Rain floods area

A heavy downpour sent Big Spring residents scurrying for shelter as rain disrupted the Howard County Fair and the Big Spring Steers football game Friday.

Residents across the city were reporting heavy rains and flooded conditions about 9:30 p.m. The heavy rains were somewhat of a surprise as skies had begun a gradual clearing late in the afternoon.

By 9:30 p.m., however, the rain was falling in sheets across the city and vehicles were flooded out. Goliad Street was described by one motorist as a river and the motorist said she lost her brakes as she tried to maneuver her car to her home.

Red Thomas, a resident who lives near downtown Big Spring, reported an inch of rain in a one-hour period of time.

Fans at the Steers' football game huddled under umbrellas or fled from the stands as the heavy rains moved through the area. Fairgoers ran for the safety of exhibit barns as heavy rains pelted the area.

Pets promenade at county fair

By CAROL BALDWIN
Lifestyle Editor

Area pets got all dressed up and headed for Howard County Fair Friday night to spend a moment in the spotlight as participants in the annual pet show.

The animals, including ferrets, a turtle, rabbits, dogs and cats were decked out in a variety of costumes and were adorned with ribbons and bows as their owners proudly showed them off to an approving crowd and a panel of judges borrowed from the Big Spring Kennel Club.

Among the best dressed characters of the evening was a pony with sunshades and a straw hat. A tiny dog wore an aerobics workout suit and a pug-nosed pup was dressed in a pumpkin suit.

Other members of the menagerie included a canine baseball player, a kitty-cat clown and a soldier who looked a lot like a poodle under his strict military attire. Most of the pets' owners were dressed in matching costumes.

Emcees Gailyn and Richard Palmer said the show is held each year "to let the kids have some fun. Everyone seems to like it every year."

The Palmers seemed to be right, as folks crowded into the fair's show barn, anxious to watch the Thousands of Texans began work Friday on a mammoth relief drive for earthquake-ravaged Mexico City, collecting donations, assembling rescue crews and dispatching doctors and medical supplies.

But even as relief efforts got underway, a second earthquake hit the Mexico City area Friday evening, hampering reports from the area said.

There were few details, but all of the reports agreed that the second big jolt occurred about 8 p.m. (10 p.m. EDT) following a day of minor aftershocks.

Ham radio operators in Dallas reported conversations with people in Mexico who said more buildings had collapsed in Mexico City.

"Less than 10 minutes ago, I was sitting in my hotel room and it began to shake," said AP Photographer David Breslauer.

ACKERLY — Martha and Fred Cave received good news Friday afternoon about their son David and his family, who were in Mexico City at the time of the devastating earthquake Thursday.

After trying unsuccessfully to contact their son since the earthquake, the Caves heard from a third party Friday afternoon that David and his family were unharmed, Martha Cave said.

She said David had asked a man who was flying into Miami Friday from Mexico City to call them with the news. The call came about 2 p.m., she said.

"My, we were grateful to hear that," she said. "I just said, 'Praise the Lord.' It was an answer to our prayers."

David and his wife, Nancy, have been missionaries in Mexico for nine years and currently live in Mexico City, which has reported heaviest damage from the quake.

The Mexican Red Cross said at least 760 people had been confirmed killed in the quake, while unofficial estimates of the death toll reached 3,000.

The couple and their children, Luke, 10, and Cristina, 6, live in a second-story apartment in the city, Martha Cave said.

David sent word that his apartment was intact after the quake, although a building not far away "had crumbled," his mother said.

David and his wife are missionaries for the Bethel Assembly of God Church in Ackerly.

Former U.S. Ambassador to Mexico Bob Krueger, left, and Gov. Mark White announce Friday that Krueger and San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros will travel to Mexico City today to lead the state's relief effort for earthquake victims.

U.S. agriculture official blasts proposed farm bills

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

COLORADO CITY — A U.S. Department of Agriculture official Friday blasted Congress for proposed farm bills that he claimed were vastly above budget.

John Ford, deputy assistant secretary for governmental and public affairs, spoke to about 100 people at a luncheon in Colorado City following the Mitchell County annual farm tour.

Referring to continuing legislation for national farm programs, Ford said both the House and the Senate versions, recently voted out of their respective Agriculture committees, were $100 billion more than allowed under Congressional budgets.

He also criticized lobbying efforts for mandatory reductions in production acreage by state Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower and other farm groups.

"The answer is not mandatory reduction. ... Some people think that we can close down half our production, double our prices and all sell merrily into the sunset on new tractors," Ford said.

If Congress does not substantially lower the pricetag for the bill, Reagan will veto it, Ford said. Reagan is arguing for reduction in price supports to bring commodities into a "free-market" competition; both House and Senate bills are seeking to freeze target prices and price supports.

One of the major issues in Congress this session is the five-year farm bill. The current bill, which legislates federal programs for cotton, wheat, corn, cattle and other agricultural products, expires in nine days.

"I don't care whether you're a liberal administration or a conservative administration, a Democratic administration, there's no way this country can spend its way out of its problems," he said.

Ford was critical of both Democratic and Republican leadership, especially Republican leadership in the Senate. Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kansas, the Senate Majority Leader, voted against the bill.

