Texans favor Clements, White

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story is based on a special Texas Poll conducted by the Public Policy Resources Laboratory at Texas A&M University and sponsored by Harte-Hanks Communications Inc., The Dallas Morning News and KTRK-TV, Channel 13, in Houston. Percentages are rounded to the nearest whole number.

By JIM DAVIS
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Former Republican Gov. Bill Clements is riding high on the road to a political comeback and running neck-and-neck with incumbent Democrat Mark White in popularity at this time, a special Texas Poll shows.

The poll, based on telephone interviews with 1,000 adult Texans between Jan. 24 and Feb. 6, indicates Clements is the dominant force in the three-candidate race for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

He has strong name recognition statewide and outdraws opponents Kent Hance and Tom Loeffler in almost every category.

More importantly, in a two-candidate faceoff between him and White, the former Republican governor trails by only 2 percentage points, 43 to 41, with 15.9 percent not answering. Allowing for a polling sample error of plus or minus 3 percent for each candidate, Clements could be leading White in a popularity contest at this time.

Dr. Jim Dyer, director of the Texas Poll, said he would give the nod to Clements in a current matchup, even though 32 percent of the 1,000 interviewed said they are Democrats compared with 26 percent for the Republicans.

"Since Democratic support tends to be concentrated among those less likely to turn out (in an election), it is likely that Clements leads White at this moment," Dyer said.

No attempt was made to determine whether those questioned are registered voters or are likely to vote in either the May 3 party primaries or Nov. 4 general election.

The White-GOP candidate matchups were based on the question of who the person would vote for "if an election for governor were held today." White led Hance 46 percent to 33 percent, with 20 percent not answering. He led Loeffler 47 to 27, with a whopping 27 percent undecided or not answering.

Mark White vs. Bill Clements

Region of Texas	Percent Favor White	Percent Favor Clements	Percent No Answer
North Texas	37.18	49.68	13.14
West Texas	34.83	50.56	14.61
South Texas	46.33	36.72	16.95
Gulf Coast	53.69	30.05	16.26
East Texas	38.66	44.54	16.81
Cent. Texas	44.44	33.33	22.22
TOTAL	42.84	41.24	15.92

The ability to defeat White in the Nov. 4 general election has been the key issue in the three-candidate GOP gubernatorial race so far.

White edges Loeffler, a four-term congressman from West Texas, even among those polled who identified themselves as Republicans, by 40 to 39.

A breakdown of the answers by political affiliation seems to deny Hance's claim that he — a former Democratic state senator and congressman from Lubbock — would attract more conservative

Cap Rock customers help design own electric rates

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

STANTON — Cap Rock Electric Cooperative customers for the first time are being given a say in designing their electric rates.

Recommendations for from a 20-member advisory committee will fall into the laps of the board of directors next Thursday for final approval, said David Pruitt, assistant manager of Cap Rock Electric.

"It's an effort on the board of director's part to involve the stockholders in the rate design process," he said.

Pruitt said the committee was picked randomly from all Cap Rock customers who responded to a mass mailing by the cooperative.

The committee first met Jan. 21 to hear presentations by Rodger Burch, general manager of the co-op; Paul Irish, staff member of the Texas Public Utility Commission; and Don Stone, a general field representative of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Pruitt said the committee met for its fourth and final time Thursday night.

Leo Williams of Big Spring, a member of the committee, said the process has been "very interesting."

He said the committee allowed lay persons to get "personally involved on the rate structure," and helped answer questions pertaining to rate increases.

The co-op, which serves 13 counties, is currently "putting together a package for the Public Utilities Commission for a rate increase," Williams said.

The committee was informed by the co-op that an increase was necessary to stay in business, he said.

Pruitt said the increase to consumers would be "very nominal," with consumers charged different electric rates depending on usage.

On the committee, "we had people represent cotton gins, oil production, irrigation wells and the homeowners or residential users," Pruitt said.

The co-op's board is required by law to submit finalized rates to the state Public Utility Commission.

Clowning around

Two of the Good Time Clowns from the First Presbyterian Church greet patient George Johnson Friday at the Veterans Administration Medical Center. The VA hospital had several special programs last week in a salute to hospitalized veterans.

Clinic to add outpatient surgery

Malone and Hogan Clinic plans to open a $1 million outpatient surgery by summer and has begun recruiting for several specialists, administrator Doyle Lamb said Friday.

Bids invitations were mailed Friday to medical equipment suppliers for the surgery, Lamb said. About $600,000 to $700,000 of the $1 million will be spent on equipment, he said, and $150,000 to $200,000 will be spent to modernize the building.

The surgery center will be on the first floor adjacent to the clinic pharmacy and radiology department.

The development is a response to a trend in medicine toward outpatient services, or surgery without a hospital stay, he said. This helps keep costs to the patient low.

The clinic opened its own laboratory in September and an X-ray department in November, Lamb said.

Dr. Robert Hayes of Dallas, an orthopedic surgeon, will begin practice at the surgery April 1, Lamb said. The clinic also plans to recruit an ophthalmologist and an obstetrician/gynecologist, he said.

In addition, outpatient services will offer a dialysis unit to be in use probably in early June, as well as physical therapy, respiratory therapy and a cardiac rehabilitation program.

The surgery center, the lab and X-ray department are financed by the physicians of Malone and Hogan Clinic and FAEE Enterprises Inc., he said.

Names in the news

By the Associated Press
LOS ANGELES — A group protesting war toys left a valentine for actor Sylvester Stallone in hopes it would encourage him to shoot down plans to market combat dolls based on the "Rambo" character from his hit movies.

Jerry Rubin, leader of the L.A. War Toys Boycott and who is not related to the 1960s activist of the same name, said he and two other activists deposited the 50-foot-high valentine at the actor's Pacific Palisades home during a downpour late Friday.

Stallone's publicist, Paul Bloch, said Friday that the actor was out of town on his honeymoon and didn't even know about the demonstrators. He recently married actress Brigitte Nielsen.

"We'd like to hear a statement of concern from Stallone," said Rubin.

The protesters' giant card says: "Name the weapon war toy protesters approve of." Inside, the card answers: "Cupid's arrow."

A cupid angel points a heart-tipped arrow at a drawing of Stallone in his movie-poster pose as Rambo, the ex-Green Beret still fighting Vietnamese Communists.

MANHATTAN, Kan. — Rosa Parks, whose refusal to give up her bus seat to a white man 30 years ago in Alabama helped spark the civil rights movement, is still crusading against racial inequality.

"Some progress has been made," the 73-year-old activist said Friday during a visit to an elementary school. "But wherever there's deprivation, prejudice, denial, there's still work to be done."

Blacks no longer must sit in the back of buses, drink from separate water fountains or attend segregated schools, but they still struggle against prejudice, she said.

Parks was arrested in 1955 for refusing to give up her seat on a Montgomery, Ala., bus, and 25,000 blacks in the city backed her by boycotting the bus system for 11 months. The city later agreed to allow seating on a first-come, first-served basis.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Trucker Curtis Jones, whose concern for missing and runaway children grew into a nationwide rescue campaign, has been named the National Highway Hero for 1985.

Jones will be honored during ceremonies preceding Sunday's Daytona 500 stock car race.

He will receive a $20,000 U.S.

Savings Bond from Robert E. Mercer, chairman of the board of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., which sponsors the annual award for truck drivers.

Jones, 37, the father of two, earned the recognition when his concern for the plight of missing and runaway children led him to place huge posters of such children on his tractor-trailer rig.

Other truckers all over the country followed his example, and the campaign is credited with locating 46 youngsters.

"When kids run away from home, usually the first thing they do is head for the highway and stick out their thumb," said Jones, of Montezuma, Iowa. "No matter who picks the kids up, they'll eventually gravitate to a truckstop."

NEW YORK — Charles Mingus III, son of the late jazz bassist, was charged in a $14 million suit that he was libeled in a book that said he used drugs when he and playwright-actor Sam Shepard were roommates.

Named as defendants in the suit were Dell Publishing Co. and Don Shewey, a jazz and drama critic and author of the book, "Sam Shepard: The Life, the Loves Behind the Legend of a True American Original."

Mingus, 41, charged in state court papers that the unauthorized biography contained "false, defamatory, malicious and libelous statements" about him.

Mingus, an abstract artist, pointed to passages he said are in the book, including: "He began painting and sculpting at an early age — also experimenting with drugs."

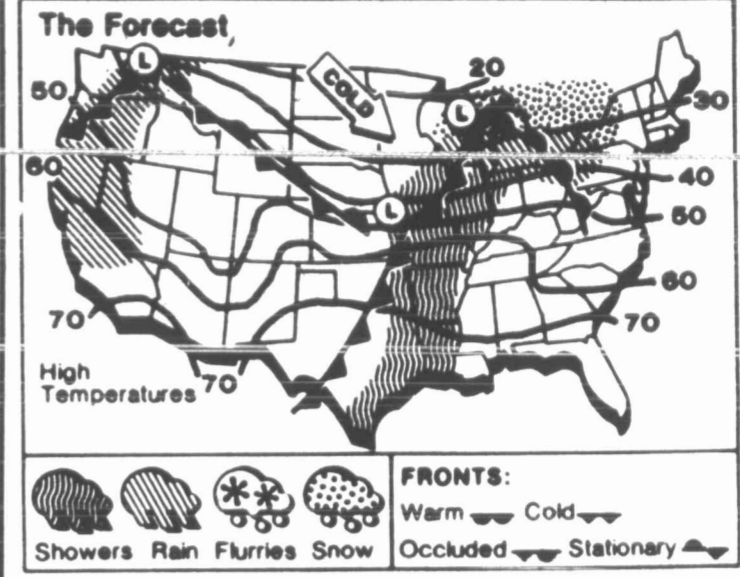

Shepard, who roomed with Mingus in a Lower East Side tenement, now lives in New Mexico with actress Jessica Lange.

A spokeswoman for Dell, who refused to give her name, said she had no comment on the suit. Shewey did not return telephone calls.

MINNEAPOLIS — Present and former board members at Walker Art Center have purchased a $225,000 sculpture by pop artist Roy Lichtenstein to honor museum director Martin Friedman.

