Habib reports support for aid

PRESIDENT REAGAN
...wide support reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Philip Habib, President Reagan's new special envoy to Central America, said today Reagan's proposal for aid to Nicaraguan rebels has strong popular support in the region and the understanding of political leaders there.

Habib, meeting with Reagan to report on his trip to Central America last week, told reporters it "just isn't true" that the president's proposal for $100 million in military and economic aid to the Contras has little support from Nicaraguan neighbors.

Reagan, when told by reporters that Nicaraguan leader Daniel Ortega had said the president has lost his senses on the issues, shot back: "Takes one to know one."

In a nationally televised address from the Oval Office on Sunday, Reagan sought to link Nicaragua's leftist government with drug smuggling and the murder of four U.S. Marines.

Habib, breaking in to reply when a reporter sought to question Reagan as the men posed for pictures, said: "A recent poll that was run — a perfectly authentic one — shows a majority of Central Americans, first of all, condemn the situation inside Nicaragua and, secondly, the majority supports the aid to the Contras."

Reagan said the poll was cited in a column by former U.N. Ambassador Jeane J. Kirkpatrick, who wrote that it was conducted this winter "by the highly reliable Consultoria Interdisciplinaria in Desarrollo." She said the poll showed a majority of Costa Ricans, Hondurans and Salvadorans regard Nicaragua as a threat to their countries and support aid to the Contras.

Asked why leaders of those countries don't openly endorse Reagan's policy, Habib said, "These fellas have code words the way we do. I'm saying they are concerned about the situation in Nicaragua, that they are stating their positions quite clearly, that they understand the significance of putting pressure on the Sandinistas in order to bring them to a different approach, a political approach."

Reagan, in his speech Sunday evening, appealed for support of his aid plan, which faces a House vote on Thursday. White House and administration sources say the administration is about 10 to 12 votes short of winning the House vote.

Sen. James Sasser of Tennessee, in the Democratic response to Reagan's speech, said the president was "seizing military options" without giving diplomacy enough of a chance.

In his speech from the Oval Office, however, Reagan warned that the aid program is needed "for the defense of our own southern frontier."

Court picks jury for murder trial

Jury selection began this morning in the trial of a Knott man who is accused of shooting to death his estranged wife last November at the Latin Quarter club on Highway 350.

Testimony is expected to begin Tuesday in the 118th District Court trial of Felisiano Zamora, 37, of Knott with Judge James Gregg presiding. District Attorney Rick Hamby is prosecuting the case. Zamora is represented by attorney Richard Abalos of Odessa.

Gregg also said last week the court would employ an interpreter to translate portions of the testimony.

Toast to the Irish

Ed McMahon waves to rain-drenched spectators who lined the route of the Beverly Hills St. Patrick's Day Parade Sunday in Los Angeles. Although the rain kept spectators to a bare minimum, a number of celebrities and well-known Irish paraded down the Miracle Mile of Beverly Hills which was changed to "Emerald Mile" for the event.

Report: NASA wasted third of its budget

MIAMI — NASA, which cut back on some shuttle safety features because of lack of funds, wasted up to a third of its $8.3 billion budget last year, a former government auditor says.

Charges of waste were detailed in Sunday's Miami Herald, which said it obtained dozens of government audit reports under the Freedom of Information Act.

"I would say (NASA's waste) is in the same ballpark as the (Pentagon's)," George Spanton, a former Defense Contract Audit Agency supervisor of contractor filings at the Kennedy Space Center, told the Herald. He referred to the many reports of waste in defense spending to surface in Washington in recent years.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration disclosed following the Challenger explosion that the space agency had slashed shuttle reliability programs and staff and abandoned certain backup safety features for the space shuttle because of budget strictures.

But NASA officials, stinging from recent criticism by the presidential commission investigating the Jan. 28 disaster, denied that the agency is wasting taxpayers' dollars.

"Over the years, we've proved that we've done a very efficient job," Richard L. Bankowski, NASA's director of procurement policy, told the Herald.

He said he wouldn't attempt to estimate the extent of waste at NASA, adding, "I don't have any feel for what the problem is."

When reached at home in Washington on Sunday, NASA spokesman Dave Garrett declined to comment on the Herald article without first seeing the audit reports the newspaper obtained.

According to the Herald, NASA audit records show the agency routinely paid $315 for wire fasteners that should cost three cents, paid $159,000 for a $5,000 cooling fan, and paid $256 to fly a contractor's pet dogs coast-to-coast.

Besides excessive parts markups, freeloading contractors and loafing work crews added to problems, the newspaper said. The relationship formed by NASA officials and contractors, who often work side-by-side for years, also was cited by auditors.

They said potential for abuse is great because NASA spends nearly 90 percent of its budget on contracts with private companies. Many negotiate open-ended agreements that permit contractors to recover overhead costs.

Dr. David Musto, a professor of psychiatry and the history of medicine at Yale University in New Haven says that there is a temperance movement surfacing in the U.S.

Temperance trend gaining momentum

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A half century after the repeal of Prohibition, a temperance movement is surfacing in the United States riding a wave of renewed anti-alcohol sentiment, a Yale University professor says.

The formation of vocal groups opposing drunken driving, the raising of states' legal minimum drinking ages and changes in the population's alcohol consumption habits are indications of a trend toward temperance, said Dr. David F. Musto, a professor of psychiatry and the history of medicine at the Yale School of Medicine.

"Look at business lunches in New York," Musto said in a telephone interview. "Before it was very common to have a couple of martinis. The pressure now is not to have any alcohol because of its effect on efficiency."

"People aren't noticing this (the move toward temperance) much because the changes have been gradual. But there are great changes taking place."

A temperance movement is a major change in the public's perception of alcohol resulting in restrictions of its availability, Musto said. The current movement is fueled by a shift from "the atomistic individualism that marked the 1960s and early 1970s to a greater community-mindedness," he said.

The breadth of the movement to control alcohol consumption is reflected in a 1984 federal law that required states to set their drinking age at 21 in order to retain all of their federal highway funds, Musto added.

Vermont, Hawaii and Louisiana are the only states with a minimum drinking age of 18. Vermont is raising the legal age to 21 on July 1.

"For the federal government to require states to change drinking ages through an indirect form of blackmail is the closest approach to national prohibition sentiment since 1933," Musto said.

Alcoholic beverage industry officials agree that consumption is dropping, and they cite federal and state tax hikes on liquor and "social reasons," including concerns about drunken driving and healthy diets, as factors.

According to the latest figures available, per capita adult consumption of liquor fell from 2.87 gallons a year in 1974 to 2.46 gallons in 1984, said Lisa Tate of the Distilled Spirits Council of the United States.

During the same period, she said, wine consumption rose from 2.36 gallons to 3.12 gallons per person, while beer drinking increased from 30.75 gallons to 32.61 gallons per person. "Beer and wine have seen a sales slump in the last year or so," she said, adding that the spirits council anticipates a 2 percent drop in liquor consumption when 1985 figures are in.

Names in the news

By The Associated Press
LONDON — Woody Allen said he was flattered that "The Purple Rose of Cairo" was named Best Film of 1985 at the British Academy Awards ceremony.

Speaking via satellite from New York, Allen said Sunday night, "I'm very flattered over your response to 'The Purple Rose of Cairo,' and I hope films I do in the future will be meaningful to you as well."

Allen's film also won Best Original Screenplay at the nationally televised event, sponsored by the British Academy of Film and Television Arts.

In other awards, director Steven Spielberg was given the prestigious Fellowship of the Academy. William Hurt was named Best Actor for his role in "Kiss of the Spider Woman" and Dame Peggy Ashcroft won Best Actress honors for "A Passage to India."

Hurt, speaking by satellite from Los Angeles, "My mouth is dry, my heart is pounding, I'm elated, and I'm not used to this form of communication."

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — The weather fit the song, but entertainer Gene Kelly refused to do "Singing in the Rain" as he led a glittery but rain-soaked St. Patrick's parade down a green-carpeted "Emerald Mile" of Beverly Hills.

Kelly, wearing an overcoat, rode in the back seat of a covered antique car.

The parade Sunday included 15 floats, 50 horses, antique cars and bands.

Parade spokeswoman Gail Book had said Kelly was "prepared to do 'Singing in the Rain.'"

But asked about that, Kelly snar-ped: "No, no, no!" and declined further comment.

NEW YORK — Shirley MacLaine, visiting Peru to film a television mini-series based on her autobiography, landed in hot water when she suggested the country's giant desert drawings were made by visitors from outer space.

The 51-year-old actress was on location in the Andes for "Out on a Limb," a five-hour ABC mini-series based on her 1983 autobiography, when she was reported as suggesting the drawings were done by extraterrestrials rather than ancient Peruvians.

Later, People magazine reports, Miss MacLaine tried to make amends by saying, "I profoundly believe that Peru is the repository of a splendiferous culture. If there were extraterrestrial beings that had visited the Earth, Peru would be the place they would choose."

