Ships scan for debris of shuttle

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Ships searched the sea today for debris from shattered Challenger and the remains of the five men and two women who died in a "national tragedy" that dealt a severe setback to America's space program.

An investigation team was to meet today to start the long probe into why the $1.2 billion spaceship, seemingly on a perfect course, suddenly blew apart 74 seconds after liftoff Tuesday, raining fiery debris into the Atlantic Ocean.

Some experts who studied television tapes of the disaster said they thought the problem centered in the external fuel tank, containing more than a half-million gallons of liquid hydrogen and oxygen to power the orbiter aloft.

The deaths were the first after 55 successful U.S. man-in-space flights, including 24 previous shuttle missions. The first "common citizen" chosen for a space trip, New Hampshire schoolteacher Christa McAuliffe, was one of the victims.

Nine ships, including Coast Guard cutters, searched throughout the night over the 50-by-100-mile rectangle where Challenger's wreckage fell. Planes and helicopters were to resume their hunt at daylight.

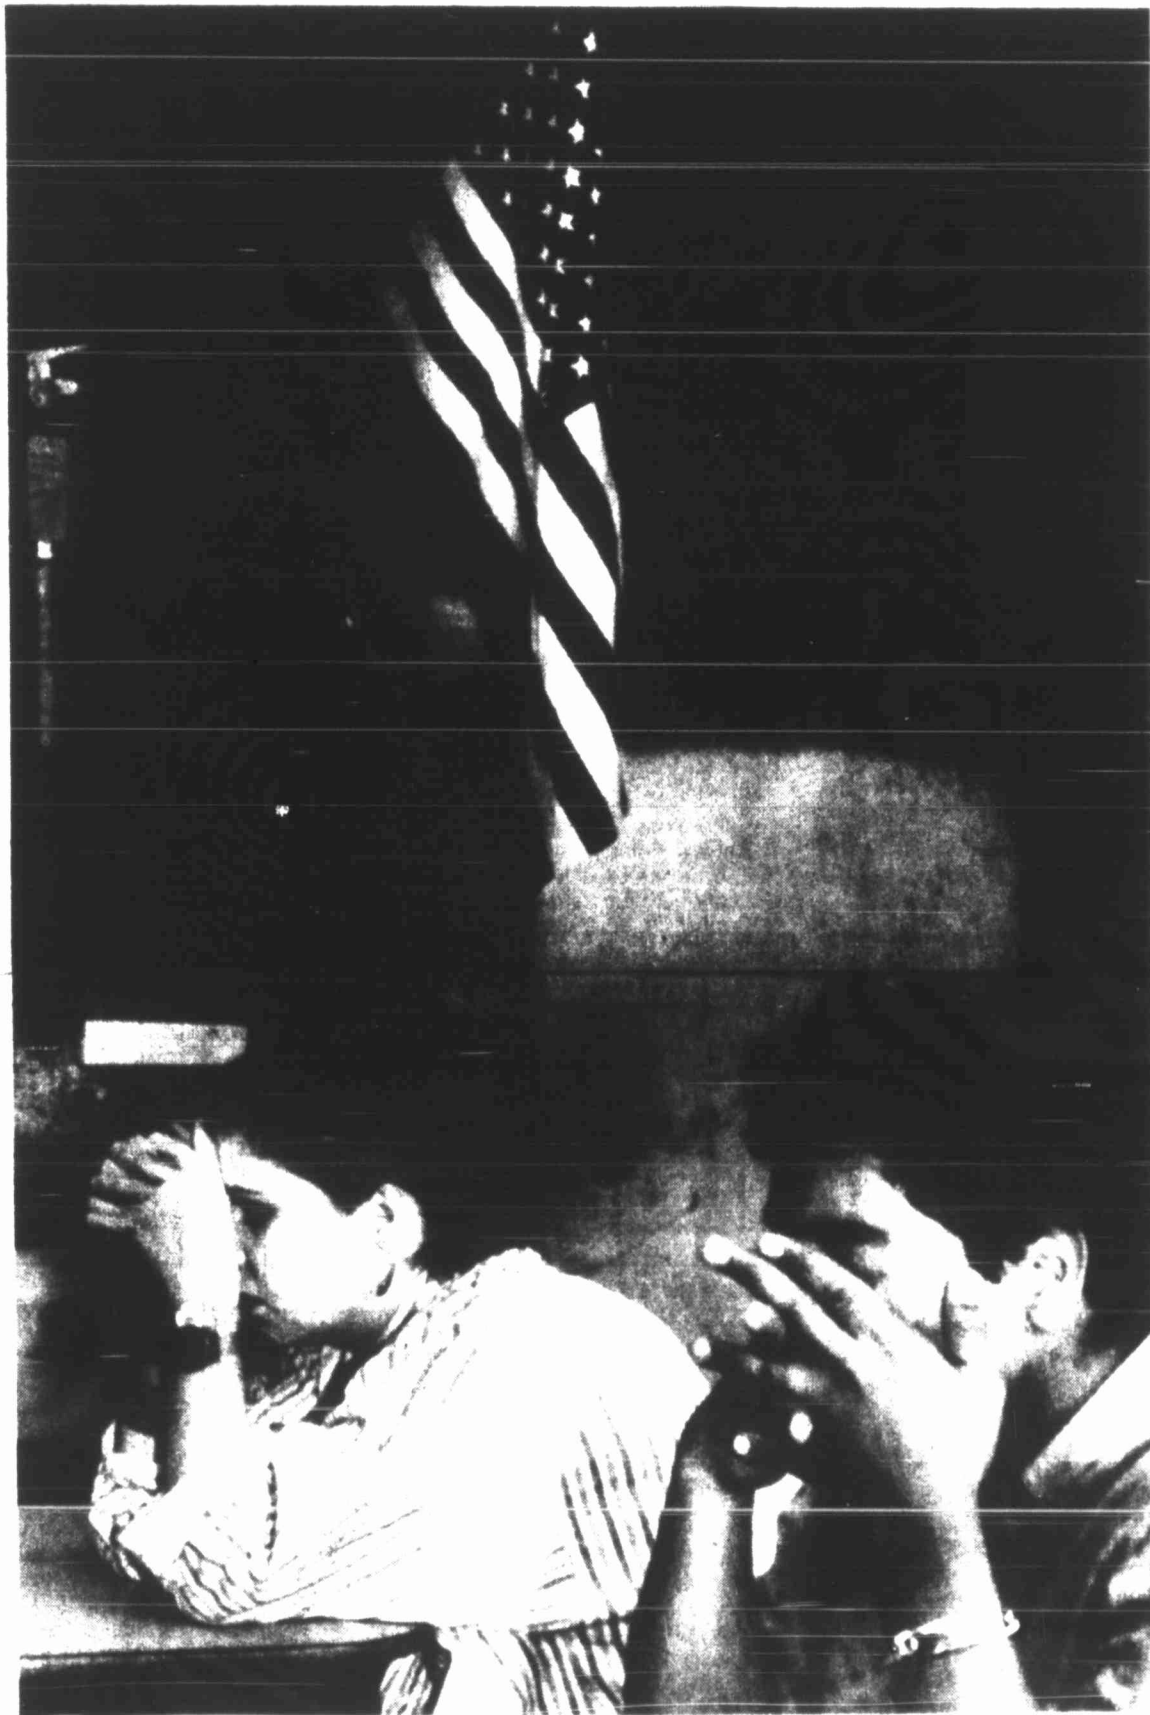

The search area is between 50 and 130 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral, the water between 70 and 200 feet deep. Although the explosion occurred 10 miles high and 8 miles southeast of the launch pad, the shuttle's nearly 2,000 mph momentum propelled the wreckage much farther out over water.

A few pieces "five or 10 feet long" were spotted, but most of the recovered items were thermal tiles, about 30,000 of which covered the shuttle to protect it from reentry heat, said Col. John Shults, director of Defense Department contingency operations.

The debris will be examined in a hangar at nearby Patrick Air Force Base.

The investigation could take months, just as it did after America's only other space pro-

Students express concern

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

Big Spring students who witnessed the space shuttle explosion on television Tuesday morning exhibited reactions ranging from "stunned" to "a little upset," principals said today.

Older children were somewhat upset by the incident, but for the younger children "the reality didn't soak in," said Kentwood Elementary School Principal Wendell Ware. Not all grades watched the space shuttle launch, he said, and no kindergarteners viewed it.

Younger students may not have realized the difference between the reality of the space shuttle explosion and the make-believe of Star Wars or Rambo, he said.

Television sets were turned off at the point of the explosion, he said. Students were told "there had been a major malfunction" and the spacecraft had exploded. It was explained to them that "even in this day and time there are people who make sacrifices for scientific advancement. Often we take these things for granted," he said.

"I had (calls from) some concerned parents," said Bauer Magnet School Principal Jean Broughton. Students at Bauer were not watching the episode, but it was being taped for later viewing, she said.

"We were very fortunate," she added.

She said she hasn't decided yet whether the taped shuttle episode will be shown to students. They have seen it many times on the news at home, she said, and "it's not a point to me to re-run what they have already seen." But the tape may fit into a learning situation, such as in science or social studies.

"I think this is something the parents should deal with rather than us," she said.

Runnels Junior High School principal Tom Henry said. "There was a lot of discussion among the students. You could hear them in the hall talking about it. One kid asked the teacher, 'Did the Russians shoot it down?'"

DWI repeat offender gets two more years

Staff and wire reports

AUSTIN — A Travis County court has extended by two years the jail time of a repeat DWI offender for a December 1984 accident that injured four former Big Spring residents.

An attorney for Lloyd Allen Huggins, 49, of Round Mountain said he expects the DWI sentence, added to an earlier 18-month term, will keep his client behind bars for about another year.

Huggins was convicted in Travis County court for driving while intoxicated on Dec. 24, 1984, that resulted in an accident outside of Austin.

Gordon Grinnan, 30, formerly of Big Spring remains in a coma at an Odessa nursing home as a result of the accident. His wife Mary, 28, and two of the couple's three sons, 5-year-old Brian and 3-year-old Michael, also were injured.