The gift, presented Friday night, is "Salute to Painting," a 25-foot aluminum and steel sculpture representing four overlapping brush strokes of red, white, pink and yellow paint. It has been installed on an outdoor sculpture terrace overlooking the museum's entrance.

Weather

State

Skies were sunny but winds blustery across much of North and West Texas Saturday as a strong area of low pressure continued to develop over the central Rockies.

South to southwest winds of 15 to 25 mph breezed the region, and a few gusts were clocked as high as 35 mph. Elsewhere, a south to southeast wind of 10 mph was common, the National Weather Service said.

Brilliant sunshine bathed nearly all the state in spite of high clouds that hovered across most sections. A few low clouds also dotted the coastal bend and lower Rio Grande Valley.

Temperatures reached into the 70s over the South Plains, the Edwards Plateau and deep South Texas, but the 60s were the rule over the rest of Texas. The late-afternoon temperature extremes ranged from 82 degrees at Midland to 60 degrees at Beaumont.

 which in turn sets the allowable rate return for the utility.

"When it goes to the Public Utility Commission, it can be taken as is," Williams said, "or they may come back and recommend lower rates."

Pruitt said the formation of the advisory committee "involved co-op members in a very vital part of the business."

"We're the first co-op in the state to involve members in the rate process," Pruitt said. "It's a Democratic process at its finest."

Advancement of Colored People. The presentations was made during festivities from 1 to 5 p.m. at the county fairgrounds.

The celebration featured traditional food, such as "trotters" (pigs' feet), "flopsters" (pigs' ears) and "swatters" (ox tails); Liberian-style collard greens, sweet potato pie and cracklin bread, which is cornbread flavored with pork skins.

Posters of people who played a part in black history decked the walls. Represented were well-known characters like King, Abraham Lincoln and Harriet Tubman, along with more obscure faces Jean Baptiste du Sable, for example, founded Chicago, and Percy L. Julian developed a chemical to waterproof paint and an inexpensive way to make cortisone, used to treat arthritis.

The Rev. James Boyce, pastor of Lakeside Baptist Church of Spur, who attended the festival said black history means "success, from where we came to where we are now; joy and hope for tomorrow."

Boyce said the greatest accomplishment of the black people was the civil rights movement.

"We were recognized as a part of America," he said.

Jo Ellen Smith said to her black history means "umojia" (Swahili for unity) and "kujechagalea" (Swahili for self-determination).

A youth contest, the Afro-Academic Cultural Technological and Scientific Olympics, was postponed because several of the entrants could not attend, said Voorhies.

Democratic votes. In the poll's races with White, Hance pulled 23 percent of the Democrats' support, only five points more than Loeffler and two points less than Clements.

Asked about these figures, Hance argued that he will do much better with Democrats later when his name identification increases with television advertising.

Hance and Loeffler suffered from a lack of name identification in the poll, with Hance drawing only a 48 percent recognition and Loeffler 46. Clements drew 93 and White 97.

A special question asked for a grade of excellent, good, fair or poor on "the job Mark White is doing as governor." The breakdown came out as 9 percent excellent, 33 percent good, 30 percent fair and 23 percent poor, with the rest not answering. That gives White 42 percent favorable, although Dyer said the "fair" category is sufficiently broad to include some positive ratings.

But the governor suffers when put to the so-called "thermometer test" on the basis of warm or cool feelings toward him. He has the highest rate of negative feelings among all candidates, with 35 percent. That compares with his 41 percent rating of warm feelings.

Clements, whose principal weakness is perceived by opponents as a high negative rating with voters from his gruff, tell-it-like-it-is manner as governor, ranked almost the same as White on the positive scale but had only a 20 percent negative. Hance and Loeffler had significantly lower negatives (12 and 7, respectively) but also much lower positives (18 and 13).

"Clearly, Clements is in the best position against White," Dyer said of the three GOP candidates. He also pointed out that White gained only 4 percentage points more when paired against Hance or Loeffler than he scored against Clements. "So, the real difference among the races is what the 'don't know's' are doing rather than Clements pulling away people who would otherwise be inclined to vote for White," Dyer said.

The large number of "don't know's" would give Hance and Loeffler a bigger pool of potential converts to draw from, but White also could court that group and would need only a few percentage points more for a majority against either candidate.

Dyer said the poll indicates Clements' prospects for winning the Republican primary are good. "He has high name recognition and almost all of his negative evaluations come from the Democrats," he said.

"Thermometer" ratings also were taken for two candidates who had been known by polling time as candidates for governor in the Democratic primary, A. Don Crowder and Andrew Briscoe III, but both have such low name recognition that comparison data indicates little. A total of 77 percent failed to recognize Crowder and 52 percent didn't know Briscoe. Crowder had a positive-negative rating of 3 and 4; Briscoe had 13 and 10.

"White has no significant opposition among the Democrats," Dyer said. "No one else is known." He said some people may confuse Briscoe with his better-known cousin, former Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Other interesting data collected under particular categories included:

MARITAL STATUS. On White's job as governor, the highest ranking of 47 percent favorable came from divorced or separated persons. The lowest was 41 from married persons. The same ranking shows up when White is matched with the various GOP candidates.

EDUCATION. Little difference appeared in White's job rating when comparing persons with a college degree, high school degree or less than a high school education. But in the White-Clements matchup, White had an 11 percentage-point lead in the least educated group and Clements had an 8-point advantage among college graduates.

OCCUPATION. White's job ratings were highest among clerical-secretarial workers, 46 percent excellent or good, and administrators-managers, 42 percent. His lowest ratings were among blue-collar workers, 38 percent excellent or good, and retired persons, 39 percent. When tested against Clements, however, White carries the blue-collar vote by 12 percentage points and Clements wins administrator-managers' support by 7 points. The retired persons go for Clements by 15 points.

TEXAS RESIDENCY. Other polls and studies have shown that many newcomers to the state identify themselves as Republicans. But in matchups with the GOP candidates, White carries a majority of those who have lived here 19 years or less. Those who came to Texas more than 10 years ago support Clements and Hance but not Loeffler. Life-long residents go narrowly for Clements but give White big margins over Hance and Loeffler.

AGE. White's job as governor is ranked highest by persons 18 to 29 years old, 47 percent excellent or good; lowest by those 45 to 61, 39 percent. Those same positive-negative feelings are reflected in their votes in the White-Clements match, and the candidates are about even in the 30-to-44 and the 62-and-over categories. Clements outdraws both his younger GOP rivals for the support of the younger persons polled.

ETHNIC ORIGIN. White carries the black and Hispanic votes against Hance and Loeffler by margins of more than 3-to-1. He has that margin of the black vote against Clements but carries Hispanics by only 2-to-1. The Anglo votes go to Clements by almost 10 percentage points against White but are virtually tied between White and Hance and go to White by 10 points against Loeffler. But almost 30 percent of the Anglos are undecided in the Hance and Loeffler races against White.

INCOME. White led against each candidate significantly among the 15.2 percent who said they earn less than $10,000 a year. He easily leads Hance and Loeffler in the $10,000-to-$30,000 range and edges Clements. He trails Clements in the over-$30,000 category, ties with Hance and beats Loeffler.

Reagan questions win

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — President Reagan on Saturday questioned the credibility of the election victory claimed by Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos and blamed his forces for the violence and fraud that marred the voting.

It was a major blow to Marcos who only hours before Reagan's statement was proclaimed the official winner over Corazon Aquino by the National Assembly, which is controlled by Marcos and conducts the only official vote count.

Tylenol plant is probed

NEW YORK — The cyanide found in a Tylenol capsule that killed a woman could have been put there months ago, federal authorities said Saturday, as the painkiller's maker began a review of production, distribution and employee files.

"The work we did showed no time restrictions such as were previously reported," said Food and Drug Administration Commissioner Dr. Frank Young, referring to statements by Westchester County authorities that the poison would dissolve the capsule's gelatin casing in eight to 10 days.

Westchester District Attorney Carl A. Vergari said he was concerned such statements had created "the false and dangerous impression that people shouldn't worry about the bottles they bought before that time."

Launch process flawed

WASHINGTON — The presidential commission investigating the explosion of the space shuttle Challenger has determined the decision to launch the spacecraft "may have been flawed," commission Chairman William P. Rogers announced Saturday.

The commission asked the National Aeronautics and Space Administration not to permit any of the people involved in the launch decision to participate on NASA's internal investigative teams looking into the Jan. 28 explosion that killed six astronauts and New Hampshire schoolteacher Christa McAuliffe, Rogers said.

Rogers said President Reagan was advised of the Saturday decision.

Phony money is found

HOUSTON — A part-time cashier at a discount store is credited with helping federal authorities seize the largest amount of internationally smuggled counterfeit money ever in Houston, the Secret Service says.

While checking out customers at K mart one day, Betty Garcia caught a woman passing a bogus $20 bill — a discovery that culminated in the seizure of almost $500,000 in phony money, authorities said.

Marcos victory

President named amid allegations of fraud

MANILA, Philippine (AP) —

The National Assembly proclaimed Ferdinand E. Marcos president of the Philippines for another six years Saturday in a wild climax to an election that the nation's Roman Catholic bishops, the opposition and U.S. observers said was tainted by fraud.

The proclamation came shortly before Saturday midnight, after opposition assemblymen walked out of the session hall amid boing and chants of "Marcos, Marcos!" from hundreds of supporters of the 68-year-old president.

Scores of followers of challenger Corazon Aquino chanted her name as they, too, left the gallery, but their shouts were drowned out by the louder and more numerous Marcos partisans.

"There will be many legends about this campaign," Marcos said in a live television broadcast from his palace early Sunday morning. He said his victory would "protect and save the democracy of our republic."

Marcos, who has ruled the 7,100-island nation for 20 years, called the special election following increasing demands from the United States to make reforms. He said the vote would prove to his critics in the United States and at home that he still had the support of most Filipinos.

Some legislators of the governing New Society Movement party, which controls the assembly, joined the gallery in heckling their departing rivals, and assembly Secretary General Antonio de Guzman hurriedly read the proclamation resolution as the opposition filed out.

The resolution was certified later by a roll-call vote among assemblymen left in the hall.

