House OKs budget plan

Federal government still in credit crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House joined the balanced budget stampede Friday, reluctantly approving a Democratic plan that supporters said would do the job faster than a Senate-passed proposal while doing more to protect the needy from spending cuts.

However, the virtual party-line 249-180 vote did nothing to ease the government's credit crisis that was forcing the Treasury Department to redeem securities in the Social Security trust funds to keep money in the federal till.

The balanced budget plan is an amendment to legislation raising the national debt limit, the government's borrowing authority, from the current $1.824 trillion to more than $2 trillion.

The House action threw the issue back to the Senate. Republican leaders there indicated they would not accept the House plan, leaving it doubtful anything would be done before a midnight deadline for restoring the government's borrowing authority.

House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., hailed his party's unity — only two Democrats broke ranks — and said, "Democrats of every philosophy agreed that our goal is not to tear up the safety net, but to tear up Ronald Reagan's credit card."

The House later, on a 357-61 vote, passed an emergency measure that would extend the government's borrowing authority through Wednesday and head off the move on the Social Security trust funds. Senate Republicans indicated they would not go along with the short-term measure that only would postpone the crunch until next week.

After passing the short-term measure the House adjourned until Monday, leaving the Senate in a take-it-or-leave-it position.

Treasury Department spokesman Arthur Siddon said there was an absolute deadline for action of midnight Friday.

"If we don't have an increase in the debt ceiling by midnight, we will have to disinvest those (Social Security) funds," he said.

Jim Brown, a Social Security Administration spokesman, emphasized that beneficiaries will not be affected by the government's credit problems.

"The (Social Security) checks will be delivered today to the 37 million Social Security beneficiaries and to the 4 million Supplemental Security Income recipients," Brown said. "Those checks are good."

But White House Budget Director James C. Miller III said that, if

Absentee voting triples

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

The 226 absentee ballots cast in Tuesday's statewide constitutional amendment election more than tripled the number cast in the last constitutional amendment election, said Howard County Clerk Margaret Ray.

Absentee voting ended at 5 p.m. Friday, Ray said.

The turnout was heavy compared to the 69 absentee ballots cast in the last constitutional amendment election in 1983, she said.

Polls will open Tuesday at 7 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m.

Dorothy Moore, the county's tax assessor, said 17,383 Howard County residents are eligible to vote Tuesday. Her office is responsible for maintaining the county's current voter registration list.

Ray said fewer than 1,500 persons cast votes in the 1983 constitutional amendment election. "I hope the turnout is better" this year, she said.

She said the state's election code board in Austin instructed counties this year to plan for a 25 percent increase in voter turnout over the 1983 election.

The most talked about propositions on this year's ballot are Amendments 1 and 2, which authorize the state to fund nearly $1 billion in future water projects.

State Rep. Larry Shaw spoke in Big Spring recently, heavily endorsing the two amendments.

On Friday, the local Kiwanis club passed a unanimous resolution to support the water amendments, said president Carl Powers.

Also, Big Spring's Chapter of the League of Women Voters recently endorsed passage of the water amendments, and president Mike Moates of the Howard County Farm Bureau said the bureau supports their passage.

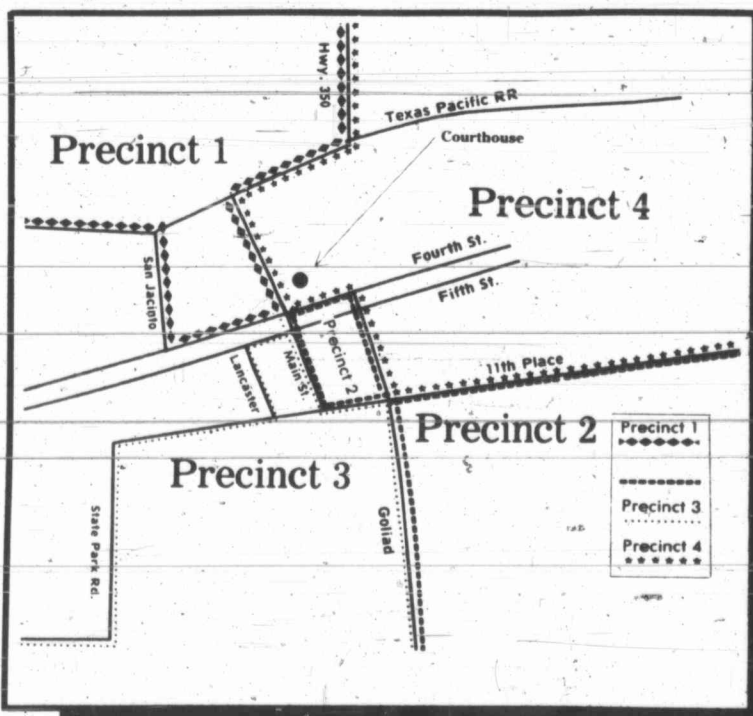

Ray said voters should present their voter registration cards at the appropriate election precinct on Tuesday.

Registered voters who have lost their cards will be allowed to vote after sworn affidavits are taken at the appropriate precinct, Ray said.

Voting polls for county commissioners' precincts are:

Work force doubles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civilian unemployment rate remained unchanged at 7.1 percent in October, but a big jump in the number of people holding jobs brought cheers from the White House and predictions from some analysts Friday of stronger economic growth ahead.

The growth in payroll employment was about twice what had been expected as gains were registered in both service industries and the battered U.S. manufacturing sector, the Labor Department said.

The unemployment rate among blacks and women fell with the number of women holding jobs climbing to an all-time high. However, the unemployment rate among teen-agers shot upward.

The number of people working grew by 329,000 last month, but this was not enough to send the unemployment rate down because the number of people entering the work force was up by an even larger 341,000.

A separate survey of business payrolls showed a larger 414,000-person advance in employment, the biggest gain this year.

At the White House, presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said, "The rise in employment is a clear signal that rapid expansion is under way, adding yet another indicator of substantial, sustainable growth in the fourth quarter."

While the Reagan administration was optimistically predicting a rebound following a year of sub-par growth, private economists were divided.

Some saw the employment gain as evidence of an upturn while others said the country's foreign trade problems would continue to hold growth back.

"This report sets the tone for a very bullish month. Factories are hiring back workers and they are increasing production," said Michael Evans, head of a Washington economic consulting firm.

One reason for the optimism was a gain of 60,000 manufacturing jobs last month. Before the October improvement, the United States had lost 330,000 manufacturing jobs this year as a flood of cheap imports cut into domestic sales.

Gramm's records face audit

DALLAS (AP) — A federal judge has cleared the way for the Federal Election Commission to audit Texas Sen. Phil Gramm's campaign records, but attorneys for the FEC say the process could take months.

U.S. District Judge Robert W. Porter of Dallas said Thursday that the Friends of Phil Gramm, the freshman senator's campaign committee, will have to submit most of the records requested in an FEC subpoena.

FEC staff members have questioned whether Gramm's campaign accepted donations above the $1,000 limit for individual contributors set by campaign finance laws and failed to itemize some campaign debts, according to court documents.

Gramm's reports show he spent $9.8 million in the Senate race last year.

Friends of Phil Gramm had filed a lawsuit in June seeking to block the FEC request for an audit.

Porter said the campaign

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm

records would have to be submitted after attorneys for the FEC and Gramm's campaign privately discussed the specifics of the subpoena for more than an hour.

Joseph Stoltz, an FEC

auditor, testified Thursday morning the records requested in the subpoena were needed to get an accurate picture of the Republican senator's campaign finances.

Porter had already ruled that the FEC has a right to audit Gramm's records. Thursday's hearing was to determine exactly how much information the FEC should get.

Both sides left Thursday's hearing saying they were pleased with its outcome.

"We got what the subpoena sought," Ivan Rivera, an attorney for the FEC, said.

Rivera said concessions were made where the subpoena requested records that did exist. He said an order outlining the agreement will be written and signed by the judge.

James F. Schoener, an attorney for Gramm's campaign, said Thursday morning that the subpoena requesting records for the audit is "harassment." But after the hearing, he said he was pleased with the agreement.

Recovered bell proof wreck that of 18th-century ship

CHATHAM, Mass. (AP) — A treasure hunter says he has recovered a bell that proves a wreck off Cape Cod is that of the pirate ship, Whidah, which sank in 1717 with a booty valued at $8 million to $12 million.

Barry Clifford and his crew have recovered seven cannons, several thousand coins, nine navigational sets, a casket of East Indian jewels and various other artifacts, including forks, spoons and a bottle top, since discovering the wreck in 1982.

But the experts said Clifford needed something with the ship's name on it to prove he had found what is believed to be the only pirate ship salvaged in these waters.

Corrosion was chipped away from the 18-inch bronze bell, brought up on Oct. 7, to show the legend: "The Whydah Gally 1716."

"There was no doubt in my mind that this was the Whidah," Clifford said Thursday. "This is the one thing needed to put any doubt to rest."

He said English words had a variety of spellings in the early 18th century, accounting for the difference in spelling.

"It would seem to me that this is the type of identification that we have been waiting for — not waiting, but hoping for," said Joseph A. Simmott, director of the state Board of Underwater Archaeological Resources.

"I don't think you could logically hope for more, short of the quarter-board," he added. "I don't think you could get anything better than the bell. That should do it."

Under state law, Clifford's business, Maritime Explorations, must pay the state one-quarter of the value of any treasure found.

The state archaeology board licensed the salvage operation and supervises the work, sending artifacts to be treated chemically and lodging valuables in a bank vault for examination and classification.

Named after an African slave port, the Whidah was a slave ship owned by the Royal African Co. of England and was on its maiden voyage in 1716 when the pirate, Samuel "Black" Bellamy seized it in the Caribbean.

