Reagan pushes aid to Contras

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — President Reagan said today a new Nicaraguan offensive against rebels in Honduras was "a slap in the face" to House members who last week rejected his aid plan in hopes Nicaragua would see the action as an attempt at reconciliation.

He charged the leftist Sandinista government had lied when it denied crossing the border in what Reagan called an invasion of Honduran territory.

Meanwhile, the Senate today rejected a blanket ban on aid for the Contra rebels fighting Nicaragua's leftist government.

The Senate voted down, 74-24, a proposal by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that would have forbidden U.S. assistance and thus would have effectively scuttled President Reagan's proposed package of $100 million in aid to the rebels.

Reagan's remarks were in a speech prepared for a GOP fundraising luncheon in New Orleans, his first public appearance since the United States engaged Libyan forces in the disputed Gulf of Sidra and rushed emergency military aid to Honduras to repel the reported Nicaraguan attacks.

Reagan offered a rationale for the U.S. Navy's crossing into waters claimed by Libya and for his proposal to supply the Nicaraguan Contra rebels.

"Militaristic states perceive unilateral concessions as a sign of weakness, not good faith," Reagan said. "Serious negotiations flow not from proving sincerity but from resolve and leverage."

He quoted a House member, whom he did not name, as saying after the aid proposal was defeated last week. "I hope the Sandinistas

Chamber works on rules to iron out differences

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

New procedures were initiated Wednesday for the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce in an attempt to settle internal disputes.

Chamber members, officials and staff attended an informal meeting at noon Wednesday to try to work out the problems.

"I feel good. We've got a definite understanding" of what the problems are, said member Bill Nehls.

The group agreed committee chairmen must come before the executive committee and make written requests for funds. The request should include what the committee wants the funds for, if they will be repaid, and if the committee wants to earmark any profits for a specific purpose, said chamber president John Arrick. The executive committee must then vote on the matter.

"If the board says 'yes,' these funds are earmarked, then they are," he said.

Even if a committee does not need chamber funds for a project, they still must get approval to earmark use of the profits, he said.

But Nehls said this morning the issue of who has final authority over committee-generated funds has not yet been resolved.

The retail sales committee is waiting for the board's response, he said.

It was also suggested communication could be improved if vice presidents meet with chairmen about a week prior to the executive committee meeting to discuss committee activities.

The meeting was held as the result of committee members complaints when the executive board put into the general fund money they thought was earmarked for a

Speeders warned of DPS operation

Beware to those driving Interstate 20 today. If you violate a traffic law, you'll probably get nabbed.

Operation Plain-View II is being conducted on Interstate 20 in the Abilene district of the Department of Public Safety until midnight tonight, says Major Dudley Thomas, regional commander of the Department of Public Safety's 49-county West Texas Region.

The enforcement operation is a program designed to make DPS officers highly visible by having a DPS unit located about every 10 miles along the highway, Thomas said.

"Officers will be looking for all violations of the traffic laws with special emphasis given to the speed limit, following too closely, seat belt violations and driving while intoxicated," Dudley said.

He said the 158-uniformed personnel utilizing a fleet of 130 marked enforcement vehicles and 28 unmarked units will give special attention to commercial vehicle violations.

The DPS conducted its initial Operation Plainview on Dec. 19 on I-20 from the Mitchell-Howard County line east of Big Spring to the intersection of I-20 and I-10 in Reeves County. The patrol effort continued west on I-10 to the New Mexico state line for a total of 325 miles.

The nine-hour patrol effort conducted by 78 officers resulted in 760 citations issued to speeders, 10 citations for following too closely, 17 citations for seat belt violations, one driving while intoxicated arrest, three fugitive apprehensions, 95 arrests for other violations, and recovery of one stolen vehicle.

Car wash to rally for rain

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

Something besides farm prices needs to come down if there's any hope this year of sweetening an area farm economy gone sour.

Rain needs to fall, and needs to fall soon.

Through the ages man has encouraged rain — from tribal dances to cloud seeding — but with only spotty results. Modern man, however, has stumbled on a ritual that rivals the best rain-maker the ancients had to offer: He washes his car.

Toward that end and out of a sincere desire to show area farmers that people in and around Big Spring recognize and care about their plight, "Rain Aid" is coming Saturday to the downtown area.

"Rain Aid," the brainchild of Big Springer Jimmy Campbell, will be held 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday on Main Street between Third and Fourth streets.

The event will feature car and tractor washes, live entertainment and food stands. Also, the festival will provide a platform for local political candidates to address issues. State Representative Larry Don Shaw will kick-off "Rain Aid."

Sketch by Jay Phinney

"I think people are in need of something good right now," says the 25-year-old Campbell. "I don't know if this is it, but it could be."

"Rain Aid" was hatched when rain drops began splattering on his car as he washed it and a story on slumping gross sales in Big Spring got him to thinking about what he could do to help both local farmers and the city, he said.

"Big Spring is a farming community," he said. "And I knew there wasn't a lot I could do financially."