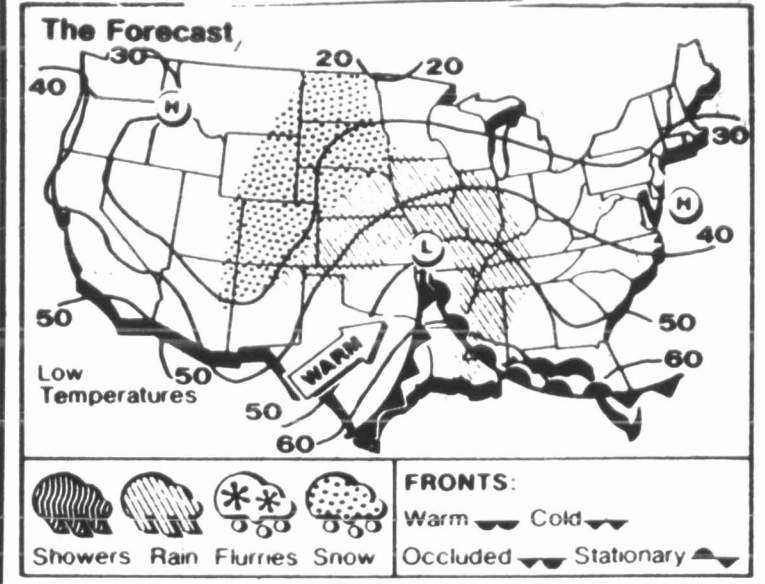

SNYDER — "General Hospital" star Brad Maule says he faced his toughest audience during a homecoming for five Snyder High graduates who went on to become stars.

"I'm connected to everyone in that audience. Basically, I know everyone out there," he said.

The town of 13,000 turned out Saturday night to honor actors Powers Boothe, Maule, Barry Tubb, Dane Witherspoon and musician Ann Patterson.

Boothe, who won an Emmy Award for his portrayal of the Rev. Jim Jones in "The Guyana Tragedy," said, "It's a most frightening experience. I'm trying to remember who I was when I left here, and finding out who I am now."

Sheriff's Log

Deputies question suspect

Sheriff's deputies questioned another suspect Sunday regarding the recent string of stolen vehicle incidents that have occurred in the county, Sheriff A.N. Standard said this morning.

"We feel we have a step-up on the investigation," Standard said, "and we're working in cooperation with the city."

Deputies recovered a 1984 Ford LTD Sunday afternoon in an alleyway in the 1600 block of Young after police contacted the sheriff's department about the vehicle.

Standard said the car matched a stolen automobile theft report made by Gary Calvert of Route 1 Box 527 early Thursday morning.

Jovita Jimenez of Route 2 Box 147 told sheriff's deputies Sunday night that someone entered her residence between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. and stole a television valued at $500.

Deputies later arrested Leonoso Jimenez Jr., 26, of 1303 Michael at the San Luis Bar on West Highway 80 in connection with the burglary. He remained in jail Monday morning in lieu of $5,700 bond.

Mark Guthrie, 26, of Arlington told deputies Saturday morning that he was assaulted by two men at approximately 4:20 a.m. at a rest area along Interstate 20.

He was treated for lacerations on his chest, stomach and face at the emergency room of Malone-Hogan Hospital, according to a sheriff's report. He was later released and told deputies he did not wish to file charges.

The sheriff's department notified the Mitchell County sheriff's office about the incident since it occurred in that county, according to the report.

Police transferred Gary Joe Flores, 19, of 3800 Calvin to county jail Saturday afternoon after he was arrested for resisting arrest. He was released on $1,000 bond.

Police transferred Carlos Gonzales, 27, of 1502 1/2 Scurry to county jail Saturday night after he was arrested for failure to maintain financial responsibility.

He was released on $1,000 bond. A Texas Department of Public Safety trooper arrested Arnulfo Martinez, 31, of Stanton Saturday night on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

He was later released on $1,000 bond.

Police transferred Donald Ray Cohorn, 22, of Lubbock to county jail Saturday night after he was arrested for suspicion of DWI and a second offense of failure to maintain financial responsibility.

He was released on bonds totalling $2,500.

Police transferred Charles Clifton Barnes, 27, of Flatrock, Ala., to county jail early Sunday morning after he was arrested for driving with a suspended license.

He was released on $500 bond.

Deputies released Albert F. Carrasco, 27, of 1616 Mesquite from county jail Sunday morning after he served two days for a prior DWI conviction.

Oscar Hernandez, 25, of 1010 N. Rannels was also released from jail Sunday morning after he served two days for a prior DWI conviction.

Deputies released Antansio Gutierrez, 31, of 511 N. Lancaster from county jail Sunday morning after he served three days and paid the remainder of his fines from DPS warrants.

Deputies arrested Jerry Don Hudson, 32, of 1105 Johnson Sunday night for aggravated assault. He was later released on $1,000 bond.

A DPS trooper arrested Danny R. Lane, 38, of 1402 Stanford Sunday night for suspicion of DWI. He was released on $1,500 bond.

Police transferred Stephen Larry Sandridge, 20, of 538 Westover to county jail early Monday morning after he was arrested for DWLS. He was released on $500 bond.

7-Eleven losses reported

Melinda Besley, a clerk at the 7-Eleven store at 902 Willa St., told police early this morning that someone stole items valued at $17.94 and $84.77 in cash from the store at 1:10 this morning.

Kelly Scott of 1801 Choctaw St. told police early Sunday morning that someone she knows damaged her car and then threatened her with a gun outside the Silver Bullet bar late Saturday night.

L.L. Miller of Miller's T.V. told police Sunday morning that someone stole $12 in coins from the business between 12 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Sunday.

J.H. Pryor of 508 S. Benton St.

told police early Sunday morning that someone he knows stole $350 from his residence Sunday morning.

Mike Couch of the First Baptist Church told police Sunday morning that someone caused $210 damage to two car tires outside the church between midnight and 8:30 a.m. Sunday.

Julie Lynn Martin of Sterling City Route told police Sunday night that someone she knows struck her by throwing a beverage container and a rock at her while she was at the 600 block of South Goliad Street Sunday night.

Charles Bunns, 25, of Flatrock, Ark., was arrested early Sunday morning on suspicion of driving with a suspended license.

Stephen Sandridge, 21, of 538 Westover Road was arrested early this morning on suspicion of driving with a suspended license.

For the record

The parents of Howard County spelling bee participant True Lawson Rogers were incorrectly identified in Sunday's Big Spring Herald.

Rogers parents are Mr. and Mrs. James D. Rogers. The Herald regrets the error.

Accidents injure 4

Separate traffic mishaps Sunday in Big Spring injured four people.

A motorcyclist, 22-year-old John Wilson of Coahoma, and his passenger, Lucy Flores, 21, of 1213 W. Sixth St., were taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital after their motorcycle and a car collided Sunday evening. Wilson was listed in stable condition this morning and Flores was treated and released, said a hospital spokeswoman.

Wilson and Flores were struck in the 700 block of Farm Road 700 by a car driven by 80-year-old Willie Franklin of 2600 Crestline.

According to police, the west-bound car driven by Franklin turned left into the path of Wilson who was heading east. Police cited Franklin for failure to yield right of way.

Jury

was arrested Nov. 19 by Howard County sheriff's deputies with assistance from the Department of Public Safety troopers and U.S. Border Patrol agents.

Zamora was arrested after disembarking from a bus at the Greyhound Bus Station here.

Deputies conducted a two-day manhunt for the suspect and were following up leads that Zamora had possibly fled to Mexico.

According to a report made by a sheriff's deputy, Zamora fled the scene after Maria Isabel Zamora, 28, of 2308 Marshall was shot to death at the club. Deputies found her on her side in the middle of the floor on the south end of the club.

Her death was ruled homicide by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin who was called to the scene.

Zamora has remained in county jail since his November arrest. He was indicted with the murder charge by a Howard County grand jury in January.

Absentee voting underway in city, school board races

People wishing to vote in this year's school board and City Council elections by absentee ballot may have several options on how to cast their ballot.

Those under 65 and in good health who want to vote absentee in the city council election must vote by personal appearance at City Hall unless they plan to be out of town between now and 5 p.m. April 1, said City Secretary Tom Ferguson.

Those who will be out of town and people over 65 can vote by mail by calling or sending for an application at the city secretary's office, Ferguson said. Ferguson said he needs the applications sent to him by no later than March 28.

Personal appearance voting is going on now between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. at City Hall through April 1 except for March 28, Good Friday. Anyone with questions should contact Ferguson at City Hall, 263-8311.

Candidates for mayor are Cotton Mize and Troy Fraser. Running for District 2 councilman are D.W. Overman, Tim Blakshear and John Whitmire.

Those who are eligible to vote in the District 2 council race must live in one of the following precincts: 202 W.2, 204 W.2, 402 W.2 and 404 W.2. Precinct number appears on the voter registration card.

Absentee voting rules for the school board of trustees is similar to the city's.

People who are over 65, confined to jail, have a physical handicap, a religious reason or will be out of the county the day of the election are eligible to vote by absentee ballot, according to the county clerk's office.

