How's that?

Birthday cards

Q. Where do I write to have the President send someone a birthday card?
 A. The President sends birthday cards to people when they reach their 80th birthday or on subsequent birthdays. He will send anniversary cards to people celebrating their 50th, or a subsequent, anniversary. Write The White House, 1600 Pennsylvania N.W., Greetings Office, Washington, D.C. 20500.

Calendar

Ice cream supper

TODAY
 • The Coahoma Boosters will meet at 7 p.m. at the elementary cafeteria for an ice cream supper. The junior varsity and freshman players and cheerleaders will be introduced. The film of last week's varsity game will be shown.
 • The Paralyzed Veterans of America will meet at 7 p.m. in room 212 of the Veterans Administration Medical Center. The group will receive its charter at this time.

THURSDAY
 • People who have been certified for September 1985 may pick up their feed commodities through the West Texas Opportunities Emergency Food Assistance Program, at the National Guard Armory, FM 700, from 8:15 a.m. to 2 p.m. All recipients must have their certification card with them in order to receive the food. The West Texas Opportunities office in the Ventura Building will be closed today.
 • NARFE, the local organization representing federal retirees living in Big Spring, will meet at 9:30 a.m. at the Kentwood Older Adult Activity Center. The public is invited to learn how federal retirees are active in the community by assisting in volunteer programs.
 • The Howard County Historical Society will meet at 10 a.m. in the board room of the Howard County Library, Fourth and Scurry Streets.

'Cosmetic' or 'leap forward'?

Reagan's action against apartheid draws mixed review

By The Associated Press
 The British Commonwealth cheered President Reagan's order that economic sanctions be imposed against South Africa as "a major leap forward" in the campaign against apartheid, but the Soviet Union mocked it as "cosmetic."
 Reactions to Reagan's announcement Monday varied in other countries. Britain, one of the main opponents of sanctions, said it still considered them counterproductive.
 In South Africa, black Anglican Bishop Desmond Tutu, winner of the 1984 Nobel Peace Prize, said Reagan only imposed the limited measures to cut off stiffer legislation planned by Congress.

 Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Reagan "today announced the introduction of so-called 'economic sanctions' against the apartheid regime in South Africa. The proclaimed measures are purely of a cosmetic nature and can be simply ignored by Pretoria."
 Reagan announced that he will ban the import of South African gold coins, and prohibit most loans to the South African government, exports of computers that could be used to enforce apartheid, and the sale of most nuclear technology.

In London, Sir Shridath Ramphal, secretary-general of the British Commonwealth, said the 49 countries in the group "generally will welcome President Reagan's acceptance of the principle of economic sanctions against South Africa."
 "The measures themselves are a small step, but in taking them the U.S. administration will help the world to make a major leap forward toward justice and human dignity in southern Africa," he said.
 South Africa left the Commonwealth in 1961 when it became clear it was about to be expelled for its failure to grant equal rights to the majority black population.

 But a spokesman for Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher of Britain, speaking on condition of anonymity, said, "There's no doubting our revulsion at the policy of apartheid," but "we judge sanctions as likely to be counterproductive."
 The announcement of U.S. sanctions prompted opposition parties to fiercely criticize Mrs. Thatcher's Conservatives.
 Denis Healey, foreign affairs spokesman for the Labor Party, said Britain had been "completely isolated in the Commonwealth" in opposing sanctions and now was "practically isolated inside NATO, too."

 The leader of Britain's centrist Social Democratic Party, David Owen, speaking at the party's annual conference in Torquay, said: "Mrs. Thatcher, by clinging like a limpet to President Reagan, by behaving as if we are the 51st state, has led us to one of the most humiliating foreign policy rebuffs since World War II."
 "Mrs. Thatcher is a puppet whose strings have been ruthlessly cut even by President Reagan," he said.

Entrants ready for stock show

Record participation expected

By KEELY COGHLAN
 Staff Writer
 The Howard County Fair junior livestock shows next week will have more entries than in past years and may even include some of the top cattle in the state, said Don Richardson, county agricultural extension agent.
 One reason for the increase in entries may be House Bill 72, Richardson said. "Last year, everyone was extra cautious. This year, they're learning how to adjust and cope with it. They're learning how to peacefully coexist with the law."
 Richardson said he expects about 200 youths to enter 150 steers and 150 lambs in the exhibitions, which are sanctioned by the Texas Club Calf and the Texas Club Lamb associations.

 The lamb show will begin at 7:30 a.m. Sept. 21. The progress steer show will begin at 1 p.m., followed by the prospect steers.
 Progress steers must weigh 1,000 pounds or more, while prospect steers weigh less than 1,000 pounds. Richardson said he expects more prospect steers entries.
 Inquiries about the stock show have come from a greater area this year, including prospective entrants in Whitesboro, Plainview and Tulla, he said. "We've had more calls this year, much more than in the past."

Marie Lavergne, 11, holds her fine-wool lamb in line to be weighed as Shaundra Walker, 8, watches at right.

Richardson said he expects some of the top cattle in the state to be shown at the county fair because youths are trying to accumulate points for the calf association for end-of-the-year

Sierra Club says it will not take stand on state water plan

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
 AUSTIN — The Sierra Club, which threatened for weeks to oppose the state's proposed $1.43 billion water plan, announced Monday it will take no official stand.
 In remaining neutral, the pro-environment organization split with the National Audubon Society, which earlier announced it will try and defeat the water plan embraced by top state officials.
 Sierra Club officials, who announced the neutrality at a Capital news conference, indicated the plan had both good points and bad points and would educate their members about the plan to help them make their own decision.
 Sierra Club officials, however, blamed Gov. Mark White for not lobbying the 1985 Texas Legislature harder for a stronger environmental package.
 "I think what appalled us somewhat is that at the outset of the legislative session, the governor, in effect, said the water package was his number one priority," said Sierra Club lobbyist Ken Kramer. "But he just left it at that."

 White is among the state officials seeking voter approval of a fiscal blueprint designed to finance state water development and water quality needs into the 21st century. Environmentalists generally decry the lack of guarantees in the plan to protect fish and wildlife from the development of additional reservoirs in Texas.
 The Sierra Club threatened for weeks to oppose the plan unless White filled a vacancy on the three-member Texas Water Commission with an environmentalist. White, however, named one of his Baylor Law School roommates to the post in a bid to diffuse opposition from developers and environmentalists.
 "We may not have come out with the water commissioner we wanted, but to some extent maybe our attempt to influence that appointment kept us from getting a

High school wrecks hurt two teen-agers

Two 15-year-old pedestrians were slightly injured this morning when they were struck by motorists in separate accidents in front of Big Spring High School.
 Both Ambria Saverance, 15, of Sterling City Route Box 49 and Robert Subia DeLeon, 15, of 813 W. Sixth were treated by private physicians at Malone and Hogan Clinic, a Malone-Hogan Hospital spokeswoman said.
 Saverance was struck at 8:05 a.m. in the 500 block of E. 11th Place by a brown Ford Thunderbird driven by Oscar Corona Melendez, 17, of 1001 W. Sixth, said Police Lt. Jerry Edwards.

Saverance stepped out from between two vehicles into the path of Melendez' car, Edwards said.
 Melendez received tickets for no driver's license and no proof of liability insurance, Edwards said.
 Fifteen minutes later, DeLeon was struck in the 600 block of E. 11th Place, Edwards said. He was struck by a white Datsun pickup truck driven by Dwight Russell Turner, 17, of 1404 11th Place.
 DeLeon also may have stepped out from between cars into the road, Edwards said. No citations were issued in that accident, Edwards said.

U.S. growth to concentrate in 5 states

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's population increase will continue to concentrate on the Sun Belt, with just five states including Texas accounting for more than half of all growth by the year 2000, a private economic research group says.
 But while growth will remain focused on the South and the West, the National Planning Association also had good news for some Midwestern and Eastern states that have lost people in recent years.
 Only West Virginia, the District of Columbia and New York state are expected to see population declines by 2000, the research group said. That contrasts with 1983 Census Bureau projections that anticipated declines in nine states and the District.

 The Planning Association, an independent Washington-based research group, said California will add 6,668,000 people between 1980 and 2000 to lead all states.
 The group said the combination of California, Florida, Texas, Arizona and North Carolina will account for 21,800,000 added people by 2000, or 54 percent of the nation's total additions.
 And add Georgia, Washington, Colorado, Virginia and Tennessee to that list and the total is 27,518,000, or 68 percent of the expected national growth.

 Even though growth continues to concentrate in the South and West, the report anticipated improvements in other areas, too.
 For example, in the Northeast, the planning association projected that Massachusetts would be the biggest gainer, adding 560,000 people, while Michigan was expected to lead the Midwest, adding 549,000.
 In its most recent projections, issued two years ago, the Census Bureau had anticipated that Massachusetts would lose 246,600 people between 1980 and 2000, and Michigan would drop 50,700.

Planning association spokesman Carlton M. Strong said that while his group uses many of the same base figures as the Census experts, it places more emphasis on economic changes.
 That likely explains the differences between Census and National Planning Association projections, he said. In addition, the private group has had the benefit of two more years of economic information to factor into its figures.
 The Census Bureau projections were based on changes in birth and death rates and migration patterns, projected from the experience of the 1970s, according to its 1983 study.

An $8 million control room at South Texas Nuclear Plant is used to train the people who will run the plant from day to day.

Faking it

Model nuke control room mirrors real thing

BAY CITY (AP) — Building models might be considered kid stuff, but work on a certain full-scale model at the South Texas Project Training Facility is far from child's play. Owners of the $5.5 billion nuclear plant have spent about $8 million to construct a simulated control room which mirrors the real thing — right down to the paint job.

A nuclear plant control room, where technicians monitor the intricate details of generating electricity, is the nerve center of operations. The opening scenes from the movie "The China Syndrome" took place in a setting that is eerily similar. Dennis J. Cody, manager of nuclear training for Houston Lighting & Power Co., says that even the noises that will be heard in the actual control room during operation have been duplicated for this costly mockup.

But unlike the Jane Fonda film, this control room not only looks and sounds real but acts like the genuine article as well. Technicians have already hooked up thousands of wires from the control panel to a computer, which will respond to control commands and will be programmed to pose problems for trainees to solve.

Cody explains that prospective plant operators need experience before they enter the real thing, and the replica is the most valuable learning tool available. "We can set up problems where he can work himself out of a scenario," Cody says. "This truly is a place where we can give people experience."

