Auction

Q. I know there will be an auction during the Heart of the City celebration June 1. I was wondering if anyone can participate in the bidding for items?

A. Yes. The auction will begin at 2 p.m. on Main Street, according to LeRoy Tillery of the Chamber of Commerce. In order to bid on merchandise, participants must obtain a bid number before the bidding begins. A headquarters to obtain a number will be located at the site, Tillery said.

After the auction is over, the bid numbers will be used for a drawing for a special gift, Tillery said.

Calendar

Memorial

TODAY

A special memorial service for veterans will be held at Trinity Memorial Park at 2 p.m. The event is open to the public.

SUNDAY

The Dance Gallery recital will be at 3 p.m. at the Big Spring High School Auditorium. Admission is $1 for anyone over 12.

MONDAY

Big Spring schools will not have school today due to the Memorial Day holiday.

PTA skate night is at Skateland from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Skating is $1.50 and miniature golf is $1.

TUESDAY

Registration for summer school at Howard College is today. Call the college at 267-6311 for more information.

THURSDAY

Big Spring High School graduation ceremonies will be held at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum at 8 p.m. with Dr. Bob Riley, president of the Howard County Junior College District, speaking.

Tops on TV

Indy 500

ABC will air the Indianapolis 500 beginning at 8 p.m. on channel 2. Stephanie Powers stars as twin sisters in part one of "Deceptions" at 8 p.m. on channel 13.

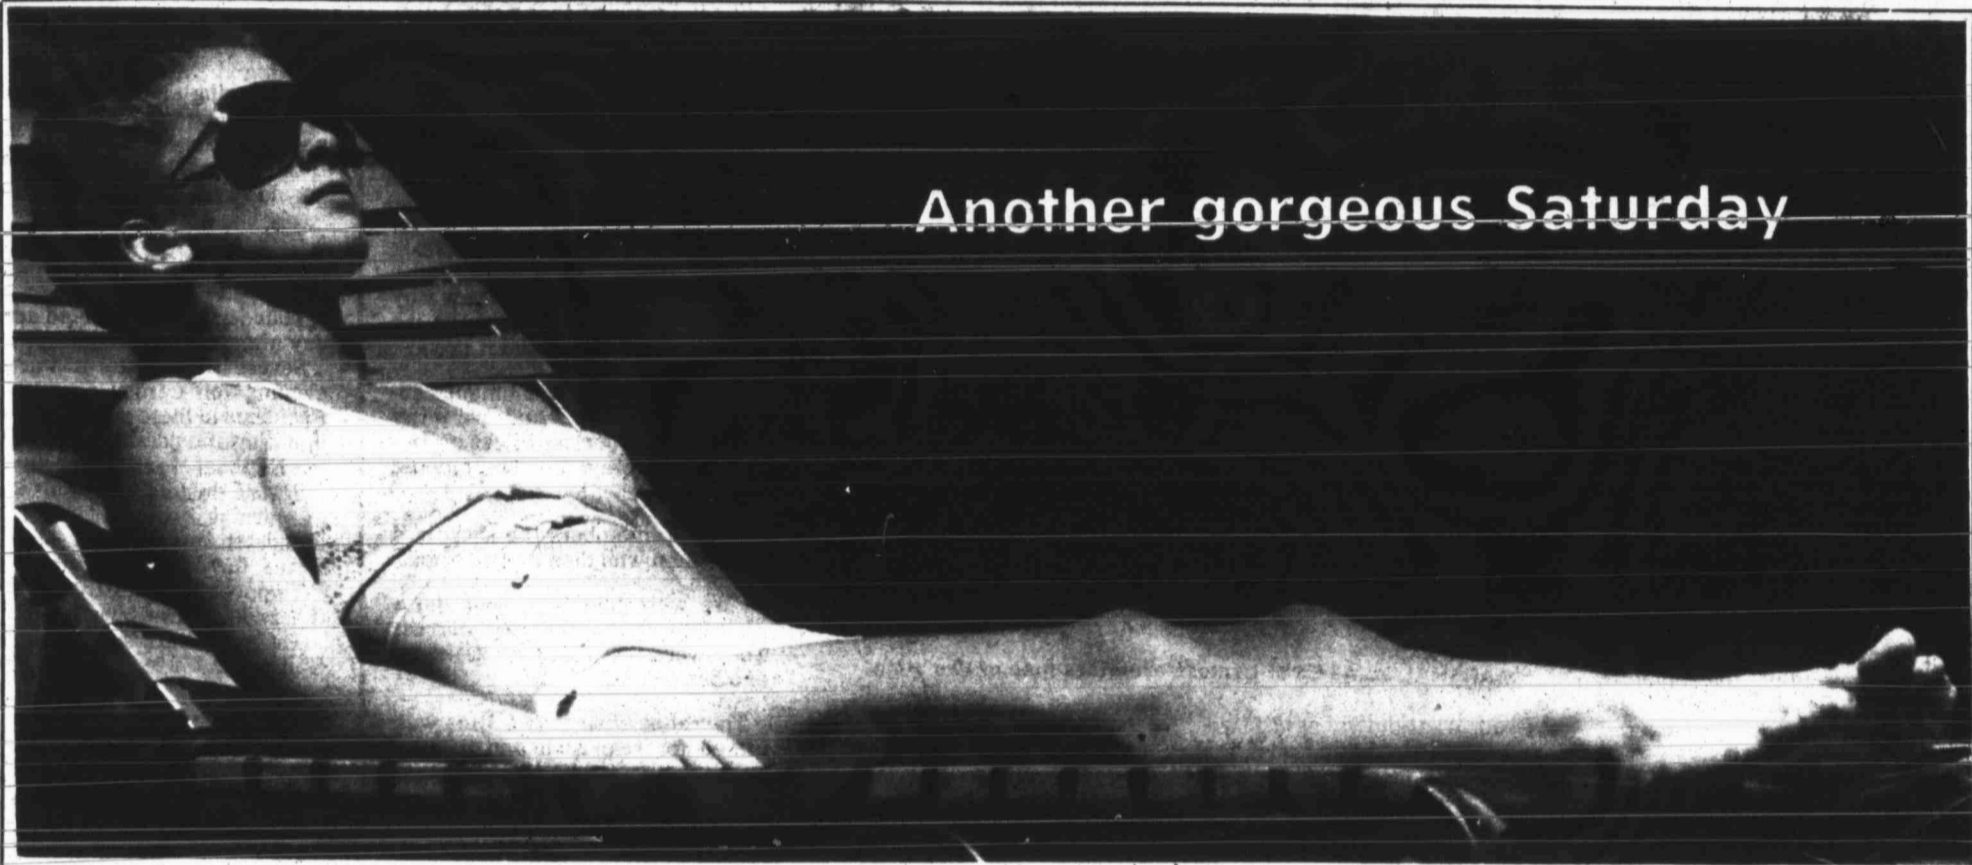

Outside

Warm

Warm temperatures are forecast for this holiday weekend. Look for highs in the mid 90s today and southerly winds, 10 to 20 miles per hour. The area has a 20 percent chance of rain. Tonight, lows should fall into the mid 60s and the chance of rain increases to 30 percent.

Atom smasher project threatened

Staff and news service reports
COLLEGE STATION — A trans-Atlantic physics race between the United States and a European scientific consortium could spell trouble for a proposed, $3 billion atom smasher that could be built in Texas.

West Texas is one of the sites being considered for the atom smasher. Several weeks ago, Peter McIntyre, a Texas A&M associate professor of physics, was in Big Spring to meet with area business leaders to talk about the impact of the research station.

Should this area be selected, the most likely site for the atom smasher is an area near Garden City. Granville Hahn was named to head a committee of area businessmen interested in bringing the atom smasher to West Texas.

The facility would have an annual operating cost of $250 million a year and would employ 2,000 people. Of that number, about 500 would have Ph.D.'s, another 700 would be engineers and high-grade technicians and the remainder would be service personnel.

But the superconducting supercollider, a gigantic accelerator up to 100 miles in circumference, will not be built if CERN, the European

Farm income drop seen

Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Texas net farm income for 1985 is expected to sink more than 20 percent from last year's level, according to a study by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service released Saturday.

The study, prepared for Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, said the drop in net Texas farm income would amount to about 25 percent if inflation is added to the estimates.

Lower commodity prices related to a decline in agricultural exports were cited as the major reason for falling farm income in Texas.

Economists with the Extension Service, part of the Texas A&M University System, estimated that net Texas farm income in 1984 was about $1.3 billion and that 1985 farm income will be in the range of $1 billion.

"This study is going to be optimistic," predicted Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, citing the most recent export estimates. "We're in a heap of trouble with our agricultural dilemma and the next two years look very bleak to me as a farmer and a member of Congress."

Oil tax incentive restored

Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — In a final meeting on the contents of the administration's tax simplification plan, President Reagan intervened and restored a major tax incentive for the oil and gas industry, Rep. Tom Loeffler, R-Hunt, confirmed Friday.

However, in the final proposal to be introduced in Congress by Reagan next week, royalty owners would lose out on keeping a part of the longstanding percentage depletion allowance, according to a high-level Energy Department source.

The final administration plan previously included a two-year write-off for intangible drilling Laboratory for Particle Physics, builds its own large-scale accelerator, says McIntyre.

McIntyre said this week that an international agreement forbids construction of both the European and the American accelerators. Delay of the U.S. project, he said, could ensure that the next steps in high-energy physics are taken in Europe.

"We're having a bit of a war of nerves," he said. "If the U.S. procrastinates for a few years more, its place in the sun will fade."

McIntyre is the spokesman for the accelerator project of the Houston Area Research Center, a consortium of A&M, the University of Texas, the University of Houston and Rice University. The center's Texas Accelerator Center has received $11.4 million to design magnets for the U.S. accelerator.

The center is competing with several national laboratories to win approval of its magnet design. The superconducting supercollider, or Texatron, would consist of two rings of superconducting magnets in a tunnel 30 feet underground, built by the U.S. Department of Energy.

Besides the West Texas site there are five other Texas sites and many other sites around the country are being considered for the project.

"If the Europeans committed to the large hadron collider (the proposed CERN accelerator), it could spell the demise of high-energy physics in this country," he said.

The Vietnamese refugee who became a valedictorian

By LISA MUSSER

In 1975, he felt lost. He was in a strange country far from his home of Vietnam. He knew no English.

At age 9, he was enrolled in the 3rd grade in a Big Spring elementary school. He was forced to do 1st grade work until he was able to perform at his grade level.

In 1985, Quang Mai, former Vietnamese refugee, is the valedictorian of Big Spring High School. He and other members of his graduating class will attend commencement ceremonies at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

"I realized I had a chance to be the top," Mai said. "I love competing."

four years.

He resides in Big Spring with his grandmother, Tam Chung, and his sister, Lan Mai. His aunt, Julie Chau, also is a resident of Big Spring.

His parents and nine brothers and sisters still live in Vietnam.

Mai said that when he came to Big Spring, he felt many people thought it was impossible for him to succeed academically. This inspired him to prove just the opposite. Ten years later, his competitive spirit has brought him from the bottom of the class to the top.

Mai, his sister, his aunt, and his grandparents left Vietnam at the end of the war and arrived in the United States on April 28, 1975. He said his parents "didn't know" that they had left. His grandmother told them in a letter after their arrival.

Mai and his sister lived in Vietnam with his aunt and his grandparents because his parents could not afford to support them.

Mai said his grandparents wanted to leave because "they were scared." The war had not yet come close to where he lived in Saigon, but his grandparents and aunt wanted to ensure their safety. Had his grandparents known then that they would never return to Vietnam, "they would have never left," he said. "They thought they'd hide off and come back after the war."

His grandfather died in Big Spring in December 1982. His aunt Julie had worked for the U.S. government in Vietnam and had learned English there. His family's immigration was sponsored by Lt. Col. Stanley Hanson, formerly of Webb Air Force Base.

Shiite tanks attack fails

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Palestinian guerrillas pounded to a standstill on Saturday a tank-led attack by Shiite Moslem forces around Beirut refugee camps.

Protests in the southern port city of Sidon and clashes in the Bekaa Valley meanwhile fueled fears of a nationwide Shiite-Palestinian confrontation. Fighting raged for the sixth day straight in the Palestinian refugee camps of Sabra, Chatilla and Bourj Barajneh, and Syria consulted with other Arab states on ways to end the bloodletting.

Black leader kidnapped

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Moments after the end of a prayer service for peace among rival black anti-apartheid groups, youths in the crowd leaving the soccer stadium pulled three blacks from a truck and stabbed them.

The attackers, said to be wearing T-shirts of the United Democratic Front, then kidnapped Mbuzeli Dukumbana, regional leader of the Azanian People's Organization, or AZAPO, witnesses said. Dukumbana later said the youths took him to a deserted area in a Port Elizabeth township, put a gasoline-soaked tire around his neck and were about to set him alight when a car approached and they scattered.

Students to end protest

SEOUL, South Korea — Militant South Korean students said Sunday they will end their four-day occupation of a downtown U.S. facility, staged to protest against the Seoul government and against American support for South Korean leaders.

The students put up a poster early Sunday in a second-floor window of the U.S. Information Service building, where they have holed up in a library since noon Thursday.

Explosions rock Corsica

AJACCIO, Corsica — Eight bombs exploded Saturday in southern Corsica, police said, the fourth series of attacks to rock the French Mediterranean island this month.

The explosions caused heavy damage but no injuries. Bombed were four banks, the offices of a local ferry company, an insurance company, and two apartments belonging to people from the French mainland.

Indians seize gold bars

NEW DELHI, India — Customs officials seized gold bars valued at $400,000 which were hidden in diplomatic cargo addressed to an Afghan Embassy official, a customs official said Saturday.

Assault on the emir

Kuwait monarch survives car bomb attack

KUWAIT (AP) — A suicide attacker crashed a car bomb Saturday into the royal motorcade of the emir of Kuwait, killing himself and three other people in the explosion, but missing the ruler of this oil-rich state, officials said.

The Arab monarch, his face bruised and with plaster struck over his cuts, went on television shortly afterward to tell his subjects he was "in good health."

In Beirut, Lebanon, the terrorist group Jihad Islami, believed to be comprised of fundamentalist Moslems linked to Iran, claimed responsibility for the attack, and threatened new assassination attempts if convicted terrorists now behind bars in Kuwait are not freed.

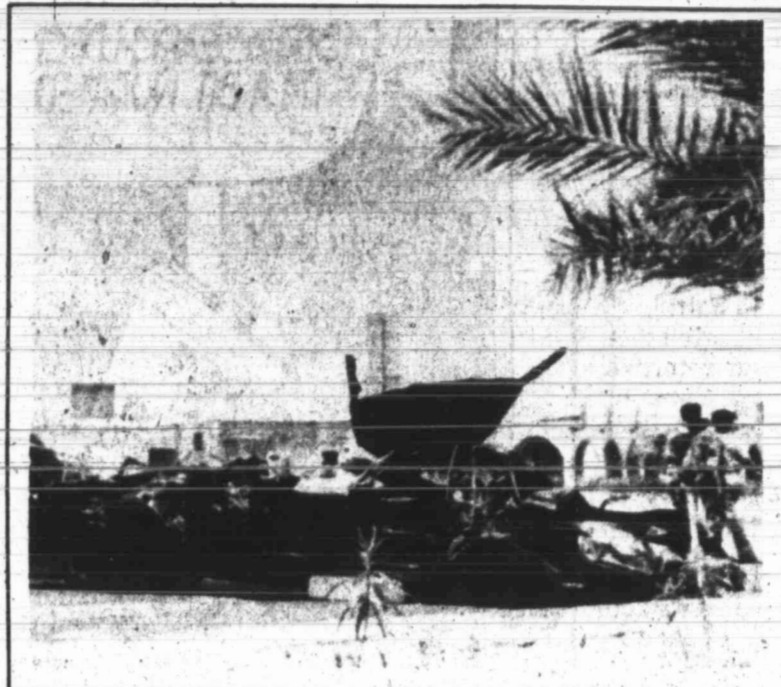

Sheik Jaber al-Ahmed al-Sabah, 56, was on his way to al-Sief palace when, according to witnesses, a car bomb went off in the middle of the convoy, sending fire and black smoke into the air.

