School district finds tax error

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

A $23 million error in tax appraisal for the Big Spring Independent School District will leave the district with $193,350 less revenue than expected for next fiscal year.

Don Crockett, assistant superintendent for business, told board of trustees members at a special meeting Thursday that the capital appraisal firm in Austin made the error by entering the figure twice on the school district's tax roll.

Tax assessor/collector Don Green discovered the error.

Crockett said the extra money will be taken from the $2.2 million reserve fund instead of raising taxes or changing the budget plans.

The error's long-term effects will come into focus during next year's budget planning, he said.

"I wouldn't be able to forecast what's down the line, because we have no idea what the 1986 tax roll will be like, what state revenue will be available to us in the 1986-87 school year and what our operational expenses will be," he said.

State school funds are based on the educational services the school system provides and the number of students, factors yet to be determined, he said.

In other action, the board adopted a new teacher evaluation form. The form, said Superintendent Lynn Hise, is more detailed than last year's and is more in line with new rules concerning teacher placement on the career ladder.

Three Big Spring teachers appealed decisions about their placement on the career ladder during the last school year. The board upheld the administrative decision in all three cases.

One of the complaints about the career ladder rules was vagueness.

Assistant Superintendent Bill McQueary, who is in charge of personnel, said the new form will "help us to be more consistent between high school, junior high and elementary school teachers, and help clarify to teachers exactly what it is we're looking for."

Trustee Ford Farris said the board would have adopted the form several years ago if it had known the career ladder would be adopted.

"We just weren't ready for it (then)," he said.

A problem with the old form has been disagreement in administrators' evaluations of teachers. Hise said administrators will take 36 hours of Texas Education Association-approved training in instructional leadership and additional training in appraisal, evaluation and management techniques.

"We will eliminate this (problem) to the best of our ability through this training program," he said.

Hise cited a University of Texas at Arlington study of similar training in which evaluators were 80 percent in agreement on individual teacher evaluations.

With the new plan, teachers will evaluate themselves at the start of the school year, and analysts will evaluate the teachers four times during the year. At the end of the year, the teacher and analysts will discuss the evaluation and file an official copy in the teacher's permanent file.

In other business, Local Policy Update 24 was passed by the board. The update concerns changes resulting from House Bill 72. One new provision enables the state board to monitor local school funding practices.

The policy is one of a packet designed by state attorneys to help local school districts comply with the new law, Hise said earlier.

The board also decided to purchase nine Apple 2E computers for the Chapter 1 program for educationally deprived or deficient students. The purchase includes two disk drives and an Imagewriter printer at a cost of $9,862. The board plans to purchase it from Big Spring's Computer Case.

Gearing up for the telethon

Local volunteers to answer phones, play musical chairs

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

An ex-disc jockey hoping to set a new record for musical chairs and several Big Spring volunteers are gearing up for this weekend's drive to collect money for the annual Muscular Dystrophy Association's fundraiser.

The national charity drive is highlighted by The Jerry Lewis Telethon for MDA now in its 20th year. The telethon, which began its Labor Day run in 1966 on a single New York station, took in a record $32 million last year, and officials are hoping to top that mark this year.

This year's show features such entertainers as the Beach Boys, Wayne Newton and Liberace. The national broadcast will also highlight Milton Berle, in his first appearance since recent heart surgery.

The 21½-hour telethon can be seen locally beginning at 8 p.m. Sunday on KMID of Midland-Odessa, Big Spring Cable Channel 2. It will run continuously until 6 p.m. Monday.

West Texans have an opportunity to participate in local pre-telethon festivities, highlighted by the chance of winning a free trip to Las Vegas.

Former disc jockey Jay McKay will direct a musical chairs game at Big Spring Airpark's Hangar 44, near the former O.I.L. plant.

Local volunteers, from left, Janice Pitts, Lila Estes and Marjorie Dodson will man phones this weekend for Jerry Lewis' annual Muscular Dystrophy Association telethon.

McKay said he hopes to make the contest a record-setting event. The winner will go to the Guinness Book of World Records, the largest musical chairs ever held. It took place on April 25, 1982, at Ohio State University.

Entrants will pay $10 and must provide their own chairs. The last person sitting will win a two-night paid vacation to Las Vegas, and 10 percent of the pro-people. There will be all kinds of music, and if local bands wish to participate, they should contact me," McKay said.

Organizations, interested bands or church groups who would like to participate should contact McKay after 6 p.m. today at 756-2247.

Lila Estes of Reeder & Associates Realtors in Big Spring will host as local anchor for the telethon. She said the telethon would switch from its national broadcast at the sports pavillion at Caesars Palace resort in Las Vegas to a local update listing contributors, their amounts and an up-to-the-minute total contribution.

"We can take pledges ahead of time. Names and donations will be presented over T.V.," Estes said.

She said the seven-person staff hopes to top its $2,000 contribution amount from a year ago.

"Our contributions will be returned for muscular dystrophy patients here in Big Spring," Estes said.

Contributions are tax deductible.

Estes said persons can drop by the Realtors office, 506 E. Fourth, for a visit during the telethon and can make a contribution in the fishbowl located in the lobby.

"This is the first time we've operated a pledge center and we're excited about it," she said.

Economic indicators show rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's main forecasting gauge of future economic activity posted a healthy increase in July while the country's trade deficit dipped to its lowest level since January, the Commerce Department said today.

The Index of Leading Economic Indicators rose 0.4 percent in July. This matched the revised June gain and was somewhat stronger than most private economists had been expecting.

Meanwhile, the country's merchandise trade deficit declined to $10.5 billion last month, a 22 percent drop from the June level.

Both these improvements came in a month when most economic statistics have been uniformly weak, casting strong doubts on hopes for a rebound in activity this year.

The big improvement in trade stemmed from a 19.3 percent drop in imported oil shipments and a 20.3 percent decline in imports of Japanese autos.

These declines sent overall imports down 9.5 percent from the June level to a new total of $27.9 billion. Exports dipped a slight 0.2 percent in July to a total of $17.4 billion.

For the first seven months of the year, the trade deficit has soared to $81.2 billion, 10 percent ahead of the same period in 1984.

Hurricane Elena churns toward shore

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Coastal counties from Florida to Louisiana were under declarations of emergency today as 350-mile-wide Hurricane Elena churned slowly toward land, pumping 100 mph winds, picking up steam and forcing more than 145,000 people to flee homes and offshore oil rigs.

"It's a very serious storm. This will be well over a $1 billion storm," said forecaster Bob Sheets of the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables. "It's a fairly large storm."

As Elena slowed it altered its northwestward course across the Gulf of Mexico slightly to the east. A hurricane warning was posted from Morgan City, La., to Apalachicola in the Florida Panhandle.

The highest probability for landfall "is in the vicinity of Pensacola," said center forecaster Jim Lynch.

At 9 a.m. EDT, Elena was centered near latitude 28.0 north and longitude 87.5 west, about 160 miles south of Pensacola. Drawing power as it lingered over warm Gulf waters, Elena, which was moving north-northwest at 5 to 10 mph, slowed even more today.

"Winds are now 100 mph and Elena could become even more dangerous before moving across the coast early Saturday," said Neil Frank, director of the storm center. Steering currents also were changing, and forecasters said Elena may take a more northerly course, lessening the threat to Louisiana.

Its diameter spanned about 350 miles over the Gulf and gales from the storm's fringe reached the Florida Panhandle coast early today, the weather service said. Up to 10 inches of rain are expected in the hurricane's path and tornadoes were possible in parts of northwest Florida and southern Alabama today.

Elena's indecision on landfall and drop in speed was giving the storm more time to beef up its winds, said Wade Guice, Civil Defense Director in Harrison County, Miss., and a hurricane veteran. By the time Elena hits land, its winds could range from 120 mph to 150 mph, putting it in the class of Hurricane Betsy, which ripped into New Orleans in 1965, Guice said.

As an estimated 50,000 people left their homes and businesses in

Governor proposes prison labor

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Allowing Texas inmates to pick up litter along highways could save money and possibly ease prison crowding, Gov. Mark White said Thursday.

In answering questions about prison overcrowding at his weekly news conference, White said some prisoners could be placed in work camps under proper security. They would not be chained or paid minimum wages. It would be "honest outdoor work" for non-violent criminals, he said.

The Texas Board of Corrections could consider that alternative, as well as the use of private prisons, in its quest to find an answer to the crowding issue, he said.

Asked about Board Chairman Robert Gunn's recent resignation,

White said, "I have nothing but nice things to say about all those people who serve on the board."

Gunn, an appointee of former Gov. Bill Clements, and White have clashed in the past. The former chairman is expected to support U.S. Rep. Tom Loeffler, R-Hunt, in his bid for the Republican nomination for governor.

Asked whether he will suggest a new chairman to board members, White said, "I don't have any recommendations for them. I think they are capable of making a selection."

Concerning Al Hughes, an Austin businessman and board member Gunn has touted as a replacement, White said Hughes would do "a fine job" and has demonstrated good leadership.

White said a new chairman probably will be selected at the board's Sept. 8 meeting.

He added the board "is on the right track. I'm very proud of what they've done over the past several months."

He predicted the board will "set records" in meeting court-ordered prison reforms.

White also said he wants the Texas Employment Commission to work more closely with prisoners. "It is important to try to find productive labor for these people."