David Hooper, STP information coordinator for Central Power & Light, defends the cost of the replica for this reason: "In one month, they (trainees) could see more go wrong than they would during their whole career," he claims.

Hoope adds that properly trained personnel would help offset the costs involved in training them. "This is not only for plant safety but for economic reasons as well," he says. "The more time we can keep STP on line, the more it can save consumers."

The 40,000-square-foot training center which houses the control room also houses classrooms, business offices and a 5,000-square-foot Emergency Operations Facility.

The EOF is required by law and would be used if a plant emergency should occur. Cody says it is self-contained and that personnel could live there for an indefinite period of time without leaving the premises.

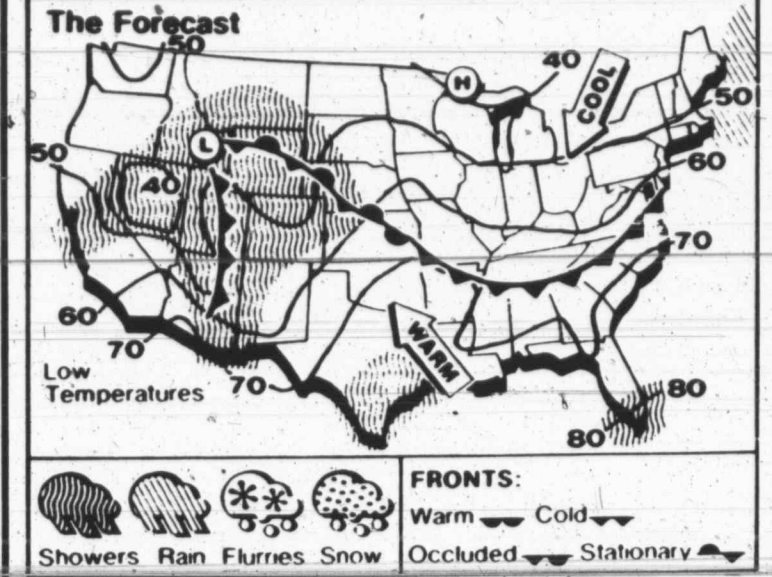

"The EOF is designed to be used in all conditions," he says, pointing to the 12-inch thick walls. "We have a recirculation system, bathrooms and showers."

Information regarding any emergency would be sent directly from the center to a media center that would be set up at a motel in Bay City.

Training will be ongoing even after the plant begins operating, Cody says. Although the plant's first unit is not scheduled to start producing electricity for another two years, personnel training has been taking place at the plant since 1983.

Hoope says tours of the simulated control room will probably be given starting in January, when it is completely finished.

Winter-like weather hit California high country today and Hurricane Rick churned the Hawaiian surf while rain dotted parts of the nation.

Showers and thunderstorms were scattered today over New England, the mid Atlantic states, the upper Mississippi Valley, the central Plains and the western Gulf Coast. Rain also was scattered over the Pacific Northwest.

The mountains of northern California were having winter-like conditions. A snow-prompted travelers' advisory was posted for the Sierra Nevada from Kings Canyon northward because of a storm that dumped as much as 6 inches of snow at higher elevations.

Police Beat

Vandals strike several spots

Vandals armed with a 12-gauge shotgun shattered windows and damaged walls and furniture at seven businesses and residences this weekend, according to police reports.

Included among the vandals' targets were a business at 3210 E. 11th Place owned by Bert Shepard, where $195 of damage was done; a house at 1419 11th Place owned by Lydia Minchew; a house at 304 W. 18th owned by A.A. Cooper, where $900 of damages were done; and a house at 710 Tulane owned by Guy White, where $150 damages were done.

Also struck by a shotgun were a business at 2605 Wasson, where damage was estimated at $1,600; One Hour Martinizing Cleaners at 1711 Scurry, where $1,000 damage was done; a house at 701 Avondale owned by Carl Bradley.

In addition, someone shot the front left side of a silver 1981 Mercury with a BB gun at 7 p.m. Monday in the 800 block of Gregg, Dorris Hollandsworth of 1002 Lancaster said.

Debbly Thompson of 2800 Cactus told police someone stole a four-door white Buick from in front of the house between 1:30 and 5:45 p.m. Monday.

Phil Thurmond of the Christ Fellowship Church at 3401 11th Place told police thieves stole a satellite receiver down converter attached to the antenna on the satellite dish between 8:30 p.m. Monday and 8 a.m. Tuesday. When the thieves took the converter, they cut a power line to the receiver inside the church, damaging the entire unit.

The unit is valued at $500.

Diana Bailey of 1910 Runnels told police someone stole a satellite low noise amplifier between midnight and 11:30 a.m. Monday. The amplifier is valued at $500.

Police early today arrested Benny Lee Coleman, 21, of 509

Donley in the 1100 block of Goliad on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

Police early today also arrested Kathlene Joyce Mings, 17, of 2205 Johnson in the 1100 block of Goliad on a warrant for theft.

Police Monday night arrested Scottie Ross Knowlton, 27, of Colorado City in the 1800 block of Benton on suspicion of driving while license suspended.

Linda Gonzales of 900 E. 13th told police someone assaulted her in her residence and yard at 2 a.m. Monday. She was treated at Malone-Hogan Hospital for contusions and abrasions on her head.

Kathy Haught of 2612 Lynn told police at 3 a.m. Monday a person keeps coming to her home at late hours of the night after being warned to stay away.

Aenid Christian of 3207 Cornell told police someone threw a fist-sized rock at the right rear quarter of her tan 1983 Chevrolet pickup truck at 4 p.m. outside Wasson Corners. Damage was estimated at $100.

Margaret Bonar of 1300 Harding told police someone punctured two tires on her 1975 blue Chevrolet between 1:30 and 7 a.m. Sunday. Damage was estimated at $89.

Sara Olivares of 1323 Mesquite told police two tires on her car were punctured between 1 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Sunday. Damage was estimated at $120.

Alvin Casey, an employee of the Farm Bureau Insurance agency at 1318 E. Fourth, told police someone damaged a roll-out window between 7 p.m. Sunday and 8 a.m. Monday. Damage was estimated at $50.

Lupe Rodriguez, an employee of the Hair Affair Beauty Shop at 306 E. 18th told police someone broke a door window and entered the store between 2 p.m. Sunday and 8:30 a.m. Monday. Damage was estimated at $50.

awards, he said.

"I look for a real stout show in all breeds," he said. Local entries are "looking real good," said Richardson, who watched youths put their animals through their paces in a practice show last week.

"Their progress is ahead of what they were last year. I'm optimistic," he said of the steers. "We've got a lot of first-year feeders."

The lambs, however, are just now starting to be placed on feed, Richardson said. Youths generally gear their lambs for the January stock show, he said. Judging the steer show will be Jim Jenkins, a professor of animal science at South Plains College. Menard County agricultural extension agent Sam Kuykendall will judge the lamb show.

Jimmy Long will be superintendent of the lamb show, and Rob Haney will be superintendent of the steer show. Weigh-in for the show will be from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sept. 20.

In addition to ribbons, the grand champions and reserve grand champions of the lamb and steer shows will receive trophy belt buckles. Showmanship awards for both exhibitions also will be awarded.

Reaction

Britain's foreign secretary, Sir Geoffrey Howe, said on arriving in Luxembourg for a meeting of the European Common Market that the ministers would "study carefully" the U.S. sanctions.

"We share the U.S. aim of wanting to avoid measures that are destructive to the South African economy," he said. "We therefore remain opposed to mandatory economic sanctions."

Canada's foreign affairs minister, Joe Clark, said he approved of the U.S. sanctions and that they were "by and large" the same as those Canada imposed in July.

Clark told the House of Commons in Ottawa that Canada is prepared to resort to the "full disruption of economic and diplomatic relations" to end apartheid in South Africa if other measures fail.

commissioner we sure as hell didn't want," Kramer said. White, attending the Southern Governors' Conference in Miami, issued a statement saying he was "pleased that club members will help educate voters so they can make an informed decision on Nov. 5."

Stuart Henry, a lawyer-lobbyist for the Sierra Club, said the club chose to remain neutral on the water plan for two chief reasons: "First, (because of) the limited resources we had. And second, if you are going to go out and fight the thing you need some assurances that you are going to get a better plan next session."

County ups ambulance subsidy $1,000 a month

Howard County commissioners voted Monday to spend an additional $1,000 monthly in subsidy to Lee Ambulance Service, in addition to the current $2,000 a month.

The action was taken during an emergency session the court called at 1 p.m. Monday. An emergency agenda was posted on the first floor bulletin board in the Howard County Courthouse.

Lee Ambulance Service owner Charles Ginn had requested on Aug. 26 an additional $1,500 from the county.

Commissioners tabled Ginn's request upon the advice of Commissioner William Crooker who asked Ginn to provide the court with copies of financial records he submits to his accountant.

District Clerk Margaret Ray who serves as recording secretary for commissioner's court, said that Ginn had complied with Crooker's request and that commissioners did review the ambulance service's record before voting on the request.

Commissioners also: Requested that County Attorney Tim Yeats provide the court with more information about computer systems that could serve his office.

Yeats had requested a new computer for his office to store court docket and hot check fund information.

Commissioners asked Yeats to inquire with Wade Bristow, who does computer programming for the county, to see if the new NCR system that commissioners voted in favor of purchasing for the county tax auditor's office could fit the county attorney office's needs.

Yeats said he would gather information for the next commissioner's court meeting to determine whether it would be more cost efficient to purchase a separate system for his office or plug into the new NCR system.

Commissioners approved a request from the county treasurer's office for a new typewriter.

Unsolicited tips go to Humane Society

Sea Wings Restaurant of 404 E. FM 700 donated $370 Monday to the Big Spring Humane Society, said restaurant general manager Terry Brown.

"When we first opened for business on July 25, we did not accept service tips from our customers," said Brown.

He said the restaurant did not accept tips because they did not offer full service. Brown said patrons still gave tips. Restaurant employees held a meeting to decide where the money should be donated, Brown said, and the decision was made to give it to the humane society.

The restaurant offers full service now, he said.

Sheriff's Log

Foul mouth results in arrest

Howard County sheriff's deputies arrested a man suspected of using obscene language around school children and a bus driver this morning in Sand Springs.

Sheriff's deputy Barney Edens said the suspect would be charged with a misdemeanor.

"He sure got a bunch of kids stirred up out there," Edens said in reference to the incident.