Two royal guardsmen and one pedestrian were killed and 12 people were injured in the attack, security officials said.

The blast damaged vehicles and shattered windows in high-rise buildings on the Arabian Gulf Highway, about one mile from the U.S. Embassy compound and less than a mile from the royal palace.

The Interior Ministry said that the explosives-laden car shot out at one point along the highway, "tried to ram into the emir's motorcade, blew up and burned a number of cars."

Bystanders said the car zoomed out of a filling station, crashed into the convoy near the royal limousine, then exploded.

The car bomb driver perished in the explosion, the ministry said in a statement distributed by the official Kuwait News Agency.

No arrests were mentioned, and officials in this tiny Persian Gulf country did not identify suspects. Iraq blamed Iran for the assassination attempt and said it would raid several targets in the Iranian capital of Tehran in retaliation. Iraqi state radio, monitored in Bahrain, announced the decision late Saturday and said it was taken at a meeting of Iraqi leadership chaired by President Saddam Hussein.

Pope welcomes new cardinals.

Pope elevates 28 to cardinal

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John Paul II gave Marxist Nicaragua and Ethiopia their first cardinals on Saturday and then cautioned all 28 new princes of the Church that their path may be one of hardships and "even persecution."

The pontiff told the 28, resplendent in bright red vestments, and the nearly 20,000 faithful gathered for the elevation in St. Peter's Square, that the cardinals "must have no illusions about the way they will be received."

In his three consistories since becoming pope in 1978, the 65-year-old pontiff has sharply increased the number of cardinals from Communist and Marxist-ruled lands.

Cardinals elevated Saturday also included two from the United States, five from Italy, two each from Canada, France and West Germany, and one each from Austria, Belgium, Chile, India, the Netherlands, Nigeria, the Philippines, Spain and Venezuela.

2 hurt in Navy jet crash

SAN DIEGO — A disabled U.S. Navy plane narrowly missed holiday pleasure boats Saturday as it crashed into the busy harbor, injuring the two fliers aboard, authorities said.

The A-4 attack plane had just taken off from North Island Naval Air Station when it plunged into the bay shortly after 1 p.m. The two crewmen aboard — a man and a woman — were taken to area hospitals. The man was in serious condition and the woman was in good condition, she said.

Freighter runs aground

MIAMI — An unloaded 300-foot freighter ran aground off Miami in stormy weather Saturday afternoon. The crew of the Cypriot vessel Reefer Merchant remained on board in an effort to float it loose.

The vessel was not in immediate danger, and no oil spill was reported. The Reefer Merchant, which was not carrying any cargo at the time, ran ashore off Key Biscayne near an area called Stiltsville around 2 p.m. EDT.

Trident sub joins fleet

NEW LONDON, Conn. — The sixth member of the Navy's Trident submarine fleet, the USS Alabama, was welcomed into service Saturday by a former chief of naval operations who charged the Soviet Union's sole aim was "to acquire world domination."

At least 33 people, members of the Coalition to Stop Trident, were arrested before the ceremony when they attempted to block buses carrying people into the Naval Underwater Systems Center, site of the commissioning of the nuclear-powered, missile-firing Trident.

4 septuplets improving

ORANGE, Calif. — Four of the five surviving Frustaci premature septuplets were in improved condition Saturday, while the status of a boy named Baby B remained unchanged.

The infants' mother, Patricia Frustaci, who underwent a Caesarian section delivery Tuesday, also was reported in better condition a day after Friday's death of a one-pound baby boy nicknamed Peanut.

United talks broken off

CHICAGO — United Airlines and striking pilots, spurring a final settlement proposal by federal mediators, broke off negotiations Saturday after a 23-hour bargaining marathon failed to end the pilots' nine-day walkout against the nation's largest airline.

Soviets warn 'Star Wars' will destroy arms talks

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet commentators on Saturday were pessimistic about chances for agreement when the Geneva arms talks resume on May 30, and made it clear that Moscow wants U.S. space weapons research halted.

The Soviets warned that the United States could never succeed in creating an impregnable space-based defense against missiles, and pledged to match any such efforts.

The focus on "Star Wars" weapons set the stage for the second round of Geneva arms talks starting Thursday. Opening "Studio Nine," a television discussion program, commentator Leonid Zorin stressed the first round had been "difficult, very difficult ... the Americans have not yet shown themselves ready to take a constructive position."

Commentator Vladen Kuznetsov wrote that "the U.S. current posture in Geneva does not yet inspire optimism" in reviewing the second round in the newspaper Rural Life (Selskaya Zhizn).

He said "the Soviet delegation will be pressing for a practical agreement within acceptable, reasonable time" and insisted any accord must link nuclear and space weapons.

Thanking those who died for us

Most of them are very young. Most are very scared. And most are very far from home.

They've been dying like that for almost 200 years. They wore blue for a century. Later, some clad themselves in gray. Today, their color is green. But in death, they all know the same color. The red blood of a soldier fallen in battle.

This weekend we set aside a memorial of thanksgiving. A time to remember these American men who never returned from Tripoli or Beirut, Gettysburg or Hammelburg, Ypres or Iwo Jima.

We thank them for what we call their sacrifice, their death of honor in defense of the flag, the country, our way of life.

We should thank them most that they died. Not us. That they caught the bullet, the shrapnel, the shell. Not us.

Some died in worthy wars, defending the coast from British invasion, ridding the world of evil tyranny. Some died forgotten, fallen in bad memories of civil war, Vietnam, Lebanon. There is nothing heroic or glamorous or pretty about dying in battle. There is nothing but pain and stink and loneliness to the end of a soldier.

This is a holiday. But we should treat it as an anguished funeral. Every time a soldier falls, a little piece of all of us dies with him.

And we must thank them. Thank them all. For our soldiers allow us to pretend we are more civilized than we really are.

Steve Chapman

When smoke gets in your wallet

"If I knew for a certainty that a man was coming to my house with the conscious design of doing me good," wrote Henry David Thoreau, "I should run for my life."

He might have been thinking of the Tobacco Products Liability Project. Its method of doing us all good is to encourage lawsuits against cigarette companies to make them pay the costs of the deaths and diseases caused by smoking.

Some 25 lawsuits have been filed by smokers who have diseases related to smoking — lung cancer, heart disease, emphysema — and by the families of smokers who have died from such diseases. These are the first plausible suits since the 1960s, when courts ruled mostly in favor of cigarette makers. They've won a small victory in federal court: a ruling that the federally required warning on packages doesn't protect the makers from liability.

The reasoning behind the suits departs from a correct theory of product liability law. It ought to aim, as it traditionally has, at compensating the unwitting victims of defective goods. These suits seek to compensate people who have smoked despite being warned that it's hazardous.

The liability project, organized by Northeastern University law Professor Richard Daynard, offers other arguments for its approach. One is that cigarettes, which kill an estimated 350,000 Americans a year, are so "unreasonably dangerous" that no warning is adequate. Another is that the existing warning has been invalidated by the industry's denials that its product is dangerous. Another is that smoking, being addictive, is not a voluntary activity for which smokers can be held responsible.

These arguments are at war with the principles underlying a free society. Their purpose is to narrow the boundaries within which adults are allowed to engage in activities that involve risk — or, at least, to spare the risk-takers the costs of their actions.

Rains bless the fields

I love to write about the weather. Of all topics, it is nearly universally of interest to readers. And to writers.

Last year at this time I was grimacing through tortured prose on a tortuous situation: drought. This year all the clichés come to mind — high cotton, for one.

What goes around comes around, for another. This time around we're flush with moisture. In the pink. Count 'em, nearly 9 beautiful inches of precipitation in 1985.

This time last year we had recorded just a fraction over 1 inch.

By my calculations, 1985 is the ninth wettest year on record through the first five months — and we still have a few days left in the month. That record

Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Sunday, May 26, the 146th day of 1985. There are 219 days left in the year. This is the Christian festival of Pentecost and the Jewish festival of Shavuoth.

Today's highlight in history:
On May 26th, 1868, the attempt to remove President Andrew Johnson from office failed by one vote in the U.S. Senate.

On this date:
In 1521, Martin Luther was banned by the Edict of Worms because of his religious beliefs and writings.
In 1805, Napoleon Bonaparte was crowned king of Italy.

In 1865, arrangements were made in New Orleans for the surrender of Confederate forces west of the Mississippi.
In 1913, Actors' Equity Association was organized.
In 1940, the evacuation of Allied troops from Dunkirk, France, began.

In 1969, the Apollo 10 astronauts returned safely to earth after a successful eight-day dress rehearsal for the first manned moon landing.

Ten years ago: Lebanon's military cabinet resigned after three days of continuing fighting between Christians and Moslems.

Five years ago: Republican presidential candidate George Bush announced in Houston that he was ending his two-year campaign, virtually guaranteeing that his party's nomination would go to Ronald Reagan.

Insight

On a clear day you can see the Legislature

By JIM DAVIS
AUSTIN — Early last week clouds of gloom hung over the State Capitol because a special session appeared likely.

Some legislators warned aides not to give up their Austin apartments or to plan early vacations.

Session-weary aides approached reporters asking, "Is it true?" Session-weary reporters approached other reporters and aides asking, "Is it true?"

The question divided the optimists from the pessimists. Everyone had a view, but no one knew for sure.

A legislative session is like a party thrown to put together a huge jigsaw puzzle by a certain time. If everyone cooperates and helps put the pieces in place, the party ends on time and everyone goes home.

But if someone hides a piece or otherwise fouls up the process, the game must go on no matter how tired the participants are.

One missing piece early last week was the state budget. Each house had passed its own version of how the $36 billion or so of expected state revenue should be spent over the next two years. And the versions differed greatly. Five senators and five representatives were trying to work out a compromise, but it appeared for a while that the job was just too big to be completed in time.

Another missing piece was a state fee bill designed to raise money needed to help cover the budget items. Each house took a different approach to fees, and the legislators trying to reach an agreement were having problems. Then there were Sunset bills for several key goes back to 1900 — 85 years — at the offices of the U.S. Big Spring Field Station. The only years with more moisture through May were 1900, 1905, 1908, 1922, 1923, 1932, 1941 and 1966.

By contrast, at this time last year 1984 was shaping up as the driest on record. Indeed, from January to June we did set a record for dryness.

What a difference a year makes. We've actually heard complaints of too much rain, rain so bountiful that it washed out seed and sent farmers back to plant anew.

We've had the best spring in a long, long time. Mild temperatures. Well-spaced and consistent rains for the farmers' fields. Greenery everywhere.

Last year we came into May on a prayer. March and April had come and gone under unyielding skies. May gave us three-quarters of an inch, so little that the parched fields sucked it up like they hadn't drank at all.

We closed out 1984 with a scant 13.4 inches. We live in semi-arid land, but that was a dismal showing. Dryland cotton farming suffered for it. Yields were thin to nonexistent. Many farmers simply didn't plant; there were no real planting rains.

Fields were so dry that the rangeland burned. Livestock producers wondered how they would survive. Some didn't. Even these generous rains won't immediately restore the pasture lands. But it's a start.

It would have been fine if we had just hit our normal rainfall for the first months of this year. Usually, through five months, we've had about 6 inches of rain. It's not the tropics, but it is what we're used to getting on average, year in and year out, for the last 85 years. And we can live with that amount.

Six inches of rain would have suited farmers and ranchers and city folks just fine, I suspect. Instead, we have 9 inches going into the growing season.

It's an omen. Good things will come this year.

LAST WEEK I ASKED for a few good volunteers who would be willing to contribute some time and thought to improving communications between the newspaper and the community. Response has been great, and I appreciate it. In the next few weeks, I'll be in touch with individuals about what shape and substance this "Friends of the Newspaper" group will have.

Meanwhile, if there are any others who would like to participate, please get in touch with me at 263-7331, or by writing Box 1431, Big Spring, TX 79720.

Around The Rim

Castro can read this

By KEITH BRISCOE

If you're like four in five Americans, you may have read last week about Radio Marti, our government's AM attempt to saturate Cuba with news American-style.

But if you're that one in five, you couldn't have read about Radio Marti. You're illiterate.

The Department of Education last week revealed that 20 percent of American adults can't read or write adequately, which means they can't function in a highly industrialized society.

That announcement came one day after the switch was turned on for Radio Marti, which is aimed at beaming capitalist propaganda to Castro's communist island.

Administration spokesmen said the U.S. has a responsibility to inform the Cuban people, to give them the news Castro won't — stories about food lines, crop failures and general tyranny by the Havana regime.

Meanwhile, Education Department officials were insisting that it is not the responsibility of the federal government to educate illiterate adults. The states and families should do that, they said.

We must wonder what compels our administration to spend millions on bombarding the Cubans with ridiculous propaganda while forsaking the general welfare of its own citizens.

Millions of Americans can't read even their own Constitution. Their illiteracy prevents them from fully participating in our democracy.

But that seems to be of low priority among our national needs. Of more importance, it seems, is that we ensure Cubans know what their troops supposedly are doing in Nicaragua.

One item certainly won't make the airwaves of Radio Marti: All Cubans can read about Marti in their newspapers, because the Castro government has eradicated illiteracy.

because special sessions are costly and unhappy affairs. They are particularly pitiful when they are called at the end of a regular session simply to clear up uncompleted work.

At the end of a regular 140-day legislative session, everyone who has anything to do with it is worn out. Particularly in the last few weeks, many legislators put in 12- to 18-hour days attending floor sessions and committee meetings and keeping up with their own bills.

Whenever they get a free moment, a lobbyist is there putting in a pitch for support or opposition to some bill.

Adding to the legislators' blood pressure is the worry that some key legislation they are pushing will be lost in the process. The Texas legislative system makes it easier to kill legislation than to pass it.

Anything that is slightly controversial can be killed along the way if the sponsor becomes careless or lazy. And even if the sponsor is diligent and hardworking, the legislation can get lost in the process as everyone fights for position in the final days of a session.

The final night of a session is like a scene from the movie "Rocky." The fighters are exhausted, bruised and sometimes bloody, leaning on each other to stand up (either from weariness or from too much end-of-the-session partying). It is finally clear who are the winners and who are the losers, but everyone is happy that the whole thing is over.

And no one is anxious to have a rematch anytime soon.

Congress aides tour Texas oilpatch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dallas Energy Forum officials seeking to educate Congress about the oil industry are paying for a group of tax-writing committee staffers to visit the East Texas oilpatch this weekend.

Ten congressional aides were scheduled to spend the weekend in Tyler examining drilling rigs, a refinery and the oil museum in Kilgore, Texas.

"Our objective is educational. We're not a lobbying group," said Ed Beanland, a Dallas Energy Forum member with the accounting firm Arthur Young & Co. "We want to get these aides out of Washington and down to the oil patch, to let them see, touch and feel (intangible drilling costs), intangibles and tangibles.

Oil and gas industry representatives claim the changes would reduce the industry's cash by 40 percent and cripple exploration drilling and are lobbying against the Treasury's proposals.

Rep. Shaw fails in attempt to cut state agency travel

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN — Efforts by Rep. Larry Don Shaw to trim state agency travel budgets and save money won't be traveling far.

The measure, sponsored by the Big Spring Democrat, was slated for House consideration repeatedly this past week, but never was acted on.

Parliamentary rules that kicked in at midnight Friday effectively killed the proposal because it never won Senate approval.

