Reagan weighs oil import fee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, who repeatedly has opposed tax increases, now says he is ready to consider a new levy on imported oil — but only if the money is used to "buy" lower income taxes for individuals and corporations.

In addition, Treasury Secretary

James A. Baker III says, the president also has not ruled out raising the federal tax on gasoline to help pay for the kind of income-tax system he wants.

Putting the Reagan administration squarely in conflict with Senate leaders, the president and his top aides on Wednesday repeated their opposition to any kind of tax increase for purposes of reducing the budget deficit. Before the president will sign any tax-overhaul bill, said Baker, it will have to be "revenue-neutral" — neither raise nor lower the tax take produced by present law.

"No tax-reform bill that's passed, in my view, will be signed if it's not revenue-neutral," Baker told reporters.

That statement reflected the president's oft-stated position. But, asked by reporters at the White House whether he would go along with a new oil tax to pay for the income-tax cuts he wants, Reagan demonstrated his flexibility.

"I've said that I'm willing to look at that, on that basis," he replied.

The president displayed that same flexibility in the budget he sent to Congress on Wednesday. The document calls for continuation of a cigarette tax of 16 cents a

Farm bill holds up lending

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

Many area cotton growers, anxious to arrange financing for this year's farming, will have to wait at least another week before receiving operating capital.

Both commercial and government farm lenders have had to delay processing some farm loan applications until they have a chance to examine provisions for certain commodities in the new farm bill, said Cotton Fanning, executive assistant for Plains Cotton Growers Inc. in Lubbock. The $160 billion farm bill was signed Dec. 11 by President Reagan.

Agriculture financing has slowed nationwide while both farmers and lenders wait to see how the bill affects farming cash flow, Fanning said.

Referring to a recent agriculture financing seminar in Lubbock attended to a variety of farm lenders, Fanning said: "They all made the point that (farm lending is backed

Analysts say cheap oil will spur growth

NEW YORK (AP) — The downward spiral in oil prices should ease inflation and boost economic growth, creating what one economist called "basically a $10 billion gift to the United States economy."

Sharply lower oil prices are a shock to the economy, but a good shock, allowing policymakers to lower interest rates and spur growth without fear of renewing inflation, some economists say.

The nation's savings on oil imports will be greater than $10 billion in 1986 if crude oil prices hang at their current levels, said John Hagens, a vice president of Chase Econometrics Inc., in Bala Cynwyd, Pa.

On Wednesday, the price of oil in the open market rose from the seven-year lows of the previous day. Major grades of crude from the United States and the North Sea, which were falling toward $15 a barrel Tuesday, hovered around $16.

The fear of economists and bankers is that prices are falling too quickly, allowing too little time for the losers like the oil industry and banks that have lent heavily to oil concerns and oil-producing countries to cope.

Some economists also worry that cheap oil could lull importers like the United States into abandoning conservation measures, thus boosting demand and giving the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries a chance to reassert its power in a few years.

Despite such concerns, economists share the enthusiasm over oil prices that has pushed the stock and bond markets into strong rallies.

"It's basically a $10 billion gift to the United States economy," said Hagens.

Each $5 drop in the price of a barrel of crude oil means a gain of six-tenths of 1 percent in U.S. economic output and a 1 percent reduction in consumer prices, estimates Data Resources Inc., a forecasting firm in Lexington, Mass.

NASA experts work on shuttle 'puzzle'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Guided by identification numbers stamped on individual parts recovered from the sea, experts are creating an outline of space shuttle Challenger even as ships and planes continued their search for more tell-tale debris.

"They have a giant jigsaw puzzle over there," said Jim Mizell, a NASA spokesman, of work underway in a Kennedy Space Center warehouse. "It's like the one that you do at home where every piece has to fit."

On various squares on the floor, there are pieces of wing flaps, the fuselage and what appear to be pieces from the orbiter nose. There are huge gaps in the grids marked with yellow tape and the puzzle obviously is missing more pieces than it has.

Six aircraft were dispatched again today to remedy that lack, flying as far north as Cape Lookout, N.C., scouting for debris hundreds of miles from the space center. Three Coast Guard ships also were patrolling.

An interim review board made up of top NASA officials today began giving testimony before a presidential panel in Washington that is studying the accident. The testimony promised to be the first official explanation of what might have happened to cause the first in-flight deaths in the U.S. space program.

"NASA welcomes your role," said Dr. William Graham, acting administrator of the space agency, as the hearing opened. Conducting the briefing was Jesse Moore, director of NASA's shuttle program.

Two NASA ships, meanwhile, were working relatively close to the launch pad in seas with 4-foot waves, but they were able to send down a robot submarine to photograph what appears on sonar soundings to be large objects. The Atlantic was too choppy Wednesday for the submarines to be used, NASA said.

Of greatest interest is one object believed to be one of the shuttle's two solid rocket boosters.

"With these submarines, they should get a fairly good picture," said Mizell. But, he said, recovering the boosters will be difficult because of their tremendous weight — 181,000 pounds each when they are intact and empty of fuel.

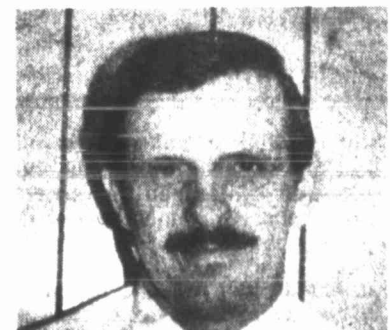

"It will require a couple of ships plus some heavy cranes in order to do that," Mizell said. "It's going to be quite a technical feat for the Navy to bring that piece back for review."

Two to run for school board spots

By CHARLIE ALCORN
Staff Writer

Dwindling revenue for schools and continuing acclamation to House Bill 72 are the two most pressing issues in the upcoming school board election, said incumbents Dan Wise and Bill D. Brooks.

Both men are seeking a second term on the Big Spring Independent School Board of Trustees. The at-large election to fill three places on the board is scheduled for April

DAN WISE

BILL D. BROOKS

5. Wise, 43, said he believes House Bill 72 is still the most important issue facing the school district in the upcoming year.

"I think the thought behind the bill was good, but the six-week penalty is too long," he said. "Education needs to come first but maybe not to that extreme."

Wise, who is director of social services and volunteers at Malone-Hogan Hospital, said he was pleased with his first term on the school board. "I feel that consistency is the cornerstone of any job, whether it be in the private sector or in

Price enters race for JP

William W. "Bill" Price, Republican candidate for the Justice of the Peace Precinct 1, Place 2 race, said county politics needs "new blood" and "new individuals."

It was this desire, he said, that made him decide run for the position.

Price joins Democratic candidates Stanley Bogard and William H. Shankles in the quest to unseat incumbent Lewis Heflin.

"I'd like to see the county grow and see some of the favoritism done away with," Price said.

He said if elected he would "give equal justice to everyone in the county."

Price is a former sergeant of the Big Spring Police Department, where he served for seven years.

The eight-year Howard County resident is currently employed by Fiberflex.

He and his wife, Teri, live on Davis Road, off the Snyder Highway, with their two sons.

'Purple,' 'Africa' top Oscar list

Academy ignores Spielberg as director of 'Color Purple'

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Steven Spielberg, maker of Hollywood dreams, failed to have his own come true as "The Color Purple" received 11 Academy Award nominations, but none for Spielberg as best director.

"Out of Africa," a lush, romantic movie about a Danish writer also received 11 nominations for the 58th annual Academy Awards, to be presented March 24. Nominees were announced Wednesday.

"Purple" and "Africa" both adapted from novels written by women, were joined as best picture nominees by "Prizzi's Honor," a black comedy about a lovesick Mafia hit man, and "Witness," the adventures of a Philadelphia cop in Amish country. Also nominated was "Kiss of the Spider Woman," about a revolutionary and a transvestite who become friends in jail.

The academy's 4,200 voters virtually ignored 1985's two biggest moneymakers. "Back to the Future" earned only song and writing nominations and two for sound, and "Rambo — First Blood, Part II" was nominated only for sound effects editing.

"The Color Purple," adapted from Alice Walker's Pulitzer Prize-winning novel, is about a black woman's struggle for independence in the rural South.

Spielberg broke away from his usual science fiction and fantasy mold to direct the drama, widely considered his bid for peer acceptance as a director of substance.

