How's that? World Series

Q. When was the last "subway series" in baseball?

A. In 1956, the Brooklyn Dodgers played the New York Yankees. Series played in New York between the Dodgers, the Giants or the Yankees were labeled as "subway series" because masses of fans took the subways crosstown to the games.

If both the Mets and Yankees win their league pennants this year, there could be another subway series.

First lady leaves for Mexico

Staff and wire reports
Nancy Reagan, volunteering a gesture of U.S. friendship towards Mexico as it seeks life amid the rubble, is meeting the country's president and survivors of its twin earthquakes in a three-hour visit to Mexico City.

The first lady's visit to the city is one of several that federal, state and local officials and agencies are making to the disaster site.

In Big Spring, the Rev. Stephen White, pastor of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, announced today that the Catholic Diocese of San Angelo, which includes the Big Spring parishes, would take up a special collection for aid to victims of the quake.

All three Catholic churches in the city, Immaculate Heart, Sacred Heart and St. Thomas, will take the donations at masses Sunday. Bishop Michael Pfeifer, who worked several years in Mexico before being appointed to head the diocese of San Angelo, will travel to Mexico City next week to deliver the donations, White said.

The bishop will take 75 percent of the money collected with him to Mexico. The other 25 percent will remain here to be used by local families to aid their relatives in Mexico who may be victims of the quake, White said.

People can donate to the fund by contacting one of the three Catholic parishes in Big Spring. Immaculate Heart is located at 1009 Hearn, Sacred Heart is located at 600 N.W. Sixth and St. Thomas Catholic Church is located at 605 N. Main.

The Salvation Army and the Red Cross in Big Spring also are accepting donations — including blankets, canned food, clothing and cash — to be sent to Mexico City. The Red Cross office is located 110 N.E. Eighth and the Salvation Army is located at 308 Aylford.

Spearheading national relief efforts, the first lady left Washington today on a direct flight to the battered city, where her first stop was to be a visit with President Miguel de la Madrid. She was carrying a

Tax collection to stay with county office

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Howard County Commissioners Court adopted a resolution Monday morning to retain tax collection in the county tax assessor-collector's office.

County tax assessor-collector Dorothy Moore currently collects taxes for all tax entities except the Big Spring, Fosan and Coahoma Independent School Districts.

Commissioner William Crocker voted against adopting the resolution.

"This is entirely not correct," Crocker said about the resolution that stated taxes were to be collected by the county tax office as prescribed by Article VIII, Section 14 of the Texas State Constitution.

He said State Senate Bill 621 allows for taxes to be collected by the tax appraisal district if the tax assessor gives her approval.

"It's up to the tax assessor-collector to decide. I think the whole thing needs to be discussed," Crocker said.

Commissioner David Barr told commissioners before they voted that Moore would need their support at a noon meeting luncheon hosted by a Chamber of Commerce strategic planning committee which is currently discussing plans to consolidate collection for all county tax agencies.

Chamber of Commerce Executive Vice President Leroy Tillery told commissioners that the meeting was only a discussion and that invitations had been sent to each commissioner's home address. Commissioner O.L. Brown and County Judge Milton Kirby told Tillery they never received an invitation. Kirby earlier said he and other commissioners had not been invited to the meeting.

Brown asked Tillery where the issue had originated to consolidate collection of all tax entities. Tillery said Forsan Superintendent of Schools J.F. Poyner "initially brought it up in a strategic planning session" the chamber hosted last April.

County Judge Milton Kirby said he had read the proposal to consolidate collection was a cost-

Civil service laws on council agenda

Big Spring city councilmen will consider enacting an ordinance Tuesday putting state civil service laws into effect for city firefighters.

The council meets at 6:30 p.m. in chambers at city hall.

The council also will consider, on second reading, repeal of an ordinance prohibiting the sale of beer and wine for on-premise consumption between noon and midnight Sundays.

It will award bids for chemicals and for gasoline and diesel fuels, and consider approving specifications for bids on the Airport improvements program phase II.

Councilmen also will consider an ordinance exempting city funds from garnishment. According to an interoffice legal memo, the city has been served with a writ of garnishment involving a former firefighter who had quit the department.

The memo, from City Attorney Doyle Curtis, states that Curtis has spent much time defending the city in the case and that this ordinance would make future defenses in similar cases easier.

In addition, the council will approve a one-year contract with Lee Ambulance on second reading that would house the firm in the Central Fire Station.

Willie Nelson joined Bob Dylan on stage before more than 78,000 people attending the FarmAid benefit concert Sunday at the University of Illinois football stadium. Nelson was the driving force behind the concert which included 50 stars of country, rock, blues and bluegrass.

Concert for America

Stars raise millions for struggling farmers

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Flanked by huge banners reading "Keep America Growing," Willie Nelson and dozens of other music stars sang, fiddled and strummed into the early morning hours Monday, raising millions to help the nation's struggling farmers.

Nelson, the driving force behind the FarmAid concert, was quoted by Walt Adams of The Nashville Network, which carried the show, as saying $5 million in telephone pledges were received.

The 14-hour concert featured some 50 stars of country music, rock and blues, and was opened by Nelson with a shout, "Thank you very much for coming to the concert for America."

The concert ended shortly after midnight in a brilliant burst of fireworks.

As a crowd of more than 78,000 filled into the University of Illinois football stadium, Nelson and Neil Young teamed up to sing "Are There Any More Real Cowboys." Nelson then brought cheering fans to their feet with "Whiskey River."

Nelson said a nationwide television and radio audience was calling pledges in at a rate of $500,000 an hour. That was in addition to $4 million promoters said was raised before the concert began.

Nelson has said the concert's purpose was to raise money to help needy farmers and to increase public awareness of farmers' problems.

"We want everyone to call in from 'Surf City' or wherever," lead singer Mike Love of the Beach Boys, told the audience.

Music styles ranged from the rock of the Blasters to the country of George Jones and from the blues of B. B. King to the classics of Roy Orbison. Carole King played a white piano on the front edge of the stage with the FarmAid curtain as a backdrop.

As darkness approached, John Fogerty — formerly of Creedence Clearwater Revival — had the audience clapping and dancing, and told them, "Next time you sit down to a meal remember it didn't come in a cellophane bag from Safeway, some farmer put his whole life into growing that food."

Stadium lights used for football games were left out as darkness fell and only a few spotlights illuminated the audience as four of the giants of country music — Johnny Cash, Waylon Jennings, Glen Campbell and Nelson — teamed up for a song.

America 'land of opportunity' for the deaf

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

America is still the land of opportunity for deaf people, says Graham Peters, head of the humanities and fine arts at the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf in Big Spring.

Peters talked about the progress in deaf education in recognition of Deaf Awareness Week this week.

When Peters left his native Australia 12 years ago, being a deaf instructor was unheard of, he said. The education opportunities for the deaf in America make the difference, he said.

When Peters was in Australia, he first saw a troupe of actors from the National Theater for the Deaf in America, and they told him about Gallaudet college for the deaf in Washington, D.C.

When he heard about the college, he was "shocked," he said, because Australian schools for the deaf go only to elementary school level. If a deaf person wanted a high school diploma, he had to be able to speak with his voice and read lips well enough to be mainstreamed into a hearing high school, a near impossible feat, experts say.

The comparative lack of prejudice among Americans also makes a difference, he said. "Here, deaf people are able and permitted to use machines like a typewriter. In Australia, they're afraid for deaf people to touch (expensive equipment), so they're not allowed," Peters said.

Minnie Mae Wilder, coordinator of the Learning Assistance Center at SWCID, said more and more job opportunities for the deaf are opening up now that the hearing are starting to accept the deaf into their community.

Technology too plays an important part in allowing deaf people to compete in the job market. Telecommunication Devices for the Deaf (TDDs), for example, allow them to communicate via the telephone. They attach to the telephone and messages are typed and shown on the screen attached to the telephone on the other end of the line. Before the invention, the deaf had to communicate in person or by letter.

Besides SWCID, 11 organizations in Howard County have TDDs, including Howard College, Howard County Library, Big Spring police and fire departments, Hillcrest Baptist Church, Texas Employment Commission, First Federal Savings, Big Spring Education Employees Federal Credit Union, Places and Pleasures Travel Agency, Highland Council for the Deaf, Malone-Hogan Hospital and Southwestern Bell.

