Appraisal office sets '86 budget

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Members of the Howard County Consolidated Tax Appraisal District unanimously approved a 1986 budget prepared by chief appraiser Gene Pereira in yesterday's afternoon meeting.

Pereira told district members before a motion was made to approve the budget that the appraisal office would "ask for slightly less money from tax entities" for the upcoming year.

The district is budgeted to receive a total revenue of $373,636 in 1986. This compares to 1985's amount of $373,977.88.

According to the budget, the projected revenues from county tax entities is based on 1984 tax levies.

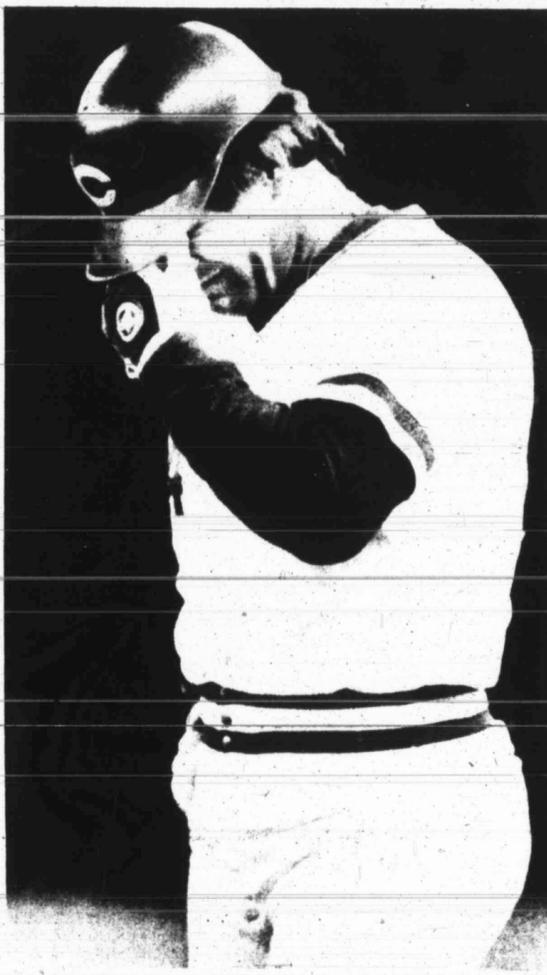

Pereira said monthly or annual amounts "could change," but that the total amount would remain the same.

"If one of the entities raises the tax level, something is going to change," Pereira said.

According to the budget, Big Spring Independent School District will collect $107,500 for the district in revenues, which amounts to 29 percent of the school district's total tax levy. Howard County was the second highest tax entity to collect revenues and will raise $62,478. This amounts to 16 percent of its total tax levy.

The total fund balance and receivables was listed at $386,131 for 1986. The budgeted expenses are expected to incorporate this amount. A permanent reserve balance of $12,495 is projected to remain.

Attempt to block weapon test fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge refused today to block Friday's scheduled test of an anti-satellite weapon.

After 30 minutes of oral arguments, U.S. District Judge Norma Holloway Johnson denied a request by four House members and the Union of Concerned Scientists for a temporary restraining order to halt the test.

Johnson said the plaintiffs failed to show that they will be successful on the merits of their case and did not have standing to bring the lawsuit.

"The issues, in any event, are a political question that should not be decided in this forum," she said, adding that the plaintiffs will not be irreparably harmed "by what they speculate will take place."

Johnson said she would issue a written opinion later.

The four House members and the group of scientists asked the federal court on Tuesday to block the test on the ground that President Reagan had falsely certified to Congress that he was trying in good faith to negotiate curbs on such arms.

The government called the lawsuit "frivolous" and said the test is necessary to win a U.S.-Soviet treaty to ban space weapons.

Legislator says credit system overcharging Texas farmers

ABILENE (AP) — A state legislator says midwest agriculture credit problems are costing Texas farmers money through high interest rates that may ultimately spell the demise of the state farm credit system.

"What's happening right now is that the farm credit system in Texas is overcharging its customers, taking the additional money and putting it into reserve to pump into the farm system in the Midwest," Rep. Steve Carriker, D-Roby said on Wednesday.

"The net effect is that it's costing Texas farmers a lot of money," he said.

Carriker participated in the first meeting Wednesday in Austin of a group assembled by Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower to study Texas farm credit problems.

Carriker, a farmer, is the only state legislator in the group.

Texas Congressman Kika de la Garza, D-Mission, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said earlier that the federal government may have to loan the federal Farm Credit Administration money to keep it afloat.

Last week, credit administration officials said economic conditions in U.S. agriculture have slumped so badly that the $74 billion farm-credit system, the nation's largest farm lender, can no longer absorb its losses and will seek outside help.

Prince Charles to visit Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' 150th anniversary has drawn royal attention in the form of a visit from Prince Charles, heir to the British throne.

Gov. Mark White announced Wednesday that the prince had accepted an invitation to visit Texas in February as part of the state's Sesquicentennial celebration.

In addition to honoring Texas, Prince Charles will honor H. Ross Perot, one of the best-known Texans. Perot, a Dallas businessman, will receive the Winston Churchill Award from Prince Charles.

The British consulate in Houston confirmed plans for the prince to visit Dallas and perhaps other Texas cities Feb. 17-21.

"The governor invited him," said Linda Kelly, assistant invitation officer for the consulate.

Princess Diana will not make the trip, she said.

The only definite stop on the trip is Dallas, where Perot will be given the award made by the United States Winston Churchill Foundation. The honor goes to people of "exceptional accomplishment," according to a foundation release.

Perot is the first person from the business world to get the award. The two previous reciipients were American statesman W. Averell Harriman and British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

"Perot was selected for the award because he has demonstrated the imagination, boldness and vigor which characterized Churchill," said John Loeb Jr., former U.S. ambassador to Denmark and current foundation president.

The remainder of Prince Charles' schedule has not been worked out, according to Ms. Kelly. The royal heir last visited Texas in 1977, when his trip included tours of a South Texas ranch and the Space Center near Houston.

Big-time rabbits

Cuddly creatures aren't kid stuff

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

Rabbits — they're cute and cuddly, but they're not kid stuff anymore.

On the professional rabbit breeders show circuit, rabbits mean serious business. "Bugs Bunny" has gone big time, and so has the rabbit show at the Howard County Fair.

The pedigreed rabbits entered in the Sept. 21 competition will be under heavy scrutiny in the show, sanctioned for the first time by the American Rabbit Breeders Association, the Texas Rabbit Breeders Association and the Southwestern Rabbit Association. Crossbreeds will not be allowed.

"It's a really big industry," said show superintendent Sherry Newton. "And it's getting bigger and bigger."

"Some people — not us — spend up to $300 and $400 for a rabbit," said Janis Ramey, the other show superintendent.

Standards for the show, which was a kid's pet show in last year's fair, are so strict that a missing tooth, a missing toenail or a cold will be grounds for dropping a rabbit from the show, they said.

Newton and Ramey expect between 400 and 600 entries. Rabbits are divided into several competitive groups, based on sex, age, weight, varieties and whether they are commercial or fancy breeds.

"The rabbits are weighed against the official book of standards," said Newton. "They're judged on color, fur condition, the brightness of their eyes, their lop (the long, floppy ears on some breeds) and their bone structure. Every breed is different and has different standards."

Because of the many standards involved, it takes seven years' training to become a rabbit show judge. Candidates must apprentice under a judge and must pass a licensed test. "Not every Tom, Dick and Harry can become a licensed judge," Newton said.

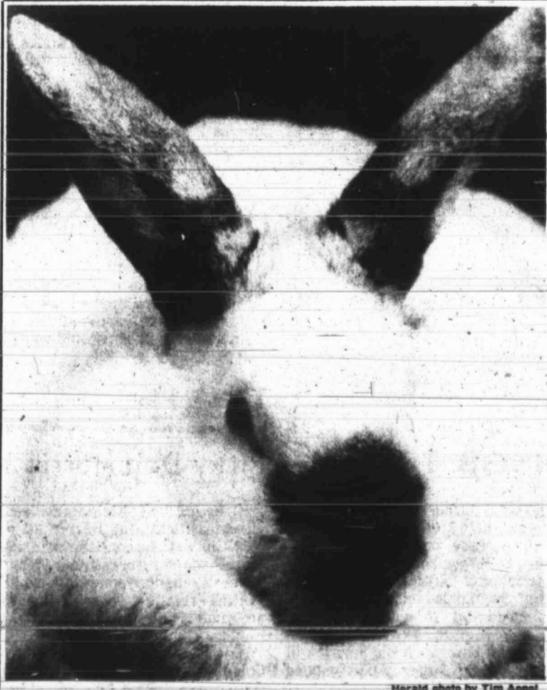

Judging the show will be Mike Sutton of Bledsoe and Bob Berry of Lubbock, said Ramey. Judging begins at 9 a.m. and will last all day.

Judges are strict about not letting ailing rabbits enter a show because rabbits are so susceptible to contagious diseases, Ramey said. "If one has a cold, the whole barn will get it." The two, who have been showing rabbits in sanctioned shows for 1½ years, say they sponsored the rabbit show last year "just to get the interest up." Last year's show was basically "bring your pet rabbit," they said.

But despite all the multitude of standards, novices can win, Newton and Ramey said, using themselves as examples. The first show they entered, the Permian Basin show in Odessa, they won.

"It got to be a joke. We didn't know what we were doing. We were making all these last-minute category changes, which

Scientist says ship near Titanic could have rescued passengers

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Tragedy needn't have existed" with the 1912 sinking of the oceanliner Titanic because a nearby ship, the Californian, could have rescued the passengers who died, a scientist who discovered the sunken vessel claims.

"There is no doubt it (the Californian) could have gone in there and rescued those people," when the elegant oceanliner struck an iceberg and went down, Robert Ballard told reporters Wednesday.

Ballard, 43, chief scientist of the U.S.-French team that found the Titanic in 13,000 feet of water about 560 miles from Newfoundland on Sept. 1, said his evidence shows the Californian's captain "didn't report his position right." The Californian made no attempt to reach the wreck in which more than 1,500 people perished.

About 700 people were rescued, largely because a third ship, the Carpathia, steamed to the scene when the Titanic foundered on its maiden voyage from Southampton, England to New York.

