How's that?

Demolition

Q. I noticed that a building at the Big Spring freight yard was torn down today. What was the building and when is Union Pacific going to tear down the freight station?

A. According to a person in the trainmaster's office this morning, the building torn down this morning was a storage facility. The person, who declined to give his name for publication, said "there are no immediate plans" to take down the freight building.

Jim Hogam of the St. Louis, Missouri, office of Union Pacific said he did not know when the freight building would be removed. Hogam said he would check on the demolition schedule.

'No parking' ordinance creates furor

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

For more than half a century, cars have lined city sidewalks in front of cafes, car dealerships, paint stores and other businesses.

Shroyer's Oldsmobile dealership customers have parked on the sidewalk "for 54 years of almost perfect service."

It's a habit that merchants say they don't want to change now, despite recent city efforts to enforce a year-old ordinance prohibiting parking on sidewalks.

The merchants say a police officer visited three businesses last

Wednesday, and told the merchants they had 10 days before cars parked on the sidewalks would be ticketed.

"We just told him we would not go along with it," said James Norwood, owner of Wilson Auto Electric Co. at 408 E. Third. "I'm really upset."

"People have been parking on the sidewalks here close to 40 years" including the 17 years he had the business and the 24 years the business was owned by Wilson, Norwood said.

Shaffer Ambulance changes hands, name

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Big Spring's only ambulance service has changed hands and changed its name.

Shaffer Ambulance Service is now Lee Ambulance Service, according to new owner Charles Ginn. No changes in location or personnel are planned at this time, Ginn said.

Ginn took over ownership this week from John Korell, who will remain at the company. He plans to be certified as a paramedic later this month.

Korell will take the state paramedic exam May 10. He said he could not serve as both a paramedic and owner of the ambulance service.

"Running an ambulance service is too much," Korell said. "It's impossible to do," he said, explaining that he will be on a team which will be on call around the clock.

Korell has been connected with the local service for seven years and has been owner of Shaffer Ambulance for the past five years.

He and other members of the ambulance service completed their course requirement for a paramedic's certification Monday night at Howard College. The year-long course prepares students for work in the field as a paramedic.

All employees at Lee Ambulance now have a special skills certificate and six employees are scheduled to take the paramedics certification exam May 10.

Ginn said he agreed to take over ownership of the ambulance service because, "My daughter is one of the paramedics and my wife is interested in it." The service is named for Ginn's wife, Lee.

"I was aware that the service was in bad shape until John took it over," Ginn said. "He's upgraded the service in the community."

Ginn hopes to hold up "the business end" of the service while Korell concentrates on his duties as a paramedic.

Senate passes butchered budget to House

AUSTIN (AP) — It was the Texas House's turn today to act on the state's spending budget for 1986-87.

Senators approved their $36.8 billion version of the next two years' appropriations Monday after first passing a $220 million increase in state fees to help pay for it.

The House was expected to reject the Senate version and ask for a 10-member conference committee to work out a compromise.

One of the outstanding issues between the two versions is a $263 million pay raise for state employees, which was approved by the House bill but not by the Senate.

However, the Senate instructed its five negotiators to "make every possible attempt" to squeeze out a 3 percent annual pay raise in their compromise talks.

The Texas Public Employees Association, which represents 180,000 state workers, has already threatened to kill the conference committee report if it does not have the raise.

"We have enough support to defeat the appropriations bill and force a special session," TPEA executive director Gary Hughes said after Monday's Senate vote.

"Then, we will back a revenue bill that could have been considered in this regular session to fund our modest request," Hughes said.

Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene, stressed Monday the appropriations bill could not be financed unless lawmakers finally approved the fees increase, and two pending bills to increase college tuition and reduce retirement contributions to teachers and state employees.

The Senate's two-year budget proposal includes:

• $6.84 million for the Howard College District. The House budget plan proposed a $7.1 million appropriation. Those proposals compare with $7.3 million appropriated for the current two-year budget cycle.

• $29.7 million for the Big Spring State Hospital, which is identical to the $29.7 million proposed by the House. The hospital's current two-year appropriation is $29.2 million.

VE birthday

Truman turned 61 on eve of German surrender

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the morning of May 8, 1945, Harry S. Truman was out of his bed and at a writing table while the rest of Washington was still stirring itself awake.

"Dear Mamma & Mary," he wrote. "I am sixty-one this morning, and I slept in the president's room in the White House last night."

Although he had been president for 26 days, Truman had just spent his first night in the executive mansion. He chose to tell his mother and sister about that before he got to his big news.

"This will be a historical day," Truman wrote. "At 9 o'clock this morning, I must make a broadcast to the country: announcing the German surrender.

"The papers were signed yesterday morning and hostilities will cease on all fronts at midnight tonight. Isn't that some birthday present?"

Truman said he had "one heck of a time" with Winston Churchill, the British prime minister, over timing of the announcement. They and Soviet premier Josef Stalin had agreed to release the news simultaneously — at 9 a.m. in Washington, 3 p.m. in London and 4 p.m. in Moscow.

"Mr. Churchill began calling me at daylight to know if we shouldn't make an immediate release without considering the Russians,"

Truman wrote. "He was refused and then he kept pushing me to talk to Stalin. He finally had to stick to the agreed plan — but he was mad as a wet hen."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, who presided over the country for more than 12 years, had died on April 12. Truman, his fourth-term vice president, had moved into Blair House across the street from the White House to give Roosevelt's widow, Eleanor, plenty of time to leave.

"Never a day has gone by that some momentous decision didn't have to be made," Truman wrote his mother and sister, who were back home in Missouri. "So far luck has been with me.

Underground memories

Texas priest helped hide Jews from Nazi sweep of Hungary

SULPHUR SPRINGS (AP) — The Rev. Emil Novak lost a little sleep when a recent television mini-series brought back memories of his experiences in the Hungarian underground during World War II.

In 1944 Novak, a 20-year-old college student and bank clerk in Budapest, entered the underground after German troops invaded the country of the Danube.

For the next year he helped Jews find new identities to prevent them from being sent to concentration camps.

"If you could prove you had a baptismal certificate, you were exempt from going to the gas chamber," said Novak, now pastor at St. James Catholic Church in Sulphur Springs.

However, he said, at the time he was unaware of the mass extermination of the Jews. "We were aware of them being taken to labor camps... I wasn't aware of the extent of the disaster. I wasn't aware of the gassing."

To counter the Nazi threat, Novak worked with a group who provided the baptismal certificates that gave the Jews Christian identities. He lived in a "safe house," a home protected by Swedish diplomatic immunity, printing false certificates.

During that time the house was bombed and a Swedish diplomat appeared to survey the damage and help remove an unexploded bomb. "I suspect he was Wallenberg," Novak said of the man portrayed in the television mini-series, Raoul Wallenberg. "We in the underground didn't even call names," he added.

"What movies cannot show is the aerial bombardment — the psychological effect... It was just living hell... It was just devastating and sometimes it was misfired (bombers missed industrial targets, striking residential areas)," he said.

The underground bribed German and Hungarian soldiers, who guarded Jews on forced marches, to look the other way while the rescuers led them to the "safe houses" where they were given new clothing and identity papers.

"Unfortunately, some of them were caught," he said of the Jews, who could not leave the country because of German troops on one side and advancing Russian troops on the other.

The advancing Russian troops brought as much terror, or more, to Hungary. "The German experience was violent and short-lived. The Russian experience was violent and protracted," he said. Germans threatened the country for 11 months. For 11 years, the priest felt the might of the USSR.

In 1956, after participating in the thwarted Hungarian fight for freedom, the priest fled the country with his sister. His parents followed the next year.

Although Novak said he agrees with the media's preoccupation with the Jewish tragedy, he resents its apparent lack of understanding regarding Russian atrocities.

"Hitler was bad, but Stalin was just as bad," he added. He said 60,000 Hungarians were arrested during 1950-1951. After Stalin's death in 1953, they were returned from the labor camps where they had been placed in a rural section of Hungary.

Although the priest's father, an engineer and a member of the Hungarian aristocracy, was arrested by the Soviets, the son was able to bribe his father's freedom.

