U.S. jets intercept hijackers

Palestinian terrorists held in Italy

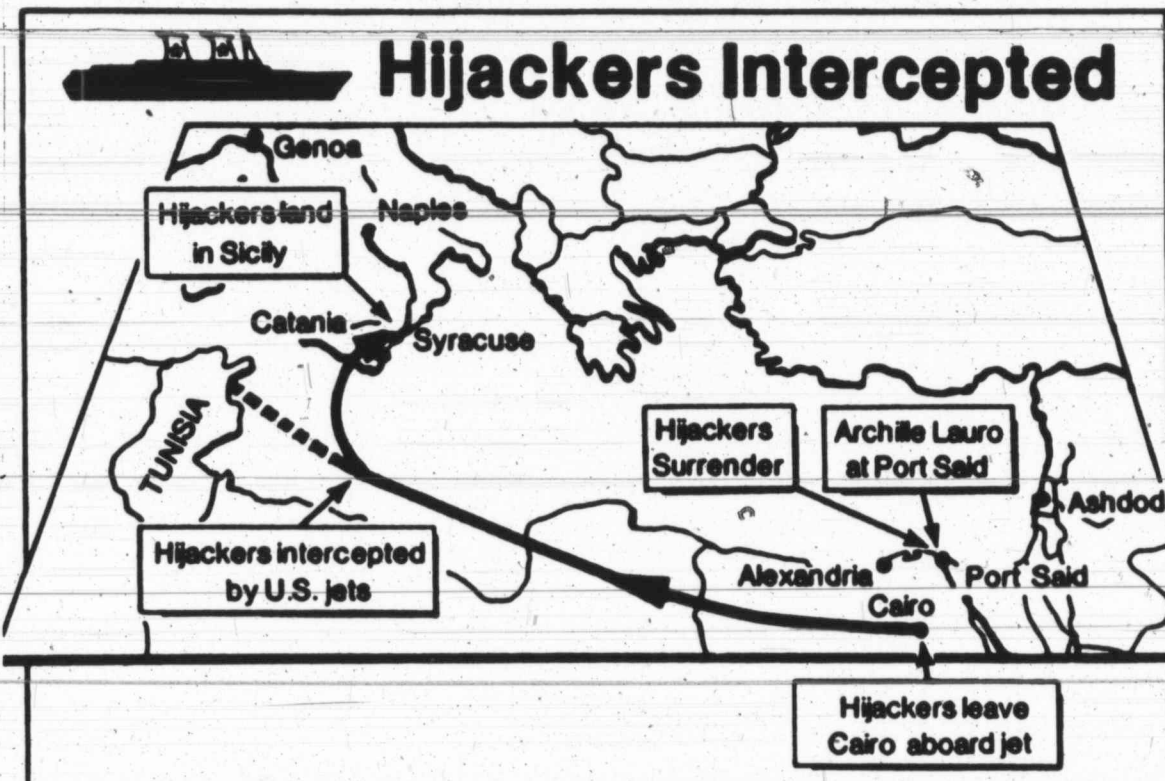

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — Police took the Palestinian hijackers of a luxury liner into custody today to stand trial in Italy after the Egyptian jet they were aboard was forced by U.S. warplanes to land in Sicily.

A White House spokesman said the United States is willing to let Italy try the four pirates for the murder of a partially paralyzed American Jew who was a passenger aboard the cruise ship but will still file an extradition request.

The armed Palestinians pirates, who identified themselves as members of a Palestine Liberation Organization splinter group, commandeered the Achille Lauro off Egypt on Monday and held more than 500 passengers and crew hostage for two days.

The ship was still anchored in Port Said when Egyptian authorities canceled its sailing permit today, just hours after the U.S. warplanes captured the Egyptian plane. A Western source who went aboard the ship said passengers, who include an estimated six Americans, were not being allowed to disembark.

Egypt put the hijackers and two PLO officials aboard an Egyptian Boeing 737 Thursday for a flight out of the country.

As the plane was over the Mediterranean on its way to Tunisia, where the PLO has its headquarters, U.S. Navy F-14 fighters took off from the aircraft carrier Saratoga to meet it. White House spokesman Larry Speakes told a news conference late Thursday.

"The president directed that U.S. forces intercept the aircraft," as part of a U.S. policy of "apprehension, prosecution and punishment of terrorists," Speakes said. "This operation was conducted without firing a shot."

The airliner touched down at Sicily's Sigonella airport at 12:30 a.m. (7:30 p.m. Thursday EDT) and "was surrounded by American and Italian troops," officials said.

The hijackers were taken off the aircraft for trial in Italy, the spokesman for Italian Prime Minister Bettino Craxi told The Associated Press. It was not immediately clear what charges might be brought.

Legislators say capture was 'great'

By PHILLIP SWANN
 Harle-Hanks Washington Bureau
 WASHINGTON — Texas lawmakers Friday morning applauded the Reagan administration's dramatic interception of an Egyptian airliner carrying four Palestinian hijackers believed to be responsible for the killing of an American.

Several congressmen urged immediate extradition of the pirates to the United States to stand trial for the murder.

"Maybe we should try them on the high seas, with a kangaroo court," said Rep. Albert Bustamante, D-San Antonio. "A kangaroo court might be too good for them. We'll give them the same justice they gave Mr. Klinghoffer. They killed an American and God knows how many other Americans they may have killed."

Four U.S. Navy jet fighters Thursday intercepted the airliner carrying the hijackers of the Italian cruise ship Achille Lauro, forcing it to land in Italy.

Leon Klinghoffer, a 69-year-old New York resident confined to a wheelchair, was reportedly shot in the head and thrown overboard by the hijackers.

Welles, dead at 70, is 'bigger than life'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Orson Welles' regular table at the fashionable Ma Maison restaurant remained empty the night of his death, the candle unlit.

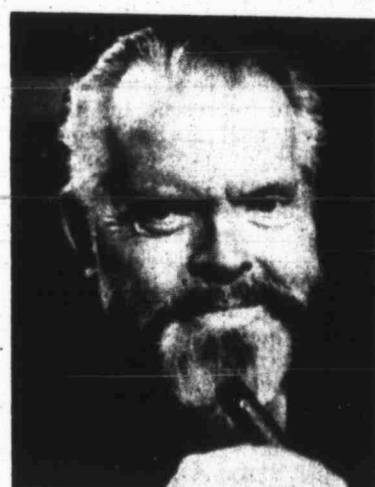

It will remain so for at least a week in memory of the man who panicked the nation with his radio tale of a Martian invasion and went on to stun the film world with his classic "Citizen Kane," all by the time he was 25.

Welles, who died of a heart attack Thursday at age 70, often found refuge at his small table in the intimate bar-lounge near the maitre d's reception station, ordering his favorite drink: Perrier with a twist of lime, no ice.