Assembly Speaker Nicanor Yniguez immediately announced over the public address system that "His Excellency, the president and the first lady ... are inviting all of you to Malacanang Palace." Then Marcos' assemblywoman daughter, Imee, raised a victory sign with her fingers to the gallery and shouted "Marcos, Marcos!" The gallery broke into chants of "Marcos again, Marcos again!" the president's campaign slogan.

The proclamation came two hours after Philip Habib, President Reagan's special envoy, arrived in Manila on a fact-finding mission on the election and its aftermath.

Members of the Philippine National Assembly examine the final tally in last week's presidential election which gave President Ferdinand Marcos a winning margin of more than 1.5 million votes over challenger Corazon Aquino.

Even as the assembly was preparing to make the proclamation, Mrs. Aquino, 53, charged "The one vote he (Marcos) does not have is the vote of the people." The final tabulation by the assembly gave Marcos 10,807,197 votes to 9,291,716 for Mrs. Aquino, a margin of 1,515,481 and a winning percentage of 53.8.

In separately counted votes, Marcos vice presidential candidate Arturo Tolentino defeated former Sen. Salvador Laurel, 10,134,130 to 9,173,105, a 52.5 percent margin.

It marked the first time in 13 years that a successor had been provided for Marcos.

Mrs. Aquino, who is to hold her own "People's Victory" rally Sunday, said in a statement, Marcos "is finished ... No tinsel and celebration of the president's make-believe win can hide his loss of moral and political authority."

The Aquino media bureau, in an announcement, said six other opposition workers were killed after being tortured in Quirino province.

Gunmen kill American

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador — An American man who had lived in El Salvador for five years was shot dead Saturday, and a U.S. Embassy spokesman said it was not known if the shooting was connected with this country's civil war.

U.S. and Salvadoran officials said Peter Stryker Hascall, 35, was shot in the throat with a .45 caliber Magnum at about 3 a.m. They said the unidentified gunmen escaped.

"Apparently, he (Hascall) belonged to the merchant marine," said U.S. Embassy spokesman Jim Williams.

MIA probe continues

BANGKOK, Thailand — U.S. congressmen just back from Hanoi said Saturday that Vietnamese officials had acknowledged for the first time that missing Americans might still be living inside Vietnam, in remote areas not under full government control.

They said Deputy Foreign Minister Hoang Bich Son told them three Vietnamese teams were investigating reported sightings of Americans and invited the United States to take part.

The congressmen, who spent two days in the Vietnamese capital, said Vietnamese officials also promised to return the remains of 14 more Americans missing in action from the Vietnam War, and increased to 70 the number of MIA cases on which they promised reports.

Iraq reports air strike

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Iraq claimed its warplanes sank 29 Iranian ships Saturday and shot down two jet fighters, while Iran said its forces were within artillery range of a strategic road linking Iraq with Kuwait.

State-run Baghdad radio, monitored in Nicosia and London, said rockets fired from Iraqi jet fighters destroyed the Iranian "naval targets" as "our eagles imposed their complete domination of the (Persian Gulf) skies."

The broadcast did not say what type of vessels were sunk, but shipping sources in Bahrain said some of the targets had been ferrying supplies and reinforcements to the Iraqi port of Faw, which the Iranians claimed to have captured earlier last week.

42 hurt in train crash

BERNIERES, Quebec — A passenger train smashed into a freight train that was stopped on a siding Saturday morning in this town near Quebec City and 42 people were injured, railway officials said.

Via Rail spokesman Fathi Hadaya said in Montreal that 40 people, including six crew members, were treated and released but two passengers were hospitalized, one with a broken leg and the other with a back injury.

City can't afford its money tree

When W.W. Windham, then utilities superintendent, tendered his resignation in September 1984, he also surprised his boss with a bill for 815½ hours of accumulated overtime. Windham's boss, Public Works Director Tom Decell, huddled with his boss, City Manager Don Davis. Then, if we've got the sequence of events correct, Davis went to some of the councilmen — Mayor Clyde Angel, Councilman Russ McEwen and then-Councilman Bobby Fuller — and said, "What do we do?"

What "we," the people of Big Spring, did was pay Mr. Windham the full amount of his claim. "We" did so even though his claim was unsupported by any hard evidence. "We" did so even though this "overtime" was in direct contradiction to time cards he had signed each pay period reflecting regular 40-hour workweeks during the course of his employment. "We" did so despite policy that required supervisor's approval prior to working overtime.

So suddenly a public works supervisor goes from $28,000 per year annual salary to $46,000. He scores nearly $18,000 in one check from the city's money tree with no more effort than an humble request for 20 full workweeks of overtime in just one year.

Decell and Davis and McEwen insist to this day that the man worked every one of those hours. "There's no reason to believe he didn't," they say.

What does this suggest about top management at city hall? Mr. McEwen believes it says: "They are doing their jobs to the best of their ability."

If D.W. Overman, a candidate for city council, hadn't persisted in searching city hall records, this whole unsettling affair probably would never have surfaced.

For the four councilmen who weren't privy to the settlement check given Windham, the news last week of an $18,000 payment in 1984 for back overtime wages came as a total surprise. It seems reasonable to assume they would never have found out even though they are elected representatives.

Payroll is not among the items reviewed and approved by council at each meeting. It shouldn't have to be. Payroll checks should be a routine affair, and if there is an unusual request, the full council — at a public meeting — should be informed. But that's not the case, and episodes like this raise serious questions of accountability: Have there been any other Windham-type payouts that taxpayers don't know about?

We have a declining population and tax base. We're in tight economic times, just as we were in 1984. Big Spring can't afford a money tree. But our representation in city hall apparently doesn't know that.

Around The Rim

It can all be yours...

By ROBIN WARD
I always enjoy watching late-night TV: the "Tonight Show," "David Letterman," vintage movies from decades past. I've found on occasion that advertisements in the wee hours of the morning can be almost as entertaining as the programs themselves. Smooth-talking salesmen go on the air with a mind-boggling assortment of products, all yours for only $19.95 each... just call this toll-free number... use your Visa or MasterCard.

What's interesting about some of these commercials is the length to which advertisers will go in adhering to the letter of "truth in advertising" regulations when it's obvious they'd really rather lie. For example, how would you like to own your very own "faux" diamond? Sounds very French and exotic. Must be the rage. The word is French after all — it means "false" or "fake."

Maybe you'd rather have a genuine article. Perhaps a "genuine Diamelle." If you watch the television screen closely enough in this commercial, you'll discover that "Diamelle" is not a type of diamond; it's the company's trademark for cut crystal.

My all-time favorite is a commercial for a weight-loss product. After several testimonies from people who have lost weight with the "original" miracle drug, the announcer says something to the effect, "If 5,000 people take (the new-and-improved product) and lose 25 pounds each, imagine how much weight you'll lose."

No false claims here. He doesn't say 1,000 took the product and lost the weight. And he doesn't say you will lose the weight, either. He just invites you to use your imagination. Now if 10,000 Americans send $19.95 each for just one of the products touted on late-night TV, imagine how much money you could lose.

Magazine is off like a shot

Texas Weekly, that slick, four-color, magazine-style Sunday supplement, has taken off like a rocket with the readers.

Who would have thought it? Parade and Family Weekly, both with good name recognition, were the mainstays of the Sunday supplement business. But in a very short time, Texas Weekly, devoted just to the Lone Star State, has attracted a large and loyal audience.

You might say it's big with the rural yuppies. A recent survey shows that the magazine's readers are a highly mobile group that heads out on the highways and airways more often than most. Published in San Antonio by Harte-Hanks Communications, Texas Weekly is tailored to Texans living outside the major metropolitan areas. The magazine-style publication is distributed in 24 newspapers and has a paid circulation base of more than half a million readers without any copies going to the metropolitan areas.

There's a large upwardly mobile element in the Texas Weekly crowd. The average age of readers is 48 and 81 percent of subscribers own their own home. Forty-one percent said their annual income was between $25,000 and $50,000.

The survey, conducted by Harte-Hanks Telemarketing Services, found that 77 percent of those polled have been off on a pleasure trip in the past year, and 31 percent said they had taken three or more vacation jaunts. Many of the destinations were in-state: Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Austin, beach resorts, Six Flags and Astroworld. But 11 percent had been to Europe during the year and 7 percent to the sunny Caribbean.

Typically for Texans, the car was the most frequently used mode of transportation — 67 percent for Texas Weekly readers.

They were out for five nights, on average, but 44 percent took trips lasting longer than seven.

A newspaper magazine tailored to Texas? Half a million readers can't be wrong. Looks like Texas Weekly has become a staple of rural Texas' diet. I'm happy we've got it on our menu.

Reader questions gasoline pricing

To the editor:
Having just returned from a visit to East Texas I purchased gas at prices five cents to 25 cents per gallon below our Big Spring prices.

It is my opinion that the bulk dealers and station operators are in collusion. Price fixing is against the law. I believe an in-depth investigation would reveal the above to be true.

Also, two recent events have shown me why Big Springers trade out of town. A chain store in the College Park shopping center sent out a flyer on a window brake light at a reduced cost. This flyer arrived in the mail on Wednesday. A check that P.M. revealed that they had none in stock.

On Thursday this same store had a full page ad in the Herald offering VCRs at a reduced price. Again a P.M. check that same day revealed that they had none of the advertised articles in stock. Now I ask, isn't this unfair or misleading advertising?

Why doesn't our Chamber of Commerce abandon its quest for growth until we make what we have the best there is. Being the best at what we can be would in itself promote growth.

Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Sunday, Feb. 16, the 47th day of 1985. There are 318 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On Feb. 16, 1945, during World War II, more than 2,000 members of America's 503rd Parachute Infantry Regiment dropped onto the island of Corregidor in the Philippines. Within two weeks, U.S. forces retook the fortress from the Japanese, who had been in control since 1942.

On this date:
In 1804, Lt. Stephen Decatur led a successful raid into Tripoli Harbor to burn the U.S. Navy frigate Philadelphia, which had fallen into the hands of pirates.

In 1862, during the Civil War, about 14,000 Confederate soldiers surrendered at Fort Donelson, Tenn. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant's victory earned him the nickname of Unconditional Surrender Grant.

In 1868, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was organized in New York City.

In 1918, Lithuania proclaimed its independence. It wouldn't last.