The mini-series, he said, accurately depicted the events of the time, but could not convey the intensity of the tragedy. "It wasn't only the Jewish thing that was going on... The whole society was under pressure... the total instability of the situation."

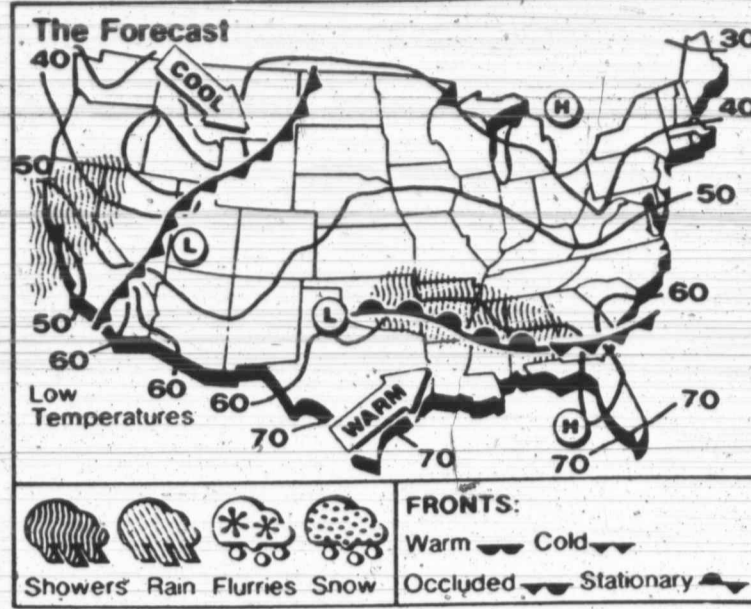

The experience left the priest with a cautious attitude. "I'm very sensitive to bad possibilities. In other words, I'm not an optimist, although I should be since I survived all this," he said.

He survived and traveled first to Austria where he was a refugee camp priest. Later, he spent a year and a half in Rome before moving to Irving where he remained from 1959 until he assumed duties at St. James in 1983.

Since his arrival in Texas, the priest first taught German at the University of Dallas, later political science. "It's hard for these kids to understand the difference between a police state and a law and order state," he said.

That difference is very clear to Novak.

Several DWI cases go to trial

An all male six-person jury began hearing evidence this morning in the case of Albert Rodriguez, 53, of 103-Canyon who was arrested on suspicion of driving while intoxicated on Feb. 13.

Rodriguez was stopped by Big Spring police officers William Anderson and Ed Covington in the 300 block of Price. He is being defended by Big Spring Attorney Wayne Burns.

Howard County Judge Milton Kirby ruled a not guilty verdict yesterday afternoon for Albert Bryan Morris, 33, of Colorado City. Morris was charged on suspicion of driving while intoxicated on Feb. 15.

Morris, on probation for a prior DWI offense, was stopped at FM 700 and Grafia by DPS trooper Glen Redmon. Besides Redmon's testimony, Kirby heard evidence and testimonies from two other witnesses. Morris refused Breathalyzer and videotape requests from police at the time of his arrest. He was defended by Attorney Robert Miller.

Other DWI trials included on this week's county court docket included Jackie Lee Merrick, 30, of Ackerly who was charged on suspicion of committing a second offense of DWI on Jan. 29. He was arrested by Big Spring police officers in the 200 block of S. Birdwell.

His request for a trial before the judge will be heard sometime next week, said Jane Overman of the county attorney's office. Merrick is being represented by Attorney Lanny Hamby.

Ben David Crowell, 30, of Eastland who was arrested for suspicion of DWI on I-20 last Feb. 15 by DPS trooper William Jennings, will go to trial when the next county court docket is called. Miller, his defense attorney, filed a motion for continuance.

Police Beat

Vandals shoot out lights

Vandals struck at the American Little League ballpark again Sunday night, shooting out nine field lights, according to police reports.

According to police reports, someone used a .22-caliber or smaller-caliber gun to shoot out the field lights at 1101 Pickens, field manager Mark Fort told police. Damage was estimated at $700.

In addition, someone Sunday entered the announcer's booth, but did not damage or take anything, the police report stated.

A 1974 Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme was stolen at 5 p.m. Saturday from the Carroll Coates auto dealership at 1101 W. Fourth, A.C. Neighbors told police. The red-and-white car, valued at $1,000, was taken between 5 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. Monday.

Thieves stole $225 of wire Friday evening from the west yard at Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber at 304 E. Second, according to police reports. Taken were three rolls of barbed wire and three rolls of chicken wire.

Vandals broke 20 windows in the east side of the alley way at Trimway at 214 W. Third, Bob Corley told police. The vandalism occurred between 2:45 p.m. and 4:45 p.m. Sunday.

Two merchants told police Monday that forged checks were cashed at their stores.

Frank Brooks of the Safeway store at 1300 Gregg told police that someone forged a check for $120 at the store. Dale Avant of Kwikie at 510 Lamesa Highway told police that a person he knows cashed a $65 check at the store that was forged. The incident occurred April 26.

Jodi Parnell, a clerk at Wal-mart told police someone damaged the red taillight lens and the rear trunk lid on her car between 7 a.m. and 4:35 p.m. Monday while the car was in the Wal-mart parking lot. Damage was estimated at $200.

Police Monday arrested Francisco Salazar Rosalez, 29, of 503 Adams in the 300 block of Lancaster on suspicion of no driver's license and a warrant for failure to appear in court. Rosalez was released on bond.

Police also arrested Ronnie O'Neal, 44, of Loma Linda, Calif., on N. Highway 87 on warrants from the Midland Department of Public Safety.

Janie Ray of Route 2 told police someone broke a window in the left door of her tan and maroon 1978 Ford at the 7-Eleven store at 300 S. Owens.

Parking

Continued from page 1-A Battle, owner of Willie's Cafe at 304 E. Third, enforcement of the no-parking ordinance would have "drastic effects" on their businesses.

The two have collected petitions to appear on the agenda for the next council meeting May 14, when they plan to oppose the ordinance. "If they enforce this out here, they'll put me out of business," said Battle, sitting at the counter of her cafe. "It's already made an effect on my business, the talk around town. It's dropped $50 a day."

"I've had customers tell me that the first time they get a ticket, they won't be back," she said.

The ordinance was designed to protect pedestrians, but merchants downtown agreed that there were virtually no pedestrians at their businesses. "About 10 pedestrians walk by here a month, and they're all wins," said Battle.

"People won't walk across the street at 5 a.m. (when her breakfast business starts), not even the men," she said.

Norwood, Battle and other merchants say they have talked to City Manager Don Davis, Administrative Assistant Pat Hardy and Councilman Johnny Rutherford about the situation. Most of the conversations have produced no results, they said.

Davis could not be reached for comment on the issue.

Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt, however, told Norwood he would not prosecute any cases until after the council meeting, Norwood said. And Rutherford told Battle "not to worry about it," she said.

Meanwhile, Battle has spent the last two weeks driving around town, taking pictures of businesses whose customers or employees park on the sidewalk, including Don Newsom's Grocery store, the Big Dipper doughnut shop and other businesses.

According to her, the ordinances was passed after bail bondsman and car repair shop owner Danny Heckler, who spearheaded a special election drive for an elected police chief, "got into a dispute with the city."

"It all stems from a grudge Don Davis or Rick Turner has against Danny Heckler," she said. Heckler was ticketed, and told city officials that if the city enforced the ordinance against him, they should enforce it against everyone else, Battle said.

"I understand that if they enforce it with one, they have to enforce it against all," Battle said. "But I've worked out of this building for 20 years. It's just got me flabbergasted."

What the merchants need to do, she says, is to get the council to change the ordinance. Norwood also suggested that the council might amend the ordinance to include a "grandfather clause," to allow those with sidewalk parking before the ordinance to remain unaffected by the law.

"I'd change the name of the cafe to 'Willie's Drive-In' if I thought it would help," said Battle.

If the law is enforced, she says she will go out of business. "I just won't have no choice. I'd just have to pack my clothes and leave town. We've talked about moving in with Don Davis and sitting on his doorstep," she said, and laughed a little with her waitress.