The family, who had recently moved to Austin, were returning home from a Christmas visit to Big Spring when the wreck occurred.

Huggins' attorney, Arthur Estefan of San Antonio, said time already served and overlapping sentences could lead to Huggins' early release from the Travis County jail.

Estefan said Huggins' guilty plea and sentence were the most recent chapter in a lengthy tale of drunken driving.

"This guy's got a serious problem," Estefan said.

Huggins, 50, of Blanco County was arrested for a Travis County DWI charge on Christmas Eve, 1984. Estefan said. The day after Christmas, Huggins had the wreck in which the injuries occurred and was again charged with DWI.

In May 1985, a Travis County jury found Huggins guilty in the first case and recommended a sentence of 18 months.

In August 1985, while Huggins was free pending appeal of his DWI page 2-A

Businessman Blackshear files for council position

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

Tim Blackshear, manager of a local oil field construction company, is the first candidate to file for a place on this year's city council ballot.

Blackshear, general manager of Earthco, announced Tuesday he will run for District 2 councilman at the urging of friends.

Councilman Larry Miller said earlier he will not run for reelection, leaving Blackshear as the only candidate so far to file for the seat.

Blackshear said Big Spring is in a good position for industrial expansion and "with the right leadership" that growth can be achieved. "I feel that my experience in business can help the city along," he said.

Blackshear said the city can attract industrial growth because "our location, the major highways, the buildings and land readily available for industrial growth" are already in place.

Referring to problems that loom ahead for the city, the candidate said: "Well, I don't see any big, immediate problems. We've always got problems like the sewage

City hikes taxi fares

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

The city council set higher taxi fares with the passage of an ordinance Tuesday night.

Under the ordinance rates will jump to $1.50 for the first one-fifth mile but will remain at the current 20 cents for each additional one-fifth mile and 25 cents for each added passenger.

Previously, it cost $1 for the first one-tenth mile.

In December, Big Spring Taxi Co.'s owner, David Mitchem, asked the council to increase fares twofold and hike the cost of each additional passenger to $1, saying that at current rates the business was a losing proposition.

Mitchem said this morning the cab company has been losing money because operations costs, the city's smaller population and the fare rate structure.

"I've been losing money since the last company left town," Mitchem said. "It's not a profitable organization and it needs to be."

High insurance and fuel costs are heavy financial burdens, he said.

Also, Mitchem said he did not understand why the council had denied a request to let him charge by the tenth of the mile instead of the fifth. He explained that he had just bought several new meters that calculate fares by the tenth.

gram tragedy, the launch pad fire that killed three Apollo astronauts 19 years ago this week. The Soviets have lost four cosmonauts in flight.

The Apollo fire, in a test, grounded astronauts for 21 months, and it was a warning as to what could happen to shuttle flights for many months. Jesse Moore, director of NASA's shuttle program, said a shuttle will not fly again until the cause of the accident is pinpointed and corrections made.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had planned a record 15 shuttle flights this year, and Challenger was on the second. The ship, making its 10th and final flight, had been the workhorse of a four-ship fleet.

Killed along with McAuliffe were commander Francis R. Scobee, 46; pilot Michael J. Smith, 40; Judith A. Resnik, 36; Ronald E. McNair, 35; Ellison S. Onizuka, 39, and Gregory B. Jarvis, 41.

Scobee, Miss Resnik, America's second woman in space; McNair, the nation's second black astronaut, and Onizuka, a Japanese-American, were making their second shuttle flights. Jarvis, an employee of Hughes Aircraft, was on the trip to conduct fluid dynamics tests developed by his company.

"We mourn seven heroes," a somber President Reagan told the nation.

Reagan delayed for one week his State of the Union speech, which had been scheduled for Tuesday night, and ordered American flags to be flown at half staff through Monday on public buildings and military installations.

At the president's request, Vice President George Bush flew to Cape Canaveral to offer condolences to the families of the astronauts, who watched in horror as Challenger was transformed into a raging fireball.

There was no immediate explanation for the accident.

Mission Control reported there had been no indication of any problem with the shuttle's three main, liquid-powered engines, its twin solid-fuel rocket boosters or any other system. Officials said the shuttle just suddenly blew apart and that radio data ceased at 74 seconds.

The absence of any concrete radio information could hamper the investigation, especially if no large parts of the destroyed shuttle can be recovered. In the case of the Apollo fire, the spacecraft was on the ground, and the evidence was there to examine.

"Data from all the shuttle instrumentation, photographs, launch pad systems, hardware, cargo, ground support systems, and even notes made by any member of the launch team and flight ops (operations) team are being impounded," said shuttle director Moore.

He named an interim investigation team headed by Kennedy Space Center director Richard Smith, and said NASA acting administrator William R. Graham would soon name a formal review board.

"At 11:40 a.m. this morning, the space program experienced a national tragedy," Moore said.

The explosion occurred as Scobee was throttling the main engines back to maximum thrust after dropping them to 65 percent to reduce forces of gravity on the ship. It took place just after the spaceship drove through an area where wind and other atmospheric forces exert maximum pressure on its outside.

"Roger, go at throttle up," reported Smith as the thrust increased. Those were the last words from the spacecraft.

Grand jury to hear murder cases

Two November murder cases were among 26 cases presented to Howard County grand jurors Tuesday morning in the county courthouse.

Assistant District Attorney Robert Morris said he expects the grand jury to announce their decisions sometime this afternoon.

"I don't anticipate any sealed indictments," Morris said.

One case involves the murder of Jimmy Yanez, 19, who was shot to death in his car in the 800 block of W. Fourth on Nov. 19.

Yanez, of 1009 W. Eighth, died from loss of blood in the emergency room of Malone-Hogan Hospital.

Police hours later arrested Preston Virgil Crawford, 33, of 3606 Calvin at his home and charged him with murder. He was released from county jail on a $750,000 bond posted by Bob Moore.

Yanez was taken to the hospital by Ruben Gonzales of 1009 1/2 W. Eighth, who witnessed the shooting.

Gonzales told police he and another man were passengers in the car driven by Yanez. An argument broke out between Yanez and the other passenger before the shooting took place, according to police reports.

The three men had met shortly before the shooting and had been seen together in other places, according to police reports.

Yanez was killed with a .380 caliber automatic, police said.

According to police reports, officers working the case located evidence linking Crawford to the killing.

No one involved would give a motive for the shooting, Police Lt. Jerry Edwards said after Crawford's arrest.

Another murder case to be decided by grand jurors involves a 37-year-old Knott man arrested by Howard County sheriff's deputies Nov. 18 in the Greyhound Bus Station at 315 Runnels.

Feliciano Zamora, 37, was charged with murdering his estranged wife, Maria Isabel Zamora, 28, of 2308 Marshall two days before his arrest at the Latin Quarter on Highway 350 north of Big Spring.

Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin, who pronounced her dead at the scene, ruled the incident was homicide.

A witness said an argument had begun when Zamora refused to dance with her estranged husband. The argument escalated into a fight that was stopped by patrons, the witness said.

Zamora then left the tavern and returned about a half-hour later when he allegedly shot his wife, the witness said.

According to sheriff's reports, the suspect fled the scene after the shooting.

A two-day manhunt conducted by Howard County sheriff's deputies with the assistance of the Department of Public Safety and the U.S. Border Patrol resulted in Zamora's arrest.

Grand jurors also will decide the following cases:

- William J. Barber, 21, of 612 Caylor who is charged with burglary of a building that occurred Nov. 9
- A person charged with sexual assault that occurred Oct. 10
- Charles Brown, age and address unlisted, who is charged with forgery that occurred Oct. 24
- Anthony Bullard, 31, of 4203 Walnut who is charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle that occurred July 20

charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon that occurred Dec. 1

• Yolanda Carillo, 33, of 1306 W. Second who is charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon that occurred Oct. 31

• James Robert Dyson, 34, of Lubbock who is charged with theft of more than $750 that occurred Feb. 2

• Darryl Ellison, 20, of Lubbock who is charged with forgery by passing that occurred Sept. 9

• Jacob Gilbrecht, age and address unlisted, who is charged with criminal mischief that occurred Sept. 27

• Andy Guzman, 20, of 1501 Stadium who is charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle that occurred Nov. 6

• James Curtis Hayes, 23, of 1022 N. Main No. 63 who is charged with burglary of a building that occurred Nov. 7

• Calvin Miller, age and address unlisted, who is charged with aggravated assault that occurred July 27

• Dennis Page, 21, of Hillside Trailer Park No. 2 who is charged with burglary of a building that occurred Sept. 1

• Steve Phillips, 19, of 1504 Kentucky Way who is charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle that occurred March 15

• Gary Monty Prater, 38, no address given, who is charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle on Sept. 30, 1984

• Anita Suggs, 27, of 2807 Navajo who is charged with injury to a child that occurred Oct. 11

• Geron Lee White, 31, of Gall Route Box 205 who is charged with burglary of a building that occurred Nov. 9

Man nabbed in New Mexico is suspect in area burglaries

A man believed to be responsible for burglaries and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle offenses in Howard and Mitchell counties was arrested Tuesday in Eddy County, N.M.

Eddy County sheriff's deputies arrested William George Wilder, 33, of address unknown, according to a teletype message received in the Howard County sheriff's office Tuesday afternoon.

The man had jewelry that matched items stolen during a burglary in Sand Springs last weekend, said Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard.

Eugene Roadie of Route 1 Box 526 had reported the theft of a yellow gold ring with a single diamond valued at $500 and a silver watch with a gold band valued at $250. Standard said the New Mexico deputies also recovered a vehicle that matches the description of a 1981 Datsun reported stolen from the driveway of Jim Burgess's home in Sand Springs sometime Saturday night.

The suspect also is wanted in Mitchell County in connection with a stolen car and other burglary offenses, Standard said.

Standard said Wilder is being detained in Carlsbad, N.M., where he has been charged with two house burglaries and one aggravated burglary in that state.

"We'll have to take our turn in line," Standard said about arraignment Wilder in Howard and Mitchell counties.