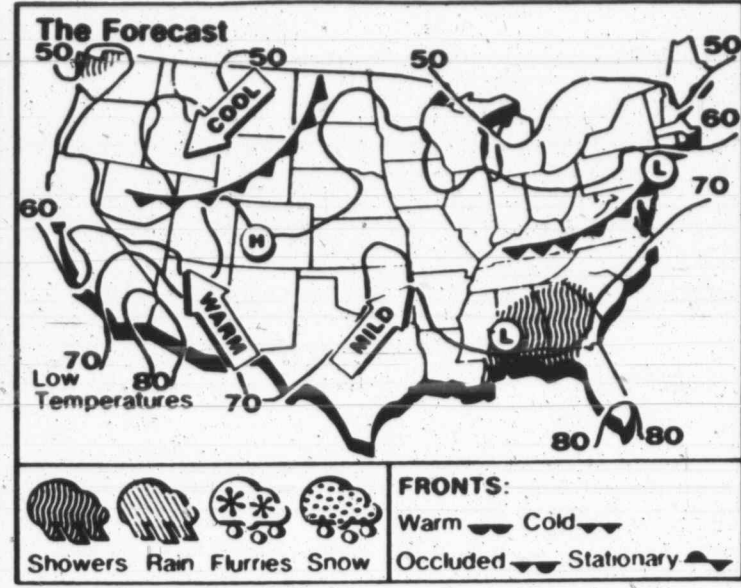

Although the prison reform orders do not mandate that action, he said, "it makes good sense."

White acknowledged that he would hire an ex-convict if the person had the right talents.

Other topics included:

- Early release of prisoners. White said only eligible prisoners are being paroled. He said he is pushing to increase prison capacity quickly so parole officials aren't under pressure to free anyone before they are ready.
- An increase in the marriage license fee on Sunday from $7.50 to $25. "Don't get married and you don't pay the fee," he joked. "It's a serious commitment. It is not to be done frivolously."
- The new seat belt requirement. "It's better to have a wrinkled dress or a wrinkled suit than a wrinkled face when you come in contact with a dashboard." Also, the law will hold down public health care costs for wreck victims.

Weather

Local

High temperatures were expected to reach the mid 90s under sunny skies today. Winds are from the southeast at 5 to 10 miles per hour. The low tonight will be in the upper 60s. Tomorrow's high will be in the mid 90s with a chance of afternoon thunderstorms during Labor Day weekend.

State

By The Associated Press

A weak high pressure system centered over the central part of the state continued to highlight the weather across Texas.

Meanwhile, a line of very heavy thunderstorms had developed along the upper coast from near Port Arthur to Sabine Pass, extending offshore into the Gulf of Mexico.

Otherwise, skies were clear over the northern half of the state while partly cloudy skies were common over the rest of Texas.

Winds across the state varied in direction and were generally under 10 miles an hour.

Statewide, temperatures were mostly in the 70s except for readings in the 50s over the mountainous southwest.

The early morning extremes ranged from 52 at Marfa in the Davis Mountains to 80 at the Naval Air Station in Corpus Christi.

The National Weather Service said widely scattered thunderstorms were likely along the coast and in southern sections of the state today.

Otherwise, it was expected to be fair to partly cloudy with warm days through Saturday. Afternoon highs will be mostly in the mid upper 90s except near 104 in the Big Bend.

Mississippi Thursday, major highways from the state's three coastal counties were crowded with traffic as far north as Meridian, about 150 miles inland.

The giant Ingalls Shipyard in Pascagoula, a major military contractor, shut its doors and sent its 11,500 workers home. Ingalls workers refloated a ship that had been in dry dock and secured others that were under construction.

In Gulfport, Miss., trainers at Marine Life Oceanarium used trucks packed with water and ice to move their dolphins from their harbor pens to hotel pools and doctors at Memorial Hospital who set up a maternity waiting room for women more than six months pregnant said a hurricane's dramatic pressure changes can induce labor.

Biloxi, Miss., police called on an interpreter to broadcast warnings of the storm to the Gulf Coast's Vietnamese community.

Besides fierce winds, the storm could raise tides by 8 to 12 feet along the coast, cutting off escape routes when it hits land, the weather service said.

Economy

For all of 1985, the deficit is forecast to go as high as $150 billion, far above last year's record $123.3 billion total.

The country's trading problems have been cited as the key reason that economic growth has been so anemic this year.

As measured by the gross national product, the overall economy expanded at a slight 1.1 percent annual rate for the first six months of the year.

This weakness has been reflected in the Leading Index, which has declined five times since June of 1984, reflecting the sluggishness since the middle of last year.

The 0.4 percent July gain left the index at 168.7 percent of its 1967 base.

While the higher-than-expected July increase was welcome, analysts noted that the government revised the June gain down sharply from an originally reported 1 percent increase.

The Reagan administration is forecasting that growth in the second half of the year will rebound sharply to a strong annual rate of 4.9 percent.

But most private forecasters believe that prediction is far too optimistic. They are calling for the economy to grow at around a 2.5 percent annual rate, only slightly better than in the first half of the year.

David Wyss, an economist with Data Resources Inc., said a key problem is that consumer spending, which has been a driving force behind the recovery, is beginning to slow as consumer debt burdens grow and personal income shows only modest gains.

"My guess is that it will be next summer before we see any real strength in the economy," he said in advance of today's reports.

The overall increase in the Leading Index for July stemmed from strength in six of the 11 available indicators.

The largest positive contribution came from growth in the money supply, followed by an increase in stock market prices. Also contributing to the gain were a fall in unemployment claims, a gain in net business formation, growth in credit and a jump in manufacturers' orders for consumer goods.

Coahoma to buy trash truck

COAHOMA — Coahoma City Council voted Thursday night at an emergency meeting to borrow funds for the purchase of a trash truck.

The truck belongs to Coahoma resident Gerald King, who had been the city's trash hauler until he decided not to renew a contract for trash collection.

Mayor Eleanor Garrett plans to borrow $20,000 from Coahoma State Bank for the truck's purchase, according to a spokeswoman at city hall. The board tabled a discussion of trash rates until the next meeting.

In other business, Water Superintendent Robert Helm asked Buena Vista property owners to pay for a 6-inch water line with two fire plugs. The water equipment currently used is insufficient for the new property being built in the area. Cost of the new equipment is still being estimated.

The board agreed to accept a maintenance agreement with L&H Office Supply of Big Spring on a new IBM typewriter the board recently purchased.

MIKE BORREGO

JAN SCHMIDT

Prison promotes two

Two officials at the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp have been promoted to positions at other federal prisons.

Assistant Superintendent Jan Schmidt, who has been at the Big Spring camp in her current post for 15 months, will become associate warden at the Seagoville Federal Correctional Institute.

Her promotion takes effect Sept. 15.

Capt. Mike Borrego will assume the duties of camp administrator for the Lewisburg, Penn., Federal Prison Camp. That promotion takes effect Sept. 30.

Schmidt began her career with the Bureau of Prisons in 1973 at Oxford, Wisc., where she was secretary to the warden at the new correctional institute there. She held the positions of cashier, relief clerk and procurement agent at that prison before being promoted to assistant business manager at the Tallahassee, Fla., Federal Correctional Institute.

Borrego joined the federal prison system in 1970 as a correctional officer at the Safford, Ariz., Federal Prison Camp. In 1977, he was promoted to lieutenant at the Metropolitan Correctional Center at San Diego, Calif.

He also has served at the Bureau of Prisons' North Central Region in Kansas City, Mo.; the Seagoville Federal Correctional Institute; and the South Central Regional Office in Dallas.

CRIMESTOPPERS

Crimestoppers is seeking information about the burglary of the residence of John Harris of Sterling City Route Box 27. He told sheriff's deputies that someone burglarized his house on Gatliff Road between 12:38 and 1:49 p.m. Thursday. Taken were:

- One 25-06 Mauser rifle with a floating barrel and a Redfield one-inch tube. The rifle had a 4X scope custom stock with half dollars mounted on each side of the stock. Serial number for the stolen item is 097269 and it is valued at $250.
- Two Stevens doublebarreled 16 gauge shotguns valued at $197 each.
- One citizens band radio.

Persons who have information leading to the arrest of the thieves are asked to contact Crimestoppers at 263-1151 or the sheriff's department at 263-7654. All informants will remain anonymous. Crimestoppers will offer a cash reward for information leading to the arrest of the burglars.

Sheriff's Log

Peace bond leads to arrest

Howard County sheriff's deputies arrested Louis Hernandez Jr., 19, of 311 N. Aylford on a peace bond warrant. He was released on $1,000 bond.

• Deputies arrested Christopher Eric Curtis, 21, of Gail Route Box 69 on a warrant charging him with revocation of probation for a driving while intoxicated judgment. He was released on $1,000 bond set by County Judge Milton Kirby.

• Deputies arrested Tommy Wren Campbell, 29, of 1711 S. Monticello on a warrant for fines he owes the county. He paid $270 directly to the county clerk's office and was released.

• Big Spring police transferred Antonio Yzaguirre Jr., 20, of 1619 Harding after he was arrested for driving while license suspended. He was released on $500 bond set by the city.

Engine trouble forces jet to land

CINCINNATI (AP) — No one was injured when a Continental Airlines flight from Cleveland to Houston made an emergency landing Thursday night at Greater Cincinnati International Airport.

Ted Bushelman, spokesman for the airport, said one of three engines on the Boeing 727 went out. The pilot had no trouble landing.

An airline spokesman said the 153 passengers on Flight 175 were transferred to other flights.

Police Beat

Man reports dog-napping

David Campbell of 1509 E. 17th told police someone stole a black and white Siberian Husky from his father's backyard at 1506 E. Cherokee Thursday night between 8:15 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. The dog was valued at $200.

• Allen Sowersby of 2604 Ent reported the theft of $350 worth of furniture Thursday night from his 1985 red and white Superior bus.

Taken at 11:45 p.m. were a brown wood-framed chair, loveseat and footstool, according to the police report.

• Grover Wayland of 1700 S. Monticello told police thieves stole a wheel and tire, valued at $35, from the bed of his 1979 white Chevrolet pickup.

The theft occurred between 9:30 p.m. Thursday and 12:15 a.m. Friday, according to the police report.

• Grace Powlett of 601 E. 13th told police someone stole a BMX boys' bicycle from her front yard between 9 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Thursday. The bicycle is valued at $125.