"If I have to close the door on this place and move, I will have to file suit against the city because I can't afford to move. I will have lost everything I have. I'm my only means of support, and my daughter and her three kids live with me."

"I intend to go down fighting."

Steer band returns from tour

Big Spring High School Steer Band members returned this week from a spring tour to the Greater Southwest Music Festival in Amarillo.

Ricky Mitchell, band director, said 100 members, including members of the Honor band and the Symphonic band, participated in the festival.

The band received a division II (excellent) rating from the judges. Judges included Bill Dean, former director of the bands at Odessa High and director of the concert band, Texas A&M; Paula Crider, assistant director of bands, the University of Texas, Austin; and Tom Hufstader, former director of bands at the University of Southern North Dakota at Hoople and director of bands for one of the schools in the Oklahoma City area.

Following competition, students left for Dallas, Mitchell said. They toured Valley View Mall, the Galleria, and Six Flags.

Tour sponsors were Mitchell and Mark Ham, Pam Mitchell, Patsy Tercero, Sarah Salisbury, Barbara McQueary, Dottie Sampley, Gene Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Arcand.

Murder suspect released

District Court Judge James Gregg reduced bond from $75,000 to $25,000 for Joe Angel Martinez, 22, of 808 Magnolia who was arrested and charged with the murder of Maurine Terrell, 81, last March.

Martinez was also charged with burglary of a habitation. He was released from county jail last night on bonds totalling $35,000.

Big Spring Police had arrested another suspect in connection to the murder incident. Jorge Lee Chavana, 21, of 817 W. 8th was released from county jail last month after his $75,000 bond had been reduced to $25,000.

Gregg said trial dates for the two suspects would be set June 17, "if not before then."

Sheriff's Log

Thefts, burglary reported

The Howard County sheriff's department received reports of two thefts and a burglary Monday.

Chief deputy William Shankles said that someone broke into Sam's Roundup on the Snyder Highway after hours on Sunday night and stole 22 cases of beer.

Charles Ray of Coahoma told sheriff's deputies that someone stole a car battery and some gasoline from his construction business in Coahoma.

Shankles said that someone removed an air pack from a drilling rig located on Highway 87, north of Big Spring. The air pack was valued at $1,066, Shankles said.

Roger Lee Lloyd, 32, of 1601 Wood pleaded guilty in county court Monday morning to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $450, required to pay $106 court costs and placed on a 60-day jail probated sentence for two years.

Jimmy Lee Paul, 19, of Route 1 Box 377 pleaded guilty in 118th District Court Monday afternoon to a burglary charge. He was sentenced to 10 years probation.

Deputies later released him from county jail where he had served time for fines that he owes the county.

Sheriff's deputies released John Louis Redding, 55, of 221 Rundles from county jail after he finished serving time for a DWI judgment. He also paid a $300 fine and $106 court costs.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Fred Escobedo, 23, of 311 N.E. 8th for revocation of probation for an earlier DWI judgment. He was released on $1,000 bond.

Sets saving face for TV industry

Some people think television programming is worse than ever. Maybe so, but television sets may soon be better than ever.

The reason is digital television, which is considered to be the most important breakthrough in the medium since color. Digital TVs promise clearer pictures through computer technology.

Current TVs use an analog system. The signals are encoded on radio waves that are susceptible to distortion while traveling from the studio to the living room. Buildings, hills and other radio waves can ruin a picture on an analog set.

Digital TVs convert the analog broadcast signal to "computer language" to filter out distortion and enhance picture resolution.

For some people, however, the real fun may be the flexibility of digital sets. The system can show more than one station at a time. A viewer could watch two or three programs on the same screen without turning the dial. The sets can also freeze and magnify pictures. And the digital system can be used to make copies of TV pictures and transfer them to printers.

The first digital sets are due on the market before 1986. They are expected to be in wide use by the end of the decade. That means viewers can watch "Dynasty" and "Dallas" at the same time, while making printouts of Krystal Carrington and J.R. Ewing.

World War II history has Reagan stumped

President Reagan has had a great deal of difficulty in the past few weeks with the history of World War II. His first gaffe was to believe that German and American soldiers were buried in the same cemeteries in Germany and could presumably be honored at the same time. His second one was to say that very few of today's Germans remember the war and certainly none of the adults now living participated in any way. And finally, he really flunked the course when he said the soldiers buried at Bitburg were just as much victims of the war as people who died in the Holocaust.

What is one to make of the President's blunders?

There may be clues in a book titled "The Films of Ronald Reagan" by Tony Thomas, published by Citadel Press (1980).

Despite being under contract to Warner Brothers, Mr. Reagan did not play in as many World War II movies as one might think. Yet his view of the war and the Nazis could easily have been formed by the ones he did appear in.

In 1941 Ronald Reagan went into action for the first time in a film titled "International Squadron." Mr. Reagan played a daredevil American stunt pilot who ferries a bomber to the RAF in England. Once there he witnesses a child killed in an air raid and joins the RAF to get even with the Nazis. But Reagan doesn't take his flying job seriously and while he's messing around with a French pilot's girlfriend he misses a mission. His American best friend substitutes for him and is killed.

This sobers him up as far as World War II is concerned. He decides to atone for his tacky behavior by knocking out the French pilot and taking his mission. After shooting down several German fighter planes in a smashing dogfight, Reagan dies a fiery heroic death. The important thing to remember is, while there was lots of talk of German bad guys, Reagan never got to meet one personally in the film.

To my knowledge the only time Ronald Reagan ever came face-to-face with the Nazis was in "Desperate Journey," made in 1942. He co-stars with Errol Flynn as part of the crew of a RAF Flying Fortress. In the film Reagan plays a brash, amusing, irreverent but very brave Yank. After the RAF plane drops its bombs on Germany it is shot down and the crew are rounded up by a German major (Raymond Massey). The German military in "Desperate Journey" are portrayed not so much as villains as they are bumbling and idiots. (The picture was the "Hogan's Heroes" of its time). In Reagan's big scene he is being debriefed alone by the major, who thinks the Yank will tell him everything he wants to know about the mission. Instead Ronnie knocks out Massey, and then sits down and eats the major's breakfast.

After this hilarious scene Reagan and the crew find it a breeze to escape and make their way across all of Germany, blowing up half the country with violent acts of sabotage. In a slam-bang finish they manage to steal a German bomber and take off for England with Errol Flynn at the controls. Having wiped out Germany, Flynn turns to Reagan and says, "Now for Australia and a crack at the Japs."

That, as far as I know, was Ronald Reagan's only Hollywood action in the European theater during World War II. He did serve honorably in Burma in "The Hasty Heart," and in the Korean theater in an MGM film titled "Prisoner of War," which was so bad that it is said it hastened Mr. Reagan's decision to go into politics. The President's finest hour was "Hellcats of the Navy," in which Reagan was cast as a naval commander on a sub in the Pacific who wreaks havoc on the Japanese fleet. Not only did Mr. Reagan win the war, but he also won the girl, a nurse played by Nancy Davis, who is now our First Lady of the land.

I detail the films that Mr. Reagan played in for only one reason. It appears the President's Hollywood war record, while distinguished, certainly did not prepare him in any way or shape for the 40th anniversary of the end of the hostilities with Nazi Germany. It also might explain why Mr. Reagan is so ignorant of World War II history. Even a bit part in "The Battle of the Bulge" would have made him realize that visiting a German military cemetery where SS soldiers are buried is just not the right thing for an American President to do.

Bonus plan draws agency's ire

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR
WASHINGTON — A scathing report by the Commerce Department's inspector general questions the integrity of the cash-bonus program in a sub-agency created to help minority businesses.

The IG concluded that the cash bonuses awarded by the Minority Business Development Agency were too large, grossly exceeded the bonus budget, went overwhelmingly to "front office" officials and in most cases lacked proper justification.

"We found serious problems in the administration of MBDA's fiscal 1984 cash awards program," the IG wrote in a draft report obtained by our associate Donald Goldberg. "These problems are sufficient, in our opinion, to raise grave doubts about the integrity of the cash awards process in MBDA."

