Oil industry is target for tax

By WILLIAM GARLAND
Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON - The House Ways and Means Committee is poised to deliver the oil and gas industry the worst blow on taxes since it passed the crude oil windfall profits tax in 1979, according to congressional and industry sources.

Industry representatives and Texas congressmen have been unable to convince committee chairman Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., to back off from a strong swipe at oil and gas as part of overall tax reform, the sources said.

The Ways and Means Committee, heavily stacked with congressmen from the Northeast and Midwest, could consider the oil and gas issue almost any day as part of the tax overhaul effort.

Recent reports in the Wall Street Journal that Rostenkowski has worked out an agreement on energy taxes with Rep. J.J. "Jake" Pickle, D-Austin, are false, according to aides to Texas congressmen on the Ways and Means panel.

There has been no agreement with Rostenkowski to reduce negative effects of a proposal drafted by Ways and Means Committee staff - on the oil and gas industry, said Phil Moseley, senior aide to Rep. Bill Archer, R-Houston. Archer and Pickle are members of the ways and means panel.

The committee's staff version of tax reform is based on the proposal submitted to Congress this summer by President Reagan. Oil and gas provisions in the committee's reform plan are considered more harmful to the industry than the proposal by Reagan.

Attempts by Pickle and independent producer representatives to work out an agreement on oil and gas taxes with northern members of the committee failed in October, according to an industry spokesman and congressional sources close to the committee action.

Oil and gas representatives tried to gain leverage by negotiating on one of the hottest tax items under consideration by the committee: the write-off for state and local tax payments, considered extremely important in high-tax

Scrambled signals may make satellite viewing unpalatable

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Scrambled signals may soon be served to satellite dish owners, making the leisure time activity of television viewing a unpalatable feast.

Those who currently subscribe to satellite service receive free of charge approximately 114 channels, including premium cable channels such as The Movie Channel. Subscribers invest in their own, satellite dish, which becomes a personal property item.

"You're becoming your own cable company," says C.L. Carlile, president of Star Com in Big Spring, a satellite television dish wholesale outlet.

Carlile returned to Big Spring last week after spending four days in the nation's capital lobbying for hearings to begin on House Bills 1769 and 1849. The bills are proposed legislative measures that would curb or temporarily delay cable companies from scrambling broadcast signals received by satellite dish owners.

"The results were absolutely positive," Carlile said about the trip, which 20 other Texas satellite dealers made.

"The Honorable Timothy E. Wirth, chairman of the communications committee in Congress, agreed on Oct. 29 to begin hearings into this issue. That's a big step forward," he said.

Paul Thoman, manager of Big Spring Cable TV, said television signal scrambling was likely to occur in most but not all satellite signals within the next 18 months, according to a letter sent by James Mooney, president of the National Cable Television Association, to U.S. congressmen and senators.

Thoman said the controversy arose when satellite dish sales began making a dent in "nonfural areas," and threatened cable sales activity.

"Why should HBO (Home Box Office) spend billions of dollars broadcasting their signal with no return?" he said.

He said premium stations Showtime and The Movie Channel would utilize scrambled broadcast signals as early as January.

Satellite dish owners who wish to desecrate the signal would need to purchase a decoder that would cost about $400, Thoman said.

Approximately 13 other cable service stations, including the three major networks, are expected to begin sending scrambled signals in the near future, Thoman said.

Carlile, referring to cable companies rallying against free service reception currently enjoyed by satellite dish owners, said,

"Scrambling is only a smokescreen to get control of the whole broadcast industry."

He said large monopolies such as Time Inc. and American Express had invested heavily into the cable programming and stations.

"Cable companies recently lobbied Congress asking for non-control from the Federal Communications Commission regarding prices. The basis for this was their fear of having more competition," Carlile said.

"The fight is over right of free enterprise," he said.

Thoman said he thought the two bills presented in the House "were designed as a short-term marketing ploy to alleviate anxiety among backyard dish owners and prospective customers."

He said sources in the cable industry had told him Wirth doubted whether either bill would pass his subcommittee, "because neither will hold high water."

Officials happy over water plan passage

Harte-Hanks News Service
ABILENE - Area officials Tuesday applauded passage of what once seemed impossible - a water plan Texas as a whole could accept.

The first and second amendments, which became the drawing card for the entire constitutional amendment package, passed by statewide by a three-to-one margin.

"For the first time in a long, long time the state's come together on this," said Ed Seegmiller, chief executive officer of the Abilene-based West Central Texas Municipal Water District.

Many entities that will benefit from the programs have taken a "wait-and-see" attitude, said Owen Ivie, manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District based in Big Spring.

"We've been to bat three times and struck out three times," he said. "The impact of this favorable vote will not only benefit West Texas. It will help the whole state." West Texas' failure to vote in past water amendment elections doomed the last three water plan proposals, he said.

Rep. Steve Carriker, D-Roby, said he was surprised by the

Floods kill 36, taint water

By The Associated Press

Floodwaters that killed at least 36 people and left 44 missing laid siege today to the sandbagged riverbottoms of Richmond, Va., and Washington, D.C., while shocked survivors upstream faced ruined homes and businesses, fouled drinking water and the threat of water-borne disease.

In Virginia, where officials listed 19 deaths and 4 people missing, the James River crept up the cobbled streets of riverfront Richmond, toward a crest today about 23 feet above flood stage - the worst flood since the 27½ foot surge caused by Hurricane Agnes in 1972.

Authorities closed the Interstate 95 bridge and two other Richmond bridges, detouring I-95 traffic to U.S. 1, and heavy traffic was reported on the four spans that remained open as the morning rush hour began.

Four days of rain in the nation's mid-Atlantic region unleashed the floods, inflicting hundreds of millions of dollars in property damage and forcing thousands of evacuations.

"They say it'll rise 10 more feet," said George Peck, co-owner of the Farmer's Market Inn restaurant in Richmond's historic Shockoe Bottom, a commercial district of Civil War-era tobacco warehouses, trendy shops and galleries. "Ten more feet and I lose everything."

By late morning, water continued to rise downtown, but the crest had passed the city's water filtration plant, five miles to the west, authorities said.

The plant, which provides drinking water for Richmond and neighboring Henrico County, remained open.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - An anonymous caller said today Islamic Jihad extremists would "execute" their American hostages by firing squad because indirect negotiations with the United States had reached "a dead end."

A later anonymous call claimed the Americans had been killed and dumped at a specified Beirut location, but police said they found no bodies there.

Six Americans are missing in Beirut - three American University of Beirut staff members, a diplomat, a priest and an Associated Press correspondent. Islamic Jihad, believed to be a fundamentalist Shiite Moslem group, has said it already killed the diplomat, William Buckley, and is holding the other five.

There was no way to authenticate either call, made to the office of a Western news agency in Beirut, apparently by different men. The news agency made a transcript of the original caller's statement available to The AP.

"We have decided the following: the execution of the American hostages by firing squad," said the first man, who called at 7:15 a.m. (12:15 a.m. EST), spoke in Arabic and claimed to represent Islamic Jihad, or Islamic Holy War.

"Wait for another call from us at 1 p.m. (6 a.m. EST) in connection with the status of the corpses of the American hostages," the caller

Forsan queen nominees

October building permits up slightly

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

The city issued 30 building permits for $243,828 in October, slightly more than the 27 permits issued for $240,873 in October 1984, according to city records.

During the last month, the city collected $711 in permit fees, compared to $744 a year ago.

Included in those figures are permits for a service station, convenience store and garage at 311 Gregg, issued to Bob Parks, and an office building at 801 E. FM 700, issued to Larry Hollar, a State Farm insurance agent.

Construction costs for the service station-car wash are estimated at $83,000. Construction costs for the office building are set at $85,000.

Permits for $55,308 in alterations and additions were issued in October. They include permits granted to Thomas J. McAdams of 1308 Mt. Vernon, for a storage building, valued at $1,000; J.R. Bizzell of 512 Highland Drive, for a bathroom and closet addition, $10,000; Paladio Garza of 1111 Pennsylvania, for two rooms on a residence, $15,000; Jesse Hernandez of 904 N. Goliad, to reroof a residence, $800.

Permits also were issued to Noe Soliz of 807 Johnson, for an additional room on a residence, $500; H.D. Gillette of 205 W. Ninth, for new siding, $600; Brenda Riffey of 701 Bell, to replace sheetrock, $1,200; Bertram Warner of 407 N.E. 11th, for a bathroom and kitchen addition, $10,800; Henry Miller of 3701 Hamilton for a fireplace, $1,750.

Also receiving permits were William Pope of 1007 Stadium, for new siding, $7,710; L.H. Steward of 1516 Sunset for a shower addition, $200; Jessie A. Mendoza of 104 N.W. Fourth for siding installation, $500; Michael Kloss of 1301 College for a storage room, $1,000; and Randy Mason of 3200 Duke, a bedroom addition, $8,000.

Granted permits for porches and carports were Irene Myrick of 1605 Jennings, for a porch, estimated to cost $400; Johnny Tidwell of 511 Austin, for a carport, $2,000; Dave Henderson of 2506 March Circle, for a carport, $511; and Clifford Hart of 1310 Main, for a carport, $1,800.