Then, he said, he got to thinking "if it rains, the crops will be good and the city will prosper."

And rain it must. Already, about 125 local cattle raisers have shared the burden of a malingering dryness. So far this year, just one-third inch of rain has fallen on the Spring City. Average rainfall for this time of year is nearly two inches.

Winter foraging crops have taken a beating, forcing most cattlemen to buy feed, said Assistant County Extension Agent Mike Bragg.

"We've already lost a lot of feed value based on grazing in January, March and February," he said. "And it looks like we're not going to have much yield, either," he said.

Bragg said area pastures are practically barren and the moisture to germinate the seed for spring grass is questionable.

The problems brought on by the weather, he said, will cause a lot of cattle raisers to sell their stock to a depressed market, taking a loss.

U.S. to end maneuvers in Gulf of Sidra

A Soviet-built Nanuchka-2 class vessel hit by a U.S. Navy missile in the Gulf of Sidra early Tuesday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. naval operations in the Gulf of Sidra will end this morning, but the three-carrier battle group will remain nearby in the central Mediterranean Sea for some days yet, Pentagon officials said.

Maj. Fred Lash, a Pentagon spokesman, confirmed the conclusion of the exercises in a brief statement.

"The exercise by the 6th Fleet in the Gulf of Sidra is ending today." He would not be more specific.

Pentagon officials who demanded anonymity, however, said the last flight operations over the disputed gulf would be concluded by 10 a.m. EST, assuming there were no more military challenges by Libya.

The sources said three U.S. combat ships now inside the gulf would also move to the north of Libyan strongman Moammar Khadafy's "line of death" by that time.

The sources said the level of U.S. flight activity over the gulf had been decreasing for several hours, but added that as of 8:30 a.m. EST, there were still some Navy jets flying in the area.

The sources also stressed that the three carriers and more than two dozen other combat vessels would remain in the central Mediterranean to the north of Libya for several days.

One source explained the ships and planes of the 6th Fleet would remain at "stand-by stations" outside the Tripoli flight-control region at least through Saturday and probably longer.

"They're not steaming for port," the source said. "They're just leaving the gulf."

The sources added that no additional exercises or flight operations were being contemplated at the moment, even though the United States had initially indicated maneuvers might last until April 1.

Robert Sims, the Pentagon's chief spokesman, declined this morning to offer any details about the decision to withdraw from the gulf in advance of a briefing later in the day.

The Pentagon sources began signaling on Wednesday that the exercise was about to end.

SUNDANCE, Utah — Actor Robert Redford and number of other residents of the scenic mountain pass called Provo Canyon have joined forces in a bid to seek a ban on truck traffic through the area.

About 40 residents turned out for a meeting Tuesday at Redford's Sundance ski area, including Lhomo and Barbara Jones, whose daughter, son-in-law and three grandchildren were killed in a traffic accident in the canyon recently.

Redford, 49, a longtime Utah resident, said he was pleased to see the issue being confronted and glad to lend his support.

"It's clearly a concern to us here at Sundance, not only for our children's inheritance, but for the safety of the residents in the canyon," he said.

SAO PAULO, Brazil — Britain's Princess Anne toured Brazil's government-controlled aircraft manufacturer Embraer for a look at the Tucano turboprop military trainer plane that will be used by the Royal Air Force.

The princess, 35, who is on a four-day private visit to Brazil, visited the Embraer plant Wednesday in Sao Jose dos Campos, 55 miles from Sao Paulo.

The Tucanos will be built by Northern Ireland's Short Brothers Company, through a licensing agreement with Embraer.

KENNY ROGERS
...first after surgery

Entertainer Kenny Rogers brought the crowd to its feet in his first concert since surgery to remove a small cyst on his vocal cords.

"They sent me to a friendly town to try this," he told the audience of 8,800 gathered at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga arena Tuesday night.

Rogers, 45, who underwent surgery Feb. 11, performed an hour-long set of more than 15 songs, including "Lady," "Ruby Don't Take Your Love to Town," "She Believes in Me," "The Gambler," and "Lucille."

LOS ANGELES — Pop musician

Sly Stone's songs are not a hit with the manager of his $1,450-a-month apartment, who is trying to evict him and his roommate for allegedly playing loud music and failing to pay the rent.

In a Superior Court suit filed last week, the management of the Oakwood Garden Apartments complains of late-night drumming and loud music in Stone's rooms. The suit seeks one month's back rent and the eviction of Stone, 42, and roommate Darryl Armstrong.

A spokesman for Stone said Tuesday that he has been working on songs for a new album, and recording music in the apartment.

The spokesman, quoted in the Los Angeles Times, said Stone plans to pay the back rent.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Rock 'n' roller Jerry Lee Lewis is headed for divorce court with his sixth wife claiming he bloodied her nose when they argued about his interest in other women.

In a divorce petition filed Wednesday, Kerrie McCarver Lewis, 23, claims her 50-year-old husband has "a quick and violent temper and that he has cursed, threatened and struck her on occasions too numerous to mention."