Bellamy and most of his crew died when the ship sank in a great storm Feb. 17, 1717, off the outer forearm of Cape Cod. Historical accounts of the wreck told of bags of booty from plundering forays in the Caribbean.

Hispanics sue Air Force base for discrimination

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Two San Antonio brothers, claiming they and hundreds of other Hispanics at Kelly Air Force Base have been victims of bigotry and racism, filed a $300 million class action discrimination lawsuit Friday against the Secretary of the Air Force.

"Those people are racists and bigots, let's face it," said Manuel Munoz Jr. of his Kelly superiors who he said have denied him promotions.

Munoz said the lawsuit was filed on behalf of more than 1,000 Hispanics at Kelly with a GS rating of 9 to 15.

"We're not good enough to have the jobs" at the higher levels, Munoz said at a news conference after the suit was filed in federal court.

Michael Galvan Jr., another Hispanic Kelly worker supporting the suit, said his superiors "from the general on down" are responsible for the alleged discrimination.

"We've got to let them all know we're not wetbacks. We're Americans," he said.

The lawsuit seeks a permanent injunction barring any further alleged discrimination against Mexican males and the reassignment of affected workers to jobs they would have if the alleged discrimination did not exist.

Munoz said the suit also seeks $300 million in wages and other benefits lost because of alleged conditions at Kelly.

"We have not yet been notified of a lawsuit," said Lt. Col. Ed Cooke, Kelly spokesman.

"However, we are proud of and stand by our record of equal opportunity employment," he said.

"Nearly 61 percent of Kelly Air Force Base employees are Hispanic. It is the highest number of Hispanics employed anywhere in the federal government. Kelly Air Force Base is very conscious of and committed to equal employment opportunities for all people," Cooke said.

Munoz, 50, said he has been a supervisor at a GS11 rating at Kelly since 1969. He started working at Kelly in 1959 as a WG worker, or blue collar employee, he said.

He said he was promoted to a GS or white collar rating in 1969 while he was working at the Air Force Communications Squadron at Oklahoma City.

He since has returned to Kelly and has not been promoted, he said, claiming he was passed over eight times in 1975 for promotions.

Munoz, who said he has a bachelor's degree, said his boss has only a high school education. "Back in the 60s, they told Mexican-American males you don't have the qualifications, the training to be a supervisor. That's no longer the situation," he said.

Munoz's brother Jesus, 53, said he has worked at Kelly for 33 years and has been in a GS9 rating for 12 years.

$2,000 in magazines stolen

Senna Ware of Route 3 told police Friday morning burglars entered a building at 1001 Lancaster and stole $2,483.40 worth of property.

The burglary occurred between 5 p.m. Thursday and 10:50 a.m. Friday, according to a police report.

Taken were 1,000 assorted magazines, valued at $2,000; 300 comic books, valued at $135; a seven-inch skill saw, valued at $79.95; a 100-foot yellow exterior cord valued at $9.95; and 30 cassette tapes, valued at $268.50.

Beverly Grant of Golden Plains Nursing Home told police someone stole $75 worth of change and the change box itself from a vending machine located in the lobby of a dining room at the home.

The incident occurred between 5 p.m. Thursday and 8 a.m. Friday, according to a police report.

Jim Waits of 1513 Kentucky Way told police vandals damaged and broke into two vehicles located at the Kar Korner Auto Sales lot at 706 E. Fourth. They also stole items valued at $229.

According to a police report, the burglaries occurred between 8 p.m. Thursday and 10:15 a.m. Friday.

The stolen items were a battery, stereo speakers and a mattress. Damage to the cars was set at $306.

Parole revoked in burglary

A Big Spring man who was on parole from the Texas Department of Corrections for a burglary conviction waived his right to a parole hearing and will return to TDC.

Parole officer David Harman said Rudy Joe Rodriguez, 23, of 801 Lorilla was arrested Oct. 24 after two assault warrants were filed by his wife, Rachael.

Besides the assault threats, which Rodriguez pleaded guilty to in 118th District Court on Tuesday, he violated the terms of his parole by possessing a firearm, Harman said. Rodriguez waived his right to a parole hearing, Harman said.

Rodriguez will resume serving the remainder of a six-year sentence for two counts of burglary he committed in Howard County in 1983, Harman said. Rodriguez had served one year of the sentence and had been on parole for about a year, Harman said.

Crash lawsuit dismissed

SEATTLE — The pilot of an Air India jet that crashed in 1978 in one of history's worst airline disasters should not have been flying, said a federal judge who dismissed a $100 million lawsuit against Boeing Co. and two subcontractors.

"The fault for this tragic occurrence must rest upon the pilot and co-pilot. There were no instrument failures," U.S. District Judge James M. Fitzgerald ruled Thursday.

In January 1978 a Boeing 747 crashed shortly after takeoff from Bombay on a flight to Dubai in the United Arab Emirates. All 213 people aboard died.

Reward set in arsons

BATON ROUGE, La. — U.S. Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agents are offering a $5,000 reward for help in arresting arsonists suspected of setting fires at two abortion clinics this week.

A fire Thursday morning at The Delta Women's Clinic caused $20,000 damage, and investigators believe the fire is related to a blaze Sunday that destroyed the River City Women's Clinic, ATF Agent Jerry Robinson said.

He said federal agents believe a substance such as gasoline was used in both fires.

Jurors in deadlock

LOS ANGELES — Jurors in the Richard W. Miller spy trial said Friday they are unable to agree on a unanimous verdict on any of the seven charges against the only FBI agent ever tried for espionage.

But the judge said he would instruct the jurors again, tell them to relax over the weekend and return Monday to try again to reach a verdict.

The jury's message came in a note to the judge, the seventh they had sent since beginning deliberations on Oct. 18. They had spent about 56 hours over 11 days conferring behind closed doors and listening to repetitions of testimony.

Jewish protestors block 'anti-Semitic' premiere

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — Angry Jewish ticket-holders took control of the stage of a city-owned theater and shut down the premiere of a Rainer Werner Fassbinder play they considered anti-Semitic.

Theater officials canceled Thursday night's performance of "Der Muell, Die Stadt und der Tod" (Garbage, The City and Death) after a two-and-a-half hour standoff inside the theater between Jewish protesters and the play's cast.

Outside the Frankfurt Playhouse, Jewish protesters sang songs in Hebrew and shouted "Nazis" and "Shame on you" at arriving ticket-holders.

More than 500 protesters from the Jewish community as well as Christian churches, citizens groups and local political parties had gathered outside the theater before the opening.

Also outside was a small number of counter-demonstrators — some from the leftist Greens party — who protested what they said was a campaign to censor free expression.

Police reported no arrests. The premiere by the controversial late playwright and director was rescheduled for Monday night, but Jewish protesters promised to block that performance, too.

The play, set in Frankfurt in the early 1970s, is about a predatory Jewish land speculator who buys up old residential buildings, demolishes them and sells them at a profit to developers who erect high-rises in their place.

The most provocative dialogue comes in a four-minute monologue by a fringe character, Hans von Glueck, a low-income man adversely affected by the wealthy Jew's buyouts.

Germany's 1933-45 Nazi regime killed about 6 million Jews, most in the gas ovens of concentration camps.

Church site of protest

GUATEMALA CITY — About 150 people who occupied the Metropolitan Cathedral, demanding that the military government account for their missing relatives, met with mediators Friday but refused to leave.

The mediators, including the Roman Catholic archbishop, said they would relay demands to the government. But Nineth Garcia, leader of the protesters, anticipated little result.

Garcia's group timed the action to coincide with Sunday's presidential election. It will be the first in 16 years without a military candidate in this Central American nation, which has been ruled by a succession of generals or military-backed governments for three decades.

One woman was hospitalized for shock, but no other injuries were reported.

Dutch to deploy nukes

THE HAGUE, Netherlands — The government decided Friday to deploy 48 nuclear missiles on Dutch territory, ending six years of indecision complicated by bitter opposition from the powerful anti-nuclear movement.

The deployment of the U.S.-made cruise missiles is not scheduled to begin before 1988, however, and opposition parties vowed to reverse the decision if they win the elections next May.

The Netherlands had been the last holdout of the five North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations set to receive a total of 572 new medium-range nuclear missiles. Friday's decision meant President Reagan will represent a united NATO at his Nov. 19-20 summit conference with Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev in Geneva.

Police legally exempt

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — President P.W. Botha decreed on Friday that security forces throughout South Africa were exempt from lawsuits arising from their handling of anti-apartheid riots and interrogations of suspects.

Botha's declaration, which appeared in the weekly Government Gazette of decisions and rulings, means that to a large extent, police and the army are now above the law.

Rajneesh denied bond on immigration charges

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh was denied bond Friday by a federal magistrate who said it was likely the Indian guru would flee to avoid prosecution on immigration charges.

"The Bhagwan, by his conduct, has evidenced a disposition or predisposition for flight," U.S. Magistrate Barbara DeLaney said at the end of a two-day hearing. "The evidence shows the Bhagwan has the ability to accomplish flight, both in terms of his financial resources and devoted followers ready to do anything to avoid his prosecution and possible incarceration," she said.

Ms. DeLaney also dismissed charges of harboring a fugitive against three followers, but found probable cause for that charge against three other followers and set bond at $25,000 each.

Earlier Friday, Ms. DeLaney dismissed unlawful flight charges against Rajneesh, but upheld charges against the six disciples accused of harboring a fugitive. The unlawful flight charge was not necessary because "a federal criminal warrant can be served anywhere in the United States," Ms. Delaney said.

"The judge just decided there was a legal deficiency in the charge," said Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Weaver of Oregon, who urged the magistrate to order Rajneesh held without bond.

The 53-year-old Rajneesh, who has been held in jail since Monday, arrived Friday at the Federal Building wearing a tan-and-brown robe and knitted cap, with shackles binding his wrists and waist.

