

Cinco de Mayo

2-day fiesta to mark Mexican independence

Mexican food, music and a monaco cashoff will be only a few of the activities planned for the Cinco de Mayo Fiesta this weekend at Comanche Trail Park.

The League of United Latin American Citizens along with other groups in Big Spring will host the celebration Saturday and Sunday.

El Cinco de Mayo commemorates the historic Battle of Puebla on the Fifth of May, 1862, between the Mexican and French armies.

It was more than a century ago when a highly-trained and well-equipped French army of 5,000 soldiers attacked a rag-tag Mexican army of 4,000 soldiers on the eve of May 5.

Many of the Mexican soldiers were barefoot, poorly clothed and carried unreliable weapons. However, determined to hold their position, the Mexicans turned back advancing French troops three times.

The French finally admitted defeat at 2 p.m. on May 5.

The battle was only the first in many in the five-year war in Mexico's battle for independence from France. The Republic of Mexico was re-established in 1867, many years after the Battle of Puebla. But the Mexicans never forgot the courage displayed during the battle.

Every year Mexican citizens and those of Mexican descent celebrate the victory with a fiesta honoring valiant and determined soldiers who gave their lives that day.

The response to the celebration in Big Spring this year has been tremendous, said Mary Sanchez, a LULAC member.

The celebration will kick off Saturday at 11 a.m. There will be no admission charge. Activities Saturday will include softball games throughout the day, music throughout the park, and serving of burritos, fajitas, tamales, barbecue, soft drinks and beer and other Mexican foods.

Arts and crafts booths also will be on display. Local LULAC president Pat DeAnda said she is encouraging everyone in the community to attend the festivities.

Another reason for the celebration is to educate and familiarize everyone about the Mexican culture, she said. She said these types of fundraisers will help LULAC set up a scholarship fund.

The highlight of the Saturday festivities will be Fiesta page 2-A

State bridges troubled water plan

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — House and Senate negotiators reached a swift agreement on a statewide water plan Thursday, capping six weeks of often stormy bargaining sessions that ended with the intervention of legislative leaders.

The 10-member conference committee voted unanimously for the final compromise during a brief five-minute meeting. But one of them, Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, vowed later to lead the campaign against the measure at the polls in November.

Truan said the proposal lacks sufficient safeguards to protect the productivity of coastal bays and estuaries from the development of inland reservoirs.

Truan lobbied heavily for requirements that enough freshwater flows from new reservoirs to

Abilene law turns water into whines

ABILENE (AP) — Some community leaders are worrying that a new ordinance that bans restaurants from serving water unless customers ask for it may put "a black eye on the image of Abilene."

The water policy, which goes into effect Wednesday, is part of a "drought contingency plan" City Council approved last week.

Some community leaders say such a restriction could hurt the city's efforts to lure tourists and businesses.

"That kind of restriction puts a black eye on the image of Abilene," said Jimmy Morris, manager of the Kiva Inn and president of the Abilene Convention and Visitors Council. "I think overall the decision to not serve water is preposterous. It's just a mistake."

"In West Texas, since we have a reputation as being in dry area, it's kind of like admitting our sins," said Sydney Niblo, a member of the Abilene Industrial Development Authority. "I'd prefer there be no restrictions on water unless there's a critical situation."

The measure was recommended by the council-appointed committee, whose members said that water in the glass is not the issue. The real waste comes from the ice-making and the washing of untouched glasses, they said.

"maintain the productivity" of the bays and estuaries. House conferees, dominated by West Texans, rejected that suggestion.

"I'm going to be very much involved in working against this in November," said Truan, who added that his appointment to the conference committee by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby was conditional on his vote for the final conference committee report.

Hobby and House Speaker Gib Lewis, the aides added, played an active role in behind-the-scene negotiating sessions that broke the stalemate on the bay and estuary issue.

Sponsors of the legislation, Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, and Rep. Tom Craddick, R-Midland, called the proposal a solid piece of legislation that is the state's first step at establishing a comprehensive water plan.

A feud between Montford and Craddick led to the defeat of a water plan during the 1983 Legislature. Montford offered Craddick a replica of a peace pipe following Thursday's vote.

The statewide water plan, a financial and management blueprint designed to meet state water needs into the 21st century, faces a final House and Senate vote on Monday.

Voters will be asked to approve Water page 2-A

Blue Law bill goes to Senate

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate is within a "few votes" of mustering the number needed to join the House in backing repeal of the Blue Law, which has prohibited Sunday shopping for many things since 1961.

Final approval in the House came Thursday in a 58-25 vote. The margin was far wider — 102-40 — in the more significant preliminary vote Wednesday.

"I think the strength with which the bill came out of the House is indicative of broad public support," Senate sponsor Ray Farabee said.

House sponsor David Cain, D-Dallas, said, "The chances for repeal went up manifold yesterday. When you send 102 votes over for strong repeal, it gives them a real message."

The Cain bill would clear the way for Texans to shop for everything but a car on Sundays. The Texas Automobile Dealers Association long has fought repeal efforts.

The Blue Law now bans the sale of 42 specified items on both days of a weekend, effectively closing many stores on Sundays.

"I think we're within a few votes," Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, said of the bill's prospects in the Senate. "There are five or six members of the Senate that are not committed on the issue."

Final approval came in the House Thursday with no debate.

"This repeals ol' blue in Texas," Cain said in his only comment before the vote.

Farabee said his State Affairs Committee would look at the House bill next week, and probably send it to the Senate floor shortly after that.

Farabee is scrapping to find the 21 votes he needs to bring a measure up for debate in the 31-member Senate. He said he is within two or three.

Gov. Mark White said Thursday he is not ready to commit to signing the bill, if approved by the Senate.

"I haven't had a chance to review it," he said. "I'm very concerned. My concern is that there be no business pressure placed on individuals to work seven days a week."

"Hopefully, we will not do anything that will diminish the opportunities for our families to be together when they have that chance," said White. "I'll have to see the bill, see what it does and see what impact it will have."

Bill supporters say the measure gives workers protection against unreasonable work schedules. An amendment added on the House floor guarantees that work won't interfere with religious worship.

Lawyers huddle over Coahoma trash contract

Negotiations may end dispute

By LUIS RIOS
Staff Writer

COAHOMA — A 3-year-old trash collection dilemma plaguing this town may have gotten out of the dumps after some headway was made Thursday afternoon.

Attorneys representing the City of Coahoma and trash collector Gerald King met with council members for over 1½ hours in a special executive session yesterday.

Big Spring attorney Robert Miller, who is representing Coahoma in the discussions between the City Council and King, said the Kings are willing to renegotiate a disputed 1983 contract.

Council members said they oppose the contract, stating it is not in the best interest of the city. Miller said it appeared to him the contract "is a memorandum of an oral agreement."

After the meeting, Miller said the Kings and their attorney, Lance Hall of Sweetwater, contend the agreement is a legal contract.

"I figure what you need to make here is some recommendations," Miller said, addressing the four council members. Billy Sullivan was absent from the meeting.

