muscle-nerve gap by way of a chemical, acetylcholine, which seeps over from the nerve to the muscle fiber, where receptors react like "on" switches. Of course, there are thousands of such switches.

In MG, muscle weakness occurs because there aren't enough of these switches. The weakness comes and goes, the situation worsening with work and improving with rest.

Treatment involves supplying drugs to increase the amount of acetylcholine message chemical so that as many as possible of the available muscle receptors are reached. These medicines are quite effective for control of the problem.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My mother has been getting heart irregularities. She calls them "out-of-step beats" and gets really disturbed by them. My brother, who is a doctor, told me the other day that he thought mother's problem, or part of it, could be thyroid. Her blood pressure seems OK. I didn't realize that the thyroid was involved. Have you heard this? — Mrs. O.B.H.

Hyperthyroid-caused heart arrhythmia is fairly common in elderly people, especially the female elderly. It is certainly worth having a doctor pursue this possibility, especially if other factors, like clogged arteries and hypertension don't seem involved.

Of all the problems pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the most common. To learn about the newest treatments, write to Dr. Donohue for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest — Pinworm," care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Yet he continually forgot me and our 5-year-old daughter. After eight years of one-way gift giving, I presented my husband with a gift he will never forget: a divorce.

FED UP
IN MOUNT HOLLY, N.J.

DEAR ABBY: I live in an apartment and the lady who lives directly above me is driving me crazy! She vacuums every single day — sometimes two and three times a day — and she doesn't even have carpets. This woman is ruining hardwood floors!

How do I get this inconsiderate neighbor to cool it? I work nights and cannot handle this disturbance at 7:30 a.m.

RUDE AWAKENING

DEAR RUDE: If you haven't told her, do so. If she disregards your complaint, turn to your landlady. If she's your landlady, turn to the classified ads in this newspaper and find another place to live.

(Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters For All Occasions." Send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 (this includes postage) to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

76ers, Bullets start NBA playoff action

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Stung by an early elimination from last year's playoffs, the Philadelphia 76ers are determined to write a different ending to their season this year.

"We want to prove that last year was a fluke and we're coming back to redeem ourselves," said Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham.

The highly favored Sixers, ousted in the first round last season by the New Jersey Nets, take on the Washington Bullets tonight in the opener of their five-game first-round series.

"If a team is worth anything and has anything inside of themselves, this is the time of year that they realize this is the most important," he added.

Cunningham, whose team finished 58-24 — second to the Boston Celtics in the Atlantic Division — put himself on the spot.

The first round continues Thursday night with five games —

CHARLES BARKLEY
...may start versus Bullets

Cleveland at Boston, New Jersey at Detroit, Phoenix at Los Angeles Lakers, San Antonio at Denver and Portland at Dallas. On Friday, Utah is at Houston and Chicago visits Milwaukee.

Cunningham says he's not worrying about the problems his team has had over the last two months of the season.

The 76ers, regarded as one of the top teams in pro basketball, were 17-14 over the last 31 games and just 8-7 in the final 15 after a 41-10 start.

Cunningham said he's made up his mind on only four starters, Julius Erving at one forward, center Moses Malone and backcourt stars Maurice Cheeks and Andrew Toney. He said a decision on the fifth starter, Bobby Jones or rookie Charles Barkley, depended on the Washington lineup.

"I'm not making any decision right now because I'm not sure what the situation is in regard to

...Bullets leading scorer

(Jeff) Ruland playing. So we're just going to wait and see and be flexible enough to make that decision when we know more about their lineup."

Toney, who missed the last four games with a sprained ankle, worked out Tuesday and said that although the ankle still was sore he's ready to play. He said he's almost at full speed and can make cuts he couldn't before.

Malone averaged 24.6 points and led the NBA in rebounding for the fifth straight year, the first player ever to accomplish that feat.

Erving averaged 20 points during the regular season and 18.5 against the Bullets, while Gus Williams led the Bullets with a 20-point average.

"Playoffs, lose three in the first round and you're out said Erving. "You lose four in any of the subsequent rounds and you're out. That's that new element that comes into play, and it's one that does create pressure."

Ruland, the Bullets' regular center, is the key for Coach Gene Shue's Washington team, which finished fourth in the Atlantic Division with a 40-42 record. An excellent rebounder (11.1) and an 18.9 scorer, Ruland missed 43 of the last 44 games after straining his right shoulder on Jan. 14.

Also, guard Frank Johnson missed the last 30 after cracking a bone in his left foot on Feb. 7.

"If we had Ruland and Johnson I wouldn't care who we played," said Shue. "We'd have a decent chance."

Ruland and Johnson have been activated for the playoffs, but only Ruland is expected to play in this first series.

"I don't know how effective he'll be, but it's very nice having him back," Shue said. "I think he can be productive. He'll be a factor. They'll have to adjust to him. It will be a big psychological boost if we can get some minutes out of him. The way the series drags out should help."

Sixth inning rally sinks Steers, 11-7

MIDLAND — The Midland Lee Rebels scored six runs in the sixth inning and went on to down the Big Spring Steers 11-7 in District 4-5A baseball.

The big blow in the inning was a three-run homer by Greg Shaw, who drove in six runs during the game with is 3-for-3 hitting performance. Mike Small and Tuey Rankin also got hits for Lee in the inning and Big Spring committed one error.

After falling behind 2-0 after one inning of play, the Steers scored four runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth to take a 7-5 lead. Second baseman Jerry Anderson blasted his second homerun of the season in the fifth inning. His two-run shot gave Big Spring its short-lived two run lead.

Mike Dodd took the loss for Big Spring while George Matta got the win for Lee in relief. Dodd relieved Tommy Gartman in the sixth inning. Dodd also collected two singles at the plate.