Jujube fruit showing up more in West Texas area

Each year our office receives inquiries about a strange little fruit that is showing up more in our West Texas area, but in actuality has been around for a long time due to its hardiness.

The jujube (most commonly pronounced "job" - job) is grown as an ornamental and for its fruit throughout Texas, but its name is something less than a household word. The mature fruits resemble dates and this similarity often causes jujubes to erroneously be called dates. Anyone who has ever seen dates hanging from a palm tree can quickly tell you that jujubes and dates aren't even cousins. Other common names sometimes used of the jujube include Chinese dates, Chinese apple and Chinese olive. The latter name arises from the similar shape and hardness of jujube and olive seeds.

Actually the jujube (Ziziphus jujuba) came to us from China and is a member of the Buckthorn family (Rhamnaceae). The trees are deciduous, losing their leaves in winter and are usually very upright, often reaching a height of 30 to 50 feet. The leaves are attractive, glossy dark green.

Two Chinese varieties have become common. The Lang variety has fruit that are 1 1/2 to 2 inches long, pear shaped, shiny and reddish-brown at maturity. The Li variety has slightly larger fruit that are date shaped and mahogany-colored when mature. Fruit of the Li are good either eaten fresh from the tree or processed. The fruit of the Lang is not as good fresh, but processes well.

Jujube fruit ripen from July through September across Texas. The Lang ripens a few days earlier.

Jujubes sucker freely from the roots. These suckers can readily be dug and transplanted in the winter; however, name varieties such as Li and Lang are grafted onto rootstocks and thus cannot be propagated from root suckers. Suckering can be a problem as a thicket of jujubes will gradually develop if suckers are not mowed or otherwise removed periodically. Young trees can be quite thorny, but mature trees usually have few or no thorns.

Jujubes will thrive on most Texas soils, except the extremely alkaline soils of Central and West Texas, as long as the soils have good water drainage. This adaptation to diverse soil types coupled with very good drought tolerance makes the jujube particularly useful for low maintenance landscapes.

Although the trees will grow well in the various climatic extremes of Texas, they fruit most consistently in the more arid parts of the state.

Fruiting is particularly inconsistent along the coast and in extreme south Texas.

Pest problems with jujubes are few. No insects or diseases are known to commonly attack the foliage or fruit. Cotton root rot, a soil-borne fungus that thrives in the alkaline soils of Central, South and West Texas will occasionally kill trees.

The fruit of the jujube is particularly appealing to persons who do not care for highly flavored fruit. Eaten fresh, while turning from green to brown, they have a crisp texture with a slightly sub-acid to sweetish taste. Fruit can be left on the tree until it is wrinkled and dry and then can be harvested and stored for later use.

The fruit is used mainly as a confection. The food value of the jujube compares very favorably with the date and the fig. A number of recipes using jujubes are published. These include recipes for confection, for pickling and for making jujube, cake, bread, pudding, mincemeat and butter. These recipes are very similar to those utilizing other fruits although it should be noted that the tough skin of the jujube should be pierced in several places to allow entry of syrup in confecting and a boiling lye dip should be used to remove the peel before pickling.

Now is the time to clean, renovate outdoor furniture

Many of us have a considerable investment in the outdoor furniture we use on the deck, patio or by the pool. Whether you have expensive wrought iron or redwood outdoor furniture or less-costly aluminum and plastic wedding chairs, you can avoid the expense of replacing it with good maintenance.

Now that the time for summer barbecues has passed, it's a wise idea to clean and renovate your outdoor furniture and then store it for the winter.

Here are some suggestions for cleaning different types of outdoor furniture:

ALUMINUM AND PLASTIC

Most outdoor furniture is constructed of tubular aluminum which tends to gray with age and accumulate dirt and grime. Wash with detergent and warm water to remove most of the soil, and rub with fine 4/0 steel wool to remove discoloration. Aluminum jelly can also be used, but not on new or anodized aluminum.

Wash the plastic seat webbing and straps on tubular furniture with a long bristled brush and then wax with auto paste wax.

Hose down or wash plastic furniture with water and a mild detergent. Don't use abrasive cleaners. Protect the surface with an application of auto paste wax. If the plastic is chipped or broken, it often can be fixed with epoxy glue.

WOOD

Wipe down hardwood furniture with warm water and detergent, then protect it with auto paste wax. If the finish is cracked or flaked, remove it with paint or varnish remover, sand and apply a new coat of marine or exterior-type finish. Also check any painted metal supporting framework for rust and touch up if necessary.

Wash redwood furniture with warm water and detergent. Remove soft drink stains with a solution of chlorine bleach and then rinse. Smooth all the wood surfaces with 3/0 steel wool and apply a protective coat of penetrating sealer. Redwood furniture should not be varnished and coated with shellac.

CAST METAL

Use a mild detergent to wash cast aluminum, cast iron and wrought iron. If the enamel surface is scratched or chipped, or it rust has appeared, smooth the area with steel wool, apply a metal primer and then touch up with matching enamel paint.

RATTAN

Rattan, cane, reed and willow furniture should be vacuumed and then damp washed with warm water and mild soap. After it dries, protect it with a liquid furniture wax.

FABRICS

Cushions and other items made of vinyl laminate, cotton duck or canvas may be damp cleaned and dried with a cloth. Dry clean heavily soiled cotton if possible.

Wash and dry umbrellas made of vinyl laminate fabric in the open position. Check the pole for corrosion and rust and protect it with a liberal waxing of auto paste wax.

Brush hammocks to remove soil, scrub with warm water and detergent or machine wash and hand back in place to dry wrinkle-free. Wax the hammock suspension cords with paraffin to prolong their life.

STRONG OUTDOOR FURNITURE

Indoor storage, in a garage, storage shed or the house, is ideal. You may want to use outdoor furniture to provide extra indoor seating and table surfaces during the winter. But if you do keep items in the house, keep them away from direct heat.

If you have no indoor storage space, cover the furniture with plastic, securely tie it down, and store on the porch, balcony or deck.

Scientists say 'safe' cigarettes years away

OXFORD, N.C. (AP) — It will be years before scientists develop a "safe" cigarette, says the director of the federal tobacco research facility in Oxford, N.C.

"I think we can accomplish what we're trying to do, but I'd hate to say when," said Dr. James Chaplin, director of the U.S. Agriculture Department's Oxford Tobacco Research Lab. "We're not that close... it's a slow process."

Chaplin said two of the lab's 10 scientists were working on breeding tobacco plants with a lower level of tar by crossing lines with low tar and less-than-desirable smoking qualities with lines that have good smoking qualities and the usual amount of tar.

Although some 550 samples were grown this year, the scientists can test only 300 samples a year because they have to cure the tobacco, make it into cigarettes and smoke them on smoking machines that analyze the tar and nicotine, he said.

"We haven't come up with a real fast method of analyzing for tar," said Chaplin. "We can go much faster if we didn't have to go through that process." The Oxford lab has focused for the last five or six years on reducing tar in tobacco. He said USDA labs in Beltsville, Md., and Athens, Ga., were concentrating on reducing the amount of other harmful substances found in cigarettes, such as solanin and phenols.

"We have worked with nicotine, but this is not so much associated with health," said Chaplin. "People are smoking cigarettes with lower nicotine levels, but tar is the thing we blame for most of our health problems."

Commercially available cigarettes with low tar and nicotine are made out of the tobacco processed out of the tobacco during the manufacturing process, he said.

Chaplin said his lab was also working on breeding tobacco varieties resistant to diseases and insects. Other research focuses on new techniques of breeding in an effort to shorten the time required to develop different varieties.

The scientists are also working on methods of controlling insects that attack stored tobacco and on computer models that help farmers plan the best way to grow the leaf.

Business

Businesses move to Eleventh Place

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

Three Big Spring businesses recently relocated to 11th Place, one block east of the high school: Gold Designers jewelry, the Gold Mine restaurant and the Rainbarrel General Store.

"This area of town is going to start growing," said John Preston, owner of Gold Designers. Preston said he moved to the area from the Permian Building because it is more convenient to customers. The 11th Place location has more parking space, he said.

Gold Designers offers custom designing of "any kind of jewelry you want made," he said. Brass models are displayed in the front room.

The actual work is done in the back rooms. Preston's partner, artist Jay Phinney, designs the jewelry. He usually talks with the customer to get an idea of what the customer has in mind, then reproduces the design on paper.

Phinney then makes a wax model of the jewelry for the customer to examine, a process which takes three to four hours, Preston said. The final product is designed from the model.

Gold Designers can work with "your old gold" or its gold supply, he said. "We carry all sizes of diamonds and can get any stone you want," he said.

Preston said the most unusual item the business has designed in the four years since it opened in the Permian Building was a pendant with a 10 1/2-karat precious stone circled by 12 20-point diamonds. "It was about a $120,000 piece," he said.

Steve Lewis, owner of the Gold Mine and the Rainbarrel, moved to 11th Place from College Park because the new location has more space. Lewis combined the gift store and the restaurant into one shop.

It's newest feature is drive-through photo and food service, not available at College Park.

The Rainbarrel also has a U.S. Post Office substation, now the only one in Big Spring. Unlike the central post office, the substation is open on Saturdays and keeps the same hours as the shop and restaurant, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

It's the only place in town where you can buy a gift, have it gift wrapped while you're eating lunch, purchase postage and mail it from the same location, Lewis said.

One of the Rainbarrel's newest features is helium silver balloons. The store carries about 50 styles, Lewis said, including children's themes like Care Bears and adult themes like a black one "mourning the passing of your youth" and one that gloats "I'm 40 and you're not." The balloons can be personalized free. The silver ones last about four days, he said, as opposed to the rubber ones, which last about 18 hours.

In addition to gifts, the Rainbarrel carries "gourmet" candies, greeting cards and stationery and a large selection of miniatures. Photo service also is available. Lewis said the store offers one- to three-hour photo developing service and up to 5X7 enlargements. Larger sizes can be ordered, but they take longer, he said.