Sheriff's Log

Man's probation modified

Howard County sheriff's deputies released Steven Edward Norman, 27, of Abilene from county jail Tuesday afternoon on orders from District Judge James Gregg, who modified the conditions of the defendant's probation.

Norman was arrested by Taylor County sheriff's deputies Nov. 22 on a Howard County warrant for violation of probation he received after pleading guilty to unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

• Deputies released Frank L. Galaviz, 17, of Coahoma from county jail Monday morning after he served time and paid a remaining balance fine received from a driving while license suspended conviction Monday.

• Deputies released Steve Truitt Ayers Jr., 28, of Sterling City Route Box 75 from county jail Tuesday night. He was arrested by police for violating the terms of a peace bond.

• Deputies arrested Gerald Capehart, 47, of P.O. Box 3831 after on a warrant from the county attorney's office for selling an alcoholic beverage to a minor.

• He was released on a $1,500 bond.

• Police transferred Roy Ford Humphreys, 19, of 603 George to county jail after he was arrested on a theft charge.

He was released on $500 bond.

dinance, Councilman Russ McEwen said the rate structure coincided with fares of other area towns. He said he saw no reason to change the ordinance as it was written.

Near the end of the session, the council was addressed by Pat Deanda, president of the League of United Latin American Citizens Local 4375, who asked for a repeal of the city's nepotism policy. She specifically asked councilman Henry Sanchez if he had thought about repealing the policy.

"This is an ordinance that the city has had for as long as I can remember and it has worked," Sanchez said. "I know of several places where they do not have a nepotism law, and they have a lot of people there that disagree with (nepotism)."

After the meeting Deanda said she will support the fire union's effort to repeal the city's nepotism policy.

In other business the council:

- Passed on final reading a resolution authorizing the mayor to execute a grant from the Federal Aviation Administration for the second phase of improvements to McMahon-Wrinkle Airpark.

• Denied a request by Victor Garcia for a permit to keep a number of chickens at his residence.

• Approved a request by Main Street Project director Teri Quinones to use the municipal parking lot at Second and Main Street for a Statue of Liberty Exhibit.

• Accepted the annual city audit prepared by Lee, Reynolds and Welch.

• Approved on first reading a resolution authorizing the mayor to apply to the state's Criminal Justice Division for a crime prevention grant. The proposed grant for the city's crime prevention program is $22,707, or 40 percent of the $56,766 cost of operating the program.

• Approved on first reading a resolution authorizing the mayor to execute a lease agreement for building No. 1103 at the Airpark to Freecom Inc.

• Instructed the city attorney to draft an ordinance instructing the city to pay all overtime on a cash basis and eliminate all compensatory time.

sentence, he was arrested on a Blanco County DWI charge, Estefan said.

"At that point, we decided it was not good to have this man on the street, and we dropped our appeal," Estefan said.

Huggins went to jail and Blanco

County prosecutors agreed to drop their charges if Huggins would plead guilty to the second Travis County charge.

Estefan said Huggins' driver's license has been revoked, but the court did not require him to receive counseling for alcohol abuse.

Government funds allocated

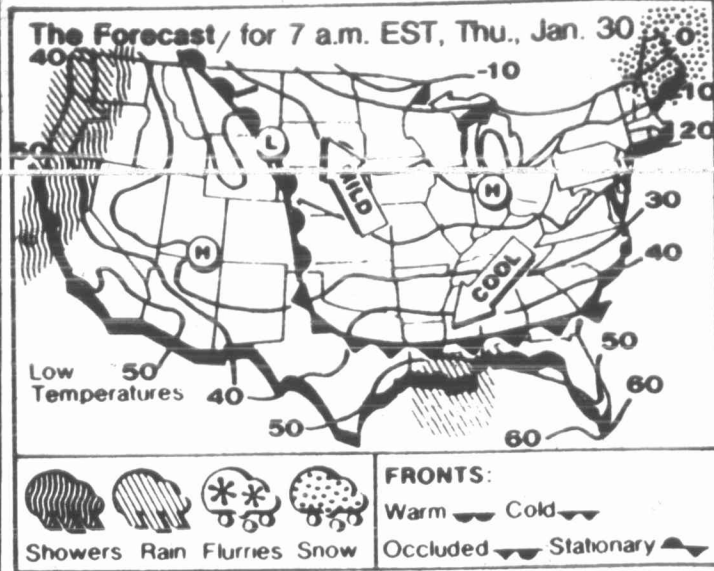

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell County commissioners made tentative allocations at a revenue-sharing budget workshop Tuesday afternoon.

County Judge Bill Carter said the county should receive about $142,680. "We still have not heard from Washington yet as to what our total allocations will be, but we have received the first payment," he said.

The tentative allocations were for: ambulance service, $26,000; city police dispatcher fees for after-hour use, $5,000; and volunteer fire department, $20,000, which includes $13,000 for the purchase of a power take-off pump for the Westbrook fire department.

Commissioners also set aside $23,000 for two new vehicles requested by Sheriff Wendell Bryant for his department.

Weather

Forecast

WEST TEXAS: Sunny through Thursday. Lows tonight 31 Panhandle to 41 southeast and mid 20s mountains. Highs Thursday 65 Panhandle to 73 Permian Basin and near 80 Big Bend valleys.

State

Texas remained under the influence of high pressure aloft today with generally clear skies statewide. A weak cold front cut through the northwest portion of the state extending from east of Wichita Falls to near Midland.

Temperatures fell into the upper 30s from the Red River Valley westward into the South Plains and Panhandle. Readings were also in the 30s over far West Texas, with the remainder of the state mainly in the 40s and 50s. Overnight temperatures varied from 36 at El Paso to 62 at Brownsville.

Behind the front, winds shifted to the north at speeds of 5 to 15 mph. Elsewhere, southerly winds of about 5 to 15 mph prevailed.

The National Weather Service said skies should remain mostly fair statewide through tonight. Lows tonight should range from the 30s north and west to near 50 in South Texas.

disposal system and the sanitary landfill. Things like that are problems of not only Big Spring but problems of other towns too."

Employee relations, he said, is another area where problem-solving skills are useful.

"A city that employs that many people is just like any other business. There's going to be employee problems," he said. "I feel that my experience in business can maybe help to solve some of those problems."

Besides his business experience, Blackshear sees himself as having some other qualifications for the job.

"I feel that I can have an open mind to the people," he said. "I feel like I can listen to their requests and (give them) a reasonable answer or find out a reasonable answer for the problems... before it becomes a major issue."

Local college enrollment up

Howard College enrollment is up about 10 percent over last spring, president Bob Riley said Tuesday. "It's a real strong enrollment," he said. "It couldn't be better."

This semester 1,248 students have enrolled, up from 1,132 last spring.

Riley said he has no explanation for the increase, but it could be partly due to students who had gone to universities for the fall semester and are returning to Howard College. The new cosmetology courses may also have contributed to the enrollment increase, he said.

Riley said he anticipates an even larger enrollment next year.

"We know our dorms will be full," he said. "We will probably be asking people in the community to help us house some students."

Man pleads guilty to DWLS

A Fort Worth man pleaded guilty in Howard County court Tuesday morning to driving while license suspended.

Victor Albert Royer Jr., 26, was arrested Friday by Tarrant County sheriff's deputies on a warrant from Howard County. He was transferred to Howard County jail after his arrest.

County Judge Milton Kirby fined Royer $100, $96 court costs and credited him for a 12-day jail sentence.

Arms sale sought

WASHINGTON — The Reagan administration wants to sell $500 million in radar and navigation equipment to China and plans to renew a pitch to sell arms to Saudi Arabia, officials say.

At the same time, the officials said, the administration is debating whether to withdraw a controversial $1.9 billion proposed arms sale to Jordan rather than face outright congressional rejection of the plan.

The proposed arms sale to China would be the United States' biggest military deal yet with Peking, said Edward Ross, a China specialist in the Defense Department's International Security Affairs Office.

Increased aid proposed

WASHINGTON — Despite mandated spending cuts, President Reagan plans to seek a nearly 9 percent increase in foreign aid in his upcoming budget, including a 33 percent jump in military assistance programs and a 25 percent hike for Central American allies, according to an internal document.

The 16-page State Department paper, dated last Friday and obtained by The Associated Press, proposes $16.2 billion in worldwide foreign aid in fiscal year 1987, compared with $14.9 billion for the budget year that ends Sept. 30. That is an 8.8 percent increase.

Girls killed in mishaps

BARNSTABLE, Mass. — A young girl was run over by a school bus, apparently after crawling under it to retrieve a mitten or an apple that had fallen out of her sister's lunch box.

In the other accident Tuesday morning, a 5-year-old girl in the Boston suburb of Braintree was killed when she was struck by a bus across the street from her home.

Psychiatrists fear emotional stress on kids

NEW YORK (AP) — School children may have especially strong emotional reactions to the tragic explosion of Challenger because it carried someone they could identify with — schoolteacher Christa McAuliffe, child psychiatrists say.

"One would expect it would have more effect on children, because it was a schoolteacher," said Dr. Lenore Terry, a pioneer in the study of post-traumatic stress in children.

"We don't know scientifically what to expect because no one has studied a large group of children who witnessed something, but we have enough information to know that a number of children will probably be quite upset by what they saw," said Terry, a child psychiatrist at the University of California-San Francisco who studied 26 children kidnapped in a Chowchilla, Calif., school bus in 1976.

"Some of the ways they will show it is they will have nightmares or they will have new fears they never had before — going to bed at night or getting on an airplane," she said Tuesday in a telephone interview.

Dr. Spencer Eth, who recently edited a book on stress in children, said the utterly unexpected nature of the tragedy will also intensify the effect.

"One of the critical variables is the degree to which the child was prepared," said Eth. "In this case, nobody was prepared, and that makes the event all the more overwhelming, all the more difficult to cope with."

"Children's reactions vary according to their proximity to the event — their emotional involvement with the victim and their proximity in a physical sense — how close they actually were to the disaster," Eth said when interviewed by telephone. He is a child psychiatrist at the University of Southern California and the University of California-Los Angeles.