Coahoma Mayor Eleanor Garrett appointed a committee of herself and Mayor Pro-Tem Barbara Robertson to draw up recommendations for a contract renewal.

The proposals will be presented to Miller, who in turn will discuss the recommendations with the Kings and Hall.

Garrett said the action taken yesterday afternoon was a step in the right direction.

"As far as we (council) are concerned, it was a satisfactory meeting," she said. "The council is in favor of re-negotiating the contract — if it is okay with the Kings."

"Basically, we did not discuss the ordinance. We just discussed the contract. We want something that is satisfactory for both parties," she said.

The City Council also approved a trip by councilman Lawrence Aberger and Robert Helms to Austin to testify before the Texas Water Commission. The two Coahoma representatives will be discussing and answering questions on the application for a water quality permit for the city.

Hance becomes newest GOP convert

Gov. White says former congressman doesn't pose a threat in '86

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Democratic congressman Kent Hance, returning to Texas today after telling a Washington news conference he has switched political parties, is no threat as a possible gubernatorial candidate, Gov. Mark White said.

"I think the problem he has to overcome first of all is the problem he stated very well — those people who switch parties run the danger of losing their old friends ... and then their new friends don't trust them," White said.

In Washington, Hance ended months of speculation about his political future by announcing: "I am a Republican."

The announcement, attended by Sen. Phil Gramm, was welcomed by Gramm, who switched parties two years ago.

Calling Hance "the newest Republican" Gramm said, "I know you won't be the newest one for long."

Hance did not commit himself to any political race, but did mention White, a Democrat. Several top Republican officials have urged Hance to run against White next year.

Hance said he talked with White on Wednesday and told the governor he was "leaning heavily towards making this decision." White had said that Hance had told him he was not switching parties.

"I think he may have been misreading me like he's been misreading the people of Texas for the past couple of years," Hance said.

White said history is against Hance if the new Republican chooses to run for governor.

KENT HANCE — A NEW REPUBLICAN

"Texas is a very strongly Democratic state. It has been. We've had one Republican governor in 107 years. I think with any luck at all, we'll keep that record again," White said.

A conservative from Lubbock, Hance came within 1,400 votes of being the Democratic nominee against Gramm in 1984. Since then, he has been heavily courted by top Republicans.

Hance for weeks had said a party change wasn't "in the cards." He recently told several fellow Democrats, including state party chairman Bob Slagle, that he wasn't planning to "change parties or wives."

White said he talked with Hance by telephone on Wednesday and that Hance said he intended to remain a Democrat.

"Yesterday, he said he wasn't going to do it. I don't know what he's going to do today," White said Thursday. "He's said (in the past) he hadn't planned to switch. That's what I'd heard, and that's what he confirmed yesterday."

Gramm has been a prime mover in the GOP's efforts to convince Democrats to change parties. He has attended news conferences in Texas where local elected Democratic officials announced their switches to the Republican Party.

White said he didn't discuss a possible gubernatorial bid with Hance during their phone call.

"I didn't ask if he was going to run against me. I would think that certainly he would have better judgment than that," White said.

State GOP spokesman Byron Nelson earlier said that a switch by Hance "could be the biggest event in the Republicanizing of the state of Texas."

Hance's background could lead many other conservative Democrats, particularly in West Texas, to change parties as well, Nelson said.

Youth injured in 1-car wreck

A Howard County youth suffered minor head injuries this morning in a one vehicle accident on County Road 25, north of Highway 350.

Texas Department of Public Safety trooper William Cooper said a Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Lee Cox, 16, of Box 325 on Gail Route ran off the road while traveling south and hit a dirt pile.

An ambulance was requested and Troy Cox, 15, of Box 325 was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital and treated for minor head injuries, Cooper said.

Big Spring police transferred Donny Fuentes Soto, 20, of Victoria to county jail after he was charged with resisting arrest. He was released on $2,500 bond.

Deputies released Timothy Dean Dalton, 27, of 1804 Mittle from county jail after he served 15 days for a driving while intoxicated judgment.

Scurry County sheriff's deputies arrested T. Brent Shaffer of Fluvanna on a Howard County warrant charging her with issuing a bad check. She was released after paying $137.20 in fines.

Police investigate assaults

Big Spring police are investigating two unrelated sexual assaults that occurred within the last two weeks, according to Lt. Jerry Edwards.

The first assault occurred about two weeks ago, according to Edwards. Police are not releasing any additional information about the case because the victim is "in deadly fear" of retaliation, he said.

In the second incident, a woman was attacked early Tuesday morning in the west end of town, Edwards said.

The victim received no injuries other than the assault, Edwards said. The second case is being investigated by Sgt. Pam Jordan, he said.

He said he could not provide a description of the second assailant.

other than that he was not white, because details of the attack were "vague" and the incident occurred at night.

According to Edwards, the two attacks are not related and did not occur in the same section of town. "The assailants were of two different races," he said.

Cecelia McKenzie, director of the Rape Crisis Services of Big Spring and Howard County, said today that "extra preventive measures are necessary" during the summer months.

"The trend is that warmer weather produces more assaults," she said. "August has the highest number of assaults, according to FBI statistics. The trend upward begins in April and May, and we have found this to be true in Howard County as well."

Donations top $335,000 for Salvation Army fund

Contributions to the Big Spring Salvation Army's "Light of Hope" campaign continue to come in.

Fund raising committees have raised $335,000 in Big Spring since the beginning of April.

The funds will be used to construct a new building for the Salvation Army that would allow them to expand their services. Last month, community leaders and supporters announced they were establishing committees to generate contributions for expansion plans.

The proposed expansion includes building a 7,800 square-foot activities and social services center on San Antonio Street the land has been donated by the Dora Roberts Foundation. Other plans include renovating and remodeling the existing family emergency shelter.

A new building would house social services. This would allow a greater capacity for women's and family quarters in the current facility.

Valerie Braun of the Salvation Army said Friday morning that the local community drives have set a goal of raising $503,000 in Big Spring.

The J.E. and Ellie Mabey Foundation from Dallas, Braun said, would contribute $250,000 to the drive if Big Spring can raise $503,000. The Big Spring Salvation Army has applied to the foundation for grant monies, Braun said.

"We received a letter from them (the foundation), and they said we would get the money if we can raise the proposed amount of $503,000," Braun said.

Financial solicitation has been conducted through the establishment of two committees. G.C. Broughton acts as chairman of a committee group known as the Pacesetters.

A new campaign group known as the Advance Gifts Division will begin conducting financial drives goal on May 9.

Braun said that soliciting would continue through the month. She said the the challenge goal of the campaign is to raise $753,000. This amount would be suitable to begin construction, Braun said.

Fair skies were reported across Texas today, although weather observers said thunderstorms could return to portions of Southwest Texas tonight.

Heavy rains, some flooding and tornadoes were reported across much of the nation last night and early today, but not in Texas, where a high pressure system allowed fair skies to prevail.