Delores Eriandson, counselor at SWCID, said education is changing Americans' attitudes toward the deaf. Deaf people are also more assertive, she said. The deaf have more confidence in telling people what they can do, Wilder added.

Imposter highlights Emmy awards

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — "Cagney & Lacey," CBS's once-canceled policewoman show, and "The Cosby Show," a warm, gentle comedy about a black family that has sparked NBC's ratings comeback, dominated the series awards at the 37th annual Emmys Sunday.

"Cagney & Lacey," which came back on the air in 1983 because of critics' support and an avalanche of letters, upset two NBC favorites as best dramatic series: the neon-and-pastel "Miami Vice," which had the most nominations with 15; and "Hill Street Blues," which had captured the award the past four years. Each of those had to settle for one on-air award.

NBC, the ratings leader for 16 of the past 17 weeks, won 12 of the 29 awards announced during Sunday's ABC telecast, a streamlined production that was enlivened by an imposter's prank and still stuck to its three-hour schedule. CBS was second with 11 awards, then PBS with four and ABC with two. Including technical awards given earlier, NBC led with 25 Emmys, to 18 for CBS, 17 for PBS and 8 for ABC.

"Do You Remember Love," CBS' drama of a professor battling Alzheimer's disease, was best dramatic special, and Joanne Woodward won an Emmy for her performance, as did Vickie Patik for her script.

"The Jewel in the Crown," PBS' much-praised saga about the last years of British rule in India, was named best limited series.

"Cagney & Lacey" also took best direction and best writing, and Tyne Daly, as Det. Mary Beth Lacey, who must juggle her career with a family, won best dramatic actress for the third straight year — defeating co-star Sharon Gless.

"Every year I come expecting to hear someone else's name called," she said. "I think it must be the part I get to play."

A visibly pregnant Miss Daly thanked her husband and her children — "the ones here already and the one that is coming soon, I hope."

"The Cosby Show," new last season, won best comedy writing for Ed Weinberg and Michael Leeson and best direction for Jay Sandrich. Bill Cosby, the star and driving force behind the show, rejected a nomination, saying he didn't believe in competing against other performers, and boycotted the ceremony at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium.

Williams Daniels and Tyne Daly meet with reporters following the Emmy awards Sunday night.

"So much of my work is shaped by Bill Cosby's wit and philosophy of what a family could be," Sandrich said in accepting his honor.

William Daniels, the cranky, perfectionist chief of surgery Dr. Mark Craig on NBC's "St. Elsewhere," won best actor in a dramatic series, defeating opponents who included "Miami Vice" sex symbol Don Johnson.

Betty Thomas, as Sgt. Lucy Bates on "Hill Street," won best supporting actress, but was upstaged when a prankster accepted the award, saying she couldn't be present — even though the camera had plainly showed her in the audience.

"Well, it is definitely hard to follow an act like that," she joked when she finally took the podium after a commercial. The imposter was taken into custody.

"Miami Vice" won best supporting actor award for Edward James Olmos as the stone-faced Lt. Martin Castillo.

"Yes, Lieutenant Castillo does smile," Olmos said. The show also won three technical Emmys announced earlier.

Robert Guillaume, the star of ABC's "Benson," whose character has progressed from manservant to lieutenant governor, won the award as best comedy actor.

"I know you can't tell, but I just lost my color," the black performer joked. "This certainly beats going home empty-handed for a sixth time, and I'd like to thank Bill Cosby for not being here."

The women comedy performers were both repeats from last year: Jane Curtin, as the more insecure of two roommate divorcees on CBS's "Kate & Allie," was best actress, while Rhea Perlman won supporting actress for her portrayal of the caustic barmaid Carla on NBC's "Cheers."

"Twice is really a lot to be up here!" Miss Perlman exulted, concluding with a greeting to her husband, former "Taxi" actor Danny De Vito: "Danny, I love you. I got two and you only got one!"

John Larroquette, who plays Dan Fielding, the pompous, woman-chasing prosecutor on NBC's "Night Court," won best supporting actor on a comedy series.

Richard Crenna won best actor in a special for playing a macho cop who is abducted and raped in "The Rape of Richard Beck" on ABC.

Veteran movie actors Karl Malden and Kim Stanley took supporting performer awards on specials for NBC's "Fatal Vision" and PBS's "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" respectively. Best direction went to Lamont Johnson for "Wallenberg: A Hero's Story."

NBC's "Motown Returns to the Apollo," was named best variety show, while the same network's "Late Night With David Letterman," won the writing award for a variety show. CBS's "Dallas" won a costume design award.

PBS' production of Stephen Sondheim's musical "Sweeney Todd" won two awards.

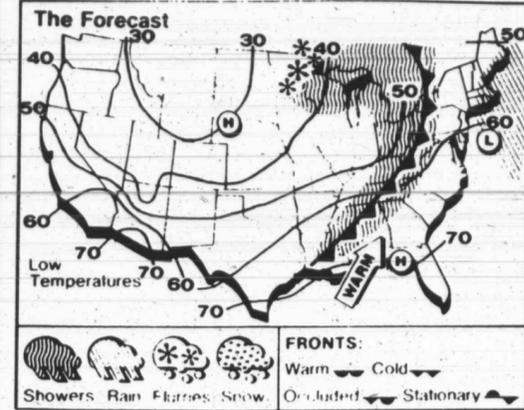

The Academy of Television Arts and Sciences brought in a whole new team to stage the show this year, headed by Broadway producer Alexander H. Cohen and his producer-writer wife, Hildy Parks.

They have been responsible for the Tonys, which many critics consider the most entertaining of the awards broadcasts.

Critics have long complained about the length of the Emmyscast.

For Sunday's show, the producers revamped the sometimes-confusing structure.

Police Beat

Robbery suspect sought

Police are looking for a short white male, about 19 years old, 5-foot-3, 115 pounds with light brown hair as a suspect in a robbery early today at a 7-Eleven store at 902 Willy.

Melida Beasley, a clerk at the store, told police the man walked in the door at 1:02 a.m., took a carton of cigarettes and a 12-pack of beer, valued at $16, and started to leave the store without paying, the police report stated.

When she tried to stop the man, he swung at her with his fist and threatened to harm her, Lt. Jerry Edwards said today.

Because the man swung at the clerk, even though he missed hitting her, the charge jumped from a Class C misdemeanor theft of less than $20 to a felony robbery, Edwards said.

"It was just plain stupid," Edwards said of the man's action.

No arrests have been made in connection with the robbery.

Joe Lopez of 504 N.W. 10th told police people he knows stole a 1979 Chevrolet Impala, valued at $3,500, between 9 p.m. Sunday and 1:15 a.m. today from his house.

Police Saturday arrested John Martinez Ramirez, 18, of 1607 Avion at 4114 Parkway on suspicion of burglary of a habitation and capias warrants.

According to a police report, Ramirez had entered the house through the window and was arrested as a suspect in a burglary in progress.

Police Saturday night arrested Peter Paul Hernandez, 20, of 1010 N. Rannels on suspicion of driving while license suspended and possession of a controlled substance.

Charles Puga of 3311 Abilene told police someone broke two windshields in his black 1950 Dodge Wayfarer between 8:30 and 11:30 p.m. Sunday. Damage is estimated at $250.

Fred Rubio of 3106 W. 19th told police someone broke into his house through a window and tried to take property out of the house. Damaged were a window and a door frame. Damages were estimated at $60.

Rodney Huitt of 1027 Stadium told police someone damaged his 1983 beige Dodge pickup between 7:30 p.m. Friday and 7:40 p.m. Saturday. Someone took the ramhead hood decoration, valued at $110, and the windshield wipers, valued at $17. An antenna also was damaged.

Pam Mier of 2911 W. Highway 80 told police someone she knows knocked her to the ground at 10:13 p.m. Sunday at 1506 E. Fourth and started kicking her. According to the police report, she suffered abrasions but refused medical treatment.

Police arrested two men late Sunday night in the 700 block of North Lamesa on suspicion for disorderly conduct-fighting.

Arrested were David Canales, 22, of 2312 Rannels and Alfredo Mata Hilario, 23, of 511 N.W. Seventh.

Suzette Fuleaday of El Pase told police she left her purse, containing $30 in cash, at Furr's restaurant between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. When she returned to the restaurant, the purse was gone.