We've reported in the past on mismanagement and cronyism in the minority business agency. Favoritism appears to have carried over into its bonus program as well, according to the IG's report. Most federal agencies reward exceptional employees with cash bonuses. They are supposed to be awarded on an evenhanded basis for work that is above and beyond the call of duty, usually for efforts that save the taxpayers money.

After studying 29 of the 37 cash awards the agency gave out last year, the IG found the following questionable or downright unacceptable practices:

- Three out of every five "bonus babies" worked either in the agency director's office, the administrative office or the public-affairs unit.
- The IG interviewed eight division managers outside the favored three, informing them that the agency had spent $78,500 of supplemental funds on last-minute cash awards. "None was aware of the availability of the extra monies provided by the supplemental appropriation," the IG wrote.

The word evidently got out to the heads of the three more fortunate offices, though: $64,000 of the bonus money went to their employees. "The (other) managers felt strongly that the disproportionate amount of awards to operating units 'in the know' destroyed the purpose of the incentive awards program, because awards should not be based on monies 'left in the pot,' but rather should go to the most deserving employees of the agency, regardless of the office to which they are assigned," the IG wrote.

The disparity was brazen: two out of every five employees of the "front office" got bonuses, compared with only about one in 14 in the other divisions.

- The size of the awards in the minority business agency was significantly higher than the average in the Commerce Department, the IG found. The overall department average bonus — excluding the minority business agency — was $825; the MBDA's average award was $2,655. And the average of the 22 last-minute awards was even higher: $3,569.

- The agency handed out more than seven times the amount budgeted for bonuses. The budget called for $16,000. "MBDA, however, approved $116,814, or 730 percent over the amount originally budgeted," according to the report.

- The awards were riddled with procedural errors, and most failed to disclose just what benefits justified the bonuses. "Of the 29 awards included in our review, amounting to $102,957, only four, amounting to $10,628, included adequate written justification and documentation for the awards requested," the IG report states.

In six of the cases, the justifications were inadequate in a crucial area, failing to show "how the accomplishments were over and above what was expected" of the bonus babies.

The IG report recommended suspending the agency's authority to grant cash awards until it cleans up its act.

Footnote: An agency spokesman said there would be no comment on the draft report until it is studied and assessed.

RAISINS IN THE SUN: As baseball fans know, one of the principal products of the impoverished Republic of Haiti is official baseballs, manufactured at the Wilson Sporting Goods factory. Each horsehide ball comes in its own little plastic bag with the company logo on it.

Lately, though, street vendors have been selling those little plastic bags full of raisins in Port-au-Prince, and the company doesn't like it one bit.

The bags were stolen from the Wilson factory; the raisins were somehow diverted from the U.S. "Food for Peace" program.

American aid officials and a private group, which was given the job of distributing 680 metric tons of raisins to hungry Haitians, are trying to figure out how the fruit got into the Wilson bags and the street vendors' hands. They've been selling briskly for 20 cents per half-pound bag.

U.S. officials are concerned that the black-market raisins may be contaminated. Wilson, which is concerned about its reputation, has sent people out to confiscate the stolen bags and is burning them, raisins and all.

Justice Department views crime wave

WASHINGTON (AP) — One out of 31 Americans over the age of 12 will likely be a victim of either robbery, rape or assault each year, says the Justice Department.

In a first-of-its-kind violent crime risk assessment, the department's Bureau of Justice Statistics also said that "over a lifetime," Americans face one chance in 133 of being murdered.

The report said roughly 3 percent of the teen and adult population — 6 million people — will be victimized by rape, robbery or assault, and bureau director Steven R. Schlesinger cautioned that "over a lifetime, of course, the risks are much higher."

He said the bureau's newly devised Crime Risk Index "shows that males are more likely than females to be victimized by violent crime, blacks more likely than whites, the young more likely than the old, the poor more than the wealthy and the unmarried more than the married."

The conclusions were drawn from two sources: a five-year series of National Crime Surveys, which are based on interviews with randomly selected Americans, and five years of reports over the same period, from 1978-82, compiled by the National Center for Health Statistics.

The figures for rapes, robberies and assaults — and the projections of risk — are distinct from those for murder.

The one-in-31 rate for people likely to be raped, robbed or assaulted actually was the rate in 1982. But statisticians said they felt it could be extrapolated as a risk factor for this and future years because violent crime incidence rates, excluding murder, "remained generally constant" between 1978-82, the period studied.

The bureau, drawing separate conclusions about the risk of murder, based on reports from coroners and medical examiners, found that "in an entire lifetime," the chance of being murdered is one in 133, as contrasted with the one in 10,000 possibility that it might happen this year.

But for black men, it said, there's a one-in-21 lifetime chance of being murdered. White men have a one in 131 lifetime chance, white females, one in 369 lifetime chance; and black females, one chance in 104 in a lifetime.

The study released Sunday noted that the estimate that 3 percent of the over-12 population will be victimized by rape, robbery or assault did not include murder, manslaughter by drunk drivers, kidnapping, child abuse or other violent crimes not measured in the National Crime Survey. For this reason, the bureau said, the risk factor may be understated.

Because the National Crime Survey is based on interviews with crime-victim survivors, it makes no attempt to include homicides.

The Crime Risk Index "measures the proportion of the population victimized by violent crime" by dividing the total number of distinct crime victims in a given year by the size of the (12-and-over) population," the report said.

In 1982, the number of Americans in this population category totaled approximately 188.5 million. Schlesinger said, for example, that "the risk of becoming the victim of a violent crime may now be compared with the risk of being in an automobile accident or contracting a particular disease or experiencing a natural disaster."

God has given second chance

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you believe in good luck? Last week I walked away from a car wreck without so much as a scratch, and the policeman said he didn't understand why I wasn't killed. I guess I am being given a second chance at life, but I don't know why. — C.S.

DEAR C.S.: No, I don't believe in "luck" — because God, not luck — is ultimately in control of everything. Things do not happen by blind chance of "luck."

God has given you a second chance. Why? I don't pretend to know all the reasons, but I do know at least one reason. Your letter indicates that you have never given much thought to God, and you have never thought at all about your eternal salvation. If you had died in that wreck, you would have entered eternity with no hope of salvation or Heaven.

God has been good to you; how will you respond? Will you shrug your shoulders and gradually forget it? Or will you respond as you should, by opening your heart to Christ and committing your life to Him?

God has a plan for you, and the greatest joy in life is knowing Christ and walking in His will every day.

Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, May 7, the 127th day of 1985. There are 238 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On May 7, 1945, Germany signed an unconditional surrender at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters in Rheims, France, that was to take effect the next day, ending the European stage of World War II.

On this date: In 1789, the first inaugural ball was held in New York in honor of President and Mrs. George Washington.

In 1825, Italian composer Antonio Salieri died.

In 1833, composer Johannes Brahms was born in Hamburg, Germany.

In 1840, composer Peter Ilich Tchaikovsky was born in the Ural region of Russia.

In 1915, a German torpedo sank the British liner Lusitania off the Irish coast. Nearly 1,200 lives were lost.

In 1939, Germany and Italy announced a military and political alliance known as the Rome-Berlin Axis.

In 1960, Leonid Brezhnev replaced Marshal Kliment Voroshilov as president of the Supreme Soviet.

Ten years ago: President Gerald R. Ford formally declared an end to the Vietnam era. In Saigon — renamed Ho Chi Minh City — the Viet Cong staged a rally to celebrate their takeover.

Five years ago: The official American delegation to the funeral of Yugoslavia's President Tito — led by Vice President Walter F. Mondale — arrived in Belgrade. There was criticism that President Jimmy Carter was not present.

One year ago: Seven chemical companies agreed to pay $180 million to Vietnam veterans and their relatives who charged they had been poisoned by the herbicide Agent Orange.

Today's birthdays: Inventor Edwin H. Land is 76. Actor Darren McGavin is 63. Actress Anne Baxter is 62. Singer Teresa Brewer is 54. Sen. Peter Domenici, R-N.M., is 53. Former quarterback Johnny Unitas is 52. "Today" show weatherman Willard Scott is 51.