But the academy turned away the director of "Jaws," "Close Encounters of the Third Kind," the "Indiana Jones" adventures and the all-time movie moneymaker

James Garner Harrison Ford Jon Voight Jack Nicholson William Hurt

Geraldine Page Whoopi Goldberg Meryl Streep Anne Bancroft Jessica Lange

"E.T. — the Extra-Terrestrial." Spielberg has yet to win an Oscar.

A Warner Bros. statement said the studio was pleased with "The Color Purple" nominations, but was "shocked and dismayed that the movie's primary creative force, Steven Spielberg, was not recognized."

At Spielberg's Amblin Entertainment, a secretary said the director was out of town and unavailable for comment.

"Many people go through life without recognition, and I'm sorry Spielberg didn't get nominated," said Hector Babenco, himself nominated as best director for "Kiss of the Spider Woman."

Other director nominees included John Huston, 79, for "Prizzi's Honor," the Japanese master Akira Kurosawa, 75, for "Ran;" Australian Peter Weir for "Witness" and American Sydney Pollack for "Out of Africa."

County gets some more rain

Rain continued to fall Wednesday in Howard County, bucking a trend of dry January weather.

The U.S. Agricultural Research Service measured 0.13 of an inch at 8 a.m. this morning. This raises the year's rainfall to 0.29, still below the normal-to-date 0.69 of an inch.

Cindy Hopper of Knott said she measured "a couple of tenths" of an inch of rain. Her gauge was frozen this morning, she said. Tommy Hart of 1750 Purdue reported 0.31 this morning.

No rain is in the forecast for today or tonight, but a 20 percent chance of showers is in the forecast for Friday.

public service. I made some mistakes, but I only missed one meeting in three years.

"It was a very good learning experience. In a position of public service you can't please everybody, you just try to do what's best for the system as a whole."

Winn's goals if re-elected are to continue work on the current educational reforms facing the school system. "Going down to 4A is going to open some areas that we'll need to look at as well as the budget, trying to coordinate the whole school system under one umbrella of money. I think in the coming year that budget will be of top priority according to how our tax base is affected."

He and his wife, Mardelle, have three children, Danny, Tami and Robin.

Brooks, 44, said he believes the most important issue the school board will face in the coming year concerns the tax base.

"We've got declining enrollments and declining state money coming in and declining tax bases," he said. "This is a problem that will have to be addressed perhaps in several different ways. It's hard for us to know at this point what exactly is going to come out of the new legislation, but we know there are no simple solutions to it."

Brooks says the school system is in pretty good shape. "We have an excellent administration and with House Bill 72 turning everything completely around it's been very hard to stay on top of all the changes. I think they've adapted to the new rules very well and kept us well informed."

Brooks said he thinks House Bill 72 is "for the best" but there are some points he disagrees with. "I think the six-week penalty is too long because the kids lose incentive. I think three weeks would be an ideal length of time."

His goals if re-elected include keeping as well informed as possible on educational reforms facing the state and local school systems. "In my first term I did have a lot to learn," he said. "But I feel like I'm quite a bit better prepared than I was even a year ago."

Brooks, works as a designer. He and his wife, Theda, have two children, Tymi and Ginger.

He was released on $500 bond.

Police Beat

Car, items reported stolen

Susan Lee of Big Spring told police Wednesday night that someone stole her 1971 Mercury automobile after it was left stalled at 1210 Sycamore St. The theft occurred between midnight Tuesday and 9 a.m. Wednesday, according to the complaint. The car, valued at $350, contained $250 worth of household items, clothes and toys, the police report stated.

• Hugh Rhyne of 1313 Stadium St. told police Wednesday afternoon that someone pushed over a chain link fence at 900 S. San Antonio St. causing $1,500 damage. The incident occurred between 4 p.m. Monday and 2 p.m. Wednesday, according to the complaint.

• Chuck Breyman of Sterling City Route Box T-33E1 told police Wednesday evening that someone stole a squirrel cage and a heater motor of undetermined value from a house at 2523 Albrook St. Also during the break-in, 10 windows were damaged.

• Ester Hernandez of 1010 Runnels St. told police Wednesday afternoon that someone burglarized her home while she was at work Wednesday. A $500 television and a $400 VCR were reported stolen, and damage estimated at $100 was done to a door and frame, according to the complaint.

• Lydia Moreno of 419 Dallas St. told police Wednesday evening that someone stole a box spring, a mattress, a bed rail and a night stand from her home between 7 p.m. Tuesday and 5:20 p.m. Wednesday. No loss estimate was given for the stolen items.

• Isabel Gurza of 1606 Avion St. told police Wednesday afternoon that someone stole a $139 12-speed red-and-black Huffy bicycle from her front porch between 6:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

• Herschel Lewis of 904 E. 12th St. told police Wednesday night that someone stole $250 in cash and $100 in food items from his residence between Dec. 25 and 9:30 p.m. Wednesday.

• Vernon Blewett, 26, of 1606 Main St. was arrested Wednesday morning at 300 Austin St. for driving with a suspended license.

• Vernia May Barrett, 40, of 307 W. 8th St. was arrested late Wednesday night on suspicion of driving while intoxicated, driving without a license and driving without insurance. The arrest was made after she was involved in a minor accident at 300 W. Eighth St., according to police reports.

up) because you can't tell what the cash flow is going to be."

Fanning's point was echoed by Bruce Griffith of the First National Bank of Big Spring. Griffith said the bank has made some farm loans this year but has had to wait in cases where cash flow is a major criteria for issuing a loan.

Although commercial lending has been interrupted, Farmer's Home Administration lending remains brisk, said Robert Edwards, district director of the FmHA. "We can't afford that luxury," he said of the slower commercial lending pace.

Edwards said some FmHA borrowers will be subject to adjustments in their loan terms once more farm bill information is available. "At least we can get a man started," he said.

And just when will terms of the complex bill be released?
"I would hope by the end of next week," said Matt Brockman, legislative assistant for agriculture for Congressman Charles Stenholm.

Washington legislative writers responsible for banging out the language of the bill are putting the final touches on the wording of the document, Brockman said.

One snag in preparing the bill developed when writers erred in wording the provision concerning cross compliance, he said. Cross compliance has to do with planting more than one crop on the same farm where both are covered under the farm program. Just how much leeway is allowed this year for farmers planting barley or wheat along with cotton will be left to the discretion of the Department of Agriculture, Brockman said.

The delay in releasing information about the farm bill is also reaching farmers ready to fertilize their fields, said Tim Hall of the Howard County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Reagan

pack, even though it is scheduled to drop to 8 cents March 15.

Senate leaders insist that if lawmakers are put through the pain of rewriting the tax laws or imposing any new tax — or "fee," as they like to call the oil tax — the revenue should be earmarked for deficit reduction.

Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, Minority Leader Robert C. Byrd and Sen. Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M., chairman of the Budget Committee, share that view. On the other hand, Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., chairman of the Finance Committee, is advocating a tax on imported oil to make up revenue lost by several income-tax cuts proposed by Reagan and several more favored by members of the panel.

Reagan has a short, expensive list of demands for tax reform. He wants a $2,000 personal exemption (the House voted $2,000 for those who do not itemize deductions and $1,500 for those who do), a top individual tax rate of 35 percent (the House approved 38 percent) and some unspecified incentives for business investment.

Those changes and the amendments likely to be pressed by Finance Committee members.

Deaths

Bo Terry

Services for Bo Terry, 21, of Coahoma will be at 10 a.m. Friday at Nalley-Pickle and Welch Funeral Home with Doyle E. Rice, pastor of Jesus Is Lord ministries, officiating. Burial will be in the Coahoma cemetery.

AIDS scare hits workers

WASHINGTON — D.C. Public Health Commissioner Andrew McBride ended up donning gloves and an apron and helping to carry the body of a 25-year-old man with AIDS out of his basement bedroom after a medical technician and police officers refused to handle the corpse, officials said.

Several of the 12 city employees responsible for removing bodies said the incident, which occurred Monday, was inevitable. They have refused to handle AIDS victims, sending one of three supervisors instead, to protest the lack of hazard pay.

President turns 75

WASHINGTON — President Reagan turns 75 today in a "summing-up" mood as he prepares to celebrate his sixth White House birthday with family and old friends.

Reagan reflected on his advancing age Wednesday as he visited with employees at the Department of Health and Human Services, jesting that he would be 39 for the 36th time.