Sheriff's Log

Suspicious activity reported

Howard County sheriff's deputies continue to investigate a suspected criminal mischief incident that occurred at Jack Cathey Construction on the North Service Road of Interstate 20, Saturday night at approximately 10:15 p.m.

According to a sheriff's deputy report, Newton King of Route 3 said he saw two people on the property flee the scene before he notified the sheriff's office.

According to the report, nothing appears to be missing at this time.

Sheriff's deputies released Jesus A. Ramirez, 42, of 601 E. 12th from county jail after someone posted $1,500 bond.

Ramirez is suspected of driving while intoxicated and was arrested Saturday night.

Big Spring police transferred Peter Paul Hernandez, 20, of 1010 N. Rannels to county jail after he was arrested for suspicion of driving while license suspended and possession of a controlled substance. He was released on $4,000 bond.

Mexico

letter to De la Madrid from President Reagan.

Then, Mrs. Reagan and Paloma Cordero de la Madrid, the Mexican first lady, were to tour an emergency shelter and a hospital.

Mrs. Reagan was accompanied by Elliott Abrams, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, and M. Peter McPherson, director of the U.S. Agency for International Development.

At the White House, spokesman Larry Speakes said Mrs. Reagan's visit was intended to "express sympathy and solidarity that all Americans feel for Mexico at this difficult time."

Beforehand, Elaine Crispin, Mrs. Reagan's press secretary, quoted her as saying, "We're neighbors. I want to extend a loving hand."

The first lady has been assured that her visit would not be a burden to those organizing rescue efforts, Mrs. Crispin said.

"We would not be going if there was any hint that we would be in the way," Mrs. Crispin said. "I think that we are welcome."

Speakes said Mrs. Reagan would make an initial report on her trip in a phone call to Reagan. From Mexico City, she was flying first to Phoenix, Ariz., to visit her mother, and then on to Los Angeles. She will return to Washington on Friday.

The president has extended the offer of substantial U.S. aid to the Mexican government.

effective measure for taxpayers.

"I've got a proposal for them to save a million dollars every four years. My proposal is that the tax appraisal district be contracted once every four years. That's all they're mandated for. The duties should be laid out to a private contractor," Kirby said.

Commissioners also:
• Approved a 1985-86 budget prepared by county auditor Jackie Olson which leaves the current tax rate at 22 cents per $100.

• Passed on discussion for a new computer requested by County Attorney Tim Yeats. He told commissioners that he is collecting more information about cost-effective ways for a computer system to serve his office.

• Requested that Crocker find out more information about current insurance policies that cover county volunteer firemen.

• Planned to review the budget to determine how the sheriff's department could absorb costs to offset adult probation cases. Sheriff A.N. Standard asked the court to consider setting up a budget for probation cases that presently was running rather "expensive."

Expenses included travel, medical and jail housing, Standard said.

FarmAid

ly after the concert opened at 10 a.m. The rain stopped in the late afternoon, and overcast skies greeted the evening performances carried live on 156 television stations.

Some concert-goers covered themselves with sheets of clear plastic, while others huddled beneath umbrellas or hooded raincoats.

"We knew it was going to rain so we brought all this stuff," said Mark Wawers of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. "This is just a basic K mart rainsuit. It's not going to bother us that much."

"A once-in-a-lifetime thing like this, how could you miss it," said Ken Lewis of Bloomington. "What's a little rain. We'll dry out tomorrow."

About 500 people received medical treatment by early evening, and another 300 were expected to be treated by the time the concert ended at midnight, said Dr. Alan Baird, co-director of emergency services for the concert.

"We just had minor cuts, scratches, twisted ankles," he said. Baird said marijuana use was widespread.

Three people were arrested on charges of aggravated battery and resisting arrest, and 35 were ejected for various reasons, said Paul Dollins, chief of the University of Illinois police.

Soon after the concert began, country singer Hoyt Axton got some of the rain-soaked audience up and dancing with "Joy To The World," then was joined by Tanya Tucker. By then, television cameramen on stage had their video equipment wrapped in yellow plastic to keep it dry.

Country star Merle Haggard, an outspoken supporter of struggling farmers, sang his new song, "Amber Waves of Grain," with the lyrics, "If there were

A security feat at UN

NEW YORK — An army of security forces prepared what one agent called his agency's largest protective undertaking ever as international leaders began arriving today to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the United Nations.

At least 90 heads of government and more than 100 foreign ministers are expected during the next three months to mark the U.N. anniversary, with the peak of the celebration coming on Oct. 24.

Two killed in collision

AUBURN, Ala. — A Lear jet carrying a family to visit a daughter at Auburn University collided with a small ultralight plane over the airport here, killing two people and injuring five, officials said.

Ira Furman, spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board in Washington, said the accident was the "first fatal collision involving an ultralight and an aircraft."

Report causes concern

NEW YORK — A committee of the National Academy of Sciences has called in a draft report for lower recommended levels of some vitamins and minerals needed to maintain health, The New York Times reported today.

The report, which will not be issued for several months, raised concerns in some nutrition experts who feared it could be used to justify cuts in food stamps, school lunch subsidies and other food programs, the newspaper said.

Drug abuse on the rise

STAMFORD, Conn. — The director of a clinic says he is treating twice as many drug abusers from the professional ranks as he did two years ago, a trend that reflects both an apparent increase in the use of drugs as well as a greater willingness to seek help.

Craig Dieter, program director at Liberation Clinic, said that, including professionals, the clinic had 209 drug abuse cases between May and August.

Fire ants win

SAN ANTONIO, Texas — The invasion of the red imported fire ant into Texas reads like the script from a grade "B" horror movie.

The ants, equipped with powerfully painful stingers, began their invasion of the southern United States 50 years ago and today have proved so sturdy that experts say they're abandoning efforts to eradicate it.

Five nations agree to drive dollar down

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States and four other major industrial nations have agreed to try to drive the value of the dollar down and to fight protectionist pressures in their countries.

U.S. officials and the finance ministers of Britain, West Germany, France and Japan did not announce specific steps to revise currency trading procedures.

The officials, who met here Sunday, said "exchange rates should play a role in adjusting external imbalances," and pledged to cooperate on that score.

"We do believe that intervention in the foreign exchange market, in particular relation to the foreign exchange value of the dollar, which is still high, although not as high as it was, may have a useful part to play," Nigel Lawson, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, said at a news conference.

West German Finance Minister Gerhard Stoltenberg agreed that "we all give greater emphasis to exchange rates and we have discussed fundamental policy and other means to come to a more balanced situation."

Following announcement of the agreement, the U.S. dollar plummeted 4-5 percent today against European currencies. As a result, gold bullion prices soared about $10 an ounce.

European currency dealers said markets were extremely nervous following the meeting, and that was reflected in wide buying-selling spreads on all major currencies.

The strong dollar has made foreign goods sold in the United States cheaper and American goods sold abroad more expensive. As a result, the United States registered a record $123 billion deficit in foreign trade last year, and this year the administration projects a trade deficit of $150 billion.

The deficit reflects record losses of American jobs to foreign competition. It also means money spent by Americans is going abroad rather than staying at home, and the U.S. economy is growing more slowly than it otherwise might.

A senior Reagan administration official, speaking in Washington before the meeting on condition he not be identified, had said the five nations already had agreed in principle to "bring the value of the dollar down and the value of the other currencies up."

The administration had agreed to intervene more often in foreign currency markets — to buy and sell gold to maintain certain currency values, the official said.

In recent years, the U.S. government has only intervened in foreign exchange markets in times of great chaos. Federal Reserve Chairman Paul A. Volcker, who also attended the New York meeting, would not say whether any intervention had been agreed upon, though he said it was an option.

However, the possibility of official intervention alone could set off widespread selling of the dollar and produce the decline that the five nations desire. On the other hand, investors, bankers and other financial experts could hold on to their dollars if they decide the dollar is a sounder investment than other currencies.

The five countries agreed on several other measures, most of them aimed at promoting growth for U.S. trading partners: British and West German reaffirmation of commitments to reduce taxes, Japanese steps to stimulate domestic demand and French steps to liberalize and modernize financial markets.

"These measures will promote greater convergence in economic performance toward non-inflationary growth which can contribute to a strengthening of non-dollar currencies," said U.S. Treasury Secretary James Baker III. "We all believe this is a positive means of addressing concerns about the large trade imbalances among our countries."

