Texas economy forecast steady despite tourism

By JILL KHIEW

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The boost in tourism from the state's 150th birthday party next year will not be sufficient to pull the Texas economy out of its sluggishness, according to state analysts and industry spokesmen.

But, 1986 will be a fair year with economic activities maintaining their present momentum, they said. "I think 1986 will be similar to 1985," said Bernard Weinstein, director of Edwin Cox School of Business at Southern Methodist University.

"The economy will continue the way it is," said Dale Craymer, director of revenue estimating for the Texas Comptroller.

But the forecast is bullish for the tourism industry.

Tourism, which has replaced agriculture as the state's number two industry, should receive a shot in the arm from the variety of festivities planned for the Texas Sesquicentennial, said Dave Allred, a spokesman for the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

The agency is planning for 40 million out-of-state visitors, compared with the 37.6 million drawn last year, and is hoping to have more Texans take their vacations in Texas, Allred said. "With more than 4,000 observances planned in all parts of the state, we hope to draw a whole lot of people."

In the retail industry, however, optimism is not as high as in the tourism industry.

The Texas Retailers' Association expects more of the same in retail sales and does not anticipate a big jump in business unless more tourists than expected visit the state, said group president Mickey Moore.

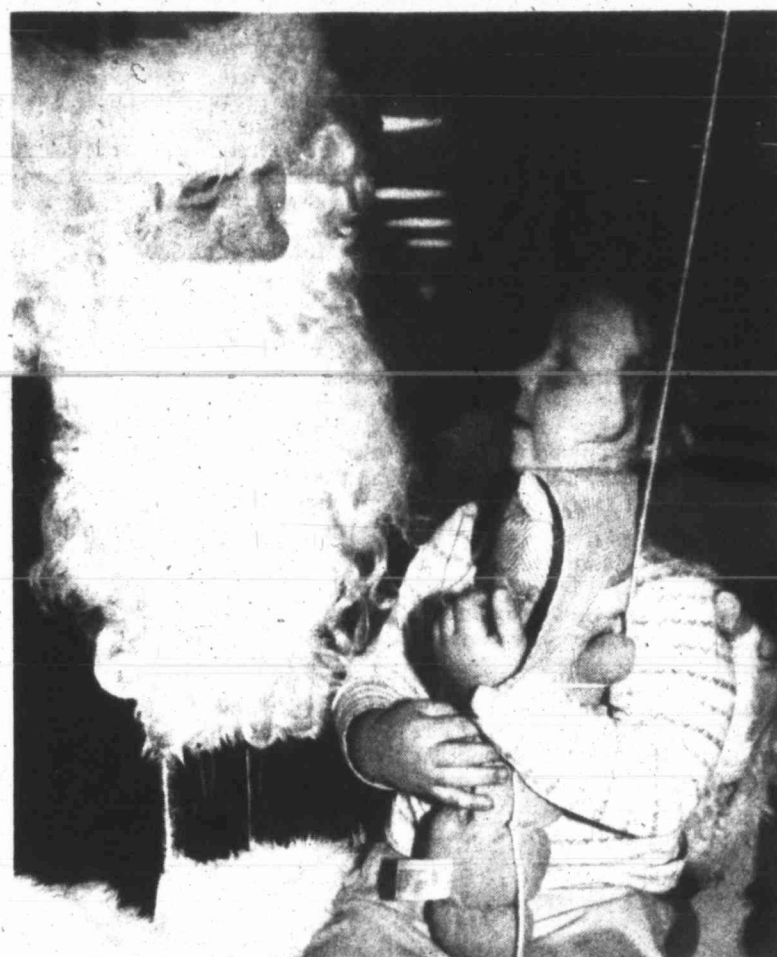

Nevertheless, retail sales are expected to climb 5 to 6 percent, said Craymer of the Comptroller's office. "We'll continue to grow, although slowly," he said.

But officials in the energy and agriculture industries are not so high-spirited when peering into their crystal balls.

"I'm not terribly pessimistic about next year, but I think it will be a year of uncertainty for us," said Larry Springer, spokesman Santa Claus arrived safe and sound at Big Spring Mall, although there are some conflicting accounts of how he got there.

"Santa arrived yesterday very mysteriously in a puff of smoke," mall manager Pattie Robinson said Saturday. "It was wonderful."

She said Santa arrived at approximately 11 a.m. Friday and was whisked to his chair through a smokescreen accompanied by an introduction

Innocent man finally free

VICTORIA (AP) — Ralph Samora Sr. had a lot to be grateful for this Thanksgiving.

After 8½ months in prison for a crime he didn't commit, Samora was freed when the real rapist confessed.

"I didn't expect a miracle, but it happened," Samora says.

After spending 16 months trying to convince authorities he did not rape an Edna, school teacher, Samora was released from the Texas Department of Corrections Friday, in time to celebrate Thanksgiving with his wife and six children.

But Samora, 34, told the Victoria Advocate that freedom will not erase the pain and frustration of his wrongful conviction and time in prison.

"It's not fair for a man to pay for another man's crime," he said. "A part of my life has been taken away."

Samora's release came 11 days after Dennis Sacky, 24, pleaded guilty to sexually assaulting the teacher in 1984. Sacky was sentenced to 25 years in prison.

Samora said "times had gotten tough" when in 1984 he was laid off from his Freeport job as a sandblaster and painter and moved his family to Edna.

Edna residents were shaken by the April 4, 1984, sexual assault of a school teacher while she was home for lunch. They opened a bank account for donations to be used for a reward to anyone with information leading to the assailant's arrest.

An Edna woman had told authorities she saw Samora near the home where the rape occurred and close to the time of the attack.

She got a $1,300 reward after Samora's conviction.

Samora said he "cooperated fully" when Edna police Chief Norman Glaze began questioning him.

"I was innocent," Samora recalls. "What did I have to lose?" But Samora was indicted by a Jackson County grand jury on a charge of sexual assault and was arrested July 27. After a four-day trial in February, he was convicted.

"I didn't think they would convict me. I didn't do it," he said. "I told them they were putting the wrong man in prison and that the man who really did it was still on the street."

He was sentenced to 20 years in prison and would not have been eligible for parole until 1991.

Tension between administration and firefighters simmers at city hall

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer
A news analysis

about $300 to $400 less than salaries of firefighters in other West Texas towns — Midland, Odessa, San Angelo, Lubbock, he said.

Firefighters also want parity with the police department — an achievement they enjoyed briefly. Dorton and other firefighters say personnel in the department became upset when firemen and other city employees received cost-of-living percentage salary increases but policemen received a bigger $100-a-month raise several years ago.

Davis justified the council's decision then because Big Spring police officers were leaving to work for area law enforcement agencies at higher wages. "We increased salaries in hopes of recruiting and retaining police officers," he said.

Most firefighters who leave the department retire or leave for non-firefighting jobs within the area, Davis said, suggesting that there isn't the same competition for firefighters by out-of-town departments.

Mayor Pro Tem Harold Hall and Mayor Clyde Angel said they, too, believe pay is an issue in the conflict.

When council members opposed civil service for the department, "they were kicked around pretty bad," said Hall. "We will comply, but it can get real expensive. I don't think the citizens understand how expensive."

"I don't know if there is going to be an end," said Hall. "We don't have the money to keep doing these things."

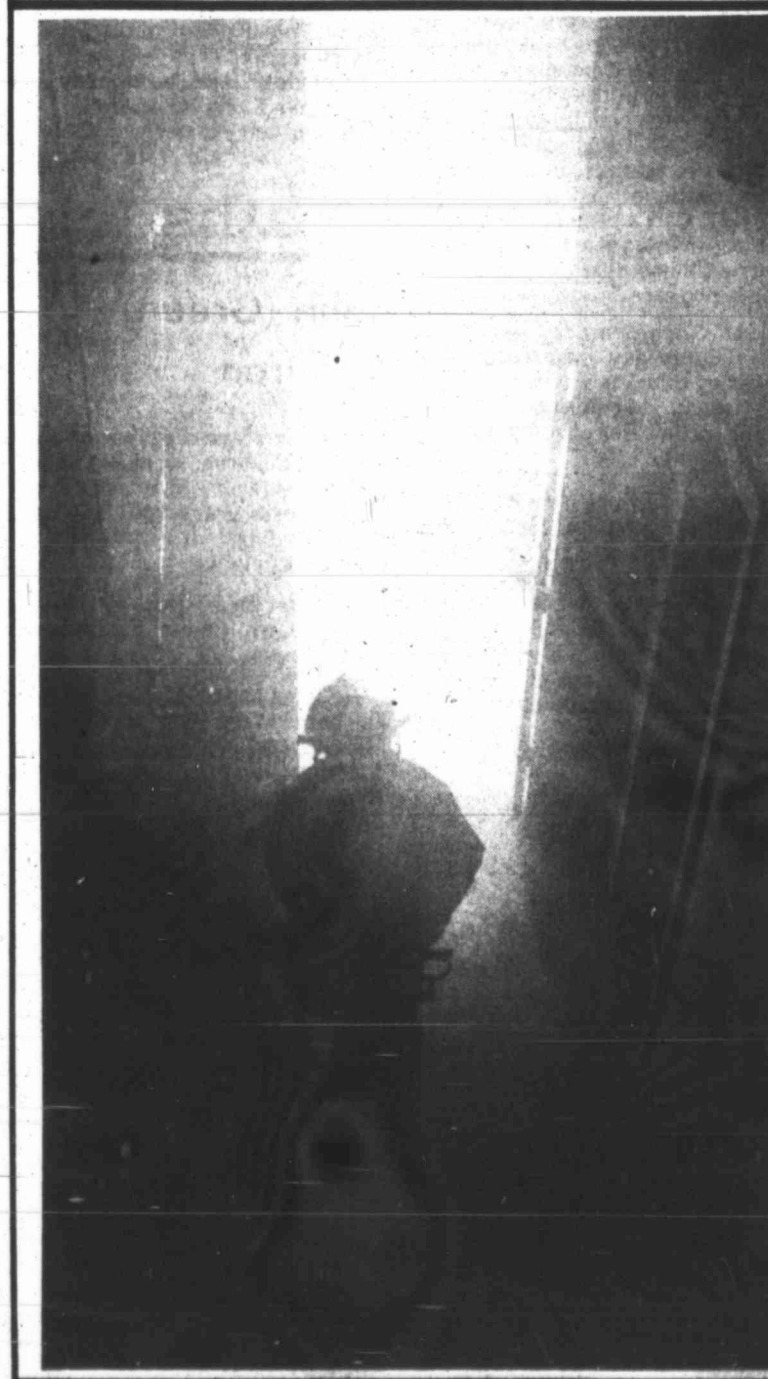

Firemen will decide this week on whether to vote a 3 percent increase in their pension fund, as allowed under state law. If they do, the city must match the contribution. The idea was temporarily scuttled when councilmen announced the money would come from salaries.

