Soviets to interview Reagan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan will be interviewed by four Soviet journalists in the Oval Office on Thursday in what the White House said it hoped was "a sign of a new and more open information policy on the part of the Soviet Union."

It will be the first time since 1961 that an American president consented to an interview with Soviet journalists.

The White House also announced that Reagan will address a joint session of Congress on the evening of Nov. 21, immediately upon his return to Washington from his summit in Geneva with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

The four journalists who will interview Reagan flew in from Moscow solely for the interview, Speakes said. They include a representative from the Soviet news agency Tass, the Soviet Communist Party newspaper Pravda, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia and a Soviet news service Novosti.

"We regard this interview as a unique and historic opportunity for the president to communicate directly with the people of the Soviet Union. We hope it is a sign of a new and more open information policy on the part of the Soviet Union," said White House spokesman Larry Speakes.

He said the last time an American president was interviewed by Soviet journalists was on Nov. 21, 1961, when then President John F. Kennedy was interviewed in Hyannisport, Mass.

Speakes said there was an understanding that the interview with Reagan will be carried in Izvestia on Sunday. Texts of the interview will be released in Washington after it is published in Moscow.

The interview was initiated by an invitation from the Reagan administration, Speakes said. It follows a highly publicized interview of Gorbachev by Time magazine several weeks ago.

Reagan's interview will last a half hour.

The journalists will pose their questions in Russian, and they will be interpreted in English for the president. Reagan's answers will not be translated into Russian because the four journalists speak English.

The journalists are Genrikh Borovik of Novosti, Stanislav Kondrashov of Izvestia, Vsevolod Ovchinnikov of Pravda and Gennadiy Shishkin of Tass.

Speakes said the administration had put no restrictions on the Soviets' questions but that he expected they would focus on the summit, as well as U.S.-Soviet relations in general.

The press spokesman said the United States had received no assurances that the interview would be published in full but that they trust "a sufficient amount" will be carried in the Soviet press.

Announcing Reagan's post-summit address to Congress, Speakes said the president would go to the Capitol immediately on his return to Washington from Geneva and a two-hour stopover in Brussels to report to allied leaders at NATO headquarters on his meeting with Gorbachev.

No decision yet on cable choice

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

Keeping WFAA-TV on local cable would cost less than substituting one of the proposed replacements KTVT or WGN, Big Spring Cable systems manager Paul Thoman said today.

However, under terms of a proposed contract, the charge for retaining both WFAA and KERA would be almost double the current price, he said.

Thoman received the new contract this week from Times Mirror Microwave outlining costs and conditions of keeping WFAA on the cable feed to West Texas.

Under the proposed five-year contract, WFAA would cost the cable company $3,000 per month, Thoman said. For both WFAA and KERA, the cost would be $5,000 per month, or $60,000 per year, he said.

The rates now are $2,600 a month for both WFAA and KERA, after a recent increase of "30 to 40 percent," he said.

KTVT or WGN alone would cost $5,300 per month, or $300 a month more than the combined new rates for WFAA and KERA, he said.

If the cable company kept KERA and added KTVT or WGN, the combined cost would be $7,300 per month.

Thoman said he "refuses to speculate" what retaining WFAA would mean to cable television customers' bills, but earlier he said that keeping KERA and substituting KTVT or WGN for WFAA would require a 50-cent per month rate increase for customers.

Petitions circulated here and in Snyder, also on the list to lose WFAA, have drawn thousands of signatures in support of keeping the Dallas television station on the air, organizers have said.

Another replacement choice, Arts and Entertainment channel, would cost "nowhere near that kind of money," Thoman said. Arts was among the "replacement" choices offered subscribers when it was announced that WFAA might not be carried here. He refused to speculate which channel the com-

'Hulkster' pins mask market

BOSTON (AP) — President Reagan and glitter rock stars are out, former President Nixon still is in, and Charlie Chaplin and E.T. are making comebacks. But this year's hottest selling Halloween mask is a likeness of professional wrestler Hulk Hogan.

The queen of the costume rental business appears to be Elvira, the syndicated TV hostess dressed as a sexy vampire who introduces horror movies.

In the mask business, however, the massive star of the professional wrestling circuit who inspired a mania named after him is the top choice.

"He's alone in his greatness," said Carl Bertolino, assistant manager of Little Jack Horner Inc., one of the nation's largest costume shops. "We can't get enough of them."

Bertolino said that to meet last-minute demand, the company is now shipping the masks, made in France, by air to customers around the country.

The mask sells for $40 and includes a sweat band wrapped around it and long blond hair, large nose, mustache, bright teeth, bushy eyebrows, big brown eyes and a dimple in the chin.

Bertolino said he did not have a body costume to go along with the mask, but that customers seem to feel they don't need the Hulk's 6-foot-8, 350-pound muscular physique.

"This year, everything is going," said Bertolino, whose wholesale and retail company has been doing business in downtown Boston for 51 years. "It's unbelievable."

Center to help trade apply technology

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

The Permian Basin will soon be home to a research center designed to help businesses apply new technology.

The center, affiliated with the University of Texas at the Permian Basin, will assist local industries in diversifying and upgrading their products and "give them a leg up," said UTPB president Dr. Duane Leach. Leach was in Big Spring Tuesday to discuss the center with local business leaders.

The center's emphasis will be "to create jobs and upscale some of the local businesses that might not otherwise have that available to them," he said.

"We are going to see technology applied to every single aspect of business all across the state," he said. "I see a growing emphasis on service to the region and economic diversification in the region."

The center would start with eight to 10 permanent employees, he said, but the plan is to "cycle (more) people in and out." Leach sees the end result as more employment in this area.

"We are losing jobs in the Per-

Absentee vote goes on

Absentee voting for the state's Nov. 5 constitutional amendment general election is underway in Howard County with 106 ballots cast by Tuesday afternoon, said county clerk Margaret Ray.

"Our return is better than usual so far for a constitutional amendment election," Ray said.

Absentee voting will continue until 5 p.m. Friday in the county clerk's office located on the first floor of the Howard County Courthouse.

To vote absentee, persons must be 65 years of age or over, physically handicapped or expect to be absent from the county on Nov. 5, said county clerk Margaret Ray.

Ray said absentee voter requests are checked against a list of registered voters currently maintained by the county tax assessor's office.

A person who has lost his or her voter registration card must sign a written affidavit before voting, Ray said.

Written requests to vote by mail must also be received in the county clerk's office by 5 p.m. Friday, Ray said.

The office will accept mail ballots until 7 p.m. Tuesday when the voting polls close, Ray said.

She said mail requests must indicate the registered voter is currently living outside the county except those from persons who are 65 and over, or physically handicapped.

The county clerk's office has received 13 requests for mail ballots and eight of those had been returned by Tuesday afternoon, she said.

Child loses eye to rare malignancy

HENDERSON (AP) — Last February, the lives of 20-month-old Courtney Spoon and her family changed virtually overnight.

One day, Courtney seemed to be just like any other healthy, happy baby. The next day, she and her parents were on their way to Houston where Courtney's right eye had to be removed because of a malignant tumor growing behind it.

Now Courtney is again healthy, thanks to her mother's perceptiveness, Dr. David Craig's expertise and oculist Randy Trawnick's talent.

"Back in February, I began noticing that something was wrong (with Courtney). There was something different that I would notice every once in a while. I can't really explain what it was," said her mother, Sharon Spoon.

The worried mother made an appointment with Craig, a Henderson ophthalmologist.

"I went in expecting them to tell me nothing was wrong and that I was worried for nothing. But his nurse noticed it, too, when I took Courtney in," Mrs. Spoon said.

After dilating the child's eye, Craig found a mass behind it. He immediately called specialists in Houston.

"Before he got on the phone, he told me that we would have to take Courtney to Houston. But I thought he meant next week sometime," Mrs. Spoon said.

"But then, while he was on the phone, I heard him say, 'It's five hours away.' And I realized that he meant we had to go right then. That's when it hit me. That's when I panicked. I realized then that Courtney was really in danger," she said.

Courtney and her parents were at the hospital in Houston by 3:30 that afternoon, and at 9:30 the next morning, Courtney went into surgery to have the eye removed.

"We had always heard that Henderson was very lucky to have Dr. Craig. Now we know it's true," Mrs. Spoon said.

"They told us that the next place the tumor would have spread to was her other eye, and from there to her brain. They said they have no way of knowing how fast the tumor was growing, but that if it hadn't been caught when it was, it could have spread to her brain in two weeks, even," she said.

The surgery was performed on a Friday morning, and the Spoons were back home Saturday. They went back to Houston the following Monday for extensive testing for any other signs of cancer.

"They did all those tests because they said the blood flowing through her eye went to all the other parts of her body, and it could have carried a seed from the tumor to any of her other organs," Mrs. Spoon said.

When the doctors removed Courtney's eye, they put in an implant that was attached to four different muscles in the eye socket. That implant was to serve as the core for an eye prosthesis.