Demolition permits were issued to Bertha Payton of 404 Glasgo, to tear down a house; and another permit to tear down eight apartments at 509 N.W. Fourth.

Permits for construction of storage buildings were granted to David Higgins of 2307 Alledale, $1,000; Neoma Swafford of 1405 Johnson, $3,000; and Ruth Graham of 900 Johnson, $1,000.

Permits for fences were issued to Furr's Inc. at 2301 Scurry, $2,300; Leroy Statham of 200 Brown, $75; John McCauley of 1505 Johnson, $500; and Librado Calderon of 406 Abrams, $70.

City Savings was granted a sign permit for its building at 1800 E. FM 700. Estimated cost of the sign is $2,735.

Forecast

West Texas: Mostly fair through Friday. Lows tonight upper 30s north and in mountains to the mid 40s southeast and around 50 Big Bend valleys. Highs Friday upper 60s north to upper 70s south and southeast and the mid 70s mountains.

State

A weak Pacific cold front that pushed southward through the Lone Star State left low-level clouds and dense fog in its wake today and forecasters predicted milder temperatures.

The front moved offshore, extending across the Coastal Bend and into the Rio Grande plains. A high-pressure system centered over Southern Oklahoma pumped cooler, drier air into Texas.

Clouds were scattered over sections of the middle to upper Gulf coast. The National Weather Service said that dense fog reduced visibilities to one-quarter mile at Corpus Christi and Kingsville. And skies were partly cloudy over parts of the Panhandle.

Elsewhere in the state, skies were mostly clear. Winds were northerly across much of Texas, except for southerly winds over the lower Rio Grande valley, Panhandle and far West Texas at 5 to 10 mph.

Early-morning temperatures were mostly in the 40s and 50s, except for readings in the 30s over the High Plains and mountains of Southwest Texas. But a few temperatures were in the 60s over parts of South Texas and the lower valley.

Extreme temperatures ranged from a cold 33 degrees at Marfa in the Davis Mountains to a mild 68 degrees at McAllen in the lower valley.

Mostly fair skies were expected through Friday, with mild days and cool evenings. Highs should be mostly in the 60s and 70s, with readings in the low to mid 80s over the south.

Police Beat

Two mobile homes stolen

• Kenda Heckler of Citizens Federal Credit Union told police Wednesday two mobile homes had been stored at the Crestwood Trailer Park on Muir Street were missing.

Missing are a 1977 76-by-14-foot mobile home, valued at $11,000; and a 1983 53-by-14-foot mobile home, valued at $15,000.

• Police recovered a stolen car late Wednesday night and arrested a suspect in the theft.

Andy Guzman, 20, of 1501 Stadium was arrested at 11 p.m. in the 4200 block of Oak Street, police reports show.

The car, a 1979 Chevrolet Monte Carlo valued at $2,500, was taken at 10:45 p.m. from the south driveway at 1104 E. Third, Amanda Allcorn told police.

• A burglar made off with $750 in jewelry from a break-in between 6 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Wednesday at the E.L. Terry residence, 711 Tulane.

Taken were a diamond necklace with a six-diamond pendant, valued at $300; a pendant with two diamonds, valued at $200; a white gold men's wedding ring, valued at $150; a white-gold finish men's watch, valued at $100; a First Federal Savings piggy bank, valued at $30; and canned vegetables and soups.

• Three patrol officers were injured Wednesday afternoon when a driving-while-intoxicated suspect resisted arrest, according to police reports.

Arrested at 3:30 p.m. in the 300 block of Owens was Tommie Leo Freeman, 30, of Gail Route on suspicion of DWI, resisting arrest and assault on a peace officer.

Patrolman Bruce Morgan suffered minor injuries from being kicked, and patrolman Freddie Brown injured his hand. None of the patrol officers had to be hospitalized, said Lt. Jerry Edwards.

• Wesley Hart of Pardner Well Service told police someone punctured four tires on his 1982 Chevrolet pickup truck between 5 p.m. and 10 p.m. Wednesday while the truck was in the Malone-Hogan Hospital parking lot. Damage is estimated at $640.

• Edwin Stanford of Clinton, N.Y., told police the person he was riding with left him at 6:15 a.m. Wednesday at the Rip Griffin Truck Stop at N. Highway 87 and Interstate 20, taking items worth $400.

Taken were a blue sport jacket, valued at $100; assorted clothing, a Bible and a camera, valued at $100; carpentry tools, valued at $100; and fishing poles, gear and parts, valued at $100.

• Gary Riddle of Knott told police someone stole a clock and a 23-channel citizen's band radio, valued at $135, from his 1980 Ford pickup truck while it was at Ernie's Automotive at 1107 E. Second. The theft occurred between 3 p.m. Saturday and 3:15 p.m. Wednesday, according to the report.

• Kelly Minter, an employee at The Box, told police someone passed a forged check for $73 on Oct. 21 at the store.

• Trent Fraley of 1506 Stadium told police someone stole a king-size charcoal and tan comforter while he was doing his laundry at 1604 1/2 E. Fourth.

Fraley also told police someone he knows stole a pair of lizard boots, valued at $300, from the Ponderosa Apartments.

Leadership workshop is today

SAN ANGELO — Eight representatives of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce are attending a leadership workshop today at the Sheraton Inn here.

Attending from Big Spring are John and Sidney Arrick, Glenn Fillingim, Arnold Marshall, Pete Jones, Shirley Shroyer, LeRoy Tillery and Sam Hill.

Sheriff's Log

Man nabbed on theft warrant

Howard County sheriff's deputies arrested James Franklin Stifflemire, 23, of 205 E. 22nd Wednesday on a theft warrant. He was released on $500 bond.

• Police transferred Roy Stephen Chamberlain, 33, of 1515 S. Main to county jail after he was arrested on Department of Public Safety traffic warrants and a Midland County warrant for theft by check.

He was released on bonds totaling $900.

• Deputies released Michael Alan Miller, 23, of Austin from county jail after he was arrested Tuesday night by a DPS trooper on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

He also was wanted on Travis County warrants for two possession of marijuana charges.

He was released on bonds totaling $3,000.

• Sheriff's deputies mailed 78 jury notices for county court docket cases that will be heard beginning Tuesday.

Police investigating sexual assault cases

Police are continuing to search for a suspect in an aggravated sexual assault that occurred at a west side residence Wednesday evening; Lt. Jerry Edwards said.

Police also are investigating a separate incident of attempted sexual assault that occurred early this morning, he said.

A woman was raped by a black male wielding a knife between 7 and 7:17 p.m. after the man broke into her residence, Edwards said.

The incident was reported at 7:17 p.m. the police report stated.

She did not receive any injuries in addition to the assault, Edwards said.

Police have no suspects, he said.

In an unrelated incident, police have arrested a suspect in an attempted sexual assault that occurred early this morning, Edwards said.

Arrested on suspicion of burglary with intent to commit a felony was James Curtis Hayes, 23, of 1002 N. Main No. 63. Hayes remains in city jail in lieu of $10,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt, Edwards said.

Hayes was arrested in connection with an incident where a man entered an unlocked residence and tried to assault the woman living there, Edwards said. The incident occurred between 2 and 2:30 a.m., he said.

The woman was able to break away from her assailant and run to the 7-Eleven store, where she called police, Edwards said.

Her assailant hit her in the face but there were no visible injuries, Edwards said. The attacker did not use a weapon, Edwards said.

Both cases are being investigated by Sgt. Pam Jordan and Detective Bill Anderson.

strength of the pro-water plan vote. "I would have suspected some voters in eastern and Gulf Coast parts of the state to be a little less receptive," he said. "We've appreciated the fact that the well is nearly dry in West Texas for a long time, and they haven't yet."

"I guess maybe they saw what was in it for them, which is a lot of money," Carriker said.

Ivie said, "All the cities, water districts and river authorities with legitimate needs can gain support of several kinds. It will be a great help for small cities."

Bond guarantee programs, which let entities share in the state's credit rating, could help the district's Stacy Reservoir project, a future source for Abilene, Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, Snyder and San Angelo.

By 4 p.m. (9 a.m. EST) the agency said the man had not called back. But an official of the agency, which asked not to be identified, disclosed there had been another call, apparently by a different man, at 10 a.m. (3 a.m. EST). That caller, also speaking Arabic, said bodies had been dumped in a bombed-out factory in west Beirut's Kola district. The man hung up after a few seconds.

Police later said they had searched the area thoroughly but found no bodies there, and none had been reported elsewhere in the city or throughout Lebanon.

states in the Northeast and Midwest.

Those negotiations came up empty for oil and gas interests when Rostenkowski "cut them off at the pass," according to the congressional aide. The committee chairman negotiated with Northeastern and Midwestern congressmen separately to leave alone the state and local tax write-off, said the aide, who did not want to be named. Without Rostenkowski's pledge, the northern congressmen would have blocked the tax reform effort, the aide said.

Rostenkowski's separate agreement on state and local taxes left oil and gas interests without a base of support on the committee except for the handful of congressmen from energy producing states.

Peter Wellish, a spokesman for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, confirmed that independent producers had discussed the oil and gas tax issue with Rep. Thomas J. Downy, D-N.Y., and other members of the Ways and Means committee without reaching a compromise.

The Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association released a survey last week that showed oil and gas drilling would be severely crippled by the oil and gas tax changes awaiting committee approval.

In the TIPRO survey of more than 800 independent oil and gas producers, independent operators indicated that the current tax proposal could cut exploratory drilling for oil and gas by 84 percent and the drilling of safer, development wells by 68 percent.

The committee's proposal would cut into industry drilling plans, in part, by strongly weakening the tax write-off for intangible drilling costs — expenses for labor and items such as drilling fluids and cement that cannot be reused.

Woman injured in wreck

A Big Spring woman was released Wednesday morning from Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital after treatment for injuries she suffered in a two-vehicle accident on the south service road of Interstate 20, east of Big Spring.

A hospital spokesman said Brenda Kay Grissom, 30, of Box 1251 was treated for minor injuries. She was a passenger in a car driven by Earl Franklin Coates, 65, of N. Birdwell Lane.

According to a Department of Public Safety accident report, Coates was driving westbound on the south service road when the accident occurred at 8:43 a.m.

Clovis Rae Pranschke, 34, of Route 3 was attempting to make a wide right turn from Shirley Road into the westbound lane when the collision occurred, the report shows.

Coates lost control of his car and it overturned, according to the report.

Pranschke was cited for making an improper turn.

Deaths

C.B. Brown

MALAKOFF — Services for C.B. Brown of Waco, father of a Big Spring woman, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in Brown's Mortuary Chapel here. The Rev. Johnny Moses Brown will officiate.

Senate plan for sailor

WASHINGTON — Prompted by Sen. Jesse Helms, the Senate is putting together a plan to force a Soviet sailor to testify here on whether he wants to defect before his grain ship returns home.

Helms, R-N.C., said Wednesday he was not satisfied that 22-year-old Miroslav Medvid has changed his mind and wants to return to the Soviet Union after twice jumping into the Mississippi River in Louisiana in apparent attempts to seek asylum.

Budget row hits credit

WASHINGTON — The government will be broke in a week. Sound familiar? This time it may be true.

Congressional wrangling over rival plans to force a balanced budget has stalled urgently-needed legislation increasing the government's line of credit — the national debt limit. The budget plans are amendments to the debt limit legislation.

In September, the Reagan administration asked Congress to increase the limit from the current $1.824 trillion to $2.078 trillion and legislators have jumped on that symbolic milestone as an occasion to prove how serious they are about getting rid of red ink.

School branch to open

DALLAS — Officials of the world's only liberal arts school for the deaf say they will open a non-credit branch at Eastfield College in Mesquite early next year.

Dallas County Community College District trustees voted Wednesday night to accept $78,000 in funding from Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C.

The trustees oversee Eastfield as well as six other local campuses.

Evacuees return home

MONT BELVIEU — The last of about 300 evacuated families returned to their homes as work crews cleaned up a gas storage area left charred by a series of massive blasts.

Mayor Fred Miller said he lifted an evacuation order Wednesday afternoon for Mont Belvieu families who live near the Warren Petroleum Co. plant after company officials assured him the area was safe.

Ruling excludes gays

NEW YORK — An American Legion Veterans Day parade is a privately sponsored event and homosexual veterans are not entitled to march in it under their own banner, a federal judge has ruled.

U.S. District Judge Constance Baker Motley said Wednesday that because there is no governmental involvement in next Monday's parade, the American Legion, which runs the event, may bar members of the Gay Veterans Association.

A Columbian soldier with an assault rifle gets ready to lay down covering fire as other soldiers prepared to storm the Palace of Justice Wednesday in Bogota, Colombia. Leftist guerrillas shot their way into the building and held Supreme Court justices hostage while the building burned.

Guerrilla raid

Army in Bogota fails to dislodge gunmen

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Army troops today fired cannons and machine guns on the burned-out Palace of Justice in a renewed attack on gunmen believed to be holding at least eight judges hostage. But heavy smoke and flames kept the troops from reaching the guerrillas.

An army communique today said 17 people were killed and 34 wounded in fighting that began when the guerrillas took control of the building Wednesday.

Blazes kindled by the guerrillas inside the five-story palace, apparently to consume court records, destroyed about 80 percent of the building in downtown Bogota, fire department officials told local radio stations. Witnesses said flames still shot from some windows this morning.

More than 150 people were in the building when the guerrillas raided it, including Supreme Court judges who have their offices there. Assault troops backed by armored vehicles braved submachine gun fire and surged inside. Scores of captives, including 10 judges, had been freed by late Wednesday.

But an army captain who spoke on condition he not be identified said the president of the Supreme Court, Alfonso Reyes, and a woman judge of the high court remained today in the hands of the guerrillas, whom he said were believed to number 10.

A colonel, who was not identified, told radio station RCN that eight judges were still held hostage. Information from relatives indicated at least four Supreme Court magistrates in addition to Reyes were among the hostages.

At 2 a.m. today, armored vehicles began laying down an hour of machine-gun and cannon fire, crisscrossing the building's marble exterior.

Army cannon fire punched half a dozen 2-foot-wide holes in the building's marble facade.

Soldiers, driven earlier from the building by choking smoke, advanced gradually and then re-entered the palace. However, their effort to reach the guerrillas, believed to be on the fourth floor with their hostages, was frustrated by the continued fire, said one soldier who took part in the operation.

"The heat was unbearable," the soldier said. "The cannons and guns fell silent at 5:30 a.m., but troops and police remained around the building."

An army communique said today that 17 people had been killed, including one soldier, four police, two civilians and 10 guerrillas. It said 34 people were wounded, including 20 civilians and 14 police. The communique said it wasn't clear whether the civilians had been in the building or were passersby.

The gunmen from the leftist April 19 Movement, originally estimated to number 25, swarmed into the Palace of Justice shortly before noon Wednesday and barricaded themselves. Hundreds of soldiers and police surrounded the block-long building in the heart of this city of 6 million people.

Colombia's 24 Supreme Court judges and 20 other federal judges have offices and courtrooms in the building.

At 3 p.m. Wednesday, army units mounted their first assault, using an armored personnel carrier to ram through the two-story-high wooden doors of the main entrance.

The soldiers took control of the first three floors, freeing more than 100 hostages, and laid siege to the fourth-floor wing.

Radio stations said President Belisario Betancur's brother, federal Judge Jaime Betancur, was among the court officials and workers who escaped from the building in the army assault.

Fire broke out in the Supreme Court library at about 9:30 p.m., and about a half-hour later flames were leaping out of windows.

Jaruzelski steps down

WARSAW, Poland — Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski resigned as premier, but accepted the largely ceremonial post of president and held on to control of the Communist Party in a move apparently designed to allow him to concentrate on revitalizing the party.

Meanwhile, Lech Walesa, who headed the Solidarity free labor federation outlawed under Jaruzelski, walked out of a prosecutor's office Wednesday after refusing to answer questions on charges he slandered election officials.

'Brag' behind bars

SAN JOSE, Calif. — An illegal alien from Mexico who won $2 million in the California Lottery has been arrested by immigration officials who said he had "bragged" about sneaking into the country, putting them in an embarrassing position.

Arthur Shanks, deputy director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in San Francisco, said Wednesday, "It would look real bad to the taxpayers" if Jose Caballero, 24, had not been arrested right away.

Spy repeats charges

MOSCOW — Vitaly Yurchenko, the reputed KGB defector who flew home today, was quoted in a newspaper as repeating allegations that he was abducted to the United States "in gangster-type fashion."

The 50-year-old Soviet, who was said to have defected to the United States while in Rome in August, boarded an Ilyushin 62 jet at Dulles International Airport outside Washington late Wednesday.

Japanese plane drifts

TOKYO — A Japan Air Lines jet carrying 132 passengers and crew drifted off course in the sensitive region where a Korean jet was shot down by Soviet warplanes two years ago, apparently causing Soviet planes to scramble, airline and defense officials said today.

The airline said a Boeing 747 jumbo jet on a flight from Tokyo to Paris via Moscow flew about 60 miles east of its scheduled course Oct. 31 while over the Japan Sea in international waters between the Siberian coast and the Soviet island of Sakhalin.

Kremlin warns U.S.

MOSCOW — The Kremlin's top officials today reviewed a parade of tanks, guns and other weaponry commemorating the 68th anniversary of communist rule, and the defense minister warned that U.S. "imperialism" could lead to war.

For the first time in years, all 10 Moscow-based members of the Communist Party's Politburo, the ruling body, attended the Revolutionary Day parade in Red Square.

Prosecutors favor retrial of accused FBI agent Miller

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Government prosecutors say Richard W. Miller, the only FBI agent ever accused of spying, will be retried as quickly as possible after a mistrial declared when jurors deadlocked with most favoring conviction.

After 71 hours of deliberations, the jury reported to U.S. District Judge David Kenyon on Wednesday, "We have done our best. Our decisions are based on strong convictions that cannot be resolved."

Miller, 48, who was arrested 13 months ago, showed no reaction as Kenyon halted the 14-day deliberations. The portly defendant was hustled out of the courtroom in handcuffs for the return trip to his federal prison cell.

