Turner: Drug probe was foiled

By HANK MURPHY and JOHN RICE
Staff Writers

A nine-month undercover police narcotics probe using a female agent was "at a point of penetrating major drug families" when the operation was tainted by an individual who dug through City Hall records, Police Chief Rick Turner said Friday.

City Secretary Tom Ferguson said Friday that Danny Heckler, a local businessman and bondsman, had pulled documentation of several checks issued to Turner for the narcotics division, including a $10,000 check made out to him in 1984.

Heckler confirmed Saturday that he had checked the records. He also said he told a number of people several months ago that he suspected the woman was an undercover agent. Heckler said the woman had approached him with a request to buy drugs.

Turner says that because the woman's identity was revealed her life was in jeopardy. "We almost got a police officer killed because individuals put the word out" of what the police were doing, he said. Heckler said he did some investigation into the woman, including getting a report on her license plate, to see if he could determine whether she was a narcotics agent.

Race track group seeks county land

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

An investment group interested in building a raceway complex in the Big Spring area will discuss purchasing or leasing land from the county when the Commissioner's Court meets Monday.

The item was a last-minute addition to the agenda, Howard County Judge Milton Kirby said Friday. The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. on the second floor of the county courthouse.

Kirby said the revision in the agenda would be posted early Monday morning to comply with state's open meetings law.

The Sun Star Raceway investors are interested in purchasing property in Howard County Industrial Park, where the old county airport is located, about three miles north of Big Spring off Highway 350, Kirby said.

Dorothy Leffler, who with her husband James Leffler originally conceived plans for a multi-park raceway complex, said Saturday the investors will bid for a sale or lease option on 614.7 acres.

The Lefflers revealed plans for the raceway complex last November during a news conference in their home.

Dorothy Leffler said Saturday that five persons had pledged more than $500,000 to the venture so far. "We have several other people who will invest, but they want to see the bottom line first," she said.

To attain a bottom line, Leffler said, the group must purchase or lease property.

The raceway complex will consist of a water track for speed boats, a drag strip and oval track for motor vehicles, and a truck and tractor pull strip.

Further plans call for the construction of a recreational vehicle park, a private club that would serve mixed drinks, and construction of grandstands with 60,000 seating capacity.

Storm spotters

Volunteers provide 'eyes' for weather service

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

Severe weather spotters are "the eyes" of the National Weather Service, said Steve Schild of the Midland Regional Airport's NWS office.

Schild was in Big Spring Thursday giving free training seminars on how to spot and report tornadoes and other types of severe weather. Thursday afternoon's session was attended by about 30 people, including three ham radio operators.

Volunteer spotters are important, Schild said, because the National Weather Service's radar equipment usually can't identify tornadoes.

The mammoth tornado that devastated Wichita Falls in 1979 killed 46, injured 1,700 and destroyed 5,000 houses. Without a spotter warning of the tornado's approach, the official alert would not have gone out as quickly, and many more would have been killed, he said.

Tornadoes occur most frequently in spring, summer and early fall, Schild said. They descend from a "wall cloud," a piece of cloud hanging from the rain-free, flat base of a thunderstorm cloud. Look for a wall cloud to the left of precipitation, he said.

The most common types of tornadoes in West Texas are "rope" tornadoes, which resemble ropes or slender columns, he said.

Tornadoes may move in any direction or remain in one place, but they most often move from the southwest to the northeast, he said.

Sometimes all or part of a tornado is invisible, he said. One sign of an invisible tornado is swirling debris close to the ground.

Other phenomena can look like tornadoes, including rain shafts or columns, and scud clouds, which are ragged, low cloud fragments not usually attached to the cloud base.

For tornado look-alikes, the key is to look for organized and sustained rotation about a nearly vertical column, according to literature Schild provided.

Severe weather spotters should report severe weather to the National Weather Service, including where and when they saw it, and what the severe weather was doing as far as speed, direction of travel, size and intensity.

Spotters also should report hail pea size or larger, Schild said. When in severe weather, the spotter should be careful of lightning, he said. Up to 200 deaths per year result nationwide from lightning.

"Especially here in West Texas, if you're out in the car or truck, you are going to be the tallest thing around and may attract lightning," he said.

During the seminar, Schild showed a film on the Wichita Falls disaster, which gave the following tips on what to do when threatened by a tornado:

- Have a disaster plan.
- Listen to National Oceanic & Atmospheric Association radio weather report in Big Spring, the report is on Channel 3. It can also be heard on weather radios, some of which are equipped with alarms for disaster warnings.
- Take cover in a basement or interior room without windows.
- Watch for weather clues.
- Don't try to escape in a car. "That's the worst thing you can do," the film said.
- Don't light matches or cigarettes.
- Don't enter disaster areas.

Texas Poll rates presidential picks

Bush gets favorable score from 63 percent of Texans

By Dr. JIM DYER
Harte-Hanks News Service

Texans rate Vice President George Bush as the most popular politician among a group of Republicans expected to run for president in 1988, the winter Texas Poll Shows.

In making a favorable impression with 63 percent of Texans, Bush is far ahead of Robert Dole, Howard Baker and Jack Kemp, three nationally known politicians whose names were in the Lone Star state's name recognition list.

The poll surveyed 1,000 Texans by telephone Jan. 24-26. Each respondent rated individual candidates on a scale of 0-100. Zero was an unfavorable rating, 50 was neutral and 100 was favorable. The poll's results reflect the views of the general populace, but should not be presumed to also mirror the opinions of voters.

Bush receives a favorable rating from 63 percent of Texans, making him almost as popular as his boss. President Ronald Reagan, who scores a 66 percent positive job rating from Texans. Unfavorable ratings of Bush came from 15 percent while 18 percent were neutral. Only 4 percent of Texans failed to recognize the vice president's name. Nationally, Bush was rated favorably by 59 percent of all Americans in a Washington Post-ABC News poll conducted last summer.

Bush scores favorably among most groups of Texans, particularly Republicans (83 percent favorable), college graduates (73 percent), conservatives (71 percent), those who earn at least $30,000 a year (70 percent), and longtime Texas residents (70 percent). Although he was born in Massachusetts, he moved to Houston in 1948 and claims Texas as his home. In the Gulf Coast region of the state, 71 percent of its Respondents who recognized a name but gave no rating were placed in the "neutral" category. Those who said they did not recognize a name were not asked to give a rating. The number given at the end of each column represents the percent of people who recognized the national figure's name.

Chrysler Chairman Lee Iacocca is most popular with Texans in a group of possible Democratic contenders for president in 1988, the winter Texas Poll shows. Coming up on his heels, though, are anticipated candidates Gary Hart, Jesse Jackson and Mario Cuomo.

Telephone interviewers polled 1,000 Texans Jan. 24-Feb. 6 and asked them to rate individuals on a scale of 0-100. Zero to 49 was unfavorable, 50 was neutral and 51-100 was favorable. Interviewers did not ask whether respondents intended to vote.

Almost half (48 percent) of those polled have a favorable impression of Iacocca. Nationally, 49 percent of Americans rated him favorably in a Washington Post-ABC News poll last summer.

Mexico tries, but she can't understand

Journey through Texas

The 1830s, peak years in terms of the Texas-Mexico conflicts, have permanently altered the Mexican citizen's view of his native land and of his lot in life. He has seen his own country be steadily weakened from the constant whirlwind of revolutions. He has seen the new America growing with that special recklessness that seems to portend an expanding disregard for older, more classical conventions. America took Louisiana in 1803 and since then he has known, as have all Mexicans, that it will not rest until it controls Texas.

All of Mexico knows that Texas, with its particular fertility, riches, climate and position, will at best produce an extreme legal struggle between the United States of the North and his homeland. At worst, a bitter and fruitless war will ensue.

Mexico, though, needs to keep Texas. It has the life-giving advantage of its splendid, navigable rivers, which a Mexico without Texas lacks.

Texas, Mexico proclaims, has had more than its fair share of independence! The Federal Act of May 1824 made Texas into a sovereign state with Coahuila, with the even more generous provision that Texas can become its own state when its population grows sufficiently. The act is only nine years old and already they're claiming it is not enough — they want to become their own state within the Confederacy of Mexico and they want to govern themselves. Who's ever heard of such a thing? The supreme government of Mexico, now under President Santa Anna, is the rightful ruler of all people in this confederacy.

Mexicans of 1836 believe the bold and daring Santa Anna will keep Texans in their place.

Most Mexicans these days ask themselves and others, "Who is this newly colonized, upstart territory acting with such impudency and malice?"

Texas' distortion of facts can be tolerated. Its greed can be attributed in part to the United States of the North's inherent disregard for established territories and existing civilizations. After all, conclusive reports secure the Mexican conviction that their own armies are skilled beyond the capabilities of the Texas soldiers.

This superiority is proven, too, in these years of 1835 and '36, when the powerful Santa Anna storms the Alamo, wins at Goliad and conquers all the land in between. Victory continues until the heinous battle at San Jacinto in April of '36. The Mexican troops are viciously slaughtered with a chilling brutality that will burn in the hearts of all Mexicans forever. The defeated Santa Anna surrenders and is taken prisoner by Sam Houston.

Bold and vicious Texas has won the war.

Mexicans watch the ratifications of peace being exchanged at Queretaro — the long campaign to keep Texas has ended. The United States of the North evacuates a beaten Mexico with no regard for the evils produced by its encroachment. Mexican citizens learn the bitter lesson of what occurs when disorder, asperity and anarchy prevail.

Undercover

He told people about the suspected agent in self-defense, he said. "I don't associate with drugs. I was protecting myself. I wanted people to know that I knew what was going on in case something happened later. I thought they might try to frame me."

But the agent, who asked that her name not be used, said Heckler "delivered a joint (marijuana cigarette) to me. He asked me to traffic a lot of marijuana."

Turner said he intends to seek grand jury review of a possible misdemeanor charge against Heckler based on the agent's claim. Heckler said Turner is "out to get me" because Heckler refused to cooperate in another drug investigation several years ago. Heckler acknowledged that he has had some involvement with drugs in the past but said that was "when I was a kid."

Concerning the checks issued to Turner, Heckler said he discovered them while going through the city's list of bank checks, which he does periodically "to see if there's anything irregular."

Turner said $30,000 to $40,000 is budgeted to the police department annually to infiltrate narcotics trafficking. The work of enforcing drug laws is expensive, he said. An ounce of high grade marijuana sells for more than $100, while an ounce of cocaine brings about $2,200, he said.

The police undercover agent said she made scores of drug transactions with police funds.

Heckler said when he discovered the checks, totaling "$35,000 to $40,000 last year," he asked Ferguson how the money is accounted for. "I asked him whether there was an outside audit and he said 'no,'" Heckler said. "He (Ferguson) said he was the one that checked it."

Heckler said he talked with several people about the checks written to Turner and what he considers "sloppy bookwork."

But Turner said the department keeps meticulous documentation of how the budgeted drug money is spent. A police ledger is used to log cash disbursements to narcotics investigators. He said because of the nature of undercover work, receipts for all cash transactions are an impossibility.

"You have to trust the agent who signs for the money," he said, adding that the money disbursed to detectives is closely monitored.

Some people in the community thought the disbursements were questionable, Turner said. And the Storm cleanup goes on

ROBBINS, Calif. — A levee bulged and began leaking Saturday, forcing the evacuation of about 400 people in flood-ravaged northern California, but a breach in another levee a few miles to the north was sealed and thousands of refugees returned home.

