House okays UTPB funding

$36 billion budget adopted

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — After a few tense moments over a West Texas university and teacher testing, the Texas House tentatively adopted a $36.4 billion state budget Wednesday in a 135-11 vote.
House Speaker Gib Lewis said a major tax hike will not be needed to fund the bill, although several million dollars in other money measures are required. House members debated the proposal and amendments for four and a half hours.
Final adoption of the two-year spending plan is expected Thursday. The Senate is working on its own, more costly proposal. A final state budget will be written in a House-Senate conference committee.

Funding penalties for small enrollments at East Texas State University and Texas Woman's University were removed. Also, money for Texas A&M University at Galveston, proposed for phasing out, was returned to the bill without objection.
Hispanic lawmakers temporarily tripped a movement to restore funding to the University of Texas of the Permian Basin, which the House Appropriations Committee recommended phasing out because of low enrollment. In the end, the House decided to fund the Odessa school by reducing appropriations for other University of Texas System schools.

Lawmakers said the UT system reductions probably will be removed in the House-Senate conference committee.
In a rare personal privilege speech, Rep. Al Luna, D-Houston, criticized Rep. Kelly Godwin, R-Odessa, for voting against a $106 million fee bill Monday and then asking for some $8 million to restore funding to UTPB.

Luna said he wanted to send a message to "those who think that you can have the services of government and not have to pay for it. There's no such thing as a free lunch."

A parliamentary maneuver kept a UTPB funding proposal from easy adoption, leaving a tense Godwin to worry and brainstorm with others on how to restore the funding.

Downtown fair rocks city beat

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer
The heart of downtown, to rephrase Huey Lewis and the News, is still beating...in Big Spring.
And if hearts are the repositories of dreams, the ones in the downtown merchants association's must be pumping overtime. Chairmen of the group's "Heart of the City" festival say they expect to double attendance and participation in their second annual street fair June 1.

"It's the biggest event in Big Spring. Not in terms of the biggest name but in terms of the number of people who attend," said Marae Brooks, chairman of the festival.
"It's probably the biggest single-day event in Big Spring," said Pat Hardy, the city's liaison with the merchants' group. "It drew more than any other event."
Last year's estimates show more than 2,000 people turned out for the street fair, which included roving clowns, food, arts and crafts

City looks to 'renaissance' in the '80s

By JOHN RICE
Managing Editor
Forty people who gathered Wednesday for a nine-hour community retreat forged a plan for action, committing individuals who are in a position to accomplish the group's goals.
The Big Spring Strategic Planning Retreat at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum was a day of work, long and exhaustive. It encouraged debate and disagreement, but it fostered flashes of revelation. When it ended, six broad goals were agreed upon.
• Better communication between government, the media and the citizens and more focused community development.
• Greater cooperation between local government agencies.
• A concerted beautification effort that will enlist city laws as its enforcement tool.
• An Industrial Council composed of manufacturers and government leaders.
• Better use of financial resources and better understanding of financial needs.
• Presenting the liquor-by-the-drink issue to voters for a decision. Seventy persons were invited to the retreat patterned after one held in Andrews; 40 came. They were business and financial spokesmen, media representatives, elected and professional governmental leaders from within the county.
Their charge was ambitious: define the problems facing Big Spring and decide how to go about solving them. The six committees formed Wednesday will do their work on the fast track. Another meeting to present the committees' work will be held June 5.
Granville Hahn, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced the retreat by saying, "At one point, Detroit was the worst possible city to live in, until they (its residents) voted in a renaissance period to revitalize their city. Today, it is viable and one of America's choice locations. Is Big Spring capable of having a

Star-Telegram wins Pulitzer

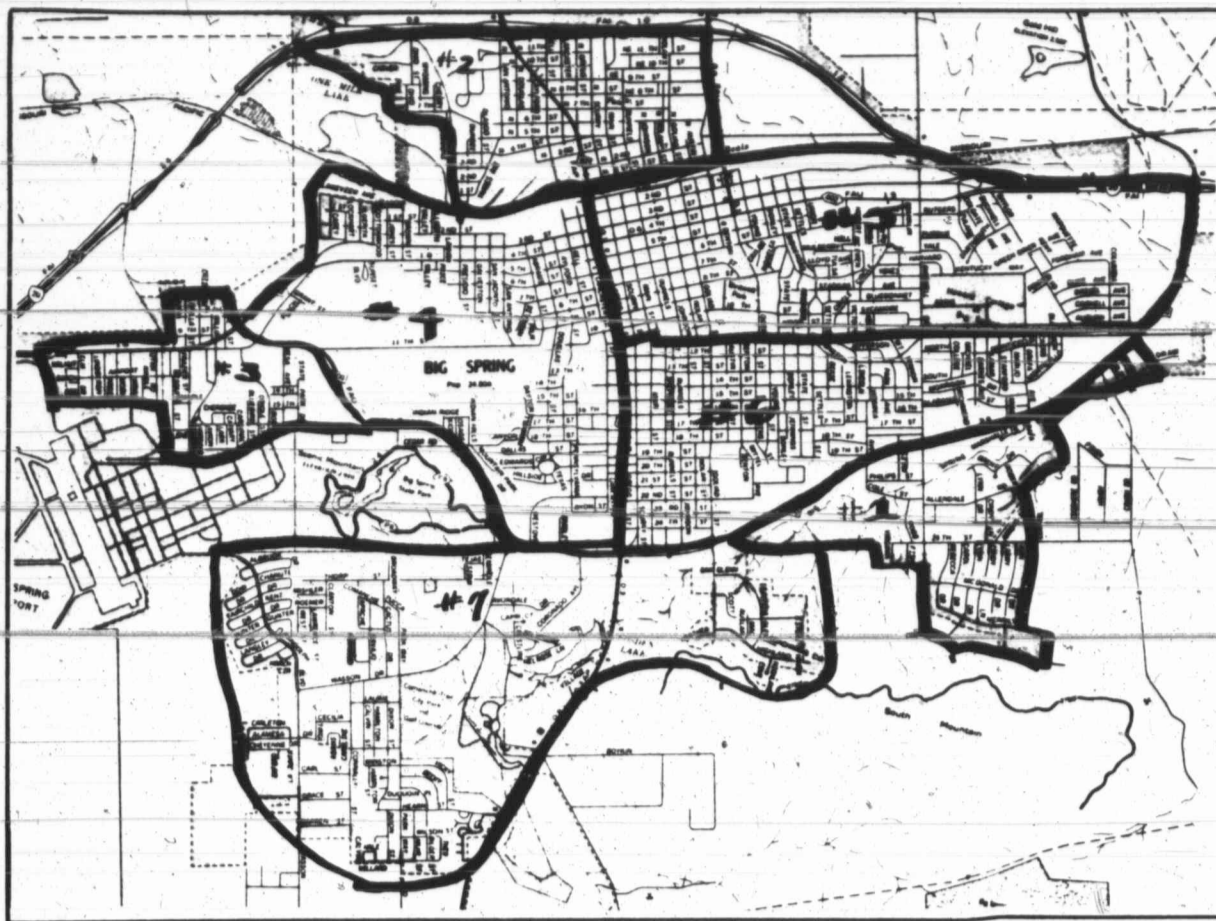

Champagne flows after paper cited for helicopter story

By The Associated Press
A fiddle band played in the newsroom and the publisher announced $250 bonuses after the Fort Worth Star-Telegram captured the Pulitzer Prize for public service for revealing a design flaw in helicopters that led to the deaths of nearly 250 U.S. servicemen.
The Philadelphia Inquirer and Newsday of Melville, N.Y., each won two Pulitzers for journalism Wednesday. The prize for drama went to the Broadway hit "Sunday in the Park with George," whose music and lyrics were written by Stephen Sondheim with a book by James Lapine.
The Star-Telegram's reporting by Mark J. Thompson ultimately led the Army to ground almost 600 Huey helicopters pending their modification; the Pulitzer board said. The helicopter, a mainstay of the Army's fleet, was plagued by a design problem called "mast bumping," which occurs when the rotor tilts too far and strikes the mast that attaches the blade to the craft.
At the Star-Telegram on Wednesday, champagne flowed, a country music band played in the newsroom, and President and Publisher Phil Meek announced $250 bonuses for everyone on the editorial and circulation staffs.
Newsday won the award for international reporting for a series on hunger in Africa and the commentary award for columns by Murray Kempton, 67.
The Inquirer was cited for investigative reporting by William K. Marimow about attacks by police dogs on more than 350 people. More than a dozen officers were removed from the K-9 unit, the Pulitzer board said.
In 1978, Marimow was part of a team that won the public service Pulitzer for an Inquirer series on police brutality.
The newspaper's Larry Price won a Pulitzer for feature photography for his series of pictures from war-torn Angola and El Salvador.
• The award for fiction went to "Foreign Affairs" by Alison Lurie.

San Angeloan involved in robbery Downtown

TYLER (AP) — Two men accused of robbing a Tyler bank and taking a hostage before police surrounded their vehicle and arrested them are expected to be formally charged today.