Thought for today: "If a problem can be stated, you can solve it." — Edwin H. Land.

GIVING LESSONS — Julie Shirey gives Stacey Andrews lessons on the piano. Shirey, who also works part-time as a substitute teacher, has been teaching piano for 23 years.

By KIM KIRKHAM
Lifestyle Writer

Julie Shirey, second in three generations of piano teachers, is challenged by teaching children the art of music. Her mother taught piano and her daughters teach piano.

She did not give her daughters lessons, however. "My mother couldn't teach me either," she says. "It's too easy to argue." Her oldest daughter, Jennifer, is a senior music education major at West Texas State University in Canyon. Brenda is a senior at Big Spring High School.

Working 40 hours a week as a piano teacher and part-time as a substitute teacher in the Big Spring Independent School District, Shirey enjoys being involved with young people.

"I love to substitute teach. I really enjoy getting involved with the kids," she said. But "it's just sort of a little sideline."

Piano lessons begin at 7 a.m. at the Shirey home. When her children hear the piano playing, they know it's 7 a.m., time to get up. Shirey's mother began lessons at 7 a.m., so as a child, she, too, awoke at the sound of the piano.

"There is no way you can say this is my method (of teaching piano). Each child has different problems," she said. "You've got to be able to cope with whatever they do. To me, that is a challenge."

The most difficult part of teaching piano is convincing the pupils they need to practice, said Shirey.

"Each pupil is different. It's always interesting. I like the one to one basis of teaching (piano). There's something about getting to know each of my pupils." She has been teaching piano for 23 years and has 37 students.

"I do a lot more with my music than just teach," said Shirey. She arranges songs for Eunice Choate, a local songwriter. "I've been playing for her since we were in the eighth grade."

An avid fan of high school sports,

Shirey enjoys getting involved with her kids and their activities.

Because Brenda will attend Texas Tech in the fall, Shirey is considering applying for a foreign exchange student so she can continue school activities.

Shirey, a 1960 graduate of Texas Tech University, majored in music education with a concentration in organ.

"I always said that I was going to major in music at college because I wouldn't have algebra," said Shirey jokingly. "It sort of turned on me because music is all mathematics."

"I usually try to keep really involved civically," she said. Shirey has served on the city traffic commission for 10 years, the Heritage Museum board and the Symphony board. She also was chairman of the Heart Association Turkey Walk and is active in the ex-student association at Big Spring High School.

She was the choir director at First Christian Church for seven years, serving also at the Prison for three years. But "I decided I needed some weekends off," said Shirey.

"I was playing before I was 2½ years old," said Shirey. "And music was just always my life."

Dear Abby

Donors are lifeline to those in need

DEAR ABBY: Please give the piece titled "What Good Is a Blood Donor?" another run. I missed it the first time it ran, but several people have told me about it.

Blood donors are so desperately needed now, it sounds like something we could use.

VOLUNTEER
DEAR VOLUNTEER: Here it is:

DEAR ABBY: I just donated blood to the American Red Cross Blood Center in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and I'm enclosing a piece that was handed to me on my way out.

I hope you will print it. So many people are not aware of how important it is to give blood — especially now that our blood bank supply has become critically low.

NEW YORK
BLOOD DONOR

DEAR DONOR: You gave more than blood. You gave me an item that will (I hope) inspire more blood donors. Bless you.

WHAT GOOD IS A
BLOOD DONOR?

A blood donor is good for people who go through windshields and red lights. For somebody with leukemia. For people being operated on. For barefoot kids who aren't careful. For people who are into feudin' and fightin'. For hemophiliacs and daredevils. For people undergoing dialysis while waiting for a kidney transplant. For people who fool around with guns. For little kids who manage to uncap a bottle of something poisonous.

A blood donor is good for people who have been badly burned. For new mothers who need transfusions. For new babies who need a complete change of blood supply. For people having open-heart surgery. For cancer patients. For people with severe hepatitis and anemia. For kids who fall out of trees or whatever. For anybody any age with bleeding ulcers. For people who were in the wrong place at the wrong time.

A blood donor is good for people who are in a lot worse shape than most people you know.

A BLOOD DONOR IS GOOD
FOR LIFE.

Council offers nursing scholarship

The Volunteer Services Council will offer a nursing scholarship to interested individuals. Applicants accepted under the program will be able to enroll in the accelerated nursing program in the summer semester 1985 or the fall semester 1985.

Deadline for applications is Friday. Review of applications and interviews will be May 20.

Persons interested in applying for admission to the scholarship program or in donating funds for its support are asked to address the Chairman of the Scholarship Committee, P.O. Box 231, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Those interested in more information concerning the program may contact Volunteer Services, Big Spring State Hospital, (915) 267-8216, ext. 322.

The criteria for acceptance are:

• The applicant must have completed prerequisite courses required by the college of nursing for their choice with a grade point average of at least 2.5.

• The applicant must provide three references, preferable from an employer, a college instructor, and a person who can vouch for their character.

• The applicant must state the expected completion date of his/her nursing program.

• The applicant must submit a handwritten letter stating their reasons for selecting the nursing profession, their professional ambitions, the contribution they expect to make to the nursing field and to Big Spring State Hospital, and the reason they require financial assistance.

Preference may be given to employees of Big Spring State Hospital who met the above criteria who have been employed six months or more, and who will be enrolling in an associate in nursing program.

The Scholarship Committee will be comprised of volunteers, the superintendent or his designee, and one other hospital staff member. The committee will accept applications, interview applicants and make final selections.

Dr. Donohue

One test does not an illness make

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I was told after my last complete physical, which included blood testing, that I have an elevated level of potassium. I do not take any street drug and am not on any medication. I would like to know if this is a cause for concern. My doctor was slightly disturbed. — Mrs. R.A.

A blood test that shows potassium elevation is a cause for concern only if the rise is of a magnitude to cause trouble, like irregular heartbeats, or when it is a sign of serious kidney derangement. I am sure your doctor would have let you know if your level was in that ballpark. And then he would have wanted a second test to make sure the rise was not a laboratory quirk.

Very often a blood potassium elevation is just that — a laboratory curiosity. Perhaps some blood cells were damaged when they were being processed and some of their potassium leaked. That's one possibility.

I mentioned kidney problems, and I should have added that such conditions usually have other prominent signs, other abnormal blood readings. If this is making you nervous, you can settle things by asking for another blood test. Or you can do what I'd do — forget it.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: If a woman has reached menopause age (barely) and has a uterus tumor shown to be benign, is it acceptable to leave it alone in hopes that it eventually will shrink? — Mrs. E.E.

Yes. Very often the decline in hormone production that accompanies menopause will cause such a tumor to shrink. Your doctor can watch for the outcome. The booklet "Make Menopause Easier" discusses such events and you can order a copy by writing me care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents for printing and handling.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Can you give us an update on the drug that is supposed to grow hair on hairless domes? I am interested in getting some of it. — V.K.

Join the club. We're all waiting to find out whether it really works. You are speaking of the drug, Minoxidol, developed for control of high blood pressure. One of its side effects was hair growth in almost all the patients who used it for a year. In women, the growth was chiefly on the face, shoulders, arms, and legs. In men there was generalized increase in body hair.

Naturally, the manufacturer was inspired to begin trials of it as a lotion to be applied to the scalp to see if it might reverse baldness. That testing is still going on. In one preliminary report, 32 percent of users had good to excellent hair regrowth. But we're all going to have to wait. In any event, the drug is not available for general use, but only in centers approved for such testing.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To learn more about it, write to Dr. Donohue for his booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and $1.00.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Sorority observes Founder's Day

The 51st Founder's Day of Beta Sigma Phi was celebrated April 26 by local members during a banquet at Brandin' Iron Inn.

Diane Clinton, a Mu Zeta Chapter member, presented a style show with fashions from Nita's Boutique in Odessa and Young-N-Alive Boutique in Big Spring. Three of the models, Shauna Richardson, Tanya Clinton and Stacey Walling, are Beta Sigma Phi Legacy members.