Richard Adkins of Big Spring Hardware, reported shoplifting of about $160 in merchandise Thursday.

Two customers left the store at 3 p.m. Thursday, taking a white AT&T Nomad cordless telephone, valued at $129.99, and a $29.99 Senco portable cassette stereo player, according to the report.

Rear-end collision injures one

A two-car accident injured Irva Paul of Route 1, Box 563 Thursday afternoon. Paul's 1982 green Pontiac was struck from behind in the 2100 block of South Birdwell at 4:17 p.m., according to police reports.

The other car was a 1984 blue Chevrolet Celebrity driven by Anthony D. Rostelli of 2308 Merrily. Paul was taken to Malone Hogan Hospital where she was treated and released.

Car fire does $1,200 damage

A car fire caused $1,200 damage to a 1970 Dodge Charger owned by Randy Carpenter. According to fire department reports, the car caught on fire at 213 N.E. Ninth St at 11:45 a.m. Thursday when Carpenter turned the key. The fire was probably caused by a wire short, the report said. Carpenter had almost put the fire out by the time firefighters arrived, the report said.

UAW notes anniversary

DETROIT — The United Auto Workers is celebrating its 50th anniversary, still a leader among unions despite its shrinking membership and a growing threat to jobs posed by foreign carmakers.

The blue-collar empire numbers about 1.1 million members in the auto, auto parts, farm machinery and aerospace industries, having tumbled from a high of 1.5 million just seven years ago.

Foreign competition, accelerating automation at car plants and the impending defection of 120,000 Canadian members into their own union make it less likely that the union can regain its former muscle.

Spacewalk scheduled

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Discovery's commander took time to photograph Hurricane Elena today as he guided his spaceship to within a few hundred miles of a lifeless $85 million satellite, aiming for a Saturday rendezvous and a daring spacewalk salvage effort.

"We've got Elena in the lens; it's pretty spectacular," Joe Engle reported as the crew relayed television pictures of the huge storm churning in the Gulf of Mexico 200 miles below.

Firing the shuttle's engines and steering rockets with precision, the commander was gaining on his satellite quarry by about 80 mile each hour as hunter and hunted sped through space at more than 17,000 mph.

Popular drug studied

WASHINGTON — A chemical similar to the illicit drug known as "ecstasy" appears to destroy selective nerve fibers in the brains of animals, a finding that may apply also to the popular, abused drug, researchers say.

In a report published today in the journal Science, scientists from the University of Chicago's Pritzker Medical School say the chemical cousin of ecstasy decreased levels of the important neurological chemical serotonin in the brains of rats.

The illegal drug also seemed to reduce the number of sites where serotonin is taken up by nerve cells, they say, and may be toxic to some nerve cells themselves.

A University Medical Center heart transplant team in Tucson, Ariz., monitors the progress of a 25-year-old Phoenix man, Michael Drummond, during the implantation of the Jarvik-7 artificial heart.

Fight for survival

25-year-old man receives artificial heart

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The youngest person to receive a Jarvik-7 artificial heart was winning a battle for survival today, but his doctor said today it would take one to three weeks for him to regain the strength needed for a human heart transplant.

Even if a human organ were to become available in the next few days for Michael Drummond, 25, implant surgeon Dr. Jack Copeland said he would not accept it. He said he first wanted Drummond's condition to stabilize.

"Anywhere from about a week to three weeks would probably be our window for going ahead," he said. "If we wait longer than three weeks, he's going to develop scar tissue around the heart. That's going to make it difficult to go back in. We want him to get well but not too well."

Copeland said Drummond was still in critical but stable condition today, but "looks 1,000 percent better than he did ... before we made the decision to put in the heart."

Drummond was awake and his color was normal, Copeland said.

"All of his organ functions are really normal," added Copeland. "The artificial heart's working just fine. He's looking very good and we're very encouraged."

Copeland said he thought Drummond was recovering "in about a pattern we generally see in any patient who has open heart surgery. So, it's a fairly normal recovery."

The assistant supermarket manager from Phoenix had been given 12 to 24 hours to live without the implant. He was the victim of a viral infection that attacked his heart. The mechanical pump was chosen as a temporary measure.

Drummond's heart rapidly deteriorated after he was transferred to the University of Arizona Medical Center Monday from a hospital near Phoenix, Copeland said.

Debts may be honored

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast — Nigeria's new president, Maj. Gen. Ibrahim Babangida, told diplomats in Nigeria today that his government would honor its international debts and that it holds human rights in "greatest importance."

Babangida's comments in Lagos, the capital of Nigeria, were broadcast on Nigeria Radio and monitored in this nearby country.

Nigeria, a Western African nation with more than 90 million people, was reported calm three days after Babangida ousted the regime of Maj. Gen. Muhammadu Buhari in what appeared to be a bloodless coup.

Buhari was reported under house arrest in Lagos, diplomatic sources there said by telephone. His whereabouts since the Tuesday coup had not previously been known. The sources insisted on anonymity.

Search on for friend

BONN, West Germany — Officials who questioned and released the chief of a West German counter-espionage unit say they are looking for a friend of his whom they suspect is an East German agent.

Bonn security sources said West German and Austrian authorities were hunting for Eberhard Severin, who was said to be a long-time friend of counter-espionage section chief Reinhard Liebetanz.

A spokesman for the federal prosecutor's office in Karlsruhe, Hans-Juergen Foerster, said today that the probe of Liebetanz continues despite his release.

Evidence excluded

MANILA, Philippines — The Supreme Court today upheld a trial court's decision to exclude key evidence against the armed forces chief and seven others on trial in connection with the assassination of Benigno Aquino.

The high court, on a 10-3 vote, agreed that testimony the eight had given to a civilian investigation board would be self-incriminatory if introduced at trial.

Antonio Coronel, the lawyer for armed forces chief Fabian C. Ver, said in a telephone interview, "I consider it a moral victory for the entire criminal process in the country."

Fierce rioting leaves 30 people dead in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Fierce rioting in Cape Town's mixed-race districts left office blocks and dozens of stores in ruins today, and the unofficial death toll rose to 30.

Gangs of youths in Mitchells Plain and Mannenberg hurled rocks at cars and police patrols today and blocked roads with piles of blazing tires and debris.

Police said 28 people had been killed since a wave of arson, looting and stone-throwing began Wednesday in Cape Town's biggest black township, Guguletu, and spread to engulf the five major mixed race districts.

Overnight, burning shops lighted the sky over Bellville, Athlone and Swartklip, residents reported. A Cape Town fire department spokesman, who refused to give his name, said Thursday: "We're not going in tonight, there's insufficient police protection."

In Bellville South, the remains of a gutted paint factory still smoldered, witnesses said. Mannenberg's public library was partly burned, and its windows smashed.

A morning police communique put the toll at 20, and police said early afternoon eight more deaths were reported.

Police gave no details of the latest eight deaths. They said the earlier toll included eight people of mixed-race shot to death by police in Mitchells Plain, the worst-hit district, and in two other mixed-race suburbs, Bellville South and Mannenberg, and three blacks killed in Guguletu.

As far as was known, the additional eight fatalities announced in the afternoon included two mixed-race youths whose deaths were reported by relatives, but who did not appear to be included in the first communique.

Three Common Market foreign ministers arrived today for a three day fact-finding visit.

The trio, including Jacques Poos of Luxembourg, Hans van den Broek of the Netherlands and Giulio Andreotti of Italy, planned to meet this afternoon with Foreign Minister R.F. Botha in Pretoria and said they would meet with President P.W. Botha in Cape Town on Saturday.

Poos said in a brief statement that it was the 10-member European Economic Community's "firm conviction that violence must be excluded and that a just and peaceful solution can only be reached through dialogue with all the leaders."

"We also attach great importance to the talks we will have with elements from South Africa's political, social, religious and economic communities," he said.

Foreign Minister Botha said Monday the Europeans should not bother to come if they planned to dictate to South Africa how and when it should dismantle apartheid, but they would be welcome on a fact-finding mission.

In Durban, the main white opposition party, the Progressive Federal Party, opened its annual congress with renewed appeals for a national convention with all black leaders — including imprisoned African National Congress leader Nelson Mandela — to try to work out a power-sharing formula and end apartheid and white-minority control.

"I appeal to black and white, to Afrikaans and English, to all who love this country and would not see its people and its resources destroyed in senseless violence," said party leader Frederik van Zyl Slabbert. The party has about 18 percent of the white vote.

In the Tembisa black township northeast of Johannesburg, witnesses said police ordered all black-owned shops to close, except those owned by members of the government-backed council.

The shutdown order was an apparent attempt to break a consumer boycott of white-owned shops which has spread to most parts of the country.

In Pretoria, the government announced the extension of rights to buy property on 99-year leases to some 152,000 blacks in 34 districts in the Cape Province.

The move was in line with a decision last year to recognize the right of blacks to live permanently in Western Cape districts formerly reserved for those of mixed race.

At least 635 people have been killed in a year of violence against white rule, most of them blacks shot by security forces.

Free market squeezes Sunkist

Some free-market citrus growers and the U.S. Department of Agriculture are putting the squeeze on Sunkist, the giant citrus cooperative, over marketing orders that limit sales of California citrus. We hope the USDA and the free-market growers win this battle.

At stake is the right of citrus growers to make their own marketing decisions. And if the free-market growers prevail, the real winners will be American consumers. An end to marketing orders would increase the availability of fresh fruit and lower fruit prices.

These marketing orders are a holdover from Depression Era farm policy. The USDA now has 47 separate orders affecting 11 commodities, from almonds to spearmint oil. In theory, these orders protect growers and consumers by ensuring that perishable crops are marketed in an orderly fashion. In practice, they restrict supply, increase prices and hold down farm income.

Nevertheless, most large growers have become comfortable with marketing orders and are reluctant to return to a free market. And, because the orders apply only to domestic fresh-fruit sales, Sunkist and its members benefit in two ways. The marketing orders not only limit sales of fresh fruit, they also make it possible for Sunkist orange-juice plants to buy excess fruit at lower prices.

