Oil prices plummet

W.T. Intermediate crude takes plunge

Staff and wire reports

Britain cut prices of its North Sea oil by $1.25 a barrel Wednesday, a move that analysts said put further pressure on a divided OPEC and increased the odds of price cuts by other producers.

West Texas Intermediate Crude also dropped Wednesday by 45 cents a barrel, bring $27.02 on the futures market.

"Crude prices today are unstable," said Harry Spannaus of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association. Prices in the states "are dependent upon reactions of the Middle East and European supplies."

"All of their changes affect the U.S. crude (price) somewhat," Spannaus said he was unsure at this time whether or not the drop would affect prices at the pump.

"We don't know if it is a temporary thing or permanent. We can't tell one day after the price drop," Spannaus said.

The government-run British National Oil Corp. said it had lowered the price of its Brent and Forties crude oils from the North Sea to $26.65 a barrel in June from $27.90 in May. It also reduced the price of Ninian oil to $26.50 from $27.75 a barrel.

As recently as last October, BNOOC was paying $30 a barrel to suppliers for Brent crude, but in recent months it has tied its prices to levels in the spot, or non-contract, market.

A cut of $1.25 a barrel, if adopted by all producers and passed on entirely to consumers, is equivalent to a reduction of approximately 3 cents a gallon on the price of gasoline and other refined petroleum products.

Expectations of falling oil prices helped push the British pound lower against the U.S. dollar for a second straight day, bringing sterling to $1.256 and widening its losses since late Monday to nearly 4 cents.

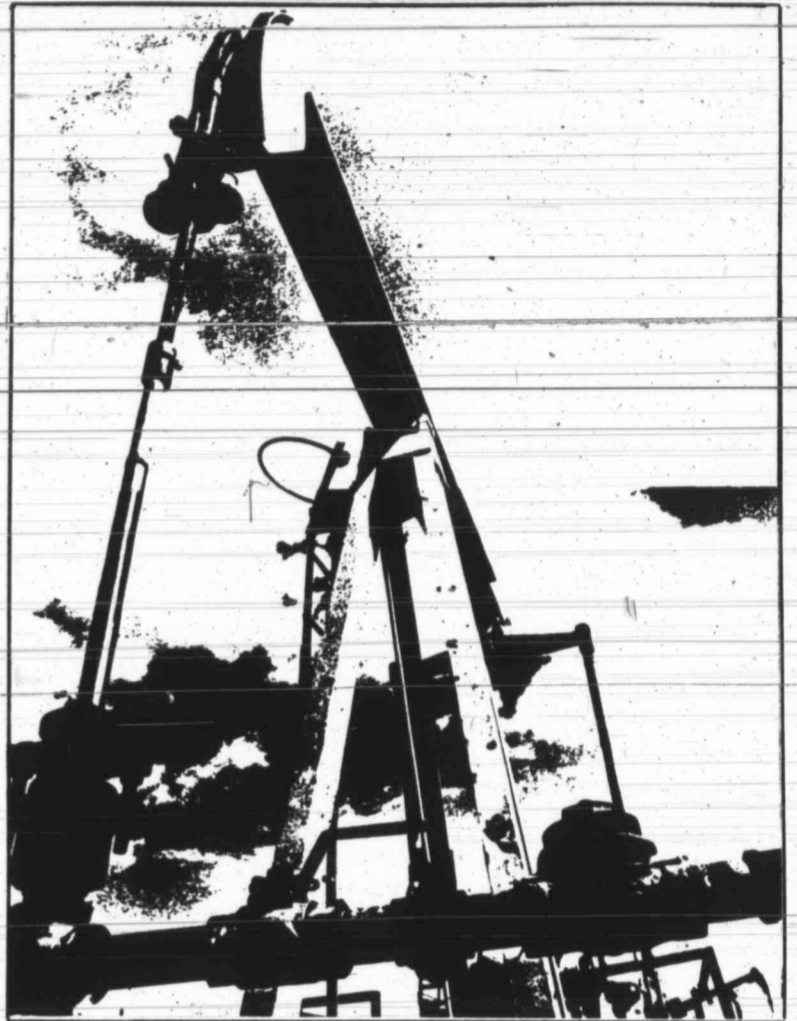

Britain's price cut came two days after nine oil ministers of the 13-member Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries decided to move forward the next semi-annual meeting of the cartel to June 30 from July 22 to discuss weak oil markets and reported cheating by members on OPEC's price and production limits.

Nigeria, an OPEC member that competes directly with non-member Britain for sale of light crude oil, has in the past broken ranks with the cartel to follow price cuts for North Sea oil.

Nigerian Bonny Light oil currently has an official price of $28.65 a barrel, $2 above Britain's new price. In the spot market, Bonny Light was quoted today at $26.95, according to Telerate Energy Service, a private market-information service.

"Britain's action is going to put Nigeria in a quandary. It could very easily precipitate a price war," said Philip Verleger Jr., an oil analyst in Washington for the U.S. consulting firm of Charles River Associates.

Howard Co. man dies in accident

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

A 61-year-old Sand Springs man apparently drowned Wednesday afternoon at Moss Creek Lake in a boating accident.

Roy Lee Moore Sr., 61, of Sand Springs died while attempting to swim to shore from a capsized fishing boat, according to witnesses. Justice of the Peace Willie Grant placed time of death at 2:39 p.m.

Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle and Welch Funeral Home. Moore's body was found by divers at 4:42 p.m., Grant said. It was recovered in the southeast part of the lake near the boating ramp.

He and his fishing companion, Jim Fowler of Sand Springs, were swimming to shore while holding life jackets when Moore lost hold of his life jacket about 30 yards from shore. The boat capsized about 50 yards from shore.

Grant has ordered an autopsy to determine cause of death because of the manner in which Moore let go of the life jacket, she said.

Several fishermen in the area attempted to rescue Moore, but he slipped out of their grasp, they said.

According to witnesses, Fowler and Moore were adjusting the boat engine when it began to capsize and they abandoned ship.

"We backed it (the boat) up off the dock and the engine choked," Fowler said. They then put the gas on, but the boat began to sink, he said.

"It had done filled up with water by the time I got back up to the front (of the boat)," Fowler said. "The boat went down, turned on its side and stopped. We grabbed our life jackets before we jumped out."

Fowler said he swam side by side with Moore for most of the way, but began to get ahead of him near the shore. "He kept his (life jacket) until he got close to shore. He just let go of it. He'd been swimming pretty good."

"I threw mine back to him, but the wind blew it away. All I could see of him was his hair," Fowler said. "By the time I got out of the water, he was already down."

"He turned it (the life jacket) loose. I don't know why he let it go," Fowler said. The two had been long-time fishing companions, he said.

Charles Womble, a retired fireman from Midland, was one of three men fishing on the pier at the time of the accident. The three of them jumped up, drove or ran to the boat ramp area when they saw him let go of the life jacket, he said.

Womble went into the water, he said, but his "pockets were full of tools" and he had to go and take them out. "Another person got to him (Moore) but lost him."