According to City Finance Director Tom Ferguson, increasing the city contribution to the firemen's pension fund will cost $27,000 in the first year.

"I'm between a rock and a hard place," Dorton said. "I want to get the pay up. I want to increase pension contributions. But I also have to live within budgetary constraints."

Anti-war activists say no to 'Rambo'

By LINDA WEINSTEIN
Associated Press Writer

Military toys came under attack by anti-war activists demonstrating Saturday at shopping centers in Columbus, Seattle and Milwaukee, while protesters of one toy maker's plans to market a "Rambo" doll marched outside company headquarters.

A dozen anti-war activists picketed in West Hartford, Conn., home of Coleco Industries Inc., which distributes Cabbage Patch Kids dolls. The marchers, members of the War Resisters League which regularly protests nuclear submarine launches in nearby Groton, object to Coleco's plans to bring out a toy modeled on Rambo, a fictitious gun-packing Vietnam veteran.

The character was created by actor Sylvester Stallone in the movies "First Blood" and "Rambo: First Blood Part II."

The group said its protest was part of the International Day Against War Toys.

"The War Resisters League feels very strongly that we need to be opposed to war and the cause of war, and one cause is the acceptance by society of the military culture. War toys is a militarization of youth, and it has produced a situation where it is hard to find other creative toys on toy shelves," league spokeswoman Joanne Sheehan said Friday.

She noted that five of the current top six best-selling toys are "war toys," citing Transformers, Masters of The Universe, Gobots, Voltron and GI Joe.

"The (Rambo) doll is patterned after a horrendous, violent movie character," she said. "The character of Rambo makes war and killing exciting to kids."

She said members of her organization requested a meeting with Coleco officials to discuss the doll, but company officials rejected the idea.

"They felt we had no right to protest something that was not on the market yet," Sheehan said.

Coleco headquarters was closed Friday and Saturday, and company officials could not be reached for comment.

But not everyone agreed with the protesters. In one Milwaukee area toy store, the hottest items were robots, monsters and soldier replicas, along with toy guns and swords.

Terry Trueden of Milwaukee said he doubted that military toys would cause violent behavior.

"When I grew up it was cowboys and Indians. Now it's GI Joe," he said.

Another parent, Theodora Ciezka of Milwaukee, agreed.

"The violence is in the minds of the adults. To them (children), it's just playing," she said.

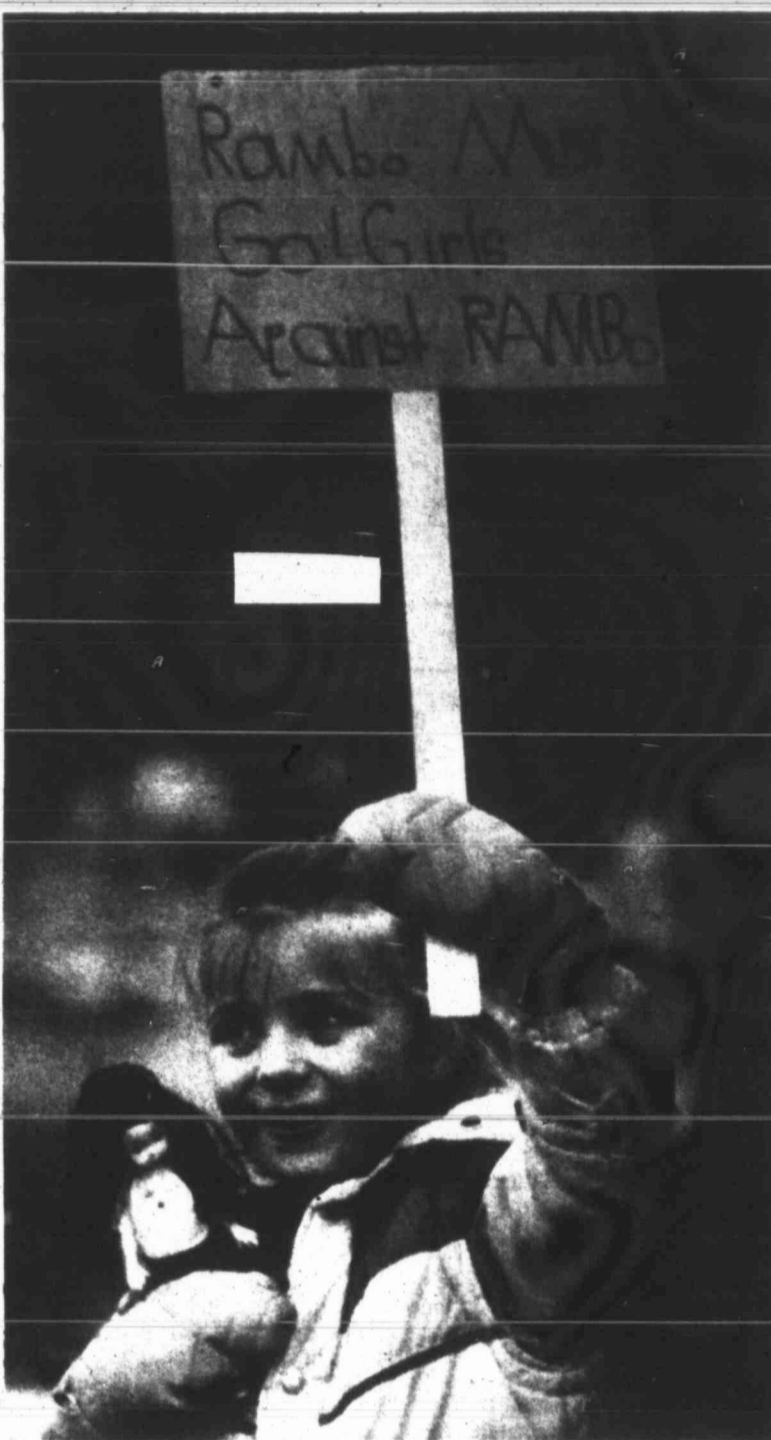

Members of Milwaukee's chapter of Mobilization for Survival distributed leaflets at the downtown Grand Avenue shopping center Friday and Saturday opposing toys the group considers too violent.

Barb Peterson, a spokeswoman for the group, said such toys include ones that convert into robots and those that have a theme of military warfare.

The leaflets quote studies finding that militaristic and violent toys prompt children to show selfish and aggressive behavior.

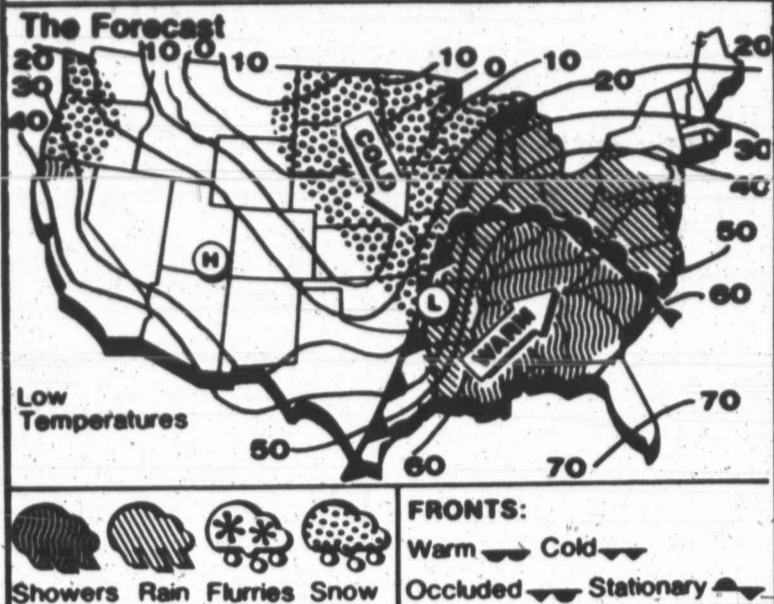

The group suggested that shoppers look instead for non-violent, creative toys.

At Northland Mall in Columbus, Ohio, members of the Gray Panthers, a senior citizens group, handed out statements to youngsters protesting violent toys.

Rockies storm packs punch

By The Associated Press

A "powerhouse storm" that dumped up to two feet of snow across the southern Rockies swung eastward Saturday and spread ice, slush and snow across the Plains, threatening to snarl traffic for Thanksgiving weekend travelers all the way to the Great Lakes.

A dozen people had been killed in weather-related accidents since Thursday.

In the north, Montana posted more record lows in a series that started two months ago, and the cold along with 10 to 20 mph wind in the Dakotas drove wind chill factors to as much as 50 degrees below zero. At 2 p.m. EST, Havre, Mont., was still at 20 degrees below zero.

Two feet of snow had fallen in the southwestern Colorado mountains at Wolf Creek Pass, and during the night up to a foot of snow fell as far south as Flagstaff, Ariz. Up to 20 inches had fallen since Thursday in Utah's mountains.

By Saturday afternoon, a broad belt of snow extended from Utah across the Rockies and Plains to Upper Michigan, and along its southern edge snow, freezing drizzle and sleet iced roads from northern Oklahoma to southern Wisconsin.

Many motorists around Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn., had to pull over and scrape ice from their windshields before the drizzle turned to snow, and Oklahoma Highway Patrol dispatcher Elizabeth Nelson said troopers were busy were numerous accidents.

on all sides, said Dorton, Davis and union members.

"There has been overreaction. I know there has been on my part, and I think there has been on the union's part," Davis said.