Jet pilot grounded

AUGUSTA, Ga. — The pilot who landed a Boeing 737 jet at the wrong airport has been grounded until further notice by Piedmont Airlines during an investigation by the Federal Aviation Administration, officials say.

Steve McDowell was scheduled to take a simulator flight test in Winston-Salem, N.C., today, said FAA spokesman Jack Barker in Atlanta.

Bishop backs firing

SAN ANGELO — A Catholic bishop has defended a hospital's firing of a 32-year-old nursing assistant who publicly criticized anti-abortionists.

Bishop Michael D. Pfeifer, in a statement Wednesday, backed the decision by St. John's Hospital officials to fire Noel Singleton.

"I fully support St. John's Hospital and their decision in this matter," Pfeifer responded in the two-page statement concerning the incident.

Hijacker under custody

GRAPEVINE — A man who commandeered a Delta Air Lines jet, holding a penknife on a steward before he was overpowered by FBI agents, had been nervously pacing the aisles, according to passengers who said they didn't know anything was wrong until police arrived.

Ralph A. Hughes II, 34, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., made no clear demands after he grabbed the steward Wednesday night as Flight 139, arriving from Fort Lauderdale, taxied to the Delta terminal, said FBI Agent Bob Gillham.

Gillham described Hughes as emotionally distraught.

An eighteen wheeler was flipped by a tornado that swept through an area 20 miles northwest of Houston. One person was killed and 20 others were injured.

Tornadoes wreak havoc near Houston

TOMBALL (AP) — One person was killed and at least 44 injured when four tornadoes ripped through eastern Texas, leaving behind a trail of fallen power lines and tattered houses and buildings.

Some of the heaviest damage Wednesday occurred in Tomball, where Police Chief Derwood Kennedy said residents in the town 35 miles northwest of Houston were ankle-deep in hail.

"We've had so many houses hit that we don't know how many. We've got injuries, houses down, trees down and it's bad," Kennedy said.

"We've had four or five (tornadoes) touch down, and the damage is quite extensive," the police chief said. "Power lines are down by the hundreds, and the hail was so severe it's ankle deep in some places."

Twisters hit two apartment houses, several homes and a doctor's office in Tomball about 4:15 p.m., and about 90 percent of the houses in town suffered some damage, Kennedy said.

Forecasters said the twisters were spawned by fast-moving thunderstorms that brought along heavy winds and golf-ball sized hail.

One tornado dipped down near Talco and moved on to nearby Mount Vernon, where it shredded a barn roof. Another twister touched down in Harris County near Katy, causing undetermined damage to a brick manufacturer, but no injuries, said police dispatcher Robin Smith.

The storms produced golf ball-sized hail in eastern Hopkins County in northeastern Texas, officials said.

High winds cut power to about 15,000 homes and businesses in the Tomball-Katy area, said Geri Konigsberg, a Houston Lighting & Power spokeswoman.

One person was killed when the storm struck a trailer park in northwestern Harris County, said County Sheriff's Cpl. Joe Hughes. He had no details on the death late Wednesday.

Ten to 15 people were taken to Cypress-Fairbanks Medical Center near Houston and two of the injured were admitted in stable condition, said spokeswoman Audrey Schwarting.

Wilma Jackson, director of administrative services at Tomball Community hospital, said 17 people were taken to the hospital for injuries. Four of the injured were admitted, two of whom were in critical condition she said.

Details of the injuries and other patient's conditions were not available, Ms. Jackson said.

Another 17 injured were taken to Northwest Medical Center in Houston, said spokeswoman Susan Bailey. Seven of the injured were admitted and their conditions ranged from good to serious, she said.

One of Northwest Medical's patients — a 17-year-old boy who suffered head injuries — was taken by helicopter to Houston's Hermann Hospital, where he was listed in serious condition.

"They're serious injuries," Ms. Bailey said. "Some of these people were in automobiles and got hit by flying debris."

Secret police abolished

GUATEMALA CITY — President Vinicio Cerezo, whose inauguration less than a month ago ended 16 years of military rule, abolished the feared secret police and ordered the detention and fingerprinting of its 600 members.

The Technical Investigations Department, which had jurisdiction over investigations of homicides, robberies and thefts, was one of the security forces most frequently blamed by Guatemalans and human rights organizations for widespread human rights abuses.

Bomb blast injures nine

PARIS — The third in a series of nightly bomb blasts aimed at crowded Paris shopping areas tore through a popular sporting goods store, injuring nine people and increasing fears of a terror campaign with Middle East overtones.

There was no immediate claim of responsibility for the bomb that exploded late Wednesday in a modern shopping complex in central Paris, but the interior minister quickly declared that France would not be intimidated by terrorists.

Spanish admiral killed

MADRID, Spain — A vice admiral in the Spanish navy who was a direct descendant of explorer Christopher Columbus was killed along with an aide today in an attack by suspected Basque terrorists, police said.

A police spokesman said witnesses saw an unidentified man and woman throw a grenade into the car of Vice Adm. Cristobal Colon y Carvajal, then open fire with submachine guns.

PLO warns of reprisal

TRIPOLI, Libya — Six hardline Palestinian groups say civilians who fly U.S. and Israeli commercial airplanes now travel at their own risk because of probable reprisals for Israel's interception of a Libyan jet.

"From this day on, we will not respect civilians who take such planes," Ahmed Jebri, head of the Libyan-backed Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command, said Wednesday. "With (Tuesday's) hijacking, Zionism and America declared war on us in the true sense of the word."

Army put on alert

MANILA, Philippines — President Ferdinand E. Marcos put the armed forces on "red alert" today, the eve of the special presidential election, and in an interview on U.S. television accused opponent Corazon Aquino of saying his re-election could spark civil war.

Marcos and Mrs. Aquino were interviewed by ABC News "Nightline" for a program broadcast late Wednesday and early today in the United States.

Slowing divorce rate augurs well

The divorce rate has dropped in America for two years in a row.

That's a good sign. We would like to believe the reason lies in this country's slow but steady return to a moral stance, a realization by wedded couples of the sanctity of the home and the importance of the family.

People do seem to be taking their marriages more seriously. Couples are getting married at a later age and accepting their wedding vows with more maturity.

The statistics demonstrating the drop in the divorce rate aren't staggering — 4 percent in 1982 and 1 percent in 1983. But they are reductions all the same, and they come after a steady climb for 20 years. The matrimony pendulum now is swinging in the right direction — toward "love, honor and cherish, till death do us part."

One of the nation's tragedies is the number of mothers who are unmarried or who have lost their husbands through divorce or abandonment. These single females who are heads of households must raise their children by themselves. They are the fastest growing segment of the nation's poor. Their situation is tragic. It is noteworthy that something like 90 percent of the intact families are not among the poor.

Staying married is never an easy task. It takes dedication from both husband and wife. It's good to see the glue working again.

Bush hasn't been ripe right-winger

No matter how hard Vice President George Bush works to convince people that in his heart he is really right, there are still some Republicans who aren't buying it.

I thought Niblock would be convinced of Bush's conservative credentials after the Vice President addressed a dinner for the late William Loeb in New Hampshire, the New York State Conservative Party, and Jerry Falwell's Liberty Federation (the old Moral Majority) in Washington, D.C. But I was wrong.

"I don't care what right-wing groups he addresses — the man's a closet middle-of-the-roader," Niblock said.

"That's not fair," I retorted. "George Bush is as much a conservative as I am, possibly even more. He believes in prayer in school, overthrowing the government in Angola, and the sanctity of Jesse Helms' political fund-raising campaigns."

"Bush only says that to get votes," Niblock said. "What he really wants to do is hijack the conservatives pledged to Jack Kemp." "Perhaps he started out with that goal. But now George is convinced the conservative way is the true way. Have you seen where he stands on pornography?"

Niblock sneered, "He's coming out against pornography awfully late."

"As Vice President he couldn't afford to get the pro-pornographers mad. But now that Reagan is a lame duck, Bush is his own man." "I still don't think he is far enough to the right."

"George has hugged Jerry Falwell. Falwell has embraced President Marcos. The person who embraces the man who embraced Marcos cannot, by any stretch of the imagination, be considered a man of the center."