Voting can be done either by personal appearance at the clerk's office in Howard County Courthouse or by mail.

Personal appearance voting is now through 5 p.m. on April 1st. Persons wishing to vote by mail should call the clerk's office at 267-2861.

Running for the three positions on the board of trustees are incumbents Bill Brooks and Dan Wise, and Teddy Griffin, Larry Phillippe, Jamie Baldwin and Dock Voorhies.

Arson blamed for blaze

Arson was ruled the cause of fire Sunday night that caused $20,000 damage to the home of Robert Luevano, 504 N. Douglas St., said Assistant Fire Chief Burr Lea Settles.

According to police, the home was set afire after being burglarized of a $598 color television, a $250 VCR and a $130 radio between 8 p.m. and 9:13 p.m.

Settles said there are no leads yet as to who set the fire, but an investigation is underway.

"There's no doubt it was arson," Settles said. No other apparent cause of the blaze was evident and it was obvious the home had been broken into, he said.

The fire was set in an east bedroom, he said. When firefighters arrived on the scene shortly after 9 p.m., flames were visible from the roof, he said.

He said the blaze was brought under control in about one half hour by 11 firemen. The house was insured, Settles said.

NASA to release list

SPACE CENTER — NASA is releasing details on about 900 parts that are considered vital to the safe operation of the space shuttle, while two engineers explain how the space agency developed this "critical items list." Among the items on the list are the solid rocket booster seals that are suspected of failing and contributing to the Jan. 28 destruction of Challenger and the death of its seven-member crew.

AIDS fears allayed

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration, concerned that unwarranted fear of AIDS is continuing to hamper blood donations, is telling its regional offices to reassure potential blood donors such fears are groundless.

In an advisory distributed within the agency, the FDA said a survey conducted for the American Association of Blood Banks found 34 percent of the American people believe they can get AIDS by donating blood.

Plane forced to land

MIAMI — Eastern Airlines mechanics today hoped to figure out why the front landing gear of a Boeing 727 failed, forcing the plane to make an emergency landing at Miami International Airport.

The plane, Flight 757 from New York City to Fort Lauderdale, landed early Sunday with only its rear landing gear functioning. The pilot kept the craft's nose from touching the ground as long as possible.

Bridge reported safe

FORT WORTH — The I-30 overpass in downtown Fort Worth, which had been scheduled to be closed until today for a safety inspection following a nearby explosion, was reopened late Saturday after highway department inspectors found no problems, a highway department spokesman said.

"It's perfectly safe for the traveling public," spokesman Bill Page said.

Police looks for clue

DALLAS — Police had few leads in the stabbing deaths of Fred Finch Jr., a lawyer, publisher and one of the leaders of the city's black community, and his wife, who were found slain in their South Dallas home.

Finch, 61, and Mildred Finch, 65, a teacher in the Dallas County Community College District, were discovered shortly before noon Sunday by police after a relative received no answer when he knocked at their door and notified authorities.

Sunday night, homicide detectives said they had very little to go on.

Peggy Say, sister of hostage Terry Anderson, holds a candle in honor of six Americans kidnapped in Lebanon during a vigil in Lafayette Park across from the White House Sunday. The vigil and a church service earlier Sunday marked the first year in captivity for Terry Anderson.

Rueful reminder

Church service remembers hostages

WASHINGTON (AP) — With song and with prayer, hundreds of people participated in a day of tribute to the American hostages in Lebanon as their families pressed efforts to secure their release.

The relatives organized a church service and a candlelight vigil outside the White House on Sunday to mark William Buckley's second year in captivity and Terry Anderson's first.

"We are still hanging in there," said Mae Mihelich of Joliet, Ill., the sister of the Rev. Lawrence Martin Jenco, one of the six Americans kidnapped in Lebanon. "It's going to take faith."

Family members were to meet with State Department officials today to find out if there are new developments. Over the past year, they had similar briefings by top administration officials and lawmakers on Capitol Hill.

"I am confident ... that the administration is being cooperative," said Peggy Say, 45, of Batavia, N.Y., Anderson's sister. "We all believe that resolution is going to come."

She said the anniversary "could have been a real downer," but the outpouring of hope and faith from Americans has buoyed her spirits.

Buckley, 57, the political officer at the U.S. Embassy, and Anderson, 38, the chief Middle East correspondent for The Associated Press, were both snatched by gunmen on Beirut streets. Buckley has no immediate family.

To honor the hostages, hundreds of people filled the 1,200-seat New York Avenue Presbyterian Church four blocks from the White House for a midday service. Family members sat in the front pews, marked off by bright yellow bows.

Conservatives win vote

PARIS — French voters ousted leftists from power in the National Assembly, but gave the main conservative parties only a bare majority with which to pursue their plans to loosen government control of the economy and reduce unemployment.

Results early today from French overseas possessions pushed the number of seats won by conservatives and allied small parties to 289, exactly the number they needed for a majority in the 577-member assembly. Four seats remained undecided.

OPEC ministers meet

GENEVA — OPEC oil ministers began a second round of emergency talks today with no apparent sign they can agree on a strategy to prop up oil prices that have tumbled 50 percent since December.

Four hours of discussions Sunday ended with ministers reporting no progress toward a compromise on the key question of whether the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries should revert to limiting production in order to push up the price.

2 more survive collapse

SINGAPORE — Rescuers today pulled out two more survivors trapped in the wreckage of a collapsed six-story hotel, and said they had heard the voices of "many" others buried under the rubble for two days.

"Since survivors are being brought out we are now more hopeful," said Lim Siam Kim, operations director of the Home Affairs Ministry.

12 killed in ambush

MANILA, Philippines — Communist rebels armed with high-powered rifles ambushed a van carrying local militiamen and government employees on Negros island, killing 12 people and seriously wounding four, a military official said today.

The reported communist attack came as the leader of another rebel group, Muslim insurgents on southern Mindanao Island, said his group would not lay down its arms until President Corazon Aquino grants them autonomy.

Violence unabated

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Police said today that two blacks were killed and six were injured in violence in black townships across South Africa, and prison officials reported one black died and 40 were hurt in a prison riot.

However, there were no reports of violence at gold mines today following weekend violence in which 14 black miners died and more than 240 were injured.

France's Mitterrand trying to assert

PARIS (AP) — President Francois Mitterrand, a Socialist who will have to govern with a conservative premier, has served notice he will not become a figurehead who appears only on ceremonial occasions.

Mitterrand, who turns 70 in October, said during the campaign for Sunday's National Assembly elections that if the left lost, he would continue to play a major role in setting foreign and defense policies, two areas in which presidents of the Fifth Republic have always been pre-eminent.

The two major conservative parties and their smaller allies won a bare majority of the 577 seats in the National Assembly in the election.

Mitterrand's aides say he loves a fight and is at his best in moments of adversity. For 23 years he struggled against what he called the conservative dictatorship of Charles de Gaulle and his two successors, Georges Pompidou and Valery Giscard d'Estaing.

For your garden

Garden Simplicity

By DON RICHARDSON
County Extension Agent

Landscape design is an art, the art of arranging the out of doors to provide a maximum of enrichment and enjoyment. The key to all good art is simplicity. A well-designed garden is most beautiful and functional and, of course, less costly and requires less upkeep when executed in its simplest manner.

All too often gardens are overplanted, and like an ill-arranged room, provide a cluttered, unorganized environment which often does not function.

Simplicity in garden design may be achieved by grouping plants which are alike together in lines or masses to serve a definite function. A scattering of plants creates unorganization and a lack of order and the sense of belonging. Most homeowners fail to identify the need for a plant before planting; thus, the landscape becomes overplanted regardless of plant function. Rather than add plantings, a thinning-out would improve many home sites.

The designer must not only consider positive or planted spaces in the garden, but those left over or void areas as well. The open lawn or the shape of the lawn near a curved bed take this form as a result of the shape of the planted or positive area.

Too many curves or turns in a garden bed design often destroy the crisp beauty of a simple line. The man of the house, who usually handles the edging, will also testify to the added maintenance of a complicated garden border. Extra turns and edges in garden designs mean extra edging and labor.

Added plantings to frame the front walk or drive tend to lose the simplicity of garden designs. With the good intentions of "softening" the harsh walk or drive, the gardener may add to the importance of accents these elements all the more by framing them in. Framing the patio or terrace with plantings limits the flow of space in the landscape and, like a picture, becomes well framed, having the necessary feel continued to the patio or separated from the remaining lawn or landscape. A good patio design allows the flow of the lawn to meet with greater part of the patio with perhaps key or accent plantings to the sides or within the patio area.

Simplicity in garden design, like interior design, is also enhanced by the use or selection of a dominant color scheme. A mixture of many colors in the landscape lacks harmony. A spot of accent color in a key location with a dominant color scheme enhances and creates interest. Knowing or sensing the proper amounts, locations and combinations of garden colors is the true task of a good designer.