An explosion in a natural gas pipeline along the Bear River just to the north blew three people into the water. Two were quickly rescued and hospitalized with burns, and a search was mounted for the third man, officials said.

Preliminary estimates set damage from floods and landslides all across northern California after nine days of torrential rain at at least $225 million.

Female lifespan slides

PITTSBURGH — Women are losing their life expectancy advantage over men because of the growing number of female smokers, not because of increased stress, a researcher said Saturday.

"The life expectancy of men and women will be about the same in the next 40 to 50 years," said Gus H. Miller, director of Studies on Smoking Inc., a non-profit group in Edinboro.

"Firstly, women are smoking more. Secondly, men in the older age have been quitting smoking double the rate of women so they are living longer," he said in a telephone interview.

Travel costs taxpayers

WASHINGTON — Traveling members of Congress cost taxpayers at least $9.28 million in 1984-85, a watchdog group reported Saturday.

In a report entitled "Flights of Fancy," Congress Watch said senators, representatives and their aides spent $4.96 million on overseas trips in 1984, an increase of 36 percent from amount calculated by the group's previous report covering 1982.

Congress Watch, part of the Public Citizen organization founded by Ralph Nader, said travel costs totaled $4.32 million for the first nine months of 1985 — or at an annual rate of $5.76 million.

Officials attack budget

WASHINGTON — The nation's governors attacked President Reagan's budget Saturday as "a one-way street" that shifts responsibilities to the states without providing the money to pay for them.

A report called "Federalism and the States 1986," said the governors agreed that "reducing the federal deficit must be a very high priority," and they renewed their call on the administration to consider defense cuts and tax increases as steps toward that goal.

The report was made public by Tennessee Gov. Lamar Alexander, chairman of the National Governors Association.

Philippines Deputy Armed Forces Chief Gen. Fidel C. Ramos, left, and Defense Minister Juan Ponce Enrile announce at a news conference Saturday that they were breaking with President Ferdinand C. Marcos' government and called on the armed forces and all cabinet ministers to join them.

Marcos faces revolt of 2 military leaders

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Two top military leaders who demanded that President Ferdinand E. Marcos resign were holed up at their command posts in army camps Sunday and rejected Marcos' order to end their revolt.

In one of the most serious challenges Marcos has faced in his 20 years in power, Defense Minister Juan Ponce Enrile and Lt. Gen. Fidel V. Ramos, the deputy armed forces chief, said Saturday that Marcos should step aside "while there is still time."

They said Corazon Aquino, the opposition candidate who claimed victory in the Feb. 7 presidential election, should replace Marcos.

The president, in television appearances, said there had been a plot to assassinate him and his wife Imelda in a coup to be carried out early Sunday, but that it was blocked and at least two men were arrested.

Hundreds of people chanting "Cory, Cory!" — Mrs. Aquino's nickname — gathered outside two adjacent military camps where Enrile and Ramos took refuge, defended by their troops. The camps, Aguinaldo and Crane, are on the outskirts of Manila and four miles east of the presidential palace.

At the news conference Saturday at the Defense Ministry headquarters inside Camp Aguinaldo, the two men said Marcos stole the election and they called on military and the Cabinet to join them in the revolt.

Enrile said generals loyal to Marcos had intended to arrest all opposition leaders and added, "I imagine orders like this would come from the highest authority."

An Aquino spokesman, Assemblyman Homobono Adaza, said her supporters had heard arrest orders were out for opposition leaders and Mrs. Aquino was "secure in a safe place."

Marcos in late-night and early-morning live appearances on television, urged Ramos and Enrile to "stop this stupidity and surrender so that we may negotiate."

Manila was calm Sunday morning. A parade of thousands of school children marched town by town along Roxas Boulevard with floats honoring "Dental Week."

At Camp Aguinaldo, Enrile stood in blue jeans and a bullet-proof vest with soldiers carrying rifles at a Roman Catholic Mass conducted by the Rev. Nico Bautista. Ramos was at Camp Crane, across a highway from Aguinaldo, where he commands the Philippine Constabulary.

"This may be the darkest hour in the history of our country, but this is our finest hour," said Bautista, praising Enrile and Ramos for their action.

In Washington, the White House issued a statement saying it was concerned about the "credibility and legitimacy" of the election and called upon all parties to resolve their differences in a peaceful manner.

President Reagan and the U.S. Congress have been increasingly critical of the Marcos government and the conduct of the election.

Enrile told the news conference that the U.S. and Japanese embassies had been informed of the situation, but no foreign government had a role in the rebellion.

Cardinal Jaime Sin, the Catholic prelate, offered to mediate to avoid bloodshed. But he also broadcast a statement calling for people to back Enrile and Ramos, saying they should "be around at Camp Aguinaldo to show your solidarity and your support in this very crucial period."

More than 1,000 people gathered outside Camp Aguinaldo and as many as 400 people were seen in the streets at nearby Camp Crane.

Bombs set off in Peru

LIMA, Peru — Leftist guerrillas threw dynamite from speeding cars at the U.S. Embassy and other foreign missions, government offices and local headquarters of the governing party in the capital, police said Saturday.

No one was reported hurt in Friday night's coordinated bombings, which capped three days of rebel attacks in mountain and jungle provinces that killed 11 people, according to official reports.

The head of the Investigative Police anti-terrorism squad, Gen. Fernando Reyes Roca, told a news conference that as the dynamite exploded, flaming hammer-and-sickle signs were lit on two hillsides overlooking Lima.

Two satellites launched

KOUROU, French Guiana — The European Space Agency reported Saturday that two satellites launched into space by the Ariane rocket were in perfect north-south orbit and functioning normally.

French President Francois Mitterrand sent a telegram to the agency hailing the launch as "a new step in the conquest of space."

Ariane, a three-stage unmanned rocket, lifted off flawlessly Friday night from its South American jungle base in Kourou. It was Ariane's 13th success in 16 attempts and came after 18 months of delays.

With the U.S. space program temporarily suspended following the Jan. 28 explosion of the Challenger space shuttle, Ariane's success should increase its share of the multi-billion-dollar satellite launch market.

Mandela still in prison

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Nelson Mandela does not expect to be freed from prison in the coming weeks or months and wants speculation on the matter to cease, his daughter said this weekend.

Witnesses, meanwhile, said Saturday that police wielding clubs charged a house in which about 70 funeral mourners were gathered in Atteridgeville, a black township near Pretoria.

Israelis end 6-day hunt

BIRANIT, Israel — Convoys of smiling, waving Israeli soldiers pulled back across the border Saturday as Israel wound down a six-day search of south Lebanese villages for two soldiers captured by Shiite Moslem extremists.

The Israeli columns streamed through several crossings in the 53-mile border after Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin and senior military commanders concluded there was little hope of finding the two Israelis.

The two soldiers, Pvts. Yossi Fink and Rahamim Al-Sheikh, were seized Monday in an ambush at Bint Jbeil, a Shiite village three miles north of the Israeli border.

Gasoline prices defy explanation

If we're forced to endure the effects of oil's flagging price, we should at least get to reap the small reward of cheaper gasoline. While gasoline at the pump has declined a bit, it hasn't kept pace with the descent of oil prices.

It's insult on top of injury to be in a refinery town and have to pay top dollar for gasoline. Waco is selling unleaded gasoline for less than 80 cents a gallon. Big Spring is selling it for more than $1 a gallon. Cosden refinery here has cut its wholesale gasoline price as much as 21 cents per gallon since the first of the year, yet pump prices have ebbed only about half that.

We'll concede that price is a function of competition. But we find it hard to fathom that there is so little competition here that prices are 20 cents ahead of the pace of Midland just 40 miles to the west. If indeed competition is destined to be the pivotal consideration, then Big Springers might think of the potential savings of making an 80-mile round-trip to fill up their tank.

Let's see. If your car will hold 20 gallons of gasoline, and you get 25 miles to the gallon, it'll cost you about $2.70 to drive to Midland and buy it. At 20 cents less per gallon — based on Friday's prevailing prices of 89 cents for unleaded in Midland and $1.09 in Big Spring — you'll save $4 on a tankfull.

Big Spring retailers ought to think about that while they see if they can't refigure their pump prices. Better yet, some sharp local entrepreneur should cut his gasoline price to 75 cents a gallon. Maybe he could pack some Midlanders into our city to stock up on gasoline — and maybe some other things while they're here.

Jesse Trevino Mexican debt is at flash point

The latest news from the Mexican economic front is not good. Mexico has slashed oil prices again, increasing the likelihood the country will not be able to meet its foreign debt obligations.

We have reached a moment now when patience and caution ought to be the currency of political discussion instead of principal and interest.

But despite the need for prudence, the world oil collapse is renewing a common fear: That Mexico may be swept up in a revolution which paralyzes the country and endangers U.S. investments and the security of the whole hemisphere.

This is no new worry. The economic chasm between the two countries always lent itself to the probability that each country would face two very different political fates.

Now, with Mexico strapped to a monumental international debt and a domestic budget already cut to its bare bones, the worry is that an exasperated Mexican populace may turn to radical solutions to the country's profound problems.

Will it? Apparently, some people believe that the Mexican government is under pressure so intense that Mexican President de la Madrid may not last the year. Texas Business in its January edition gives de la Madrid only a 70 percent chance of survival. But the magazine also gave the Haitian dictator Jean-Claude Duvalier a 90 percent chance of avoiding being tossed out of office. Duvalier is now in Europe, having accepted reality rather than face quelling the deluge which was sure in coming in Haiti.

But whatever the threat to the Mexican government, it most likely is not from a mass upheaval. Rather, it may be from the business and conservative segments of Mexican society that have lost millions of dollars in a nosediving economy.

That is not to minimize the terrible burden shouldered by the average Mexican worker who has seen his real earnings decline by almost 40 percent in four years.

But the awful truth is that, given Mexico's internal disparities of wealth, the upper class and the middle class have lost more per capita than the average worker.

It is from those who have lost more than the real threat comes.

A year ago during Christmas week, it was not the poor and the downtrodden who rioted in the border cities fronting Texas but the conservative Catholic party which felt it had been robbed of its electoral victories.

Those riots are part of a building problem which could become a firestorm if the disillusionment of the conservative wing denied the frustration of the working poor in a general revolt.

But at the moment, it is only the conservative element of Mexican society that could be ready for a major change. They have expressed their displeasure at the government by shipping billions of pesos out of the country into U.S. banks.

If the political right decided to take the momentous initiative and attempt to change the Mexican political system, it would not have a strong partner in the Mexican army.

Unlike other Latin American countries, the army in Mexico has not been a major player in Mexican national politics. For 50 years, incumbent Mexican governments have had no interest in building up the army. Mexico only recently began to build up its military when the government realized it might one day have to defend the country's oil fields.

Mexico's army in 1981 numbered about 100,000. Cuba — a country one-seventh Mexico's size — had an army that year of 180,000. Mexico's military expenditures in 1981 of less than one percent of its gross national product per capita put it in the same league as that world power the Mauritius Islands.

Despite the gloom, there is still time. Mexico and its creditors must achieve a new payment schedule before the general population and the conservative factions take matters into their own hands, army or no army.

Jesse Trevino of Austin, a former Big Spring resident, writes on Hispanic social and political issues.

Second glances

Managing Editor

You be the editor

Advice of members of the Friends of the Newspaper advisory group is this: a newspaper should stick by its policies and, in general, publish.