The names of the 44-year-old San Angelo man and 39-year-old Austin man were not released pending their arraignment. They were in Smith County Jail Wednesday after allegedly walking into Rose Capital Bank, brandishing handguns and a briefcase they said contained a bomb, and demanding money.

The two suspects were arrested at a nearby service station about 20 minutes after the robbery was reported. No shots were fired, and the hostage was not harmed, said police Sgt. Eddie Clark.

According to police, two suspects entered the bank on the outskirts of Tyler about 1:45 p.m. and loaded cash from the bank's vault into several cardboard boxes.

The men then ordered a bank employee to put the money in his car. They took another employee, a woman, as hostage, and drove off in the car, police said. The bomb in the briefcase was later determined to be fake.

booths, a street dance and tours. This year's fair will be similar, according to Brooks, Hardy and David Mills, chairman of the association's advertising and promotions committee.

Downtown streets will again be blocked off for the festival, which will begin at 10 a.m. and close at midnight, when the street dance ends.

Chairmen say they hope to double last year's number of food and arts and crafts booths. "We had 40 signed up last year and 20 more showed up that morning," Brooks said.

One reason the group thinks it can double attendance is new funding from the Chamber of Commerce for out-of-town advertising. They also are producing a television commercial to promote the festival, they said.

According to Mills and Brooks, downtown merchants had record business days during the street fair. "Every merchant in downtown area had their sales increase after last year's festival," Brooks said. "They said they saw people come into their stores they had never seen downtown."

The festival planners also said they wanted merchants from the other shopping centers in Big Spring to participate booths at the fair. According to them, the fair didn't draw sales away from the other shopping centers because they ran sales to compete.

The Big Spring Art Association also is considering renting a vacant building downtown so their art can be displayed indoors, and Dolphin Pools may set up a pool, they said.

In addition to the booths, the festival will also sponsor several contests, entertainment and an auction.

The Senior Olympics will be run in conjunction with the festival, replacing last year's wheelchair races. Events in the Senior Olympics will run all day and are being planned by the Veterans Administration Medical Center staff and the senior citizens' centers in town.

The Main Street Mile, a one-mile run on the same track as last year's race, will return this year. Entrants should call City Manager Don Davis at 263-8311 to register for the race.

In addition, the festival will include a pizza-eating contest sponsored by Godfather's Pizza.

Performing during the festival will be the Shriners' Suez motor patrol and the Suez roadsters, the YMCA gymnastics team and the Dance Gallery's dance team.

Cathy McNulty, host of KOSA-TV's noon show, will emcee the other entertainment programs, which include a puppet show by florist Kelly Draper and a play performed by members of the drama department at the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf. Jay Phinney will play the guitar.

County historian Joe Pickle also will lead a tractor tour of historic Big Spring, an event that was extremely popular last year.

Visitors to the festival also can take horse and buggy rides or ride the Big Spring Fire Department's snorkele.

The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a merchants' auction between 4:30 and 6 p.m. Items will be donated for the auction, which will be a fundraiser for the chamber.

The street dance will begin at 8:30 p.m. The association is continuing to negotiate with different bands, including Asleep at the Wheel, to play at the dance.

Sheriff's Log

Deputy arrests man, recovers stolen vehicle

Howard County sheriff's deputy Robert Stapp pulled over a suspicious vehicle last night while on patrol and later found out when he ran a license check that the vehicle was reported to be stolen from San Angelo.

According to an incident report, the deputy stopped the suspicious vehicle on Highway 87 and Hearn after the driver was driving as though he were intoxicated. Stapp found beer cans inside the vehicle and in the trunk.

Stapp arrested the driver Phillip Mondragon, 56, of St. Lawrence for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. Mondragon is currently being held in county jail.

The Sheriff's Office learned this morning from the Lubbock Sheriff's Department that Mondragon has also been charged in that county for revocating his probation for burglary.

Texas Highway Department of Public Safety trooper Glen Redman investigated a one car rollover on East Howard Field Road off Interstate 20 Wednesday night.

Big Spring police reported that someone had called in the accident.

Redman later found the driver of the car at Malone-Hogan Hospital emergency where he (driver) was being treated for cuts and bruises.

Redman said that Frank Henry Mateo, 24, of Midland would be ticketed for driving at an unsafe speed.

No other persons, vehicles or injuries were reported.

Police transferred Juan Mata, 29, of Lubbock to county jail Wednesday afternoon. Mata is being charged with making a false report to an officer.

He was arrested on Saturday in connection with an attempted theft at Wal Mart.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Mark S. Block, 20, of Apt. 1A behind Rip Griffin Truck Stop and charged him with issuing a bad check. He was released on $200 bond set by Justice of the Peace China Long.

Police transferred Eugene Williams, 21, of 1511 Sycamore to county jail after he was charged with evading arrest and escaping from a law officer. He was released on bonds totalling $4,000 set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

The St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times also won a Pulitzer for investigative reporting by Lucy Morgan and Jack Reed on alleged corruption in the office of Pasco County Sheriff John Short, who was turned out of office by voters.

Short was indicted by a grand jury and is awaiting trial.

The Pulitzer for the new category of explanatory journalism was won by Jon Franklin of the Baltimore Evening Sun for his series about the science of molecular psychiatry.

Stan Grossfeld of the Boston Globe also won in feature photography for his pictures of the Ethiopian famine and illegal aliens on the U.S.-Mexican border.

Both the feature photography winners had won previous Pulitzers. Grossfeld won last year in the spot news category, and Price won in the spot category in 1981 for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Reporters Josh Friedman and Dennis Bell and photographer Ozier Muhammad worked on Newsday's prize-winning international report.

Chemical People halts crisis hotline

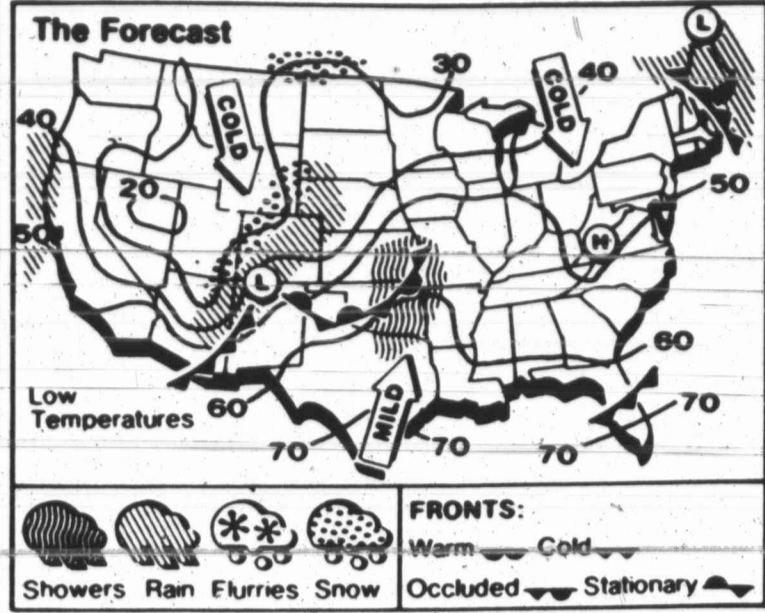

The Chemical People will discontinue its crisis hotline after Saturday night, said Kay Hepper, a chairman of the group.

"We feel the service is no longer needed," Hepper said. "It appears there is a very strong support system in the community that people are able to find help with their problems quite easily."

The crisis hotline has been operating about 15 months from space donated by Malone-Hogan Hospital. It has been manned three nights a week by 18 volunteers.

renaissance period?"

Public Schools

School taxes will go up sharply next year, based on preliminary figures supplied by school Superintendent Lynn Hise. The district is planning a 7.9 percent tax increase, just below the level that could trigger a local tax rollback effort.

He said state funding will decrease by $548,000 next school year while costs of implementing education reform rules will total $278,000, for a net loss of $826,000. Hise said a 3 percent salary increase will cost another $300,000, making the gap more than $1.1 million.

The tax increase would provide $445,000 of the shortage; the rest will come from cutting expenses, he said.

The district's bond debt is low, however. The last bond issue was in 1964 and current debt is only $3.7 million, he said.

City of Big Spring

In outlining the city's areas of concern, City Manager Don Davis said, "We're at a critical time, at a crossroads."

He noted Big Spring's needs as a declining tax base and population loss; industrial recruitment; relations between government agencies; development of natural resources such as Moss Lake; beautification and weed control; and coordination between non-profit agencies.

Davis said a $6 million capital improvements project is nearing completion, but that $2 million is now needed for renovation of the city's water treatment plant.

Howard County

Commissioner Bill Crocker said the county, like the city, is concerned for its financial future. "We have oil revenues that the city doesn't," he said, "but these are eroding" with the declining oil values. Farm land prices, he said, have dropped from between $800 to $1,000 an acre to between $400 and $600 an acre.

The end of federal revenue sharing will mean a loss of $180,000 to $200,000 per year, he said.

Among the county's needs are: a juvenile detention center, additional courthouse space, a system for absorbing the medical costs incurred by poor people, a plan for road construction to connect highways like FM 700 with Interstate 20 and Highway 87, and continued road maintenance in the face of rising material costs.