But some large citrus growers are tired of being told how much of their crop they can sell. They want to take their chances in an open market. And they are winning support within the USDA and elsewhere in the Reagan administration.

Growers and consumers alike would benefit from the elimination of these anti-competitive marketing orders. The Reagan administration should continue to push for their elimination and resist congressional attempts to maintain them.

Critics have placed media on defensive

WASHINGTON — Edward Gibbon, the great 18th-century historian of Rome, once wrote of a contemporary political leader: "I do not find that the world, that is a few whom I happen to converse with, are inclined to praise Lord North's ductility of temper."

That self-mocking distinction between "the world" and those "I happen to converse with" provides a vital insight into what passes for media criticism. For ideological blinders have caused the critics to miss a crucial change that now puts press and television on the defensive almost everywhere.

A convenient example of the critics' systematic self-regard comes from a recent series of letters to the Wall Street Journal. The letters protested an article by Albert Hunt, an experienced and widely respected journalist, who is chief of the paper's Washington bureau.

Hunt had written that while many Washington journalists were inclined to liberal views, professional standards worked to curb the intrusion of personal opinions into news reporting. That "common sense" view of what actually happens stirred up a hornet's nest of angry readers.

One commented that Hunt had apparently "never seen Leslie Stahl giggle when someone bashes the Reagan Administration; or Bill Moyers go for the conservative throat; or Sam Donaldson's hatchet jobs on Reagan's conservative appointees, especially Pat Buchanan."

Actually, the fact that the Journal would print those gripes as serious views testifies to a great shift that has recently taken place in press and television. Like the Supreme Court, the papers and the networks follow the election returns. Many views once dismissed as nutty are now accorded the respect due mainstream opinion.

The Republican sweep of 1980, and the popularity of President Reagan, no doubt, provide the general background for the switch. But a more immediate cause was response to criticism, both internal and external, which goes back to the mid-'70s. By neglecting that response, most media critics have failed to see that the networks and papers, far from being cock-a-hoop with arrogant triumphalism, are, now and in the main, on the defensive.

To be sure, there was a period following Watergate and Vietnam when those of us in press and television were full of narcissistic self-regard. Many believed we had forced Nixon out and brought the war to a close. "Advocacy journalism" was in vogue. Walter Cronkite was considered a serious candidate for the White House, and various journalistic "experts" presented themselves as all-knowing about such mysteries as inflation, nuclear weapons and the snail darter.

The meek have not yet inherited "60 Minutes." But acute self-criticism is the rule in television and the press. An internal CBS report indicted in scathing terms the program that led — later — to Gen. Westmoreland's suit against the network. After the suit, despite the total victory scored by CBS, most leading newspapers took the network over the coals again.

Gen. Ariel Sharon's libel suit against Time, while almost frivolous on technical grounds, provided occasion for savage attacks on Time by other organs of the press. Long before any political leaders said anything, many of us were condemning the self-promotionalism that marked much coverage of the hijacking of TWA Flight 847.

Organized efforts to work up libel cases add a further burden. The cases against CBS and Time were political attacks exploiting a weakness in the libel laws. A similar case against the Boston Globe nearly brought a judgment against the paper for what was a pure public service — exposure of a gubernatorial candidate's blatant misrepresentations.

This country remains blessed by a strong, competitive and independent system for disseminating news. Networks, papers, magazines, pamphlets, books and other organs give expression to almost every imaginable kind of opinion. Takeover bids alone suggest no need to mourn "poor CBS." But the system as a whole is under attack, and further setbacks can harm a national asset of incalculable worth.

Crop-insurance claims may not be paid by FCIC

WASHINGTON — Tens of thousands of America's farmers — who have weathered devastating drought, torrential hail storms, hordes of grasshoppers and foreclosing bankers — now have a new worry: There is serious doubt that the federal government will make good on future crop-insurance claims.

The agency that makes the payments, the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., is insolvent, barely living from one stopgap measure to another.

In past columns, we warned that the FCIC had no money left to pay the insurance claims filed by farmers for crop losses — even though the farmers had paid premiums for the protection. We described the agency's efforts to salvage the situation as akin to the steward rearranging deck chairs on the Titanic.

But even as we wrote those columns, the agency, which had run $861 million in the red over the last five years, managed to come up with enough scratch to treat 45 of its officials and their secretaries to a week at a dude range in Wickenburg, Ariz.

According to promotional literature of El Rancho de los Caballeros, "the accent is on leisure and relaxation." Amenities include tennis courts, trap-shooting, horse trails, an 18-hole golf course and, of course, a swimming pool. Cattle "roundups" can be arranged.

The usual cost is $106 to $130 a day per person, but the FCIC got a discount that allowed it to meet government allowances of $75 a day, an agency spokesman said. An FCIC source said the total bill was $90,000.

The purpose of the get-together was to plan the agency's future course, but perhaps its officials can't be blamed for not coming up with a master plan, what with all the distractions available.

Shortly after all that leisure and relaxation, the bottom fell out of the FCIC. On July 17, Secretary of Agriculture John Block suspended payments on insured losses. The FCIC has not yet begun to pay the legitimate claims again.

It's a serious matter when the farmers can't collect their claims, but the situation is really grim when the FCIC's own officials can't collect their pay. All its employees, including FCIC Manager Merritt Sprague himself, were notified there would be no money to pay their salaries after Aug. 25. They would have to be furloughed, unless Congress rushed in with some emergency money.

The reason for this sorry state had to do with a nifty little maneuver the FCIC people pulled off secretly several months ago when they transferred $50 million of administrative and operating funds to the bankrupt claims division. This bit of Peter-Paul robbery was not only foolish, but "improper," according to an internal General Accounting Office legal opinion.

FCIC's poor-accounting did manage to squeeze a last-minute $113 million supplemental appropriation from Congress before the August recess. Until President Reagan signed the bill, however, the FCIC could not begin to pay farmers.

Meanwhile, the FCIC and its chief, Sprague, are living day to day. He anticipates heavy claims for wheat crops damaged by drought in Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota. The new infusion of money, he says, will be just enough to handle claims until Sept. 30. After that, he can't promise anything.

A recent GAO audit — completed after our series of columns — finds FCIC's future dismal. It predicts the agency will make only selective payments on "claims that can be covered by premium payments."

This amounts to a kind of government-sponsored pyramid scheme. The major way to pay off those who have one of the 400,000 insurance contracts now signed may be to induce many others to sign up so their premiums can be used to pay the old claims.

STEEL NERVES: The Pentagon has come up with a brazen way of side-stepping congressional restrictions on Defense Department staffing. An in-house memo urges managers "to ensure that paid consultants are utilized during ... October, and not during September." That's because the new fiscal year starts Oct. 1, and any consultant used before that date counts toward the 1985 total, "even if they are employed only one day during that month." But the restrictions won't apply to the next fiscal year.

CONSUMER REPORT: The Food and Drug Administration has launched a major publicity campaign against products guaranteed to result in weight loss but which don't deliver. Officials charge that firms marketing waist wraps, vibrating belts, sauna suits and similar devices are engaged in "gross deceptions."

MINI-EDITORIAL: Time is running out on Superfund, the multi-billion-dollar pool of money used to clean up the nation's hazardous waste sites, and financed mainly by companies that produced the waste. Congress needs to approve a new Superfund within weeks, or the fund will run dry. Without it, experts agree, toxic chemicals are likely to seep into water supplies. Superfund, which has spent more than $1.5 billion, has just scratched the surface; some proposals call for increasing the total to $10 billion. But in the meantime, Congress has been dragging its feet, leaving a deadly toxic time-bomb ticking.

U.S. agriculture needs subsidies

To the editor:

In reference to the editorial in the August 25 issue of the Herald, "Sugar subsidies have no validity": Would your writer also use the same reasoning for other commodities that are subsidized? Let's just export all our agriculture to Third World countries because they can grow it much cheaper, mainly because of cheap labor and an absence of restrictions and regulations.

What would happen to the city of Big Spring without its area agricultural income? Many merchants will tell you that they really hurt when a drought hangs on or prices are low — such as is the case this year.

Most agricultural subsidies end up in some town's economy. These subsidies are used to help pay back operating loans, replace worn-out machinery, pay for machinery repairs and other inputs necessary to produce a crop.

So let's just sit back and let foreign countries produce our cotton, grain, and dairy products. Then when American ranchers or cattle feeders can't import enough grain, we can also import all our beef. Let's do the same with pork, poultry or eggs.

You people insist on all sorts of safety regulations and protections and labor practices, but when this drives up prices, you feel no obligation to the monsters you created. You simply buy imported goods and products. Your voice in the government helped create our high production costs.

We can't compete with imports from countries that have cheap labor and no restrictions. Our export products aren't competitively priced. It is much cheaper for us to import goods. This also puts our producers out of business, making us dependent on the rest of the world for food, clothing, machinery, and etc.

Our agricultural-industrial based economy made the United States great. Thinking such as advocated in your editorial will lead the U.S. to a service based economy and at the mercy of the rest of the world.

As a closing thought, why don't we just have our newspapers printed south of the border? We might be able to get a Sunday paper, for, say, 12 cents: Soon we might not have any say as to what is printed in that paper. But maybe that would be okay, as long as it costs less....

Produce figures on Central closing

To the editor:

In the last few issues of the Herald, many accusations, both by the firemen and the councilmen, have been made in regard to the closing of the Central fire station. I feel that it is time either for the firemen or councilmen to extinguish the fire that is causing a smoke screen that is plaguing the taxpayers.

Savings of a $100 a month has been quoted; however, there has been little mention of the probability of spending in excess of $100,000 for a facility to house the snorkel and excess equipment. Not to mention that the west-central part of

Around The Rim

Losing it at the end

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
He's twenty-three years old and already a prodigy, a critically acclaimed author of whom great things are expected — immediately.