"Foundation plantings," or plantings surrounding the home, originated when homes were raised from the ground surface, and like great-grandmother's sunbonnet, have long been outdated. All too often, "foundation plantings" call for continual pruning to keep them within bounds and out of windows. They, too often, cover over the beauty of the lines of the architecture of the house itself and serve no true function. Brick walls can be beautiful and need not be covered or hidden with greenery.

Over-simplicity in the garden may lead to monotony and a lack of interest. Like the feather in the hat or the colorful necktie, splashes of color, or key accent plantings, properly placed in the landscape make an otherwise average landscape more friendly and interesting. Yet, it must remain simple for beauty's sake.

Choosing cordless appliances

AP — Here are some points to consider when choosing between a cordless and corded appliance or between two different cordless brands. As a rule, the cordless product will cost more. Furthermore, since batteries will eventually have to be replaced (5 to 7 years is generally the estimated usable life) maintenance will be required for the cordless. On the positive side, these products offer considerable convenience. You will be able to take a cordless mixer to the stove or table, to pack a cordless knife for a picnic or brief camping trip.

Generally speaking, appliances with five batteries will provide more power longer than the same type of appliance with only three batteries. Compare product warranties, too.

You may find that using a cordless appliance goes against the grain at first. These appliances should be plugged in at all times when not in use. Sunbeam's product development team explained the electricity cost is small. They add it's best to completely discharge an appliance through use at least once a month. When unplugged, the appliance loses about 10 percent of its charge per day, according to the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers.

If all the appliances have to be plugged in when not in use, it does create a problem in kitchens where electric outlets are precious. Several manufacturers have addressed the issue. West Bend's "Three-in-One" uses a single electric base and only one plug. Black and Decker's plug extender has six outlets and requires only one plug. Sunbeam has dealt with the problem by having three cordless appliances plug into one another so that only one wall outlet is required.

Dear Abby

Millionaire's lending scheme works

DEAR ABBY: To "Forgotten Parents," who loaned their son $10,000 10 years ago that never has been (and likely never will be) repaid, and to all those who write in to say, "The same thing happened to us," you gave sound advice: "Never lend money without a promissory note acknowledging the loan and stating the terms of repayment. Relatives are no exception."

Having made my first million by the time I was 30 and multiplying it several times since then and coming from a large working-class family, I am often confronted with the problem of a relative in "desperate" need of a loan. Here is an even better way to handle it.

Develop a relationship with a bank — most people with even $5,000 or $10,000 to lend will know their banker. When a relative asks for a loan, tell him (or her) that you're not in the business of lending money, but your bank is. His credit lousy? Or he wouldn't qualify for that much? You'll assist him. Then go to your banker and pledge your money, on deposit with the bank, as security for the loan. The bank will happily make the loan, since their risk is zero. Your relative gets his money, so he's happy. True, you still stand to lose your money if he defaults, but there are several advantages to doing it this way.

1. The bank will make him fill out a loan application, sign a promissory note, maybe even get him to pledge some collateral of his own, however insignificant. It makes the borrower feel "on the hook" and, in fact, his credit rating is at issue if he defaults.

2. It takes you out of the position of creditor and collection agent, which puts a strain on the best of personal relationships. The interest that the borrower owes is paid to the bank, not to you, so no hard feelings.

3. Meanwhile, you continue to get interest on your money deposited in the bank.

4. If the borrower pays the loan as promised, that's an enhancement to his credit rating, and thus an incentive for him to go this route as well.

I've handled several loans to relatives, friends and employees this way and haven't gotten stung yet. Sometimes the borrower, when confronted with the bank's forbidding paperwork, will back off altogether and miraculously find some other way to solve his financial problem. Anyway, it's not foolproof, but it's the best solution to the situation I've found. Sign me, BEVERLY HILLS BENEFACTOR

DEAR BENEFACTOR: Thanks for the solid financial advice. That's what I call passing the buck(s) without paying a premium.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a gentleman who was born and raised in Iran. I am an American-born woman. He speaks very little English, but there is a very strong physical attraction between us that I have never known before. He is decent, honest, hard-working and gentle.

When we are together he makes my heart sing as it has never sung before. His inability to converse socially in English is a little frustrating at times, but he certainly knows how to make a woman feel important and thoroughly loved. Should I marry him.

MOONSTRUCK
DEAR MOONSTRUCK: It's

easier to teach a man to speak English than to teach him how to make a woman feel important and thoroughly loved. Grab him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: Have a joyous St. Patrick's Day, but if you're drinking, don't drive. And if you're driving, don't drink.

(Problems? Unload on Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. All correspondence is confidential.)

Dieter's delemma: eat less, still gain

By NAOMI HUNT
County Extension Agent

It's only March, but thousands of dieters have already gained back the pounds they lost after making a New Year's resolution to shed excess weight.

Going on a low-calorie diet to drop a few pounds in a hurry may only compound the dieter's weight problem.

Between 20-50% of weight lost on very low-calorie diets can be water and lean muscle tissue, rather than fat.

Muscle tissue burns 2½ times the calories as fat tissue. So as the percent of body fat increases, the metabolism slows down and burns fewer calories.

That's why a dieter can actually gain weight while eating less.

The combination of a balanced diet with moderately reduced calories and exercise to lose weight gradually is the most effective way to achieve a permanent weight loss.

Exercise burns calories, preserves the lean muscle tissue that already exists in the body and builds more muscle tissue to further increase calories burning.

Many people avoid exercise because they think it requires special equipment, extra time or is too strenuous for them. That may be true of some sport activities including running, tennis or aerobic dance.

However, brisk walking and even doing sit-down exercises at their office desk can help dieters if the exercise is done regularly.

Use the basic food groups to eat a well-balanced diet and to develop an exercise program that fits their lifestyle.

Be sure to choose 2 servings from the milk group each day, 2 servings of meat, 4 fruits and vegetables, and 4 from the bread, cereal group. Select those lower in calories to help you lose weight and avoid rich sauces, gravies, desserts, and fried foods. Include a wide variety of foods to insure adequate vitamins and minerals.

The Extension Service has a 1986 "Fit For All Seasons" calendar available which can help dieters plan a sensible weight-loss diet and exercise program for the remainder of the year.

It can be ordered for $2.00 by check or money order from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Reed McDonald, Rm. 101, Texas A&M University, College Station, TX. 778-2113. I do not have these available in my office. They must be ordered from College Station. We do have a number of free publications on nutrition, meal planning, and family fitness.

Excess weight is a major health risk factor affecting the well-being of Texas families. The average person gains 15 to 25 pounds between the ages of 25 and 50. Most of this weight is gained gradually, a pound or two a year.

The good news for people who like to eat is that this weight gain typically does not result from overeating.

The bad news for people who don't like to exercise, is that extra pounds most often result from our decreasing physical activity and lower calories needs as we get older.

To maintain your weight, the calories you burn through physical activity has to equal the calories you consume. If you stick to certain eating habits, but become less and less active, those extra calories will be stored as fat.

So the key to losing those extra pounds is becoming more physically active. That can be a tough problem for people who work at sedentary jobs, and don't have the time or money for exercise classes or equipment.

But added physical activity doesn't have to be time or money consuming. It can be as simple as taking the stairs instead of the elevator at work; walking around the block while you wait for the kids instead of sitting in the car; or taking a bike ride instead of watching television after dinner.

Weight loss researchers agree that one of the best methods for increasing physical activity is to walk every day.

By walking for 30-40 minutes five times a week, you can raise your metabolic rate to more efficiently burn calories. Over a year that can add up to a weight loss of 10 to 20 pounds.

Dr. Donohue

Lingering bruise can calcify and cause pain

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a 16-year old boy, a hockey player. About a month ago, a puck struck me on the leg during practice. The bruise was big and red. Eventually, the bruise color disappeared, but I noticed later that there was a little hard lump under the skin. When I hit against it, I am sore in that spot. What is going on? Should it be looked at? — D.P.

You should have it examined. My long-distance, sight-unseen guess is that you have calcification. Sometimes bruises, which are little collections of blood under the skin, do not totally go away even though the discoloration does. Calcium deposits form. This is one good reason for the heat part in the ice-heat method of treatment for bruises and other injuries. Once the ice has helped begin the healing, heat promotes blood circulation to discourage things like calcification.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I'm having trouble with terminology. You said not to run on "soft" surfaces. What is soft? What is hard? I have been having pains along the inside of my left leg. Is that a shin splint? I run on pretty hard surfaces, a compacted gravel type. Is that "hard" in your definition? — C.L.

Soft in my book is loose sand, or perhaps any sand. Your foot wobbles when it lands, and that imposes unnatural stresses on leg muscles and leg bones. By hard I mean something like concrete. That imparts too great an impact on the foot, and it has to be absorbed by the rest of the leg and body. The best surface is somewhere between these extremes. Maybe the compacted gravel is hard for you where it might not be for someone else.

Now to the shin splint story. It is a vague term. It can mean minute fractures in the leg bone itself. That is actually felt as pain along the inside of the legs. Pain on the outer parts of the legs points to compartmental syndrome. Leg muscles on the outside of the leg are encased in sheathings of tough tissue. If fluid accumulates inside a sheathing compartment it can squeeze the muscle and cause pain.