Although the actor-writer-director was a well-known spokesman for Paul Masson wines, he didn't order them at the restaurant.

"We don't have Paul Masson wine on our wine list," said bartender Kenny Antonioli, 26.

Patrick Terrail, longtime friend of Welles and owner of the Melrose Avenue restaurant frequented by many Hollywood stars, said Welles might have been a legend, but few people really knew him.

ORSON WELLES
 ...Bigger than life

"I think a lot of people admired him greatly, but very few people knew him because he was bigger than life," he said.

Welles developed a routine at the restaurant over the years. His arrival through the restaurant's kitchen was always heralded three minutes in advance by his black toy poodle, Kiki, carried in by Welles' driver.

Board earmarks funds for student attendance

By SPENCER SANDOW
 Staff Writer
 The Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees at its regular meeting Thursday approved $13,000 for prizes for this year's attendance contest.

The purpose of the contest is to boost attendance during the four-week period ending the first week of November, which the state will use to determine funding.

Before last year, state funds were based on average attendance of the entire year, said Superintendent Lynn Hise.

The allotment is $1,511 per student per year. With 100 percent attendance, the district could receive $6.97 million, said Hise. He said that's not the only funding the district gets from the state, but it is the basic allotment. During the contest, elementary schools will compete against other elementary schools, and secondary schools will compete by grade. First place winners will receive $3,000 to be used for the students' benefit on equipment or capital improvements for the campus. Second place winners will receive $2,000 and third place winners $1,000.

To be eligible to win, a school or grade level must show an increase in average attendance over last year. Crockett said the contest generated an additional $85,000 to $90,000 in state funds for the district last year.

Cosden employees practice fighting a chemical fire Thursday during a training session.

Workers take fiery class

By SPENCER SANDOW
 Staff Writer
 About 25 men in red and yellow waterproof coats and firemen's hats casually stood in front of a pool of evil-smelling, gray chemicals in a ditch at Cosden refinery Thursday afternoon.

The men were trainees at a firefighting and prevention class this week for Fina Oil and Chemical employees Cosden a subsidiary of Fina.

The casual atmosphere disappeared minutes later when the pool was touched by flame. Bright orange fire had coated the pool as fast as only fire can. A huge column of thick, black smoke billowed into the air, obliterating half the sky.

Lines of men with hoses slowly closed in like a red and yellow tug-of-war team. The thick yellow hoses let loose a wide spray of water aimed at the flaming pool.

Soon calm returned, and the smoke disappeared into the cloudy desert sky. The men sauntered over to the shed for a rest and a drink of cool water.

The fire had been put out in about 2½ minutes, but "when you're out there under it, it seems like forever," said Larry Futch, Fina and Cosden pipeline safety coordinator.

Futch was one of several instructors teaching trainees how to fight chemical fires that can occur when working with petroleum.

Some class members were fire brigade members, always at hand at Cosden, but most were engineers or pipe line or production workers who just need to know what to do in an emergency.

Instructor Jimmy Wood of Cosden, who has been teaching the course about 13 years, said he has never had anyone hurt during the training.

Wood said he spends the morning in the classroom teaching students "what we're going to do, how to do it and what not to do" during a fire. They spend the afternoon actually working with fire. "We start out with small fires and progress from there," he said.

The most difficult part to learn, he said, is using a water fog to extinguish a fire. Foam is easier and expends less men and equipment, but it's not always available, so Wood teaches both methods, he said.

Wednesday the trainees worked with chemical extinguishers, Thursday with water and foam, and Friday they will work with respirators (to help them breathe with dangerous chemicals in the air), he said.

The pool is mostly water with flammable propane and hydrocarbon floating on top. A worker with an asbestos-wrapped torch sets the pool afire, Wood said. A number of 350-pound dry chemical fire extinguishers, about three feet high with big red wheels, stand nearby.

The trainees spend more time learning how to prevent fires than how to extinguish them, Wood said. Anyone can have a fire, he said, but it doesn't happen very often.

But the training paid off during a Cosden fire here last March. Wood said about 150 people fought the fire, which shot fireballs more than 80 feet in the air. It destroyed the company's electrical and computer systems but caused no injuries.

Regents see room for compromise

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The chairman of the University of Texas board of regents says there's room for more compromise on the issue of divestment of funds from companies that do business in the apartheid country of South Africa.

But the board took no action Thursday after hearing what board chairman Jess Hay praised as a "rational" approach by students calling for divestment.

"I want to give some thought to what they propose," he said after the meeting.

Before the meeting, a few hundred students held their second rally in two days at the University of Texas at Arlington where the board met.

But later, dressed in business suits, the students made a low-key, businesslike pitch to the regents.

Darrick Eugene, a 22-year-old student at the UT Austin campus who helped organize the effort, said he hadn't expected a vote from the all-white board on Thursday.

He said he expected to meet privately with board chairman Jess Hay "to discuss what sort of dialogue might be implemented."

Hay told the students the board finds apartheid "appalling and repugnant."

He said the university system has about $773 million invested in companies that do business in the apartheid government of South Africa. But he estimated that only about $2 to $3 million of that is actually invested in South Africa by those companies.

Ironically, the fight to take a stand against apartheid was made on a campus where most of the students in the 1960s protested not the Vietnam War but a proposal to dump "Johnny Reb" as the school mascot.

Today, UTA teams are not the Rebels, but the Mavericks, and the president of the Student Congress is black, although minorities make up only one percent of the 23,000-member student body.

Still, Donna Darovich, UTA's news services director who also attended UTA as a student, said, "This has always been a fairly conservative, working student body."

Almost half the students are commuters from Dallas, Fort Worth and area suburbs. The average age is 25.

Sarah Wood, a fifth-year elementary education major, said there hasn't been widespread interest across campus in the apartheid issue, although she sympathizes and thinks the political activity gives UTA a good image.

PROTESTERS GATHER outside the University of Texas at Arlington library Thursday. Students and community leaders gathered and marched across the campus to protest University of Texas system investments in companies that do business in South Africa.

Music major Troy Patterson said, "I'm not sure that will convince people whose minds aren't made up. Facts might, but rah-rah won't."

But fact was part of the student effort Thursday, along with the protests. Another student argued the regents should be interested in upgrading UT's image after fighting integration in the 1950s.

Calling for a "moderate, but reasonable withdrawal" of funds from companies doing business in South Africa, Black Student Alliance leader Barron Wallace, urged the board to join the ranks of progressive schools like Harvard and Columbia University. Both are divesting their South African-tied funds.

Dallas County Commissioner John Wiley Price, who got in on the students' act, added, "It's not good business to do business with the state of South Africa."