Warmer weather to reign

By LISA MUSSER
Staff Writer

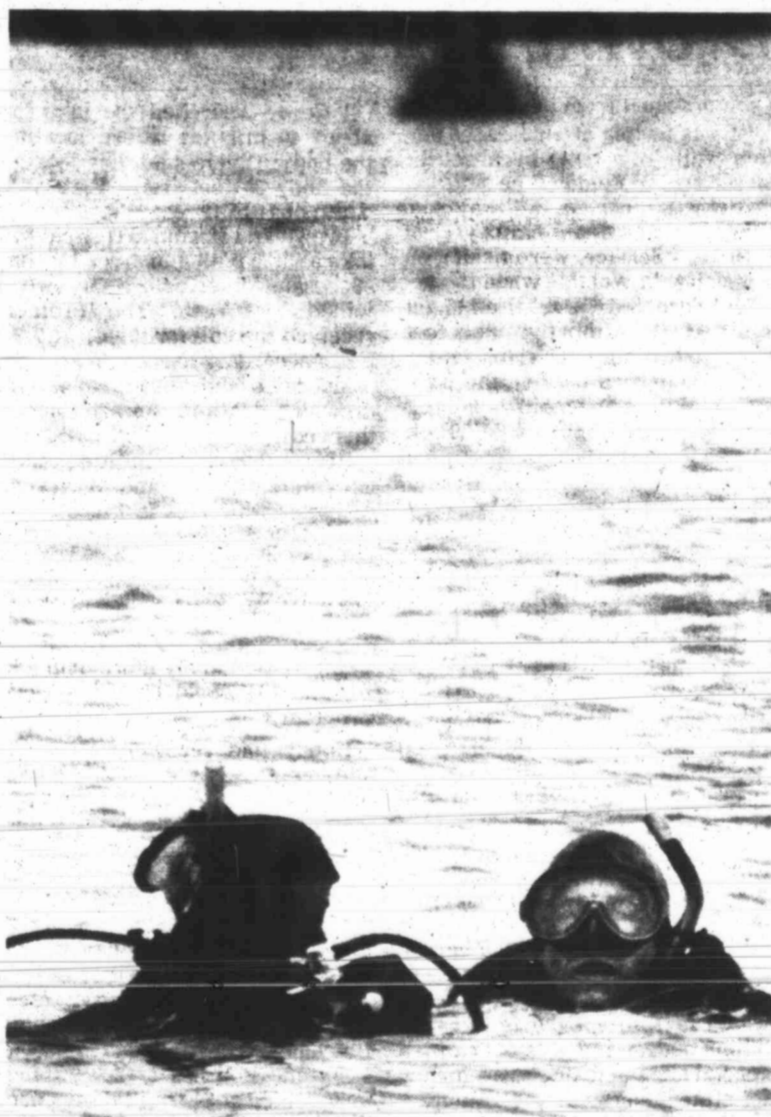

Is there calm after the storm? After receiving 4 inches of rain this week, the area is looking forward to a weekend forecast of sunny days.

Howard County residents Wednesday night received varied amounts of rain from yet another storm system that threatened violent weather.

Most of the activity occurred in Martin County, which was placed under a tornado warning by the National Weather Service until 9 p.m. after radar indicated a possible tornado four miles south of Lenorah. The tornado was never confirmed, a spokesman from the Martin County Sheriff's Department said.

Some pea-sized hail was reported from Martin County which received rainfall measuring from a trace in Lenorah to four-tenths of an inch 12 miles northeast of Stanton.

Big Spring officially received .26 of an inch of rain yesterday and last night, according to the U.S. Big Spring Field Station. This brings the yearly total to more than 4 inches above the normal 7.06.

Divers tread water in Moss Creek Lake during a break in their search Wednesday afternoon for the body of Roy Lee Moore, 61, of Sand Springs.

Industrial lending outlook positive, says banker

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Total local funds available to one borrower for industrial or commercial lending in Big Spring is $10,550,000, said Bruce Hogenmiller of Big Spring Savings.

"One borrower can borrow so much from one institution," Hogenmiller explained. Financial institutions "can loan a certain percentage of their net worth," he explained.

Total amounts are federally regulated and the $10,550,000 figure is a "loan limit" that one borrower in the community approaching several different institutions would face.

Hogenmiller said he told members of the community strategic planning committee Wednesday that Big Spring "is in pretty doggone good shape" financially. "We're a lot wealthier than some other towns" in West Texas.

The strategic planning committee was formed several weeks ago. Its purpose is to target problem areas in Big Spring and to work on solutions.

Hogenmiller, chairman of the financial committee within the strategic planning committee, said he spent several weeks talking with financial leaders around the community.

One complaint about financial institutions is that some people in business here feel local banks, credit unions and savings and loans are reluctant to make loans for fledgling businesses, Hogenmiller said.

Hogenmiller said, "there are some good bankers in this town with good contacts." After meeting with area financial leaders, Hogenmiller said, "We're ready, willing and able to finance growth in Big Spring, Texas."

Deejay spins panic with Lucas look-alike

WACO (AP) — The driver of a yellow pickup truck Thomas Poindexter spotted on his way to work looked exactly like multiple murderer Henry Lee Lucas, so when he got to his radio disc jockey job, he told listeners what he had seen.

The result, authorities said, was a mild panic in Marlin, the Falls County town where station KLMT is located, and a flood of calls to the station's switchboard.

Lucas was safely behind bars in the jail of neighboring McLennan County Tuesday, when Poindexter was driving to work.

"I saw a guy who looked just like Henry Lee Lucas," Poindexter said. "I mean he looked exactly like Lucas. I couldn't believe it."

Lucas, a one-time drifter, has been held in the McLennan County Jail the past seven weeks while a grand jury investigation of his murder confessions is being conducted. He has confessed to dozens of murders and retracted most of them.

Shortly after Poindexter aired his report, the KLMT switchboard was flooded "with more than 100" telephone calls from people wanting to know how Lucas had escaped.

Vida Johnson, secretary for the Falls County Sheriff's Department, also began getting phone calls from concerned residents. She decided to call Capt. Dan Weyenberg of the McLennan County Sheriff's Department.

"I told her that we'd run out of doughnuts and had sent Henry out for some more. She didn't seem to think it was very funny," Weyenberg said later.

"Needless to say," Weyenberg added, "Lucas was here, is here, and has not left for any reason."

HENRY LEE LUCAS Still in custody.

The comeback kid

Teen-ager sets sights on future after shooting accident

McCAMEY (AP) — A shooting accident that left a McCamey teenager horribly wounded will not stop him from hunting with his father this fall.

Still facing two years of plastic surgery and pain, 14-year-old John Johns has put the incident behind him and is determined to live a normal life.

"It was an accident, one of those things that happen. I was just the one it happened to. I saved the other kid's life. He was behind me. It (a bullet) would have hit him in the face," John said. "I haven't been hunting since the accident, but I will."

Charles W. "John" Johns hasn't changed his opinion of guns as a result of the accident.

"I'm not down on guns. What happened was no fault of any kid, just an accident. You take an 18- or 19-year-old kid who gets a gun for the first time, then if you ask me, you're asking for trouble," the boy's father said. "He still wants to hunt and we've already made reservations for hunting this year."

The incident occurred when a rifle accidentally discharged while John and two friends were relaxing in his living room after an afternoon hunting trip.

John sat in an armchair with his chin cradled in his right hand. Six feet away, his friend Scott Frady ejected shells from a 22,250-caliber rifle. A third companion sat directly behind John.

Scott had dispensed three shells when the gun slipped from his grasp and hit a leg brace he was wearing to correct a football injury.

The fourth shell exploded through the gun's barrel.

"I was stunned. Scott had this scared look on his face. He told me to lie down and then he left," John said. "He told me to lie down, but I followed him. I didn't want to die alone."

John Johns, Jr., of McCamey talks about the accident last year which sent a rifle bullet through his right arm and jaw. Doctors have yet to schedule cosmetic surgery for his face, concentrating instead on repairing bone damage and other inside sections of his head.

He followed Scott 150 yards to a neighbor's house where an ambulance was called.

John's mother, Velta Johns, was attending a wedding in Sonora. His father was working in San Angelo.

Doctors said John was near death when he was first treated at Rankin County Hospital. He was later rushed to Shannon West Texas Memorial Hospital in San Angelo where he spent a week in the intensive care unit.

"Just a fraction of an inch would have killed him," Mrs. Johns said. Upton County Deputy Tony Fultz arrived shortly after the shooting.

"This boy is very fortunate to be alive," he said. "A 22,250 has a 175-grain bullet. That's a lot of powder pushing that little bullet."

Mrs. Johns said her son and Scott have been around guns all their lives.