Jan Jordan of Xi Pi Epsilon Chapter, accompanied by Kelly McCutcheon, sang an original song based on this year's international theme, "Paint a Living Masterpiece."

Outstanding women in each chapter were honored as "Girl of the Year" by their chapters during the banquet. This year's honorees were Tonita Reid, Alpha Phi Delta; Sharon Richardson, Mu Zeta; and Connie Edgemon, Xi Pi Epsilon.

Reid, a charter member of Alpha Phi Delta, serves as chapter treasurer, an office she will hold again next year when she also will be City Council vice president. Richardson is president of Mu Zeta and serves as a City Council representative. Edgemon is a member of City Council and is president of Xi Pi Epsilon. Next year she will serve as City Council president.

Honored by Mu Zeta as "Pledge of the Year" was Shirley McMahan. Alpha Phi Delta chose Rhonda Gibbs as its "Pledge of the Year."

Elected as "Beta Sigma Phi of the Year" was Pat Howell. She is corresponding secretary of Xi Pi Epsilon Chapter and is City Council president.

Special guests were Gail Earls and Hazel Duggan. Earls received a donation to the Rape Crisis Services from Beta Sigma Phi City Council from proceeds of the Valentine Charity Ball. She said that the money would be used to intensify public education programs.

Duggan, a retired school teacher, is an active volunteer with the Veteran's Administration Medical Center, Big Spring State Hospital, Mobile Meals and other groups. She was selected by the Beta Sigma Phi chapters as their "Howard County Woman of the Year."

As the chapters begin to close their sorority year, each chapter will install next year's officers and honor their secret sisters. On Thursday, City Council officers and chapter presidents were installed.

City Council officers elected for the 1985-1986 year are Edgemon, president; Reid, vice president; Jo Ogle of Xi Pi Epsilon, treasurer; and Debbie Walling of Mu Zeta, secretary.

Women discuss Adult Sitters Clinic

Gloria Kappas and Myrl Soles presented a program about the Adult Sitters Clinic during the Elbow Extension Homemakers Club meeting at the home of Ethel McKinnon, Thursday.

The women said that as people grow older they are less active and need less food for energy; however, they still need the same nutrients, protein, carbohydrates, fiber, water, minerals, vitamins and some fat. Older people should eat foods from the four basic food groups: milk, meat, fruits and vegetables, and bread and cereal, they said.

Other subjects the women discussed were: feeding persons unable to feed themselves, how to handle emergencies, rest and activity. Older people should be encouraged to get some exercise. They can do many things while sitting in a chair or lying on the bed, they said.

Soles was elected nominee for the Texas Extension Homemakers Association chairman for 1986. She also was elected nominee for delegate to the state meeting in September.

Marie Barrington of Coleman and Rita Faught were visitors. The next meeting will be at the home of Ruth Morton, 2303 Austin, May 16. "Finding Time For Fitness" will be the program.

Style show will tell nursing's history

A style show and tea recognizing the history of nursing and commemorating the birthday of Florence Nightingale will be held at Malone and Hogan Clinic Lobby May 12 from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The public is invited. Reservations are required and may be made by calling 263-1211 ext. 175 by Wednesday.

As a tribute to Mother's Day, ceremonies will recognize two-generation nursing families, local nurses who have been in the profession the longest, and who graduated from nursing schools at the earliest age.

The style show will trace the history of nursing to Egyptian times when priests cared for the sick in temples of the Pharaohs. From the Middle Ages, the Christian Reformation and the Civil and World Wars, roles of nurses in caring for the sick will be told through styles worn in 19 eras.

Providing background music for the show will be Adolph Labbe, music director for Howard College, and his Nighthawk Jazz Band, a four-piece ensemble group. Dance routines for specific eras will set the scenes and eras of nursing.

Forty styles will be modeled by area nurses, most of the styles created or owned by local nurses.

General chairman of the style show is Victoria Moore, R.N., assisted by Sherry Lehigh, Connie Provenza, Shirleen Brown, R.N., and Dorothy Blackwell. Narrating the style show will be Barbara Holdampf of Howard College.

Mobil plans disposing of Wards retail chain

NEW YORK (AP) — Mobil Corp. plans major cutbacks at its troubled Montgomery Ward & Co. retail chain and hopes to dispose of it, and oil industry analysts say that if the plan succeeds it will relieve a financial headache for Mobil.

Mobil said Monday the changes at the nation's sixth-largest retailer are aimed at "reshaping it into a business which can operate as an independent, free-standing, profitable retail company without Mobil ownership or financial guarantees."

Mobil did not say how Montgomery Ward might operate independently but did say that, so far, there have been no negotiations to sell the 113-year-old company. Among the possible alternatives to a sale is a spinoff of the company to Mobil's shareholders.

Bruce Lazier, who follows the company for the investment firm Prescott, Ball & Turben, said Mobil's action is "recognition of past mistakes ... it's not going to pour any more money down the rathole."

Rosario Ilacqua, an analyst at L.F. Rothschild, Unterberg, Towbin, said if Mobil succeeds in getting rid of Montgomery Ward, "it means one less headache."

Analyst William Randol at First Boston Corp. called the step "the removal of a negative."

Mobil said it planned to eliminate money-losing segments of Ward's network of 2,099 catalog stores in what spokesman Herbert Schmetz termed "radical surgery." Mobil also said cutbacks were planned for the 322 Montgomery Ward retail stores and 44 Jefferson Ward discount stores, and that administrative costs would be significantly reduced.

The company did not identify the operations to be scrapped nor did it estimate how many of Montgomery Ward's 77,000 employees would lose their jobs.

It said the cost of the restructuring will reduce Mobil's after-tax profit by about $500 million in 1985. It earned $1.27 billion in 1984.

Mobil, the nation's second-largest oil company after Exxon Corp., purchased Montgomery Ward for $1 billion in 1976 as part of an attempt to diversify from the energy business at a time when it was flush with profits from rising oil prices. It has since invested an additional $600 million in it.

Montgomery Ward contributed $53 million in earnings on $6.5 billion in sales in 1984, an improvement on the $40 million in earnings on $6 billion in sales in 1983. But in addition to the costly investment and disappointing return on sales, it also has had lean years, including losses of $93 million in 1982, $160 million in 1981 and $162 million in 1980.

On the New York Stock Exchange, Mobil climbed $1.25 to a new 52-week high early Monday, but later gave up the gains to close at $32.62 1/2 a share, down 50 cents.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY REVIEW

Home-style cooking at Jack & Mattie's Cafe

Everything is cooked to order at Jack & Mattie's Cafe, 901 West 3rd St. No frozen entrees. No fillers added. No pre-prepared foods. Just good old-fashioned home cooking.

Mattie Taylor says they've been in the food business "all our lives." Jack was chef at the Holiday Inn for about 10 years, and the Taylors operated the Permian Snack Bar for over 8 years.

Jack & Mattie's Cafe is open for breakfast and lunch — from 6 a.m. to 3 p.m. — Monday through Friday. (They close at 2 p.m. Saturday.) They fix orders-to-go, too.

Customers rave about the homemade buttermilk biscuits and the giant homemade cinnamon rolls. One egg with choice of meat, hash browns, biscuits, gravy, and coffee is $3.00. Senior Citizens will enjoy a 10% discount.

The daily luncheon plate is priced at $3.95. You get soup or salad, homemade rolls, potatoes and two vegetables, choice of at least seven entrees, drink and dessert. Entrees change daily, but include chicken fried steak, grilled beef liver, breaded veal cutlet and roast beef. Soup and dessert is different everyday.

In addition they serve pure beef hamburgers, several kinds of sandwiches and a variety of omelets.

The cadre of regular morning coffee break customers say the coffee here is "the best in town."

Regional fun in Big Spring

Some of the best sporting events that could ever take place in Big Spring occurred this past weekend. I'm talking about the Region I 2-A golf, tennis and track championships that took place at Comanche Trail Golf Course, Figure Seven Tennis Center and Blankenship Field. It brought together some of the state's finest athletes, all reaching for the ultimate high in every Texas athlete's mind; the state meet in Austin. It also brought lots of good-hearted fans to our fair city, allowing local merchants to pull in extra revenue they normally would not have received.

