GANDER, Newfoundland (AP) — A DC-8 charter carrying U.S. servicemen from the Middle East in time for Christmas crashed in flames today on takeoff at Gander International Airport, killing all 258 people aboard, officials and witnesses said.

Maj. Kenneth Miller of Canadian Search and Rescue reported in a telephone interview with The Associated Press from Halifax, Nova Scotia, that 250 passengers and eight crewmembers were killed in the crash.

"All we know is that there were no survivors," Miller told the Canadian Press. He said his information came from the Gander control center.

The plane was carrying members of the 101st Airborne Division assigned to the Sinai peacekeeping force since July back to Fort Campbell, Ky., where the unit is headquartered, the Pentagon said.

They were some of 750 to 800 soldiers in the force and were returning home on a rotational basis, according to Maj. Larry Icenogle, a Pentagon spokesman. He said a first group of 250 soldiers arrived at Fort Campbell on Dec. 5. The plane that crashed was carrying the second group.

CBC radio said its radio correspondent at the scene, Ed Pike, quoted witnesses as saying the plane exploded, lighting up the sky.

"We were driving to work ... when we saw this big explosion — kind of like a big explosion right at the top of the trees ... and it died down very quickly. In a matter of seconds, it was gone," said Ann Hurley, a nearby resident.

Canadian Transport Minister Don Mazankowski said the plane got no higher than 1,000 feet into the air before crashing and confirmed reports from the scene that there were no survivors.

A Pentagon source, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said he knew of no explosion. "We have no reason to suspect sabotage. We know only that this plane crashed and burned. The matter is being in-

Balanced budget signed into law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan today signed landmark legislation setting the national debt limit at more than $2 trillion while mandating an end to federal budget deficits by fiscal 1991, but said "the tough work of controlling federal spending still lies ahead."

In a statement accompanying the signing, Reagan said, "The American people expect their elected officials to take action now to reduce the size of government and to set upon a reasonable and equitable course to eliminate federal budget deficits."

Early next year, he said, "I anticipate that we will have to take some significant across-the-board reductions in a wide range of programs."

At the same time, the president said, "We must also never lose sight of the necessity to maintain a strong national defense." Some members of Congress have said the budget-balancing bill will require the president to accept cuts in military spending as well as in the domestic spending that he says has grown beyond bounds.

"Deficits have threatened our economic well-being for too long," Reagan said. "But the tough work of controlling federal spending still lies ahead. It is important that we now cooperate in good faith toward building a solid fiscal foundation for economic growth."

Reagan said he signed the bill

despite "serious constitutional questions" raised by the role it gives to the director of the congressional budget office and the comptroller general in calculating the budget estimates that trigger the spending-cut provisions of the bill. The questions arise because they are agents of the legislative branch of government, rather than the executive branch, which submits budgets to Congress.

In the House, meanwhile, legislators considered whether to revive Reagan's battered plan to overhaul the federal tax laws after it suffered a stinging 223-202 setback on Wednesday.

As for the other major bills on the agenda, negotiators for the House and Senate met privately for several hours on Wednesday in hopes of working out a farm bill that would satisfy both lawmakers and administration officials worried about the cost. More meetings were planned today.

The negotiators said they had reached tentative agreement on the key issue of crop subsidies for farmers, but postponed a formal vote overnight. But if ratified, the tentative accord would presumably pave the way for overall agreement on the massive farm measure.

House and Senate officials also reported progress on the critical issue of a stopgap spending bill to finance most government pro-

Man says partner killed woman, 80

Jorge Loy Chavana blames the beating death of 80-year-old Maurine Terrell on his partner in the murder last March.

In a written statement to police, read today to jurors as the punishment phase of Chavana's trial began, Chavana said that Joe Angel Martinez struck the blows March 5 that resulted in her death three days later at Lubbock General Hospital.

Chavana, 22, of 817 West 8th St., pleaded guilty to murder on Nov. 19 in district court. A seven-woman, five-man jury in 118th District Court will decide Chavana's punishment, which could range from 5 years to life imprisonment. Probation is an alternative to confinement.

Martinez of 808 Magnolia also has pleaded guilty. A jury will decide his punishment on Jan. 6. Chavana and Martinez were arrested by Big Spring police in March. The pair gave police statements at that time saying they had acted together in the beating death of Terrell of 1400 S. Scurry, who died from head injuries suffered in the attack.

District Attorney Rick Hamby read to the seven-woman, five-man jury Chavana's statement today. In chronological order, this is how Chavana says the crime occurred:

He and Martinez had been drinking beer and were returning from Church's Fried Chicken when Martinez asked Chavana — who had done house work for Terrell — if she had any money.

Chavana told Martinez that Terrell "always paid by check."

Chavana said they entered Terrell's house through a screen window and Chavana took money from her wallet.

The attack, Chavana said, occurred when he and Martinez left the house and returned. He said Martinez knocked on Terrell's front door and identified himself as Jessie the Java monkey gets another canine nipped off by Big Spring dentist David Rickey. The dentist performed a root canal on the animal, then filled its teeth with silver.

Canine nippers pruned from primate

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

Lying there in a brown vinyl dentist chair stripped of his senses by a doctor's hypo, his mouth propped open by a block of rubber, little eight-pound Jessie was about to have four teeth honed, hollowed and filled. With one hand folded over his soft, little belly and the other limp at his side, his vacant eyes rolled and twitched as the dentist's drill whirred and whined above him.

Life can be rough sometimes for a 2-year-old Java monkey with a penchant for biting and tearing the clothes of its owner.

Jessie's owner, Tina Narnett of 1800 Duquoin St., said Jessie is a tad rambunctious now and then and sinks his fang-like canines into her shoulder, tearing her blouses and sweaters.

As of Wednesday afternoon, those long, sharp canines are history.

Dr. David Rickey, a Big Spring dentist, shaved down the teeth to the size of the others in Jessie's mouth and then performed a root canal to deaden any pain the monkey would feel from exposed nerves in the tooth. And what's different about doing a root canal on a tree-swinging primate?

"The shape of the nerve chamber," Rickey said. "It's probably going to be a little different. But we're going to approach it the same way we would a human."

Rickey said this was his first venture into the jaws of a non-human. The doctor was enlisted to work on Jessie by the monkey's veterinarian, Dr. Scott Burt.

"He takes care of my cats," Rickey said. Burt was there to administer Jessie's anesthesia. He assured everyone that Jessie was oblivious to pain. By the looks of the unresisting little beast he was quite right.

Jessie, Narnett said, likes to watch television and play with the neighbor kids. The monkey

Blast of winter brings snow to city

Staff and wire reports Snow began to fall in Big Spring this morning, the result of a strong winter storm that moved out of the southern Rockies and into Texas early today, dumping freezing rain and snow over a wide area of the state.

Highways in the Big Spring area were slick with spots of ice, said Steve Bowen, spokesman for the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation in Abilene. Structures are being treated with sand and salt, he said.

City streets also were being sanded this morning. Individual streets were sanded upon police request, a city spokesman said. Police Lt. Troy Hogue said almost all the main travel roads and bridges were sanded.

A winter storm watch and a traveler's advisory in effect for the Permian Basin area through tonight, and curbing travel except for emergencies is advised. The forecast today calls for a 60 percent chance of snow with accumulations of 2 to 4 inches possible. Snow had begun to fall in parts of the city by noon.

More snow is forecast for tonight, with less than an inch accumulation. The low should be near 18.

Two people were injured in weather-related accidents today, but neither seriously.

Police Lt. Jerry Edwards said this morning that weather-related accidents have not been a problem. "We've had four or five, not that many more than yesterday. Roads are a little slicker, but people are probably paying more attention," he said.

Joseph W. Petrucci of Allen and a passenger listed only as Constance M. suffered minor injuries at 6:30 a.m. in a one-car rollover, said Neil Aughter, spokesman for the Department of Public Safety. Petrucci was driving east on I-20 when he struck an ice patch and lost control of the car, she said.