Jewelry stolen from store

Someone stole $8,200 worth of jewelry from Gee's Jewelry at Big Spring Mall, manager Jevvie Gee told police Thursday.

Gee found the jewelry missing from inventory and told police she thinks it was taken between June and Sept. 25. Missing are a ruby and diamond worth $3,500, a two-carat nugget cluster worth $4,500 and $200 cash.

Jerry Wayne Mason, 30, of 1021 E. 21st was arrested at 3 p.m. Thursday on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of a minor accident, according to police reports.

Mason was westbound on Interstate 20 in a 1978 white and reddish-brown Pontiac Grand Prix when he left the roadway, struck a gas meter and left the scene of the accident, the reports stated. Police arrested him in the 2000 block of Donley.

Police on Thursday arrested Rebecca Ann Freitag, 18, of 1509 Lancaster on suspicion of driving without a license and no valid car inspection. The arrest was made at 2:31 p.m. in the 400 block of 11th, according to police reports.

Lynn Richards of 2614 Fairchild told police someone stole a silver and blue BMX boys' bicycle, valued at $100, from her backyard between 4 p.m. Monday and 6 p.m. Wednesday, according to police reports.

Police recovered a Toyota that had been stolen from the Senior Citizens Center at Big Spring Airport Tuesday. The car was found abandoned at 1207 Lindbergh at 10:36 a.m. Thursday, Lt. Jerry Edwards said.

Vandals caused $1,000 worth of damage to a 1985 red Pontiac Fiero owned by D. Devin of 805 Edward between 11:30 and 11:45 p.m. Thursday, according to police reports. The car's windshield, left mirror, rear spoiler, right opera window, rear deck and roof were damaged.

Someone stole a space heater and equipment, valued at $60, from Ray Morgan of 3613 Calvin between noon Tuesday and 2 p.m. Thursday, according to police reports.

Sheriff's Log

Man free after serving time

Howard County sheriff's deputies released Bobby Eugene Masters, 46, of P.O. Box 2524 from county jail Thursday afternoon after he served time for violating the terms of his probation for a driving while intoxicated judgment.

He was placed in jail Sept. 18.

Big Spring Police transferred Irlando Jackman, 21, of Westover Apartments No. 42 to county jail Thursday morning after his arrest on suspicion of DWI.

He was released on $1,000 bond.

Deputies arrested Rhonda Laverne Covert, 18, of 507 E. 15th for outstanding fines she owes the county. She was released after paying the remainder of her fines to the county clerk's office.

Deputies arrested Joanne Cerda, 31, of 1507-A Sycamore on a warrant charging her with violating terms of her probation received from a DWI judgment. She was released on $1,000 bond set by County Judge Milton Kirby.

Police transferred Jerry Mason, 30, of 1021 E. 21st to county jail after his arrest on suspicion of DWI. He was released on $1,000 bond.

$1,800 to create a paved play area at Kentwood Elementary School.

The Kentwood PTA will fund $1,000 of the total cost, and $900 for the project will come from prize money Kentwood won in last year's attendance project.

The asphalt play area will be located at the west end of the building and will primarily be used by kindergartners, according to a letter distributed at the meeting by board member Don Crockett.

The board also went into executive session to discuss security matters. Hise said no action was taken, and he had no comment on the session's proceedings.

The district has had "some vandalism problems throughout the summer," Hise said. The board will research the subject, "look at past cases, and so on," before deciding what to do, he said. The subject may be discussed at the next meeting, he said.

Reaction

Secretary of State George Shultz Friday morning urged the Italian government to extradite the Palestinians to the United States. However, Italian officials have balked, saying they will try the hijackers.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, said the U.S. military action was "marvelous." "That's wonderful. That's just great," Bentsen said upon learning the news.

Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, echoed Bentsen's statement: "It was great. I think it was perfectly appropriate. Finally, we were able to identify terrorists and take them without harming anyone." Rep. Solomon Ortiz, D-Corpus Christi, agreed.

Jury hearing set Hijack

Felonies ranging from hindering a secured creditor to forgery are scheduled to be heard by the Martin County grand jury at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the county courthouse in Stanton.

District Judge James Gregg appointed commissioners who yesterday selected 12 jurors to hear 10 cases to be presented by assistant district attorney Robert Morris.

"I hope we can clear it up in half a day," Morris said, "but you never can tell."

Western diplomats say the Palestinians killed Leon Klinghoffer, 69, of New York City. Klinghoffer was partially paralyzed after suffering a stroke and was often confined to a wheelchair. Speakers today said the United States is willing to have the hijackers prosecuted in Italy but would file an extradition request with Italy so "if the matter is not disposed of legally in Italy, the United States will have an opportunity to try them."

years, said Bill McQueary, superintendent of instruction and personnel. The board will take action to replace her at the next meeting.

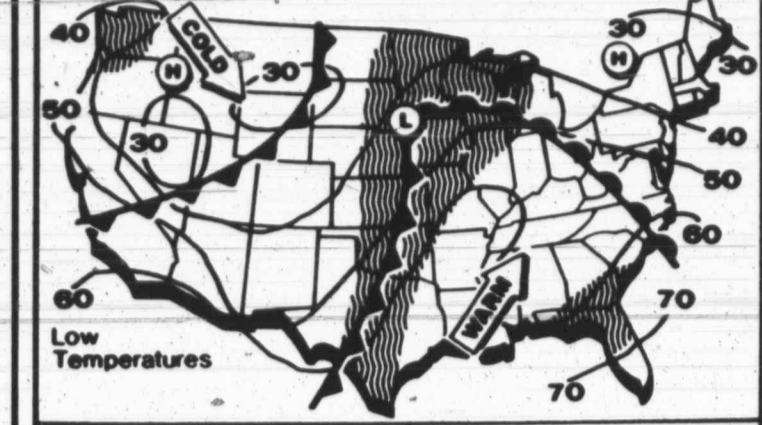

The board also approved the hiring of kindergarten teacher Lora Phillips Bruton of Big Spring for Lakeview Elementary. The addition was made to comply with House Bill 72's required 1-to-22 teacher-student ratio, McQueary said.

In other action, board members were nominated to serve on the Howard County Consolidated Tax Appraisal Board, under provisions of the Property Tax Code. Two candidates to represent the school district will be elected in November by votes cast by each taxing unit participating. Representatives serve for two years.

Also, Title II funds were assigned to Region 18 Education Service Center to be used for staff development. Superintendent Lynn Hise said the center will provide math and science instruction for all teachers and problem-solving instruction for elementary teachers.

State

By The Associated Press
A poor air mass that has invaded the Lone Star State kept skies mostly cloudy and brought rain through Central Texas early today, with the chance of precipitation continuing through this weekend.