Shaw's proposal, a cost-saving measure originally suggested by state Comptroller Bob Bullock, would have required state agencies to trim travel budgets by 10 percent. They would be frozen at that level the following fiscal year.

Bullock estimated such a measure could save state coffers $18 million during the 1986-87 biennium.

Agencies, under the proposal, would be allowed to seek exemptions from the Legislative Budget Board.

Shaw said that, even if the bill fails, it will send a signal to state agencies and commissions that they should curtail the use of state agency aircraft when possible.

Instead, he said, they should focus on less expensive commercial aircraft if schedules and time permit.

College tuition may go up this summer

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Students may face higher tuition this summer instead of next fall, if a bill approved by the Senate Friday makes it past the House before final adjournment at midnight Monday.

The proposal by Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene, would make the tuition increase bill effective immediately upon signature by Gov. Mark White. The bill currently has an effective date of Sept. 1.

Both houses already have passed legislation that would hike tuition at Texas colleges from its current rate of $4 per semester hour to $12 for resident students. Non-resident students will pay $120 per semester hour when the bill goes into effect.

Jones says some colleges, mainly medical schools, begin the fall semester before Sept. 1, so there has been confusion on whether students there will pay higher tuition.

"Are you saying that if the governor signs the bill tomorrow, then students who go to summer school would face higher tuition?" Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, asked Jones.

"If the school starts after the bill is signed, yes," Jones replied.

The bill was passed on final reading by a 21-4 vote, with Truan and Sens. Gonzalo Barrientos, D-Austin; Oscar Mauzy, J-Grand Prairie; and Craig Washington, D-Houston, voting against it.

After the bill was passed, Jones said most students won't notice the difference.

"How many students do you think looked at the effective date? Any increase is never welcome," he said.

The bill must still be passed by a House committee and then by the full House before going to Gov. Mark White for his signature or veto.

At midnight Friday, the Legislature's 72-hour rule went into effect. The rule restricts lawmakers from taking up any bill that already has not been passed by a committee. The 72-hour rule can only be suspended by a two-thirds vote in the House.

Q: I've been trying to sell my house for nearly a year. A friend suggested I try seller-assisted financing. Are there any particular problems I should be aware of with this type of "selling"?

A: Yes. Under this type of situation, a seller should be very cautious. This particular type of financing usually calls for the seller receiving downpayment with the balance paid to him over a set period of years. The seller needs to remember if the buyer is late or inconsistent in his payments, the burden of enforcement of the contract falls upon the seller. This is a situation where you would be wise to use a real estate broker's assistance with such things as the paperwork, checking out a potential buyer's financial responsibility, etc.

Auditors claim Texas Utilities could save millions with change

AUSTIN (AP) — A five-month audit of Texas Utilities Electric Co. affiliates shows they could save more than $21 million by changing ways raw material for fuel is mined and transported and making other operation improvements.

The report, presented to the Public Utilities Commission on Friday, said TUEC affiliates have provided a reliable source of fuel at a reasonable price, but that some changes could net big savings.

Affiliates audited include the Texas Utilities Mining Co. and the Texas Utilities Fuel Co., which provide lignite and natural gas to TUEC. A third affiliate that provides accounting and finance services also was audited.

Savings of almost $6 million yearly could result from changes, reductions and elimination of some mining methods used by the Texas Utilities Mining Company, the report said.

Another $5.7 million a year could be saved through a reduction in coal loading and truck hauling shifts, and $3 million could be saved annually if changes were made in Texas Utilities Mining Co.'s lignite mining planning process, the report said.

Phone bill amendment loses vote

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — A "piggyback" amendment to place a two-year ban on local phone calls that are billed much like long-distance failed in the Texas Senate Saturday.

Protests that the tactic might cost the state $10 million helped spark the amendment's 17-13 defeat. Sen. Chet Edwards, D-Duncanville, sponsored the amendment, which was based on a bill he pushed through the Senate earlier this month.

Those voting to table, and thus kill the amendment, included John Montford, D-Lubbock,

Texas Senate approves patient's 'right to die' bill

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Despite protests that lawmakers are taking the decision "from the Lord's hands," the Texas Senate approved a bill Saturday that would make it easier for the terminally ill to be removed from hospital life support systems.

Under the proposal sponsored by Rep. Bob Bush, D-Sherman, and Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, those terminally ill could either express their wish to live or die in writing, notify their doctors or name someone they trust to make the decision if they are incapable.

Final approval of the bill came on a voice vote.

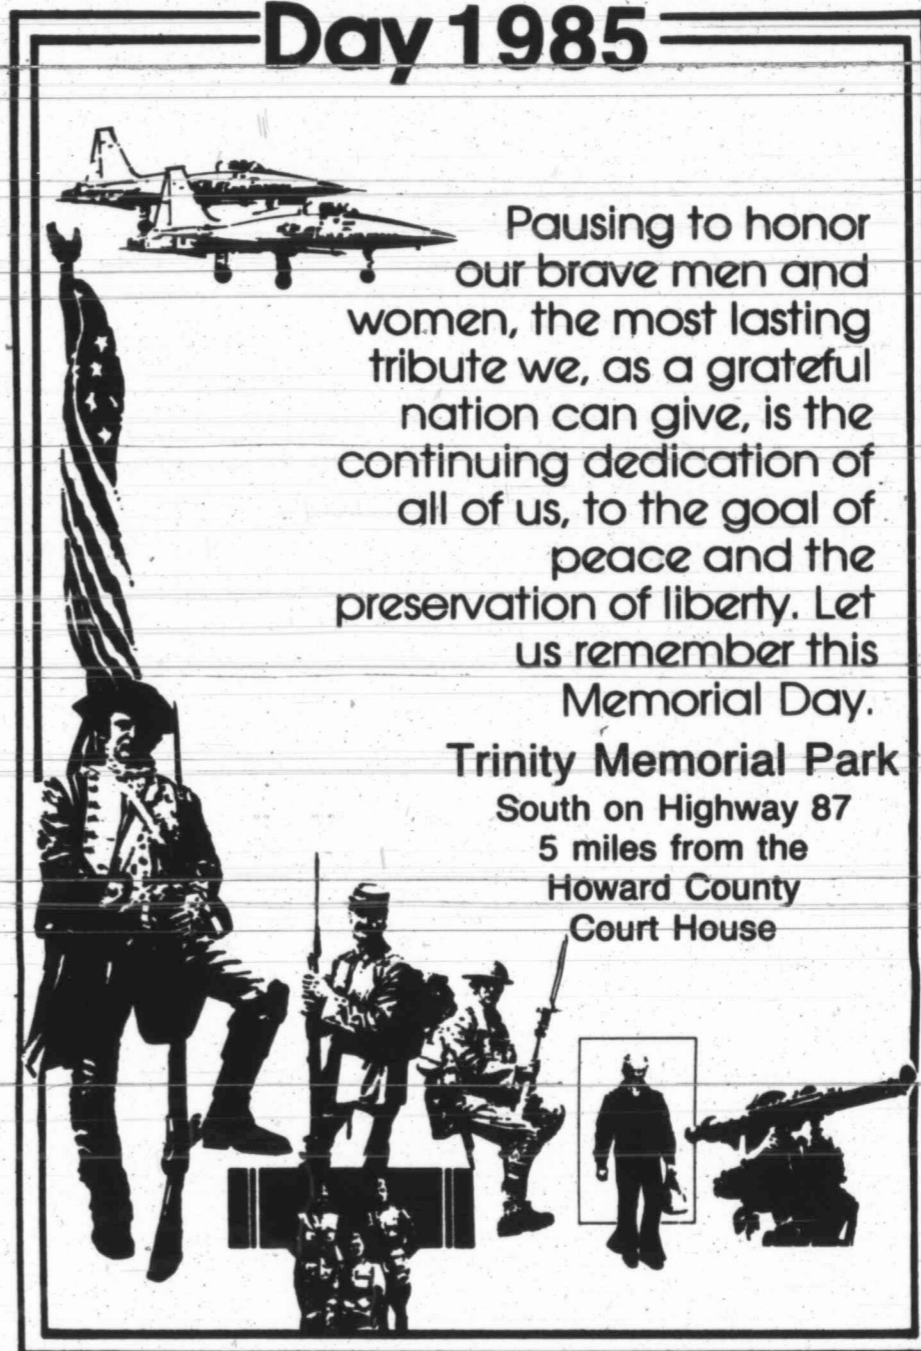

A Senate amendment also means it must go back for House approval before the legislation can go to the governor for his consideration.

Chemical fire forces evacuation in Eastland

EASTLAND (AP) — As about 1,500 residents remained away from their homes for a second day Saturday, experts continued monitoring a chemical blaze that erupted after a train carrying hazardous chemicals derailed and burst into flames.

A tanker car on the train carrying liquid propylene gas exploded only seconds after an empty water-hauling truck ran into one of four engines pulling the 99-car Missouri Pacific train on Friday.

A spokeswoman at the city's emergency command post, who refused to give her name, said the situation remained unchanged Saturday. She declined to estimate how long it would take to douse the fire and allow residents to return home.

Authorities evacuated about 1,500 residents — almost a third of this West Texas town's population — shortly after the accident, which triggered an explosion and a bright red ball of flames that shot into the sky over Eastland.

Train cars spewing chemicals are enveloped by thick, black smoke.

The blast shook buildings and homes miles from the accident. One pilot flying at 3,000 feet near the area said his plane was rocked by the blast.

Eastland is on Interstate 20, about 100 miles west of Fort Worth. "I ain't seen nothing like that since Vietnam," said Jimmy Tibbs, an employee of an oil company across from the intersection of Highway 69 and the Missouri Pacific train tracks where the accident occurred. Two abandoned houses and a barn, all 150 yards from the train tracks, were destroyed by the flames.

The truck driver, Gaylon E. Nelms of Eastland, was listed in critical condition at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene Saturday with first- and second-degree burns over 25 percent of his body, said hospital spokeswoman Jo Thompson. A total of 16 people were treated at Eastland Memorial Hospital for injuries. Five were admitted.

"It's a miracle that he is alive. It's a miracle that nobody was killed," said Eastland firefighter Robert Webb, who along with firefighter Phillip Arther, pulled Nelms from the truck.

Most of the injuries resulted from the heat of the explosion, authorities said.

At least 25 cars of the train were derailed by a combination of the blast and the impact of the collision. Among those were cars carrying hydrochloric acid, hydrofluoric acid, sulphuric acid and propylene.

Train derails in Dublin; town cleared

DUBLIN, Texas (AP) — At least 14 train cars derailed in this west central Texas town Saturday evening, causing a fire and the evacuation of a 10-block radius, authorities said.

The Missouri Pacific train derailed near a fertilizer plant about 6 p.m. on the edge of the town, about 40 miles southeast of an explosive Missouri Pacific derailment in Eastland Friday after a truck ran into the train.

Johnson said at least 14 cars derailed, nine of them containing benzene. One of the nine caught fire at the outlet valves and two were still leaking slightly at 9 p.m., Johnson said. One railroad bridge was destroyed and one was damaged.

The evacuation was halted once the fire was extinguished, said Kathy Mask, an Erath County sheriff's dispatcher. The exact number of those evacuated was not known but included residents of a low-income housing development and two nursing homes.

Texas blasts Sooners, 9-4

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas pitching ace Greg Swindell struck out eight batters and walked just one as the No. 3 Longhorns defeated No. 10 Oklahoma 9-4 in the NCAA Central Regional baseball tournament Saturday.

Swindell, 17-1, went the distance, retiring the Sooners in order four times. The sophomore southpaw won a much anticipated duel with Oklahoma starter Bobby Witt (7-3), who left the game in the eighth after giving up seven runs on eight hits.

The Sooners, 55-13, faced Lamar in Saturday nightcap to determine who would face the Longhorns in Sunday's championship game.

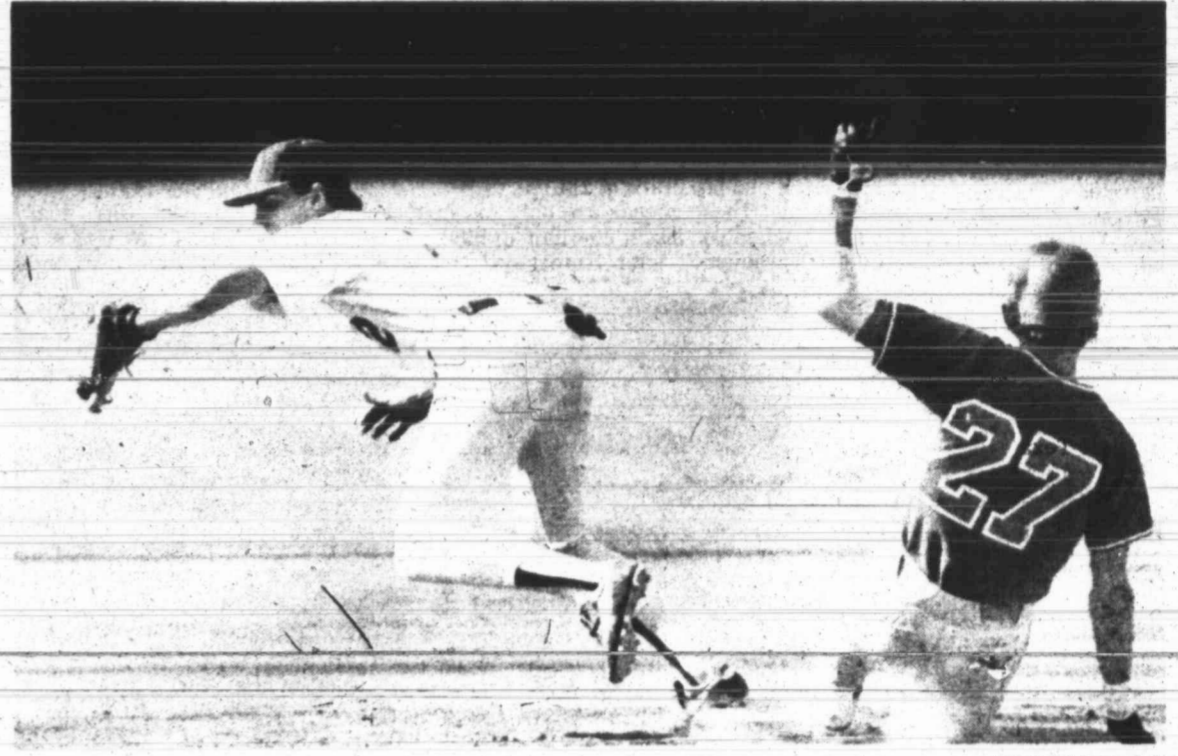

Lamar won its way out of the loser's bracket earlier Saturday by eliminating Houston from the tournament, 10-9.

The Longhorns, 59-12, broke a 1-1 tie with a two-run seventh inning and put the game out of reach with a four-run eighth for a 7-1 lead. Bud Ray, Dodd Johnson and Rusty Richards opened the inning with base hits. Richard's single knocked in Ray, and Witt walked in another run before being relieved by David Johnson. Johnson walked in another run, and Robbie Byers scored on a sacrifice.

After OU picked up two runs in bottom of eighth, Ray added a solo homer, and Johnson stole home in the ninth to put Texas ahead 9-3.

Oklahoma designated hitter Joe Jordan led the Sooner hitters with three hits and two RBIs.

In the Lamar-Houston game, Neil Reynolds' two-run homer in the eighth inning neutralized a furious Cougar comeback in the seventh inning.

Oklahoma's KEVIN PEARSON (left) stretches for the throw to second base as a sliding DENNIS COOK of Texas is thrown out in the top of the fourth inning.

Jerald Clark set up Reynolds' game-winning hit as he led off Lamar's half of the eighth by reaching first on pitcher Mike Walker's error.