France admits bombing ship

PARIS (AP) — Following more than two months of bitter accusations and sensational news reports, Premier Laurent Fabius said French agents were responsible for blowing up a Greenpeace protest ship in a New Zealand harbor.

Fabius unexpectedly confirmed Sunday reports in the French press that the attack July 10 was the work of French agents.

He said the agents should not be put on trial because they were acting on orders when they sank the Rainbow Warrior at Auckland, New Zealand. He did not say who gave the orders.

However, Prime Minister David Lange of New Zealand it would be "absurd" not to try the secret agents. He accused France of committing a "sordid act of state-backed terrorism."

Two French agents are in New Zealand jails awaiting trial on charges of killing a crew member of the Greenpeace ship in the explosion. They also face arson and conspiracy charges in a trial set for November.

Three other agents, who are now in France, also are wanted on international arrest warrants.

The Rainbow Warrior had been scheduled to lead a flotilla protesting French nuclear testing in the South Pacific.

The bombing led to a shakeup of French intelligence, the resignation and replacement of Defense Minister Charles Hernu and the firing of the head of the DGSE, Adm. Pierre Lacoste.

Fabius, who had vowed to find and reveal the truth about the attack on the Rainbow Warrior, did not say who had given the orders to the agents, nor did he identify the operatives who carried them out.

"The simple executors (of the mission) obviously must be exonerated because it would be unacceptable to expose military men who only obeyed orders and who have occasionally in the past accomplished very dangerous missions for our country," Fabius said after hastily summoning reporters to his office.

Clashes kill Lebanese

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Rival militiamen backed by rocket and mortar salvos battled in the streets of Beirut and Tripoli today. Police said 19 people were killed and 32 wounded in the fighting.

Overnight clashes in west Beirut pitting Shiite Moslem Amal militiamen against Druse fighters left nine dead and 17 wounded, police said.

Veterans visit old foes

FRANKFURT, West Germany — A group of American World War II veterans flew to West Germany for an annual get-together with former adversaries from the Nazi SS, but canceled a joint visit to a military cemetery because of protests by Jewish groups.

The 25 Americans were greeted Sunday at the Frankfurt airport by three Germans who were members of SS forces in the Battle of the Bulge near the end of World War II.

Breaking down barrier

LONDON — A new tongue-in-cheek guide to the English language explains how to speak the mother tongue with a stiff upper lip.

The guide, titled "The Queen's English," translates uppercrust diction phonetically in an attempt to break down "the language barrier between the classes," according to the publishers, Pelham Books Ltd.

Mandela to be treated

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Imprisoned black leader Nelson Mandela, who requires surgery for a swollen prostate and internal cysts, will be examined by doctors chosen by his family, one of his daughters said today.

Rumors that Mandela might die in custody have touched off sporadic black rioting around South Africa, torn by 13 months of anti-apartheid unrest.

Religion in Peking

PEKING — An official newspaper quoted the director of Peking's religious affairs bureau today as saying there are about 225,000 practicing Moslems, Christians and Buddhists in the Chinese capital.

Peking's 69 churches and temples, which reopened after the 1966-76 Cultural Revolution, support themselves through real estate rental, donations, bank holdings and their own businesses and schools, director Guo Ximin was quoted as saying.

SAT scores post gains in 22 years

NEW YORK (AP) — Led by a strong upsurge by Mexican-American and Puerto Rican students, average Scholastic Aptitude Test scores posted their biggest gains in 22 years, The College Board announced today.

Average combined math and verbal SAT scores in 1985 rose nine points to 906 — the largest year-to-year climb since 1963 when scores rose nine points before beginning a 22-year slide.

SAT averages had leveled and turned up slightly in the past several years, but the gain in 1985 was the first that could be considered a decisive upturn.

Puerto Rican youngsters showed the biggest year-to-year gains, up 10 points in verbal to a 368 average, and up six points to 428 on the math. Mexican-Americans gained six points on both math and verbal scores, averaging 426 and 382 respectively.

Black students gained four points to 346 on the verbal, and rose three points to 376 on the math, while white youngsters rose four points on both math (491) and verbal (449). Both groups thus trailed the average nationwide SAT gain.

Even scoundrels need protection

Who would have thought the American Civil Liberties Union, that champion of liberal causes, would end up on the same side of a political issue as the National Conservative Political Action Committee, the A-Team of the right wing.

But there were Barry Lynn, legislative counsel of the ACLU, and John "Terry" Dolan, chairman of NCPAC, joining forces to denounce legislation introduced by a liberal Republican senator to reduce negative television advertising in presidential and congressional campaigns.

The bill by the distinguished U.S. Sen. John Claggett Danforth, R-Mo., would require candidates who attack their opponents in television advertising to appear in person in such ads, or broadcasters would be compelled to provide free and equal air time to the targets of attack to respond.

The ACLU called the bill a "subtle censorship costume as good government legislation." NCPAC stressed that the bill would be an "incumbent insurance plan" because it would prevent challengers from running ads that criticize an incumbent.

Danforth, a graduate of Princeton and Yale Law School and an Episcopal clergyman, insists that negative political advertising "corrupts" the political process by affecting the outcome of elections through "distorted" depictions of candidates' records. But even he concedes the bill may be an unconstitutional inhibition of free speech.

Of late, negative political advertising has indeed made campaigns increasingly messy, undignified, unfair, even vulgar. But the bill is unconstitutional.

Our political system is as it is precisely because it is a free and unregulated system. Distasteful though some political advertising may be, it's less distasteful than to give the government control over what candidates may say or what others may say about them, on television or anywhere else.

Crises cause confusing chaos

(While Art Buchwald is on vacation we reprint some columns from the past.)

Living in Washington during a time of crisis can be a very nerve-racking experience. Having gone through two dozen crises while living in Paris, I think I'm in a good position to compare the differences between the two.

For one thing, in Paris you rarely meet the people involved in a crisis. Occasionally you run into a French spokesman at a bistro, but for the most part the people working on a French crisis are complete strangers and unavailable to the foreign press. Therefore, since the crisis is being handled by people you don't know, you have the feeling the situation is well in hand.

But in Washington it's entirely different. Your next-door neighbor may be the person involved with the crisis, and you not only know him, but you know his kids.

The guy who is out there on Sunday painting his fence, or raking his leaves, is the same guy who is in charge of working out the master plan for the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The fellows you play poker with are in charge of decisions that could affect everybody. And it doesn't make you feel any better if you bluff one of them out of a hand.

In Washington your dinner partner could be the wife of an important official, and it scares you to wonder how much influence she has on her husband's decisions. And it isn't beyond belief that a congressman or senator in charge of world-shaking events could pinch your wife under the table. While this is human, it also scares the devil out of you.

In Paris there are no secrets when it comes to a crisis. As a matter of fact, there are so many crises going on that half the time you would never know you were in one.

But in Washington crises are built up slowly and dramatically. First, I know something is going on. I don't know what it is and my next-door neighbor has been sworn not to tell me. But I know he knows, and that's pretty spooky right there. Then I hear that something important is going to be done about something I don't know is happening.

Key figures in government don't show up for dinner. Other key figures do show up for dinner. This is to confuse everyone. The Secretary of State catches a cold, the Vice President catches a cold, the entire Cabinet is sneezing. It's safe to say when the President catches a cold, Central America gets pneumonia. But that's all I know.

A newspaper friend calls up and says, "What do you know?" You reply, "I know it's big." You say, "I hear it's tremendous."

"Who did you hear it from?" he wants to know.

"I can't tell you."

"That's the same guy I heard it from," he says. "I just wanted confirmation."

By this time your nerves are worn to a frazzle. Your wife wants to know if she can have new closets built. You tell her to wait until the President speaks. Finally the President speaks and you tell her she can't have her new closets. Then you have a crisis at home.

The main difference between a crisis in Paris and a crisis in Washington is that if you're an American in Paris and the crisis is serious, you know that the American government will evacuate you. But if you're an American stationed in Washington and the crisis takes a turn for the worse, you can be sure that nobody cares what the hell happens to you.

Jews among Beirut victims

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR
WASHINGTON — The seizure of American hostages by Shiite Moslems in Lebanon stole the headlines in 1985, but there's another story of hostage-taking in that unhappy country that has gone untold.