He said children's reaction will likely be comparable to the response of children following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, even though that was not seen on television.

"We know from work done at that time that many, many children were affected," he said. "And it happened after all the prominent assassinations — Martin Luther King and the others."

Senior class president Carina Dolcino is stunned by the news that the space shuttle carrying Concord High School teacher Christa McAuliffe exploded Tuesday shortly after launch. Students at the school watched the launch on television sets scattered throughout the school. A gala celebration had been planned for a successful launch.

Psychologist Joyce Brothers said the tragedy could have "nightmarish effects" on children.

"There was a great identification with this. Because of this high level of excitement, the horror was even greater," Ms. Brothers said. "Almost every child will have this in their dreams."

About 2½ million children were preparing to watch McAuliffe's planned lessons from space as part of the Classroom Earth project, said Walt Westrum, the project's executive director. Many were in classrooms watching Challenger's flight when it was destroyed in a fireball moments after liftoff.

Some children may relieve their emotional distress through play, as children did in Chowchilla, Terr said. "After the Chowchilla kidnapping, 25 or 30 children on the playground every day played kidnapping tag."

Parents should watch to see whether their children play new games in which words like space shuttle or astronaut are overheard, Terr said, and parents should talk to their children about their feelings.

Rather than quizzing children, parents should describe their own feelings "and the child will probably join right in," she said.

Peres ends tour

BERLIN — Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres wound up his nine-day European tour today in the divided German city of Berlin, where Adolf Hitler plotted the annihilation of millions of European Jews.

Peres' itinerary included a visit to West Berlin's Jewish community, the largest in Germany with 6,300 members. Before Hitler came to power in 1933, Berlin had 170,000 Jewish citizens, many of whom perished in the Holocaust.

Pope to visit India

VATICAN CITY — Pope John Paul II is taking a message of peace and unity to India, but he faces the divisive issues of birth control and the role of the Roman Catholic church in the predominantly Hindu nation.

The pontiff departs Friday on the 10-day visit, his longest ever to a non-Christian nation, that includes a gruelling schedule covering 12,000 miles and 14 cities.

The Rev. Roberto Tucci, the "advance man" for John Paul's trips, told reporters that the tour is being made to promote dialogue with non-Christians and unity among Christians.

Israeli soldiers killed

TEL AVIV, Israel — At least one Palestinian guerrilla infiltrated from Jordan and shot dead two Israeli soldiers today near a border settlement in the occupied West Bank, military sources said.

The guerrilla was killed and two other soldiers were wounded in the attack near the settlement of Mehola, two miles west of the Jordan River in the territory Israel captured from Jordan in 1967, according to the sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Opponents denounced

DAVAO, Philippines — President Ferdinand E. Marcos today accused his opponents in next month's presidential election of waging a campaign of propaganda and character assassination against him.

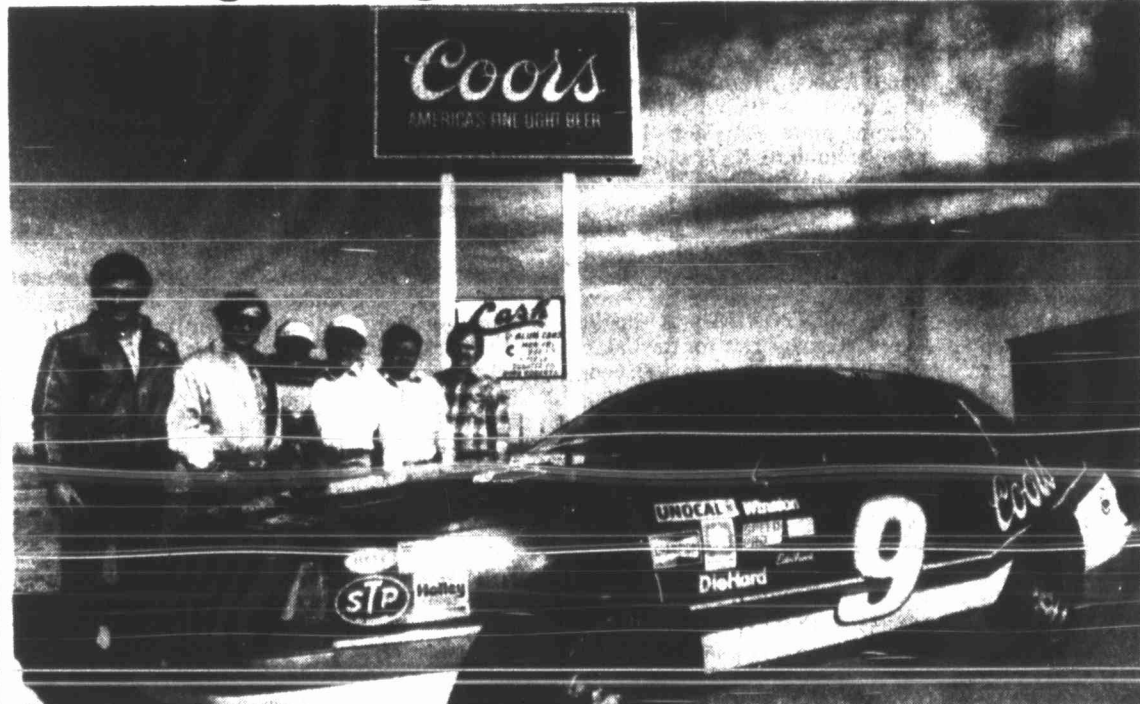

Meanwhile, in Manila a lawyer for Marcos' ruling party opposed a petition to let foreign journalists enter polling centers during the Feb. 7 balloting, saying it would be tantamount to allowing foreign intervention.

Uganda gets new chief

KAMPALA, Uganda — Rebel commander Yoweri Museveni was sworn in as president of Uganda today, pledging to promote democracy and protect human rights in a country torn by 20 years of coups, massacres and tribal fighting.

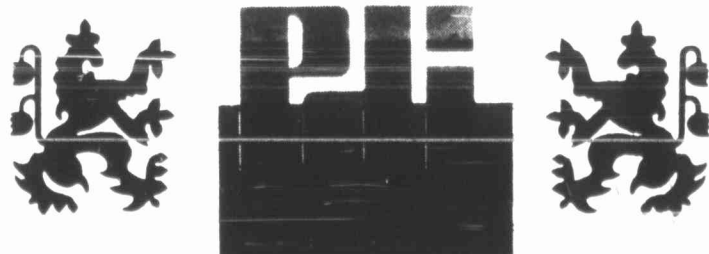

Museveni, a former defense minister whose five-year bush war led to the capture of Kampala last Saturday, took an oath of office from British-born Chief Justice Peter Allen to the cheers of thousands of onlookers.

Tax cheat must be dealt with

A man who has made a fortune by selling fancy leather goods to Americans has confessed in a New York federal court that he cheated on his income tax to the tune of millions.

Aldo Gucci, 80, whose retailing empire stretches from his native Italy to Beverly Hills, Calif., had tears in his eyes when he admitted his guilt. He promised to repay the U.S. Treasury the $7.8 million he owes.

He admitted that he had used various devices to divert income from Gucci Shops Inc. to himself and other members of his family from 1977 to 1982, without reporting it as taxable income. He said he was talked into the scheme by his accountant, who has died.

The Gucci family has been in the leather business since the 15th century. The defendant is the only surviving son of Guccio Gucci, who opened a saddlery in Florence, Italy, in 1906. The company's trademark is the father's twin-G initials.

Standing before the federal judge, Gucci expressed his shame and his love of this country, which has been his residence since 1977. He could be sent to prison for five years and fined up to $30,000. Gucci will be sentenced April 8.

Tax cheats cost the U.S. government $100 billion a year. Gucci, who has gained untold wealth in this country, is just another tax cheat, and he should be punished for his crime despite his age.

It's NFL job to go after scalpers

In Chicago, which regularly records nearly two murders a day, the state attorney general last week set out to protect the citizenry by launching a resolute attack on ticket scalping.

The crackdown came just before the Super Bowl. For a few days, diehard Bears fans had been naked to the threat posed by outrageously overpriced seats on the 50-yard line. An assistant attorney general reported that one local scalping operation had prices starting at $600 — compared to a top price of $75 charged by the National Football League. In New Orleans, he said, four tickets had been sold for $2,000 each.

But thanks to a court order preventing several scalpers from doing business, the threat was considerably reduced. If the state decides to really get tough, it could subject the alleged lawbreakers to the full force of the law, which carries a criminal penalty of up to $5,000 in fines.

In considering the wisdom of making certain practices illegal, an illuminating approach is to ask the obvious question: Who is the victim? In this case, contrary to what the attorney general thinks, it's not the buyers. They spend the money because they think the game is worth it.

Obviously, they'd be better off if they could get tickets at the official price. But not everyone is lucky enough to do that. Those who are, though, don't have to use their tickets. They could sell them to someone more interested in the game. If they can get only the official price of $75, they may prefer to go themselves. But if they can make several hundred dollars or more by not going, they'll be more inclined to watching it on TV.

Those are two crucial functions of prices: to encourage suppliers to give buyers what they want and to allocate goods and services to those who value them most. But to do these, the prices have to be set to balance the supply with the demand. The NFL, however, sets the prices of Super Bowl tickets considerably lower, presumably to avoid the public relations damage of charging six figures for an afternoon's diversion.

A free market price undoubtedly would be far less than the outrageous figures quoted above. The reason is that, by the NFL's count, only about 20 percent of Super Bowl tickets are scalped. So 100 percent of the excess demand is channeled into bidding for 20 percent of the supply. If all tickets were sold to their true value, the price would settle somewhere between the official price and the black market price.

What the league charges to attend its premier event is, of course, its business. What conditions it puts on the sale of its tickets — like the prohibition on resale for more than the original price — is also for the league to decide. The problem is that its silly policy is enforced at public expense.