In 1937, Dr. Wallace H. Carothers received a patent for nylon.

In 1959, Fidel Castro became president of Cuba after the overthrow of Fulgencio Batista.

Ten years ago: former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter was declared winner of the Oklahoma caucuses held nine days earlier.

Five years ago: a spokesman for Poland's Solidarity labor federation said the appointment of Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski as the country's new leader meant there could be a chance of solving the nation's economic and political crisis.

Mexico's ills affect Mexican-Americans

The recent visits of two governors to Texas merit examination because they speak volumes about the future of Texas and how Mexican-Americans are perceived in light of Mexico's worsening financial crisis.

First came New York's Mario Cuomo, fresh from a row with Vice President George Bush over Cuomo's remark that he might run for president to prove an Italian-American could win the highest office in the land.

Two weeks later, Arizona's Bruce Babbitt at an Austin fundraiser spoke of the inseparable destiny of Mexican-Americans, the United States and Mexico.

Both visits bring to mind the powerful cultural undercurrents operating in U.S. and Texas society, and how unforeseen events can influence those forces.

To refresh the mind, by the time of Cuomo's trip to San Antonio he was the subject of a national news story because he was reacting angrily to a public opinion column which argued his ethnic name would doom a presidential bid.

Cuomo was already incensed by the media's use of the word "mafia" during its excessive coverage of the assassination of reputed mobster Paul Castellano on a New York City street.

Bush travelled to New York and accused Cuomo of keeping ethnic divisions alive to further his political career.

Cuomo followed up by bringing a national news entourage with him to a testimonial dinner in San Antonio for U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez — Texas' first Mexican-American congressman and a hero in his own right of numerous civil rights battles.

Years ago, Gonzalez in his younger days pioneered the Mexican-American push toward a legitimate share of political power in Texas. Thirty years later, a potential presidential candidate lands at his dinner complaining about the very ethnic obstacles Gonzalez faced in the mid-1950s.

Cuomo's visit was shrouded in irony. Moreso, it was steeped in reality. The fact is Castellano's assassination happened. His bullet-ridden body was shown throughout the country — laying the stage for Cuomo's reaction.

Babbitt's trip to Austin brought a similar reality to Mexican-Americans in the state.

In a brilliant bilingual display of oratorical skill, Babbitt bemoaned the tenuous diplomatic relations the U.S. has with Mexico given the inseparable ties binding the two countries.

Unintentionally, Babbitt left me thinking about the potential new albatross that may hang around the necks of Mexican-Americans — the possible default of Mexico of its $96.4 billion debt.

Like Cuomo's sensitivity to Italian names becoming synonymous with "mafia" and "underworld," Mexican-Americans should bear intense interest in how Mexico's financial predicament unfolds.

A financial catastrophe generated by a Mexican collapse holds potentially grave consequences to the social progress of Hispanics in the Southwest. They may be hurt by the shrapnel of any damage the international banking system endures should affairs worsen. Catholics were spared a similar fate when Al Smith failed to win the presidency and the Republicans unfairly inherited Herbert Hoover's Great Depression.

Unfortunately, Mexican-Americans do not live in a vacuum. Their spirited attempt to become a part of the U.S. mainstream can be sidetracked by events beyond their control. Miami and Cuban-Americans suffered a black eye when Castro unleashed his wave of refugees. Dallas still broods every anniversary of John Kennedy's death.

Being typecast is what Gonzalez was fighting back in 1955, and what Cuomo — because the U.S. melting pot never melted — has to endure. Ethnic groups, even when in the majority, will always live under a cultural shadow.

Mexican-Americans in Texas are no exception.

Jesse Trevino of Austin, a former Big Spring resident, writes on Hispanic social and political affairs.

Water district $3,000 over January budget

The Colorado River Municipal Water District collected $1,004,362 in revenues in January, which was $3,000 over budget projections.

Of that, $985,259 was from the sale of water, according to a district news release.

Operating expenses of $445,800 were $85,424 under projections for the month, primarily because electric power charges of $263,352 were $72,179 under estimates.

The sale of water totaled 1,319,872,760 gallons, of which 1,146,260,000 went to municipalities and 173,612,760 went to oil companies.

Of total production, 87.65 percent came from lakes J.B. Thomas and E.V. Spence and 3,629,900 gallons came from wells.

At the end of January, Lake Thomas has 28,490 acre feet of water, or 13.97 percent of capacity; Lake Spence had 196,525 acre feet, or 40.23 percent of capacity. Together, they represented 32.48 percent of capacity. Withdrawal from the lakes was 3,550 acre feet, and there was no inflow, according to the release.

HOME OFFICE DEDUCTIONS (What Qualifies?)

If you use your home for business or bring work home from the office, are you entitled to a tax deduction for "home office" expenses? The tax law is quite explicit about what home office expenses are deductible and who can deduct them.

Expenses are deductible only if you use a portion of your home exclusively and regularly as:

- (1) Your principal place of business for a given trade or business that you conduct, or
- (2) Your place of business where you meet or deal with customers, clients, or patients in the operation of your business. (Telephone contact is not enough to qualify.)

The law interprets "exclusively" in a very strict sense. You must use the business portion of your home only for business; any personal use of that portion of the home will disqualify any home office deduction. For example, a "home office" cannot double as a guest bedroom or a sewing room. Carrying on investment activities at home will not entitle you to a home office deduction unless you are considered a "trader" in investments.

Two exceptions to the exclusive use rule should be mentioned. One exception is for those who provide licensed day care in their homes. The other allows a deduction for expenses connected with inventory storage when the home is the sole location of a retail or wholesale sales business.

Home office expenses of an employee must satisfy the same exclusive and regular use tests and, in addition, the use of the home office must be for the convenience of the employer.

What expenses are deductible if you qualify? You may deduct prorated rent, insurance premiums, utility bills, repairs and maintenance, real estate taxes, and interest on your home mortgage, but not in excess of the gross income generated by your home office.

FORDS ARE BETTER

A friend told me about a Kindergarten teacher who was having a discussion with her class on the subject of eye health. One bright-faced kid eagerly jumped up and told the class that his grandpa had been to the eye doctor and had learned that he had a cataract. Not to be outdone, another bright face joined in and said that his grandpa use to have a cataract but he traded it for a Ford pick-up because Fords were better. So... maybe it's time we discussed cataract.

Cataract (kat-e-rakt/ is an opacity, or clouding of the eye's lens which blocks the passage of light needed for vision. It's underlying cause has not yet been determined. As a cataract develops, it may be noticeable as "spots," ghost images, the impression of a "skim" over the eyes, trouble with lights, among other symptoms, and may be noticeable to others as a milky spot in the normally black pupil of the eye. It is said that if we live long enough, most of us will develop cataract. Treatment for cataract is surgery. Surgery can be done when the person feels that the degree of vision loss caused by the cataract is interfering with normal life activities. One of the safest operations a patient can undergo, cataract surgery offers a successful means to restore vision in more than 95 out of 100 cases. If you have any questions about this subject please feel free to call me.

Sales tax rebates increase

Big Spring and San Angelo showed significant increases in retail sales for 1985 as compared to 1984, according to sales tax rebates paid by the state comptroller's office to cities that levy the 1 percent local sales tax.

Abilene and Midland showed modest increases during the same period.

Big Spring received a $252,576 rebate check for the last quarter of 1985. This represents a $39,955.15, or 13.18 percent, increase over the previous year's collection for the same period.

Midland registered a 3.34 percent increase, San Angelo registered a 11.98 percent increase, and Abilene showed a 4.92 percent increase in 1985 compared to 1984.

Yearend totals for 1985, however, are not a precise measure of retail sales growth because the 1984 Legislature approved a major increase in the sales tax base. Officials projected about a 5 percent increase due to the lifted tax exemptions.

Sales tax rebates to area cities and percentage of change from 1984 to 1985 were:

HOWARD COUNTY (up 13.18 percent) — Coahoma received a $4,268.57 check, up 18.03 percent; Forsan received a $2,620.26 check, up 20.59 percent.

MITCHELL COUNTY (up 19.42 percent) — Colorado City received $38,436.28, up 17.73 percent; Loraine received $1,008.64, up 39 percent; Westbrook received $1,974.92, up 42.62 percent.

MARTIN COUNTY (up 50.80 percent) — Stanton received $10,211, up 50.80 percent.

City funds earmarked for water system

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

On the basis of citywide water system analysis, the city will devote much of the $2.85 million left in the capital improvements fund for improvements to water storage reservoirs, major water transmission lines and key water pressure points.

A 1984-85 Hardy-Cross study of the city's water system conducted by Parker, Smith & Cooper Inc. identified the city's water needs through the year 2,000, said Public Works Director Tom Decell.

"They've identified approximately $8.9 million of what we call immediate needs to bring the system into complete (working order)," Decell said.

Decell said the study also pinpointed future needs through the year 2,000 as costing an additional $1.2 million.

"What we did when we got this report was to go in and identify as much of the immediate needs, the large, main, major facilities that we could," he said. "We took them to council and said 'if we're fortunate enough to get (good bids) then we can resolve the majority of the major deficiencies throughout the system.'"

Those major deficiencies, Decell said, are with reservoirs, major transmission lines and pressure plane delineation.

Much of the work of restoring better water pressure in areas of town will come through improvement to the elevated storage system now in place on the southeast side of town, Decell said.

Despite the huge capital investment the city plans to make in improving major components of the town's water network, water pressure problems will persist in certain areas, Decell said.

He explained that water distribution lines in many neighborhoods remain clogged and corroded. Those lines, he said, are part of the immediate needs described by the study. The city will have to spend about $6 million more to correct all water pressure deficiencies throughout Big Spring.

Performing the renovation on storage facilities, major transmission lines and key pressure points might seem like a tall order with just $2.85 million.

"Well, we're being optimistic," Decell said.

He insisted the bids on the first three facets of the capital improvement program were extremely good. "We've gotten good bids, excellent bids in fact, very competitive bids," he said.

He said tackling the project on this magnitude will be cheaper than moving on it bit by bit. It will cost less for a contractor to come in with personnel and equipment and install a large amount of pipe once, than to have him come back time and again and put in shorter lengths, Decell said.