"I fully anticipate the government will retry Mr. Miller on all seven counts of the indictment," said U.S. Attorney Robert Bonner.

Defense attorneys Joel Levine and Stanley Greenberg said a court-imposed gag order prevented them from commenting.

Kenyon, who had sent jurors back twice to renew their talks, since they first reported disagreement on Friday, reluctantly gave up.

He then asked how the jurors had been divided, and the foreman, who was never identified by name, hesitantly disclosed that the jury stood 10-2 for guilt on three of the key espionage charges, including conspiracy, and 11-1 on the four other charges.

The three counts on which they stood 10-2 included two charges carrying potential life sentences. The 20-year FBI veteran was charged with passing classified documents to the Soviet Union in exchange for promises of $65,000 in cash and gold.

The government's case focused heavily on his sexual relationship with Svetlana Ogorodnikov, a Soviet emigre who has confessed she was a spy.

Mrs. Ogorodnikov and her husband, Nikolay, co-defendants in the Miller case, pleaded guilty in the middle of their earlier trial and have been sentenced to prison.

Neither of the Ogorodnikovs testified at Miller's trial, but Wednesday's mistrial raised the possibility the government would seek their cooperation when he is retried.

The jurors, who spent 11 weeks listening to testimony, refused to comment on the impasse and pushed their way past reporters and camera crews outside the courtroom. The panelists said they agreed unanimously on one thing before they left their jury room — they would make no public comments about the deliberations.

"It wasn't easy, I can tell you that," said one woman juror.

A male juror who identified himself as Rick Sterner said, "I am definitely frustrated. I am disturbed. In my opinion, they (the government) had an excellent case."

The judge cautioned the jury against releasing classified information disclosed to them during the 14-week trial. He scheduled a status conference for Nov. 21 to set a new trial date.

Water for Texas becomes reality

Citizens of Texas and of Howard County chose wisely Tuesday in their overwhelming endorsement of the statewide water plan. Fears that apathy would stifle the vote were unfounded.

Proposition 1, the bulk of the water plan, was approved overwhelmingly across the state. In an impressive show of concern, nearly three-fourths of the voters said "yes" to the amendment to the state's Constitution. The support for Proposition 2 was almost as strong.

Here in West Texas, where water is always an important issue, Howard County voters by a 9-to-1 margin endorsed the two parts of the state water plan.

At last a rational, long-term response to water problems in Texas has been adopted. It took determined, clear-minded individuals, among them state Sen. John Montford of Lubbock, to define a plan of action for the state. It took caring citizens to make it a reality. But both have, at last, meshed in a forward-thinking commitment to water for the future of Texas.

Art Buchwald Self-diagnosis proves incurable

Because medical costs are rising so fast, more and more people are diagnosing their own illnesses or, worse still, those of their friends. The government would do well to make a study of how these non-professional diagnoses are affecting the nation's health picture.

The other day I had a cold. It was just like the ones you see on television. I was sneezing, coughing and looking mournfully at my wife. I called my secretary at the office and said I wouldn't be in because I felt lousy.

"You must have one of those 'eight-hour things' that's going all around town," she said. "You'll feel perfectly well tomorrow."

Eight hours seemed to be a reasonable time to have a cold, and I was looking forward to staying in bed, particularly since the Toronto Blue Jays and Detroit were playing a crucial game.

My sister called, and I told her I had one of those 'eight-hour things' that's been going around.

"Are you sure it's only an 'eight-hour thing'?" she asked. "It could be the '24-hour bug.' Harold had it last week. Do you have any fever?"

"A little — maybe 100."

"That's the '24-hour bug' for sure. Drink lots of fluids and take aspirin, and you'll be able to shake it off."

I really hadn't counted on staying in bed for 24 hours, but it's stupid to fight a bug.

My other sister called up 10 minutes later. "Edith says you've got a '24-hour bug.'"

"I don't know if it's a bug or just a cold."

"Is your nose red from blowing it?"

"Yah, sure it is. Why do you ask?"

"Then you don't have a '24-hour bug.' You have a '48-hour virus.'"

"My secretary said all I had was an 'eight-hour thing.' How come you moved it up to 48 hours?"

"The 'eight-hour thing' is entirely different. You feel funny but your nose doesn't get red when you blow it. The '24-hour bug' has all the symptoms of the 'eight-hour' one, except that you cough a lot. The '48-hour virus' makes you sneeze, cough and perspire while you're sleeping. You have to stay in bed for two days.

"But I can't stay in bed for two days!"

"Look," my sister said. "If you don't want medical advice, don't ask me."

I think I might have been all right except that my secretary told Healy I was home with the flu.

He called, of course. "I feel for you," he said. "You won't be able to shake it for two weeks. If it were a winter cold I'd say you'd be better in five, maybe six days. But you have an October cold — it's almost impossible to get rid of. You hear my voice? It's been like this since August."

"But suppose my cold goes away in 24 hours?"

"That's when it can become the most dangerous. You think it's gone away and then a week later you wake up and it's back with a vengeance. I'd rather have a two-week bout with a chest cold than a '24-hour bug' which sneaks up on you like a thief in the night."

Word travels fast in Washington, and Elin was terse and to the point. "Healy tells me you have an incurable form of pneumonia."

"Either that," I said, "or and an 'eight-hour thing' or a '24-hour bug' or a '48-hour virus' or a two-week bout with the flu or a simple cold. I'm waiting on another opinion right now."

"From whom?"

"My druggist. He said there's a lot of it going around."

"What's going around?"

"You name it, and he says he's never seen so much of it going around."

"What's going around?"

"You name it, and he says he's never seen so much of it going around."

"What's going around?"

"You name it, and he says he's never seen so much of it going around."

"What's going around?"

"You name it, and he says he's never seen so much of it going around."

"What's going around?"

"You name it, and he says he's never seen so much of it going around."

"What's going around?"

Jack Anderson Wildlife funding draws OMB cost-cutters' wrath

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR
WASHINGTON — Have you watched any clams lately? Listened to any mussels? If you have, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service wants to know all the fascinating details.

The agency proposes to spend $9 million on a nationwide survey to determine Americans' wildlife observation habits, if any. Beginning next January, Census Bureau interviewers will telephone 158,000 possible nature lovers and ask them such questions as:

"Were there any occasions when you enjoyed seeing or hearing wildlife while on a trip? Did these include turtles, frogs, lizards and snakes? Insects and spiders — crabs, clams, mussels, etc.?"

The 75-page questionnaire doesn't go into the technique of clam-watching. Presumably it is akin to watching grass grow — which is outside the Fish and Wildlife Service's purview.

Although the agency isn't interested in wildlife observations that occur on trips of less than a mile, or on the way to and from work or school, the questionnaire does give stay-at-homes a chance to participate, saying: "A person may enjoy the presence of birds while doing yard work. Did you enjoy this kind of opportunity in 1985?"

Didn't anyone object to the clam-watchers survey? Certainly. But a fat lot of good it did.

When flabbergasted cost-cutters at the Office of Management and Budget protested strongly that the survey was a dreadful waste of time and money, they were overruled.

The budget cutters tried every way they could to spike the project. OMB analysts said the survey was too long and that it violated the Paperwork Reduction Act. They argued that the $9 million, which is to come from excise taxes on hunting and fishing equipment, should be returned to the states instead. One budget analyst, Dave Allen, told our associate Corky Johnson he doubts that there's proper legal authority to spend the excise tax funds on such a survey.

Billy Graham

Morality, laws inseparable

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am 100 percent against mixing religion and politics. I don't care if some people have religious views, but they shouldn't try to get laws passed that support their moral values or anything like that. — A.P.

DEAR A.P.: This is a complex subject, but let me ask you some questions. Do you oppose the laws of our nation that made slavery illegal? Do you oppose the laws that made it illegal for children to work in factories or mines or that outlaw discrimination against people because of their race? These laws (and many others) were passed in part because of the concern and work of people who were convinced these things were wrong in the eyes of God.

In other words, throughout our history people with deep religious and moral convictions have had a profound effect on our nation and its laws. It is impossible to divorce our laws from morality — at least not if we are to have fair and just laws. People who have strong moral views because of their religious convictions have just as much right as any other citizen to speak out on public issues. At the same time, I do not believe the pulpit is the place to become involved in purely political issues.

But I cannot help but feel that your real problem is not so much that you want to keep God out of our public life, but that you want to keep God out of your personal life. You want to run your own life by your own moral standards, instead of acknowledging Christ as your Lord. But just as it would be catastrophic to make laws with no concern for morality, so it is catastrophic in the long run for you to turn your back on God. The Bible warns, "There is a way that seems right to a man, but in the end it leads to death (Proverbs 14:12). I urge you to reexamine your life, and then to invite Jesus Christ to come into your heart."

Billy Graham's religious column is distributed by Tribune Media Services.

Around The Rim

Good money after bad

By SPENCER SANDOW
Once again the government is trying to throw away our money.

The United States and debtor countries have sought endorsement of a Reagan administration plan for leading international bankers to reverse their opposition and "lend" another $20 billion to 15 heavily indebted countries.

Representatives of many of the world's leading commercial banks met privately last week at a Washington hotel to consider the administration's appeal.