More often than not, that's how nine members of the group aligned when asked to role-play as newspaper editors during a monthly meeting Wednesday. The group evaluated five real situations that called for value judgments and a decision on whether or not to print. None of the situations were make-believe, all had occurred here in town. Here are three of them:

A city official uses profane language in response to a reporter's questions on a story involving controversy at city hall. Here, newspaper policy is in a gray area. Normally a newspaper, being a family-oriented general interest publication, would avoid publishing profanity. Each situation is evaluated independently.

Should the newspaper publish the quotes verbatim or delete the profanity?

Publish the quotes verbatim, the majority at the meeting said. In the case of the profanity published recently quoting a city official, use of the material "captured the intensity of feeling," said one group member.

"A public figure knows how to deal with the press" and knows the risks of using profane language, said another.

"It wasn't like you overheard him say that to someone else," said a third. The comments were made in direct response to questions.

Of the two who believed the profanity shouldn't have been reproduced, one felt the profane words could have been substituted with "expletive deleted"; the other said the profanity should have been ignored by the writer out of respect for the family of the city official.

A woman asked that her name be withheld from a police report. She reported to police that she had been the victim of an attempted mugging, but came to the newspaper office the next morning to ask that we not publish her name.

The woman was from out of town, but insisted that by publishing her name the newspaper would be endangering the health of her ailing husband who might see the newspaper account in their home city about 100 miles away.

Normal policy is to publish full details of crime accounts, including the victim's identification. Publish the name or withhold it?

The group split, 4-4. One of those who said publish did so because she said she felt the woman's rationale, that her husband's health could be affected, wasn't reasonable.

One of those who said don't publish said that since the woman was from out of town it didn't matter whether her name was published or not — no one locally would know her anyway.

A man whose son was arrested for providing alcohol to a minor asks if the newspaper will leave his son's name off the police log. The man explains that the son is only 19, that he has just graduated from high school, that he is a good student and that he was just doing a favor for a friend who is 18.

Newspaper policy is to publish the name. Advisory group members unanimously agreed that the name should be published. "It might be the best thing you could do for him," said one.

Several group members reported that readers had directed queries to them about the newspaper. Here are the concerns that were relayed by group members:

● QUESTION: The newspaper overall does a good job of creating a positive image of the community, said one reader, but the crime news carried daily under the "Police Beat" banner gives people a negative image of the community. Could the police news either be moved to the back of the paper or printed in small type?

ANSWER: Police news is written "on deadline"; that is, the morning of publication. Pages 1, 2 and 3 are created under deadline pressure, whereas the back pages are usually done earlier — before "police beat" and "sheriff's log" are ready.

As for small type, I tried that once and was forced by reader complaints to go back to regular-size type.

● QUESTION: Why doesn't the newspaper have more coupon advertising?

ANSWER: We'd like to have as much as we can get. Some retailers are more attuned to coupon advertising than others. Some product manufacturers handled by national advertising firms direct their advertising only into larger markets.

● QUESTION: Doesn't publishing the addresses of burglary victims invite further burglaries?

ANSWER: Probably not, since the house already has been burglarized of its contents. One main purpose of reporting burglary locations is to alert people about crime in their neighborhood.

If you have comments, criticism or advice for the newspaper, direct it to me, or to any one of these members of the Friends of the Newspaper reader advisory committee:

Around The Rim

People don't like surprises

By ROBIN WARD

The news that former utilities superintendent W.W. Windham was paid a lump sum of $17,835 in back overtime when he resigned from the city in 1984 came as a surprise to a number of people.

Among them were four city councilmen who said they weren't informed at the time that the check had been approved or issued. Needless to say, the citizens of Big Spring, whose tax dollars support the operation of city government, were not made aware of the payment, either.

The news was surprising partly because the payment, representing nearly 57 percent of Windham's $28,000 yearly salary and amounting to 20 full workweeks of overtime in just one year, was made without any documentation except Windham's word that he had worked the hours.

But judging from some of the comments I've heard since the Herald story ran, people in this town were equally amazed by the fact that the payment was authorized with the input of so few people.

It seems City Manager Don Davis authorized the unusual payment after privately discussing it with the mayor and a couple of councilmen.

One woman said to me last week, "What bothers me is not that they paid him the money. It bothers me that the thing seems to have been done so secretly. ... It makes me wonder how many other payments like that were made that we still don't know about."

Davis was right when he told a reporter it's easier to be a Monday-morning quarterback than it is to make calls in the heat of a game.

But it's equally important to learn lessons from the past.

The lesson to be learned here, I believe, is that city government and city management should make every attempt to be candid in their dealings.

Things that seem long buried have a way of surfacing and often with more impact than they would have had if revealed at the time. There's no question but what Windham's request was extraordinary. No matter how innocent the action, people viewed the payment suspiciously because they weren't informed about it.

The people of Big Spring need to trust city government if it is to operate effectively. That trust will develop only if citizens believe they are fairly informed about their city's operation.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Print everyone's every word

To the editor: How dare you? I can't believe your newspaper had the audacity to print what you did on February 14th quoting Don Davis. I don't care if he did use that language when speaking to you. Knowing what I know about Don Davis, he would never speak that way "on the record."

John Rice, I find it hard to believe that you and Hank Murphy don't have bad days from time to time. I find it even harder to believe that the two of you never use profanity.

In closing I'd like to say that since you had to quote every word that Don Davis said, then you darn sure better start doing that to everyone else you interview, too.

By The Associated Press
Today is Sunday, Feb. 23, the 54th day of 1986. There are 311 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On Feb. 23 1945, in World War II, U.S. Marines on Iwa Jima raised the Stars and Stripes atop Mount Suribachi in a scene captured on film by Joe Rosenthal, a photographer for the Associated Press.

On this date:

In 1685, composer George Frederick Handel was born in Germany.

In 1822, Boston was granted a charter to incorporate as a city.

In 1836, the siege of the Alamo began in San Antonio.

In 1848, the sixth president, John Quincy Adams, died of a stroke at the age of 80.

In 1861, President-elect Abraham Lincoln arrived secretly in Washington to take office, an assassination plot having been foiled in Baltimore.

In 1870, Mississippi was readmitted to the Union.

In 1905, the Rotary Club was founded.

In 1942, a Japanese submarine fired on an oil refinery in Ellwood, Calif.

In 1954, the first mass inoculation of children against polio with the Salk vaccine began in Pittsburgh.

Ten years ago, CBS News relieved correspondent Daniel Schorr of all his reporting duties for an indefinite period after he leaked a House Intelligence Committee report to the Village Voice. He resigned later in the year. A House panel refused to punish him.

Five years ago: Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev proposed a meeting with President Reagan to help halt a deterioration in relations between the two nations.

One year ago: Jordan announced agreement with the Palestine Liberation Organization for a joint approach to peace in the Middle East. It included a provision calling for the total withdrawal of Israeli forces from the territories occupied since the 1967 Middle East war.

Today's birthdays: author-journalist William L. Shirer is 82. Actor Peter Fonda is 47.

Washington's birthday feted

LAREDO (AP) — A week of bustling activity in this border city began winding down Saturday as the 89th observance of the Washington's Birthday Celebration drew toward a close.

The 103-entry International Grand Parade, which started in 1898 and has grown in the same proportions with other segments of the celebration, was witnessed by an estimated 150,000 people, 150 percent of the city's population.

Parade floats represented entries from Mexico, Buccaneer Days in Corpus Christi and the many vehicle riders and clowns from the Shriners.

Earlier, dignitaries from the United States and Mexico met in a traditional "abrazo" or embrace, symbolizing close ties between the two countries, in the middle of the International Bridge.

The "Abrazo Children," a pair of children from both Laredo and Nuevo Laredo, kicked off the ceremony with warm hugs, paving the way for the adults to do likewise in an exchange of good will.

The Washington's Birthday Celebration, the only community-wide celebration in the nation which honors "The Father of Our Country," symbolizes cultural exchange and excellent relations between the two countries, the Laredo News reported.

The celebration began with A Taste of Los Dos Laredos on Tuesday.

Our apologies to Brian Reagan for being left out of the Merit Honor Roll last week.

Teachers stage protest against school reform

AUSTIN (AP) — Hundreds of shouting, sign-waving teachers gathered on the Capitol lawn Saturday to claim the 1984 school reforms are "grossly unfair" and to blame Gov. Mark White for getting them passed.

"Shove the Gov," read a sign in the front row of a rally sponsored by the Texas Teachers for Respect and Responsibility.

"No More White Lies," said another sign.

Doug Ward, a junior high school English teacher and coach in Monahans who is chairman of TTRR, led the enthusiastic crowd in a chant: "No more insults day after day. Mark White go away."

Ward said those at the rally had registered from 164 different Texas schools, some of them driving all night from the Panhandle to appear. A number came in chartered buses.

"Let the governor know we are tired of being political scapegoats for him," said Mickey Porter,

English teacher at Wheeler. Ward said the organization left a list of their complaints on the door of the governor's office one day this week and that the only response was "someone tore them off the door."

Ward's detailed criticism of the school reforms included:

- The new appointed 15-member State Board of Education has only two members with classroom experience.

- The competency test required of already-certified teachers is an insult. "Two weeks from now they can require a new test, maybe a urine test, or a lie detector test, or a blood test, anything they want," he said.

- The career ladder for teachers is not adequately designed or funded.

- It is wrong to remove the power of the University Interscholastic League to regulate participation in extracurricular activities.

Local students win at UIL band contest

Eleven Big Spring High School band students won medals for superior performances at the University Interscholastic League solo and ensemble contest Saturday at Midland College.

Of those, nine qualified for state competition by earning superior ratings on a Class I solo, the most difficult category, said band director Ricky Mitchell.

Students earning a Division I, or superior, rating on a class I solo were Debbie Lee, Mike Ramey, Paul Blalack, Medina Corwin, Vince Robledo, Hollie Brownfield and Dawn Sampley.

Students who earned a Division I rating on a Class I ensemble, qualifying for the state contest were Mike Ramey, Paul Blalack, Amy Cox and Rachel Tedesco. Andy Bacon earned a Division I medal for a Class II flute solo.

The following students earned a Division II, or excellent, rating on their solos: Michelle Wiggins, Carla Hulse, Nancy Hollingsworth, Amy Cox, Rachel Tedesco, Kim Watkins, Michelle Smith, Tim Carroll, Mark Settles, Alan Cox, Joel Jennings, Robin Butler, Janene Horton, Pat Collins and Paul Chavez.

The following students earned a Division II rating on ensembles: Aricia Grant, Jacque Hardeman, Jamie Hinojos, Kim Watkins, Debbie Lee, Medina Corwin, Delia Leal, Pat Collins, Scott Oliver, Vince Robledo and Cary Lewis.

Texas Monthly grouped with adult magazines

NACOGDOCHES (AP) — Convenience store managers in this East Texas town found the March issue of Texas Monthly a little too steamy and banned it to behind-the-counter racks alongside "adult" magazines.

Managers at the five 7-Eleven stores in this city of about 28,000 put the magazine behind store counters because of a Calvin Klein "Obsession" perfume ad.

The ad pictures the torso of a nude woman being kissed by a man.

Because the magazine is behind the counter, it can only be purchased on request by customers 18 or older.

Assistant store manager

Laura Johnson said 7-Eleven has always handled Texas Monthly as an information magazine.

