Juvenile law varies in method

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

Second of two parts

Already this year police have arrested 199 juveniles, with 64 of the youths detained for felony charges ranging from burglary to auto thefts.

A lot of people think these kids wind up in the city slammer for the night and are sent to reform school for a year. They couldn't be more wrong.

When police catch a juvenile committing a crime, the offender is turned over to the juvenile probation board and Margy Thompson, the local juvenile probation officer, handles it from there.

If the crime is especially heinous, such as murder or rape, the child can be certified and tried as an adult.

If the child is a first offender and is involved in a less serious crime, a crime that does not involve restitution or multiple offenses, chances are the youngster will be given the option of submitting to voluntary adjustment, Thompson said.

This form of probation, usually lasting six months, does not involve a court appearance, Thompson said. The juvenile is placed under a curfew and must report to his or her probation officer once a week.

Should the offender not submit to the adjustment, the board can file a petition with the court and charge the juvenile with a crime, Thompson said.

If the child is deemed a danger to others or to himself, or if there's a chance he might leave the jurisdiction of the court, he can be placed in Taylor County Youth Center, a detention facility in Abilene, Thompson said.

Then, before the end of the second day in detention, the youth will have a detention hearing. After the hearing, the youngster can remain in the center up to 10 days

Reagan proposes new nuclear test verification plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan on Friday announced he had sent Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev a "new, very specific and far-reaching proposal" on nuclear testing that could open the way to U.S. ratification of two long-dormant test ban treaties.

The proposal, however, makes clear the United States still intends to detonate a nuclear device underground next month.

The Soviets have put international pressure on the Reagan administration to refrain from testing by announcing their own moratorium, which Gorbachev said Thursday would remain in effect until the United States explodes another nuclear device.

In a written statement issued by the White House, Reagan said he gave Gorbachev a technical description of a new method of detecting and measuring underground nuclear tests.

Reagan said the method, which he called CORRTEX, would enable both superpowers "to improve verification and ensure compliance" with the never-ratified 1974 Threshold Test Ban Treaty and the Peaceful Nuclear Explosion Treaty that was signed two

Written protest

Members of the Community for Creative Non-Violence unfurl a banner on the north lawn of the White House Friday to protest cuts in money for the poor and the hungry in the U.S. The group took part in the regular White House tour and broke away as they came out of the mansion proper onto the lawn. Police quickly took the group into custody.

Banks' ills blamed on bad management

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Banking Commissioner James Sexton says 70 of the 888 state-chartered banks he regulates are facing serious problems he blames more on bad management than a bad economy.

Sexton told members of the House Banking Committee on Friday that the financial problems of the 70 Texas banks "with very rare exceptions, relate to management problems, bad collection practices and, in some cases, insider dealing."

The banking commissioner called soft farm and oil prices "the catalyst that brings all this junk to the surface."

He would not name the troubled state banks in Texas, but he said their number has more than doubled in the past year. He also said he expects more banks to fall into financial difficulty if oil prices stay low.

But Sexton would not predict how many, if any, of the troubled banks would fail.

"It's hard to say, because in every one of those banks we have a program going on that has a chance to work," he said.

Regulatory changes being proposed to help bail out troubled financial institutions in farm and

Shuttle probers focus on right booster seals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential investigators received "considerable confirmation" from new film studies shown in a private meeting Friday that safety seals on the Challenger's right booster rocket caused the shuttle to explode in flight, a source close to the probe said.

This source, who asked not to be identified by name, said "for the first time, the commission saw enhanced film analysis coordinated with a timeline" of the accident. "It provided considerable confirmation of our view on the place and timing of the fire" that caused the explosion.

The source added that the panel is still trying to determine what caused the failure of the seam that is designed to contain hot gases inside the solid fuel booster rocket. Leading theories are that cold weather reduced the effectiveness of rubber-like O-ring seals, or that the seals were harmed by the normal motion of the rocket, or were

Conference of State Bank Supervisors, said he is not opposed to government's intervening to save troubled banks, particularly in cases where small towns might otherwise be left without bank services.

But he believes the best solution is through private enterprise by encouraging and allowing stronger banks to take over weaker institutions.

In that case, "there certainly wouldn't be a replacement orbiter," and NASA will have to make do with the three shuttles left in the fleet, said Sen. Slade Gorton, R-Wash, who chairs the Senate space subcommittee.