Ballard, who refused to disclose the precise location of the Titanic on grounds that scavengers might seek it out, said there "is no doubt that that tragedy needn't have existed... The Californian was inside of 10 miles, perhaps as close as four miles, and there is no doubt it could have gone in there and rescued those people. It's just tragic."

"I'd like to say more about that, but I probably shouldn't," Ballard declared. "What I've said already isn't very nice."

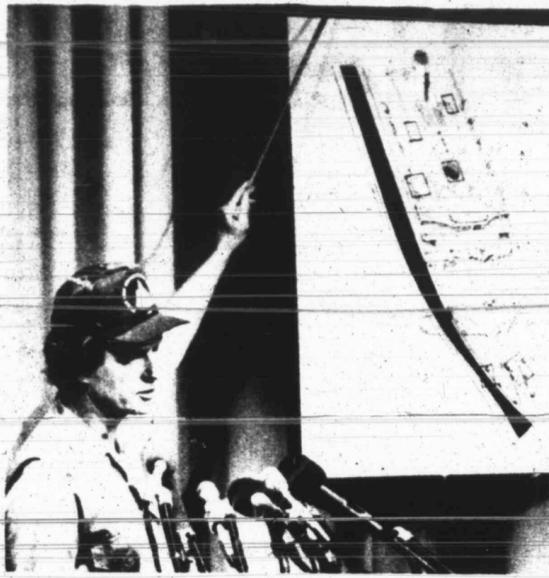

The role of the Californian in the disaster has been debated for years. Passengers aboard the Leyland liner said they saw the Titanic's distress rockets and even its running lights.

"There's no way it could have been that far from them to see that kind of detail in those (weather) conditions," Ballard commented.

The scientist said the Titanic was found only after the U.S.-French team concluded that the captain of the Californian, Stanley Lord, had misrepresented his position relative to the doomed vessel because of his "vested interests."

"The behavior of the Carpathia proved of most importance to us," in leading the scientists to the wreck's real location, said Ballard. "That skipper was a dogged good skipper."

Ballard also disclosed that after "mowing the lawn" — searching the sea-floor — time and again with highly advanced technological gear, the Titanic actually was found by "a 25-year-old echo sounder — it could have been done in a fish-ug boat."

MASSIVE LOSS OF LIFE on the Titanic could have been averted if a nearby ship had moved to rescue passengers, said Robert Ballard, chief scientist of the U.S.-French team who led the expedition which found the sunken liner. Ballard spoke to a Washington press conference Wednesday.

College enrollment cramps dorms

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

Purchase of an $18,084 mobile home for extra dormitory space was approved by Howard County Junior College District board of trustees in an emergency meeting Wednesday.

The space is needed because the dorms are overflowing by 24 students, said Dr. Bob Riley, president of the district.

Howard College enrollment is up by more than 63 students for the 1985-86 school year, he said. This year's enrollment is 1,210 as of Tuesday. Last year's official figure was 1,147.

The students said they would rather remain on campus than seek lodging elsewhere in the community, Riley said.

Harold Davis, chairman of the board, said proceeds from a recent auction will pay for the mobile home, which will be purchased from D&C Sales in Big Spring.

The mobile home will house eight women, Riley said. Four other women will stay in the dorms, doubling-up with others. The remaining men will be housed in the old gymnasium, which is being converted to house visiting athletes.

The mobile home will have three bedrooms and two bathrooms, with the living room used as a fourth bedroom, Riley said. The home will be as comfortable as the dormitories, he said, and night security guards will check it frequently.

Enrollment is up in the agriculture and nursing programs, Riley said, and the dental hygiene program is full. The nursing program is by far the college's most popular, he said, because Big Spring is a medically oriented community.

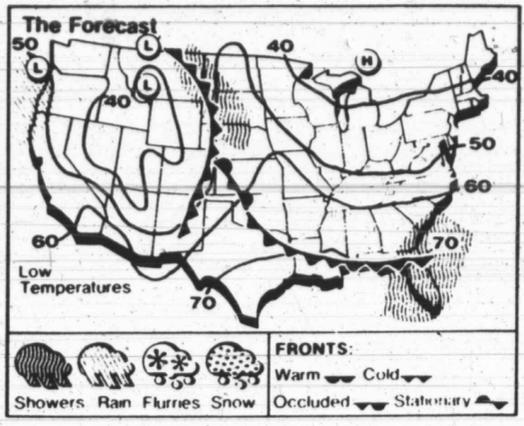

Davis said there wasn't enough time to build extra dormitory space this year, but if housing remains a problem next year, the board will consider building extra rooms.

Riley said the mobile home could be used to house married students in the future if it isn't needed for extra dorm space. Student housing is currently not provided for married students.

Big Spring's City Council Tuesday agreed to place on next week's agenda Riley's request for an exemption under the manufactured housing ordinance that would allow the mobile home to be placed on the campus.

Thunderstorms continued across much of the northern Texas Panhandle early today and forecasters predicted precipitation would spread southward later.

The storms followed heavy rains in excess of 1½ inches on Wednesday, the National Weather Service said. Other thundershowers developed over the south plains, coastal bend, lower Rio Grande valley and extreme northeast. Skies elsewhere in the state were mostly cloudy, except for fair skies persisting along the lower Rio Grande and southern portions of North Texas.

Nation

Strong high pressure over Ontario cleared skies and lowered temperatures across much of the Midwest and Northeast today.

Cool, wet weather prevailed across the Rockies. Showers and thunderstorms were widespread and light snow powdered higher elevations of Colorado and northern Utah.

Early-morning temperatures in the upper 30s to 40s were common from the Great Lakes through New England.

Police Beat

Man held on parole violation

Police arrested a 30-year-old Big Spring man Wednesday morning on an emergency warrant for a parole violation.

Wallace Viasanna, 30, of 1509 Main was arrested by Detective Bill King in the 200 block of Goliad on the warrant, according to police reports.

Viasanna was paroled after serving two years of an eight-year sentence for burglary. The warrant was issued for assault, said David Harman, Viasanna's parole officer.

Harman said Viasanna's wife had filed a complaint with police accusing her husband of assault over a period of several months.

Viasanna is being held without bond pending the setting of a parole hearing date, Harman said.

Police early today arrested Travis Lee Pittman, 24, of 1004 E. Third at the intersection of Interstate 20 and West Highway 80 on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and of possession of a controlled substance.

According to police reports, a stimulant was found in Pittman's possession when he was stopped on suspicion of DWI.

Police Wednesday evening arrested Carolyn Ann Benson, 18, of Denver City at K mart at 1701 FM, 700 on suspicion of theft of more than $20 and less than $200.

According to police reports, Steve Tresize, a store employee, told police a woman was trying to steal seven cassette tapes valued at $44.

Police arrested Alberto Mesa Morales, 49, of 1004 N. Main on suspicion of failure to properly secure a motor vehicle.

Landin Macedonio of 410 Aylford told police he loaned his video cassette recorder a month ago to someone who is now refusing to return the machine. The VCR is valued at $400.

Appraisal

District members also approved a motion to accept a hospitalization and life insurance plan from Provident Insurance that will become effective Nov. 1.

Pereira also told district members that he recently found out his office was required to comply with the Fair Labor Standard Act that sets policies for overtime pay. But this will pose no problem, the chief appraiser said, because the overtime procedures the district drew up for its employees' manual already comply with the regulations of the act.

Rabbits

But raising rabbits does take time. Ramey and Newton have 17 rabbits, and spend seven to 10 hours a week feeding, watering and working with their animals.

They expect the Howard County show to be a success because the rabbits will be in prime condition, after just completing their molting season.

Fatal accident results in municipal court plea

A man whose unattended car rolled into a woman's front yard, striking and killing her, pleaded guilty Wednesday in municipal court to improperly securing his vehicle.

Alberto Mesa Morales, 59, of 606 N.W. 11th faces a maximum fine of $200, said Big Spring Police Lt. Jerry Edwards.

According to police reports, Bessie Brown Lankford, 76, of 601 N. San Antonio was killed when a car rolled down an incline, jumped a curb and pinned her against a tree. The accident occurred July 24.

The car, owned and driven by Morales, was parked in a grocery store parking lot.

The case was initially referred to County Attorney Tim Yeats when police sought a charge of criminally negligent homicide, a higher grade misdemeanor. Yeats declined to accept the case on grounds that "the evidence was not sufficient enough to file criminally negligent homicide."

Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt who heard the case could not be reached this morning for comment.

Bond release leads to arrest

Howard County sheriff's deputies arrested Alfred Ray Mears, 24, of 409 W. 10th on a warrant based on the fact that his bondsman went off his bond. He had been released on bond after an arrest in connection with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. He remains in county jail.

John Pat Malone, 28, of Route 1 Box 501, was released from county jail Wednesday morning after he was confined for violating the terms of his peace bond. He was arrested Monday on

Elks set chili 'Super Bowl'

Competitive cooking will begin at 8 a.m. Following the cookoff, a chili supper will be given at the lodge. Supper will be served from 4 to 8 p.m. Cost will be $1.50 per bowl for adults and $1 per bowl for children aged 10 years old and under.

For more information, call the Elks Lodge at 267-5322.

Big Spring Elks will have their fourth annual cookoff, the Chili Super Bowl IV, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 5.

Cash awards and trophies will be presented to the top three places and the showmanship winners.

Entry deadline is 5 p.m. Oct. 4. Teams will consist of a chief cook and a support team of no more than six persons. All chili must be cooked on the premises, from scratch. Pre-cooked ingredients and meat are not allowed.

Artists for Settles is sought

MPG Management of San Antonio is searching for an artist who will paint a watercolor or oil portrait of Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Settles.

The 5x8-foot painting will hang at the head of the grand stairway connecting the mezzanine and ballroom in the Settles Hotel.

Interested persons should contact Ralph Kelley Jr., P.O. Box 3592, or call 263-6679 or 263-7720.

Deaths

Ricky Dan Harris

He is survived by his parents; a sister, Vicky Hielt of Jackson, Miss.; a grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Harris of Burkett.

The family suggests memorials be sent to Cal Farleys Boys Ranch in Amarillo.

Harris died Wednesday while visiting relatives here. Services are under direction of Walker Funeral Home in Coleman.