She married Lewis in Memphis two years ago, less than a year after his fifth wife died of a drug overdose.

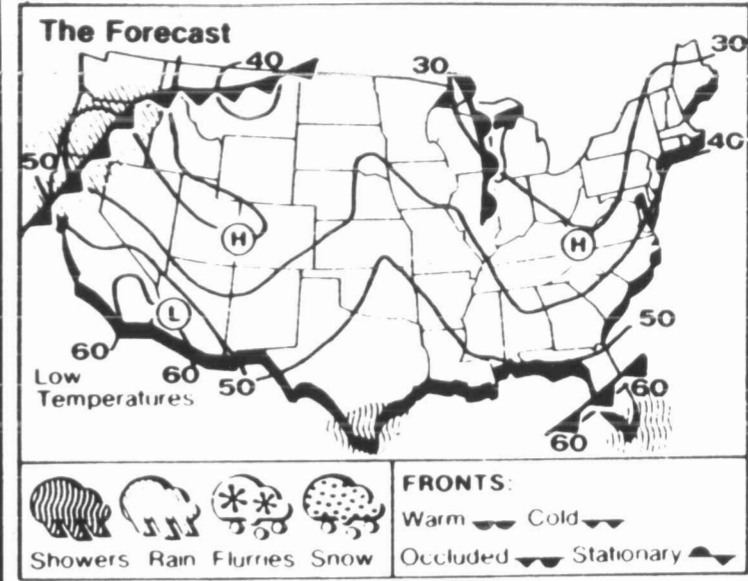

The divorce petition, which is set for a Circuit Court hearing April 4, cites irreconcilable differences and accuses Lewis of cruel and inhuman treatment and adultery.

LOS ANGELES — Singer Rudy Vallee was "wavering between life and death" with cancer before he improved, a publicist says.

"Rudy Vallee came very close to saying goodbye to all of us. There were slim chances he would survive," Chris Harris said Wednesday. "Today, for the first time in six weeks, Rudy had food."

Vallee, 85, had cancer of the esophagus, which was removed by surgery last week, but he was expected to regain his voice.

 Snow dotted the upper Great Lakes region and rain spread from the nation's midsection to New England today as heavy rain threatened a Florida rainfall record after caving in a store roof.

The upper Great Lakes snowshowers came as cold weather held its grip on the region and the upper Mississippi Valley, where early-morning temperatures were in the 20s.

Showers and thunderstorms were scattered from the lower Mississippi Valley across eastern sections of the Ohio Valley to northern New England and along the lower Texas Coast.

Heavy rain that continued in South Florida early today threatened a March rain record set in 1949, the National Weather Service said. At 1 a.m. EST today, 6.64 inches of rain had fallen this month at Miami International Airport. The record for March is 7.07 inches.

specific purpose.

Members also complained when they believed their recommendations were not being acted on by the executive committee. Sam Woodward resigned as a volunteer consultant for the symphony and Kelly Draper resigned from the "Oldest Living Graduate" production committee last week.

"The committee does the work and their recommendations for some reason aren't being passed up the ladder," Troy Fraser, economic development council vice president, said at the meeting.

LeRoy Tillery, executive vice president of the chamber, agreed at the meeting to issue a formal apology to the symphony association at the request of association president Suzanne Haney.

Haney charged that Tillery went over her head and tried to influence the association's symphony auditions last January.

If the areawide dehydration continues, the losses to cattlemen will pale next to the effect on cotton.

"Cattlemen can always buy feed, but a farmer can't buy rain," said Tim Hall of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Hall said area farmers stand to lose millions if weather conditions rival those of 1984 when Howard County produced just 10,000 bales of cotton. That year, farmers lost about $13.5 million, he said.

The urgency for rain was spelled out by Richard Christie of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service when he said conditions are approaching a critical stage.

"If we can get the surface wet soon, we'll be okay," he said. But if the drought lingers much longer, "it'll take more than just a few spring rains" to make a difference.

He said it could take years for the soil to recover unless moisture comes soon.

"I think it'll rain," Campbell said. A lot of folks are hoping he's right.

take it as a sign of peace and friendship."

"The Nicaraguan communists took the House vote as a sign all right," Reagan said. "They invaded the territory of Honduras with about 1,500 heavily armed troops, and then they lied about it."

The Managua government denied any cross-border operations and called for international observers to monitor the frontier.

But Reagan maintained that "this military drive demonstrates the nature of the Nicaraguan regime. This Sandinista offensive is a slap in the face to everyone who voted against aid to the freedom fighters thinking it to be a vote for reconciliation."

AIDS virus link found

WASHINGTON — A virus that could be the long-suspected bridge which brought AIDS from animals to humans has been discovered in people in Western Africa, and researchers say it may be valuable in finding a way to prevent the deadly disease.

Research groups from Harvard University and the Pasteur Institute in Paris, working separately in Africa, said Wednesday they have found human viruses closely related to the one that causes AIDS which resemble a monkey virus.