Winds were light and southeasterly over the Panhandle and South Plains, while light breezes from the northwest were common over much of North and South Texas.

Most Texans awoke to temperatures in the 50s and 60s, and the National Weather Service said afternoon highs today would be mostly in the 80s, with readings climbing into the 90s in the Rio Grande Valley and the Big Bend.

Strong Texas economy keeps jobless rate low

WASHINGTON (AP) — The April unemployment rate in Texas was 6.6 percent, reflecting a decrease in the jobless rate from the previous month and from the same period a year ago in the state, government officials said today.

A strong economy in the state kept the number of unemployed Texans well below the 7.3 percent jobless rate nationwide, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The state's seasonally adjusted April figure compared with 7.1 percent in March, and 6.7 percent in April 1984, said Martha Duff, a bureau economist.

The number of jobless Texans last month was 524,000 in comparison to 568,000 in March, Ms. Duff said.

Nationwide, the pool of unemployed Americans held steady at more than 8.4 million. It was the first time in a year that the rate was unchanged for three months running, officials said.

Drought shakes off rain

A steady rain that fell overnight in much of the East brought more than an inch of rain to some dry areas, but officials said it wouldn't do much to ease a drought that has prompted emergency measures in some states.

"One little light rain is not going to change a situation generated over the last six months," said Patrick Walker, assistant chief of the New England Water Resources Division of the U.S. Geological Survey in Boston. "At the moment, I don't think it was enough to help a hill of beans."

Robert Hammond, head of Geological Survey in Concord, N.H., said the .06 inches of rain that fell overnight there "won't hurt," but added, "It's going to take more than this."

"All this will do is help the surface soil moisture," Hammond said. "We are on the start of the growth period so much of that water will be taken up by plants, with not much penetration into the groundwater or run off."

Maine fires contained

DENNYVILLE, Maine — Maine's largest forest fire in eight years was contained today as firefighters resumed their 3-day-old battle against flames that have scorched an estimated 1,000 acres.

Chances of rain today were pegged at 50 percent by the National Weather Service. Even with rain, authorities said it could be several days before the fire was under control.

The fire was contained behind a six-mile line in far eastern Maine, said Forest Service spokesman Dick Dyer.

Officials have said arson is to blame for the fire. Forest rangers determined that three fires had been set within a 100-yard stretch of a logging road on Champion International Paper Co. land, said Ranger Kenny Wing.

Shuttle enters phase 2

SPACE CENTER, Houston — Challenger's astronauts sailed into the second half of their space science mission today, with a spinning ball of cellophane symbolizing their success in fixing and operating experiments that are yielding a wealth of research knowledge.

The one-inch ball, twirled by sound waves echoing through a chamber, calibrated a fluids experiment which two hours before had been considered dead. It had been revived by 2½ days of intense troubleshooting on the ground and some handyman electrical work by astronaut Taylor Wang.

"It's working, it's working!" the Chinese-born Wang exclaimed late Thursday after power surged to an instrument called the Drop Dynamics Module.

"When it came on, you've never seen such joy on anyone's face," said astronaut Don Lind, a shuttle crewmate.

Reagan wins backing for arms control talks

BONN, West Germany (AP) — President Reagan won his summit partners' backing today for arms control talks with the Soviet Union and a Reagan meeting with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev to resolve "profound differences dividing East and West."

A political statement issued by leaders of the seven major industrial democracies urged the Soviet Union to "act positively and constructively in order to achieve significant agreements" at the U.S.-Soviet arms control talks in Geneva.

The importance of the summit leaders' support for the U.S. negotiating position at Geneva was underscored by Secretary of State George P. Shultz. "A show of strength and the actuality of strength by our allies has always been an important factor in these negotiations, and continues to be so," he said today.

Said White House spokesman Larry Speakes: "We are pleased and encouraged by the strength of support from our allies that is included in this statement."

Welcoming the resumption of the Geneva talks, the summit leaders from the United States, Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, Japan and Canada declared that "we are prepared to pursue a high-level dialogue to deal with the profound differences dividing East and West."

Shultz said in an interview on NBC-TV's "Today" show from Bonn that a Reagan-Gorbachev meeting "is likely to take place one of these days," perhaps when the new Soviet leader travels to the United Nations in New York next fall.

Shultz said there is "a great deal of tension" between the two superpowers, and that both leaders have indicated they think "it's a good idea" to meet and "grapple with the issues that divide them and perhaps unite them."

With the Geneva talks reopening May 30 after what U.S. negotiators called a "difficult" first round in March, the seven summit leaders endorsed efforts "to maintain and strengthen a stable military balance at the lowest possible levels of forces, neither seeking superiority for ourselves nor neglecting our defenses."

They pledged support for "meaningful reductions in existing levels of nuclear arms, limitations on conventional arms, the banning of chemical weapons and lessening the risks of conflict."

Noting that May 8 is the 40th anniversary of the end of World War II in Europe, the summit chiefs said they "remember in grief all those who lost their lives in that time, whether by acts of war or as victims of inhumanity, repression and tyranny," and promised to "uphold peace, freedom and justice in all our countries and in the world."

U.S. officials expressed no surprise that the summit leaders withheld an endorsement of Reagan's space-based "Star Wars" missile defense program, or that the president's trade embargo against Nicaragua drew so little attention.

Robert McFarlane, the White House national security affairs adviser, said there was no need for summit approval of Star Wars "because we're in the midst of negotiations on participation" in joint research on the program.

Bomb rips French firm

COOGNE, West Germany — A bomb exploded before dawn today at a French firm that repairs computers for the West German army, causing considerable damage but injuring no one, police said.

Police suspected the bomb was set off by left-wing terrorists protesting the seven-day economic summit in Bonn, attended by President Reagan.

The bomb went off at 4:06 a.m. at the "Telekommunikation Radio, Elektroniques and Telefoniques" office on the south side of Cologne, police said.

Poland expels diplomats

WARSAW, Poland — The government today ordered the expulsion of two U.S. diplomats accused of taking part in an illegal pro-Solidarity May Day parade, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said.

The spokesman, Paul Smith, said the U.S. charge d'affaires in Warsaw, John Davis, had been summoned to the Foreign Ministry and notified of the expulsion order.

PAP, the official news agency, identified the two Americans as William Harwood, first secretary of the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw, and David Hopper, consul at the Krakow consulate. PAP said they were among 15 people detained in Krakow during an illegal May Day workers' holiday march on Wednesday.

A senior Polish official had charged that the two U.S. diplomats were part of an orchestrated U.S. effort to bolster domestic opponents of the government.

Dollar still going strong

LONDON — The dollar surged ahead in early European trading today, buoyed by continued market confidence in the American economy. Gold prices were mixed.

Dealers could cite no new factors to justify the upward move apart from a conviction that U.S. economic growth has strengthened in the second quarter — which has driven the dollar up this week.

"We would expect this kind of feeling would be discounted at the current rate of the dollar," said one Frankfurt dealer. "But that hasn't happened, in fact we've had exactly the opposite."