So it says on the book's back cover. It's the way I felt when I started reading William Goldman's latest work of fiction titled The Color of Light.

The book was fairly engrossing two-thirds of the way through. Chub (no last name) is an interesting guy who displays a special gift when he writes fiction. He graduates from Oberlin College and finds his way to the Big Apple. A stroke of luck times his arrival. A book of his short stories are published. He becomes an overnight success. He marries the girl of his dreams. She has a daughter from a previous marriage whom Chub adores. Then all three go on vacation and the daughter mysteriously dies from an ocean undertow or something like that. It was unclear.

That's where I finished my first night's reading. I felt pretty good about finishing two-thirds of the book. So what if the last part about the daughter's death didn't make sense. I was intrigued enough to dive into the remaining third the next night.

It took four nights to finish the remaining third of the book. None of it made sense. Maybe it's my fault, I was expecting great things — immediately.

Sometimes we dive into concrete pools minus the water. I shouldn't be bitter about the experience. Poor William Goldman has to take credit for it. He wrote it.

Most of his fiction pieces center around boys or men who turn into basket cases after they become anxiety stricken. It gets wearisome trying to plow through this suspension of disbelief.

I guess the climax of The Color of Light is when a girl jumps out of a window and hurries to her death on the concrete below.

Is it suicide? Has she been murdered? Is Chub still a prodigy? Who cares.

A good editor would have sent this work of fiction on the same journey before it had been published.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Aug. 30, the 242nd day of 1985. There are 123 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On Aug. 30, 1983, Guion S. Bluford Junior became the first black American astronaut to travel in space, flying aboard the shuttle Challenger. In another first, Bluford and four colleagues blasted off from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at night.

On this date: In 1893, Louisiana politician Huey P. Long was born in Winn Parish.

the city would be in jeopardy because approximately 3 minutes would be added to the response in that area.

It is recommended that before we all go off half-cocked that a determination be made of the estimated costs involved with the closing of the Central station and demoting personnel before a decision to do so is made. It is evident that the councilmen are not aware of these costs or if they are aware of them, they are keeping the bottom line figures under wraps.

Dear Abby

Racy party gets 'X' rating

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can offer a practical solution to me and millions of other fathers who face the following dilemma:

A son, about to be married, invites his father to his bachelor party that takes place the night before the wedding. In 1985, it seems that an X-rated, sexually explicit film is shown as part of the program. Fathers and prospective fathers-in-law are invited to attend, along with the bridegroom and his male friends.

How can a male parent who really doesn't want to attend this kind of party decline without making himself appear prudish or square? Or, if he does attend in order to be accepted as "one of the boys," what is the proper conduct at such parties?

OKIE FROM MUSKOGEE
DEAR OKIE: A male parent can decline by saying, "Thanks, but if you don't mind, I think I'll pass."

And if he attends, he should sit in the back of the room and be himself.

DEAR ABBY: My name is Angel Wiltz. I am 9 years old and I am a captain in one of the "Just Say No" clubs, helping other kids to say no to drugs. These clubs are being started all over the country. They were formed last February under Oakland Parents in Action, a program to educate parents in early drug prevention.

Our aim is to get kids to say no to drugs because drugs will mess up their minds, hurt their bodies, ruin their chances in life, hurt their grades, make their parents sad, and get them in trouble with the law.

If any of your readers would like to know how to start a "Just Say No" club in their own communities, they can send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Oakland Parents in Action, 1504 Franklin St., Suite 610, Oakland, Calif. 94612. Or call: (415) 836-6078.

Thank you,
ANGEL WILTZ
DEAR ANGEL: Glad to help. Please give me a progress report.

DEAR ABBY: I live in an area of Texas where tornadoes are apt to occur, so I try to learn all the safety precautions I can.

Lately, people have been telling me that I should keep my windows closed during a tornado. Abby, I've always heard that you should keep your windows open. Could you please straighten this out for me?

CONFUSED IN TEXAS
DEAR CONFUSED: My experts say to leave at least one window open on each side of the house to keep it from imploding. (That's the reverse of "exploding.")

DEAR ABBY: What's the proper etiquette here? A friend of mine is expecting triplets. Must everyone who attends her baby shower give her three presents, or is one gift acceptable? Any suggestions?

OVER BUDGET
DEAR OVER: Give her three gifts, one for each baby; the cost of all three should amount to whatever you would have spent had she been expecting a single. She may appreciate a gift certificate for a diaper service.

Dr. Donohue

Sweaty palms serious for many

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a 16-year-old girl and I've had this problem for as long as I can remember. It is that my hands are always sweaty, and sometimes clammy. It's so embarrassing. I dread shaking hands with people.

I think I read somewhere that this woman had the same problem (called hyperhidrosis) and she had an operation to have her sweat glands removed. Is there such an operation, and if so what are the details? If not, what else can be done? — F.B.

Extremely sweaty hands are a great social problem for lots of people, and I can certainly sympathize with a young lady like yourself agonizing over it. And I do take your problem seriously.

As to the surgery, yes, there is an operation that decreases sweating locally, as in the hands. But I am sure that if you think about it, you'd realize it's not one involving removal of actual glands. That would be most difficult.

The procedure is to cut the sympathetic nerves serving the hands. Stimulation by these nerves is what causes sweating.

The operation is effective, but I wish you would look into simpler and far more conservative approaches, especially right now. For many of the things that go on in a young female body are transient and related to hormonal changes and other aspects of puberty. Sometimes, patience and waiting are the best medicines.

This is not to say you can do nothing about this sweating; you can. You can go to the drugstore and ask the pharmacist for a 20 percent solution of aluminum chloride. As a matter of fact, there is a commercial product (Drysol) that already contains that.

Put it on your palms every night for three weeks. Do NOT wash before applying it. Then cover the palms with a clear plastic wrap and put on thin cotton gloves over the wrap. Wash it all off in the morning. If this helps, continue with it, reducing the application to once a week.

And as long as I gave Drysol a plug, I may as well mention another product, about which I really know very little beyond what appeared in an ad in one of the medical journals I read. It involved a battery-operated device along with saturated pads that you apply to the palms. As I recall, the device is used for a stipulated time, and after several treatments palm sweating is supposed to decrease (within several weeks). I recall the name as Drionic. Maybe you could ask the pharmacist about this when you inquire about the aluminum chloride.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have a problem of incontinence — not bad, just beginning of it. My question is: When you have this problem corrected by pinning the bladder up, or whatever the procedure is, how long does it last? I'm a female, age 65. Or would you suggest trying to get along for a while longer? — A.L.R.

You asked me to use those initials, which stand for "A Loyal Reader." Thanks.

When urinary incontinence results from laxity of the bladder-support tissues, you always hope that surgery will fix things once and for all. Nothing is 100 percent. But such repair has a pretty good track record. Let me leave it at that.

Sure, if your problem is not really distressing, you can hold off on surgery. In fact, you will have to be sure that the incontinence has its genesis in structural weakness. Other things can cause incontinence — infection even.

Now here is something I always must mention when discussing incontinence — the famous Kegel exercises. You can try them. Any urologist should be able to supply you with instruction.

Basically, what you do is exercise the weak muscles by activating them while voiding. You stop in mid-void. Then start, and then consciously repeat this start-stop cycle. You will sense the muscle contractions involved and be able to do them even when not voiding. Do the contractions 10-20 times at a session and do four sessions a day.

Lady Steers spike Plains

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Writer

It wasn't what you would call a "pretty win", but the Big Spring Lady Steers prevailed in their home opener over the Plains Cowgirls 8-15, 15-11, 15-6 last night in Steer Gym.

It would be safe to say the Lady Steers struggled to get the win. At times they looked nothing less than spectacular and other times their performance was very inconsistent, especially in the first match which the visitors won handily.

The Lady Steers jumped out to a quick 5-1 lead and seemed to be breezing along. Tammi Green served the first two points and Monique Jones followed with three tallies to give Big Spring its points. That's when Plains, who finished third at state in Class A competition last season, started its comeback.

The Cowgirls rallied for seven unanswered points behind the serving of Toni Lowery and Ruth Ann Diaz. Big Spring finally scored another point when sophomore Katrina Thompson got a kill with Sheri Myrick serving. Big Spring would get only two more points—the remainder of the match.

Plains put the game out of reach with Lowery at the service line. Her three aces, combined with two kills by Kristi Harris, gave Plains a commanding 13-7 lead. From that point on Plains never looked back.

The second match began like the first one. Tammi Green got the Lady Steers rolling with five points at the start of the match. The lead grew to 8-2 when Tab Green served three more points.

It looked like the match might be a runaway when Big Spring pushed its lead to 13-3 as Myrick, Tammi Green and Thompson controlled the net. Myrick turned in a good game by cashing in on 7 of 10 kill attempts. Green, who got a slow start, ended strong with 7 kills in 13 attempts. Thompson finished the night with six put aways in 15 attempts.

But Plains slowly worked its way back into the contest, cutting the lead to 13-10; behind the fine play of Teri Nance. Nance ended the contest with seven kills in 15 attempts and three blocks.

But Big Spring ended the match when Thompson served an ace on the final point.

The Lady Steers looked poised and ready for the deciding match, simply overpowering their opponent. After Plains took a 1-0 lead on a serve by Harris, Big Spring rallied for seven points behind the service of Tammi Green. The Plains defense got off track for a while as it committed five mishits which led to points. The only Lady Steers kill in the rally was by Jones, who finished the night with 6 kills in 16 attempts.

Plains cut the margin to 7-4 but Big Spring rallied for five consecutive points as Tammi Green blasted three kills down the middle and Thompson got two spikes of her own, giving Big Spring a 12-4 advantage.

From that point on the home team breezed to the win. Thompson ended the game when she served over an ace, giving Big Spring its sixth win in eight tries.