The 15 debtor countries, most of them in Latin America, already owed $275.3 billion last year, of which U.S. banks were due $94.2 billion.

There are several things wrong here.

While it is a fine, humane thing to help those less fortunate than ourselves, it is something else entirely for someone to "volunteer" our help, which is what the government is trying to do now.

The countries that owe us that much money will never be able to pay it back. How can they, if they need $20 billion more of it just to survive? We might as well just give them the money.

When banks lend money to others that can't repay it, that means there's less money to circulate in this country. That makes interest rates go up, which means consumers have to pay more for what they buy. They are the ones who are affected most by the government's decision — not the banks. The banks get plenty of interest as their compensation, and they must have a profitable reason for lending to countries that might not be able to repay the loans.

It is ironic that the Reagan administration should propose this plan while cutting funds for American needy and that American banks don't lend money to our own poor, many of whom need it just as much as foreign poor people. Banks couldn't keep their enormous profit margin that way. And the government doesn't ask them to lend money to Americans that can't pay it back. Apparently, the old saying "charity begins at home" doesn't apply here.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, Nov. 7, the 311th day of 1985. There are 54 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On Nov. 7, 1917, Russia's Bolshevik Revolution took place as forces led by Vladimir Ilyich Lenin overthrew the provisional government of Alexander Kerensky.

On this date: In 1874, the Republican Party was symbolized as an elephant for the first time in a cartoon drawn by Thomas Nast in "Harper's Weekly."

In 1885, the Canadian Pacific Railway was completed.

In 1916, Republican Jeannette Rankin became the first woman elected to Congress.

In 1918, during W.W.I, an erroneous report from the United Press that an armistice had been signed set off celebrations across the country.

In 1944, Franklin D. Roosevelt won a fourth term in office, defeating Thomas E. Dewey.

In 1962, Richard M. Nixon, having lost California's gubernatorial race, gave what he called his "last press conference," telling reporters, "You won't have Nixon to kick around anymore."

In 1962, former First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt died.

In 1967, Carl Stokes was elected the first black mayor of a major city — Cleveland, Ohio.

In 1972, President Richard M. Nixon was re-elected in a landslide over Democrat George McGovern.

In 1973, Congress overrode President Nixon's veto of the War Powers Act, which limits a chief executive's power to wage war without congressional approval.

Five years ago: Actor Steve McQueen died at a clinic in Juarez, Mexico, having lost his battle against cancer. He was 50.

Dear Abby

Man looking for date would rather hear 'no' than 'maybe'

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "Often Stuck" was all wet. She wanted to know how to avoid giving her phone number to a man in whom she wasn't interested, and you told her to take his number instead and say she'll call him when she has some free time. Why is it so hard for women to say no? I have had women give me their phone number after I've asked for it only to find them surprised when I call, and then I get turned down.

Women have told me that they're afraid of hurting a man's feelings by refusing to give him their phone number. Believe me, straightforward honesty would be refreshing after putting up with some of the games people play with each other.

STAN IN INDIANAPOLIS

DEAR STAN: If a woman is absolutely, positively not interested in the man, then a straightforward rejection is probably kinder than giving him false hope.

But since it's a woman's prerogative to change her mind, it's smart to ask the man for his number because the man in whom she had no interest in may look better to her in November (after a long, dry summer).

DEAR ABBY: I'm not happy with my marriage and I want out, but my husband isn't the type to let me go without a fight. We've been married for 10 years and have two children. I wasn't quite 16 when I got married, and he was 24. We fight all the time. If we're not screaming and yelling, we're hitting each other. I don't like to fight in front of the children, but I just can't stand there and take all his verbal abuse, plus punching and slapping.

Abby, just one more thing. There is this man who really cares for me and we think we could be happy together if I were free. I need to know how I can leave my husband without getting myself, my children or my boyfriend hurt. My husband can be very mean if provoked.

RUNNING OUT OF TIME AND COMMON SENSE

DEAR RUNNING: Your signature shows you to be a very insightful woman. I don't know whether your marriage went sour because you found another man, or you found another man because your marriage went sour, but don't chuck your marriage in order to jump into another.

No woman (or man) should live with a mate who dishes out verbal or physical abuse. I recommend family counseling for you and your husband. If he refuses to go with you, go alone.

DEAR ABBY: I am a pastor who believes in a lot of home visitation, and when I go into a home I will inevitably find the boob tube blaring. After I've been seated for about three minutes, I ask pleasantly, "May I turn down the TV a wee bit?" Usually they say, "Oh, just shut it off!!!" If they hesitate, or say, "Well, I will turn it down just a little bit," then this is a signal to me that they are more interested in their "soap" than their salvation, and in 15 minutes I am gone.

And incidentally, Abby, I do not agree with you that people are not socially obligated to turn off the TV when someone drops in unexpectedly. After all, is a television program more precious than friendship? SOUTH CAROLINA PASTOR

DEAR PASTOR: How important a television program is to an individual is a personal matter that can be answered only by the individual. I could be mistaken, but I have always thought healthy friendships are based on mutual consideration, not obligation.

Dr. Donohue

Bell's palsy usually a one-time only event

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am just recovering from Bell's palsy. I had it once before, about five years ago. Both times I had pain for about six weeks. The two attacks were on opposite sides of my face. My questions: (1) Is it common to have this twice? (2) What are the chances of having it a third time? (3) Are there precautions to take to avoid it again? (4) Is there a relationship between Bell's palsy and geographic area? — Mrs. A.R.L.

Bell's palsy (for other readers) is interference with facial muscles, affecting eyelid function and the lips. It is a one-sided paralysis of those muscles. Now to Mrs. L.'s questions.

(1) It isn't common to have this twice. That happens to only one in 10 patients.

(2) The chances of having it a third time are much less than one in 10. I don't think it will happen again, but we never say "never" in medicine.

(3) There are no precautions to prevent Bell's palsy. The cause is not clear, but it often happens after a viral infection. The explanation has been that the infection results in nerve swelling, the nerve becoming compressed by facial bones. That brings the discomfort and the interruption of nerve transmission to the muscles.

(4) I know of no study indicating a relationship between Bell's palsy and climate or geographic area.

Let's hope this is your last encounter with the problem. Besides assuring that you get adequate nourishment despite the mouth involvement, I am sure you realize, too, the need to protect the unprotected eye with a patch and moisten it with artificial teardrops. That substitutes for the lost function of the affected eyelid.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Our family enjoys the wild outdoors. We purify our water with an iodine purifier. Should you let it sit after treatment before drinking? — L.S.

You should wait about 30 minutes before drinking it. It takes that time to kill organisms, especially giardia, a common contaminant.

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is at the same time vital to human life. For a copy of his booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly," write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Howard College art students to be featured in local show

The Howard College Art Department is sponsoring a student watercolor exhibit in the college library through Nov. 18. Landscapes, portraits, abstracts and figure paintings are all represented in the exhibit.

Watercolors exhibited are the works of students enrolled in the fall semester watercolor class. Clay pottery works by Howard College art student Doris Vierregg are also exhibited in the foyer of the library.

Library hours are 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fridays, and 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Sundays.

Homemakers collect gifts for State Hospital patients

The Nov. 5 meeting of the Fairview Extension Homemakers Club was held at the home of Bessie Bigomy. Gifts for the Big Spring State Hospital Christmas party were collected and will be taken to the hospital by Bernice MiCallef.

The program was presented by Helen McIntyre. She talked about conserving water.

The Nov. 20 meeting will be a Thanksgiving dinner held at the home of Dorothy Earhart. Dinner will be served at 11 a.m.

The 'safe house' used by CIA situated in midst of nowhere

BEALETON, Va. (AP) — He said the house — his "safe house" — was 22 miles west of Fredericksburg at a place called Coventry. He said it was on 500 acres, with a lake.

The clues dropped by Vitaly Yurchenko-led reporters to just such a place. By process of elimination, neighbors pointed out a house that might have been the "safe house" where CIA agents debriefed the Soviet intelligence official who now wants to go home.

A fishing pole rests against the back wall, an easy stroll from the lake. The lawn is manicured, the paint fresh, the barbecue grill brushed clean as a whistle. The garden hose is still full of water.

The CIA isn't saying whether or not the house is theirs. But the home, in the middle of essentially nowhere, fits Yurchenko's description of the estate where he says he was drugged and tortured before making good his escape.

Most any property around the lake would seem ideal as a safe house — a place where intelligence agents can do their thing, unbeknownst to the world, in normal surroundings. Safe houses are used for debriefings, secret mail drops, and a variety of other purposes, including recreation, in the spy game.

The house in question sits on 10 acres, on its own road about a quarter-mile off the main drive, affording a panoramic view of all approaches. It is virtually out of view from any other property, though lights can be seen through the trees at night.

The property's absentee owner, who lives near Washington, isn't saying whether this was the house used by the CIA.

Reporters who looked over the property on Tuesday couldn't find anything resembling an ultra-modern security system Yurchenko described on Monday, "laser beams" and all. But other details were consistent.

The Coventry subdivision is, in fact, about 22 miles west of Fredericksburg, and about 90 minutes from Washington. The mailing address is Bealeton, 7 miles east. The size of the entire subdivision is 500 acres.