No matter where your leg is or what is causing it, you have to look to your running environmental and equipment if you're having leg pains. Are your shoes proper and in good shape? Wornout shoes can lack proper support and start to give pain.

Often, the surface being run on is not as important as the topography of the course. Running uphill is a particular source of leg pain for many. Proper warm-ups and stretching leg muscles will eliminate much leg pain from running.

So you have many approaches to easing your leg problem — surface texture, topography, equipment, proper warm-ups and stretches, etc. Among the "etc." category, include running style. In long-distance running, the heel strikes the surface first.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What do you think of mini-trampolines as a method of developing fitness? I bought one, but am not sure it is giving me benefits. — L.A.

Some exercise experts share your doubts. They say you can get some benefits early in a fitness program from trampoline use, but the law of diminishing returns takes over soon.

The reason progress levels off is that you cannot develop the intensity of exercise with mini-trampolines. If you tell me what your pulse level gets to during your exercise, along with some other statistics about yourself, I might be able to comment on the effectiveness of your trampoline program.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I'm counting calories, both kinds (food intake and exercise output). My exercise is fun — my tennis. I am not getting overly scientific about it all, but I would like to know this: How many more calories do you expend in playing singles as opposed to playing in a doubles situation? — J.P.L.

If you weigh about 150 pounds you lose 450 calories in an hour of singles tennis. If you play an hour of doubles you lose only 312. I'm leaving the arithmetic to you.

Millions of out-of-shape men and women desire fitness, but shy away from formal programs because they think it's all too complicated and difficult. Dr. Donohue's newest booklet, "Introduction to Fitness," puts the esoteric terminology of aerobics into plain language and offers a fitness program anyone, regardless of age, can adapt.

Colonial Dames place second

The Colonial Dames of the 17th Century met at the Big Spring Country Club recently.

Mrs. Jack Lipscombe presided. Mrs. A.A. Kelly reported on the state meeting held in Abilene. The chapter placed second in the press book award for the state of Texas.

A discussion was held on national defense concerning the Philippines and Nicaragua. The state society is offering a medical scholarship through the Pocohantas Project Fund to those of North American descent. For information concerning the scholarship contact Mrs. A.A. Kelly at 267-7885. The state society also offers a $500 scholarship at the Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches.

Mrs. C.G. Barnett will represent the chapter at the national convention in Washington D.C. in April.

The chapter charter will be hung at the Howard County Library. Next meeting will be June 10.

TRAVEL TALK

COMFORT ABOARD SHIP
There are other things to consider when picking a cruise ship besides the age of the vessel. Size, for example, plays an important role in shaping the character of the ship and your enjoyment of the cruise. Of course, itineraries or destinations are often deciding factors in how large or small a ship can be. More important than size itself, however, is the ship's passenger/pace ratio. This figure provides an indication of how much public space there is per passenger. It often gives a more accurate idea of the ship's comfort index than does its overall length or number of public rooms. A rough idea of a vessel's passenger/pace ratio can be obtained by dividing the gross registered tonnage by the number of passengers carried.

How about a cruise? Let the staff of BIG SPRING TRAVEL, 608 Scurry, help you find your own Love Boat that will provide the fun, excitement and entertainment you've been dreaming of. Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The day and evening bring a restlessness which can easily make you discontent unless you keep your thoughts on a cheerful and constructive level.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study into what it is that is keeping you from being successful in your undertakings. Improve your methods of operating.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get busy with practical affairs in the morning; persevere if you want to get fine results. Don't worry if a friend acts peculiarly today.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be very precise in handling all your interests in the business world and then all works out fine for you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Study every phase of that new outlet that appeals so much to you and later you can turn it into profit-making income.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You feel that you have so much work to do that you cannot handle important personal matters, so handle only the most vital duties.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Continue conversations with an interesting partner until you reach perfect understanding with this person.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't get into an argument with a fellow worker who is full of ire in the morning. Try to be with logical and industrious persons.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan for recreations you have not enjoyed for some time and arrange them wisely. Stop playing tricks with others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make new contacts from whom you can learn a great deal, even if they are not straight shooters like you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Put your ideas across to those who are important to your welfare, and impress them wisely. Be happy at home tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get in touch with friends with whom you want to join for some recreation; but first make sure you can afford it.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Know what it is that family desires and go along with their ideas, and you will have more accord at home now.

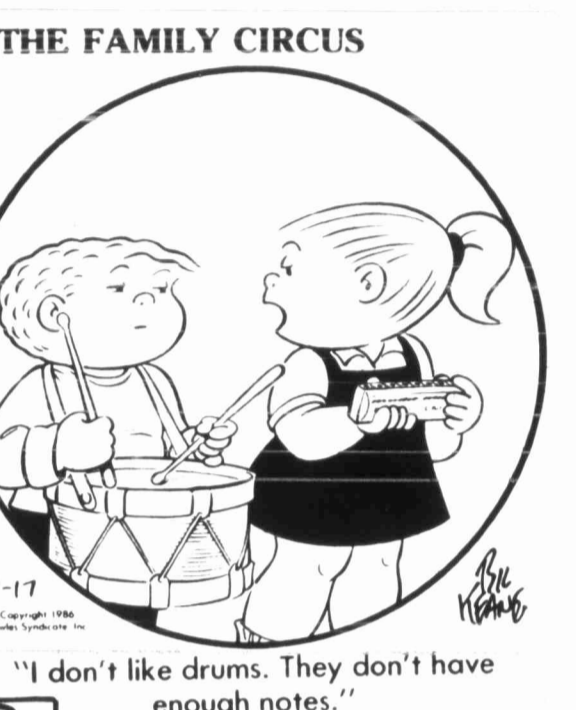

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have every ability to understand the needs and troubles of others and should make use of this fine capability. Teach to be more objective, otherwise a martyr complex could easily develop. One who will need a happy home life for best results throughout the lifetime.

Navy, Iowa State crash NCAA 'Sweet Sixteen'

Cleveland St. tops Cinderella East

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A year ago Navy's David Robinson was considering a transfer to a big-time college basketball program, and Ken "Mouse" McFadden was waiting for his high school diploma and painting houses.

Robinson stayed at the Naval Academy. McFadden earned his diploma and got into Cleveland State. And, each played key roles on Sunday in making their teams the unlikely survivors for next Friday's NCAA semifinal at East Rutherford, N.J.

Top-ranked and top-seeded Duke and DePaul, winners on Saturday at Greensboro, N.C., meet in other East semifinal.

Navy, ranked 17th nationally and seeded seventh in the East, got 35 points from Robinson, a 6-foot-11 junior, in beating Syracuse 97-85 before a stunned crowd of 21,713 at the Carrier Dome on the Syracuse University campus.

McFadden, a 21-year-old freshman guard, scored 23 points in helping upstart Cleveland State, the No. 14 seed in the East over St. Joseph's, the sixth seed, 75-69.

Cleveland State Coach Kevin Mackey realizes his overachieving front line, which ranges from 6-5 to 6-9 may have a difficult time matching up against Robinson and his inside partner, 6-7 Vernon Butler.

"If he (Robinson) were coming out (for the NBA draft), he'd be the No. 1 pick in the country," Mackey said, "but we play with aggressiveness."

Robinson scored 26 of his points, including 16 of 19 from the free-throw line after intermission when the Middies led 32-31. A 61 percent free throw shooter, Robinson hit 21 of 27 for the game and Navy converted 41 of 52 free throws.

Navy Coach Paul Evans said of Robinson's foul shooting, "He's made them when we've had to have them."

"Before (in the first half) I played with too much finesse," said Robinson, who slammed in most of his seven field goals in 13 attempts. "I just decided to take it to them."

Rony Seikaly, Syracuse's 6-10 sophomore center, was among the four Orangemen who fouled out.

Robinson, the nation's leading rebounder and shot blocker, had nine rebounds and seven blocks. He scored 14 points during an 18-7 Navy run that snapped a 39-39 tie and broke the game open midway through the second half.