But when a customer brought the ad to her attention Saturday morning, Johnson said, she placed the magazine behind the counter and advised other stores of the advertisement.

The decision to put a magazine behind the counter is up to the discretion of the individual manager, she said, adding that nudity is the criteria.

Texas Monthly publisher Michael R. Levy told the Associated Press that Texas Monthly is just one of many national magazines the advertisement was placed with.

Vietnam vet brings petition to city

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

We must keep pressure on Hanoi to return U.S. servicemen and other citizens missing in action, says Mike Bartley, a Vietnam veteran fighting for the cause.

Bartley was in Big Spring Saturday at the Winn Dixie grocery store asking people to sign a petition to deliver to Hanoi asking for the return of MIAs. He plans to take the petition to the United Nations on Memorial Day, he said.

"If we were to relent they (Vietnamese officials) would think we didn't care. That's the way they think," he said.

"We have gotten progress in our negotiations, but we have not gotten satisfaction," he said. "We have not gotten any live men back."

There are 2,436 people still missing in Vietnam, he said, and not all of them are soldiers. Some are civilians — missionaries and journalists, including journalist Sean Flynn, the son of actor Errol Flynn. Of those, 161 are from Texas, he said.

U.S. negotiations with Vietnam have produced the remains of 56 men so far.

"These guys are my brothers," Bartley said. "If I was in a tiger cage, I would want someone to do it for me."

Bartley wears an olive drab coverall scattered with patches denoting various units that served in Vietnam. He wears a black, billed cap covered with "POW/MIA" pins over his graying black hair. His right arm sports three metal bracelets, each bearing the name of a person missing in Vietnam.

Bartley took up the cause 12 years after he returned from the Vietnam war, when he read a book called "Five Years to Freedom" by Col. James Rowe, an ex-prisoner of war. The book recounts his capture and escape five years later.

"That got the wheels turning in my head," he said.

About 70 percent of the Big Springers who passed by the display have signed the petition, he said, constant with the national average. Participation in Odessa, where he was Friday, was higher, at 90 percent.

Tylenol probe gets nowhere

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — Two weeks after a poisoned Tylenol capsule killed a woman, investigators are stymied by what they call a crime without a motive.

"Right now, it's like looking for a needle in a haystack," said FBI spokesman Antonius Genakos, whose agency is still working to solve the 1982 deaths of seven people in the Chicago area from cyanide-laced Tylenol capsules.

Diane Elsroth, 23, of Peekskill, about 45 miles north of New York City, took two Extra-Strength Tylenol capsules at her boyfriend's home in Yonkers on Feb. 8. Two days later, medical authorities determined she had died of cyanide contained in one of those capsules.

A second bottle containing poisoned capsules was found three days later in a Woolworth's store, just blocks from the Bronxville A&F where the fatal bottle of Tylenol was purchased.

The death and the discovery of the second bottle led to a nationwide warning against use of Tylenol capsules. The manufacturer, Johnson & Johnson, later decided to stop using capsules entirely and to make Tylenol only as solid tablets and caplets or in liquid form, a move that could cost the company $150 million.

An FBI official said Saturday it was unlikely that the capsules were doctored at the two factories where they were filled and packaged.

Reagan presses for aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, arguing that Nicaraguans battling their leftist government "don't want our troops, just our aid," on Saturday pressed anew his lobbying blitz for $100 million for the Contra rebels.

Reagan, who is expected to send his formal request for the aid to Congress in the coming days, topped off a week of pleas for support for the rebels with his weekly radio address. The five-minute address was delivered from his retreat in the Catoctin Mountains at Camp David, Md.

Saying "We should learn the lesson of Grenada," Reagan drew a comparison between events in Nicaragua and the situation on the Caribbean island before the U.S. invasion in 1983.

"The Communists didn't succeed in Grenada, yet a similar chain of events has been happening in Nicaragua," Reagan said. "We hear the same old lies, while the Nicaraguan people see their freedom being stolen away."

The president also reminisced about his trip Thursday to Grenada, where he was hailed as a hero for ordering the U.S. military action.

SNEAK-THIEF

One of my good patients asked me if I would write an article about the eye disease GLAUCOMA, and would I please use "easy-to-understand" words. I will give it a try. Just as the body produces blood, it produces fluid or liquid inside the eye. Glaucoma is an eye disease in which either too much fluid is produced or normal drainage of fluid does not occur causing pressure to build up in the eyeball. Symptoms of glaucoma can include blurred vision which comes and goes, the inability to adjust the eyes to darkened rooms, seeing colored rings around lights, and reduced side vision. Because symptoms of early glaucoma are not always present, the disease is often referred to as "the sneak-thief" of sight. The National Society to Prevent Blindness says that one out of every eight people who are blind in the U.S. lost his or her vision to glaucoma. Most often it didn't have to happen. Early diagnosis of glaucoma is essential, for if medical treatment is prompt, the progress of the disease can be stopped — but sight already destroyed cannot be restored. The best defense against glaucoma is to have regular, thorough eye examinations. If you have questions please feel free to call or come by our office and pick up some excellent free literature on glaucoma.

Abernathy wins big one; headed to state tourney

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Writer

District 3-2A powerhouses Bovina Fillies and Abernathy Lady 'Lopes split wins in their two meetings this year. But Abernathy won when it counted the most. The Lady 'Lopes held on to a 43-41 win over their district rivals in the finals of the Region 1-2A tournament yesterday at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Both teams headed into the contest with impressive semifinals wins. Bovina disposed of tough Morton, 67-57; Abernathy drummed previously unbeaten Reagan County, 48-36.

Bovina defeated No. 10 ranked Abernathy 59-56 in January during the first round of district play. The teams' second meeting, which would have decided the district championship, was postponed twice due to snow. The teams agreed to declare themselves co-champions, and flipped a coin to determine their seeding in the state playoffs.

"I know our girls were disappointed when the second game got called off," said Bovina coach Mark Lanham before the game. "I think the rivalry will be there. There's no way you can say we didn't get up for it."

Lanham was right on the money. The rivalry was certainly there and it was everything it was cracked up to be.

The contest matched Abernathy's pressure man-to-man defense against Bovina's 2-3 zone, anchored by the back line of 6-1 Mindy Neal, 6-0 Marie Pesch and 5-7 Robbie Stowers. Pesch, who's headed to top ranked University of Texas on a basketball scholarship, and Neal had some good battles with Abernathy forwards Phoebe Dunn (5-8) and Anita Hood

(5-9). When their teammates could get them the ball, Neal and Pesch converted. But while trying to get the ball inside to their "big people", Bovina committed 20 turnovers. Neal led all scorers with 17 points, due to her 7 of 12 shooting performance from the floor. Pesch made 5 of 8 field goals, scoring 13 points.

Dunn and Hood turned in a good day's work also, although it was not as productive as Friday's game against a much shorter Reagan County squad. Dunn scored 12 hard-earned points while Hood added 8 points and 9 rebounds.

The game was "even-stein" all they way. Bovina led 11-10 after one quarter of play and Abernathy took a 22-20 halftime lead on a jumper by guard Liz Lopez. Lopez turned in a good game as she hit 5 of 9 outside shots against the Bovina zone. She also kept a cool head against the Bovina press late in the game.

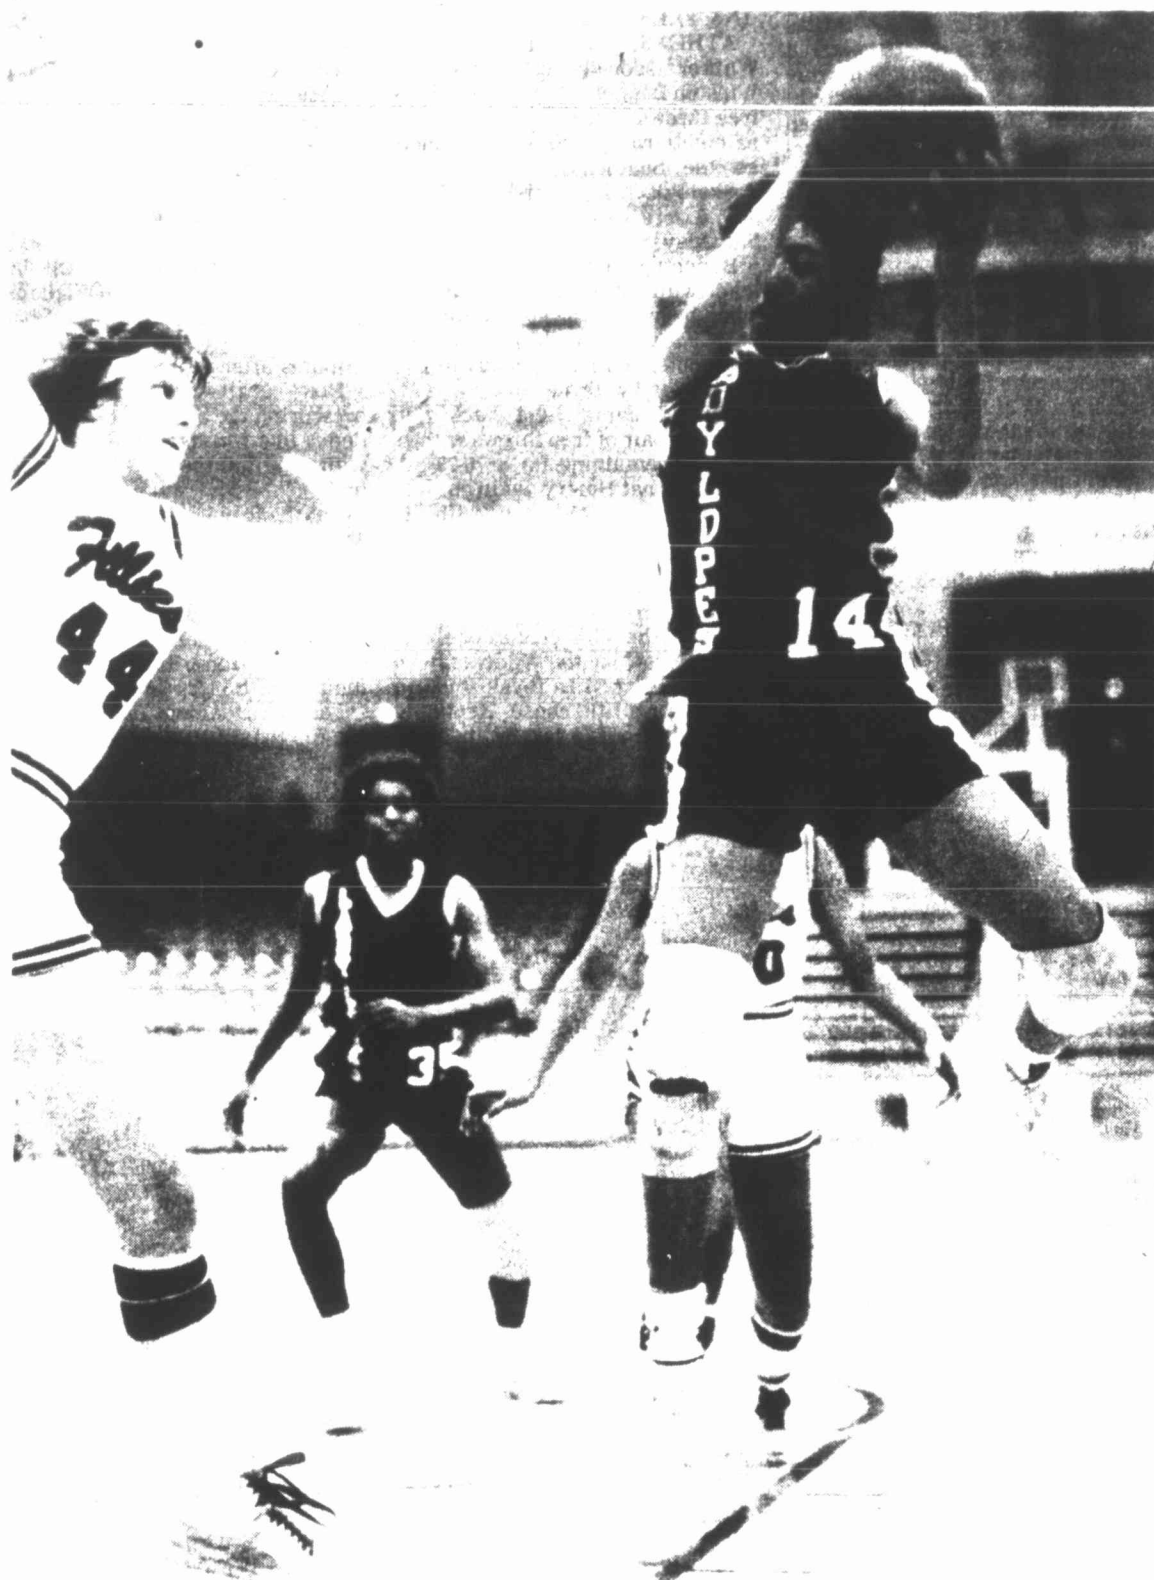

The lead changed hands five times and the score was tied four times in the first half alone.