Harris was born Aug. 31, 1951, in Coleman. He moved to Big Spring with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hulan Harris, in 1961. He graduated from Big Spring High School and served in the Air Force. He was a member of the Disabled American Veterans.

Coahoma raises taxes

COAHOMA — Council members tabled a discussion about an increase in water rates. The rates will increase, but the council isn't sure by how much, Garrett said.

Coahoma buys its water from Big Spring, which recently announced an increase in water rates. When the Coahoma council finds out how much Big Spring will charge for its water, it can respond accordingly, Garrett said.

The council voted to set the water turn-off fee at $8.50 if the turn-off comes within 30 days of turn-on, the mayor said.

Hostages held

DELAND, Fla. — Two escaped prisoners facing murder charges overpowered their guards and ran into a downtown hospital, where they took at least 33 patients, visitors and nursing staff hostage Wednesday, authorities said.

No injuries were reported, and the two men, who were believed to be armed, allowed regular patient care to continue at the 95-bed Fish Memorial Hospital.

Police cordoned off the hospital and a SWAT team from neighboring Seminole County surrounded the facility.

Man sentenced

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — A 65-year-old housepainter who blinded and disfigured a teen-age girl with acid during a kidnap and sexual assault was sentenced Wednesday to 34 years in prison, the maximum possible term.

"I hope he stays in prison until he dies," the victim, 16-year-old Cheryl Bess said in a probation report made public at Jack Oscar King's sentencing. The girl, who is expected to undergo years of plastic surgery to repair her badly disfigured face, was absent Wednesday because of a medical appointment.

Error found

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A jammed thermal shield that threatened to damage an Australian communications satellite on Discovery's last mission was the result of a preflight checklist error, shuttle astronauts say.

Hurried preparation for the flight that landed Sept. 3 after a spectacular spacewalk rescue of a disabled satellite led to an error in the sequence of on-board crew instructions, said mission commander Joe Engle.

Cocaine hazards

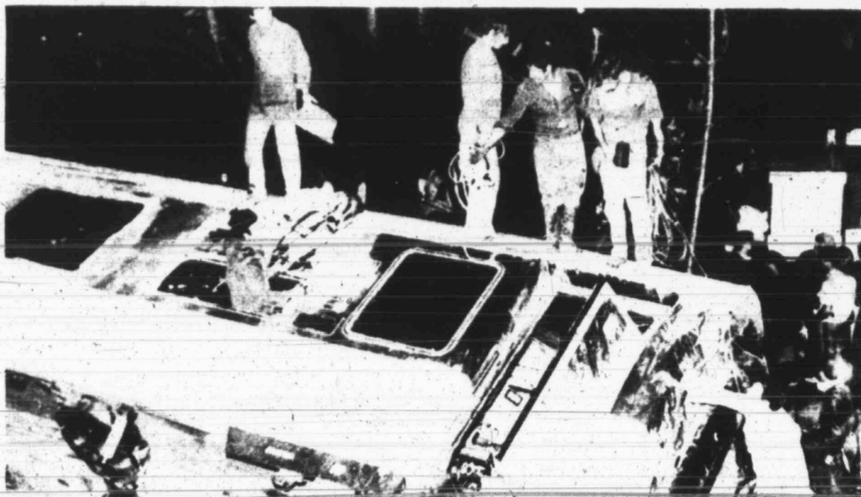

BOSTON (AP) — The discovery that cocaine is linked with spontaneous abortions and behavioral problems in newborns strengthens the case against needless drug use by expectant women, a researcher says.

Earlier studies have found that the abuse of other drugs, such as heroin and alcohol, can harm babies in the womb. But the latest research is the first to associate newborn abnormalities with cocaine.

Government urged

ANAHEIM, Calif. — The Episcopal Church, deploring federal prosecution of church workers giving sanctuary to Central American refugees, has urged the government to offer safe haven to those fleeing strife in their homelands.

The denomination also declared Wednesday at its triennial governing convention that it was unalterably opposed to President Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative, commonly called "Star Wars."

Workers sift through the wreckage of an Expresso train in Portugal loaded with immigrant workers that slammed into a domestic passenger train. At least 46 people were killed.

Train crash

Head-on collision leaves 46 dead in Portugal

VISEU, Portugal (AP) — An eastbound express train carrying hundreds of migrant workers to France slammed head-on into a westbound local train in the mountains of central Portugal. At least 46 people died in the blazing wreckage and more than 100 were injured, news reports said.

The seven-coach express, bound from the coastal city of Oporto to Hendaye, France, was behind schedule and did not wait for the Coimbra-bound train to move onto a siding, the Portuguese domestic news agency ANOP quoted railway officials as saying.

The wrecked coaches derailed and burst into flames, setting fire to a pine forest, firefighters and witnesses said. Some cars burned for as long as three hours.

"People were being burned alive, shouting, jumping from the carriages and dying at the train windows," said Duarte Santos Correia, 37, a passenger.

More than 500 firefighters, 100 ambulances, air force helicopters, paramilitary police and the Portuguese Red Cross converged on the disaster site between Mangualde and Nelas in the mountainous Serra de Estrela region 150 miles northeast of Lisbon.

The trains were traveling on the same track in opposite directions, railway officials said, and the eastbound international slammed head-on into the westbound local at 6:40 p.m. The officials spoke on condition they not be identified.

Francisco Murteira Nabo, the transportation minister, said today, "The preliminary report indicates that the accident was due to human error."

It was not immediately known how many people were on the two trains, but Noticias de Portugal said hundreds of migrant workers had been aboard the express.

The National Service for Civil Protection said 46 bodies had been recovered from the wrecked coaches. It said eight of the dead, had been identified and were Portuguese nationals.

It said 87 other people had been hospitalized and 22 had been treated for injuries and released.

ANOP had quoted railway officials at the disaster scene as saying there were at least 150 charred bodies in one car alone. A deputy fire chief, Delfim Azevedo, at one point estimated the death toll at 300.

But Noticias de Portugal quoted Dr. Americo Borges at the site as saying no more than 50 people had perished. It said about 450 people were believed to be on board the express at the time of the collision, but gave no figure for the local train.

The news agency Noticias de Portugal quoted Prime Minister Mario Soares today as saying at the crash scene, "fortunately, I have come to the conclusion that the figures given originally were exaggerated."

The news agency Noticias de Portugal said between 140 and 150 passengers were hurt, including those treated for minor injuries and released. Lisbon's Santa Maria Hospital said it was receiving five passengers with serious burns.

Spanish Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez, in Tokyo on a state visit, said in a telegram today to Portuguese Prime Minister Mario Soares: "Deeply saddened by the terrible train accident, I convey my most heartfelt sympathies."

Azevedo, the deputy fire brigade chief from nearby Mangualde, told ANOP most of the victims had been riding in the three front cars of the express and the two lead cars of the regional train.

"Eighty percent of the passengers in the three front carriages must have died," ANOP quoted the fire official as saying.

Correia, who had been traveling to West Germany, told reporters, "I heard an explosion and the fire started immediately afterward. God gave me strength and I jumped through the window."

Another survivor, Antonio Ribeiro da Costa, 30, of Oporto, said he was thrown against a door in the corridor when the trains collided.

"I rushed to fetch my wife and son who were already semiconscious," he said. "It was hell outside. Parents looking for children, many wounded. Everything was chaos."

Abilio Travessas, who had been vacationing in the region, told ANOP he was walking along the tracks when the crash occurred.

Chilean protest

SANTIAGO, Chile — Leftist guerrillas plunged much of Chile into darkness on the 12th anniversary of the military coup in which President Augusto Pinochet took power, and sources said nine people were hurt in anti-government protests.

The guerrilla action Wednesday night defied a huge military and police security build-up for the anniversary of the Sept. 11, 1973 military coup against civilian President Salvador Allende, a Marxist.

Soviets expelled

LONDON — Acting on information supplied by a top KGB defector, Britain today ordered 25 purported Soviet spies to leave the country in the biggest such expulsion in 14 years.

The Foreign Office said that in ordering out the six accredited diplomats and 19 business officials, journalists and embassy workers, it was going on the word of Oleg A. Gordievski, the chief operative in Britain of the KGB, the Soviet spy agency and secret police.

It said Gordievski, 46, posted in London since 1982 and officially listed as a Soviet Embassy counselor, had defected saying he "wishes to become a citizen of a democratic country and live in a free society." He was given political asylum, it said, without revealing when he defected.

Quiet returns

BIRMINGHAM, England — The inner-city neighborhood torn by two days of rioting was quiet today after police agreed to allow leaders of the Birmingham's black community to replace them on some street patrols.

Some shop windows in Handsworth were broken, but there were no reports of overnight looting and no arrests, a police spokesman said.

Police said they agreed on a partial withdrawal of officers provided members of the black Rastafarian sect kept the streets quiet.

Gift to UN

UNITED NATIONS — The U.S. gift to the United Nations on its 40th anniversary will be a large mosaic of Norman Rockwell's painting, "The Golden Rule," depicting the world's peoples at peace and harmony.

U.N. spokesman Francois Giuliani announced the gift Wednesday. The United Nations officially marks its anniversary on Oct. 24.

Sanctions criticized

WARSAW, Poland — The leader of Poland's Roman Catholic Church says U.S. economic sanctions against the communist government should be lifted because they have had a negative effect on the Polish people.

The church leader, Cardinal Jozef Glemp, is scheduled to visit the United States next week for the first time.

Step to revoke 'pass law' proposed in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The white government today took its second step in two days toward revoking aspects of apartheid by suggesting an end to "pass laws" that bar blacks from white areas and control their movement throughout the country.

Piet Koornhof, chairman of the presidential panel that made the suggestions, said Parliament probably would not debate the issue until it reconvenes after Jan. 1, 1986.

"Of course this is a major step to remove apartheid. But more important, it is building toward a new South Africa," he told reporters in a briefing in Cape Town.

In Soweto, the black township near Johannesburg, a white teacher and 10 black high school students were wounded when police fired shotguns at a crowd of stone-throwing blacks, police said.

It was not clear how the Mushi High School teacher, who suffered chest wounds, got into the line of fire, but witnesses told The Associated Press by telephone that police fired wildly at one point.