While Christian and Moslem militias continue to slaughter each other and "enemy" civilians, the remnant of Beirut's centuries-old Jewish community has become the latest target of Shiite kidnapers. Seven elderly Lebanese Jews have been abducted on the street, and are believed to be held by the Hezbollah, the same fanatical Shiite group that is holding seven Americans.

The State Department has been making behind-the-scenes appeals in supposedly influential quarters for the release of the seven Lebanese, along with its continuing efforts to free the seven Americans.

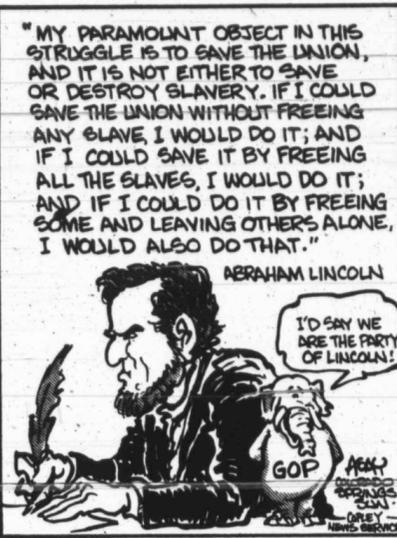

The Jews of Lebanon once numbered in the thousands. Avoiding the impassioned political battles of their far more numerous Moslem and Christian countrymen, they played a large part in making Beirut the commercial capital of the Middle East. But as the fratricidal warfare of recent years intensified, most of the Jews fled.

By 1982, when Israel launched its ill-starred invasion of Lebanon, only about 100 Jews, mostly old men, remained in the country. They clung resolutely to their traditional political neutrality, confident this would exempt them from the violence that had reduced Beirut to rubble and its citizens to victims.

But the Jews' careful non-partisanship was of little consequence to the Shiite extremists, who swear fealty to Iran's Ayatollah Khomeini. These fanatic fundamentalists lumped the Jews in the same category as the Israelis and Americans. They began snatching the elderly men off the street.

The kidnap victims are a mixed lot:

- Dr. Eli Hallak, 60, a prominent physician who ministered to the needs of Palestinian children. Last March, armed gunmen burst into his home and dragged him away; he has not been heard from since.
- Isaac Sasson, 68, who was president of the Lebanese Jewish community and the head of a major Lebanese trading company's pharmaceutical branch. Sasson was returning from a business trip to the United Arab Emirates when he was warned that he was in danger and should not go home to Moslem-controlled West Beirut. He had no time to heed the warning — he was grabbed at or near the airport.
- Yehuda Benisti, 68, former manager of Bank Safra.
- Isaac Tarrab, 75, a retired professor.
- Eli Srour, 68, an impoverished Jew who prepared the dead for burial.
- Haim Cohen, age unknown, also poor, who delivered kosher meat to the Jewish community.

Jack Anderson

Salim Jammous, age unknown, secretary-general of the Jewish community.

Sources told our associate Lucette Lagnado they believe it highly likely that the seven are being held by the Hezbollah either in Beirut or in the Syrian-controlled Bekaa Valley, not far from where the seven Americans are thought to be held. Reginald Bartholomew, the U.S. ambassador to Lebanon, has held discussions on the missing Jews with both Lebanese and Syrian officials, according to our sources.

Syrian President Hafez Assad was instrumental in obtaining the release of the American "TWA hostages" in July, and is believed by the State Department to have enough influence with the Shiite terrorists in the Bekaa Valley to intercede for the Jews and the remaining Americans. Whether he chooses to do so is another matter.

THE FUDDLE FACTORY: We told you recently how the State Department has responded to the dangers our diplomats face from terrorists; it set up a new bureau to address the problem. Well, the new bureau is already hard at work — building itself up. It has quietly advertised for 14 "security management professionals" to advise on measures to make U.S. embassies more secure. The bureau is also looking for an experienced contract officer to handle purchases of security equipment. Now if the terrorists will just hold off till the experts' advice is studied and the procurement procedure is duly followed...

TAX TINKERING: When President Reagan first unveiled his plan to "reform" the tax laws last spring, he presented it to Congress as essentially a take-it-or-leave-it proposition. No changes would be tolerated. Now the White House, under prodding by Treasury Secretary James Baker, is singing a more conciliatory — and realistic — tune. The three major changes most likely to emerge from Congress and be accepted by Reagan are elimination of some of the breaks granted to Big Oil; retention of deductions for at least part of state and local taxes, and more relief on the tax rate for middle-income families.

MINI-EDITORIAL: Some means have to be devised for the quick dispatch of seemingly frivolous lawsuits before we drown in a sea of litigation. Take a suit filed in federal court here last week by seven former students of the Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, the courtly guru of the Transcendental Meditation movement. The maharishi, who has been pondering the mysteries of levitation, promised to teach them how to fly, the plaintiffs said, but they only learned how to hop "with the legs folded in the lotus position." We think the judge ought to refer them to the "Airline Companies" section of the Yellow Pages and show them the door.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Kudos

Coach congratulates the larger 'team'

We highly commend the following special people who are working to build a winning athletic program as a part of the effort to create a better Big Spring:

- The Steer football players, who have made a commitment to success and who have exemplified their determination by participating in a rugged spring training, by continuing to practice hard and faithfully every week, and by persevering despite adversity until the final whistle blows every Friday night;
- The Steer coaches, some of whom are giving as much as 100 hours a week as their part in the drive toward winning in the classroom and on the football field;
- The Steer trainer Everett Blackburn and his assistants and managers, who work behind the scenes doing countless necessary tasks, often without notice or appreciation.

We also appreciate and thank those fans who are doing their part in these ways:

- 1) singing the national anthem;
- 2) standing, as is traditional, for every kickoff;
- 3) singing the Steer school song;
- 4) clapping and yelling with the Steer fight song;
- 5) cheering with the cheerleaders;
- 6) encouraging the Steers by applauding and yelling for them the entire game.

Special tribute goes out to the following:

- 1) the cheerleaders, who are providing both a new look in BSHS halls this year with signs galore and a renewed spirit and enthusiasm at pep rallies and games;
- 2) the Steer band, which is giving avid support at pep rallies and rousing performances at halftime on Friday nights;
- 3) the Booster Club, whose existence means interest;
- 4) those groups and individuals who have contributed various treats to the team;
- 5) the coaches' wives who provide the framework of devotion to their husbands and the Steers by sacrificing family life and by giving support with their presence and very vocal encouragement at the games.
- 6) teachers who have given extra time and effort to student athletes.

Join the campaign for a better Big Spring. Follow the example of these fine young people and adults: Be positive, be encouraging, hug a Steer today!

The only people who fail are those who do not even try.

Step forward to take Jesus

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Recently I watched one of your crusades on television. Why do you ask people to come forward at the end of your sermon in your crusades? To me religion is a very private matter and is no one else's business.

Mrs. E.W.
DEAR MRS. E.W.: One reason I invite people to come forward is a practical one. We have developed a set of special Bible studies and other materials to give to those who are committing their lives to Christ, and we also have trained counselors there who can help them understand what it means to be a Christian.

But the basic reason is that Jesus Christ calls us to take a public stand for Him — and this is one way a person can declare publicly that he wants to follow Christ. Jesus said, "I tell you, whoever acknowledges me before men, the Son of Man will also acknowledge him before the angels of God. But he who disowns me before men will be disowned before the angels of God" (Luke 12:8-9).

You see, to be a Christian is to commit our lives to Jesus Christ. Do you remember when you were married? You took a public vow, and you and your husband committed yourselves to each other publicly. In the same way, when we follow Christ we take our stand for Him publicly — not only when we decide to follow Him, but in our lives every day as we live for Him.

Your question makes me wonder if you have ever honestly turned your life over to Jesus Christ. God loves you, and He wants you to come to know Him personally. More than that, He wants to change your life.

Jesus said, "Let your light shine before men, that they may see your good deeds and praise your Father in heaven" (Matthew 5:16). But before you can be a light to others, you must first have allowed Jesus Christ, the Light of the world, to come into your life. Open your heart to Him today and then take your stand for Him without reserve.

Two cents worth for Fort Worth TV

To the editor:
I just want to put my two cents worth in on a vote for the TV station to take the place of WFAA Dallas. I submit a vote for TV station KTVT Fort Worth (not Dallas, as Mr. Thoman stated in the Herald. I'm surprised he didn't know that, being a "cable" man.)