Midland Regional Airport is open and expected to remain open, a spokesman said, but some flights may be canceled if the destination airport is closed. "Dallas is having some real problems," she said.

More than 60,000 Fort Worth public school students were free of classes after schools were closed about 6 a.m. due to treacherous streets. Classes at the University of Texas at Arlington also were canceled, although other colleges and public schools in North Texas remained open.

Freezing rain, drizzle and some snow flurries — a repeat of Wednesday's nasty weather — were forecast across the state.

United Way closes in on goal

Santa's substitute Rowdy Yates listens to the Christmas wishes of Angel Jones while husband Pete Jones watches Wednesday at the Chamber of Commerce community luncheon.

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

The United Way yearly campaign lacks only $2,500 to meet its goal of $210,000, said Sherrie Bordofsky, United Way executive director, speaking at the Chamber of Commerce community luncheon Wednesday.

The agency was short about $30,000 last week when volunteers conducted a marathon phone campaign to collect more funds, she said. Doctors alone contributed $2,500, almost every one of them doubling their pledge or becoming Pace Setters, donors of more than $500, she said. Pace Setters have contributed $89,000 this year, she said.

Bordofsky said she would like to close the campaign Dec. 15, but "we'll accept money any time."

She is confident of meeting the $210,000 goal, she said, although campaigns have fallen short of goals for the past two years. The two years before that, however, saw United Way campaign goals surpassed by "quite a margin," she said.

Bordofsky said she wants to begin budgeting after Dec. 15. If the campaign falls short of the goal "we will have to cut percentage-wise straight across the board," she said.

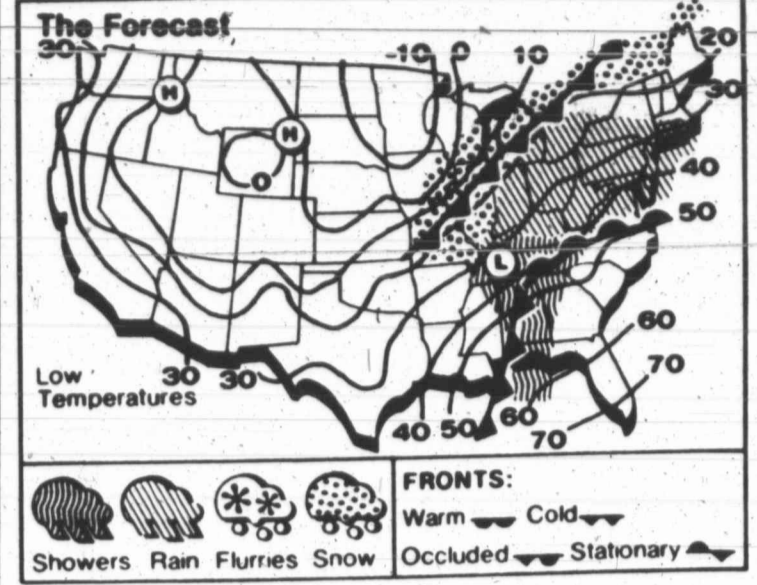

The top donor was Cosden Oil Co., she said. Cosden donated $16,000, matching employees donations. The second top donor was Fiberflex, which also matched employees donations for a total of $13,000, she said. Malone-Hogan Hospital's 250 employees were the third top donors, with a total of $12,083, she said.

The agency can be reached at P.O. Box 24, Big Spring, or at 267-5201.

Several announcements and presentations were made at the luncheon, including:

- "Big Spring Rodeo" and "Buffalo Buddy" records by the Outlaw Prison Band will arrive next week, said Bob "Tumbleweed Smith" Lewis.
- "We ordered 1,000 of them and half are already sold," he said. Records are available through the Chamber of Commerce.
- The living Christmas tree will perform at the First Methodist Church Friday through Sunday at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are free and available at the church office, said spokesman John Wilson.
- The 4-H and FFA livestock show will be Jan. 24-25, said county extension agent Gail Earls. Judging of capons will be at 5 p.m. Friday, lambs at 7 p.m., hogs at 8 a.m. Saturday, and steers at 1 p.m. Saturday. A barbecue will begin at 1:30 p.m., and sales start at 7 p.m. Saturday.
- The Chamber of Commerce banquet will be Feb. 8.
- Big Spring series belt buckles are on sale at the chamber. There will be five more in the series, said emcee Pat Porter.
- A $50 prize was awarded to the United Way after announcers drew name after name out of the pot with no one claiming the money.
- Santa never made it to the luncheon, but emcee Rowdy Yates substituted. Among the Christmas presents spectators asked for were a set of car keys, which a man had locked in the car before the luncheon, and a 20-degree higher temperature.
- The luncheon was sponsored by the First National Bank and Howard College.

A strong winter storm moved out of the southern Rockies and into Texas early today, threatening to dump freezing rain and snow over a wide area of the state.

Described as a "major winter storm," forecasters said the storm could produce accumulations of 2-4 inches over most of West Texas and western sections of North Texas.

Snow and freezing rain fell over a wide area of West Texas early today and the storm was steadily moving northeastward.

At 3:30 a.m., an area of snow, freezing rain and sleet was reported by the National Weather Service from near Oklahoma City southward to just west of Wichita Falls and southward to Abilene. The area was moving northeastward at 30 mph, forecasters said.

A winter storm warning was in effect for most of West Texas and western sections of North Texas and winter storm watches and travelers advisories were posted for North Texas, Northeast Texas and the Hill Country of South Central Texas.

gets agitated, however, when he views "Wild Kingdom" and sees lions eating small animals.

When he's not munching on fruits and vegetables, the 3-foot anthropoid eats peanut butter sandwiches, his favorite, Narnett said.

And will he be able to chew his meals without trouble after the root canal?

"He shouldn't have any problem," Rickey said.

Narnett said her pet is just like a little kid. "I wanted a child, that's why I got him," she said.

Born in Cincinnati, the toilet-trained monkey is much smarter than a dog or cat, Burt said. "He's got deductive reasoning and a good memory."

One can only guess if Jessie will remember what happened to his four biggest teeth.

Local dentist Dr. David Rickey, left, and veterinarian Scott Burt of Big Spring examine the dental work of Jessie the Java monkey before the creature underwent a root canal Wednesday.

Chavana said Martinez told her he was and asked her to step outside.

"I don't go out in the dark," Chavana said she replied. He said the woman then told Martinez to "take his foot off the door."

"I saw Joe hit her two times," Chavana said, "I went inside and took the jewelry."

The jewelry consisted of a "long-shaped ring and golden bracelet," Chavana said. He said Martinez was in the kitchen when he was stealing the jewelry.

Chavana said he saw Terrell lying on the kitchen floor bleeding. He said he asked Martinez why he hit her.

An existing stopgap spending bill expires at midnight, but congressional leaders already were discussing the possibility of a short interim spending bill to tide the government over until early next week.

That would give negotiators the time they need to wrap up both the farm bill and the long-term spending bill and enable Congress to adjourn for the year by the middle of next week.

Court upholds award

AUSTIN — A $2.8 million award to a San Antonio accountant who was left with severe brain damage when a highway fight ended with him being hit by a car has been upheld by the Texas Supreme Court.

"His mental capacity was reduced from that of a 27-year-old functioning accountant to that of a fifth-grader," the San Antonio Court of Appeals said Wednesday when it upheld the decision in March.

Robert Hatley suffered head injuries that required doctors to remove three ounces of brain tissue. He is partially paralyzed as a result of the injury.

Boy gets life term

HENDERSON — A 16-year-old boy was sentenced Wednesday to life in prison for clubbing his half-brother to death with a baseball bat August 20.

A jury deliberated an hour and a half before reaching the verdict for Timothy Dwaine Brown, 16, who had pleaded guilty.

Brown also faces murder charges in the rifle slayings the same day of his adoptive father, Kenneth Dalton Brown, 35, and his grandmother, Eva Juanita Ray, 59.