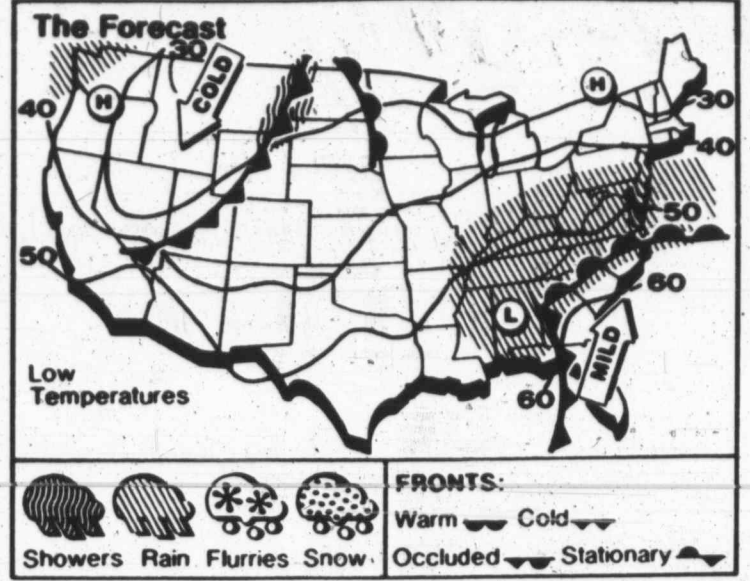

After working with a Houston oculist for a while on a prosthesis for Courtney, the Spoons were referred by a friend to Trawnick.

"Randy really cares about Courtney. He is really good with her. You can tell that he really cares about his patients," Mrs. Spoon said.

"The prosthesis he made for her is very realistic. He hand paints every bit of the eye freehand to make it match her other eye perfectly. He even uses red thread to make the veins in the prosthesis," she said.

Trawnick is one of 150 board certified ophthalmologists in the nation.

Weather

Forecast

West Texas - Mostly sunny through Thursday and fair tonight. Colder most sections tonight. Light freeze in the northern panhandle tonight. Lows tonight 32 northern Panhandle to 50 Big Bend. Highs Thursday 63 Panhandle to 84 Big Bend.

State

Rain from Tropical Storm Juan continued to fall across portions of East Texas and Southeast Texas today as residents of the northern Panhandle prepared for a light freeze tonight.

Hurricane Juan's rains strain Louisiana levees

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lingering Tropical Storm Juan poured more rain along the Gulf Coast today as levees in New Orleans' suburbs and smaller south Louisiana communities were strained by floods that already had caused about $1 billion damage.

The toll from Juan's four-day rampage back and forth along the coast stood at seven confirmed deaths. Juan, downgraded to a tropical storm Tuesday, also left four people missing and thousands temporarily homeless.

Gov. Edwin Edwards said 50,000 flooded homes, about $110 million in damage to sugar cane and other unspecified damages added up to about $1 billion last night.

"We'll definitely be asking for a presidential declaration" of disaster, he said. A dollar estimate of offshore damage was not available, but several multimillion-dollar oil rigs were lost or seriously damaged.

Forecasters said the slow-moving and erratic storm, whose 85 mph hurricane winds had diminished to 60 mph, could produce 4-8 inches more rain today from the Florida Panhandle to eastern Texas. Mobile, Ala., got 5.26 inches of rain in 24 hours.

At 9 a.m. CST, the poorly defined center of the storm was estimated to be near latitude 29.4 north, longitude 92.1 west, along the south-central Louisiana coast near Marsh Island or about 115 miles west-southwest of New Orleans.

Heart of City group to meet

Downtown merchants, local businessmen and other Big Spring residents are invited to the next Heart of the City Association meeting.

The group will meet at 6 p.m. Monday at the Chamber of Commerce, said city administrative assistant Pat Hardy.

The group will discuss plans for the Christmas parade and will begin work on next year's annual Heart of the City Festival. The festival, which began two years ago, is an open-air street fair in the downtown area near the courthouse.

Last year's festival activities included an auction, a pizza-eating contest, food booths, games, live music, a street dance and bazaars.

Cable

The cable company's owner, Texas Communities Antenna, should decide within a few days whether it will accept the five-year contract with Times Mirror, Thoman said.

The contract contains a penalty clause, Thoman said. If Big Spring Cable defaulted on the contract, it would have to pay for the remaining number of years on the contract, he said.

WFAA was scheduled to be discontinued on local cable Nov. 15. The new contract is dated Nov. 15, Thoman said, but WFAA might not be available immediately, because Times Mirror would have to set up new equipment to continue broadcasting the channel here. "It would be a short period of time, even if it was a period of months," he said.

Thoman said Times Mirror could make about 20 times as much money by broadcasting data and communications signals than it can with cable television channels, and it wants to make up the "substantial profit" by charging more for the cable channels.

"It goes back to what we've been saying all along. Times Mirror, to me, has made it clear through this whole process that they don't prefer to have us as a customer,"

he said. Times Mirror president George Batsche has said the cost increase is because of the extra equipment the company would need to buy in order to continue broadcasting WFAA. Times Mirror lost its lease on the Sweetwater microwave tower, he said, and was able to find another route to broadcast only one of the two channels it previously broadcast. Batsche said he chose KERA because the public channel had more subscribers.

Police Beat

Inmate floods jail cell

An inmate of the city jail Tuesday afternoon caused $750 flood damage to a jail cell by stuffing the toilet, according to police department reports.

The man, jailed on suspicion of public intoxication, caused the flooding "because he didn't want to stay in jail," Lt. Jerry Edwards stated in a report.

Damaged were two light fixtures, carpeting and a ceiling, the report stated.

• Victoria Paredes of 805 Johnson told police someone stole her cream and brown 1971 Chevrolet van between 8 p.m. Monday and 7:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The van is valued at $1,900, the report stated.

• Sandra Hart of 1404 Princeton told police someone she knows slapped her face during an argument at noon Tuesday in her house.

Sheriff's Log

Woman arrested on warrant

Howard County sheriff's deputies arrested Martha Brenda Baker, 41, of 1000 E. Third on a warrant charging her with criminal mischief. She was released on $1,000 bond.

• Deputies released Leo Lester Freeman, 55, no address given, from county jail after he served time for fines and court costs levied for a criminal trespass charge.

Duo sentenced in theft

District Judge James Gregg sentenced two men to three-year terms at the Texas Department of Corrections after they pleaded guilty to separate charges of theft over $750 and under $20,000. George Earl Green, 53, of Bryan and Edward Shaw Jr., 44, of Abilene were arrested by Big Spring police after they attempted to steal money out of a cash register in Morrison's Super-Save on Oct. 13, said district attorney criminal investigator Buster McCartney. The offense is a third-degree felony, he said.

Man arrested on DWI after one-car mishap

Police arrested a 20-year-old Big Spring man Tuesday evening after he ran into a gasoline station in a one-vehicle accident.

Darrell Eugene Kisto, 20, of 1509 Main was arrested on suspicion of driving while intoxicated, on a warrant for probation violation and on four other traffic citations, according to police reports.

The arrest was made at the Gressett Service Inc. station at 311 Gregg after Kisto's 1973 brown Mercury Comet struck the station wall, according to police reports.

Kisto was injured but refused medical treatment. He also refused to submit to a test for alcohol intoxication, the accident report stated.

The accident occurred at 9:18 p.m., near the intersection of Fourth and Gregg streets, the report stated.

Kisto, who was driving a car owned by Delia Cerna of Lamesa, was traveling east in the south lane of W. Fourth Street when the accident occurred. He locked the brakes on his car to stop at the light, and began skidding to the left, where he struck the curb on the north side of the road, the report stated.

The car then traveled east, struck the pole containing the traffic signal, and continued to travel east across Gregg Street and rammed into the gasoline station.

Damage to the traffic signal is estimated at $700. Damage to the building, owned by C.W. Parks of 800 W. 15th, is estimated at $8,000, the report stated.

The car left 188 feet of skid marks from where the brakes locked to the signal pole, the report stated.

Kisto was arrested for failure to identify himself because he gave a false name in the police booking room, according to a report by patrolman Steve Fleckenstein.

He also was arrested on failure to leave information at an accident, failure to control speed and running a red light, and on traffic warrants out of the Midland Department of Public Safety, the report stated.

mian Basin area because of our narrow banded economy," he said. It will change "because of necessity. We won't see boom-bust again" in the energy business, he said.

Leach called West Texas a colony, isolated from the central government. "We have two representatives, and Houston has 25. We are going to have to organize to gain our fair share of the bounty," he said.

He said a research center here would cause the government to look favorably at building the proposed atom-smasher in this area. The atom-smasher could create thousands of new jobs and pump hundreds of millions of dollars into the local economy, experts say.

The research center, called the Center for Energy, Technology and Economic Diversification, will be launched sometime after the first of next year, he said. It will be housed on 120 to 160 acres on Highway 191 between Midland and Odessa. The building should be ready by fall of next year, he said.

Funds will come from the university and from private grants, Leach said. A private source will donate the land, and some later research contracts will help with funding.

Soviet sailor released

WASHINGTON — After insisting he wanted to return to his homeland, a Soviet sailor has been released from U.S. custody near New Orleans, leaving unanswered his motive for twice leaping from his freighter into the Mississippi River.

A State Department statement released Tuesday night said the sailor, Miroslav Medvid, convinced U.S. officials who interrogated him extensively for two days that he wasn't a defector after all.

Oil workers stranded

HOUSTON — Hundreds of offshore oil workers were stranded in the Gulf of Mexico and at least one killed because Hurricane Juan grew so fast companies could not carry out usual emergency evacuations, oil industry officials say.