A solution to the county's concern over library space was offered later in the day with the suggestion to consolidate the two public libraries — Howard County library and Howard College library.

Howard College

The college is beefing up recruiting efforts to make up for enrollment loss caused by population decline, Bob Riley, Howard College president, said.

"Problems and projects" for the next five years are to keep state funding above the $2 million level and enrollment above 1,400, to raise $1 million through the Howard College Foundation, to do $250,000 in work on the school's heating and air conditioning systems, to computerize the campus ($46,000), to develop a Learning Resource Center ($80,000), and to do work on lighting at the baseball fields ($125,000).

Riley said work was needed at the college auditorium and that dorms — both at Howard College and at the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf — required remodeling and construction.

Riley said the college "stands ready to assist in bringing in industry" and that it can provide specialized training if needed. "We'd like to be involved in the economic development of Howard County," he said.

Heart recipient dies

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Jack C. Burcham, a retired train engineer who pinned hopes for an extended life on an experimental artificial heart, died after 10 days because of compression on the device which inhibited the pumping of blood, one of his doctors said.

Burcham, beset with problems with the implant from the start, died at 9:48 p.m. Wednesday at Humana Hospital Audubon, said Bob Irvine, a Humana Inc. spokesman.

Dr. Allan M. Lansing said the compression "prevented the heart from pumping and produced sudden acute congestion in his lungs," explaining that blood backed up into his lungs causing respiratory failure.

Pirates roam the sea

WOODS HOLE, Mass. — Pirates still roam the seas and, in the past decade, have taken hundreds of lives and millions of dollars of booty on merchant ships, refugee boats and even luxury yachts, say experts at a conference here.

"Piracy occurs all over the world," said Dean E. Cycon, a research fellow at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, which sponsored the two-day conference that concludes today.

Cycon said the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development has determined that piracy and related maritime fraud now cost shippers and ship owners more than $1 billion a year.

Assad orders attacks

BEIRUT, Lebanon — President Hafez Assad of Syria was reported today to have called on Moslem guerrillas to step up their attacks on Israeli forces to speed their withdrawal from Lebanon, which he called "Israel's Vietnam."

Lebanese newspapers said Assad made the comments at a meeting of Lebanon's senior Moslem leaders in the Syrian capital Damascus at which he succeeded in persuading Prime Minister Rashid Karami to withdraw the resignation of his national unity government.

"South Lebanon has become Israel's Vietnam," Assad was quoted as saying Wednesday night.

Mine sinks cargo ship

LONDON — A cargo ship carrying 14,000 tons of iron ore sank in the Red Sea today, apparently after hitting a mine, and its crew has been rescued, Lloyds Shipping Intelligence Unit reported.

Lloyds spokesman Roger Lowes speculated the suspected mine may have been one of a series sewn last year in the Red Sea and the Gulf of Suez which hit and damaged a total of 19 vessels between July 9 and Sept. 20. None was sunk.

40-year rendezvous

American, Soviet vets meet with a handshake

TORGAU, East Germany (AP) — Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev sent greetings today to American and Soviet veterans celebrating the 40th anniversary of the day handshakes joined the U.S. and Red armies and split Nazi Germany in half.

U.S. officials are boycotting the reunion because of the death last month of U.S. Army Maj. Arthur Nicholson, shot by a Soviet guard in East Germany. But 100 American veterans, determined to remember a better time, came anyway.

"As old as we are, you just have to try to get the hate out of your hearts. As long as you can communicate a bit and have friendly conversations back and forth, that can only help," said veteran E.R. Sams, 61, a retired tobacco farmer from Pinnacle, N.C.

Sams was a member of the 69th Infantry Division of the American 5th Army Corps that joined up with the westward-moving Soviet Red Army 58th Guards Division at Torgau on the Elbe River on April 25, 1945.

Their link represented an allied line across Germany. Five days later, Adolf Hitler committed suicide. Two weeks after that, the Third Reich surrendered.

The first ceremony on today's agenda was a wreath-laying at the riverside monument that commemorates the link-up in this small, drab, factory town, spruced up with red flags and peace slogans.

Gorbachev said in his message, carried by the official Soviet news agency, Tass: "The Soviet people are convinced that constructive cooperation between the former allies, among all states in the activity aimed at safeguarding peace, can and should become a powerful factor in the improvement of the international climate.

"Those who today again join their hands over the Elbe River give a good example of that."

Gorbachev made no mention of Nicholson's death in his message. The Soviet Union has charged that he was spying and in a restricted military area, but U.S. officials have denied that.

The handshake of the Soviet and American soldiers who met in the spring of 1945 on the Elbe River has been forever recorded in history as the symbol of hope and friendship," Gorbachev said.

In Moscow, Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman Vladimir Lomeiko was asked about the absence of an official U.S. representation. He said: "It is not a meeting of the army, but of the participants of the meeting 40 years ago ... All I can say is that on the Soviet side this delegation is made up of 25 people, 18 of whom were at the meeting of the Elbe 40 years ago."

He said there would be a military parade in Red Square and a "solemn meeting" in Moscow to which the other wartime allies were invited.

Sams, a machine gunner private at the time, remembers the joyousness of the Soviet-American meeting.

"There was lots of hugging and dancing and singing," he said Wednesday. "A lot of them (Russians) had accordions and they played, and they fed us some kind of stew and potatoes. It might have been horse (meat). But we were just so happy thinking the war was over."

Procter & Gamble drops logo

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jerry Falwell, Billy Graham and the archbishop of Chicago couldn't stop recurring "outrageous, vicious lies" about Procter & Gamble Co.'s links to Satanism, and the soap giant has decided to drop its century-old moon-and-stars logo.

"How it started originally we have no idea, and how it restarted we have no idea," P&G spokesman Bill Dobson said Wednesday after the company announced that it would phase out use of the logo on its products.

"The trademark itself won't change in any way," Dobson said.

"It will continue to be used extensively as a symbol" on stationery and mailings.

The decision was prompted by frustration over an inability to quash a wave of rumors that first crested with 15,000 telephone calls from consumers in July 1982, said officials of P&G, which ranked 22nd on the Fortune 500 list of U.S. corporations in 1984 with sales of $12.94 billion.

"We're referring to them as the outrageous, vicious lies and falsehoods," Dobson said. "It's just ridiculous."

U.S. slow growth is warning sign

We are told that the growth of the economy will boost the federal revenue deficit without new or increased taxes. So what happens if there is no growth?

We may face that question soon. The gross national product's real growth in the year's first quarter was at an annual rate of only 1.3 percent, the slowest quarterly rate in more than two years.

Another recession could make the deficit figures for the future even more frightening than they already are. And it would make new or increased tax revenues even more unlikely.

No one is predicting recession. But the current recovery can't last forever. And the budget deficit, the relatively high interest rate, the overvalued dollar, the record imbalance of foreign trade — all of these factors are negative. Our government simply cannot keep borrowing at the present rate to support its spending at the level to which we have become accustomed.

Soviets, Americans up in arms talks

I had no objection to President Reagan turning down Mikhail Gorbachev's suggestion that the West join the Soviets in a freeze on medium-range nuclear weapons. What did bother me was the haste in which it was done.

The words were hardly out of Gorbachev's mouth when the Western White House rejected it as a dirty commie trick. One got the impression the Reagan administration was more furious with the freeze than if the Soviet premier had announced he was going to double the number of SS-20s on the Soviet border.

There is no question in my mind that Mikhail was making a grandstand play for the benefit of the NATO countries.

Yet if disarmament is a game — and everyone knows it is — it would have been much better for our side if Mr. Reagan did not react so predictably.

Had the president responded immediately that he was "very interested" in the Gorbachev proposal and wanted to "fine-tune" it, this is what probably would have happened in the Kremlin.

"Comrade Number One — this just in from Santa Barbara. President Reagan thinks your offer to freeze the SS-20s is a very generous one and he is glad you put it on the table."

"What are you saying, Marshal Potemkin? If Reagan likes my plan there must be something wrong with it."

"Our intelligence people have come to some conclusion. They are perplexed that Reagan would jump at it so fast. Our scenario was that the president would dismiss your proposal and attack us for maintaining a 10-to-1 missile superiority. Then we could attack him for wanting to keep the arms race going, thereby winning the hearts and minds of the West European population."

'Free' radio adds insult

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA
WASHINGTON — Radio programs broadcast to Soviet-bloc countries by two U.S. government-financed stations in Munich often insult the very people they're trying to win, and contain questionable criticism of the United States and its allies, according to internal congressional reports.

The problems with the two stations — Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty — stem more from mismanagement than malice, concluded one congressional staff memo obtained by our associate Indy Badhwar. But the memo notes that the problems are serious, involving the broadcasting of "unacceptable material... characterized as anti-Semitic, anti-Catholic or even anti-Western." The memo also complained of "increasingly hardline rhetoric" reflecting the Reagan administration's harsh anti-communist views.

The critics don't fault broadcasters' hard-line on philosophical grounds, but simply on the basis that heavy-handed propaganda tends to be counterproductive.