Abernathy started getting into foul trouble early in the third quarter as point guard Mikki Webb, Lopez and Dunn collected their third fouls, forcing Abernathy coach Pat Mouser to go to his bench. Missy Johnson filled in well for Lopez and Webb and Tracye Pope played admirably for Dunn.

Late in the quarter, with the score tied 24-24, Abernathy ran off six straight points. Hood scored two baskets and Lopez sunk a 15-footer.

Johnson's perimeter shot right before the buzzer gave Abernathy a 34-27 lead going into the final quarter.

Linksters finish fourth

Big Spring's Pam Martinez finished as fourth medalist and the Lady Steers golf team finished fourth overall in the conclusion of the girls golf tourney here yesterday at the Big Spring Country Club.

Odessa Permian kept its first day lead to win the tournament. The Panthers shot a 366, one stroke better than on Friday. The Panthers' 733 put them 20 strokes ahead of second-place finisher Amarillo High. Snyder shot a 388 to finish in third with a two-day score of 765.

Big Spring bettered its Friday output by 13 strokes, finishing with a 744, good for fourth place in the 20-team tournament.

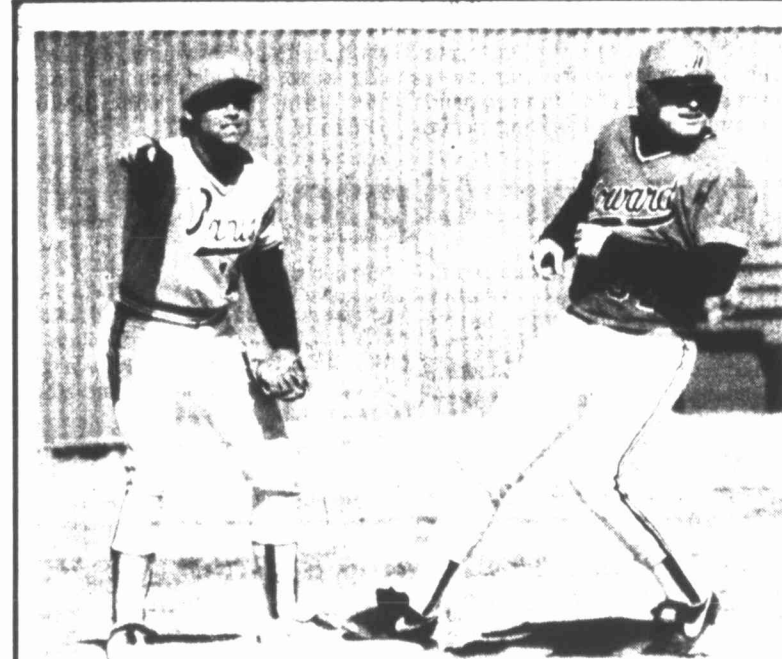

Martinez followed Friday's 89 with an 88 to secure the fourth medalist spot with a 177. Stephanie Box of Lubbock Monterey tied with Snyder's Leslie Light for top honors with a 169. Light had the best round Saturday with a 82. But Box won first in a sudden-death playoff.

Michelle Cox's 94's followed Martinez for the Lady Steers. Karen Brodie shot a 101; Heather Varley, 103 and Becky Read, 109.

No the Paris Junior College second baseman isn't telling Howard's Roland Gonzales to go third. Gonzales was pulling up at second after hitting a double.

Hawks split doubleheader

The Howard College Hawks split a doubleheader with the Paris Junior Dragons yesterday at Jack Barber Field.

The Hawks got a strong pitching performance from Joel Chimelis and some clutch hitting from Kevin Hays, Jeff Shults, Roland Gonzales and Damon Amaya to down the Paris 4-3 in the opening game of the doubleheader.

Chimelis, a freshman from Brooklyn, pitched six-and-one-third strong innings while hurling coach Bill Griffin's Hawks to the win. Although he didn't get credit for the win, Chimelis held the Dragons to four hits.

The win went to freshman reliever Robert Rodriguez of San Antonio. He came on for Chimelis with men on first and third and one out and the Hawks leading 3-2.

Paris pinch hitter Rod Robertson grounded the ball to the shortstop. Howard went for the double play, getting the man at second but missing the hitter. Thus Paris scored, tying the game at 3-3.

Howard went into the bottom of the seventh inning needing a run to win. Hays started things off on the right track by cracking a hard double off the center-field fence. Rafael Diaz came on to pinch run for Hays. The game ended quickly when the next batter, Shults banded out a single, scoring Diaz with the winning run.

The Hawks scored their first run of the game in the second inning. Gonzales, who got two doubles in three trips to the plate, hit his first two-bagger. He scored on a single by Amaya. Amaya went 2-for-3 with two singles.

With the score tied 1-1, Howard scored two runs in the bottom of the fifth. Joe Cuellar's single scored Shults. Cuellar added the third run.

Howard coach Bill Griffin was pleased after the opening game win. "We hit the ball better than I expected and after the first inning Joel (Chimelis) pitched very well. He just settled down. Overall we played fairly well, but we must play better."

PARIS BREAKS EVEN
The Dragons came back for a 5-4 win in the second game behind a strong pitching effort by Gary McDaniel. McDaniel went six innings and allowed one hit. That being a single by Scott Smith in the first inning.

Howard's other hit came in the final inning when Gonzales tripled, scoring two runs.

Greg Landry took the loss for the Hawks, now 3-3 for the season. Landry went five innings and gave up four runs. His record is 2-1.

The two teams will square off today in another doubleheader beginning at 1. Thad Webber (1-1) will start the first game for Howard and Bryan Willis (0-0) will be on the mound in the second game.

Steers 1600 relay shines

FT. STOCKTON — The Big Spring Steers and Lady Steers track teams didn't score that many points at the Comanche Relays here yesterday. But there was lots of improvement which left track coach Randy Britton happy.

Britton was beaming most about his boys 1600 meter relay team. Even without one its regular runners, it still clocked a 3:25.11, good for third place. Britton took Sean Jackson off third leg and replaced him with Phillip Matthews. Jackson ran a sub-50 leg in Friday's prelims when the Steers ran a 3:25.40. Jackson was "cramping up" and Britton didn't want to risk a serious injury.

The foursome of Wimberly White (52.0), Cedrick Banks (52.2), Matthews (51.2) and Dewayne Sherman (49.5) finished behind Midland Lee's 3:21.80 and Midland High's 3:24.33.

But it was Permian who won the boys title with 112 points. Lee was second with 76 and Midland followed with 76 points. Big Spring finished eighth with 22 points.

The Steers other place came when Brian Reid finished fifth in the 300 hurdles in 40.97. Lee's Quintes Hampton won the event in a blazing 37.62, a new meet record.

The Lady Steers finished seventh with 34 points. Permian won the title with 136 points. Central was second with 106 points and Odessa High followed with 94.

The Lady Steers' only finish of the afternoon was a sixth place by the 1600 relay team of Connie Swinney, Melanie Payne, Angie Dees and Michelle LeGrande. Their time was 4:36.00.

Midland High won the race in a meet record 4:11.92.

"I'm really pleased with the boys 1600 relay," said Britton. "It's the first time since I've been here that I could sub a runner for another and still get that kind of production. My little ole freshmen girls also did good a good job for me. I saw a lot of promise and we're going to get better."

Sands wins bi-district game

PECOS — The Sands Mustangs made the most of their free throw attempts and went on to down the Wink Wildcats 65-62 in Class A bi-district basketball action.

Led by Leland Bearden, the Mustangs sunk 23 of 37 free throw attempts. Bearden made 16 of 20 attempts himself, ending the game with 28 points. He also sunk some key free throws in the waning minutes.

The win propels the Mustangs, winner of District 16-A into the area playoff against Ft. Davis. The two teams will meet in Wink at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Two swimmers qualify for regional

SAN ANGELO — The Big Spring High School swim team will have two of its members competing in the regional swimming championships in Lubbock in two weeks. By virtue of their finishes at the District 4-5A swimming meet, Louis Morelion and Cade Loftin will be going to Lubbock March 7-8.

Morelion, a senior diver, finished second in the competition with a score of 320.80. It will make the second trip to regionals for Morelion.

Loftin a junior butterflyer, finished third in his specialty in a time of 57.60. This is also a new record for Loftin, who will be making his third trip to regionals.

One disappointment for the Steers was that distance swimmer Scott Ferguson just missed a regional berth by finishing eighth in the 500

The first six finishers advance to regionals.

The Steers finished seventh in the team race with 9 points. Midland High won the title with 87 points. Central followed with 64 and Permian was third with 54 points.

Blue Demons cast spell on St. John's

ROSEMONT, Ill. (AP) — Dallas Comegys scored 21 points to lead a balanced DePaul attack Saturday as the Blue Demons upset sixth-ranked St. John's 81-72 to keep alive their hopes for an NCAA tournament bid.

The victory hiked DePaul's record to 15-10, while St. John's slipped to 25-4.

Nation

Comegys' three-point play to start the second half gave the Blue Demons a 41-31 lead. The Redmen, rallying behind Walter Berry, twice closed within two points but couldn't get over the top.

With St. John's closing to 49-47, DePaul ran off a string of 10 straight points for a 59-47 advantage as Kevin Holmes scored the last five points in the charge.

Berry finished with 21 points, 16 of them coming in the second half, but Mark Jackson topped the Redmen with 23. Rod Stuckland scored 17 points for DePaul and Holmes finished with 15.

(No. 8) Kentucky 80, Georgia 75 ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Kenny Walker scored 22 points and Winston Bennett 20, including three free throws in the final 32 seconds, as eighth-ranked Kentucky clinched the Southeastern Conference basketball title outright with an 80-75 victory over Georgia Saturday.