Large buildings? Nine magnificent homes, each with its own roadway, on the lakeside. Neighbors say they can account for the occupants of all the houses — except one.

The Fredericksburg Free Lance-Star photographed that one Coventry house on Tuesday and reporters, seeking guidance as to whether this was the "safe house," offered to show the picture to the CIA. But Patti Volz, a CIA public affairs officer, said "it wouldn't be possible" for the agency to comment as to whether it had used the home.

Lynn Leahy, an owner in the Coventry subdivision, says neither she nor her husband, Robert, noticed anything unusual going on in the development, except that "a lot of lights were on" late Saturday at the house in question.

"We were out for dinner," she said. "We noticed when we drove around the lake that so many lights were burning. We thought they were having a party."

Yurchenko said he escaped from the home Saturday. Sen. Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., vice chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, said Yurchenko disappeared Saturday night after having dinner in the Georgetown section of Washington.

Several other neighbors, who asked not to be named, agreed that nothing had happened recently to arouse their suspicion or curiosity.

Geographically, Coventry is handy to Washington and a number of other facilities in the Virginia countryside employed by the U.S. intelligence community. A secret communications base is only miles away.

There was no sign of life at the house Tuesday. The garage was empty, except for a riding mower and other groundskeeping gear. The home itself was still full of expensive, French provincial furniture. Yurchenko said he was promised $48,000 worth of furniture from the house in which he was kept.

As for the fancy electronic gear he mentioned, there were two bug zappers on the back porch.

This is the house, located 22 miles west of Fredericksburg, Va., where Soviet spy Vitaly Yurchenko said he was held by the CIA. The "safe house" is occupied by unknown tenants.

Insurance discussion series set

The Federal Crop Insurance Corp. will conduct a series of listening sessions around the country to get farmers' opinions on the operation of its insurance program.

Included as topics for discussion are the proven-yield approach to production guarantees, proposals to change the definition of units for insurance purposes and general program operations.

The sessions were set up as a result of a decision by the corporation board of directors to delay changing unit definitions for insurance purposes.

Two teams of corporation representatives, one headed by manager Merritt Sprague and the other by deputy manager Edward Hews, will begin conducting public hearings today in 12 cities across the country.

Texas hearing sites include the City Hall in Alton, located northwest of McAllen in Hidalgo County, at 9 a.m. Wednesday; and the Community Center in Nazareth, located east of Dimmitt in Castro County, at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 14.

Poll shows one Texan in four smokes cigarettes

Harte-Hanks News Service
The smoking habit still has a grip on more than one Texan in four, according to the latest Texas Poll. Telephone interviews with 1,000 adults around the state this summer revealed that 28 percent of Texans smoke cigarettes while 72 percent do not smoke. The figures are identical to those of the summer 1984 poll. Nationally, a 1983 Gallup Poll found that 29 percent of Americans the middle class, Anglos, blacks, and those with no more than a high school education.

Smoking is most popular among Anglos (31 percent) and blacks (30 percent), while only 19 percent of Hispanics smoke.

Texans with grammar school educations have the greatest proportion of smokers in their ranks (36 percent), followed by 30 percent of those with high school educations and 22 percent of those with college degrees. College graduates who do smoke, however, tend to smoke more heavily; 44 percent smoke more than a pack a day, compared to 26 percent of other smokers.

Texans smokers are more concentrated in the middle-income bracket (33 percent), compared to 26 percent for those in other income groups.

Smoking is least popular among the oldest Texans. Only about 17 percent of Texas adults over age 62 say they smoke, compared to 28 percent of those under 30 and 34 percent of middle-aged people.

Divorced or separated Texans smoke more: 49 percent of them light up, compared to 26 percent of others.

The Texas Poll, sponsored by Harte-Hanks - Communications Inc., is conducted by the Public Policy Resources Laboratory at Texas A&M University.

1 Texan in 4 is a smoker

Q. Do you presently smoke cigarettes?
Q. On average about how many cigarettes a day do you smoke?

- Do not smoke
- Smoke one pack of cigarettes a day or less
- Smoke more than one pack of cigarettes a day

Source: Summer Texas Poll

The Texas Poll

are smokers.

Other Texas Poll findings about cigarette smokers in the state include:

- Men are more likely to smoke than women; 32 percent of men say they smoke, compared to 27 percent of women.

- Male smokers light up more often than female smokers; 26 percent of male smokers say they smoke more than a pack of cigarettes a day while 17 percent of female smokers do.

- Texas smokers say they generally smoke a pack or less a day (71 percent), while 26 percent stop at one to two packs. Only 3 percent of smokers smoke more than two packs a day.

New Cotton Maid choice on Dec. 30

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Deadline for submitting applications and photographs for the Maid of Cotton contest, sponsored by the National Cotton Council, is midnight Saturday.

The contest is open to women 19 to 23 years old who were born in a cotton-producing state or who have maintained legal residence in the Cotton Belt since age 7. Applicants must be at least 5 feet 5 inches tall and must never have been married.

The Maid of Cotton promotes the cotton industry by touring the United States and the Far East. The new Maid will be selected Dec. 30 in Dallas and will make her first official appearance at the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day.

The winner will receive a $10,000 educational award granted to the Cotton Foundation by Ciba-Geigy Corp. First alternate will receive $4,000; the second alternate, $2,500; and all other finalists, $500.

Play to be staged at college revolves around child abuse

Howard College will present "Wind of Blame," a play adapted from a novel of the same name written by Jane Gillmore Rushing of Lubbock.

The play will be performed Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the college auditorium.

Tickets are $4 for adults, $3 for senior citizens and $1.50 for students. They are available at the door, or reservations can be made by calling the college.

Director Tim Haynes said the play is about child abuse in a small West Texas town during the early 1900s. It concerns a family whose children are physically, emotionally and one girl sexually abused by their father. It deals with the reactions of the family and the general community to the abuse, Haynes said.

The play stars Pat Burke and Kim Beckham as the oldest children, Joe Justice as the father, and John Woodall, Jamie Gustin, Clarke Dunnam and Tammy Huckabee as the other children.

"Wind of Blame" is endorsed by Big Spring's Rape Crisis center, said center director Cecelia McKenzie.

Haynes said the college will enter the production in the American College Theater Festival for this area in El Paso Nov. 19-23. Several plays there will be chosen to go to the regional contest with colleges from Texas and several other states in January in Fort Worth. The national contest will be held in April in Washington, D.C.

Cox tabbed AL's top manager

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Cox finally got one more victory as manager of the Toronto Blue Jays. Unfortunately, it wasn't the victory he needed.

Cox, who guided the Blue Jays this season to their first-ever American League East championship and within one game of the World Series, was named the American League Manager of the Year on Wednesday by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The award came two weeks after Cox left his position with Toronto and became general manager of the Atlanta Braves. Cox received 16 first-place ballots and 104 points from a 28-voter panel composed of two writers from each of the league's 14 franchise cities.

Dick Howser of the Kansas City Royals, whose team defeated the Blue Jays in the AL playoffs and then beat St. Louis for the World Series championship, finished second with four firsts and a total of 66 points. Gene Mauch of California was third with eight firsts and 57 points.

The Blue Jays won 99 games during the regular season and they finished two games ahead of the New York Yankees to win the AL East. Toronto took a three games-to-one lead over Kansas City in the playoffs, but the Royals rallied to win the final three games and advanced to the World Series.

During the World Series, the Braves asked permission to talk with Cox, whose contract with Toronto was to expire at the end of the year. Cox then signed a five-year contract to join the Braves, returning to the team he managed from 1978-81.

Cox was attending the general managers' meeting in Inverness, Fla., when Wednesday's announcement was made.

BOBBY COX
...AL's top mentor

"The Blue Jays had a great year in a tough division and Bobby had a lot to do with that," said Jimmy Williams, who was Cox's third-base coach last season and was named to replace him as manager.

"He got an awful lot out of the players," Williams said. "It's not easy to get guys motivated for 162 games, but he did it quite well."

Howser finished second for the second straight year in the BBWAA voting, which is based on regular season performance. Last season, Howser finished second by one point to Detroit's Sparky Anderson, who did not receive any votes this year.

Mauch, who returned to manage the Angels last season after a two-year retirement, had his team in the West Division race in the season's final week and finished one game behind the Royals.

Also receiving votes were New York's Billy Martin, who was fourth with 19 points; Jackie Moore of Oakland, who got four points; and Chicago's Tony LaRussa and Boston's John McNamara, both of whom got one point.

Martin took over the Yankees early in the season for the fired Yogi Berra and led New York back into contention. Martin was fired for the fourth time by the Yankees after the season ended.

Whitey Herzog of the St. Louis Cardinals was named National League Manager of the Year earlier this week, beating Cincinnati Player-manager Pete Rose by one point.

Mitchell's jumper pulls Spurs through, 81-80

By The Associated Press
LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Mike Mitchell hit a 13-foot jumper from the right corner with 40 seconds left, giving the San Antonio Spurs an 81-80 National Basketball Association victory over the Washington Bullets Wednesday night.

The victory ended a two-game losing streak for the Spurs, who overcame a 48-38 halftime deficit and rallied to deal the Bullets their fourth consecutive defeat.