With excellent weather conditions the festivities turned out to be a raging success. This was the first year Big Spring hosted the events and I must say Linda Woodley and her cohorts at Howard College handled the situation well. People such as Roy Green, Josie Salazar, Sheri Sparks, John Weeks, Everett Blackburn and Lisa Fort, just to name a few, handled everything in a professional manner.

Last but not least are the Logbacks, Ron and Sandra, otherwise known as Steer Athletic Director and his better half. Coach Logback was a responsible meet director and though one major controversy did arise in the boy's mile relay, he handled it in the right way, and everybody respected his decision.

His good natured wife did everything from type out hundreds of lines of results to carry down typewriters from the press box. Talk about athletes in heated competition. It was great, there was so much joy and pain wrapped up in all the competition. You hear coaches use the term "selling out", which means giving your all, I guarantee you all these athletes sold out.

That's what it's all about. Being competitive, not just in sports, but in life as well. Each day you face a different challenge, some are larger than others. But the challenge that these athletes faced this past weekend was one of the biggest they will face in their young lives.

The challenge taught them that many my try, but only a few earn the right of being regarded as the best. That's why this week long competition was so special. One might question why I devoted so much time to covering athletes from towns you've never heard of? Simple, because those young athletes deserve that time.

They earned the right to get a few headlines in a strange newspaper. Hopefully it gave local readers some idea of how hard they all competed. Because if you know anything about being a competitor, you know what these athletes went through.

All in all it was an excellent sporting week in Big Spring and next year's meet should be even better. Like one visiting spectator said as he filed out the gate, "I think I'm going to like seeing regionals in Big Spring." I couldn't have said it better myself.

Pokes get world class sprinter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mel Lattany says he's always been a fan of the Dallas Cowboys, and the former University of Georgia sprinter soon may be catching passes for his favorite National Football League team.

Lattany, now a member of the Track America team, said he expects to sign a Cowboys contract next month. "It's like acting out a childhood dream," Lattany said. "Dallas has always been my favorite team, and I've always been an admirer of Paul Warfield and the other great fast wide receivers in the NFL."

He said he spends most of his time lifting weights, catching passes and running for endurance in preparing for football. He was approached by a Cowboys scout at a track meet in Dallas earlier this year.

"They were impressed after seeing me run some 40s (40-yard sprints) and catch a few passes," Lattany said. "They flew me in for a week and I worked out with (Danny) White and (Gary) Hogeboom," the Cowboys' quarterbacks. "I was catching 90 percent of the passes, and they told me I had a favorable chance to make the team and wanted to work out a contract."

The 5-foot-9, 175-pound Lattany said he was timed at 4.1 seconds over 40 yards several times and sees no problem in making the transition to pro football.

Cruz makes switch to state

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer
ACKERLY — Talk about last minute adjustments. At Sands High School, track coach Jim White and middle-distance runner David Cruz made a late decision that has carried Cruz all the way to the state meet.

White, who will be leaving SHS after this season, switched Cruz from the 400- to the 800-meter race the day before the District 6-A meet in mid-April. It was a gutsy move by White since Cruz had run only one 800-meter race in his life — and that was three years ago.

White's strategy paid off. Cruz surprised everyone by easily winning the district meet and placing second at the Region I-A meet in Levelland last weekend, thus sending the wiry senior runner to Austin this weekend.

White said the move was good for the team as well as for Cruz. "We had five or six good quartermilers in our district," said White. "There were only a couple of good half-milers in the district plus David had been suffering from strained quadriceps, so I figured it would be easier on his leg."

"For once it looks like I finally made the right decision," he joked.

Cruz says the switch was easier on his whole body. "I see why they call the 400 the man's race," said Cruz. "It leaves me more tired, I feel much better after finishing an 800."

At the regional meet Cruz again rose to the occasion and earned a second place finish by running a career-best 2:00.68, establishing a new school record while finishing behind Marathon's Lynn Shackelford. Ironically, Shackelford finished second at the state meet last year.

Coach White says the biggest adjustment for Cruz was learning how to run the two-lap race. "He really hasn't run it enough to be familiar with it," said White. "The main thing he has going for him is his competitiveness. He just doesn't like to lose."

Cruz's competitive attitude showed in the regional meet when he was passed by a runner from Snook on the final lap, dropping Cruz to third place. "I told myself I can't let him pass me and I strided on by him," he said. "I really don't know what makes me so competitive, I just hate to lose in anything."

Although he has run only three 800 races, Cruz may be finally cat-

Lakers, Nuggets try to end series

Who will get the last laugh?

By The Associated Press
There's only one way to overcome a 3-1 disadvantage in a best-of-7 series, says Utah Coach Frank Layden. Take it one game at a time.

The Jazz, whose rally from 24 points back against the Nuggets fell short in the final minute Sunday night, will be eliminated from the Western Conference semifinals if they lose again.

Tonight's other Western Conference semifinal has Portland at Los Angeles to meet the Lakers, who lead the series 3-1.

On Wednesday, Detroit is at Boston. The winner of that series, tied at 2-2, faces Philadelphia, a 4-0 winner over Milwaukee, in the Eastern Conference finals.

The Denver-Utah series could also have been tied 2-2 as the Jazz reduced a 62-38 Denver lead to one point with 30 seconds remaining.

The series started with Utah's 7-foot-4 defensive star, Mark Eaton, out with torn knee ligaments. But the injury lists have evened out.

ERVING JOHNSON
...Lakers magic man

The Nuggets' Dan Issel played Sunday although his right ring finger was in a plastic cast. He sank a crucial 22-foot bank shot in the final minute, putting Denver ahead by three points.

Issel is listed as probable for Game 5, but point guard Lafayette Lever is out. He underwent arthroscopic knee surgery Monday night and a team spokesman said he would be sidelined seven-to-10 days even if no major damage was found. Lever had been a standout, averaging 17 points, 11 rebounds and 10 assists in the first three games before he hyperextended his left knee at the close of Game 3. Rookie Willie White will start in his place.

Portland stayed alive Sunday night with a 115-107 victory over the Lakers, their first lopp in seven playoff games. The Lakers have won 21 straight games the Forum.

The Trail Blazers forced 28 Los Angeles turnovers Sunday with a surprise trapping defense.

"We haven't been trapped in a while and we didn't do a good job handling it, but we'll be ready next time," said Michael Cooper, who turned the ball over nine times.

The 76ers are happy to have a week off to nurse some aches and pains.

"The rest also will allow us to regroup emotionally," Coach Billy Cunningham said. "It's very difficult to sustain that peak attitude. We have to begin building to another pitch."

Despite acknowledging that the 76ers would get a homecourt advantage if Detroit beats Boston, Philadelphia center Moses Malone said, "It doesn't matter who we play. As long as we prepare ourselves, we'll be all right."

Malone added, jokingly, "If we could play any team next, I'd pick Indiana," which shared the worst record in the NBA with Golden State.

Wild streak leads to 7-5 Giants win

By The Associated Press
Jose DeLeon continues to remain an enigma to himself and to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"I finally get a lead and there it goes without anybody even hitting the ball," DeLeon said after his wildness allowed the San Francisco Giants to rally past the Pirates 7-5 Monday night.

The loss dropped DeLeon to 0-5 this season. He has dropped 14 of 15 games over the past two years despite several sparkling outings during that span.

The major problem he's encountered has been a lack of support. When he went 7-13 last season, Pittsburgh was shut out in six of the losses and scored just one run in five other defeats.

When the Pirates gave DeLeon a 3-2 lead going into the sixth inning against San Francisco, it was the first time he had been in front this season.

But DeLeon, who struck out nine in the first five innings, allowed the first five batters to reach base in the sixth, three on walks, as the Giants scored four times for a 6-3 lead.

"Jose has all the stuff in the world — you have to in order to strike out nine in five innings — but he got a lead and he was too fine, too tentative," said Pirates Manager Chuck Tanner.