The investigative source said that commission Chairman William P. Rogers and staff director Alton Keel reported on their talks during the week with Martin Marietta, manufacturer of the shuttle's external fuel tank — the only element of the shuttle other than the booster rocket not yet ruled

Stocks break record

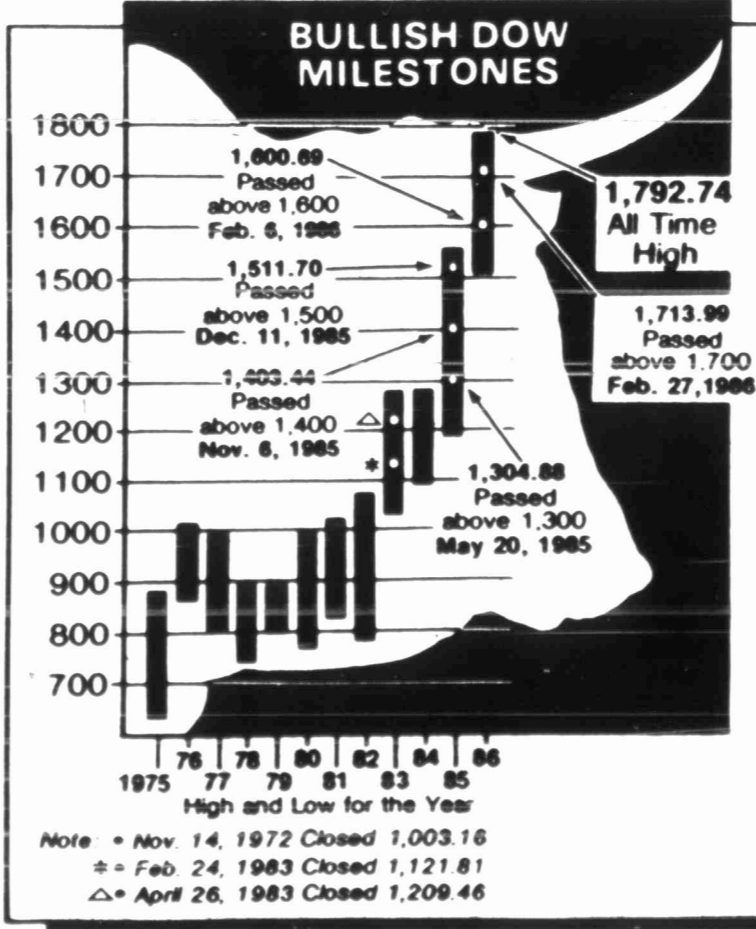

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices soared again Friday, closing out a week of record-breaking gains and trading volume that carried Wall Street's bull market to new heights.

Analysts said buying was inspired partly by dramatic new evidence of the decline of inflation.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials jumped 39.03 to 1,792.74, winding up the week with a record advance of 92.91 points.

Friday's rise by itself was the third largest ever in points for the average, surpassed only by a 43.41 gain on Nov. 3, 1982 and one of 43.10 last Tuesday.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange came to 181.87 million shares, against 171.48 million in the Peace march fizzles out

BARSTOW, Calif. — The group sponsoring the Great Peace March folded Friday under mounting debt as hundreds of marchers spent a fourth day stuck at a chilly Mojave Desert camp, just 120 miles into the 3,235-mile trek, a spokeswoman said.

"We do not have enough money and, as of an hour ago, PRO-Peace will fold at the end of the day ... under exactly what legal circumstances I don't know," said Torie Osborn, chief spokeswoman at the group's Los Angeles office.

Before the march began, People Reaching Out for Peace was receiving about $22,000 a day, Ms. Osborn said.

Couch comes to rescue

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. — Police say a pregnant woman knocked over a 20-foot cliff by a speeding car was saved by a "one-in-a-million lucky break" when she landed on a junked couch.

Heidi Geoghegan and Richard Schraeder of nearby Ben Lomond were strolling along the cliff at Lighthouse Point on Thursday when a careening car driven by an allegedly drunk teen-ager went off the road, struck them and plunged over the cliff, said Sgt. Tom Watson. Geoghegan's fall was cushioned by an old, broken couch on the rocks below. She was treated briefly for scrapes at a hospital and released. Schraeder, who also fell over the cliff, was unharmed.

Quake victim is fine

SAN ANTONIO — A Mexican doctor, seriously injured in last year's earthquake in Mexico City, says she is going back to her work after months of treatment and therapy.

Dr. Martha de los Angeles Torres, 26, was trapped more than six days in the rubble of General Hospital. She was in a residency program for anesthesiology at the hospital when the earthquake struck last September.