"We've always had guns in the house, and we taught the kids that every gun Dad had was loaded. His dad had the theory that there's been more unloaded guns go off and kill than loaded guns," she said.

Mrs. Johns said she had always feared rattlesnakes or an attack by javelinas posed the greatest danger to her son.

"I was always more afraid of him getting bit by a rattlesnake than them shooting each other," she said.

Johns said he taught his children gun safety. The family includes John's twin sister, Joan and another sister, Jodie, 16.

"All my guns have been ready to shoot any time, and my guns are still loaded. Anybody who's not had a gun go off on them has not been around guns very much," he said.

John was in Shannon six weeks. About one inch of bone was shattered in his right forearm, leaving his arm and hand partially disabled.

Doctors first told Mrs. Johns her son could lose his right hand, but they were able to save it by attaching John's hand to his stomach with a flap of skin.

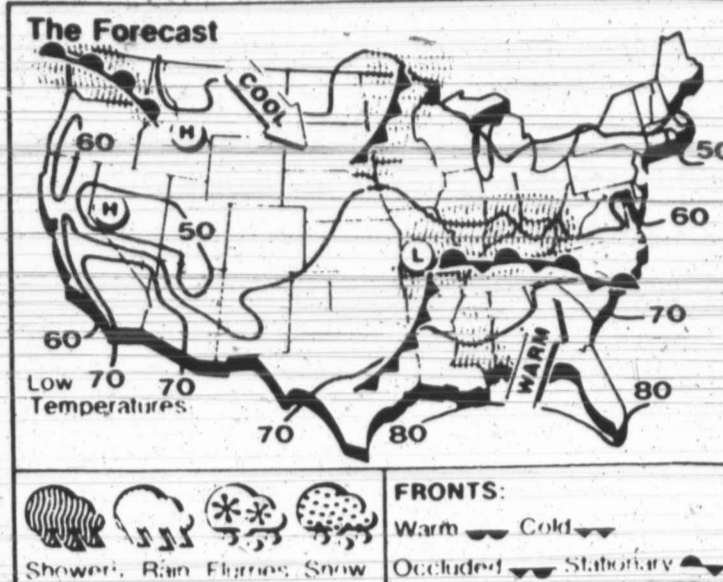

Six teeth, three on each side, remain in his lower mouth and a brace holds his jaw together.

John is to undergo several surgical reconstructions of his jaw, chin and mouth.

John receives physical and speech therapy three times a week and must continue the regimen for two more years.

"They (doctors) said he would never be exactly the same," Mrs. Johns said.

Weather

Local

Today's forecast calls for partly cloudy skies with highs in the mid 80s. Northwest winds will be blowing 5 to 15 miles per hour. Tonight, the lows will be in the mid 50s and winds will be light and variable. On Friday, temperatures will be warmer with the highs reaching the mid 90s.

State

Heavy rainfall was reported across a vast area of Texas early today after a night of flash flooding across portions of North Texas.

At one point during the night heavy rainfall in North Texas caused U.S. 75, one of the main northbound highways leading out of Texas, to be closed between Denison and the Red River. Officers said about 10 motorists were temporarily stranded on the busy highway, but they said the highway was open again early today, less than hour after it was closed.

More than seven inches of rain fell at Denison between late Wednesday and early today and up to five inches of rain fell in the area just north of San Antonio.

Heavy rains were reported early today in North Central, Northeast, South Central Texas, the Hill Country and the Edwards Plateau.

And forecasters say the rain should continue during the day, ending from the west to east by tonight. Clearing skies and slightly warmer temperatures are forecast for Friday.

A flash flood watch was in effect for much of the state today and numerous flash flood warnings were issued during the night before tapering off somewhat early today.

The rains were triggered by an upper level trough of low pressure that was moving slowly at dawn northeastward through the Texas Panhandle. A nearly stationary cold front extends across the state from just north of San Angelo to just north of the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The heavy rain North Central Texas some flooding at Wichita Falls and forced some residents from their homes.

In Wichita Falls, floodwaters were as high as three feet in some streets Wednesday after rains dumped up to five inches of rain there, the Wichita Falls Record News said.

The Red Cross set up an emergency shelter at an elementary school in Wichita Falls, and about 29 residents were staying at the shelter Wednesday night.

As many as two dozen Red Cross volunteers were working throughout the city Wednesday helping flooded-out families and assessing damage.

Lake Wichita ran over its spillway Wednesday at about 7 p.m. City Engineer David Zelenok said Holliday Creek rose about three feet between 9:30 a.m. and 10:30 p.m., while McGrath Creek rose two feet in the same hour.

A tornado watch was in effect for a large part of West Texas Wednesday, but there were no reports of twisters despite ideal conditions, the National Weather Service said.

Some major highways and farm-to-market roads in Stonewall, Haskell and Fisher counties in West Texas remained under water Wednesday afternoon, but only a couple of farm roads remained closed, the weather service said.

Forecasts called for continued showers and thunderstorms over the eastern two-thirds of the state today. It was to be partly cloudy over West Texas.

Drowning

"I was feeling around on the bottom with my feet, because the water was so muddy," he said.

Ricky Overton of Midway and Paul Martinez, an employee of Pool Well Service, were fishing on the pier with Womble when the accident occurred. "Paul tried to get him... He got within five or six feet when he lost him," Overton said.

The fishermen notified the park ranger of the accident at 2:49 p.m., according to Police Chief Rick Turner.

Three divers — Big Spring firefighters Paul Brown and Kerry Horton and Robert Wash of Forsan

Oil Co. — searched the lake for about 40 minutes before locating the body. Divers said they located the body 30 feet from shore at a depth of 11 to 12 feet.

Brown and Horton arrived at the lake at 3:35 p.m. and made two unsuccessful dives before they were joined by Wash. The firemen received the call for divers at 3:24 p.m., according to records.

Moore is the second apparent drowning death in Howard County this year.

His survivors include two daughters, a son and a granddaughter who lives in Big Spring, according to police.

Sheriff

Man transferred to San Angelo

Howard County Sheriff's deputies released David Joseph Winton, 25, of 1904 Nolan to Tom Green County sheriff's deputies after he was arrested on their warrant for revocation of probation on a rape by threat charge.

Big Spring Police transferred Paul Justin Brown, 22, of 700 1/2 Bell to county jail after he was arrested on a theft over $750 and under $2,000 charge. He remains in county jail with a $5,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace China Long.

Police transferred John Davis Hyden, 31, of 2204 Grace to county jail after he was arrested for an assault charge. He was released on $2,000 bond set by Long.

District urges taxpayers

to file for exemptions

Members of the Howard County Consolidated Tax Appraisal District encourage taxpayers who are eligible for homestead exemptions to file now before the appraisal office prepares its certified appraisal roll.

The district met Wednesday afternoon in the Howard County Courthouse. They approved appraisal district and financial reports for the month of May.

"It behooves persons to file for homestead exemptions if they qualify for it," said Howard County chief appraiser Gene Pereira.

According to the state property tax code, persons who are 18 years or over, own property and reside on that property will be eligible for an exemption. "I very seldom deny homestead exemptions if persons meet the criteria. I'm mainly interested in seeing that people get it," Pereira said.

Tax entities will grant additional monies to homestead exemptions for people 65 years or over, Pereira said. The school district will grant $10,000 extra, the city will grant $5,000, the county and junior college will grant $12,000.

"The appraisal office would like to make its tax role as accurate as possible," said Rob Roberson of the tax appraisal district.

An accurate tax role helps tax jurisdictions determine an equitable rate to raise revenues, Roberson said.

Oil

In Texas, state officials are closely watching threatened oil price cuts because of the potential danger to Texas' revenues for 1986-87, according to Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Hobby told the Texas Good Roads-Transportation Association Wednesday that a "serious problem" could develop if oil prices should drop more than $2 a barrel.