Walker cleanly fielded Clark's grounder to the mound, then flubbed an easy throw to first for the out.

The Cougars sent 10 men to the plate in the seventh inning and scored five runs to take the lead for the first time.

Pat Hewes got two RBIs and Damon Baldwin, Mike Ingle and Benny Mota added one RBI apiece.

Houston almost regained the lead in the bottom of the ninth, when, with one man on, Mike Basso's long ball over the left field wall fell out of bounds.

Lamar, leading 1-0 after the first inning, chased Houston starter Larry Coker with a four-run second inning. Clark hit a three-run homer over the left field wall, and Davis added an RBI single to give the Cards a 5-1 lead.

Houston pulled to within one run in the bottom of the second by victimizing Lamar starter Mike Bowe and reliever Frank Lewis for four runs and four walks.

Lamar's record improved to 34-23. Houston ends its season at 44-17.

University of Houston star STEVE ELKINGTON watches his drive on the final hole of the NCAA golf championship in Haines City, Florida. ELKINGTON led the Cougars to their 16th title by defeating Oklahoma State by three strokes.

Houston claims 16th NCAA golf title

HAINES CITY, Fla. (AP) — Ohio State's Clark Burroughs sank a 2½-foot putt for par on the first playoff hole to win the individual title, while Houston swept to its 16th national crown in the team competition at the 88th annual NCAA Golf Championships Saturday.

Burroughs defeated Southern California's Sam Randolph, who blew a six-shot advantage in the last nine holes to lose a lead he had held throughout the tournament at Grenelefe Golf and Tennis Resort.

Houston, meanwhile, shot a 3-over-par 291 and held off Oklahoma State for a three-stroke victory to become the first team to repeat as champions since Wake Forest accomplished the feat in 1974 and 1975.

Marc Pendaries and Billy Ray Brown both shot 70s as Houston finished with a 72-hole total of 20-over-par 1,172.

Oklahoma State, which lost the crown to Houston by a single stroke in 1984, posted a 293 to close at 1,175.

Houston started the day with a 1-stroke lead after Oklahoma State fired a third-round 289 to make up 11 strokes on the leaders.

The Cougars, led by Steve Elkington, extended their advantage to nine shots midway through the round, and then fought off a challenge from Oklahoma State in the final nine holes.

Houston's 16 national titles have all come under Coach Dave Williams, who said this may be his last season.

"This is the greatest one ever. I always wanted sweet 16, and this is sweet 16," said Williams, who has coached the Cougars since 1952. "The fat lady finally got here. She sang and left, and we won again."

Williams, 66, said the triumph was especially sweet because the Cougars had won despite being penalized two strokes in the second round for violating a rule prohibiting players from exchanging advice on the golf course.

Florida finished third in the teams standings with a four-day total of 1,185, followed by Mississippi's 1,186 and Texas' 1,188. Arkansas, Georgia, Oklahoma, Stanford and Louisiana State completed the top 10.

Burroughs started the day three strokes behind Randolph, who led the individual competition after each of the first three rounds.

Randolph, the low amateur at the Masters last month, hiked his lead to six shots before faltering on the backside of the par 72, 7,100-yard Grenelefe west course.

Randolph bogeyed the 10th hole; double bogeyed No. 13, and took another bogey on the par 4, 440-yard 14th. The Southern California golfer missed an eight-foot putt for birdie that would have won the tournament on No. 18.

Burroughs, who rallied with birdies on the 11th and 15th holes, calmly sank a putt for par on the extra hole, while Randolph missed a six-footer and settled for a bogey.

"I was playing for second place until I birdied No. 11. When I did that, I thought maybe I had a chance," Burroughs said.

"I just kept grinding and grinding. Sam made a couple of mistakes and all of a sudden we were even," he added.

Burroughs shot a 34 on the backside to finish the round with a 71 and a 72-hole total of 3-under par 285. Randolph posted a 74 for the second day in a row.

Florida's Scott Dunlap fired a 68 to finish third at 287. Lamar's Trevor Dodds and Peter Persons of Georgia were next at 289, followed by four golfers at 290, including Oklahoma State's Scott Verplank.

Yale has won 21 NCAA golf championships, but none since 1943. Houston captured five straight between 1956 and 1960 and added four in a row from 1964-67. The Cougars also won in 1962, 1969, 1970, 1977, 1982 and 1984.

SMU charged in recruiting scandal

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University's football program has been charged with "major violations" by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and could be hit with tough sanctions, The Dallas Morning News reported Saturday.

The News quoted an unidentified source as saying the sanctions were mailed to SMU Friday. SMU President L. Donald Shields said late Friday he didn't expect the letter until next week and would not comment further.

SMU, under investigation by the NCAA since March 1983 for alleged recruiting violations, would have 15 days after receiving the notice of the violations to accept the penalties or appeal to the NCAA Council, The News said.

"I don't think it's any secret that they're (SMU) involved in major violations," the newspaper said, quoting another unnamed source.

In cases where a school has been found in violation of NCAA rules, major infractions have resulted in a ban on televised games and bowl appearances and a reduction in scholarships. Other sanctions have included the forced dissociation of athletic boosters who recruit and promote the football program, the newspaper said.

The NCAA has been investigating possible recruitment violations in SMU's football program since 1983.

The NCAA also has investigated the role of SMU boosters in recruiting players and the financing of automobiles owned by Mustangs players.

Bob Hitch, the SMU athletic director, and football coach Bobby Collins have provisions in their contracts stipulating they can be fired if they knowingly violate NCAA rules.

In the case of appeals, the Council rarely changes the Committee on Infractions' ruling, said David Berst, the NCAA director of enforcement. An appeal would keep the details of the case secret because the NCAA would not announce the findings until that process is complete. The appeal would be heard and decided in mid-August.

If the school and the NCAA maintain their silence beyond the week of June 10-17, it can be assumed SMU has appealed, sources told the News.

SMU could also sue the NCAA possibly claiming — because it would be its sixth probation period since 1968 — it has been a victim of selective enforcement, according to officials. SMU boosters, who declined to be named, have said money for extensive legal action is available. A suit might offset any sanctions until after the 1985 season. The Mustangs are expected to be a strong contender for the national championship this season.

SMU's third option would be to accept the penalties. If so, it would be the Mustangs' second football probation since 1981.

One source who has read the report told the News the violations are so serious that if proposed enforcement legislation were in effect, SMU would have its football program banned for as many as two years.

At the NCAA special Division I-A convention in New Orleans next month, it will be proposed that repeat violators have their programs banned for up to two seasons if any major infraction is committed in that sport within five years of an earlier major penalty, according to the News.

NCAA officials have said schools under investigation would not be subject to the stronger penalties if their appeals were heard after the proposed sanctions went into law.

"They're (SMU) a classic case of what they are proposing," the newspaper quoted one of the sources as saying.

"I don't think you'd have a choice (but to close down the SMU program). I don't know if it would be for two years. But somebody wouldn't be playing football."

Wadkins surges to Memorial lead

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) — Lanny Wadkins rammed in a 20-foot birdie putt on the final hole, surged past Hale Irwin and took a one-stroke lead Saturday after the third round of the Memorial golf tournament.

Wadkins, who put on a birdie-eagle burst on the 14th and 15th holes, played the back nine in 32, had a 5-under-par 67 for his quick-stepping trip around Jack Nicklaus' Muirfield Village Golf Club course and completed 54 holes in 208, eight-under par.

Irwin, sniffing and sneezing from an allergy attack, made his first bogey of the tournament on the eighth hole, added two more on the back and had to work hard to salvage a round of 73, one-over par.

A former winner of this event and a two-time U.S. Open champion, Irwin will take a 209 total into Sunday's final round of the chase for a $100,000 first prize.

Bill Kratzert, who scored eagle-3 on the 15th and birdied the last, had a round of 71 and is alone in third at 211.

Bill Rogers, a former British Open champion attempting to fight his way out of a two-year slump, had a 70 and was tied at 213 with Lon Hinkle. Hinkle shot 71 in the sunny weather.

The group at 214, six off the pace, included Canadian Dave Barr, Keith Fergus, Mark O'Meara, Scott Hoch and Roger Maltbie. Fergus had a 69, O'Meara 70, Hoch and Maltbie matched par-72 and Barr shot 74.

Nicklaus, who designed the course, founded the tournament, serves as the host and is the defending title-holder, took 74 strokes and completed three rounds at 221, five-over par.

Tom Watson, the 1984 Player of the Year but still without a victory this season, played the back nine in 40, had a 76 and was at 223.

Irwin, four shots clear of the field, five in front of Wadkins and without a bogey on his card for the first 36 holes, finally made a mistake he couldn't overcome on the eighth.

He put his tee shot in the right bunker on the par-3 hole, came out long and missed a 15-foot putt.

Wadkins, playing in front of him, birdied the eighth with a 25-footer that, he said, "broke the ice. I felt in control."

Still, he trailed by three when they made the turn.

After a couple of pars, Irwin — so very, very steady through the first 2½ rounds, suddenly became erratic. He went birdie-bogey-birdie-bogey beginning on the 12th, ending that string with a three-putt.

And Wadkins, already a two-time winner this season, made his big move on the 14th, where he lofted a sand wedge to within six feet of the flag and made the putt for birdie. That cut Hale's margin to one.

On the par-5 15th, the aggressive Wadkins lashed a three-wood second shot more than 230 yards to the green and ran in a 15-foot eagle putt that sent him leaping into the air. That brought them even.

Wadkins preserved his share of the lead with a par — but definitely not a routine par — on the short 16th. He missed the green, and his chip caught a slope and ran some 30 feet away. And he made the par putt.

"With me," he said, "when the ball starts to go in the hole, it starts to go in bunches."

The string continued on the 18th, where he holed another long one, 20-25 feet in length, and took sole control of the lead.

Scott paces Jenner Classic

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Steve Scott, the American record holder, used a driving finish to win the men's mile and go under four minutes for the 100th time in his career Saturday in the Bruce Jenner Classic, the first meet of the inaugural International Amateur Athletic Federation Mobil Grand Prix track and field circuit.

The 29-year-old Scott was the first American to record 100 sub-four minute miles — and the second in history — after being timed in 3 minutes, 56.5 seconds. The only other runner to reach that milestone was 33-year-old John Walker of New Zealand. He did it Feb. 17, 1985, at Auckland, New Zealand.

Kirk Baptiste, a junior at the University of Houston, tuned up for next week's NCAA Championships at Austin, Texas, winning the men's 100 and 200 meters.

Baptiste, the meet's only double winner, nipped two-time Olympian Harvey Glance by one-hundredth of a second in 100 in 10.23, then took the 200 — the event in which he won the Olympic silver medal — in 20.10, well ahead of runner-up Brady Crain (20.29).

Francie Larriue Smith, the 32-year-old veteran on the comeback trail after being sidelined with injuries, held off Olympic marathon silver medalist Grete Waitz of Norway to win the women's 3,000 in 8:50.54.

Waitz, the former world record holder in the 3,000 and one-time owner of the world best in the marathon, had a narrow lead before Smith overtook her with about 220 meters remaining. Waitz finished in 8:51.10.

Czechoslovakia's Imrich Bugár, the 1983 world champion in the men's discus, equalled the fourth-best performance in history, winning at 233-9, a national record.

Knut Hjeltnes of Norway also established a national record in finishing second in the discus at 228-5, while Art Burns produced the best throw by an American this year, placing third at 226-8.

Other men's winners included Olympic champion Pierre Quinon of France in the pole vault (a meet record 18-4½), Doug Padilla in the 3,000 (7:48.07), David Patrick in the 400 hurdles (49.82), Mark Rowe in the 400 (45.16), Mike Powell in the long jump (a wind-aided 26-9¼), and Einar Vilhjalmsson of Iceland in the javelin (289-7).

The other women's winners were Grace Jackson of Jamaica in the 200 (22.65), Judi Brown-King in the 400 hurdles (55.41), and Stefka Kostadinova of Bulgaria in the high jump (6-4¾).

Meanwhile, American record holder Johnny Gray handed Olympic champion Joaquim Cruz of Brazil his first defeat in two years in the men's 800 meters.

In a relatively slow race, the 25-year-old Gray, the seventh-place finisher in the Los Angeles Games, withstood a strong finish by Cruz to win in 1:45.76.

"It was the strongest man's race, and I felt I was the strongest man today," said Gray, who led virtually all the way. "Coming down the stretch, I felt in control."

"I felt happy and very proud of myself today."

Cruz, clocked in 1:45.89, said his unbeaten streak — his last defeat in any event was in the mile to Scott in May 1984 at Los Angeles — was creating pressure on him.

"Everyone thinks of winning," he said. "I haven't been beaten in a long time, and it was upsetting me."

Czechoslovakia's Jarmila Kratochvilova, the world record holder in the women's 400 and 800 and the 1983 world champion in both events, cruised to victory in the 800 in 1:59.92, the fastest in the world this year and a meet record.

The time by the 34-year-old Czech "Wonder Woman," who never has lost in the 800, was the first under two minutes on this track. The previous record was 2:00.1 by Madeline Manning in 1981.

Valerie Brisco-Hooks, the triple Olympic gold medalist, captured the women's 100 meters in a wind-aided 11.01, only one-hundredth of a second ahead of Jamaica's Merlene Ottey-Page.

"I was trying to lean for the tape," said Brisco-Hooks. "I didn't know where I was in the race."

"I want to run under 11 seconds in the 100, get the world record in the 200 and I want to run 48.5 or better in the 400."

Olympic champion Roger Kingdom took the men's 110-meter hurdles in 13.31, comfortably beating runner-up Andre Phillips (13.41).

Howard sets record

HOUSTON (AP) — Jim Howard of Alvin, Texas, high jumped 7 feet, 8½ inches Saturday at the Rice University Meet of Champions track meet, bettering the American high jump record of 7-8 held by Dwight Stones and Dennis Lewis.

Howard, a graduate of Texas A&M, tried three times to clear 7-9½ but failed, said Bill Whitmore, former Rice sports information director.

Stones set the American high jump record last year and it was equaled earlier this year by Lewis. The world record is 7-10, set last year by Zhu Jianhua of China.

1985 Indianapolis 500 should be fastest ever

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The speed alone is frightening — 33 cars traveling well above 200 mph around a narrow, concrete-lined track built when airplanes flew half that fast.

Now imagine people in those cars, buffeted more than ever by violent, turbulent air.

Together, they create the potential for disaster when the fastest field in auto racing history lines up for Sunday's noon EDT start, engines roaring and 350,000 people screaming.

What will it be like out there? "Say you put on a helmet," said three-time winner Johnny Rutherford.

at more than 200 mph. The field average of 206.138 mph was nearly 4 1/2 mph faster than the Indianapolis record set last year and more than 3 mph quicker than the previous racing record of 204.669 set last September at an Indy-car event at Michigan International Speedway.

Pole-winner Pancho Carter set a four-lap qualifying record of 212.583 and Scott Brayton, who will start between Carter and Bobby Rahal in the front row, established a one-lap mark of 214.199.

"These speeds are only too fast when you lose it (the car) or have a problem," said Rutherford, who ficial laps over 215 in practice.

With rules changes intended to slow down the cars expected to be announced any day, this is likely to be the last Indy 500 of unbridled speed — at least until the design engineers and engine builders can find new ways to generate it.

But raw speed is only one of the dangers. Another is the turbulence that is a product of the aerodynamic devices — wings, stabilizers and tunnels — that help produce the speed records.

"I think turbulence is going to be more of a factor (this year) because the field is closer to each other (in speed)," said 1983 Indy winner Tom Sneva. "The horsepower in most of the cars is very similar and the speeds are very similar. The spread from the front to the back (1.6 seconds) is the closest it's ever been."

Among the problems caused by the turbulence is blurred vision — a very real problem when driving in traffic at more than 200 mph.