Only South Texas had fair skies as the front remained over the northwestern half of Texas, along a line from Texarkana through Temple to Sanderson. Steamy tropical air lingered in the southeast.

Travelers' advisories were posted from the Panhandle southward across the Permian Basin by the National Weather Service, with a 1/4-mile visibility at Lubbock.

Patches of light rain spread north of the front in Central Texas. Low temperatures were in the 50s and 60s north of the front and 70s to its south. Extremes were 49 degrees at Amarillo, with fog and drizzle, and 79 at Austin.

Forecast

West Texas: Partly cloudy tonight and sunny Saturday. Fog north producing low visibilities will cause hazardous driving conditions until late morning. Warmer with a chance of thunderstorms through Saturday. Lows tonight lower 60s valleys of southwest to mid 40s panhandle. Highs Saturday 70 Panhandle and mountains to near 90 south.

Killed on the bus

DETROIT — An 85-year-old man shot to death a younger man who attacked him on a bus, after saying "You don't know who you're messing with," witnesses told police.

Homicide Inspector Gilbert Hill said the elderly man, Jerome Gilbert, was freed after questioning about the shooting Thursday.

The victim, whom police did not identify, died in the emergency room of Detroit Receiving Hospital of wounds from a .25 caliber handgun, Hill said.

Agent admits kickback

PITTSBURGH — A former FBI agent who infiltrated a drug ring says he took large kickbacks from drug dealers because he lost control of an undercover investigation that pitted him against both international cocaine smugglers and FBI bureaucrats.

"I had just given up," Daniel A. Mitrone Jr., 38, testified Thursday in the trial of Hilmer B. Sandini, 61, of Coral Springs, Fla., a convicted con man who earned $800 a week as a paid FBI informant.

Vows to look for bodies

PONCE, Puerto Rico — President Reagan declared parts of this Caribbean island a federal disaster area, and Gov. Rafael Hernandez Colon vowed to search for hundreds of bodies believed buried in the Mameyes shantytown "as long as humanly possible."

The National Guard ordered everyone out of the shantytown Thursday after Hernandez Colon said he was considering turning the community into a common grave to avoid outbreak of disease.

Decision called lenient

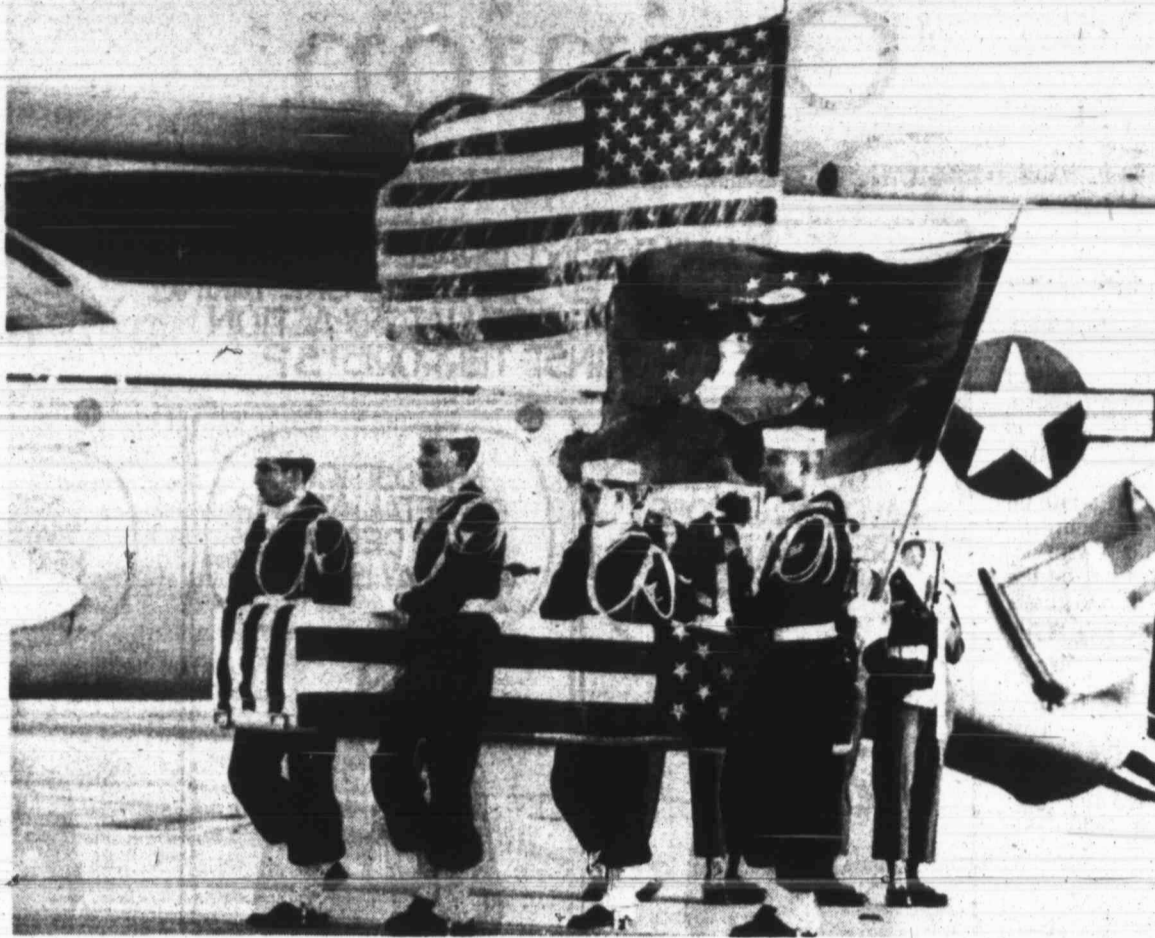

ST. PAUL, Minn. — A decision allowing prosecutor Kathleen Morris to keep her job despite a finding that she betrayed the public trust in handling alleged child sex abuse cases is too lenient, says the lawyer who presented evidence against her.

A special commission that investigated 26 allegations of misconduct against Ms. Morris found seven were proved and two constituted malfeasance. But the panel recommended she not be removed from her post as Scott County attorney.

Cells help doctors

CHICAGO — High white blood cell counts, already linked to coronary heart disease and cancer in humans, may help doctors reliably determine who is likely to develop the diseases, according to a study reported today.

"We cannot determine from these data whether white blood cell count is a cause or consequence of the disease process in this high-risk male population," noted the study published in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Breakthrough

Hanoi agrees to let U.S. search for MIAs

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — In what could be a major breakthrough in the search for Americans missing in action, a top-ranking Vietnamese Cabinet minister says his government is agreeable in principle to allowing U.S. excavation teams into the Hanoi area for the first time.