During a question-and-answer session he was asked how much it would take to unbalance the $36.8 billion budget and possibly cause a special session to find more money for state government operations.

"We are very close," Hobby replied. "I think we could stand a $2 hit on oil but any more than a $2 hit and we would have a serious problem."

Hobby told reporters later his statement was "a guess, a gut feeling."

He said he knew State Comptroller Bob Bullock had made a close estimate on state revenue the next two years.

"You could count on a $1 decrease in oil prices meaning $100 million in revenue," Hobby said.

"It would not mean a special session right away because I assume Bob has a cushion. I don't know but I assume Bob has a $200 million, $300 million or $400 million cushion. That's what I would do," Hobby said.

Funds

deposits in local institutions.

The four commercial banks in the city have total deposits of $305,000,000, according to Hogenmiller's figures. Local savings and loans have total deposits of $540,000,000, totalling out to a base of $845,000,000 for industrial lending.

Hogenmiller said local credit unions have deposits of $39,000,000. That brings the city total to $884,000,000.

Hogenmiller said, "Our community has several other financial plans available." Those include SBA federal loan programs, industrial revenue bonds, local industrial foundation funds, investment and mortgage bankers and private investors.

Hogenmiller said businesses could also approach bankers outside of this community for loans in a "loan participation" program.

In Wednesday's meeting, the Economic Development Council, headed by Chris Christopher, presented several ideas for community growth.

Among ideas for growth were inquiries into building a raw glass manufacturing plant here, a machine shop, enlarging the local prison camp and building a professional-quality ballpark.

Hogenmiller said the ideas coming out of the strategic planning committee are not "pie in the sky" hopes. "We are looking at realistic things we can make happen."

Man pleads in drug case

LUBBOCK — A 31-year-old Big Spring man Wednesday pleaded guilty to a drug-related charge in federal district court in Lubbock, according to U.S. attorney Dick Baker.

Ynez Yanez III, 31, of 509 W. 11th Place pleaded guilty to a single count of distribution of a controlled substance. According to Baker, Yanez admitted to delivering 6 ounces of cocaine on Jan. 26 to an undercover Department of Public Safety narcotics agent.

Yanez faces a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and $125,000 fine, Baker said.

Man not injured in rollover

An Abilene man escaped serious injury Wednesday morning after a diesel truck he was driving for Oil Transport of Abilene rolled over on its top 6 1/2 miles east of Coahoma.

Texas Department of Safety Trooper Glen Redmon said the truck, driven by Robert Gary Little, 28, of Abilene, rolled over on its top on the north service road.

According to the sheriff's log, the truck was loaded with 7,245 gallons of diesel.

"It could have been serious," Redmon said about the possibility of the fuel igniting. The DPS trooper said that diesel "has a high flash point" and that it usually ignites by flame.

Little was treated for cuts, scratches and abrasions at Malone-Hogan Hospital, Redmon said.

There's no defense for the Pentagon

The Navy's crackdown on General Dynamics for improper charges and tactics in handling defense contracts is of serious concern to the nation, but it certainly is nothing new.

As long as the government has been involved in purchasing military hardware, there have been bribery, overpayments, kickbacks and other illegalities. These white-collar crimes date back at least to the Civil War and probably even to 1775, when the Colonists were hiding munitions from the British in such communities as Lexington and Concord.

Nevertheless, the present uproar over war profiteering is the biggest flap of its kind in peacetime since a Missouri senator named Harry S. Truman gained national attention as chairman of a committee investigating defense contractors just before Pearl Harbor. And the discovery that we haven't been getting our money's worth in defense spending threatens to bring to a sudden stop the massive military buildup that started when Ronald Reagan was elected president in 1980.

Because illegal activity cannot be tolerated and because there must be public confidence in the defense budget, Secretary of the Navy John Lehman was right to come down hard on General Dynamics, the nation's third largest defense contractor.

Charges against General Dynamics include the request for government reimbursements for dues and fees to more than 20 country clubs and other organizations, lobbying, advertising and entertainment expenses, traveling costs — even $155 for boarding an executive's dog in a kennel.

General Dynamics should not shoulder the entire blame in these matters. The Pentagon must share the guilt. It has become the world's biggest bureaucracy.

A Lebanese epic: War against peace

WASHINGTON — Like the dog that didn't bark in Sherlock Holmes, the absence of Israel from the scene provides the master clue to the latest outbreak of violence in Lebanon. The fighting pits a group of Arabs who want to come to terms with Israel against several groups of Arabs, including Syria, who don't. It is, literally, a war against peace.

The continuing struggle shows that, despite favorable elements, the political climate in the Middle East remains unripe for an Arab-Israeli accord. So the American policy of watchful waiting corresponds with the situation on the ground.

The fighting directly engages many of the ethnic and religious factions that have made Lebanon a cockpit of international politics for a decade. A principal force are the Shiites, a Moslem sect that comprises the largest single bloc in Lebanon. Once pariahs, the Shiites came into their own after the Israeli invasion of Lebanon in 1982.

First the Shiites cheered as the Israelis liberated their territories in southern Lebanon from the yoke of the Palestine Liberation Organization. Next the Shiites turned against the Israelis and used terror tactics to speed the occupying troops out of southern Lebanon. But with their base in southern Lebanon cleared, the Shiites do not want reoccupation by the PLO forces of Yasser Arafat. To that end, Shi'ite forces attacked the area still dominated by Palestinian refugees around Beirut.

Resistance came from three different factions. PLO forces loyal to Arafat shot back from refugee camps that have been turned into fortresses. Medical aid to the besieged Palestinians was provided by the Druze, a Moslem sect backed by Syria. Military aid to the Arafat forces was provided by a rump PLO faction, originally set up by the Syrians as a PLO opposition to Arafat.

Why the Syrians turned their proxy forces against the Shiites provides a topic for intense speculation. The obvious motive is to block any coming to terms along the Lebanese-Israeli border. For the Shiites seek accommodation with the Israelis along the frontier. Accommodation would foster trends favoring a wider peace that are already making headway in Israel and Jordan.

The present government of Israel is a national coalition linking the two main parties — the Labor alliance headed by Prime Minister Shimon Peres and the Likud group headed by Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir. Under the terms of the coalition, Peres has to step down and let Shamir take over in the fall of 1986.

But if Likud voluntarily withdrew from the coalition, Peres could probably stay in power — either by a ministerial shuffle or new elections. So Peres has an incentive to make peaceful gestures to the Arabs that alienate the Likud, but not the whole Israeli electorate.

The prime minister has already ventured far down that road. He has pushed Israeli withdrawal from Lebanon at a rapid clip. He negotiated a lopsided prisoner exchange — more than a thousand Arabs, including some convicted terrorists, against three captured Israeli soldiers held in Syria. He has opened negotiations for a summit meeting with President Hosni Mubarak of Egypt. While refusing to talk directly with senior leaders of the PLO, Peres has expressed willingness to talk with a delegation headed by Jordanians and including Palestinians who might have PLO ties.

King Hussein of Jordan has inched toward acceptance of an American proposal for Palestinian self-rule within the context of a Jordanian state. The king has recognized Egypt, which openly favors such an arrangement. In long negotiations, Hussein wrung from the PLO leader, Yasser Arafat, explicit willingness to trade land claims against political rights.

But Arafat has refused to acknowledge Israel's right to exist as asserted in United Nations Resolution 242. He has not abandoned hopes of creating an independent Palestinian state. He has still not explicitly accepted the concept of Palestinian self-rule under Jordanian sovereignty. His refusal to accept those terms set the stage for the latest battle of Beirut.

Arafat tried to break out of the cage by moving his PLO forces from the Beirut camps to the Israeli border. To prevent that, the Shi'ite forces struck the Beirut camps. Syria's proxies then hit back against the Shiites to make it certain trouble would continue unabated.