Retail sales increase

WASHINGTON — Retail sales rose 1.1 percent last month, reversing part of the sharp October decline, as both auto and department store sales advanced, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department said retail sales totaled $115.9 billion in November, an increase of $1.3 billion over the revised October sales figure.

Sales had fallen a record 4.2 percent in October as purchases of new autos dropped 17.2 percent following two big months of gains.

Secret order skeptical

WASHINGTON — President Reagan's secret order making as many as 180,000 government workers and contractors subject to lie detector tests is being viewed with skepticism in Congress, where key leaders say the administration should "not move precipitously."

Sketchy details of the order, signed Nov. 1 without any announcement, were revealed Wednesday by presidential spokesman Larry Speakes, who said, "We were seeking ways to clamp down on spying (on) government secrets."

Children of the Lillian Trasher Orphanage gather together in the courtyard facing the institution's primary school children's dormitories in Assyut, Egypt. The orphanage, founded by an idealistic young American woman, will be 75 years old next February.

Missionary zeal

Institution serves as umbrella for orphans

ASSYUT, Egypt (AP) — A Christian orphanage begun in 1911 by a 23-year-old woman from the American South thrives today in this Egyptian town off the Nile River.

The woman was Lillian Trasher and her mission began when a feverish mother under her care died, leaving behind an infant. The child, Miss Trasher wrote in her diary, became "the small nucleus of this great Godly work."

Nearly 75 years later, about 600 children, all Christians from poor backgrounds and with at least one dead parent, live in the Lillian Trasher Orphanage, a number greatly reduced from the 1,600 who were here when Miss Trasher died in 1961.

Dwight Dobson, the institution's Cairo representative, said 1,600 children Miss Trasher took in were too many to handle and the orphanage committee had to adopt new eligibility rules.

"When she was here, her heart was so big she accepted everyone," he said in an interview. "It became unmanageable."

Born in Jacksonville, Fla., Miss Trasher was working in a North Carolina orphanage when she heard a woman just back from India speak of her missionary work there. Miss Trasher later wrote that she decided that helping people would be her vocation.

She abandoned wedding plans and set sail from the United States in October, 1910.

She wound up in Assyut, a provincial capital 235 miles south of Cairo, and on Feb. 10, 1911, she had her first charge, the infant whose mother had died. She rented a small house to care for baby on a meager allowance and a first donation of 35 cents from the local telegraph boy.

Miss Trasher's accounts are contained in diaries, letters and other papers now in the archives of her church, the Assemblies of God, in Springfield, Mo. Some have been published and are available here.

The orphanage today has a primary school, dormitories, a chapel and sports facilities, all of which stand out in sharp contrast to the grey mud houses of nearby peasant families.

Children play in the yard. Teen-agers sit around a duck pond.

"We feel this is our home," said Mona Bishai, the supervisor of the children's department who is known to her orphans as Mama Mona.

Illegitimate children are not accepted under orphanage rules, she said.

"This is not like in films where an unknown bundle is left at the door and taken in," Mama Mona said. "We are like one family, and we don't want outsiders to get the wrong impression."

Miss Trasher founded the orphanage on the Pentecostal faith of her church, and the emphasis on religion remains constant. Paintings and prints with Christian motifs hang on almost every wall.

In one of her diaries, Miss Trasher wrote of intense revival meetings at the orphanage in which "the revival struck ... and they were saved."

Apartheid meet begins

LONDON (AP) — A Commonwealth committee charged with trying to persuade South Africa to dismantle apartheid began its first meeting today, but the agenda for the three-day closed session remained a secret.

The seven-member panel was established by the Commonwealth, the 49-nation association of Britain and its former colonies, at its summit meeting in Nassau, Bahamas in October.

Israel asks for aid

JERUSALEM — Israel has asked the United States for $3.55 billion in 1987 aid, $550 million more than the 1986 aid package, Israel Radio reported Wednesday.

Finance Minister Yitzhak Moda'i handed the request to U.S. Ambassador Thomas Pickering in Jerusalem as part of an annual report about Israel's economy, said Finance Ministry spokesman Eli Yosef.

Aquino faces Marcos

MANILA, Philippines — The opposition united behind Corazon Aquino as its presidential candidate Wednesday, and Ferdinand E. Marcos chose as his running mate a former foreign minister he fired last March for criticizing him.

Marcos, who has been president for 20 years, and Mrs. Aquino, who blames him for her husband's assassination in 1983, will face each other in a special presidential election Feb. 7.

Police beat crowd back

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Police swinging truncheons and whips scattered a hymn-singing crowd of whites as they staged a candlelight vigil against apartheid near Cape Town, witnesses said.

Police confirmed they broke up the Wednesday night gathering near the beach in the suburb of Sea Point. A similar vigil a week ago was broken up when police loosed tear gas at mixed-race youngsters singing and holding candles.

Chemicals threat cited

TORONTO — Toxic chemicals are a greater threat to people who live around the Great Lakes than elsewhere in the United States and Canada, a new study warns.

The report on Great Lakes pollution, sponsored by the U.S. National Research Council and the Royal Society of Canada, said current programs are doing some good in controlling sources of toxic wastes, but are not enough.

Where are the scriptures that give the authority for everything you do in the church to which you belong? Can you honestly verify from scripture all you do in religion? Do you practice all that is authorized and intended by the Lord to be practiced? If you accept or allow one thing within the church that has no scriptural authority, on what basis will you reject the next thing that someone wants to do that the scriptures do not authorize? Who is the authority for and in the church? Just because some noted church does something, does that automatically authorize it and mean that churches have the right to practice that activity? Or if some noted preacher advocates it, does that mean it is right and thus all people can do so without investigating the scriptures to see if it is the truth? Will anyone advocate that God has given uninspired men authority to practice things not supported by Jesus' authority, giving rights and privileges he did not give people? If so, let them prove their authority. If we have come to the point in time of not needing His authority, just how did we reach that point?? The Bible is His only authority!!

United Way goal is so very close

A mere $2,400 — 1 percent — separates Big Spring from its $210,000 goal for the 1985 United Way campaign. Being 99 percent complete is certainly an accomplishment; being 100-plus percent would be excellent — and that goal is attainable.

If you thought about donating to the United Way but didn't, here's a perfect opportunity to be among those who pushed the community charity over its collection goal.

Under the watchful eye of campaign chairman Teddy Griffin — who persevered through a medical ailment to see the fund-raising effort through — special events helped make the campaign truly special this year. Two events in particular gave us opportunities for fun as well as fund-raising: a chicken fried steak cookoff drew crowds to Highland Mall and a sport of a different style — lacrosse — came to town through the efforts of United Way volunteer Paul Thoman.

Generosity by businesses, such as the dollar-for-dollar matching by Cosden refinery and Fiberflex, contributed more than money — it added an element of challenge to the United Way giving. The medical community, too, dug deep to help the effort.

A long campaign, a worthy cause of local charities, a deep commitment by a brigade of volunteers — it's all very close to fruition. If you want to help put the United Way campaign over the goal, call 267-5201 or write the United Way at P.O. Box 24, Big Spring.

Bargain won't let spy off the hook

The toughest thing about catching a spy is seeing that he gets the punishment he deserves. As soon as one is arrested his attorney starts bargaining for a lighter sentence in exchange for the fink's revealing how much information he turned over to the other side.

"Hello, Justice Department? This is Mat O'Hara representing Collard Cosmos, the weasel who sold the plans for the Stealth bomber to the Bulgarians. What kind of deal are you offering us?"

"We don't negotiate plea bargains for spies, O'Hara. Your guy sold out his country and the government intends to hang him by the neck until he is dead."

"You better think it over. Except for the Stealth bomber you have no idea what secrets Collard walked away with, and we have no intention of telling you if you keep demanding a pound of flesh."

"We're not talking about some two-bit code clerk, O'Hara. Cosmos is the biggest fish we've caught in years. We intend to put him in the freezer for life."

"What if I were to tell you that my client is willing to name over 120 people in the U.S. government who are still on the KGB payroll?"