Olson vaults to controversial win

NEW YORK (AP) — The Wanamaker Millrose Games were supposed to be a showcase for the world's top pole vaulters. Instead, the event turned into a tangle of confusion and controversy.

Billy Olson, owner of the world indoor best at 19 feet, 5 1/2 inches, was the winner Friday night — but was credited with a lower height than second-place finisher Dave Volz.

Sergei Bubka of the Soviet Union, the world's best pole vaulter, failed to clear a height after seething about a ruling which favored Olson and Joe Dial, who have challenged his supremacy this indoor season.

Bubka threatened to withdraw after the two Americans were permitted an extra jump each after missing at 18-4 1/4, but Bubka's older brother, Vasily, was not.

Finally, meet officials pacified Sergei, giving him one rejump. But they did not do the same for his brother.

Sergei failed twice at 18-4 1/4 and twice at 18-9 1/4. Only a week earlier, he had set the indoor best of 19-5. Last year, he set the world outdoor record of 19-8 3/4 and cleared 19-6 1/4, the second-best jump in history.

"My impressions of the competition leave much to be desired ... very unpleasant," Bubka said through an interpreter. "I never expected a situation like this ... The spirit of the competition was not sporting at all. It was not a healthy situation for all sportsmen."

Dial, using borrowed poles after his poles were lost in transit, missed on his rejump at 18-4 1/4, but Olson cleared, then passed after one miss at 18-9 1/4.

The bar then went to 19-0 1/4. Olson cleared on his first attempt, but on a remeasurement, after he had tipped the bar on the jump, the height was announced as 19-0.

Volz sailed cleanly over the bar at 19-0 1/4 on his third try, the first time he ever cleared 19-0.

The bar then was raised to 19-3, and Olympic champion Pierre Quinon of France, who had passed at 19-0 1/4, missed three times. Olson and Volz then had the bar lifted to 19-5 1/4. Olson missed three times and Volz missed twice, then quit after suffering a leg cramp when he fell awkwardly into the pit after his second try.

"The Americans received additional attempts and that was against international rules," Bubka said. "I don't find the reasons that the officials gave for these additional runs very convincing. The reasons given by the referees sounded more like subterfuge than reasons."

"It's a sad thing that this has to happen when we've got the coming together of all these great vaulters," Olson said. "I feel sorry for Sergei."

"It's a little embarrassing to have Sergei come all the way over here and think these American meets are a joke."

Dial agreed. "It was a three-ring circus out there," he said. "I don't think this tells who is the best (vaulter) because of the controversy."

That might have been determined Sunday, except for Olson's withdrawal from the Bally Invitational in Rosemont, Ill. He said he was tired after competing 6 1/2 hours Friday night. The two Bubkas, Dial, Volz, Quinon, 1980 Olympic champion Wladyslaw Kozakiewicz of West Germany, Philippe Sivillon of France, Brad Pursley, Dave Kenworthy and Doug Lytle were scheduled to compete.

The pole vault furor overshadowed several other significant developments in the Millrose Games.

TCU blasts Mustangs 76-54

DALLAS (AP) — Carven Holcombe scored 20 points to power Southwest Conference leader Texas Christian to a 76-54 rout of Southern Methodist Saturday.

TCU upped its record to 11-2 in the SWC and 19-5 overall, its best record in 27 years. SMU fell to 8-4 and 16-7.

After a respectable first half, the Mustangs suffered a 43-26 second-half embarrassment as the Horned Frogs produced 10 consecutive points at the half's start to change the tempo of the game.

The Mustangs biggest lead of the game was 17-12 eight minutes into the first half.

Kevin Lewis, the SWC's fourth-leading scorer, matched TCU's leading shooter basket for basket before Carl Lott hit two free throws to give TCU its first lead of the game at 24-23 with just over six minutes left in the first half.

Lott finished with 16 points, while Terry Williams was the Mustangs' leader with 16 points. Lewis added 13 points to the losing Mustang effort.

Texas 58, Texas A&M 47
AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — John Brownlee scored 19 points, including two slam dunks in the final two minutes, to lead Texas to a 58-47 victory over Texas A&M in a key Southwest Conference basketball game Saturday night.

The Aggies, leading 26-25 at the half, suffered a 6 1/2-minute dry spell in the second half, while Texas used a balanced attack to build an insurmountable lead.

Texas, now 11-2 in SWC play and 16-8 overall, stays tied for the SWC lead with Texas Christian. The Aggies, who had led the conference race for most of the season, dropped their third straight game for an 8-4 conference mark and 14-10 overall.

Texas forward Patrick Fairs hit three straight baskets in the second period to open up a seven-point lead, 43-36, with 9:46 to play. After Don Marbury's jumper with 9:22 left, A&M's offense fell apart.

Texas Tech 62, Baylor 54
WACO, Texas (AP) — Tony Benford scored 15 points to lead a red-hot Texas Tech shooting attack in the second half as the Red Raiders defeated Baylor 62-54 in a Southwest Conference basketball game Saturday.

After building a 28-24 lead at halftime, the Red Raiders made 15 of 18 shots in the second half and never trailed.

Benford's field goal with 8:14 left gave Tech its biggest lead at 51-40. Baylor cut the margin to six with 3:41 with a bucket by Eric Johnson, but could get no closer.

The Red Raiders, 11-12 for the season, evened their SWC record at 6-6. Baylor dropped to 9-15 and 1-12.

Villanova 90, Georgetown 88
Harold Jensen's 18-foot jumper with four seconds left in a second overtime period gave the Villanova Wildcats a 90-88 upset victory over No. 9 Georgetown in a nationally televised Big East college basketball game Saturday.

It was the 18th victory against 12 losses overall for unranked Villanova, fourth in the Big East with an 8-5 record. The third-place Hoyas dropped to 19-5 overall and 9-4 in the conference.

In the second overtime, Harold Pressley, who scored 34 points on 14-for-17 shooting from the field, scored on a three-point play and a layup to help the Wildcats build an 86-83 lead with 1:46 left.

Mark Plansky drove for a Villanova layup to make it 88-85 with 52 seconds left after a short jumper by Georgetown's Ralph Dalton.

Perry McDonald converted one of two free throws to bring Georgetown to within 88-86 at the 52-second mark and scored on a driving layup to tie it at 88 with 33 seconds remaining.

Pressley went 6-for-7 from the foul line and had five steals, eight blocked shots and three assists. Jensen had 16 points.

Duke 72, N. Carolina St. 70
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Senior guard Johnny Dawkins hit two free throws with two seconds left as second-ranked Duke slipped past 17th-ranked North Carolina State 72-70 in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball game Saturday night.

Norman Anderson (31) of Texas Christian University goes in for a layup against Scott Johnson (25) and Kevin Lewis (42) of SMU Saturday afternoon in Dallas' Reunion Arena. TCU retain their SWC lead with the victory.

Dawkins, who scored 24 points, was fouled by Nate McMillan after David Henderson's jumper with 1:14 left brought Duke to a 70-70 tie.

Chris Washburn missed a short jumper from the left of the lane with about 35 seconds left, and the Blue Devils grabbed the rebound, setting up their last opportunity as they won their eighth straight game.

Duke, 24-2 overall and 10-2 in the ACC, outscored N.C. State 9-2 in the first two minutes of the second half to grab a 39-36 lead. But the SAN ANGELO — The Big Spring Steer track team had what head coach Randy Britton called their "best performance in six years" at the annual triangular meet with San Angelo Central and Abilene High School Saturday afternoon at the Central track.

Leading the way for the Steers were the B and A team mile relays which placed second and third respectively in the event. The B team had a time of 3:33.84 with Cedric Banks and Dewayne Sherman turning in sub-52 second laps. The A team turned the mile in 3:37.10 led by Sean Jackson's 52.6. Individually for the Steers, Dax McCracken and Jackson went 1-2 in the 800 meter race. Wimley White won the long jump on his last attempt with a fine 20' 10 1/4 effort against the wind. Phillip Matthews ran splendid 22.86 place second in the 200 meters and was fifth in the 100 meters at 11.08.

The Steers will travel to Fort Stockton next Saturday where they will open the regular season at the Comanche Relays.

STERLING CITY — The Iraan Lady Braves took advantage of Forsan's ice cold shooting in the first quarter, building a 17-2 lead and went on to defeat the Buffaloe-Queens 53-31 in Class A bi-district action Saturday night in the Sterling City gymnasium.

Forsan came back to outscore the Lady Braves in the second quarter but could only muster 27-percent shooting for the game after hitting one basket in the opening quarter.

Iraan was led by 5'11 post Tiffany Jones with 19 points and forward Nicole Davenport with 17 points. The district 6-A champions raised their record to 19-5 with the victory and now go on to face the winner of the Fort Hancock-Balmorhea bi-district clash.

Lady Horns first in SWC track

FORT WORTH TEXAS (AP) — The defending champion Texas Lady Longhorns took a big step toward defending their Southwest Conference Indoor Track and Field Championship Saturday afternoon by winning three of five events.

Karen Nelson took the long jump with an effort of 20 feet, 3 3/4 inches and Lady Longhorn teammate Terri Turner was second. Turner came right back to win the triple jump with a leap of 42-2 1/4.

There were two meet records in the women's division by Regina Cavanaugh of Rice in the shot put and Kym Carter of Houston in the high jump.

Texas had 60 points after the afternoon events to 37 for Houston. In the men's division, defending champion Arkansas picked up eight points in the shot put and long jump.

Lars Nilsen of Southern Methodist won the shot put with a heave of 64 feet, 5 1/4 inches. Marty Kobza of Arkansas came in third for six points. Texas freshman Eric Metcalf took the long jump with an effort of 26 feet. Arkansas' John Register got two points with a fifth-place finish.

Watson charges to Hawaiian lead

HONOLULU (AP) — Tom Watson, displaying the form and flair that made him a six-time Player of the Year, ripped a 66 from gusty winds and moved into the third round lead Saturday in the $500,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

Playing into the teeth of freshening trade winds, Watson made a pair of six-footers for a birdie-birdie finish that put him through three rounds at 203, 13 shots under par.

His closest challenger is Paul Azinger, the tall, slender young man who had a chance to win last week in San Diego, but self-destructed with a late double bogey.