Throwing money at the problem as in the past won't alleviate financial troubles for farmers, he said. The Reagan administration has spent three times the amount of direct payments as in the last year of the Carter administration, and "American agriculture is in far worse shape than when Reagan was elected," Ford said.

He called the battle over the bill one between the administration and Congress one between programs offering "risk-taking and growth potential" and "government subsidies, government controls ... that would lead to the harmful and hopeless retreat to the 1930s all over."

Ford acknowledged the issue has been turbulent and that many farmers did not agree with the administration's positions.

"I've been thrown out of meetings, I've been asked to leave, I haven't been allowed to speak at some," he said. "It's better being a poor banker than going around the country to Iowa and South Dakota and seeing the pain on farmers' faces."

Ford was critical of the House bill because it continues to fix target prices well above market prices, without allowing any input by the U.S. Department of Agriculture or the Reagan administration.

He also said the bill did not target federal assistance to the farmers who need it most, and that it served as an incentive to foreign competitors to increase production and take over former U.S. markets.

The administration also is meeting resistance on its efforts to reduce dairy price supports. The federal government is spending $1.5 million a day on contracts to store dairy products, he said.

John Ford, U.S. Department of Agriculture deputy assistant secretary for governmental and public affairs, Friday speaks with a Mitchell County resident in Colorado City.

Red Cross confirms 760 dead in Mexico City earthquake

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A stunned Mexico counted the dead and searched for the living Friday, struggling to recover from a giant earthquake that turned the world's biggest metropolis into a dust-shrouded city of terror and tragedy.

The Mexican Red Cross said at least 760 people had been confirmed killed in Thursday morning's devastating tremor, local television reported. But unconfirmed estimates of the dead in Mexico City ranged up to 3,000.

"I would not dare give a number," said a grim-faced Mayor Ramon Aguirre.

Reports were even sketchier from the surrounding countryside, where unofficial accounts spoke of hundreds killed in areas closer to the epicenter of the quake, which reached a powerful 7.8 on the Richter scale.

Late Thursday, Aguirre said at least 1,000 people were buried in scores of collapsed buildings in Mexico City, and hour by hour on Friday bodies were pulled from the rubble. Five thousand people were treated for injuries, the mayor said.

Sirens echoed non-stop through the capital's downtown streets. Fires flickered and smoldered in the ruins of destroyed buildings, pouring smoke into the dust raised by Thursday's upheaval. Crying children wandered through the streets, calling for their parents.

Tens of thousands of emergency volunteers, using picks, heavy construction equipment or bare hands, clawed through the rubble in search of survivors — occasionally with success. One young Briton, for example, was lifted from the ruins of a downtown hotel after being buried 26 hours in the debris.

"The people of Mexico City have shown great solidarity," Aguirre said.

Smaller aftershocks continued to rumble through the city Friday, each one a new terror.

"It's shaking. It's shaking a little. Don't be scared," a TV news announcer calmly advised viewers in the middle of one tremor.

City residents like Teresa Mendoza recounted Thursday's frightening few minutes with horror.

An unidentified man waits outside a Mexico City Hospital early Friday morning. Rescue efforts were continuing today.

Breslauser was in Queretaro, 125 miles northwest of the capital. Meanwhile in Texas, anxious relatives awaited word from the devastated capital city, which remained practically out of telephone communication with the rest of the world.

"We tried calling over the telephone, then tried through friends in Corpus Christi with ham radios, then tried the (U.S.) State Department and so far, we're still blank," said Javier Colmenero of El Paso.

Hundreds of deaths have been confirmed and many more bodies are thought to be buried under the tons of rubble created by the Thursday morning tremor.

Gov. Mark White asked former ambassador Bob Krueger and San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros to travel to Mexico City and survey damage with an eye to what Texas can do to help.

White said private companies and local utilities were standing by with crews of electricians, telephone experts and other professionals who could help restore services to Mexico City.

Aircraft and medical supplies are being donated by individuals and Texas corporations. Cameron County has arranged with Matamoros, Mexico, to fly 32 doctors and 8,000 pounds of medical White also said he had notified President Reagan that the Texas National Guard stood by ready to help with relief efforts.

The Mexican American Democrats of Texas launched a fund-raising drive and urged Texans to donate money through the American Red Cross for Mexico relief.

"If we have been able to raise millions for the famine-stricken in Africa, certainly we should be able to raise hundreds of thousands for the grief-stricken in Mexico," said Ruben Bonilla, MAD president.

"All of us must consider Mexico as our neighbor," Bonilla said. "We must do our very best to give whatever financial aid will help alleviate the suffering from this terrible tragedy."

A local Spanish-language radio station in Dallas began collecting funds for the Red Cross, and Salvation Army trucks stood by ready to transport supplies to Mexico City. In El Paso, Bishop Raymond Pena called for a special collection to be taken Sunday and given to the Red Cross.

Grand jurors return no-bill

Howard County grand jurors returned a no-bill decision Friday afternoon after hearing additional evidence in an investigation into possible insurance fraud.