The win keeps Lee in a first place tie with Abilene Cooper in the district race. Both teams have 10-1 records. Big Spring fall to sixth place with a 3-7 slate. The Steers are 7-10 overall.

Big Spring's next contest will Saturday at Steers Field versus Odessa High at 2 p.m. The first game the two teams didn't complete will be completed. The Steers were leading 10-6 when the game was called in the eighth inning because of darkness.

Queens sign Highland basketball star

Howard College coach Don Stevens has successfully recruited Brandye Owens, a local girls basketball talent from Highlands High School in Roscoe.

As a senior, Owens led Highlands to the Class A Regional finals with a record of 31-4. Owens averaged 18.2 points per game in 1985 and also led the team in assists and steals. Owens was named to the 12-A All-District team each of her four years on varsity. She was named 12-A Most Valuable Player and to the first team All-Region squad in 1985.

The 5'10" sharpshooter will be playing wing or big guard for the Hawk Queens according to head coach Don Stevens. "Brandye is an excellent all-around athlete. She comes out of a winning program (104-16 during Owens tenure) and is certainly one of the top players in the West Texas area."

In addition to Owens exploits on the basketball court, she was also the leading scorer her junior and senior year at the 12-A District track meet.

Owens was the second area prospect to sign a scholarship with th Hawk-Queens. Lisa Iden, of Sands, signed earlier in the month. She will be studying business while attending Howard College.

Cubs whitewash Philadelphia, 1-0

By The Associated Press
Bob Dernier singled home Larry Bowa in the bottom of the tenth inning and Dennis Eckersley pitched his first shutout in three years as the Chicago Cubs won their sixth game in seven starts Tuesday, 1-0 over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The game was played with a 24-mile-an-hour wind blowing in from centerfield at Wrigley Field as Eckersley and Philadelphia left-hander Jerry Koosman matched zeroes for the first nine innings.

But Bowa, making his first start of the season replacing rookie Shawn Dunston at shortstop, led off the 10th with his third hit of the game. He was sacrificed to second by Chris Speier, hitting for Eckersley, before Dernier slammed his game-winner down the left-field line.

"I had no idea I'd be playing when I came to the ballpark," said the 39-year-old Bowa, the Cubs' regular shortstop the last three years.

In other day games Tuesday, the New York Yankees edged the Chicago White Sox 5-4 on Don Baylor's ninth-inning home run and the Texas Rangers and Cleveland Indians both won their first games of the season. Texas beat the Toronto Blue Jays 9-4 and the Indians beat Baltimore 6-3.

Baylor's home run, a towering shot off the screen on the left field foul pole came with one out off Dan Spiller in the Yankees' home opener which drew 53,019. It came after Yankees leftfielder Ken Griffey had leaped into the stands in the top of the inning to take a home run away from Ron Kittle.

Chicago's Greg Walker and New York's Dave Winfield exchanged

two-run homers in the seventh. Butch Wynegar had a two-run homer for the Yanks and Harold Baines had an RBI single and a solo homer for the White Sox.

Texas got an RBI from each of the nine players in its starting lineup in its win over Toronto in the Blue Jays' season debut at home before a crowd of 41,284. Run-scoring triples by Pete O'Brien and Don Slaught highlighted a four-run fifth inning that started the Rangers on their way.

The Indians got 6-1-3 shutout innings from Vern Ruhle, who was 1-9 with Houston last season. Julio Franco had three RBI and Brett Butler had three hits and scored three runs.

In American League night action, Alan Trammell drove in both runs with a homer and a sacrifice fly and Walt Terrell, with help from Aurelio Lopez, won his first AL game as the Detroit Tigers beat the Milwaukee Brewers 2-1 to remain the only undefeated team in the major leagues.

Danny Jackson fired a three-hitter and Steve Balboni slammed a two-run homer as the Kansas City Royals ended a four-game losing streak with a 2-0 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

In the National League, Ron Darling and Jesse Orosco teamed on a one-hitter and Keith Hernandez hit a ninth-inning sacrifice fly to give the New York Mets a 2-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Mario Soto pitched a seven-hitter and Eric Davis homered to break a sixth-inning tie to give the Cincinnati Reds a 2-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

In late AL action on the West

Coast, Seattle visited Oakland. In the NL, it was San Francisco at San Diego and Houston at Los Angeles.

Cleveland Indians BRENT BUTLER slides into third base under the tag of Baltimore Orioles third baseman Wayne Gross. Butler tripped in the third inning.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An unusually good day and evening for you to consider your future and just what you would like to have at this time which is new and different from your present outlets.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be more willing to state your aims to those about you and gain their cooperation. A day for making big progress.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Good day for seeing as many persons as you can, both in business and social life and make real progress.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) If you are more efficient and clever at work, you have a chance to gain more benefits. Show loyalty to loved one.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) New situations arise that are an opportunity to have greater success, especially via Jet Set contacts.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Find a better system for handling and initiating new deals and advance more quickly. The evening can be very romantic.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Situations arise that can assist you in becoming more successful, so be sure to handle them properly. Think constructively.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Enthusiastically get into duties ahead of you and gain the approval of higher-ups. Rest at home this evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A good day to plan amusements that will bring you surcease from worries and tensions. Spend time with loved one.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study the situation at home and see how best to improve conditions there. Invite guests in for the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have fine ideas for adding to your abundance and should put them in operation quickly. Listen to a successful person.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can be more successful now by utilizing new methods and ideas and forging ahead thereby.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have the ability to understand anything of a modern nature so give a good education in the most modern schools for the greatest success. One who early needs to be taught to complete whatever has been started.