"It all sounds like left-wing opportunism," Niblock said. "What I think is that Bush's presidential election team decided the only way to beat Kemp was to have the Vice President show up at more conservative dinners and prayer breakfasts than Jack does. They keep feeding Bush speeches about Nicaragua, abortion and the family, in hopes people will forget what he said about Reagan's voodoo economics."

"When will you be convinced that Vice President Bush is truly a man of the right?"

"I don't trust any politician who doesn't harangue homosexuals."

"It's too early in the campaign to attack gays. You have to save them for the last week of the primaries."

"Then I asked Niblock, 'Will you grant that even if Bush isn't a 100-percent right-wing activist at the moment, that he's off to a good start?'"

He replied, "Maybe, but I'd prefer he wrap himself in the flag a little more."

"He is doing the best he can. In attacking Gov. Cuomo the Vice President said, 'He (Cuomo) is telling us to be ashamed to stand up and say we're proud of this great land and the freedom and opportunity it has made possible for generation after generation.' If that isn't wrapping yourself in the American flag I don't know what is."

"All right, let's say for argument's sake that Bush is as far to the right as Attila the Hun. Why should I give him any money when I'm already supporting another Attila the Hun?"

"Because George has a chance of being elected President of the United States, and your Hun doesn't."

"Three conservative appearances don't make an ultra-right-wing candidate," Niblock said. "I'll believe he's one of us only after I see him dancing with Phyllis Schlafly to the 'Darktown Strutter's Ball.'"

Mengele's death report leaves many skeptical

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — Even the most dedicated Nazi hunters concede that the skeletal remains dug up in Brazil last year were probably those of Dr. Josef Mengele, the Auschwitz "Angel of Death." But many still have nagging doubts.

We've already reported on what some knowledgeable critics consider errors of omission by the international team of medical experts that examined the exhumed remains in Brazil. No evidence of a serious bone disease or the other ailments Mengele was known to have suffered from, no dental X-rays, no discussion of signs that point to a possible hoax arranged by Mengele and his loyal friends.

Now we'll disclose errors of commission made by the team of experts, as well as some intrinsic contradictions in the evidence that could be explained by a carefully planned hoax. Our associate Lucette Lamada has interviewed experts who conducted an independent investigation for the World Jewish Congress, as well as others who harbor doubts about the international team's findings. Here's what is bothering the skeptical and the cautious:

- The remains were exhumed in "an outrageously unprofessional manner," a WJC letter charges, with an unskilled gravedigger handing up the bones and fragments piece by piece to a Sao Paulo police laboratory official. In fact, one American anthropologist asked to help with the autopsy said "it was 'too late,' in light of the disinterment spectacle he had seen on television," according to the letter. The scientist joined the examination team anyway.
- The same police official who permitted the improper exhumation procedure was also the one who took the X-rays used by the visiting experts.
- Much weight was given to the new German "electronic superimposition procedure" that matched the exhumed skull to known photographs of Mengele. But Eli Rosenbaum, the WJC general counsel, pointed out that the technique "has not yet been employed in this country (the United States) ... (and) its reliability has certainly not been tested with time." Many experts are skeptical of the computer monitor used in the process, expressing concern that the program fed into the computer would tend to "average any inconsistencies that might appear in a skull-photographic comparison."
- A curious hole under the skull's left eye socket raised a serious question. The scientists concluded that it was most likely the result of a sinus infection. Yet, as the WJC letter notes, "such infections are easily cured with antibiotics, and since Mengele was a physician, one would have expected him to have sought treatment well before a hole was created in his skull."

- One leg of the skeleton was shorter than the other. "This abnormality is not reported anywhere in Mengele's extensive Nazi records."

- The head of the team of pathologists told us a few months ago that he had found an Auschwitz survivor who had polished Mengele's shoes and would testify that one contained a lift. We have since learned that the witness proved unreliable.

- The suspicious absence of nine out of 10 fingertips and a fracture at the neck of the one intact finger were not explained.

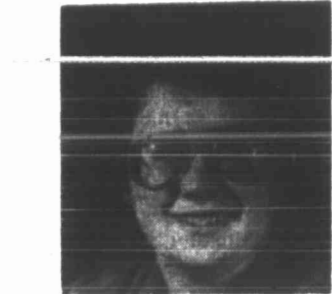

- The World Jewish Congress was concerned that the medical experts were "unduly influenced by circumstantial evidence ... (which is comparatively easy to fabricate and/or tamper with)."

- Leaving out the circumstantial evidence, all that's left is a number of similarities between the remains and Mengele: sex, height, age at death, the gap between the upper front teeth, the skullphotograph match and the apparent matching of the few teeth that were found to old dental records. "Any minimally competent hoaxster" could have found a body with most of these similarities, and added the rest, the WJC claimed.

UNDER THE DOME: The Congressional Research Service was recently asked to give the daughter of Sen. Pete Domenici, R-N.M., a little help on a law school project. According to a memo we've seen, the son's daughter "will need a one-page synopsis for Friday and asks for material to prepare that synopsis, with material for the more extensive project to follow." Asked if this might be an abuse of senatorial privilege, a Domenici aide said the senator's daughter was simply given a hearing transcript, and besides, congressional family members may ask for the research service's help. A service spokesman said this is incorrect.

MINI-EDITORIAL: The military spenders are up to their old tricks. "Use it or lose it" is still the battle-cry, even as they stare into the mouth of the Gramm-Rudman cannon. The latest outrage: The Air Force Logistics Command issued orders that its buyers speed up their purchases of spare parts in the closing days of 1985, because some unsympathetic penny pincher had told them they'd forfeit some of their current funds if they didn't use up the old appropriations. Typically, the brass blamed the problem on Congress, which had given them too much money and had enacted reforms that made it impossible to spend fast enough.

Frivolous suits need curbing

By SPENCER SANDOW

It has been said that the American public has gone overboard in suing people. The greed of a few is costing the rest of us plenty.

That certainly appears to be true in the social work field. The number of lawsuits filed against social workers has doubled in the last 30 months, usually on grounds of failing to take children into protective custody whose parents are accused of child abuse or for returning the children to dangerous parents, said Douglas Besharov, director of the American Enterprise Institute's Social Intervention Project, in an Associated Press story.

He said most lawsuits against these workers are dismissed eventually, but legal vindication comes at a high price, with lawyers' bills ranging from $5,000 to $50,000.

The result is that social workers, fearful of being sued, have adopted a "better safe than sorry" attitude in child abuse cases and sometimes have taken children from their parents when it was not warranted. A federal government study of 400,000 families under supervision by child protection agencies showed that in over half the families, the parents had not injured their children. Besharov said that two-thirds of child abuse reports eventually prove false.

Social workers are just trying to do their jobs. Greedy people who sue them at the slightest pretext are making the system less effective for the rest of us. With social workers' time and public funds overtaxed, children who really need help have a smaller chance of getting it.

With the Gramm-Rudman bill cutting federal funds, money to help victims of child abuse will be cut even more. But child abuse itself remains widespread, statistics show. Texas should pass a law providing good faith immunity for social workers investigating child abuse. Nine states have already done so.

The law does not excuse investigators when they act in callous or reckless disregard of their duties. Instead, it excuses them from legal responsibility in case of an honest mistake.

Everyone makes mistakes. It is time to dismiss petty complaints against innocent people acting in good faith, and concentrate our limited resources on helping those who are really in trouble.

Figures show the way nation is headed

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG

WASHINGTON (AP) — The words President Reagan offered the nation in his State of the Union address, even by his customary upbeat standards, overflowed with imagery in which all problems are swept aside by the "American Dream."

But it will require volumes of numbers to complete the picture.

In the speech he delivered to a joint session of Congress and the American people Tuesday night, Reagan talked about the need to "redefine government's role."

But he did not get into the details of such definitions in his annual address. The best place to look for Reagan's vision of the role of the federal government would be found in the budget he sent Congress yesterday.

The budget contains the numbers that truly set government direction in an era when the limits of all debates are etched in red ink.

The $994 billion Reagan budget contained no surprises. It would cut about $25 billion from domestic programs while boosting defense spending by $15.9 billion. It predicted a deficit of $143.6 billion for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

The budget reflected Reagan's determination to squeeze even more out of domestic spending while continuing his defense buildup — a view opposed by a majority in Congress, including many key Republicans.