After Mitchell put San Antonio ahead, Jeff Malone missed a jumper for the Bullets and the Spurs ran out the 24-second clock before turning the ball over to Washington with two seconds remaining.

After a time out, Dan Roundfield attempted an inbound pass for the Bullets, but the ball was tapped away by Mitchell and time expired.

The teams exchanged the lead five times in the final 4:18, with Washington going ahead 80-79 on a field goal by Cliff Robinson with 57 seconds remaining.

Alvin Robertson led San Antonio with 18 points, including 14 in the first half. Mitchell and Johnny Moore scored 13 points apiece for the Spurs.

Malone had 23 for the Bullets, including 17 in the second half. Robinson scored 22 and Roundfield 15.

105-101 in a National Basketball Association game.

"I was a little nervous at first but I never got tired," Mullin said. "I've been running four to five miles every morning so I'm in pretty good shape."

Mullin, who said he got one workout with the team Wednesday morning, scored eight points in the fourth quarter while Purvis Short, a veteran forward also playing his first game after signing a contract Wednesday, scored 10 of his 24 points in the final period. Short also had 10 rebounds.

Short, the fourth-leading scorer in the NBA last season, sank a pair of free throws, then converted a pass from Joe Barry Carroll for a 100-97 Golden State lead. Another two free throws at 1:19 made it 102-97, but Seattle cut the deficit to 102-101 with 34 seconds left on a basket by rookie Xavier McDaniel and two free throws from Al Wood. Mullin then hit a turnaround jumper from the right baseline to give the Warriors a three-point lead, and Eric Floyd's free throw with four seconds left finished the scoring.

76ers 105, Pacers 97
Philadelphia scored 10 straight points in a four-minute span of the fourth quarter to hand Indiana its 40th straight road loss to an Atlantic Division team since 1982.

Moses Malone had 21 points and 13 rebounds and Sedale Threatt scored 13 of his 17 points in the third quarter for the 76ers. Clark Kellogg had 22 points and Steve Stipanovich 21 for the Pacers.

The 76ers erased a one-point Indiana lead with their 10-0 streak for a 94-85 lead with 7:14 left in the game. Sixers rookie Terry Catledge had four points during the surge.

Indiana led 59-50 at halftime as Stipanovich's eight of nine field-goal attempts, but Threatt's hot third period brought Philadelphia back.

outscoring Chicago 47-18 behind the shooting of Isiah Thomas and Earl Cureton.

Thomas scored 16 of his 23 points in the final quarter and added 16 assists for the Pistons, while Cureton added 13 of his 16 points in the same span.

The Bulls, playing without star-guard Michael Jordan, got 37 points from Orlando Woolridge and 18 points and 13 rebounds from Sidney Green. John Long scored 22 points for Detroit.

Trail Blazers 111, Mavericks 109
Clyde Drexler scored 28 points and Sam Bowie blocked a layup attempt by Rolando Blackman at the final buzzer as Portland won at Dallas.

The lead changed hands five times in the final three minutes before Mychal Thompson's layup put the Trail Blazers ahead to stay at 108-106 with 1:20 left. Bowie made it 111-109 with a free throw with six seconds left, then blocked the last-gasp attempt by Blackman, who scored 23 points for the Mavericks.

Mark Aguirre led Dallas with 29 points, while Kiki Vandeweghe added 20 for Portland.

NBA Roundup

Warriors 105, Supersonics 101
When rookie Chris Mullin signed a four-year contract with the Golden State Warriors, Coach John Bach said the team and its fans shouldn't expect much from him when he made his pro debut a few hours later.

Mullin, however, had other ideas.

The former St. John's University All-American played 24 minutes, hit six of nine shots from the field and scored 15 points, including a clutch jumper with 19 seconds left, as the Warriors defeated Seattle

Steers out to turn table

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Writer

There will be no pressure on either team Friday night at Memorial Stadium at 8 p.m. when the resurgent Big Spring Steers will try to make the San Angelo Central Bobcats their third consecutive upset victim when the two teams square off in the season finale.

The Bobcats, ranked No. 8 in the state, have no playoff hopes since they have been defeated by Midland Lee and Odessa Permian. Coach Jimmie Keeling's Bobcats have been referred to by many as the best 7-2 team in the state.

Meanwhile, the Steers will be trying to turn the tables on the "Angry Orange", especially after last year's embarrassing 62-0 loss to Central. "I'm sure the kids are thinking about that 62-0 game last season," said Steers coach Quinn Eudy. "I know I haven't forgotten it."

This season the Bobcats bring an even better team into the season-ending clash. On the other hand, so do the Steers.

Both teams have some of the best offensive talent in 4-5A. The Bob-

No looking back for G-City

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Sports Writer

GARDEN CITY — To coin a phrase from a popular song: "There's no lookin' back now" for either Roscoe or Garden City. Each are vying for the remaining 7-A South Zone playoff spot Friday night at Bearkat Stadium in the last regular season game.

Not many people would have predicted that much would be on the line for either of these teams midway through the season, when Roscoe was cruising toward another undefeated district title and Garden City was mired in the midst of a three game losing streak. But how quickly things can change in the realm of Texas high school football.

Roscoe is coming off their first 7-A loss since 1980. A 23-8 loss to Forsan that dropped the Plowboys from the AP Class A Top Ten for the first time this year. So now, instead of cruising through this formality of a last game, they'll be fighting for their playoff livelihood.

At the start of the season, most coaches would have called the Roscoe-Garden City game a mismatch. Not anymore.

The Bearkats have come to life in the past three weeks, registering impressive wins over Roby, Sands and Loraine, bringing a 3-1 district record into this final regular season tilt.

Tomball back sets 4A mark Steers

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer
Tomball Coach Lynn Etheredge's first impression of running back Bubba Greely hasn't changed in four years since watching Greely break 50 yards for a touchdown as a freshman.

"We had suspicions right then that Bubba could become a tremendous runner," Etheredge said.

Greely was still running last weekend when he gained 240 yards on 41 carries and scored three touchdowns in a record-breaking performance that earned him mention in The Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll.

Greely's feat gave him a state Class 4A record 5,895 career rushing yards. He has rushed 1,641 yards in nine games this season and eclipsed the previous record of 5,422 yards set by former Bridge City and University of Texas runner Steve Worster.

"The thing about Bubba is that the better the competition, the better he gets," Etheredge said. "Last year, gaining 991 yards in five playoff games was a tremendous feat."

The 5-foot-7, 165-pound Greely has been a consistent performer, Etheredge said.

"He's never missed a game or practice because of injury," the coach said.

Greely is a major contributor to the Cougar offense that ranks No. 1 in scoring among the state's 4A teams with a 39.2 points per game average. Tomball is averaging 449 yards per game.

In another state record performance, Columbus receiver Percy Waddle caught seven passes for 187 yards to give him a career all-time state record 3,042 receiving yards.

Waddle's record came in a 21-14 victory over Edna and broke the previous record of 2,987 yards by Craig Boller of Houston St. Pius.

In other outstanding individual performances:

—Throckmorton's Kevin and Dow Latham scored all of their team's touchdowns in a 46-0 victory over Windhorst. Kevin Latham rushed 128 yards on nine carries and had touchdown runs of 23, 59, two and 15 yards.

Dow, the team's quarterback, rushed 225 yards on four carries and scored on runs of 57, 65 and 98 yards. The 98-yarder followed a bobbled handoff.

—Anthony Stinnett of Class A No. 1 ranked Munday had a versatile scoring performance in a 60-0 victory over Archer City. Stinnett scored touchdowns on a 40-yard interception return, 80-yard kickoff return, 18-yard pass reception and 15-yard run.

—Celina's Anthony Lynn scored six touchdowns in a 63-21 victory over Sadler-Southmayd. Lynn rushed 250 yards on 17 carries and scored on runs of 29, 10, four, two, 13 and 51 yards.

—Bonham's Corey Ransom rushed a school record 277 yards on 23 carries and scored on runs of 25, seven and 75 yards in a 33-7 victory over Princeton.

—Seymour's Mark Peters rushed 339 yards on 32 carries and had five touchdown runs in a 55-15 victory over Jacksboro. Peters' touchdown runs went 76, 14, 13, 14 and five yards.

—Electra's Charlie Lott had a four-touchdown performance in a 62-6 victory over Nocona. Lott rushed four times and scored on runs of three, 51 and 16 yards and caught a five-yard touchdown pass.

—Coleman's Cameron Norris contributed 13 tackles, caused a fumble and interception, intercepted a pass and blocked two punts in a 27-18 victory over Winters.

—Wichita Falls' Kelvin Anderson returned interceptions 55 and 33 yards for touchdowns over a one-minute span of the fourth quarter to lead the Coyotes to a 33-0 victory over Fort Worth Richland and the District 5-5A title.

—Laredo United's Jorge Canales scored all of his team's points in a 22-6 victory over Pleasanton. Canales rushed 256 yards on 37 carries, had touchdown runs of 70, 26 and 16 yards and ran a two-point conversion.

—State ranked Temple defeated Spring 35-30 despite the passing of Spring quarterback Chad Matthews, who hit 15 of 31 passes for 335 yards and a 65-yard TD pass to Bert De Cuio.