"O'Hara, did it ever occur to you that we may not want to know who they are? The more spies the government uncovers, the worse we look in Washington. Every time we arrest somebody, Congress wants to know why it took us so long to flush him out. We reject your offer for the list of KGB agents, and we're still holding the position that Cosmos has to serve a minimum of 20 years."

"Would it whet your appetite if I told you my client smuggled blueprints of 'Star Wars' in Nancy Reagan's cosmetic case when she went to Geneva?"

"That's impossible."
"Here are the films of Gorbachev switching cosmetic cases with Nancy at the airport. My client knows the whole story and will tell you how he did it for a reduced sentence."

"The law is the law. Every person in this country must be punished according to his crime. In this case Cosmos has to do at least seven years for compromising the security of the nation."

"Apparently you don't realize what a predicament you're in. You people have spies coming out of your ears and spies coming out of your socks. If you don't show mercy to Cosmos I'll advise him to remain mum about the nuclear submarine codes that he has stashed away in a pumpkin in the northeast part of the United States."

"What sub codes?"
"I can't say because we might have to sell them to another country for legal expenses if you make us go to trial."

"O'Hara, we have an open-and-shut case on your client committing treason. No matter what information you say he can turn over to us he still will have to rot for 30 days in the county jail."

"I can't believe my ears. Collard made one lousy mistake of selling his country down the river, and when he says he's sorry and offers to make amends, your response is that he spend a month behind bars."

"What do you think Cosmos should get for cooperating with us?"

"It wouldn't bother me if you charged him with one count of failing to curb his dog."

"The government can live with that. We were afraid you were going to hold out for the Congressional Medal of Honor."

Defective pacemakers may spark court battle

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR
WASHINGTON — Three years ago, we began a series of reports on pacemakers, which keep half-a-million Americans alive. We highlighted charges that heart patients, who depend on these life-or-death devices, are paying too much. Worse, some patients have been stuck with faulty battery-operated heart regulators.

Now the Justice Department is considering a request that the world's largest manufacturer of pacemakers be sued to recover Medicare funds spent for the surgical replacement of faulty components in one model.

The cost to Medicare of the replacement operations could eventually total between $65 million and $101 million, according to an internal estimate in August by the Food And Drug Administration.

A spokesman for the pacemaker manufacturer, Medtronic Inc. of Minneapolis, told our associate Tony Capaccio that the company was not aware of the specifics of the Aug. 28 request. This was made by Terry Coleman, who was then the acting general counsel of the Health and Human Services Department.

"There has been no discussion between the Department of Justice and us," the Medtronics spokesman said. "We're willing to stand the scrutiny. Our attorneys said they'd be surprised" if Justice decided to sue.

Coleman's 28-page request asked Justice to "institute litigation against Medtronic Inc. to recover Medicare reimbursement paid in connection with the surgical replacement of certain of their defective pacemaker leads."

The leads — plastic-coated wires that connect the pacemaker unit to the heart — were recalled by Medtronic in March 1984, after doctors at the Lancaster, Pa., General Hospital reported problems and the story got widespread coverage. Under stress, the thin plastic coating can crack, allowing blood to seep through to the wires and cause a short circuit. The Food and Drug Administration has estimated that as many as 20 percent of the pacemakers fail after three years' use.

Since then, the company said, it has spent $1.2 million in credits for trade-in pacemakers, plus reimbursement of as much as $600 each for corrective surgery. But health officials pointed out that the replacement operations generally cost $5,000, which means Medicare is stuck with about $4,400 per replacement. Medtronic has paid the full cost of 93 operations for (hardship) patients. The replacement surgery for 180 patients at Lancaster General Hospital cost Medicare $676,300, according to the request to the Justice Department.

Medtronic has recommended that patients still using the pacemakers with defective wiring undergo monthly monitoring. The FDA estimates these monthly checkups by physicians could cost Medicare anywhere from $1.5 million to $7.7 million a year.

Reps. John Dingell, D-Mich., and Ron Wyden, D-Ore., have been following the pacemaker case. In a letter last month to Attorney General Edwin Meese, they wrote: "It appears that the Department of Justice now stands as the last recourse for the American taxpayer and the innocent patients, all of whom have been financially victimized by the conduct of the pacemaker manufacturer."

The congressmen joined in the Health and Human Services Department's request that Medtronic be sued for Medicare's losses. In his request, Coleman said department officials "are persuaded that the United States will be able to maintain a direct action against Medtronic."

Footnote: Only 14 of the known 1,800 wearers of the pacemaker with the faulty wiring are totally dependent on their devices and risk death in the event of an abrupt failure caused by a short circuit, according to an FDA document. Most of the remaining patients may need only the monthly checkup.

EXECUTIVE MEMO: The head of the Justice Department's asset-forfeiture office wrote a fan letter to Don Johnson, star of the "Miami Vice" television series, offering to arrange an appearance before a congressional committee. But the bureaucrat's letter never reached the star. In his letter, the official, Brad Cates, told Johnson that his show was "rather popular" with many Justice Department employees and "with my wife as well."

UNDER THE DOME: Retiring Rep. Marjorie Holt, R-Md., was assured recently by the Federal Election Commission that she can spend her leftover campaign funds any way she wants to. That's because the seven-term congresswoman first took office before Jan. 8, 1980. Under the law, members of Congress who took their seats after the cutoff date are restricted in how they can use excess campaign money. Ms. Holt had asked if she could use the leftovers to set up a political-action committee that would pay her as its director.

Who'll speak for children?

By SPENCER SANDOW
While in countries like Israel children are cherished as the nation's future, in America, children have become commodities to be bought and sold.

It is no longer a surprise when police uncover a baby-selling ring like the one currently on trial in Houston. News stories of children left in filth to starve or die of exposure, of children missing or found at last after being stolen years ago come across the wire almost every day.

Children have become a new target of violent crime. Studies show one in four girls and one in ten boys will be sexually abused before they reach adulthood. The statistics for other types of physical and emotional abuse are higher.

Children disappear every day, kidnapped by irate parents denied custody by the courts and by strangers who want them for criminal purposes.

Children are becoming a new class of poor in this country. Statistics show that 22 percent of children under age 17 in the U.S. live in poverty, up from 14 percent in 1973.

Thousands of children are abandoned by one or both parents every year. Delinquent child support payments had become so common that lawmakers had to pass a law deducting delinquent payments from parents' paychecks.

Thousands of children run away every year from intolerable home situations.

Children have become a financial liability rather than an asset. Most couples have only one or two children now because they can't afford more. Chalk that up to greed: usurious interest rates charged by lenders, rising medical, housing, auto and insurance costs, the overwhelming cost of childcare and Madison Avenue advertising shaping people's attitudes to make them think they need more than they actually do.

Authorities say suicide is the number one killer of teenagers. I'm not surprised.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, Dec. 12, the 346th day of 1985. There are 19 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On Dec. 12, 1913, authorities in Florence, Italy, announced that the "Mona Lisa," stolen from the Louvre Museum in Paris in 1911, had been recovered.

On this date: In 1787, Pennsylvania became the second state to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1792, in Vienna, 22-year-old Ludwig van Beethoven received his first lesson in music composition from Franz Joseph Haydn.

In 1870, Joseph H. Rainey of South Carolina became the first black sworn into the U.S. House of Representatives.

In 1901, the first radio signal to cross the Atlantic was picked up near St. John's, Newfoundland, by inventor Guglielmo Marconi. The signal was transmitted from a point some 2,000 miles away.

In 1925, the first motel — the Motel Inn — opened in San Luis Obispo, Calif.

Oregon Pharmacist's Wrinkle Cream Great Success

It's an exciting story of a pharmacist who developed a wrinkle cream which women all over the country are clamoring for.

Dr. Robert Heldfond, a Portland pharmacist, used knowledge from pharmacy school and years of experience, to compound EB5, a wrinkle cream he started selling in his drugstore and which is now making cosmetic history across the nation.

Women started coming to Heldfond's pharmacy when the word got around about its wonderful results in helping women look younger. The phones never stopped ringing and letters poured in praising the results with EB5 cream.