Mrs. Horan Bowden of Route 3 told sheriff's deputies Monday morning that someone stole the hub caps from her 1980 Lincoln Mark IV last Wednesday or Thursday.

Deputies arrested Alan Ross Meredith Jr., 29, of Stephenville on a revocation of probation charge and outstanding fines he owes the county.

He remains in county jail.

Deputies released Roy Allen York, 21, of Apache Bend Apartments on authority of District Judge James Gregg's orders.

He was released "under modified conditions of probation," said Adult Probation Officer Frank Martinez. He said this meant York was required to obey some new terms of his probation sentence.

York was placed on probation after pleading guilty to delivery of marijuana in November 1984.

District Judge James Gregg sentenced Willie Albert Ross, 27, of 708 Lorilla to six years probation after he pleaded guilty to burglary with intent to commit aggravated assault.

Big Spring police transferred Scottie Ross Knowlton, 27, of Colorado City to county jail after he was arrested and charged with driving while license suspended. He was released on $500 bond.

U.S. Border Patrol agents arrested three men suspected of illegally entering this country. The men were picked up on a person's property on Driver Road.

Deaths

Austin Turner

Graveside services for Austin L. Turner, 89, of Lubbock will be held at 2 p.m.

Wednesday at Mount Olive Cemetery in Big Spring. Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Lubbock at Resthaven Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Rusty Dickerson, associate minister of St. Luke's Methodist Church, officiating.

He died Sunday in his home after an illness. He was born March 22, 1896, in Taylor County and moved with his family in 1910 to New Mexico Territory where his parents homesteaded land near Eunice that later became part of Lea County.

His parents, W.F. (Frank) and Jennie Alexander Turner, moved in 1921 to Martin County and later to Howard County. Both are buried in Mount Olive Cemetery. Turner was a World War I veteran, serving in the 34th Division, 134th Infantry. He was inducted at Carlsbad, N.M., took basic training at Camp Cody, advanced at Camp Dix, N.J., and served in France.

He married Rose Moffatt July 29, 1920 on Lovington, N.M. She died in 1967 and is buried there. A son, A.L. Turner Jr., died in 1983 and is buried in Lubbock.

Survivors include a daughter, Ava Nell Cheek of Bella Vista, Ark.; three sisters, Meda Owens, Maud Motley and Gertrude Hamlin, all of Big Spring; a brother, F. Kenneth Turner of Monument, N.M.; four grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Family requests that memorials be made to the American Cancer Society and to the Hospice Visiting Nurse's Service of Lubbock.

Quake hits Chicago

CHICAGO — An earthquake which shook Chicago's suburbs and sounded "like a deep tunnel explosion" was the first recorded in the area in 13 years.

The tremor, which measured 3.0 on the Richter scale, rattled the western suburbs at 5:07 p.m. on Monday, generating hundreds of telephone calls to police and reports of minor damage.

Willis Jacobs of the U.S. Geological Survey's National Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., said the quake was centered in the La Grange-Elmhurst area.

The last earthquake in the area was on Sept. 15, 1972, and had a magnitude of 3.7 on the Richter scale, said Jacobs.

Coke refuses order

WILMINGTON, Del. — Coca-Cola Co. has refused to obey a federal judge's order to turn over its cola formulas, saying that revealing the ingredients even under a protective order could lead to public disclosure.

U.S. District Judge Murray M. Schwartz had ordered the formulas turned over in a lawsuit brought by 40 bottling companies against Coca-Cola. The bottlers are in a dispute with Coca-Cola over the prices of syrups it supplies them.

Attorneys for Coca-Cola said in a letter to Schwartz Monday that disclosing the formulas, which are among the best-guarded secrets in the world, would "subject the company to grave risks."

Elena aid sought

GULFPORT, Miss. — More than 800 people applied for help Monday as federal-state disaster aid centers opened in four Mississippi Gulf Coast cities hit by Hurricane Elena, and a utility reported it had restored service to all but a few customers.

Most people Monday applied for Small Business Administration loans, said Dusty Perkins of the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency. He said appointments more than 2,000 other applicants made appointments for later interviews.

The first death in the area directly related to the hurricane was reported when a utility lineman was killed.

Mississippi Power Co., the major utility in the three-county area hit hardest by the Labor Day hurricane, said it had restored power to nearly all the 82,425 customers who lost power.

"We came in under schedule," utility spokesman John Hutchinson said, adding that 98.8 percent of power was back on. "We finished in 6 1/2 days instead of 10 days."

Patient progresses

TUCSON, Ariz. — Heart transplant patient Michael Drummond has continued making progress after trading his artificial heart for a human organ, hospital officials say.

Drummond, 25, a former supermarket assistant manager, remained in critical but stable condition in the University of Arizona Medical Center's intensive care unit, spokeswoman Nina Trasoff said Monday. That status is considered normal for heart transplant patients.

"He's had a good day, eating full meals," she said. "He's been up in his chair several times and visiting with his family. He is making very good progress and doctors are very pleased."

Violence hits second largest city in England

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Angry youths pelted Britain's chief law enforcement minister with bricks and bottles today, touching off a second day of riots in a slum neighborhood after overnight arson left two people dead and 50 buildings gutted, police said.

Two bodies were found in a burned-out post office this morning in Britain's second-largest city. A Birmingham police spokesman, who did not give his name, said everyone was accounted for and officers, who initially reported three dead, had stopped searching for bodies in the wreckage.

The violence was sparked Monday afternoon when about 100 black youths, mostly Caribbean immigrants, began protesting the attempted arrest of a black motorist, police said.

Home Secretary Douglas Hurd, the country's chief law enforcement officer, arrived today to inspect the smoldering damage on Lozells Road, but was pelted with bottles and stones when he tried to speak to a crowd of black youths.

Police hurried him away in a police van. The crowd then stoned two other police vans, overturned one of them and set it ablaze as the other raced away. Two other cars also were overturned as the rampage continued.

There were no reports of injuries to Hurd or to Geoffrey Dear, the West Midlands chief constable accompanying him, but one television cameraman ran from the scene, his head bleeding after he was struck by a thrown object.

Dear said he was not surprised by the attack. "A lot of those involved were the looters and rioters of last night."

He said he had advised Hurd against visiting the area but Hurd had "asked to come and see what had happened. It was a matter of principle."

Earlier, Dear said 300-400 youths were responsible for Monday night's riots, pelting police and firefighters with "hundreds of petrol bombs, roof tiles and chimney stacks."

Twenty-three police officers and six firefighters were injured in the melee, none seriously, a spokesman for the West Midlands police said, speaking on condition of anonymity. A bus driver was hurt when his vehicle was attacked and two other people were wounded, the spokesman said.

Police said the overnight rampage was the worst urban violence to hit the country since 1981, when racial riots broke out in slum areas of Liverpool and London.

Opposition politicians blamed the violence on unemployment and racism.

Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, in Aberdeen on a tour of Scotland, called the riots "utterly appalling" and demanded action by police and community leaders to prevent further violence.

More than 50 buildings in the district were burned out, many of them shops owned by Indians and Pakistanis, said Dear. He said most of the rioters were members of the black immigrant community from the Caribbean.

Dear estimated that damage to buildings alone was in the millions of dollars and said 25 people had been arrested.

Ray Newill, assistant police spokesman, said the violence began Monday afternoon when a police officer stopped a black motorist to question him about the tax sticker on his windshield.

As he tried to arrest him, the officer was surrounded by about a hundred black youths, and a second officer arriving on the scene was knocked off his motorcycle, Newill said. As more police arrived, the violence spread, he said.

More than a dozen vehicles were hijacked and turned into blazing barricades.

Eyewitnesses said gangs of black and white youths carried goods away from smashed shops in shopping carts and cars. Some residents fled their homes.

Birmingham and the surrounding West Midlands area, the heart of Britain's industrial district, have born the brunt of Mrs. Thatcher's tough fiscal measures and the challenges from growing foreign industries, especially the auto industry.

Unemployment is 20 percent, seven points above the national average, and 29.9 percent in the poor inner city areas hit by Monday's rioting.

Jeff Rooker, the opposition Labor Party lawmaker whose district includes part of the downtown area, said relations between blacks and whites, who are split 50-50 in the area, were very good.

Metal fatigue cited

TOKYO — Japanese investigators have discovered traces of metal fatigue in a pressure wall on the Japan Air Lines jumbo jet that crashed last month, killing 520 people, a Japanese newspaper said today.

A rupture in the wall, called the aft pressure bulkhead, has been cited as a possible cause of the crash, history's worst single-plane disaster.

The national newspaper Asahi Shimbun reported that Transport Ministry investigators found "beach marks" — traces of metal fatigue — from a microscopic "replica," molded from the bulkhead plate.

Prisoners leave

ATLIT, Israel — The last group of Arab prisoners whose freedom had been demanded by the hijackers of a TWA jet in June boarded buses at an Israeli military prison today and headed toward Lebanon and freedom.

The prisoners, wearing blue and white track suits and rubber thongs or tennis shoes, walked a few steps to board four buses waiting with the shades drawn. Most seemed subdued but a few flashed "V-for-victory" signs.

Once on the buses, their hands were bound with rubber ties. Prison officers watched from rooftops and officers on the ground supervised the transfer.

Military sources said most of those released Tuesday were members of the radical Shiite Moslem Hezbollah sect.

Atlit prison has held the prisoners, who are mostly Lebanese, since they were brought to Israel in April. It will revert to a jail for Israeli soldiers who violate military law, military sources said.

Coalition wins

OSLO, Norway — Conservative Prime Minister Kaare Willoch's three-party coalition scratched out a one-seat victory over the socialist opposition in Monday's balloting — one of Norway's closest post-World War II elections.

It also was the first time that a Conservative Party leader won a second term as prime minister in this century. Willoch had surprised the dominant Labor Party with his win in the last general election in 1981.

With 99.9 percent of some 3 million ballots counted early Tuesday, Willoch's coalition had 78 seats in the 157-seat Parliament to 77 for the alliance of three leftist parties led by Gro Harlem Brundtland's Labor Party.

The other two seats were won by the anti-tax Progress Party, which generally votes with the Conservatives but is not a member of Willoch's coalition.

Reason given

BANGKOK, Thailand — The government said today that the plodding pace of economic reforms may have contributed to a failed military coup that left at least four people dead and 59 others wounded.

Businesses were open and traffic choked Bangkok's streets today despite a state of emergency imposed after Prime Minister Prem Tinsulanonda rushed home from a trip to Indonesia on Monday to tearfully plea for unity in a televised address.