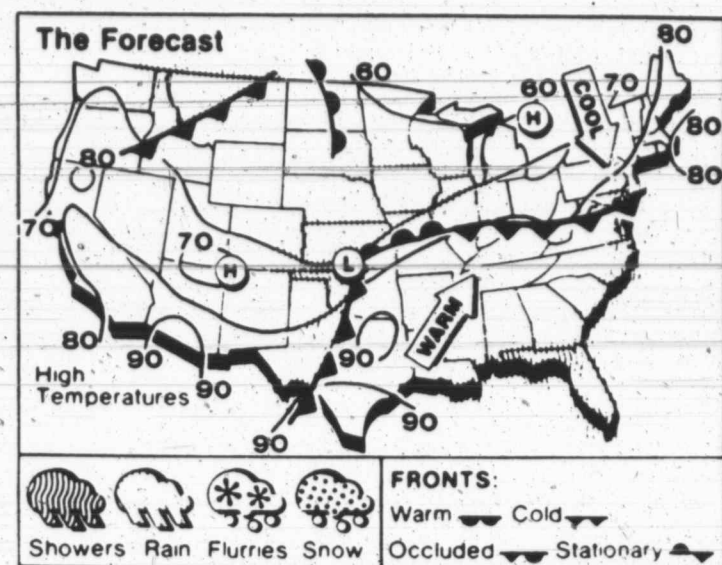

The investigation concerned "an insurance company and one or more individuals," said District Attorney Rick Hamby.

Jurors had passed on the case when it initially was presented during the last grand jury on Aug. 13. Hamby said jurors met from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday before reaching a decision.

Assistant District Attorney Robert Morris said Texas Ranger Charles Brune assisted in the investigation, which initially was handled by Big Spring police.

FarmAid site ready

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — FarmAid organizers worried about the weather Friday but said everything was ready but the lighting and sound for Sunday's star-studded concert intended to raise millions for America's troubled farmers.

The biggest problem may be getting the weather to cooperate. The National Weather Service forecast temperatures Sunday in the 50s and 60s with a good chance of rain for the site at the University of Illinois football stadium.

Rain or shine, the concert will be carried live to 25 million households on cable TV's The Nashville Network and portions of the show will be broadcast on hundreds of radio and television stations across the country.

FarmAid, modeled after the Live Aid concert to help Africa's hungry, is designed to raise money for counseling the nation's hard-pressed farmers and spreading the word about their plight. Experts say at least 25 percent of America's growers are in serious financial straits.

De Lorean indicted

DETROIT — Auto entrepreneur John Z. De Lorean, who has weathered the failure of his sports car company, a cocaine conspiracy trial and divorce from his model wife, was charged Friday with defrauding investors of $8.9 million.

A federal grand jury in Detroit returned a 15-count indictment against the 60-year-old silver-haired businessman, charging him with racketeering and other federal crimes involving mail fraud, wire fraud, interstate transportation of stolen money, income tax evasion and causing false tax returns to be filed.

Draft resister paroled

LOMPOC, Calif. — Benjamin Sasway, the first man jailed since the Vietnam era for refusing to register for the draft, was released from prison Friday after serving six months of a 2½-year sentence.

Sasway, 24, said he has no regrets about his opposition to a draft but was happy to be out of jail. His lawyer said Sasway would resume his interrupted college studies.

"I guess the most important thing coming out of this moment is that I've done what I had to do and I feel good about it," Sasway said after his release on parole from the federal prison camp at Lompoc.

Protests

Filipinos march against patriotism classes

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Thousands of people demonstrated Friday in nationally organized protests on the eve of the 13th anniversary of martial law. The military said soldiers opened fire on one group of protesters in self-defense, killing 14 people.

Nearly 200 people were reported to have been arrested. It was the bloodiest demonstration under President Ferdinand E. Marcos' 20-year rule since opposition leader Benigno Aquino was killed in Manila in 1983, witnesses and authorities said.

Although martial law, imposed in 1972, was lifted in 1981, critics still see Marcos as a dictator.

The shootings took place in Escalante, 300 miles south of Manila in the sugar-growing island of Negros. Military authorities said soldiers fired on 15,000 protesters after the demonstrators fought off efforts to disperse them with fire hoses and tear gas.

Two-way radio reports monitored in the Negros provincial capital of Bacolod said as many as 23 people may have died, but military authorities said 12 men and two women were killed, all by gunshots.

"The unfortunate incident happened because our men had to protect themselves," said Brig. Gen. Isidro de Guzman, regional military commander, in a television interview.

De Guzman said the demonstrators tried to grab weapons from police and soldiers. Witnesses interviewed by radio confirmed the crowd fought the police and said many applauded and mocked soldiers when they fired guns into the air.

An army unit spokesman, Capt. Fortunato Serafin, said soldiers fired when they saw a man who appeared ready to hurl a grenade. He said weapons were confiscated from the protesters.

In Manila, about 2,000 students blocked streets near Marcos' palace and burned an effigy of President Reagan and Marcos. The students were protesting alleged government repression and plans for a law that requires students to take courses on patriotism.

French official resigns

PARIS — Defense Minister Charles Hernu resigned Friday in the scandal over charges that French agents sank a Greenpeace protest ship, and Premier Laurent Fabius fired the secret service chief.

The developments came one day after President Francois Mitterrand ordered Fabius to shake up the secret service agency, the General Directorate for External Security, for which Hernu was responsible.

Mitterrand, who expressed impatience with the slow pace of the investigation, apparently was alarmed by allegations that secret service agents placed the explosive charges that sank the Rainbow Warrior on July 10 at its berth in Auckland, New Zealand, killing a crew member.