At the Gold Mine, cobbler season is about to start. The season starts "right after Halloween," Lewis said. He offers apple and cherry cobbler during cold weather months.

About 20 varieties of sandwiches are on the menu.

Legislature amends tax law to simplify determining rates

The Texas Legislature recently passed several bills amending the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act. Two bills simplify wage reporting requirements and provide new methods of determining entry-level unemployment tax rates for Texas employers.

House Bill 1787 requires employers to report all of each worker's wages during a calendar year rather than the maximum amount defined as wages under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act as was previously required. The bill doesn't affect the taxable wage base which remains at $7,000 per employee per calendar year.

House Bill 118 requires the transfer of an existing UI tax rate when the total acquisition of a business occurs. It also creates a system of variable entry level tax rates. Effective April 1, 1985, if all of the business of an employer subject to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act is acquired by a new owner who continues its operation, transfer of the UI tax rate is mandatory instead of voluntary, as it was in the past. Employers liable Jan. 1, 1986 or later will be assigned an entry level tax rate applicable to their standard Industrial Code or 2.7 percent, whichever is higher.

Fina's income increases

American Petrofina Inc.'s income for the year's third quarter ending Sept. 30 was $10.2 million or 85 cents per share, according to a company news release. This is a considerable increase from the same period last year, in which the income was $1.8 million or 15 cents per share.

During the past quarter, the company obtained sufficient information to record an after-tax gain of $4 million as a result of an insurance settlement on the damage caused from a fire at the Big Spring refinery in March.

Chairman of the Board Paul Meek, president and chief executive officer, said the improvement was due to "a gain in the refining activity where better refining margins prevailed."

State expands tax definition

State legislators amended the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act recently. House Bill 32 increases the number of farm or ranch workers who may be eligible for unemployment compensation by expanding the definition of an employer liable for State Unemployment Tax.

An unemployment tax seminar will cover the effects of House Bill 32 on agricultural employers. The seminar will be Nov. 7 at the Catholic church in St. Lawrence at 8:30 a.m. Another seminar should be scheduled in Big Spring at an undetermined date. For more information call Joe Wallis at 267-7437.

Harlon Dempsey, regional tax supervisor from San Angelo, will present the procedures implemented to comply with the law. Topic to be included are which agricultural employer is subject to the Act, how the tax is determined and collected and filing procedures.

The bill defines as a liable employer anyone employs:

- Farm or ranch workers during 1986 or the preceding year, if they employ four or more workers for 20 weeks or pay cash wages of $7,500 or more in a calendar quarter. Beginning Jan. 1, 1987, employers of farm or ranch workers who, during 1987 or the preceding year, employ three or more employees for 20 weeks or pay cash wages of $6,250 or more in a calendar quarter are required to pay the tax.
- Migrant and seasonal workers regardless of the amount paid or the length of time employed.

Employers who meet any of the above conditions should contact their nearest Texas Employment Commission tax representative to establish an account. They may also write to the TEC tax department, TEC Building, Austin, Texas 78778 for the forms to establish an account.

Peters on Excellence

Greater participation needed

By TOM PETERS
Participation is the buzzword of the '80s. Quality circles and high levels of information sharing within the organization are considered by many to be the key methods of obtaining the active participation of an organization's "hourly" workers.

I'd like, however, to go a step further and suggest an even greater level of involvement. I firmly believe that "hourlies," as they are so often disparagingly labeled, are fully capable of designing the very measures by which managers subsequently evaluate their performance. Moreover, they are probably able to perform successfully without the first line of supervision that is present in most companies.

Many believe that participation is fine, so long as the manager is there to monitor the process—that is, to set the goals and MBOs (Management by Objectives) by which progress is evaluated at the end of the shift, the week and the quarter. But is this oversight necessary? At one auto plant, all of the principal measures—dollars and cents, quality, productivity—were selected and designed by teams consisting of line workers, backed by expert support only on an "as-asked-for" basis; and the asking was infrequent indeed.

Even the most sacrosanct arenas, such as accounting, are not as mysterious as our "professional" staffs have made them out to be. With a little bit of education, anyone on the payroll can readily become accomplished at understanding the statistical ins and outs of his or her job.

Almost always, those closest to the job turn out to be the true experts, provided that we, as managers, give them the space in which to operate and substantial basic skills training. And if we are willing to go a step further (for example, encourage them to engage in customer contact or allow them full access to customer complaint letters), they will turn their closeness to the product into indicators and measures more valuable than anything that might be dreamed up in the industrial engineering or accounting department.

Many are predicting that flatter organizations will be the wave of the future. Reducing layers is a guaranteed major cost-reducing tactic. But there is a more important reason for flattening out organizations: The average crew is well capable of operating without its supervisor—and often without its supervisor's supervisor.

Here are a few simple suggestions to test some of the complex ideas I've put forth here:

1. Make a list of 10 to 20 key activities that first-level supervisors perform—scheduling, problem solving, coordination with other functions, monitoring. Determine how many can be performed by your capable front-line people without a supervisor.

2. Regardless of your company's structural configuration, begin today to develop a basic economics course for every function. Don't make it a part of basic training; make it a traveling road show, taught on company time to all hands. Don't try to make it "unsophisticated."

3. Home in on some of the "quantitative" measures. Choose three or four test sites. In the next 60 days, work with "hourly" teams to revise current measurements. Give them access to unlimited staff help; then let them present their conclusions to you.

4. If you have the courage, choose a site—an old or new one—and plan an experimental 18-month period in which your company operates without supervisors.

Textile leasing company comes to Big Spring

Many have passed the new building sitting high on a hill in the 2000 block between Third and Fourth streets and have wondered about it. It is Texas Industrial Services, and it has an interesting background. It's part of a larger corporation with headquarters in San Antonio. The local manager is Bobby Richardson.

This textile leasing and industrial laundry company does business all over the southwest with branches in Lubbock, Odessa and many other cities. The Big Spring branch began with one employee in 1981 working out of a former service station building on Airbase Road. In that short time, it has grown to 15 employees with six routes as far away as 50 miles.

Richardson projects a doubling of employees and expanding to the Abilene area. The new facilities are an indication of the amount of revenue that is generated by this quiet little company that just keeps perking along, bringing money and jobs to Big Spring. I salute them.

DID YOU KNOW...

Texas Electric Service Co. is building a facility to house the transmission and distribution departments. It is located on Interstate 20 West at the service center site. It should be completed by early summer.

The Texas Employment Commission, currently operating with less staff than a year ago, is increasing its referrals. In September, for example, 432 individuals were referred for job openings and 117 were hired.

The new manager of Anthony's Department Store in College Park is Farris McDonald. He comes here from Midland.

Permian Research has developed several new machines to make plastic products that eclipse the market with great advances. They take less power, less space, and sell for less money. The market is expected to react favorably to purchasing these machines.

Co-Exx Pipe Company is negotiating with Dupont to make a 5-foot diameter pipe to be used in the Stacy Dam Project. If this contract comes through it will create about 17 new jobs.

The Industrial Foundation, headed by Hooper Sanders, has followed through after the visit by prison officials and congressional aides. Foundation members are working to schedule a return of these people, through formal request procedures, for a public hearing. It is expected to be held Nov. 25 or 26 to gather input from the community at large regarding the possibility of locating a second federal prison in Big Spring.

Lake Thomas, for the first time in years, caught some run-off during the recent rains. That's good news!

It is unfortunate that Big Spring was not chosen as a Main Street Project, but it can continue as an auxiliary community. And contingency plans already had been laid by the Downtown Steering Committee in case Main Street wasn't approved. It will keep moving ahead!

To show where the tax dollars and efforts have gone thus far in the capital improvements project, a large map has been hung in the City Council chambers at City Hall. It graphically depicts every sewer and water line, paving and other improvements in progress and as completed. It is difficult to believe much is being done until one looks at this map.

Go by City Hall and see how and when your neighborhood fits in.

The face of Big Spring downtown square will really begin to be enhanced as the County begins rennovation on the old Woolworth Building, which will become the County Courthouse annex. It is hoped that it can be restored as much as possible to how it looked when it was built.

Don't miss the Howard College Consumer Fest in which merchants of Big Spring will be displaying merchandise. It's this weekend and has the theme: Shop Big Spring!

This will be my last Open for PITTSBURGH (AP) — United States Steel Corp. has agreed to acquire Texas Oil & Gas Corp. through an exchange of about $3.6 billion in stock.

David Roderick, the chairman of U.S. Steel, said Wednesday in announcing the deal that he was keeping an open mind about changing the name of the nation's leading steelmaker to reflect that steel and related sales now account for only 34 percent of overall revenue, a figure that would shrink if the merger is completed.

Texas Oil & Gas is one of the largest independent natural gas companies.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Farm Credit System says it needs $6 billion in federal assistance to keep it from toppling and taking thousands of farm borrowers along with it.

"Absent government financial assistance, the system cannot survive the radical transition underway in agriculture," Ray Moss Tucker, chairman of the Farm Credit Council, the system's lobbying arm, told the House Agriculture Committee on Wednesday.

Recent financial reports have shown that the 37-bank system, the nation's largest farm lender, with $70 billion in outstanding loans, has $13 billion in problem loans. The system suffered losses of $522 million in the third quarter of this year, and more losses are expected.