On Davis' part, firefighters refer to the Nov. 13 city council meeting where Davis interrupted Branham and advised council members not to bargain with union members. Branham was at the podium, asking council members why they passed a city policy on the Fair Labor Standards Act on emergency reading.

In turn, union members came under fire for calling Davis a "dictator" while campaigning for civil service and for intemperate remarks at a public budget hearing in September. Union secretary-treasurer Paul Brown harangued the council for plans to reduce positions in the fire department.

Davis said he would have to "work real hard" to put personality conflicts behind him. "I am committed to trying to resolve this problem. I'm trying to do what is right for the individual and the department. From time to time, there may be a conflict between what is best for the individual and what is best for the organization."

"My response will always be what is good for the organization," he said.

Davis attributes part of the dissension to a general change in work force attitudes during the last 10 to 15 years. "It's not a bad change. They're just better educated and better informed. They're no longer content with blind obedience. I think that's good."

A move by Fire Chief Carl Dorton has given some "responsibility and accountability to the first line supervisors, the lieutenants and captains, which heretofore hasn't happened," Davis said.

Although at one time he said he would not negotiate with the union over higher classification pay, Davis now cites it as "a bona fide complaint," one of the firefighters' better accomplishments.

Firemen, upset over past problems with city management, say they want to "improve relations with the city council," and called on councilmen to visit on their own with employees in various city departments.

for the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

Springer said the current federal tax reform debates have "cast a shadow" over the members' long-term planning.

The industry tax hike recently proposed as part of the overall federal tax reform package will reduce oil and gas tax incentives. If adopted, Springer said, the tax hike will hurt an industry already reeling from falling oil prices and a revenue decrease.

Meanwhile, the agriculture industry is in jeopardy of losing 20 percent of its family farmers next year because of the lack of financing, said Texas Agriculture Department spokesman Andy Welch.

Welch said 1985 has been a "disaster year" and 1986 will be "devastating." He attributed the problem to an oversupply of farm goods, which leads to sagging farm prices and to a reduction in farm subsidies.

Santa

over the mall's public address system.

Santa comes from the North Pole to Big Spring every year to hear what children want for Christmas. Robinson said the first line of children to greet Santa and give him their wishes "was very long."

She said every year rumors arise over how he actually comes to Big Spring from the North Pole and this year, it was rumored that he arrived at the mall in a "beat up Chevy."

Robinson said Mrs. Santa Claus had assured her though that Santa arrived at the mall by way of his usual means of transportation — reindeer and the snow sled.

But Santa, who is taking children's gift requests from now until Christmas Eve, contradicted that account. He said he left the North Pole Friday "on a private Christmas jet."

"Reindeer are used only on Christmas Eve," Santa said.

He said the journey was difficult because of "air raid warning systems at the North Pole."

Santa said U.S. Air Force F-14 fighter jets "came to his rescue" and escorted his journey through any potential danger.

He said 100 elves at the North Pole were currently "packing and making toys" for this year's Christmas Eve duty.

Cabbage patch dolls are the most requested gifts, Santa said. He said bids for bikes, including three-wheelers, followed along with Gobot toy requests.

In order for a child to have a chance to attain the request, Santa said, he or she must be good from now until Christmas and must also leave a little food snack out for Santa on Christmas Eve.

Julie Sheppard of Big Spring was one of Santa's elves assisting him with Saturday's meetings with the children.

"She (Sheppard) preceded him to the mall to make everything ready for him," Robinson said. "It's a busy, busy time of year."

Car hits boy at mall

A Malone-Hogan Hospital spokeswoman said Saturday night a 12 year old boy was treated and released from the emergency room Friday afternoon after he was struck by a car in the parking lot of Big Spring Mall.

According to a Big Spring police accident report, Carl Bradley

Daniels, 12, of 2201 Alabama ran from the north side entrance door to the mall "into the path" of a car driven by William Fred Nehls, 33, of 3222 Cornell.

Cornell was traveling eastbound when the 1:05 p.m. accident occurred.

Police issued no citations.

Police Beat

$1 bill faked as $20

Mike Connelly of 2509 Chanute told Big Spring police Friday night that someone attempted to pass a $1 bill as a $20 bill at Kentucky Fried Chicken at 2200 Gregg.

The incident occurred at 6:30 p.m., according to a police report. The report said the $1 bill "had been altered to resemble a $20 bill."

Maria Buto of 709 W. Seventh told police Friday afternoon that someone broke a lock and chain which secured the garage doors at the residence. The attempted break-in occurred between 4 p.m. on Nov. 15 and noon Friday.

Total damage was $115, according to the police report.

Police received information from two women Friday night about damage to their automobiles.

Jana Miller of Coahoma and Megan Burkhart of 1405 Runnels told police someone damaged their vehicles by applying shoe polish to them.

The vandalism occurred at 9:20 p.m. and 9:25 p.m. on Runnels Street, the report stated.

Damage amounts were unknown, according to the report.

Ann Carson of 800 Lancaster told police Friday night someone damaged her north side kitchen window by shooting a B-B gun pellet through it.

The vandalism occurred at 11:05 p.m. and damage was estimated at $70, according to the police report.

Police arrested Steve Nolan Dewett, 23, of 1507 Lincoln for suspicion of driving while intoxicated after he was stopped at 11:45 p.m. Friday in the 1500 block of Lincoln.

Police arrested Willis Floyd Gillette Jr., 19, of 1505 Lincoln for driving while license suspended at 12:29 a.m. Saturday, according to the police report.

Diary is Mormon link

SALT LAKE CITY — A Texas man owns an early Mormon apostle's diaries and letters, which have been mentioned frequently by authorities investigating the October bombing deaths of two people, a newspaper reported Saturday.

H.O. Traugher of Houston said he has the 150-year-old papers of William E. McLellan, but that he has made a commitment not to discuss the papers until Monday, the Deseret News reported.

McLellan left the Mormon Church and became a bitter opponent of church founder Joseph Smith. There has been speculation the papers might contain material embarrassing to the faith.

Turkeys recalled

NEWARK, N.J. — About 25,000 people returned turkeys to a supermarket chain after it recalled a batch of foul-smelling birds, but only 300 turkeys were spoiled, store officials said Saturday.

Some of the turkeys that Foodtown accepted were already cooked and stuffed while some apparently were purchased at other supermarket chains, a store official said.

Fans are not bear-able

CHICAGO — United Airlines canceled a flight to Florida for 147 passengers after more than 50 Chicago Bears football fans passed around liquor and refused to take their seats before takeoff, authorities said Saturday.

Three people were charged with disorderly conduct.

It was the second time in two weeks that police have had to arrest rowdy Bears fans at O'Hare International Airport.

A cursed Christmas

ORLANDO, Fla. — A string of curses from an FM radio disc jockey about requests for Christmas music went out on the air, prompting a flood of complaints from outraged listeners and a week's suspension for the culprit.

Minutes after the offending epithets hit the airwaves, management at WSTF, Star 101 FM relieved Michael Lowe without pay and told listeners, in an apology 20 minutes later, he would receive "punitive action."

Lowe blamed the incident on a "technical mix-up" and said he had nothing against Christmas music.

Job security keys labor

WASHINGTON — Negotiations in the steel and telecommunications industries covering nearly three quarters of a million workers are the most critical sets of labor talks upcoming in 1986, and in both a top issue will be job security.

Leftists call election a 'U.S. ploy'

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — About 8,000 leftist demonstrators on Saturday denounced the Feb. 7 presidential election as a "U.S. imperialist ploy," and an opposition coalition said Benigno Aquino's widow would be its candidate.

The demonstrators marched toward the official residence of President Ferdinand E. Marcos but were stopped a few blocks away by fire trucks and 250 riot police.

They chanted "crush the U.S.-Marcos dictatorship" and painted slogans on walls calling for "Revolution, not elections."

About 700 people demonstrated outside the gates of the U.S. Embassy, protesting American military and economic assistance to the Marcos government, but no violence was reported.

Speakers at the two rallies described the proposed election as a ploy by Marcos' "U.S. imperialist masters" to improve the president's image after 20 years in power.

Police in Angeles city, 50 miles north of Manila, said there also were two smaller demonstrations against American involvement in the Philippines. One of the protests was near the U.S. Clark Air Base.

Meanwhile, the eight-party People's Struggle coalition told a news conference it had drafted Corazon Aquino as its presidential candidate.

"She is expected to announce her decision to run very shortly," said the coalition's president, Jovito Salonga.

Former Sen. Benigno Aquino was assassinated in 1983 at the Manila airport when he returned from self-exile in the United States. He had been Marcos' chief rival.

Mrs. Aquino, 52, has hinted she will run, but has said she would not announce her decision until Marcos signs into law the bill formally calling the election. Parliament is expected to give the bill its final third reading Monday.

Some supporters of former Sen. Salvador Laurel have said if Mrs. Aquino runs she will wreck the opposition's chances of fielding only one candidate.

Mrs. Aquino had been co-chairman of an opposition unification committee set up to select a single candidate, but withdrew as pressure mounted for her to run.

The People's Struggle coalition was formed last week by parties that boycotted the unification committee, claiming it was controlled by Laurel.

Second pirate said alive

CAIRO, Egypt — The pilot of the hijacked Egyptair jetliner said Saturday that a second sky pirate survived the storming of the aircraft in Malta and was being treated at a Maltese hospital for a nervous breakdown.

Capt. Hani Galal also said in an interview with Egyptian television after returning from Malta with 11 other survivors that there were five hijackers, not four. The Boeing 737 was commandeered Nov. 24, shortly after leaving Athens, Greece, for Cairo and diverted to Valletta, Malta.

Israeli spying 'foolish'

TEL AVIV, Israel — A major American Jewish leader said Saturday that the Israeli government behaved foolishly and should apologize in the case of a U.S. Navy intelligence analyst accused of selling secret information to Israel.

In an Israel radio interview, Kenneth Bialkin, chairman of the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations, called the purported Israeli recruitment of Jonathan J. Pollard "a foolish endeavor, probably an unnecessary endeavor."

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Hundreds of union representatives founded South Africa's largest labor organization Saturday, a multiracial federation of about 500,000 workers that is expected to push black political demands.

About 800 union representatives convened in Durban to found the Congress of South African Trade Unions, a federation of workers in 36 unions, a day earlier than expected.