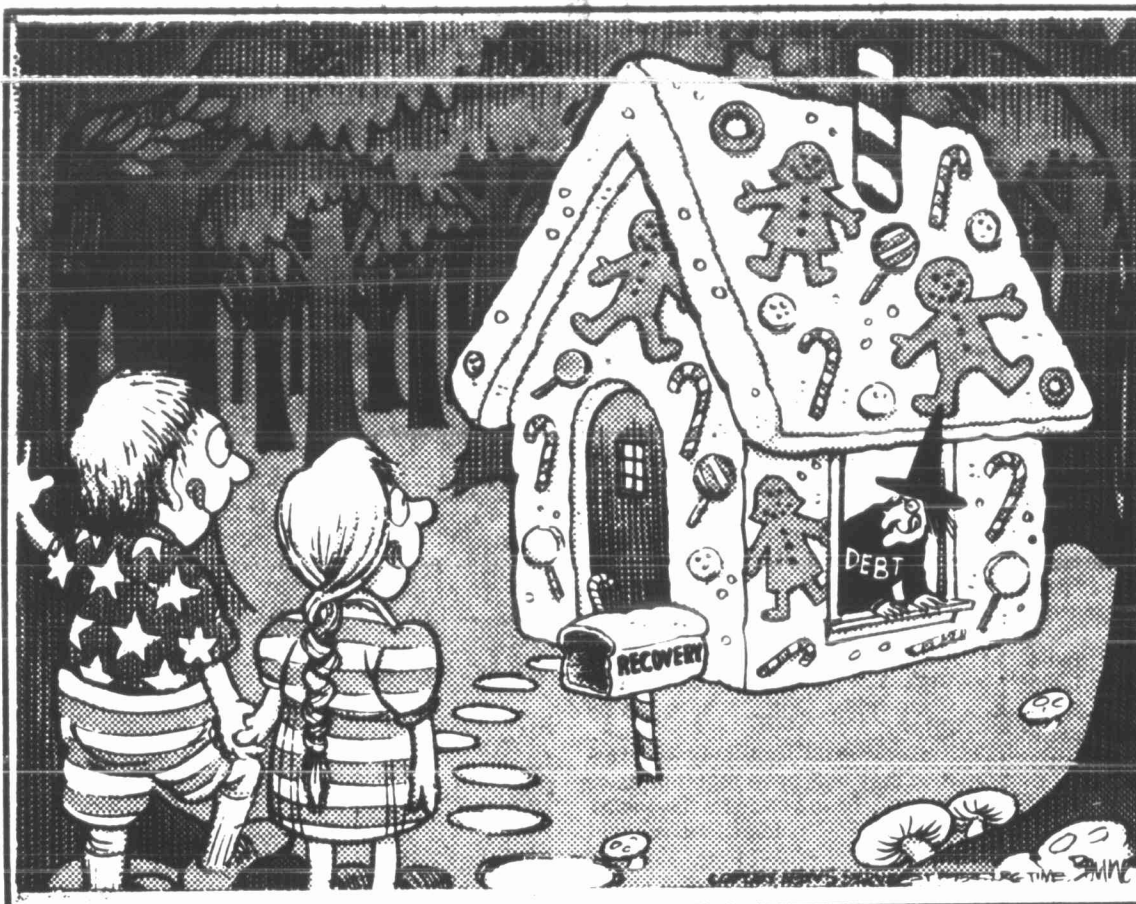

At worst, scalping is a violation of a contract by the ticket buyer. Breachers of contract normally are punished or remedied not by criminal prosecution but by civil action. If I buy a refrigerator on credit and then persistently refuse to make the payments, the appliance store doesn't call the attorney general to have me thrown in jail — it sues me. If the NFL wanted to, it could do the same with ticket scalpers.

That wouldn't be cheap or easy, but it wouldn't be impossible either. After all, a lot of scalpers advertise in the newspapers — that's how the Illinois attorney general found those it put out of business.

There are other clues. At last year's Super Bowl, league officials noticed a lot of people wearing San Francisco warmup jackets sitting in the Miami section. "You can assume those tickets were scalped," says Jim Steeg, director of special events for the NFL. But the league, he says, "has never explored" the possibility of civil action.

That ought to change. There is no reason for the taxpayers of Illinois to finance an anti-scalping crusade which does nothing to help the typical sports fan and benefits no one except the politician who authorized it. If the NFL wants to stamp out scalping, let the league use its own resources. Faced with the cost and aggravation of enforcing a ridiculous policy, it might adopt a more realistic one.

Tobacco trade, AMA ready for showdown

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA
WASHINGTON — Two of the most effective lobbying leviathans in Washington — the tobacco industry and the American Medical Association — have locked horns in an epic battle for the hearts and minds of Congress.

The AMA, belatedly waking up to the fact that smoking has been killing its patients at an undiminished rate despite the 15-year ban on television cigarette advertising, now wants to extend the prohibition to the print media and sports promotion. The tobacco industry, facing ruin if it is forbidden to advertise, is working the corridors of Congress with its usual skill, if not outright desperation.

Largely forgotten — and understandably not mentioned by the AMA in its declaration of war on the weed — is the embarrassing fact that the tobacco industry and organized medicine were as thick as thieves 22 years ago when the first mandatory restraints on cigarette advertising were being proposed.

Dr. William Hotchkiss, the AMA chairman, said the association wants a ban on all tobacco advertising because "physicians can't bear to watch their patients die from diseases that can be prevented." But in 1964, the AMA was made of sterner stuff. Dreading (needlessly, as it turned out) the enactment of Medicare with its regulation of doctors' fees, the AMA struck a deal with the tobacco lobby: In return for help fighting Medicare, the AMA would conduct its own study of tobacco and health. Six cigarette companies gladly gave the AMA a $10 million research grant on Feb. 7, 1964.

Three weeks later, the AMA announced that cigarettes should not be labeled a health hazard. It even adopted the tobacco industry's favorite argument by saying: "The economic lives of tobacco growers, processors and merchants are entwined in the industry; and local, state and federal governments are the recipients of and dependent upon many millions of dollars of tax revenue" from the tobacco industry.

Thus by official declaration, the AMA put the economic health of the tobacco industry ahead of the physical health of the medical profession's patients. That done, the medical establishment went to sleep for 22 years.

To its credit, the AMA has focused on the crucial point now that it has awakened: The required surgeon general's warning in cigarette advertising simply hasn't worked. An astonishing number of Americans are apparently unaware of many of the risks that smoking poses to their health.

"While most people know about lung cancer, not many people are aware of emphysema and chronic bronchitis, much less attacks of heart disease and stroke," Hotchkiss told our associate Tony Capaccio. He said the AMA, which accepted the TV advertising ban of 1971 as an effective measure, "felt we weren't accomplishing very much and needed to take (the ban) all the way."

The Tobacco Institute disputes the AMA's view of public ignorance. "Public knowledge of the specific asserted hazards of smoking is pervasive," it states, quoting a recent U.S. Public Health Service study indicating that 95 percent of men and women believe smoking increases the risk of lung cancer.

One leading cigarette company, Brown & Williamson, argues the point this way: "Whether or not an adult individual becomes a cigarette smoker is a matter of personal choice made with awareness of the hazards that have been attributed to the product."

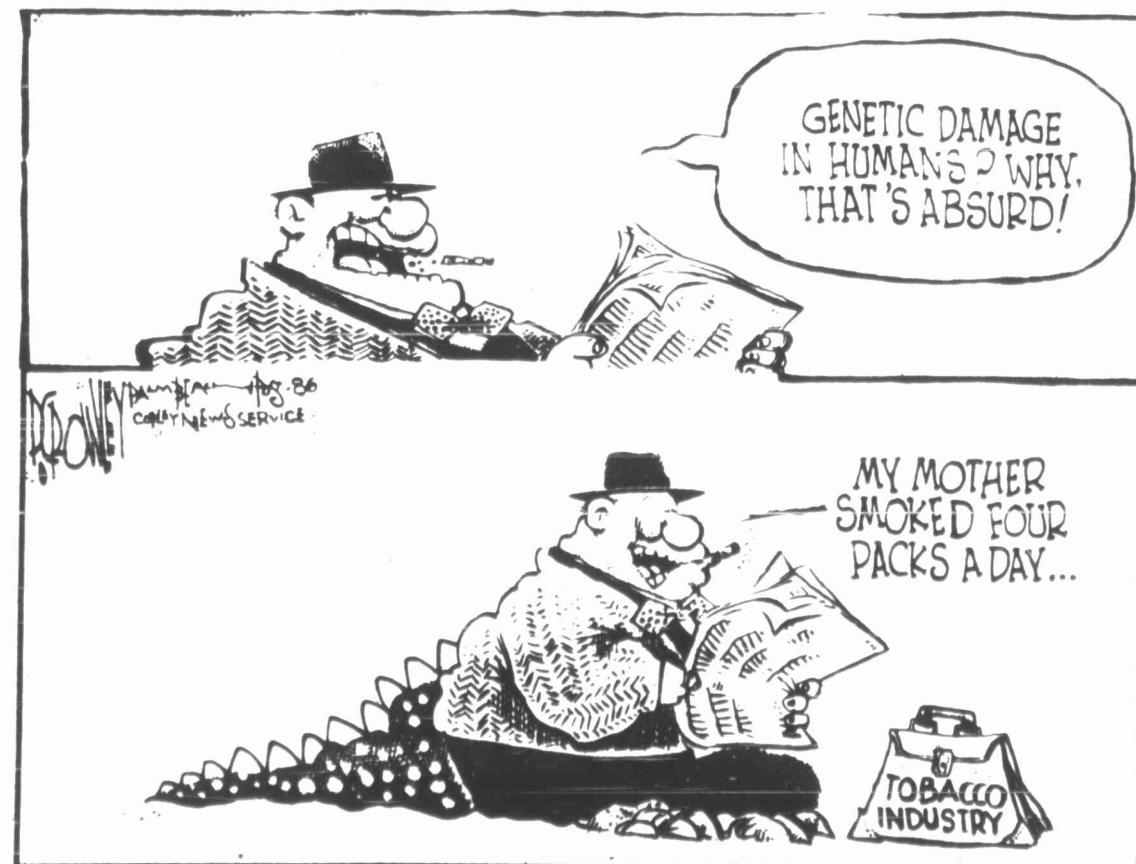

Interestingly, a confidential survey commissioned by Brown & Williamson in 1977 supports the AMA's view, not the company's. A confidential Federal Trade Commission staff report made the following points regarding the study:

- The survey "found that 15 percent of the sample and 25 percent of smokers did not believe that smokers die younger than non-smokers."
- "According to the study ... 22 percent of the population does not know that smoking increases the risk of cancer of any type. Among smokers, 32 percent of the sample did not know of the cancer risk."
- "23 percent of the sample and 38 percent of smokers believed that 'They still haven't proven that smoking causes lung cancer.'" And 38 percent of the population didn't know that smoking increases the risk of heart attack.