Premier wins re-election

TORONTO — Premier Frank Miller, whose Progressive Conservative Party has governed Ontario for 31 years, barely won re-election Thursday but lost his majority in the provincial Parliament.

The Tories won just 52 seats in the 125-seat legislature of Canada's largest province — 20 fewer than they held before the election.

French film angers Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John Paul II, incensed by a French film that portrays the Virgin Mary as a cabbie's girlfriend and shows her nude, is taking his campaign against it to the international airwaves.

Last week, the pontiff sharply criticized "Je Vous Salue, Marie" (Hail Mary) directed by Jean-Luc Godard, saying it "distorts and insults the spiritual significance" of Christian beliefs.

Italian newspapers said it was the first time in his nearly seven-year pontificate that John Paul, a frequent critic of what he considers media excesses, attacked a work of art by name.

The film depicts Mary in modern times as the daughter of a gas station attendant and the girlfriend of a taxi driver named Joseph. She is depicted nude in some scenes.

Rumors wash up Procter & Gamble

The mighty Procter & Gamble Co. — makers of most everything from disposable diapers to cupcakes — has thrown up its corporate hands and given in to intimidation, insinuation and innuendo.

Rumors have floated like Ivory Soap since 1980 that P&G's trademark — a moon and stars logo — is actually the mark of the devil.

The huge company mounted an aggressive and costly campaign of devil denial — all to no avail. Now, it says, the trademark, which it has used on its products for 135 years, will be phased out. The giant succumbs to bizarre and untraceable rumor.

P&G's trademark shows the Man in the Moon and 13 stars. It dates back to around 1850, when stevedores sketched it on the company's crates of candles on the docks. It was registered at the U.S. Patent Office in 1882.

The anonymous rumors that it was the devil's work began about five years ago. People who needed proof were told to hold the logo up to a mirror, that the marks in the Man in the Moon's beard would appear as the number 666 — the sign of the antichrist, Satanism, devil worship.

The company fought back. Its consumer services department set up a toll-free telephone number and handled about 15,000 calls a month. Still, it was a losing battle.

It's shame that in this enlightened age there are still so many who can be swayed by rumor, no matter how bizarre.

Fighting leftists is America's right

As everyone knows, I'm very generous when it comes to financing revolutions in Central America. So when I was asked by a White House lobbyist to help the administration's efforts to wrest $14 million out of Congress to support our Nicaraguan freedom fighters I told the man, "I not only support Mr. Reagan, but tell the president, he doesn't have to go to Congress. Just charge the $14 million to my VISA credit card."

"We don't want you to put up the money," he said. "All we're asking you to do is stand behind the president in the Oval Office when he says, 'The Sandinista government is the greatest threat to mankind since the world began.'"

"I'll be there," I assured him. "But why don't you let me pick up the tab as well? It's only peanuts, and in this way the president won't have to go to Congress on his knees."

He said, "It is no longer a question of money with Mr. Reagan, but of honor. The president has put his reputation on the line over Nicaragua. If he loses the fight on this one, we will be sending a message that any government in the Western world can stomp on us."

"I'll tell you what. I'll give the money anonymously," I said. "Then when the contras overthrow the Sandinistas you can pay me back."

"It will take more than $14 million to bring down the Sandinista government."

"Then why doesn't the president ask the members on the Hill for the exact sum it will take to wipe them out?"

"Because it might cost a billion dollars before we're through, and we know Congress won't go for that."

"That is a lot of coffee beans," I admitted. "I'm curious. How did you arrive at the original $14 million figure?"

"It seemed like a nice compromise between nothing and a billion. You can't even buy a used American fighter plane for that kind of dough, and we felt Congress would consider it chicken feed. But word leaked out that once we used up the $14 million we were going back to ask them for more. If we had known how much trouble we were going to have we would have asked for the full amount. Then if we were rejected it would look as if Congress was voting against the money and not the president on his Central American policy."

"I can see where you blew it. By asking for such a meager sum you tipped them off that Mr. Reagan was making them stand up an be counted as to where they really stood on Communist subversion in Nicaragua."

"There may be something to that," he admitted. "But our main concern now is public support for the president in what he's trying to do down there."

I said, "Look, I can't give you a billion dollars because I'm thinking of buying CBS. But if the president wants 10 or 20 million for the freedom fighters until Congress sees a light at the end of the tunnel, I'll send my kid over with a check."

"It won't be necessary," the White House man said. "At the moment we just need people of your high caliber to come out for what we're doing."

"You got it," I assured him. "Who else have you lined up?"

"The Pope has come out for President Reagan's Nicaraguan policy."

"I read the Pope denied it," I said. "Who is lying?"

"Neither one. Let's just say the Pope's support got lost in the translation."

Health care part of scam

WASHINGTON — Defense contractors aren't the only ones who charge the government for personal expenses like kennel costs and cocktail parties.

Investigators for the Health and Human Services Department turned up more than $1 million in questionable Medicare charges from a single rehabilitation center in 1982-83. They included legal fees for the company president's divorce, his country-club tab and health-insurance premiums for his mother.

According to a memorandum written by the Health and Human Services inspector-general to another department official, this information will be presented soon to the U.S. attorney in Scranton, Pa.

The company under investigation is Allied Services for the Handicapped, parent corporation of the George T. Walters Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine. The Walters facility is the largest in Allied's network of rehabilitation and vocational centers, which serve more than a million people in northeastern Pennsylvania.

Allied's Washington attorney told our associate Tony Capaccio that the company "is confident and hopeful (that a) fair result will be reached and announced soon."

On his advice, Allied executives declined to comment, including President and Board Chairman Walters.

The Health and Human Services memo written by IG Richard Kusserow stated: "Our review has shown that Allied officials have exhibited a remarkably extravagant flair for spending taxpayers' money. Government reimbursement was used as payment for unallowable expenditures which were directed ... toward enriching (Allied) officials, their families and their associates."

The attorney for Allied told our associate: "The fact that you are the recipient of a leaked, so-called 'draft report' suggests the document's inaccuracies, its author's bad faith, and that unabashed prosecutorial authorities are unpersuaded by the agency's approach."

The IG's memo makes no judgment on the quality of care at the institute.

Here are the highlights from the IG's memorandum:

• The administrator (Walters) charged the institute a total of $6,679 for payments to an exclusive country club, the memo states. "He also charged the institute for expenses such as: (1) cable television — $4647; (2) parties held in private residence — $6,104; (3) his mother's Blue Cross and Blue Shield premiums — $697; and (4) legal fees associated with his divorce — $688.

"The practice of charging the institute was apparently so ingrained that he even charged the institute $2.99 for sanitary napkins for his wife."

• The department's auditors questioned $84,447 in expenses for executives and their wives that were charged to the institute, which in turn would charge Medicare-Medicaid. These included seminar trips to San Francisco (one of them on cost containment), New Orleans, Honolulu, China and Switzerland. The IG conceded that some of these expenses "were connected to some degree with hospital administration," but added: "It appears obvious to us, however, that attendance at some seminars was motivated more by the location of the seminar rather than the subject matter discussed."