The military was empowered to issue orders to civilians and police, but there were no noticeable effects in Bangkok.

"We will leave it for another few days even though I am sure there is nothing (to fear)," Interior Minister Sithi Jirarojna said of the state of emergency. He talked to reporters before a regular weekly Cabinet session.

Pentagon set for final ASAT test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is scheduled to begin final testing of an anti-satellite weapon on Friday, but two Democratic congressmen plan to ask a federal court to halt the demonstration shot, sources say.

The Air Force weapon, which will be fired from beneath a high-flying F-15 jet fighter, will track down and destroy a seven-year-old scientific satellite over the Pacific Ocean, according to Capitol Hill and other sources who discussed the program Monday only on condition they not be identified.

But Reps. George Brown, D-Calif., and Joseph Moakley, D-Mass., planned to join with the Union of Concerned Scientists today in a lawsuit in U.S. District Court, seeking an injunction blocking the test.

The sources said Brown and Moakley would challenge the Reagan administration's alleged compliance with congressional requirements for notifying Congress of the planned test. The compliance question also will be the subject of hearings this week before subcommittees of the House Armed Services and the House Foreign Affairs committees, the Capitol Hill sources said.

The test originally had been scheduled Sept. 4, but was canceled at the last minute after Pentagon attorneys told the Air Force the required 15-day notification period would not expire until Sept. 5, the sources said.

Brazilian junket deserves probe

The flight to Brazil by Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., merits an investigation by Congress, but it probably won't get one. After all, Alexander frittered away only $56,000 in taxpayers' money, and that's small spuds when it comes to congressional spending.

Alexander had requested that the Air Force provide an airliner to carry him to Brazil on Aug. 14, to check into alcohol-fuel production. He assured the Air Force that four other congressmen would be traveling with him on the act-finding trip.

When flight time arrived, however, Alexander, his daughter and seven other guests were the only non-military passengers. The other four members of Congress said later that they never had any intention of going along.

So Alexander's party, plus an Air Force doctor and four escorts, made the flight in the military version of a DC-9, which can carry up to 42 passengers. The Air Force says the cost was $56,364.

Not only was it an expensive trip, it was a fool's journey. Petroleum prices are dropping, and synthetic fuels just can't compete in today's market. It costs $1 to produce a gallon of alcohol fuel and it takes 1.7 gallons of it to drive a car as far as a gallon of gasoline.

Rep. Alexander should be made to account for the junket. If a general had ordered the same trip for himself, Congress would be falling all over itself to launch an investigation.

Keeping track of dented fenders

(While Art Buchwald is on vacation he reprints some columns from the past.)

One of the most dastardly criminals in America today is the "hit-and-run parker." Almost everyone has been a victim of a hit-and-run parker. You go into a shopping mall or an underground self-parking garage and do your errands. When you return you discover the side of your car has been bashed in, or there is a large gash in the radiator grille, or the bumper in the rear has been pushed three feet into the trunk.

You look around desperately to see if the guilty car is still in the parking lot. Obviously it isn't. The mad hit-and-run parker has struck again!

I went to see Chief Inspector Renfrew at the police department, who is in charge of the Hit-and-Run Parking Division.

He showed me a chart and said proudly, "Hit-and-run parking is the largest growth crime in the country. It's risen 400 percent in the past three years. There was a time when someone who had smashed into someone else's car in a parking lot or on the street would leave a note on the windshield with his or her name, address and telephone number. But I haven't seen that happen in ages. Now it's smash, bang and 'Let's get the hell out of here.'"

"Have you ever caught a hit-and-run parker?" I asked Inspector Renfrew.

"No, but we've been close a few times," he said. "Once we had a man staked out in the basement of the Kennedy Center who saw a Chrysler smash into a new Buick. The Chrysler took off and my man followed in hot pursuit. Unfortunately, he smashed into a Chevy as he was backing out and had to leave by another exit so no one would know he had done it."

"If you haven't made any progress in solving hit-and-run parking accidents," I asked, "why are you still in business?"

"Because we're getting close all the time," he said. "For example, we now have a profile of the average hit-and-run parker. She's either a man or a woman, middle-class, respectable and usually votes for the law-and-order candidate. Her weakness is getting into a parking space without going over the yellow lines. She has trouble backing up and panics easily when she sees anything moving in front or behind her. When she wants to go forward, she will put her car into reverse; when she wants to go backward, she'll put it in drive. When the car is perfectly positioned, she'll put her foot on the gas pedal."

"You keep saying 'she.' Does this mean the hit-and-run parker is usually a woman?"

"I wouldn't say that, but a recent survey of automobile body shops around the country indicates that more women than men are sneaking in to have their cars repaired."

"Maybe they have more time." "Possibly, but we find a majority of them tell the body shop owner they'll pay in cash on condition that their husbands never find out about it."

"That's good sleuthing," I told Renfrew.

"The thing that really has us confused," the inspector said, "is that nobody wants to admit that they were in a moving accident any more. Therefore, when someone in the family comes home with a dented fender, that person always says it happened in the parking lot."

"What should a person do if he actually catches a hit-and-run parker in the act of smashing into his car?"

"Look around for a witness. Otherwise, it will be his word against hers."

"But aren't people reluctant to get involved in someone else's hit-and-run parking accident?"

"Most are, unless you promise to give them your parking space in exchange for testifying in court on your behalf."

Rancor overshadows comparable worth study

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — The Battle of the Sexists was raging hot and heavy in the House when Congress took off for the summer, and there's every indication that it was just a sneak preview of the fireworks to come when it reconvenes tomorrow.

What lit the fuse was a proposed study of women's jobs and pay scales in the federal government.

But the actual issue — whether the federal government should get involved in the controversial concept of "comparable worth," or equal pay for jobs of equal social value — has been overshadowed by the rancor of the brief pre-recess battle. Intemperate personal attacks, questioned motives and ill-concealed derision have characterized both the public debate and remarks made off the floor.

The brawl started when Rep. Mary Rose Oakar, D-Ohio, introduced legislation ordering a comparable-worth study of federal jobs; it sailed through committee and appeared headed for passage. In what Republicans call "damage control" and Democrats call "dilatatory and frivolous" tactics, GOP members introduced more than 150 amendments on the House floor on July 30.

The ringleaders of the opposition, Reps. Richard Arney, R-Texas, and Dan Burton, R-Ind., claim this was the only way they could intercept the bill for proper debate, since the House has no provision for Senate-style filibusters.

Some of the amendments would have packed the commission in charge of the study with presidential appointees certain to be hostile to the concept of comparable worth. But there was a strong suspicion that the Republicans were trying to laugh the bill to death. Among the subtitles proposed for the bill by GOP amendments were:

- The Sexist Socialism Act
  - Feminist Folly
  - This is What Happens When the Democrats Are in Control
  - Being Railroaded Through on a Greased Track
  - Let's Soak the Taxpayer Again
  - Done by a Loaded Commission
  - The $320 Billion Mistake
- "Humor can be used to deftly make a debater's point," said an aide to Burton.

Ms. Oakar was not amused. She said the amendments reflected a "narrow and demeaning mentality," and showed "the pathetic quality of what they are trying to do."

Ms. Oakar is a 45-year-old former college professor and drama coach. She may become the first woman speaker of the House some day, and will certainly be the next chairwoman of the House Democratic Caucus.

Usually cool and composed, Ms. Oakar was biting in her comments to our reporter Stewart Harris. Never before in her nine years on Capitol Hill, she said, has she heard such "sexist ... outrageous" statements as those directed at her bill.

"There's an old adage my mother used to say: 'When you get outrageous comments, you have to consider the source,'" she said.

Ms. Oakar denied, however, that she had called Arney "an idiot," as the GOP congressman's aide said she had. "I think it's a much too serious issue," she said. "I never called him any names — tempting as it might have been."

Ms. Oakar includes comments from the Reagan administration among the unsavory rhetoric she says has been unleashed on her bill. President Reagan has called the idea of comparable worth "harebrained," while Civil Rights Commission chairman Clarence M. Pendleton Jr. has said it is "the loneliest idea since 'Looney Tunes' came on the screen."

"It has been a systematic approach to demise this study because they fear it will spill over into the private sector," said Ms. Oakar.

CONSUMER REPORT: The Reagan administration's policy toward the Soviet Union moves in mysterious ways. While its anti-Soviet rhetoric remains as flinty as ever, the word we get from Foggy Bottom is that the administration is about to end the ban on direct imports of Russian furs that was imposed more than 30 years ago. That embargo was evaded by having Soviet furs processed in another country before import to the United States. State Department sources say the direct import would lower the cost of coats made with Russian furs.

EXECUTIVE MEMO: The South Africa Foundation, which is based in Washington and lobbies quietly on behalf of the white-minority Pretoria government, is technically in violation of Justice Department rules: It has yet to file its required activity report for the December-April period. A spokesman said it would be filed "very soon." Late filings are fairly common among foreign lobbyists.

SEQUEL TO A SCANDAL: Basil Tsakos, the Greek arms merchant whose financial dealings with the wife of Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., made headlines last year, is trying for "a quick sale" of the Watergate apartment he paid Mrs. Hatfield a commission for helping him find. In a Washington newspaper ad, the apartment price was offered at $875,000. The ad appeared shortly after a judge ordered Tsakos to return from Greece to face a lawsuit brought by a former employee. Tsakos missed his court date. The Senate Ethics Committee cleared Hatfield of wrongdoing for helping Tsakos promote a trans-Africa oil pipeline.

MINI-EDITORIAL — Have you heard that a new group called "Accuracy in Academia" will soon be planting spies in college classrooms to root out Marxist professors? Frankly, we are up to our keisters with ideologues like these. We're tired of left-wing and right-wing fanatics, their simplistic formulas for solving the world's problems, and their presumption that most of us are too stupid to know the difference between horse sense and horsefeathers.

Faith doesn't mean wealth

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have had my fill of preachers who say that if you just have enough faith all your problems will vanish and you will be successful. Do you believe that? I have seen many devout Christians who have had a hard time in life — although they were people of magnificent faith. — Mrs. S.S.

DEAR MRS. S.S.: I think you have already answered your question by reflecting on your experiences with people who were deeply committed to Christ and yet did not have an easy time in life.

God may bless some people by giving them prosperity or health — although when He does, they should be seen as gifts from Him that are to be used for His glory and not for selfish indulgence. But God has not promised to do that in every case.