Police hunt saboteurs

TOKYO — Police mobilized into a special hunt unit scoured Japan on Saturday for about 300 leftists believed responsible for the rail sabotage that turned travel into chaos for 6.5 million commuters in Tokyo and Osaka.

The coordinated attacks Friday also cost government-run Japan National Railways more than $6 million in lost ticket sales.

Mahon left a legacy on the Hill

WASHINGTON (AP) — When young district attorney George Herman Mahon arrived in Congress to represent the new 19th District of West Texas, Franklin Delano Roosevelt was in his first term as president, Sam Rayburn was in his second as Speaker of the House, and Harry Truman was a senator from Missouri.

GEORGE MAHON
...colleagues pay tribute

When Mahon left Congress 44 years later, he had served longer continuously as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee than anyone else in history. His portrait hangs in the Capitol, where one of the committee rooms is named after him.

Mahon died on Nov. 20 in San Angelo, seven years after retiring from Congress. He was 85.

For 14 years, he ran the committee that writes the legislation that pays the nation's bills. Anybody who wanted government money for virtually any program — be he lowly freshman or president of the United States — had to go through Mahon.

But the tall, lanky Texan had an unassuming manner that belied his power.

standing respectfully in front of a wall of photos in his office — autographed by all the presidents back to FDR.

"He was the kind of man who had influence without having to display it," said Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas.

"It's been hard to follow him," said Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., who came to Congress four years after Mahon and took over as chairman of Appropriations when Mahon retired.

The day after Mahon's death, a stream of mourners who had heard the news that morning took to the House floor to remember him. They included the Speaker, the majority and minority leaders, members of the Appropriations Committee and other congressmen who just knew Mahon and liked him.

The speeches weren't the usual canned tributes meant to be written up in the Congressional Record. Many weren't especially articulate. They were personal, off the cuff, from the heart.

Several colleagues recalled how Mahon loved to sing at parties, leading others in old-time hymns, then calling his wife, Helen, to his side to sing "Ma, He's Makin' Eyes at Me."

House Minority Leader Robert Michel, R-Ill., said he always thought that Mahon the golfer mirrored Mahon the "pennypinching" keeper of the nation's pursestrings.

"We had a little standing joke out at Burning Tree that if there was not a tee left on the tee, you know, a little wooden one, George Mahon must have passed through here just before us in a foursome," Michel said. "I have seen times when he used to take those little broken tees and, just like a whittler, renew the point so that he might use it the next time around."

"He was literate," said Sidney Yates, D-Ill. "He was civilized. He was well-read. He loved music and he loved art."

Ed Powers still works for the Appropriations Committee, as do several other staffers Mahon hired. Powers said they never were asked about their political affiliation, just their qualifications.

Reagan warns spies

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — President Reagan, in his first public comment on the recent wave of arrests of Americans for spying, said today his administration "will not hesitate to root out and prosecute the spies of any nation."

"Many nations spy on the United States," the president said in his weekly radio address, delivered from his ranch in the Santa Ynez Mountains 30 miles north of here.

"The totality of this threat underscores just how important it is that we protect ourselves." At the same time, he said, "While our security is tied to protecting certain secrets, there is no need to fight repression by becoming repressive ourselves."

He said his administration is currently seeking "a broad range of reforms and improvements including reducing the size of the hostile intelligence threat within our borders, better monitoring of exchange programs, improving government communications and personnel procedures, better analysis, expanding counter-intelligence capabilities abroad and assuring the security of U.S. embassies and bases."

The president said there have been 34 arrests for espionage against the United States since 1981, compared with 13 in the previous five years. "There is no reason to sugar coat reality," he said.

Libya said to be getting new missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet anti-aircraft missiles have been unloaded at a Libyan port, according to unconfirmed reports that have reached the State Department.

State Department spokesman Michael Austrian said Friday that reports on the shipments surfaced from State Department sources in the last couple of days.

"I've heard of it," Austrian said. "I simply don't know what degree of credibility to give it."

ABC News on Friday night quoted U.S. intelligence sources as saying that two Soviet ships were unloading new long-range SA5 anti-aircraft missiles, launchers, radar and transporters in the port of Misurata. The network said analysts had determined the equipment would be enough to set up two anti-aircraft sites with six launchers per site.

The SA5 could provide Libyan strongman Moammar Khadafy for the first time with an effective weapon to challenge American planes flying over the disputed waters of the Gulf of Sidra, ABC noted.

In August 1981, two U.S. F-14 fighters shot down two Soviet-built Libyan planes after a brief dogfight over the gulf. The Libyans claim the gulf as their territorial waters, but the United States maintains the region is international water beyond three miles from shore.

"There's a lot of stuff that goes in there," said Austrian, declining to elaborate on the scope of the alleged shipments. Asked if the United States considered the reports of a serious nature, he replied, "I think we take anything to do with Libya quite seriously."

Q.: We've made the decision to buy a home. My wife wants to make the move now while I believe interest rates will drop further. What do you think?
A.: No one knows for sure whether interest rates will go up or down. Although the trend has been downward, they may have reached their low point, or they may continue downward — or back up. The point is, if you have made the decision, there really is no better time than now. If interest rates continue to fall, it may be only a point or two, if any, within the next year. That's another year without the home you want, and all the advantages which go with it. And, don't forget, interest charges can be deducted from your income tax.

Kitchen and Bath Specialists

by Bob and Jan Noyes
VANITIES FAIR
In many older bathrooms, the wash basin has no convenient place for setting things down. Moreover, unsightly plumbing under the basin detracts from the appearance of the bathroom. The modern vanity solves both of these problems. It also helps solve a storage space problem by providing convenient drawers and shelves. Ready-made vanities are available in many sizes. Typical widths range from 20 inches to 50 inches. The standard height is 34 inches. Larger vanities can be custom-made. One useful feature for small children is a bottom drawer which is reversible. The children can pull this out and stand on it to reach the wash basin.
A drawer that locks in a bathroom vanity can keep dangerous substances like drugs or cleaning supplies away from children. If you're remodeling, consult the specialists at BOB'S CUSTOM WOODWORK. We design, build and install new baths and kitchens from floor tile to custom cabinetry. Come to Bldg. 613 Warehouse Road in the Industrial Park, or call 267-5811. We're open M-F, 8-12, 1-5 or by appt.

Queen and king turkey

The FHA held a Thanksgiving contest Monday through Wednesday. The teachers were the contestants and the winners were crowned queen and king "turkey."

Each teacher had a jar. The students voted by putting money in the jar of their choice. The one with the most money won. The winners were Queen Turkey Lynn Smith and King Turkey Coach Overton.

They were awarded a crown, a banner and a plate of cookies. Congratulations, "Turkeys"!

The boys basketball team came up victorious once more when they played Coahoma Monday night. The Mustangs will play O'Donnell Dec. 3. The Mustang tournament will be held December 5-7.

Research grant fizzles

AUSTIN (AP) — A federal grant's sudden death has stunned — and unemployed — about two dozen workers in a 20-year-old teacher education program at the University of Texas, officials say.

The workers, including several researchers with doctoral degrees, had been paid through a five-year, $6 million grant from the Department of Education. But the department announced Wednesday that the grant would expire Saturday and be transferred to Michigan State University.

The grant was the most recent in a series that powered the UT Research and Development Center for Teacher Education since 1965, when money for such research was made available under the Great Society legislation of President Lyndon Johnson.

Stacy Dam waters will flood a way of life

LEADAY (AP) — It's not a big town. It's just a tiny dot on a Texas map.

Large or small, it doesn't matter to the 50 or so people whose families have lived there all of their lives. For them Leaday is home.

But it may not be home for too long. Leaday is preparing for the inevitable day when water from the Stacy reservoir will cover most of the little town.

Though it could be years before the water rises high enough to flood the town, the final days seem closer as engineers complete their survey for the reservoir.

The Stacy reservoir, long in the planning, will have 200 miles of shoreline, according to Richard Knox, a surveyor from Howell Engineering of Odessa.

The engineering team headed by Knox has been on the outskirts of Leaday since May surveying the boundary lines of the dam site area for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, which will own the Stacy Dam.

"The purpose of the Stacy reservoir is to supply the growing municipal needs for additional water," said O.H. Ivie, general manager of the CRMWD. "Numerous cities in Central West Texas including Abilene and San Angelo will derive some of their water requirements from the Stacy reservoir," he said.

Approximately 19,000 acres in Coleman, Concho and Runtells counties will be covered by the lake, most of it in Coleman County.

The reservoir's shoreline will pass around many cities in these three counties, but the only community to be topped with lake water will be the township of Leaday, which occupies 20 to 30 acres. Even the town of Stacy, from which the dam takes its popular nickname, is spared the watery fate of Leaday.

"Looks like they could have named the dam after us," said Mary Alice Stephenson, one of the townspeople whose home will go under water. Mary Alice Stephenson, who lives close to the post office, knows that her house will be gone before too many years. "I'm 81-years old, and I haven't thought too much about it yet, but if I live long enough, I guess I will just move to Coleman when I have to," she said.

She spoke wistfully when she mentioned the little Baptist Church and its minister, the Rev. Jack Skelton. "He's been minister here for as long as I can remember," she said.

Frances DeLos Santos has a home that is on higher ground. Even though she won't have to move, she said all of her friends will be gone. But, Mrs. Santos is employed by Jane Padgett whose land encompasses a significant portion of the land that will go under water.

Among the places on higher ground that the water will miss is Leaday Cemetery. Two private cemeteries, the W.O. Gann and the Boot Hill, will go under water with the rest of the township. According to Ivie, the water district will work with survivors of those buried in the cemeteries to relocate the graves prior to the filling of the reservoir.

The homes and ranches that will eventually be covered by the waters from Stacy will be purchased by the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

According to Ross Jones of Coleman, vice chairman of the Central Colorado River Authority, the land will be appraised, including all of the improvements that have been made through the years. Following the appraisal, the CRMWD will negotiate with the individual land owners for the purchase of the land and improvements.

"It is my understanding that the land owners will be given the opportunity to remove any improvements such as houses and barns located on the property to be covered over," he said.

"Should they decide to leave their homes there, the CRMWD will make the decision as to what happens to the homes," Jones said.