• Salaries totaling $967,246 went to five Allied executives, including $214,251 for Walters. His salary, the memo noted, was 93 percent more than that received by his counterparts in 14 Scranton-area hospitals.

• Fringe benefits totaling $568,850 were also questioned. They included Individual Retirement Account contributions, deferred compensation plans, executive pension-plan contributions and $23,266 paid to Walters for unused vacation time, "which was contrary to institute policy," according to the memo.

THE OMBUDSMAN: John Harter is a veteran diplomat who decided to fit.

After 30 years in the Foreign Service, he was at his desk in Geneva in September 1983 when he was called by the State Department in Washington and told he had 23 days to pack up and leave. He had been "selected out" — forced into early retirement — because he had not been promoted in the period of time decreed by department personnel policy.

Harter was stunned — and furious. He had just enrolled his 16-year-old son in school in Geneva, in anticipation of a normal tour of duty there. He decided he'd challenge the "selection out" system, and he did.

Harter has taken the State Department to court, presenting evidence that his personnel file was in such a mess — including missing efficiency reports — that he would have been promoted were it not for the many errors. That would have kept him from being selected out.

The department rejected Harter's claim, and even refused to grant him a prior administrative hearing at which to present his evidence of error and unfair treatment. Under the rules, failure to be promoted is one of the major criteria for being selected out.

Harter has appealed all the way to the Supreme Court, which will decide this week if it will hear the case — the first of its kind to reach the court. Harter argues that his constitutional rights have been violated by the State Department's failure to give him a fair hearing before separating him from service. His colleagues in the Foreign Service agree. Insiders tell us that the arbitrary selection-out system is the biggest single cause of poor morale within the ranks of career Foreign Service officers.

Prisons turn topsy-turvy

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
David J. Reavis' article "How They Ruined Our Prisons" in this month's issue of Texas Monthly helped fill a gap.

When getting statements from local law enforcement officials last week about state prisons being overcrowded, the name William Justice surfaced. I didn't know anything about him.

District Attorney Rick Hamby said to me in a wry tone "that we're following the orders of Judge Justice's court."

After reading Reavis' story, I learned that Judge Justice is a federal district judge who set the Ruiz v. Estelle case on his docket in 1974. Plaintiff David R. Ruiz, an inmate at the Texas Department of Corrections, sued the TDC in effect for unlawful practices and violating his rights. According to Reavis' story, after eight months and testimony from 349 witnesses (most convicts), Judge Justice court-approved settlement agreements that are aimed at reforming the prison system.

Reavis holds nothing back when he writes about this new reform system creating the current havoc in state prisons. The facilities are in a sense being governed by the inmates themselves.

"Before the trial of Ruiz v. Estelle, prisons in Texas were the safest, most productive, and most economical in the nation. Today, they are the most dangerous, yet their cost has more than quadrupled," he writes.

Reavis said this morning by phone that he gathered all statistical facts for his story from the Legislature.

The facts are staggering. "Ten years ago," Reavis writes, "Texas could keep a man behind bars for about $1,600 a year... Today the comparable figure is $8,186."

The story reports that the state prison system recorded record high numbers of inmate-on-inmate assaults and killings.

I asked Reavis if any relief was in sight from the horror reports seeping out of TDC.

"I doubt it. Maybe 10 years from now. The judges are going to have to reread or reinterpret the federal constitution," Reavis said.

Sound cynical? No — he's right. Read his story, and you'll understand why.

Today is Friday, May 3, the 123rd day of 1985. There are 242 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On May 3, 1802, Washington, D.C., was incorporated as a city, with the mayor to be appointed by the president, and the council elected by property owners.

On this date:
In 1654, a bridge in Rowley, Mass., was permitted to charge a toll for animals, while people crossed for free.

In 1765, the first U.S. medical school was proposed at the College of Philadelphia, now the University of Pennsylvania.

In 1921, West Virginia imposed the first state sales tax.

In 1933, Nellie Taylor Ross became the first woman director of the U.S. Mint.

In 1937, Margaret Mitchell won a Pulitzer Prize for her novel, "Gone With the Wind."

In 1979, Conservative Party leader Margaret Thatcher was elected Britain's first woman prime minister.

Ten years ago: During the commissioning of the nuclear aircraft carrier USS Nimitz in Norfolk, Va., President Gerald R. Ford pledged the U.S. would keep its commitments abroad and remain militarily strong.

Five years ago: Genuine Risk won the Kentucky Derby, becoming the second filly in the history of the race to do so. The first was Regret, in 1915.

One year ago: Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger presented to Congress the Reagan administration's plan to cut military spending in fiscal 1985 by $13.9 billion.

Who, what? - senators reveal all

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mark Hatfield dunks peanut-butter-and-bacon sandwiches in buttermilk, Jesse Helms' favorite movies are "Patton" and "The Sound of Music," and Pat Moynihan loves any journalist.

At least that's what it says in a Washington insider magazine which tells you more than you ever wanted to know about your United States senator. If knowledge is power, stock up.

Washington Dossier has taken a leaf from high school yearbooks and asked penetrating — and mildly revealing — questions about each senator's favorite food, restaurant, cultural diversion, clothes store, vacation spot and hero.

Do you care to know what John Stennis, the oldest member of the Senate, and John D. Rockefeller IV, the newest, have in common? Washington Dossier will tell you it's a preference for conservative suits and for chocolate chip cookies.

Do you want to know which senators have presidential ambitions? You can read all 100 biographies, but Sen. Alan K. Simpson of Wyoming will save you the trouble.

"There are only two guys in the Senate who will never run for president," he says. "My dear friend, Rudy Boschwitz (Minnesota), who was born in Germany, and me, since I have only three electoral votes." The Constitution requires that a president be native-born.

The archangel of conservatism in the Senate, North Carolina's Helms, shares his love for "Patton" with Mitch McConnell of Kentucky — and Richard Nixon. "Lawrence Of Arabia," is the favorite of Oregon's Bob Packwood, "Dr. Zhivago," of Pennsylvania's John Heinz and "High Noon," of Rhode Island's John H. Chafee.

If you believe their responses, most senators limit their TV viewing to the news and magazine programs but, what the heck, Oregon's Hatfield likes "Murder, She Wrote," Texas' Lloyd Bentsen and Utah's Orrin Hatch are "Hill Street Blues" fans, and Vermont's Robert T. Stafford likes the sitcom "Newhart" which is set in — surprise! — Vermont. Regionalism is everywhere. Kansas' Nancy Kassebaum's favorite books include "Little House on the Prairie," Indiana's Richard Lugar's favorite restaurants are MCL Cafeterias in Indianapolis, and Alabama's Howell Heflin prefers to vacation at the Grand Hotel at Point Clear on Mobile Bay.

And what are senators' bad habits, you ask? Dossier tells you, but parental guidance is advised. Ted Stevens of Alaska keeps gizmos on his desk, Arizona's Dennis DeConcini has a love of milkshakes and Colorado's Gary Hart lists eating chocolate.