When the two stations were established by the CIA in the early 1950s as an antidote to Radio Moscow, their shrill anti-Soviet propaganda gave them little more credibility than the Kremlin's broadcasts.

So Congress took Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty away from the CIA and created an independent Board for International Broadcasting to fund and supervise the stations. The board's guidelines for effective broadcasting recommend avoidance of "emotionalism, vindictiveness, belligerency, condescension, propagandistic argumentation, unsupported criticism of the communist system, incitement to revolt, programs based on rumors, sweeping generalizations and gratuitous value judgments."

Unfortunately, the programs prepared by refugees and other East Europeans often reflect their deep-seated prejudices. Here are some examples:

• In one broadcast, a staff memo says, "there are implications that the Russians as a people are responsible for the evils of communist rule." The same broadcast also offended Poles when it stated: "It is not only the communist regime, but also a part of the Polish population, including the Polish Catholic clergy, which are responsible for the unenviable fate of the Ukrainian minority in Poland."

• In the same Radio Liberty broadcast: "There is a reference... to German imperialism in a postwar context, which is less than flattering to Radio Liberty's host country."

• Last January, for the first time since the founding of Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty, the State Department felt obliged to issue a formal apology and disassociate itself from a broadcast that compared Poland's military dictator, Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, to Adolf Hitler.

• A program last year "rationalized" a series of Cossack pogroms against Jews in the Ukraine in 1919-1920 by noting that many Jews had joined the Bolshevik cause.

• A religious program described Pontius Pilate as despising the Jews who denounced Jesus, and quoted Russian Orthodox Archbishop Anthony Zhenovsky as saying, "The atheists in their hatred of Christ have gone even further than the Jews."

• Another broadcast suggested that Poles and Jews were responsible for the triumph of communism.

• One Radio Liberty broadcast gave a "positive description of the Nazi unit Galizien, which was responsible for allowing Ukrainians to murder thousands of Jews in Lvov."

• Excerpts were broadcast from a book that accused President Franklin Roosevelt of concealing advance knowledge of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, and of conducting "un-American, undemocratic and unconstitutional methods of provoking war."

• An "anatomical obscenity" was used to describe a Polish government official, and vulgar expressions were so frequent that the American consulate complained to the Radio Free Europe-Radio Liberty management.

Footnote: Board member Ben Wattenberg conceded that there might be problems with some of the broadcasts but contended:

"What's at issue here is 10 or 15 broadcasts out of countless thousands in a two-year period. On the whole I believe the quality of our programs is getting better and we have more controls over these radios than many other journalistic organizations."

Wattenberg added that the troubles arose from the fact that some of the broadcasts reflected "ancient rivalries and blood feuds" between East European and Soviet populations "and these people tend to talk in black-and-white language."

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Crucifying softball for church sake

To the editor:

Any church member would argue that one aspect of any church organization should be geared toward missionary endeavors. The Bible teaches, "Go ye and be witnesses." Many souls have been saved and hearts rendered through activities outside church. It is through the witness of those Christians involved in activities with non-Christians that provide opportunities for lives to be changed.

However this is not necessarily true in Big Spring. Often it is easier to send money to a foreign land to do vital, necessary tasks than it is to stay locally and deal with home mission.

In the past, our city has had a large interest in women's softball. We have had an industrial women's league and a church women's league in progress at the same time. However, for various reasons, be it lack of interest or decrease in population, the number of teams in the industrial women's league has dropped to two or three teams.

While endeavoring to combine the two women's leagues, a lot was learned of our church going friends. The industrial league teams were told they would be a bad influence on the church teams. We were also told that ALL industrial league players drank excessively, cursed too much, and some of us were "trashy" pot smokers. This is probably one of the biggest misconceptions ever made.

As if judging the character of others were not enough, last year within the church league, there were some women who set themselves as judges regarding shorts and their proper length.

They did not condone wearing shorts unless they were the proper length while playing softball. Yet these women wore them to the grocery store or many other public places and the "proper" length of their shorts was seemingly disregarded.

The Bible teaches us not to judge lest ye be judged. The Bible also teaches not to bear false witness against thy neighbors. We realize church members are human and do err — we all do. But who is among the first to remind you that you are in the wrong — a church member.

To say that all industrial league women players are ALL bad is like saying ALL Republicans are right. It just simply is not so.

Mas nuevas de Cisneros

Por LUIS RIOS

La celebracion de Cinco de Mayo ya se acerca y en el articulo del segundo de mayo me gustaria escribir un poco de esa celebracion y tambien de actividades aqui en Big Spring.

Ahora escribire un poco de nuevas que ocurrieron durante la semana que son de importancia para los mexicanos y tambien el resto del publico.

Enrique Cisneros, el mayor de la ciudad de San Antonio, anuncio esta semana que el no va a correr para el puesto de gobernador de Texas en 1996.

El anuncio vino despues que Cisneros habia ganado su tercer termino para ser mayor de San Antonio. Cisneros mismo dijo que habia varios grupos y personas de poder y influencia en el estado que les gustaria que el corriera para el puesto.

No se me hace que la ultima vez que vamos ha oir de gente diciendo que Cisneros deberia hacer campana para ese puesto.

Pero Cisneros es un hombre de mucha educacion y modos. Nomás el sabe cuando es el tiempo para correr para un puesto como de gobernador.

Y pienso que seria mejor si el pensaba correr para senador de los estados unidos. Lo que no me gustaria ver es que Cisneros sea influido por personas y grupos que le puedan hacer mas mal que bien.

Esta semana en Tucson, Arizona, se juntaron sobre 500 reporteros y editores hispanos de los estados y varios de editores de Mexico para discutir cuestiones que afectan al publico hispano. Los temas de esta conferencia incluyen relaciones de la comunidad, el impacto de los medios de informacion sobre los hispanos y la imagen de el hispano en el radio, television, peliculas y la prensa.

Pero no es tanto que pensaron de juntarse estos editores y reporteros, la cosa mas importante es haber que sale de esta conferencia.

Mientras que cantadores de los estados unidos y ingleses estaban grabando discos como, "Do They Know It's Christmas?" y "We Are The World," para ayudar lo que se estan muriendo de hambre en africa, se juntaron unos artistas hispanos para tambien grabar un disco en espanol.

Julio Iglesias, Celia Cruz, Jose Feliciano y varios otros artistas hispanos grabaron una cancion, "Cantare, Cantaras."

Otros artistas incluyen Irene Cara, Placido Domingo y el grupo faluloso Menudo. El grupo para el disco que llama 'Hermanos' y dicen que la cancion saldra el 15 de mayo y el disco saldra para la medacion de junio.

Today's highlight in history:

Five years ago — on April 25, 1980, day 174 of the Iranian hostage crisis — the White House announced an attempt to rescue the captives had failed, and that eight U.S. servicemen had died in the fiery collision of two aircraft. President Jimmy Carter told the nation the decision to attempt the rescue was his, as was the decision to abort. He said, "The responsibility is fully my own."

On this date:
In 1859, ground was broken for the Suez Canal.

In 1898, the United States declared war on Spain.

In 1901, New York became the first state to require automobile license plates. The fee was one dollar.

In 1945, delegates from 45 countries met in San Francisco to organize the United Nations.

Also in 1945, U.S. and Soviet forces met at Torgau, Germany, on the Elbe River.

Implants may hold promise for deaf

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have heard of a new implant that can replace hearing aids for people who are deaf. How effective is this, and where can I look into it for my husband? Something like this would be such a blessing. — J.C.

I am sure you are referring to cochlear implants. The procedure is in the developmental stage, but some feel it may hold promise for people who are totally deaf, those for whom standard hearing aids do not work. I'll explain the idea for you, but you must temper your enthusiasm with the realization that it is still largely experimental.

The cochlea is a tiny conch-shaped structure deep within the ear. It lies adjacent to the ending of the acoustic nerve, the nerve through which sound waves are translated into brain messages that produce hearing. In the profoundly deaf, the cochlea's hair-like projections and nerve endings are not sending the messages to the nerve. In the new procedure, two tiny electrical coils are implanted at that point. This electrically stimulates the nerve, resulting in sound perception.

As of now, the hearing produced has been far from perfect, but has been an improvement for some profoundly deaf patients in whom it has been tried. I cannot tell you where such experimental work is going on in your area, but perhaps an ear specialist or neurologist near you can find out.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Will my osteoarthritis tend to get worse as I get older? I have a touch of it in my knees, according to my doctor. What will happen? — Mrs. O.Y.

You often hear osteoarthritis referred to as a "wear-and-tear" problem, but I dislike the term. It ain't necessarily so. Nor is it a natural aging process or an irreversible one. I know you didn't ask, but I wanted to mention those points.

Anything that places stress on a joint may lead to osteoarthritis — bowlegs, a cartilage tear, a fracture, an infection, or overuse. As an example, if your leg bones are slightly out of plumb with your feet, then running would place abnormal stress on the knees and you could wind up with osteoarthritis.

The point of all this, though, is that these things are correctable.

Fashion show to be at mall Saturday

Women's spring and summer fashions will be displayed during a fashion show at Big Spring Mall, Saturday.