Research lab tests show that by using EB5 cream morning and night, facial lines, lines around the eyes, lines on the forehead and around the mouth are smoothed.

EB5 contains natural ingredients, including Liprogen, an exciting natural combination developed by Dr. Heldfond and other aids to help smooth

Dear Abby

Molestation everybody's business

DEAR ABBY: My older brother recently married a divorced woman with a 10-year-old daughter. My brother has always been attracted to little girls. His stepdaughter (I'll call her Mary) is well-developed for her age. Lately she's been asking for a lock for her bedroom door. This is all she requested from her grandmother (my mother) for Christmas.

I don't like to think bad things about my brother, but I have bad feelings about the whole thing. You hear so much these days about adults molesting kids. Should I ask Mary any questions? She doesn't seem to like to be alone with my brother. I once saw Mary in such a depression (no one noticed it but me), and when I asked her what was wrong, she nearly burst into tears.

I feel helpless, but I want to help her if there is something wrong with the family situation.

To give you a little background about my brother: He has lived with many women before (all with little girls). He spent a lot of time with an uncle who was caught molesting his young niece.

Please tell me how to deal with this, or should I mind my own business? If my brother is guilty and I bring it out in the open, I'm afraid my whole family will hate me. I don't want to give my name, so please answer in the paper. I will be reading you faithfully every day looking for an answer.

HEARTSICK IN MAINE
DEAR HEARTSICK: If a child is being molested, it's every body's business. And if your whole family hates you for exposing a crime and rescuing a child, don't let it bother you. Try to get closer to Mary. Win her confidence, and let her know that you care about her and want to be her friend.

If your suspicions are correct, confront your brother and tell him that if he does not get into specialized counseling for child molesters immediately, you will turn him in to the police and the proper authorities.

Do not let this go another minute. If you feel incapable of handling this situation yourself, please write again and give me your brother's name and address, and I will handle it.

SANTA'S HELPER
DEAR ABBY: When a person checks into a hospital, there are forms to fill out and questions to answer. One question I prefer not to answer is about religious preference. I won't go into detail, but I consider that an invasion of privacy.

Why is that question asked routinely?

JUST ASKING
DEAR JUST: Many patients enjoy being visited by a clergyman of their own faith, and this is the way the visiting clergyman knows who of his/her faith is in the hospital.

If you prefer not to disclose your religious preference — or if you have none — simply ignore that question. It's your right. No apologies are necessary.

SANTA'S HELPER
DEAR ABBY: It's that time of year again, and as a salesperson of many years, I hear the same lament every year from young people: "What can I get Mom, Pops, Aunt Martha or Uncle Joe? They have everything they want already."

Wrong! They don't have what they really want. Most would prefer a short visit, or an invitation to lunch or dinner, the chance to share a movie, a shopping trip, or just the pleasure of an auto ride. A little personal attention is what most people want and need.

Think about it.
SANTA'S HELPER

DEAR HELPER: I just did — you're absolutely right.

The holidays are filled with traditions, and the Big Spring Herald is seeking help from readers in continuing the tradition of publishing "A Christmas Remembered."

For the past two years, the Lifestyle department has solicited letters from readers recounting their most memorable Christmas. This year, letters selected by members of the staff will be published in the Sunday, Dec. 22 edition of The Herald.

What makes a good story? Any Christmas story that is special to you might make interesting reading for others in this area.

Stories we've published in the past included a letter from a mother separated from her imprisoned son during the holidays, the story of a couple wed on Christmas Eve, a mother and daughter reunited after a 20-year separation, and Christmas during the Depression.

If your story has been published before, please do not submit it again. Stories should be submitted by Dec. 19 for publication on Dec. 22.

This year, we're asking readers to include a photograph of themselves in addition to the story. We will accept stories without photographs.

All stories become the property of the Herald and cannot be returned.

Send stories to "My Most Memorable Christmas," care of the Lifestyle Department, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas, 79720.

Dr. Donohue

Minor spine problem seen on x-ray

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My 11-year-old daughter was diagnosed as having spina bifida occulta, a back problem. It was found on X-ray. The doctor suspected it when we told him about a little tuft of hair on her lower back. It apparently is not a very serious thing, but we'd like to know more. — Mrs. I.M.

"Spina" is the obvious reference to the spine, while "bifida" and "occulta" are Latin terms meaning cleft (bifida) and a condition that isn't visually obvious but which may show on an X-ray (occulta).

I don't think I have to go into any extensive description of the spine. We all recognize it is that slender, delicate tube of nerves and nerve cables protected by blocks of bones stacked end on end to form the spinal column. Development of this structure occurs in the fetus and every now and then nature errs slightly, leaving a tiny cleft in the protective shield.

When the cleft is extensive, serious problems may ensue and action is taken to correct the defect. But in your daughter's case only a minor gap is present, so nothing need be done. More serious forms of bifida are more obvious. In the occulta form, detection comes when the child's back is X-rayed for unrelated problems. In this form, a tuft of hair on the lower back (where the defect almost always occurs) is a tip-off.

There is nothing you need do, except to be alert to conditions sometimes found with spina bifida occulta — for example, a certain weakness in foot muscles. That can reflect disturbance of the part of the nerve root emerging from the spinal serving the lower leg.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My doctor says my terrible heartburn problem is caused by a bad LES muscle. From his description, it sounds exactly like what you referred to as hiatal hernia. Am I right? — R.L.

The LES stands for lower esophageal sphincter, the muscle that controls the stomach opening. If weakened it may permit stomach acid to get into the esophagus and cause the burning and pain referred to as heartburn. This may be part and parcel of the hernia to which you refer, where a bit of the upper stomach protrudes upward. You can have the hernia without the muscle-weakening problem and vice versa.

You don't have to worry about the hernia, if present. You do have to concern yourself with acid reflux, though, and some simple steps will relieve it greatly. I've mentioned them all before, but I'll repeat them.

Quit smoking (an irritant), cut down on coffee, eat smaller meals (more of them), lose excess weight, avoid tight belts and clothes, avoid stooping after eating, elevate your upper body in bed, and, if needed, find a good antacid to cut stomach acid reflux. See the booklet "Hiatal Hernia, Heartburn and Acid Reflux," which discusses this. Other readers may order by writing me, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents. To put the hernia into proper perspective, you should know that fully half of all people over 50 have it — with or without the heartburn discomfort.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

 Investigated by civilian authorities." The airport was overcast with light snow and light winds at the time of the crash, according to the aviation weather report. There had been light, freezing drizzle a few hours earlier.

David Bridges, spokesman for the Rome-based Multinational Force and Observers, said the plane had flown from Cairo to Cologne, West Germany, where it refueled, to Gander for a second refueling.

Federal Aviation Administration spokesman Vedder Steed in Atlanta, Ga., said the plane belonged to Arrow Air, a Miami-based charter firm.

"I do not have (more) information available," said Mark Sapp, director of reservations for the carrier, which employs about 650 people from its Miami base. "We are at the mercy of our flight control department, and they have released no information."

"All I can confirm is that it was an Arrow Air DC-8," Sapp said.

Gander airport manager John Pittman told the AP by telephone that the plane went down about a quarter-mile from the airport, which is a wooded, hilly area near Gander Lake.

When asked if there was a fire aboard, he said "yes," but did not elaborate.

Roads to the airport were blocked as emergency vehicles made their way to the scene.

In Ottawa, a Transport Canada spokesman said a crash operations center was set up at about 6 a.m., about 45 minutes after first word of the crash was received. A temporary morgue had been set up in the area.

Canada's Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, speaking on arrival to a Cabinet meeting in Ottawa, said the crash is "an enormous tragedy."

Gander International Airport is located approximately 150 miles northwest of St. John's, the capital of Newfoundland on Canada's Atlantic seaboard. It is often used by planes traveling between North America and Europe.

The DC-8 is a four-engine jet manufactured by McDonnell Douglas. The plane that crashed was 16 years old and had flown about 50,000 hours and 27 million miles, a spokesman for the manufacturer said.