"We know there are some structures in the Leaday area that have archaeological and/or historical significance and which may have to be relocated at the expense of the CRMWD," he said.

Mary Wilson, assistant postmaster in Leaday, will not be able to go to her job in a few years when the rising waters of Stacy Reservoir flood the small town.

under water. Actually, authorities note that the name of the reservoir has not yet been officially determined, nevertheless, the "Stacy" moniker is firmly planted in the minds of Central Texans.

Until it became apparent that Leaday was going under water, motorists passed through the small town with hardly a glance. But today it's different. People are stopping and looking.

For the people of the township, it's a time for remembering and planning ahead.

Leaday's hub of activity is the post office. It's old home week every morning and the atmosphere is one of camaraderie and the good, old-fashioned love-thy-neighbor custom.

Howard Stephenson is one of the townspeople who enjoys community life at the post office. Often at night men gather "To chew the fat" and to play dominoes. "We play to midnight and then set 'er down," he said.

A table at the back of the post office is set up for the nightly games. When it's time to go home, the table is carefully pushed back against the wall until the next time. The post office is on land that will be under water.

Stephenson, whose home is going under water, laughed about what the future holds for him. "I've been here all my life, and don't really own much. But the water's gonna take everything. I've been around here 59 years. When I have to leave, I'll just take my hat and walk off," he said.

There's no telling when the town will vanish under a bed of water. One man said it might take a year for the lake to fill up. But then again, it may be five years or 25 years. No one in town is sure.

Randolph Wilson and his wife, Mary, who is assistant postmaster for the community, don't live in the heart of Leaday, but on higher ground. "It won't get what I've got," he said. "My place is above the water line. All of Leaday won't die; those who want to stay will just move up the hill," he said.

The Wilsons live seven miles north of Leaday but attend the only church in the community, the Baptist church, which has stood in the town for more than 40 years. The church building, which serves a congregation of about 30, is on land that will be covered by the reservoir.

Ex-nun rips Catholic sexism

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Two women seeking ordination of women priests — one a former nun from Belgium and the other a Florida nurse — interrupted a Vatican news conference Saturday at which a top cardinal warned against attempts to introduce democracy into the Roman Catholic Church.

"The Second Vatican Council decreed that any discrimination based on race, social class or sex has to be uprooted as contrary to the will of God," said Marie-Terese Sonmoy halfway through the hour-long session attended by about 500 journalists.

Babi Burke, from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., told the churchmen that "the yoke of the church on the woman has to be lifted."

Cardinal Joseph Malula from Zaire and two bishops from Colombia and India listened calmly to the women's statements and told them the church cannot change "the historical reality of what God did."

The two women spoke after being recognized by Vatican spokesman Joaquin Navarro, who later said he thought the women were reporters.

The two-week extraordinary synod, which opened last Sunday, was convened by Pope John Paul II to assess the reforms of the Second Vatican Council (1962-65) which fashioned far-reaching reforms in Catholic liturgy, ecumenism, seminary education, religious life and church government.

The bishops, fielding a variety of questions, also rejected liberation theology, which sometimes uses Marxist analysis to support social and political activism in Third World countries.

"We can never use hate as a system for change ... If I see a church with a machine gun, then I can't see the crucified Christ in that church," said Bishop Hoyos Dario Castrillon of Colombia, secretary-general of the Latin American bishops conference.

Malula, cardinal of Kinshasa and a co-president of the synod, also warned against attempt to introduce to the church "the concepts and notions which we do find in civil society."

"It is important to remember that the church is a mystery of communion," he added. "You shouldn't introduce democracy as we know it and experience in civil society."

The prelate made the comment in response to a question why the synod has appointed, rather than elected, representatives who will draw up a final message of the bishops' assembly.

"Our bishops, our Holy Father whom we love, couldn't he give us the word ... we are all waiting for?" asked Ms. Sonmoy, who heads the Action and Research Institute for Women in Religion in Brussels.

Both the former nun and the nurse were not seeking ordination for themselves, but for women in general.

Another activist, Sylvia Chavez-Garcia from San Antonio, Texas, told The Associated Press that the women are demanding not only the ordination of women but also the elimination of "all sexist language" from the church. She said women also should be allowed to take part in decision-making groups such as a synod. No woman has ever been invited to a synod as a voting member.

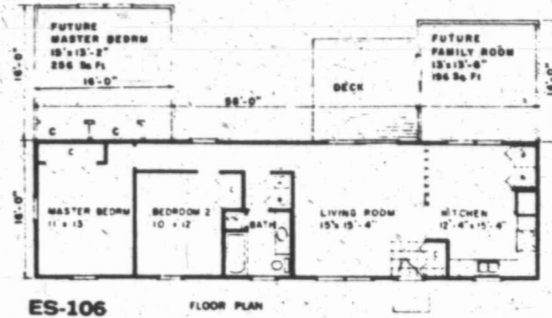

Ms. Sonmoy, in her late 50s, quit her order after nearly 30 years after John Paul introduced "harsh" disciplinary measures into the life of nuns including "an order that the nuns should wear habits all the time," said Ms. Chavez-Garcia, a psychotherapist.

Responding on behalf of the bishops, Archbishop Henry Sebastian D'Souza of India, secretary-general of the Asian and Pacific bishops conference, said the refusal to ordain women is "not a matter of discrimination."

Crossroads Country Football

Big Spring quarterback Carl Speck and Forsan linebacker Bruce Strickland head the list of the area's finest high school football players in the annual Big Spring Herald Crossroads Country Honor Roll released Saturday.

Speck, the Steer's senior quarterback, captured the Most Valuable Player award on offense after leading West Texas passers during the 1985 season. The 5-11, 170-pounder completed 102 passes for 1,496 yards and eight touchdowns.

Speck combined an exceptionally strong arm and tremendous ability to scramble and find the open man during the year. His leadership provided the Steers with the most exciting offense in District 4-5A. He also led 4-5A in individual total offense at 155.3 yards per game.

Strickland, the Buffaloes' dominating middle linebacker, garnered Most Valuable Player honors on defense. At 6-0, 205 pounds, Strickland struck fear in every opponent's backfield, collecting a team high 129 tackles. He led a Forsan defense that registered seven shutouts and gave up only 37 yards rushing per game.

Strickland also had a fine year at fullback, rushing for 951 regular season yards and providing many clearing blocks for All-Crossroads tailback Wayne Wright.

Strickland was also named All-Crossroads kicker. He booted four field goals and had 32 extra points.

Forsan head coach Jan East captured Coach of the Year honors for the second consecutive year. He led the Buffs to an undefeated, 10-0 regular season while capturing the 7-A district title. Forsan ended the season with an impressive 11-1 record, losing to second-ranked Goldthwaite, 16-0 in the Class A Area championship game.

In the past two years, East has led the Buffs from relative obscurity to a regular spot in the Class A state rankings. The Buffs were rated as high as No. 5 in the state near the end of the season.

The Crossroads Country Honor Roll is selected by Big Spring Herald staffers based on nominations from team coaches. Winners will receive certificates of accomplishment.

Rounding out the All-Crossroads backfield were four running backs that spanned the gamut of running style.

Colorado City senior Sammy Rivera made the team for the second year with his slashing runs for the Wolves. At 5-9, 160, Rivera used a combination of hard-nosed inside running and open field finesse to lead the Crossroads with 1,474 yards on 288 carries.

Junior Wayne Wright was Forsan's Mr. Touchdown. The 6-1, 185 pound tailback crashed into the end zone 19 times during the year and led the Buffs rushing attack with 1,221 yards. Using deceptive speed and bruising inside strength, Wright and Strickland combined for one of the most potent Class A backfields in the state.

A pair of all-purpose backs rounded out the first-team backfield.

Big Spring's Phillip Matthews, a 5-7, 140 pound junior tailback, gave 4-5A opponents fits all year with his flashy option sweeps and great receiving. He finished fifth in the district in tandem offense with 669 yards rushing and 210 yards receiving. Matthews also scored a team high 12 touchdowns on the year.

Grady's Arnold Valasco also had a fine year of all-purpose running, leading the Wildcats to the Six-Man playoffs for the second straight year. The 5-8, 145-pound junior was always near the ball on offense racking up 1,117 yards on the ground and catching 32 of quarterback Louis Gonzales' passes for 600 yards.

The All-Crossroads wide receivers also had some pretty impressive numbers considering they play in the land of three yards and a cloud of dust.

Forsan's Lee Morris led an effective receiving corps with 22 catches for 411 yards and four touchdowns. The versatile junior was also a dangerous return man with two punt returns for touchdowns.

Grady's Terry Deathrage returns to the All-Crossroads team, too. He was Gonzales' favorite target with 37 catches for an outstanding 20.5 yards per catch.

Big Spring senior David Shortes was the hands-down favorite at tight end. The 6-2, 195 pound senior was 4-5A's third leading receiver, snagging 31 passes for 459 yards and three touchdowns.

The Crossroads offensive line is chock full of veteran trenchmen who provided gaping holes for the runners and sack proofing for the quarterbacks.

Big Spring senior Paul Sotelo was a consistent performer at right guard for the Steers, teaming with fellow senior Tim Green in a formidable All-Crossroads right side. The 5-10, 210 pound Sotelo and 6-1, 205 pound Green often lined up against some of District 4-5A's biggest players and moved them out with textbook blocking.

Oklahoma upsets 6th-ranked Illini

(13) Oklahoma 59
(7) Illini 57
HONOLULU — Senior forward Anthony Bowie scored with one second left as 13th-ranked Oklahoma upset No. 7 Illinois, 59-57, Saturday to win the title of the Thanksgiving Classic invitational basketball tournament here.
In the consolation game, Marshall defeated host Hawaii Loa, 77-71.
The Illini led 57-53 with 2:40 left, but the Sooners got four points from Bowie and two from freshman Stacey King for the victory.
Oklahoma improved to 4-0 and Illinois fell to 2-1.
Bowie scored 11 points and tournament MVP Linwood Davis scored eight as the Sooners rallied STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Tailback Spencer Tillman scored a late second-quarter touchdown and Tim Lashar kicked two field goals as third-ranked Orange Bowl-bound Oklahoma beat No. 17 Oklahoma State 13-0 in a Big Eight Conference football game Saturday night.