"That's happening, but it's happened for the past two to three years," Sneva explained. "It's not a whole lot different than it has been. It might be more noticeable this year to some drivers, but it's been like that in the past. "The speeds are higher and we're depending on aerodynamics a lot more each year for stability. And when you're doing that, obviously, if you disturb the air around the vehicle, it's going to affect the way the car feels to you."

Rutherford, who will be starting from the outside of the 10th row, said, "It's the worst (turbulence) I've ever experienced in race cars. The wind sometimes is so violent, it just wants to rip your helmet right off your head. When you take that physical part and couple it with that speed, you've really got your hands full out there."

"I'm going to start the race, obviously, with safety in mind," said Brayton, a 26-year-old whose best previous starting position in three Indy races was 26th last May.

Sneva, who has started 11 Indy 500s, was on the pole in 1984. This tricity in the air and a lot of adrenalin flows at the start of any race, and especially at the start of Indianapolis."

Carter and Brayton are two of only three drivers in the field with cars not powered by the turbocharged Cosworth engines that have dominated Indy-car racing for more than a decade. Both their March races have experimental Buick V6 turbocharged engines, which have been given a 50-100 horsepower advantage by the rules at Indianapolis, which are set by the sanctioning U.S. Auto Club.

The rest of the Indy-car circuit is sanctioned by the rival Champion-ford. "I put one hand behind the helmet, the other under your chin. Then I shake. Imagine your head in a paint mixer."

And imagine trying to see when you're being tossed around in paint mixer.

"That's why every driver out there is going to have to use his head when they drop the green flag," said Mario Andretti, another of six former winners in the 69th edition of the world's richest and most important race.

This will be the first Indy race with all 33 starters having qualified will be starting his 21st Indy. "We're all professional drivers with varying amounts of experience. All of us can handle the speed."

Despite the speed, the only serious incident of the month came on May 10 when Herm Johnson suffered a broken arm and internal injuries in a crash during practice. He was released from the hospital after eight days.

Yet, drivers and design engineers generally agree that the speeds here have gone too high, with several cars running under Tom Sneva. "The horsepower in most of the cars is very similar and the speeds are very similar. The spread from the front to the back (1.6 seconds) is the closest it's ever been."

Among the problems caused by the turbulence is blurred vision — a very real problem when driving in traffic at more than 200 mph.

"That's happening, but it's happened for the past two to three years," Sneva explained. "It's not a whole lot different than it has been. It might be more noticeable this year to some drivers, but it's

"But we've had turbulence here from day one. And it's about the same as always — pretty scary for the new guys and the old guys know how to figure it out and what to do."

Above all, at Indianapolis the start is most worrisome. That is when the potential for disaster is highest, with all the cars bunched together, accelerating past the start-finish line and funneling into what is virtually a single lane through the first of four narrow left-hand turns.

"It's going to be a good, real time, he's starting on the inside of the fifth row.

"Turbulence is certainly going to be a factor (at the start), but turbulence isn't going to bother me as much as somebody making a mistake around me, and trying to stay uninvolved in any situation that could come up," Sneva said. "We're going to have to be a lot more conservative in our start this year."

"I guess I am concerned because the cars are very close and, hopefully, everybody will be using their heads. There's a lot of elec-ship Auto Racing Teams, which does not give the stock-block power plants the same advantage in manifold pressure.

The only other car in the field with a stock engine is a March-Chevrolet V6, driven by veteran George Snider. That car, on the inside of row 10, is one of three in the field co-owned by A.J. Foyt — Indy's only four-time winner — and Jim Gilmore.

The race will be televised on a delayed basis by ABC Sunday night.

Cubs beat Astros, 5-4, behind Lopes

CHICAGO (AP) — Davey Lopes, who earlier made two sensational catches in left field, drilled a tie-breaking two-run homer in the eighth inning Saturday to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros.

With one out in the eighth, Ryne Sandberg singled off Houston reliever Mark Ross, 0-1, stole second and scored ahead of Lopes' third homer of the season for a 5-3 Chicago lead. It was the seventh home run of the game.

Reliever Lee Smith, 2-0, was the winner, working the last two innings. He yielded a run in the ninth on a walk, Enos Cabell's single and Bill Doran's sacrifice fly. Doran went to third on Terry Puhl's double but Lopes made a running catch of Denny Walling's fly ball to end the game.

The victory moved the Cubs into a first-place tie with the New York Mets in the National League East. It was a battle of home run or nothing through the first seven innings with each team belting three solo shots before a capacity Wrigley Field crowd of 36,278.

Puhl, Kevin Bass and Jerry Mumphrey homered for the Astros while Leon Durham, Steve Lake and Ron Cey connected for the Cubs.

Puhl hit his second homer of the season in the third inning and one out later Bass hit his fifth. Bass was playing left field in place of Jose Cruz, who suffered a dislocated toe Friday.

The Cubs tied it on homers by Durham in the fourth inning, his fifth, and Lake's first in the fifth inning.

Mumphrey broke the tie and gave Houston a 3-2 lead when he led off the sixth with his second homer but Cey tied it again when he led off the seventh with his No. 6 homer.

Starters Scott Sanderson for Chicago and Joe Niekro for Houston each went seven innings.

Baseball player strike possible in '85

By The Associated Press

Major league baseball players seemed to be standing behind the call of their union's executive board for a strike authorization vote, but some viewed it more as a means toward a settlement than as an imminent possibility.

"A possible strike is part of the whole process," said catcher Bob Boone of the California Angels, the National League player representative during the 1981 players' strike. "I don't want to strike, but the threat of it is part of the process."

"The only way to get things done seems to be to set a deadline," said pitcher Ron Romanick, the Angels' player representative.

"So far, only the Chicago Cubs who approved strike authorization 25-0, have voted since the executive board of the Major League Baseball Players Association asked that strike authorization be given. Don Fehr, the acting head of the group, will spend the next two weeks meeting with players from the 26 teams to obtain that vote.

Pitcher Joe Price, player representative of the Cincinnati Reds, said after a meeting with his teammates Friday night after a meeting with his teammates that he was sure Reds players strongly rejected the owners' proposals for a modified salary cap.

"Nobody wants a strike, but nobody wants to settle for what they're offering," Price said. "I don't think any ballplayer coming up would like his salary capped at the present level."

Price predicted the players association would set a strike date to try to influence the negotiations.

Pitcher Dan Quisenberry, player representative of the Kansas City Royals, said he didn't know how to gauge the chances of a strike occurring.

"A strike authorization is a deadline, really," he said.

Stripper surprises graduates

GRAND PRAIRIE (AP) — Somebody thought it would be a great joke to hire a stripper to "entertain" at Grand Prairie High School's graduation ceremonies — but school officials weren't a bit amused when the male dancer began to gyrate and pull his pants down.

The dancer, who was on his first day at the job, wound up spending the night in jail and irate school officials vowed to track down the students who hired the short-lived entertainer and press criminal charges.

Shortly before 9 p.m. Thursday, as Principal Phil Farris was about to begin handing out diplomas, a young man in a three-piece suit interrupted to say he had a "special honorary award" for Vice Principal Dorothy Newton.

An assistant began playing a portable tape player and the man began "dancing provocatively to music," according to police reports.

"At first, I was fooled as well as anybody else," Farris said. "But about halfway through his routine, it dawned on me that something was fishy. At that instant, he began to pull his pants down."

School officials led the dancer, Brian Patton, from the stage and he was taken to jail to face a charge of disrupting a public meeting. He was released about 6 a.m. Friday after posting bond, police said.

School board president Terry Anderson said many of the graduating students, their parents and guests were "shocked" and angered by the incident. The district plans to find the students who hired the dancer and press charges, he said.

A conviction on a charge of disrupting a public meeting carries a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

BILL JOHNSON, owner of Mystery, Inc.

Mystery, Inc.

Austin bookstore caters to the 'criminal' element

AUSTIN (AP) — It's a tough racket, murder. Kidnapping, too. Robbery's no joy ride either, pal. But Bill Johnson knows that. Crime's his trade.

Johnson deals crime from a storefront. It's the kind of place that's hard to find — a stone-fronted building at the end of a plain strip shopping center, a dying man's crawl from the street.

It's not wholesome inside. Hardcases hang out here — killers, con artists, crooks of all kinds.

Detectives prowling the place, too — hard-boiled private eyes, guns still smoking from the last shot. Classic tough guys. Names like Spade, Marlowe, Hammer. Here and there, a soft-boiled PI who prefers wine to beer. He'll know his way around, though. You might even run across an elderly English lady, but don't cross her; she'll turn you in before you can say Miss Marple.

"Some of them, they're pretty amoral. They think nothing of blowing away 15 people," said Johnson, a laugh curling up. "They're pretty tough characters."

Johnson is proprietor of Mystery Ink, an independent bookstore devoted to mysteries and puzzlers of all sorts — new, old, British, American.

Among the approximately 4,500 books on his shelves are all the mysteries in print he could obtain from major publishers, plus dozens of titles from smaller presses.

For Johnson, the labor is a mystery buff's delight, and his decision to open a store is no mystery.

"I was an English major in college in the early '70s, and also a journalism major. And I don't know, one summer I just picked up a copy of 'Farewell, My Lovely' by Raymond Chandler. I was enthralled," he said.

"I've always liked books. I used to work in a bookstore in Houston. I like books, I like mysteries. So here I am in a mystery bookshop."

Mystery Ink opened just 3½ months ago, but Johnson already has found some steady customers.

"There's an older lady who used to teach English in college," he said in an interview. "She's been reading mysteries since the '20s. She comes in about every other Sunday and buys about $100 worth of books. She can remember everything everybody wrote. She's hooked."

Indy Profiles

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Profiles of the 33 drivers in Sunday's 69th Indianapolis 500:

First Row
1. Pancho Carter, 34, Brownsburg, Ind., son of Duane Carter Sr., who drove at the Speedway from 1948-1983. Best finish in 11 Indy 500s was third in 1982. Only Indy car victory in 115 starts was the 1981 Michigan 500. Set Indianapolis Motor Speedway record for the 10-mile qualification run with average speed of 212.583 in a March-Buick V-6.

2. Scott Brayton, 26, Coldwater, Mich. Finished 16th as a rookie at Indianapolis in 1981. Starting fourth Indy 500, finishing ninth in 1983. Best Indy car finish was fourth at Pocono last year. Began racing Formula Karts in 1975 and was the series champion in 1979. Set official Speedway one-lap records on the first three laps of the 10-mile qualifying run, establishing a standard of 214.017 on his third trip around the 2.5-mile oval. Qualified at 212.354, briefly holding the track record, in a March-Buick V-6.

3. Bobby Rahal, 32, Dublin, Ohio. Seventh last May in his third Indy 500. Won two Championship Auto Racing Teams races to earn his rookie of the year award in 1982 and has three victories since then. Won the 1981 Daytona 24-hour race. Driving a March-Cosworth, qualified at 211.818.

Second Row
4. Mario Andretti, 45, a native of Trieste, Italy, who has settled in Nazareth, Pa., starting his 20th Indy 500. Won last year's race to earn his rookie of the year while seeking a second victory. Finished second in 1981, was awarded the victory when Bobby Unser was penalized but then dropped to second when Unser was reinstated as the winner. Crashed at the start of the 1982 race without completing a lap. The defending CART-PPG Indy car series champion finished first in the opening event this year at Long Beach, Calif. Has 43 Indy-car victories in 252 starts. Andretti was the 1978 Formula One world driving champion. Driving a Lola-Cosworth for actor Paul Newman and co-owner Carl Haas. Qualified at 211.576 after earlier practicing in excess of 214.

5. Emerson Fittipaldi, 38, the Brazilian began racing motorcycles at age 15 and raced go-karts two years later. Won world Formula One driving championships in Sterling City 1972 and 1974. Retired from racing for three years before returning last year to compete on the Indy car circuit. Placed 32nd in first Indy 500 last year. Qualified at 211.322 in a March-Cosworth.

6. Don Whittington, 39, Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Qualified for his fifth Indy 500 after taking over the ride two-time winner Gordon Johncock abandoned when he decided to retire the day before time trials began. Quickly adjusted to the March-Cosworth owned by Pat Patrick and qualified at 210.981. Finished sixth at Indianapolis and did not drive Indy cars last year. Won the World Challenge for Endurance Drivers in 1979, joining his brother Bill for five victories — including the LeMans 24-hour event.

Third Row
7. Al Unser, 45, Albuquerque, N.M. The two-time winner starting his 20th Indy. Finished second to Tom Sneva at Indy in 1983 and third last year. Indy winner in 1970, 1971 and 1979. Won national driving championship in 1983, finishing outside the top five in only three races all year. Qualified in a March-Cosworth at 210.523, his top time at Indianapolis. Younger brother Bobby Unser, retired three-time winner. Began racing modifieds when he was 18 and has been in 284 Indy-car races.

8. Danny Sullivan, 35, Louisville, Ky., starting his third Indy 500. Drove his first race in a Formula Ford in 1972. Veteran of only 20 Indy car races, recorded three victories last year and joined the highly successful Roger Penske racing team this year. Qualified a March-Cosworth at 210.298.

9. Geoff Brabham, 33, San Clemente, Calif., Australian native, son of former two-time world champion Jack Brabham. Finished fifth as a rookie at Indy in 1981 and fourth in 1983. Five place problem knocked him out last year after only one lap and he placed 33rd. Veteran of Super Vee, Can-Am and Formula Atlantic competition. Qualified at 210.074 in a March-Cosworth.

Fourth Row
10. Rick Mears, 33, Bakersfield, Calif., the defending champion also won in 1979, finished second in 1982 to Gordon Johncock by 18 of a second in the closest finish in the race's history and was third in 1983. Starting his eighth Indy 500 after a racing career that began in sprint buggies in 1970. Seeking to become the first successive Speedway winner since Al Unser repeated in 1971. Starting his first race since being seriously injured in a practice crash last September, a veteran of 95 Indy-car races. Mears has been national driving champion three times in the past six years. Set one-and four-lap records in qualifying in 1982. Qualified in a March-Cosworth with an average speed of 209.796.

11. Al Unser Jr., 23, Albuquerque, N.M., finished 10th as a rookie at the Speedway in 1983 and 21st last year. Recorded his first Indy car last year. Winner of the 1981 Super Vee and 1982 Can-Am national championships. Son of three-time Indy 500 winner Al Unser and a nephew of Bobby Unser, another three-time Indy winner. Qualified a Lola-Cosworth at 209.215.

12. Bill Whittington, 35, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., starting fifth Indy 500 after shipping the Indy car circuit last year. Began racing at Sebring in 1978 and won five endurance races with his brother, Don, in 1979 — including LeMans 24-hour race. Has driven in only eight Indy car races since 1979, concentrating mainly on NASCAR and IMSA competition. Best Speedway finish was 16th in 1982. Qualified in a Lola-Cosworth at 209.006.

Fifth Row
13. Tom Sneva, 36, Paradise Valley, Ariz., a former junior high principal, starting his 12th Indy 500. Had three seconds and fourth in six starts prior 1983 victory. The first driver to run an official lap at over 200 mph, set one-and four-lap records at Indianapolis last year that were topped this year. Started on the Indy 500 pole for the third time last year with a quick lap of 210.889 and an average speed of 210.029 for his 10-mile qualifying run. Has 13 Indy-car victories in 154 starts. A two-time U.S. Auto Club national driving champion. Qualified at Eagle-Cosworth at 208.927.

14. Dick Simon, 51, San Juan Capistrano, Calif., starting 14th Indy 500, best first was 13th in 1972. The oldest driver in the race for the second year. A former national parachuting champion who holds a multi-engine pilot's rating. Started racing super modifieds in 1982 and a veteran of 156 Indy-car races. Qualified at 208.536 in a March-Cosworth.