Soviet girl in capital

WASHINGTON — A Soviet schoolgirl, continuing her United States peace trip, planned to visit the White House and tour the sights of the capital city that she said made her think of Moscow.

Katerina Lycheva, 11, told the District of Columbia City Council on Wednesday that she was enjoying her U.S. reception and hoped her efforts at promoting world peace would have some effect.

Activists face charges

PENSACOLA, Fla. — Six people face charges of invading a twice-bombed abortion clinic and injuring two women one day after activists from around the nation were encouraged to take more active roles in fighting abortion.

Police said the six stormed into The Ladies Center clinic Wednesday, damaging equipment and injuring two women, including a member of the National Organization for Women, who was escorting patients into the building.

Jail escapees untraced

GAINESVILLE — The first time Lawrence Edward Byrom escaped from Cooke County Jail, he escaped in a taxi.

The second time, authorities said, he and another escapee commandeered a pickup truck and abducted the driver.

Authorities continued their search today for Byrom, 56 — who has been called half of a modern-day Bonnie and Clyde, husband-wife bank-robbing team — and three other men who sawed through bars Monday night and escaped.

At 96, his job is secure

BALLINGER — Felix Itz might be the oldest person running for re-election in Texas. And he might be the oldest elected official, period.

But that doesn't matter much to Itz. At age 96, he's doing what he enjoys — working as Runnels County surveyor — and nobody is opposing him so far for re-election.

When asked how long he had been county surveyor, Itz grins and says, "I always forget that. I believe I was appointed in October 1958. Gosh, I didn't think it was that long ago."

What did he do before becoming the Runnels County surveyor?
Itz, still grinning, replies that "I doubt if I know. That's too far back."

Honduran soldiers arrive along the Nicaraguan border Wednesday where up to 1,500 Sandinista troops are reported trying to fight their way back to Nicaragua.

Honduran incursion

Contras say Sandinistas are cornered

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — Anti-Sandinista rebels claimed to have surrounded up to 1,500 Nicaraguan soldiers in southern Honduras and said they could foil any attempt to break the encirclement and retreat back across the border.

On Wednesday, U.S. military helicopters ferried about 600 Honduran soldiers to the remote area to join another 3,000 Honduran troops near the border. Honduras has said its soldiers are not directly involved in the fighting.

A U.S. Embassy official, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said no further flights were contemplated.

Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government denies sending any soldiers onto the territory of its northern neighbor, and claims the reports of an incursion are designed to promote the Reagan administration's campaign in Congress to allocate $100 million in aid to the Contras.

Accounts of the fighting could not be verified independently. Honduran military sources said soldiers were ordered to keep journalists out of the area.

However, Honduran military intelligence sources who spoke on condition of anonymity said Wednesday that the Contras had killed 200 Sandinista troops and wounded 150 others since full-scale fighting broke out Saturday.

One military source said Wednesday that "very important things could happen tomorrow in favor of the Contras and harmful to the invading army." He did not elaborate.

Frank Arana, a spokesman for the largest Contra group, the Nicaragua Democratic Front, said in Tegucigalpa, "Everything is under control. The invaders are not going to return to Nicaragua. Our troops have them surrounded." He also refused to elaborate.

U.S. officials in Tegucigalpa said 14 helicopters from Palmerola air base, 50 miles northwest of the Honduran capital, airlifted infantry and artillery units to the "Las Vegas salient" on Wednesday. The previous day, Honduran helicopters transported about 3,000 soldiers to the border area.

The triangular-shaped wedge juts into Nicaragua about 120 miles east of Tegucigalpa. The region has long been the site of a major camp of the U.S.-backed Contras, who use it as a base for raids into Nicaragua.

U.S. officials said four unarmed Huey and 10 Chinook helicopters of U.S. Task Force Bravo took part in the airlift. The U.S. task force of about 1,200 men is based at Palmerola.

Each Chinook was manned by five U.S. servicemen and was capable of carrying up to 30 soldiers. Hueys have three crewmen each and carry about five passengers.

The airlift represented an escalation of U.S. military involvement in Honduras, where U.S. forces hold almost continuous training exercises with Honduran units. President Reagan approved $20 million in emergency aid to Honduras on Tuesday to help it deal with the reported incursion.

Honduran military sources have said 1,500 Sandinistas crossed the frontier on Saturday in pursuit of the Contras and were trapped inside Honduras by rebels who cut off their retreat.

Other sources, however, put the number of Nicaraguan government troops near 800, and said most probably would escape because it was difficult to block all paths through the mountainous, jungled terrain.

Israeli jets kill 10

SIDON, Lebanon — Israeli jets attacked Palestinian refugee camps outside Sidon today, killing 10 people and wounding 22, police said. The attack came shortly after a rocket exploded in an Israeli town near the Lebanese border.

Guerrillas in the Ein el-Hilweh and Mieh-Mieh refugee camps and the nearby hilltop village of Siroubieh unleashed barrages of shoulder-fired SAM-7 anti-aircraft missile at the Israeli fighter-bombers.