"We're basically mariners," Barney White of Houston's Zapata Corp. said Tuesday. "We automatically begin to evacuate" when a storm reaches a certain strength, but "We were not able to do so. We really got sort of bushwacked."

Other company officials speculated that the quick escalation of Juan from a tropical depression to a hurricane Sunday contributed to the loss of two jackup oil rigs and a barge's capsizing. Two men still are missing from a jackup rig in which one man drowned.

Hostage compensation

WASHINGTON — Nearly five years after their release, the Americans held hostage in Iran are due to receive about $29,000 each in government compensation for their ordeal, if a bill approved by a House committee becomes law.

U.S. government workers and servicemen taken captive by terrorists since the November 1979 seizure of the American Embassy in Tehran, and those kidnapped in the future, also would be compensated under the legislation, which now goes to the House floor.

Wyoming far ahead

WASHINGTON — Wyoming, helped by construction of a giant oil project, enjoyed the largest jump in personal income of any state this spring, according to the latest survey of personal income in the 50 states.

The Commerce Department said Tuesday that the 3.1 percent rise in personal income in Wyoming from April through June was far ahead of the average national increase of 1.1 percent.

Other states ahead of the national average were Indiana, with a 2 percent gain; Kansas, up 1.8 percent; Arizona, up 1.7 percent; and Florida with a 1.6 percent rise.

Sunken Titanic

Survivor against commercial exploitation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louise Pope, 77, of Milwaukee, sat patiently with a famed explorer, a historian, several government officials and a Texas oil entrepreneur. She had her own ideas on what to do with the Titanic, the ocean liner she escaped 73 years ago.

"If there's anything there that could be put in a museum, fine," she told a House committee late Tuesday. But never, she added, should the ship, where two of her relatives and 1,500 other people died, be raided for commercial advantage.

Robert Ballard, the Navy explorer who discovered the wreck of the Titanic early last month, put it this way: "The great pyramids of the deep are now accessible to man. He can either plunder them like the grave robbers of Egypt or protect them for the countless generations which will follow ours."

Pope was barely 4 years old on that dreadful night in the North Atlantic when the Titanic took its maiden voyage. She remembers little of it, except the things that comforted her against the cold and the fright: "the cotton blanket which was wrapped around me... the shoes that were on my feet..."

She testified to the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, which is wrestling with how — and whether — to protect the wreck from scavengers.

Pope's mother and father, who jumped into the next-to-last lifeboat as it was being lowered half-full, survived with her. But an aunt and uncle went down with the ship.

LOUISE POPE, 77, of Milwaukee, right, talks with Robert Ballard, the Navy explorer who discovered the wreck of the Titanic early last month, shortly before they testified in front of a House committee on Capitol Hill Tuesday. Pope is a survivor of the accident.

"I think," she told the committee, "that my father's sister and brother, like others who died in the Titanic, would say 'Do what you want with the ship — as long as what you do benefits all people.'"

That is the intent, but hardly the guarantee, of legislation sponsored by committee chairman Walter B. Jones, D-N.C. The measure would declare the Titanic a maritime memorial, bar Americans from indiscriminate salvage operations, and urge negotiation of an international agreement along the same lines.

Ballard gave the committee a slide and video tour of the wreck, a presentation he said could be vastly improved if researchers are given the time to return with improved cameras and deep-sea vehicles.

Plea to control wreck recovery

By PHILLIP SWANN
Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — A Texas A&M University professor Tuesday urged a congressional panel to approve legislation protecting historical shipwrecks from fortune-hunters.

The legislation gives states authority over shipwrecks in state waters which are substantially buried in the bottom, in coral or listed or eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places.

State governments would set the conditions under which salvors could seek recovery of shipwrecks. The authority now rests with the federal admiralty courts, which critics say encourage treasure hunters to undertake recovery operations.

"Why should a salvor be allowed to dismantle one of John Paul Jones' or La Salle's ships to sell or own for his own benefit," George Bass, a Texas A&M anthropology professor, told the House Oceanography Subcommittee during hearings on the bill Tuesday.

"An historic monument, regardless of where it is found, is an historic monument," added

Bass, who also is archaeological director of the Institute of Nautical Archaeology.

Melyin Fisher, a well-known salvor who once discovered a 17th Century galleon, said the legislation would sharply curtail excavation efforts and spark countless court fights.

"We will find ourselves up to our necks in alligators when the real purpose was to drain the swamp," said Fisher.

Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla., agreed.

U.S. position backed

BRUSSELS, Belgium — NATO allies today called on the Soviet Union to cease what they said were violations of U.S.-Soviet arms control accords, and endorsed U.S. arms negotiating positions prior to the superpower summit meeting.

In a statement at the close of two days of talks among allied defense ministers, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization expressed concern over U.S. reports of Soviet treaty violations.

Brisk turnout for vote

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Police said today that seven more blacks had died in violence across South Africa, and a brisk turnout was reported for parliamentary elections regarded by the governing Party and its opponents as a test of white support for race reforms.

Police headquarters in Pretoria said 5 black men riding in a car were stoned and then shot to death in Umlazi township near Durban.

Soviet-Cuban pledge

MOSCOW — Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze of the Soviet Union and Cuban leader Fidel Castro held talks in Havana, and vowed to work against U.S. policies, according to the Soviet news agency Tass.

Tass said after the Tuesday meeting that Cuba and the Soviet Union would "apply maximum efforts to counter the policy of confrontation, which is being pursued by imperialist countries, most notably the United States... to achieve a sharp turn for the better in international affairs, reduce the threat of a nuclear war and assert the principle of peaceful coexistence in state-to-state relations."

Peace talks continue

AMMAN, Jordan — PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat conferred today with his top aides and the Soviet ambassador to Jordan after two days of talks with Jordanian leaders about their faltering joint effort to seek peace with Israel.

The Soviet ambassador, Alexander Zinchuk, was on hand for about two hours and left the meeting of PLO officials early today, saying only that he had been there on "special business."

Hussein publicly has expressed distress at setbacks to the joint Palestinian-Jordanian peace effort, including a recent wave of terrorism and Israeli reprisal.

Spending spree must be halted

We are all living beyond our means. It can't go on. The federal government is leading the way and showing us how, with record budget deficits and a record national debt. And the most popular American president in a generation is assuring us that all is well, even though the U.S. government is spending far more than it takes in and borrowing money to make up the difference. Now the national debt is coming up on $2 trillion.

The American people are spending and going into debt, too. The latest figures show that consumer debt has hit an all-time high of 19 percent of disposable income, topping the old mark of 17.8 percent in 1978. In September, consumer spending climbed 1.2 percent, four times as fast as personal income. And consumer saved only 1.9 percent of their income for a rainy day — the lowest figure since the government began keeping monthly savings data in 1959.

Not to worry. Our spendthrift ways won't last. Neither the government nor the consumer can keep it up. One day our checkbook won't balance and there won't be anyone interested in giving us any more credit unless we are willing to take a realistic look at our finances and to act accordingly.

Protectionist cry is self-defeating

The appeal of protectionism lies in its pretense of hard-boiled realism. It ridicules free trade as an irrelevant academic theory, profitably spurned in every other nation and heeded here only at the cost of devastated industries and lost jobs. To this way of thinking, it's time to stop letting other countries take advantage of us and start using import barriers to restore our economic health.

In fact, the evidence for restricting international commerce is scarce and underwhelming. It is not the free traders but their opponents who make a policy of ignoring reality. Both here and abroad, protectionism has compiled a long record of failure.

Contrary to myth, the United States has made lots of experiments in shielding domestic industries, with almost no successes. The best recent example is the "voluntary" restraint on exports of Japanese cars to the U.S. Even after a three-year respite, Ford and Chrysler didn't want to go back to an open market. Thanks to a continuation of the policy, in relaxed form, they don't have to. In any event, no one seriously expects the Big Three ever to compete with Japan in small cars, as envisioned in the original program.

Other experiences in the U.S. are no kinder to mercantilist mythology. Brookings Institution economist Robert Z. Lawrence has examined 18 American industries that, since the 1950s, have been granted relief from import competition — everything from footwear to flatware. Only one of those industries, namely bicycles, was able to use the respite to retool and drive back the imports.

One of the beneficiaries of past protection is the textile industry. The result? Following the customary pattern, it's now demanding more help.

More revealing is the experience of other countries that have inoculated themselves against imports. Of the Western industrial nations, France, Australia and New Zealand are considerably more protectionist than the U.S. (Japan, contrary to myth, is regarded by most experts as no more protectionist nowadays than the U.S.) What do they have to show for it? The American economy, supposedly hobbled by a utopian trade policy, has left them in the dust.

By any measure, an allergy to foreign goods is a great handicap. In the decade from 1974 to 1983, the U.S. economy grew 150 percent faster than New Zealand's and 24 percent faster than France's. Australia just managed to match the U.S., despite the advantage of starting from a smaller base.

Nor does this modern version of mercantilism save jobs. In the last 10 years, France has seen 10 percent of its jobs disappear. Civilian employment has grown by only 6 percent in Australia and 4 percent in New Zealand. By contrast, the U.S. has added more than 10 million new jobs, a gaudy 20 percent increase.

Even workers in "basic industries" gain little from a closed market. Though New Zealand has seen only a slight decline in manufacturing employment since 1975, Australia has lost 17 percent of its manufacturing jobs and France has lost 11 percent. Despite the troubles of its steel and auto industries, the U.S. has actually added jobs in manufacturing.