The event will begin at 1:30 p.m. and will include fashions by J.C. Penney.

Something as simple as a shoe insert might abolish abnormal stress. But if left uncorrected, changes will eventually occur in cartilage. It will overgrow, dry out and crumble, and adjacent cells will be irritated and form bone spurs.

Your future may depend on what you do about your osteoarthritis. We know now that cartilage, which is at the heart of the problem, will repair itself, given the chance. You have to rest your affected joints and give the cartilage a chance to do that.

For every hour of activity (housework, for example) give yourself an hour of rest afterward. Aspirin is the mainstay of osteoarthritis treatment.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What is the best advice with regard diet and carbohydrates for a person who has Type II diabetes? — H.H.

By Type II, you mean the kind of diabetes that usually comes on in adult years and which is strongly associated with obesity. It is also called non-insulin-dependent diabetes. It was once thought that the diet should be low in carbohydrates, period. But this has changed.

Today doctors recommend a diet high in the more slowly-metabolized complex carbohydrates (starch, potatoes, pastas). It should also be low in saturated fats, the fats that are solid at room temperature. You should avoid red meats; opt for chicken or fish. And, of course, of great importance in your kind of diabetes is the number of calories you take in and the need to control your weight.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For a better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of his booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

There is no question in my mind that Mikhail was making a grandstand play for the benefit of the NATO countries.

Yet if disarmament is a game — and everyone knows it is — it would have been much better for our side if Mr. Reagan did not react so predictably.

Had the president responded immediately that he was "very interested" in the Gorbachev proposal and wanted to "fine-tune" it, this is what probably would have happened in the Kremlin.

"Comrade Number One — this just in from Santa Barbara. President Reagan thinks your offer to freeze the SS-20s is a very generous one and he is glad you put it on the table."

"What are you saying, Marshal Potemkin? If Reagan likes my plan there must be something wrong with it."

"Our intelligence people have come to some conclusion. They are perplexed that Reagan would jump at it so fast. Our scenario was that the president would dismiss your proposal and attack us for maintaining a 10-to-1 missile superiority. Then we could attack him for wanting to keep the arms race going, thereby winning the hearts and minds of the West European population."

"I'm aware of what our scenario was, Marshal. What I want to know is why Reagan is in favor of it."

"Our people now have theory that there are a lot more Pershing missiles in Europe than the United States will admit to, and if the Americans agreed to a freeze at this time it would give them an 8-to-1 advantage over us."

"Now you tell me. Why didn't you know this before I made an offer to freeze our missiles?"

"Our KGB people in Washington assured us that the White House would denounce your offer because it would endanger their request for an increased military budget. The fact the president didn't can only mean we've underestimated the number of nuclear weapons United States has aimed at us. It shows you why we can't trust the Americans. They're always crying they are behind in missiles — when the true fact is they are ahead."

"What do I do if Reagan agrees to freeze his weapons? Should I say our freeze is off?"

"No, Comrade Number One. That would make it appear we believe the Americans are stronger than we are. What you must do is to improve on your offer of a freeze by making a unilateral reduction in weapons. This will scare the West. They will be certain the only reason we're doing it is that we have so many missiles we can afford to reduce our nuclear arsenal without endangering our defense. Reagan will have to publicly say it's a trap and denounce us for it. And then we'll be known in Western Europe as the peacemakers."

"That's what you said before my freeze speech. Suppose he doesn't denounce me and says he's glad to see my offer on the table? How long do I have to keep disarming Mother Russia to show how strong we really are?"

"Until Reagan cries 'Uncle.'"

'Free' radio adds insult

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA
 WASHINGTON — Radio programs broadcast to Soviet-bloc countries by two U.S. government-financed stations in Munich often insult the very people they're trying to win, and contain questionable criticism of the United States and its allies, according to internal congressional reports.

The problems with the two stations — Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty — stem more from mismanagement than malice, concluded one congressional staff memo obtained by our associate Indy Badhwar. But the memo notes that the problems are serious, involving the broadcasting of "unacceptable material" characterized as anti-Semitic, anti-Catholic or even anti-Western.

The memo also complained of "increasing hardline rhetoric" reflecting the Reagan administration's harsh anti-communist views.

The critics don't fault broadcasters' hard-line on philosophical grounds, but simply on the basis that heavy-handed propaganda tends to be counterproductive.

When the two stations were established by the CIA in the early 1950s as an antidote to Radio Moscow, their shrill anti-Soviet propaganda gave them little more credibility than the Kremlin's broadcasts.

So Congress took Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty away from the CIA and created an independent Board for International Broadcasting to fund and supervise the stations. The board's guidelines for effective broadcasting recommend avoidance of "emotionalism, vindictiveness, belligerency, condescension, propagandistic argumentation, unsupported criticism of the communist system, incitement to revolt, programs based on rumors, sweeping generalizations and gratuitous value judgments."

Unfortunately, the programs prepared by refugees and other East Europeans often reflect their deep-seated prejudices. Here are some examples:

- In one broadcast, a staff memo says, "there are implications that the Russians as a people are responsible for the evils of communist rule." The same broadcast also offended Poles when it stated: "It is not only the communist regime, but also a part of the Polish population, including the Polish Catholic clergy, which are responsible for the unenviable fate of the Ukrainian minority in Poland."
- In the same Radio Liberty broadcast: "There is a reference ... to German imperialism in a postwar context, which is less than flattering to Radio Liberty's host country."

- Last January, for the first time since the founding of Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty, the State Department felt obliged to issue a formal apology and disassociate itself from a broadcast that compared Poland's military dictator, Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, to Adolf Hitler.
- A program last year "rationalized" a series of Cossack pogroms against Jews in the Ukraine in 1919-1920 by noting that many Jews had joined the Bolshevik cause.
- A religious program described Pontius Pilate as despising the Jews who denounced Jesus, and quoted Russian Orthodox Archbishop Anthony Zhenovsky as saying, "The atheists in their hatred of Christ have gone even further than the Jews."
- Another broadcast suggested that Poles and Jews were responsible for the triumph of communism.
- One Radio Liberty broadcast gave a "positive description of the Nazi unit Galizien, which was responsible for allowing Ukrainians to murder thousands of Jews in Lvov."
- Excerpts were broadcast from a book that accused President Franklin Roosevelt of concealing advance knowledge of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, and of conducting "un-American, undemocratic and unconstitutional methods of provoking war."
- An "anatomical obscenity" was used to describe a Polish government official, and vulgar expressions were so frequent that the American consulate complained to the Radio Free Europe-Radio Liberty management.

Footnote: Board member Ben Wattenberg conceded that there might be problems with some of the broadcasts but contended:

"What's at issue here is 10 or 15 broadcasts out of countless thousands in a two-year period. On the whole I believe the quality of our programs is getting better and we have more controls over these radios than many other journalistic organizations."

Wattenberg added that the troubles arose from the fact that some of the broadcasts reflected "ancient rivalries and blood feuds" between East European and Soviet populations "and these people tend to talk in black-and-white language."

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Crucifying softball for church sake

To the editor:

Any church member would argue that one aspect of any church organization should be geared toward missionary endeavors. The Bible teaches, "Go ye and be witnesses." Many souls have been saved and hearts rendered through activities outside church. It is through the witness of those Christians involved in activities with non-Christians that provide opportunities for lives to be changed.

However this is not necessarily true in Big Spring. Often it is easier to send money to a foreign land to do vital, necessary tasks than it is to stay locally and deal with home mission.

In the past, our city has had a large interest in women's softball. We have had an industrial women's league and a church women's league in progress at the same time. However, for various reasons, be it lack of interest or decrease in population, the number of teams in the industrial women's league has dropped to two or three teams.

While endeavoring to combine the two women's leagues, a lot was learned of our church going friends. The industrial league teams were told they would be a bad influence on the church teams. We were also told that ALL industrial league players drank excessively, cursed too much, and some of us were "trashy" pot smokers. This is probably one of the biggest misconceptions ever made.

As if judging the character of others were not enough, last year within the church league, there were some women who set themselves as judges regarding shorts and their proper length.

They did not condone wearing shorts unless they were the proper length while playing softball. Yet these women wore them to the grocery store or many other public places and the "proper" length of their shorts was seemingly disregarded.

The Bible teaches us not to judge lest ye be judged. The Bible also teaches not to bear false witness against thy neighbors. We realize church members are human and do err — we all do. But who is among the first to remind you that you are in the wrong — a church member.

To say that all industrial league women players are ALL bad is like saying ALL Republicans are right. It just simply is not so.

Mas nuevas de Cisneros

Por LUIS RIOS

La celebracion de Cinco de Mayo ya se acerca y en el articulo del segundo de mayo me gustaria escribir un poco de esa celebracion y tambien de actividades aqui en Big Spring.

Ahora escribire un poco de nuevas que ocurrieron durante la semana que son de importancia para los mexicanos y tambien el resto del publico.

Enrique Cisneros, el mayor de la ciudad de San Antonio, anuncio esta semana que el no va a correr para el puesto de gobernador de tejas en 1986.