It was another two shots back to Corey Pavin and three others at 206, 10-under-par and three behind the leader. He was tied with Craig Stadler, Jodie Mudd and Bob Tway, a winner last week in San Diego. Mudd closed up with a 66, Stadler shot 67 and Tway 68.

Oldtimers plan MLB tour

NEW YORK (AP) — The baseball oldtimers' games, previously a limited series, has been expanded to a barnstorming tour that will put games into every major-league ballpark next season, major league baseball announced.

Top seeds cruise in Lipton tennis

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Swedish stars Mats Wilander and Stefan Edberg joined Jimmy Connors and Chris Evert Lloyd Saturday in advancing to the fourth round of the $1.8 million Lipton International Players Championships.

Wilander, the reigning French Open champion and seeded second, trounced Mike Leach 6-1, 6-2 to avenge a loss to the American in this two-week, Grand Slam-sized tennis tournament a year ago.

No. 5 seed Edberg, meanwhile, needed only 40 minutes of the night session to eliminate Dami Keretic of West Germany 6-1, 6-1. Yugoslavia's Sabrina Golees defeated Ros Fairbank of South Africa 6-2, 6-2 in another late match.

The 33-year-old Connors and Lloyd, 31, also moved on with hard-earned third-round victories on the hard courts at Boca West.

Connors, seeded third, was extended to three sets for the second time in three days before he topped Mark Dickson 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Lloyd, the heavy favorite to capture the women's singles, topped Catherine Suire of France 7-5, 6-1.

Brad Gilbert, one of the hottest players on the men's tour, was not as fortunate. He was upset by Thierry Tulasne of France 7-5, 6-2.

Edberg was overpowering Saturday night, breaking Keretic's serve in the fourth game of the first set for a 3-1 lead. Breaks in the second set came in the first, third and seventh game.

Tulasne eliminated Gilbert, the No. 13 seed, 7-5, 6-2 with an excellent mixture of lobs and passing shots that never gave the winner of last week's U.S. Pro Indoor Championships to take charge.

The Frenchman trailed 5-4 in the first set but won the next seven games to claim that set and build a 4-0 lead in the second.

"I felt very confident coming into the match," said Tulasne, the No. 19 seed. "I thought he might be tired."

Gilbert, who has beaten four of the world's top 10-ranked men in the past month, offered no excuses. He said he "rushed myself too much," but also credited Tulasne with executing the shots he needed to win.

"That's how you win and lose," said Gilbert, whose recent string of success has included victories over John McEnroe, Anders Jarryd, Connors and Edberg.

Cade Loftin: Steer swimmer on a state-meet mission

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Writer

Cade Loftin is a young man with a mission. That mission: Reach the state swimming championships in Austin in March.

The Big Spring High School junior has diligently been working towards that goal for the past six years. Now it is within his grasp.

Loftin is considered one of the area's best 100-yard butterfly swimmers. And he makes no bones about reaching his long awaited goal. "I think it's possible for me to reach the state meet this year."

Though he believes he must swim five seconds faster to reach his goal, Loftin is not discouraged. Five seconds may seem like a lot of time to cut off in a 100-yard race, but the muscular 5-11, 165-pounder feels he's got the stuff to get the job done. Which means he'll have to swim in the 52 second range to reach Austin.

In the Steers first duel meet this season in October, Loftin raced to a time of 57.9, breaking the school record of 58.5 he set last season. But he isn't worried that he hasn't swam faster since then. "You can hit your best time at any point in the season. In faster competition I'll swim faster. Anything is possible," he firmly stated.

Loftin feels he'll have to swim in the 56 or 57 second range to win the district meet next weekend in San Angelo. More-than-likely he can swim under one minute and place in the first six, good enough to qualify for the regional meet in Lubbock March 7-8. But he's set on winning the 4-5A meet.

A trip to regionals won't be anything new for Big Spring's swimming star. He qualified for the meet his freshman season in the 200 medley relay. Last year he qualified in the 100 butterfly.

"My freshmen year it was scary because I had never been there before. There wasn't any pressure because I knew our chances were limited. Last year there was the pressure I put on myself because I knew what I wanted to do better than I had the year before. This year I know what I'm capable of, now I've just got to go out and do it."

But he's quick to add that if his mission falls short, he'll take it in stride. "I want to go to state very badly. But if I don't make it it won't kill me," he laughed. "I've still got another year, but I feel like I've got just as good of shot as anybody."

Loftin's abilities do not lie solely in the butterfly. He's also a accomplished 100-yard backstroke. His best time this season is 1:03. He thinks that a 1:01 or 1:02 will get him in the top three in district. "In the backstroke my goal is to finish in the top three at district. Once I make regionals, I'll just do my best."

"My first love his the butterfly. It's the one I really get up for. It's an advantage in that it's my first event of the meet. I can really go all out for it."

It's been a long uphill journey since Loftin first started swimming at the age of nine. Two years later he got serious about the sport. "When I was 11, I decided that this is what I would dedicate myself to. I wanted to be the best at it."

Although Loftin has the physical abilities to swim with the best of them, he insists that mental preparation is the biggest dimension to the sport. "Ninety percent of swimming is mental and the other 10 percent is physical. All the top swimmers in this region have the physical ability to make it to state. The ones that make it have the advantage on the mental side."

Loftin is hoping that his mental and physical potential will pay off in a date at the state meet, or rather, mission accomplished.

McGuigan retains featherweight title

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Irishman Barry McGuigan retained his World Boxing Association featherweight title Saturday, stopping challenger Danilo Cabrera of the Dominican Republic at 1:40 of the 14th round.

In a chaotic end to an explosive fight, referee Ed Eckert of Miami ruled the 22-year-old challenger was unable to continue as he scrambled to retrieve his mouthpiece from the canvas.

Seconds earlier, Cabrera was floored by the champion, taking a count of eight. When Cabrera got to his feet, he was bent double by another pounding from McGuigan and Eckert decided he could no longer defend himself.

"Cabrera insisted he was trying to pick his gunshield up — you can't let him do that," Eckert said.

McGuigan, making his second defense of the title, overcame a nasty cut under his left eye for the second half of the fight while Cabrera proved a more than worthy replacement for the original opponent.

Ranked sixth by the WBA, he was given only 10 days to prepare for the fight after Fernando Sosa of Argentina broke a finger in training.

Cabrera lasted far longer than expected, damaging the champion with jabs and hooks early in the fight as he sought to knock out McGuigan before the Irishman got into his stride.

When his plan failed, the challenger withstood a fierce mid-fight beating as McGuigan launched some of his famed body punches.

The 6,300-capacity arena erupted at the end of the eighth round of the scheduled 15-round contest, believing the champion had won.

The American referee appeared to have stopped the fight with Cabrera trapped in a neutral corner and looking in a daze after taking fierce punishment. But the bell already had sounded.

Pandemonium broke out in the ring as some of McGuigan's fans climbed in to swarm their hero.

Cabrera's handlers protested vehemently and Eckert had to tell the three judges and timekeeper that the fight was continuing.

During fierce exchanges in round nine, a rejuvenated Cabrera opened a cut under McGuigan's left eye.

The champion, realizing he was in danger, went all out for victory but somehow, Cabrera stayed on his feet until McGuigan, who was well ahead on points, launched his final all-out attack in the 14th round.

Hector Rivera, Cabrera's manager, described the referee as "a thief."

"He allowed McGuigan to steal the title. The champion won it again because of his low punches. I hope that American fans will see that on television," he said.

McGuigan admitted it was a difficult fight, the first world title contest in Dublin for 63 years.

"He was so slippery and very difficult to hit. He thumbed me the eye in the second round and again later on. I signalled to the referee that he was doing this," the champion said.

The victory raised McGuigan's record to 29-1-0. Cabrera is now 24-3-0.

Champion skater overcomes obstacles

By STEVE WILSTEIN

AP Sports Writer

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Frustrated by trying to juggle training and freshman pre-med studies at Stanford, Debi Thomas angrily tore up her entry forms for the U.S. Figure Skating Championships eight weeks before the event.

After a talk with her coach, she changed her mind. Her mother taped the forms back together, ironed them flat, and Thomas sent them in.

Now she's the women's champion, the first black ever to win a seniors title in the sport, and preparing for the World Championships in Geneva next month.

But the pressure continues off the ice.

There's the enormous drain of money, the lack of sleep from trying to mesh schoolwork and training plus the added demands of the national media.

"I'm concerned how she'll keep her sanity through all this, how we'll all keep our sanity," her mother, Janice, said. "I worry about her taking her vitamins, about getting enough sleep. She's on the edge of doing what a body can do, and she has to keep her head sharp and her body strong. But if anybody's capable of doing it, she is."

Thomas, 18, of San Jose, Calif., started skating at 5 and has been competing since she was 11, training six to eight hours a day, six days a week, at the Redwood City Ice Lodge.

Her mother drove 3,000 miles a month during those years, taking Thomas to lessons, back and forth to high school and back home, while holding down a job as a senior computer programming analyst.

Thomas studied during the rides or dozed, and still emerged with high enough grades to get accepted by Stanford, the University of California at Berkeley, Harvard and Princeton. She chose Stanford partly because it was close to home and the ice rink.

A vivacious teen with many friends, Thomas calls Mondays and Wednesdays her "suicide days" because she has classes in advanced calculus, chemistry and Western culture then practices from 1:15 p.m. to 7:45 p.m.

Her coach, Alex McGowan, has tried to convince her to give up college, but going to school "helps keep me sane," Thomas said. Not since Tenley Albright reigned as the U.S. women's champion from 1952 to 1956 has a leading female skater attended college while competing.

Thomas, however, "wants something to fall back on. You can't guarantee a career in skating."

She does plan to take a year off to prepare for the 1988 Calgary Olympics, but then wants to get her degree, go to medical school and become an orthopedic surgeon. Coincidentally, Albright also chose a medical career and is a surgeon in Boston.

"Debi sets the goals for what she wants to do," Mrs. Thomas said. "I try to see that she gets what she needs. But I've told her there's no way she's going to be a black female and not have a profession."