Other official American and Vietnamese sources said Vietnam has agreed to a U.S. proposal that the countries carry out a joint survey and excavation of a crash site near Hanoi as an experiment.

The sources said the date and other details of the excavation have yet to be worked out.

Vo Dong Giang, a Cabinet minister without portfolio and the second-ranking official in the Foreign Ministry, told The Associated Press Wednesday that with regard to joint excavations: "In principle we are agreeable except in the crash sites where our security cannot permit foreigners to have access."

A U.S. State Department official in Washington confirmed that American officials have discussed the joint excavation of sites with a Vietnamese delegation led by Giang.

The State Department official, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the Vietnamese had expressed their agreement in principle to the proposal at meetings in Hanoi Aug. 28-29 and in New York Sept. 27 with Richard Childress, the National Security Council's political and military affairs director.

The State Department official said that since both sides had agreed to speed up the search, the U.S. passed on to the Vietnamese "many more cases" at a meeting in Hanoi Aug. 28-29.

"Both sides are very positive about the process at this point," the State Department official said.

The first official U.S. excavation in Communist territory was carried out last February in southern Laos at the site where a C-130 transport was shot down in December 1972.

American excavation teams have never ventured into North Vietnam, although recovery operations were carried out in U.S.-backed South Vietnam before the fall of its capital, Saigon, in April 1975.

Hanoi previously has limited American teams to rare visits of crash sites.

In his interview with the AP, Giang disclosed for the first time details of Vietnam's three-part plan designed to settle the MIA issue within two years:

- The Vietnamese will do the major part of the searches.
- In cases where it is extremely difficult to reach crash sites such as those in deep water or in an abyss where cranes and other heavy equipment would be needed, Hanoi would ask the U.S. for help. "These are few in number," Giang said.

Rebels stage assault

LA UNION, El Salvador — An estimated 350 leftist guerrillas armed with homemade bombs, and rocket launchers staged the largest rebel assault in almost a year, attacking a base housing thousands of military trainees and killing at least 40 of them.

The rebels' Radio Venceremos said Thursday night that the attack had been aimed at American advisers they believed to be in the camp, but that the rebels could not locate them. The rebels were driven off after two hours of fighting.

Rains ease drought

NAIROBI, Kenya — Five African countries still face mass starvation and will need large quantities of food aid next year, the Food and Agricultural Organization said.

The United Nations agency, in a report issued Thursday night, called for continued assistance to Angola, Botswana, Ethiopia, Mozambique and Sudan. But it said rains had ended drought conditions and alleviated famine conditions in much of the rest of Africa.

Ethiopia gets help

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia — Vehement Western opposition to Ethiopia's resettlement program is slowly giving way to grudging acceptance and, in some cases, a willingness to help.

The Marxist government has been tirelessly promoting the program, in which more than 500,000 people have been moved from drought-afflicted areas of the north to more fertile areas in the southwest.

Schools set ablaze

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Police said today that schools, vehicles and homes were set on fire in outbreaks of anti-apartheid unrest, and that they held more than 1,000 people under emergency powers.

On Thursday, white South Africans marked a national holiday in memory of an Afrikaner leader, but not far away anti-apartheid violence flared up.

Spy suspect arrested

BONN, West Germany — A member of the extreme right wing National Democratic Party has been arrested on suspicion of spying for communist East Germany, officials said today.

The announcement marks the 10th espionage case made public since a secretary to Bonn's economics minister fled to East Germany in early August.

Among those who have fled to East Germany in the past two months has been a top counterspy who was in charge of monitoring East Germany's espionage activities in West Germany.

To my Patients,

I am happy to announce the relocation of my office from Malone and Hogan Clinic to 1700 West Farm Road 700 — the same building in which I first began practicing in Big Spring, in 1981. My new office faces FM 700, and is directly behind Malone-Hogan Hospital. You may reach me at my new number 267-1607, effective October 15. Until then, you can reach me at 263-1211, Malone-Hogan Hospital.

I appreciate your confidence in choosing me as your orthopedic surgeon. As I commit myself to the area with the purchase of my own building, I also commit myself, and my staff, to continue to provide the best care possible for you in the most effective, and therefore least costly manner.

If you need me in any way, please call me at the hospital, my home, or at my new office on and after October 15.

Sincerely,
R. K. Reddy, M.D.

Dear Abby

Buy doubles for twins

DEAR ABBY: A reader wrote that she was going to a shower for a friend who was expecting triplets. Her question: "Must I bring three presents, or is one gift acceptable?"

Your reply: "Give three gifts — one for each baby; the cost of all three should amount to whatever you would have spent had your friend been expecting a single."

Abby, triplets are three children born together; had they been singles born a year apart, they would have been entitled to separate "whole value" gifts. Neither the parents nor the children should be shortchanged at this time.

The issue of multiples and gift-giving is far-reaching. When twins attend a birthday party, mothers should send them with two gifts of value that they would like to see reciprocated. Since parents of singles often spend in the manner that you suggest, multiples rarely receive a gift of similar value to what was given.

In the reverse circumstances, when gifts are given to teachers, mothers of multiples should give the full amount per child because the teacher had the responsibility for two (or three) children. The per-child gift acknowledges that the teacher had two hands to hold and two noses to wipe.

Friends and relatives could help by understanding that the circumstances of the birth should not affect the value of the gift. Each child should be treated as an individual.

DIANE WEISS, PRESIDENT, NASSAU COUNTY MOTHERS OF TWINS CLUB

DEAR MRS. WEISS: You are absolutely right: Every child should receive a "whole" gift, but did you overlook the fact that the letter was signed "Over Budget"?

In the interest of treating each child as an individual, I recommended three individual gifts instead of something all three could share, such as a box of dusting powder, a record album or a game.

Read on for another point of view.

DEAR ABBY: As a twin yourself, you should have used better sense in your reply to "Over Budget." I, too, am a twin, and I have plenty of bad memories of receiving half a gift at birthday parties. My sister and I were better off when we received a "normal" gift that we could share, like a game. Instead, we got a lot of low-cost gifts that were totally useless because mothers would try to buy us two gifts for the price of one!

Sure, I enjoyed the fun and benefits of being a twin — and I am not spoiled — but multiple-birth babies should not be treated as a half or a third of a person. I know what it feels like, and I'm sure you do.

JILL COUSINS, MARIETTA, GA.

Extension Homemakers display work during Achievement Day

Achievement Day for the Howard County Extension Homemakers was held Oct. 7 in the Youth Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church.

Handmade quilts, pillows, ceramics, oil paintings, tree decorations, tailored men's ties, knitted and crocheted head covers were displayed.

Also displayed were sweaters, afghans, dolls, counted cross-stitch pictures, latch hook tree skirts, table covers and clothing.

All articles were made by the six county clubs.