Police also said they killed three black men in the township of Guguletu, east of Cape Town, when officers loosed shotgun blasts into a crowd of about 100 blacks who barricaded a road with burning tires.

The proposed changes in apartheid, the government's policy of racial discrimination, cannot take effect without approval from Parliament, where the ruling National Party controls 125 of the 178 seats.

Koornhof, who five years ago said "apartheid is dead," said today: "The death of apartheid is a protracted business."

Helen Suzman, a member of Parliament in the white opposition Progressive Federal Party, said if pass laws were abolished, it would be "probably the most important step forward in 30 years."

The suggestion to abolish the 40-year-old pass laws was made by the President's Council Committee for Constitutional Affairs. Its wishes almost certainly will be backed by President P.W. Botha, who appoints council members.

A committee report made available to The Associated Press said the pass laws "as applied at present are discriminatory and are in conflict with basic human rights."

No dates were recommended for the pass laws to end, and police today said they would still arrest any black who lacked documents necessary to be in a white area.

On Wednesday, Botha announced a change in his party's long-held policy denying South African citizenship to blacks in so-called tribal homelands. The policy had been aimed at isolating South Africa's 24 million blacks in homelands and preserving 87 percent of the country for the 5 million whites.

The decision means 3 million blacks living outside those homelands will regain their South African citizenship. Another 5 million blacks living inside the homelands are likely to become citizens again soon.

A celebration of old story tellers

Once upon a time in Germany, there lived two brothers, Jakob Ludwig Grimm and Wilhelm Karl Grimm. Jakob and Wilhelm were fascinated by old German fairy tales, which they collected and published. The stories, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Hansel and Gretel," "Cinderella" and "Little Red Riding Hood," have delighted children for well over a hundred years.

It's appropriate that the 200th anniversary of their birth is being observed not only in West Germany but also in many other lands where the Grimms' fairy tales have been loved.

The Brothers Grimm were not twins (Jakob was born in January 1785, Wilhelm in February 1786), but in life they were so inseparable that they were mistaken for twins. Indeed, even after Wilhelm's marriage, Jakob lived in his brother's house. Their closeness justifies the dual celebration.

Why should the collectors of fairy tales be honored? One reason is that, in preserving fairy tales, the Brothers Grimm captured much of the culture of Germany. Regarding the tales as expressions of the German spirit, they wanted to give Germany another way to "peer into its history," as Jakob put it.

Yet, the great service of fairy tales, as child psychologist Bruno Bettelheim suggests, is to teach children lessons of life: that there is struggle; that evil exists along with good; that those who live "happily ever after" are those who have shown great love for others.

These are important lessons. Their significance is not a whit reduced for their being taught in language that appeals to the hearts of children.

Gorbachev revs up publicity campaign

WASHINGTON — En route to the Geneva summit the Russians are enjoying a propaganda hayride. The U.S. could spoil their fun with a solid, substantive proposal on arms control. But up to now, President Reagan has emphasized public relations over substance. For summit audiences are shifting, and the Administration is more concerned to reassure its own constituents than to challenge Gorbachev in his gallery.

The new Soviet leader, Mikhail Gorbachev, brings to the world two qualities not conspicuous in his recent predecessors. He is a youthful figure in the pink, who can expect to outlast his American opposite number. If he doesn't like what Reagan proposes, he can wait until a better offer comes along from the next president.

As a "communicator," moreover, Gorbachev rivals Reagan. He comes across as attractive, forceful and extremely well informed. He has a nice light touch, and a wife who buys diamonds at Cartier.

Months ago Gorbachev set in motion a publicity drive in the arms control area. Last week he slipped into higher gear with the publication of an interview by Time Magazine, and in a meeting with eight visiting American senators.

In each case, Gorbachev intimated Russia was prepared to join the U.S. in making deep cuts (40 to 50 percent, some of his aides say) in the number of nuclear warheads. As a condition, however, he wants to limit to "fundamental research" Big Two efforts to develop a defense against ballistic missiles. That would leave, as the only obstacle to agreement, this country's Strategic Defense Initiative, or Star Wars program for an anti-ballistic missile defense.

The General Secretary's message has struck home with even some hard-boiled Americans. For instance, Sam Nunn of Georgia, the Democratic defense expert in the Senate, came away from the Moscow meeting impressed.

Far more impressed are the West Europeans — the truly crucial audience for Gorbachev. Many of them continue to regard Reagan as a trigger-happy cowboy. They are pleased to have a Soviet leader who, in the European tradition, is no pushover for the Americans. They are uncomfortable with Star Wars, which could remove the nuclear deterrent from their defense arsenal.

"I can do business with Mr. Gorbachev," Prime Minister Thatcher said when he was a mere candidate leader. Since then he has registered well with Socialist leaders from Italy and West Germany. On Oct. 3-4, he will be in Paris for meetings — certain to be highly publicized — with Francois Mitterrand.

On Sept. 19, the continuing Big Two arms control talks resume in Geneva. The U.S. delegation is being instructed to probe the Soviet diplomats on the offers unofficially held out by Gorbachev. In response, the U.S. could surface a public position with some numbers. Then it would be up to Gorbachev to back up his mouth with some money. If he is serious, an agreement would be in the works. If not, Soviet duplicity would be exposed again.

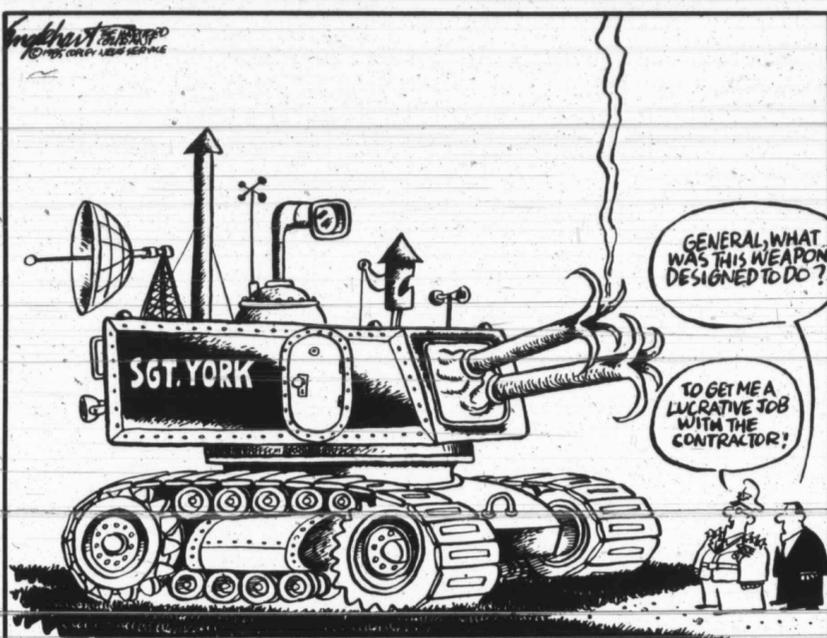

Several constraints work against that gambit, however. To test the Russians, SDI would have to be made subject to negotiations. But President Reagan himself has repeatedly said he was with Star Wars for good, not as a bargaining chip. High officials at the Pentagon share that view. There is no sign that anybody can align the various factions inside Washington behind an arms control offer that would include limiting Star Wars.

In the past, to be sure, West European pressure fostered changes in U.S. bargaining positions. But in the past, especially when the issue was deploying modernized American weapons across the Atlantic, the Europeans were a crucial audience for the Reagan Administration. No more. With the modernized missiles installed, the peace marchers have stopped marching in British and West Germany.

In these conditions the pressure on Reagan is to play to his own adherents.

None of this means the summit will fail. Accords on air transport and new consulates are virtually assured. An agreement on a follow-up summit seems certain. An arms race could be contained by extending for another year the Anti-Ballistic Missile treaty which expires on Jan. 1, 1986. But the little window of opportunity opened by the selection of a new Soviet leader seems to be closing.

Playing 'ray gun' catch-up with the Soviet Union

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA
WASHINGTON — The superpowers' contest for military supremacy in space continues, and the Soviets appear to be substantially ahead in the latest round: laser weapons.

CIA sources have told us they've discovered a major laser test center at Krasnoarmeysk, 30 miles northeast of Moscow. Even more alarming, the facility is believed to be actually producing laser weapons.

Evidence of the priority the Soviets place on the Krasnoarmeysk weapons plant, the CIA has determined, is that it is operated by an integrated design bureau. Ordinarily the Soviets borrow the capitalist technique of competing design bureaus for everything from tanks to ballistic missiles. They've found that the competition eventually produces better weapons — but it's too time-consuming for a top-priority program.

"The Soviets have had a research program under way since 1970 aimed at developing lasers with weapons applications," notes a top-secret CIA report. The program includes at least a half-dozen major research and development facilities and test ranges. More than 10,000 scientists and engineers are involved.

By way of comparison, the CIA estimates that a similar U.S. laser weapons program would cost about $1 billion a year. But the United States only began playing catch-up during the Reagan administration, with about $800 million earmarked for laser weapons research in 1986.

One of the unique features of the Soviet laser program is the development of a rocket-driven magnetohydrodynamic (MHD) generator, which produces 15 megawatts of short-term electricity as a fire power source for the lasers.

A secret State Department report on the MHD explains that "it generates current by passing a conducting fluid through a magnetic field." The report adds this disturbing comment:

"Their (the Soviets') MHD work is the largest in the world and continues to grow. Power outputs already achieved exceed those in the West several fold, and both rocket power and liquid metal system inputs could have potential for military programs in high energy lasers, charged particle beams and space-borne laser power supplies. MHD is a technology area where the Soviets clearly lead the U.S. in demonstrated capability."

In fact, there is no counterpart device in the West. Both the CIA and the Pentagon believe the Soviets already have ground-based lasers that could interfere with U.S. satellites, and they estimate that by the late 1980s the Russians could have at least prototype space-based laser weapons that could incapacitate U.S. satellites.

The actual deployment of space-based lasers for anti-satellite use is a tricky business, however, and the intelligence experts figure the Soviets won't have mastered this before the 1990s.

The various reports and estimates, which accumulate with virtually every top-secret satellite photo and analysis of it, all demonstrate that the Buck Rogers "ray gun" won't wait for Dr. Huer to come along in the 25th century.