15. Michael Andretti, 22, Nazareth, Pa. The son of 1980 Indy 500 winner Mario Andretti finished fifth last year in earning recognition as Indianapolis "Co-rookie of the year." The 1982 Sports Car Club of America Super Vee champion started racing go-karts in the early 1970s. Recorded five third place finishes last year. Driving a March-Cosworth, qualified at 208.185 with a quick lap at 208.025.

Sixth Row
16. Roberto Guerrero, 26, Medellin, Colombia. Finished second to Rick Mears in his first Indy 500 last year. Selected CART Rookie of the Year and shared Indy rookie honors. Began racing karts at age 12 in Colombia and won two national kart championships in five years. Won eight Formula Ford races in England in 1978. Won three races and finished second in points on the British Formula 3 series in 1980. Drove Formula One for two years before moving to the Indy car circuit. Driving a March-Cosworth, qualified at 208.063.

17. Danny Ongais, 43, Santa Ana, Calif. Started racing motorcycles in 1967. Known as a hard-charger, making ninth Indy 500 start. Finished fourth in 1979. Won five Indy-car races in 1978 and has gone winless since. The veteran of 78 Indy-car races was seriously injured during the 1981 Indy 500 race and wears a leg brace while racing as a result. Qualified in a March-Cosworth at 207.220.

18. Josele Garza, 23, Mexico City, Starting his fifth Indy 500. Best finish was in 1981 when he was selected Indy rookie of the year, finishing 23rd and leading the race 13 laps. The youngest known Indy rookie ever was only 19 at the time, but told officials he was 22. Was first driver from his country to race at Indianapolis. Qualified at 206.677 in a March-Cosworth.

Seventh Row
19. Howdy Holmes, 35, Ann Arbor, Mich. Starting fifth Indy 500, best finish was sixth in 1983. Finished 13th last year after starting in the middle of the front row. Began driving Formula Fords in 1971, veteran of Super Vee, Mini-Indy and Formula Atlantic competition. Qualified at 206.372 in a Lola-Cosworth.

20. Arie Luyendyk, 34, First Dutch native in the Indy 500. Now living in Pewaukee, Wis. Began racing European Series Formula Vee in 1972. Later drove Formula Fords and Formula Threes. Won Super Vee championship in 1984, placed eighth at Elkhart Lake in his only CART race last year. One of four rookie qualifiers, had 206.004 average for his 10-mile qualifying run in a Lola-Cosworth.

21. A.J. Foyt, 50, Houston, Texas. Holder of nearly every longevity record for the Indy 500, the only four-time winner. Has qualified 28 straight years and has started from the pole four times. Starting his 300th Indy car race, has 67 triumphs. Scored victories in this year's Daytona and Sebring endurance races. Has also recorded victories in 41 stock, 28 sprint and 20 midget car races. Qualified at 205.782 in a March-Cosworth.

Eighth Row
22. Ed Pimm, 29, Dublin, Ohio. 1983 Super Vee champion is making his first Indianapolis start. Started racing Formula Fords in 1976. Cornell University graduate. Qualified an Eagle-Cosworth at 205.724.

23. Raul Roedel, 27, Brazil. The quickest rookie in this year's field and the third quickest overall. Won karting championship at 17. A veteran of two years in Formula One, he raced Formula Two in South America last year. Won English Formula Ford championship in 1980. Qualified March-Cosworth at 205.328.

24. Tom Paul Jr., 25, West Palm Beach, Fla., born just down the road from the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in Muncie. Making his first Speedway start. Began his racing career in 1979 with a Formula Ford victory at Sebring. Recorded four Formula Ford triumphs the following year. Won the 1982 IMSA-GT series with nine victories, including the Daytona 24-hour race and the Sebring 12-hour event. Won 1983 Michigan 500. Qualified March-Cosworth at 206.340.

Ninth Row
25. Chip Ganassi, 27, Pittsburgh, fastest of nine rookie qualifiers in 1982. Duquesne University graduate. Finished eighth at Indianapolis in 1983 and was recognized as the most improved driver on the Indy car circuit. Began racing in Formula Fords in 1977. Qualified at 206.104 in a March-Cosworth.

26. Johnny Parsons, 40, Brownsburg, Ind. Best Indy finish was fifth in 1977. Back for his 10th Speedway race after failing to qualify last year and driving in only one CART race. Took over the ride intended for Jacques Villeneuve during the final week of practice and quickly got the March-Cosworth up to speed. Son of 1950 Indy winner Johnnie Woodrow Parsons, began racing quarter midgets when he was 12, drove sprint, midget and dirt cars. Qualified at 205.778.

27. Jim Crawford, 27, the native of Scotland now lives in Lees Summit, Mo. A former mechanic who went on to win the British Formula Atlantic championship in 1974. Drove Formula One, Formula Two and Formula Three. Finished second in Can-Am series the past two years. Qualified for his first Speedway start twice. The first run was disqualified after officials found the car underweight in technical inspection. Qualified Lola-Cosworth at 205.525.

28. George Snider, 44, Bakersfield, Calif., veteran of 19 Indy 500s with pair of eighth-place finishes. The 1981-82 U.S. Auto Club Gold Crown champion and veteran of 136 Indy-car races. Qualified a March-Chevy V6 entered by four-time Indy 500 winner A.J. Foyt after only one lap in the car at 205.455.

29. Tony Bettenhausen, 33, Indianapolis, youngest son of 1958 USAC national driving champion Tony Bettenhausen, who was killed while practicing at Indianapolis. Finished seventh as a rookie in 1981. Has competed in midget, sprint and stock cars. Married to the daughter of Indy 500 veteran Jim McElreath. Qualified for his fifth Indy 500 in a March-Cosworth at 204.824.

30. Johnny Rutherford, 47, Fort Worth, Texas. Starting his 21st Indy 500. Missed 1982 race due to injuries suffered in a practice crash. A three-time Speedway winner. Made first Indy 500 start in 1963. National driving champion in 1980. Started only six races last year. Winless since 1981. Rutherford has 25 Indy-car victories. Qualified a March-Cosworth at 204.495, was bumped by a quicker car and then qualified another March-Cosworth at 208.254 — 15th quickest overall.

Tenth Row
31. Derek Daly, 32, Dublin, Ireland. Began racing stock cars in 1970 in Ireland. Won the British Formula III championship in 1977. Moved into Indy cars in 1982 after competing on the Grand Prix auto circuit since 1979. Qualified for his first Indy 500 in 1983 and placed 19th. Qualified twice this year after his first car was bumped. Earned third Indy start with 207.548 in a Lola-Cosworth.

32. Kevin Cogan, 29, Redondo Beach, Calif., qualified for the middle of the front row in his second Indy 500 in 1982 but never officially began the race after losing control of his car on the pace lap and triggering an accident that knocked four cars out of the race. Finished fourth as a rookie at Indianapolis in 1981 and fifth two years later. Qualified for his fifth Indy 500 at 206.398 in a March-Cosworth after his earlier qualification run was bumped by a quicker car.

Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater was home to 60 Brownies last weekend

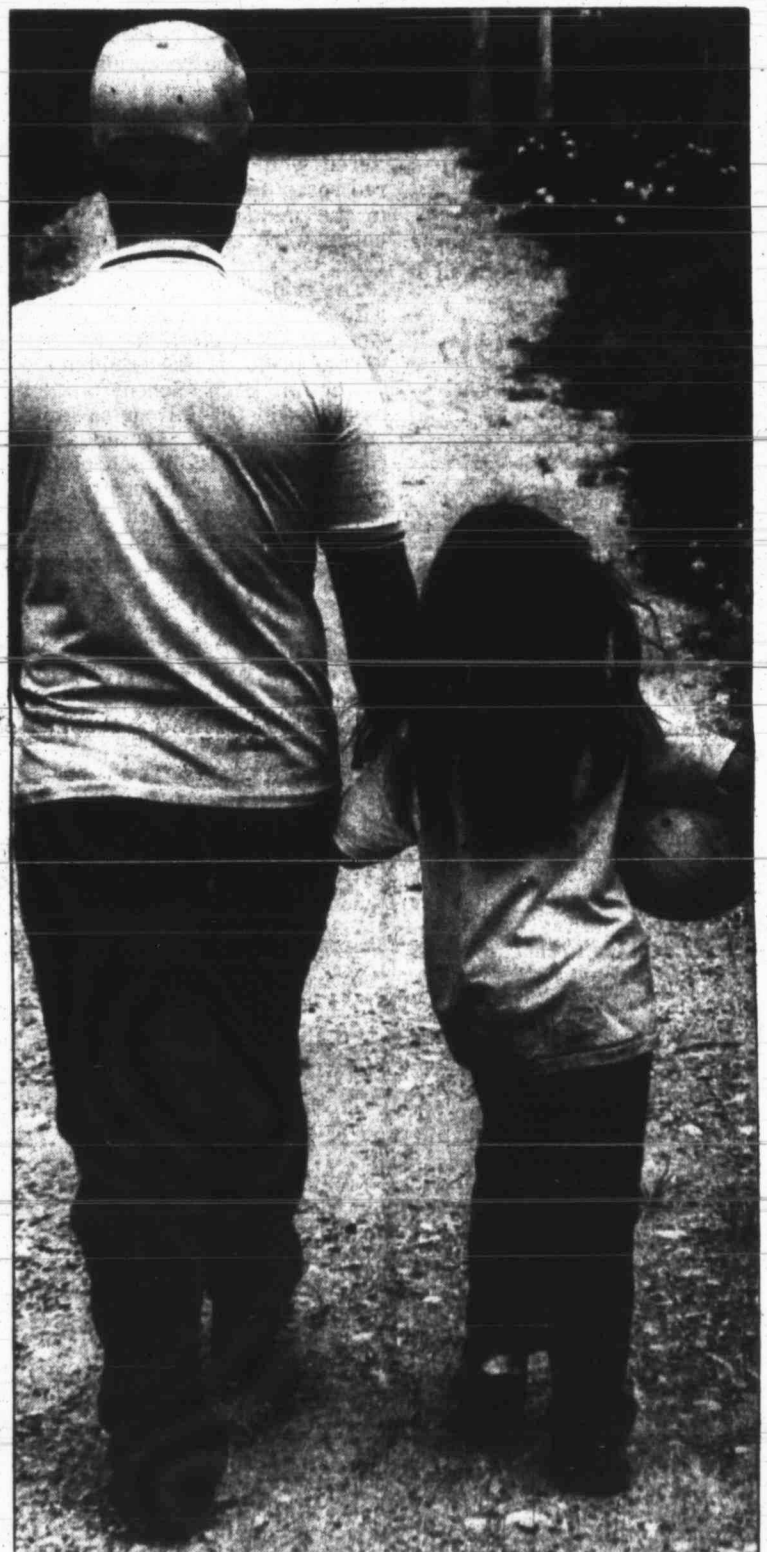

Three Brownies play a game of Stone, Paper and Scissors

Daddy helps Brownie learn to tie a knot

AMANDA DENSLow of Abilene picks a bouquet of wild flowers on Rattlesnake Ridge

BERT AND TWILA HILLGER of Big Spring stroll hand-in-hand down the path

JUST YOU -N- ME

Daddies and daughters stop to look out across the land while on the nature hike

All is peaceful. Nature's kind of quiet.

The squirrels scurry across the trail. The birds beckon. The rabbits roam. A chorus of crickets sing a song.

Light rain runs down the trees which fold over the paths. Nothing is intentional in the wild land with its wild flowers, wild bushes and wild trees. It's God's design. Unpatterned.

And then come the kids.

The girlish screams and laughs can be heard all across camp. It's Brownie/Dad weekend at Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater. These excited first and second graders dash about, exploring the unknown. They don't go far at first, holding Dad's hand, staying close.

But confidence comes in groups, and gangs of girls venture farther and farther from father while the dads huddle together, shaking hands, getting acquainted.

But the camp's legendary swinging bridge, at first try, is frightening. The Brownie quickly catches Dad's hand, crossing the long, narrow bridge that moves from side to side with every step. "Daddy don't make it swing," screams the girl in a half-giggly voice.

Each girl and her father is assigned a campsite. Dad gets to carry the heavy load — cots, sleeping bags, overnight bags, and daughter gets the jackets or some other small object.

After everyone is unpacked and moved into his platform tent, it's suppertime. Dad wants a steak. Daughter wants a hamburger. But they get hot dogs.

The evening ends with the flag ceremony and sing song. As the sun goes down, the sleepy Brownie leaves her group of friends to curl up in Daddy's lap.

Going back to the campsite from the sing song, the sleepy girl is rejuvenated by the brisk, cool night air, making it difficult for Dad to get her to sleep. But within minutes, the eventful day catches up with her. Dad tucks in Brownie and Teddy Bear.

Now it's his turn. Father stands around the warm fire with the other dads, talking about jobs, sports, travel and politics in the quiet campsite. And then all stillness is disturbed — "Daddy, there's a bug in here!"

The bell rings. It's 7 a.m. Daddy and daughter rise and go to the mess hall for breakfast. She is back to her usual active self. Daddy moves a little slower.

A nature hike begins the day's activities. She gets tired, and Dad volunteers to give a piggy-back ride. Canoeing, arts and crafts, archery and knot tying finish off the day.

All activities come to an end. It's been a fun and frolicking weekend for both Daddy and Brownie. The tired little girl falls asleep even before they drive off the campground.

It was their weekend together. Just Brownie and Daddy — her security blanket on her first camping trip.

Weddings

Paige-Overton

Midway Baptist Church was the setting for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Melissa LaFayne Paige and Wesley Norman Overton. Dr. Rick Davis, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Stanton, officiated at the 4 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Paige, Route 1. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Overton, Garden City.

The ceremony was performed before a white archway accented by candelabra and red flowers entwined with greenery. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lewis, vocalists, and Dana Ruth Schaefer, instrumentalist, provided music.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride wore a gown featuring a fitted princess-style bodice of re-embroidered lace and pressed organza off-the-shoulder sleeves. The hat, featuring a fingertip-length veil, was accented with seed pearls.

The bride carried a cascade of red sweetheart roses with white carnations, azaleas and stephanolias, accented with magnolia leaves.

Ronda Fowler of Big Spring was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Gayla Stovall of Abilene, sister of the bride; Annette King of Big Spring, sister of the bride; Janet Paige of Big Spring, sister-in-law of the bride; Crystal Overton of Lubbock, sister of the bridegroom, and Candy Overton of San Angelo, sister of the bridegroom. Megan Martin of Midland was flower girl.

Best man was Lonnie Pruitt of San Angelo. Groomsman were William Gressett of Sterling City, Kurt White of Ballinger, Jorge Patino of Alpine, Mac McDowell of

MRS. WESLEY N. OVERTON

Lubbock, and Spot Paige of Big Spring, brother of the bride. Matt Evans of Forsan, cousin of the bride; Danny Evans of Forsan, cousin of the bride; and Donnie Paige of Big Spring, brother of the bride, were ushers. Serving as candlelighters were Johnny Minnick of Midland and Bill Barnes of Knott. Jeremy Collier of Big Spring, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

A reception followed the ceremony in the reception hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with an acruce cloth embroidered with silver. A three-tiered white cake, accented with red roses, featured a red fountain in the middle tier. Three island cakes were along side the large cake.

The bridegroom's table, covered with a red lace cloth, featured a German chocolate cake.

The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School and is employed by Dr. C. Douglas Smith, D.D.S., M.S., Inc. A graduate of Garden City High School and Angelo State University, the bridegroom is a coach at Sands High School in Ackerly.

Swinson-Newman

Amanda Gay Swinson and Kevin Risher Newman exchanged wedding vows in a ceremony Saturday at the First Baptist Church of Stanton. W.H. Uhlman of Florence, Ala. officiated at the 7 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Swinson of Stanton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Newman of Stanton.