The evidence from the Third World points in the same direction. Anne O. Krueger, an economist for the World Bank, has studied several nations that tried protectionism and then largely discarded it. In South Korea, the shift helped to produce an economic miracle, doubling the economy's annual rate of growth. Brazil and Colombia achieved similar gains. Krueger's research also documents that those countries which admit imports consistently outstrip those that keep them out.

Not all these differences can be ascribed to trade policy, because dozens of other factors influence economic performance. But it is hard to find any countries whose record supports the belief that stifling trade can promote prosperity.

So who is the idle theorist? Judged against actual events, the case for free trade emerges more convincing than ever. The reality of the world market is inescapable: Nations can't take the protectionist route without paying the toll.

Zia's postures prompted by political expediency

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA
WASHINGTON — Gen. Mohammed Zia ul-Haq, the military dictator of Pakistan, is hoping to wheedle billions more in aid from the United States by posing as a staunch anti-communist, a democrat at heart and a champion of the anti-Soviet freedom fighters in Afghanistan.

He seems to harbor dreams of rivaling his charismatic neighbor, Indian Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi, for the affections of Congress and the White House.

But Zia's assumed role of the white knight doesn't fit him. His anti-communism is strictly expedient. His promise to end the years of repressive martial law apparently depends on his success in revising the constitution to legalize his authoritarian regime.

And Zia's professed devotion to freedom is limited to support of the Afghan rebels. It is belied by his over-reaction to the presence in Pakistan of Benazir Bhutto, the fiery, Harvard-educated daughter of Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, whom Zia deposed as Pakistan's president and later executed on a trumped-up murder charge. When the 32-year-old woman returned from exile for her brother's funeral, Zia promptly had her clapped under house arrest, where she remains to this day.

Zia had promised Benazir safe conduct on her visit, but when her appearance inspired a massive popular turnout in spite of martial law restrictions, the general panicked and arrested her. It was a foolish thing to do. Benazir's incarceration stands as a silent mockery of Zia's attempts to portray himself as a civil libertarian qualified to receive continued military and economic aid from the United States.

Though isolated from the outside world, Benazir managed to smuggle out a letter to a close friend. It was not intended for publication, but parts of it were disclosed to our associate Lucette Lagnado.

In her letter, Benazir gives what may seem to be a disingenuous answer to one basic question: Why in the world did she return to Pakistan, knowing that Zia's promise of safe conduct might be revoked at any time?

"I was not allowed to bury my father," she wrote. "It was essential for me to bury my mother and accompany him on his last journey irrespective of what happens."

As for the conditions of her house arrest, she wrote: "It is miserable. And one needs to be careful."

Benazir's friends explain that she is trying to keep up a brave front, determined that Zia will not get the idea that she is succumbing to the strain of her incarceration. They say it is clear that Zia is trying to break her spirit — though several years of even harsher imprisonment before her exile last year had failed to achieve this.

Benazir is kept in virtual solitary confinement, albeit in the large house in Karachi. Family members are allowed to visit only once a week; the meetings are brief and a policeman reportedly is always present, taking notes on the conversation.

At last count, there were more than 40 armed guards stationed around the house. The telephone has been disconnected.

Her health is suffering. She wrote that she had asked to see her own doctor, but that the regime "sent two doctors of their own." They confirmed that her eyes and ears needed treatment.

To add to the tension, the police make frequent, unannounced "raids" to make sure no unauthorized visitors have sneaked past the guards.

Benazir's release last year to fly into exile was the result of years of effort by highly placed friends in this country and elsewhere. These friends have been trying to win her freedom once again. Setting Benazir free is one way for Zia to establish some credibility in his quest for a better image.

IRS WATCH: Ross Babcock, who owns an oil-tank sales company in Falmouth, Maine, couldn't believe his eyes when he got a letter from the Internal Revenue Service last June 24. As Babcock understood it, he was being fined $837.38 for paying 10 cents less than he should have on his first-quarter income tax. The notice said he had paid $40,101.62, instead of $40,101.72.

Babcock appealed to an IRS "problem resolution officer" and notified his congressman, Rep. John McKernan, R-Maine. An IRS spokesman told us that deficiency notices are never sent out for a dime's worth of underpayment. When told of the code number on the bottom of the notice — which Babcock had overlooked — the spokesman said it must have been a late or incomplete filing. That turned out to be the case, and on Aug. 12, Babcock was informed that the fine had been withdrawn. "They didn't even make me pay the 10 cents," he said.

Yet another space flight

By KEELY COGHLAN
Americans are jaded. Case in point: Another space shuttle is making a run this week. Does anyone care?

Not too many years ago, we sat breathless on the edge of our seats when the astronauts first orbiting the moon declared that it was not made of green cheese.

Today, they let anyone — not just civilian scientists and doctors, but teachers and politicians — up into space, and no one even notices.

We finally broke the all-white, all-male barriers for qualifying as an astronaut, and now we don't even know who's flying up there. Name an astronaut currently making the Canaveral-to-White Sands flight besides Sally Ride and Guy Bluford Jr.

I can't even do that, and I read their names on the wire a couple of times a month. So much for being the elite, the ones with "The Right Stuff." These people need American Express cards so the launch pad supervisors know who they are.

I think of Jack Nicholson in "Terms of Endearment." The famous astronauts — John Glenn, Jake Garn, Neil Armstrong, "Buzz" Aldrin, Michael Collins — these people have names they can at least sell to Tang.

The current pack isn't going to rate a Trivial Pursuit question.

When I was growing up, space flights were special: the "top story tonight." Like Kennedy's death, everyone seems to remember where they were when Armstrong first made his "giant leap for mankind."

We watched the landing at my aunt and uncle's house at a big family gathering: they had a color television, still not an overwhelmingly common household item at the time. Within a few years, everyone seemed to have color TVs, and no one but me got up at 3 a.m. or 4 a.m. to watch some astronaut I don't remember play golf on the moon.

In 10 years, they'll have a pro-am tournament scheduled at the site, and the athletes will all hop on the shuttle and charge the trip. And it won't even make the front page of the sports section.

Billy Graham Make yourself Jesus' witness

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: What do you think are the main arguments for the existence of God? My college roommate says he's an atheist. I don't agree with him but I don't really know how to answer him, although I am a Christian and do not intend to go back on my commitment to Jesus Christ. — W.N.

DEAR W.N.: Atheism is the belief that God does not exist. Notice that I said it is a "belief," because one of the things you need to remember about atheism is that it is actually a commitment of faith (although most people who claim to be atheists will not face this fact).

In other words, an atheist cannot prove that God does not exist — the most he can say is that he has never seen any proof, which he found convincing. It is somewhat like a person saying he does not believe there is such a thing as the South Pole, because he has never seen it or experienced it. But just because it is outside the scope of his experience does not mean there is no South Pole. In the same way, just because your roommate has never experienced God does not mean God does not exist.

Even if all their questions were answered, they would not turn to Christ because they want to stay in their win. Pray for your roommate, and pray that God will make you a loving and vibrant witness for Christ.

Dear Abby

November is National Liver Awareness Month

DEAR ABBY: Last year, you alerted more Americans to the hazards of liver disease than any other public relations activity we have ever promoted. November is National Liver Awareness Month, so will you please be the "voice of the liver" again?

THELMA KING THIEL, PRESIDENT, AMERICAN LIVER FOUNDATION

DEAR THELMA: I'll try.

FELLOW AMERICANS! (with apologies to Paul Harvey):

Approximately 50,000 men, women and children die of liver disease every year. You may have liver disease and not be aware of it because liver diseases show few symptoms until the damage is far advanced. There are no treatments or cures for most liver ailments except liver transplants, and livers are hard to come by.

The liver is a miraculous organ; it manufactures blood, vitamins, bile, protein and amino acids. If it is mistreated, overworked or damaged, it will close down. And so will you.

Your liver has the job of "detoxing" all the poisons you take in — drugs, environmental pollutants, alcohol and other chemicals you eat, breathe and absorb through your skin. The clotting factors that stop the bleeding when you cut yourself while shaving or peeling an apple are created by your liver.

This is fair warning, and it could be the only one you will ever get because your liver cannot tell you that it is going until it's almost gone.

Liver damage can be prevented — if you know how.

For a free booklet on how to care for your liver, send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to: The American Liver Foundation, 998 Pompton Ave., Cedar Grove, N.J. 07009.

an hour before this couple was to arrive. She phoned and said, "Can we have a rain check?"

I replied, "Sure. Call me the next time it rains for 40 days and 40 nights!" Then I hung up.

I lost a friend, but retained my sanity. You're right, Abby. Who needs friends like that?

Dr. Donohue

Electric shock therapy is not something new

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Is electric shock treatment for mental patients something new and — yet untested? If it is being used, for what kind of patients is it considered? Is it safe? — S.S.

Electro-convulsive therapy (ECT) has been around for half a century. It has periodically fallen into and out of favor, but it has always had a share of critics and adherents. It is being done today.

In ECT, the electric current is applied through electrodes attached to the head. Treatments are usually given two or three times a week for up to a month. ECT is reserved today for very special cases, such as patients in very deep depression and in some cases of schizophrenia that actually pose danger to the patient or to those around him. In carefully-selected settings the effectiveness has been pretty good.