Think, for example, of Jesus Himself. Jesus was not popular or prosperous during His life on Earth. He was born in a stable of very poor parents and spent most of His life in an obscure, poor village.

Even when He became famous He could say, "Foxes have holes and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to lay his head" (Luke 9:58). Or think of Paul, the great apostle and follower of Jesus — perhaps the greatest Christian who ever lived. He sacrificed everything to follow Christ and often found himself beset with persecution and ill health.

The important thing is to seek God's will for our lives, whatever it may be, and then do it joyfully — even if it is not easy. Paul said, "I have learned to be content whatever the circumstances" (Philippians 4:11).

The first step is to commit our lives to Christ, and then to live each day in His strength. And even where our way is not easy, we know that some day "if the earthly tent we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, an eternal house in heaven, not built by human hands" (2 Corinthians 5:1).

Today

By The Associated Press Today is Tuesday, Sept. 10, the 253rd day of 1985. There are 112 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On Sept. 10, 1813, an American naval force under Commodore Oliver H. Perry defeated the British in the Battle of Lake Erie in the War of 1812. Reporting on the victory, Perry messaged: "We have met the enemy, and they are ours."

On this date: In 1608, John Smith was elected president of the Jamestown colony council in Virginia.

In 1846, Elias Howe of Spencer, Mass., received a patent on his sewing machine.

In 1919, New York City welcomed home Gen. John J. Pershing and 25,000 soldiers who served in the U.S. First Division during World War I.

In 1939, Canada declared war on Germany.

In 1945, Vidkun Quisling was sentenced to death in Norway for collaborating with the Nazis.

In 1955, "Gunsmoke" made its premiere on CBS television.

In 1963, 20 black students entered public schools in Birmingham, Tuskegee and Mobile, Ala., following a standoff between federal authorities and Gov. George C. Wallace.

In 1976, two airliners collided over Yugoslavia, killing all 176 people aboard both planes.

Ten years ago: By six votes, the U.S. Senate failed to override President Gerald R. Ford's veto of legislation to continue oil price controls through February 1976.

Five years ago: The League of Women Voters tried but failed to persuade President Jimmy Carter to participate in a three-way campaign debate with Republican candidate Ronald Reagan and independent John Anderson.

One year ago: Democratic vice-presidential nominee Geraldine Ferraro, denying she had ever misrepresented the Roman Catholic Church's position on abortion, said in Indianapolis she would continue to speak out on the issue "as a public official."

Dr. Donohue

Fever convulsions

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have a question regarding use of phenobarbital to quell convulsions (due to high fever) in my 16-month-old son. How long does it take to get the drug into the system when administered daily? Some say 24 hours, others say five days. Some say you should administer it at the onset of convulsions and others on a daily basis for a year in hopes the child will outgrow convulsions. Please clarify this. — Mrs. J.G.

I have to assume that this medication has been properly prescribed for the youngster. If so, it goes without saying that you should be following the dosage instructions the treating doctor gave at the time. That's more than a platitudinous cop-out. Treating a child for febrile (fever-related) convulsions depends very much on several factors, among them his age at the time of the first seizure, and the type of seizure.

I can answer some of your specific questions, however. Phenobarbital gets into the blood very shortly after being taken. However, in doses used to prevent such seizures it takes between five and 10 days for blood levels to reach an effective level. If you have it in one large dose the child would be so drugged that he could not function.

You give it on a regular basis, not at the outset of seizure. When used preventively, the length of dosage duration is quite variable. Some doctors may want to continue it until the child is 4 or even 6 years old. In other instances doctors have preferred to continue dosage for about a year after the last seizure. Some children with febrile convulsions need no treatment.

Stop listening to all the conflicting advice you're getting and straighten this out by having a long talk with the doctor prescribing the medicine.

Calcium topic of homemakers program

Myri Soles and Ruth Morton presented a program, "Calcium Makes the Difference," to the Elbow Extension Homemakers Club at a meeting Thursday in the home of Gloria Kappes.

Guests were Mildred Callihan, Marie Barrington and Rita Faught.

The women told how the body uses calcium to form and strengthen bones and teeth.

From ages 1-19, bones grow longer, wider and stronger. From ages 19-40, bones do not grow longer or wider but continue to grow stronger and more dense. After age 40 with the aging process, bones become porous and are destroyed faster than they formed.

Dear Abby

Gift-hungry graduate voted most likely to give offense

DEAR ABBY: Reading your column daily has taught me a lot about the brashness of some people, but nothing I had read prepared me for the following: A woman I'm not well acquainted with (we chat when we see each other at the grocery store, which is seldom) appeared at my door last May.

I had buried my mother the previous day and was feeling very tired, so I was still in bed at noon. When I went to the door, this woman chided me for still being in my bathrobe. I explained the situation, thinking she would apologize for intruding and leave. Instead, she went on to tell me in great detail about her own mother's death, which had occurred years ago. Then she thrust an invitation to her daughter's high school graduation in my hand and left. (I didn't even know this woman had a daughter.)

It's now September. Yesterday my phone rang and the caller identified herself as so-and-so's daughter. I had no idea who she was talking about until she explained that her mother had given me an invitation to her graduation. She said that since she had not received a graduation gift from me, she figured I had probably put money in an envelope and had forgotten to mail it.

I told her as tactfully as I could that I had done neither. Then she said, "That's all right, just put some money in an envelope and I'll come right over and get it because I'm going shopping today and wanted to buy a few things."

I was so angry I told her I was in no position to give her any money, then I hung up.

Abby, is there a classification for people like this? If so, what is it? Also, how would you have handled the situation?

FLABBERGASTED

DEAR FLABBERGASTED: Such people can be classified as ignorant, nery, grasping and totally lacking in judgment and sensitivity. But before you judge, please consider that both the girl and her mother could be mentally deficient. And I would have handled the situation just as you did.

DEAR ABBY: Concerning "Kicking Myself," who wants to know how to answer people who ask questions like, "Is that dress new?" and, "How much did you pay for it?"

I had a nosy person ask me once, "How much is your car payment?" I answered with, "Why? Are you offering to make the next payment?" That shut him up fast. NOT TALKING IN ARIZONA

Inland Port 213 features gift items from around the world

Inland Port 213 has something for your special someone.

"Many people are unaware that the store carries jewelry," says owner Roy Pete, "unusual jewelry, not the everyday run." The store carries rings in diamonds, sapphires, rubies, emeralds and other precious stones.

Arriving daily are new things for Christmas. "We now have a new shipment of 32 percent lead crystal in all kinds of animals," Pete says, "and La Melodie sculptures in 32 percent lead crystal and 24 karat gold leaf." Dragons are a popular animal figurine in crystal, iron, porcelain and brass.

One of the most popular items at Inland Port 213 are the Majorica peals in all lengths from Spain.

"This is a nice time to put things on layaway and have them paid out by Christmas," says Pete. You can find Anri Woodcarvings from Italy and Sabino Crystal from France. Inland Port also has one of the largest selections of Hummels in the Southwest.

The gift items at Inland Port come from around the world — Germany, Italy, India, Portugal, Switzerland, Romania, Japan, China, Austria and France. The store has cuckoo clocks, mesquite dominoes from Texas, hunter's clocks (such as duck and deer shapes) and one of the most complete selections of Oriental figurines from Japan and China.

When you are shopping for gifts for any occasion, remember Inland Port 213. It's located at 213 S. Main.

GIFTS GALORE — Roy Pete and Inland Port 213 has special and unusual gift items from around the world and for any occasions, including strands of beads and beautiful wooden jewelry boxes. For that someone special, remember Inland Port.

Crossroads Chalk Talk

It was a rough opening week for Crossroads Country football teams. Only four teams managed to escape with wins while five teams fell to defeat.

Heading the winners' list was the Colorado City Wolves' 33-14 drubbing of Slaton and Forsan's 31-6 win over Bronte. The Stanton Buffaloes got their offense going and defeated Tahoka 20-6 while surprising Sands downed Meadow 20-12.

It was a week of heartbreakers for area Six-Man teams. Borden County was edged by Dawson 28-26, while Loop nipped Grady 44-39.

Two other teams dropped close contests. Seminole scored in the final quarter to down Coahoma 12-7, while Miles held off Garden City 13-12. Klondike was whitewashed by Presido 13-0.

Here is what Crossroad coaches had to say about last Friday's and this week's upcoming games.

DUKE FRISBEE, BORDEN COUNTY — "The kids played a good game," he said of his team's 28-26 loss to Dawson. "We were down 20-6 at the half and battled back. What hurt us was that we made four touchdowns and missed the extra points. We didn't play aggressive in the first half, we did in the second half though."

"Three-way (B-C's next opponent) will run a spread offense so that means they'll have people all over the field. We'll be having a lot of prayer meetings getting ready for this one," he kidded. "We'll play a lot of one-on-one this week against the spread."

DUKE FRISBEE

JAN EAST

JAN EAST, FORSAN — "I didn't think we would score that many points," said East of his squad's 31-6 win over Bronte.

"We have only one senior on the offensive line so I didn't know how the young kids would handle it. I felt like we would play good defense and we did. We broke down once and let their quarterback get loose. We should have had a shutout."

East is not taking the next opponent, Klondike, lightly. "Klondike has a lot of young kids and is rebuilding this season, but we must play ball. If we play up to our capabilities we should win."

TONY STRICKLIN

TOM HAM

TONY STRICKLIN, GARDEN CITY — "We made too many mental mistakes," said Stricklin of his team's 13-12 loss to Miles. "We let them get ahead 13-0 but we battled back."

"Our mistakes are all things we can correct. We have some new faces in some new places and it will take some time. I was pleased with the way Kenny Bennett handled his first varsity start at quarterback." "Bronte (next opponent) has a good football team. They have the same kind of team they had last year. They have a fine quarterback (Kerry Lee) and end (Pete Puentez)."

TOM HAM, KLONDIKE — "We played a pretty good game," said Ham of his squad's 13-0 loss to Presido.

"We probably played as well as we are capable of playing. We're gaining experience with our young kids. Our defense played well. We had one mental breakdown and they scored on a 78-yard run. Their other touchdown came with 33 seconds left in the game."

"Offensively we had three or four good drives, but we bogged down at the end. We've got a tiger by the tail in Forsan this week. They are a good team. They are more of a power team this year. I expect them to line up and run right at us."

CURRIE MCWILLIAMS

BRUCE MITCHELL

BRUCE MITCHELL, COAHOMA — "We made some mistakes at some key times," said Mitchell of his team's 12-7 loss to Seminole. "Overall we played pretty good, we just need to be more consistent."