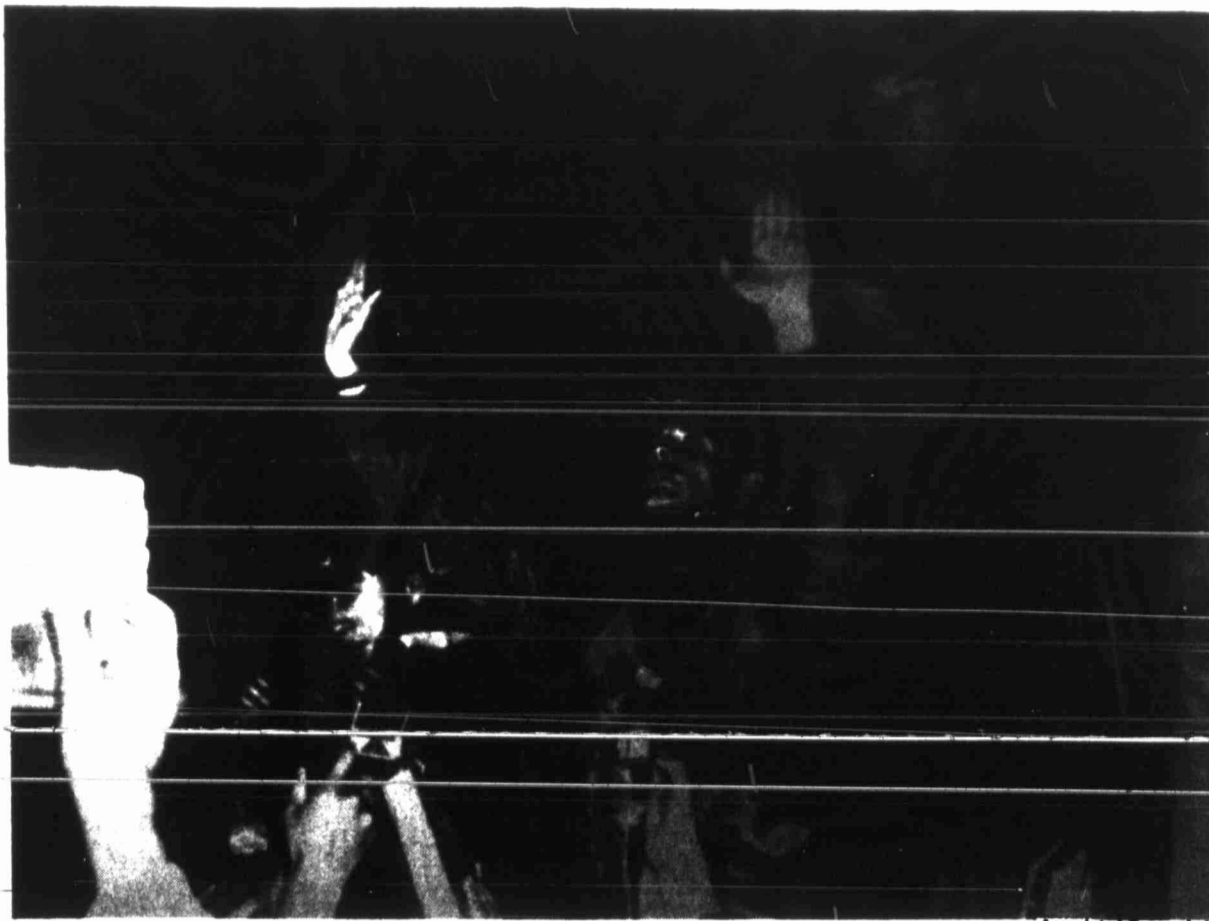

Rescuers spent 28 hours freeing her from the collapsed building and had to amputate her left leg to remove her.

Lehman replaces Tower

WASHINGTON — President Reagan today named Ronald F. Lehman, deputy to former Sen. John Tower at the U.S.-Soviet arms control talks in Geneva, to succeed Tower as the chief U.S. negotiator for strategic weapons reductions.

Tower, a Texas Republican, resigned earlier this week for personal reasons.

Lehman, 59, is a member of Reagan's National Security Council staff and has been serving as the deputy U.S. negotiator on long-range nuclear weapons since January 1985, when the United-States and Soviet Union agreed to resume arms control talks that broke off in 1983.

Ecuadoran Air Force Gen. Frank Vargas, dismissed for insubordination by the Ecuadoran president a week ago, raises his hands Thursday after he took control of the Mariscal Sucre air base in Quito. An official communique says that the Government forces overwhelmed the rebellious general's men Friday.

Ecuador unrest

Government forces subdue rebel general

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Tanks with cannons blazing led government forces into a Quito air base held by a rebellious general Friday and overwhelmed his men, official communique reported.

Radio Quito said army and police forces battled the rebels for 90 minutes at midday and retook Mariscal Sucre Air Base, which Gen. Frank Vargas had seized Thursday night.