The Greenpeace flagship was preparing to lead a protest flotilla to the French nuclear test site at Mururoa Atoll in the South Pacific.

Soviets arrest 'spy'

MOSCOW — The Soviet secret service announced Friday the arrest of a Soviet citizen whom it claimed spied for the CIA and gave military information to an American diplomat.

U.S. Embassy spokesman Jaroslav Verner declined comment, saying, "The embassy does not comment on intelligence matters or allegations."

The spy charge was made by the KGB in a statement distributed by the official news agency Tass.

The KGB identified the alleged spy as A.G. Tolkachev and said he was a staff member at one of Moscow's research institutes. It did not say when he was arrested.

Leader poisons 68

DAVAO CITY, Philippines — A local official confirmed Friday that a religious leader had fed poisoned food to dozens of people in a remote village after failing to make money grow on a tree, then killed himself.

A total of 68 people died, but five survived by only pretending to eat the poison-laced gruel.

Helicopter-borne soldiers reached the mountainside death site late Friday. They said the bodies of men, women and children were lying "like they were sleeping" inside a long bunkerhouse and four huts, 11 days after they died.

Economy, GNP gains at anemic 2.8 percent in third quarter

By The Associated Press
The economy has been growing at an anemic 2.8 percent annual rate in the third quarter, the government estimated today.

That is only a slight gain from the 1.9 percent pace turned in from April to June, according to the Commerce Department's initial "flash" calculation of growth during the unfinished June-September period.

The U.S. economy will record a 2 percent growth rate this year if the current estimate of growth holds through the fourth quarter.

The GNP grew at a minuscule 0.3 percent rate from January through March.

The latest report apparently dashes the Reagan administration's hopes for 3 percent growth for the year. It would take a rate of 7.1 percent in the final three months of the year to reach the administration's goal.

Late Thursday, the Federal Reserve Board reported that its money supply measure known as M1, representing funds readily available for spending, rose $3.7

billion in early September to extend its surge to $21.6 billion over the past eight weeks.

Three companies relocate sites to new office building

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

All-State Insurance Co., Kirby vacuum cleaner company and Delta Commodities have combined their offices into one building at 408 E. Marcy. Though all three companies were previously in business, the newly constructed building's grand opening was Tuesday.

Richard Pitts, Delta Commodities owner, said he had an opportunity to buy the land, and the three businesses combined in the building venture to save money.

"We own the building now instead of renting," he said. "You're paying for something that's yours."

Delta, opened in 1983, deals in trade commodity features, which are high-risk/high-reward investments, Pitts said. The company also trades in cotton, cattle, crude oil and the stock market, he said.

Commodity features are 300 percent riskier than the stock market, he said, because the business is so fast — it fluctuates hour-by-hour rather than day-by-day.

"I love it (the business) because it's fast," he said.

Pitts said some farmers use commodity features to hedge against falling crop prices. They look at it as an insurance premium, he said.

"Just about everything (people) do is based on the market," he said, pointing to gasoline prices and interest rates as examples. He invited everyone to "come by and watch the markets."

While Delta Commodities deals in the market, Kirby Co. deals in vacuum cleaners. Owner Reggy Robertson said his shop sells and services all makes of vacuum cleaners, including Kirbys. There is no labor charge for servicing Kirbys, he said.

Robertson owns another Kirby office on Johnson Street, which deals in used vacuum cleaners. The Marcy office deals in new ones, he said.

Robertson has been in the business since 1969. "If people have a question about what will or will not clean a carpet, I can advise," he said.

Kirbys are sold mainly door-to-door, and he will hire and train salespeople, he said.

Robertson said although other locations sell Kirbys, his is the only authorized Kirby dealership in Howard and Martin counties. He opened the second office because it would be more convenient to people in that part of town, he said. The shops are open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

All-State agent Leslie Zant is the third owner of the building. He was located in the Sears building before, he said, but he needed more space and help. He hired a secretary, Irma Ayala, and is thinking about hiring another agent, he said.

All-State will insure "just about anything," he said.

Fiberflex, with corporate offices and manufacturing facilities here in Big Spring, is the world's largest manufacturer of fiberglass sucker rods (which are run inside of an oil well tubing string to connect sub-surface pump to the pumping unit). Fiberflex also manufactures other pumping system components.

Fiberflex has opened its Dallas-based Mid-Continent Regional Office, which directs operations in North Texas, the Texas Panhandle, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas, as well as oil producing states in the Midwest and Northeast.

Marketing headquarters for domestic and international trade are based in Houston.

Guy V. Speck, former Big Spring theater owner, has been named general manager of Newman Outdoor Advertising Corporation, Abilene Division. The family will be able to continue living in Big Spring — that's good, especially since son Carl is the high school quarterback! Newman Corporation has operations divisions in North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Montana, New Mexico and Texas.

Patti Horton, one of the owners of Sun Country Realty, was recently licensed as a real estate broker in the state of New Mexico after having studied and passed the tough New Mexico Realtor's examination. Because so many local folks buy vacation or retirement property in New Mexico, she felt it was important to be able to handle transactions there when necessary.