Guests included Evelyn Crump, Sybil Duffer, Helen McIntire, Naomi Hunt and Mary R. Jamison, District 6 Extension Director of Fort Stockton.

Mrs. Myrl Soles and Mrs. Francis Zant, delegates to the Texas State Extension Homemakers Association meeting in Longview, reported on the meeting. They attended workshops on Young Extension Homemakers, cultural arts, international understanding, membership, leadership and a number of other topics.

The Kilgore Rangerettes and a tour of the Kilgore Oil Museum were included in the entertainment.

The Texas State Extension Homemakers organization gives seven scholarships of $600 each to persons throughout the state who are interested in furthering their education in homemaking and extension work.

The association also gives two adult career scholarships to women who are in need of career boosts to support themselves and their families. These scholarships were given to Charma Flowers and Kimberly Lay.

In 1985, collections totalling $4,378 were made from all clubs for the Coins for Friendship. This money was donated to Girlstown. The Howard County Council convened at 2 p.m. with Francis Mason presiding. Reports were heard on the county fair. Members were encouraged to participate in the Mobile Meals on Wheels program and in other volunteers activities such as the Westside Center, the Veterans Administration Medical Center and the Malone-Hogan Hospital volunteers.

It was announced that Gen Davidson will be chairperson for the Christmas social. Committee recommendations were read and adopted for 1986. Naomi Hunt, Howard County Extension agent, announced an adult sitters clinic will be held Oct. 21-24. Registration is required. The clinic will cost $6 and that includes books and supplies. Contact her at 267-8469.

Larry Don Shaw will speak in the Dora Roberts Fair Barn at 7 p.m. Oct. 22 on the proposed Texas water plan.

Sewing at home takes careful planning for a sure investment

COLLEGE STATION — Sewing at home for savings takes careful planning to make sure the investment pays off.

"Consider the value of the time spent sewing as well as your out-of-pocket costs," said Alma Fonseca, a clothing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Sewing children's garments is usually more economical than buying them. This is because children's clothes are often simple, have less detail, require little fabric and have a short life use.

Creative recycling of clothes that need updating or fitting adjustments can also save money, she said.

Sewing custom-made articles for the home, such as draperies for an odd-sized window or slipcovers for an odd-sized sofa, result in a significant savings, Fonseca said. Good draperies with linings damaged by the sun can also be re-lined to save the cost of having to re-invest in new ones.

In addition, careful selection of styles and patterns will save sewing time and supplies, notes the specialist. For example, special patterns for knits often feature styles with no zipper, facing, interfacing or darts.

"When shopping for fabrics, always buy with use in mind. Quality fabrics may make up more attractively and hold their beauty longer, but it could be more economical to choose a less expensive fabric if the outfit is to be worn only a few times," she said.

Kathy Viccinelli discusses volunteer work

Kathy Viccinelli of the Big Spring State Hospital presented a program on volunteer work to the Center Point Extension Homemakers Club at a meeting Oct. 8 at the home of Mrs. D.H. Griffith.

Three guests and 12 members were in attendance. Members brought gifts for the State Hospital Christmas Party.

Dr. Donohue

Causes of Agoraphobia

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My wife has a great fear of exposure to the outside world. I believe it is called agoraphobia. My dictionary describes it as coming from the Greek for "fear of the marketplace." However you want to describe it, I think it is what is ruining both our lives. She came back from one of her girlfriends' bridal showers shaking and crying. What's the answer for us, doctor? — R.K.

This panic disorder apparently has its roots in both psychological disturbance and (some say) in brain chemistry itself. You can find both schools of thought. Perhaps the cause is a combination.

And in fact, treatment is keyed to getting at both those factors. More on that later.

About 10 million Americans have some degree of agoraphobia. In its severe form, the sufferer has compiled a lengthy list of panic-causing situations until she (most are women) is a virtual prisoner of her own home.

It is a real and a recognized problem, and most doctors encounter it with some regularity. But there are things to be done.

First there is psychotherapy. While frequently there may be some childhood unpleasantness in the background, there may not be a need to unravel all that in the psychotherapy stage. A form of desensitization to fears can be tried. The agoraphobic is taught to imagine a panic-producing situation, then learn to accept it as irrational and to shift thoughts to more pleasant scenes.

As this bears fruit, the person can be exposed gradually to the actual situation, always reinforcing the idea of the senselessness of the fears. Brief, then longer walks are tried. One by one, the agoraphobic can be taught to scratch items from a laundry list of fears.

Meanwhile, drugs to control anxiety and permit this immersion into fear situations help. Those who favor the biological roots of agoraphobia would point out that these very drugs increase the brain levels of serotonin, which they feel is deficient in such people.

No one is beyond hope. Agoraphobia support groups are around, where people with similar fears can exchange ideas and experiences.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What can you tell me about pulmonary fibrosis? I know it is progressive scarring of the lungs, but is there no medication or treatment for it? Both my lungs are affected. My doctor is very evasive. Anything you could tell would brace me for the worst. — V.S.K.

With this there is breathlessness and a dry hacking cough. You are right. It does stem from scarring of the lungs. It's one of those enigmatic illnesses so far as cause is concerned, so it is not hard to be evasive about it. I can't even answer you about what you can expect in the future, so variable is the progression and outlook with this problem.

I can tell you that there are treatments. One is steroids. They help control the inflammation involved. Also, azathioprine can be used.

I wish I could tell you more, and I know I haven't been much help than your doctor. Perhaps he is waiting for some test results so that he can be a bit more specific. Much depends on some of these tests, for example a microscopic picture of tissue taken from a lung silver (biopsy). The response to the drugs I spoke of is a great determinant of the future in pulmonary fibrosis.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

NOBEL PEACE PRIZE winners Dr. Bernard Lown of Boston, left, and Dr. Yevgeni I Chazov of the Soviet Union. The prize was awarded by the Norwegian Nobel committee on Friday.

Anti-war group wins Nobel prize

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The 1985 Nobel Peace Prize was awarded today to International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War, an anti-war organization created and jointly led by American and Soviet doctors.

The Norwegian Nobel Committee, which announced its choice in a statement, said the Boston, Mass.-based organization had "performed a considerable service to mankind by spreading authoritative information and by creating an awareness of the catastrophic consequences of atomic warfare."

The doctors' organization was founded in 1980 after a meeting of six Soviet and American physicians in Geneva, Switzerland, and has campaigned since then to publicize the dangers of nuclear war.

Reached in Geneva by The Associated Press, American co-founder Dr. Bernard Lown said, "It's just something extraordinary, we are not an organization that has been around for decades. We are an organization that five years ago didn't exist."

In its citation, the five-member committee said it believes that the organization's activity "contributes to an increase in the pressure of public opposition to the proliferation of atomic weapons and to redefining priorities with greater attention being paid to health and other humanitarian issues."