Lady Steers coach Susan Sharp wasn't happy with her team's performance. The girls had a million other things on their minds other than volleyball," said Sharp.

"Plains is a tough team and didn't play well tonight. I'm glad because we sure didn't play well. We had some good moments and we had some standing still moments."

Sharp did add that she was pleased with the play of Myrick and Thompson.

The Lady Steers will be in action tomorrow morning at 10 in the San Angelo Tournament. They will take on Monahans, the defending 4-A state champions.

JV'S WIN, FRESHMEN LOSE
The junior varsity Lady Steers upped their record to 7-1 by downing Plains 15-9, 9-15, 15-8.

Michelle LeGrand was top server in the first match with 7 points. Sonya Evans scored 7 points in the third match win. JV coach Elaine Stone credited Evans and Priscilla Banks with turning in good performances.

Plains prevented a sweep in the freshmen contest as it downed Big Spring 15-12, 15-10.

The JV's will be in action Saturday in the Snyder Tournament.

Mustangs down Steers in scrimmage

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Sports Writer

SWEETWATER — Sweetwater's Mustangs lived up to their 4A number one ranking Thursday night, outscoring Big Spring 8-1 in a controlled scrimmage that offered all the running and passing fireworks of a game being played in November.

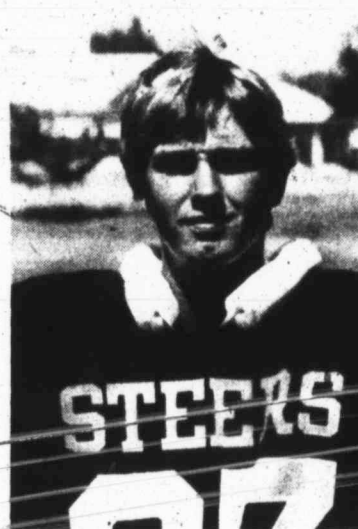

But don't let the lopsided score fool you. The Steers first team offense, operated smoothly by quarterback Carl Speck and running behind an aggressive offensive line, drove the ball with authority in all but one series pitting the first team offense and defense against each other.

Big Spring's lone score came in the first series of 20 plays on a 70-yard drive incorporating several Speck passes and the slashing runs of split backs Charles White and Colin Carroll.

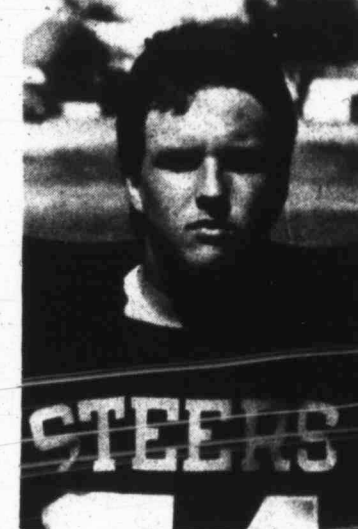

On a third down and goal from the nine, Speck executed a perfect option pitch to sophomore tailback Danny Williams just as he was hit. Williams scooted around the corner untouched to put the Steers up 1-0.

The Steer first team continued to drive the ball impressively, but were thwarted time and again by fumbles or penalties. For the game, the Steers had seven fumbles losing two, including one on the goal line, and eight penalties totaling 95 yards.

Speck completed his first four out of five passes, using short look-in patterns to receivers Kim Anding, Randy Hayworth and David Shortes, along a swing pass to Carroll; all for good yardage.

Carroll finished the scrimmage with 22 yards on six carries, while White, who left the game early after aggravating a hip injury, had 30 yards on 8 carries.

Two pleasant backfield surprises surfaced in the second team series. Senior transfer Brad Hanlon led all rushers with 53 yards on 7 carries while staminate Phillip Matthews showed excellent speed in his 4 carries for 25 yards. Matthews also had a 65 yard touchdown run called back on a questionable clipping penalty.

Defensively the Steers looked winded and out of position when trying to handle the Mustang's perfectly executed option game. A trio of defensive starters, defensive end White, linebacker Mike Cahill and nose guard Todd Coker were knocked from the game early, leaving the Steers with a number of players going both ways.

Fatigue began to take its toll on the Steers during the last two Sweetwater series as the Mustangs scored four touchdowns. Sweetwater quarterback Neal Hoover was the big play man for the Mustangs, tossing a pair of long touchdown passes in the first series and threading the Steer defense for good yardage on the option.

All-State safety Mike Welch also had a fine game from his tailback position scoring twice on short dives and contributing several long runs on the Mustang's sustained drives.

Head coach Quinn Eudy was pleased with his players efforts despite the lopsided score. "I think we're right on schedule offensively," commented Eudy. "Our offensive line had a good game. They were blowing people off the line and giving our backs good holes. Our backs ran hard and Speck operated well against a defense that is awfully tough."

Defensively, Eudy was understandably less enthusiastic. "We just had too many people going both ways. The boys are in adequate shape if they're going one way or switching in for a series but they started getting out of position and standing up when they got tired, you can't afford to do that against an offense as good as Sweetwater's. We've got a ways to go on defense but it's nothing that can't be corrected."

The Steers will host Snyder in their first game next Friday night, September 7, at Memorial Stadium.

Sindelar takes early lead in B.C. Open golf

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP) — Leading a Professional Golfers' Association tour event after the first round is a new experience for Joey Sindelar. Winning isn't, however, thanks to his championship last spring in the Greater Greensboro Open.

"I don't know what to expect," Sindelar said in looking ahead to today's second round in the $300,000 B.C. Open.

Sindelar fired a 5-under-par 66 on Thursday to grab a share of the opening-day lead with Brett Upper and Bruce Lietzke. "I think this might be the first first-round lead I've ever had," said Sindelar, a second-year pro.

"This is a tournament where a lot of times the cut can get a little bit low, so I'll just play without the cut in mind and concentrate on making good swings," he said.

Forty-two players in the field of 141 were within four shots of the lead after breaking par. Another 15 matched par-71 and 17 others managed to shoot 72.

Mike Reid, Denis Watson, Andy Magee and 1980 B.C. Open winner Don Pooley carded 67s on Thursday. A group of nine at 3-under-par 68 included veteran Dave Eichelberger and Mark Wiebe, a winner earlier this year.

The course played tough for two pre-tournament favorites — U.S. Open champion Andy North and 1984 B.C. Open champion Wayne Levi. Another hometown favorite from New Hartford, N.Y.

North fired a 3-over-par 74 and Levi a 75 after a disastrous 5-over 42 on his final nine holes. Levi's downfall featured two double-bogey 6s and a triple-bogey 6.

Sindelar said things had opened up for him since his April victory.

BYU disposes of Boston College

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — One down and two to go for Brigham Young.

The team the critics said beat 13 nobodies last year en route to college football's national championship is off and running — sorry, passing — again in 1985.

Having disposed of Boston College, last year's No. 5 team, 28-14 in Thursday night's Kickoff Classic, the Cougars next face two traditional powers — UCLA on Sept. 7, Washington the following week. They finished ninth and second, respectively, in last year's rankings and were 20th and 12th in this year's preseason Associated Press poll.

If BYU goes 3-0, it may even dispel some of the leftover criticism.

"I don't think you ever silence all of the critics," said split end Glen Kozlowski, who fought off leg cramps and caught 10 passes for 211 yards and a touchdown. "I think we gained some respect here. Our goal is to go undefeated again."

Brigham Young has won seven national team passing titles in the Vell Edwards' 13 years as head coach and the Cougars got off to a flying start as Robbie Bosco completed 35 of 53 attempts for 508 yards — all personal highs — and three touchdowns. Bosco's experience was evident as he outperformed BC's Shawn Halloran, who has the unenviable task of trying to fill the shoes of Heisman Trophy winner Doug Flutie, major-college football's career passing king.

"Nobody has thrown like them — ever," said BC Coach Jack Bicknell, whose own teams are known for throwing the football. "They make a living throwing."

BYU threw every conceivable kind of pass against the Eagles — screen passes, swing passes, curls, out patterns, post patterns, fly patterns, dump-offs. They even aired it out a few times, with Kozlowski catching passes of 30, 23, 40 and 51 yards to set up the first three touchdowns. For good measure, he grabbed a 22-yard scoring pass with 8:32 remaining that sealed the Cougars' 25th consecutive victory, the nation's longest winning streak.