Worst of all is New Mexico's Jeff Bingaman. It seems he just can't bring himself to let anyone else pick up the check in restaurants.

Dear Abby

Nightclub act more than expected

DEAR ABBY: All the employees of the restaurant where I recently took a job as cashier went to a nightclub to celebrate the birthdays of those of us who were born in March.

First a young girl came out and did a singing telegram number that turned out to be a striptease, but that wasn't too bad. Then a man ran out on the stage wearing a false face mask with long gray hair attached to it. He danced around, removing first his mask, next his shirt, then his shoes and socks. Then he took off his trousers, revealing a pair of shorts on which was printed some vulgar messages. He continued dancing, left the stage and came out into the audience making a lot of sexy movements, twisting his buttocks in everybody's face. Pretty soon he was down to a G-string, and when that came off he was bare naked except for a garter around his neck!

Abby, I've been married for 18 years, and the only man I've ever seen naked was my husband.

If I had been told what was coming and asked if I wanted to leave, I would have left, but I had to sit there for the whole show, which lasted 30 minutes. The entire audience was laughing and screaming. I wanted to crawl into a hole.

What are my constitutional rights? At least movies are rated so people know what to expect. Why not nightclub entertainment?

DISGUSTED IN ILLINOIS
DEAR DISGUSTED: Minors are protected under the law, but it is assumed that adults who go to such clubs know what kind of entertainment to expect.

For Mother

It was a time-honored tradition among the early American families that when someone deserved special praise or attention they were served dinner on the Red Plate.

The Red Plate is the perfect way to acknowledge a family member's special triumphs...celebrate a birthday...praise a job well done...reward a goal achieved...or simply say "You are Special Today."

The Red Plate is designed and crafted to become a family heirloom as it is cherished and passed from one generation to the next marking life's important milestones.

CELEBRATION — St. Mary's Episcopal School will celebrate its 25th anniversary Monday. The school was located at 1001 Goliad for 21 years before moving to 118 Cedar in 1981.

School celebrates anniversary

Open house, May Fest head list of activities

St. Mary's Episcopal School will celebrate its 25th anniversary with an open house and May Fest on Monday from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

May Fest celebrates the beginning of spring. Children participate in various games on the front lawn and welcome the King and Queen and Duke and Duchesses of the festival.

The school was located at 1001 Goliad for 21 years. St. Mary's moved to 118 Cedar in 1981.

In addition to a basic curriculum, the school offers a bell choir for older students, Spanish for grades 3-5, and a new science program for students in kindergarten through fifth.

For the fall of 1985, St. Mary's will offer courses in computers and art appreciation will be expanded to all grades.

St. Mary's is the oldest church-related school in Big Spring. It is a community ministry of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin. It was first founded during the Depression and reopened in 1960 as a kindergarten.

St. Mary's now offers pre-kindergarten, kindergarten and grades one through five.

The school is affiliated with the National and Southwestern Associations of Episcopal Schools. It operates under the authority of the Canons of the Episcopal Diocese of Northwest Texas.

Rector and headmaster is the Rev. Robert Bonnington. Bebe McCasland is administrator.

The school board included Gene Adkins, Rich Anderson, Dr. James Cave, Dan Clere, Sophia Crawford, JoAnne Guitar, George von Hassell, Dr. Louise Worthy and Oscar Zertuche. Dorothy Jones is teacher representative.

Corporation vice president to speak at dinner

Larry Lindsay, Zig Ziglar's director of educational development, will speak at the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship tomorrow night at Howard College in the Cactus Room of the Student Union Building.

Dinner is $5 per person and begins at 6:30 p.m. The program is free and begins at 7:15 p.m.

As vice president of the Zig Ziglar Corporation, Lindsay provides practical methods which help people understand how to build positive attitudes for successful living.

Lindsay has appeared on television, in seminars and personal consultation across America. Currently, he is in negotiations with international authorities for distribution of these principles with direct application for major foreign populations.

Seven advance to International competition

Students at Christ Fellowship Christian School, along with 352 teenagers from 22 Christian schools in the West Texas area, recently spent a week in Lueders competing in athletics, arts and crafts, music and academics.

All entries placing first or second at Lueders, which is the State level, have won the right to compete at the International level. Students from Accelerated Christian Education schools all over the world will gather May 19-24 in Bloomington, Ind.

Seven students from Christ Fellowship will compete at Internationals. Bryan Weddle will compete in physical fitness, having won first place at State for the third consecutive year. He also will be entering a brass solo on his trombone.

Jon Bryson will play a piano solo in International competition for the fourth consecutive year. Darryl Hammonds will take a science exhibit to Bloomington.

Instrumentalists Jon Bryson (coronet), Bryan Weddle (trombone), Darryl Hammonds (trumpet), Paul Thurmond (baritone sax), C. D. Boyd (tenor sax), Jerri Bryson (alto sax), and Tiffany Thurmond (coronet), will be performing an ensemble. Also, four of the musicians are entering an instrumental quartet.

Archbishop Laghi denies that Pope endorsed measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pope's representative in this country, Archbishop Pio Laghi, has denied that Pope John Paul II endorsed "military aspects" of any U.S. measures dealing with the Central American crisis.

President Reagan had said he received a message from the pope "urging us to continue our efforts in Central America," which has included military aid.

In House subcommittee testimony, the U.S. Catholic Conference specifically condemned further military aid to Contra forces fighting the Nicaraguan government as immoral, illegal and undermining chances for a political solution.

St. Mary's to dedicate chapel

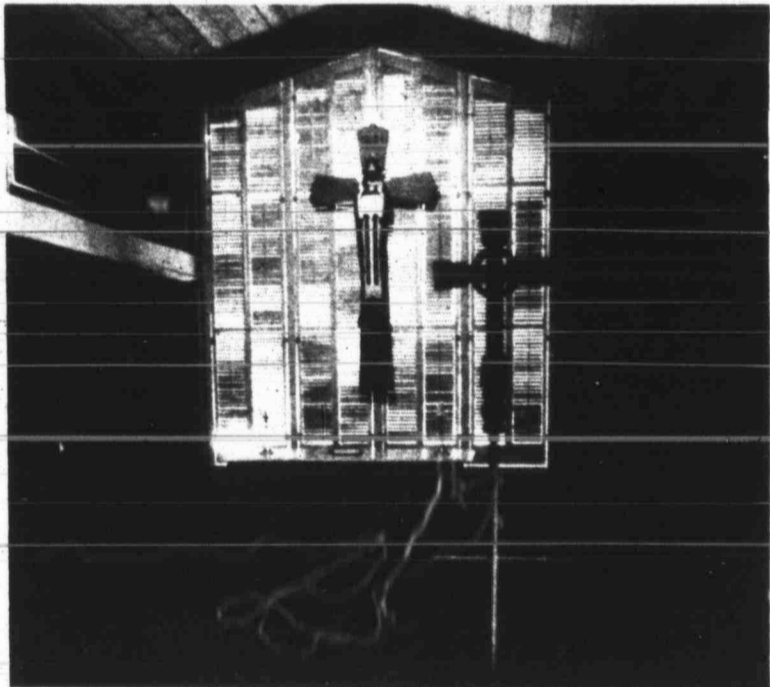

Sam Hulse, bishop of Northwest Texas, will preside at the dedication and consecration of the chapel at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 1001 Goliad, Sunday at 7 p.m.