The cost of keeping Thomas in skates has been tremendous — up to $25,000 a year for lessons and ice time, plus thousands more for travel, costumes and equipment. Mrs. Thomas, who is divorced, said she earns about $35,000 a year. The rest comes from Thomas's father and grandparents, her older brother, and various grants or

Texas Blue Chipper signs with Iowa

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Yates all-state linebacker Melin Foster, the state's No. 1 blue chip football player, signed a football scholarship agreement with the Iowa Hawkeyes, the 6-3, 225-pounder announced Friday.

Iowa and Oklahoma State were the finalists in recruitment of Foster, who helped lead Yates to an undefeated season and the Class 5A state championship last season.

"My decision was based on where my heart was reaching out to and it came up Iowa every time," Foster said at a news conference.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority crowns four

By CARLEEN EVERETT

Four sweethearts were crowned at the Beta Sigma Phi charity Valentine ball Saturday evening at the Dora Roberts Community Center.

Beta Sigma Phi is an international sorority for women, whose purpose is to promote cultural, social and personal growth among its members.

Each chapter and the City Council select sweetheart by a vote among chapter members.

The Valentine Ball, a tradition for more than 20 years, is an annual event to raise funds for charity. This year's proceeds from the dance will go to the Rainbow Project, a local emergency shelter for children.

Night Shift provided dancing entertainment for the ball. Hors d'oeuvres were provided by the various chapters.

TONITA REID is Alpha Phi Delta's sweetheart. Reid joined Alpha Phi Delta as a charter member six years ago. Currently she fills the office of treasurer in her chapter and is the vice president of the City Council. She previously held positions as the chairperson of the service committee and the ways and means committees. She also has been honored as her Chapter's Girl of the Year. Reid has one daughter, Nicci.

MU ZETA CHAPTER'S sweetheart is Debbie Walling. Walling is a mother of two, Britt and Stacey. She is a legacy member of Beta Sigma Phi. Walling has been a member since 1981 and currently serves as vice president of Mu Zeta and as secretary of City Council. Walling has been involved in all committees of her chapter and has served as a city council representative several times. She is the manager of the club's city finance.

DOROTHY PEREIRA is the sweetheart for Xi Pi Epsilon. Pereira joined Beta Sigma Phi as a Ritual of Jewel's member in 1954 in Harlingen. Since then, she has participated in chapters in five Texas cities. She is past president of the Exemplar Chapter in Port Lavaca and the Preceptor Chapter in Denison. Over the years, she has held all offices and chairmanships in all committees. She was honored Girl of the Year in Port Lavaca where she received her Order of the Rose, an award for 15 years active membership in Beta Sigma Phi. She was sweetheart of the Preceptor Chapter in Denison.

Pereira is a mother of five daughters and has four grandchildren. She has a master of arts degree in business education and is currently employed as comptroller for Big Spring Independent School District. She gardens in her spare time and is an active member of her church.

THE CITY COUNCIL SWEETHEART is Ruth Vineyard. Vineyard is a member of Xi Pi Epsilon and currently serves as chapter vice president. She has been a city council representative for two years. Vineyard pledged Beta Sigma Phi in Alpha Omicron chapter and became a fellowship member of Xi Pi Epsilon until eligible for progression in 1984-1985. Vineyard has two daughters. She is an active member of her church and currently holds the position of being the oldest active Beta Sigma Phi member in Big Spring.

Jr. Women's Club adopts the elderly

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

Growing old can be lonely, but the Big Spring Junior Women's Club is working to see that elderly residents are remembered through the Adoptive Grandparent program.

Carolyn Christensen, chairman of the program, said the program was developed because "there are a lot of elderly people here who don't have a family. They get lonely and need to be visited."

At this time there are three adopted grandparents. Each grandparent has a team of women which visits them. One member from each team visits their adopted grandparent once a week.

"Each person from the club ends up visiting their grandparent about three times a year," Christensen said.

Adopted grandparents are Hattie Boland, 84, of Mountain View Lodge; Sadie Warm, 71, of 307 W. 18th; and Carl Warm, 72, who is a patient in the Veteran's Administration Medical Center.

Visitors take their "grandparent" a present with each visit, such as cookies, candy, flowers or a stuffed animal.

Home teachers provide valuable service for youth

The cat under Louvena Anderson's chair ate with great relish, crunching the little bones of the still-warm rat in a self-satisfied way.

Mrs. Anderson said she just kept talking to the parent she was visiting; it was all in a day's work.

Neither roaches nor rain nor rat-eating cats keep Mrs. Anderson or Sue Dietz from making their appointed rounds as home visitors for the Lufkin Independent School District. Both women accept conditions as they find them and try to never appear judgmental. They serve as a liaison between Lufkin homes and all the schools — from elementary to high school — in the district.

Both women have been on the job since 1966, when their positions were created. Both say that things have changed in the nearly 20 years since they began.

"Many parents were not very school-minded in the 1960s," said Mrs. Dietz. "We feel that they are more school-minded today."

One reason parents weren't "school-minded," they feel, was because the 1960s were in an era when parents routinely kept their children home during inclement weather.

"Paul Avenue was a dirt road then. In wet weather it was almost impossible to get up and down it. If the little children walked in the mud, their little shoes would come completely apart by the time they got to school, because they were cheap shoes, like cardboard," Mrs. Dietz said.

Also in the '60s, parents didn't seem to realize the importance of their children being in school every day. "They thought that since their children were going to school more than they had gone, they were doing pretty good," said Mrs. Anderson. "Sometimes the older children would have to stay home to babysit the younger children so that the mother could work outside the home."

Social progress has brought about paved roads, more daycare centers, and a greater understanding of the value of an education. The women also have more specific success stories.

Mrs. Dietz said, "I visited a particular child a lot for poor attendance. I noticed that she would answer me when she could see me, but otherwise not. I said, 'Is there something wrong with her ears?' Her mother said, 'No, she is mentally retarded.'"

Mrs. Dietz didn't accept that because she had noticed that the girl answered intelligently when she did answer.

"I took her to get her ears tested. She was totally deaf in one ear and had a little bit of hearing in the other. With a hearing aid, it took her just a little while to come up to grade level."

Mrs. Anderson shared a similar story. They were called in because a girl was having problems in school. When they suspected an ear problem and had her examined, they learned that she had a 95 percent hearing loss in one ear because it was so infected and the other ear was infected to a lesser extent. They were able to arrange for surgery on both ears.

"She had been antagonistic with other children because her ears hurt. With them corrected, she became an acceptable person and a productive student. She graduated from high school and went on to college," Mrs. Anderson said.

Another student was intelligent, but she never smiled and she wouldn't open her mouth wide enough to speak clearly. She had bad teeth. When Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Dietz were able to secure dental work for her, the girl's personality brightened and she finished school and became a successful secretary.

Mrs. Dietz still gets a laugh out of the surprised exclamation that came from the grandmother of a little boy she was able to help. She was visiting in the home of a fourth grader who couldn't read when the little boy crawled into her lap. She asked him his name, but he could not say it. She was told, "He can't talk."

She spoke his name syllable by syllable and he was able to mimic her. Before long, he was able to get out a pretty good rendition of his name. The grandmother heard him and called out, "Sister, sister, come in here quick! This lady's done stirred this baby's mouth up."

Mrs. Dietz said the boy had a slight speech impediment and nobody had ever taken the time to work with him on syllables and diction. They worked with him every week, and, Mrs. Dietz said, "He is a precious young man now."

Some of the students they help do remember to thank the ladies who have helped them become "precious young men."

Mrs. Dietz shared a cherished memory of the school "tough guy" who telephoned her at home after his high school graduation. "He called and he was in tears. He said, 'Mrs. Dietz, I would not have graduated without your help.'"

Sue Dietz, left and Louvena Anderson, center, visit with Janice Richard of Lufkin. Dietz and Anderson serve as liaison between Lufkin schools and Lufkin area households.

They had been helping him since he was in the third grade, sometimes buying school supplies, sometimes helping in other ways. They had supplied dress clothes for him to wear to graduation because his family could not.

"Tough guy?" Mrs. Dietz said. "No. He had just had to act tough to survive."

Another young man screeched his brakes and backed up this past summer when he passed the women in their mobile library that they operate during the summer months. "You mean you are still doing this?" he said. "I checked out books from you when I was a little boy and I loved it."

Another young man had even higher praise for their summer program, which they call the Shade Tree Library. "He said reading had no real meaning for him until he learned to love to read in the Shade Tree Library," Mrs. Anderson said. He is now an attorney in Houston.

Successes like these are what keep the pair making their rounds, semester after semester. Their faces lit up in unison when they named the greatest reward of the job: "When we feel like we've actually helped someone," they said.

Wedding

Barnes-Evans

Janelle Danette Barnes of Laverne, Okla., daughter of a Big Spring woman, and Henry Gregg Evans of Beaver, Okla., were married Jan. 4 at the United Methodist Church in Laverne, Oklahoma with the Rev. Michael Chaffin, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Ms. Julia McDonald of Big Spring and Cloyd Barnes of Pawhuska, Okla. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Evans of Beaver, Okla.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with entwining hearts covered with burgundy carnations and mauve roses with a mauve bow in the center. Swirl candelabras were decorated with mauve roses and burgundy carnations with eucalyptus and burgundy bows. Also included were two baskets of silk fern plants.

Mrs. Carolyn Hill played the organ and piano. Kelly Williams and Serita Harbert were vocalists.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather Clifton Davis. Her gown was of white shimmer chiffon with a high neck and basque waistline covered with designs of schiffli embroidered organza and accented in designs of seed pearls. A full bell skirt with rows of chiffon ruffles finished the cathedral length train.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, mauve and red sweetheart roses with baby breath decorated with silver leaves and pearl and rhinestone hearts.

Maid of honor was Trisha Barnes, sister of the bride, of Pawhuska, Okla. Bridesmaids were Kim Warden of Moore, Okla. and Vickie Lenz of Laverne, Okla. Deedra Long was the flower girl.

Best man was David Evans, brother of the bridegroom, of Laverne, Okla. Groomsmen were Ted Meyer and Tony Armstrong, both of Laverne, Okla. Quent Thionnet was ring bearer.

Ushers were Darren Nelson of Laverne, Okla., De Wayne Cornelson of Tyrone, Okla., Clint Harbert of Fort Worth and Cloyd Barnes of Big Spring.