I cannot say I've had much firsthand experience with this therapy, but in skilled hands and with very careful patient selection it remains part of treatment for mental illness. Used by those expert in its limitations, it is safe.

(The following letter is related to this subject in only the most bizarre way. I print it because I feel the writer may need help):

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I've a question you don't hear very often. I've never seen it in your column. It has to do with shock treatments. My parents would take a light bulb out of a socket and insert my finger in to and turn it on. Once, the house fuse blew up because of it. Would ordinary house current have been enough to damage me? Could it have altered my body, like my genes? Any help you can give me would be greatly appreciated. — S.R.S.

Ordinary house current can electrocute you. If, however, you have no visible damage, you don't have to worry. It didn't damage your genes. You'll notice I specified "visible" damage.

I don't know if you are putting me on. I kind of hope you are. But if you aren't, I suspect the damage done by this barbarous practice would lie in the emotional scars. I don't see how any child could escape that. If you have, as I pray you have, you are lucky. If you have not, seek out professional help, and you can begin with any physician.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What exactly is selenium? I am told it is a vital body mineral. What can getting too much of it do to you? My mother buys it and wants us all to take it. I don't know why. — R.R.

Nor do I. Selenium is a non-metallic element found in soil, which means it's found in foods. It is one of the trace elements in our bodies. And as with any trace elements, getting too much can cause toxicity. That can lead to vomiting, nausea, hair and nail loss, and a host of other symptoms.

If you or your mother are using this indiscriminately, I suggest you check with your doctor. He can, first of all, tell you how much you are getting in the pills and whether that is at toxic levels. There have been reports of poisoning in people taking large amounts.

FOR MISS B.S.: — Morpheus is a variant of scleroderma. But it's limited to skin signs. No internal organs are affected. Steroid creams do help. You will probably find it in that medical book under "scleroderma."

Having trouble getting to sleep at night? In his new booklet Dr. Donohue examines the insomnia problem and offers some ways to help you get your needed rest. For a copy of "Why Can't You Sleep?," send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611.

DAR chapter members plan project for funds

Members of the Captain Elisha Mack chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met recently at the La Posada restaurant and learned they will sell pecans as a fund raising project.

Mrs. John Damron, regent, presided, and gave a report on national defense. Mrs. John Key brought a message from the President General.

Mrs. Jack Alexander gave a report on national holidays, including religious, political and patriotic. She said the nation is accustomed to treating holidays as days of rest and play. The nation is in danger of losing sight of the significance of each holiday.

The U.S. Congress and President may establish legal holidays for federal employees. These and other days often receive nationwide observance and have become public holidays. States have jurisdiction over which holidays to observe.

Alexander said that Lincoln's birthday was not listed as a holiday until 20 years after his death. Other items she mentioned were that Memorial Day is also known as Decoration Day, and that it was changed from May 30th to the last Monday in May and is observed by all states except Louisiana.

On July 4, 1776, one year after George Washington took command of the Army, the Declaration of Independence was read to members of Congress in Philadelphia. A copy was sent to Washington in New York, who read it to his troops.

Labor Day is a day of rest and a tribute to working men and women around the country. America is the first nation to celebrate Labor Day.

Columbus discovered America on Oct. 12, 1492. Columbus Day is a favorite holiday for school children because the day signifies heroism, adventure, sea islands, storms and a happy ending, Alexander said.

Nov. 11 was first proclaimed Armistice Day in 1919 to commemorate the signing on Nov. 11, 1918, the Armistice that ended World War I. The holiday was changed to Veterans Day in 1953.

Thanksgiving is a day of thanks and is observed the fourth Thursday of November in every state.

Christmas is a religious and national holiday and has continued since the first of this century.

Hostesses for Saturday's meeting were Mrs. William Riley and Mrs. Helen Early. The next meeting is Nov. 16 in the home of Olive Ruth Cowden, Sterling City Route.

Big Spring State Hospital volunteers selling cookbooks

By CAROL BALDWIN
Lifestyle Editor

Volunteers at the Big Spring State Hospital are raising money for the new curtains in the Allred Building at the hospital by selling cookbooks titled, "Savory Secrets, The Best Recipes of the Year." The recipes are easy to prepare. The cookbook is broken up into a number of categories, including dressings, salads, soups, casseroles, Mexican food, bread, seafood, pork, poultry, beef and desserts.

The cookbooks are $3 and are available at the Volunteer office at the Big Spring State Hospital. The cookbooks will also be sold at an arts and crafts sale Nov. 23 in the Big Spring Mall.

Now here's a sampling of recipes from the cookbook:

MUSHROOM ONION OMELET

Filling:
1 Tbsp. butter
1 bunch scallions or green onions, sliced
3 cups (1/2 lb.) sliced mushrooms
1/4 tsp. salt
Generous dash pepper

Omelet:
8 eggs
1/4 tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. butter
1/4 cup water
Generous dash pepper

Melt butter or margarine in medium skillet. Add mushrooms, onion, salt and pepper; saute over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until mushrooms are lightly browned and onion is transparent. Remove from skillet and keep warm while preparing omelets.

In medium bowl combine eggs, water, salt and pepper. Beat with fork until thoroughly blended but not frothy.

In omelet pan or medium skillet over medium-high heat, melt 1 Tbsp. butter or margarine; pour in half the egg mixture. Cook slowly until it begins to set at edges, lifting sides occasionally with spatula to allow uncooked portion to flow underneath. While omelet is still moist on top, fill with half the filling. Sprinkle with 1 tablespoon parsley. Run pancake turner around edge to flip out onto plate. Keep warm while preparing second omelet with remaining ingredients. Cut each in half. Makes four servings.

BROCCOLI AND HAM CASSEROLE

1 bunch broccoli
5 Tbsp. melted butter or margarine, divided
3 Tbsp. all-purpose flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. white pepper
1/2 cup chopped cooked ham or luncheon meat
1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
3/4 cup soft breadcrumbs

Trim off large leave of broccoli. Remove tough ends of lower stalks and wash broccoli thoroughly. If stalks are more than 1 inch in diameter, make lengthwise slits in stalks. Cook broccoli in a small amount of boiling salted water for 12 to 15 minutes or until barely tender; drain. Combine 3 tablespoons butter and flour, blending until smooth; cook over low heat until bubbly. Gradually add milk, cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thick. Add salt and pepper. Alternate layers of broccoli, ham and sauce in a 1 1/2-quart casserole. Combine cheese and breadcrumbs; add 2 tablespoons butter, and toss well. Sprinkle over mixture in casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes or until crumbs are brown. Makes 6 servings.

SWEET AND SOUR CHICKEN

1 can (8 oz.) pineapple chunks
1 1/4 cups water
3 Chicken Bouillon cubes
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/4 cup catsup
1 Tbsp. soy sauce
1 cup green pepper strips
1 Tbsp. margarine
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 Tbsp. shortening
2 cups carrot sticks
1/4 cup packed brown sugar

1/4 tsp. ginger
2 Tbsp. vinegar
2 cups diced cooked chicken
3/4 tsp. salt
2 1/4 cups instant rice

Drain pineapple, reserving juice. Add water to juice to make 2 1/4 cups. Saute onion in shortening in large skillet until tender. Add 1 1/4 cups water, carrots and bouillon or broth. Cover and simmer 5 minutes. Combine sugar, cornstarch and ginger; add catsup, vinegar and soy sauce, and stir into vegetable mixture. Cook until clear and thickened. Add chicken, green pepper and pineapple; cover and simmer 5 minutes. Meanwhile, bring measured liquid, salt and butter to a boil. Stir in rice. Remove from heat; cover and let stand 5 minutes. Serve chicken mixture over rice. Makes 6 servings.

TURTLES

10 ounces pecan halves
1 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup packed dark brown sugar
1 cup whipping cream
1 cup light corn syrup
6 Tbsp. unsalted sweet butter
1 1/2 tps. vanilla
6 ounces semisweet chocolate
6 ounces milk chocolate
6 Tbsp. unsalted sweet butter

Generously oil 4 baking sheets. Place pecan halves in clusters of 4 at even intervals on baking sheets (each sheet should hold about 12 clusters). Combine sugars, cream, corn syrup, 6 tablespoons butter and the vanilla in large enamel or stainless-steel saucepan. Heat over high heat, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves; reduce heat to medium. Wash down sugar crystals on side of pan with pastry brush dipped in cold water. Cook, stirring occasionally, until thermometer registers 245 degrees (firm-ball stage), about 35 minutes. Cook, stirring constantly, 5 minutes.

Pour one generous tablespoon of the caramel over each pecan cluster (caramel will spread to cover most of nut surface.) Cool slightly. When caramel is warm but not set, mound clusters with fingertips to form turtle shapes. Let stand until completely cool and firm, about 1 hour. Heat chocolates and 6 tablespoons butter in small saucepan over warm water (100 degrees), stirring constantly, until melted. Transfer turtles to wire racks on baking sheets. Spoon chocolate mixture over turtles; spread with spatula to cover nuts. Cool turtles to room temperature. Store covered in airtight tins or refrigerator covered up to 3 weeks.

Hawk Queens open season at MCC

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Writer

WACO — Howard College Hawk-Queens basketball coach Don Stevens will get a chance to see just how "green" his squad is when the Queens play in the McLennan Highlassie Classic this Wednesday through Friday.