The planes released scarlet hot-air balloons to deflect the Soviet-made heat-seeking missiles.

Filipinos intensify strike

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines — Striking Filipino employees of two U.S. military installations today stepped up their six-day old walkout over severance pay by barring any American personnel from entering either facility.

Picketers had closed entrances to Subic Navy Base since the beginning of the walkout, but entrances to Clark Air Base were not blocked until late Wednesday, authorities said.

Aussie blast injures 21

MELBOURNE, Australia — A car bomb exploded today in front of police headquarters, injuring 21 people, 11 of them police officers, authorities said. It was followed by five smaller blasts that police said may have been caused by detonators.

The city block was cordoned off and buildings were evacuated because police said they feared there might be another explosion.

UN hears superpowers

UNITED NATIONS — The United States, presenting itself as the champion of seafaring nations, wants the U.N. Security Council to reaffirm freedom of navigation and to condemn what it views as violations by countries such as Libya.

The Soviet Union, on the other hand, is urging the 15-nation council to condemn U.S. "aggression" against Libya in the Gulf of Sidra and to take action to protect Libya's territorial integrity.

With both superpowers wielding veto power, the council is unlikely to do exactly what either of them wants, if it is able to adopt any resolution at all.

Libyan sailors rescued

MADRID, Spain — A Spanish oil tanker rescued 16 Libyan sailors who survived an attack by U.S. Navy jets on their patrol boat in the disputed Gulf of Sidra, the Madrid daily El Pais reported today.

The oil tanker Castillo de Ricote picked up the sailors from a lifeboat in waters just north of the "line of death" that Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy has set as Libya's territorial limits, said El Pais, quoting sources at the Spanish company Elcano, the ship's owner.

February foreign trade deficit shows decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The country's foreign trade deficit, aided by falling petroleum prices, totaled $12.5 billion in February, 24 percent below the record deficit set in January, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department said imports of petroleum products plunged by 28 percent. The decline in imported oil reflected a cut in the amount purchased and the price of oil.

An average of 5.4 million barrels of oil was purchased daily, down from 6.2 million barrels a day in January, while the price fell to $24.85 per barrel, down $2.29 from the January level. This was the lowest oil price since November 1979.

The price of oil on the spot market has fallen by more than $10 per barrel since November. But the bulk of oil is purchased under long-term contracts that do not change as quickly as the spot market price.

Aid has tendency to work in spirals

Correction: Last week in a column I stated that Patrick Buchanan had served in the United States Marine Corps. I misspoke. It turns out that Mr. Buchanan has a bad knee and never served in any of our armed forces. I apologize for any embarrassment I may have caused him.

And speaking of Pat Buchanan, this is the big day in Congress when the good guys vote against the Communists on Nicaragua. At stake is not only $100 million, but whether the United States will become a slave people ruled by the Sandinistas. The world will be watching to see if the contras get their money.

Let us, for argument's sake, say that the aid is voted. What has not been addressed is what happens after the money is used up. As Cap Weinberger knows, $100 million hardly buys a good coffee pot these days. It won't even get you a working armored personnel carrier or half of a submarine. So we assume that even by spending judiciously, the Freedom Fighters will run out of the $100 million in six months. The crunch for new funds will come near the end of the year. How much will it really cost us?

I posed this question to a person in the White House. "If you get $100 million from Congress for the contras and they use it up, what do you do next?"

"We ask for a small supplemental appropriation of $500 million."

"Why $500 million?"

"To protect the $100 million we gave the Freedom Fighters before."

"You mean it takes $500 million to protect $100?"

"If things go the way we want them to, the contras will increase their forces tenfold. They will need training, arms, helicopters and boats. Without our $500 million they will never last in the field."

"How are you going to persuade Congress to give you $500 million in aid so quickly after they gave you $100 million?"

"We'll embarrass them. We'll fly nine Republican congressmen in Air Force One to Nicaragua; President Reagan will go on television and say the $500 million is the Freedom Fighters' last chance; and Pat Buchanan will demand that everyone against the funds be tried for treason. If all else fails, we'll just take the money out of the Social Security Fund for Covert Western Hemisphere Operations."

"Okay. Now the contras have $500 million, which will last for, let's say, eight months. The Freedom Fighters have won a few battles and are raising hell in the countryside. But once more they're tapped out. How do you persuade the American people to go to the well again?"

"I see no way the people can cut and run now. We have too much at stake in Nicaragua. Congress would be fools not to support the President's supplemental request for $1 billion."

"I thought the figure would be somewhere around that."

"It can't be any lower, particularly if we have to build a major airfield in the jungle to support the paratroopers."

"I didn't know the contras had paratroopers."

"They don't have paratroopers — we have paratroopers. The rule of thumb is that if you give a country a billion dollars in military aid you always have to send in the paratroopers."

"But the President promised he wouldn't send any of our boys into Nicaragua."

"They aren't boys, they're paratroopers."

"Let's say the $1 billion only lasts for a year. What happens when the contras run out of that?"