Bennett gave the Wildcats a 76-71 lead with 32 seconds remaining when he hit one of two free throws, but Georgia's Donald Hartry sank a 20-footer with 21 seconds left to cut the lead to three.

Bennett came right back and drilled a pair of free throws with 19 seconds remaining for a 78-73 advantage, that Hartry again cut into by hitting a 20-footer with 11 seconds to play.

Walker closed the scoring when he made two free throws with six seconds remaining.

It was the 14th conference victory in a row for the Wildcats, who had been picked to finish third in this season's title chase. Kentucky lifted its record to 24-3 for the year and 15-1 in the conference.

(No. 2) Duke 93, (No. 10) Oklahoma 84

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — David Henderson scored 28 points, 18 in the second half, and Johnny Dawkins added 20 to lead second-ranked Duke to a 93-84 college basketball victory over No. 10 Oklahoma Saturday.

The Blue Devils, 27-2, cruised to a 23-point lead in the first half, but had to fight off an Oklahoma charge that began in the first half and continued into the first 10 minutes after intermission.

Duke grabbed a 23-8 lead by outscoring the Sooners 15-2 and added a 16-4 run to take a 39-16 lead with nine minutes left in the first half.

But the Sooners closed the gap to 48-40 at halftime. Junior David Johnson, a 6-foot-7, 238-pound center, led the comeback with 21 first-half points.

The Sooners narrowed the gap to 66-65 on Ron Roberts' 18-foot jumper with 11:35 left.

Then Henderson and Dawkins began to find openings in the Sooner defense, scoring on inside baskets and holding the Sooners scoreless for over a two-minute span late in the contest to take an 89-78 lead on Mark Alarie's inside jumper.

(No. 7) Michigan 62, Ala.-Birmingham 54

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Antoine Joubert scored 20 points and Gary Grant added 14 as No. 7 Michigan came from behind to defeat Alabama-Birmingham 62-54 in nonconference college basketball action Saturday.

The victory raised Michigan's record to 23-4, while the Blazers fell to 22-9.

Michigan trailed 45-38 with 10:24 remaining in the contest before the Wolverines went on a 10-2 run to take a 48-47 advantage with 6:33 left. Michigan never trailed afterward.

Center Roy Tarpley was held without a point in the first half as Michigan's inside game was stifled by the defense of Blazer forwards Archie Johnson and Jerome Mincy.

(No. 12) Bradley 74, Wichita St. 64 PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Sophomore Hersey Hawkins scored 22 points as 12th-ranked Bradley extended its winning streak — the nation's longest — to 19 games with a 74-64 victory over Missouri Valley Conference rival Wichita State.

Hawkins, a 6-foot-3 guard averaging 19 points per game this season, finished the game as high scorer — getting 14 of his 22 in the second half. He has 997 college career points.

With one regular-season game to go, next Thursday at home against Indiana State, Hawkins would become only the second Bradley sophomore in the school's long history of basketball to top 1,000 points.

(No. 5) Georgia Tech 77, Maryland 70

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — John Salley scored five of his 22 points during a seven-point streak which enabled Georgia Tech to pull away from Maryland midway through the second half, and the fifth-ranked Yellow Jackets defeated the Terps 77-70 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game Saturday.

Maryland, which had upset No. 1 North Carolina on Thursday night, pulled to within 41-39 on four free throws by Len Bias, and then the teams exchanged 12 field goals before Salley launched the decisive rally.

After Salley converted a three-point play following a goaltending call against Bias, Duane Ferrell scored for Georgia Tech, and Salley added another field goal to make it 60-51.

The Terps, bidding for a second major upset within 43 hours, led 22-17 with 8:03 remaining in the first half. But Georgia Tech outscored Maryland 16-6, including six by Bruce Dalrymple and four by Mark Price, to take a 33-28 lead at halftime.

Price finished with 16 points, Dalrymple had 13, and Ferrell 12 for the Yellow Jackets, who led throughout the second half and beat Maryland for the fifth consecutive time.

TCU drops Aggies with buzzer-beater

FORT WORTH (AP) — Guard Jamie Dixon's stumbling, off-balance 30-foot shot at the buzzer gave the Texas Christian Horned Frogs a 55-54 victory over the Texas Longhorns Saturday and sole leadership of the Southwest Conference basketball race.

TCU is now 12-2 with two games left in the league chase while Texas dropped to 12-3 with only one game remaining.

SWC

The Horned Frogs looked dead when Texas' John Brownlee hit two pressure-packed free throws with five seconds left.

However, Dixon took the in-bounds pass and dribbled the length of the floor. Dixon almost fell, then uncorked his shot with Texas' Raynard Davis hanging on.

The ball flew like an arrow into the bucket, triggering a mob scene at mid-court with players and fans from the sellout crowd of 7,200 in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum piling on.

The Horned Frogs, who lead the nation in field goal defense, allowed Texas to shoot only 48 per cent from the field while they shot 54 per cent themselves.

(No. 16) Louisville 76, Houston 59

HOUSTON (AP) — Louisville freshman Pervis Ellison scored 25 points, including nine in a second-half surge to rally the 16th-ranked Cardinals to a 76-59 victory over short-handed Houston Saturday.

Billy Thompson scored 17 points for the Cardinals and Milt Wagner, Louisville's leading scorer with a 15-point average, scored eight points.

Houston was led by Alvin Franklin with 18 points.

Baylor 57, Rice 44 HOUSTON (AP) — Michael Williams scored 15 points and Eric Johnson and Darryl Middleton had 14 and 13 respectively as Baylor snapped a seven-game losing streak with a 57-44 victory over Rice Saturday night in a Southwest Conference basketball game.

The Bears led 29-16 at the half, but the Owls' Greg Hines sparked a second-half rally that pulled Rice to within two, 42-40, with 6:58 left.

Baylor then outscored the Owls 15-2 for its second win of the season over the Owls.

The win gave the Bears a record of 2-13 in the SWC and 10-16 overall. Rice fell to 2-11 and 9-16.

Hines, a junior who had a game-high 23 points, became the 14th player in Rice history to surpass 1,000 career points with a total of 1,009.

Tewell leads LA Open

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Doug Tewell opened with a string of six birdies and went on to card a 5-under-par 66 and take the lead after three rounds of the Los Angeles Open golf tournament Saturday.

His 54-hole total of 207, 6-under-par at Riviera Country Club, was good for a one-shot lead over defending champion Lanny Wadkins, Dennis Trier and Willie Wood.

Mae O'Grady, who led after the second round, struggled to a 75 that dropped him four shots off the pace.

Tewell, an 11-year tour veteran whose only two PGA victories came in 1980, got the lead by himself when Trier, playing in a group behind him, missed an 8-foot putt for par on the 18th hole.

Beginning the day five strokes back of O'Grady, Tewell quickly moved into contention for the lead with birdies on the first six holes — two short of the PGA record.

He made the turn with a 5-under-par 30, then matched par 36 on the back nine.

Doug Tewell of Edmonton, Oklahoma, hits from the rough behind the 12th green Saturday at the Los Angeles Open. Tewell is leading the event going into today's final.

Wadkins, who won the LA Open last year with an impressive 20-under-par total, fired a third-round 67 to move within striking distance of the lead.

Wood, looking for the first victory in his three years on the tour, also carded a third-round 67.

Trier, struggling just to stay eligible to play on the tour for the past six years, shot an even-par 71 to continue his surprising performance in the event.

He'd shared the first-round lead with another non-winner, Jay Delsing, at 66, and his second-round 71 left him just a shot behind O'Grady.

Chrissy stops youngster for Lipton title

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Chris Evert Lloyd fought back from a 3-1 deficit and beat fast-starting Steffi Graf of West Germany 6-4, 6-2 Saturday to win the women's title at the $1.8 million Lipton International Players Championships.

The tournament, the 144th that Lloyd has won as a professional, paid her $112,500. The 16-year-old Graf has yet to win an event in her short pro career. She picked up $56,250 as the runner-up in this two-week, Grand Slam-like event.

The men's final between top-seeded Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia and second-seeded Mats Wilander was scheduled for Sunday.

Both gained the final on defaults,

Lendl when Jimmy Connors refused to continue their semifinal match because of what he considered a bad line call, and Wilander when Stefan Edberg of Sweden bowed out of their match with a stomach muscle pull.

Lloyd beat Graf by the same score in the semifinals of this event last year, but she had to fight a lot harder this time

The West German refused to fold when Lloyd broke her service in the first game. She broke right back, held her serve and then broke again for a 3-1 lead.

"I think I started out a little bit slowly," Lloyd said. "But Steffi came out roaring."

Another long season for Rangers?

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

ARLINGTON (AP) — Don Quixote's team is off to the healing sun-and-surf of Florida for another shot at learning the art of major league baseball.

The Texas Ranger bats soon will be flailing the trade winds at Pompano Beach just as vigorously as the mythical chivalrous hero Quixote jousting windmills in 1605.

Some cynics calculate Quixote's triumphs against the elusive windmill blades would just about equal the prowess of Ranger batsmen against American League pitching.

The Rangers packed up their equipment and motored out of Tarrant County for the sunshine state and spring training without fanfare.

The Dallas-Fort Worth area is currently in the grip of the Dallas Mavericks and anticipating college basketball's Final Four in late March. They are still talking about the recent NBA All-Star game and Texas Christian Horned Frog basketball.

The Grand Prairie man-on-the-street probably has forgotten the Rangers lost 99 games last year.

For Rangers fans, bad ball isn't condoned but it's expected. Rangers' fans basically are a patient lot. Boos ARE heard but it's usually too much beer talking rather than hard feelings toward the team. The Rangers don't have 10 cent beer night anymore.

In 13 years, the Rangers have no pennant to show for all the wear and tear they've put their fans through.

Bobby Valentine says he's going to change all that.

If Valentine isn't the original eternal optimist, he's a close second.

However, he may also be the original eternal realist.

Valentine replaced the fired Doug Rader last summer, leaving the New York Mets organization for his first big league managerial job.

The Tommy Lasorda protege soon discovered he was in the salt mines of major league hardball.

Rangers' pitching was 12th in the AL with a lofty 4.56 earned run average. Texas was 10th in batting and 12th in homers.

The losing attitude was prevalent in close games. The Texas record was 11-27 in one run games and 1-8 in extra-inning contests.

Also, there's a confidence in young Bobby that shouldn't go unnoticed.

What Valentine believes down deep inside his Dodger blue veins is that eventually he's going to knock some people's hats off with this team.

He's got some young pitching arms he's very enthusiastic about to go with veteran knuckleballer Charlie Hough.

Abernathy

Things looked bad for Bovina when Lopez got one her four steals and converted a layup, giving her team its largest lead of the game.

While the joyous Abernathy fans were shouting about a return trip to the state tournament, Bovina had a plan to turn the tide of the game. That plan was to get into its half-court trapping press, something it hadn't done all day.

The Bovina press started to work and Neal started to score. She hit three straight baskets and a seemingly safe Abernathy lead had been cut to 38-35 with 2:33 remaining. To make matters worse for Abernathy, Webb fouled out; leaving the Lady 'Lopes without their playmaker.

"That took about five years, off my life when she (Webb) fouled out," joked Mouser after the game. "I was very worried because she plays such a big part in our offense."

Mouser was even more worried when Pesch's two free throws cut the lead to 38-37. After another Abernathy turnover, Bovina's Terisa Shepard was fouled. The senior guard sunk both attempts, giving her team a 39-38 lead with 1:40 remaining.