The Queens will play San Jacinto today at 2 p.m. in the opening round of tournament play. It will be the season opener for Stevens' squad, a team dominated by freshmen.

Stevens, entering his 10th year at Howard College, has 10 freshmen to go along with a sophomore starter and sophomore first year player. Lorrie French is the lone returning starter. Last season the 5-9 wing player from Sonora, averaged eight points per game as the Queens point guard.

Big Spring product Monette Wise is the only other player with collegiate experience on the squad. Last year she played for Hardin-Simmons University.

"This is definitely the youngest team I've had at Howard," said Stevens. "I've had some freshmen dominated teams, but never with this many freshmen throughout the lineup."

Also missing from this year's team is a big post player, something the Queens have always had in the past. This year the Queens don't have a player over six-foot tall.

The Queens received a big blow when post player Stefanie Massie, a 5-11 freshman from Houston Dulles High School, went down with a knee injury. She will be lost for the season with "damaged ligaments." "Stefanie was one of our key players and offered us a lot of offense and rebounding power."

Her absence will be sorely felt. However, I'm sure that the rest of the squad will work that much harder to take up the slack."

Massie will be redshirted this season, according to Stevens.

With Massie out and the lack of big post players, the Queens game will plan to change this season. Stevens' squad will employ a three and four-guard offense and a pressing defense.

"I hadn't run a four-guard offense since high school," said the Queens coach. "We'll be very entertaining for the fans because we'll run-and-gun and play pressure defense. We'll try to utilize our quickness."

"We've been inconsistent in our scrimmages, but that is to be expected of such a young team. Our defense has been good but our turnovers and rebounding leave a little to be desired."

Stevens rates the opening tournament a tough one. Host school MCC and Panola are two of the favorites.

"I expect the kids to play with a lot of intensity and be a pleasant surprise. I think we have a chance to win two out of three. I like playing tough teams because I'd rather lose to a good team than win against a pushover. Playing the good kids can't help but make them better."

Lady Steers clinch 4-5A title

ABILENE — It's been a long time coming, but a district championship is back in the land of the Black and Gold.

Last night the Lady Steers brought the title back to Big Spring after a convincing 15-5, 15-12 over the Abilene Eagles to claim the District 4-5A title. It gives the Lady Steers volleyball program its first district crown since 1978 and caps off a very successful three years for Lady Steers coach Susan Sharp.

In her first season Sharp's team finished fourth in district. Last season they finished third and this season she and her squad grabbed the brass ring.

"It feels real good," said a jubilant Sharp after her team's two-game sweep. We had Abilene on our mind. There wasn't any outstanding players out there for us, it was a total team effort."

Sharp says the game ranks right up there with the win over San Angelo, but the San Angelo game meant more to her team. "When we beat San Angelo, it proved to us we can beat anybody we play. It also proved to the rest of the district that San Angelo could be beaten."

The first match was Big Spring all the way as the hometown Eagles tried to no avail. The Eagles suffered from a breakdown in fundamentals in the first game against the eventual district champions. They seemed to be trying too hard against the Lady Steers, overhitting and overcompensating on every point.

The second game was a little bit tougher for the Lady Steers.

Big Spring jumped out to a 5-0 lead and saw it eventually shrink to a 13-10 margin and then to 13-12. That's when Lady Steers' senior spiker Tammi Green unloaded her arsenal of game-winning kills to put the game away for Big Spring.

"The kids accomplished what I expected of them," said Sharp. I expect them to be up for San Angelo Saturday."

If San Angelo defeats the Lady

Steers Saturday, then San Angelo would be the district runner-up. If Big Spring wins and Abilene High defeats Cooper, then a playoff between Abilene and San Angelo would be play to decide the runner-up team.

Big Spring is now 23-8 for the season and 12-1 in district play.

JV'S MAKE IT A SWEEP
The Lady Steers JV swept the Eagles 15-8, 15-13 to raise their district record to 9-4.

Sonya Evans served 8 points in the first game while Kim Phipps served 5 points in the second game. Michelle LeGrande had a good night spiking, according to coach Elaine Stone.

Rockets rip Seattle

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's Ralph Sampson and Lewis Lloyd proved to be too much of a one-two punch for the Seattle SuperSonics to handle in the third quarter.

Robert Reid got in his licks in the second quarter.

Sampson and Lloyd scored 11 of Houston's first 13 points of a breakaway third quarter as the Rockets outscored Seattle 36-15 for the period and rolled to a 111-99 National Basketball Association victory Tuesday night.

"We were just playing our game and everything clicked," Sampson said. "We needed to play hard for one quarter to put the game out of reach."

The Rockets led from start to finish but had a sluggish first quarter.

"We were trying to get out too quick and play too hard too early," Sampson said.

Rockets guard John Lucas said the Rockets were trying to atone for their 112-108 overtime loss to the Los Angeles Clippers.

"We were mad because of the LA loss," Lucas said. "We came out and wanted to kill."

Reid came off the bench with 12 second quarter points to boost the Rockets.

"I think we got a little anxious in the first half and had some turnovers," Rockets Coach Bill Fitch said. "Fortunately, Robert Reid had some good play in the second quarter."

Sampson, who also had 12 rebounds, sat out most of the fourth quarter after the Rockets built up a 103-73 lead going into the final minutes.

Lloyd scored nine points in the third quarter to assist the surge and finished with 17 points while Akeem Olatunwo scored 13 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

"Lew had a great third quarter, rebounding and his outlet passes were great," Rockets Coach Bill Fitch said. "When you get him on one or one on two, he can have some fun with the ball."

Sampson also helped Houston in the early going, with nine first quarter points as the Rockets moved to a 26-18 lead after the first period.

Reid hit five of six shots from the field in nine minutes of the second quarter for 12 points and a 55-45 bulge at intermission.

Houston Rocket forward RODNEY McCRAY takes a rebound away from Seattle SuperSonic rookie forward XAVIER MCDANIEL in the Rockets 111-99 victory Tuesday night in Houston.

Lacrosse to debut in Big Spring

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Sports Writer

One of the oldest sports in North America is making its official debut in Big Spring.

Lacrosse, the centuries old Indian game played first by warring tribes in Mexico, is coming to town in a somewhat more civilized form, featuring the Texas Tech and Texas A&M lacrosse club teams in an exhibition performance. They'll square off in a benefit match for the Howard County United Way Saturday, November 2 at 8 p.m. in Memorial Stadium.

In case there are some who aren't familiar with the game, here's a bit of its history: It originated in Mexico at the height of the Aztec Empire. Teams of 100 players, some on horseback, others on foot, played on an open field that sometimes stretched for miles in length. The object of the game was to throw a stone ball through a hoop suspended high above the playing ground. Matches sometimes lasted weeks, with numerous casualties. The team which scored the first goal was the winner. All players on the losing team were killed. And you thought Americans took their games seriously.

Dr. Bill Kosar, who has served as faculty sponsor of the Tech lacrosse team since its start, sees the players as unique. "Most of these kids have never heard of lacrosse and yet they have the initiative to learn a totally foreign game. Our lacrosse players have a lot of discipline. They keep up with their studies, practice nearly every day, play a four month schedule, and all for little or no recognition."

The dedication pays off for Tech, which boasts Southwest Lacrosse Association championships in 1979, 1980, 1983 and 1984. Last April they defended their title by defeating Texas A&M in the SWLA finals in Lubbock.

The level of play in the SWLA also has risen dramatically over the past decade. Some of the first SWLA champion teams were little better than junior varsity squads.

"I think you'll be surprised how well these guys play the game," said Kosar. "The past couple of years we've had an SWLA All-Star game against John Hopkins (defending NCAA Lacrosse champions) and they've put in a good showing. The level of play gets better every year."

This year's charity game is the brainchild of United Way volunteer Paul Thoman, an ex-goalie on the University of Texas intramural team in the SWLA's first year.

"One year we played a charity game in a little town outside of San Antonio called Pleasanton. They had a prize drawing and I guess people were curious and they filled the whole high school stadium. It's been in the back of my mind ever since. It was a great fund raiser and when we were thinking of projects for this year's United Way drive it seemed like a fun idea."

Thoman is hoping that this novelty sport will attract at least 1,500 spectators. "I think it will be a success once people see the game. It could turn into an annual event if all goes well this year."

Modern lacrosse is an amalgam of sports. It incorporates the passing and offensive plays of basketball, the foot speed and agility of soccer and the body checks and hard shots on goal of ice hockey.

In a word, exciting. The two opposing teams are made up of ten players on a side; three defensemen, three midfielders, three attackmen and one goalie. Each player carries a stick of at least three feet in length with webbed basket on the end used for picking up and throwing the solid rubber lacrosse ball.

The game is played on a field a little longer than a football field (110 yards) and quite a bit wider (70 yards). The goal area or crease is a circular section 18 feet in diameter about 15 yards from the endlines. The crease is off-limits to all players except the goalie. Shots on goal must be made outside the crease, although a player can fall into the circle without penalty after a shot.

Each game has four quarters, each of 15 minutes. The object of the game is simple. The team which scores the most goals wins.

In addition to Tech and A&M, the SWLA is made up of University of Texas, Texas Christian University, Southern Methodist University, Baylor, Rice, Sam Houston State, Oklahoma State, University of Oklahoma, Tulane and Louisiana State University.