STILL THE EASY WAY: We reported recently that Walter Reed Army Hospital had been criticized by the Army auditors for buying certain "educational services" from the Agricultural Department Graduate School without competitive bids. The auditors said the practice was improper and recommended that Walter Reed stop it. But the head of the hospital's education center, who had explained to the auditors that it was "easier and faster" to skip the bidding process, still thinks so. He wrote a plaintive letter to his bosses asking for an extension of the graduate school contract because "the procurement process has proven more complex than anyone anticipated."

PELTIER UPDATE — Religious groups and about 100 members of Congress have filed separate court briefs demanding a new trial for American Indian Movement leader Leonard Peltier, who is serving life terms for the murder of two FBI agents in a 1975 shootout. The briefs charge that the government suppressed evidence, including FBI reports that showed the gun Peltier allegedly carried could not have been the murder weapon. Peltier's imprisonment has drawn worldwide attention, especially in the Soviet bloc, where he is portrayed as a political prisoner.

DIPLOMATIC DIGEST — Dismayed State Department insiders are watching the Philippines go down the drain as President Ferdinand Marcos stubbornly holds on to his power in the face of a growing communist insurgency. What particularly depresses critics is that they think the American embassy in Manila, and Washington officials like former ambassador Richard Armacost — now an undersecretary of state — continue to support the increasingly unpopular Philippines president. The critics say Marcos is getting a clear message that he can count on U.S. support no matter what.

MINI-EDITORIAL — Did you know that the United States Constitution will be 200 years old on Sept. 17, 1987? That the president has appointed a Commission on the Bicentennial of the Constitution and that Congress has appropriated $300,000 to get it started? That this organization — which is specifically charged with informing the public about the Constitution and the freedoms it protects — is holding its meetings in secret? This utterly preposterous situation is perfectly understandable, however. The commission is chaired by Chief Justice Warren Burger, the aristocratic oenophile and guardian of our freedoms who routinely bans television cameras from his public appearances.

Court verdicts inspire faith

By SPENCER SANDOW
Our criminal justice system seems to be improving. The point was brought to mind recently when two courts made unusual decisions.

When rich Beverly Hills doctor Milton Avol was found guilty of repeated health and safety violations on the slum tenements he owned, Los Angeles Municipal Judge Veronica Simmons McBeth sentenced him to 30 days — in one of his own tumble-down, rat-infested tenement apartments. He was also sentenced to serve 30 days in a public cell.

In the grungy, one-room apartment, Avol was allowed a television, reading material and a private security guard, but he could only leave to use one of the hallway bathrooms, which were shared by as many as a dozen people.

Also recently, for the first time in U.S. history, company officials were convicted of murder because of illegal, unsafe working conditions they imposed on their employees.

The president, manager and foreman of a silver reclamation plant outside Chicago were found guilty of knowingly exposing a worker to deadly fumes from a vat of hydrogen cyanide.

While a murder conviction is perhaps a little harsh, a manslaughter conviction would certainly be appropriate. A higher court will probably overturn the murder conviction, but hopefully the villains won't escape unpunished.

Cases like these renew my faith in the American justice system. They reveal that the undesirable areas of our society can be changed. Crimes that have been overlooked for so long can be dealt with, if people have the gumption to do it. Encouraging examples abound.

In the past few years, some criminals in larger cities have been working for the public good instead of going to jail. They help society instead of charge it with their care.

The program provides service for people, such as nursing home residents, who might not otherwise get it. It teaches responsibility to the offenders and gives them the opportunity to do good for someone rather than just sitting in a cell doing nothing.

There is no doubt that the restitution program is a success, says a Dallas social worker who has worked with both adult and juvenile offenders in the program.

Maybe we should carry it a step further and take money from thieves' paychecks to repay the booty they steal. We could make killers provide for the families of their victims and rapists pay for the therapy their victims need to get over the tragedy.

Ideas like these, though intriguing, are probably too cumbersome to work. But it's encouraging to see people deal with old problems in new ways. In a time where big government is getting bigger and more impersonal, examples like these show that people with good ideas can still improve society.

Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, Sept. 12, the 255th day of 1985. There are 110 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On Sept. 12, 1609, English explorer Henry Hudson sailed into the river that now bears his name.

On this date:
In 1814, the Battle of North Point was fought near Baltimore during the War of 1812.

In 1880, author and journalist H.L. Mencken was born in Baltimore.

In 1913, Olympic legend Jesse Owens was born in Danville, Ala.

In 1943, during World War II, German paratroopers took Benito Mussolini from the hotel where he was being held by the Italian government.

In 1953, Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy married Jacqueline Lee Bouvier in Newport, R.I.

Today's birthdays: Actress Linda Gray is 45. Singer Maria Muldaur is 42.

Water district deliveries go up

Water deliveries from the Colorado River Municipal Water District were up in August from July, a rarity, according to a district release.

The district also showed a 25 percent increase in water deliveries last month from August 1984, the release stated.

Total deliveries for August were 2.39 billion gallons, 484.26 million gallons more than in August 1984, a gain of 25.48 percent. In July, the district delivered 2.13 billion gallons.

The increased deliveries were mainly to municipal customers, the release stated. The biggest factor in the skyrocketing production in August was the delivery of 292.31 million gallons to San Angelo, 290 million more than was delivered to San Angelo a year ago.

Ballinger, however, did not take any water from the district this year. In August 1984, Ballinger took 70.22 million gallons when its lakes were functionally dry, according to the release.

All the municipal customers showed increases in deliveries in August. Odessa had the largest increase, an almost 18 percent gain over August 1984, the release said.

Municipal deliveries for all cities reached 2.19 billion gallons, up 22.70 percent over August 1984. Oil and industrial deliveries totaled 192.17 million gallons, an increase of 6.92 percent, according to the release.

In August, Big Spring took 353.70 million gallons, a gain of 3.03 percent over August 1984, the release stated.

Other cities that showed increases are: Midland, which took 429.24 million gallons, a 9.26 percent increase; Odessa, 958.01 gallons, up 17.76 percent; Snyder, 136.36 million gallons, up 5.66 percent; and Stanton, 14.02 million gallons, up 11.65 percent.

Robert Lee, which draws water directly from Lake E.V. Spence, took only 9.28 million gallons, down 160 percent from August 1984.

Dear Abby

A problem we can't outgrow

DEAR ABBY: Too few people are concerned about one of the world's most serious problems: overpopulation. At least 10 years ago, the father of six daughters wrote to ask if there was a foolproof way for him to get a son, and you replied, "Adopt!"

Your one-word response was followed by a wonderful letter about a couple who finally had a son after four daughters. Please run it again. That message needs to be heard again and again.

MAC IN MONTANA
DEAR MAC: I found the letter, and here it is:

Dear Helen and Bill: So you finally had a boy?

The only thing you can be congratulated on is your perseverance.

You can't be congratulated on your morality or unselfishness. Adding three "extra" children to a world already reeling under its population load can't be called either moral or unselfish.

You can't be congratulated on your fertility. After all, any clam, chicken or small furry animal can beat you at that.

You can't be congratulated on your fine family. A fine family is one that sets an example, and your example may kill us all in a few generations.

You can't even be congratulated on being able to afford five children, because you're not paying for them. Oh, you provide their food and clothing and shelter, but the rest of the world pays for their roads, schools, hospitals, air, water...

You can't be congratulated on being patriotic citizens, for if anything destroys the United States it will be our "growth-mania" spiral through which this country even now gulps over 50 percent of the world's resources.

You can't be congratulated for carrying on the family name. Family names mean little unless people mean much, and your kind of growth rate guarantees that people mean less and less.

Unless, of course, three of those children are adopted?

In that case, congratulations.

Rick and Sue

DEAR ABBY: I use the bus to get around town. Often a person will come along and sit beside me.

I am by nature a very friendly person, and I enjoy visiting with people. It makes the time pass, and I have met a lot of nice people on buses.

I usually begin the conversation by asking, "How far are you going?" Abby, you would not believe how many people say, "It's none of your business!" This hurts my feelings.

I never thought I was out of line to strike up a friendly conversation with a stranger on the bus. Why are people so rude?

OFTEN HURT

DEAR HURT: Some people don't want to talk to strangers on a bus. To ask "How far are you going?" may be construed as an invasion of privacy. If you feel inclined to strike up a conversation with a stranger, open with a comment on the weather. And if it evokes a chilly response, cool it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "KNOWLEDGE IS POWER": Knowledge is indeed power, but to quote one of our better legal minds, "Knowledge without understanding and sympathy is nothing." (Jack E. Horsley)

Whetsel-McDaniel family meets in Snyder for reunion

SNYDER — The Willow Park Inn in Snyder was the scene of the Whetsel-McDaniel family reunion Aug. 24-25.

The program included a sing-along by family members and old movies of earlier reunions. A dinner was held at poolside.

The oldest family member present was Monnie Walls, 90, of Andrews. Daniel Whetsel, 3, of Forsan, was the youngest in attendance.

Richard McDaniel of Longview traveled the greatest distance to the event.

Family members and friends from this area attending the event included: Berniece Little of Garden City; Doyle and Emily Whetsel, Sonny, Sharon and Nancy Whetsel, and Marty, Donna and Daniel Whetsel of Forsan; and Jackie Whetsel and Terry Wayne and Gina Whetsel, Cleo Byers, Bea Bonner and Temp Carter, all of Big Spring.

TOPS club to hold money tree contest for members

The TOPS club (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) is seeking new members. Contact people for the organization are Rachel Willis, publicity chairman, at 263-8965, or Qlnoe Menges, president, at 263-6819.

During a recent meeting, the 'best loser' for August was Rachel Willis. It was announced that an area rally day is planned for Saturday, Sept. 21, in Brownwood.

A money tree contest is also planned. The member maintaining a weight loss for the most consecutive weeks during the contest will win the tree.

TOPS meets at the Dora Roberts

Rehabilitation Center every Thursday at 6:30 p.m. Weigh-ins are between 5:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Sprays complicate runny nose problem

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My grandson uses a nasal spray many times a day for a runny nose problem. He does it in order to "breathe easily." His father does the same thing, and being a pharmacist he should know better. I am going north to visit them and would love to have your answer with me to show them. I feel that armed with your expertise I could talk them both into trying to kick this terrible habit. — Mrs. L.L. Overuse of nasal sprays often compounds the runny nose problem. Most sprays work by constricting blood vessels beneath the nasal lining. The diminished blood flow shrinks the lining and the person is able to breathe a bit more easily for a time.