The game was one of only three in the major leagues on Monday. In the other two, both in the National League, Los Angeles beat Chicago 5-4 in 10 innings and St. Louis downed San Diego 5-2.

Chili Davis walked to start the San Francisco sixth but was picked off first by catcher Tony Pena. DeLeon then walked Gary Rajsich and Bob Brenly around Chris Brown's infield single to load the bases.

Jose Uribe singled home Rajsich and then Scot Thompson, batting only .139, cracked a two-run single off reliever Cecilio Guante. Uribe then scored on Dan Gladden's grounder.

Bill Laskey, 1-3, pitched five innings for the victory. The Pirates scored twice in the seventh off reliever Greg Minton to pull within 6-5 before Brenly homered — his third — in the eighth to give the Giants a 7-5 margin.

Pittsburgh tried to come from behind in the ninth against reliever Mark Davis, putting runners on second and third with two outs.

Scott Garrelts was then summoned from the bullpen to face Bill Madlock. Garrelts induced Madlock to pop up for the final out and his second save.

"If you had brought me into this game last year, I would have been timid," Garrelts said. "This year I've changed and I feel comfortable. I want to get into the game. Last year, I didn't. I just went to the ballpark to show up."

Dodgers 5, Cubs 4

Mike Scioscia belted a two-run homer in the ninth inning off Chicago reliever Lee Smith to send the game into extra innings, and an error by rookie shortstop Shawon Dunston enabled Los Angeles to score the tie-breaking run in the 10th at Wrigley Field.

Candy Maldonado singled off Ray Fontenot, 0-1, to start the 10th and took third on a single by Ken Landreaux. Pedro Guerrero then hit a grounder that skipped past Dunston, allowing Maldonado to score.

Cardinals 5, Padres 2
Willie McGee went 4-for-4, including two doubles, to lead host St. Louis over San Diego. McGee's second double was a run-scoring blow during a four-run fifth inning.

The Cardinals overcame a 2-0 deficit in the fifth against Eric Show, 3-2. Rookie Vince Coleman singled with one out and then stole his 18th and 19th bases of the season.

Oilers split with Colt 45's

The Big Spring Oilers split a doubleheader with the Odessa Colt 45's at Johnny Stone Park Sunday afternoon. The Oilers won the first game 3-1 and lost the twinbill 11-1.

Oiler starting pitcher Randy Clanton picked up the complete game win in the first outing, twirling a four hitter to hold the visitors in check throughout the contest.

In the second game, the Oilers committed nine costly errors and walked six batters in a very charitable 11-1 rout by the 45's.

Offensively for the series, Oiler Ricky Stone went 3 for 6 and Joe Justice went 2 for 5.

The Oilers are now 3-5 in the Texas-New Mexico League and will travel to Seminole this Sunday for another T-NML doubleheader.

One Mile Night Run scheduled

There will be a One Mile Night Run, Saturday, June 1 at 7:30 p.m. in downtown Big Spring sponsored by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. The entry fee is $4 with registration starting at 5:30 p.m. on the courthouse lawn.

T-shirts will be given to all contestants and trophies awarded to the first three finishers in each division. Age groups for men and women areas follow: 14 and under, 15-19, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59, 60 and over.

For more information call Pat Hardy or Don Davis at 263-8311.

Gamblers blast Breakers

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Richard Johnson caught a United States Football League record four touchdown passes from Jim Kelly Monday night as the Houston Gamblers rolled to a 45-7 victory over the Portland Breakers.

Johnson, in his fourth pro season from Colorado, had scoring catches of 11, 49 and 1 yards in the first half, then added a 7-yard catch late in the third quarter.

The speedy, 5-foot-9 receiver wound up with 10 receptions for 167 yards.

Kelly had another big game, boosting his season's touchdown pass total to 35. He completed 32 of 45 passes for 348 yards before sitting out the final 12 minutes of the game.

Houston scored on each of its five first-half possessions to take a 31-7 lead, with Kelly completing 23 of 32 passes for 276 yards in the first 30 minutes alone.

Houston, 8-3, won its third in a row — all on the road — to regain sole possession of first place in the Western Conference, a half-game ahead of Oakland.

Portland, 3-8, lost for the fourth straight week. The Breakers, playing at home for the first time in a month, drew a crowd of 18,457. The game was televised by ESPN and wasn't blacked out locally.

Kelly completed five straight passes to direct Houston to its first score. On the next Gamber series, Kelly fired a perfect over-the-middle bomb to Johnson on third down and short yardage for a 49-yard score.

Kelly's 11-yard touchdown scramble in the opening seconds of the second quarter made it 21-0.

Portland's only touchdown came in the second quarter on a penalty-aided 75-yard drive that ended with Harold Ricks scoring on a 1-yard run.

Kelly added a 1-yard scoring pass to Johnson and Tony Fritsch booted a 35-yard field goal to provide the halftime margin.

After Johnson's third-quarter touchdown, the Gamblers wrapped up the scoring on a 3-yard pass from Todd Dillon to Ricky Sanders with 2:31 to play in the game.

Buford Jordan, seeing his first extensive game action in seven weeks due to a hamstring injury, gained 81 yards in 14 carries for Portland.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Despite benefits that can accrue today and tonight, there are some annoying routine conditions that can cause irritation unless you rise above such.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get your mind working on outside affairs concerned with career and civic matters and forget playtime wishes.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Focus on self-improvement today and forget any private worries. Make new allies of worth.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Keep busy at business matters and don't go after personal affairs that might be difficult to handle.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Outside partners will gladly go along with your ideas, but don't endeavor to get backing from bigwigs.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to get your work done efficiently and not go off on any impossible tangent. Be cooperative with a co-worker.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Early make the arrangements for a good time this evening, but don't be extravagant. Enjoy yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be more concerned with home affairs and steer clear of outside contacts who are apt to be self-seeking.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are able to handle business and communication matters very well during the day, but avoid such in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Concentrate on how to make more money during the day so that you will not feel lack.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Go after personal aims and you have every opportunity to gain them. Steer clear of a quarrel at home in the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Use more practical methods for gaining your aims during the day and be careful in motion, especially in the evening.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A good day to gain your personal wishes by being practical and also fair with others, but try to economize tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will have a knack for making worthwhile and prominent friends and be very popular with the public in general. Teach to adhere to what is conventional otherwise your progeny later in life could get into something outlandish and lose much of the fine promise in this chart.

Study shows farm living causes pain

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new study says stress on farm families is causing "profound pain and suffering," including behavior changes in farm children, high rates of depression and aggressiveness and increases in drinking and suicide.

And to further bring home the human toll behind today's dark farm financial statistics, three actresses who have played distressed farm wives offered emotional testimony before a Democratic House panel on Monday, saying farmers "are being betrayed by this government and left to suffer."

The study, by Judith and William Heffernan of the University of Missouri's rural sociology department, focused on a north-central Missouri county and 40 families who had gotten out of farming in the past five years.

Mrs. Heffernan presented the study's results to a group of farm wives, then listened with members of the group as the actresses — Jane Fonda, Sissy Spacek and Jessica Lange — sought to attract new publicity to the plight of farmers.

The county, which was not identified because of concern for the privacy of those interviewed, was representative of the corn-soybean-hog product mix typical of the Midwestern states where the current farm financial crisis has been most severe, the researchers said.

Interviews with the families showed virtually all had suffered depression during the transition, with 50 percent of men and 69 percent of women still experiencing it. Heavy majorities also reported "feelings of worthlessness," "great changes in moods" and sleeping and eating problems.

Eighteen percent of men and 12 percent of women said they were drinking more, and one-third of the respondents said they became "unable to think or respond logically."

"Social workers who have looked at the data are surprised by both the high levels of stress reactions reported and by the continuing levels," Mrs. Heffernan said in presenting the study to the group. Women involved in Farm Economics.

Fifty-six percent of parents reported changes in children's behavior, such as declining school grades and increased anxieties, demand for attention, crying, rebelliousness, sleep disorders and aggressiveness.

"Children reportedly became 'very sad' and seemed to 'lose their innocence,'" Mrs. Heffernan reported.