"We give them $10 billion, guarded by the U.S. armed forces."

"Why are we dispatching American troops now?"

"You don't think we're going to trust a bunch of bearded guerrillas in the bush with American money?"

"Real estate developers, employers, landlords, polluters, police benevolent associations, even government agencies increasingly are filing civil damage action to punish or prevent opposition," Professor George Pring, the project director, told us.

As investigative reporters, we are all too familiar with the use of libel suits to intimidate those who expose wrongdoing. But now ordinary citizens are facing the same intimidation.

"The targets are homeowners, neighborhood associations, environmental organizations, civil rights groups, civic and voter leagues, consumer lobbies — and their individual members," said Pring.

While First Amendment protections keep these defendants from losing their cases, the expense of defending themselves can be ruinous. In fact, of nearly 100 cases Pring's group has studied, not one has resulted in a money judgment for the plaintiff.

But even these losses can be counted as successes by the intimidators. As Pring observed: "Individual and group political action is immediately and drastically chilled by the mere prospect of such litigation."

Privilege of free speech is often costly exercise

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR
WASHINGTON — A disturbing threat to free speech has developed in America. Those who abuse the public trust have learned to use the legal system to stifle criticism and harass their critics.

Everyday Americans can no longer exercise their constitutional rights to speak their minds or petition their government without risking economic devastation. They may have to pay through the nose for the privilege of free speech; the cost of defending themselves against lawsuits can be high.

Certainly, lawsuits are being filed by powerful interests that Americans used to feel free to complain about. This is the conclusion, as yet unpublished, of a University of Denver Law School project on intimidation lawsuits.

"Real estate developers, employers, landlords, polluters, police benevolent associations, even government agencies increasingly are filing civil damage action to punish or prevent opposition," Professor George Pring, the project director, told us.

As investigative reporters, we are all too familiar with the use of libel suits to intimidate those who expose wrongdoing. But now ordinary citizens are facing the same intimidation.

"The targets are homeowners, neighborhood associations, environmental organizations, civil rights groups, civic and voter leagues, consumer lobbies — and their individual members," said Pring.

While First Amendment protections keep these defendants from losing their cases, the expense of defending themselves can be ruinous. In fact, of nearly 100 cases Pring's group has studied, not one has resulted in a money judgment for the plaintiff.

But even these losses can be counted as successes by the intimidators. As Pring observed: "Individual and group political action is immediately and drastically chilled by the mere prospect of such litigation."

Here are some of the cases Pring has studied — and they are chilling indeed:

• Members of a Colorado rural electrical association petitioned the board of directors for a recall election. The board tabled the request, and the members asked a state court to order the recall election.

The board of directors sued the petitioning members for $1.2 million for libel and "abuse of process." After two years of legal skirmishing and expense, the Colorado Supreme Court ruled last month that the members were, of course, protected by the First Amendment.

• Kenneth Wooden, an expert on children's rights, told a Senate subcommittee of abuses in a federally financed child-care center in Wisconsin. The owner sued Wooden for libel, even though congressional testimony is traditionally immune from libel action. The case dragged on for four years, ending only when the plaintiff died and his family decided not to pursue it.

• Residents of a resort town got together and tried without success to stop a condominium complex nearby, following appropriate legal procedures. The developer sued them anyway, claiming they had delayed his project with their "wanton, spurious, groundless, frivolous" actions. The charges were thrown out of court after two years' litigation.

• The League of Women Voters in Beverly Hills, Calif., circulated a petition for a special election to overturn a city government decision to allow a 10-acre development. The election was held, and the rezoning ordinance was repealed. The developer sued the league for more than $63 million, charging libel and conspiracy. The courts dismissed the suit.

The developer filed an amended complaint, which the court ruled was at least in part frivolous. The developer's attorneys were fined $20,000. But the case had dragged on for five years and cost the league defendants hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Billy Graham

Only Jesus can change heart

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: How can you believe that the ideas of Jesus can help us with modern problems? He lived almost 2,000 years ago, and what we need is a philosophy that is up to date and deals with today's problems. — S.C.

DEAR S.C.: If you read each day's headlines with an open mind, can you honestly say that we are making much progress in solving our problems? If ever the world was in terrible and dangerous shape, it is now. If ever our personal lives were in turmoil, it is now. And if ever we needed to stop and reconsider the teachings of Jesus, it is now.

Why do I say that? Yes, our world seemingly is a different place than it was 2,000 years ago. But has it really changed that much? Consider it for a moment. First of all, man has not changed. Certainly we know more about our world. But we are still just as self-centered as we ever were. Our dilemma is the same one the Apostle Paul spoke of: "For what I do is not the good I want to do; no, the evil I do not want to do — this I keep on doing" (Romans 7:19). So, you see, our basic problem is the human heart.

But more than that, God and His love for us has not changed, and neither has His power to take away our self-centered nature. That is one reason Christ is so relevant and crucial today. He alone can change the human heart, because He alone is able to take away our sin and replace it with God's love and power. He is able to do this because He is God Himself, and "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever" (Hebrews 13:8).