Once the spray's effect wears off, the blood vessels dilate again, and usually even more so than before they were exposed to the spray. This is the well-known rebound effect. The person actually becomes more congested than ever. He reaches for the spray again. Soon, he is using it so often that the blood vessels are dilating even more dramatically. If your grandson and his father have been doing this for a long time they will probably have to taper off gradually to permit their nasal linings to relearn their natural function.

Study Club holds year's first meeting

A calorie counter salad supper was held to start the new year for the Forsan GFWC Study Club Monday night in the fellowship hall of Forsan Baptist Church. Danielle Clere, the 1985 scholarship recipient, was presented with a check for $200 during the meeting. Danielle is the daughter of Dan and Betty Clere. Susan Alexander and Linda Coates presented a program on the Texas General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC). The GFWC was organized in 1897. In 1904, members of the group made a stand to save the Alamo, which was to be torn down.

Headquarters for the group is in Austin. The Forsan club was organized in 1938. Its beginning motto, which is still used today, was, "By improving ourselves, we increase our ability to help others." Kathy Pickett talked about the GFWC and said the group has more than 11 million members. National headquarters are in Washington, D.C. It was announced that the Cystic Fibrosis Drive will be held in Forsan Sept. 12-14. A door-to-door campaign will be held by Study Club members. The Western District fall board meeting is Oct. 25-26. A bus tour of the TFWC headquarters in Austin is slated. The club voted to help two Forsan families with medical expenses. Each family will receive $300. New members were introduced. They include Liz Hedges, Janice Hopper, Linda Light, Delynda Reed, Sandy Shanks, and Terresa Smith. The next meeting, a "hunt for success" workshop, is Oct. 12 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the Forsan high school homemaking room.

Past Matrons' hear program by Odell Turner

The Past Matrons' Club of Big Spring, Chapter 67, Order of the Eastern Star, held their dinner meeting Tuesday at Furr's Cafeteria. Odell Lalonde Turner gave the program, "Windows in Dark Places." She told members and guests that windows are mentioned a number of times in the Bible. Turner shared several stories about windows. Turner said, "Each day, if we get away from home at all, we are apt to meet someone who needs a window opened in a dark heart and life." Turner said, "Once we were visiting in a hospital room. The patient started complaining about what a bad day it was. My husband, who was near the window, quietly pulled the cord on the venetian blind. The room quickly brightened and the view of a lovely lake met our eyes. The patient began to smile." She completed the program with the poem, "Open a Window," by J.T. Bolding. Ina Richardson gave a memorial service for Dorothy Parish. The members agreed to give a donation to the American Heart Association in her memory.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with an order of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice that on August 20, 1985, the Company filed tariffs which propose revisions to the Joint User Tariffs and implementation of Shared Tenant Services Tariffs.

If the tariffs are approved by the Public Utility Commission, the Company will grandfather existing customers to the Joint User Tariffs and totally withdraw the Joint User Tariffs one year after the date of approval of the proposed tariff revisions, with one exception. Even after the one year period, existing single-line customers subscribing to Joint User Tariffs may continue their service under certain conditions.

Also, if the tariffs are approved, the provision of shared tenant services will require partitioned switching equipment.

No new rates are being proposed in the aforementioned tariffs. As a result of the partitioning of switching equipment, some existing customers may require additional PBX trunks. If so, the Company's revenues may increase. The Company is unable, at this time, to estimate the additional revenues, if any, which would result therefrom.

The Commission received these tariffs as Docket 6450 and a prehearing conference will be held at 10:00 A.M., Monday, September 23, 1985, at the Commission's offices at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, in Austin, Texas.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. Motions to intervene should be filed with the Commission on or before 4:00 P.M., Friday, September 20, 1985. A request to intervene, participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223, or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso Público

De conformidad con una orden de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company anuncia el registro de nuevas tarifas, las cuales proponen ciertas modificaciones de las Tarifas para Usuarios Mancomunados (Joint User Tariffs) y la implementación de Tarifas para Servicios Compartidos por Inquilinos (Shared Tenant Services Tariffs).

De aprobar la Comisión tales tarifas, la Compañía mantendrá vigentes los acuerdos con usuarios actuales en lo que respecta a Tarifas para Usuarios Mancomunados, pero discontinuará tales tarifas a partir del primer aniversario de la fecha en que se aprueben las nuevas tarifas. Sin embargo, existe una excepción; aún después de tal aniversario, los clientes con líneas sencillas que actualmente cuentan con el servicio para Usuarios Mancomunados podrán seguir con tal servicio sujeto a ciertas condiciones.

De aprobarse las nuevas tarifas, las disposiciones correspondientes a los Servicios Compartidos por Inquilinos requerirán el uso de conmutadores separados.

Las citadas tarifas no proponen nuevas cuotas. Sin embargo, es posible que debido a la separación de equipos de conmutación, algunos clientes actuales requerirán nuevos troncales PBX. De ser así, los ingresos de la Compañía podrían aumentar. En la actualidad, la Compañía no puede determinar el monto de ingresos adicionales que resultarían de tales tarifas.

La Comisión ha registrado este asunto bajo el Docket 6450. Se llevará a cabo una audiencia preliminar para discutir todo asunto relacionado con el Servicio Compartido por Inquilinos el lunes 23 de septiembre de 1985, a las 10:00 de la mañana, en las oficinas de la Comisión, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, en Austin, Texas.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el presente proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención deberán presentarse ante la Comisión antes del viernes 20 de septiembre de 1985 a las 4:00 de la tarde. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Para obtener mayor información debe llamar a Public Utility Commission, Consumer Affairs Division, (512) 458-0223, o (512) 458-0227, o al (512) 458-0221 si requiere teletipo para personas con impedimentos de audición.

Homemakers discuss fair duties

Members of the Howard County Extension Homemakers Council gathered Tuesday in the county library with Francis Mason presiding.

Carolyn Reed gave the devotion. Six clubs were represented and reports were read from each club.

The Howard County Fair booth duties were assigned. Each club will man the booth for one day during the fair. The committee will prepare the booth Monday morning.

All information for the council's yearbook must be in by Oct. 24. A meeting is scheduled for that day. The vice presidents of each club will assemble the yearbooks.

The Cow Belles, Chamber of Commerce and Texas A&M Extension Service will sponsor, "From the Ranch to the Table," at a date yet to be announced.

The state Extension Homemakers meeting is planned for Sept. 24-26 in Longview. Myrl Soles, Frances Zant and I'Nell Smauley are delegates.

Members were urged to save their aluminum cans for the Extension Homemakers 4-H scholarship project. The group will also save stamps and old nylon hose for the Rainbow Girls.

Little Miss, Mister Big Spring named

Brodie Wash was named "Little Mister Big Spring," and Cacee Corbell "Little Miss Big Spring" during a contest held recently by Max's Studio.

The children were participants in the first annual photogenic contest.

Brodie is the son of Billy and Lisa Wash of Big Spring. He won a trophy, a 16 inch by 20 inch portrait, a ribbon and a $100 savings bond.

Second prize was won by T.J. Stewart. Dustin Brooks was third.

Cacee is the daughter of Toby and Terry Corbell of Big Spring. She also won a trophy, a portrait and a savings bond and a ribbon.

Second place was won by Cassie Long. Kendra Brownfield was third.

Altrusa Club observes Literacy Week

The Altrusa Club of Big Spring met recently at the Holiday Inn with Mary Lynn Welch presiding. Ruby Bruns was welcomed as a new member.

The group observed Literacy Week Sept. 8.

In 1977, in response to the club requests for a service project, "Action for Literacy" was adopted. Today, nearly one-third of Altrusa Clubs are involved in local literacy projects.

In 1982, the Foundation Board of Altrusa International voted to fight for literacy beyond the local club level by funding an international literacy project in India. Ten village-level schools for adult learners are being financed in the state of Kerala, India, by Altrusa.

Locally, members have contributed to the literacy project by donating books to an area school. Members have also discussed forming a mobile library.

The group will meet again tonight.

Thursday Notes

By Charlie Alcorn

We start this week's Notes with a little volleyball. Runnells Junior High White team defeated the Sweetwater B team, 9-15, 15-13, 15-10. Sweetwater's A team defeated the Runnells Red team 15-8, 15-8.

The Herald is interested in running all sub-varsity and junior high school volleyball and football game results. If you have a game score to report, bring it by the south entrance and leave it in the envelope outside or call in the results before 10:30 a.m. Monday through Friday.

The Comanche Trail Ladies Golf Association Tuesday Playday was won by the team of Martha Saunders, Harriet Richardson, Bobby Patterson and Betty Ray Coffee with a score of 38. The second place foursome of Tammy Newsome, Dee Jenkins, Georgia Newsome and Annette Kestermeier fired a 39 for the day.

The Comanche Trail Municipal Golf Club is sponsoring a He-She Scramble September 14-15. The entry fee is $100 per team.

There will be five flights with trophies and door prizes awarded. The first place winners in each flight will receive a set of irons, second place finishers receive a set of woods and third place finishers receive a golf bag. There will be a steak dinner and team evaluation on Saturday night.

The deadline for sign-up is Friday, Sept. 13 by noon. For more information call Al Patterson at 263-7271.

Lake E.V. Spence had a new catches other than striped bass during the past month. Bill Hayden of Big Spring reported catching six blue catfish up to 3 lb. and one good channel catfish.

At Lake J.B. Thomas big yellow cats were caught on trotlines with live bait. George Snowden of Ira, brought in a 24 lb. yellow catfish along with several in the 5-6 lb. range with a trotline.

The Big Spring Sports Booster Club, formerly known as the Big Spring Quarterback Club, is changing its format some this season.

Instead of focusing solely on the football team, the Big Spring Sports Booster Club will be backing every high school sport. To make sure no sport gets neglected, each sport will have a parent representative. This way no sports get left out, which had occurred in the past.

New Club officers are Guy Burrow, President; Judy Everett, Treasurer and Glenda Brasel, Secretary.

The group will be hosting several fund-raising events for BSHS sports. This includes Fall and Spring banquets.