Jason Campbell, owner of Stagecoach Gift Store at Moss Lake Road and Interstate 20, has just celebrated his first year in business. In that year he doubled his inventory and added many new lines. Even being located "a little out of the way," he has been pleased with his business which especially caters to the different seasons. Now he is working on a full line of Halloween costumes, accessories, gifts and gags. Don't go to Midland or Lubbock to shop until you have looked at all we have to offer right here in Big Spring — and this is just one example of a well-stocked, unique store.

The Big Spring Area Certified Development Board of Directors held its annual meeting Thursday to elect officers. Nine directors make up the executive committee for the membership. Three directors retire each year with three new ones being elected for three-year terms. Outgoing directors are John Currie, who was also president, Bill Read and Charles Beil. Beil was re-elected, and Sidney Clark and J.D. Nelson were chosen for the other two spots. New officers are J.D. Nelson, president; Drew Mouton, vice president; and Hal Boyd, secretary-treasurer.

ATTENTION WOMEN: Only one more week to register for the outstanding Big Spring Women's Conference at the special reduced rate for preregistration. The Blue Blazers have planned a full day Oct. 5. This conference is for all women: students, homemakers, career women, retirees, employers. Registration at the door is only $20 (including lunch), which is a bargain — but it's $18 before Oct. 1. Community representatives from West Texas participated in the 1985 West Texas Economic Development Tour to Boston and New York City Sept. 9-12. Representing Big Spring were Hooper Sanders of Industrial Foundation, Troy Fraser of the Chamber of Commerce, Hal Boyd of the City of Big Spring and Mike Barker of Fiberflex Products, LTD. The tour's mission was encouraging the location of businesses, industries and distribution facilities in West Texas.

Big Spring Revco is beginning a new program called PHARMassist in order to encourage people to ask questions about all health product purchases.

More consumers than ever are medicating themselves and are faced with a huge variety of products which sometimes may do more harm than good, according to a Revco news release. Some products can react adversely with other medications or can cause allergic reactions. PHARMassist's purpose is to help prevent these problems by encouraging communication.

'Buy American' bad for business

By TOM PETERS

Once protectionism gets rolling, there is little to stop it. Returning from its recess, Congress faces a hopper clogged with hundreds of bills involving protectionist measures, better called special pleadings. But we are clearly going to need at least one more bill: a gag order for pollsters.

Early this month, J.D. Power and Associates released its eagerly awaited annual customer survey results for the automobile industry. Power assessed customer satisfaction with regard to 29 car types on 10 dimensions. Included in the survey were 10 European, seven Japanese and 12 American cars. Fourteen of the 29 types had above-average scores. Led by Mercedes, Subaru, Toyota, Honda and Jaguar, the top 14 included seven of the 10 European entrants, five of the seven Japanese entrants and only two of the 12 American entrants. (Lincoln, tied for 10th place, was the top American performer.)

The reason for the gag order, then, is clear. If we are going to encourage protectionism and mount high visibility "Buy American" campaigns, it won't do to give pollsters like Power free rein to reveal nasty facts about satisfaction with American-made products.

The same week the Power survey was released, a correspondent castigated national idol Pete Rose in a letter to Time: "How discouraging to see Pete Rose, America's baseball hero, holding up on the cover an imported Japanese bat. Don't baseball players realize that if the export-import balance gets any worse, no one will be able to afford the tickets that help pay their exorbitant salaries?"

In answer, Time reported that Rose has a "lavish endorsement contract with Mizuno, the Japanese sporting-goods manufacturer." I say, hats off to Mizuno for a marketing coup! Why didn't Louisville Slugger Co. go after and land Rose?

We cannot wish our way to competitiveness via "Buy American" campaigns and irate letters chastising Pete Rose for Mizuno's marketing brilliance. In response to the Power poll, we must ask this question: Why can't Detroit — even after tens of billions of investment dollars — make cars that Americans like? The sole answer cannot be price differentials, as so many would have us believe; the poll's top 14 cars included Subaru and Volkswagen on one end of the scale, and Mercedes and Porsche on the other.

Caladiums

Caladiums require plenty of water at this time of year if they are to remain lush and attractive until fall. Fertilize with ammonium nitrate at the rate of $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ pound per 100 square feet of bed area and water thoroughly.

About eight weeks after gladiolus have finished flowering, they should be mature enough to dig, cure, and store. Destroy any corms that appear to be diseased.

Don't allow plants with green fruit or berries to suffer from lack of moisture. Hollies will frequently drop their fruit under drought conditions.

Stake mums through growing season when necessary. Do not divide crowded mums until spring. Remove weak, unproductive growth from crapemyrtles and roses to stimulate new growth for fall beauty.

Prune out dead or diseased wood from trees and shrubs. Hold off on major pruning until mid-winter. Pruning now will only stimulate tender new growth prior to frost.

Time to sow seeds of snapdragons, pinks, pansies and other winter flowers in flats for planting outside during mid-to late fall.

Collect interesting plant materials for drying and curing to use in winter arrangements.

Prepare the beds for spring flowering bulbs as soon as possible. It's important to cultivate the soil and add generous amounts of organic matter to improve the water drainage. Bulbs will rot without proper drainage.

Time to divide spring flowering plants such as iris, Shasta daisy, gaillardia, canas, daylilies, violets, liriopse and ajuga.