Big Spring celebrates Steers gore Abilene in 2nd victory, 15-13

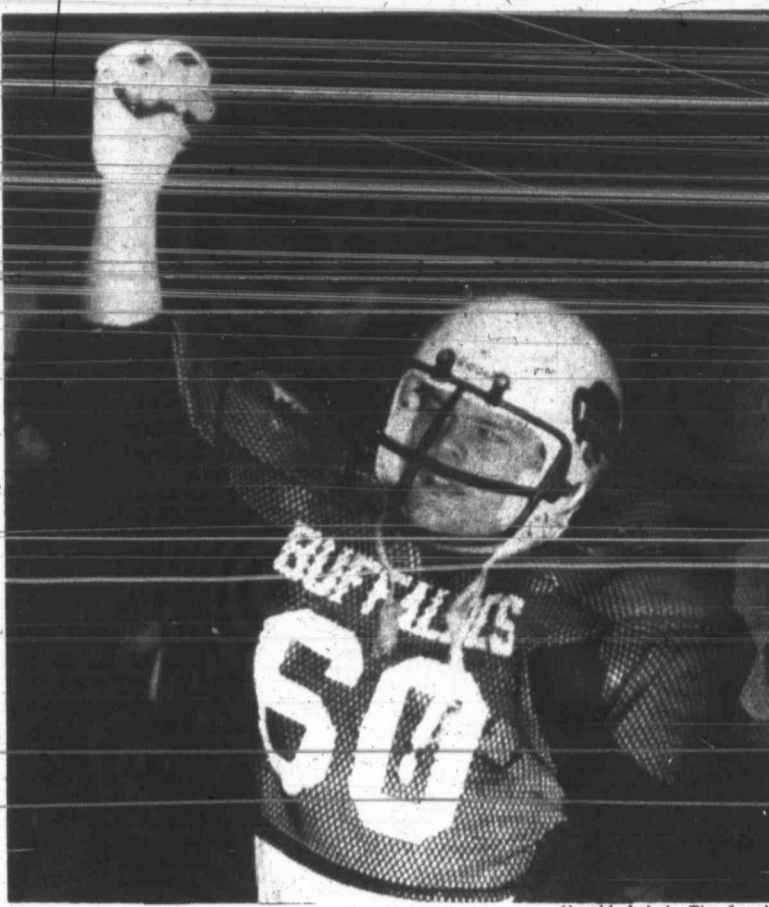

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Sports Writer

ABILENE — For the second week in a row, the Big Spring Steers knocked off one of the state's top-rated teams, stunning 18th-ranked Abilene High, 15-13 Friday night at Shotwell Stadium. Colin Carroll provided the winning points with a 22-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter. It was Carroll's second attempt at the game-winner. The senior kicker got a reprieve after missing a 27-yard attempt when AHS was called for offsides.

In this supposedly defensive battle, Steers page 2

Forsan clinched its first district title since 1976 with the win Friday. The Buffaloes actually didn't turn the lights off on the Plowboys the first time. A power failure occurred in the third quarter with 1:29 remaining and the Buffaloes leading, 7-0, facing a third-and-six

Hawks rally to down Jacksonville, 90-88

The Howard College Hawks made a last-minute comeback in their opening season 90-88 win over Jacksonville Baptist College Jaguars last night at the old Howard College gym.

After trailing the entire game, coach Ed Sparling's Hawks rallied from a 85-81 deficit in the last 1:40 to take the win. Freshmen guard Mike McCall and Nate Archibald Jr. keyed the rally as Howard outscored the visitors 9-3 in the final minute to take their first win of the season.

"It was a great game for us," said Sparling. "The kids came through and it was great game experience for them." It was an uphill struggle for the Hawks as they trailed 43-35 at the half. Fouls hurt the Hawks as starting forward Walt Reynolds was whistled for four fouls in the first half, missing a lot of the period. Reynolds fouled out two minutes in the second half but Larry Tompson and Todd McDermott took up the slack. Reynolds scored all of his 11 points in the first half.

Sophomore guard Bruce Kimble led the Hawks scoring with 20 points. The Savannah, Georgia native sunk 12 free throws in the contest. McDermott, Archibald, McCall and Mike Duran all scored in double figures for Howard.

Kimble led all Hawk rebounders with seven. Reynolds added five. Forward Wendell Perkins led the Jaguars with 23 points. For Jacksonville coach Vernon Harton, it was a trip back to his "ole stomping grounds." Harton coached at Big Spring High School in the 60's.

The Hawks will be in action tonight at 8 p.m. in the old gym versus Angelina. ## 4-5A Roundup

Permian 27, Midland 10

MIDLAND — The Permian Panthers blew a close game open at halftime and went on to down the Midland High Bulldogs 27-10 here last night.

Winning 14-10 at the half, the Panthers got two field goals from Woody Bryant and a one yard touchdown pass from Jason Harrington to Brain Lauterback to put the game out of reach.

Permian led 14-0 after one quarter of play behind a 17 yards pass play from Harrington to Greg Anderson and a one yard run by Marcus Lott. Midland came back in the second quarter on a 22 yard run by Jake Madrid and a 41 yard field goal by Bobby Williams.

Bryant's field goals were 40 and 30 yards. Permian is now 8-0-1 for the season and 5-0-1 in loop play. Midland is 2-4 in district and 4-5 overall.

Lee 7 Odessa 6

ODESSA — The Midland Lee Rebels escaped from this hostile territory with their standing intact in the District 4-5A race as they hung on to defeat Odessa High Bronchos, 7-6.

Lee is 5-1 in district and 7-2 overall. Odessa dropped to 3-3 in district and 6-3 overall.

The Rebels managed their score in the second period when Dexter Traylor grabbed a 19-yard touchdown pass from Rodney Johnson.

The winning edge came when Terry Baxter was successful on his point-after-touchdown kick.

The Bronchos scored in the final period when Shawn Gillham grabbed a 10-yard touchdown pass from Garry Powell. The run of two points and victory failed.

Central 42 Cooper 8

SAN ANGELO — The Central Bobcats scored in bunches to defeat the Abilene Cooper Eagles, 42-8, in a West Texas high school football contest between two District 4-5A squads.

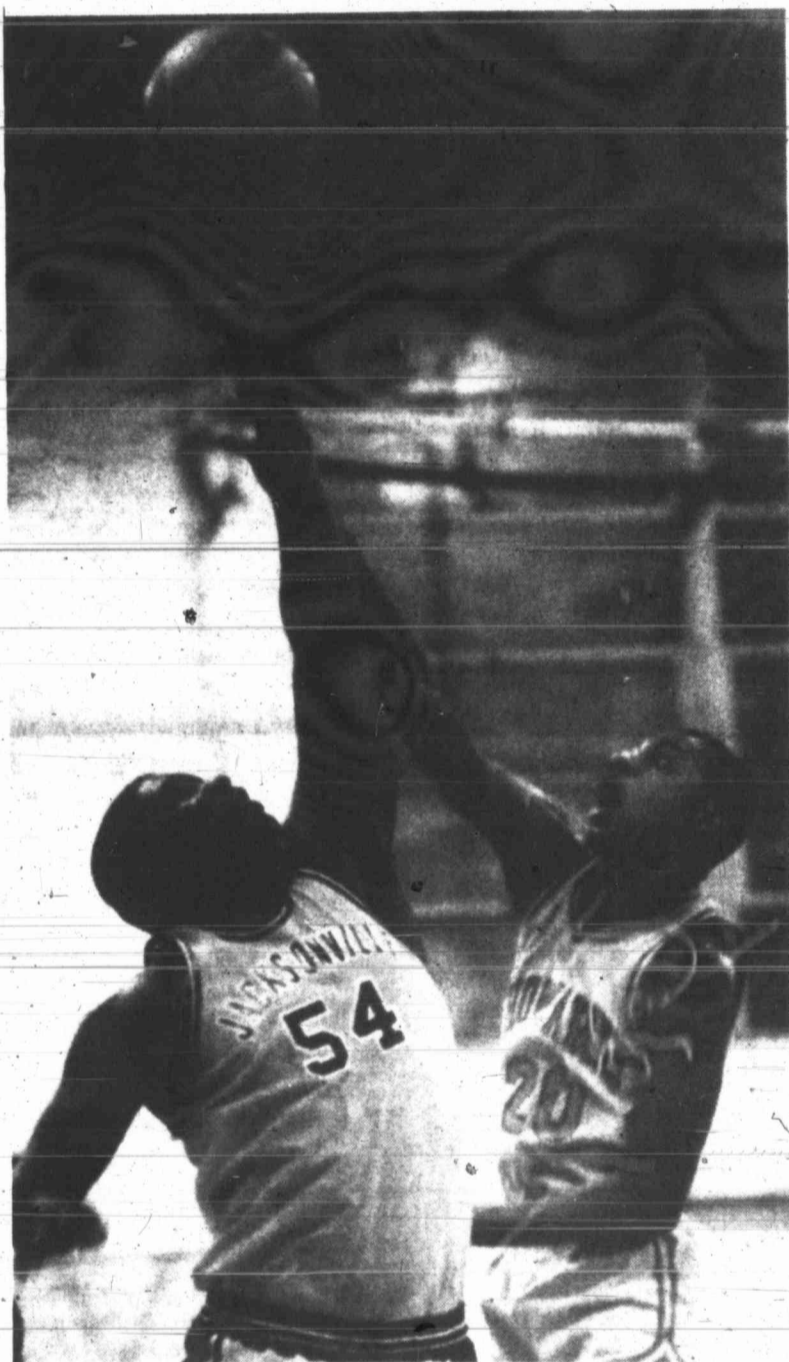

San Angelo improved their district record 4-2 and 7-2 overall. Cooper dropped to 1-5 in district and 1-8 overall.

San Angelo's first two touchdowns came on runs of 56 yards from C.L. Bowman and 69 yards from Don Hall. Neil McSpadden was good on all four of his point after touchdown kicks.

Other Cougar scores came on touchdown scoring passes from Mario Martinez to Charley Good and Mike Epley.

Good also added a 44-yard run to his scoring credit along with Doug Bonds who ran for six from one yard out.