I don't know what problems you are facing right now. But no matter what they are, don't let your pride blind you to your need of Christ. Open your heart to Him today and He will come into your life and help you meet life's challenges every day.

Billy Graham's religious column is distributed by Tribune Media Services.

Buyers, sellers, builders feel the boom

By CHRISTOPHER SULLIVAN
Mortgage rates have tumbled below 10 percent, house sales are booming and homeowners are storming banks to refinance and cut their monthly payments. Bob Allen thinks the trend, while it lasts, is out of this world.

"It's like a Halley's comet event. It only happens once in a while — and it's here," exclaimed Allen, office manager for Winchester Mortgage Co. in Denver.

He's certainly not alone in his excitement. "Oh, my God ... we're seeing tremendous activity," enthused Debbie Rumel, vice-president of Carolina Home Mortgage Corp. in Hendersonville, N.C. "We've been waiting a long time for this to happen. Now it's happening, we're understaffed and it's crazy."

Going crazy, too, are the nation's home-building industry, realty-agent licensing offices and ordinary people who finally see a chance to realize the dream of owning three bedrooms and a bath-and-a-half of their own.

The question now is: How long can it last? Some hard-sell consumers are holding out for even better deals, and opinion is divided on whether they'll be rewarded.

"I still get the feeling the real rush is yet to come," said David Walker, chief economist with People's Bank in Bridgeport, Conn. "If the consumer perceives that interest rates have bottomed out and are on the way up, (the market) will become even more fever-pitched."

"Sometime in the near future we could see a rate below 9 percent," said Greg Childers of the Paramount Bond & Mortgage Co. in St. Louis.

Countered Al Karlander of Inland Mortgage Co. in Indianapolis, "I can't see it getting much lower."

In the meantime, lenders are innovating in the scramble for customers. Wauwatosa Savings & Loan in suburban Milwaukee has voluntarily lowered rates one percentage point on about 1,000 mortgages at 11.9 percent, and president Raymond Perry said he might lower the rate again. No fees were charged for the borrowers.

"I've gotten calls from some competitors saying don't do this," he said. "Free" refinancing is the pitch offered by a South Carolina company, First Carolina Mortgage Group.

"If they've got a loan that has a 12 percent mortgage or above, it will be switched out (down to 12 percent) with no cost at all — no origination, no points, no nothing — to the borrower," said president David Cannon.

Among those better deals: 9 1/2 percent with 1 1/2 points for a 15-year fixed-rate mortgage at First Atlanta Mortgage Corp.; 9.875 percent with two points for a 30-year fixed-rate mortgage at U.S. Bancorp Mortgage Co. in Portland, Ore.; 9.625 plus two points for a 15-year fixed rate mortgage at First National Bank of Maryland. A point is 1 percent of the principal amount of the mortgage.

The frenzy for mortgages began after the Veterans Administration in Washington reduced the top interest rate for VA-guaranteed mortgages to 9.5 percent from 10 percent on March 3. VA loan rates peaked at 17.5 percent in 1981 and hadn't been below 10 percent in seven years.

Conventional home loan rates had been dropping gradually, but after the VA announcement "single-digit rates" — under 10 percent — seemed to be virtually everywhere. Loan officers now find themselves the most popular people in town. "I got out of an appointment this morning and was given 21 phone messages," said Robert Groth, who arranges loans at North Shore Savings in Racine, Wis.

Ellie and Ralph DiLimandi hurried to refinance the house they bought six years ago through a lender in Framingham, Mass. "We saw the rates, and I said, 'Wow, we can't pass these up,'" Mrs. DiLimandi said. "I wondered, is it a trick? What's the catch? But it's been no problem, except the waiting in line."

Like the DiLimandis, many of those taking advantage of the new rates want to cut monthly payments on a home they already own.

According to experts, it pays to refinance a home mortgage when there is a two to three percentage-point difference between the interest rate on the existing mortgage and the currently available rate. Such a spread is necessary before refinancing is profitable because of the closing costs on a new mortgage; a refinance should plan to stay in the house long enough for the monthly savings to make up those costs.

In many cases, the drop in mortgage rates has changed people's lives.

For Carol and Jeff Haksuoto in Madison Heights, Mich., it means not only a chance to move out of their mobile home and into a house, but Mrs. Haksuoto, 24, may also be able to stay home with the couple's 4-month-old daughter, Casey, instead of working to make the house payment.

"We weren't sure we would be able to do that last year," she said. Up to one-third of those taking out mortgages in some areas are buying a house for the first time.

Shock waves spare gallstone surgery

BOSTON (AP) — The discovery that a blast of shock waves can pulverize gallstones inside the body may spare some people from surgery, but an expert doubts there will be a "rush to crush" and asks if the procedure might cause more harm than good.

A study published today is the first to examine the potential of a machine called the lithotripter for smashing painful gallstones. An estimated 500,000 Americans undergo surgery each year for treatment of this condition.