El anuncio vino despues que Cisneros habia ganado su tercer termino para ser mayor de San Antonio. Cisneros mismo dijo que habia varios grupos y personas de poder y influencia en el estado que les gustaria que el corriera para el puesto.

No se me hace que la ultima vez que vamos ha oir de gente diciendo que Cisneros deberia hacer campana para ese puesto.

Pero Cisneros es un hombre de mucha educacion y modos. Nomas el sabe cuando es el tiempo para correr para un puesto como de gobernador.

Y pienso que seria mejor si el pensaba correr para senador de los estados unidos. Lo que no me gustaria ver es que Cisneros sea influido por personas y grupos que le puedan hacer mas mal que bien.

Esta semana en Tuscon, Arizona, se juntaron sobre 500 reporteros y editores hispanos de los estados y varios de editores de mexico para discutir cuestiones que afectan al publico hispano.

Los temas de esta conferencia incluyen relaciones de la comunidad, el impacto de los medios de informacion sobre los hispanos y la imagen de el hispano en el radio, television, peliculas y la prensa.

Pero no es tanto que pensaron de juntarse estos editores y reporteros, la cosa mas importante es haber que sale de esta conferencia.

Mientras que cantadores de los estados unidos e ingleses estaban grabando discos como, "Do They Know It's Christmas?" y "We Are The World," para ayudar lo que se estan muriendo de hambre en africa, se juntaron unos artistas hispanos para tambien grabar un disco en espanol.

Julio Iglesias, Celia Cruz, Jose Feliciano y varios otros artistas hispanos grabaron una cancion, "Cantare, Cantaras."

Otros artistas incluyen Irene Cara, Placido Domingo y el grupo faluloso Menudo. El grupo para el disco que llama "Hermanos" y dicen que la cancion saldra el 15 de mayo y el disco saldra para la medacion de junio.

Opiniones expresadas en este articulo son ideas del autor y no reflejan las ideas de la administracion de esta prensa.

By The Associated Press
 Today is Thursday, April 25, the 115th day of 1985. There are 250 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
 Five years ago — on April 25, 1980, day 174 of the Iranian hostage crisis — the White House announced an attempt to rescue the captives had failed, and that eight U.S. servicemen had died in the fiery collision of two aircraft. President Jimmy Carter told the nation the decision to attempt the rescue was his, as was the decision to abort. He said, "The responsibility is fully my own."

On this date:
 In 1859, ground was broken for the Suez Canal.
 In 1898, the United States declared war on Spain.
 In 1901, New York became the first state to require automobile license plates. The fee was one dollar.
 In 1945, delegates from 45 countries met in San Francisco to organize the United Nations.
 Also in 1945, U.S. and Soviet forces met at Torgau, Germany, on the Elbe River.
 In 1959, the St. Lawrence Seaway opened to shipping.

Implants may hold promise for deaf

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have heard of a new implant that can replace hearing aids for people who are deaf. How effective is this, and where can I look into it for my husband? Something like this would be such a blessing. — J.C.

I am sure you are referring to cochlear implants. The procedure is in the developmental stage, but some feel it may hold promise for people who are totally deaf, those for whom standard hearing aids do not work. I'll explain the idea for you, but you must temper your enthusiasm with the realization that it is still largely experimental.

The cochlea is a tiny conch-shaped structure deep within the ear. It lies adjacent to the ending of the acoustic nerve, the nerve through which sound waves are translated into brain messages that produce hearing. In the profoundly deaf, the cochlea's hair-like projections and nerve endings are not sending the messages to the nerve. In the new procedure, two tiny electrical coils are implanted at that point. This electrically stimulates the nerve, resulting in sound perception.

As of now, the hearing produced has been far from perfect, but has been an improvement for some profoundly deaf patients in whom it has been tried. I cannot tell you where such experimental work is going on in your area, but perhaps an ear specialist or neurologist near you can find out.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Will my osteoarthritis tend to get worse as I get older? I have a touch of it in my knees, according to my doctor. What will happen? — Mrs. O.Y.

You often hear osteoarthritis referred to as a "wear-and-tear" problem, but I dislike the term. It ain't necessarily so. Nor is it a natural aging process or an irreversible one. I know you didn't ask, but I wanted to mention those points.

Anything that places stress on a joint may lead to osteoarthritis — bowlegs, a cartilage tear, a fracture, an infection, or overuse. As an example, if your leg bones are slightly out of plumb with your feet, then running would place abnormal stress on the knees and you could wind up with osteoarthritis.

The point of all this, though, is that these things are correctable.

Fashion show to be at mall Saturday

Women's spring and summer fashions will be displayed during a fashion show at Big Spring Mall, Saturday.

The event will begin at 1:30 p.m. and will include fashions by J.C. Penney.

Something as simple as a shoe insert might abolish abnormal stress. But if left uncorrected, changes will eventually occur in cartilage. It will overgrow, dry out and crumble, and adjacent cells will be irritated and form bone spurs.

Your future may depend on what you do about your osteoarthritis. We know now that cartilage, which is at the heart of the problem, will repair itself, given the chance. You have to rest your affected joints and give the cartilage a chance to do that.

For every hour of activity (housework, for example) give yourself an hour of rest afterward. Aspirin is the mainstay of osteoarthritis treatment.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What is the best advice with regard diet and carbohydrates for a person who has Type II diabetes? — H.H.

By Type II, you mean the kind of diabetes that usually comes on in adult years and which is strongly associated with obesity. It is also called non-insulin-dependent diabetes. It was once thought that the diet should be low in carbohydrates, period. But this has changed.

Today doctors recommend a diet high in the more slowly-metabolized complex carbohydrates (starch, potatoes, pastas). It should also be low in saturated fats, the fats that are solid at room temperature. You should avoid red meats; opt for chicken or fish. And, of course, of great importance in your kind of diabetes is the number of calories you take in and the need to control your weight.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For a better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of his booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Abby

Husband's forgetfulness no longer thorn

DEAR ABBY: Here's how I cured my husband of forgetting special occasions such as my birthday, our anniversary, etc. We had been married only three years when I had a feeling "George" was going to forget again, so I phoned the florist and had him send me a dozen roses with a card that read: "From someone who loves you very much."

When George came home, I met him at the door with a big kiss and thanked him for the flowers. He didn't say anything, but he looked surprised. About half an hour later he picked up the card and read it, then he admitted that he had not sent the roses — but he demanded to know who did. (Yes, he was really jealous.) I burst out laughing and told him I had sent them to myself. He looked relieved. That was the last time George forgot my birthday.

SNEAKY IN SAN DIEGO
DEAR SNEAKY: Lovely. Read

on for another "sneaky" gift-getting gimmick.

DEAR ABBY: We'd been married two years when my husband forgot both my birthday and our anniversary, which are only a week apart. I was hurt, and also angry, so the next day I went to the most exclusive ladies' store in town and bought myself an outfit that cost about three times as much as I usually paid.

That night, I modeled my new outfit for my husband and he said he liked it very much. I told him I was glad because since he'd forgotten my birthday and our anniversary, I would consider it his gift to me — then I gave him a big hug and dropped the bill in his lap!

Twelve years have passed, and my darling has never again forgotten.

Symphony Association begins drive

Big Spring Symphony Association began its Maintenance Fund Drive for the 1985-86 concert season, Tuesday.

Volunteers will contact people throughout the community who have been supportive of past fund drives, as well as others citizens. The campaign marks the first time the drive has been conducted in the spring before the current season is over, says John Wilson, chairman.

The Association's goal is $10,000. "We have maintained our goal for local contributions at the same level for the third consecutive year, which speaks well of the fact that while we've expanded our offering we're conservative of our funding," President Sam Woodward said.

Pledges received during the spring drive will better enable the Symphony Association to plan its budget and season for the coming year. Persons wishing to make donations or pledges sending them to the Big Spring Symphony Association, P.O. Box 682, Big Spring, Texas 79721.

Region V battle with McLennan

Showdown time for Hawks!

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

The Howard Hawks baseball team's biggest challenge so far this season faces them this weekend.

It comes in the form of Region V foe the McLennan Community College Highlanders. It's a showdown of the two best teams in Region V and two of the best teams in the entire state. McLennan comes into the confrontation with a 16-2 conference region record. Howard is saddled in second with a 14-4 slate. Three of the losses came to MCC.

A sweep would give the Hawks a one game lead with only a three game series left with Ranger. Both teams are assured of state tournament berths because the top two team in each region advance.

But this series is for more than just the region title, according to HC coach Bill Griffin. "We both know we're going to the playoffs. But whoever finishes first will get a better seed in the tournament, and that means alot," explained Griffin.

JIM GARCIA
...leading Hawks hitter

The Highlanders come into the battle with a sparkling 40-10 overall record. Howard's 29-8 slate is also one of the best records in the state.

If it's anything like the first meeting of the two teams, this series will be a close, one dominated by pitching. MCC won two one-run decisions; 2-1, 6-5 and took the last game by a 6-2 count. "We learned a lot that series."

said Griffin. "We know we must play exceptionally well against them. We must execute and hit more often. We didn't hit very well against them, but a lot of that can be attributed to their pitching."