Mary Cooper quickly put Abernathy back in the lead with a baseline jumper. Then the ever-present Dunn got a steal, drove the length of the court and hit a short jumper, giving Abernathy a 42-39 lead with 42 seconds remaining.

A errant Bovina pass gave Abernathy back the ball. Lopez was fouled with 21 seconds left. She made the front end of the one-and-one, giving her team an insurmountable 43-39 lead.

Neal's basket with three seconds left was too little, too late for the Bovina Fillies.

It makes the third consecutive year the Lady 'Lopes will be in the state tournament. Two years ago they were the Class AAA State Champions. Last year they were defeated 80-71 by Troy in the AA finals.

"It helps when you've already been to the state tournament," said Abernathy's Mouser. "I think our experience showed late in the game. It's just too bad Bovina has to stay home because they're such good kids and have one of the best teams in the state."

Deaf can 'hear' with TV captioning

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

Life without sound. A television program with no dialogue. The 10 p.m. news with familiar faces but disjointed scenes and clue to what actually happened.

With closed captioning, written dialogue appears on the television screen.

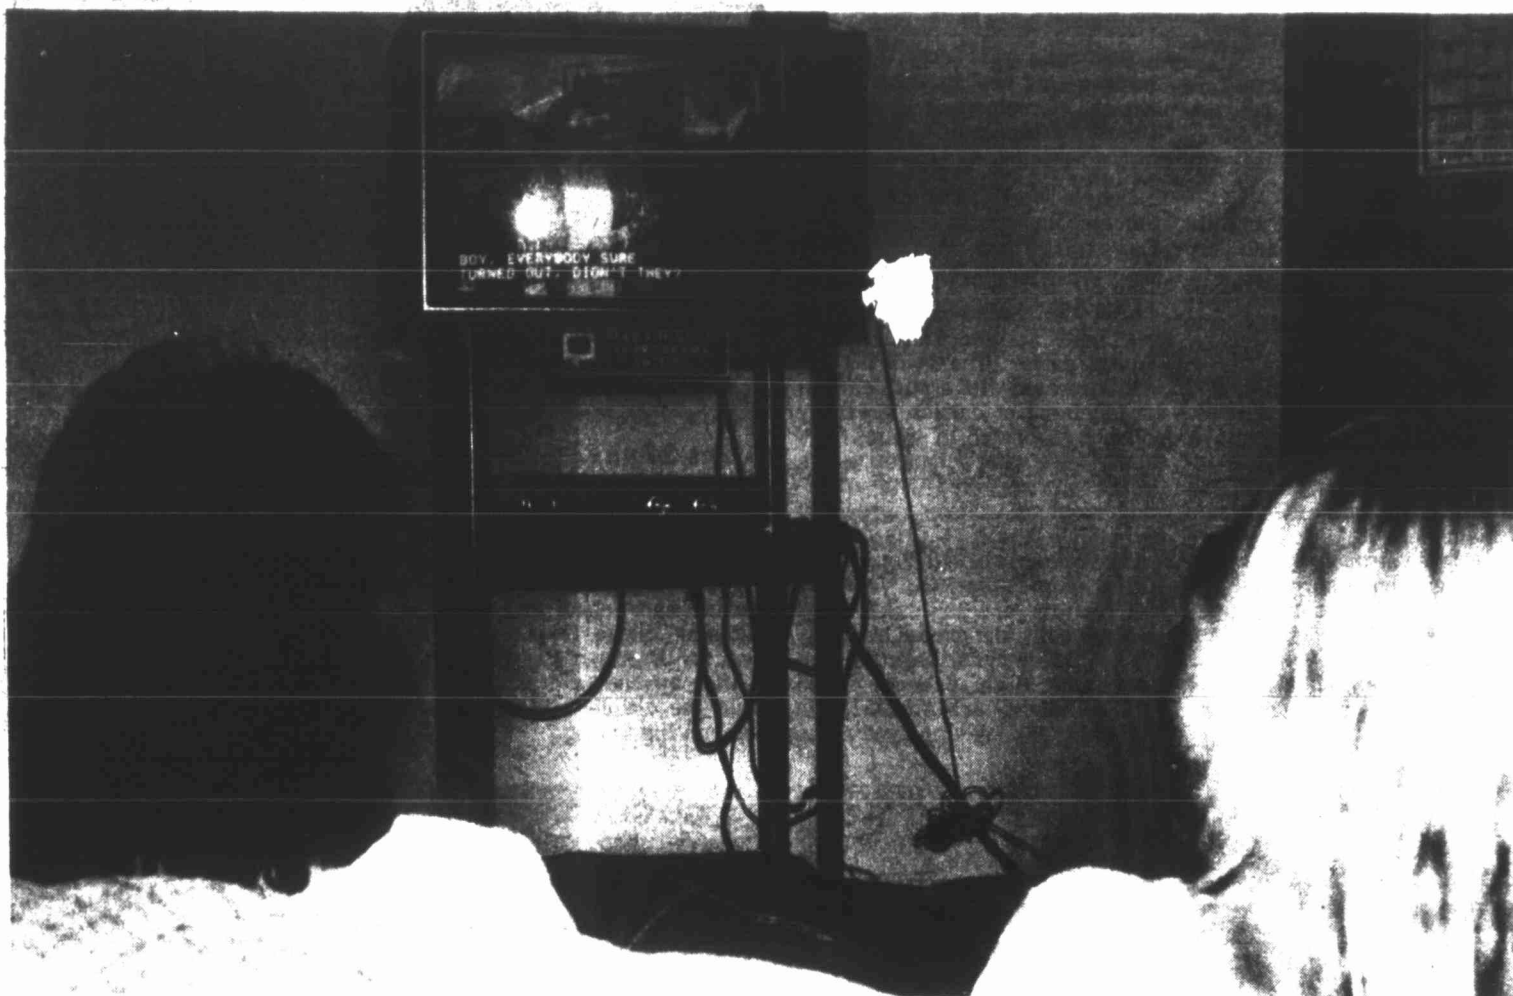

These are all things that many of us never have had to think about or relate to, but something that the deaf population has had to live with until the invention of closed captioning for TV.

In 1979, The National Captioning Institute was founded with federal funds to mark the beginning of closed captioning.

Closed captioning is a process where line 21 at the bottom of the TV screen is utilized to print the dialogue of the program across the screen. A decoder, either hooked up to the TV or built in, interprets the signals to print the message.

The dialogue printed on the screen isn't exactly word for word of the verbal dialogue, but it supplies the gist of the conversation when the verbal dialogue is said rapidly.

Networks such as ABC, NBC, CBS, and PBS

Students at the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf "listen" to a program on the school's TV which is equipped with a decoder.

close caption their programs. Cable networks HBO and Showtime also offer closed captioned programs.

"Now there are 96 hours a week of programming to watch," Dom Bonura, dean of students at Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, said. "Commercials and Monday night football are also captioned," he added.

There are over 300 closed captioned motion picture video cassettes available at video rental stores, he said.

"Before 1979, deaf people did watch TV, but they had to guess. I'd call my friends who aren't deaf the next day to find out what was going on during the show," Bonura said.

Closed captioning could have come out earlier, according to Bonura, but FCC rulings prevented it. Finally, the deaf people reserved line 21 on the TV screen.

"It took awhile for the deaf to buy the decoders. They were defensive," Bonura said. When 40,000 were bought the NCI increased the number of hours of programming.

During the years of 1981-1983, the deaf had to wait a day for the news. By then it was old. Now, captioning is done simultaneously while the action or event occurs.

"It changed the deaf people's lifestyle," Bonura said. He relates a story about Howard College and SWCID having a Christmas party on a Wednesday night. "All the deaf people went home early because they didn't want to miss Dynasty," he said.

"Because of closed captioning deaf people are beginning to realize many things they never knew before," Bonura said.

Bonura believes that the one problem that exists in closed captioning is it hasn't reached the population of old people yet.

PBS had a fund raising campaign and approximately $400,000 was raised and matched to develop more closed caption programming, Bonura said.

Texas Instruments was the first company to manufacture the decoder for closed captioning and Sears Roebuck was given the right to sell, mostly through catalog sales.

Bonura said there are over 120,000 people who have bought decoders. There is a new decoder on the market now called the Tele-captioner II. It's like the older model, the Tele-captioner I, but it has a digital remote control. It's available at J.C. Penney's and through the catalog at Sears. The price of the decoder ranges from $150 to $179.

Closed captioning also provides tele-text service. By turning a switch, a deaf person can get up-to-date news, sports and captioned programming information on the TV screen.

Doctor who entered Afghanistan says U.S. awareness is growing

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

In the eleven months since San Angelo physician Preston Darby infiltrated Afghanistan, public awareness of the Afghan's plight has markedly increased.

Congress has donated $400 million for humanitarian aid. President Reagan mentioned Afghanistan in his state of the union address. The International Medical Corps has produced a fund raising tape and President Reagan agreed to do a spot on it.

This is a start, Darby says, toward relief for a country invaded by the Soviet Union six years ago. In those six years, since the Soviets invaded Afghanistan on Christmas Eve in 1979, over four million people have been killed, Darby said.

"Now the Soviets are systematically destroying the country. Parts of it are completely devastated," Darby said in a speech to St. Mary's Episcopal Church Wednesday night.

Darby saw the situation in Afghanistan first hand. In March 1985, he dressed in Afghan attire wearing a turban over his dyed hair and was smuggled across the Pakistan border by camel caravan into Afghanistan. He braved the hostilities in an effort to set up medical clinics there.

"The Afghans are the toughest, hardest people I've ever known. They're devoutly religious, devoted to their children and will fight to the death for what they believe in," Darby said.

Although Russia has been in Afghanistan for so long, the Afghans still have control over 85 percent of their country, Darby said.

"These people are fighting a brave war," he said.

The Afghans are literally fighting the war almost bare handed, according to Darby. Yet, "they shot down 32 Russian jets using primitive weapons," he added.

Darby says he really felt sorry for the children. "The children wore rags. They're starving. And there are no immunizations. Over 60 percent of newborns die and 60 percent of the children die before they're a year old," he said.

"The children are tough. I never heard a child cry. And I never heard a child laugh," he added.

What he remembers the most "is seeing the children with their hands blown off," Darby said. The Soviets plant butterfly bombs all over the villages to distract the Afghan's from their resistance efforts.

"When I was in Vietnam I thought I had seen everything a person could do to another. I wasn't prepared to see what was happening in Afghanistan. They are slaughtering the people there," he said.

The Soviets are killing everyone except the children, the Soviet authorities are shipping thousands of primary school children to the Soviet Union for 10 years of indoctrination to the Soviet life, he said.

Darby said when he came home he was very depressed. "I lived with the Afghans for two months. I was one of them. I talked, walked and looked like them. Then, my time was up and I came back to the USA feeding my face to gain back the 35 pounds I lost while they were over there starving and still fighting," he said.

This has inspired Darby to devote much of his time to publicizing the plight of the Afghan's since returning home to America.

Now the United States has banned its citizens from going to Afghanistan. A grant to set up a medical clinic in Pakistan was given with the understanding that no Americans were to go into Afghanistan, Darby said.

The French have provided more medical treatment than any other country, he said. The Germans, Italians and Swiss have also given the Afghan's aid.

The Afghans told Darby before he left to tell the American's: "Don't send your troops. Just send weapons. This is the only war you can help in and you won't have to lose a life."