The Big Spring Sports Booster Club meets every Monday night a 7 in the BSHS cafeteria. The film of the previous Friday's Steers football game will be viewed Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Club officers are urging all interested people in the community to come be part of this new program. Let's show our athletes how much we care about them.

Big Spring cowboy Wacey Cathey is still in second place in the unofficial Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association bull riding standings.

Cathey's earning total $45,579. He follows El Paso cowboy Tuff Hedeman who has $49,730.

Steers prep for Matadors

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Writer

Since the Big Spring Steers and Lubbock Estacado Matadors have been playing each other over the past three years, each clash has been a hard-hitting, close one that the Matadors have won.

Estacado won the first encounter between the two in '82 by a 12-0 margin. In '83 when they finished as state runners-up, they won 21-14. Last season they again nipped Big Spring, 12-7.

This season coach Quinn Eudy's Steers will be trying to turn the tables on the District 1-4A team. And it won't be easy since coach Louis Kelley's Matadors return 19 lettermen, including a host of junior starters that saw action last season.

Last season was a rebuilding year for coach Kelley's team, which is known year-in and year-out for producing top-notch college football players. Although the 'Mats finished last season at 5-5; they still for second in their district with two other teams.

This season they are picked to win their district and are currently ranked No. 10 in the Associated Press Poll.

Estacado won its first game against Plainview 14-9. The Matadors held on to the win by holding Plainview on a fourth-and-goal situation from the

...coming off shoulder injury

MIKE CAHILL
...returns to lineup

Estacado five on the final play of the game.

Meanwhile the Steers will be trying to regroup from last week's 42-28 loss to the Snyder Tigers. A game in which Big Spring lost the ball four times on fumbles.

The Steers, using a balanced attack, moved the ball well, accounting for 175 yards in the air and 172 on the ground.

"Offensively we want to control the football," said Eudy. "We want to take the ball and drive it up the field, either passing or running. We want to rest our defense and keep the ball away from their offense."

Coach Kelly, who has led

EHS to the playoffs in 7 of his 11 years at the school, says the Big Spring offense has him worried. "We're scared to death of their offense. It looked against Snyder," said Kelley. "This game has always been a hard-hitting one. Big Spring's offense is better this year."

Big Spring coach Eudy is also leary of the Matadors I-attack. "This is a typical Estacado team," said Eudy. "They are quick, fast and well-coached. They make very few mistakes. They can beat you with the big play."

Some of that "big play" potential Eudy is talking about is tailback Edward Walker, a 4.5 40-man and split end Richard Ross, a 10.4 100-meter sprint champ. Jimmy Doss will share duties with Walker at tailback. Last week fullback Tyrone Moore was the leading rusher with 84 yards in 12 carries.

"I think we'll be able to run the ball fairly well against Big Spring," said Kelley. Plus we'll try to throw the ball some. It's going to take a good offensive game plan. We'll do anything it takes to win."

The Steers defense will be aided by the return of linebacker Mike Cahill, who saw only limited action against Snyder because of a sprained ankle. Defensive end David Shortes is nursing a leg injury and flanker Brian Reid is nursing a shoulder injury. Eudy stated that both will see duty.

The only Steers who won't play is linebacker Kevin Freeman, who will more-than-likely miss the remainder of the season because of a hunting accident, according to Eudy. Safety Paul Decker, who is nursing a leg injury, is a probable starter.

Both Kelley and Eudy agree that the contest will again be a close one. "This is always a physical, close game," said Kelley. "You can throw the won-loss records out the window on this one. We're expecting a tough game."

Injuries could be factor in Forsan-Klondike matchup

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Sports Writer

The tradition rich Forsan Buffaloes go up against the Klondike Cougars in a battle of Crossroads Country Class A rivals this Friday night in Forsan. At first glance, a betting man might stake his claim early with Forsan, who is coming off an impressive 31-6 victory over Bronte. Klondike lost their home opener to Class 2A Presidio, 13-0.

But this week's Area Game of the Week is liable to be closer than expected due to the great equalizer; key injuries.

Forsan running back and linebacker Bruce Strickland, who played a major role in the dominating Buffalo game plan last week, is listed as doubtful against Klondike with an ankle injury sufsive load. Sophomore quarterback Brant Nichols and junior fullback Wayne Wright had good games out of the Wing T and East is hoping to work on the passing game. "We're going to have to use it later on in the season," said East of his passing game. "We only threw 11 times last week but Nichols showed that he can deliver the ball."

For the inexperienced Cougars, first year head coach Tom Ham is looking for more consistency from his offense. "We moved the ball last week against Presidio but we couldn't keep a sustained drive. In all honesty our goal is to score."

Klondike's main asset is quickness at every position, a factor they hope to take advantage of against the bigger Buffaloes. "We primarily try to run between the tackles," commented Ham of the Cougar's new pro-style formation. "Our backs (Rudy Landin and

Coach's son headlines AP Schoolboy Honor Roll

By The Associated Press
San Antonio Southwest High School football coach Sonny Detmer starts his son Ty at quarterback and no one worries about favoritism.

Ty's performance last weekend is a good reason why harmony exists on the Dragon team.

Detmer completed 10 of 15 passes for 247 yards including touchdown passes of 85, 64, 42 and 40 yards and an average of 34.7 yards per completion.

The victory snapped Medina Valley's 16-game winning streak, gave Southwest its first victory over the 3A power in nine years and earned Detmer, and tight end-cornerback Dennis Ray mention in The Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll.

"We are a small school where there aren't four other guys real close to Ty in ability," Coach Detmer said. "The other kids and the people in the community have been real super to us."

"But it helps when he does something like he did last week."

Ray caught three passes for touchdowns of 85, 42 and 40 yards, intercepted two passes, one with 20 seconds left in the game to preserve the victory, and tied for the team lead with 16 tackles.

Hamshire-Fannett had an equal-effective pass-catch combination in quarterback Ricky Bayse and wide receiver Derek Deshotel. Bayse hit 12 of 17 passes for 327 yards and touchdown passes of 86, 52, 39 and 15 yards.

Deshotel caught nine passes for 217 yards and three of Bayse's TD passes in a 47-6 victory over Buna. In other outstanding individual performances:

—Perryton halfback Mike McKinley rushed 318 yards on 18 carries and scored on runs of three and 60 yards in a 26-6 victory over Borger.

—Lazbuddie linebacker Todd Daniel intercepted the first two passes of the game and returned them 45 and 55 yards for touchdowns in a 30-0 shutout of Melrose, N.M. Daniel also had 12 tackles, eight unassisted.

—In his first varsity start, Port Arthur Austin quarterback Kenny Ford rushed 211 yards on 20 carries and scored on touchdown runs of one and four yards in a 20-17 victory over Orangefield.

—Bridge City's Mark LeBlanc scored all of his team's points in a 19-15 victory over Nederland with touchdown runs of 52, two, and 98 yards and he kicked one extra point. LeBlanc's 98-yard was the game-winner with nine minutes left in the game.

—Austin Anderson defensive end Don Anderson had three quarterback sacks and recovered two fumbles in a 34-12 victory over Corpus Christi King. Anderson also punted three times for a 38-yard average and ran 62 yards for a touchdown after bobbling the snap on an attempted punt.

—Mission quarterback Rick Gutierrez completed 20 of 36 passes for 294 yards and one touchdown and receiver Devon Dooley caught eight passes for 180 yards but the Eagles still were beaten 13-6 by Rio Grande City.

—Brownwood quarterback Mitch Moore completed 10 of 15 passes for 246 yards and three touchdowns to lead the Lions to a 27-14 victory over Class 5A Abilene Cooper.

—Edwin Serrano was San Antonio Fox Tech's three-minute defense in a 17-14 victory over San Antonio Harlandale. In the final three minutes, Serrano blocked a field goal and recovered a fumble to set up the winning field goal.

—Hooks running back Curtis Gooden led his team to a 35-6 victory over Clarksville, rushing 226 yards on 14 carries, including an 85-yard touchdown run, and catching a 21-yard TD pass.

—DeKalb's Terry Bagsby rushed 208 yards on 23 carries and had a 68-yard touchdown run in a 21-0 victory over Linden-Kildare. He also contributed to the defense that held Linden-Kildare to 75 yards in total offense.

KC increases lead over Angels | Reds win on Pete's night

By The Associated Press
There's been talk lately in the valley of a "freeway series" between the Angels of Anaheim and Dodgers of Los Angeles.

But after losing two out of three to Kansas City, the road to the World Series seems just a little bit longer to Manager Gene Mauch and his California Angels.

Jamie Quirk singled home one run and pinch-hitter Jorge Orta hit a run-scoring double in the seventh inning to snap a scoreless tie Wednesday night as the Royals defeated California 2-1 to move 2½ games up in the American League West.

Kansas City's Danny Jackson, who was winless in his three previous outings, allowed six hits over seven innings for his 13th victory against nine defeats. Dan Quisenberry pitched the final two innings for his 33rd save.

California's Ron Romanick, 13-8, yielded seven hits in the seven innings he pitched.

Elsewhere in the AL, Toronto edged Detroit 3-2, Texas defeated Oakland 6-3, Boston beat Baltimore 4-1, Milwaukee nipped New York 4-3, Chicago blanked Minnesota 5-0, and Seattle downed Cleveland 9-5.

In the Royals' seventh Frank White led off with a single and, after White had stolen second, Romanick walked Steve Balboni. Darryl Motley grounded out on a slow roller to third to advance both runners.

Quirk then followed with his single and Orta, hitting for Onix Concepcion, doubled into right-center field to score Balboni.

The Angels scored in their half of the seventh when Dick Schofield walked with one out, took second on an infield out, and came home on Bob Boone's single that hit second base and trickled into center field.

AL Roundup

Blue Jays 3, Tigers 2
In Toronto, Lloyd Moseby singled home Tony Fernandez from second base to snap a tie in the seventh inning as the Blue Jays sent Detroit to its seventh straight defeat. Reliever Dennis Lamp, unbeaten this season, won his ninth game.

The victory lifted Toronto to a 2½-game lead over New York in the AL East. The two teams start a four-game series in New York tonight.