Washington rejects funding for U.S. embassy in Beirut

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA WASHINGTON — In recent years our diplomats, as the targets of terrorists, have put their lives on the line. So imagine, if you will, the State Department bureaucrats turning down an embassy's request for $130,000 to beef up its security. And imagine also that the embassy in question is the one in Beirut.

Hard to believe, isn't it? But that appears to be what's happened. When Ambassador Reginald Bartholomew requested this relatively modest sum to protect his people in the front lines of Beirut, he got no sympathy from the rear-echelon commandos who man the swivel chairs in Washington. They reminded him, in effect, that money doesn't grow on trees. They also lectured him about spending funds on security without dotting all the i's.

As a final insult, the Foggy Bottom featherheads told the ambassador that if he seriously expected to get the money he needs, he'd have to promise to follow strict budgetary protocol in the future, review all the embassy's expenditures and submit a "state of your budget" report.

After Bartholomew does all this, they'll think about his request for $130,000.

State Department officials have refused to discuss any aspect of the situation with us on security grounds. One spokesman huffed that he didn't see how this was a story at all. We'll let you be the judge. Here's what we've learned:

From a cable stamped "confidential" obtained by our associate Donald Goldberg, it appears that Beirut asked for the $130,000 to hire guards and trailers for embassy property outside the fortified compound. A State Department budget officer was sent to look things over.

"While we realize your need for the requested funds," the cable stated, "we want to share with you our appreciation of the situation."

The cable whined in some detail about the grim budget conditions in Washington: "Funding is very tight... (Security) has expended its supplemental... (Other offices) are already down to emergency reserves in their regular budget." (Don't the people in Beirut appreciate how rough things are back home? Dealing with Congress, stuck in traffic on I-66, trying to get tickets to the Kennedy Center?)

The cable then adopts a sternly admonitory tone: "It appears that you have expended funds beyond those... allotted or available. In addition, we are concerned that funds allotted for security guards have been expended on other projects."

Having established that the embassy was undeserving of sympathy from the people in Washington who are really suffering hardships, the cable laid down "certain steps" that should be taken "to get control of the situation and before we can provide any increased funding."

First, prepare a "state of your budget" report. "Second, you should ensure that no expenditures are made for which funds are not available or obligated... Before any obligations can be made an officer must certify that funds are available. This applies to regular post funds as well as special security allotments."

Third, the cable said, "you should review current plans as well as ongoing programs for expenditures of all types to ensure that they are absolutely required (include such categories as overtime, lease of vehicles, etc.)."

The cable offers a glimmer of sympathy. "While we understand the necessity for security and continued embassy operations, the state of the budget is such that expenditures which are not critical may not be made."

But it closes with the bureaucracy firmly in charge: "On receipt of your report, we will review your request for increased funding."

ROBOT REPORT: In a chat with us, President Reagan described an astonishing high-tech demonstration in the White House. He watched in amazement, he said, as a robot performed simulated brain surgery on a skull model. Another robot methodically washed a window after first opening the curtain with human care. It was a baffling performance, Reagan said, for someone like himself who "can't operate a pocket calculator."

WE TOLD YOU FIRST: In April, we reported that Navy documents showed long-suppressed evidence that South Africa exploded a nuclear device in 1979. The Washington Office on Africa, a public-interest group, has now released supporting evidence and Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., and other House members have asked President Reagan to "impose an immediate and unconditional embargo on all nuclear relations with South Africa."

Ruling on school prayer criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some members of the religious right are so outraged over the newest Supreme Court ruling on prayer in the schools that they are calling it "an act of war against this nation's religious heritage."

But to civil libertarians, Tuesday's decision is "a major victory to keep religious activity out of the nation's public schools."

The court fueled the controversy anew with a ruling that forbids daily moments of silence if students are told they may pray during that time. The decision, 6-3, strongly reaffirmed the court's 1962 ban on organized prayer in public schools.

Among conservative members of Congress, the immediate reaction was a vow to renew the push for a constitutional amendment to allow group prayers in public schools.

"We must hold hearings as soon as we can... on the silent prayer amendment," Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, said. "The real issue isn't the form of the prayer. It's ending the governmental ban on school prayer... which is what is offensive to most people."

At the Justice Department, spokesman Terry Eastland said, "We regret that the court did not agree with our position in the moment-of-silence case. We are pleased, however, that the court did not hold that the moment-of-silence laws now existing in some two dozen states offend the Constitution."

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said only: "We haven't had the opportunity to review it. We don't generally comment on Supreme Court decisions unless they're outrageous."

Beverly LaHaye of Concerned Women for America, in a statement endorsed by such groups Moral Majority and American Coalition for Traditional Values, said that the decision is unconstitutional and an act of war against America's religious traditions.

"Although we deplore this decision, we see great reason to hope," she said. "This decision is so outrageous that we confidently predict that the United States Congress will pass some form of a prayer in schools amendment by the end of the year."

Tim LaHaye of the American Coalition for Traditional Values called it a tragic day and said "Poland has more religious values in public schools than we do."

The Moral Majority's Roy Jones, calling the ruling deplorable, said it will be the spark toward a school prayer amendment.

And to Peter Waldron of Contact America, a radio ministry, the ruling "turns its back on a God who has provided such privileges."

Robert Grant of Alexandria, Va., chairman of an evangelical and fundamentalist group called The Christian Voice, labeled the decision "stupid, sad and shameful."

Dan Alexander, former president of the Mobile County (Ala.) School Board and now the head of a pro-prayer group called Save Our Schools, said "Six members of the court are going to be tough and hard on the matter of vocal and voluntary prayer in the classroom."

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and Rep. Thomas Kindness, R-Ohio, called for passage of a constitutional amendment to overcome the Supreme Court's ruling.

Sen. Jeremiah Denton, R-Ala., said the ruling "represents a continuation of a distorted rationale that equates the opportunity to pray with the establishment of a state religion."

But there were enthusiastic supporters, too, on Capitol Hill and elsewhere.

To Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., "The court's decision reaffirms that, uniquely in the United States, religion is a matter personal to each of us and not the business of government."

In 1918, the World War I Battle of Belleau Wood, which would result in a U.S. victory over the Germans, began in France.

In 1925, Walter Percy Chrysler founded the Chrysler Corp.

In 1933, the first drive-in movie theater opened, in Camden, N.J.

In 1934, the Securities and Exchange Commission was established.

In 1966, black activist James Meredith was shot and wounded as he walked along a Mississippi highway to encourage black voter registration.

Ten years ago: British voters decided in a referendum to remain in the Common Market.

Five years ago: The Labor Department reported the nation's unemployment rate had risen in May to a seasonally adjusted 7.8 percent of the work force, up eight-tenths of a percentage point from April.

Poppy Day

was success

To the editor:

The local VFW Post, Number 2013, wishes to take this method to thank all those that made our recent poppy day such a great success. Thanks to those places of business that allowed us to place a table in their business to sell poppies. The Big Spring Mall, Highland Shopping Center and Newsom Grocery Store.

A very special thanks to Boy Scout Troop 5. The boys did a swell job under the leadership of their scout master Bill Bradford. The troop sold poppies and then gave all the money for veterans benefits. The money raised is for the use of the veterans in VA hospitals. Thank you boys, it was greatly appreciated.

The VFW auxiliary did their part also. It was regrettable that more VFW members were not present to help. The VFW needs your support. And veterans you need the VFW to help to assure the veterans benefits.

Once again, to those that helped to make poppy day successful. The Big Spring Herald and radio stations, we salute you all.

Water district deliveries on decline

Because of the higher than average amount of rainfall in May, municipal water deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District fell during the month.

Municipal deliveries totalled 1.578 billion gallons, 30.775 million gallons or 1.8 percent less than in May 1984, according to water district spokesman Joe Pickle.

Big Spring received 244,534 million gallons, 45,309 million less than in May a year ago, an 18.17 percent decline.