Cooper's lone score came in the fourth quarter when D.C. McDonald scored on a 20-yard pass from Chris Feris. The two-point pass conversion was highly successful when Ivory Carroll caught the football thrown from the arm of Feris.

Howard Hawk Bruce Kimble, a sophomore from Savannah, Ga., stretches to tip the basketball out of Jacksonville College Jaguar Chris Merryweather's reach.

College athlete payoffs a common practice

By The Associated Press

Isiah Thomas of the Detroit Pistons says when he was being sought by colleges as a basketball prospect he was offered $50,000, a car and a home for his mother by an assistant coach at a midwestern school.

Thomas, who declined to name the school, said he did not accept the offer nor others that were made during his senior year at St. Joseph's High School in Westchester, Ill.

"I was offered a lot of money," said Thomas, who eventually went to Indiana University where he became an All America.

He said he refused all offers because "my mother told me, 'Never sell yourself, because then you always owe somebody something.'"

"I didn't want these people coming to me with their hands out after I got out of school," he said.

"I got offered the $50,000, car and home by an assistant coach from one school," he told the Detroit Free Press during a trip Wednesday to Philadelphia. "Then I received a letter, just like the assistant said I would, from a booster who said, 'If we can do anything for you, feel free to ask.'"

Thomas is the latest former college athlete, including 26 who played basketball for the University of Kentucky, to tell of offers of improper gifts from recruiters and boosters.

Bobby Knight, who coached Thomas at Indiana said the school is not susceptible to such situations because "our alumni are scared to death of me."

Knight, speaking in Vincennes, Ind., said of the alumni, "I've got them in a position where I don't utilize them. I don't expect them to contribute to basketball; we pay our own way."

"If we need an extra $50,000, then I'll help to negotiate a better television contract."

"Obviously, I can't control every single thing that happens. That's impossible. But I do think I can set the tone. I can say, 'Hey, this isn't going to happen and I won't allow it to happen.'"

Thomas said several schools entered a "bidding war," increasing their offers for his services in the apparent belief they weren't paying enough to win him.

Meanwhile, Charles Barkley of the Philadelphia 76ers, who was quoted earlier this week as saying he was offered money by Auburn boosters to stay at school for his senior year, said a reporter apparently misunderstood him. The Philadelphia Daily News reported that Barkley said in an interview that Auburn boosters regularly came by to shake his hand "and put money in it" and that he thought "nothing was wrong with it."

He also was quoted as saying that one college offered him $20,000 while trying to recruit him out of high school.

Not so, Barkley told the Birmingham News in a telephone interview.

He said the reporter "might have gotten his facts from when he was talking about other players receiving money."

The Philadelphia Daily News said it stood by its story.

Basketball players are not the only athletes mentioned in stories of improper recruiting.

The San Jose Mercury News reported in Friday's editions that the NCAA is investigating the possibility that University of California freshman running back Marc Hicks was offered $125,000 to enroll at a Big Eight school.

A source "close to the story" identified the school as Nebraska, which recruited Hicks heavily and offered him a scholarship, the newspaper said.

"I know because they (the NCAA) interviewed me," Cal recruiting coordinator Sam Parker told the Mercury News. However, he would not identify the Big Eight school.

Parker said he learned of the incident from John Patella, Hicks' adviser, and the football player.

Parker said he was told that Hicks received a phone call from a man who identified himself only as an alumnus of the Big Eight school and that the man offered Hicks $25,000 a year for five years. Parker said he also was told that Patella immediately contacted the NCAA.

Patella denied any knowledge of the incident described by Parker and called it "a fairy tale."

Informed of Patella's denial, Parker said Patella was taking that position because the NCAA had told him not to discuss the matter, according to the newspaper.

Contacted a second time, Patella said, "I'm not going any further on this thing. Too many people get involved in things that are sensitive."

Chuck Smrt, speaking for NCAA enforcement director Dave Berst, said he couldn't confirm or deny that Parker had been interviewed. Smrt also said he couldn't confirm or deny that the NCAA was looking into any recruiting matter involving Hicks.

A spokesman for Nebraska said he had no knowledge of the incident.

Philadelphia 76er forward CHARLES BARKLEY, from Auburn University, is one of many pro stars who have recently admitted to taking under the table payoffs from college alumni.

G-City Bearkats claw Loraine, 42-0

LORAIN — The Garden City Bearkats crushed the Loraine Bulldogs 42-0 in the 7-A South Zone district game Friday night. The game puts the Bearkats at 5-4 and the Bulldogs at 2-7 for the season.

Tailback Abby Madrid was the leading rusher with 181 yards. He scored in the first quarter with 7:48 on the clock on a four-yard run. Bobby Madrano kicked the PAT.

Madrid scored again with 44 seconds left in the first quarter on a 38-yard run and Madrano scored the PAT.

In the second quarter, Madrid scored on a 16-yard run and Madrano kicked the PAT with 10:17 on the clock.

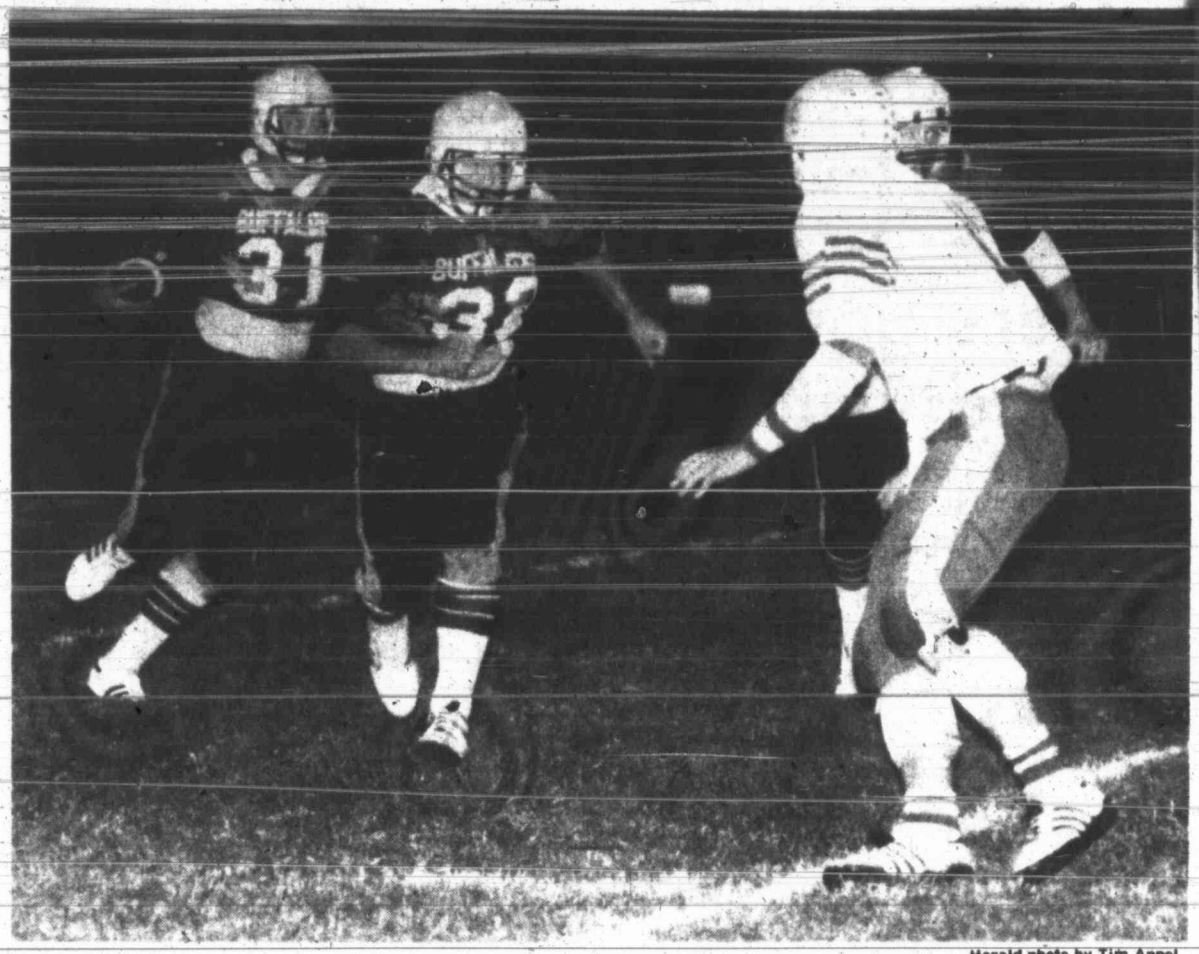

A pass play for 76 yards earned the team another score before halftime. David Montgomery passed to Madrid. The PAT attempt failed, leaving the score at 27 for the first half.

Madrid scored on a 35-yard run in the third quarter with 8:02 on the clock, and Madrano kicked the PAT.

Grady nips Highland, 45-44

HIGHLAND — The Grady Wildcats scraped by the Highland Hornets 45-44 in the 4A South Zone district game Friday night, putting the Wildcats at 4-5 and the Hornets at 3-5 for the season.

Running back Arnold Valasco scored the winning point in the fourth quarter, with 1:41 left on the clock.

Highland scored first with 6:59 on the clock on a 19-yard pass from tailback Gary Light to end Mike Tedford. Light scored the PAT for an extra two points.

Grady scored with 20 seconds left in the first quarter on a two-yard pass from quarterback Luis Gonzales to end Terry Deatherage. The PAT was no good.

The second and third quarters had the most action. Highland scored with 7:30 in the second quarter on a 28-yard run by Light, who also scored the PAT.

Grady came back with 6:13 on the clock on an 18-yard run by Deatherage. Fullback Tommy Parraz scored the PAT.

Grady scored with 2:42 on the clock on an 11-yard run by Velasco, but the PAT attempt failed.

With no time left in the first half, Highland scored on a 10-yard run by Light, who also kicked the PAT. The score was Highland 30, Grady 20 at half time.