Brewers 4, Yankees 3
Cecil Cooper's soft single down the left-field line scored rookie Mike Felder from third base with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning to give the Milwaukee Brewers a 4-3 victory over New York, snapping the Yankees' 11-game winning streak. The Yankees thought the ball was foul and argued with third-base umpire Vic Voltaggio, who made the call. The Brewers snapped a seven-game losing streak.

Red Sox 4, Orioles 1
Dwight Evans drove in two runs with a second-inning single and Tony Armas hit a tape-measure homer at Fenway Park as Boston rolled to a 4-1 victory over Baltimore behind the three-hit pitching of left-hander Bobby Ojeda.

Boston third baseman Wade Boggs had an RBI single and a walk in four trips to the plate as his league-leading average dropped a point to .367.

White Sox 5, Twins 0

Burns, 17-8, hurled his eighth complete game, striking out 10 and walking two. He is one win behind AL victory leader Ron Guidry of New York, and his 156 strikeouts places him fourth among AL leaders.

Loser Frank Viola, 13-14, allowed six hits and four runs before being removed after facing two batters in the second inning.

Rangers 6, A's 3
Mike Mason and Greg Harris combined on a six-hitter and Ellis Valentine scored three runs as Texas sent Oakland to its seventh loss in eight games.

Mason, 7-13, yielded three hits in six innings, including Mike Heath's home run leading off the third. Harris recorded his career-high 10th save despite giving up run-scoring doubles to Dwayne Murphy and Heath in the seventh.

Mariners 5, Indians 5
In Seattle, Jack Perconte had three hits, including a home run, to lead the Mariners over Cleveland.

Perconte, who played parts of two seasons with Cleveland, led off the first inning with his second major-league home run in 1,284 at-bats. He also singled and scored in the sixth inning when the Mariners scored four runs.

Al Cowens also had three hits and drove in two runs for Seattle, while Jerry Willard hit his third homer for the Indians.

By The Associated Press
When THE hit, No. 4,192, finally went slicing into left-center field, Pete Rose did something for the first time. Overwhelmed at breaking Ty Cobb's all-time hit record, Rose broke down and cried on a baseball diamond.

"I sort of looked up and started to think about my father," said Rose, recalling the man who taught him to hone ordinary skills to record-smashing levels with pride and determination.

"I saw him up there, and right behind him was Ty Cobb," Rose said.

Rose later added No. 4,193, a triple, and scored both of the Reds' runs in a 2-0 victory over the San Diego Padres Wednesday night.

The record-breaker was one of seven hits allowed by Eric Show, 9-10. Show, who sat down on the mound during a seven-minute ovation for Rose's record-breaker, struck out one and walked five, including Rose.

In other National League games Wednesday night, the St. Louis Cardinals edged New York 1-0 in 10 innings to regain a share of first place in the Eastern Division; the Los Angeles Dodgers shelled Atlanta 12-3; Philadelphia beat Montreal 4-1; the Chicago Cubs were 3-1 winners over Pittsburgh; and San Francisco and Houston split a doubleheader, the Giants winning the first game 11-4 and the Astros the second 10-9.

NL Roundup

Cardinals 1, Mets 0
Cesar Cedeño couldn't be in Cincinnati for the fireworks, so he made some of his own in New York. Cedeño, traded from the Reds to the Cards in late August, led off the 10th inning with a home run off reliever Jesse Orosco. The victory gave first place in the National League East with 83-54 records.

His sixth homer of the season was his third for St. Louis, where he is 10-for-23.

Cards pitcher John Tudor outshone Dwight Gooden, giving up three hits in 10 innings while raising his record to 18-8 with his third shutout in a row.

Gooden pitched nine shutout innings, allowing five hits, but the loss went to Orosco, 5-5. Gooden struck out seven and issued three walks, all in the eighth inning.

Dodgers 12, Braves 3
This outing brings to 41 the number of runs Los Angeles has scored during the first four of their five games in Atlanta.

"You couldn't have placed the ball any better with a fungo bat. We met the wrong team at the right time," said Braves Manager Bobby Wine.

"When you get bunches of runs like those, you just have to be thankful," added Manager Tommy Lasorda of the Dodgers, referring to a six-run spurt in the third and a five-run burst in the fourth.

"We're in a hot streak, all right."

Los Angeles is 8-3 over its last 11 games. Mike Marshall had three hits in the first five innings, knocking in four runs, and Greg Brock and winning pitcher Fernando Valenzuela hit homers.

Phillies 4, Expos 1
Kevin Gross, known as a power pitcher, has become the Phillies' most dependable pitcher with his new off-speed stuff.

The right-hander threw a five-hitter, striking out seven and walking five, for Philadelphia's 10th victory in 12 games.

"Since the All-Star break, I've been working on an off-speed fastball," said Gross, 14-9.

Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt hit his 28th home run of the season and fifth in the last seven games. He now has 453 career homers, 17th on the all-time list and one more than retired Boston Red Sox slugger Carl Yastrzemski.

Cubs 3, Pirates 1
Leon Durham hit a solo homer to give the Cubs the lead and Gary Matthews singled home an insurance run in the eighth as Jose DeLeon went down to his major-league-leading 17th loss.

Chicago scored its first run on a double steal in the sixth. Cubs Manager Jim Frey credited the victory to "a little bit of planning and some luck."

Giants 11-9, Astros 4-10
Jim Gott struck out four and walked three, scattering eight hits, and helped himself with his third home run of the season in the first game of the doubleheader.

The Giants got four hits from Dan Gladden, including a home run in the fourth, and Joel Youngblood drove in three runs, one on a solo homer in the ninth.

San Francisco pelted Houston pitchers for 28 hits in the two games.

Muncie calls it quits

EDEN PRAIRIE, Minn. (AP) — Running back Chuck Muncie, who was trying to come back from a one-year National Football League suspension for drug abuse, told the Minnesota Vikings that he was retiring.

"There was just too much pressure on me," said Muncie, 32. "I had to get out of the game and continue with my life."

The Vikings acquired the nine-year veteran from the San Diego Chargers July 19. He had been suspended for the 1984 season by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle after traces of cocaine were found in his urine.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 13, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Try to itemize your various activities in specific detail so you can be better able to handle whatever your overall plans and policies happen to be. Be tactful with others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have to complete all that work ahead of you even if it is boring. If a co-worker is acting up, blame it on the planets and don't react.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have to be more than painstaking in launching that new enterprise you have started. Get much done quietly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan how to make your home more charming and functional and then quietly follow through. Not a good day to entertain.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) There are many errands to run, so get at them, and await a better day for handling important matters.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Although you are generous as a rule, be sure you can afford it before you spend today and go over your accounts well.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You may be overly worried about your position in life, so do the best you can and it will be good enough.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have decisions to make privately, so study them well and sleep on them, too. Find positive ways to help a friend.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want to gain an aim at all costs, but had better be well-organized before you try to attain it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Improving your career and gaining more prestige with the prominent should be uppermost on your mind.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study into those new enterprises that are appealing and find the right system by which you can handle them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have several responsibilities to handle, so forget pleasure for a while and get busy on them.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You need to have a long talk with a partner if you are to reach an agreement, but make sure not to lose your temper.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be very good at any detailed work and can read blueprints and the like and should be given courses that will enhance this capability. Give good religious training early and see to it Gilbert Guerra) are quick to the hole, but we don't try to run outside."

The Cougars also lost one of their biggest linemen during the week. Junior two-way starter John Ogbourne transferred to Lamesa Faith School leaving the Cougars with little size in the trenches.

There is no lack of size in the For-san line, which features sophomore big men Mike Averette (6-2, 250) and Stacey Munoz (205). Coach East was pleased with his young linemen's performance against Bronte. "We've only got one senior across the line (Jason Donaghe), so they made some first game mistakes, but overall they came off the ball well.

Klondike will try to counter Forsan's potent ground game with middle linebacker Cisco Arrendondo, who had 20 tackles against Presidio, and is one of the top linebackers in the Crossroads.

"Cisco goes to the ball really well. He's the key to our defense," commented Ham. "But we need better support and tackling from our secondary. Last week Presidio scored both times on long runs where we had two or three shots at the back but didn't lock up."

Forsan's Split-6 defense showed that it will be tough in 1985, limiting Bronte to a lone touchdown last week. "Our defense really went to the ball well. Again their young and made some sophomore mistakes but we were pleased with their overall performance," commented East.

Asked what he expected from Klondike, East said that Forsan was not taking the Cougars lightly. "On paper, we should beat them. But if we're not prepared, Klondike could hurt us. We had three pretty good days of practice. I think the kids will be ready."

Coach Ham is hoping to get back on the winning track. "We know we've got our work cut out for us. They're bigger and deeper than us, but we will give them a ball game. The key will be whether we can move the ball consistently and tackle better."

Kickoff is scheduled for 8 p.m.

A few shopping tips...

Nothing matches the beauty of fur. No other garment offers so much romance, character, and practical warmth. Unlike mass-produced coats, each fur is unique, an expression of individuality. Because differences are subtle, you may find it difficult to judge quality. But there are ways to make your final decision easier:

Choose a reliable furrier.

If you don't know furs, get to know a furrier. That's the first and most important step you can take. Ask your friends or business associates who own a fur for advice. You may well benefit from another's experience.

A professional furrier can answer your questions, recommend furs that fit your taste and budget, tell you which labels are most respected and why, and assist you in your final selection. And a reliable furrier will back each sale to every customer's satisfaction.

See that skins are matched correctly.

Look for overall consistency of color and pattern. A quality coat will be pleasing to the eye and free of blemishes. If pelts have not been properly matched in the manufacturing process, differences in color, height of hair or fur, or shading will be readily apparent.

Brush the coat gently, in the direction the fur grows.

The fur should feel soft and silky, not rough. Long guard hair should be glossy and the underhair dense. If the fur is flat, the guard hair should be full; if it is curly or has a pattern, the curl or pattern should be uniform.

Fold or squeeze the coat to test the suppleness of the leather.

Fur should be soft and pliable. A properly processed fur will have enough oil to keep the fur lustrous and the leather supple. The coat should not feel stiff, or have any bulky seams where pelts are joined.

Take care to get the proper styling as well as the right size.

No matter how beautiful a fur looks on the rack, you must try it on to see if the style and fit are right for you. A quality fur, properly styled and fitted, will immediately "feel" right.