Cleanup campaign to end

The Chamber of Commerce's CLEAN committee campaign will conclude Saturday with Area 1, which is bounded north by FM 700, south by the city limits, west by Virginia, and east by Central and Grafa. Crews will collect trash items such as tree branches, furniture pieces and appliances that are too large to place in dumpsters. Items to be discarded should be placed at the curb in front of residences and not in alleys. The citywide cleanup is being done in coordination with the city of Big Spring.

K mart to give shopping treat to needy children

Fifty needy children in Big Spring will get a $10 shopping spree each from K mart at 8 a.m. Saturday, said personnel manager Ruth Leubner.

The spree is part of a national program in which more than 42,000 needy children and 2,100 K mart stores will participate, according to a news release.

The stores also will treat the children to breakfast. Santa, Mrs. Claus and two elf helpers will be on hand at the Big Spring K mart to pass out gifts to the children, Leubner said.

Most K mart stores will treat 20 needy children to $20 shopping sprees, but "there were so many needy children in Big Spring," the store raised the number of participants to 50 and cut the dollar amount in half, she said. She said the same amount of funds will be spent for the project. Statistics show that 22 percent of children under age 17 in the United States are living in poverty, up from 14 percent in 1973. "These rather disturbing figures mean children now represent a new class of poor in our country," said K mart corporation chairman Bernard Faubner in a news release.

"We are asking businesses across the country, from large corporations to local neighborhood shops, to join K mart to help make Christmas a lot brighter and more hopeful for these children," he said.

Wrecking yards guide in works

COLORADO CITY — City councilmen Tuesday authorized district attorney Pete McKinney to draft guidelines for city wrecking yards.

"Regulations will be placed on all existing yards and new sites must be built outside the city limits," said Tom Lovell, councilman who heads a city committee studying the situation.

The council also accepted the low bid by Wayland Moore Construction Co. of Colorado City of $3,385 to put a new roof on the waterworks pumphouse on the north side of town.

Big Spring Boxing Club coach J.V. Martinez is spending this week in Tulsa, Oklahoma at the USABudweiser National Championship Boxing Tournament.

Martinez, who is Vice-President of the West Texas Boxing Association, will be viewing two boxers from the association. Orlin Norris and Johnny Alamager of Lubbock will be representing West Texas.

As of today, Norris, a heavyweight, is still in the competition. He will go against Jerry Goff of Saucier, Miss. tomorrow night. The winner will advance to the finals on Saturday.

The basketball tournament sponsored by the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp and the Salvation Army, which was scheduled for this weekend; has been cancelled until mid-January.

All proceeds from the tourney will go to the Salvation Army.

For more information call the Chamber of Commerce at 263-7641.

Drew McEwen and Will Rutherford proved last week they are top-notch gymnasts.

Last Saturday the two members of the Big Spring YMCA Sidewinders Gymnastics team participated in the United States Gymnastics Meet in Norman, Oklahoma. The meet was hosted by the Gymnastics Chalet, home of Olympic gold medalist Bart Conners.

Both competed in the 10 and Older Division. The duo fared well against 121 other gymnasts from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska.

Ten-year-old McEwen placed seventh in the high bar with an 8.90.

Rutherford, placed third in the All-Around by scoring a 52.40. He placed second in the vault, parallel bars and high bar. He also placed seventh on the pommel horse and ninth in the rings.

Congrats to these two and coach Ken Werner for a job well done.

Drew McEwen (left), coach Ken Werner (center) and Will Rutherford travelled to Norman, Okla. to participate in the United States Gymnastics Federation Meet.

The Forsan basketball teams are taking up right were the Buffaloes left off in football — winning.

This past weekend at the Garden City Tournament, both the Buffaloes and Buffalo-Queens came away with tourney championships.

The Buffaloes (4-1), behind tourney Most Valuable Player Jason Donaghe and All-Tournament performer Bruce Strickland, defeated Sterling City 60-51 in the championship game.

The Buffalo-Queens (7-1) downed the host school 61-58 in the girls championship tilt.

For Forsan, Kristy Evans was named Most Valuable Player and Trish Devore made the All-Tournament team.

Borden County senior running back Chris Cooley was recently named to the Lubbock Avalanche Journal Six-Man All-South Plains Team.

Cooley finished the season 1,667 yards and 22 touchdowns. In his last two seasons he has racked up 3,751 and scored 58 TD's.

Not many backs can boast of averaging 185 yards and three touchdowns per game.

Howard College Hawks sophomore guard Bruce Kimble is the third leading scorer in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference with a 20.1 average. Virgil Reagins of Clarendon College leads the league at 21.4 points per game.

Hawks forward Walt Reynolds ranks seventh in rebounds (7.6) and fourth in blocked shots (2.0).

Hawk-Queens guard Lorri French is the fourth leading scorer in the conference at 16.7 per game. Doretha Conwell leads the league with a 25.9 average.

French is also seventh in assists averaging 4.2 per game.

Hawks-NMMI cancelled

The Western Junior College Athletic Conference game between the Howard College Hawks and New Mexico Military Institute Bronchos, scheduled for tonight at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, has been cancelled.

The game was called off because of snowy weather conditions in the Roswell, N.M. area. Up to four inches of snow is expected by the afternoon.

Howard College coach Ed Sparling and NMMI coach Soupy Campbell will have a conference later on today to decide when the game will be rescheduled.

More-than-likely it will be after the Christmas break. The Hawks will come back from the break on January 5. They will then get ready for the Hawk Classic Tournament which will be held January 10-11 at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Howard goes into the break with a 7-8 overall record and 2-1 conference mark. The Hawks dropped their first conference game Monday, a 73-64 decision to South Plains College.

NMMI is coming off a 70-57 loss to No. 7 Midland College Monday night in Midland. The Bronchos will take a 8-4 overall record and 0-3 conference slate into the Christmas break.

Baseball's winter meeting

Trade action picking up

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Baseball's 1985 winter meetings, predicted to be a slow time for trading, keep speeding up. Just ask John Denny, Manny Trillo or Gary Roenicke.

Those players highlighted six more deals made Wednesday that boosted the trade total to 10, matching the number of swaps made during the entire 1984 annual meetings.

"I'm delighted to be with the Reds," Denny, a former Cy Young Award winner, said after Philadelphia sent him and a minor leaguer to the Reds for speedy outfielder Gary Redus and relief pitcher Tom Hume in the biggest deal of the day.

The brisk trading far overshadowed the planned business, Commissioner Peter Ueberroth's meeting with team owners.

No new developments regarding expansion and relocation, the drug situation or the use of the designated hitter in the World Series emerged after the six-hour session. The owners did unanimously approve the sale of the Pittsburgh Pirates to a group of local businesses.

While the owners were talking trades, several general managers were trading players.

The New York Yankees, the most active team at last year's meetings, made two deals — acquiring Roenicke and a player to be named later from Baltimore for pitcher Rich Bordi and second baseman Rex Hudler, and getting utility infielder Mike Fischlin from Cleveland for another player to be named later.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who missed a chance to get Rickey Henderson last year and wound up not making any deals during those meetings, made two trades

Wednesday. Los Angeles filled a big void by getting left-handed reliever Ed Vande Berg from Seattle for veteran catcher Steve Yeager, and filled Yeager's spot as a backup by obtaining Alex Trevino from San Francisco for outfielder Candy Maldonado.

San Francisco made the other deal of the day, sending four-time All-Star second baseman Manny Trillo to the Chicago Cubs for utility infielder Dave Owen.

The Giants also spent part of the day working on a major trade that would have sent outfielder Chili Davis to the World Series champion Kansas City Royals for pitcher Mark Gubicza, outfielder Pat Sheridan and a highly touted pitching prospect.

In all, 22 players have been traded so far during the meetings, compared to 25 last year.

The Reds came here shopping for a strong starting pitcher. They failed in a bid land Walt Terrell from Detroit, but got Denny instead.