The SWLA has been around for 10 See Lacrosse page 2-B

Rivera, Lopez head eighth week Crossroads Honor Roll

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Sports Writer

In a somewhat dismal week of Crossroad Country football action, there were some bright spots individually in last Friday's area games.

Leading this week's offensive stars was one of the most consistent performers in the Crossroads, Colorado City tailback Sammy Rivera. The senior slasher had a career high 191 yards on 24 carries and one touchdown in the Wolves' 39-7 loss to Ballinger. This unprecedented output put Rivera over the 1,000 yard mark for the season with 1,054 yards in eight games and earned him Offensive Player of the Week honors.

On the defensive side, a newcomer to the Garden City linebacker corps made life miserable for the Sands in the Bearcats surprising 28-6 victory over the Mustangs Friday night.

Bearkat linebacker Jesse Lopez, who moved to the inside spot just two weeks ago, was in on 14 unassisted tackles and harassed the Sands backfield with his stunting enough to earn Defensive Player of the Week honors.

Other top offensive performances of the week included Lopez's teammate Abby Madrid, who rushed for 84 yards on 16 carries and a 21-yard touchdown.

Garden City quarterback David Montgomery also made the most of five passing attempts connecting on three for 54 yards and two touchdowns. Bearkat halfback Frankie Ramirez was on the receiving end of both touchdown passes.

Other Bearkat defensive standouts included defensive back Kenny Bennet, linebacker Trey Willey with seven tackles and Madrid with eight stops.

Borden County tailback Chris Cooley had a fine day of all-purpose offense. The senior Coyote rushed for 204 yards on 21 carries and two touchdowns, completed both his passes to Brice Key for touchdowns, and caught a 23 yard touchdown pass in their 52-34 loss to Highland. Cooley also had a busy night on defense, helping out on 19 tackles along with fellow linebacker Mickey Burkett, who recorded 13 stops.

Forsan's Wayne Wright continued his fine offensive performances against Loraine. Wright carried 15 times for 159 yards and three touchdowns. Two of his touchdowns were on runs of 64 and 48 yards. Bruce Strickland had another great game for the Buffaloes. The senior linebacker was in on 17 tackles and blocked a punt for a Forsan safety. He also had 92 yards on nine carries, including a 38-yard touchdown run and a 19-yard field goal.

Grady quarterback Luis Gonzales had another good night passing going 17 of 27 for 311 yards and four touchdowns in a 84-38 loss to Ira. Gonzales' favorite receiver was Wildcat tight end Terry Deathrage, who snagged six passes for 146 yards and two TD's.

Coahoma's new tailback Gary Vaughn was the lone bright spot on offense in the Bulldog's 34-0 loss to Sonora. He rushed for 73 tough yards in his second game in the backfield. Vaughn's teammate Rene Ruiz had an excellent game in place of the injured Tommy Soto, registering 11 tackles from his defensive tackle position.

Other Crossroads Country offensive standouts included Stanton quarterback Kevin Glaspie, who completed 12 of 25 passes for 128 yards and a touchdown against Reagan County. Klondike quarterback Bryan Kirkland completed eight passes for 96 yards. His favorite targets were Cougar receivers Wesley O'Brien and John Matthews.

Other defensive standouts included Stanton linebackers Robert Tello and Tommy Smith, Sands linebacker Jay Fryar and Klondike linebacker Cisco Arrendondo.

Steers Carroll provides leadership Lacrosse Player Profile

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Sports Writer

When one grows up playing football in Big Spring, it's best to learn to play many positions. Just ask Colin Carroll, the senior statesman of Big Spring's crew of versatile gridiron athletes.

In 1985, Carroll has excelled in nearly every facet of the game. He is listed in every statistical category except passing this year with; 103 yards rushing, four catches for 50 yards, 22 tackles, two fumble recoveries and 14 points scored on the season.

Not a bad season for a guy who nearly ended up a full time power forward.

Early in Carroll's career, he almost gave up football completely for his favorite sport, basketball.

"Coach (Archie) Meyer told me that I could play on the JV team my freshman year and he thought I had a lot of talent. We had just gone 0-10 in football, so I thought about playing only basketball pretty seriously. But coach Eudy talked me out of it, thankfully."

Eudy obviously knew what he was doing because Carroll has since bloomed into a three-year starter at defensive end and is the Steers backfield handyman. Carroll is also Big Spring's kicking specialist, with eight extra points and a pair of field goals against Odessa High to his credit this year.

Of Carroll's myriad experiences on the field for the Steers, kicking has provided the biggest thrill. "When I kicked that field goal last year with 16 seconds left to beat Snyder, that was the best."

Though Carroll has shouldered the responsibility wherever the coaches have put him, his first love as a football player was tailback. "I played tailback my junior year, but that's when I weighed 160. I put on about 25 pounds last year. And you know what happens to 185 pound tailbacks that can't turn the corner. They turn into blocking fullbacks."

And where does Carroll feel his natural position is? Tight end, of course.

I never really played much tight end, but coach Eudy says that if I improved my upper body strength, I could walk on some where."

Playing in the toughest district in the state has often times been a humbling experience in his career as a Steer but Carroll has no regrets about playing for Big Spring. "The thing I've learned most playing football is to never quit, to always do my best. That's one thing you can always say about a Big Spring football team; they never quit. I'm proud to be associated with that."

Even though there would certainly be more success if Big Spring were to drop down to the 4A ranks, Carroll feels that the Steers are better off staying in the "Little Southwest Conference". "I think we're setting a trend this year. We've proved on offense that we can move the ball with anybody in the 4-5A and our defense is going to be sound next year. We'd probably end up winning more games in 4A, but I think the best thing for Big Spring is to stay put."

As a senior, Carroll has also provided the leadership needed for the young Steer squad to build a winning program. "Our senior class is small, but they're real leaders. We've all stuck together and brought the team closer. I wish we had those games back against Lee, Cooper and Midland. We're definitely not a 2-6 team."

As a senior, Carroll won't get another chance at a winning season this year, but he has been essential in laying the foundation for winning seasons in the future.

years and has seen a great rise in popularity since first being established. It was originally formed by homesick students from the lacrosse hotbeds around Baltimore and Long Island, N.Y., but has since gained popularity with native Texans looking for a sports challenge.

The Texas Tech team has been involved with the SWLA from its inception. The present squad is made up of 85 percent Texans and a smattering of out-of-state players with some high school background in the sport. There are no formal coaches, usually the older players with some experience help teach. The team receives limited financial support from the Tech Student Recreation Department, enough to cover travel costs and helmets. Each player must supply his own equipment and pays $15 per semester to be on the team.

Michelle Husted has been playing competitive volleyball four years. This season the 5-9 junior spiker has given the Lady Steers great bench strength.

MICHELLE HUSTED

"Volleyball is a fun sport," said Husted. "It's exciting and there are always ways to improve." The daughter of Carroll and Judy Husted says that her sister has been the most influential person pertaining to her volleyball career.

Husted's hobbies include riding horses, snow skiing, ceramics, fishing and water skiing. She is also a member of Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Her future plans include attending Hardin-Simmons University after graduation. "I haven't decided what my major will be yet."

Surprising Clippers sport 3-0 record

By The Associated Press
It's been so long since the Los Angeles Clippers started a season 3-0 that they've had two name changes and two franchise moves in between.

The Clippers, who were the Buffalo Braves in 1975 when they first were 3-0, posted their third straight comeback victory Tuesday night to beat the Portland Trail Blazers 119-113 in National Basketball Association action.

"It's like a kid playing with fire. Eventually, he's going to get burned," Coach Don Chaney said of the three unlikely rallies. "We've been toying with teams until halftime and then we come back."

NBA Roundup

Unheralded guard Derek Smith, averaging 30 points in the three games, led the Clippers with 28 points, while Franklin Edwards added 17.

Elsewhere in the NBA, it was Atlanta 102, New York 87; Washington 97, Cleveland 90; Detroit 124, New Jersey 107; the Los Angeles Lakers 133, Dallas 115; Milwaukee 119, Philadelphia 117; Houston 111, Seattle 99; San Antonio 124, Utah 112; Denver 142, Phoenix 127; and Chicago 111, Golden State 105. Denver and Chicago joined the Clippers with 3-0 records, while Washington and the Lakers are 2-0.

In their opener last Friday night, the Clippers came back from a 19-point deficit in the first NBA game ever at Sacramento. Then, on Saturday, they beat Houston after trailing by four points with just 12 seconds left in double overtime.

Tuesday's triumph came after Los Angeles was 14 points behind in the second quarter.

"I think Don Chaney can't take much more of these," said Clippers forward Marques Johnson, who scored the go-ahead basket with 2:49 left in the game. "We keep digging a hole for ourselves in the first quarter and trying to come back. But it's been a successful formula for us so far."

Portland, which was led by Sam Bowie with 23 points, led 30-21 after the first quarter and extended the margin to 14 in the second period before settling for a 61-50 halftime advantage.

"Defense and intensity are two things that brought us back," Smith said. "I think we're a very tentative team at the beginning of the game. But when we get down and nobody in particular seems to be able to pull it out, then we all seem to say, 'OK, let's get back in it' and then we seem to do it."

After Johnson, who scored 16 points, gave Los Angeles the lead for good, the Clippers scored 11 of the next 15 points to pull away.

"They're a team to be reckoned with in the West," Bowie said. "They beat Houston and they beat us."