"We must stop the fumbles and penalties, that's what held us back Friday night. Our defense was consistent. It had to play a lot more. We must keep our offense on the field and give the defense a rest."

"I'm impressed with Stanton (next opponent), they really get after you. It's always a rivalry when these two teams play. Our secondary will get a test this week. Their passing game is very good."

CURRIE MCWILLIAMS, GRADY — "It's both kind of good and scary," he said after his team's narrow 44-39 loss to Loop. "This was better than any game we played last year, but we still lost. Loop is a very good ballclub. We had three breakdowns the whole game, that's pretty good for the first game of the season."

"We missed four extra points and that killed us. It's really something because we work on this every practice. Last year we lost four games because of the kicking game. It's just something we'll have to keep working on."

"Dawson (next opponent) has three good running backs who run out of the Straight-T. They are a good offensive ballclub."

DANNY WILHELM, SANDS — "I'm quite pleased with our performance," said Wilhelm after his team took a come-from-behind 20-12 win over Meadow.

"We made more mistakes than we should have. Turnovers deep in our territory killed us. But the kids came back and scored two touchdowns in the end to win."

Dallas annihilates 'Skins

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Michael Downs didn't get a chance to wish Joe Theismann a happy 36th birthday in person. So he and his mates in the Dallas secondary gave the Washington Redskins quarterback a present he couldn't forget — six interceptions.

"We meant to wish him a happy birthday but we didn't get a chance to," said Downs, who had one of the six as the Cowboys took revenge Monday night for three straight defeats by their bitterest NFC East rival, thrashing Washington 44-14.

That capped an upside-down opening weekend for the National Football League in which four of six of last year's division champions — Washington, San Francisco, Miami and Denver — opened with losses.

Dallas opened up a 17-7 lead with a 55-yard strike from Danny White to Mike Renfro with six seconds left in the first half, then broke the game wide open in a third period in which they intercepted Theismann three times and recovered a George Rogers fumble. Victor Scott and Dennis Thurman closed out the scoring with 26- and 21-yard interception returns for touchdowns.

The loss was Washington's worst since a 38-7 drubbing by Pittsburgh in 1979 and the points were the most by the Cowboys since they beat Seattle on Thanksgiving Day, 1980.

"It was a hot night and we were hotter. Washington wasn't," said Cowboys Coach Tom Landry, and Washington's Joe Gibbs concurred.

"It was just one of those days," said Gibbs. "They made a lot of very good plays and we didn't make any."

Most of those good plays were by the Dallas defense, although the Redskins actually outgained the Cowboys, 369 yards to 304 and White was just 14 of 33 for 219 yards. But many of Washington's yards came at the end, when the game was out of reach.

Six different members of the Dallas secondary got the interceptions — Downs, Everson Walls, Ron Fellows, Bill Bates, Scott and Thurman. The seventh Cowboy defensive back, Dexter Clinkscale, had the fumble recovery, making it a clean sweep for the backfield.

"I just couldn't be more satisfied with the play of our defensive backs," Landry said in the understatement of the night.

Five of the interceptions were off Theismann, the sixth came off his replacement, Jay Schroeder.

"Downs made a great play on his interception," Theismann said of the free safety's leaping grab in the second quarter. "Scott made a good play. On the others, I had a lot to do with it."

Still, it was an offensive play, the White-Renfro connection, that probably turned the game.

Washington opened with an unbalanced offensive line and ran off two quick first downs on the ground before Dallas called time-out to regroup.

Then the Cowboys took over, scoring on a 53-yard field goal by Rafael Septien that tied his personal best and then controlling the ball for nearly nine minutes on a 98-yard touchdown drive culminated by Tim Newsome's 1-yard plunge.

But the Redskins came right back, going 77 yards in 10 plays with Riggins scoring from the 1 to make it 10-7.

Then, late in the first half, Dallas had the ball 55 yards away with one time out left and the clock ticking down under 20 seconds.

Landry call a play called "83 takeoff," an out-and-go. Renfro moved around rookie defensive back Barry Wilburn, turned him around and beat him by a clear five yards for the score.

"I was surprised there was no safety there," Renfro said. "I think the safety should have been over a little more. If it wasn't his fault, then it was a bad defensive call for that situation."

Said Wilburn: "It was due to his experience and my lack of it. They were running a lot of out patterns but I didn't know they were setting me up."

Whoever was at fault, it gave Dallas and its fans a pleasant evening. But they couldn't help being nice to the enemy.

As the game ended, they sang happy birthday to Theismann.

DPD officer testifies in Springs assault trial

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas police officer testified that former Dallas Cowboys running back Ron Springs tried to bribe his way out of being arrested after he assaulted her and a colleague at a topless bar.

asking Springs, a six-year veteran who was cut from the team last week, for his autograph. The final panel includes nine women and three men.

Cpl. Vanessa Pitz testified outside the presence of the jury Monday in the first day of Springs' trial on charges of aggravated assault on a police officer.

During jury selection, defense attorney Richard Corbitt, listed 19 Cowboys who may testify in Springs' behalf. The trial is expected to end Thursday.

State District Judge Michael Keasler ruled today that he would not allow the jury to hear the testimony about the alleged bribe immediately. However, Keasler said he might admit the testimony later.

Ms. Pitz said Springs, who outweighs her by about 100 pounds, hit her in the face, kicked her in the shin, "body slammed" her against a bar and threw her over some bar stools when she tried to handcuff him.

Ms. Pitz said that Springs kept asking her if "there wasn't some other way" to dispose of his case other than an arrest. She also said Springs told her and Cpl. James Hughes they "were going to be sorry we ever arrested him."

She told the jury she "latched" onto Springs' neck as the ballplayer held Hughes in a headlock. She said Springs then began kicking her.

Springs, 28, was indicted in February on third-degree felony charges of aggravated assault on a police officer. The charges stem from his Jan. 18 arrest at the Million Dollar Saloon, a Dallas strip bar.

"I did not let go and he began running forward toward the rail," she said. "I thought he was going to throw myself and Officer Hughes to the ground floor."

If convicted, he faces up to 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Ms. Pitz testified that police were summoned to the Million Dollar Saloon by its manager, Ray Barnes, who said Springs was drunk and had assaulted him.

Springs has been offered a one-year contract to sign with Tampa Bay and said the Redskins have also expressed an interest in giving him a tryout, according to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

She said Springs refused to leave when police told him to go. "Hughes and I told him, and we told him several times, just to go with his friends. He would not be arrested, but he would have to leave," Ms. Pitz said.

Ms. Pitz said Springs asked how much money she and Hughes made and then told them how much he made.

She said Springs was finally arrested with the help of another club employee.

"It was quite a bit more than I make," Ms. Pitz said.

Springs' lawyer said he might call some of Springs' former teammates to testify. The list includes wide receiver Tony Hill, running back Tony Dorsett, defensive end Ed "Too Tall" Jones, safeties Dennis Thurman, Michael Downs and Dexter Clinkscale and cornerbacks Ron Fellows and Everson Walls.

She also said that when Springs was asked for his identification, he replied by saying, "Don't you know who I am? I'm Ron Springs."

She said she didn't recognize the name since she isn't a football fan. Springs denied the bribe allegation after the trial recessed for the day.

Other players that may be called include tight ends Doug Cosbie and Fred Cornwell, quarterback Gary Hogeboom, linebackers Eugene Lockhart and Mike Hegeman, retired wide receiver Drew Pearson, retired running back Robert Newhouse, defensive end Jim Jeffcoat and "two or three others," Corbitt said.

"I didn't talk to the police officers," Springs said. "Except I asked one time would they ease the pressure on the handcuffs."

Attorneys picked through prospective jurors for four hours Monday, questioning them about their loyalty to the Dallas Cowboys. One woman was rejected after Houston Oilers' quarterback WARREN MOON fires for the end zone in the last minute of Houston's 27-23 upset win over the Miami Dolphins Sunday. The pass was intended for BUTCH WOOLFOLK who was interfered with giving the Oilers 1st and goal.

Oilers looking to Cowboy rematch

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oiler Coach Hugh Campbell thinks by today his players will realize they can't continue playing the Miami Dolphins.

Campbell scheduled Monday's work day for his coaches so they would be finished in time to watch the Washington Redskins and Dallas Cowboys play Monday night's nationally televised game.

He also encouraged his players to watch the game.

The Oilers play the Redskins Sunday and the Cowboys in two weeks, hoping to repeat something similar to Sunday's 26-23 upset of the Dolphins.

"We could have played exactly that same game and lost on either one call going a different way or one catch going a different way," Campbell said, recalling the final minute of Sunday's season opener.

"So that's something we just have to realize when we watch that film. I know the players are going to wake up in a hurry."

Warren Moon hit Tim Smith with a fourth down pass to keep the winning scoring drive alive and on a later fourth down play, Miami cornerback Fulton Walker was flagged for pass interference in the end zone, setting up a winning touchdown with 25 seconds to play.

Even after Mike Rozier had darted into the end zone with the winning touchdown, Campbell said he was still nervous.

"It scared me to death when we scored because Miami still had a great chance to win the game," Campbell said.

Campbell passed out praise to Moon, newcomers Rozier, Butch Woolfolk and Drew Hill, but kept his perspective.

"Although we played good, spirited football, we still missed some chores that we should have gotten done during that game," Campbell said. "The good news is that we can improve from this point."

Moon, a quiet leader on and off the field last season, decided last Friday it was time to get vocal and spoke out at a team meeting about positive thinking and encouraged the Oilers to believe in themselves.

The Oilers lost 10 straight games last season and finished 3-13. They were 1-4 in preseason games this season, but Moon got his point across.

Astros, Scott decision Giants, Rangers down A's, 3-1

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros right-hander Mike Scott, who just wanted to make the team this year, is doing better than he expected — enjoying the best season of his six-year major league career.

Scott picked up his 16th win of the season Monday night with a 4-2 decision over the San Francisco Giants.

"This is by far my most consistent year," says Scott, who has a chance to win 20 games. "I came to spring training worried about making the team."

Scott, who was 5-11 last season, says he added a forkball in the off-season and credits it with his success.

"I had a bad year last year but that one pitch made all the difference," he says.

Scott pitched seven innings, giving up two runs, before Frank DiPino and Dave Smith finished. Smith recorded his 22nd save of the season.

Phil Garner sparked the Houston offense with three hits while driving in one run, as Houston won its 10th game in 12.