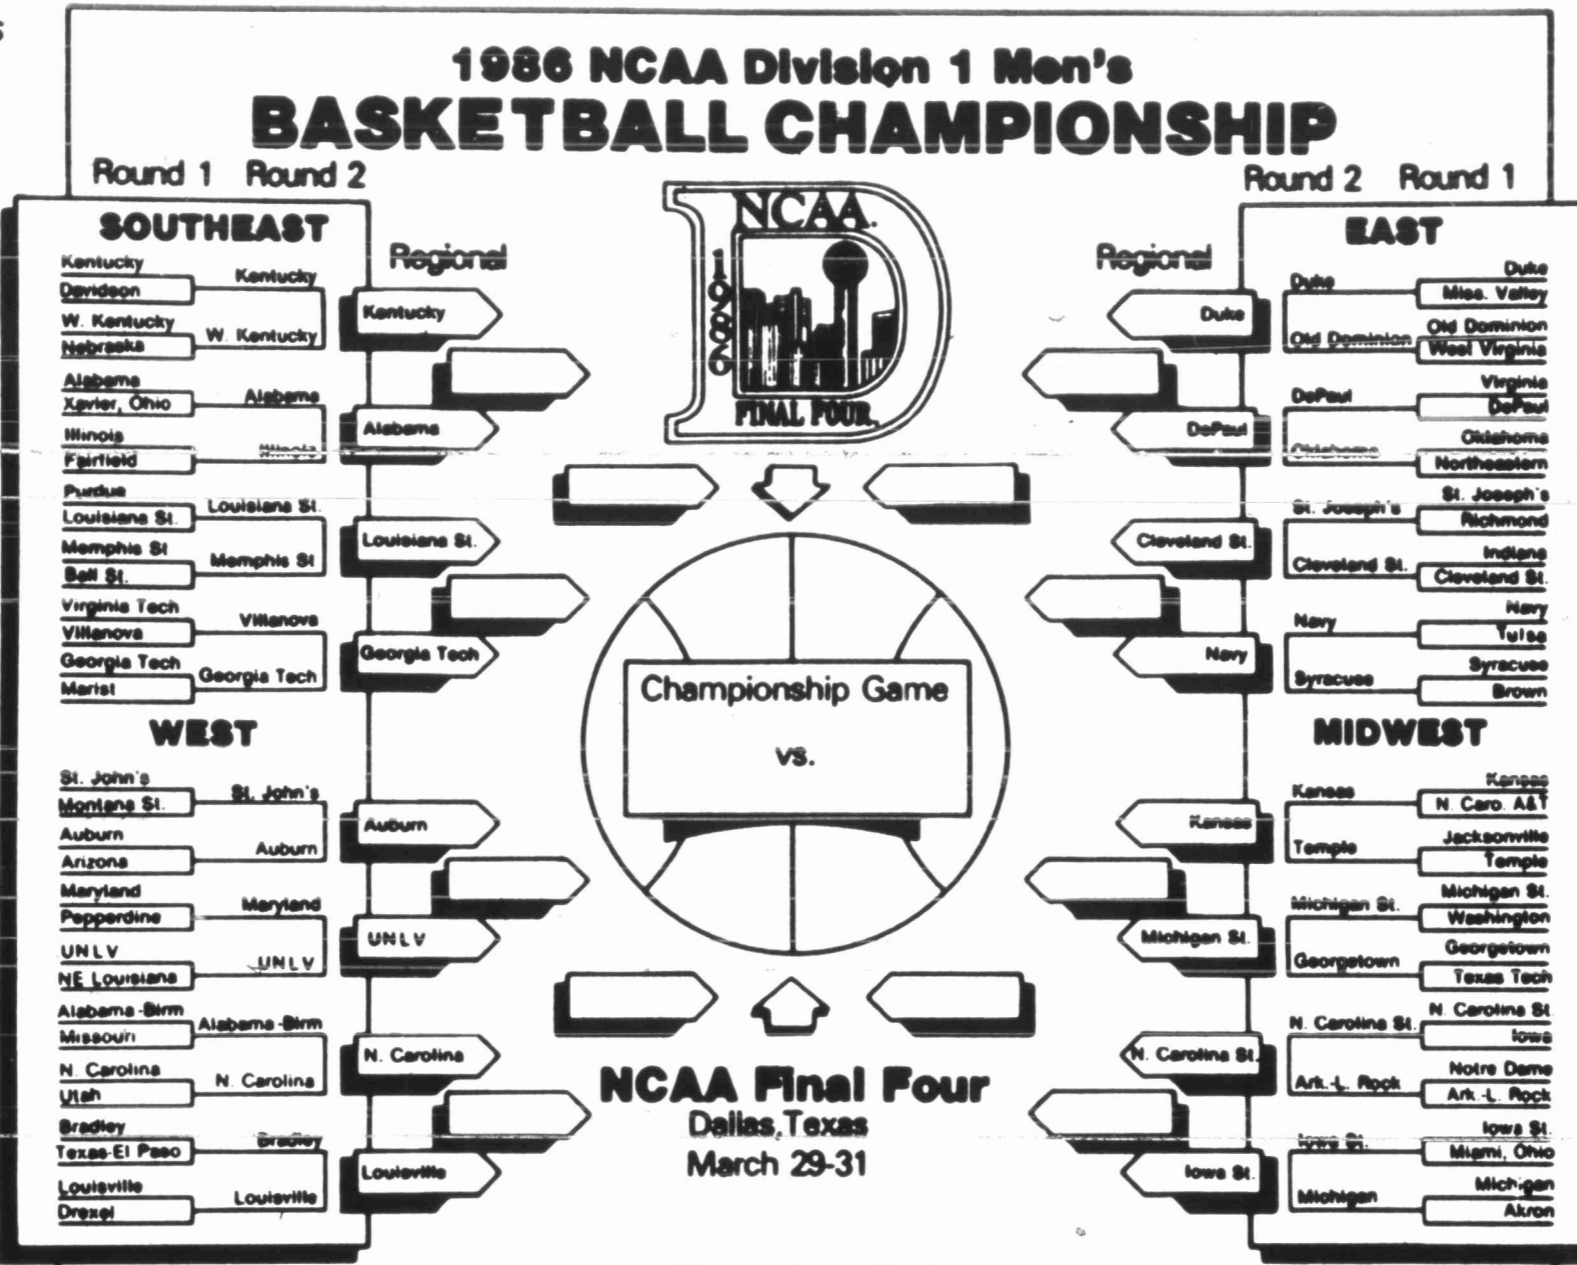

Syracuse Coach Jim Boeheim, whose team defeated Navy 89-67 here in December, felt the key to the game was Butler working inside for 23 points while the Syracuse defenders were busy trying to stop Robinson.

"Free throws were not a factor," said Boeheim, whose Big East power finished at 26-6. "We had to foul."

Junior guard Dwayne "Pearl" Washington led the Orange with 28 points.

Cleveland State also got 17 points from Clinton Ransey and 16 points and 15 rebounds from Clinton Smith.

"That's for all you doubters," said McFadden, who was discovered by Mackey playing AAU ball in New York City. "All you people who give everybody else the pub (publicity)."

Cyclones stun Midwest 2nd seed

MINNEAPOLIS — Jonny Orr and Bill Frieder worked on the same bench for seven years. They were on opposite ends of the court Sunday and Orr's Cyclones prevailed over Frieder's Wolverines.

Orr has been coaching on the collegiate level for 21 years and has registered 339 victories but he called Sunday's 72-69 victory over the fifth-ranked Wolverines in the second round of the NCAA Midwest regional tournament "my biggest."

"It has to be my biggest victory. Ever," said Orr, who was head coach of the Wolverines for 12 years. "I took a program that didn't do anything six years ago. Everyone thought I was crazy."

"If I had to lose I couldn't lose to a better guy," said Frieder, who was Orr's assistant from 1973 until taking over the program when Orr went to Iowa State. "I love Johnny Orr."

Both coaches agreed that Iowa State's quickness advantage won the game for the Cyclones.

Michigan, 28-5, lost in the second round for the second straight year. Last year, the Wolverines lost to Villanova, which went on to win the NCAA championship.

The Cyclones got 16 points Jeff Grayer and 14 points from Ron Virgil to build an 11-point lead and then hung on to upset Michigan, which Orr coached to a Final Four appearance in 1976 before leaving to coach Iowa State in 1980.

Jeff Grayer scored 16 points and Ron Virgil added 14 as Iowa State built an 11-point lead and held off a second-half Michigan rally. The triumph was a sweet one for Orr, who coached Michigan to a Final Four appearance in 1976 when current Wolverine Coach Bill Frieder was his assistant.

"It has to be my biggest victory — ever," said Orr. "I took a program (Iowa State) that didn't do anything six years ago. Everyone thought I was crazy. I feel sorry for Bill. I would have rather not played him."

"If I had to lose, I couldn't lose to a better guy," said Frieder. "I love Johnny Orr."

Iowa State led 46-35 with 16:17 to play but Roy Tarpley scored 14 of his 25 points in the last 16 minutes to pull Michigan within one point on two occasions. Elmer Robinson's dunk and six free throws down the stretch clinched the victory.

N.C. State 90, UALR 66
Arkansas-Little Rock made a strong try for another upset. But N.C. State's Ernie Myers scored all six of his points — including the go-ahead 15-foot jump shot with 3:03 left — in the second overtime and Bennie Bolton got all but one of his 24 points after halftime.

Myron Jackson, who scored 15 of his 23 points in the first half and the rest after overtime began, gave UALR a 61-56 lead just 29 seconds into the first overtime. But Bolton made four free throws, a layup and a 15-footer with 27 seconds to go to send the game into a second overtime. The Wolfpack scored the last 14 points after a 66-66 tie.

"The thing I love about Bennie Bolton is that he wants the basketball," N.C. State Coach Jim Valvano said. "He carried us in the overtime periods. One thing I felt this team was lacking was a player to say, 'Give me the rock when the game's on the line.' Maybe we've found one in this tournament."