"They're making the big plays at the end of the game, which you have to do to win games," added Trail Blazers Coach Jack Ramsay.

Bulls 111, Warriors 105

Although Michael Jordan suffered a slight ankle injury late in the first half and scored an NBA career-low of 12 points, Chicago held on to beat winless Golden State.

Eric Floyd, who finished with a game-high 32 points for the Warriors, hit a three-point shot with 1:02 left to tie the score at 105-105. But in the final minute, Jawann Oldham scored on a tip-in and Gene Banks had a basket and two free throws for the Bulls.

Orlando Woolridge led Chicago with 27 points.

Lakers 133, Mavericks 115

Los Angeles outscored Dallas 101-69 the rest of the game after falling behind by 14 points in the second period.

James Worthy scored 21 points, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar added 20 and Michael Cooper had 19 points and 11 assists for the Lakers, while 16-4 run before halftime wiped out most of the Mavericks' 46-32 lead.

Los Angeles, which played without Earvin "Magic" Johnson, who has a case of shingles, outscored Dallas 60-46 in the second half. Mark Aguirre led all scorers with 25 points for the Mavericks.

Nuggets 142, Suns 127

Denver also stayed unbeaten as Alex English scored 34 points and Phoenix committed a team-record 39 turnovers.

English, who has scored 113 points in the three Nuggets victories, had 12 in the third period as Denver rallied from a nine-point halftime deficit. The Suns still led 90-83 with 9:11 left in the quarter, but the Nuggets outscored Phoenix 33-14 for the remainder of the period to take a 116-104 lead into the final 12 minutes.

Larry Nance, who missed all of the preseason and the first Suns game in a contract dispute, scored 22 points after ending the holdout earlier Tuesday. Mike Evans had 23 points and Calvin Natt 21 for the Nuggets.

Bucks 118, 76ers 117

Milwaukee, eliminated by Philadelphia in four straight games in the playoffs last season, won the return match when Sidney Moncrief hit a 15-foot jumper with one second remaining.

Moncrief, who scored 23 points, made the game-winner after Julius Erving's jumper tied the score with 17 seconds left.

Paul Pressey had 28 points and 12 assists for the Bucks. Sedale Threatt led the 76ers with 24 points, 18 of them in the second quarter, while Moses Malone and Charles Barkley added 21 each.

Hawks 102, Knicks 87

Dominique Wilkins, after starting Atlanta's first two games at guard, moved to forward opposite his brother, Gerald, and led the Hawks over New York.

Dominique had 22 points and 13 rebounds, while Gerald, a rookie, managed only four points for the Knicks.

"I enjoyed playing against my brother. I wanted to welcome him to the NBA," Dominique said. "I hope our mother rooted for me."

The Hawks, who outrebounded New York 60-44, led 27-21 after the first quarter and extended the margin to 50-33 nine minutes later.

Rockets 111, Sonics 99

Ralph Sampson scored 15 of his 24 points in the third quarter to lead Houston over Seattle.

The Rockets led 55-45 at halftime as Robert Reid scored 12 points in the second period. Houston turned the game into a rout in the third quarter, extending its advantage to 91-62. The SuperSonics, who got 21 points from Tom Chambers and 20 from rookie Xavier McDaniel, outscored the Rockets 37-20 in the fourth quarter to make the final score less embarrassing.

Pistons 124, Nets 107

Kelly Tripucka scored 27 points, while Bill Laimbeer and John Long added 24 apiece as Detroit outscored New Jersey.

Laimbeer scored 16 points in the first period, including an 18-foot jumper with 4:27 left that opened a 25-14 lead for the Pistons.

The Nets, who got 25 points from Otis Birdsong, rallied to go ahead 72-71 in the third quarter, but a three-point goal from Isiah Thomas gave Detroit the lead for good at 78-76.

Bullets 97, Cavaliers 90

Dan Roundfield scored 13 of his 17 points in the third period as Washington extended a three-point halftime lead over Cleveland to 16.

A 17-2 Bullets run erased an early 17-5 deficit, and they led 49-46 at halftime before Roundfield's surge gave them a 75-59 lead going into the fourth quarter.

World B. Free led all scorers with 24 points for the Cavaliers.

Spurs 124, Jazz 112

Alvin Robertson scored 23 points and newly acquired David Greenwood led a 57-37 San Antonio rebounding advantage with 20 rebounds against Utah.

The Spurs led 65-57 at halftime as Mike Mitchell scored 17 of his 22 points in the first two quarters. They increased the margin to 16 in the third period while enjoying a 20-9 rebounding margin in the quarter.

Adrian Dantley led all scorers with 30 points for the Jazz.

Fowler back on Pokes' roster
IRVING (AP) The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League activated fullback Todd Fowler off the injured reserve list on Tuesday and released John Williams.

Fowler, who played for the Houston Gamblers in the United States Football League, reinjured a knee during the preseason.

Williams, who also played in the USFL, had kicked 13 times for 40 yards. He also had averaged 21.5 yards on six kickoff returns.

Boxing promoter trial rocks on
NEW YORK (AP) — A former Internal Revenue Service agent, who later worked as a tax attorney for Don King, was unaware of any gambling markers held by the boxing promoter, according to testimony at King's federal tax evasion trial.

Joseph Krusch, King's tax lawyer for nine years, testified Tuesday that numerous cash transactions involving King didn't come to his attention.

Although he described King as "the busiest man I've ever seen," Krusch acknowledged that the boxing promoter found time to discuss tax matters with him.

King and associate Constance Harper are charged with 20 counts of tax evasion, conspiracy and filing false tax returns. The government contends they skimmed $1 million from Don King Productions.

Krusch said that on occasion he advised King and Harper to keep accurate records of all cash outlays and expenses. Krusch, under questioning by King's attorney, Vincent Fuller, said he had always had free access to records and could ask questions of King or Harper about business transactions.

Krusch testified that in June 1981, after a subpoena was served on Caesar's Palace, a Las Vegas gambling casino, King was alerted that he might have tax problems.

"Ernie Young (accountant for Don King Productions) told me he was troubled," Krusch said.

Council to send ultimatum in renegotiations with Bell

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

Councilmen agreed Tuesday to send Southwestern Bell Telephone an ultimatum stating its position in contract renegotiations for use of city right-of-way.

Southwestern Bell representative Darlene Gifford told council members Monday afternoon that Bell would not accept the city's proposed contract, already an ordinance. The ordinance was passed in September.

Council members said the only problem was that their ordinance substituted a charge based on right-of-way mileage instead of a franchise fee. "It's not their (Bell's) standard contract," said Councilman Russ McEwen.

The standard Bell contract calls for the company to pay the city 3 percent of its gross receipts. However, the contract does exclude some revenue from the gross receipts figure, said City Finance Director Tom Ferguson.

Council members, however, said they would agree to such a short-term contract — City Manager Don Davis recommended a three-year term at most — only if the phone company would agree to update its step-by-step switching equipment here to electronic or digital.

Electronic or digital equipment is necessary for equal access for other long-distance companies. Currently, Big Spring residents can use other long-distance companies, but must dial a long series of numbers before connecting with their companies.

Gifford said she could not guarantee that the phone company would update the equipment. After Odessa and Abilene equipment is updated, then Big Spring would be a "hot spot," she said.

Mayor Pro Tem Harold Hall said he would agree to a contract where the city got 2 percent of the gross receipts in exchange for a guarantee to update the equipment in three years.

Gifford told councilmen as she left the meeting that if the city did not come up with an alternative to its September proposal, the issue would then go to district court.

Councilmen said at the meeting, after Gifford left, that they would go to court over their September proposal if the company would not agree to updating its equipment within a specified time.

Journalist wins outstanding teacher award

Dr. Dal M. Herring, now an associate journalism professor at Northern Arizona University, received the award in Tucson recently from the Arizona Newspapers Association.

He taught journalism and freshman English at Howard College from 1965-1974 and sponsored the campus newspaper, then called El Nido.

He is president of and helped form the Arizona First Amendment Coalition, an organization of Arizona media groups. The coalition operates a hotline for media newsmen who have legal problems and has litigated a case in the U.S. Supreme Court on behalf of a Phoenix TV reporter.

Women voters league endorses 4 amendments

The Big Spring/Howard County unit of the Texas League of Women Voters has announced opposition to one and endorsement of four amendments in next Tuesday's general election.

The league supports passage of Amendments 1 and 2, which would provide state funds to implement many of the recommendations of the Texas Water Plan adopted by the Water Development Board.

The amendments are significant steps toward "enhancement of water quality" and "conservation and reuse of water," according to a press release from the league.

The league also supports passage of Amendment 4, which is a Senate joint resolution proposing authorization use of proceeds from the sale of permanent school fund land to acquire other land for the permanent school fund.

According to the press release, by allowing proceeds to be invested in larger tracts, the amendment gives school land boards greater management flexibility.

The league supports passage of Amendment 13, which is a senate joint resolution calling for the establishment of a judicial districts board that would adjust the representation pattern of court districts following each decennial census should the Legislature not act.

The league opposes passage of Amendment 9, which would permit the Legislature to require prior approval of the expenditure or emergency transfer of appropriated funds to state governmental agencies.

According to the league press release, the amendment is another attempt by the Legislature to create a mechanism for managing budget execution between legislative sessions.

The league has taken no positions on the remaining nine proposed amendments.