Denny won the Cy Young in 1983 when he went 19-6 with a 2.37 earned run average. Since then, he has been plagued by nagging injuries, and went 11-14 with a 3.82 ERA last year.

Still, Cincinnati player-manager Pete Rose was confident Denny would be back strong in 1986.

"I played with him in Philadelphia, and I know what he can do," Rose said.

Denny, 33, is an 11-year veteran who began his career with Cleveland and was later dealt to Philadelphia.

"This trade didn't surprise me," he said. "I'm looking forward to playing again with Pete."

Rose said the Reds accomplished their goal.

Utah poke takes NFR lead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Lewis Feild of Elk Ridge, Utah, rode a second place finish in the bareback riding competition Wednesday to edge into the lead for the top cowboy award midway through the National Finals Rodeo.

Feild won $6,060 to run his total winnings for the year to $113,762, putting him $1,154 ahead of Clay O'Brien Cooper of Gilbert, Ariz., in the race for the coveted all-around cowboy award given to the season's top money winner.

Cooper, who had the lead going into the finals, failed to place in the team roping competition after winning the event three of the first four nights along with partner Jake Barnes of Bloomfield, N.M.

Feild, who ran his finals rodeo money winning total to $20,155 after five performances, would appear to have the edge in the all-around chase going into the final five competitions because his event pays $8,000 per win compared to $5,050 for each of the two competitors in team roping.

In the steer wrestling event, Rod Lyman of Great Falls, Mont., wrestled his steer to the dirt in 4.6 seconds to capture first by a full second over Butch Myers of Welda, NFR page 2-B

Jake Barnes goes for the heels of the Steer while his partner Clay O'Brien Cooper puts tension on the horns in the Team Roping event at the National Finals Rodeo.

Sands settles lawsuit for $60,000

By CHARLIE ALCORN Sports Writer

ACKERLY — A $60,000 settlement will be paid to the widow of a Sands High School assistant coach who died of a heart attack two years ago during a football game, according to a school official.

Ken Peters, an assistant varsity football coach, died of heart failure on October 27, 1983, during a football game. His wife Lisa, who now lives in San Angelo, sued the Sands school district and the Texas Association of School Boards, claiming her husband's death was caused in part by stress related to the job.

The school district settled the lawsuit out of court today just before the case was scheduled for trial in Lamesa, Sands Superintendent James Blake said this morning. She was suing for Workmen's Compensation benefits for herself and on behalf of her two sons, Ross and Dusty.

Peters, who was in his first year as a coach for the Sands High Mustangs, suffered cardiac arrest during a game between Sands and Roby and was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital in Big Spring, where he died later that night.

Bill Wade of Lubbock, an employee of the Texas Employers Insurance Company which insures the school district, recommended that the case be settled out of court, Blake said.

"I wasn't too happy about it at first," said Blake. "But we were looking at a 1 in 10 chance of winning the case and the maximum penalty the courts could have hit us with was $280,000. So it turned out better for us than it could have been."

Blake said that the settlement would raise the schools insurance premiums. "I could not tell you how much our premiums will go up, but it probably won't be too bad because every school in the Texas Association of School Boards will share the increase."

Longhorns, Aggies roll in hoop victories

By The Associated Press

Only a week after his team was shoved around under the boards during a 22-point loss at Southern Cal, Texas basketball coach Bob Weltlich said he feared Oral Roberts University would give the Longhorns plenty of trouble.

But Texas, which allowed USC to grab 20 offensive rebounds, allowed shorter ORU only seven, and Texas raced to an easy 82-66 victory in one of two games involving Southwest Conference teams Wednesday night.

"I really thought they'd be a problem," Weltlich said. "But they were sluggish. And we rebounded better, took care of the basketball and played more intelligently."

In Wednesday night's other SWC game, Texas A&M defeated Prairie View 88-60 behind Winston Crite's season-high 26 points and 15 rebounds.

Oral Roberts' Titans played a loose zone in an effort to stop Pat Fairs, the Longhorns' leading scorer, and Karl Willock on the perimeter. As a result, center John Brownlee was allowed to roam free in the middle, making nine of 14 shots.

Fairs, who was averaging 19.8 points going into the contest, was held scoreless for the first 16 minutes. He had taken only two shots, one of which was blocked. He finished with 19, however, mostly from outside.

Brownlee, a 6-10 senior, took up the slack, scoring 13 points by halftime and finishing with game-high 23 points and 12 rebounds. He also held Maurice Smith, a 6-7 forward, to five points in the first half. Smith, who averages 17, scored 11. Woody Jones led Oral Roberts with 14.

"No doubt, the key was rebounding," Brownlee said. "And we were a lot more patient on offense tonight." Dennis Perryman, who replaced Ed Green in the starting lineup at power forward, scored 10 points and had six rebounds for the Longhorns. Point guard Alex Broadway scored 10 points in a reserve role for the Horns.

Texas improved its record to 3-2, while Oral Roberts fell to 3-3. The Horns won the battle of the boards against the shorter Titans 39-30.

Texas A&M rolled to a 46-25 halftime advantage and never trailed during its victory over Prairie View. The Aggies improved to 4-3 while Prairie View, which has yet to play a home game this season, fell to 0-6.

Don Marbury scored 18 points, while Jimmie Gilbert had 17 and Paul Crawford 10 for A&M. Cecil Sams led Prairie View with 16, and David Morris added 12.

"It was good from the standpoint that we got a good win in our last home game (of 1985) before we come back and play Baylor (to start conference play)," Aggie coach Shelby Metcalf said.

"This will be the last game we'll have where we're the clearcut favorite. In most of the rest of the games, we'll be the dog, so it was good for our young people to get some experience," Metcalf said.

The Aggies shot an even 50 percent, hitting 33 of 66 field goal attempts, while Prairie View made only 23 of 56 attempts, for a 41.1 percentage.

The Aggies also controlled the boards, pulling down 50 rebounds to 28 for the Panthers. Gilbert was next to Crite with 14 rebounds.

Boston wins battle; Johnson loses war

By DICK BRISTER
AP Sports Writer

The Boston Celtics easily won the battle. But the war may drag on a little longer without floor general Dennis Johnson.

Johnson, a 10-year veteran, suffered a possible cracked left wrist late in the first period Wednesday night as the Celtics rolled to a 118-101 National Basketball Association victory over the Sacramento Kings. He is averaging 16.7 points, 5.2 rebounds and 37 minutes a game.

Washington, another Boston chaser, reached 500 — a game behind Philadelphia — thanks to 27 points from Frank Johnson.

He led the Bullets to their eighth victory in 11 games.

Atlanta 105, Seattle 97

Atlanta didn't waste any time, with Dominique Wilkins keying a 12-point run early in the game. Wilkins had six of his game-high 31 points in the spurt, which turned a 2-0 Seattle lead into a 12-2 deficit.

Doc Rivers added 13 points for the Hawks.

NBA Roundup

Coach K.C. Jones said he expected Johnson to be sidelined a week to 10 days, but Dr. Thomas Silva, the team physician, wanted to see X-rays before deciding the point guard's status.

The Kings, winless in Boston since 1978, jumped to an 18-13 lead before the Celtics began to play like a team leading the Atlantic Division by seven games.

Boston, 19-3 overall and 10-1 at home, charged to a 32-26 lead by the end of the quarter with the help of three points, three assists and a steal by Johnson. Larry Bird took charge in the second period, ending an 0-13 slump in three-point goals with a pair of bombs and 13 points.

"We had a handle on the game for about 30 seconds," said Sacramento veteran Reggie Theus, who had 14 points, all in the first half. "After that it was all downhill."

7ers 125, Cavaliers 110

Philadelphia kept Boston in sight — barely — by beating Cleveland behind Moses Malone's 34 points.

Julius Erving, with 23 points, scored four straight field goals early in the third quarter to spark a 13-4 Philadelphia surge.

World B. Free had 27 points and Roy Hinson 21 for the Cavs.

Bullets 108, Pistons 100

Pacers 114, Spurs 101

Rookie Wayman Tisdale scored a season-high 28 points and Quinn Buckner sparked a 46-point effort by the Indiana bench.