Why this choice? Well, first of all, they have a couple of hours of country music on Saturday night, plus Texas Rangers ball games; (they) will carry the Willie Nelson-Merle Haggard farm concert this Sunday. Plus a lot of movies. Smaller towns west of us get this channel.

Writer says water is an 'atrocious'

To the editor:
Years ago we did not have to think of Big Spring water. It was just water. We made coffee, ice tea, put ice in our cokes or brushed our teeth with it. Now we can do none of these things. We must purchase water for our families to drink and especially for our company.

Ever since Big Spring has had to obtain water from a nearby lake, it has been a subject of ridicule and repulsion. It is hard to believe that something as simple as water can have such a foul taste, especially at times when they say the lake is "turning over."

Starting last Thursday, the horrid water we have been forcing ourselves to use, developed a malodorous peculiarity that almost forces us to gag while bathing.

I know I must not be alone. Is there no help from scientists locally or in other locations to help our town in this moment of atrocity?

Instructor enjoys moving to music

By KIM KIRKHAM
Lifestyle Writer

Laurie Churchwell makes a living doing something she enjoys — moving to music.

Churchwell, 26, is owner of the Dance Gallery and Fitness Center, 2303 Goliad.

She designs and teaches aerobics, including water aerobics, trains her aerobic instructors and teaches dance, including ballet, tap and jazz.

Churchwell also teaches a dance class for Howard College and trains and certifies aerobic instructors in the Texas and New Mexico area.

She has six instructors working for her.

The building has two dance studios, a tanning booth and a swimming pool designed especially for aerobics.

There are 115 dance students and 200 people enrolled in the aerobics programs.

Churchwell has been teaching aerobics for three years and dance for four years.

"I started out with dance and it grew into aerobics," she said. Aerobics is "a great form of exercise."

Churchwell loves "to move to music" and enjoys exploring different forms of dance.

She began taking dance classes when she was in sixth grade.

Churchwell considers her job ideal. "I can work with kids 2½ years old up to ladies 75 years old," she said.

The only disadvantage is that "the hours are real long," she said. Her work day begins at 7:30 a.m. and ends at 8:30 p.m.

Churchwell graduated from Texas Tech with a bachelor of science degree in dance and physical education.

She recently received certification from the Aerobics Institute in Dallas under the direction of Dr. Kenneth Cooper. "That is considered to be the highest certification there is," she said.

Cooper is known as the "father of aerobics," Churchwell said.

When not working, Churchwell rests, she said.

She and husband Tommy have been married four years. He owns and operates Churchwell Insurance, which also is located in the building.

"It takes both of us to keep this place going," she said about the joint businesses they opened

Laurie Churchwell doing aerobic routine two years ago.

"This is our baby," Churchwell said. "It takes up all our time."

Her husband participates in the men's aerobic class.

"I'm doing what I enjoy the most — dancing," Laurie said. "I'm lucky to be making a living out of a hobby."

Dear Abby

Bible camp gets flunking grade

DEAR ABBY: Our son recently returned from a Bible camp sponsored by our local church where the following incident occurred:

It was late evening when 25 to 35 kids, aged 13 and 14, were in the main dormitory with the lights out. Suddenly a dozen or so men in camouflage uniforms burst into the dorm with laptrons. One was armed with a shotgun, another had a rifle. They said they were an anti-Christian organization. No one was allowed to leave and several children were shoved and cuffed to indicate that they meant business.

The police arrived and contacted the camp counselor who, by the way, was a respected teacher and wrestling coach. He admitted it was a mock raid to show the kids what could happen to Christian children in some non-Christian countries!

My wife still thinks this was a good "educational experience" for our son, and that I missed the point. I am angry, to say the least. Would you say this was educational? Your comments, please.

ANGRY IN RICHFIELD, MINN.

DEAR ANGRY: It was indeed educational. You parents learned that the Bible camp counselor used unforgivably poor judgment when he subjected your children to an act of terrorism to make a point.

Dr. Donohue

TB germ can affect kidneys

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My sister, who is 68, had to have one of her kidneys removed. The doctor told her she had TB in the remaining kidney. We had never heard of this and thought you could give us some information about it. — Mrs. W.W.

Kidney tuberculosis, while definitely less common than the lung version, does happen. In fact, of the non-lung types that of the kidneys is the next most common.

The sequence of events in the infection is similar. When you first inhale the TB germ it goes to the lungs. It multiplies there and at that time may also spread to other parts of the body. Fortunately, the body realizes early enough what is going on and starts the process of sealing off the germs. That usually closes the chapter.

In some people, however, it is not the end of the story. Later in life those sealed off germs may break out of their capsule prisons and begin multiplying again. And while the lung is the usual site of this "rebirth" of the infection, if it takes place in the kidneys instead, then they become infected.

Early detection is important, and often that is a difficult thing to achieve. Today we have, as you know, many drugs to treat TB effectively wherever it appears. Now

Pokes ride by Browns, 20-7

IRVING (AP) — Forsaking their big-play image of the past, the Dallas Cowboys turned conservative in Sunday's 20-7 victory over the Cleveland Browns.

The offense — a monotony of short runs by Tony Dorsett and Timmy Newsome and short passes by Danny White — may not have been too exciting, but in coach Tom Landry's eyes it beat turning the ball over five times, as in a 26-21 loss to Detroit a week earlier.

Landry explained that the Cowboys decided to let the defense win the game and try to keep the offense from losing it.

"Overall, we tried to make first downs more than anything else. We set out to cut down the turnovers. That was our objective, and when you try to cut out turnovers, you're not going to play as wide open," he added.

Following that strategy, the Cowboys put 10 points on the board their first two possessions, then added another touchdown in the third quarter on Landry's only departure from plain vanilla — a third-down 12-yard halfback pass from James Jones to White.

Then when Cleveland quarterback Gary Danielson was in charge, the Cowboys defense did their thing.

Defensive backs Everson Walls and Dennis Thurman intercepted passes in the end zone to thwart two Cleveland scoring threats. Walls batted down another pass in the end zone on fourth down. Danielson was sacked four times for 24 yards in losses.

The one touchdown the Browns scored came after Danielson combined with running back Kevin Mack on a 56-yard pass play to the Dallas 1. Even then, the Cowboys defense threw back two thrusts at the goal before Earnest Byner finally scored on third down.

White said the ease with which the offense moved the length of the field on the Cowboys' first two possessions for a 33-yard Rafael Septien field goal and a 10-yard White-to-Doug Cosbie touchdown restored confidence that had faded last week at Detroit.

White handed the ball off to Jones, who ran outside right, then pulled up and threw back across the field to White who caught the ball all alone and trotted across the goal.

Dallas Cowboys quarterback DANNY WHITE (11) is chased by Cleveland Browns defender SCOTT NICHOLAS (58) during fourth quarter action of the Cowboys-Browns game.

Steel Curtain closes door on Oilers, 20-0

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Joe Greene no longer taunts offensive linemen, L.C. Greenwood and his gaudy gold shoes no longer terrorize quarterbacks, and Jack Ham spends his time in a broadcast booth instead of opponents' backfields.

The names may have changed — they're now Mike Merriweather, Bryan Hinkle, Edmund Nelson — but the name of the Pittsburgh Steelers' game hasn't. It's still defense.

Call it Steel Curtain II. "We still take great pride in our defense," safety Donnie Shell said after the Steelers recorded their first shutout in nearly four years by defeating the puncheonless Houston Oilers 20-0 Sunday.

The Oilers played right into Pittsburgh's hands with an offensive game plan that couldn't have been better suited to the Steelers if their own defensive coordinator, Tony Dungy, had designed it.

Houston's idea was to run the ball right at the gut of the Steelers' defense. All the Oilers did was run into trouble, gaining just 50 yards on 22 attempts.

It was Shell, the one remaining link between the Steel Curtain defense of old and the 1985 Steelers, who contributed the two biggest defensive plays.

Shell's 44th career interception, the most among active NFL players, set up the first of two Mark Malone to Louis Lipps touchdown passes in the first quarter.

After Houston had marched to the Steelers' 1 in the second quarter, Shell pounced on a fourth down fumble by Oilers' quarterback Warren Moon. The turnover came a play after Moon thought he had tumbled into the corner of the end zone, but the officials disagreed.