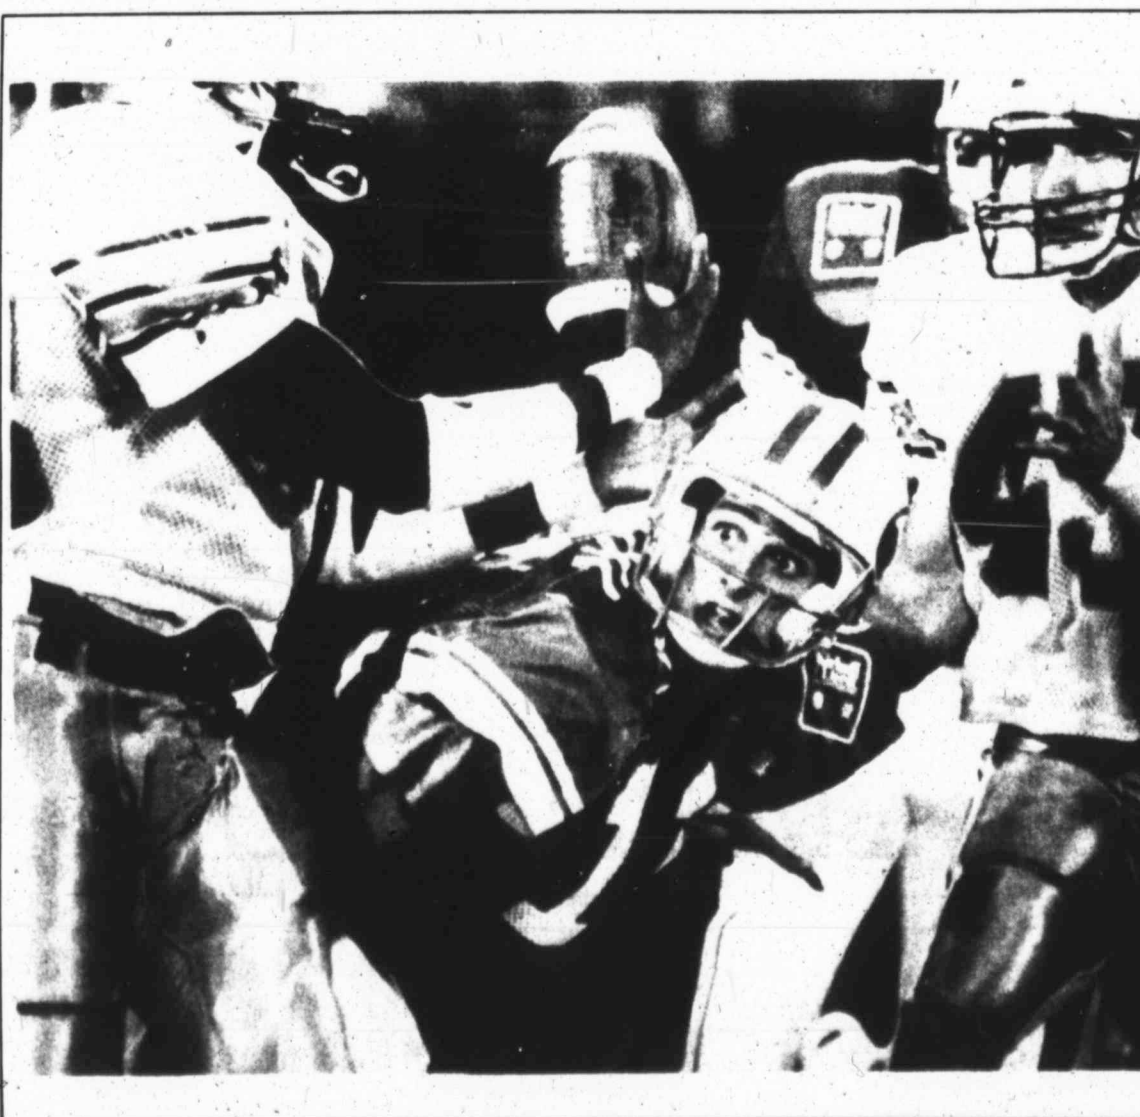

"There are a lot of people I will never silence," Edwards said.

"There are a lot I'm not even going to try to silence. This has absolutely no bearing whatsoever on what happened last year. We have a chance this season to be a good football team. I hope we are a lot sharper."

"It was a typical opening game — a lot of mistakes, a lot of great plays. Defensively we played an outstanding game. We made the big plays. How about the night that Bosco had. The kid had one tremendous night."

"Kozlowski? Well, you see what he does. The last touchdown was actually a curl, but he lost his man somewhere on a blitz or something. I don't know what happened to him, but then he ran a post and beat the man deep."

Bosco said that "all I have to do is get the ball near Glen and he's going to catch it. We usually have two options off each play, and if they aren't open I'll just drop it off to a running back. I didn't think they were respecting our receivers deep and we took advantage of that." Bosco's other touchdown passes were to Mark Bellini, a 6-yarder early in the second period and a 12-yarder late in the third quarter to snap a tie after BYU blew a 14-0 lead. Bellini caught nine balls for 111 yards. The opening weekend of the season has 10 more games on tap, including the Citadel at No. 17 South Carolina and No. 19 Florida State at Tulane. The rest of the schedule finds Purdue at Pitt, Memphis State at Southwestern Louisiana, Virginia Tech at Cincinnati, Texas-El Paso at Air Force, San Jose State at California, Kansas at Hawaii, Oregon at Washington State and, on Monday night, Alabama at Georgia.

Evert-Lloyd rolls in U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Top-seeded Chris Evert-Lloyd rambled into the third round of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships Thursday night, while defending champion John McEnroe and Wimbledon sensation Boris Becker of West Germany continued their march toward an expected quarterfinal showdown.

Lloyd, seeking her seventh U.S. Open title, demolished Raffaella Reggi of Italy 6-0, 6-3 in a night match.

McEnroe, who barely survived the first round, eliminated Martin Wostenholme of Canada 6-0, 7-6, 6-1, while the 17-year-old Becker crushed Huub van Boeckel of the Netherlands 6-3, 6-0, 6-2.

One seed tumbled out of the chase for the title on this, the third day of the $3 million tournament. Greg Holmes, a former NCAA champion, upset No. 12 Johan Kriek 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.

Also ousted was Andrea Jaeger, once ranked No. 2 in the world. Jaeger fell to Kathy Jordan 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

In tears, Jaeger rushed off the court surrounded by reporters.

Also advancing into the third round of the women's singles on the hardcourts at the National Tennis Center were third-seeded Hana Mandlikova and No. 7 Helena Sukova, both of Czechoslovakia, No. 5 Claudia Kohde-Kilsch of West Germany, No. 12 Wendy Turnbull of Australia, No. 14 Bonnie Gadusek and No. 15 Carling Bassett of Canada.

Joining Becker and McEnroe in the third round in the men's field was Sweden's troika of No. 3 Mats Wilander, No. 6 Anders Jarryd and No. 10 Joakim Nystrom; No. 13 Tim Mayotte and Czechoslovakia's Tomas Smid, the 13th seed.

Niekro notches 297th career victory

Phil Niekro pitched four-hit ball over seven innings Thursday night and Dave Righetti finished with two innings of hitless relief to lead the Yankees to a 4-0 victory over the California Angels. Niekro, 33-9, has 297 victories in his 22 major-league seasons but has yet to go to a World Series.

The victory moved the Yankees within four games of idle Toronto in the American League East, while the Angels saw their lead in the AL West cut to 1½ games over Kansas City. The Royals were rained out in Milwaukee.

In other games, Detroit edged Oakland 3-2 in 12 innings, Boston clobbered Cleveland 17-2, Baltimore defeated Seattle 7-0 and Chicago beat Texas 6-5 in 10 innings.

Dave Winfield did most of the damage against Angels starter

Kirk McCaskill with a two-run single in the first inning.

Niekro has pitched 22 2-3 scoreless innings in compiling a 3-0 record against the Angels this season.

AL Roundup

Tigers 3, A's 2
Lance Parrish hit a two-out solo homer to tie the score 2-2 in the sixth inning, then six innings later drove in the game's next run with a bases-loaded single to give the Tigers their extra-inning victory.

Lou Whitaker led off the 12th against Steve Mura by walking. After failing twice to bunt, Alan Trammell singled, sending Whitaker to third. Kirk Gibson was walked intentionally to set the stage for Parrish, who lined a single to left over a drawn-in infield.

Dave Bergman also homered for Detroit.

Orioles 7, Mariners 0
Mike Boddicker pitched a six-hitter, striking out a season-high nine, and rookie Larry Sheets broke out of a 1-for-13 slump with four RBIs to pace the Orioles.

It was a memorable night for Mike Young — he hit a solo homer and walked with the bases loaded, giving him a club record 32 RBIs for the month of August.

White Sox 6, Rangers 5
Chicago, which led 4-1 at one point in the game, beat the Rangers in the 10th inning on a single by Reid Nichols. Ozzie Guillen started the winning rally with a double and went to third on a sacrifice bunt by Luis Salazar before scoring on Nichols' hit.

The Rangers scored two runs in the seventh to pull within a run at 4-3, then went ahead 5-4 in the eighth on Duane Walker's RBI single and a run-scoring double by Don Slaught. Chicago tied the score 5-5 in the ninth on consecutive doubles by pinch-hitter Jerry Hairston and Greg Walker.

Phillies nip

Dodgers, 3-2

By The Associated Press
The Philadelphia Phillies scored three runs in the last three innings to edge the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 last night.

Philadelphia's Jeff Stone started the eighth inning Thursday night with a bloop single and Juan Samuel followed with his 16th home run to tie the game at 2-2. Two innings later, Dodger third baseman Enos Cabell bobbled a grounder to let in the winning run as the Phillies prevailed for the win.

Elsewhere in the NL, it was San Francisco 6, New York 3 in 10 innings; Montreal 8, San Diego 5; Atlanta 9, Chicago 6; and Cincinnati 6, Pittsburgh 0.

The loss snapped the Dodgers' seven-game home winning streak, but Los Angeles — with baseball's best earned run average, 2.87 — still holds a 7½-game lead over San Diego in the National League West.

NL Roundup

Expos 8, Padres 5

Montreal needs an almost-perfect West Coast trip to stay in the race in the NL East, and Andre Dawson made it a flying start with a three-run double that capped a seven-run seventh inning as the Expos rallied from a 5-0 deficit.

Dave Dravecky had a two-hit shutout through six innings, but the Expos sent 11 men to the plate in the seventh.

Tim Lincecum had three hits, including his eighth homer, for the Expos and major-league leader Jeff Reardon got his 33rd save.

Kevin McReynolds had a three-run homer, his 13th, for the Padres.

Giants 6, Mets 3

Chili Davis, whose three-run, 10th-inning homer beat New York, sounded a lot like former San Francisco teammate Jack Clark, who frequently won games for the Giants and then complained about Candlestick Park.

"This town is nice. But the ballpark stinks, losing stinks," said Davis, whose homer off reliever Terry Leach dropped the Mets three games behind Clark's current team — St. Louis — in the NL East.

The homer was the 12th of the season for Davis, who had two other hits and five RBIs.

Gary Carter hit his 18th homer for the Mets, and Wally Backman added two RBIs.

Reds 6, Pirates 0

Buddy Bell was embarrassed when he looked up at the scoreboard and saw a batting average that just about matched his weight. So he did something about it with a home run, a double and five runs batted in.