Originally, the chapel area served as a Parish Hall when St. Mary's moved to its present location in 1958. With the need for classroom space by a growing day school, the room was converted and used as two classrooms until the school moved to 118 Cedar in 1981.

For several years, a chapel was needed for services during the week, intimate weddings and a children's chapel on Sundays. With gifts from the Memorial Fund and donations for specific church appointments, the chapel became a reality this spring.

One of the focal points in the chapel is the Christ figure, which was brought from the church from its first location at the corner of Runnels and Fifth streets.

Following the dedication, Hulse will be officiant for the Rite of Confirmation and Holy Eucharist. A reception for the confirmands and guests follows in the Parish Hall.

DEDICATION — St. Mary's Episcopal Church Sunday will dedicate its chapel, which originally served as a Parish Hall. The Christ figure, pictured above, was brought from the church's first location at the corner of Runnels and Fifth streets.

First Methodist ends programs Sunday

First United Methodist Church, 400 Scurry, Sunday will end its spring programs. A dinner will be served at 6 p.m. in Garrett Hall.

Cost for the dinner is $5 per family and $1.50 per person. Entertainment during the dinner will be a performance by the drama classes of Spring Specials. The Spring Special classes begin at 7 p.m.

FAMILY FOCUS SERIES: Keith Wiseman will teach money management. Practical application of budgeting principals and setting financial priorities will be presented.

YOUR HEALTH SERIES: Craig Brace will give an introduction to wellness. This course will cover stress management, self-responsibility, nutritional awareness, physical fitness and environmental sensitivity.

OTHER CLASSES: "How to be Your Own Best Self," taught by Joan Weir, is designed to help persons discover new strengths and to come to understand and accept others in their diversity. The class is open to adults and youth.

Richard Foster will teach "Celebration of Discipline: The Path to Spiritual Growth." A four-part film series based on the best selling book, this course will give the learner an in-depth study of prayer, meditation and classical spiritual disciplines as well as service, worship and solitude. Adults and youth may attend.

Laurie Churchwell, Will Johnson and Ginny Zobeck will lead "Singin' N Dancin'." Youth are encouraged to bring their joy for dancing and love of music and share their talents together.

"Creative Dramatics" will be lead by Alice Haynes and Susan McLellan. Children ages K-6 will act out stories and readings.

Rueleen Freeze and Ada Narem will direct "Quilting for Beginners."

In "For Young Children," directed by Carol Brickman, children to kindergarten age will meet in their regular classrooms where they will participate in a variety of activities designed for their age group.

Bronchiolitis: a danger for infants

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Our 7-months-old baby had a frightening experience with a condition called bronchiolitis. It was a near-panic situation for us until we got her into the hospital. She stayed there for four days with breathing difficulty. What does this bode for her future? Is this asthma? — R.L.

It is not asthma. It involves the bronchioles, the tiny structures at the end of the lungs' bronchial tree, at the point where air passes to the alveoli. That's where oxygen gets into the bloodstream.

Bronchiolitis is infection of the bronchioles. It is a common infection of infants, almost always occurring in the first two years, most often in the first. Almost always the organism involved is a particular virus — the BSV virus.

The infant picks up the bug from someone who has a respiratory infection. The first signs in the child may be a mild nasal discharge and sneezing. Then it gradually develops into the serious respiratory symptoms, along with fever between 101 and 102. The first two or three days are the critical ones and-often, as with your daughter, hospitalization is required. Recovery usually takes that amount of time.

Because medicines like steroids or antibiotics won't help relieve this viral illness, stress is placed on support of breathing and assuring proper nutrition. It is a frightening experience for parents, but it is fortunate that the symptoms are so dramatic, given the importance of prompt diagnosis.

Most babies improve rapidly and can be discharged from the hospital with a week. You mention allergic symptoms, like skin rash, asthma. Parents are advised to be alert to future signs of that, especially if there is a history of it in the family. And if there are some, then vigilance is even more important. Some authorities do relate bronchiolitis to future asthma in

Region I-2A tennis to start at Figure 7

The Region I-2A tennis tournament will get under way for over 90 boys and girls today at the Figure 7 Tennis Center. Doubles and singles first round action is scheduled to start at 8 a.m. according to Howard College's Linda Woodley, this year's tournament publicity director.

Teams from as far west as Clint, a suburb of El Paso, and far east as Paducah will be travelling to Big Spring for the two day tournament. The top two girls and boys teams plus the individual finalists in doubles and singles will advance to the state tournament in Austin.

The only Crossroads Country competitors hail from Stanton, the District 8-2A girls champions. Julie Todd and Kim McReynolds won the district doubles title this year, defeating the Reagan County squad of Stephanie Morris and Lesley Luxton 6-1, 2-6, 6-1.

Detroit, Denver tough at home

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, who had been all but given up for dead, find themselves with new hope after getting the kiss of life from Terry Tyler.

Tyler, who specializes in fourth-quarter heroics, came through again Thursday night, scoring 16 of his 18 points in the final period to lift Detroit to a 125-117 National Basketball Association victory over the turnover-prone Boston Celtics.

Detroit won the game with a strong second half. The game was tied 62-62 at intermission and the Celtics held a commanding 31-19 rebounding edge. It was another story in the final two quarters, however, as the Pistons took control of the boards, 27-19.

Bill Laimbeer, who led the Pistons with 27 points, canned an 18-foot jumper and Vinnie Johnson followed with the tip-in of an alley-oop pass from Isiah Thomas to give the Pistons a six-point margin.

The Celtics narrowed the Detroit lead to three points on two occasions, but each time Tyler led another surge.

The last eight minutes of the final period were all Tyler as he hit the Pistons' final eight field goals, accounting for all of Detroit's points except for two Laimbeer free throws.

Dennis Johnson was high for Boston with 27 points and Larry Bird added 25. Kevin McHale finished with 24 points and Danny Ainge, who had four personal fouls by halftime, finished with 15 for Boston. Parish added 13.

Thomas scored 26 for Detroit, John Long had 20 and Kelly Tripucka scored 13.

Nuggets 131, Jazz 123

Guard Lafayette Lever scored six of his 22 points in overtime and center Wayne Cooper hit a pair of long range jump shots early in the extra session to lead Denver.