Losing pitcher Atlee Hammaker, who is 4-11 and 0-4 against Houston this season, gave up all four runs in 4 1-3 innings.

"I thought he threw as hard as he has since he came back from his injury," Garner says. "He just got the ball up to some hitters and he paid the price."

Giants Manager John Davenport says it will take time for Hammaker to return to form.

"It might take another year for him to come back complete," Davenport says.

Houston took a 1-0 lead in the first on walks to Jim Pankovits and Jose Cruz and an RBI single by rookie first baseman Glenn Davis.

The Astros added a run in the fourth after Garner doubled and scored on Scott's two-out double to right-center.

Houston increased its lead to 4-0 in the fifth. Kevin Bass led off with a double and scored on a double by Cruz. Garner drove in Cruz with a single.

Giants rookie Matt Nokes slammed his first major league home run, a two-run shot, to cut the Houston lead to 4-2 in the seventh. Chris Brown singled and scored ahead of Nokes.

NL Roundup

Cubs 3, Cardinals 1

Ryne Sandberg's groundout and Keith Moreland's single drove home first-inning runs and Shawn Dunston singled home another in the second.

Ray Fontenot, 6-8, Jay Baller and Ron Meridith combined on a seven-hitter for Chicago. Meridith got the last out and his first save.

"If you aren't hitting, you aren't going to win anytime, I don't care if it's at home, in New York or on the moon," said St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog, whose Cardinals have scored five runs in their three losses.

The game was scheduled as a makeup to a contest postponed by the August strike.

Bob Dernier's leadoff walk and stolen base followed by Gary Matthews' single, Sandberg's groundout and Moreland's single made it 2-0.

After a first-inning run for St. Louis, the Cubs made it 3-1 in the second when Leon Durham singled, Jody Davis walked and Dunston singled.

Reds 2, Padres 1

Dave Concepcion's ninth-inning single off Rich Gossage scored Dave Parker from second base for the victory.

Pete Rose, tied with Ty Cobb at 4,191 hits, didn't play. The crowd of 29,289 repeatedly chanted "We want Pete" in efforts to coax Rose into a pinch-hit and a swing at the record. But Rose's only on-field appearance was to argue a call at first base in the sixth inning.

John Franco, 12-2, pitched one perfect inning for the victory in relief of Andy McGaffigan, who allowed four hits in eight innings.

Dodgers 9, Braves 7

Mike Marshall, who had hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning, capped a five-run eighth with a two-run single. Steve Sax singled in a run and Franklin Stubbs singled in two before Marshall's hit.

Earlier, Marshall homered for the third consecutive game and broke a 1-1 tie. A homer by Glenn Hubbard and a four-run rally in the seventh put Atlanta up 6-3, but the Dodgers rallied against Zane Smith and loser Bruce Sutter, 7-7.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Jeff Russell knew almost nothing about Jose Canseco, and Canseco knew even less about Russell.

"They said he was supposed to hit low balls pretty good. He showed he could hit a high ball pretty good, too," said Russell, the Texas Rangers' pitcher who helped the Oakland A's to an early lead by serving Canseco a hanging curve ball in the third inning Monday night. "I turned and watched. I've never seen a ball hit that hard."

But Canseco's first big league home run, a 425-foot shot into the centerfield bleachers, was Oakland's only run. Wayne Tolleson and Don Slaught combined to produce two Texas runs and the Rangers won 3-1, breaking their six-game losing streak and sending Oakland to a sixth straight defeat.

Tolleson, who tripped in the sixth and scored on Slaught's single, got a bloop double in the eighth and scored on a Slaught single off Steve Ontiveros to break a 1-1 tie. George Wright singled in another eighth-inning run.

Russell, 2-5, pitched five-hit baseball over seven innings in his best outing since joining the Rangers last month. His earned run average was 9.85 before Monday night's performance.

"He had a little more determination. His entire approach to the game was good. He went after hitters' weaknesses. He did all the things you're supposed to do," Manager Bobby Valentine said. Russell, acquired from the Cincinnati Reds' organization in the trade involving Buddy Bell, had no intention of serving the fat home run pitch to Canseco.

AL Roundup

Angels 7, Royals 1

John Candelaria, 5-1 since coming to California, yielded two hits in the 10th inning, keyed the five-run rally that sent the Yankees to their 10th straight victory. Pagliarulo and Dave Winfield hit solo home runs in the fourth.

The loss was the sixth straight for the Brewers. The Yankees ripped relievers Ray Searage, 1-4, and Bob Gibson in the 10th inning.

Dave Righetti, who gave up Milwaukee's tying run in the eighth, got the victory and improved to 12-7.

Twins 5, White Sox 0

Gary Gaetti homered twice and drove in three runs as John Butcher pitched a four-hitter. Gaetti hit his 15th homer, a two-run shot, in the fourth inning, then homered in the fifth inning with the bases empty.

Butcher, 10-12, struck out four and walked none. He retired the last 12 Minnesota batters to end the game.

Kent Hrbek also homered for the Twins in the fifth — his 19th homer.

Winner Jimmy Key, 12-6, took a 5-1 lead into the ninth. But Lance Parrish singled with one out and Chet Lemon followed with his 14th homer. Tom Henke relieved and Russell, acquired from the Cincinnati Reds' organization in the trade involving Buddy Bell, had no intention of serving the fat home run pitch to Canseco.

Speck, Shortes lead Steer standouts

A pair of Steer seniors, Carl Speck and David Shortes, highlighted the first week Steer Award selections.

Speck and Shortes were two of five players selected by their coaches for their performance in last Friday's 42-28 loss to the Snyder Tigers.

Speck was named the Offensive Player of the Week while Shortes garnered Defensive Player of the Week honors. Others receiving awards were Brad Hanlon for special teams play, Matt Garrett for his second-day play and Paul Sotello for his offensive line performance.

Speck, a 5-10, 165-pound senior, is entering his second season as the Steers starting quarterback. He turned in a stellar performance against the Tigers while leading the Steers to 347 yards total offense. Their best offensive production in two years.

Speck completed 9 of 22 passes for 175 yards and one touchdown. He threw only two bad passes the entire game, according to his coaches. Steer fans can no doubt expect to hear more from the senior quarterback as the season progresses.

Shortes, a 6-2, 190-pound senior, turned in a fine performance from his defensive end position.

He led the tackling charts with seven unassisted and five assisted stops. Shortes was also a mainstay on offense from his tight end position. He snagged three passes for 63 yards, including a 30-yard TD.

CARL SPECK

PAUL SOTELLO

BRAD HANLON

DAVID SHORTES

MATT GARRETT

Sotello, a 5-10, 205-pounder, graded out highest of the Steer linemen on the blocking charts. The senior guard was one of the main reasons the Big Spring ground game accumulated 172 yards.

Hanlon, a 147-pound senior, turned in a good game on the specialty teams. The defensive back-running back was a big reason Snyder netted only 61 yards in kickoff return yardage and 18 yards in punt returns.

In a reserve role Garrett turned in a fine game in the secondary. The 145-pound junior and his teammates limited the Tigers to one completion for 11 yards.

Garrett made three tackles in the game.

Berra admits to Pittsburg cocaine use

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dale Berra said he shared cocaine with at least four teammates while playing for the Pittsburgh Pirates and was once warned by Manager Chuck Tanner not to talk to a man now accused of selling the drug to major-league players.

Berra, a New York Yankees infielder and son of Hall of Famer Yogi Berra, admitted Monday in federal court that he "had a (cocaine) problem" last year with the Pirates. But he said he hasn't used the drug since last October.

Berra's testimony was to continue today in the cocaine distribution trial of Curtis Strong, 38, a former Philadelphia Phillies clubhouse cook. Strong is charged with dealing cocaine 16 times from 1980 to 1984 when the Pirates played home games.

Other players who could be called as witnesses today were Jeff Leonard of the San Francisco Giants, Lee Lacy of the Baltimore Orioles and Dave Parker of the Cincinnati Reds. Berra testified that he'd used cocaine with both Parker and Lacy.

Berra said he used the powdered narcotic with Pirates pitcher Rod Scurry and former Pittsburgh outfielder John Milner. Seventeen current or former players have been implicated in using cocaine since last Thursday, when Kansas City Royals outfielder Lonnie Smith became the first player to testify.

"It made me feel euphoric. It made me feel well," said Berra, the fourth major-leaguer to testify in the Strong trial.

Berra, 27, said his father "stands behind me" although he doesn't condone the use of cocaine. "He was very supportive of me," Dale said in his famous father.

"Obviously, it wasn't an easy thing to do. But he's been such a good father to me his whole life, he accepted it."

The younger Berra said he snorted cocaine only occasionally until increasing his use in 1984 after an elbow injury forced him to go on the 21-day disabled list.

"I had a lot of time on my hands in the summertime for the first time in 10 years ... it was the opportune time to do some (cocaine)," Berra said.

"Any time you use cocaine, you have a problem," Berra added. "Yes, I had a problem."

New York Yankees Manager Billy Martin, when asked to comment on Berra's testimony, said he had been aware of the problems in Pittsburgh.

"I was the one who told his dad about it," Martin said. "Not so much about Dale but what was going on in Pittsburgh. But it's his history as far as I'm concerned."

Berra testified that he first tried cocaine at a New Year's Eve party in New Jersey on Dec. 31, 1978, after several years of turning down opportunities to use the drug. "I said, 'What the heck, let me try it,'" he said.

His next use of cocaine came in July 1979, he said, after he was optioned to the Pirates' Portland, Ore., farm team. A clubhouse boy sold him a gram of cocaine for $90, and he shared it with Scurry, Berra said.

When the Pirates were playing in the Roberto Clemente Memorial Series in Puerto Rico the following February, Berra said he asked Parker — then the right fielder for the world champion Pirates — whether he used cocaine.

"He didn't answer me at the time ... later, he called me in (his hotel room) and said, 'Does this answer you?' He had cocaine in a folder. We used it," Berra said.

The first time he met Strong was in a Philadelphia hotel suite in 1982 when Berra said he, Parker, Milner and Lacy joined former Pirates slugger Willie Stargell and several coaches to eat some food supplied by Stargell.

Berra said Milner, Parker and Lacy later joined him in an adjoining room, where he purchased a gram of cocaine from Strong for $100. "He also had more on him," Berra said.

Berra didn't suggest that Stargell or any of the Pirates coaches had knowledge of the alleged transaction.