More than any other president, Reagan governs by budget. His vision of America is of a nation in which "private values must be at the heart of public policies." His America is a nation in which government intervention is a step of last resort.

He told Congress and the nation that government's role is "not to control, not to command, not to contain us, but to help in times of need; above all to create a ladder of opportunity to full employment."

It sounded good, but there was no hint of how it might happen.

The president paid tribute to the budget reduction bill Congress passed late last year and now must struggle to live with. He said that at last it was "forcing the federal government to live within its means," a claim many members of Congress as well as officials of his administration have said might carry too high a price.

For students of Reagan speeches, this one traversed familiar ground.

Right where it might be expected, about one minute into the text, the president declared, "America is on the move."

A year ago, at about the same point in his State of the Union address, he proclaimed, "A great industrial giant is reborn." Two years ago, the word from the president was that "America is back, standing tall."

There also were the familiar calls for balanced budgets, tax reform and a line-item veto, the latter put forth in a tempting way to a

Congress beleaguered by the new deficit-reduction law: "Give me the authority to cut waste and I'll take the responsibility, I'll make the cuts, I'll take the heat."

But while talking about the need to cut the budget, Reagan offered no hint he would yield on his opposition to any tax increase or his determination to go forward with his defense buildup.

"The threat from Soviet forces, conventional and strategic, from the Soviet drive for domination, from the increase in espionage and state terror remains great," he said. "Closing our eyes will not make reality disappear."

The two new initiatives included in the president's speech were not programs but declarations that it was time to study the welfare system and the need for an insurance system to cover the cost of catastrophic illness.

Neither proposal was new. Previous administrations have proposed initiatives in both areas without success.

He declared it was time "we reduced the federal budget and left the family budget alone."

The president's words will now be set beside his numbers, the figures that spell out what he wants to cut, what he wants to eliminate.

Donald M. Rothberg is the chief political writer of The Associated Press.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, FEB. 7, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime finds you with much energy and ambition to get everything facing you done in fine fashion, so be up early and by noon you find you have accomplished much of importance.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Early get at whatever has long been on your mind and get it done, then get at long-time responsibilities.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try to improve your mode of operating, and get better results. Then use patience with one who is difficult to deal with.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Early try to please your mate, but later avoid hard work or running errands.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Look to a seasoned person in business who can help you to solve difficult problems in the morning.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Get right at your routines early and fine results occur, but tonight avoid a possible argument at home.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Early get the appointments set up for amusements later on, but you may find communicating rather difficult in the evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Financial and property matters should work well for you in the morning, but be sure not to commit yourself heavily tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can handle all communications quickly and well today, so get busy early. Later you may not gain a personal wish.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) The morning is fine for getting your practical affairs improved, but later a secret worry could deter your progress.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can do whatever gains you your most cherished personal aims. Steer clear of one who could waste your time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contact advisers who can help to make the future brighter for you. Later steer clear of one in power.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Listen carefully to what a long-time adviser has to suggest in order to gain your fondest aims.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she can easily understand what is expected from those in authority and will gladly carry through with orders. Give the finest education you can afford since coupled with the natural ability, this can make a most successful life.

Affleck speaks to group on women's work issues

Marie Affleck spoke to members of the Business and Professional Womens Club in January on issues facing women today in the work force.

Women today are taking on new roles at work, entering new occupations, pursuing longer careers and achieving higher positions on the career ladder, she said.

The average woman will spend at least 50 percent of her adult life in the work force, she said, and as a result, women are approaching work as a career instead of a job.

Employer response to the needs of the new American family are sadly outdated, Affleck said. Personnel manuals, written with the husband as breadwinner and non-working wives as the norm, do not take into account the fact that most people no longer have the personal maid and child care services formerly provided by the wife.

Many workers, both male and female, are single parents; many women now work throughout their pregnancies; and some men are now relocating to accommodate their wives career moves, Affleck said. These trends are not reflected in company policies. In many cases women have not demanded a revamping of personnel problems because it would make them seem weaker or different, Affleck said.

She suggests that women let their employers know that employees are not as efficient when trying to juggle home and work responsibility. Until women start communicating and posing friendly challenges to the status quo, neither they nor the women who follow will make much headway against sex discrimination, she said.

In other business, Louis Eitzen, chairman of the Spring Rally of District 8, Texas Federation BPW Clubs, said plans were underway for the meeting, which will be March 8-9 at La Posada and Park Inns International in Big Spring. District 8 includes chapters in Andrews, Big Spring, El Paso, Monahans, Odessa, Midland, Seminole and Pecos.

Chris Carter, credit manager at Hall-Bennett Hospital, was introduced as a new member.

Adams hostess for Rook Club

The Rook Club met at the residence of Birdie Adams Friday afternoon. Fannie Kent was co-hostess.

Guest players were Avanel Cook, Lois Singleton and Beth Moren. Cook had the high score of the guests. The others tied for high score.

The next meeting will be Feb. 2 at Marie Affleck's home.

Heart to Heart talk given

The 1955 Hyperion Club met in the home of Mrs. James Cave Tuesday. Mrs. James Owens and Mrs. Jimmy Morehead, co-hostesses served a cherry dessert with a valentine theme. Dr. John Farquhar gave a talk titled "Heart to Heart," the title club members that heart disease is the No. 1 public health problem and is an epidemic in the true sense of the word. He identified several lifestyle habits that contribute to the risk factor of a heart attack.

Mrs. Fred Carr of Scottsdale, Ariz., was a guest.

Drug abuse seminar presented

Clyde Aisup, director of the Alcohol and Drug Abuse program at the Big Spring State Hospital, spoke on "Drug Abuse: a Universal Problem" in the hospital's fourth seminar in a series Jan. 29.

He named some drugs, prescribed and illegal, that are currently being used, effects the drugs have and the treatment program being used to help patients return to their lives outside the hospital. He also presented a film by the Rev. Joe Martin of Ashley, N.C., who operates an alcohol treatment center in Ashley.

The next seminar will be about the much publicized and researched disease, AIDS.

Junior Woman's Club meets

Connie's Fashions manager Susan Wooten presented the new spring fashions and accessories and winter items at the GFWC-TFWC Big Spring Junior Woman's Club monthly meeting at Connie's Jan. 22.

Club members Sheree Moates, Sandy Klatt, Nancy Skopak, Susan McLellan, Carolyn Christensen and Alice Haynes modeled the apparel.

Ideas for a spring fund raiser were discussed and will be voted on next month. The February meeting will be the 17th at 7 p.m. at Lynn Chalker's residence. Everyone is asked to bring an item for the Northside Community Center.

Susan McLellan gave an update on the community improvement project. The club will be having in April with the downtown renovation project.

Members voted to have a membership drive in the fall.

Members also received their packets from the March of Dimes. The club walked to collect donations for the March of Dimes Mothers' March.

It is far from our purpose to give any just ground of offence to anyone, yet we are all obligated to obey God rather than man". It is better to harken to God and obey Him, His Word, than listen and to please men though all the world's honor be bestowed upon us. We dare not transfer to men, or partys or denominations a cent or a prayer if in doing so we rob the church of the Lord of it's glory and exalt the inventions of men above the wisdom of God. The New Testament presents the picture that the church is the "pillar and ground of the truth", "the temple of the Holy Spirit", and "the house of the living God", and we dare not think of it otherwise. The grand truth is that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God and the head of his church, which is composed of all the saved, simply because He adds all the saved to it (Acts 2) now. If He adds all the saved to the church, then there are none of the saved who are left out of it. It is evident that many in the world do not realize the importance of that truth, and misunderstand what the church is. Let us then read and study the New Testament to find out this truth. cf Ephesians 1 & 5; Acts

Dear Abby

Man's affair angers wife

DEAR ABBY: This has been bugging me for a long time and I need an answer. My husband, "Nick," had an affair with his sister-in-law (I'll call her Rosemary) while she and her husband, "Tom," were living with Tom's parents. Nick was living at home at the time because he was only 16.

It seems that whenever Rosemary and Nick were alone in the house, she would come on to him. Since Nick had never had a girlfriend before, he didn't resist her — I suppose out of curiosity and eagerness for the experience. Anyway, this went on for some time, until guilt made Nick tell his father about what was going on between him and Rosemary. The parents made Rosemary and Tom move out of the house, and that ended the whole sordid mess.