Candlelighters were Casey Cornelson of Tyrone, Okla. and Julie Evans of Beaver, Okla.

A reception followed the ceremony at the United Methodist Church in the Fellowship Hall in Laverne, Okla. The bride's table was decorated with lighted fountains of cascading punch with a four-tiered wedding cake accented with white roses, burgundy flowers and sparkling candy hearts. The cake was topped with a dancing angel and bride and bridegroom.

The bride attended junior high in Big Spring and graduated from Laverne High School. She is attending Oklahoma State University majoring in elementary education.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Laverne High School and is attending Oklahoma State University majoring in agriculture education.

After a short wedding trip to Oklahoma City, the couple made their home in Stillwater, Okla.

Delores Albert entertains five generations

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

DELORES ALBERT of Big Spring entertained five generations of the Lewis family at a family gathering recently. Members were together for the first time since December 1960. Mrs. Albert's father, GLENN A. LEWIS, from Phoenix and LA WANDA HAMM of Big Spring were among the five generation members. Other members came from Coahoma to join in the occasion. BOB HORTON, remembered as Bobby to Howard County friends from 20 years ago, was part of the Jan. 29 Texas delegation reception in Washington, D.C. Horton, now diplomatic editor for U.S. News and World Report, got his start at the Big Spring Herald while attending Howard College.

EDITH DAVIS celebrated her 94th birthday on Feb. 11. Family members BOB and LAVON

CHAPLAND and daughter, BRAN-DY, PAT and IVAN, PRHEIM and children APRIL, GARY and TERESA were present for a birthday celebration. Davis was born in Sterling, Ohio, but has been a Big Spring resident since 1975.

MARY and GEORGE ECKES of Big Spring recently returned from a 12 day trip to Tahiti. They flew from Los Angeles to the capitol of Papeete where they boarded the S.S. Liberte for a six island cruise.

After the cruise, the couple spent five days as the guest of the Royal Tahitian Hotel. During the trip, Mrs. Tucker, supervisor of the local Veterans Administration Nursing Home Care Unit, visited the Raiatea and Huahine Hospitals.

DR. FRANK POLLARD, who began his ministry at the First Baptist Church in Big Spring, has resigned the presidency of the Golden Gate Seminary to accept the pastorate of the First Baptist Church in Jackson, Miss.

Scurry Band plays for senior citizens

Scurry County Kitchen Rhythm Band gave two performances Wednesday to senior citizens here.

The group of 15 drove in from Snyder to the Spring City Senior Center. After a luncheon there, they gave two performances of music and comedy before an audience of 220.

The band entertained later at Canterbury North after the Retired Senior Volunteer program conducted an orientation and get-acquainted program.

R.S.V.P. Director Joy Decker encouraged those at the meeting to consider the advantages of community involvement through volunteer service by participation in the Retired Senior Volunteer program.

Refreshments were served by R.S.V.P.

Q: We're in the process of buying a house and will be required to set up an escrow account. This seems like another large lump sum of money ... up-front and out-of-pocket. We were wondering why escrow accounts are necessary.

A: One major advantage to establishing an escrow account with your lending institution is the lender then takes over all the headaches and paperwork in paying your real estate taxes and insurance. Those bills will be paid by him, on time, from your escrow account. Unexpected expenses won't force you to borrow further — just to meet those bills. Although you may feel your money could be put to better use elsewhere, (especially since interest is usually not paid on an escrow account). An escrow account may earn you peace of mind.

"I didn't starve. I didn't feel hungry. Yet, five weeks on the Nutri/System Program and already I've lost 44 pounds. Because of their new Sure Start Program, I was able to lose 8½ pounds of it the very first week.

Only wish I'd known about Nutri/System earlier. Known what an effect it could have on my life. Because of this program, I now eat to live — not live to eat. And with all I've learned, there's no way I'm ever going to gain the weight back."

College recruiters develop approach to sell schools

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP) — Faced with a shrinking pool of college-bound youths, institutions of higher education are using sophisticated marketing techniques to lure top students.

"We no longer sit back and take applications that come to us," said a recruiter from Wesleyan College here. "Now, we go out and talk about the kind of education our school offers and why it's preferable to other selective schools."

To sell their school, college recruiters go to college fairs and alumni receptions, send out mass mailings and video slide shows to high schools, arrange daily campus tours, and hold science symposiums on campus.

WE'RE GENERATING NEW IDEAS TO HELP KEEP YOUR ELECTRIC RATES DOWN.

Average Residential Electricity Costs

New York	$11.18

San Francisco	$10.28

Washington, D.C.	$9.79
Los Angeles	$9.29

We're using innovative resources to meet your energy needs. Historically, when long-range growth projections showed we would need more electric generating capacity, we built new power plants. Even though we know we'll need new plants in the future to meet your electrical needs, rising construction and financing costs mean we must plan carefully to keep costs down. So, we are also seeking other ways to meet our commitment to keep your electric rates reasonable.

By using low-cost solutions to meet future needs, we've held the line on the cost of your electricity, while delivering an adequate, reliable supply of that power.

Take our Energy Action Program, for example. It offers you, our customers, the chance to earn valuable rebates when you install energy-efficient equipment in your homes or buildings. In the long run, paying you to be more energy-efficient will be less expensive for us. With a reduced demand on our system, it could delay or even eliminate the need to build as many new power plants.

At Texas Utilities Electric Company, bringing you the right amount of electricity at the right price is our commitment to you. And it's how we aim to keep the people, the businesses and the jobs coming to our part of Texas.

Dear Abby

Sons disappearing act hurts 70-year-old parents

DEAR ABBY: What's so "bizarre and mysterious" about the situation described by "Forgotten Parents," who 10 years ago loaned their son $10,000 to save his business? He promised to repay it within three years on a monthly basis (no interest).
 Four years ago he walked out of his parents' lives without a word of explanation. His business is thriving and he lives with his wife and children two miles away, but his parents — now in their 70s — haven't had a phone call, card, gift, visit — nothing. All communication ceased. The parents ask, "Where did we go wrong? We have never mentioned the $10,000 he owed."
 The same thing happened to us. Only it was our son-in-law. The reason for the break in communication is clear to us. He doesn't want to pay back the money. He feels guilty, but not guilty enough to repay it, so he just "disappears."
 Your answer was correct. Confront your son and force him to explain his behavior.

YOUR STATEN ISLAND HELPER

DEAR HELPER: You would not believe the number of letters I received from readers saying, "The same thing happened to us." But most said, "Who needs a relative like that? Get a lawyer and sue him."
 "Forgotten Parents" never did indicate whether they had an IOU or promissory note, but may I offer some valuable unsolicited advice to one and all? Never lend money without a promissory note acknowledging the loan and stating the terms of repayment. Relatives are no exception.

 DEAR ABBY: Dawn, a frail little 6-year-old child, walked for the first time in her life on the Jerry Lewis 1985 Telethon — thanks to the skills of an orthopedic surgeon and the support of the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Mrs. Ohio of 1985 appeared on the telethon at the same time, and met Dawn at the TV station. The shy and winsome child was delighted to meet the beautiful "queen" wearing a real crown. Dawn's face lit up as she gazed upon the crown. She could scarcely take her eyes from it.
 Not too long afterward, a package arrived at Dawn's home, and inside was a beautiful rhinestone crown! It had belonged to Cyndi Griswold, Mrs. Ohio of 1985!
 CYNDI'S PROUD MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You should be proud. What a perfect example of the combined joy of giving and receiving.

 DEAR ABBY: Now I have really heard it all. "Parents of the Bride" write that their adopted daughter is planning to be married. She has found her natural family and wants to include them in the wedding party, so how should the wedding invitations read?
 Can't you just see them: "Mr. and Mrs. William Smith request your presence at the marriage of their adopted daughter, Joan, in the presence of her natural parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Golost, to Peter Jordan, the natural son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jordan."

 Oh, come on, Abby. You say if there is any awkwardness insofar as you, or the natural parents are concerned, identifying labels should be omitted. How could there not be awkwardness?
 If the bride who has suddenly found her birth parents wants to invite them to her wedding, that's lovely. But I think they should slip in the back door of the church, watch the wedding and slip out again. I'll bet you get plenty of mail on this.

 IN SHOCK IN COLUMBUS
 DEAR IN SHOCK: I did. The consensus: The adoptive parents must be incredibly generous and understanding (or crazy) to even consider including their daughter's newfound natural parents in the wedding party. Also, if they do, the natural parents should pay half the expenses.

Kitchen and Bath Specialists
 by Bob and Jan Noyes

IMMERSING YOURSELF
 There is something sensuous about bathing in a sunken tub. One enters as if stepping into a tropical pool, slowly immersing one's body, preferably to the neck, and settling back to savor the water's restorative effects. Even children cannot wait to get into the suds. Interested in taking a bath like this? A bathroom can be designed in many different ways. If the bathroom is on the ground floor, a tub may be able to be sunk into crawl space under the floor. On a second story, try dipping into unused space over a garage or stairwell. Or, consider raising it up with a platform.
 If your bathtub is set into a tiled surround, add extra insulation around the base of the tub to help keep water hot while you soak. Before you remodel, see the specialists at BOB'S CUSTOM WOODWORK. We design, build and install new baths and kitchens from floor tile to custom cabinetry. Come to 613 North Warehouse Road in the Industrial Park, or call 267-5811. We're open M-F, 8-12, 1-5 or by appt.
 — HINT —
 To get extra room for an especially large tub, consider expanding into an adjacent closet.

Robin Kim Ethridge of Coahoma and Lloyd Scott Robinson of Ackerly exchanged wedding vows on Feb. 14 at the Coahoma First Baptist Church. The Reverend Danny Curry of the First Baptist Church in Coahoma and Reverend Tim Winn of the First Baptist Church in Knott officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Rob Ethridge, 500 North Fifth, Coahoma. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robinson, Route 1, Ackerly.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with a 15-branch brass candelabra with two 17-branch heart-shaped candelabras on each side. Each candelabra was decorated with white tapers, greenery, baby's breath and tiny red flowers.

She carried a cascading bouquet of red sweetheart roses, white bridal roses, baby's breath, stephanotis and English ivy.