Snyder and Stanton also had large drops in the percentage of water they took from the water district compared to May 1984. According to water district figures, Snyder received 88.11 million gallons, a drop of 54,667 million gallons, or 38.29 percent. Stanton received 10,856 million gallons, a drop of 2,702 million gallons, or 28.38 percent.

Big Spring, Stanton and Snyder received intermittent rains during May. But in cities where rain fell only at the end of the month, the picture was different.

For example, Midland drew 408,215 million gallons, 29.68 million more than last May, an increase of 7.84 percent. Odessa received 799,818 million gallons, up 44,368 million gallons or 5.87 percent.

San Angelo registered the largest percentage increase, with 26,766 million gallons, up 13,373 gallons, or a 99.83 percent increase from May.

Robert Lee took 6,817 million gallons of water last May, but drew none this year because its lake has been replenished.

Total deliveries in May, however, increased because of deliveries to oil companies. Total deliveries for the month were 1.76 billion gallons, up 1.45 percent.

Pharmacy named in suit

A Big Spring woman claims that injuries she received from a fall last December was the result of a business establishment's negligence.

Mary Imogene Alexander, named as plaintiff in a personal injury suit filed in 118th District Clerk's office last week, is asking for reimbursement and compensation for at least $500,000. Clint Holloman, owner of The Medicine Shoppe, is named as defendant in the suit.

The suit says that Alexander slipped and fell as she was leaving the The Medicine Shoppe building.

The defendant is accused of being negligent for placing a foreign substance (rock salt) on a step where the fall occurred; failing to remove the foreign substance; failing to inspect the porch area and steps where the fall occurred and failing to warn the plaintiff of the presence of rock salt.

The suit asks for damages "to adequately reimburse and compensate plaintiff" for medical treatment and medication incurred from the incident. The suit also says that Alexander suffered loss of wages as the result of the fall and "sustained a loss of earning capacity."

Big Spring Attorney Robert H. Moore is named as Alexander's attorney, according to the suit.

Groups plan aid for Bangladesh

The Red Cross and radio station KBYG-KIOF are coordinating a drive to help victims of the Bangladesh tidal wave, according to Marianne Brown of the Red Cross.

The local organizations are joining an international drive to help victims in Bangladesh. According to reports, a tidal wave slammed into the area and killed several thousand people in late May. Several thousand more were left homeless.

Funds are being raised to help 120,000 people. Goal for the international drive is $2,000,000. Money will be used for food, clothing, emergency and medical aid.

Checks and cash should be earmarked for the Bangladesh Cyclone Relief Fund.

Checks may be mailed to the Red Cross in care of the Northside Center at P.O. Box 1970, or care of radio station KBYG-KIOF, P.O. Box 1713, in Big Spring.

Child care options help working mothers

Dr. Donohue

Calcium prescription confuses reader

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Our doctor told my wife to take 1,500 milligrams of calcium a day. He said she should supplement her food calcium with calcium lactate, calcium carbonate, or calcium gluconate. I am finding a great lack of clarity about whether the recommended daily allowance of calcium refers to the weight of the calcium or to the total calcium salt. To achieve a daily intake of 1,000 mgs. of calcium would take 2,500 mgs. of calcium carbonate, 6,667 mgs. of calcium lactate, or more than 10,000 mgs. of calcium gluconate! Please shed light on this. — R.S.K.

The recommended daily allowance refers to the weight of the calcium, which as you know is only a portion of the compound. Your wife's doctor can be more specific as to his orders.

I turned to my calculator and found your figures correct. They reflect the fact that only 40 percent of the weight of the calcium carbonate compound is actually calcium. Only 9 percent of the calcium gluconate is calcium and 13 percent of the calcium lactate.

If you are going to be confused by trying to convert the doctor's calcium needs into the various compounds available, you should go to a pharmacist, who can supply tablets that contain 500 mgs. of actual calcium. And you can go to the library to find references for various food calcium content. A cup of skimmed milk, for example, has more than 300 mgs. of calcium, an ounce of chese 150-250, and three ounces of sardines (with bones) 370 mgs. of calcium.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What is a completed stroke? — P.V.

It is a stroke whose signs remain long after the actual event — after the initial impact on the brain tissue involved. For example, if the first sign was a numbness in an arm or a speech difficulty, and if such signs were to be present 24 hours later, then the diagnosis of a completed stroke could be made.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I was disappointed to learn that my doctor smokes cigarettes; I thought doctors are supposed to set examples. Comment? — Mrs. L.C.

I cannot sit in judgment, because it was only a short time ago that I was part of the vanishing breed of physicians who smoke. I don't get much mail like yours anymore, and no wonder. Newest surveys show that only about 14 percent of doctors smoke. Of heart specialists only 7 percent continue the habit.

By REDBOOK
Fifty-two percent of American mothers with children under 6 years old work at least part-time outside the home and must arrange for someone else to care for their kids.

Four types of child care are available for working mothers to use, says Redbook. She can turn to relatives, older siblings, a babysitter in her home or to group care outside the home.

Relatives can be ideal for babies too young to need the company of other children, but many working women don't have this option. Older siblings are another possibility, but they are often resentful of the added responsibility.

A babysitter can be expensive, but offers the advantage of one-to-one care — important for babies less than 18 months old.

Babysitters can be found by posting notices in supermarkets and pediatrician's offices and by contacting state, college and nursing school employment offices.

Figure on paying at least the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour. Interview candidates carefully. Ask what the prospective sitter would do in specific situations. Demand recent references and check them carefully.

Group care outside the home falls into three categories — profit-making day care centers, nonprofit community centers and "family day care," in which a group of children are cared for by a woman in her home.

Group care advantages include reliability, increased likelihood of trained teachers who can provide valuable stimulation, and the company of peers — an important factor in children older than 18 months.

Disadvantages include exposure to more people and therefore more chance of illness, and the difficulty in finding sitters when your child is ill.

Good day care also is hard to find — there are 8.5 million preschool children of working mothers in the United States and only 2 million licensed day care places. The younger the child, the more expensive the care. For a full day, expect to pay from $50 to $150 a week, and even more for an infant 6 months or less. Nonprofit centers may cost less — some are excellent; some are not. Only personal investigation will reveal the difference.

Recommended adult-child day care ratios are one adult for every three infants or toddlers, one adult for every four 2- to 3-year-olds, and one adult for every eight children over 3. The age spread in each group should be no more than two years. Groups should include no more than six children per group up to age 2; for 2-3 years old, 12 per group, and 3-6 year olds, 16 per group.

If choosing family day care, be sure you get at least two references from other parents and draw up a written contract to avoid misunderstandings.

The best gauge for how well your day care setup is working, according to Redbook, is the child — watch for changes in mood and behavior, listlessness or withdrawal, or reluctance to go to the day care center. If all is well, don't feel guilty. Dr. Jay Belsky, associate professor of human development at Pennsylvania State University, offered this reassurance:

"We know that when the staff ratios are reasonable, when the groups of children are not too large, and when the caregivers are well-trained and attentive to the children, the kids do fine. The outcome is strikingly consistent with what we know about the development of kids raised at home."

PUBLIC NOTICE

CITY OF BIG SPRING
PUBLIC WORKS DIVISION
CONTAMINATE LEVELS FOR TRICHALOMETHANES

The City of Big Spring is required under the Safe Drinking Water Act to reduce the maximum contaminant levels for Trichalomes below the 100 micrograms per liter limit. In order to comply with this public law the City of Big Spring will convert to the use of Chloramines as a disinfectant in the treatment processes and to maintain a residual throughout the distribution system. The combination of chlorine with ammonia does not allow the chlorine to alternately combine with the naturally occurring organic acids to form Trichalomes. Thus, the system will be able to be in compliance with the maximum contaminant levels for Trichalomes.