September plantings can provide landscape color for three seasons in Central Texas. Annuals set out early enough will bloom as soon as Thanksgiving, and frequently last until Memorial Day. Annuals that should soon be available in nurseries and garden shops include: African daisies, calendula, pansies, snapdragons, stock, sweet peas, and violas.

Continue the disease spray schedule on roses as blackspot and mildew can be extremely damaging in September and October. Funginex used every 7-14 days will give excellent control.

Christmas Cactus can be made to flower by supplying 12 hours of uninterrupted darkness and cool nights (55 degrees F.) for a month starting in mid-October. Keep plants on the dry side for a month prior to the treatment.

Big Spring drowns Plainsmen, 35-0

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Sports Writer

The Big Spring Steers took matters into their own hands in the first half, putting on an unprecedented offensive show and then let Mother Nature take care of the rest, in a 35-0 whitewashing of the Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen Friday night at rain-soaked Blankenship Field.

The Steers scored all 35 points before monsoon rains swept in at halftime and turned the second half into a turnover contest between the two teams.

Head coach Quinn Eudy praised his defensive unit as well, allowing the Plainsmen 49 yards total offense in the first half and forcing three crucial turnovers that led to Big Spring scores.

The Steers' first score came after defensive back Brad Hanlon recovered a Monterey option fumble at the Monterey 32-yard line.

The Steers went to work quickly with quarterback Carl Speck hitting tight end David Shortes on a look-in good for 12 yards. Following the completion, tailback Phillip Matthews, who rushed for 80 yards on the night, slashed for another 13 yards and a first and goal on the Monterey seven.

Matthews took a pitch on the next play and bulled his way into the end zone for the Steers first points of the evening.

Colin Carroll's PAT was true, and the Steers went into the second quarter with a 7-0 lead.

In that second quarter, the Steers completely dominated both sides of the ball, scoring 28 unanswered points and forcing two interceptions and two punts by the outmanned Plainsmen.

At the 11:20 mark of the second quarter, Big Spring took over on their own 41-yardline and proceeded on a textbook drive that ended in the end zone.

Speck found wide receiver Brian Mayfield for 16 yards to the Monterey 43 to open the drive. Fullback James Harlin then burst through the line for a 15-yard first down at the 23 yard line.

The drive looked to be stalling with a third and two on the Plainman 18, but tailback Danny Williams found daylight on his first carry of the night, taking a Speck pitch 18 yards for the touchdown. The point after attempt failed because of a bad snap, to put the Williams turned in another outstanding effort from his cornerback position on the Plainsmen's next possession, picking off a Kyle Guerry pass on the first play at the Monterey 49.

The Steers made short work of their next touchdown drive, using one first down and a 36-yard catch and run by Shortes to put the ball, first and goal, at the Monterey 2 yardline.

Harlin needed two shots at the end zone before putting it over on a one-yard run with 8:37 left in the quarter.

Harlin added the two point conversion on a beautiful option run, raising the score to 21-0.

Steers runningback Colin Carroll, center, sets off to block a Plainsman from Big Spring quarterback Paul Decker, running on a keeper play in the second half.

Monterey replaced Guerry with sophomore Troy Jones at quarterback, but the youngster had no better luck. Steer linebacker Robert Sumner intercepted Jones' first pass attempt as well, returning it five yards to the Plainsman 38.

The Steers needed but two big plays to score from there. Speck again found Shortes dashing across the middle and hit him for a 24-yard pass to the 14 yard line. For the game, Shortes had four catches for 75 yards to lead all receivers.

Bearkats shut out Grandfalls, 12-0

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Writer

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City Bearkats rode the running of fullback Trey Willey and used a iron-clad defense to down the Grandfalls Cowboys by a score of 12-0 last night.

The win was coach Tony Stricklin's first of the season. The Bearkats' defense handed the Cowboys their third consecutive shutout in as many games.

There wasn't much offense in the contest, which saw the first half played in pouring rain. Garden City generated a respectable amount of offense in each half and limited their opponent to one half of any kind of offense.

Surprisingly, the Cowboys got most of their yards in the first half. In the second half, under clear skies, the G-City defense was rough and ready.