Grady made up the extra points in the third quarter. With 9:51 on the clock, Grady scored on a 48-yard kick-off return by tailback Joe Valle. The PAT attempt failed. Velasco scored on a 23-yard run with 6:44 on the clock, and the PAT failed. Valasco scored again with 3:49 left in the quarter on a 5-yard run, and the PAT failed.

quarter with 1:38 on the clock on a 10-yard run by Light, who also kicked the PAT, leaving the score at 38-38 at the quarter's end.

In the fourth quarter, Light scored on a three-yard run with 7 minutes on the clock, and the PAT failed.

Grady returned with a three-yard run by Valasco with 1:41 on the clock. The winning PAT was a pass from Gonzales to Velasco.

Forsan

lights came back on, the Buffaloes quickly turned them out for good on the Ploboys.

The "turning-out" ceremonies came on the first play after the lights were restored. Forsan sophomore quarterback Brant Nichols dropped back and found wide receiver Lance Soles behind his defender for a 24-yard scoring play. It would be the play to seal the Ploboys' doom.

The score put the Buffaloes in the driver's seat with a 13-0 lead and 1:01 left in the third period.

It was all the insurance the feisty Forsan defense needed as it stopped Roscoe's dangerous Veer attack all night long.

Led by linebackers Wayne Wright, Bruce Strickland and Jason Donaghe, the Forsan defense simply destroyed Roscoe's game plan. Up until the final minute of the game, Roscoe's offense was non-existent. In fact, Roscoe managed only 136 yards total offense, 65 of it in the final minute when the Ploboys launched their lone scoring drive of the night.

Meanwhile Forsan played near-perfect ball. The offense ground out 270 yards total offense, didn't commit a turnover and only had two penalties. The defense allowed Roscoe to cross midfield only three times the entire game. Two Ploboys drives ended when Forsan stopped them on fourth-and-short situations.

After a scoreless first quarter, Forsan launched the game's first scoring drive midway through the second quarter. The Buffs marched 54 yards in 9 plays and surprisingly did it via the pass.

Twice Nichols completed crucial third-down passes to Morris and Rodney McMillian. Fullback Strickland followed a beautiful lead block by halfback Wright to score from 10 yards out.

Strickland's extra point made the score 7-0 with 6:29 left in the half.

The next score of the game would be Nichols' pass to Soles, who simply outran the Roscoe cornerback for one score. Nichols' strike was on the money and Forsan had the game salted away. Strickland's missed extra point attempt left the score at 13-0.

Forsan then added some insurance points at the start of the fourth quarter.

The Buffaloes started out in good field position thanks to a 26 yard punt return by Lee Morris. Morris finally was hauled down at the Roscoe 49.

From there the Buffs marched to the Roscoe 26 where the drive stalled. Wright's 43 yards field goal attempt sailed wide. But the Buffs got a break as Roscoe was offside, moving the strong-legged Strickland in five yards closer. This time his 38-yarder against the wind was true. The Buffaloes led 16-0 with 7:33 left in the game.

Strickland and Wright carried the burden in the next Forsan scoring drive as the persistent Forsan attack began to wear down the weary Ploboys.

Both Strickland and Wright ripped off 20-yard runs as Forsan moved from their own 48 to the Roscoe 10 in six plays. On the next play, Nichols scooted around the end on a keeper for the score. Strickland's PAT gave the Buffs a 23-0 lead with 1:15 left in the game.

This set the stage for Roscoe's 65-yard scoring drive. The Ploboys got it in a hurry. Quarterback Matt Denman threw a 47-yard bomb yards to Patrick Sanchez and tossed an 18-yard scoring pass to Lee McPaul.

Denman completed a pass to Tech Ivy for the two-point conversion, but it was too little, too late as Forsan clinched its first district title since 1976.

The wins put the Buffs at 9-0 for the season and 4-0 in district play. Roscoe drops to 7-2 for the season and 3-1 in district play.

Roby puts bite to Sands, 32-13

ROBY — The Roby Lions roared by the Sands Mustangs 32-12 in the district 7-A game Friday night. The game puts Sands at 3-6 and Roby at 2-7 for the season.

Roby scored during the first quarter. Quarterback Benny Carreon scored first on a one-yard run with 8:45 on the clock, but the PAT failed. Danny Carreon scored on a 38-yard run with 6:44 on the clock, and the PAT again failed.

Sands returned in the second quarter when Jerry Long passed 80 yards to Jay Fryar with 8:33 left, and the PAT failed.

Roby scored on an eight-yard run by Danny Carreon. The team earned a two-point conversion when Danny Carreon passed to Jason Terry.

Roby scored again in the second quarter, when Danny Carreon ran 3 yards with 3 seconds left. The PAT failed, leaving the score at 26-6 at halftime.

Danny Carreon earned Roby another score on a 13-yard run with 5:46 on the clock, and the PAT failed.

Sonora edges Colorado City

COLORADO CITY — The Sonora Bronchos used a potent running attack that proved to be too much firepower for Colorado City as they edged the Wolves, 21-13, in a District 7-3A game.

Sonora evened its district mark at 2-2 and topped its overall record to 6-3.

The Wolves dropped to 2-2 in district and 4-5 overall.

With 7:29 remaining in the initial period, Steve Long ran 78 yards for a touchdown with a tightly tucked pigskin nestled in his arm.

Esau Ramirez was successful with an extra point kick attempt.

Colorado City tied the game in the second quarter when Sammy Rivera, who had 174 yards total on the evening, ran 93 yards for a touchdown.

The score came with 10:30 remaining in the half. Wylie Dakan

Steers

tie against AHS's district-leading defense, it was the Big Spring defense that provided two key plays in the Steers' second consecutive district win.

The first big play came during the opening drive of the second half. AHS had good field position at the Big Spring 47-yard line, courtesy of Gerald Bailey's 43-yard kickoff return. The Eagles drove the ball down to the Steers' 3-yard line but AHS fullback Melvin Davis coughed up the ball on a third-and-goal play that stopped the drive inches from paydirt.

On the first play from scrimmage following the fumble, Big Spring surprised everyone with a Carl Speck quickie pass to tight end David Shortes. Shortes caught the ball over the middle and raced 64-yards before being brought down from behind at the AHS 36-yard line.

On the next play, Speck found wide receiver Todd Badgett for a 13-yard first-down pass to the Eagle 19-yard line.

On the second and goal from the 12-yard line, Steer tailback Philip Matthews took an option pitch in for an apparent touchdown but the official ruled him down at the 1-yard line. Colin Carroll capped off the eight-play, 99-yard drive with a 1-yard burst up the middle to bring the Steers within one point, 13-12.

Carroll's PAT was wide to the left leaving the Steers one point behind.

AHS had taken a 13-6 lead into the locker room at half-time, using two Gerald Bailey scoring plays.

The Eagles scored first after a short Brian Mayfield punt to the Big Spring 36-yard line. Bailey scored on a 14-yard end around with the help of a good block by guard Pete Hernandez with 6:47 remaining in the first quarter. Davis' PAT made the score 7-0.

Big Spring pulled within one point on a fine 12-play, 87-yard scoring drive late in the first quarter.

The Steers used short passes to Shortes and Matthews and the hard running of sophomore full back Charles White to grind out four first downs in the drive.

Matthews took the score in on a 4-yard option play with 15 seconds remaining in the quarter. Carroll's PAT was blocked to leave the score at 7-6.

AHS's last score came on a 64-yard bomb to Bailey late in the second quarter. The Eagle wide receiver got behind cornerback Matt Garrett, who fell down right as the ball arrived and raced into the end zone, untouched. Davis missed the PAT, leaving the score 13-6 at halftime.

The Steers' only fumble of the game came in the third quarter when Matthews and Speck missed a hand off, and the Eagles recovered at the Steers' 43-yard line.

But Big Spring safety Paul Decker made the play of the night on the very next play.

AHS coach Don Crompton called for a halfback pass but Decker came in and snagged Davis' pass and returned it 25 yards to set up Big Spring's winning drive at the Abilene 46-yard line.

The Eagle defense looked to have Big Spring stopped when Mayfield set up to punt on a fourth-down and 10. But AHS was called for roughing the kicker, giving the Steers new life with a first-down at the AHS 30-yard line.

Matthews got the Steers down to the 10-yard line on a 12-yard sweep but the Eagle defense stiffened, setting the stage for Carroll's winning field goal.

AHS looked as if they might win the game late in the fourth quarter when they had the ball on first down at the Big Spring 33-yard line, but the Eagles could get no further than the 29 and Davis' desperation 47-yard field goal attempt was short, preserving the Steer victory.

The win raised Big Spring's record to 3-6 and 2-4 in district play. The loss dropped Abilene High's record to 4-4-1 on the year.

Big Spring head coach Quinn Eudy was ecstatic following the victory.

"We had a million opportunities to fold up like the old Big Spring, but we didn't," he said. "We played great on both sides of the ball. This is one of the greatest wins, second only to last week's victory, since I've been here."

Wall surprises Stanton

WALL — It started out as a whimper, but ended in a bang as Stanton Buffaloes dropped a 15-10 heartbreaker to Wall Hawks in District 8-2A play.

Wall earned their first victory of the season and stand 1-8 overall.

Stanton dropped to 1-3 in district and 3-6 overall.

Neither team could manage a score in the first half.

Wall broke the ice with 10:20 remaining in the third quarter when quarterback Randy Krupala scored on a one-yard run.

The drive began on Stanton's 37-yard line after Hawk linebacker Joey Chappa, who had a big night defensively, pounced on a Buffalo fumble.

Krupala was good with the point-after-touchdown kick.

Stanton earned their only score of the game when kick return man Mark Gonzales took the ensuing kickoff and dashed 90 yards for the score.