CONFIDENTIAL FILE: Corazon Aquino has a tough enough fight trying to unseat Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos next month, but her running-mate, Salvador "Doy" Laurel is hardly the ideal candidate. He is widely regarded as a playboy; in fact, some Filipinos refer to a woman-chasing spendthrift as "a Laurel man." Our sources say this has hurt the already-slim victory chances of the widow of assassinated opposition leader Benigno Aquino.

MINI-EDITORIAL: A tip of the hat to Pat Clawson, a reporter for the Cable News Network and a stubborn believer in the people's right to know what their public servants are up to. The other day, about 40 print and TV reporters had gathered for a routine press briefing by officials of the President's Commission on Organized Crime. But when a commission spokesman announced that the briefing was "on background" and barred cameras and tape recorders, Clawson erupted. He demanded the briefing be on-the-record. Inspired by his outburst, other reporters declined the "background" — and the session went on-the-record.

Prison is prison, but it's neighborly

To the editor:
I read with interest the January 26th article written by Scott Fitzgerald regarding the Federal Prison Camp. We appreciate the positive thrust of Mr. Fitzgerald's article.

The article is quite accurate; however, it may give some persons the wrong impression as to what our main mission is. The potential confusion is created by the semantic interpretation of, "We are a community service agency."

To avoid confusion regarding our operation, I would suggest we would be best described as a "public service agency" versus a "community service agency." We provide a public service by virtue of our fundamental existence as a prison, and although we have assisted with community activities in the past, these things were done in an effort to be a good neighbor. They were not done in an effort to meet our mission.

First and foremost, we are a prison. Our main mission is to confine convicted federal felons in a safe and humane atmosphere and in an environment which is conducive to positive change.

Additionally, as a Prison Camp, we provide confinement for criminals at a reduced cost over more secure facilities. We should not be confused with community service agencies or civic improvement groups. We do feel, however, that we have been a good neighbor and we intend to do our best to keep it that way.

Police department is top-notch outfit

To the editor:

This is a letter of accommodation and thanks to the Big Spring Police Department on a job extremely well done. Our house was recently burglarized while we were out of town. Our police responded quickly and did a very professional and thorough investigation of our home and the crime.

Our car was stolen along with many personal items. The theft occurred on Friday night and by early Saturday, the police had everything entered into their computer. But Monday morning, the police called to say that our car had been recovered and one of the suspects was under arrest.

They have been recovering some items by searching pawn shops, throughout Texas where the thieves stopped on their escape route. The other suspect has been identified and should be arrested, soon.

It's a terribly scary feeling to be the victim of such a crime. But it's a really good feeling to have the crime solved by a competent police force and to know that your tax dollars are being well-spent.

The Big Spring Police helped make the best of a bad situation by being especially polite and understanding during the whole ordeal. They also kept us fully informed on the entire investigation.

A special thank you to Detective Bill Anderson and Detective Avery Faulkner for their fine work and extra efforts and to the entire police department on a job well done.

Dear Abby

Too many visitors make Christmas cheer a chore

DEAR ABBY: Your answer depends on whether I should apologize or not. My husband and I have three children. Both sets of grandparents live out of state, so we invited them to spend Christmas at our house. All four arrived on Dec. 23. On the 24th, my two brothers, their wives and a total of seven children arrived unannounced. (They live 275 miles from here.) They said they heard the folks would be here, and they wanted to see them, so they invited themselves to my house for Christmas.

My own mother and two sisters-in-law sat around talking to each other while my mother-in-law and I prepared the entire dinner for 20 people (11 of whom had not been invited). The two of us served the dinner and cleaned up while everyone else entertained themselves.

When I was hanging up my dish towel, I said to my mother-in-law, "Mom, I could use a good stiff drink and a little peace and quiet." She said, "Grab your coat. I'm buying." We filled in the hubbies, then Mom and I went to the neighborhood bar for a couple of drinks. When we got home, my mother said I owed my guests an apology. She said, "A gracious hostess doesn't walk out on her own party to get plastered somewhere else!"

Abby, I was not plastered, and don't think I owed anybody an apology. What do you think?

HAD IT WITH CHRISTMAS

DEAR HAD IT: Skip the apologies. You were understandably overworked and under a lot of pressure with a houseful of unexpected company, but instead of allowing them to sit around while you did all the work, you should have asked them to pitch in.

(Every teen-ager should know the truth about sex, drugs and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet, send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 and a long, stamped (39 cents) self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

Wedding

Anderson-Hutto

Mary Anderson and Bruce Sawyer Hutto exchanged wedding vows on Jan. 25 at St. Nicholas Episcopal Church in Midland with the Rev. Joseph Schley, Jr. officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of Borden County. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hutto of Big Spring.

The bride wore an ivory satin and silk knit gown. The gown featured a tea length satin pleated skirt, a long-sleeved silk sweater bodice designed with a V-neckline applied with ivory satin flowers.

She wore her mother's pearls and carried her father's prayer book topped with a small spray of Talisman roses.

The brides nieces, Sarah and Rebekah Bland, were attendants. The groom's father was best man.

Dr. Joan Lucas provided music for the ceremony.

A champagne brunch reception followed at the Midland Country Club. The bride's table was draped with an apricot cloth and centered with an ivory wedding cake, a silver punch bowl and a candelabra arranged with Talisman roses.

Following a brief wedding trip the couple will reside in Austin.

MRS. BRUCE SAWYER HUTTO...formerly Mary Anderson

The parents of the bridegroom hosted a dinner on Jan. 24 at the Racket Club in Midland.

The bride is a graduate of Brenau Academy in Gainesville, Ga., and the University of Texas in Austin. The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Texas A&M University.

Due to technical errors, the Anderson-Hutto wedding was run in Sunday's edition with a headline containing an error.

Dr. Donohue

Complex decision

Dear Dr. Donohue: As a doctor you must have been involved in decisions about nursing home admittance. My family is involved in just this problem at the moment. It involves an elderly family member. We've already made up our minds, and it is to have this person admitted for his own welfare. But I thought that there must be thousands of others facing such a difficult decision among your readers. Can't you give a few insights that could be of help? — J.E.A.

There's hardly a family today that is untouched by this issue of protective institutionalization of a loved one. You're right, I can speak from personal experience, as can millions of others.

Most will tell you that the decision rests on the resolution of several considerations. The important question involves medical care. Can it be delivered outside the home? And that question often involves the condition of the person and/or who will be tending him. For example, the degree of immobility and dependence on others is an important factor. Can the family tend to the bedside of a patient totally dependent on for basic needs and comfort?

Of secondary, but significant, consideration is the well-being of the rest of the family. Trying to deliver home care is never easy even in the best of circumstances. We can all cite examples of it being counterproductive for everyone concerned.

Third, the patient's personality can be an overriding factor. Even in the direst of clinical situations, patients retain personality formed during years of living. For some, the idea of an institutional atmosphere is abhorrent, even frightening. If possible, that kind of resistance is best met with sensitivity and careful introduction of the subject. Always, there should be assurance that the move, if decided on, is really vital for the patient's best overall health.

I hope you've made a good decision and, further, I hope you and the family are prepared to do the next most important thing. That is to maintain a keen and loving interest in this person in his new setting.

Jaycees name officers

Officers for the newly-established chapter of the Howard County Jaycees were elected recently, according to Darrell Ash, one of the members of the public relations committee.

Elected were: Karen Martin, president; Randy Howell, vice president; and Jim Bob Coates, secretary-treasurer.

Scott Fitzgerald was named recording secretary. Others members of the public relations committee are Ann Clark, Mike Deardorff and Les McMuller.

Officers will serve 90-day terms until the chapter is chartered. In 90 days, yearly officers will be elected, according to Ash.

Ash said the chapter now has 26 members and hopes to have as many as 60 members by April.

This year's goals include "working with Teri Quinones on the Statue of Liberty exhibit in downtown Big Spring Feb. 19 and 20," Ash said.

Quinones was recently hired to coordinate revitalization efforts for downtown Big Spring.

Ash said anyone between the ages of 18 and 35 interested in joining the Jaycees may call Karen Martin at 267-6402.

Meetings are held the first and third Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Coors Hospitality Room.

Recipe exchange

By CAROL BALDWIN
Lifestyle Editor

February is Potato Lovers Month. Today's Recipe Exchange features the potato in each recipe.

In addition to the recipes, we've included some tips on preparation. Whenever possible, cook potatoes in their skins to avoid loss of nutrients. If you must peel them, keep peelings as thin as possible.

Boil potatoes in as little water as possible, about one inch, to prevent nutrient loss. Use a pan with a tight fitting lid so water won't boil away during cooking.

To steam potatoes, place a wire rack in the bottom of the pan and add water just below the level of the rack so potatoes cook above the water.

To bake potatoes, pierce the skin in several places to allow steam to escape. Bake directly on oven rack or cookie sheet until potatoes are soft when pinched with a mitted hand or tested with a slim skewer or fork. A medium potato bakes in 40 to 45 minutes at 400 F. Bake potatoes in an oven ranging in temperature from 325 degrees to 400 degrees. To bake with other foods, adjust baking time according to the temperature.