"It's known that at least one soldier died, there were an undetermined number of wounded and the government troops have taken about 400 prisoners," the radio station said.

The station is privately owned, but all transmitters were commandeered by the government Friday morning under a state of emergency and ordered to broadcast only official reports of the conflict.

Radio Quito reported earlier that Vargas, who was air force chief until President Leon Febres Cordero fired him for insubordination a week ago, fled the base at 11:50 a.m., just before the attack.

"It's confirmed, General Vargas left for Manta air base" 260 miles to the south in Guayaquil on the Pacific coast, it said. Radio Quito also said Vargas had the support of troops at Manta, where he began his rebellion last week.

Journalists who saw the assault at the Quito air base said, however, that it would have been difficult for Vargas to get past government forces that had surrounded the base since dawn. They said soldiers were hunting for Vargas, who had vowed Thursday to march on the presidential palace for "justice and liberty."

Three tanks entered the air-base after a 20-minute gun battle with rebel troops, according to journalists on the scene.

They said at least 2,000 soldiers took part in the assault, with armored personnel carriers and at least 20 tanks.

Witnesses said evacuation of area residents began at midnight.

Vargas, 51, rebelled March 7 after Febres dismissed him for demanding the resignation of the defense minister and army commander, whom he had accused of fraud in the use of public funds.

He surrendered Tuesday and was taken from Manta to the base in Quito, but claimed the government broke the surrender agreement. He was freed Thursday by sympathetic officers and took over the base.

Febres, 55, imposed a state of emergency Friday morning, suspending constitutional guarantees and establishing prior censorship on "all communications media that attempt to subvert the order."

Vargas had said the purpose of his revolt was to "restore a true social democracy" in Ecuador, which was ruled by the military for nine years before civilian rule was restored in 1979.

Explosion kills eight

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan — The Afghan government said Friday that a bomb planted by Islamic guerrillas exploded on a bus in the city of Herat, killing eight people and injuring nine others.

The announcement was carried on Radio Kabul, the Afghan government station, and was monitored here.

The bombing occurred Wednesday, according to the radio. It said all the casualties were civilians, including women and children.

Afghanistan's communist government is fighting a nationwide insurgency by Islamic guerrillas.

U.S. aide ordered out

MOSCOW — A second secretary at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow has been ordered to leave the Soviet Union, the official Soviet news agency Tass said today. The agency said the diplomat was caught spying.

Tass said Michael Sellers was detained in Moscow on Monday "as he was having a clandestine meeting with a Soviet citizen recruited by U.S. intelligence."

It said Sellers was declared persona non grata.

Documents disappear

VIENNA, Austria — Documents in Kurt Waldheim's personnel file — papers he had said would disprove charges that he once was a Nazi storm trooper — are missing from Foreign Ministry archives, a spokesman said Friday.

Waldheim served as U.N. secretary-general from 1972 to 1982 and now is running for the Austrian presidency. He said earlier the documents would show that he did not belong to the Sturmabteilung, or SA, in 1938.

Judge tightens controls

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A judge ordered tight controls on the funeral Saturday of seven alleged guerrillas killed by police, reflecting the government's fear that it would become a violent anti-apartheid protest.

Magistrate W.P. Theron on Friday banned pamphlets, placards, flags and speeches by anyone other than an ordained minister at the outdoor funeral for the seven blacks in Guguletu township near Cape Town. The men were killed two weeks ago in Guguletu.

Nerve gas use reported

UNITED NATIONS — The United Nations secretary-general said today Iraq has used chemical weapons in its war with Iran. He strongly condemned use of the chemicals.

Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar based his statement on a report by four experts on chemical warfare who visited Iran from Feb. 26 to March 3 and concluded, "On many occasions, Iraqi forces have used chemical weapons against Iranian forces."

Comanche request rejected

DALLAS (AP) — Nuclear regulatory commissioners rejected a request by Comanche Peak to stop all construction on the nuclear plant but noted with approval that the agency's staff is considering fining the plant's builder.

Work halted Jan. 29 at the twin-reactor plant when commission officials discovered that the construction permit expired Aug. 1, 1985, then resumed after an extension was approved by the commission's staff on Feb. 10.

Commissioners on Thursday observed that their staff is considering leveling a fine on Texas Utilities. Commissioner James Asseltine wrote that he believed construction work should be halted at the plant in Glen Rose, 90 miles southwest of Dallas.

Comanche Peak opponents contend the construction permit extension was granted illegally, but the commission voted 4-1 to reject the request. Asseltine was the lone dissenter.