As Darby ended his presentation he asked the audience to write to their congressman and ask them why we never hear anything about Afghanistan.

He said, "This war has lasted longer than World War II and no one knows about it."

The sensual allure of couture is resurrected

PARIS (AP) — Short, narrow skirts and slinky feminine appeal were hallmarks of the 1986 summer haute couture clothes shown this past week. The mood of subtle sensuality was apparent even in classic clothes that would look in place in church.

Rich fabrics, bursts of color, shapely lines for daytime and intricate draping for evening never looked better.

Couture has been resurrected gloriously since designers nearly abandoned it in the 1960s in favor of ready-to-wear. This week's opulent shows attracted bigger crowds than ever, including many French politicians' wives and film stars such as Anouk Aimee at Ungaro and Catherine Deneuve at Saint Laurent.

Highlights of the fashion week included the opening of a big new fashion museum in a wing of the Louvre and a reception at the Hotel de Ville, where Bernadette Chirac, wife of Paris Mayor Jacques Chirac, presented the golden thimble prize to Patou's designer, Christian Lacroix.

While each designer showed off the best of his individual art with widely varying approaches, most displayed a look of elegance, body-revealing but not vulgar.

This meant shaped shoulders everywhere, narrow to tiny waistlines, lean and short skirts just above or just below the kneecap. Some couturiers also showed straightforward pants with gathers at the waist.

Daytime wear was usually classic, with a mood reminiscent of the best of the late 1950s when women dressed up for lunch and the cocktail hour.

Suits were a big item, with nipped-waist jackets everywhere, even at Chanel. Karl Lagerfeld kept the Chanel classic ideas while cutting clothes more daringly to suit the new mood.

Suit jackets ranged from short and fitted to very long and cardigan-like. Some flared out with huge peplums, as at Ungaro, who turned out the most daring siren looks in town topped with enormous circular hats — a dressy touch seen in many shows.

Daytime ideas included the ever-attractive sailor suit with pants or skirts in inevitable shades of navy, white and red, and sailor hats.

A gorgeous fitted suit in white or ivory gabardine, shantung or "grain de poudre," a type of faille silk, should be included in everyone's dressy summer wardrobe. This item looked superb as shown at Saint Laurent, Givenchy and Dior, whose designer Bohan made a hit with his simplified, elegant line.

Daytime colors usually were low-keyed, with plenty of grey, apricot, beige, lilac, smoky pink or blue pastels, plus soft sea greens. A few high-color notes included sunny yellow, fuchsia, poppy red.

Fabrics were soft and luxurious: linens, gabardine and soft, smooth wools with Prince of Wales or bolder plaids in black and white and houndstooth checks. A few new crimped cottons, piques and silk made a bow.

The silk afternoon dress made a big comeback. Some were waist or hip-tied with big sashes, as at Givenchy, who also added draped necklines to most of his suits and blouses in very bright prints.

The print story was an eye-catching explosion of color, with motifs such as huge tulips, polka dots, stripes, doughnut shapes and spirals in all colors vying for attention. The silks in Louis Feraud's collection abounded in squiggles and slashes right out of the Museum of Modern Art.

After the very proper daytime looks, evening clothes became all fantasy and extravaganza. Some molded the body into an hourglass, revealing lots of shoulder under tight strapless tops. Others were extremely saucy — backless and sometimes nearly frontless with bare midriffs.

Bias-cut slinky satins were a favorite throwback from the 1930s, never looking better than at Saint Laurent.

Louis Feraud showed off fantastic sparkling and beaded gowns in Byzantine patterns and colors.

Chanel's newer evening look by Karl Lagerfeld featured fitted taffeta gowns, some strapless and with a bowed bustle effect at the back.

The designers worked with taffeta, chiffon, lame and sparkling embroidered lace to produce dresses worthy of world-class balls, perhaps even the new costume museum itself.

To complete the expensive evening looks, many designers pleated, shirred and draped their silk jersey dinner dresses in emulation of Madame Gres, who always has been master of this difficult skill.

A white, four-tiered cake with a basket weave design was accented with an arrangement of daisies, greenery and baby's breath.

The bridegroom's table, draped with a plum tablecloth, featured an Italian cream cake with sausage balls and cheese balls.

The bride graduated from Levelland High School, South Plains College and Angelo State University. She is employed as an HARD WORK HELPS KEEP THE COST OF ELECTRICITY DOWN.

Our commitment to controlling the cost of electricity is paying off. We haven't said much lately about all the things we're doing to keep the cost of electricity as low as possible. That isn't because we haven't been working hard. We have been, and it's that hard work that gets the job done.

You pay less for the electricity you use than many people in the United States, which is an important factor contributing to the economic growth of the area.

We've accomplished this with strict cost-control management; with low-cost strategies for meeting future needs; by making maximum use of lower-cost Texas lignite coal for generating fuel; and by taking advantage of current market conditions to lower the cost of natural gas fuel.

Meeting the electrical requirements of one of the fastest-growing areas in the nation, while holding down the cost of electricity to attract new industry and jobs to our area, requires planning, commitment and plain old Texas hard work. That's how we're doing the job.

Lifestyle guidelines

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement, wedding, silver or golden anniversary in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this. The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form must include a name and telephone number of a person whom we can reach during the day for more information. We will use one of the bride-elect. The picture must be a professional quality studio photograph. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print. We ask for this kind of photograph so that it will reproduce well in the newspaper. Following the picture's publication, it may be picked up at the Lifestyle department. The information for the story may be brought to the Lifestyle department of the Herald, which is located at 710 Scurry. Or it may be mailed to Lifestyle Department, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79730. Call us at (915) 263-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

BIRTHS
 Information of engagement announcements must be submitted to the Lifestyle department of the Herald anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks prior to the wedding. Anything closer than three weeks will not be published. The engagement form must be submitted no later than Wednesday noon prior to the Sunday it is to be published. If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to the Herald. If only grand parents live in our area, please give their names and addresses.

WEDDINGS
 If a wedding writup is submitted to the Herald after the wedding has occurred, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

Local hospitals supply information for Storkclub. If a child is born elsewhere in the newspaper's circulation area, or is born to out-of-town parents with local or area grandparents, please contact the Herald Lifestyle Department with Storkclub information. Information needed for Storkclub is: newborn's name, sex, time and date of birth, weight, place of birth, parents' name and address. If the baby is born outside the circulation area but has local grandparents, please include their name and address. The local grandparents serve as the area connection for the information.

Q: A friend was transferred and needed to sell his house. He did it through a lease-purchase option. Please explain.

A: The prospective buyer leases a home with the option to purchase. Usually, the option will remain open for 12 to 18 months. A purchase agreement is executed with all terms of sale (including purchase price) outlined except the effective date. "Option money" which is usually applicable to the down payment is paid to the seller. Sometimes part of the monthly rents are also applied to the down payment. The buyer gets a home at today's prices, moves in with relatively little cash and has the time to acquire the money for purchase... a home locked in at today's prices, closing at a later date when the property has probably appreciated. The buyer receives the option money and lease payments while retaining the tax benefits of an owner until the option is exercised.

Dear Abby

Closet dropout feels a diploma will open doors

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school dropout who has been married to a very prominent businessman for four years. I'll never know how I got so lucky.

I want to finish high school and take some kind of job-training courses. I enrolled in some night classes once, but I never went because I'm too embarrassed to let our friends know that I never finished high school. It might even be damaging to my husband's career if it became known. My verbal skills are fine, but I am not really educated.

When friends ask me why I don't have some kind of job, I don't know what to say. Without a high school diploma, I can't get the kind of job that would be expected of me in our circle of friends. There must be other people who are in the same position. What should I do?

CLOSET DROPOUT

DEAR DROPOUT: First, get over the idea that it's a disgrace to be a dropout. It's not. Circumstances have prevented many from graduating from high school with their peers. Fortunately, you can pick up where you dropped out without embarrassment. There are adult education classes (nights or days) at your local college. You could even hire a tutor to teach you at home. You're smart enough to know you need more education. Now be brave enough to get it. And good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I realize that women don't like being looked at solely as sex objects, but do women know that men don't like being looked at solely in terms of how much money they have?

I am unemployed and have very little money, and I am tired of being turned down by greedy women. I am 34 years old, fairly good-looking and I am still valuable, even if I am broke.

WILLIAM IN BUTLER, PA.
DEAR WILLIAM: Obviously your self-esteem is intact. My hat is off to you. However, all men do not look at women solely as sex objects; neither do all women evaluate men on the basis of their pocketbooks. Please don't tar all women with the same brush.

DEAR ABBY: Can a person who is 5 feet 10 weighing 370 pounds fit into an airplane seat going overseas? Thank you.

BIG IN FLAGSTAFF
DEAR BIG: In some airplanes, a coach seat may not accommodate you, but if you go first class, you should have no problem. It's not your height and weight, it's your girth that could ground you.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I want a divorce and see no reason why we should hire a lawyer. There are no children involved, and we have no property or money to fight over. So what do we need a lawyer for? Or can't we get a divorce without one?

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH IN MARYLAND
DEAR ENOUGH: You can obtain a divorce without a lawyer. This is called a court appearance "pro se" or "for self". You will need a copy of a divorce complaint form. Most stationery stores carry them. If you cannot find one, you may be able to get one from the court files by paying for photostating it.

My sources cite an old legal maxim: "A lawyer who represents himself has a fool for a client." This may apply equally to non-lawyers.

I am not recommending a do-it-yourself divorce; I'm simply letting you know that you have the option. Me? I would hire a lawyer and pay him — or her — for what he or she knows. Would I lie to you on George Washington's birthday?

(Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 and a long, stamped (39 cents) self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

Home Improvement Specialists

HOME IMPROVEMENT
It is quite common for a home owner to expand the living area of his home by converting an attic into a master bedroom suite. The plan offers complete privacy when a bathroom is added to the layout. The contractor will suggest that the bathroom be placed directly over an existing bathroom on a lower floor. This provides access to the plumbing and makes it easier and less costly to install. If more than one room is planned, allow for a central hall. It does not need to be very wide, but should not be any narrower than 3 feet. Before converting an attic, consult your local building inspector about the regulations governing the structure of the attic area.

Another consideration is whether the planned improvement will make your home more comfortable and more pleasant. At BOB'S CUSTOM WOODWORK, our skilled craftspeople can handle all kinds of home renovation projects. We design and build room additions, decks, porches, kitchens and baths. Come to 613 North Industrial Road, in the Industrial Park, or call 267-5811. Open M-F, 8-12, 1-5 or by appt.

12 alternatives to whacking your kid.

When the big and little problems of your everyday life pile up to the point where you feel like lashing out—stop. Take time out. Don't take it out on your kid. Try any or all of these simple alternatives—whatever works for you.

1. Stop in your tracks. Step back. Sit down.
2. Take five deep breaths. Inhale. Exhale. Slowly, slowly.
3. Count to 10. Better yet, 20. Or say the alphabet out loud.
4. Phone a friend. A relative. Even the weather.
5. Still mad? Punch a pillow. Or munch an apple.
6. Thumb through a magazine, book, newspaper, photo album.
7. Do some sit-ups.
8. Pick up a pencil and write down your thoughts.
9. Take a hot bath. Or a cold shower.
10. Lie down on the floor, or just put your feet up.
11. Put on your favorite record.
12. Water your plants.

For more parenting information, write National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2866, Chicago, IL 60690

Take time out. Don't take it out on your kid.