DILLED POTATO SCONES

1 cup flour
1/4 tsp. baking powder
2 1/2 cups unseasoned mashed potatoes
2 Tbsps. melted butter
3/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. dried dill weed
2 eggs, beaten
1 Tbsp. butter
1 Tbsp. oil

Sift together flour and baking powder and set aside. Season potatoes with butter, salt, pepper, nutmeg and dill. Add beaten eggs and flour mixture and mix well. Chill for at least one hour. Divide the dough in 2 equal portions and pat out one into 1/2-inch thick round on well floured surface. Cut in quarters to form 4 wedges. Repeat with remaining dough. Heat butter and oil in skillet or on griddle and cook scones slowly until lightly browned on both sides.
Makes eight scones.

FRITTATA

8 eggs
1 1/2 cups large curd cottage cheese
1/2 cup grated Monterey Jack cheese
1 4-ounce can chopped green chiles, drained
1 4-ounce can sliced black olives,

Recipes are just in time for Potato Lovers Month

drained
3 medium potatoes (about 1 pound)
1 onion, finely chopped
Salt and pepper
2 Tbsps. minced fresh parsley
Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Beat eggs until well blended, then stir in cheeses, chiles and olives. Peel potatoes and shred coarsely. Add potatoes and onion to eggs along with salt, pepper and parsley. Pour egg mixture into buttered 9 by 13-inch baking dish.

Bake uncovered for 35 to 40 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Cool for about 10 minutes before cutting into squares to serve. Top with Chili Tomato Sauce before serving.
Serves 6.

CHILI TOMATO SAUCE

2 Tbsps. oil
1 onion, minced
2 cups tomato puree
1 clove garlic, minced
2 to 3 Tbsps. chili powder

1/2 tsp. ground coriander
1/4 tsp. oregano
Salt
Heat oil and cook onion until limp. Add tomato puree and garlic. Add chili powder, cumin, oregano and salt and stir until well blended. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes, stirring frequently.

CREAMY POTATO SOUP

1 pound (3 medium) potatoes, peeled and thinly sliced
1 1/2 cups water
1 cup nonfat milk
2 tps. butter or margarine
1/2 cup thinly sliced green onions
1/4 to 1/4 tsp. white pepper
Salt, to taste

Combine potatoes and water in 2-quart saucepan. Bring to boil; cover and cook until potatoes are tender, about 10 minutes. Cool slightly. Pour into container of electric blender; blend until smooth. Return to saucepan. Stir in milk, butter, onions, parsley and pepper. Bring to a boil; stir in salt.

Ladle into bowls. Vary the flavor of the soup by stirring in your choice of 1/2 tsp. basil or celery seeds. If you wish, cover and chill soup. Serve cold thinned with a little additional nonfat milk. Makes about 4 cups.

TARRAGON CREAM POTATOES

3 medium potatoes (about 1 pound)
3/4 cup half and half or milk
2 Tbsps. fresh chopped tarragon or 2 tps. dried
Salt and pepper
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
1 Tbsp. butter

Peel and grate potatoes. Place them in skillet with half and half, tarragon, salt and pepper to taste. Cover and simmer for 5 minutes. Remove cover and cook over medium heat until potatoes are tender and have absorbed liquid, about another 5 minutes. While potatoes are cooking, saute walnuts in butter until crisp and brown. Serve potatoes topped with sprinkling of chopped sauteed walnuts. Makes 6 servings.

Destined to win

I guess it would be safe to say that Super Bowl XX was anti-climatic. Everyone knew the Bears would win, by how much was the big question.

The odds-makers said 11 points was good enough. This was a big spread considering two defensive-minded football teams had made it to the big game.

The defensive war never materialized. But who would have thought the game would turn out to be the worst Super Bowl rout in history. Not since the Green Bay Packers defeated the Kansas City Chiefs 35-10 in Super Bowl I back in '67, has a team showed such superior dominance.

But who are we kidding? The Bears were destined to win this one.

No team has ever caught America's fancy like the young Bears squad. From their blue collar coach Mike Ditka to zany Jim McMahon, the jovial Refrigerator and Walter Payton, the game's best running back ever; how could you not like the Bears?

I guarantee you the media sure did.

That's all you heard and saw the two weeks before the Super Bowl. "The Super Bowl Shuffle", McMahon and his acupuncture, McMahon and his mouth and the famed trend back to the Monsters of the Midway.

Poor New England, you didn't hear or see half as much of them. They didn't make a smash video or an overweight lineman running the ball and their starting quarterback only had a virus.

Not quite as glamorous as the Bears.

In fact the most-talked subject for New England was whether Irving Fryar accidentally cut his finger or his wife did the slicing in the heat of a rumble.

I was glad to see Fryar make New England's lone touchdown. Give the media something positive to talk about.

Fate was also on the Bears side. This marked the first season that the George Halas trophy was presented to the NFC champions. Last year marked the beginning of the award. But the trophy wasn't finished so the San Francisco 49ers never got theirs in a formal presentation.

This season the trophy was finished and Halas' daughter was to make the presentation to the conference champs. Ironically, she ended up presenting the trophy to herself. Papa Bear was looking down smiling that day.

I'm sure his smile beamed even brighter Sunday night. It's hard to beat odds like that.

And it's only fitting that Walter Payton finally get his Super Bowl ring. If one person in the NFL deserved one, it was "Sweetness". The man symbolizes what the game is all about: desire, character and integrity.

And I wouldn't worry about Payton not scoring a touchdown in Super Bowl XX. He's scored his share and no doubt will score plenty more.

Bears center Jay Hilgenberg summed it up best when he said: "Walter's the greatest anyway, he doesn't need a Super Bowl touchdown to be the greatest."

Just like the Bears showed the greatest Super Bowl dominance ever.

Permian dumps Steers, 76-64

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Sports Writer

A fatal case of the turnovers hit Big Spring Tuesday night against Odessa Permian's aggressive full court press with the end result being a 76-64 victory for the suprising Panthers who raised their District 4-5A record to 7-2 at Steer gymnasium.

The Steers turned the ball over 27 times in the game and nine times in a crucial third period stretch that all but eliminated the home team from making a comeback. Most of the Big Spring miscues came as a result of the hustling full-court pressure of the Permian press, who capitalized on several of the take-aways for easy baskets.

It was another good night for Big Spring post Brian Mayfield, District 4-5A's leading scorer. The 6'5" sophomore poured in a game-high 33 points and collected 12 rebounds and six blocked shots on the night.

But it was not enough to overcome the balanced scoring of Permian's big men. Panther post Jimmy Davis finished with 27 points to lead all Permian scorers while fellow post Parker Hagar finished with 16 points including 12 in the first half. Hagar also pulled down a game-high 12 rebounds.

As has been their habit when playing at home, the Steers opened up an early first quarter lead. Starting point guard Dewayne Sherman handled the Permian press well at first dishing off several assists as Big Spring jumped out 12-6 with 3:08 left in the first quarter.

At the two minute mark of the first period, Big Spring still held a 16-10 lead committed four straight turnovers allowing the Panthers to score seven unanswered points and take the lead for the first time 17-16 on a Greg Anderson jumper at the buzzer.

chipping away at the Permian lead. At the 3:27 mark of the third quarter Big Spring had gotten the lead down to six, 43-37, and then proceeded to self-destruct.

In the final two and a half minutes of the quarter, Permian forced seven Steer turnovers and easily rebuilt their lead to thirteen, 56-43, by the end of the period.

The Steers cut the lead back down to ten, 62-52 with 3:54 left in the game behind Colin Carroll's six point burst. But the Panthers went into the bonus shortly thereafter, canning seven of ten free throws to keep the Steers at bay. Big Spring could never get any closer than ten during the rest of the game as Permian cruised to the 76-64 victory.

Queens blast FPC

BORGER — Powered by another strong performance by Carolyn Willandt, the Howard College Hawk-Queens took a 55-50 win over the Frank Phillips Plainswomen last night in Western Junior College Athletic Conference action.

Willandt turned in a fine performance, ending the contest with 17 points and 14 rebounds. The 6-0 freshmen post player has come on strong in recent games. In the last five games she's averaged 15 points and 12 rebounds.

More importantly, with the win last night; Howard's third-in-a-row, Howard is now in fourth place with a 3-4 record. The top four teams in the conference advance to the regional tournament.

Howard got started on a strong note with their pressing defense. It jumped out to a 8-0 lead and never trailed after that. Then Howard outscored FPC 9-2 in a five minute span and held a 17-2 bulge. With four minutes left in the half Howard held a 32-17 advantage.

But the home team made a run at the Queens, cutting the margin to 36-25 at the half.

Willandt led the Queens in the first period as she scored 11 points. Howard also made 12 of 15 attempts from the line.

"Carolyn (Willandt) had an excellent game," said Queens coach Don Stevens after the win. "She has really come on strong lately with her scoring and rebounding. She and Sophia Ish continue to do the job underneath."

Although Howard got outscored 51-36, Ish's 11 rebounds followed only Willandt.

Howard had a cold second half as it went the first seven-and-a-half minutes without a field goal. But its defense kept it in the lead.

"The key is that we got off to a great start," said Stevens. "We really came out full of fire. We played great and shot great in the first half."

The Queens are now 9-14 for the season.

Hawks still sliding

BORGER — The Howard College Hawks continue to struggle in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference, dropping their sixth game in a row to Frank Phillips College, 69-64, in a close game Tuesday night at the Plainsman Gymnasium.

Behind the balanced scoring of the starting five, Frank Phillips took a slim 35-32 lead into the lockerroom at halftime.

The Hawks remained close through the second half staying within striking distance with some accurate outside shooting.

The game was tight throughout, with neither team able to open up a substantial lead. FPC took a four point lead into the final minute of play. But Howard post Walt Reynolds cut the lead to two on a turnaround jumper with less than thirty seconds on the clock. The Hawks chances for a comeback were dashed when Plainsman guard Glen Haynes drove the lane and hit a critical basket after being fouled. Haynes canned the ensuing free throw icing the Plainsmen first WJCAC victory of the season.

Howard freshman forward Mike McCall led all scorers with 21 points. Reynolds added 16, forward Mike Duran hit for 12 points and Walter Walker netted 10 points to round out the Hawks in double figures.