The change from the previous routine of water treatment to the use of Chloramines at the treatment plant can cause serious problems to persons dependent on dialysis machines. Then Carbon Filters are not employed to prepare for the dialysate. A condition known as Hemolytic anemia can occur. Therefore, the general public is hereby placed on notice that on July 15, 1985, the water treatment process within the City of Big Spring water system will convert to the use of Chloramines as a disinfectant. Dialysis patients may be affected by this change. Therefore, it is imperative that the pre-treatment scheme used for dialysis units provides some means such as charcoal filters for the removal of the chlorinating (disinfecting) agent. In addition, the use of Chloramines for disinfecting the potable water system will require different pre-treatment prior to being utilized in aquariums and other uses where the disinfectant agent would prove a hazard to the proposed use. Anyone having any questions with respect to this process, are urged to contact the Director of Public Works or the Big Spring Health Department.

Dear Abby

Couple's tax dodge gives sister idea

DEAR ABBY: My sister and her husband owed a lot of money to the IRS, so to help out they "invented" two children for deductions. Next year, the imaginary children will vanish unless needed for more deductions.

My question: Will my sister and her husband get caught on this, or is there a good chance of it slipping through all the paperwork?

My husband and I could use the reward money for turning them in, but we don't want to cause them any more trouble than they got themselves into. (I told her not to do it before she sent it in.) This may sound like a cold thing to do to family, but we could use the money.

I'm not about to sign this, so you'll have to answer me in the paper.

BABY SISTER
DEAR SISTER: I can't tell you whether your sister and her husband will get caught or not, but in case you haven't heard, the computer has already replaced the bloodhound. As for turning her in, I wouldn't, but that's your decision.

***
DEAR ABBY: We, the residents of Rock Table Health Care Center, have a "Dear Abby Conversation Hour," when we discuss the various letters in your column.

Recently, the subject of gratuities came up, and we want to know how you feel about tipping for a buffet-style meal where the diners help themselves cafeteria-style and are served only the beverages. WAITING TO HEAR

DEAR WAITING: The usual 15 percent tip left for the waiter or waitress would not be expected in this case. But do leave some kind of gratuity for the person serving you. And if you received more than just routine service, be generous.

Party turns into surprise shower for Aaron Colman

What was originally planned as a "Come Meet the Baby Party" turned into a surprise baby shower for six-week-old Aaron Reginald Colman and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Coleman of Oklahoma City, Okla. The event was held Saturday at the home of paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Kerby, West Robinson Rd.

The shower was hosted by Jackie Bowden, Billie Frazier, Darlene Hipp, Grace Karnes, Jayne Mansfield, Katie McAdams, Leola Newton, Barbara Stone and Francis Swann. The hostesses presented the family with a combination baby stroller and buggy.

Guests were served from a table covered with a blue and white cloth and centered with a brass candelabrum decorated with blue and cream flowers and six green volute cups holding cream candles. A cake decorated like a baby buggy in blue and white was served.

Special guests were the baby's maternal grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Woodie Coleman of Lubbock.

Series tied 2-2

DJ's jumper drains Lakers

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — It seemed almost as if time were suspended momentarily as Dennis Johnson's long-range jumper floated toward the basket.

But two seconds after the shot left his hand and just as the buzzer sounded, the ball swished through the net and the Boston Celtics had beaten the Lakers to even the National Basketball Association Championship Series at 2-2.

"I figured it had a 50-50 chance of going in," Johnson said after his 22-footer beat Los Angeles 107-105 Wednesday night at the Forum.

"The play was set up to take the clock down to five seconds," Johnson explained, "with Larry (Bird) coming off the pick."

Bird dribbled, was double-teamed by Laker defenders, then passed off to the wide-open Johnson, who immediately fired the ball.

"I saw Byron (Scott) and Kareem (Abdul-Jabbar) running toward me so I figured I'd make the shot a little higher," Johnson said. "It felt good."

Boston Coach K. C. Jones said he didn't have time to worry about Johnson's shot, commenting, "My only thought was to watch the spin on the ball and see if it went in. I was watching the same as everybody else in the place."

The Lakers' Earvin "Magic" Johnson, who'd tied the score at 105 with a basket just 19 seconds earlier, said, "We just lost a tough game at the buzzer. All we can do now is forget this game and look ahead to Friday."

Dennis Johnson, who hadn't been much of a factor in the opening three contests of the title series, had 27 points for Boston this time.

Kevin McHale paced the Celtics' scoring with 28 points, while Bird added 26.

McHale kept the Celtics in the game during the first three quarters, then Bird took control with outstanding all-around play in the fourth before Johnson nailed down the victory at the gun.

The Lakers, who led 92-85 early in the fourth quarter before Boston surged back, were paced by Abdul-Jabbar with 21 points and "Magic" Johnson with 20.

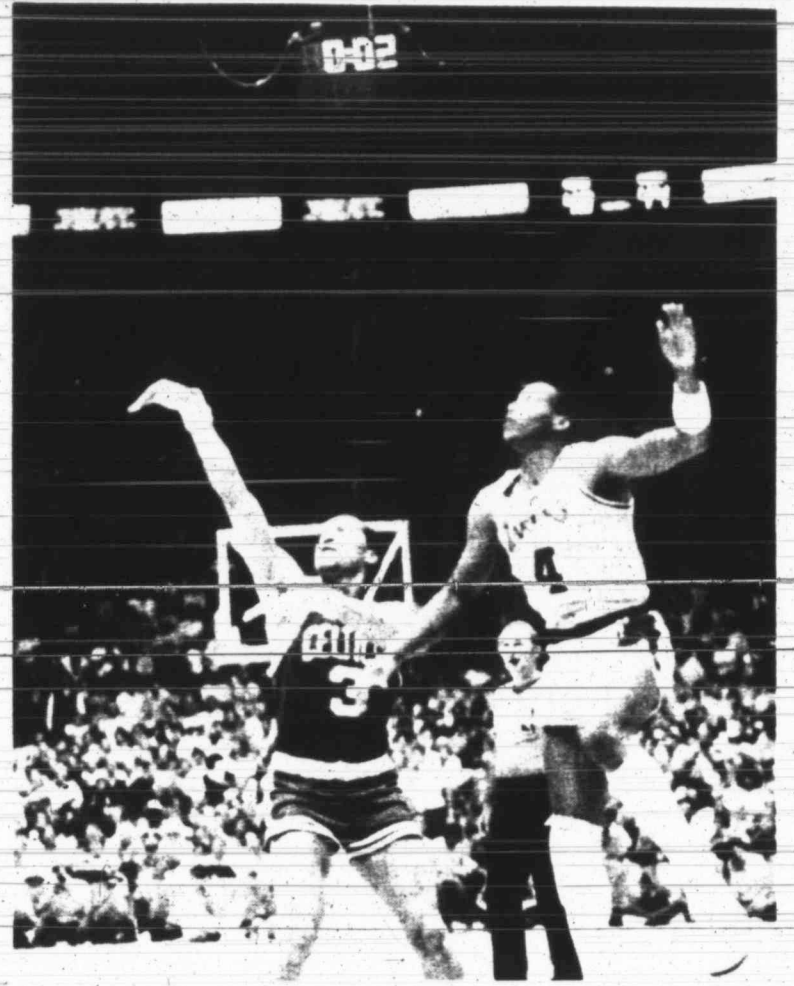

Unlike the first three games of the series, this one was close most of the way. And, unlike the third game, it was scuffle-free.

NBA Vice President Scotty Stirling had met with Jones and Lakers Coach Pat Riley prior to the game, ostensibly to talk about the rough play that had characterized the third game and resulted in some tough talk from both sides.

The fifth game is scheduled here Friday night at the Forum. The series then shifts back to Boston for a sixth game on Sunday, and, if necessary, a seventh on Tuesday.

"We knew when we got here we had to win one," said the Celtics' Johnson. "Now we just have to bring some intensity back Friday night like we had in this game."

"The series is tied both numerically and emotionally," said Riley. "We have a dagger in us a little bit now, but we just have to come back strong Friday night."