Auburn ousts Redmen

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Although Chuck Person is ranked that he wasn't an All-American this season, he's still playing in NCAA basketball tournament while the more heralded Len Bias and Walter Berry are headed home.

Person, on a personal mission to prove his abilities, personally disposed of Berry and No. 4 St. John's with 27 points and 15 rebounds as Auburn eliminated the West Regional's top seeded Redmen 81-65.

Then 11th-ranked Nevada-Las Vegas overcame Bias' 31 points to beat Maryland 70-64 and advance to a meeting with Person and Auburn at the Western Regional in Houston on Thursday. Anthony Jones, held without a field goal for the first 15½ minutes, paced the Runnin' Rebels with 25 points.

West

So contrast Person's elation with the mood of Bias, who made the All-America teams the Auburn star didn't.

"As I stated coming in, I was very disappointed at not making any All-American teams," he said. "It was very emotional for me. I don't think there's any doubt now I can play with the best. I'm not bragging but that's the way I feel."

"We just lost and it's the end of my college career," Bias said after he almost single-handedly pulled out a Maryland victory by scoring his team's final 11 points and cut a seven-point deficit with 2:25 left to one point with 40 seconds remaining.

"How would you feel if it were you?" said Bias. "Put yourself in my place. We're all human, we all feel the same when we lose."

It never got that close for Berry, an All-American as a junior who says he'll skip the NBA draft and return next year.

Despite his 16 first-half points, the burlier Tigers pounded St. John's on the boards, running off streaks of nine and eight consecutive points en route to a 44-32 halftime lead.

The closest the Redmen could come in the second half was eight points as the Tigers triple teamed Berry, holding him to just four second-half points while allowing John Hempel and Ron Rowan to shoot from the outside.

"I doubt if we can play better than this," said Auburn Coach Sonny Smith, whose team shot 53 percent and outrebounded St. John's 38-22 as it improved to 21-10.

"I think we have tremendous athletes who are capable of beating anyone in the country if we shoot well outside," Smith said. "When we don't shoot well outside, we're something short of awful."

The best of those athletes is Person, almost sure to be a high selection in the NBA draft.

"He plays a great game almost every night," Smith said. "Somebody said he's been pretty inconsistent. If that's inconsistent, I'd like to see consistency. His inconsistency has me sitting on this chair right now."

Alabama nips Illinois

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Illinois coach Lou Henson said there was no doubt in his mind that Terry Coner walked before hitting a 12-footer with one second remaining to give Alabama a 58-56 victory over his Fighting Illini Sunday.

"I didn't know if I walked," Coner said after giving the Crimson Tide a victory in the second round of the Southeast regional basketball tournament.

"I really couldn't tell because I was in the act of shooting," Coner said. "It was set up for anyone to take the last shot with four seconds left. I didn't see anyone open, so I just took the last one."

The Crimson Tide, which had blown a 13-point lead in the first half, got their shot at victory after Buck Johnson blocked a short baseline attempt by Illinois' E'frem walked). There's no doubt about it."

Henson didn't belittle Coner's driving jumper in the lane that tied the score with 56 seconds left.

It was the fifth victory in the last six games for Alabama, 24-8. The Fighting Illini closed their season 22-10.

Kentucky 71, Western Kentucky 64

All-American Kenny Walker scored 32 points on 11-for-11 shooting and Kentucky survived a late charge for its 13th consecutive victory. The Wildcats' 54-38 lead dwindled to 63-59 on Fred Tisdale's layup with 3:55 to play. Western Kentucky, getting only its second shot ever at its intrastate neighbor, could never get closer. Kannard Johnson led Western with 20 points.

"Don't give me all the credit," said Walker. "Roger Harden and the other guys were able to deliver the ball to me for those points."

Kentucky had to survive a strong comeback bid by the Hilltoppers to secure the victory.

The Wildcats saw a 16-point lead with just under 11 minutes remaining dwindle to 63-59 on Fred Tisdale's layup with 2:55 to play. Western Kentucky, getting only its second chance in school history at its neighbor 120 miles to the northeast, could never get closer.

"In the second half, I didn't coach as well, wasn't as aggressive," Kentucky coach Eddie Sutton said after his team has surged to a 36-24 lead by scoring the final 10 points of the half.

Southeast

Winters with 26 seconds to play.

Alabama called a timeout with 19 seconds left to play and Coners held the ball at midcourt until starting his move with nine seconds left, taking Illinois defensive ace Bruce Douglas into the lane before hitting the game-winner.

"For three of the last five years this team has been in the final 16, and to me that's a heck of an accomplishment," Alabama head coach Wimp Sanderson said of his Crimson Tide.

"I think the officials know they missed the traveling violation," Henson said. "No question (that he

Big Spring netters place high in Carlsbad

CARLSBAD, New Mexico — The Big Spring High School varsity tennis team had to get out of state to get some respect, but it was well worth trouble as the Steer boys placed second and the Steer girls placed third in the 6th Annual Carlsbad Team Tennis Invitational held Friday and Saturday.

"It was good for the kids to get away from playing the usual teams in Odessa, Midland and Abilene," said Steer head coach John Strahl. "We didn't know anything about most of these teams, so the kids came in loose and confident and played with a much better mental attitude. It was definitely our best performance of the year."

Leading the way for the boys was fourth seed Quade Weaver who won the division 4 singles competition. Taff Wennick placed second in the division 5 singles. Big Spring got a pair of third place finishes from Charlie Bott in the division 3 singles and Binky Tubbs in the division 6 singles. Jeff Needles placed fourth in division 2 singles to round out the Steer singles competition on Friday.

On Saturday, Coots and Wennick teamed to win the division 2 doubles. Weaver and Tubbs placed second in the division 3 doubles and Needles and Bott placed third in the division 1 doubles competition.

The Steers finished with 44 points in the tournament for second place out of eight teams.

The Lady Steers were led by Amber Logback's first place finish in the division 5 singles competition and Kendra Madry's winning effort in the Division 4 singles.

The Lady Steers also had three fourth place finishes in the singles competition with Angie Wilson in division 1, Stacy Parks in division 3 and Shawna Richardson in division 6. Laura Cunningham finished fifth in division 2.

Wilson and Madry teamed for a third place in the division 1 double play. Cunningham and Parks placed sixth in division 2 double play. Logback and Richardson rounded out the Lady Steers effort with a sixth place finish in division 3 doubles.

Girls team finished with 31 points for third place.

UH football players received money

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston will conduct an independent, outside investigation into allegations that former Cougars football players received thousands of dollars in cash and were allowed to remain in school despite being on athletic suspension, the school's sports information director Jay Goldberg said.

"We are (going to investigate) and that's all we're going to comment on right now," Goldberg told The Associated Press on Sunday.

The Houston Post reported the allegations, all in violation of NCAA regulations, in weekend copyright stories. UH Athletic Director Tom Ford also said the school's Intercollegiate Athletic Council would be convened to consider the matter.

Two former wide receivers — David Roberson and Lonell Phea — who played in the late 1970s and early 1980s have signed affidavits stating they received more than $26,000 between them, including some from head Coach Bill Yeoman and his assistants, over a four-year period. The Post reported on Saturday.

The newspapers also said six other players who played in the early 1980s confirmed reports of cash disbursements to players.

Yeoman declined to comment on the claims and referred all questions to Ford.

Runnels thinclads win Lamesa track meet

LAMESA — Runnels Junior high used two winning relays efforts and Chris Cole's 31 points to win the team title at the Lamesa Junior High Relays Friday afternoon.

Cole was the meet's high-point man with individual victories in the shot put (45-1) and the 100 meter dash (11.99) and a sixth place finish in the long jump (17-1). Cole also anchored both the winning 400 meter relay and the 1600 meter relay teams.

Joining Cole on the winning sprint relay squad were Terry Sanders, Juan Hagen and Mike Hilario who combined for a 47.56 time. Cole, Hilario and Hagen joined James McMillian in the winning mile relay effort of 3:55.44

Other individual winners for Runnels included Peter Busky's 127-4" effort in the discus. Juan Hagen placed second with a throw of 125-4" and Junior Carrillo placed fourth at 102-2". Busky also tied for second in the shot put with a 40-3" heave.

Terry Sanders won the 200 meter dash in a time of 26.70. Sanders also placed fourth in the 100 meter dash with a time of 12.34. Robert Haro was fifth in the 100 meters in 12.83 and fourth in the 200 meter dash in 26.78. Martin Yanez placed fifth in the 200 meters at 26.92

James McMillian set a new meet record of 57.49 in the 400 meter run. Hagen placed third in a time of 59.66.

Chris Minter took the honors in the 1600 meter run with a time of 5:28.26 and third placed in the 800 meter run in 2:26.06. Jean Poulette finished sixth in the 1600 meters in 6:00.35.

Mike Hilario tied for first while setting a new meet record of 16.34 in the 100 meter low hurdles. Rye Bavin finished third in the race at 17.95.

Runnels racked up a total of 155 points for the team title. Andrews was second with 117, Lamesa third with 104 and Snyder fourth with 78.