Nick is now 32 and we've been married for three years, but it still bothers me to be around Tom and Rosemary. Nick says he still feels guilty, but he's trying to forget it ever happened.

Lately he's started going over to Tom's because they have a common interest in horses, riding, etc. Whenever we are around them, Rosemary makes it a point to get near Nick and talk to him (as much as he lets her), and she sometimes calls the house and asks to speak to Nick — supposedly to tell him something for Tom.

This situation is driving me nuts! How can I get over these feelings of jealousy and anger? Nick wants to be able to see his brother without any trouble from me, but I'm not big enough to handle it. What should I do?

CAN'T FORGET
DEAR CAN'T: Accept the fact that your feelings of jealousy and anger are appropriate, but stop feeding them by dwelling on them. What are your options? To demand that Nick stop seeing his brother? Even if he were to agree to it — which is doubtful — it would create more problems than it would solve.

Everyone must live with some regrettable memories, but those who are wise shut the door on them. If you can't do this, see a professional counselor who will help you realize that it's self-destructive to harbor negative attitudes. You need to learn how to leave painful memories behind and go on with your life. No easy task, but it can be done. Good luck and God bless.

Dr. Donohue

Mother worried about AIDS

Dear Dr. Donohue: Late in 1984 I gave birth and required a pint of blood. The donor was unknown, and my concern is for the virus that causes AIDS. I have a beautiful son and a good husband, and I don't want to pass it on to them. Everyone tells me not to worry about it, even the nurse at our health department. I hope you can shed some light on this. I know a great number of people who are concerned about the same thing. — Mrs. J.T.

Your concern, of course, is based on the fact that it was not until last month that all donated blood was tested for evidence of AIDS exposure. So the technical possibility exists that you received contaminated blood. But please read on.

Since checking blood for presence of the AIDS antibody (evidence of past exposure) was begun, less than one-quarter of 1 percent of the blood was positive. That's a pretty small fraction. The chances that you by some outlandish quirk of fate got a pint of such blood are really minuscule.

And, of the 13,000 AIDS patients on record, only 194 had possible links to blood transfusions and transmission; again, a small number.

So all in all, your fears are largely unfounded. Yet, one thing I am learning from the AIDS experience is that few people are reassured even by the most favorable statistics. They want total reassurance.

If that is your case, I urge you to get the blood test. It will tell you whether your own blood has ever been exposed to blood containing the AIDS virus. Were I a wagering man, I'd bet the farm on the fact that you will test negative.

I should note that today donated blood is discarded if it even shows evidence of AIDS exposure. So blood transfusion concern is practically non-existent today.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am taking quinine sulfate for leg cramps. Is this harmful to my kidneys? — W.J.G.

Large doses of quinine taken for long periods can harm kidneys. But taken in the doses used for treatment of nighttime leg cramps, it is safe. Once you have gone several nights without cramps you can stop the medicine to see if it has abolished them. That hiatus will provide the kidneys a bit of rest from the medicine. Let me refer you to the booklet "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains" for answers to your other questions (in your edited letter). Other readers may still obtain a copy by writing to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Close games rule in SWC

By The Associated Press

The second-division teams couldn't buy a break and Texas Christian, Texas Tech, Texas, and Southern Methodist escaped with their scalps after a severe case of sweaty palms in a series of Southwest Conference basketball cliffhangers.

TCU went to double overtime to beat Arkansas 73-71 in Fayetteville Wednesday in the Horned Frogs' first victory there since 1972.

Texas Tech, the defending champions who had lost four games in a row, outlasted Houston 92-91 also in double overtime.

SMU came from eight points down to subdue the feisty Baylor Bears 61-57 and Texas had to struggle to beat Rice 62-56.

The idle league-leading Texas Aggies got the night off and it was probably a good time to be away from the action.

They lead with an 8-1 record but TCU and Texas are just a half-game behind with 8-2 ledgers.

SMU is in third place with a 7-3 mark while Tech is now 5-4.

Houston is 4-6 followed by Arkansas 2-9 and Baylor and Rice who have one victory each in 10 games.

SMU Coach Dave Bliss said Baylor is definitely back. He joined Aggie Coach Shelby Metcalf in praising Coach Gene Iba's crew.

"Baylor is a good ball club and we're glad we don't have to play them again," said Bliss. "This was a fortunate win for us. Baylor played just a super ball game but we did the things we had to do down the stretch to salvage the game."

He added "I don't think we took Baylor lightly. They just played good."

Kevin Lewis led SMU with 22 points while Michael Williams was high for Baylor with 18 points.

Bryan Stinchcomb hit a 12-foot jumper with six seconds left for TCU. He had not scored in nine previous Southwest Conference games.

The Red Raiders' Sean Gay sank two free throws with 21 seconds to go in the second overtime and Tobin Doda hit 19 second-half points to lead Texas Tech.

Tech had its second one-point overtime victory over Houston this season, including a 69-68 victory in Lubbock.

The Red Raiders snapped their four-game SWC losing streak and gave Coach Gerald Myers his 300th career victory.

The Cougars were led by Alvin Franklin with 24 points as the Cougars dropped to a 10-10 record for the season and 4-6 in SWC games.

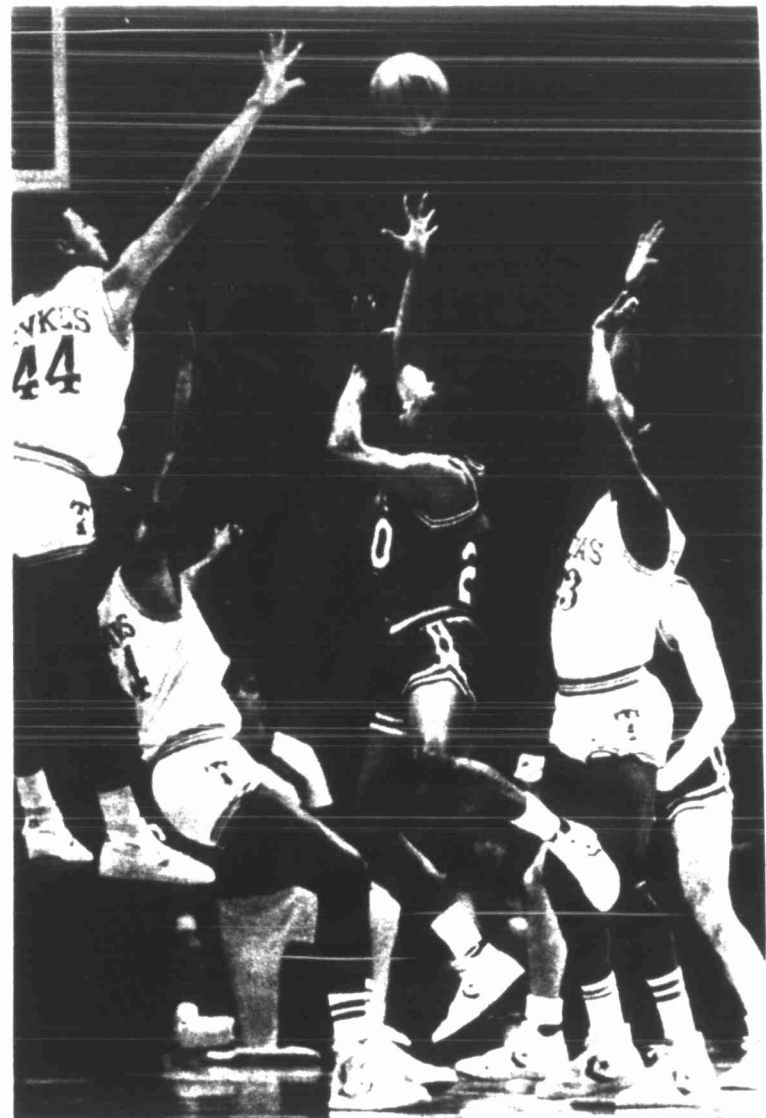

Houston held a 91-90 lead with 27 seconds left on a basket by Gerry McGee. But Gay connected on both free throws after he was fouled by Houston's Renaldo Thomas to ice the game.

The Cougars held a 73-70 lead with 55 seconds left in regulation. But Doda connected on a free throw and Tony Benford hit a basket with 33 seconds to play for a 73-73 deadlock at the buzzer.

In Austin, Karl Willock hit two key baskets and two free throws for the Longhorns.