The Steelers managed only three points in the second half, the second of two 38-yard field goals by Gary Anderson, but Malone was content to keep the ball in the hands of his running backs and out of the hands of the Houston offense.

The Pittsburgh ground game ground out 233 yards, with fullback Frank Pollard gaining 83 yards on 15 carries and Malone himself contributing 47 yards on four attempts.

Malone attempted only 19 passes, completing nine for 126 yards, including just 45 yards in the second half.

A 25-yard Malone to Lipps scoring pass made it 7-0 midway through the first period and completed an 80-yard scoring drive.

49ers win battle of the bay, Miami broils KC

By The Associated Press
That shudder you might have heard throughout the National Football League is the reaction to the revitalization of the Steel Curtain and Killer Bees.

Pittsburgh's Steel Curtain defense blanked the Houston Oilers 20-0 Sunday and Miami's Killer Bees throttled the Kansas City Chiefs 31-0. Both the Steelers and Dolphins have been riding high-powered offenses to victory recently. This time, the resurrected defensive units were awesome in Week 3 of the NFL season.

As did the Dolphins in stopping the league's highest-scoring team, the Chiefs, who had scored 83 points in winning their first two games this season. After a scoreless first half, Miami also got its potent attack untracked as Dan Marino hit touchdown passes of nine yards to Bruce Hardy and 27 to Woody Bennett.

"There were more great plays out there defensively than I've been around in a long time," said Don Shula, who recorded his 100th home victory as the Dolphins' coach. "We've been hoping and 19-6, New Orleans downed Tampa Bay 20-13, and Indianapolis took Detroit 14-6.

It was also a good day for road teams. The winning visitors were San Francisco, 34-10 over the Los Angeles Raiders; the New York Jets, 24-3 against Green Bay; Denver, 44-28 at Atlanta; San Diego, which outlasted Cincinnati 44-41, and New England, 17-14 at Buffalo.

Elsewhere, it was Dallas 20, Cleveland 7, and the New York Giants 27, St. Louis 17. On Thursday night, Chicago belted Minnesota 33-24.

Tonight's game features the Los Angeles Rams, with NFL record-setting rusher Eric Dickerson slated to return to action after a long holdout, at Seattle. Both teams are 2-0.

Eagles 19, Redskins 16
The Eagles got field goals of 34, 36, 37 and 41 yards from Paul McFadden and their first touchdown this year, a 17-yard pass from rookie Randall Cunningham to Earnest Jackson.

Washington, which had its eight-game home winning string snapped, dropped to 1-2 and failed to score in double figures for the first time in 58 regular-season games.

The Redskins trailed 9-6 and were marching downfield when George Rogers fumbled at the Philadelphia 33. Wes Hopkins picked up the ball and returned it 42 yards to the Washington 25. Cunningham found Jackson three players later for the Eagles' TD.

"That was a hell of a win for us," said Eagles Coach Marion Campbell. "To beat a team like that on the road is quite a feat."

"Maybe it's time to sit down with a crystal ball and find out what's going on with us," said Redskins quarterback Joe Theismann, who hit 15 of 34 passes for 124 yards.

"Maybe we're not as good as everybody says we think we are."

Saints 20, Bucs 13
Dave Wilson threw two touchdown passes and safety Terry Hoage forced a fumble and intercepted a pass for New Orleans.

The Saints lost guards Brad Edelman and Kelvin Clark and center Steve Korte to first-half injuries, but their defense made up for it. Bill Capece tied a club record with a 51-yard field goal for Tampa Bay, 0-3, which lost receivers Jimmie Giles and Kevin House to injuries.

"Their outside linebackers really had it on a roll today," said Bucs QB Steve DeBerg, speaking of Rickey Jackson and Whitney Paul, each of whom had two sacks. "The presser was tremendous. You can't even see downfield when the pressure is that heavy."

Colts 14, Lions 6
Colts reserve fullback George Wonsley, starting because of Randy McMillan's sore ankle, rushed for a career-high 170 yards on 27 carries, recording the fifth-highest total in team history. He also caught five passes for 32 yards as Rod Dowhower won his first game as an NFL coach. The Lions' Darryl Rogers suffered his first NFL coaching defeat.

"George found out a little more about himself," said Dowhower, "and we found out a little about him."

49ers 34, Raiders 10
San Francisco routed the Raiders and knocked out LA quarterback Jim Plunkett, who will be sidelined from 6-10 weeks with a dislocated left shoulder.

The 49ers had 11 sacks for 91 yards in losses, led by Dwaine Board with three. Joe Montana threw TD passes of 20 yards to Roger Craig and 14 to Dwight Clark, while linebacker Milt Mc-

Coll sped 28 yards with a fumble recovery for another score.

"That out there today was just a total embarrassment," said Raiders safety Vann McElroy.

Jets 24, Packers 3
Tony Paige scored two touchdowns and the New York defense overwhelmed the error-prone Packers, sending starting quarterback Lynn Dickey to the sidelines in the third period.

Linebacker Lance Mehl had five tackles, two sacks and an interception.

The Jets clinched it early in the fourth quarter when the Packers tried a fake punt deep in their own territory. Guy Prather fumbled the snap and Jets defensive tackle Tom Baldwin recovered and ran nine yards for his first NFL touchdown.

Broncos 44, Falcons 28
John Elway had trouble hitting open receivers but managed three touchdown passes, and Rich Karlis kicked three field goals for Denver, which benefitted from two long pass interference calls on Atlanta's Wendell Cason, good for 31 and 42 yards. The 0-3 Falcons were without three injured regulars from their secondary.

"It may not have looked too pretty but the results were there," said Elway.

Chargers 44, Bengals 41
Bob Thomas' 34-yard field goal with four seconds remaining won this wild affair in which Lionel James caught one of Dan Fouts' four touchdown passes, good for 60 yards, and ran 56 yards on a draw play. James also had a 100-yard kickoff return nullified by a penalty.

Fouts was 24-for-43 for 344 yards, while Cincinnati's Boomer Esiason, a surprise starter, threw for 99 yards and three scores.

The Bengals, 0-3, led 41-34 with 4:39 left thanks to Larry Kinnebrew's 8-yard scoring jaunt. But Fouts found James, then James Brooks fumbled the ball back to the Chargers, who moved to the winning kick by Thomas.

Patriots 17, Bills 14
Given a second chance, Irving Fryar returned a third-quarter punt for 85 yards and a touchdown.

Buffalo's John Kidd had punted and Fryar was stopped, but the Bills were penalized and Kidd had to kick again. This time, Fryar went all the way to clinch the win.

"The key was that it was their second trip downfield because of the penalty," said Fryar. "I didn't even realize there was a penalty but they had to run back down 75 or 80 yards."

New England's other TD came on a 5-yard pass from halfback Craig James to Tony Collins. The Bills scored their first touchdown of the year when Greg Bell went 16 yards with a Vince Ferragamo pass in the second period.

Giants 27, Cardinals 17
St. Louis hurt itself with penalties and three second-half turnovers and the Giants took advantage for TD passes of 20 and 16 yards by Phil Simms. Bobby Johnson, who caught the 16-yarder in the fourth quarter, also had an 8-yard score as he hauled in his first two receptions this season.

Phil McConkey, who grabbed the 20-yard TD toss, also had his first two catches of the year.

working and praying that it would come around, and it did in the second half."

Chiefs quarterback Bill Kenney praised the Dolphin defense but he wasn't exactly impressed by his team's performance.

"I was ineffective. Our receivers were ineffective. We were just ineffective," Kenney said. "We learned we're not good enough to just show up and expect to win."

Three teams won their first games of the season Sunday. Philadelphia upset Washington

Quinn's Quarter

BIG SPRING STEERS HEAD COACH QUINN EUDY HAD THESE COMMENTS FOLLOWING FRIDAY'S 35-0 WIN OVER LUBBOCK MONTEREY.

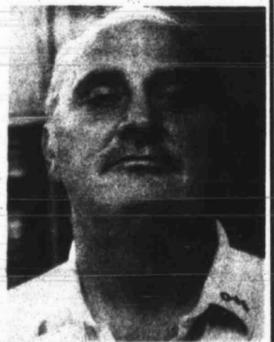

"We are tickled to death to get the first win. It's a great confidence builder going into district against Midland."