The next time Berra said he spotted Strong was in the Pirate locker room at Three Rivers Stadium, where the cook apparently had gained access through his friendship with Lacy and Parker.

"I saw him talking to Dave Parker in the clubhouse and before the game I saw him standing in the hallway. I said, 'Hello.' My manager, Chuck Tanner, said, 'Don't talk to that gentleman.'"

Tanner could not be reached for comment Monday.

Berra testified that from 1980 to 1982 he bought cocaine from Jeffrey Mosco, 30, of Pittsburgh; Shelby Greer, 29, of Philadelphia; and Dale Shiffman, 33, of Pittsburgh, and that he was supplied the drug by Kevin Koch, the former team mascot known as the Pirate Parrot.

The government recently said that Koch, who resigned from the Pirates this summer, was monitored electronically when he arranged to buy cocaine from Shiffman last November. Koch would have been called as a witness if Shiffman's case had gone to trial, the government said.

Shiffman and two other men, Kevin Connolly, 27, and Thomas Balzer, 27, both of Pittsburgh, have pleaded guilty to drug charges in the baseball drugs case. Mosco, Greer and Robert "Rav" McCue, 38, of Pittsburgh, are awaiting trial.

The six, along with Strong, were indicted last May by a federal grand jury investigating cocaine dealing within major-league baseball.

Berra also named as cocaine suppliers two friends from New Jersey and a hotel bartender in Bradenton, Fla., where the Pirates train.

Earlier Monday, an obviously nervous Cabell testified he used cocaine as many as 100 times from 1978 to 1984 and that he usually performed well after using the drug.

Unlike Berra, Cabell would not point the finger at any alleged cocaine dealer, other than the accused Strong, although he said he used cocaine many other times without obtaining it from Strong.

The defense tried to portray Cabell as a highly paid player who testified against Strong only because he is fearful of losing his job and his lifestyle if he doesn't cooperate with federal prosecutors.

Cabell also refused to name any other major league players as cocaine users other than those he identified last Friday: Parker, former Houston Astros pitcher J.R. Richard, Leonard, and California Angels pitcher Al Holland.

Cabell said he used cocaine "on and off," generally after night games, as he moved from the Astros to the Giants to the Detroit Tigers and back to the Astros from 1978 to 1984.

Asked by Renfro how he performed the day after using cocaine, Cabell said "I usually got two or three hits ... I always performed well."

The player did not say whether he ever played a game while under the influence of cocaine.

Cabell admitted using cocaine with Richard, the former National League strikeout leader, just before the pitcher suffered a stroke in 1980 that ultimately ended his major league career.

Cabell did not specify how soon before the stroke he and Richard used cocaine, but admitted to snorting it with him in Houston and at the Astros' spring training camp at Cocoa, Fla.

Crossroads

"The defense came through when it had to. Our offense sputtered, especially in the first half. We missed a lot of blocking assignments. But I was pleased with the way we took advantage of the other team's mistakes. We scored two times off them."

"Rochelle (next opponent) has a new coach and a lot of young players. They won last week and is on the upswing. We aren't expecting an easy game."

DALE RUTH, STANTON — "I'm proud of the kids," said Ruth after his team whipped Tahoka 20-6. "Our passing game came through but we must work on our running game. But we had good balance between the two."

"The defense looked real good, we had some outstanding hitters out there. Coahoma will be tough, they have a lot of kids coming back. I'm really impressed with their quarterback (Brian Calaway). The key will be stopping him."

TOM RAMSEY, COLORADO CITY — "Our kids wanted to win and they went out there and got after it," said the C-City mentor following his squad's 33-14 drubbing of Slaton.

"We have a lot of new players and they played well. I knew our defense would do pretty good but I didn't know we would score 33 points. I really didn't know we would pass that well," he said of three TD passes and 162 yards passing. "I'm satisfied with the way we played."

"Seminole (next opponent) looks big and tough."

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 5, 1985

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT
Sections 1 and 2 of House Joint Resolution 6 propose a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development bonds.
The additional bonds to be issued will be dedicated for deposit in the Texas Water Development Fund, with $180 million of those bond proceeds to be used for water supply loans and facilities acquisition and with $400 million of those bond proceeds to be used for state participation in the acquisition for storage, transmission, transportation, and treatment of water and wastewater. Of the remaining bonds authorized, $190 million will be dedicated for use in water quality enhancement projects, and $200 million will be dedicated exclusively for flood control projects.
The amendment would also allow the legislature to provide for the creation, administration, and implementation of a bond insurance program to which the state pledges up to $250 million of its general credit to insure payment of the principal of and interest on bonds or other obligations issued by political subdivisions of the state for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, recharge, chloride control or desalinization. Unless authorized to continue by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the Legislature, the bond insurance program will expire on the sixth anniversary of the date on which this section becomes a part of the constitution. Bond insurance issued before expiration of the program will not be affected by such expiration.
The amendment would authorize the legislature to create and appropriate money to special funds in the state treasury to make grants, loans, and other financial assistance available to governmental entities for certain enumerated water planning purposes. Also, the legislature would be permitted to extend the benefits of constitutionally approved water projects to nonprofit water supply corporations.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development Bonds, to create special water funds for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, recharge, chloride control, agricultural soil and water conservation, and desalinization, to authorize a bond insurance program, and to clarify the purposes for which Texas Water Development Bonds may be issued."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT
House Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to authorize a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property if such relocation or replacement is done in conjunction with or immediately following the relocation or replacement of water mains serving the property. Any legislative enactment permitting the expenditure of funds for such purposes would authorize the city or town to fix a lien on the property, with the owners' consent, for the cost of relocating or replacing the water laterals, and would provide that such cost shall be assessed against the property, with repayment by the property owner to be amortized over a period not to exceed five years at the rate of interest set by law. Such liens could not be enforced until after five years from the date the liens were affixed.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to enact laws permitting a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the use of the proceeds from the sale of permanent school fund land to acquire other land for the permanent school fund. Currently, the constitution requires that proceeds from the sale of such land be invested in certain bonds and other securities.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment authorizing proceeds from the sale of land dedicated to the permanent school fund to be used to acquire other land for that fund."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT
House Joint Resolution 59 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to regulate the provision of health care by hospital districts by determining

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would enable the State of Texas to enter into an agreement with another state to confine inmates from the state of Texas in penal or correctional facilities of the other state.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to permit state prisoners to be placed in penal facilities of another state pursuant to an interstate agreement."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT
House Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioners court of Chambers County to divide Chambers County into not less than two and not more than six justice precincts.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment authorizing Chambers County to be divided into two to six precincts."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant an additional $500 million in bonding authority to the Veterans' Land Board for the veterans' housing assistance program. Under the current constitution, the Veterans' Land Board is authorized by Article III, Section 49-b-1 to issue and sell not more than $800 million in bonds, $500 million of which may be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. This amendment would increase that authorization to permit the issuance and sale of up to $1.3 billion in bonds, $1 billion of which would be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. In addition, the amendment would remove the current definition of "veteran" from the constitution and permit the legislature to redefine "veteran" as the changing times and circumstances require.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment providing $500 million in additional bonding authority for the veterans' housing assistance program and changing the definition of those veterans eligible to participate in the veterans' land program and the veterans' housing program by authorizing the legislature by law to define an eligible veteran for the purposes of those programs."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT
House Joint Resolution 19 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds, the proceeds of which would be deposited in a fund to be known as the farm and ranch finance program fund. The fund would be administered by the Veterans' Land Board and would be used to make loans and provide other financial assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land. The amount of bonds outstanding at any one time would be limited to $500 million. The principal and interest that becomes due on such bonds in each fiscal year would be paid from amounts remaining in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, with the balance due to be appropriated from treasury revenues in the fiscal year when such amounts become due.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide financing assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 16 proposes a constitutional amendment that would define indictments and informations as instruments charging a person with the commission of an offense, and would delete certain technical requirements as to the form of writs and processes.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment relating to the manner in which a person is charged with a criminal offense and to certain requirements applicable to state writs and processes."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant the Texas Supreme Court and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from federal appellate courts. In addition, the two courts would promulgate rules of procedure relating to the review of those questions.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment granting the Supreme Court of Texas and the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 14 proposes a constitutional amendment that would create a board with responsibility for the reapportionment of judicial districts, subject to legislative approval. The amendment would provide for the continued power of the legislature to provide for judicial reapportionment, and would provide that reapportionment

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the office of County Treasurer in Andrews County and transfer the powers and duties of that office to the County Auditor. The amendment would also abolish the office of County Treasurer in El Paso County if, at the statewide election at which this amendment is submitted to the voters, a majority of the voters who vote in El Paso County favor the amendment. The functions of the office of El Paso County Treasurer will be performed by a person employed or designated by the El Paso County Commissioners. The amendment also provides for the abolition of the office of County Surveyor in Denton, Randall, Collin, Dallas, El Paso, and Henderson Counties upon approval of such abolition by a majority of the voters who vote on the question at an election called by the commissioners court of the county. If the office of County Surveyor is abolished in any county, the commissioners court may employ or contract with any qualified person to perform the duties of the office.
The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to provide for:
(1) the abolition of the office of county treasurer in Andrews County and El Paso County;
(2) the abolition of the office of county surveyor in Collin, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Henderson, and Randall Counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 15 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 14 proposes a constitutional amendment that would create a board with responsibility for the reapportionment of judicial districts, subject to legislative approval. The amendment would provide for the continued power of the legislature to provide for judicial reapportionment, and would provide that reapportionment will be the responsibility of the Legislative Redistricting Board if the Judicial Districts Board fails to make a timely reapportionment. The amendment would provide for the creation of judicial districts smaller than a county in counties where the creation of such districts has been approved by the voters at a general election. The amendment would provide for more than one judge for a judicial district. The amendment would rename supreme judicial districts as courts of appeals districts. The amendment would provide that the jurisdiction and terms of court of district and county courts may be as provided by law. The amendment would provide for the jurisdiction of justice courts, which may have additional jurisdiction as provided by law. The amendment would provide for rules of judicial administration and civil procedure to be promulgated by the Supreme Court, and would provide that the legislature may delegate additional rule-making power to the Supreme Court or to the Court of Criminal Appeals. The amendment would provide that courts and judges in existence at the time of its adoption remain in existence until otherwise provided by law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment providing for the reapportionment of the judicial districts of the state by the Judicial Districts Board or by the Legislative Redistricting Board, and providing for the administration and jurisdiction of constitutional courts."