Frank Phillips also had four players in double figures. Forward Rob McAlmott led the Plainsmen with 19 points. Mike Paul added 16 points. Rex Young and Haynes finished the evening with 10 points apiece.

The Hawks return to action this Saturday in a make-up game against New Mexico Military Institute at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

HOWARD (64) — Mike McCall 9 3 21; Mike Duran 6 0 12; Walt Reynolds 7 2 16; Walter Walker 5 0 10; Mitchell Porter 1 0 2; Tim Cope 1 0 2; Nate Archibald 0 1 1; Totals 29 6 64.

FRANK PHILLIPS (69) — Willis Ruthledge 2 0 4; George Ramsey 1 0 2; Mike Paul 7 2 16; Rob McAlmott 7 5 19; Glen Haynes 4 2 10; Ted Herman 2 4 8; Rex Young 4 2 10; Totals 27 15 69.

HALFTIME — Frank Phillips 35, Howard 32.

Los Angeles snaps rare losing streak

By the Associated Press

Los Angeles Lakers Coach Pat Riley tried something new when all he needed was old reliable Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

Riley, stung by the team's first three-game losing streak in more than a year, started Mike McGee at guard in place of Byron Scott, then watched the 38-year-old Abdul-Jabbar hit 13 of 17 shots from the field and score 32 points Tuesday night in a 125-115 NBA victory over the Milwaukee Bucks.

"This was an important game for us... breaking the losing streak," Abdul-Jabbar said. "Any time you have the opportunity to turn things around, it is important to play your best."

McGee scored 14 points on 6-for-9 shooting in his rare start, while Scott was 11 for 15 for 23 points. Abdul-Jabbar said the starting lineup, already curtailed by a knee injury to Earvin "Magic Johnson, is of no consequence to him.

"We're not strangers," said James Worthy, who had 16 points and a career-high nine assists. "We practice together every day and it's nice when everyone contributes."

Rockets 116, Cavaliers 109
Allen Leavell scored nine of his 13 points in the fourth quarter to lift Houston over Cleveland, which got a season-high 39 points from Roy Hinson.

The lead changed hands eight times in the first 4 1/2 minutes of the fourth quarter before consecutive baskets by Ralph Sampson and Leavell gave the Rockets the lead to stay at 96-93 with 7:05 left. They coasted to victory after extending the margin to 108-99 with three minutes to go.

Akeem Olajuwon led Houston with 21 points and 12 rebounds.

76ers 106, SuperSonics 109
Philadelphia scored 14 straight points down the stretch to break open a close game at Seattle.

Moses Malone led Philadelphia in scoring with 22 points, while Charles Barkley had 18 points and a career-high 21 rebounds for the second straight game. Jack Sikma had 21 points and Xavier McDaniel 20 for Seattle.

Suns 136, Trail Blazers 130
Walter Davis scored 33 points and defused a late Portland rally with four straight points down the stretch as Phoenix snapped a five-game winning streak.

Davis scored 14 points in the fourth quarter, but 11 points from Terry Porter and 10 by Kiki Vandeweghe cut a 102-90 Suns lead to 124-123 9 1/2 minutes into the final period. Davis then hit two free throws with 2:13 left and then had a steal and layup 11 seconds later to put Phoenix back in control.

Vandeweghe finished with 35 points to lead all scorers, while rookie Ed Pinckney scored a career-high 24 for Phoenix.

Nets 117, Warriors 113
New Jersey blew a 24-point lead against Golden State before Micheal Ray Richardson scored nine points to lead a 15-8 spurt down the stretch.

The Nets, who were paced by Darryl Dawkins' 26 points, led 34-17 at the end of one quarter and extended the margin to 46-22 in the second period. But the Warriors, who got 35 points from Purvis Short, cut the deficit to 64-46 at halftime. They outscored the Nets 35-22 in the third period to make the game close.

Knicks 118, Bulls 111
Rookies Patrick Ewing, Gerald Wilkins and Bob Thornton each posted career highs in New York's victory over Chicago.

Ewing had 37 points and 16 rebounds, Wilkins 24 points and Thornton 12 for the Knicks, who scored the game's last seven points after the Bulls cut a 16-point deficit to 112-111 with 1:20 left.

Atlanta Hawks forward Dominique Wilkins grabs a rebound between teammate Kevin Willis and Indiana's Waymon Tisdale. The Hawks won their 11th game in the last 14 over the Pacers Tuesday night in Atlanta.

Philadelphia signs Chicago defensive genius as head coach

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Buddy Ryan, the coach of the vaunted defense of the Super Bowl champion Chicago Bears, is the new head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Ryan, to be introduced today at a noon news conference, was signed late Tuesday according to team owner Norman Braman and General Manager Harry Gamble. Braman, reached by phone at his Miami home, told The Associated Press early today that "I can confirm that we've signed Ryan."

Gamble said he negotiated most of the day Tuesday with Ryan before the 51-year-old coach signed a five-year contract, ending a search that began Dec. 16 when Marion Campbell was fired.

In the following weeks, there were reports that Braman strongly favored David Shula, the 26-year-old son of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, followed by reports that Jim Mora, coach of the United States Football League Baltimore Stars, had agreed to coach the Eagles of the National Football League.

Mora became the coach of the New Orleans Saints on Tuesday.

Ryan has been an assistant coach in the NFL for 18 years, the last eight with the Bears. In his tenure with Chicago, the Bears were among the top 10 defensive teams six times.

The Bears this season led the NFL in total defense, capping their success by smothering the New England Patriots in a record setting 46-10 Super Bowl triumph.

Braman's selection of the gruff defensive coach contrasted with his earlier statements that he wanted an innovative offensive coach — namely Shula, coach of the Dolphins' receivers.

But young Shula balked at a five-year option after a five-year contract expired. Braman dumped him.

Then, the owner turned to Mora, who had directed the Philadelphia Stars, later Baltimore, to championships in two of the three USFL seasons.

Mora was offered the job and a contract negotiated. But an unexplained disagreement developed, and Mora on Tuesday took the Saints' job.

The Bears, meanwhile, posted a pair of playoff shutouts bringing Ryan to Braman's attention.

The Eagles talked to Ryan and agreed to wait until after the Super Bowl to complete negotiations that would make Ryan the 17th coach in the Eagles' 53-year history.

Ryan has been given much of the credit for the Bears' 18-1 record and NFL title. After the Super Bowl rout of New England, the Bears carried Ryan off on their shoulders.

Chicago linebacker Mike Singletary said Ryan's chance to become a head coach was a good opportunity.

"At the same time I don't want him to go because I'm afraid it would spoil the chemistry we have going here," he said. "I guess that sounds selfish, but that's how I feel. That's how we all feel."

Chicago head coach Mike Ditka said, "what Buddy Ryan has done with the defense and his use of personnel, has been outstanding."

Before his eight years with the Bears, Ryan coached eight years the New York Jets and two with the Minnesota Vikings.

Ryan, who has gained recognition as one of the more innovative minds in football, handles the linebackers in addition his duties as coordinator.

He is an outdoor enthusiast and owner of a horse farm in Kentucky where he spends much of his spare time.

Landry says Bears' 'D' is best overall

IRVING (AP) — Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry says the Chicago Bears' defense is probably the best ever.

"It's probably the best performing defense," said Landry, rating the Bears over the Pittsburgh Steelers' "Steel Curtain" and the Cowboys' "Doomsday" of the 1970s.

"I'd say it is more dominant than the 'Steel Curtain' was," said Landry, "although the quality of the National Football League has been deluded a little bit."

Landry had a close encounter with the Bears' defense this year. The Cowboys were drilled 44-0 during the regular season by the Bears, who crushed New England 46-10 in the Super Bowl last Sunday.

"What the Bears have going now is a good defensive concept that is new," Landry on Tuesday. Landry said the Washington Redskins and San Francisco 49ers came up with new offensive concepts several years ago that kept the rest of the NFL off-balance.

"It will take a little time for teams to catch up with them," said Landry. "But I've never seen a defense that lasted too long without somebody coming up with an answer."

Landry said offenses in the NFL will have to learn to adjust to the "46" defense of the Bears, which was designed by their defensive coordinator Buddy Ryan.

"It will take a little while to adjust just assuming that they stay intact," said Landry.

Ryan is apparently a top prospect for the Philadelphia Eagles' head coaching job.

"If they lose him it could hurt," said Landry. "It takes the right combination of coaching and people to have a great defense."

"Remember Atlanta was playing the same 46 defense this year with only moderate success."

Landry added, "It takes time to get into a defensive groove. They will be a force if they keep everybody there and keep everybody happy."

Landry said it will be difficult for the Bears to become a dynasty.

"That sounds familiar when everyone starts calling them a dynasty," said Landry. "I've heard that in the past but we've had very few dynasties."

Landry said Chicago Coach Mike Ditka, his assistant for nine years, knows what can happen to a Super Bowl champion the next year.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JAN. 30, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: After some early setbacks, excellent influences are in effect for contacting those with whom you wish to be allied in the days ahead and for coming to a new understanding with them.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Try to please your partners more and don't be so concerned with business problems. Get out in public more and delight others.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make your home more charming and smooth-running so that it serves you better. Give praise where praise is due.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get your talents working more efficiently so that you can command a greater income in the near future.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) In the morning, be careful in spending money, and later get home conditions improved in some way.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Stop worrying about money and be more cooperative with co-workers so that production is increased.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make improvements to your property so that you gain more comfort and increase its value.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can be quite charming today and others will easily be amenable to your suggestions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Contact experts and gain the information you have long searched for in vain. Stress the importance of your wishes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Cultivate those you want as good friends and make them devoted to you. Plan amusements with steady associates.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get into ambitious activities and don't permit a hang-on to waste your valuable time now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be more willing to take on some new interests that are pecking away at you which could be very lucrative.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your intuition is good, so follow it and you get the right promptings toward greater success. A delay may occur in the early morning.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be able to easily understand what others desire and be willing to help them and thereby become very popular, especially because there is a delightful personality here. Your progeny can be very artistic and precise.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