Music for the ceremony was performed by Debbie Averitt on the organ, Jerry Lewis, vocalist on the piano and guitar, Bonnie Franklin on the piano and Mrs. Jerry Lewis, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length white silk organza gown with multiple organza ruffles at the sleeves. The bodice, accented by a seed pearl embroidered applique, ended with a dropped waistline. The skirt and train flowed from a gathered waist of silk organza over silk with the overlay embroidered with seed appliques. Multiple ruffles were repeated at the hemline, rising at various intervals to mid calf. The back of the skirt featured an abundance of silk organza ruffles and appliques. The fingertip-length veil of illusion flowed from a tiny circlet of daisies and seed pearls.

The bride's bouquet was composed of white gardenias, white roses and stephanotis falling into a cascade design.

Melinda Allred of Stanton, served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmatron was Daria Swinson, sister-in-law of the bride. Bridesmaids were Kody Newman, sister of the bridegroom, Mary Lynn Wheeler and Charlesa Tom. Best man was Rusty Allred, brother-in-law of the bride. Deany Dillard of Cross Plains, Reagan Brooks of Coahoma, Brian Bowlin of Stanton, and George Lewis of Stanton were groomsmen. Serving as ushers were: Mike Swinson of Stanton, brother of the bride, Ron Springer of Eureka Ill., Randy Bomar of Midland and Ben Bowlin of Big Spring. Swinson and Springer also were candlelighters.

The bridegroom's table, covered with a red lace cloth, featured a German chocolate cake.

The bride is a graduate of Stanton High School and is employed by Swinsons Contractors, Inc. of Stanton. The bridegroom, a graduate of Stanton High School, attended Howard College. He is a Martin County rancher.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will live in Stanton.

MRS. KEVIN R. NEWMAN

A reception followed the ceremony at the Cap Rock Auditorium in Stanton. The bride's table was covered with a round Irish lace cloth. A five-tiered wedding cake with lemon filling was served. Live gardenias and spun sugar stephanotis cascaded down the cake in a swirl effect, beginning at the Corinthian columns holding the top layer.

The bridegroom's cake was a two-layered German chocolate cake decorated in tones of brown with a raised layer of cake forming the brand of his ranch.

The bride is a graduate of Stanton High School and is employed by Swinsons Contractors, Inc. of Stanton. The bridegroom, a graduate of Stanton High School, attended Howard College. He is a Martin County rancher.

Foster-Hutchings

MRS. DOUGLAS W. HATCH
...formerly Catherine Beatrice Thurman

Jennifer Renee Foster and Kermit Paul Hutchings are on a wedding trip to Colorado after their wedding Saturday afternoon in the First Church of God in Big Spring. The Rev. Delmer Loy, pastor, officiated at the 2 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Foster of Ackerly. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stone of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hutchings of Brownwood.

The couple exchanged vows under an archway decorated with greenery and burgandy and pink flowers. Baskets of white, burgandy and pink flowers were set on the columns of greenery.

MRS. K. PAUL HUTCHINGS
...formerly Jennifer Renee Foster

Sue Sharp of Big Spring was matron of honor. Janet Foster of Ackerly, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Best man was Kevin Chambers of Brownwood. Robert Fortune of Midland, cousin of the bridegroom, was the groomsmen. Mark Foster of Ackerly, brother of the bride, and Bradley Fortune of Midland, cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers. Miss Webb of Ackerly, cousin of the bride, lighted a 14-branch candelabra.

A reception followed in the church's Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was draped with a white lace cloth and centered with her bouquet. A three-tiered wedding cake separated by crystal columns was served. The tops and sides of each tier were decorated with raised scallops accented with burgundy forget-me-nots. Clear glass swans around the fountain accented the top.

The bride attended Sands High School and is employed at Walls Factory Outlet, Inc. A graduate of Brownwood High School, the bridegroom is employed by Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co.

The couple will live in Big Spring.

Thurman-Hatch

Catherine Beatrice Thurman became Mrs. Douglas Wayne Hatch in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at Wesley United Methodist Church. The Rev. Johnny Robertson, pastor, officiated at the 4 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thurman, Sterling City Route. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Hatch of Lubbock.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar of two seven-branch candelabra decorated with greenery, two large baskets of gladiolas and daisies and a memory candle.

Music for the ceremony was by vocalist Steve Corsan, who also played the guitar, and Pam Ray, pianist. A tape of the Maines Brothers Band also was played.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dacron organza gown with beaded chantilly lace accenting the Queen Anne neckline. Chantilly lace and ruffles edged the hemline of the chapel-length train and veil.

The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses, white daisies and nosegay.

Kim Lehman of Lubbock was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Peggy Bryant of Big Spring, and Missie Hatch of Lubbock, sister of the bridegroom.

Kent Wood of Lubbock was best man. Groomsmen were Kevin Stanley of Lubbock and Curtis Thurman of Big Spring, brother to the bride. Scott Bell of Lubbock and Troy Lee Hatch of Carlsbad, N.M. were ushers and candlelighters.

A reception followed the wedding in the parlor of the church. The bride's table featured a three-tiered lemon cake with white cake accented with yellow roses and topped with the traditional bride and bridegroom figurine. The table was covered with a yellow and lace cloth and centered with a candle accented by the bride's bouquet.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a brown and lace cloth and centered with a candle. A German chocolate horseshoe cake was served.

The bride is a graduate of Forsan High School and attended Howard College and McNeese State University. She will attend Texas Tech in the fall.

The bridegroom graduated from Monterey High School and Howard College and attended McNeese State University. He will attend Texas Tech in the fall.

Following a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N.M. the couple will live in Big Spring this summer and move to Lubbock in the fall.

Peggy Creech of Stanton was the pianist for the ceremony. Recorded selections by Tammy Wynette and Mark Gray were played.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of sheerest chiffon and lace. The Queen Elizabeth neckline was adorned with seed pearls and lace. The sleeves were puffed at the top and then fitted from the upper arm to the wrist, forming a point of seed pearls. The skirt of chiffon was adorned with chantilly lace that made a scallop design on the skirt and flowed into a chapel-length train. A fingertip-length chantilly lace veil was attached to a matching beaded head piece.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of pewter, burgandy and pink roses complimented with white azaleas and pewter silks held in white lace. A white satin belt with gold rings beside it centered the bouquet. Streamers of white lace with burgundy and pink ribbon fell from the cascade.

Managing money more complex

NEW YORK (AP) — Investing used to be simple — but not very profitable.

Most people would take their money to the bank, squirrel it away in a low interest paying account, and forget about it. Not anymore.

In today's radically changed money world, the job of managing money, says Chet Currier, has grown much more complex "as the choices available to investors have multiplied at a rapid rate."

"People who once dealt only with passbook savings accounts, stocks, bonds and a few other alternatives now are confronted with money market mutual funds, financial futures, stock-index options, zero-coupon bonds ... and many other vehicles that did not exist, or were largely unknown to the public, just five or 10 years ago."

Currier, an Associated Press Business News writer, discusses and explains these new investment vehicles as well as other aspects of the changing financial world in his new book, "The Investor's Encyclopedia" (Franklin Watts).

Dear Abby

Pushy relatives force family to cave in on rule

DEAR ABBY: A recent letter about freeloading relatives revived a few memories. The wife and I got fed up with moving our kids out of their bedrooms to accommodate relatives, so we sent them all a form letter saying that if they intended to visit our city, to give us a little notice and we'd be glad to make reservations for them at a nearby motel.

All family members responded kindly, except my wife's sister. For three months there was total silence, then one day, Sis and "Joe" drove into our driveway and informed us that they were spending 10 days with us!

We asked if they had received our letter, and were told they had. Sis said, "We were so angry at first we couldn't see straight, but Joe got this vacation time he had to use up before the end of the year, and since we had no money for a regular vacation, we talked it over and decided to forgive your nasty letter and come for our vacation anyway."

I told them that our letter stood, and they'd have to go to a motel. Then my wife caved in and begged me to let them stay, so to make a long story short, they stayed and ate our food and drank our wine for 10 days!

What do you do with brass-headed boobs like that, and soft-asmush wives like mine? Sign me,

MAD IN MICHIGAN

DEAR MAD: Whom are you calling "brass-headed boobs"? Surely not the couple who ignored your letter and moved in on you for 10 days! And don't call your wife "soft-as-mush" when you proved to be a tower of Jello. You caved in, your wife didn't. If you want sympathy, you'll find it in the dictionary not too far from "sucker."

Around town

By JOHNNIE LOU AVERY

Column to keep tabs on city

Because it is hard to keep up with all the things happening around town that affect each of us, this little column is being added weekly for awhile to see if it meets a need. I hope it can bring out some of the behind-the-scenes activities as well as serve as a reader forum for suggestions and ideas to make Big Spring better.

Last month a strategic planning retreat was held with elected and appointed community leaders to study short- and long-range problems and solutions. Good things have already begun to happen as a result of this meeting. Five task forces were formed and these things are happening:

- The Economic Council, under the chairmanship of Chris Christopher, has met three times to put together a questionnaire to bring in the information needed for planning.

A list of potential opportunities that could enrich the economy, meet business needs, and bring business into Big Spring for locally produced goods and services is being compiled.

These already include a full-scale machine shop with state-of-the-art equipment to take care of machining needs in varied industries; raw glass manufacturing plant (20 percent of all raw glass used in the United States is used in Big Spring manufacturing); a feed mill (farmers, ranchers and pet owners now have to go to Hamlin, Snyder, Pecos and other towns to buy mixes.); feed lot-packing house; hydraulic cherry picker manufacturing plant; building components and lumber products manufacturing; medium security prison; cable manufacturing plant; chemical and/or resin manufacturing plant; engineering group (there's a definite need for a full component of engineers working out of Big Spring); mesquite chip processing plant; manufacturing items to make use of Cosden byproducts.

Every major business and all manufacturing and industrial facilities have been sent the questionnaire.

- The Communications Committee, chaired by Dwayne Fraser, met and had these results: Dr. Bob Riley has agreed to coordinate a communications session to be attended either monthly or quarterly by a representative from all community agencies that interact with one another. This will allow for better communication and coordination.

Shower honors Diane Boothe

A shower was held for Diane Boothe, bride-elect of Dwayne Fox, May 14 at 4035 Alma Circle.

Hostesses were Lisa Dixon and Shelley Neill. Their gift was a set of corning ware. Special guests were the mothers of the bride-to-be and prospective bridegroom.

The serving table decorations included a crystal ice bucket filled with peach and yellow flowers.

The couple will wed June 8 in the bride's home, 2307 Brent. Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring, will officiate.

tion among agencies. To the problem of improving the general attitude and spirit of the community, better communications and a positive attitude seemed to be the answer. It must start and end with each citizen's attitude, and every community agency will be encouraged to designate a public relations person to promote and communicate his agency's activities.

- The Big Spring financial institutions have made a collective statement to let the public know of their strong desire to promote growth of Big Spring. Bruce Hoganmiller, spokesman for the group, said, "We feel that the citizens of this community have demonstrated their confidence in Big Spring by depositing their savings and investment capital in the local institutions.

"Therefore, it is left to us, the financial community, to insure these funds are invested in the continued growth of Big Spring."

With four commercial banks, three savings and loans, and several credit unions, there is total deposits of $884 million. They have committed to an aggressive Industrial Financing Program that should be more than adequate for any company wishing to locate here. In addition, the community has several other financing plans available: SBA loans, industrial revenue bonds, Industrial Foundation funds, private investors and investment-mortgage banks.

With this kind of commitment, Big Spring should be as competitive as any other community in the financing of new development for Big Spring. Total loan limits available for one borrower is approximately $10 million.

As indicated by the above suggestions for new opportunities, a medium security prison is one possibility. The minimum security prison has proven to be a blessing to our economy and a good neighbor at the Industrial Park.

Not only is it a highly rated federal prison, but it has received favorable cooperation from the citizens of Big Spring.

The prison is one of the most cost-efficient prisons in the entire federal system and the income from the prison industries is almost as much as it costs to run the prison.

The prison is truly a city within a city in that it has the same array of responsibilities, needs and problems as does a small city. Beautification and cleanliness have been a major thrust of the new superintendent.

Major changes have been achieved through fencing, plantings, and landscaping. Old barracks will be sold and moved to make room for other uses of the land. A new Education and Industries building has been approved and architects are being contacted.

Preliminary work should begin shortly with the new buildings completed in 1987.

The camp hosted an Interagency Open House and Information Exchange on April 25 with about 35 representatives from federal and state agencies attending. That brought visitors to Big Spring.

Also hosted was a pre-release meeting attended by area community programs personnel.

A community appreciation day is tentatively scheduled at the prison on July 2 which will allow citizens from the city to tour the prison after a ceremony of friendship between community leaders and prison officials. Congressman Charles Stenholm and many Prison Bureau officials are expected.

This is a general interest column on Big Spring and may include opinions of the author. Comments on the column and suggestions for content may be made by contacting Johnnie Lou Avery at Avery and Associates in Big Spring, or through the editor of the newspaper.

Tax & financial planning

FINANCIAL PLANNING IS...WHAT?

Everybody does financial planning. You may not think so but regardless of your level of income or the amount of your accumulated assets, you are doing financial planning. Some people do their own planning very well; others need assistance.

For people with limited resources, financial planning may simply be an effective program for living within their means. For others it can involve a number of financial transactions including, but not limited to, the following:

- Determining your cash needs for current spending, retirement spending and, if appropriate, a gifting program to children or charities.
- Preparing an annual listing of all assets and debts to measure the growth in your net worth.
- Arranging your investments, with consideration for your income tax bracket, to provide the appropriate amount of "income" investments vs "growth" investments.
- Monitoring and changing your investment program to counter the erosion of inflation.
- Evaluating insurance requirements at least annually to determine that coverage for all types of insurance is adequate without being excessive.
- Giving consideration to income tax planning as well as estate and gift tax consideration on all major financial transactions.
- Monitoring investments to determine that the after-tax return meets your retirement objectives. An extra 2% or 3% return on your investment accumulates to a considerable amount over a 20 or 30 year period.

Good financial planning is often a team effort. Seek professional assistance.

Engagements

Lillards announce daughter's engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lillard, 1001 Highland Dr., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Vicki of Littlerock, Ark., to Steven Randel Morgan of Birmingham, Ala. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Millage Morgan of Morrilton, Ark. The couple will wed June 13 at Pulaski Heights United Methodist Church in Littlerock, Ark. The Rev. Jerry Kay, pastor of New Life Cathedral in Wichita Falls, will officiate.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Tony Martinez, Sand Springs, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Ann, to Raymond Dominguez. He is the son of Maria Dominguez, 500 Austin. The couple will wed June 15 at St. Thomas Catholic Church with the Rev. Robert Vreteau, pastor, officiating.

JUNE RITE — Mr. and Mrs. James C. Rivers, 1311 Stanford, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Robin, to Billy Joe Minchew Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Minchew Sr., 3306 Drexel. The couple will wed June 14 at College Baptist Church with the Rev. Clayton Hicks, senior adult minister, officiating.

Board adopts budget for 3 concerts

A $34,000 budget to fund three concerts was adopted by the Big Spring Symphony Association Board at its annual meeting Thursday. The budget will cover expenses of presenting the Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra on November 15 and two spring concerts of the Big Spring Symphony under direction of Marianna Gabbi. Officers of the 1985-86 season are: Suzanne Haney, president; Corky Harris, vice president; Lea Whitehead, secretary; and Bill Nehls, treasurer. Contributions for an on-going fund drive total $8,000 toward the $10,000 local goal, maintenance fund drive chairman John Wilson said. New board members are: Greg Brooks, Toni Choate, Tommy Churchwell, Bruce Hoganmiller, Susan Lewis, Lisa Nichols, Sara Beth Reid and Johnny Rutherford along with Symphony Guild President Linda Ainsworth and ticket chairman Kathryn Perry.