Howard is not without strong pitching themselves. Fireballing Chuck Ashcraft's only loss of the season came in the 2-1 game. Griffin will again start the smooth right-hander from Ft. Worth in the opening 2 p.m. game Friday. He will follow with Doug Myers (8-1) and Bryan Willis (4-3) in the doubleheader Saturday which begins at 1 p.m. The dedication of the field to Jack Barber will start at 12:45 p.m.

Second baseman Michael Byrd and shortstop Jimmy Garcia will be back in the lineup after missing a couple of games for disciplinary reasons. Garcia continues to swing the hot bat for Howard with a .528 batting average, 49 RBIs and seven homeruns. Byrd is batting .372 and leads the team in stolen bases with 19.

Catcher Eddie Citronelli has been swinging a hot bat of late, coming off a 7-10 hitting performance in a three game series against Hill Junior College. Griffin figures the series the series will be another close one. "Both teams have good pitching, the pitching will balance out. The determining factor will be who makes the fewest mistakes."

Steer gridgers open spring training

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

The pads are popping at Steers practice field as the 1985 edition of the Big Spring Steers football team is currently going through its first week of spring training.

Steers head coach Quinn Eudy and his staff have 125 gridgers out for football, an increase of 30 from last year. Next year's freshmen workout from 3-4:30 p.m. and up-classesmen take over from 4:30 until 6:20 p.m. Eudy says workouts have been going well.

"Everything has been going fine," he said. "The kids worked real hard in the offseason program on increasing their quickness and strength." The difference is evident. This season the Steers have 40 players who can run a 4.6 to 5.0 40-yard dash, double from last season.

The Steers have improved by leaps and bounds in the weight department also. Last season they had four players bench pressing over 265 pounds and only one over 300. This season 22 players are lifting over 265 and three over 300.

MIKE CAYHILL

TODD COKER
...returning lineman

Right now Eudy is working on developing a play-action passing game and strengthening the running game. "We've been working real hard with the quarterbacks and receivers," said Eudy. "Defensively we are working on playing better pass defense, hitting and running to the football."

Eudy has returning starting quarterback Carl Speck back for his senior season. Other quarterback hopefuls include juniors Paul Decker and Andy Dominguez along track for the high jump at the regional meet.

Returning running backs include last year's starter Collin Carroll and Jimmy Rogers. Both are seniors.

Returning linemen include Jay Burcham, Luis Puga, Scott Allison, Charlie Ogle, Mike Cahill, Tim Green, Todd Coker, David Shortes and Victor Pruitt.

Returning wide receivers are Brian Reid and Matt Garrett.

The Steers will get their first taste of scrimmage action Friday at Memorial Stadium at 4:40 p.m. Eudy says he's looking forward to his upcoming challenge.

Redskins get Rogers from New Orleans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins have obtained running back George Rogers and several draft picks from the New Orleans Saints in a trade for the Redskins' No. 1 pick in Tuesday's National Football League draft, Redskins sources said today.

The team sources, who asked not to be identified, said the Redskins will get the Saints' fifth-, 10th- and 11th-round draft picks. The Redskins' first-round pick is 24th overall.

The addition of Rogers, 26, a four-year NFL veteran who won the Heisman Trophy in 1980, gives the Redskins an insurance policy on All-Pro running back John Riggins, 35, who was bothered by a bad back throughout the 1984 season.

Rogers, who gained 4,267 yards in the NFL, would be expected to replace the 13-year veteran Riggins if he decides to retire.

It was unclear whether the acquisition of Rogers would change Riggins' plans about retirement. He is not expected to make up his mind until the Redskins' start training camp in July and August.

Redskins General Manager Bobby Beathard had said earlier in the week that "the type of running back we're looking for is the kind of guy who will give John Riggins a break."

Rogers was the Saints' No. 1 draft choice in 1981.

The Saints traded their No. 1 draft choice — the 11th overall — to get another Heisman Trophy-winning running back, Earl Campbell, from the Houston Oilers last October.

That acquisition gave New Orleans a troika of running backs that included Rogers, Campbell and highly prized Hokie Gajan out of LSU.

Rogers, 26, won the Heisman Trophy at the University of South Carolina in 1980. After setting the NFL rookie rushing record in 1981, he went on to become the Saints' all-time rushing leader in just four seasons.

Saints Coach Bum Phillips, contacted Wednesday night in Houston, Texas, said he had no immediate comment.

After a stunning rookie year, Rogers' totals dropped in 1982.

Dear Abby

Husband's forgetfulness no longer thorn

DEAR ABBY: Here's how I cured my husband of forgetting special occasions such as my birthday, our anniversary, etc. We had been married only three years when I had a feeling "George" was going to forget again, so I phoned the florist and had him send me a dozen roses with a card that read: "From someone who loves you very much."

When George came home, I met him at the door with a big kiss and thanked him for the flowers. He didn't say anything, but he looked surprised. About half an hour later he picked up the card and read it, then he admitted that he had not sent the roses — but he demanded to know who did. (Yes, he was really jealous.) I burst out laughing and told him I had sent them to myself. He looked relieved. That was the last time George forgot my birthday.

DEAR ABBY: We'd been married two years when my husband forgot both my birthday and our anniversary, which are only a week apart. I was hurt, and also angry, so the next day I went to the most exclusive ladies' store in town and bought myself an outfit that cost about three times as much as I usually paid.

That night, I modeled my new outfit for my husband and he said he liked it very much. I told him I was glad because since he'd forgotten my birthday and our anniversary, I would consider it his gift to me — then I gave him a big hug and dropped the bill in his lap!

Twelve years have passed, and my darling has never again forgotten.

Symphony Association begins drive

Big Spring Symphony Association began its Maintenance Fund Drive for the 1985-86 concert season, Tuesday.

Volunteers will contact people throughout the community who have been supportive of past fund drives, as well as others citizens. The campaign marks the first time the drive has been conducted in the spring before the current season is over, says John Wilson, chairman.

The Association's goal is $10,000. "We have maintained our goal for local contributions at the same level for the third consecutive year, which speaks well of the fact that while we've expanded our offering we're conservative of our funding," President Sam Woodward said.

Pledges received during the spring drive will better enable the Symphony Association to plan its budget and season for the coming year. Persons wishing to make donations or pledges sending them to the Big Spring Symphony Association, P.O. Box 682, Big Spring, Texas 79721.

Redskins get Rogers from New Orleans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins have obtained running back George Rogers and several draft picks from the New Orleans Saints in a trade for the Redskins' No. 1 pick in Tuesday's National Football League draft, Redskins sources said today.

The team sources, who asked not to be identified, said the Redskins will get the Saints' fifth-, 10th- and 11th-round draft picks. The Redskins' first-round pick is 24th overall.

The addition of Rogers, 26, a four-year NFL veteran who won the Heisman Trophy in 1980, gives the Redskins an insurance policy on All-Pro running back John Riggins, 35, who was bothered by a bad back throughout the 1984 season.

Rogers, who gained 4,267 yards in the NFL, would be expected to replace the 13-year veteran Riggins if he decides to retire.

It was unclear whether the acquisition of Rogers would change Riggins' plans about retirement. He is not expected to make up his mind until the Redskins' start training camp in July and August.

Redskins General Manager Bobby Beathard had said earlier in the week that "the type of running back we're looking for is the kind of guy who will give John Riggins a break."

Rogers was the Saints' No. 1 draft choice in 1981.

The Saints traded their No. 1 draft choice — the 11th overall — to get another Heisman Trophy-winning running back, Earl Campbell, from the Houston Oilers last October.

That acquisition gave New Orleans a troika of running backs that included Rogers, Campbell and highly prized Hokie Gajan out of LSU.

Rogers, 26, won the Heisman Trophy at the University of South Carolina in 1980. After setting the NFL rookie rushing record in 1981, he went on to become the Saints' all-time rushing leader in just four seasons.

Saints Coach Bum Phillips, contacted Wednesday night in Houston, Texas, said he had no immediate comment.

After a stunning rookie year, Rogers' totals dropped in 1982.

Utah Jazz down Rockets, 112-104

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah Jazz reserve forward Jeff Wilkins says he wanted to drive the ball at Houston's big men Wednesday night and make them foul him.

The play appeared to work. Houston forward Ralph Sampson fouled out late in Utah's 112-104 win over the Rockets and center Akeem Olatunwo played delicately in the late going with five fouls.

The win lifted Utah to a 2-1 advantage in the best-of-five playoff series, which resumes here Friday night. A fifth game, if necessary, will be played Sunday in Houston.

"The game was in my hands," said the 7-4 Sampson, who finished with 20 points. "I missed two foul shots, a turn-around jump shot and then (was called for) my sixth foul. It was my fault."

Houston's Twin Towers — Sampson and Olatunwo — got into foul trouble early in the game and each had three fouls at halftime. Sampson fouled out after playing 34 minutes while Olatunwo finished the game with 26 points after playing 37 minutes.