The game was played in miserable conditions, with temperatures in the low 20s and the wind chill near zero. Intermittent rain and sleet left the field covered with a thin glaze of ice.
Tillman's 3-yard burst with 1:09 left before halftime capped a 33-yard drive that began after a short punt by Oklahoma State's Rich Thompson, who was kicking from his own end zone.
Oklahoma's other first-half score was a 27-yard field goal by Lashar with 12:13 left in the second period. Oklahoma had driven to the Oklahoma State 3-yard line, but had to settle for the field goal after fumbling on second down and then losing four yards on a third-down play.

The Sooners had another second-quarter drive stall at the Oklahoma State 7-yard line when Jamelle Holeyway's pass was intercepted by Cowboy defensive end Harry Roberts.
Lashar's second field goal, a 30-yarder with 5:44 left in the game, was his 11th in a row and a school-record 15th for the season, breaking Uwe von Schamann's old mark of 14.
Oklahoma State was hampered by poor field position throughout the game, starting four drives at or inside the 10-yard line.

in the first half to trail 28-27 at the intermission.
Oklahoma was led by Bowie's 19 points and Davis's career high 18 points. Ken Norman had 15 points for the Illini.
In the consolation game, sophomore guard Skip Henderson scored 27 points to lead Marshall over Hawaii Loa.
The NAIA Mongoose tied the game at 62-all before Henderson's three-point play put the Thundering Herd ahead for good, 65-62.
Hawaii Loa came within one twice, before falling to 2-4. Marshall improved to 1-2.
The Mongoose got 17 points from Derrick Dell, and 15 each from Robert Cundiff and Rex Santos.
For Marshall, Tom Curry added 17, and Rodney Holden had 15.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Harold Pressley burned Texas-San Antonio for 27 points Saturday to spark Villanova to a 67-56 victory in the consolation bracket of the eighth annual Great Alaska Shootout college basketball tournament.
Villanova will play Alaska-Anchorage for fourth place on Sunday. Texas-San Antonio will play Missouri for seventh. Earlier, UAA defeated Missouri 59-56.
No. 1-ranked North Carolina earned a berth in the title game by defeating Purdue 73-62. The Tar Heels will play the winner of the Nevada-Las Vegas-Arizona game.
Villanova snapped a two-game losing streak as the defending NCAA champions improved their record to 3-2, but it took a career-high scoring effort and 13 rebounds by Pressley to hold off the unheralded independents.

Although Texas-San Antonio scored the first basket of the game, Villanova led the rest of the first half behind the strong play of Pressley. The 6-7 senior from Mystic, Conn., had seven points and seven rebounds in the first 20 minutes.
The Wildcats couldn't shake Texas-San Antonio and their 30-27 halftime lead lasted only 1 1-2 minutes into the second half.
The lead changed hands seven times over the next 6 1-2 minutes before Villanova managed to pull away.
Bernard Brown kept the Roadrunners, 1-2, in the game with 10 points in the first half.

Lady 'Horns nip Ohio St.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Texas Coach Jody Conradt is glad her top-ranked women's college basketball team's season-opener, a 78-76 decision over No. 10 Ohio State, is out of the way. She says she wants the Lady Longhorns to have fun this season.

"It's been pressure that's been real, and it's been frustrating," said Conradt of the team's ranking. "I didn't think that our players went in to this game expecting to have fun and we've got to get back to that."

The Lady Longhorns had to survive Ohio State's second-half surge to seal the victory. The Lady Buckeyes outscored Texas 29-18 to open the final period.

Texas had built a 44-33 first-half lead, but Ohio State, 1-1, closed the gap and briefly took the lead late in the game. The lead changed hands five times over the final nine minutes before the Lady Longhorns' Andrea Lloyd scored the winning basket with 37 seconds left in the game.

Guard Liana Coutts missed a shot at the buzzer for Ohio State.

Fran Harris led the Lady Longhorns with 15 points while Lloyd added 14 points and grabbed

Auburn's Jackson wins Camp award

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Running back Bo Jackson, the first Auburn player to rush for more than 4,000 yards, will receive the 1985 Walter Camp Trophy as the country's outstanding college football player, officials say.

Jackson will receive the award at dinner Feb. 8 at Yale University, where the 96th Walter Camp All-America team will be honored. Camp captained the Yale football team in 1878 and is known as "the father of American football."

The 6-foot-1, 222-pound speedster has averaged nearly 7 yards per carry during his college career and more than 110 yards per game.

Despite missing six games his junior year because of a shoulder separation, Jackson became only the 21st player in college football history to gain more than 4,000 yards and only the third in the Southeastern Conference.

A 290-yard game against Southwestern Louisiana was the most prolific game for Jackson, a native of Bessemer, Ala.

Jackson is extremely gifted in three sports, football, baseball and track. He has twice qualified for the NCAA Indoor Championships in the 60-yard dash with a best recorded time of 6.18 seconds.

Major league baseball scouts say he has raw speed and power, and professional football scouts expect he will be among the top several draft choices in both leagues. However, he has not made a decision as to which sport he will choose to play.

Jackson was chosen for the prestigious award in balloting by college coaches and sports information directors. Former Boston College quarterback Doug Flutie was the recipient last year.

Palmer putter 'Skins' pros

MURRITA, Calif. (AP) - Arnold Palmer, calling on the half-remembered magic of an earlier golfing era, dominated his younger challengers and won $45,000 Saturday in the first nine holes of the 1985 Skins Game.

Palmer, now 56 and a living legend in the game he once ruled as the man known as "The King," birdied four of the last six holes on the Jack Nicklaus-owned and designed Bear Creek Club after a nerve-straining start.

Two of those birdies were for carry-overs, setting up a $100,000 value for the 10th hole, the first that will be played Sunday.

Tom Watson won $30,000 with birdies on the second and fifth holes.

Nicklaus collected $15,000, a gift from Palmer on the first. Nicklaus won the skin with a par-4, and said a polite "thank you," after Palmer missed a 15-foot birdie putt, then missed a one-foot tap-in for par that would have created a carry-over.

"I got a little bit careless," Palmer said. "It jumped a little. I should have marked it."

But he didn't. And Palmer, his famous face creased by lines of strain, had trouble shaking the memory of the little one that got away.

He missed from about 18 feet on the second. He missed from about 12 feet on the third.

"I made a little change in my stance after the third," Palmer said.

And the putts began to rattle into the cup with the same authority and frequency of his glory years a quarter-century ago.

He rapped in an eight-footer for birdie on the fourth hole, worth $30,000.

"That took some of the pressure off. It got my nerves settled down a little," said Palmer, who was shut out in the Skins Game a year ago.

He holed from about 12 feet on the sixth for a birdie and a skin, worth $15,000.

That was the last of the $15,000 holes. The next six carried a value of $25,000. And the seventh through the ninth were tied. Under the two-all-tie format, the money was carried over — setting up a $100,000 value on the first hole that will be played Sunday.

Fuzzy Zoeller, making his first appearance in the Skins Game and shut out over the first nine holes, and Palmer matched par 4s on the seventh.

On the eighth, a par-3, all four hit the green. Nicklaus missed from 20 feet. Watson birdied from 15 feet. And Palmer rolled in a 12-footer on top of it. Zoeller, who had an eight-foot putt, picked it up and gave Arnold a hug.

"I was very impressed with Arnold's putt on the eighth," Watson said, then grinned. "I didn't like that one damn bit."

Both Palmer and Nicklaus reached the green on the par-5 ninth in two, Nicklaus needing only a 4-iron on his second shot.

Palmer two-putted for birdie from a vast distance, perhaps 30 yards. Nicklaus also two-putted from long range, making a four-footer for the birdie that forced the carryover and took $75,000 out of Palmer's pocket.

One year later, questions outnumber answers

BY VICTORIA GRAHAM
Associated Press Writer

BHOPAL, India — A year later, Bhopal has become a synonym for industrial disaster, apocalyptic in its sweep and horror, striking thousands in their sleep, blighting leaves on the trees, animals in the field, children in the womb.

Thousands have been left respiratory cripples without hope of a normal life by the cloud of toxic fumes that spewed from tank No. 610 at the Union Carbide plant here Dec. 3, 1984.

A question mark hangs over infants and children who inhaled the lung-searing fumes.

The extent of it will not be known for years or generations.

Even the death toll remains inconclusive.

The Indian government says it has verified 1,754 fatalities. But it does not dispute the estimates of doctors and press accounts that 2,000 to 2,500 people died. One reason for the inconclusiveness is that the toxic fumes struck the poor in an apron of slums around the plant and sometimes three or more bodies were buried in a single grave or cremated.

More than 300,000 were affected in varying ways.

Doctors and officials are saying the prognosis now is fair and that the immediate medical situation and relief efforts are improving. No gas-related deaths are being reported and many victims have recovered and that the fear of deformed and dying "gas babies" was unfounded, they say.

"The medical picture is definitely better and improving," said Dr. N.R. Bhandari, superintendent of main Hamidia Hospital and coordinator of numerous surveys. He is among those who believe as many as 2,500 people died and he said 4,000 to 5,000 patients suffered massive, permanent lung damage, while 5,000 to 10,000 have less severe respiratory problems.

"But this was like Hiroshima, nothing like it ever happened," he said in an interview. "So we hope for the best and cross our fingers, but we cannot predict what will come next or the impact on growing children and the next generation."

Many slum dwellers and activists dispute those assessments and protesters allege that Union Carbide Corp., which has headquarters in Danbury, Conn., and the Indian government are covering up the full catastrophe while they devise an out-of-court settlement.

About 2,000 people line up daily at Hamidia Hospital alone for treatment and doctors' certificates. They want money, food, medicine, jobs and an eventual settlement from Union Carbide.

Many claim shortness of breath, eye irritations, impaired vision, exhaustion, stomach disorders, aches and pains. They say they suffer psychological symptoms of anxiety, panic, hopelessness, helplessness and a constant fear of death.

The lines now are longer and desperate because the government requires new documents for everyone seeking a cash settlement. Precious yellow "gas victim" cards are their only tickets to the money. Many are able-bodied pretenders and nonresidents, but all of them are poor and needy.