The Nobel committee said it would invite Lown, a professor at the Harvard School of Public Health in Cambridge, Mass., and Soviet co-founder Dr. Yevgeny Chazov of the USSR Cardiological Institute, to receive the prize in Oslo on Dec. 10.

Nobel jurors said in their citation that they attached "particular importance to the fact that the organization was formed as a result of a joint initiative by Soviet and American physicians."

They said the organization now is supported by 145,000 doctors and health professionals in more than 40 countries around the world. It has a branch office in London.

Last year's winner was black Anglican Bishop Desmond Tutu of South Africa.

The Peace Prize's gold medal and certificate come with an award of 1.8 million Swedish kronor, or about $225,000.

Teachers needed

AUSTIN (AP) — There is a critical need for qualified teachers of the blind and visually impaired in Texas, according to Dr. Jane Erin, University of Texas special education faculty member.

There are about 1,500 Texas school children who are legally blind, she said.

Yet there are from 50 to 100 vacancies in the 220 jobs in public education to teach these students.

"Some of the openings have been available for as long as two years waiting for an applicant with proper certification to apply," she said.

She said UT students with a bachelor's degree in education can be certified to teach visually handicapped students by completing 21 hours of graduate instruction.

Friday Football Forecast

Cooper (0-5) at Big Spring (1-4)

This is a very crucial game for both teams. The winner will pick up momentum for the remainder of the season while the loser may never pick itself back up.

Grady (1-4) at Smyer (0-5)

Last week the Grady Wildcats proved to the Six-Man football world that they do have a good team; and they did it with a bang, by scoring 76 points.

Garden City (2-3) at Forsan (5-0)

Garden City is down this week after losing a heart-breaker to Presidio last week. That's bad news because they need to be in full force against one of the top teams in the state.

Coahoma (2-3) at Colorado City (2-3)

Whenever these two I-20 rivals get together you can be sure there will be lots of hard hitting. Both need this game desperately, not only because it's the first district game of the season; both need a win to get their confidence level up.

McCaulley (2-3) at Borden Co. (1-4)

The Borden County Coyotes lost a tough game to Rule last week and will be looking for a win in their first district game. McCaulley promises to give coach Duke Frisbee's boys a run for their money with good speed in the backfield.

Klondike (0-5) at Rankin (2-2)

The Klondike-Cougars are struggling this year and their extra tough non-district schedule is not helping matters one bit. Last week it was number three ranked Iraan. This week a good Rankin squad will play Homecoming bully.

Stanton (2-3) at Eldorado (1-4)

The Stanton Buffaloes will gladly welcome quarterback Kevin Glaspie back into the fold this week. And not a minute too soon. The Buffs showed little offensive firepower against Seagraves, but Glaspie should get them back on scoreboard in the first 8-2A district tilt for these two teams.

Roscoe (4-1) at Sands (3-2)

Roscoe, the perennial power in District 7A, brings the number six state ranking into tonight's ball game against the scrappy Mustangs. Sands has as good a backfield in Jerry Long, Jay Fryar and Lee Young as any in the district but they don't have the size on the line to handle the Plowboy behemoths.

Dodgers pound Cards, 8-2

LOS ANGELES (AP) —The Los Angeles Dodgers' secret to dominating St. Louis in the first two games of the National League playoffs isn't much of a secret. The Dodgers simply don't do anything wrong.

problems were caused by being too pumped up for his first-ever playoff appearance.

He finally settled down, he said, after his trip around the bases in the third inning.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, were piling up runs against Andujar. His downfall began when, after allowing Steve Sax's one-out single in the third, he tried to pick him off first and threw wildly, with Sax winding up at third.

Hershiser twice failed to lay down a squeeze bunt but then slapped a high bouncer over the head of drawn-in St. Louis third baseman Terry Pendleton.

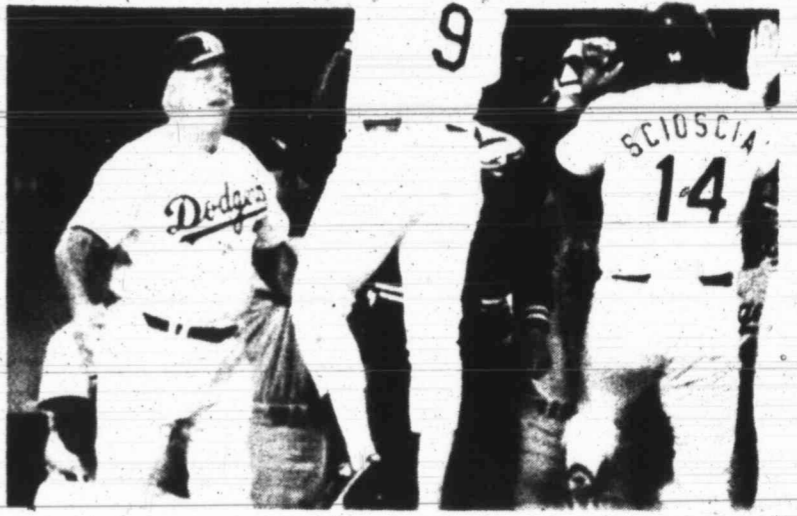

"He (Andujar) started off with very good stuff," St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog said. "But for some reason he made that throw to first despite the fact we were going to get an automatic out when Hershiser bunted."

The Dodgers got a lift in the top of the first when catcher Mike Scioscia gunned down speedsters Vince Coleman and Willie McGee as each was trying to steal second.

"You have good days and bad days," Coleman said. "It's not over yet, but we've obviously got to start winning."

Landreaux said he considered it very important that the Dodgers win the first two at Dodger Stadium.

"I felt like it was a must for us to win two here because they play so well at Busch Stadium."

Los Angeles Dodgers GREG BROCK (9) acknowledges the cheers of the fans after hitting a two run homer in the fourth inning against the St. Louis Cardinals last night in Los Angeles.

Sub-Varsity Roundup

Steers JV 18, Cooper 13
ABILENE — The Big Spring Steers junior varsity footballers raised their record to 3-3 by taking a 18-13 win over the Abilene Cooper Cougars.

Colorado City 8, Coahoma freshmen 0
COAHOMA — Colorado City got a safety in the second quarter and a TD run in the third quarter to defeat the Bulldogs 8-0 here last night.

Steers quarterback Andy Dominguez started off the scoring by getting in from the two-yardline. The score came in the second quarter. The point after touchdown attempt was blocked, leaving the Steers with a 6-0 lead.

For Coahoma, Brad Madry, Darrell Hunt, Randy Self and Jee O' Daniel, all had good games. Coahoma is now 2-2-1 for the season.