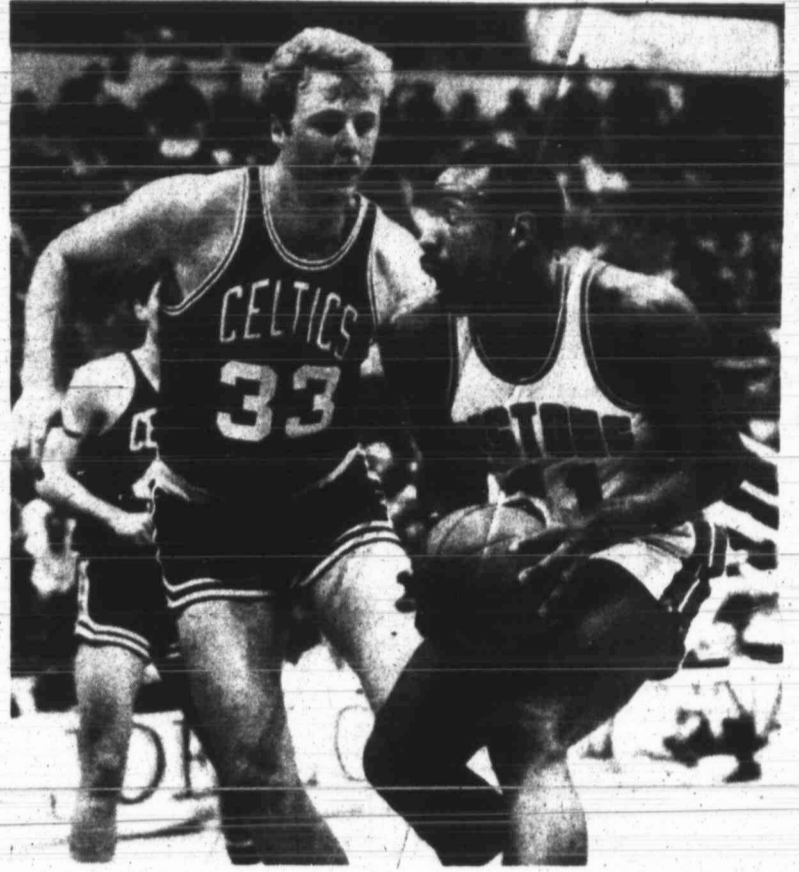

After Adrian Dantley's three-point play gave the Jazz a 110-103 lead with 7:21 remaining, Utah went nearly three minutes without another point while the Nuggets were scoring 10 straight for a 113-110 advantage.

The Nuggets held a 117-114 lead when Rickey Green's three-point play gave Utah a tie with 3:27 left. Denver's Calvin Natt and Bailey exchanged free throws to force the overtime.

Cooper hit his jumpers early in overtime, and Lever added a basket with 3:20 remaining in overtime put Denver ahead 127-123.

While Utah was suffering turnovers and missed shots, Lever sank four free throws in the closing minute to secure the victory.

Utah led by as many as nine points in the second quarter, but Calvin Natt, Dan Issel, and Alex English led a Denver comeback that produced a 70-66 lead at intermission.

Kite fires 64 to take TOC 1st round lead

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — Tom Kite said he was surprised. Arnold Palmer said he was embarrassed. And Calvin Peete said he just didn't know what his score was.

"I'm a little bit surprised. Actually, I didn't expect it to come around this quickly," Kite said Thursday after matching the course and tournament record with an 8-under-par 64 that gave him a four-shot lead in the first round of the $400,000 MONY-Tournament of Champions.

"I'm embarrassed to walk past the tees and go up to the front," said Palmer, who matched par-72 and was tied for second in the Seniors section of the elite event reserved for the winners of PGA Tour titles from the last 12 months.

"I wholeheartedly disagree" with the practice of allowing the seniors to use the front tees on some holes, Palmer said. "I'm embarrassed."

"Tomorrow, I'll wear my dress," Peete became the first man in the 33-year history of this event to be disqualified. The action came after he told PGA Tour official Glen Tait he could not determine his exact score on the fifth hole, where he took a minimum of five putts.

Tait, quoting Peete, said the player reported taking a nine on the hole.

"No, I hit it once when it was moving, so that's 11. No, I hit it twice when it was moving, so that's 13," Peete said, according to Tait.

In the end, Tait said neither Peete nor his playing partner and scorer, Curtis Strange, was able to definitely determine the number of strokes Peete had on the hole, and Peete was disqualified. Kite, usually one of the game's steadiest players, said he had been in a slump most of the season. He became aware of just how bad it was, he said, when he missed the cut at the Masters, "a tournament I expect to win, or at least play well in."

The tournament is sponsored by Mutual of New York.

Howard signs Texas recruits

Howard College womens head basketball coach Don Stevens announced the signing of Channing High School standout Terri Powell to a one year scholarship Wednesday.

The 5'7" guard was a four year starter for the District 1-A Lady Eagles. She was the Amarillo Globe News Freshman of the Year in 1982 and was selected All-State in 1985. Powell was the Channing Outstanding Athlete for three years.

Powell had an excellent senior season, averaging 18.5 points, 7.5 rebounds and 4.2 assists a game this year for the Eagles while garnering All-District and All-Region honors.

"I am extremely pleased that Terri has chosen Howard College.

She is a flashy, exciting player who should be a real hit with our fans next year," commented Stevens.

Howard College head basketball coach Ed Sparling announced the signing of Spring High School standout Todd McDermott to a one year scholarship Thursday.

McDermott led Spring to a 22-10 record this season and was named to the 16-5A All-District team his junior and snior seasons. The 6'5" 215 pounder averaged 16 points and 8 rebounds a game for the Lions. He was also played in the Houston All-Star Summer League.

McDermott was guided at Spring High by his stepfather and head coach, Mike Wolf.

"THAT WAS THE GOOD NEWS. I GUESS YOU DON'T REALLY WANTA HEAR THE BAD NEWS, DO YA?"

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, MAY 4, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's full moon activates relations with other persons, especially where financial and emotional conditions are concerned. Resentments may easily arise in the evening.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Getting into business affairs early that are hard to handle during the busy week is wise.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The morning is fine for coming to a meeting of minds with a partner, but do nothing that can make him or her distrust you later.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get busy at the work ahead of you in the morning, and later avoid whatever could bring you trouble of some kind.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Early make plans for fun, but try not to be extravagant later. Your mate can be very agreeable during the daytime.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You can handle anything that arises at home in the morning wisely, but later do nothing that could cause friction there.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You may get mail that is important but wait a day or two before answering it so that you do not make any mistakes.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle practical affairs in the morning, and later try to be more economical. Take time to make small repairs around the house.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can do much in the morning to gain your finest aims, but be careful not to rush into anything like a bull in a china shop.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure to take care of whatever is bothering you in the morning, and later do not act overly independent.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can go after some personal aim in the morning, and gain it, but later do not be forceful with others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handle home duties in the morning, since after lunch things could get rather hectic at home.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have fine ideas and should quickly put them in operation and then persevere with whatever is of a proven nature.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will have a penetrating mind and be an astute student at whatever is of real interest to your progeny, so give as many advantages as you can. Teach early not to bring problems on the self just for the fun of trying to solve them.