The Pacers led 31-26 with 1:26 left in the first quarter when Buckner came on and got four points, three rebounds, two assists and a steal during seven minutes in the first half. Indiana led 48-37 when he left.

Steve Stipanovich, who also did not start, had 15 points for Indiana. Johnny Moore scored a game-high 30 points for San Antonio.

Nuggets 134, Clippers 95

Wayne Cooper blocked nine shots and scored 22 points, and Lafayette Lever dished out 14 assists for Denver. The Nuggets played their regulars for only 2½ periods.

Alex English led all scorers with 24 points for Denver, which moved to within a game of idle Houston, the Midwest Division leader.

Jazz 119, Trail Blazers 111

Utah's Adrian Dantley scored 14 of his 36 points in the first quarter and added another 14 in the third period.

The Blazers fell behind by as many as 18 points.

Suns 123, Warriors 113

Walter Davis tied his career high by scoring 43 points as Phoenix won for the third straight time to run its total for the season to six.

The Warriors lost their fourth straight.

Coach not impressed with Hoya success

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Fifth-ranked Georgetown continues to impress everyone but Coach John Thompson.

"Rankings in December... fool's gold," Thompson said Wednesday night after the Hoyas made it four straight victories this season and 21 of their last 22 when they mauled New Mexico 76-51.

"There are a lot of people who are happy in December who are not happy in February or March," Thompson explained. "I'm still not sure of a lot our combinations yet. I don't care if we get knocked off early as long as we get the system working well."

As unimpressed as he was with his team's showing, the sight of his previously unbeaten Lobos blown out in a 14-2 stretch in the second half, left New Mexico Coach Gary Colson convinced of Georgetown's power.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see them in the Final Four. There were some great athletes out there," he said.

The only other Top 20 team in action — 14th-ranked St. John's — had its running game stymied by Marist, but came away with a 62-48 victory.

Georgetown, led by David Wingate with 21 points and Reggie Williams with 14, put the game out of reach by running a 43-39 lead to 57-41 with just over eight minutes to play.

The run began with a strategic timeout by Thompson.

"John changed tempo after the timeout and we took the bait," Colson said of Georgetown's full-court press. "And there I am with an 18-year-old kid running around with my paycheck in his mouth making bad decisions."

Both starting guards, Kelvin Scarborough and Johnny Brown, turned the ball over five times on the night, contributing to New Mexico's downfall.

"There were too many turnovers," Brown admitted. "We wanted to run with them a little but not every time."

"It was panic city out there for awhile," said Colson.

The victory was Georgetown's 34th in a row outside of the Big East Conference in a streak dating back to December 1983.

Top 20

St. John's Walter Berry, a 6-foot-8 junior, scored 16 points and grabbed 15 rebounds while operating against Marist's 2-3 zone, which included 7-3 Rik Smits, a sophomore from Holland, and 6-11 Miroslav Pecarski, a freshman from Yugoslavia.

"I'll learn from this," said Berry, who got eight of his points from the free-throw line, while missing six. "It was one of those games. Marist outplayed us. It was a frustrating game having to play against a zone the whole game."

St. John's Coach Lou Carnesecca praised the Red Foxes for controlling the tempo of the game.

"We tried everything," Carnesecca said. "It was one of those nights. On the plus side, it's a win."

It was the fifth straight victory for the 7-1 Redmen, while Marist dropped its third straight to fall to 1-3.

Bosworth wins Butkus

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Brian Bosworth, a sophomore linebacker from Oklahoma and an All-American college linebacker for the 1985-86 season, was voted the winner of the first Butkus Award on Wednesday by the Athletic Club of Orlando.

A trophy will be presented to Bosworth Monday night during a banquet at which the award's namesake, former Chicago Bear linebacker Dick Butkus, and Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer will speak, officials said. The award honors the best college linebacker in college football.

A national voting panel made up of sports writers and broadcasters, including Charlie McClendon, executive director of the American Football Coaches Association, chose the winner.

Larry Station, a senior linebacker from Iowa, was voted second, and Michael Brooks, a junior from LSU came in third. The top three choices made up this year's Associated Press All-America linebacker crew.

Runners up for the award were Michael Mallory, a senior from Michigan, and Alonzo Johnson, a senior from Florida.

NFR

Lyman, the final competitor in the event, won $8,000 to push his finals rodeo winnings to $28,280, more than any other cowboy. Lyman's winnings also set a record for any single event in NFR history, with half the rodeo still remaining.

Lyman was able to set the record so early because the NFR total prize money was boosted from $901,000 to $1.79 million as part of the incentive for moving the event from Oklahoma City to Las Vegas this year.

In the team roping event, Tee Wollman of Cherokee, Texas, and Bob Harris of Gillette, Wyo., ripped off the fastest time of the rodeo so far, a 5.2 second effort that edged out the 5.5 second mark by Doyle Gellerman of Oakdale, Calif., and Riekey Green of Fowler, Calif.

Woolman and Harris, who had two second place finishes in the first four competitions, moved into second place in the overall team roping behind Cooper and Barnes.

Denny Flynn, a three-time NFR bull riding champion from Charles, Ariz., scored a 79 on a bull called Risky Business to win the event over Ken Wilcox of Greenbrier, Ariz.

Wilcox scored a 78 on his ride but had to be helped from the arena when his bull, Panda, gored him after Wilcox fell to the ground after getting off the bull.

Bulls were also featured in the bullfighting competition, which pits rodeo clowns in freestyle competition against the 1,600-pound animals. Rob Smets of Roseburg, Ore., and Rex Dunn of Hastings, Okla., both former champions, tied for first in the event.

Miles Hare of Ft. Worth, Texas, ended his fight early when a bull gored him in the stomach after he had taken a freestyle jump over the bull's horns. J.C. Trujillo of Pyramid, Colo., captured the bareback riding competition, scoring 78 to edge Feild by one point. Trujillo, who had yet to cash in the finals rodeo, picked up $8,000.

In the calf roping event, John Rothwell of West, Texas, took only 8.4 seconds to rope and tie his calf, winning by almost one full second over Roy Cooper of Durant, Okla., and Jimmie Cooper of Monument, N.M., who shared second place at 9.3 seconds.

Janet Powell of Athens, Texas, took 14.36 seconds to round three barrels and capture the barrel racing event over Tracy Lynn Cates of Pomona, Calif., who had a 14.58.

The saddle bronc competition went to Mel Coleman of Lloydminster, Saskatchewan, who scored a 79 to edge David Bothum of Echo, Ore., and Clint Johnson of Spearfish, S.D., who tied for second with scores of 78.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGNER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, DEC. 13, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Avoid any and all confrontations with those in position of influence or authority. Use self-control and channel all of your energy into constructive activity. Be alert.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You find that your ideas may conflict with those of higher-ups so try to compromise. Endeavor to get better organized.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't try to force your own ideas on others but keep your own counsel. Keep cool and collected and all works out fine.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You think you should have more respect from your mate, but say little and soon the situation reverses.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Don't get involved in any altercation between a home tie and an outsider, and it will soon be over.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Get your work well organized so that it flows smoothly and easily and you avoid confusion. Avoid a discussion with a co-worker.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't argue with a friend and seek whatever outlets can elevate your spirits. Postpone some decision connected with your mate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A situation at home could be quite confusing if you permit, but be objective and decide tomorrow what should be done.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A secret worry could easily cause you to disturb a bystander, if you permit. Get at the cause and prevent trouble.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) The "Friday the 13th" influence could lead you in some wrong direction, so take care. Go over your checking account.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Clarify your personal wishes and be tactful in gaining them. Be tactful and all will be well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Schedule your time well so that you can handle both practical affairs and a good time. Maintain the peace.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Hold your temper so that you do not spoil a fine relationship. A kind word can easily save the situation.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will think it necessary to be very forceful in order to get ideas across, so teach early to be more diplomatic in order to get the right results. Send to right schools and channel the energies in constructive directions, and keep the temper calmed down.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