"The kids went out and played real well in the first half. They were relaxed; there was no pressure on them. Offensively we threw and caught the ball well and our backs ran with some crispness. One thing that impressed me was our concentration. We only had one offside penalty."

"We took care of the ball. The only turnovers we had were second half water fumbles. We really didn't try to do anything in the second half because of the conditions. We went into our non-fumble offense. That's why we chose to kickoff in the second half, hoping to get them in a hole; and it worked."

"I think it helped some having so many players going one way. I'd rather not have to go with two-way starters."

"Our secondary will get a good test this week against Midland."

QUINN EUDY

They throw the ball real well. The Marcum kid (James Marcum, Midland QB) is coming back and he's the top passer in the district. They have above average receivers and an excellent tight end.

"We must put pressure on the passer and the secondary must not have any breakdowns. We'll have to play error free, technique football. I think it will be a medium scoring game. Maybe three touchdowns will win."

Ex-champ learns lesson about life

EDITOR'S NOTE: It was almost as if a third fighter was in the ring Saturday night when Michael Spinks denied Larry Holmes boxing history, a 49th consecutive victory which would have tied Rocky Marciano's record. Here's the way Marciano might have viewed the fight.

By ROCKY MARCIANO
Assisted by Hal Bock
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Thanks, Michael. I needed that. I remember when the kid first signed to fight Larry Holmes and said he was fighting for me, to protect my record. That was nice, but I thought, "Hey, don't do me any favors. Do it for yourself, not for me."

Then Holmes started popping off, questioning my record, saying it included exhibitions against my brother and stuff like that. He didn't need to do that. I think the guy has a Muhammad Ali complex, always trying to shoot off his mouth to get attention. Anyway, that won't be a problem now, will it?

What I liked about the way Spinks won the title were the things he did that reminded me of the way I fought. He swarmed in after Holmes, pumping away with both hands. He wasn't afraid of Larry. He took it right to him. That was my style. Go right after the guy. Don't fool around dancing and pulling that other cute stuff.

I'll tell you this, though. I would have banged away more at Holmes' arms and shoulders than Michael did, and worn him down that way. The guy's almost 36 years old. I would have leaned on him good. But, hey, Michael did all right without any advice from me.

Holmes kept trying to establish that snapping jab. He's hurt a lot of guys with that punch. It might be the best jab in boxing. You have to give Spinks credit, the way he covered up and defended against it. He looked like he was using the old Floyd Patterson peek-a-boo defense.

I was never one for those fancy, technical skills. I went in to hit the other guy as much as I could, wherever I could, until one of us went down or we ran out of rounds. That was the way you would do it in the streets. I figured that was what fighting meant.

Charley Goldman and Al Weil, my manager and trainer, worked all the time trying to teach that other stuff to me, and I did learn how to cut off the ring pretty good. Holmes did that in the late rounds against Spinks, but Michael kept slipping away from him. That wasn't a problem for me.

People kept saying Spinks was too small to fight as a heavyweight, and that bothered me. I only weighed 188 in my last fight against Archie Moore. Michael is taller than I was and, at 200, he weighed more, too. If he's too small, does that mean I was, too?

Early in fight, Larry had Spinks sucking wind from a couple of hard lefts to the midsection. Holmes walked away from them smiling, kind of self-satisfied. I bet he's not smiling now, though.

Spinks complained to the ref about Holmes' tactics — holding behind the neck, maybe an occasional "excuse me" thumb. I didn't like that. What did he expect in there? A tea party? Boxing's a rough business. He came for a fight and that was what Larry was giving him.

There was a time when boxing had an unwritten rule that to beat a champion, you had to knock him out, that they'd never take away a man's title on a decision. I never thought that was right. If you beat a man on points, you beat him and the fact that he's the champ shouldn't make any difference. I also didn't take any chances with it. Except for the first Ezzard Charles fight, I knocked out every man I ever fought in a title match.

Holmes said he thought he won the Spinks fight and maybe he did. But some people didn't think he won the Tim Witherspoon fight or the Carl Williams fight when he got the decisions. So maybe he shouldn't have been as close to my record as he was. But that doesn't matter anymore, either, does it?

Spinks deserves credit for what he accomplished. He was a 6-1 underdog and nobody expected him to win. But don't forget Holmes. He was a great champion. Now it's somebody else's turn. That's how boxing is, and that's how life is.

No time outs

There are no time outs in business. When an advertising opportunity pops up, you have to act quickly...or somebody else will.

Newspapers are the medium of choice when you have to move fast. You can prepare newspaper advertising quickly. There's rarely any problem with space availability because newspapers are expandable. Finally, timing of message delivery is precise, so you reach your targets when you want to.

Next time there's no time to lose, remember the timely medium.

GEORGE STRAIT will perform here Oct. 12.

Singer George Strait coming here Oct. 12

Country singer George Strait, singer of "Amarillo By Morning," will perform Oct. 12 at Howard College's Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. Tickets are $11 in advance and $12.50 at the door. They are on sale at the Howard College business office, Big Spring Athletics, the Chambers of Commerce in Lamesa and Colorado City and Endless Horizons in Midland and Odessa. Strait's hits include "Marina Del Rey," "Fool Hearted Memory," "A Fire I Can't Put Out," and others. His first record, "Unwound," became one of the top ten. Recently Strait upgraded his band, adding a keyboard player, and he has recorded with producer Ray Baker, whose credits include Moe Bandy and Merle Haggard.

"Ray and I think along the same lines," Strait said. "The traditional sound is what country music is to me. All I've ever wanted to be from the time I started was a country singer."

Strait is a Texan, born in Poteet, just south of San Antonio, and raised on his father's cattle ranch in Big Wells. He graduated from Southwest Texas State with a degree in agriculture.

Steer roping is one of his favorite hobbies, he says, though he has little time for it now. "I never was all that great at roping. I just enjoyed doing it. It takes a lot of time away from my family, so I kind of put it on the back burner for now," he said.

Steer Band performs at Tech

Over 2,500 band students from 27 high schools, including Big Spring, participated with the Texas Tech University's "Goin' Band from Raiderland" as Tech honored area bands with "Band Day."

Steer Band participated in a massed band rendition of "Danny Boy," and returned late Saturday night, following the game, Mitchell said.

VA hospital is accredited

The Veterans Administration Medical Center in Big Spring was recently awarded accreditation by the Joint Commission for Accreditation of Hospitals.

The long-term care facilities, according to a release from the hospital. "Accreditation means that our efforts to provide high-quality health care to the veterans in our area have received professional and national recognition," the release said.

UTPB seeks area photos

University of Texas of the Permian Basin wants to buy photographs of the campus and the Odessa-Midland area. Landscapes, portraits, wildlife and people pictures are sought to use in slide shows and for publication by the university, according to a university news release. Black and white and color prints and color slides are sought.

Appointments should be made through senior secretary Susan Estes at 367-2336.

Cancer fund established

A fund was established today for Helen Caudill of 1105 College who is undergoing continuing cancer treatment in Houston. The account is set up at First National Bank under the name, The Helen Caudill Cancer Fund, according to organizers A.A. Cooper and Dee Worthan.

Caudill is in a five-week stay on her third trip to Houston's M.D. Anderson hospital, Cooper said. Her husband died of cancer about five years ago, he said. For more information, contact Cooper at 267-2700 or Worthan at 267-6812.

Crop insurance decision due

Texas farmers have until Monday, Sept. 30, to buy crop insurance for small grains. Producers who insured their small grain crops last year will have their contracts renewed automatically unless they cancel them, according to the agricultural extension service. Any changes in the level of coverage or price election also must be made by Sept. 30. Multiple peril crop insurance for 1985-86 wheat, oats and barley will be available only under the actual production history program. In that program, yield guarantees are based on actual production records of the insured or grower rather than on county average yields, an extension service economist said.

Farmers must produce evidence of previous years' production and acreages. The premium cost per acre may be higher than when the program was based on county average yields, the economist said. Selecting crop insurance requires choosing a price election and a yield guarantee of either 50, 65 or 75 percent of past production history. Price elections are $1.30, $1.50 or $1.80 a bushel for barley; 80 cents, $1 or $1.25 for oats and $2, $2.80 or $3.30 a bushel for wheat. The combination of yield guarantee and price election determines the level of insurance coverage and cost of the premium.