Fire Belles raise money for relief fund

The Fire Belles, a newly formed group of Big Spring fire fighters wives, discussed its purpose and goals at its second meeting May 6 at the home of Donna Ringener. The club's goal is to host fund-raisers in support of the fire fighters disaster relief fund. A food booth is planned for the June 1 Heart of the City Festival. Officers are Mary Ellen Atkinson, president; Jaynie Branham, vice president; Donna Ringener, secretary/treasurer; Mary Du Bose, disaster relief fund chairman; and Charmian Beall, publicity chairman. The next meeting will be June 3. Meetings are held the first Monday of every month.

Dr. Donohue

Exercise has common denominator

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Of the following — running, trampolining, swimming, doing jumping jacks, or skipping rope — which provides the best chance for improving one's physical fitness? — E.P.

Who knows? Only the person involved. I can only help you estimate the value of any exercise, be it one of those you mention or others.

If you are exercising to improve your cardiovascular fitness (so you won't get a heart attack or stroke), you can get a good measurement of success by keeping track of your pulse rate, and see if you are keeping it elevated for the usual 15- or 20-minute duration. A 30-year-old person would get benefit from a pulse rate between 130 and 157; if 40, between 126 and 153; if 50, between 119 and 145; if 60, between 112 and 136, and if 70, between 105 and 128. And you'll note there is a wide margin for each age group, so that each individual can fit himself into the pulse rate of which he is safely capable.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have an argument going with my husband. Please tell him how many calories I am burning when I run a mile. I do it in nine minutes every morning. — Mrs. C.

It depends on more than just the pace of running, so I can't be very precise. Your body weight and the difficulty of the running terrain (incline of surface, for example) have to be fed into the formula. But let me assume that you weigh right around 120 pounds and that the running surface is of modern difficulty. Under such circumstances, a 120-pounder running a mile in nine minutes is burning about 11 calories a minute, or 220 calories in 20 minutes. I would say that if you fit my description you are burning about 100 calories for your mile run.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a

Tammy Shankles honored with wedding shower

Tammy Lynne Shankles, bride-elect of Tommy Joe Berry, was honored with a shower May 20 at the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Hostesses were: Helen Bates, Deanie Burdette, Maria Cathey, Leta Kirby, Geri Lasater, Diane McLemore, Kay Milton, Ruby Molpus, Dottie Sampley, Rachael Shaffer, Debbie Spivey, Donna Whetsel, Dorothy Whitten and Doris Wood. Their gift was a set of corning ware cookware.

Corsages of white carnations were presented to the bride-to-be and her mother. The serving table was decorated with the bride's chosen colors of apricot and ivory. The table was covered with an apricot cloth, topped with ivory lace and centered with an apricot flower arrangement.

Out-of-town guests included Sherry Shankles of Midland, sister-in-law of the bride-elect.

The couple will wed June 15 at the First Baptist Church of Big Spring. The Rev. William Hatler, pastor of the Broadview Baptist Church of Lubbock, will officiate.

Awards given out at annual FFA barbecue

Several students were honored at the Big Spring Future Farmers of America's Annual Awards barbecue May 14. Forty members and 30 guests attended.

Proficiency Awards were received by Michael Partlow for swine, Clint Bollier for poultry, Greg Newton for sheep and diversified farming, and Mike Wilbanks for beef.

Agricultural Cooperative Training Employers receiving plaques were: Stalings Farms, Langley Farms, USDA Experiment Station, Click Horse Farm, Heckler Farms, Trio Fuels and Guitar Ranches.

April Wilson, senior, also was honored as the Big Spring FFA 1985 sweetheart.

27-year-old man in good physical condition. I exercise regularly but notice that when I do certain things, such as running up stairs or doing toe raises, my ankles make rather loud cracking noises. These are not accompanied by pain. What causes this and should I worry about it? — R.J.B.

If you have no pain and your joints are neither stiff nor swollen, you can ignore the cracking noises. They are only from tendons snapping over bones, which is not a terrible thing. I have a brother who sounds like a fresh bowl of Rice Crispies after you've poured milk over them. The phenomenon is peculiar to people with his bone structure.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have an exercise question. I have arthritis of the spine and hips and can't do many exercises. Never was very good at it. I am retired and live in the suburbs. Question: Are these exercise bikes, cross-country ski machines and rowing machines any good? Are they safe for me and would they help weight control, muscle tone, joint flexibility? Which one would you suggest of the three? — Mrs. M.

With your back problems the rowing machine might be too hard on you. And I have to even question the other items. But if you are determined to use one of these machines you should be sure you get the one with which you are most comfortable. They all help in weight control, muscle tone, and joint flexibility. Stop in at the store and ask the sales person to let you have a go at them.

Can I make an unsolicited suggestion? Since you tell me (another part of your note) that you don't feel comfortable walking briskly around your neighborhood, why don't you look into swimming as an alternative. It's great for bad backs and there is less stress on weightbearing joints.

Former resident to compete in teen pageant

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor
GINA THOMAS, formerly of Big Spring, will represent Austin as Miss Teen Lake Travis at the Miss Teen Texas Pageant in El Paso June 15. She is the daughter of MR. AND MRS. SAVOY KAY of Austin and the granddaughter of MR. AND MRS. DON YATES, 1909 Mittle.

Gina is a junior at Reagan High School, where she is a Student Council member and a second-year cheerleader. She also was selected to Who's Who Among American High School Students 1984-85.

As a surprise gift to the REV. VICTOR SEDINGER, the members of First Christian Church secretly donated money to help him buy a new car. His famous little brown and orange car was on its last leg when the $4,000 gift came through. Victor travels often around the area as well as to Fort Worth where he is studying toward another degree. About 200 people were involved directly in this gift. A few days before he received the gift, Victor had mentioned in the church's newsletter that he considered it a blessing to be among the church members as his pastor. He had no idea what surprise was ahead for him and that the members had such a mutual feeling.

GINA THOMAS

Out of the 16,000 auditions for "Star Search," FELECIA FORD has been one of the 1,100 picked to be put on the producer's tape. The producer's tape will be reviewed off and on during this year. She may get an appearance and she may not; but she still has a good chance, says mother JERRI DUNBAR.

Presently, Felecia is preparing for her appearances in two Texas Tech University Theatre productions this summer. She will be in "The Mikado" June 28-29 and July 5-6 and in "Gypsy" July 12-13 and 19-20. In Gypsy, she will portray the part of the girl named June.

MRS. P.F. SHEEDY had visitors last week. Her brother and his wife, MR. AND MRS. R.E. GRESSETT of Commerce, and their daughter BOBBY JORDAN of Grandberry came to Big Spring last Sunday and returned home Tuesday. Jordan is the Chamber of Commerce manager in Granberry.

ROSA TIMMERMAN stopped by the Herald last week to bring to my attention an article published May 17 in the San Angelo Standard Times on Dr. J. Preston Darby. Darby, a former Big Spring resident, returned May 4 from a two-month adventure in Afghanistan. His mission was to set up medical clinics for Afghan refugees.

Dying his hair black, growing a beard, dying the beard black and wearing brown contact lenses to camouflage his pale blue eyes, Darby slipped into the country. The Afghan rebel underwent many hardships on his trip.

As an anesthetist, Timmerman worked with Darby, then an internist at Malone-Hogan Hospital, from 1964-69. He left Big Spring to move to San Angelo where he now has a private practice.

"I'm trying to get people interested in Afghanistan," Darby told me over the phone. "I've always thought a lot of him," said Timmerman. "He was extremely interested in the best welfare for his patients."

Americans fear being robbed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A safety council reports 23 percent of Americans believe they will be robbery victims in the next year. Statistically, however, one of every 500 persons will actually be robbed in a single year, or one-fifth of 1 percent of the U.S. population.

Brownies earn way to Camp Boothe Oaks

By selling cookies, 408 first and second grade Brownie Girl Scouts of the West Texas Girl Scout Council have earned their way to Camp Boothe Oaks in Sweetwater for an overnight campout with their fathers.

The first Brownie/Dad Overnight was held May 17-18. The others will be May 31-June 1, June 7-8, June 22-23 and June 28-29.

Camp staff members and volunteers will help Brownies and their dads move into tents or cabins. They will cook over a campfire and sing camp songs.

The father/daughter teams will experience camp life through activities such as hiking through the woods. Waterfront specialists will direct swimming and canoeing activities. They also will learn knot tying, arts and crafts and archery.

Alexander, Pickett give book review

The Alpha Overeaters Victorious group listened to a book review by Susan Alexander and Kathy Pickett, owners of the Son Shine Christian Bookstore, at a luncheon May 20 at the Holiday Inn Patio Room.

The review was on the book "Disciplines of the Beautiful Woman" by Anne Ortlund.

The group has monthly luncheons. Persons interested in the Alpha Overeaters Victorious can contact Ramona Herbert at 263-3893.

A SHAFT OF LIGHT

Many skylight installations require the construction of a light shaft through the ceiling and into the interior space being lighted. The shaft helps direct light into areas of the room where it is most needed. It also "connects" the inside rim of the skylight with the interior ceiling. A light shaft provides an additional creative opportunity to design a lighted space using interior angles. For example, a spotlight effect can be had by building the light shaft straight down through the ceiling beneath the skylight. If light is needed in a part of the room that is not directly beneath the skylight, the shaft can be angled appropriately to direct the light.

Let BOB'S CUSTOM WOODWORK handle your home renovations. We design and build all types of room additions, decks and sunporches. If you need more space, let us show you how we can add on to your home. We specialize in all kinds of custom woodwork. Fully insured for your protection. Come to Bldg. 613 in the Industrial Park, or phone 267-5811. Open M-F, 8-12, 1-5 or by appt.

HINT

The ceiling height should be no more than four times the measured diagonal of the skylight opening.

Local hospitals supply information for Storkclub. If a child is born elsewhere in the newspaper's circulation area, or is born to out-of-town parents with local or area grandparents, please contact the Herald Lifestyle Department with Storkclub information.

Information needed for Storkclub is: newborn's name, sex, time and date of birth, weight, place of birth, parents' name and address. If the baby is born outside the circulation area but has local grandparents, please include their name and address. The local grandparents serve as the area connection for the information.

Battered minds form of abuse

These are the bruises that don't show: scars in the mind that haunt a child into adulthood. There are no statistics on children who are victims of emotional child abuse, but the problem is widespread.

According to Reader's Digest, emotional abusers are prompted not by children's misbehavior, but by their own psychological problems.

Dr. Jay Lefter, a New York psychiatrist, says there are "four D's" of emotional abuse: deprivation, distancing, deprecation and domination. Abusive parents may use one, all or a combination to play out their own conflicts and avoid facing up to the real demands of child-rearing. Deprivation of love and distancing will block development of a secure attachment to his or her parents. "Unavailability is shattering because a child doesn't get any of the usual rewards for curiosity, growth and accomplishment," says Byron Egeland, a University of Minnesota psychologist.

Depreciation means discounting any childhood achievement and exaggerating any fault or failure. "Words like 'always' and 'never' — implying that a child invariably fails to live up to a parent's expectations — are keys to distinguishing a consistently abusive parent from one who criticizes occasionally in anger or frustration," according to the article.

Dr. Lefter says that all parents will try to dominate their children in terms of setting standards and values. "But there's a big difference between domination through education and example and domination through cruelty," he says.

Sharie Shaw honored with bridal shower

Sharie Shaw, bride-elect of Jeff Morris, was honored with a bridal shower May 21 in the Fellowship Hall of Midway Baptist Church.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Sherry Fryear, Lu Norris, Katie McAdams, Billie Frazier, Jo Ann Ritchey, Edna Holland, Peggy Snell, Shirley Paige, Pat Furlong, Gena Franke, Sharon Brown, Leola Newton, Jeffie Phinney, Dedra Wood, Patsy Ritchey, Linda Bennett, Jackie Zitterkopf and

Jeanette Brooks. Their gift was a blue and white comforter.

The mother and grandmother of the bride-elect were presented corsages of turquoise carnations matching the bride-elect's corsage.

The serving table was covered with a lace table cloth. A silver bowl with turquoise carnations, white daisies and baby's breath made up the table arrangement.

The couple will wed June 22 at Midway Baptist Church.

Americans prefer American clothes

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans prefer to buy American-made clothing over foreign-made apparel of the same price and quality, according to several independent opinion surveys.

A Gallup Poll found American clothing favored by 75 percent of those interviewed. Roper Reports showed a dozen labels to 2,000 people and says 95 percent of them chose the "Made in USA" label.

In a 32-state survey made by Professor Kitty Dickerson of the University of Missouri over 58 percent of those questioned said it was important that the clothes they bought were American-made.

Lifestyle guidelines

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement, wedding, silver or golden anniversary in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this. The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form must include a name and telephone number of a person whom we can reach during the day for more information.

We will use a picture of the couple in the announcement. Or in the case of engagement announcements where a picture of the couple is not available, we will use one of the bride-elect photograph. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print. We ask for this kind of photograph so that it will reproduce well in the newspaper. Following the picture's publication, it may be picked up at the Lifestyle department.

The information for the story may be brought to the Lifestyle department of the Herald, which is located at 710 Scurry. Or it may be mailed to Lifestyle Department, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 77720. Call us at (915) 267-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

ENGAGEMENTS
Information of engagement announcements must be submitted to the Lifestyle department of the Herald anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks prior to the wedding. Anything closer than three weeks will not be published. The engagement form must be submitted no later than Wednesday noon prior to the Sunday it is to be published.

If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to the Herald. If only grandparents live in our area, please give their names and addresses.

WEDDINGS
If a wedding writup is submitted to the Herald after the wedding has occurred, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

BIRTHS
Local hospitals supply information for Storkclub. If a child is born elsewhere in the newspaper's circulation area, or is born to out-of-town parents with local or area grandparents, please contact the Herald Lifestyle Department with Storkclub information.

Information needed for Storkclub is: newborn's name, sex, time and date of birth, weight, place of birth, parents' name and address. If the baby is born outside the circulation area but has local grandparents, please include their name and address. The local grandparents serve as the area connection for the information.

New Contact Lenses
Your chances of being successfully fitted with contact lenses is much greater than it was 10 years ago. New lens materials, designs, and techniques are making it possible to fit many more types of vision problems with comfort, safety and good vision.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has now approved several different soft contact lenses for correcting vision. Other new lens materials allow the eye to receive more oxygen.

Contact lenses give better vision for some types of problems; not as good in others. One type is best for one problem — a different type for others. It's not just "getting contact lenses" that counts. What does count is getting the correct contact lenses that give you the best in vision and comfort and do not adversely affect your eyes — if you wish, I will discuss with you whether contacts are advisable for you, and, if so, which type would best solve your vision problem.

STYLING BRUSH SELECTION

Choosing a styling brush for shaping hair as it is blown dry? Choose a brush that has widely-spaced, heat-resistant nylon quills. Because of their uneven surfaces, natural bristles can stretch and snag wet hair. Choose quills that have rounded or cushioned tips. They are extra easy on the scalp. As for the shape, it depends on the look that is desired. Round brushes are best for creating curls. Flared and half-round brushes are used to sweep hair back or to coax it up or under at the ends. Vent brushes that have been specially designed for quick drying are good for curly and wavy hair as they will not flatten a natural wave.

LA CONTESSA is up to date on the latest hairstyles making the headlines. See what's new for you this summer. We can create a hairstyle that is easy to maintain, attractive and fits your lifestyle. You will find us conveniently located at 1508 Marcy. We are open Tues.-Sat. Tel. 267-2187.

HINT - Brushes with natural bristles are best for distributing natural oils throughout the hair.