The big play in the drive was a 45 pass play from Dominguez to Cedrick Banks. Big Spring got on the scoreboard again a few plays later. Cooper fumbled in the end zone and linebacker Chad Wash fell on the ball for the score. The PAT was blocked, giving the Steers a 12-0 halftime lead.

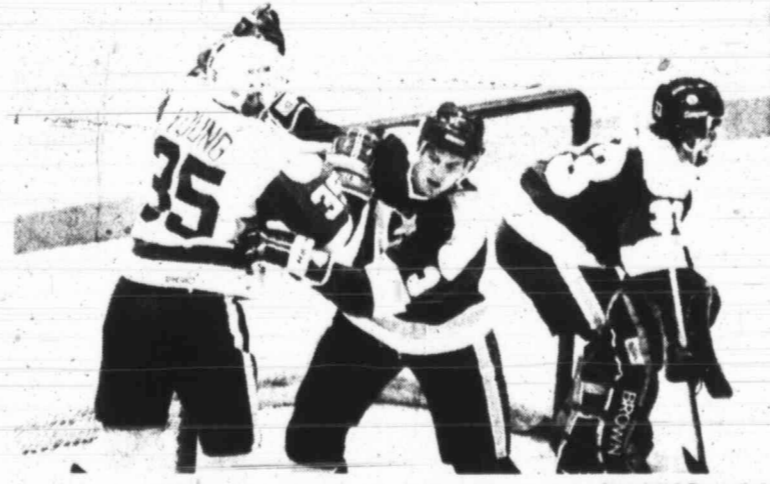

The other Coahoma score was a 15 yard run by Roman Padron. Brannon Henderson added the conversion score.

The final Steers TD came in the third quarter on a 35 yard pass from Dominguez to Jimmy Casey. This put the score at 18-0. Cooper scored two TD's in the third quarter, but the Steers held on for the win.

Bulldogs having good games were White, David Wood, Marray Maddox, Tommy Burchess and Schafer Musser.

Good games were turned in by John Meyer, Mark Gomez, Eric Thompson, Danny Armstrong, Chris Petterson and Ronnie Miller.

Coahoma is now 5-1 for the season.

Minnesota North Stars' goalie DON BEAUPRE (33) defends as teammate BOB ROUSE (3) holds off Detroit's WARREN YOUNG (35). The teams skated to a 6-6 tie.

Hockey season officially starts

By The Associated Press
The New Jersey Devils borrowed the style of the Philadelphia Flyers for a period... and then stole a game from them.

known to execute it better."
The defending Stanley Cup champion Edmonton Oilers had better luck than the Flyers, beating Winnipeg 4-3. In other opening games Thursday night, it was the New York Rangers 4, Washington 2; Quebec 6, Chicago 2; Hartford 5, Buffalo 4; Boston 3, Toronto 1; Montreal 5, Pittsburgh 3; Vancouver 6, Los Angeles 5; and Detroit 6, Minnesota 6 in the season's first tie.

"I think we reversed roles on them in the final period," said New Jersey Coach Doug Carpenter after Thursday night's 6-5 victory over the Flyers as the 1985-86 National Hockey League season got underway. "Their game is to keep coming at you and we seemed to get ourselves together in the second period, which allowed our defensemen to stand up."

Gagne, a former NCAA scoring champion, scored two of his goals within a 38-second span of the third period, at 10:21 and again at 10:59, to break a 4-4 tie.

After blowing an early 3-0 lead, the Flyers didn't look anything like the team that made it to the Stanley Cup final last season. And the Devils looked a lot better than the team that didn't even make the playoffs in 1984-85.

New Jersey trailed 4-2 going into the final period but drew to within 4-3 on Gagne's first goal of the night at 2:29. Jan Ludvig tied the game at 5:40 after Flyers' defenseman Ed Hospodar gave up the puck, setting up Gagne's heroics. Greg Adams assisted on five goals for the Devils.

"I think they got out of their style," said New Jersey's Phil Gagne after scoring three goals in the frantic third period. "Our style is the same, but they have been

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, OCT. 12, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds it necessary for you to do whatever is necessary for your usual Saturday pursuits with special recognition of what other persons desire from your association.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) The morning is good for beautifying your home, but in the evening doing something thoughtful for an associate is wise.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The day can be happy for you if you spend it with congenials, but take time for some health treatment in the evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be more adroit at handling home affairs and you get better results, then you can get out to the amusements you like.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) A good day for shopping and running errands, but pay attention to price, then in the evening, spend time at home.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Clear up any financial affairs in the morning, and feel better about them. Get data for added business dealings in the days ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get rid of that bothersome situation in the morning, and you can delve into something practical and worthwhile in the evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be more objective and get rid of that secret worry early. Do whatever will make outside relationships more ideal.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you have had a disagreement with a friend, try to resolve it during the day, so that tonight you can be with your mate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You cannot understand how to take care of a worldly affair, so wait until it is clear to you. Pursue personal goals.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You find that a new idea can lead to problems so study it well first, then get into public work you like.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be most careful in handling business affairs today, or you can have a loss. Make any corrections that are necessary.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Have long talks with a partner and resolve some affair that is important to you both. Follow through with some plan of importance.

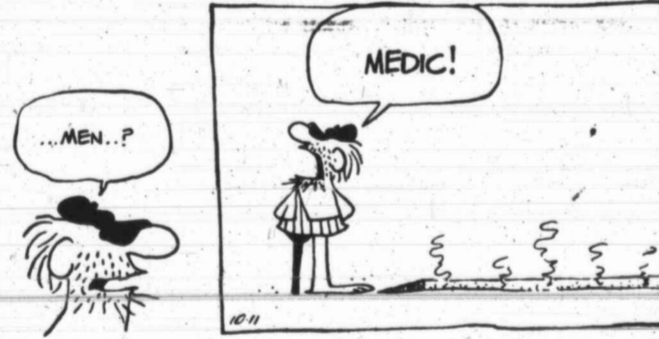

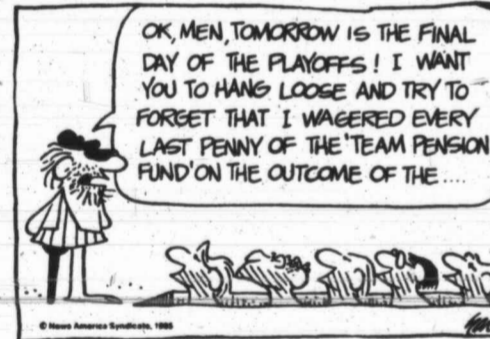

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she is very likely to look at everything as though wearing tinted glasses, so be sure to teach to ferret out the truth of any situation that may arise. Show the importance of handling little details that distinguish the artist from the artisan.