Hogs take record third indoor title

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Track Writer
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Led by brilliant sophomore Roddie Haley, the first runner to break one minute in the 500-meter race, and distance runner Paul Donovan, the University of Arkansas men captured a record-tying third consecutive title in the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships Saturday.

The sensational 21-year-old Haley, from Texarkana, Texas, broke the world indoor best in the 500 for the second consecutive night, clocking 59.82 seconds — the first sub-one minute time in history.

Friday night, Haley, the 1985 NCAA outdoor 400-meter champion, had run 1:00.69 in the heats.

Saturday night, he led all the way against a crack field, including Villanova's Edwin Modibedi, who also ran under the old world indoor best, clocking 1:00.24.

"If he (Haley) has one great quality, it's his competitive spirit," Arkansas Coach John McDonnell said. "He keeps on breaking those records. He's just a terrific athlete and a terrific competitor."

Haley certainly doesn't lack for confidence.

After his race Friday, he said, "I think I can win it (the final). I always think I can win."

He added, "I don't take the 500 seriously, but I'm beginning to like it. I think I can run a minute even. I'll try to do it tomorrow (Saturday)."

It was the third time Haley has run the 500 this year — and the third time he had smashed the world indoor best.

"I still had some more left," he said. "I didn't use it all."

Then he said, "Coming into the last turn, another runner was coming on my right shoulder. When I came into the stretch, I put the hammer down. I was thinking, 'Run like a madman.'"

Buoyed by Haley's remarkable performance, and victories by Donovan in the 3,000-meter race and the 3,200-meter relay team, with a startling comeback by Donovan on the final leg, the Razorbacks amassed 49 points in the two-day meet at The Myriad.

Arkansas is the second school to win three straight NCAA indoor titles, joining Texas-El Paso, which did it twice, from 1974-76 and 1980-82.

Villanova was second with 22 points, and Georgetown and Boston University tied for third with 20 apiece.

Alabama was a surprise winner of the women's championship, capturing its first indoor crown with a total of 41 points.

Favored Texas finished second with 31, and Southern California and Tennessee tied for third with 26 each.

Donovan, a senior who won the NCAA indoor 1,500-meter title last year, took the 3,000 this year in 7:54.60, after coming from third place around the final turn to give the Razorbacks the victory in the 3,200-meter relay in 7:20.72.

In that closing drive in the relay, Donovan passed Georgetown's Miles Irish and Notre Dame's Jim Tyler, with a surprising kick for a long distance runner.

"After what Paul did today, I'm making him my hero," said freshman Wayne Moncrieffe, who ran the third leg on the relay.

Donovan's victory in the 3,000 clinched the title for Arkansas.

"The fat lady has just sung," McDonnell said after Donovan's pivotal triumph. "It's over."

The Razorbacks' other points, based on a 10-8-6-4-2-1 scoring system, came from Doug Consiglio's second-place finish in the 1,000 meters, Gary Taylor's third in the mile, Bill Jasinski's tie for third in the high jump, and Marty Kobza's fifth in the shot put.

Sophomore sprinter Roddie Haley helped Arkansas capture its third straight NCAA Indoor Track Title Saturday in Oklahoma City with a world record victory in the 500 meter dash.

★ POSTAL EXAM ★
EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY
Clerk-Carrier ($9.48 hr)

The Big Spring, Midland, Odessa and Andrews Post Office will be accepting applications for the Clerk-Carrier exam March 17 thru April 2.

The Clerk-Carrier position currently pays $9.48 per hour plus excellent benefits. Serious postal candidates should begin preparing now because people are hired for these positions based on their exam score. You should not miss your chance to fill one of these highly desirable jobs.

POSTAL EXAM WORKSHOP
ADVANTAGES OF ATTENDING

- The Postal Exam Preparation Center offers — the original postal exam workshop. We have set the standards for over 5 years. Unlike many other postal preparation companies that have recently come on the scene, our methods were not created overnight.
- Our founder, Stephen McNally, is the foremost authority in America on gaining postal employment. His credentials are matches. Mr. McNally is a former postal employee, current Ph.D. in Education, author of 4 postal study guides, and has averaged 100% of the various postal exams.
- Over 200,000 satisfied postal candidates have used Mr. McNally's methods. Most of these people were: a) seeking a higher paying job, b) desiring a secure future, c) currently unemployed. If you are in one of these categories you must attend this workshop.
- Over a two year period 80% of the Clerk-Carriers hired in one city used Mr. McNally's methods. Our former office manager currently works for the Post Office, and the current office manager and her assistant both scored 100% on their first CC exam in the summer of '85!

"This workshop was well worth my time and money. Using Mr. McNally's techniques allowed me to score 100% on my first 3 Clerk-Carrier exams!"
K.A., Summerfield, IL

- We are the oldest, most reputable and the only Postal Exam preparation organization with documented proof that our methods are effective.
- THE EXCLUSIVE PEPC DOUBLE GUARANTEE: 1. At the end of the workshop, if you do not think these methods will significantly increase your score, your money will be refunded. 2. You will enter into a written contract guaranteeing you a score of 95% or higher or your tuition will be completely refunded.

WORKSHOP TUITION IS $35.00. Payable in cash, Visa, MasterCard or personal check. This fee includes the 2 1/2 hour workshop, the textbook Clerk-Carrier which includes 3 complete tests, diagnostic practice exercises, tips to make you testwise and 10 additional practice tests.

Abdul-Jabbar cuts Twins Towers to size

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Basketball Writer Kareem Abdul-Jabbar continues to cut the Houston's Twin Towers down to size.

Abdul-Jabbar hit 16 of 24 shots and scored 43 points Sunday night, nearly matching the combined total of Ralph Sampson and Akeme Olajuwon as the Los Angeles Lakers won their eighth consecutive game, a 116-111 decision over the Rockets. Sampson had 27 points and Olajuwon 21 for Houston.

Abdul-Jabbar, who turns 39 next month, scored 46 points to lead the Lakers to a 117-95 victory at Houston on Feb. 6. That was his second-highest single-game total since November 1975 and two points less than the most he's ever had in a Lakers' uniform. "I don't have any explanation of why he does so well against the Rockets," Lakers Coach Pat Riley said. "He works hard and we go in to him. He works real hard every night and I don't think people give him the credit he deserves. He always seems to come through when we need him, even with guys leaning all over him."

"I think we did a better job on Kareem than we did last time when he scored 46," Rockets Coach Bill Fitch said. "We forced some turners in there and turned them in- to fast-break baskets. Kareem did not beat us tonight. They beat us with layups. I'm not unhappy the way we played Kareem."

In other games, it was Boston 118, Philadelphia 101; Portland 119, Detroit 109; Denver 119, Sacramento 113; Golden State 130, Phoenix 112; and Seattle 129, San Antonio 115.

Abdul-Jabbar said the Rockets are playing him differently this season than in the past.

"They tried to double-team me all night," he said. "I guess it's the way we match up, but it just seems that we get the ball inside a lot. I don't know what else it could be, except Sampson tries to steal the pass and when he misses I score."

Earvin "Magic" Johnson added 19 points, 12 assists and 12 rebounds for the Lakers, while James Worthy added 17 and Byron Scott 16.

The game was close throughout. The Rockets trailed by four points at halftime, but tied the score at 64-64 with 10 minutes remaining in the third quarter, only to see the Lakers outscore them 25-15 and take an 89-79 lead into the final quarter.

Houston cut the deficit to a point on two occasions, at 92-91 and 94-93, before the Lakers pulled ahead 104-98. The Rockets scored the next two baskets to trail 104-102, but Abdul-Jabbar put in a skyhook to stifle the comeback.

Celtics 118, 76ers 101 Larry Bird had 36 points and 14 rebounds and guards Dennis Johnson and Danny Ainge scored six points each during a 20-7 third-quarter surge that lifted Boston over Philadelphia.

The victory was the 20th straight at home for the Celtics, one short of the team record set during the 1980-81 season.

Johnson had just four points and Ainge none in the first half, but they led the way during a decisive six-minute stretch that turned a 59-57 edge into a 79-64 Boston lead late in the third quarter. The Celtics led by at least 10 points the rest of the way.

The victory snapped a four-game winning streak for the 76ers, who were led by Moses Malone with 18 points.

Trail Blazers 119, Pistons 109 Kiki Vandeweghe scored 35 points and Portland broke away from Detroit in the second period.

The Pistons, who got 26 points from Isiah Thomas, led just once in the game, at 42-41, with 2:10 left in the first half. By halftime, however, the Trail Blazers led 54-46, and they outscored Detroit 34-25 in the third period to lead 88-71.

Clyde Drexler added 23 points and Jim Paxson 22 for Portland.

Nuggets 119, Kings 113 NBA scoring leader Alex English scored 36 points, including the first seven during a decisive 23-11 streak in the fourth quarter that lifted Denver over Sacramento.

The Kings, who got 29 points from Eddie Johnson, trailed only 90-89 early in the fourth period, but English sparked the run that made it 113-100 with 3:40 to play.