—For the second time this season, Bridge City's Mark LeBlanc scored all of his team's points in a 28-7 victory over Beaumont South Park. LeBlanc rushed 171 yards on 30 carries and had touchdown runs of one, one, three and two yards and kicked four extra points.

—Dexter Thomas rushed 239 yards on 31 carries and scored on runs of 65, one and 45 yards in Kiebyville's 35-34 victory over Orangefield.

—Junior Ernest Cleveland rushed 202 yards on 13 carries and scored on runs of 71, 20 and one yards to lead Marlin to a 53-7 victory over China Spring.

—El Paso Address' William Doctor rushed 219 yards on 14 carries and scored touchdowns on runs of 55 and 59 yards in a 30-6 victory over El Paso Austin. Linebacker Greg Prohaska had 20 tackles for Address.

—Wheeler's Dicky Salyer accounted for 234 yards of offense and three touchdowns in only six plays in a 49-14 victory over Claude. Salyer rushed five times for 180 yards and touchdowns of 87 and 77 yards and caught a 54-yard touchdown pass.

—San Antonio Harlandale's Alex Aguirre rushed 256 yards on 27 carries and had three touchdowns in a 40-20 victory over Laredo Martin.

Bowman and Don Hall, the Bobcats average 270 yards per game on the ground. Both will be shooting for 1,000 yard season against the Steers. Bowman leads the league in rushing with 893 yards while Hall follows with 842 yards.

"Bowman is the best running back in the district," said Eudy. "He and Hall get to the hole real fast because they are so quick. Then they run behind a huge offensive line."

The Bobcats don't mind running behind right guard Frank Bryan (218) and right tackle Andy Stanton (230).

Senior quarterback Mario Martinez directs the Central offense and Eudy calls him one of the best in the district. "Martinez has been one of the best in the district for the last two years. He directs their offense well."

Meanwhile Carl Speck and the Steers counter with highly explosive offensive attack themselves. The senior signal-caller, and West Texas' leading passer, is directing a Veer offense that averages 340 yards per game. It's by far the best balanced one in the district. The Steers are averaging 184 on the ground and 153 in the air. Speck is having a banner season; completing 94 of 202 attempts for 1,383 yards. Proving his consistency, he throws an interception every 34 attempts.

Speck's favorite receiver is tight end David Shortes, who has hauled in 27 passes for 425 yards. Last week he burned Abilene for 120 yards on six receptions.

But the Steers can do it on the ground also, led by junior scatback Phillip Mathews who has 700 yards rushing to go along with his 200 yards in receptions. He's also a threat on punt returns, making him one of the best all-purpose runners in the area.

Sophomore Charles White has come on strong in the last three games, rushing for 248 yards.

Big Spring's past two performances have left Central coach Keeling impressed. "They are tough, they have been playing well. The things that impress me most is the kids' effort and their so well-coached. I wouldn't call their last two wins upsets. They just went out and beat Odessa and Abilene High. Big Spring plays solid football, they are a legitimate good team."

Eudy says his team will go into the game trying to do whatever it takes to win. "We'll pull out all stops," said the Big Spring mentor. "But to win we must control the football on offense, don't let them get their hands on it. Also, we must tackle their backs well, if we don't, they can turn routine plays into big ones."

"I hope we have a big crowd for this last game. The more people the players see and hear, the harder they play. All that support is a real shot in the arm for the team."

So Big Spring will try put to another top ranked team to rest and get some revenge for last season's "Angry Orange's" romp.

"It's like the Abilene High game this season," said Eudy. "Last year they beat us pretty bad, this year we turned the tables on them."

Maybe it time for a little table-turning on the Bobcats.

Schoolboy settles in Irion Co.

MERTZON, Texas (AP) — Jason Burleson, who left Hamilton High when his father resigned as head coach because other players created a ruckus over the son's predominant role in the offense, has found a new place to play ball.

The 6-foot-6, 230-pound sophomore, regarded by many as a potential superstar in several sports, became eligible Wednesday to join the varsity of undefeated and playoff-bound Irion County.

Burleson ran for six touchdowns, passed for nine touchdowns, and caught one touchdown pass at Hamilton High School earlier this year before his father — the head football coach — resigned and withdrew him from school because of the problems with the players.

At Hamilton, Coach Hershel Burleson had his son at quarterback until the team got inside the 20, then moved him to running back.

University Interscholastic League rules are designed to prohibit a high school recruiting another school's players, and few athletes have been able to star for two Texas high school schools in the same sport in the same season.

But the District 8-1A executive committee, by unanimous vote last week, cleared Burleson for eligibility after receiving forms from officials of both Irion County and Hamilton stating he was not recruited and did not move for athletic purposes.

If those two provisions are met, UIL regulations allow transfer students eligibility after 30 days of residence. That was Wednesday for Burleson.

Burleson was the national decathlon champion in the 15-16 age group at the Athletic Congress last summer in New York. He averaged 40 points a track meet during his freshman year; he has high jumped 6-5½, thrown the shot 53-8, and hurled the discus and 166 feet.

"We did a little soul searching after the 60-0 loss to Forsan," commented Bearkat head coach Tony Stricklin. "The kids decided that they would play up to their ability and try to make something out of the rest of the season. It's been an amazing comeback."

Leading the charge for the Bearkats since their shellacking by Forsan has been senior tailback Abby Madrid. After racking up 84 tough yards against in a 28-6 victory over Sands, Madrid exploded last week for 184 yards rushing and six touchdowns in Garden City's 42-0 romp over Loraine.

"I've always thought he was the best pure running back in the district," explained Roscoe head coach Terry Kennedy. "He has really come on, in the past couple of games. He's the threat we'll be trying to stop."

Helping out Madrid will be converted fullback Trey Willey, who has had three 100 yard games this season and is a fine blocker. Bearkat quarterback David Montgomery has also revived the Bearkat passing attack that prevents opposing defenses from keying on the run.

"We've been running our options and sweeps much better and the passing game has kept teams from stacking nine people on the line waiting for us."

Of course, Roscoe is not without some impressive offensive backs of its own. Quarterback Matt Denman is an All-State candidate who runs the Plowboy Veer attack with the skill of a seasoned veteran. The senior signal caller has run for over 650 yards and thrown 670 more. Tailbacks Tommy Williams and Danny Herrera have combined for nearly 1200 yards rushing and Denman's favorite wide receiver, Lee McPaul has 21 catches for 310 yards and four touchdowns.

"The key to stopping Roscoe, as Forsan found out, is to stop Denman," explained Stricklin. "We're going to try to force him to pitch on the option, pressure him in passing situations and generally try to keep the ball out of his hands."

Kennedy feels that after the poor offensive showing against Forsan his charges will be looking everywhere for help. "We're going to do what ever it takes to move the ball. At this point in the season, there is no room to be conservative. We'll throw the ball if we have to or stay on the ground if we're successful."

Another factor in Garden City's recent turn in fortune has been the aggressive play of the defense. Led by linebackers Madrid and newcomer Jesse Lopez, along with a stingy secondary, the Bearkats held both Sands and Loraine to under 100 yards rushing.

"We made some changes at mid-season, moving Willey from defensive end to cornerback and put Frankie Rameriz at defensive end which has shored up what was once a weak spot in the defense."

It is not an easy game to predict scoring wise. Both teams have tremendous offensive potential but the defenses have been showing the kind of late season cohesiveness that is the trademark of playoff teams.

"I suspect Garden City to be fired to the gills," said Kennedy. "There's no holding back now. It's down to whoever wants to get in the playoffs worse, 'cause if you lose, all you'll be doing on Saturday is watching cartoons."

"We know what we're up against," said Stricklin. "We cannot be intimidated by Roscoe. It's nice to be playing for a shot at the playoffs. We have an opportunity to win a low scoring ball game."

Sports Briefs

Boy claims reverse discrimination
HAMILTON TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — A state judge refused to reinstate a 15-year-old boy who claims he was discriminated against when he was kicked off the girl's field hockey team at Cumberland Regional High School.

Administrative Law Judge Bruce Campbell refused to grant a temporary, emergency order sought by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of Charles Carney, a sophomore at the school in Upper Deerfield Township, but scheduled a hearing on the issue for Jan. 13 and 14.

Knicks could sign Albert King
NEW YORK (AP) — Special Master Kingman Brewster ruled that a free agent offer sheet tendered by the New York Knicks to forward Albert King of the New Jersey Nets is legal.

The Knicks made the offer Oct. 24, and the Nets will have until Friday, Nov. 8 to match it. If King, who averaged 14.4 points per game in four seasons with the Nets, winds up with the Knicks, he would be united with his brother, Bernard.

Tulsa duo make football history
TULSA, Okla. (AP) — In a state where he citizenry lives and dies with the potent offenses of Oklahoma and Oklahoma State, another college football team — Tulsa's Golden Hurricane — is stealing some of that thunder.

Running back Gordon Brown and quarterback Steve Gage are the first teammates at the major college level ever to rush for more than 200 yards in the same game. Brown picked up for 214 yards and Gage added 206 Saturday when Tulsa whipped Missouri Valley Conference rival Wichita State 42-26.