Americans shoot for French Open titles

PARIS (AP) — With just two rounds remaining, both Jimmy Connors and John McEnroe have a chance to give America its first French Open men's singles title since Tony Trabert captured the crown in 1955.

Standing in the way, however, are the defending champion, Ivan Lendl, and Mats Wilander, the 1982 winner.

Connors and the top-seeded McEnroe have battled their way into Friday's semifinals on the slow, red clay courts at Roland Garros Stadium where Connors, possibly playing his last French Open, will meet Lendl and McEnroe will take on Wilander, his third straight Swedish opponent.

Today, though, is women's day here, and Americans have done extremely well thus far.

Defending champion and No. 1 seed Martina Navratilova faced West Germany's Claudia Kohde-Kilsch, and second-seeded Chris Evert Lloyd met 15-year-old Gabriela Sabatini of Argentina.

Navratilova and Lloyd met in the women's final last year, Navratilova winning in straight sets. Lloyd has won the French Open a record five times, but Navratilova, twice a champion, is favored to repeat this year.

On Wednesday, the 32-year-old Connors fought his way into the semifinals of this Grand Slam tournament for the fourth time, stopping Stefan Edberg of Sweden 6-4, 6-3, 7-6. Lendl, who came from two sets down to outlast McEnroe in a thrilling five-set title match here last year, advanced to the semis with a 6-4, 6-2, 6-4 victory over Argentina's Martin Jaitte.

Connors' semifinal foe, Lendl, is on a four-tournament winning streak and hasn't dropped a set in his steady, five-round march here toward the final.

Ranked second in the world and seeded behind McEnroe here, the Czech right-hander posted another convincing straight-set victory on Wednesday against the unseeded 20-year-old Jaitte.

Connors has a 13-9 lifetime record against Lendl, but Lendl has won their last four meetings and has handed Connors the worst two defeats of his long career.

Bates leads Texas past Miami, 8-4

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Texas junior Billy Bates said he lucked out when he looked up to see Miami's center fielder playing shallow in the fourth inning of the NCAA College World Series winners' bracket semifinal.

"He was playing over and way in," Bates said Wednesday night. "I've hit quite a few balls up the gap like that and I got a good pitch to hit."

Bates' long fly was behind Hurricane center fielder Rick Richardi, who turned the wrong way to race the ball down. Bates turned the hit into a three-run, inside-the-park home run to lead Texas to an 8-4 victory.

It was Bates' second homer of the game, tying a CWS record held by several players. The 5-foot-7, 155-pound All-American second baseman hit a home run from the right side of the plate in the third inning off Miami ace Dan Davies, now 15-2, and hit his second round-tripper from the left side of the plate.

"It was just one of those nights," Bates said. "I was seeing the ball well and just tried to make contact. Things kind of came out pretty good for us."

Richardi said he was playing left-center "where the coach wanted me."

"He (Bates) hit the ball to center and I went to where I thought the ball would be, but I never saw it."

Texas ace left-hander Greg Swindell took care of the rest. He struck out 14 and picked up his second CWS victory and complete game. Swindell now is 19-1 on the season.

"He's done that for us all year," said Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson. Swindell threw 164 pitches in the game, 117 of them for strikes.

Miami, now 60-16, picked up three runs in the fourth on an RBI ground out by Rusty DeBoid and RBI hits by Don Rowland and Chris Hart. The Hurricanes added another on Chris Magno's RBI double in the fifth to trim Texas' lead to 5-4.

Bates doubled home another run in the sixth and scored on David Denny's sacrifice fly in the eighth. Rusty Richard singled home the final run for the 62-12, third-ranked Longhorns.

Texas advances to Friday's winners bracket finale at 7:10 p.m. against fifth-ranked Mississippi State, 50-13.

Miami, sixth-ranked and 60-15, drops into the losers bracket to meet second-ranked Oklahoma State, 58-15, at 7:10 p.m. Thursday, following a 4:10 p.m. contest between top-ranked Stanford, 47-14, and fourth-ranked Arkansas, 50-14.

Astros beat Cards with hometown bat

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mark Bailey, a homestate product born 250 miles away, belted one Wednesday night for relatives and friends in an 8-3 victory by the Houston Astros.

"I hit it pretty good," said the 6-foot-5 catcher of his two-run homer against the St. Louis Cardinals. "I think that's been of my problems, not driving the ball as much as I should."

The home run, viewed by 20 relatives and 15 friends with whom he went to college, was the second of the year for the 23-year-old Bailey, a product of Springfield, Mo., who started the night with a .207 batting average.

"I've had so many different stances that now I think I'm going to settle on one," he said. "I'm using a bigger bat right now. If you hit the ball on the meat end of it, it really shoots."

Bailey's towering homer, a blast into the alley in right field, helped Houston salvage the final of a three-game series.

"I think this is the ninth time we've lost two in a row and come back," said Astros Manager Bob Lillis. "I think our longest losing streak is two games." After St. Louis cut Houston's lead to 4-3, Lillis went to his bench to manufacture three insurance runs in the eighth inning.

"They (the Cards) had the momentum. With the young kids coming up again, we'd (have) been in trouble," said Enos Cabell of his two-run pinch double that helped pad the Astros' margin. "Once they get on, nobody can throw them out."

Houston left-hander Bob Knepper, 6-1, blanked St. Louis through five innings on two hits. Knepper, while winning a fifth time in a row away from home, left in the sixth as the Cards were rallying for three runs.

Denny Walling's leadoff double followed by Jim Pankovits' two-out single sent the Astros to a 1-0 lead in the second inning against St. Louis right-hander Danny Cox, 6-2.

In the fifth, Pankovits led off with another single, and Bailey hit a 1-0 pitch from Cox over the right-field wall. Houston made it 4-0 in the sixth on Harry Spilman's RBI single before the Cards bounced back.

DeWit wins heavyweight decision

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Olympic silver medalist Willie DeWit, gaining momentum every round, pounded out a lopsided six-round unanimous decision over Sterling Benjamin of Trinidad on Wednesday.

The Canadian heavyweight combined an effective inside attack with a couple of booming left hooks and straight rights to the head in the final two rounds to become 4-0-1 with three knockouts.

DeWit spent a couple of rounds monitoring Benjamin's awkward style before emphasizing a consistent body attack in the third round.

On April 15, DeWit of Grande Prairie, Alberta, struggled to draw with unheralded Alex Williamson on the undercard of the Marvin Hagler-Thomas Hearns bout in Las Vegas.

Judges Lynne Carter, Ron Burns and Frank Ciaro all scored DeWit a 6-0 victor on Wednesday. Benjamin fell to 8-6 with two knockouts.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon, this is one of the most important and opportunity-laden days that you have had in a long time, and you would be wise to get into advanced matters.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Listen to what good pals and interesting newcomers have to say since they have your interests at heart.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Contact any powerful persons of your acquaintance and state your immediate aims and gain their support.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you act in a positive manner, you can easily gain your aims and tonight take any health treatments you may need.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Seek out persons in business who can give fine advice for getting ahead. Avoid pleasure that is beyond you.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Be with partners who are modern thinking and dynamic and you get ahead faster by listening to their ideas.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be more efficient at your work now and gain greater benefits, but in the evening avoid friends who are too demanding.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can make arrangements for entertainment far into the future, but count the cost well.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get interesting mechanisms for your home so that living can be made easier there. Be kind with kin in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can handle personal matters wisely in the morning, but don't fret over some problem in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use different methods and add value to property you own and gain other assets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have good judgment and can put ideas across very nicely now, so do so. Forget about gadding about town tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your intuition tells you how to make the plans that bring prosperity in the days ahead. Resist temptation to step out on your mate.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will bring out excellent talents through which much success can be attained, so be encouraging and give the benefit of a fine education so that the sky will be the limit here. The latter years will be much slower and more attention to philanthropic work will be given.