Texas frittered away a 34-25 halftime lead midway through the second period. Greg Hines scored 11 of the Owls first 16 points. Andy Gilchrist hit two free throws with 8:12 left to pull Rice within two, 47-45.

Patrick Fairs led Texas with 18 points.

Rice's Greg Hines (20) takes a shot over a crowd of Texas defenders including John Sykes (44) Raynard Davis (54) and Patrick Fairs (33) in first half action of Southwest Conference basketball.

Howard set to battle South Plains

The Howard College Hawk-Queens and Hawks will try to get back on the winning track tonight when they host South Plains in a doubleheader at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

The Queens will kick off the Western Junior College Athletic Association battle at 6 p.m.

Coach Don Stevens' squad had its three-game winning streak snapped Monday night 79-61 by a overpowering Western Texas squad.

The loss dropped Howard into fifth place in the conference with a 3-5 record. Howard is 9-15 overall.

Meanwhile their counterparts are wedged in third place with a 4-2 record behind Odessa College and Western Texas. South Plains is 15-7 for the year. Third-year coach Lyndon Hardin's troops have been off for the last 10 days. Their last game was a 62-54 loss to Western Texas in Snyder.

South Plains is led by sophomore post player Shari Schillings and Sally Walling who each average 12 points per game.

In their loss to Western Texas, Howard was paced by guard Terri Powell who scored 25 points. Post player Carolyn Willand added 15 points. Howard's leading scorer Lorri French was limited to 2 points in the loss.

HAWKS FACE TOUGH TEST

Coach Ed Sparling's Hawks are in the midst of a seven game losing streak. Howard has been in all the games but poor free throw shooting has been its downfall in most of the losses.

Howard is coming off a 75-71 loss to Western Texas. A game in which the Hawks sank only 11 of 23 free throw attempts.

Sophomore center Walt Reynolds paced Howard with 24 points and 16 rebounds. Forward Mike McCall and guard Vernard Goode also scored in double figures for the Hawks who are now 2-7 and 8-15 overall.

South Plains first-year coach Ron Mayberry has done a remarkable job with a program that went 8-21 overall and 1-17 in conference play last season. Mayberry, who coached at Kilgore JC last season, has led South Plains to a 7-2 conference record and 18-7 overall.

South Plains is saddled in second place in conference play behind Midland College. South Plains' title hopes are dealt a severe blow Monday night in Roswell, New Mexico when New Mexico Military Institute upset them 71-69.

South Plains is led by freshmen forward Darryl Rudolph who's averaging 15 points and 7 rebounds per contest.

Game time is 8 p.m.

Drug found in boxer's system may cause loss of championship

NEW YORK (AP) — A contrite Tim Witherspoon worried that he could lose his World Boxing Association heavyweight title because a postfight test showed there were traces of marijuana in his system when he won the crown last month.

"I smoked marijuana once at party in Philadelphia around Thanksgiving," said Witherspoon, who won a 15-round decision over champion Tony Tubbs on Jan. 17 in Atlanta.

"That was way before the fight, way before training," Witherspoon told a news conference Wednesday after promoter Don King said he had been informed of the test result the previous day by the Georgia Boxing Commission.

The fighter said he was surprised that marijuana would show up in a test taken about two months later.

Mike Cohen, a public relations spokesman for King, said doctors had told the promoter that traces of marijuana could show up as long as 90 days after its use.

"I feel real bad," Witherspoon said. "A whole lot of things are in jeopardy."

Georgia Boxing Commission chairman Lanny Franklin said a hearing will be held Monday in Atlanta, but added that he was bound by law to make no public statement on the matter until after a hearing.

"We have already notified the World Boxing Association of the hearing and what they do after that is up to them," said Franklin.

"As far as we are concerned, the result of the fight will stand. Under our rules, we cannot change a decision except for collusion, fraud or a mathematical error."

"WBA Rule 8.1 states that drugs or stimulants taken before or during a fight are prohibited," said Tubbs' Cincinnati-based attorney, Louis Katz, "and that a contestant is subject to disqualification."

"I am told there is ample precedent for a title being stripped, and we intend to pursue securing the title back for Tony. We've already been in contact with the WBA on this. I was led to believe by their attorney, Jimmy Binns, that the rule is clear."

Witherspoon, who was named Boxer of the Month on Tuesday by the WBA, asked to be forgiven. "I let everyone down. I gave Don King my word that I was clean and that I didn't use it, but I lied."

"I was young-minded and foolish and went ahead and smoked this stuff. I will never do it again."

Tim Witherspoon, shown here reacting after he won a split decision over Tony Tubbs in January to gain the World Boxing Association heavyweight championship. Witherspoon could lose his title because traces of a drug was found in his system after the bout.

AL Rookie of Year loses arbitration case

By The Associated Press

Alvin Davis, 1984 American League Rookie of the Year from the Seattle Mariners, has lost his demand for a $550,000 salary in the first case reported out of this year's salary arbitration hearings.

Instead, the arbitrator ruled Wednesday that Davis would have to settle for the $400,000 offered by the Mariners for 1986.

At the same time, at least seven players who were bound for arbitration signed contracts with their clubs Wednesday. They were outfielder Dave Henderson of Seattle, outfielders Nick Esasky and Max Venable of Cincinnati, pitcher Charles Hudson of Philadelphia, pitcher Mike Smithson of Minnesota, pitcher Bob Walk of Pittsburgh and catcher Dann Bilardello of Montreal.

The disposition of Davis' case and the signing of Henderson left the Mariners with five players still headed for arbitration — outfielder Phil Bradley, pitchers Roy Thomas, Mike Moore and Mark Langston and catcher Bob Kearney.

Davis hit 284 with 116 runs batted in and 27 homers in 1984. Last season, he hit 287 with 78 RBI and 18 homers. Henderson had asked for $442,500, while the Mariners were offering $360,000. Last year, Henderson batted 241 with two homers and 68 RBI.

At the same time, the Mariners said they had signed former Detroit pitcher Milt Wilcox to a minor-league contract. He will join the Mariners in spring training as a non-roster invitee. Wilcox has had elbow and shoulder problems.

Esasky and Venable both signed one-year contracts with the Reds. Still headed for arbitration against the Reds were pitchers Ted Power and Joe Price, outfielder Eddie Milner, catchers Dave Van Gorder and Sal Butera and infielder Wayne Krenchicki.

At the same time, the Reds said they had invited relief pitcher Rollie Fingers to their spring camp.

Esasky hit 262 with 21 homers and 66 RBI last season after being shifted from third base to left field when the Reds acquired Buddy Bell from Texas. Venable hit 289 in 77 games as a pinch hitter. Esasky filed a salary demand of $285,000.

while the Reds had offered $225,000.

Hudson, a right-hander, posted an 8-13 record with a 3.78 ERA for the Phillies in 1985. Hudson, who earned $192,500 last year, reportedly was asking for $330,000 for 1986, while the team was offering $225,000.

Walk, a right-hander, was 2-3 with a 3.68 ERA for the Pirates in 1985.

Hawk Profile

Howard College Hawks 5-11 freshmen guard Lamarr Merchant hails from Detroit. He 16 years of basketball makes him an old hand at the game.

The 21-year old says that "basketball is a fun game plus I love the sport." The son of Annie and Edgar Merchant says that his mom has been the main person influencing his basketball career.

Merchant's favorite subject is speech and lists his hobby as listening to music.

His future plans include attending Michigan State University and majoring in communications.

Windee McCullin is in her first year playing center-forward for the Howard College Hawk-Queens.

The 18-year-old freshmen from Virginia Beach, Va. has been playing basketball for the past five years. She says her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. McCullin, have been the most influential people in her basketball career. "My parents got me involved in the sport and made me stick with it," she said. "Basketball is very challenging and I enjoy it."

The six-footer says that math and physical education are her favorite courses. Her hobbies include swimming, softball and water skiing.

Walton leads Celts past Bullets

BOSTON (AP) — Many years and several injuries ago, Bill Walton had a ball helping UCLA win 88 consecutive basketball games.

Now, in his 12th National Basketball Association season, the 6-foot-11 redhead is enjoying winning as a backup center and forward with the Boston Celtics.

"I love to win," Walton said Wednesday night after sparking the Celtics to their 13th consecutive victory, a 103-88 decision over the Washington Bullets.