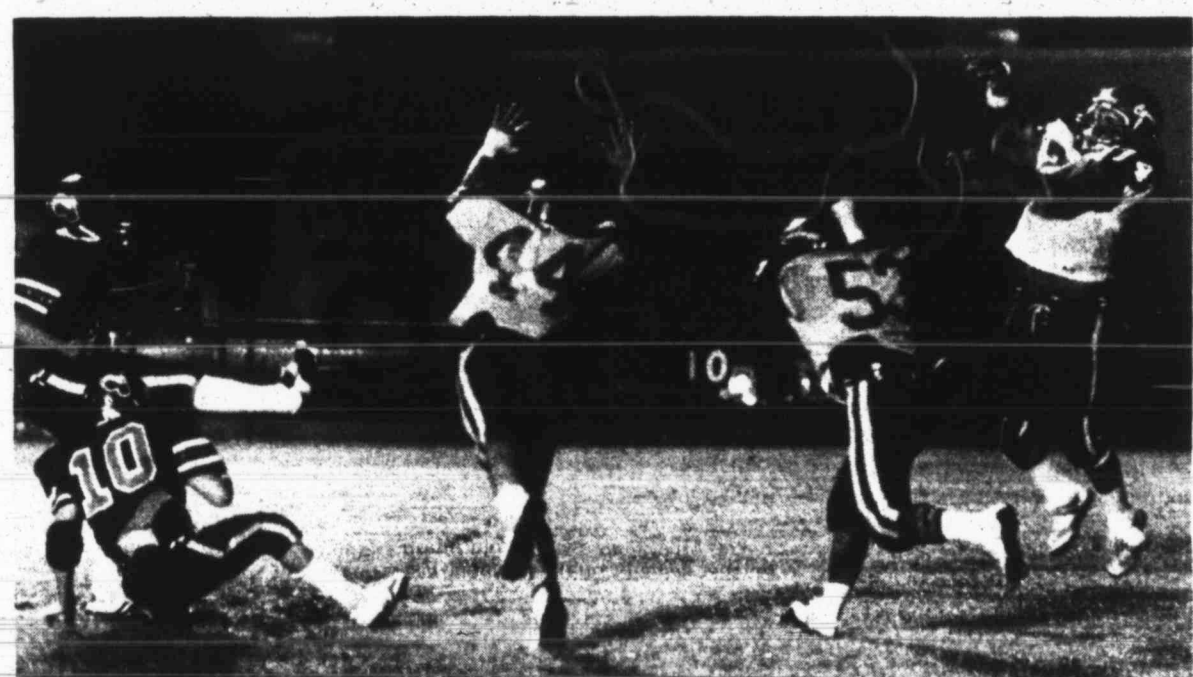

Led by the front line of Ricky Halfmann, Charles Pesnell, Sergio Rosas and Willie Sanchez, the stingy Bearkats didn't allow a single first down in the final 24 minutes of play. The Cowboys gained a net total of two yards in the period.

Meanwhile Willey, had his best night of the young season. The 160-pound senior rambled for 128 yards in 21 carries. He was almost a one-man show in the second half as he toted the pigskin 15 times for 111 yards.

He took the pressure off tailback Abby Madrid, whom the Cowboys defense did a good job of containing. Averaging 100 yards per game, Madrid was held to 36 yards in 11 tries.

If Grandfalls had any chance to score, it came in the first half. The Cowboys moved the ball, three times getting into G-City territory.

Fumbles stopped two Grandfalls drives. The first occurred early in the first quarter at the G-City 48-yard-line. The second happened late in the second quarter. Quarterback Joe Rodriguez fumbled and G-City linebacker Bobby Medrano recovered at the Bearkat 8. Linebacker Jesse Lopez stopped another potential Cowboy drive with an interception.

Grandfalls made one more drive in the second quarter, again moving inside the G-City 10. But the drive stopped when a passing play came up short.

Grandfalls fullback Corey Turner was the big offensive producer for his team. He had 77 yards rushing in the first half and finished the game with 97 yards in 14 carries. His big gainer was a 58-yard romp in the first half.

The Bearkats scored in the first half for the first time this season. On their first possession of the game, starting from Grandfalls' 48, they went the distance in nine plays. Quarterback Kenny Bennett got the score from two yards out. The extra point attempt failed.

Bennett made the big plays in the drive, carrying the ball five times for 23 yards. He ended the night with 55 yards in 16 carries.

The half ended with Garden City protecting its 6-point lead.

The second half would be all Garden City as the Bearkat defense simply swarmed Turner and quarterback Rodriguez. Rodriguez was sacked five times in the game. G-City defensive ends Halfmann and Willey put constant pressure on Rodriguez every time he dropped back to pass.

Garden City's final score came in the fourth quarter. The Bearkats engineered a 12-play, 51-yard

Holmes, Spinks set to tangle

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Michael Spinks knows what he would do if he were Larry Holmes on Saturday night.

"If I were fighting a smaller guy, I'd try to get rid of him early," said Spinks, who will be trying to become the first light heavyweight champion to win the heavyweight title when he challenges Holmes.

Spinks also knows what he will do when the International Boxing Federation champion comes gunning for him.

"I'm not going to stand there and take it," Spinks said Thursday. "If he comes at me and I have no choice, I'm going to fight."

The 6-foot-2½ Spinks, owner of a 27-0 record with 19 knockouts, is a power puncher, especially with the right hand. It's called "The Spinks Jinx."

But the 6-3 Holmes has gotten up from knockdowns by crunching punchers Earnie Shavers and Renaldo Snipes, and he was a 6-1 favorite to foil Spinks' bid to make history.

"I see him hitting me and making me mad," said Holmes, who stopped Spinks' brother, Leon, a former heavyweight champion, in the third round in 1981.

Holmes, who has 34 knockouts, will be try make some history himself. A victory in the scheduled 15-round fight at an 11,192-seat outdoor arena at the Riviera Hotel and Casino would enable him to tie the 49-0 record of Rocky Marciano.

Saturday is the 30th anniversary of Marciano's last fight, a ninth-round knockout of light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, who is here with Holmes camp.

HBO will televise the fight, expected to begin between 6:55 p.m. and 7:15 p.m. PDT.

Nine light heavyweight champions or former champions have failed in bids for the heavyweight title.

Two of them, Gus Lesnevich and Moore, held weight edges — Lesnevich two pounds over Ezzard Charles and Moore ½ pounds over Floyd Patterson.