Radha Bai, 55, shows photographs of her husband's funeral in Bhopal, India. Bai claims her husband, weakened by the devastating gas leak of a Union Carbide plant, had fallen into a well near their house. She receives no compensation from the government which claims her husband did not die as a result of the gas leak.

No compensation has been paid yet by Union Carbide. India rejected an initial reported offer of a $230 million out-of-court settlement, and the company was reported to have made at least one other offer. Carbide has never confirmed the Indian reports. The total settlement offer reportedly ranged from $200 million to $300 million depending whether it is figured in 1985 dollars or spread over some 30 years.

But the corporation agreed, under an arrangement approved Nov. 26 by a Federal District Court in New York City, to distribute $5 million to the victims. The corporation will give the money to the American Red Cross which will turn it over to the Indian Red Cross for distribution.

Today Union Carbide's gates are locked, protesters have erected effigies of executives and scrawled "Killer Carbide" on the walls.

Many slum dwellers at the plant's doorstep claim they never knew the factory manufactured poison; they say they thought it was medicine being made. They claim no one told them that a wet towel placed over the face could prevent many MIC deaths and injuries.

Just across Chola Road, the people of the Jaiprakash Nagar slum move listlessly, the dreary rhythms of poverty broken by coughs they claim have become chronic because of gas inhalation. Social workers call on them, and the slum dwellers make routine but often futile trips to see doctors.

Kasturi Bai slumps in a shed where she sells betel nuts and cigarettes. She drops medicine into her eyes and mourns seven people: Her husband, two sons, four grandchildren. All of them were choked by gas as they slept in their squalid mud and wattle hut, No. 361. They collapsed as they ran from the onrushing clouds.

The government paid 10,000 rupees ($833) for each fatality and slowly is paying 1,500 rupees ($250) to at least 31,000 of the very poorest families. The relief bill is 450 million rupees ($37.5 million), mostly for food.

The scenes from last December still are vivid.

Bodies were stacked like cordwood for mass cremation. Bloating livestock carcasses were removed with cranes. Foliage turned yellow and shriveled. For several days the skies churned with smoke from funeral pyres and more than 100,000 people fled, stampeding out of Bhopal.

Today the air is clear in this fertile, terraced city of mosques and lakes. Pumpkin vines again blossom in slums and residents have bought new green parrots to replace their dead pets.

But thousands of people cannot breathe deeply. Manual laborers can barely weave baskets. Children wake up screaming from their nightmares. Women still mourn their abortions and miscarriages after the gas leak although doctors attribute most cases to stress.

A Union Carbide vice president, Jackson Browning, stated in October that the company has virtually ruled out anything but a "deliberate act" as the cause of the runaway chemical reaction.

The chemistry of the killer gas is debated. Union Carbide says it was entirely MIC, but Indian scientists say there is also evidence of even more deadly hydrogen cyanide. MIC breaks down into cyanide and other compounds at high temperature.

"It is generally accepted that what escaped was a mixture of MIC, hydrogen cyanide and other gasses," said L.K. Joshi, the official state government spokesman. "It now is accepted, but not yet announced, that cyanide caused the deaths."

While survivors clamor for aid, the government cannot give away about $30,000 in compensation for 350 of the unidentified dead, known only by numbered cards at their necks.

Their faces appear in picture posters and advertisements seeking their next of kin. No. 612 is just a few months old. No. 537 is a woman in her 20s. No. 448, a young man with a bandage on his forehead.

No one claims them. Their families may have fled or died. Some of them may have been drifters, beggars,urchins and no one knew their names.

The homes of five Big Spring families will be decked out in holiday finery for the annual Big Spring Symphony Tour of Homes Sunday, Dec. 8.

The tour begins at 1:30 p.m. and concludes at 5 p.m. Tickets are $7.50 each and can be purchased at the doors of any of the homes on the tour, from any Symphony Guild member, or from the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce.

Homes on the tour this year include: Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas, 400 Washington; Mayor and Mrs. Clyde Angel, 706 Hillside; Paul and Linda Lindell, a geodesic home located directly off Birdwell Lane between Allendale and 25th; Shirley Burgess, 2904 Hunter's Glen; and Jim and Rebecca Powell, 710 E. 22nd.

The tour will conclude with a champagne reception at the Heritage Museum from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., according to Lisa Nichols, one of the tour organizers. Music at the reception will be provided by the Big Spring Music Study Club Ensemble.

Linda Ainsworth, president of the Symphony Guild, said the tour was originated three years ago because, "We wanted to do something different" as a fundraiser for the symphony.

Guild members wanted something that would revolve around a holiday theme. The annual Christmas tour of homes has been a "success," Ainsworth said. "It's been a good fundraiser and we've had a lot of fun doing it. We've gotten a good response."

The guild is also considering adding a garden tour of homes during the spring, but plans for that have not been finalized, Ainsworth said.

The owners of the homes on the tour have been busy preparing their homes for visitors. Jane Thomas said poinsettias and candles will be the focal point of decorations in her home. She will also be "doing things we've done every Christmas." Some of the decorations used in the home have been in the family for several decades, Thomas said.

"We're going to decorate the way we've done it every year for 45 years," she said.

Annie Matt Angel will feature the colors of green, gold and blue throughout her home during the Christmas season. Her home, which features a traditional decor, will be decorated to match the decor, she said.

The chandelier in the dining room will feature "blue and gold silk ribbons and garlands of flowers and fruits," she said.

A special attraction at the Angel home will be "lots of angels. We use lots of angels because our name is Angel," she said with a smile.

The outside of the home will feature arrangements of pine cones and holly and other Christmas greenery, Angel said.

Linda Lindell said an old-fashioned theme will be carried out throughout her home. The geodesic home, set on a large lot off Birdwell Lane, has a lot of "West Texas" accents and those accents will be shown off during the holidays.

One of the main appeals of the Lindell home is its unique design. The geodesic home "was built to be energy efficient," Lindell said. It was also built "to withstand storms and high winds," she said.

Lindell will not follow one color theme throughout the home, but will feature "some of the children's favorite decorations." The family is planning to set up a chopped cedar tree to carry out the West Texas theme.

Visitors to the Lindell home may park on Birdwell Lane or enter a driveway to the south of the home and walk across the lot to the home.

Shirley Burgess will use "baby's breath, white poinsettias and pine cones" in decorations throughout her home. Her tree is decorated with eucalyptus and cinnamon sticks as well as small pine cones.

The home is filled with the colors of emerald green and yellow with brass appointments. "Brass is my favorite thing," she said.

Another one of her favorite things is the pine cone. "When we visit relatives in East Texas and the Houston area, we gather up pine cones the way one would gather up Easter eggs," Burgess said. "I love them. I think they're very pretty and they seem special."

Another unique home on the tour is that of Rebecca and Jim Powell at 710 E. 22nd. The home is located off FM 700 on a hill overlooking Citizens' Federal Credit Union.

Rebecca Powell said the home is a "berm house," or earth house. The home is built into the earth and soil extends to the roof line along three sides of the home.

"There is no earth over the south side," a side filled with numerous windows, she said. The special design "cuts energy bills in half," she explained.

The home was designed by Daryl Hohertz. The Powells bought the home before it was completed and worked on the landscaping themselves.

The home includes a room made from what was once an old watertank, Powell said. Hohertz designed the home to include the old watertank at the site and the room inside the tank is round.

Although she will follow no definite theme in her decorating, Powell said she will follow her color theme of emerald green, pink and brass. Gold snowflakes will decorate the sun room and the home will be filled with green garlands and pink bows.

Money raised from Sunday's Tour of Homes will go to benefit upcoming performances of the Big Spring Symphony. Participants of Sunday's tour may begin at any home on the program, according to organizers.

Shirley Burgess, right, and her daughter, Amy, decorate a Christmas tree in their home at 2904 Hunter's Glen. The tree is adorned with pine cones.

Jane Thomas of 400 Washington lights a number of Christmas candles in her living room. Candles will be a focal point of decorations at the Thomas home this holiday season.

Annie Matt Angel checks the holiday garland around her mantel in preparation for next Sunday's holiday tour of homes. The Angel home is at 706 Hillside.

Another unique home on the tour will be that of Paul and Linda Lindell. The geodesic home is located off Birdwell Lane.

Poinsettias adorn the table of Jim and Rebecca Powell of 710 E. 22nd. The Powells home, a "berm home," features a unique design.

Parker-Jones

ACKERLY — Stacy Dee Parker and Jimmie Steve Jones exchanged wedding vows Friday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Ackerly with the Rev. Gary Bandy, associate pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, Big Spring, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Parker of Ackerly. The bridegroom is the son of Wanda Jones of Big Spring and Glen Jones of Houston.

The couple stood before a brass tree candelabra flanked by two large baskets of fresh flowers. The setting was decorated with hurricane lamps, and an archway decorated the center aisle.

Patricia Hall was organist. Lana Piercefield was pianist. Steve Moses and Patti Adams were vocalists.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin gown trimmed with hand embroidered chiffon. A chapel-length train accented with layers of ruffles and trimmed with embroidered chiffon. The dress was made by the bride's mother. Maid of honor was D'Ann Hall of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Shelley Parker, sister-in-law of the bride, Big Spring, Lisa Bowen and Vicky Anwar, both of Midland.

Kimberly Long and Tracy Long, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls.

Best man was Kevin Rhoten. Groomsmen were Frank Long, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Jay Wolfe, and Blain Lewis, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Stan Parker, Big Spring, and Shon Parker, Ackerly, both brothers of the bride.

A reception honoring the couple was held following the ceremony. A three-tiered red velvet cake decorated with fresh flowers was served. A chocolate cake was served from the bridegroom's table.

The bride is a graduate of Sands High School in Ackerly and South Plains College in Levelland. She is employed by Henry Engineering in Midland.

MRS. JIMMIE STEVE JONES
...formerly Stacy Dee Parker

The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School. He works for Cap Rock Electric Coop.

Following a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will reside in Midland.

Tidbits

Historic car

By CAROL BALDWIN Lifestyle Editor

A historic old car made the recent motorcade kicking off the Howard College 40th anniversary celebration very special.