Stanton's attempt for victory was doomed during the game's final minutes when they failed to score from Wall's 4 yard line. On fourth down, Chappa nailed Buffalo running back Greg Barnhill short of paydirt.

On Wall's next possession, the Hawks managed to move the football out to their 14 yard line in two plays. On third down, Krupala lofted a Hail Mary pass that was snatched out of the air by Hawk split-end Randy Gully, who ran for the touchdown.

A two-point attempt was successful when Krupala tossed a short pass to Adam Martinez.

To ensure victory with three seconds left on the scoreboard and deep inside their own territory, Krupala ran backwards 15 yards to his own endzone which gave Stanton a meaningless two point safety.

More than 300 cyclists jockey for position at the start of the Spenco 500, a 500-mile bicycle race through the Texas Hill Country south and west of Waco. Front runners are expected to finish the journey mid-afternoon Saturday; $50,000 in prize money is up for grabs.

Breeder's Cup features top horses

NEW YORK (AP) — Many of the best horses in the world plus princes and captains of industry will be on hand Saturday for Breeders' Cup Day at Aqueduct, the working man's track.

A total of 82 horses from North America and Europe will contest seven races worth a total of $10 million, with several championships on the line.

The equine stars include Chief's Crown, who could win the 3-year-old championship and Horse of the Year with a victory in the $3 million Classic; Pebbles, a brilliant English filly, and Lashkari, an English-bred gelding who will be trying to repeat his 1984 win in the $2 million Turf.

Lending color and prestige to the occasion will be such personalities of the turf as jockeys Bill Shoemaker and Lester Piggott, trainers Woody Stephens, D. Wayne Lukas and Maurice Zilber and owners Robert Sangster, Paul Mellon, Sheikh Mohammed al-Maktoum of Dubai and Prince Khaled Abdullah of Saudi Arabia.

Then there are the Aga Khan and Lord Derby, whose family gave its name to the famed Epsom Derby.

As it did with last year's inaugural Breeders' Cup series at Hollywood Park, NBC will televise all seven races. The telecast will run from 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. EST.

It promises to be a banner day of racing, with all the fields except the one for the $1 million Juvenile at one mile seemingly deeper in talent than they were last year when the races had movie script excitement.

One of the owners this year, Albert Broccoli, who has Donstop the Music in the $1 million Distaff, has produced several James Bond films.

"He wanted to here more than any place he's ever wanted to be in his life," Shug McGaughey, trainer of Vanlandingham, said in explaining the attraction of the Breeders' Cup to John Ed Anthony, who owns the 4-year-old colt.

Since Vanlandingham, winner of the 1 1/2-mile Jockey Club Gold Cup, wasn't nominated for the 1 1/4-mile, $3 million Classic, Anthony had to supplement his colt for a fee that is 12 percent of the purse — $360,000. "When you play the game in this fashion, it's expensive," McGaughey said.

Six other horses also were supplemented to Breeders' Cup Races.

Vanlandingham will meet seven rivals, including Chief's Crown, who won the Breeder's Cup Juvenile last year and who will be finishing his career.

While the 1 1/4-mile Classic will be an all North American affair — seven U.S.-bred horses and Canadian-bred Imperial Choice — there will be several European stars on the scene.

Three leading contenders in the 1 1/2-mile Turf will be English-breds — Mohammed al-Maktoum's Pebbles, a sensational winner of the Dubai Champion at Newmarket; the Aga Khan's Lashkari and Lord Derby's Teleprompter, the gelding who won the Budweiser-Arlington Million.

Two U.S.-bred, European-based contenders for the $1 million Mile on the grass are the 3-year-old Shaded and the 4-year-old Rousillon, owned by Khaled Abdullah.

Committed, a Virginia-bred mare, who has done all of her racing in Europe, is a leading contender for the six-furlong, $1 million Sprint.

Other top American contenders will be Lady's Secret, winner of eight straight stakes, in the 1 1/4-mile Distaff; Mogambo in the one-mile, $1 million Juvenile, and Family Style in the one-mile, $1 million Juvenile Fillies.

While Chief's Crown and Lashkari will be the only 1984 Breeders' Cup winning horses to compete Saturday, four winning jockeys will return.

Don MacBeth will again ride Chief's Crown and three other horses. Craig Perret, who won the Sprint on the ill-fated Eillo, will ride Dr. Schwartzman in the mile. Eddie Delahoussaye, who won the Distaff with Princess Rooney, will have two mounts, including Fighting Fit in the Sprint. Yves St. Martin of France will again ride Lashkari. Pat Day, who won the Classic with Wild Again, will have four mounts including Vanlandingham.

Fran's Valentine, who finished first in the Juvenile Fillies, but was disqualified and placed 10th, will start in the Distaff.

Her full sister, Earl's Valentine, who has won her only start, will run in the Juvenile Fillies.

A French brother-sister combination will try to win the Sprint with Vilikaia, a Kentucky-bred 3-year-filly, who will be making her U.S. debut. She is trained by Christiane Hade and ridden by her brother Freddy.

Auburn two point favorite over Florida

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Second-ranked Florida, striving for a perfect record in a Southeastern Conference football race it can't win, meets sixth-ranked Auburn Saturday in a game the Tigers must win to keep alive any serious Sugar Bowl hopes.

Auburn, 6-1 overall and 2-1 in the SEC, is a two-point favorite to continue its home field mastery of the Gators, who can claim a national championship even though NCAA probation makes them ineligible in the conference race and for postseason bowl competition. Florida is only 3-20-1 in its visits to Auburn.

"We're not going to win the SEC and we know that, but our games do count," said Florida Coach Galen Hall, who has a 14-0-1 career record. "I hope we will be a factor in who wins the conference."

Florida already has whipped two of the four eligible teams currently tied for the SEC lead — No. 16 Louisiana State and No. 19 Tennessee — and would like to overcome the Auburn jinx by beating the Tigers on the road. Alabama, which matches the 2-1 SEC mark of the other three leaders, doesn't meet Florida this year.

The game pits the two top offensive units in the SEC against the two top defensive teams in the league.

Auburn relies on Bo Jackson, the nation's leading rusher with 200 yards per game, and Florida counters with Kerwin Bell, second nationally in passing efficiency.

Most observers believe that Bell has a much stronger supporting cast, with running backs Neal Anderson and John L. Williams and wide receiver Ricky Nattiel.

Bell has passed for 1,579 yards and 15 touchdowns this year. Anderson, nursing a bruised knee, leads the Gators in rushing with 690 yards, and Williams has gained 474. Williams also has caught 28 passes for 235 yards and Nattiel 20 for 379, with each owning three scoring receptions.

Jackson has rambled for 1,402 yards and is averaging 7.1 yards per carry. He needs 91 yards to become only the third back in SEC history to crack the 4,000-yard rushing mark in a career. Jackson has 3,919 yards and trails only Herschel Walker of Georgia (5,259) and Charles Alexander of LSU (4,035) on the SEC rushing list.

"We know you can't stop a dominating player like Bo Jackson," Hall said. "You just hope to play well enough on defense to slow him down, and not too many teams have even managed to do that."

"To stop Bo we have to make him run sideline to sideline, not just north and south," said Florida outside linebacker Alonzo Johnson. "That's going to be a key to the game."

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

SUNDAY, NOV. 3, 1985
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a day when you would be able to see just what makes your attention so that conditions can be more harmonious and as you desire beneath your roof.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Home affairs may be a little difficult during the daytime, but the evening is fine from the romantic standpoint.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Do nothing that can cause an outsider trouble, and then you can enjoy pleasures with an ally.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Early cut down on unnecessary expenditures, and later you can handle duties that interest you.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You feel that you are not having the pleasures in life that should be yours, but by evening all changes for you.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Secret matters do not work as well as you wish; persevere and they improve. Get your home in better order.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Your friends may not be in a position to agree with your wishes during the daytime, so be philosophical about it.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't try to influence a higher-up who may not be in the mood for such antics. Tonight you get good ideas that will help your future.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Pigeon-hole new ideas for the time being, and tonight you can show your finest talents. Be with friends and have fun.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Try to keep some promise you have made even though it may seem boring to you.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't keep needing an associate during the day and in the evening, you can be with clever friends.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can get much work done at home today and please family in the evening. A helper can be very cooperative.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) A good day to get the wrinkles out of your creative talents during the day, but go to some new site in the evening. Make new friends.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will like to work so much that there will be little time for recreation, so teach to play, which is important to making life happy. Your progeny can become very successful because a plan will be formulated and then carried through with a wise and accurate fashion.

The Stars impel; they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you!
MONDAY, NOV. 4, 1985
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon you have a chance to get whatever is of basic importance in your life worked out in a sensible fashion. Do something which shows your creative and romantic ideas.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Find out what your family desires and help them to gain their goals. Later, do whatever will improve your own talents.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Get into career activities early and make real progress during the day hours. Be happy at home this evening.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study new outlets that can be more lucrative, and then go to the right sources for information you need.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get up early and improve your appearance. Study your practical goals and how to achieve them.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Study into that new plan that can help you to gain your aims more quickly and easily and then discuss it with higher-ups.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be more inventive in going after your aims and they are easily attained. Take it easy tonight.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Contact someone who can give you their support, and tonight join with them in some social outlet. State your ambitions clearly.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can understand how to get ahead faster through new activities and outlets. You will gain prestige this evening.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Try to appreciate your mate's best qualities and then you can handle your best interests more efficiently.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get ideas operating which will improve your public image. The evening can be fun with your loved one.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study information that can help you to improve routines in the morning, and later get your outside contacts improved.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Plan time to have fun during spare moments. Take your mate to a new, charming place and do some spark to your romance.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have much ability at putting ideas or products across and should have the education slanted along lines where such qualities are a prerequisite. One who can become a valuable member of the family. Your progeny could easily head a big company in adulthood.