Tommy Loughran was outweighed by 86 pounds when he lost a decision to 270-pound Primo Carnera. The light heavyweight limit is 175 pounds.

Spinks was expected to be outweighed by about 30 pounds by Holmes, who said he would weigh about 220. The weigh-in was scheduled for noon PDT today.

Spinks prepared for this fight under a diet and training regimen set up by nutritionist Mackie Shilstone of New Orleans.

"I can eat baked potatoes," Spinks said. "As a light heavyweight, I couldn't have a baked potato."

But when asked to describe his diet, he said it consisted of "bolts, nuts, screws, razor blades, hammers and nails."

Shilstone said Spinks won't only be bigger, but also stronger.

One area in which the 29-year-old Spinks has an edge is that of age. Holmes will be 36 on Nov. 3.

"A lot of people think I'm old and washed up," Holmes said. "I'm going to lose — when I'm 45."

Holmes is talking about one more fight after Spinks in a bid to break Marciano's record, then retire. "I've got to close the book by the end of the year," he said.

HBO has an option on Holmes' next fight, and NBC reportedly is interested in putting him on in prime time on Nov. 22.

Tyrell Biggs, an Olympic champion and a fledgling pro, has been mentioned as Holmes' next opponent. Also mentioned is Alfonso Ratliff, the World Boxing Council cruiserweight champion.

Ratliff, 20-2, with 15 knockouts, will appear on Saturday night's card in a scheduled 12-round title defense against Bernard Benton, who is 17-3-1 with nine knockouts.

Don King, promoting Saturday's show with Butch Lewis, wants Holmes to fight Ratliff, who is managed by the promoter's son, Carl King.

Asked about fighting Ratliff, Holmes said, "As long as he (King) has got the cash on hand, that's all that counts."

World Boxing Federation champion LARRY HOLMES raises his fists after being weighed in Friday for Saturday's championship fight against MICHAEL SPINKS. HOLMES outweighed his challenger by 21½ pounds as he weighed in at 221½.

The Steers scored on the next play on a 14 yard run by Matthews, who broke several tackles on his way to the end zone. Carroll's PAT was on the mark, putting the Steers comfortably ahead, 28-0, with 7:42 remaining in the half.

After exchanging the ball on punts, Big Spring geared up for its final drive of the half at their own 37 with just over 1½ minutes left. The first hint of rain was beginning to fall as the Steers offensive unit took the field.

On the second play of the series, fullback Harlin again put the Steers in scoring position with a 53-yard burst through the Monterey secondary to the 13.

From there Speck used two short passes, a nine-yarder to wide out Randy Hayworth and a three-yarder to Shortes to put the ball first and goal at the four yardline.

Speck then found Shortes open for a three-yard touchdown pass with only 31 seconds remaining in the half. Carroll's point after would end the scoring for the game with the Steers way out in front, 35-0.

It was fortunate that the Steers put the game out of reach in the first half because a constant downpour turned the second half into a muddy game of quarterback keepers and fumbles.

The Steers had eight fumbles in the second half, losing three. But the Plainsmen were no more adept at holding the ball under water. Monterey also recorded eight fumbles and lost three in the quagmire.

The Steers racked up some impressive numbers in the first half. Speck threw with great accuracy, connecting on 8 of 15 passes for 137 yards. Harlin led the Steers with 80 yards rushing as the first half as Big Spring rolled up 234 yards on the ground.

"I was really pleased with the kids' intensity out there tonight," commented Eudy. "This will give their confidence a real boost going into district. We beat a good team tonight on both sides of the ball."

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Stop daydreaming so much and plan how to make your life more prosperous and interesting. An advisor can be helpful.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Look to an older friend who is interested in your welfare for help at this time that can make you more prosperous.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be very sure of self and could be a fine organizer and do well in executive work, so slant the education along such lines. Some ability at art work is here also and training in such is wise. Emphasize spiritual training.
 "The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

FORECAST FOR MONDAY, SEPT. 23, 1985
GENERAL TENDENCIES: So long as you are very much aware of your facts and figures and every single proven idea and method, this can be an excellent day with chances to aid your progress.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be sure to follow instructions of higher-ups and get right results. In the evening, do not seek for extra data.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Find a better system for handling some new plan you have in mind and don't follow advice of associates.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can handle business matters well during the day with persons who are honest. Be patient with your mate.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Use particular care with clauses in any contracts with partners and come to a fine agreement, though difficult to do.
LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) If you plan your work wisely early, it will then go along smoothly and you get much done. Be wary of what others say.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan something interesting for the latter part of the week, but don't take any unnecessary chances. Avoid added expenses.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Good day to make conditions at home much better in many ways, but don't take any risks there tonight. Avoid arguments.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) State to partners what you most want and gain their cooperation during the day. Tonight, steer clear of gossip.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can apply yourself vigorously to day and gain more of life's goodies. Confer with an expert for ideas.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Good friends can be most supportive in the morning, but don't go to a higher-up for favors in the afternoon.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get busy planning the future early in the day, then spend your time with your family and enjoy home pleasures.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get your goals clear in your mind and then understand better how to get after them and gain them.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will impress the influential most favorably and can also accomplish a great deal of himself, or herself, in civic life, provided extra courses are given in school that add to this natural ability. This is a strong disciplinary training.
 "The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