The two Houston seven-footers weren't the only ones in foul trouble. Utah's Mark Eaton played only 28 minutes and finished the game with five fouls, eight points and only one blocked shot. He was averaging seven blocks per game after the first two outings.

The Houston fouls sent the Jazz to the charity line 22 more times than the Rockets. Utah converted on 39 of 50 free throw attempts, including 14 of 17 in the final period, compared to 16 of 28 for the Rockets. The performance at the foul line more than made up for Houston's 54-44 rebounding advantage.

"We're not a good rebounding team," said Jazz Coach Frank Layden. "We make up for it by blocking shots and getting to the free throw line."

Utah's Adrian Dantley and Thurl Bailey each connected on key free throws in the late going to put the game out of reach. Dantley scored a game-high 29 points, including nine in the fourth quarter, and Bailey added 22, 11 in the final stanza.

Hospital staff cuts surgery skit for kids

Open wide and say, "Ahhh." Ooops, your tonsils are showing. Kindergarten and pre-school students will have a chance to watch a "pretend tonsillectomy" today at Malone-Hogan Hospital as part of the hospital's Kindergarten Days, which began Tuesday.

The skit, which will be performed by hospital staff, will try to soothe the normal four- or five-year-old's fears of being taken to the hospital for surgery, said Emily Ward, director of public relations for the hospital.

The 40-minute play will take the children through each step of a hospital stay, from admission through surgery and back to his room and parents, she said. Actors will be hospital nurses, aides, orderlies, doctors and others who normally would come in contact with a child admitted to the hospital, Ward said.

The patient in the group will be chosen from the children in the audience, she said. Patients will be "admitted" to the hospital, have their temperatures and x-rays taken and undergo "surgery" under the watchful eyes of masked surgery nurses.

After the patient is wheeled out of surgery, he or she will be reunited with his parents for the traditional bowl of ice cream.

The program is designed so that the child will understand what is happening should he ever be scheduled for surgery. Then he can say, "I know what's going to happen."

More than 650 kindergartners are expected to see the skit and tour the hospital during the three-day program, hosted by the hospital's volunteers, she said.

Director of the play is Nursing Director Carmen Phillips. The volunteer coordinator for the skit is Suzie Anderson, and Dorothy Blackwell serves as director of the volunteers.

Winners of the hospital's contest for crayon posters for National Hospital Week in May also will be announced during the three-day program.

Participating schools include: Lakeview Elementary, St. Mary's Episcopal School, Golden Rule Preschool, Westside Preschool, Elbow Kindergarten, Coahoma Kindergarten, Marcy Kindergarten, Jack & Jill Kindergarten, Hillcrest Baptist Kindergarten, Lancaster Learning Center, Big Spring Christian Day School and Kentwood Kindergarten.

Kay Fraser models a dress to be shown at the fashion show at the Big Spring Country Club Saturday at 2 p.m. The show is part of the district Rotary Club conference being held in Big Spring this weekend.

Officials expecting 700 at Rotary conference

Officials are expecting over 700 people to register for the district Rotary Club conference to be held in Big Spring beginning today, said Terry Wegman, a conference committee spokesman.

About 650 people have already registered for the conference, which kicked off today at 3 p.m. with a meeting of the district advisory committee at the Holiday Inn, where the conference has opened its headquarters.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. Friday in the East Room of the coliseum. Former Big Spring councilman Jack Y. White will give the welcome speech for the city Friday afternoon.

The Past Governors' Banquet will be held tonight at the Big Spring Country Club. Charles E. Beil of Big Spring is the current District 573 president. The district includes an area from Pecos to Sweetwater and north from Big Spring to the Texas-New Mexico border.

The district includes 50 Rotary Clubs with 2,855 members. The Big Spring Rotary Club and the Greater Big Spring Rotary Club are members of District 573.

The Governor's Banquet Saturday night will be highlighted by an address by Jesus Guillermo Villarreal Rodriguez, the representative of the president of Rotary International.

Dinner music will be presented by the string orchestra from the Big Spring Symphony.

A fashion show directed by Joyce Wash will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Country Club, Wegman said. The fashion show will be held during the business meeting segment of the conference, he said.

The clubs' Youth Exchange project will be highlighted Saturday with a reception at the Holiday Inn. Approximately 14 exchange students from around the world will be dressed in their native country's attire. The students are sponsored by different Rotary Clubs in District 573, Wegman said.

International Fun Night will be the theme for Friday night's gala celebration at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The extravaganza will include international wine tasting, a performance by a Scottish bagpiper, serving of German and Mexican foods, a marachi band and an ompah band. Hoyle Nix and his West Texas Cowboys will perform at the gala.

Four new Rotary Clubs will be recognized during the district conference. Rotary international has issued charters to Amarillo South, Metropolitan Lubbeck, Pampa Sunrise and Greater Odessa.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective May 6, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Public Utility Commission of Texas has received the application as Docket 6200.

While proposals as to specific rates vary, it is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 10.5 percent increase in the Company's unadjusted test year intrastate revenues or a 9.7% increase in test year revenues as adjusted for test year customer growth and annualization of test year rate increases. The rate application seeks an annual increase of $323.9 million in revenues. All customers and classes of customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company within Texas will be affected by the proposed changes.

Most rates proposed for increase would increase by about 18.5 percent, including local exchange rates. However, there are some exceptions. For example, those customers residing in cities that will be reclassified into larger rate groups will experience local exchange rate increases greater than 18.5 percent. Also, the rate increases proposed for private line services in El Paso, due to a proposal to restructure such rates, are greater than 18.5 percent.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas and with each affected incorporated municipality served by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's rate application. This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for local exchange service, intraLATA long distance, intraLATA interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for intraLATA long distance and for intraLATA, interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide certain services in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's tariffs.

Notice to All Customers Concerning Access Charges and Certain New Service Charges

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, as a part of this filing, is also proposing to reduce certain access rates charged such customers as AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI and other carriers. The resulting reduction in revenues is proposed to be offset by revenues from two new service charges, late payment charges applicable to business customers only and for certain operator services such as busy line verification, plus stimulation of access service charge revenues. Since this portion of the filing, if granted, would have essentially a zero net revenue effect on Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is proposing that this portion of the filing be expeditiously handled by the Commission and not await Final Order.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso Público

En conformidad con las disposiciones de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company anuncia mediante el presente aviso su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas telefónicas en Texas, con vigencia a partir del 6 de mayo de 1985, salvo disposición en contrario de la Comisión. La Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas ha registrado esta solicitud bajo el Docket 6200.

Si bien existe variación entre las propuestas en cuanto a las tarifas precisas, se anticipa que el arancel tarifario solicitado aumentará en un 10.5% los ingresos intrastatales no ajustados de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company durante el año de prueba, o sea, un aumento del 9.7 por ciento en los ingresos del año de prueba, después de realizar el ajuste por la expansión de los usuarios y por la anualización del aumento de tarifas para el año de prueba. El objeto de esta solicitud de tarifas es lograr un aumento anual en los ingresos de $323.9 millones. Los cambios propuestos afectarán a todos los usuarios y grupos de usuarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company en el estado de Texas.

La mayoría de las tarifas que resultarían afectadas por el propuesto aumento aumentarían aproximadamente en un 18.5 por ciento, incluyendo las tarifas de centrales locales. Sin embargo, existen algunas excepciones. Por ejemplo, los usuarios que residen en ciudades que se reclassificarán para formar parte de grupos tarifarios mayores experimentarán aumentos mas elevados del 18.5 por ciento. Por otra parte, los aumentos de las tarifas propuestas para servicios de línea privada en El Paso aumentarían en más de 18.5 por ciento, como resultado de una propuesta para reestructurar tales tarifas.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se halla archivada en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos en Austin, Texas, así como en cada municipalidad incorporada afectada que tenga servicio de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa se halla sujeta a cambio toda vez que Southwestern Bell Telephone Company solicite nuevas tarifas. El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de centrales locales, de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada interLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio de acceso.

Aviso a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono

El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada intraLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio de acceso. Los cambios en dichas tarifas también afectarían a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono, puesto que, dichas compañías proporcionan ciertos servicios de acuerdo con las tarifas especificadas en los aranceles tarifarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Aviso a todos los clientes con respecto a los cargos de acceso y a determinados cargos nuevos de servicio

Al registrar esta tarifa, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company también propone reducir ciertas tarifas de acceso que se les cobran a clientes como AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI y otras compañías de larga distancia. La consecuente reducción de ingresos se piensa compensar por medio de dos cargos nuevos de servicio (cargos por pago atrasado que se aplicarían solamente a usuarios comerciales, y cargos por ciertos servicios de operadora, tales como verificación de línea ocupada) además de la estimulación de los ingresos por cargos por servicios de acceso. En vista de que, en caso de otorgarse esta parte del arancel tarifario registrado, su efecto real en los ingresos de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company sería igual a cero, esta propone que la Comisión tramite dicha parte de la tarifa en forma expeditiva sin esperar la Orden Definitiva.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el presente proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Para obtener mayor información debe llamar a Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division, (512) 458-0223, o (512) 458-0227, o al (512) 458-0221 si requiere teletipo para personas con impedimentos de audición.