Bell says he's put a lot of pressure on himself to produce since coming to the Reds in a July trade with the Texas Rangers.

Pete Rose scored twice and had a single, leaving him eight hits shy of breaking Ty Cobb's all-time record of 4,191.

Braves 9, Cubs 6

New Atlanta Manager Bobby Wine isn't about to break up a winning combination, particularly if it includes catcher Bruce Benedict, who drove in four runs, three on a tie-breaking single in the sixth inning.

"I penciled in his name the first day and we've won four straight," said Wine, who has yet to lose a game since taking over for Eddie Haas. "He's catching good and swinging the bat well. He'll be in there until he can't make it."

"Three-run homers solve a lot of problems, but so do three-run singles," Benedict said with a laugh.

Rick Mahler, 17-12, was the winner for the Braves.

Leon Durham led Chicago with two homers, his 14th and 15th, and drove in five runs.

Pastor's appointment fits his interest, experience

By KIM KIRKHAM
Religion Editor

ACKERLY — R. Joel Ware has been appointed to a church that fits his interest and experience.

Pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Ackerly, Ware's favorite group is the elderly. The membership consists mainly of elderly people, and the average age of the 68 member congregation is 60.

"I really feel the elderly have a great deal to teach us," he said. Ware, 45, was chaplain at a convalescent home in Ohio for 2½ years.

He advises ministers just starting out to "seek the counseling of older, experienced pastors, especially retired pastors," he said.

"We need to get some young blood in the church," Ware said. His son and one other person are the only two in the youth department.

He also hopes to improve the Sunday School department, increase attendance during the worship service, and "be a better witness in the community where we are," said Ware.

It's "a nice, warm, friendly town," said Ware about Ackerly.

Before moving here in June, Ware served at Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church in Farwell for three years. He also served at the First United Methodist Church of Fort Sumner for two years. He was a student pastor at Quincy United Methodist Church in Quincy, Ohio for 4 years.

From Aug. 1973 to June 1976, Ware was the associate pastor at Monahans Larger Parish. The church consisted of the First United Methodist Church of Monahans, Wickett United Methodist Church, Pyote United Methodist Church, and Grandfalls Union Church.

He was responsible primarily for Grandfalls and Wickett churches. Ware became interested in the ministry while attending the Bill Glass crusade in Clovis, N.M. in July 1973.

"The chase was over, and I didn't have any choice but to say yes" to ministry, said Ware. "Finally it came to a point that I couldn't say no anymore."

Ware was brought up in a Christian home and is the first minister in his immediate family, he said.

R. JOEL WARE

Ware attended undergraduate school at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, N.M., where he majored in history and political science.

He did his graduate work at United Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio. There he received his masters degree in divinity in June 1980.

Ware is working on becoming a certified counselor by attending the Crossroads Pastoral Counseling Center in Lubbock.

His wife Raychel is a registered nurse for Best Home Health Care in Big Spring.

"We're a team," said Ware. "She's a great helpmate. We approach the ministry from a family point of view."

As a nurse, "she's got her own ministry," Ware said. She also is the worship and song leader at the church.

The couple has two daughters, Renee Kessler of Corona, N.M. and Jeanene Ware. Jeanene is in the Navy in Washington, D.C.

They also have a son John. He will be an eighth grader at Sands Junior High School this fall.

"I wouldn't want him to feel like he had to be a minister just because I am," said Ware about his son. "It's hard to say just what he's gonna be at this point."

In his spare time, Ware enjoys playing golf and the domino game. Forty-two, bowling, reading and listening to all types of music, especially gospel music, he said. He also writes poetry.

Lubbock church to host 'Rebuilding' seminar

LUBBOCK — The Broadway Church of Christ, 1924 Broadway, will host a Divorce Recovery Help Seminar Sept. 7. The seminar, entitled "Rebuilding," will be held in Room 222 of the Broadway Education Center from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The seminar is sponsored by the family care ministry and the singles ministry of the church.

Jeff Hood, John Crumpler and Pat King will conduct the day-long seminar.

Hood is a therapist experienced in dealing with issues singles face in ending old relationships and initiating new ones.

Crumpler is a counselor with experience in facilitating divorce recovery support groups.

King is a minister to singles.

Topics that will be discussed include: "Letting Go of the Old Relationship," "Rebuilding Self-Esteem" and "Spiritual Aspects of Growth & Recovery."

The cost of the seminar is $5. Nursery and babysitting facilities are available for children up to age 11. Those attending may bring a sack lunch or eat at one of the nearby restaurants.

To register for the seminar or for more information, contact Hood or King at the church, (806) 763-0464.

Brady pastor to tell of experiences

The Rev. Juan Martinez will preach at the Northside United Methodist Church, N. Goliad and N.E. Sixth, tonight and Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. and during the Sunday services.

Martinez, pastor of a United Methodist Church in Brady, will tell how he went from drugs to Christ.

Annual conference set for Sept. 9-10

COLLEGE STATION — The 40th annual Town and Country Church Conference will be Sept. 9-10 at Texas A&M University with the theme "Ministry in a Rural Context."

The opening session will be an 11:30 a.m. luncheon the first day and will feature an address by Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, extension service director. Also, the 1985 Rural Minister of the Year will be honored with a special presentation by the Progressive Farmer magazine.

Featured at the closing session will be Frank Dietz, executive director for the Texas Conference of Churches, who will discuss what he sees as an urban bias in the denominational structure of churches.

Center offering seminar for parents

MIDLAND — The Samaritan Counseling Center of West Texas is offering a seminar for parents who are about to or are in the midst of raising teenagers.

The seminar will be Sept. 14 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Cost is $20 per person or $35 per couple.

Leader of the seminar will be the Rev. Norman Godfrey, director of the center.

This seminar is designed to aid parents to successfully pass through this potentially turbulent time.

Areas addressed will be effective parenting, the world of the adolescent, the world of the parent, and an emphasis on family communication. Time also will be set aside to answer specific questions of the participants.

For registration information, call Debbie Roberts at 563-4144.

Baptist Temple begins film series

"The Strong Willed Child," first in the Focus of the Family film series, will be shown Sunday at 6 p.m. at Baptist Temple Church, 400

11th Place. Public invited. Featuring James C. Dobson, Ph.D., the film shows childish irresponsibility vs. willful defiance.

Annual bike-a-thon to be Sept. 14

LUBBOCK — The 5th annual Golden Cross Bike-A-Thon will be held Sept. 14 in Abilene, Amarillo, Lubbock and Midland.

This year's bike-a-thon is expected to be the major financial source for the Golden Cross Fund which is a ministry of the United Methodist Church. Methodist Hospital in Lubbock is the designated Golden Cross Center for the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church with Hendrick Hospital in Abilene and High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo also approved to receive funds.

Golden Cross provides financial assistance for patients who are unable to pay for necessary hospitalization. The fund is dependent on donations and monies from special events such as the bike-a-thon for resources.

The $5 registration fee helps defray the cost of t-shirts, patches and supplies.

To participate, contact a district coordinator: Abilene — Mike O'Conner, (915) 677-8346, Amarillo — Marty Hamrick, (806) 352-5615, Lubbock — Mark Gibbens-Rickman, (806) 747-8504, and Midland — Bert Bostic, (915) 694-2571.

For additional information, contact Chaplain Lee Roark by writing the Methodist Hospital, P.O. Box 1201, Lubbock, Texas 79408, or by calling (806) 793-4027.

RON AND PAULA KELLEY

Kelley to speak at Assembly of God

Evangelist Ron Kelley will be the speaker at the First Assembly of God, 4th and Lancaster, Monday through Sept. 6.

Service times are 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday and 7 p.m. Monday through Sept. 6.

Kelley and his wife Paula are from Nashville, Tenn.

Although his tapes have the London Symphony Orchestra doing the background, his style ranges from contemporary pop to country and traditional gospel.

A graduate of Central Bible College in Springfield, Mo., with a bachelor of arts degree in Bible, Kelley was active in three musical groups at college, the last of which he organized.

He also worked on the campus radio station, KCBC, as a disc jockey.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, AUG. 31, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Long-range plans considered during the daytime have a very good chance of being put into effect and succeed if you have studied every aspect of such future activities.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you schedule your time well, you can carry through with plans to make the future brighter, especially in business.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get in touch with loyal friends who have proven themselves in time of need or stress. Avoid a new contact in the evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get busy and complete that work you have already started and tonight make out checks and pay pressing bills.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Set up dates for recreation that you have found pleasurable in the past, and be with congenials.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Make sure you keep any promises made to family ties, and be precise. Tonight, avoid work of all kind.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Good day to go after the data you need at right sources in order to make your labors easier and more profitable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you are more careful in the handling of business and property, you will gain more benefits in the future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Rely on your past knowledge and experience to guide you in the future and have greater success. Use care in driving.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Have talks with elders who can give you fine advice for your betterment, as well as other members of your family.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Contact those persons who have helped you with your problems in the past and trust them to do likewise now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study into unflinching formulas that can help you to gain greater assets via accepted systems.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Being conventional today can bring you greater benefits and forget about new interests tonight. Enjoy solitude this evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will readily understand whatever is of a delicate nature and be able to handle the matter quietly, especially after reaching adulthood. Give a fine education and the career will start very early here.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

ERA REAL ESTATE PAYS FOR REPAIRS.*

ERA pays for all the surprises homebuyers insurance doesn't cover - like the interior plumbing and fixtures, built-in appliances, the hot water heater, furnace, electrical wiring, exposed duct work, the central air conditioning, water softener ... even swimming pool components.

The ERA Buyer Protection Plan covers more homes and more working components than any other home protection plan. And it's available from ERA in all 30 states.

So if you're in the market to buy, call the qualified professionals at your neighborhood ERA office.

We've got what it takes to protect home buyers ... even after the sale.

There really is a difference in real estate companies.