"I hope it never ends," Walton said of the streak. "It certainly is not the time to stop now. Basketball is a lot of work and nothing is worse than working hard and losing a game."

NBA

The Philadelphia 76ers routed the New Jersey Nets 142-107 in the only other NBA game.

Larry Bird scored 26 points and grabbed 16 rebounds in 41 minutes to lead the Celtics. Robert Parish hit for 25 points and had eight rebounds playing against 7-foot-6 Manute Bol.

But in just 28 minutes, Walton scored 13 points, grabbed a season high 17 rebounds, earned three assists, blocked one shot and had one steal.

"Bill is comfortable with the team now," Boston Coach K.C. Jones said of the veteran acquired last September in a deal which sent Cedric Maxwell, a No. 1 draft pick and cash to the Los Angeles Clippers. "He's no longer strange to the system and is giving us top quality minutes."

"He's a quality player," said Washington Coach Gene Shue. "He has a positive influence on the team. He rebounds, plays defense and passes very well."

"Walton is a hungry player, hungry for a championship," said Washington veteran Dan Roundfield. "He gave them the spark in the third period. He dominated the boards and Bird, playing like he always does, broke open the game."

The Celtics admittedly were sluggish before putting away the game with a 14-4 run in the final four minutes of the third period.

"This game was not easy," Walton said. "However, if it was easy it wouldn't be any fun. You know, teams are not coming in here and dying. Everyone plays us tough. However, we don't worry about the opposition. We just concentrate on playing our game and playing hard."

take a single shot — from the floor or the free throw line.

While extending their longest winning streak since an 18-0 run in February and March, 1982, the Celtics hiked their home record for the season to 22-1 with their fourth consecutive victory over Washington.

Sheriff may have ID on skeletal remains

BY SCOTT FERGUSON
Staff Writer

Authorities may have identified the skeletal remains found yesterday in a pasture north of Big Spring, Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard said this morning.

"We feel like we know who it is, but we want to double check and make sure," Standard said.

The deceased is believed to be a man who lived within an 80-mile radius of Big Spring outside of Howard County, Standard said. The name will not be released, he said, until identification has been confirmed.

Cause of death has not been determined, Standard said. "We cannot find any evidence (of foul play) at this time but we will keep an open mind about it," he said this morning.

The body appears to have been at the site at least two years and may have been there since 1960, he said.

The sheriff said remnants of what "appeared to be a robe and house shoes" also were discovered at the scene.

The initial identification was based on a fractured leg, Standard said. Confirmation will be made by cross-checking denture plates found at the scene, he said.

Dr. Robert Rember, a state certified pathologist, is assisting with identification and attempting to determine cause of death, Standard said.

The remains were discovered about noon Tuesday five miles north of Big Spring off U.S. 87 by members of a seismographic crew.

Academia

• Three Big Spring students received degrees from Texas A&M University this fall. Dirk F.

Callison received a master's degree in agricultural education, Gregory B. Griffith received a bachelor's degree in animal science, and James H. Parks II received a bachelor's degree in accounting. • Sharie Diane Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Shaw of Big Spring, received a bachelor of science degree from Angelo State University this fall.

• Gary Leonard Newton, son of Lindell and Leola Newton of Route 3, has finished the fall semester at Texas Tech University with a perfect 4.0 grade point average.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR FLUID INJECTION WELL PERMIT

HRUBETZ OPERATING COMPANY, 5949 Sherry Lane Suite 800, Dallas, Texas 75226 has applied to the Railroad Commission of Texas for a permit to inject fluid into a formation which is productive of oil or gas.

The applicant proposes to inject fluid into the Turner-Gregory (Clear Fork), F.E. York (RRC # 14223), Well Nos. 196, 206, 216, 226, 236, 246. The proposed injection wells are located 6.0 Miles Northwest of Westbrook, Tx. in the Turner-Gregory (Clear Fork) Field, in Mitchell County. Fluid will be injected into strata in the subsurface depth interval from 2400' to 3100' feet.

LEGAL AUTHORITY: Chapter 27 of the Texas Water Code, as amended, Title 3 of the Natural Resources Code, as amended, and the Statewide Rules of the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Requests for a public hearing from persons who can show they are adversely affected, or requests for further information concerning any aspect of the application should be submitted in writing, within fifteen days of publication, to the Underground Injection Control Section, Oil and Gas Division, Railroad Commission of Texas, Drawer 12967, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711 (Telephone 512-445-1373).

Coahoma school tops in decathlon contest

COAHOMA — Coahoma High School was highest scoring small school at the Region 1 Texas Academic Decathlon contest in Abilene Saturday.

The six-member team from Coahoma also won the Super Quiz event, in which each team member is asked five questions. Larger schools competed with Coahoma in the Super Quiz.

In addition to team victories, Kim Clanton placed second in the Honors division for speech competition and third in the interview competition. She competed against honor students from all 20 schools in the region.

Each team consisted of two honor or A students, two scholastic or B students, and two varsity or C students. They competed against other students in their divisions in 10 academic competitions.

Team members were, honors, Kim Clanton and Dixie Shaw, with Angela Reid and Kent Ballard as alternates; scholastic, Stacey Ream and Angie Jones, with Betty Ballard as alternate; and varsity, Chuckie Martin and Will Doyle, with Douglas Lawhon as alternate. Heavily Doyle was the team coach.

The contest included written tests in mathematics, science, social studies, economics, grammar, literature and fine arts; oral competitions, including an interview and a prepared and impromptu speech; and the Super Quiz.

Special fund set up for collision victim

A special fund has been established at Security State Bank for a Howard County man who suffered severe head injuries in a two-car wreck Jan. 15 on Callahan Road.

Gary D. Burgess, 21, of Sterling City Route Box 5 is still listed in stable condition at Odessa Medical Center's intensive care ward. He was transferred to Odessa from Malone-Hogan Hospital immediately after the head-on collision.

An intensive care unit spokeswoman said Wednesday afternoon Burgess remains in a coma.

According to a Department of Public Safety accident report,

Burgess was traveling southbound on Callahan Road when his car collided with a car driven by Jerry R. Arrick, 42, of Sterling City Route Box 9.

Arrick was admitted to Malone-Hogan and was released Jan. 19, a hospital spokeswoman said Wednesday.

The fund established at Security State is to help offset the mounting medical costs for treating Burgess, said Jannette James, the victim's aunt.

She said Burgess was not covered by insurance at the time of the accident.

The account is being administered by Allen C. James, Burgess' grandfather.

Water deliveries up

Water deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District rose sharply in January from a year ago with the biggest gain of 158,451,000 gallons recorded by the city of San Angelo.

The figure exceeds 37,938,400 gallons used by San Angelo in January 1984.

The 1,319,872,760-gallon total was up 119 million gallons or 17.76 percent from a year ago. From January's total usage, 1,146,260,000 gallons went to municipal users, up 161 million gallons or 16.36 percent.

Oil and industrial users drew 173,612,760 gallons, up nearly 38 million or 27.89 percent.

Municipality usage for the month of January totaled:

- Big Spring — 185,244,000 gallons, down 6.37 percent. The city used more water in January than a year ago, but Cosden Refinery used less, according to a district news release.
- Midland — 311,520,000 gallons, up 4.52 percent.
- Odessa — 408,849,000 gallons, up 6.67 percent.
- Snyder — 74,273,000 gallons, up 20.25 percent.
- Stanton — 7,923,000 gallons, up 12.58 percent.

Parolee to serve term

Parole for Ronald Mathis, 24, of 151 Oriole was revoked Tuesday by the State Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Mathis will resume serving a burglary sentence he received in February 1984. He was paroled in November 1984 after serving three months in prison.

Mathis was arrested Dec. 22 and pleaded guilty in municipal court to assaulting his mother.

Parole officer David Harman recommended revocation after a parole hearing Jan. 21.

In addition to violating the conditions of his parole, Harman said Mathis also violated a special condition ordering him to abstain from alcohol.

Youths do well at stock show

Several Howard County 4-Hers placed high in the steer show competition at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth Jan. 30-31.

Steer feeder Vance Christie's lightweight Angus took home a first place from the show, while Justin Wood nabbed a second place in a field of 70 by showing his European Cross.

Howard County youths also did well in the American Cross Steer Show as Dane Driver placed "Sambodo," a lightweight steer, third, and "Domino," a middleweight, fourth.