MRS. C.B. LAWRENCE called the newsroom to say that the car, a Ford which had belonged to her son, the late Wendell Lawrence, was really a 1936 model, not a 1938 model as reported in the story about the ceremony.

What made the car special was the fact that the Lawrence family kept the car for almost 40 years. Lawrence's son died shortly after graduating from Howard College, and he asked that the car be kept in the family.

It was in mint condition during the kickoff ceremony, thanks to years of care by the Lawrence family and to some touch-ups done by Howard College students.

DR. BOB RILEY, who drove the automobile to and from the ceremony, said, "It drives like a million."

LEA WHITEHEAD, director of development at the college, said that Murphy's Law caught up with the college as everyone prepared for the motorcade. As Riley prepared to start up the car, it was found that the battery was dead. A quick exchange was made and the ceremony continued as planned.

Another special bit of news coming out of the ceremony was the fact that DR. P.W. MALONE is the longest-serving college trustee in the United States. Whitehead said local researchers have found another trustee who has served a college for 35 years, but Malone's 40 year record is the longest one that local research can uncover.

The 40th anniversary celebration will continue throughout the next year.

JIM WEAVER recently returned from his 10th reunion at Austin College in Sherman. Weaver was among 77 students who attended homecoming festivities for the class of 1975.

Dear Abby

Wife fears trouble

DEAR ABBY: I just got married for the fourth time. It was my husband's fourth marriage, too. He is 65 and I am 55. He is a well-paid troubleshooter. When his boss calls him, he goes on an assignment — usually out of town for a few days.

He told me all about his previous marriages. He married No. 1 at age 22. Five years into that marriage, he fell for another woman and divorced No. 1 for No. 2. That marriage ended seven years later when he fell in love with another woman, who became No. 3. That lasted until he met me. He cheated on No. 3 (with me) until he divorced her.

Now that we are married, I am very nervous. I can't trust him. When his boss calls him to go out of town, I wonder if he is really working or seeing another woman. He used to pull this on his third wife so we could be together. When he calls me from out of town to tell me he "loves" me, I remember him doing that to his third wife when he was holding me in his arms.

I want this marriage to last. How can I be sure he isn't cheating on me? I am desperate.

INSECURE

DEAR INSECURE: You can't. This is the price you are paying for the moments you stole from wife No. 3. The penalty for being a cheater is being unable to trust anyone else. You have my sympathy.

***

DEAR ABBY: I am an attractive 45-year-old secretary — unmarried.

How should I respond to people who ask, "How is your love life?"

If it were good, I surely wouldn't say so. If it were bad — or non-existent — I wouldn't care to have that known either.

I am basically a very honest person and find it hard to lie. Please help me.

LOUISIANA LIBRA

DEAR LIBRA: How about, "It's none of your business." That's the truth.

Dr. Donohue

Herpes troubles wrestling

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: There was an outbreak of skin problems in my son's wrestling team. The doctor they consulted confirmed it was herpes, not the genital, but the other kind. I hadn't heard of this and wondered if you had run across the problem in any of your sports medicine mail. — V.H.

This problem is being recognized by wrestling coaches and trainers across the country. The situation is arising with growth of the popularity of competitive scholastic wrestling.

As you suggest, the virus involved is herpes type 1, the kind we associate with simple cold sores. But we know this virus is somewhat opportunistic and will attack anywhere it gets a chance. If a wrestler has active cold sores and the sores come into contact with another wrestler who has a scrape or, say, a mat burn on his body, the virus can be transferred to that point and cause an eruption.

The wrestling connection has become so widespread that there is a name to describe the condition — herpes gladiatorum. It's also noted that the practice of permitting facial stubble to develop (to avoid facial cuts) provides another prime source of abrasion of the opponent's skin. The virus may be transferred from even that degree of abrasion.

Authorities now advise team members with cold sores to refrain from competition until they have healed.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I just heard on a talk show that there is danger if you don't continue to move around for about four minutes after exercising, "cooling down" it's called. Immediately after I exercise I lay on my back and prop my feet up above my head. Is this sufficient? — B.M.

When you stop an exercise and just stand still you can get some peculiar and dangerous heartbeats, resulting in decreased blood flow to the heart muscle. So it is best to decrease the exercise intensity gradually. After that, you can lie on your back and prop up your feet. There is also a drop in blood pressure in the person who stops an exercise abruptly without the cooling down procedure. That also decreases blood flow to the heart muscle. You've got half the idea. Now you have to put the other half into practice.

Engagements

JANUARY RITE — Priscilla Mann and Kevin Lewis announce their engagement and approaching marriage. She is the daughter of Cecilia Mann, 1425 E. 6th, and W.A. Mann, 800 W. 18th. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lewis, 1508 Dayton Road. The couple will wed Jan. 5, 1986, at the home of the prospective bridegroom. Estes Lewis, uncle of the prospective bridegroom and retired United States Air Force chaplain, will officiate.

COUPLE TO WED — Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Foster, Crosbyton, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Trina Leigh of Big Spring, to Homer Clifton Tomerlin III of Big Spring. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Tomerlin Jr. of Big Spring. The couple will wed Dec. 13 in Crosbyton at the home of the bride's parents. Les Griffin, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Crosbyton, will officiate.

Lifestyle policies

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement, wedding, silver or golden anniversary in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this. The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form must include a name and telephone number of a person whom we can reach during the day for more information. We will use a picture of the couple in the announcement. Or in the case of engagement announcements where a picture of the couple is not available, we will use one of the bride-elect. The picture must be a professional quality studio photograph. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print. We ask for this kind of photograph so that it will reproduce well in the newspaper. Following the picture's publication, it may be picked up at the Lifestyle department. The information for the story may be brought to the Lifestyle department of the Herald, which is located at 710 Scurry. Or it may be mailed to Lifestyle Department, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Call us at (915) 263-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

WEDDINGS If a wedding writup is submitted to the Herald after the wedding has occurred, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

BIRTHS Local hospitals supply information for Storckclub. If a child is born elsewhere in the newspaper's circulation area, or is born to out-of-town parents with local or area grandparents, please contact the Herald Lifestyle Department with Storckclub information.

Anniversaries

The Tom Greggs

Tom M. and Lurline E. Gregg, 1204 E. 15th, will celebrate their 50th anniversary with a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. Dec. 7 in the social hall of North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church.

Members of the church are hosting the event. The couple's family and friends are invited to the reception.

Gregg was born in Purvis. The former Lurline E. Cathey was born in Putnam.

The couple met in Lenorah while in grade school. They were married Dec. 7, 1935 by the Rev. Rhea at the Stanton Methodist parsonage.

They have one son, Thomas E. Gregg of LaFollette, Tenn., a daughter, and a son-in-law Mike Williamson of Amarillo. Their daughter, Dorothy Williamson is deceased.

The couple also has three grandchildren.

During their marriage, the Greggs have lived in Lenorah, Ackerly and Big Spring.

Gregg is retired. He worked for Planters Gin Co. in Ackerly for 40 years.

The couple is affiliated with North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church. Their hobbies include church work, crocheting, home and family.

"We have had a wonderful marriage," said the couple about their 50 years of marriage.

The Joy Wilkersons

Mr. and Mrs. Joy Wilkerson of Garden City celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a family gathering Nov. 23 at their home.

Wilkerson was born in Garden City. The former Mary Joyce Sparkman was born in Sterling City.

The couple met at a party in Garden City and were married

Nov. 23, 1935 by Dr. W. B. Everett, a physician and Baptist minister who also delivered Wilkerson. The couple was wed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Davis in Sterling City.

The couple's children are Mrs. Wayne (Sandra) Berryman of Stanton, Ky., and Juda McChary of Lubbock. They also have five grandchildren.

The couple has lived in Garden City throughout their marriage.

Wilkerson is a retired rancher and propane dealer. The couple is Methodist.

Their hobbies include hunting, fishing, oil painting and collecting antiques.

Hoover-Callison

Janet Leigh Hoover became Mrs. Dirk Fred Callison on Thanksgiving Day at the First Christian Church. The Rev. Robert Lane Hoover, pastor of Arlington Heights Christian Church in Fort Worth and brother of the bride, officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hoover, Big Spring. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H.G. Callison, Big Spring.

The couple stood before an altar featuring two arrangements of spider mums, antherium, gladiola, tiger lily and curly willow. Each arrangement had three white tapers. White candles were in brass candlesticks.

Julie Shirey was pianist with Wesley Phillips of Odessa as vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight, satin chantilly lace dress with a dropped waist fitted into a Petit in front. The Sabrina neckline plunged into a deep V in back. The front of the bodice and sleeves were heavily encrusted with Alencon lace and beaded with bugle and seed pearls. The same lace and pearls formed a Petit point at the wrist. The skirt flowed into a cathedral-length train. The Juliet cap with veil of candlelight illusion with scattered lace appliques was dotted with seed pearls.

She carried a cascade of white roses and English ivy.

Shirley Hoover of Lewisville, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Linda Hoover of Fort Worth, sister-in-law of the bride, Kerre Randel of Arlington, cousin of the bride and Sonna Overfield of Odessa. Junior bridesmaid was Kristy Hoover of Lewisville, niece of the bride.

Emily Hoover of Fort Worth, niece of the bride, was flower girl with Michael Overfield of Odessa as ring bearer.

Bryan Neff of College Station was best man. Groomsmen were Blain Callison of Big Spring and Randy Callison of Mesquite, both brothers of the bridegroom, and Gene Callison of Big Spring, father of the bridegroom. Bryan Bond of Carrollton, cousin of the bride, was junior groomsman.

NOW SO THIS!
CLOSE TO A BARGAIN
Are you interested in bifocal or astigmatic contact lenses? If so, read on! I have always maintained there are no bargains in eye care, but for you astigmatic and bifocal people something close to a bargain has become available for a limited time. Competition between contact lens manufacturing companies has prompted two of the top companies to offer a "guaranteed success" on bifocal and astigmatic soft contact lenses. What does that mean, you say. Well, it means that if you cannot successfully wear the lenses during a ninety day trial period the lenses can be returned to the company for full credit. These are excellent lenses from top-of-the-line companies, and if you have always wanted to try bifocal or astigmatic lenses this could be your best opportunity to do so. If you would like to discuss further details please let me know.