The lithotripter generates hammering jolts of shock waves inside a tub of water. It was approved less than 1½ years ago for treating kidney stones that otherwise would need surgery.

At the time, Health and Human Services Secretary Margaret M. Heckler said it was "an authentic modern medical miracle." Now, about 50 hospitals in the United States have the machines, which cost $2 million. And doctors have widely adopted them as a safe alternative to kidney surgery.

But Dr. Albert G. Mulley Jr. of Massachusetts General Hospital says differences between the gallbladder, a sac that stores digestive juices, and the kidney may make shock waves less desirable as a treatment for gallstones.

Dr. Donohue

Hair analysis seldom helpful

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: In your opinion, is it worth the time to get one of those hair tests for disease? Can such analysis really tell that much? — Mrs. L.R.

There is a lot of hair analysis going on, and I'll have to say that a lot of it seems to be sheer nonsense. Historically, there has always been a certain amount of healthy interest in such procedures, but in recent years it's been limited to either research or legitimate tests to determine the presence of certain poisons in the body. So it does have its place.

Yet, those most familiar with such analysis will tell you that its chief drawback is the fact there just are not many precise guidelines, and very few established levels of the various elements tested for to use it as a reliable indicator of illness or health. That's a polite way of saying I don't think much of the idea.

I'm not the only one. In a recent study, samples of hair from the heads of two individuals were submitted to more than a dozen laboratories for analysis. The labs were not informed they were taking part in the study. The results showed no consistency, although voluminous printouts of test results listed levels for many substances, suggesting numerous nutritional and other deficiencies. For hair analysis the warning is caveat emptor.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have nervous stomach, and for awhile after I eat I get pain and cramps somewhere between my navel and breastbone. I'm not guessing about the diagnosis. It is something I was told a long time ago. It's worse of late, and I wondered about your reference to milk sugar intolerance. Would it be worth cutting out milk to test the idea? — Mrs. I.H.

Yes, it would. Many things can contribute to nervous stomach, and milk sugar intolerance is high on the list. The person with that lacks the enzyme needed to digest the sugar. So, it remains undigested, causing stomach upset.

Nervous stomach is something of a misnomer, for the condition can affect more than just the stomach; it can reach down as far as the colon. When it does, there may be other symptoms, like the constipation and diarrhea you tell about (in another part of your note).

From what you say you may have a problem with your entire digestive tract. You can experiment with the milkless diet and, if you want to, add a bit more fiber to your meals. Most people with this problem are able to end the unsynchronized muscle movements in their digestive tract either through such steps or the use of medicine. See the booklet "Stomach and Other Abdominal Pains: A Checklist," for hints about additional possible troublemakers. Other readers may order by writing me in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611 enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and $1.00.

McDiffitt and Forshee honored with shower

A miscellaneous shower was held recently for Mary McDiffitt and Michael Forshee at the Baptist Temple Fellowship Hall. Hostesses were Kathy McDiffitt, Judi Peterson, Paula Martin, Melinda Vall, LaVona Stevens, Marlina Beasley, Joyce McQuary, Cindy Graves, Sandy McDiffitt, Vonda Lockhart, Margie Pope and Pam McMillian. The couple received a Hoover vacuum cleaner from the hostesses. Courtesies were presented to Mary McDiffitt, LaVerne McDiffitt and Maxine Forshee.

The bride-elect's table was draped with a pink table cloth and featured a white sheet cake with pink icing and roses. Nuts, mints and pineapple punch were also served.

The table of the bridegroom-to-be was red and white and held a layered German chocolate cake. The front of the table featured a sailor hat and life preserver. Centerpiece for the table was a money tree.

Roney visits Big Spring

The Social Order of the Beauceant was visited recently by Mrs. Maurice W. Roney, the supreme worthy president, of Waco Assembly #199 and Stillwater #124. Roney explained phases of the assembly work. Her theme for the year is "Let our light shine." Her symbol is a candle and scripture is Matthew 5-6.

Prior to the meeting, a dinner was held at Furr's Cafeteria for members and their husbands. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Grover Wayland, president of Big Spring Assembly #211, Mrs. Harry Middleton and Mrs. Jack Alexander.

Following her visit to Big Spring, Roney traveled to Amarillo.

Dear Abby

Woman tries to find right prosthesis

DEAR ABBY: Here's a question I hope you have the answer to. I am a black female who had a mastectomy in 1981. I came through it and made a good recovery. I'm just getting to the point of thinking of myself as the same woman I was before—I lost one breast, then every morning I have to put on this pink or rose-colored prosthesis made for whites, and I don't feel right. It looks very different, and I can't get used to it.

Abby, do you know of any company that makes prostheses for blacks? I haven't been able to find one in this area.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please say a few words to the public on behalf of the shopkeepers whose customers arrive five minutes before closing time to do their shopping?

Most businesses have their hours clearly posted and rely on the good sense of the customers to be out of the store by closing time. However, there are always those who feel that if they are inside the door one minute before closing time, they are welcome to stay as long as they please.

This can be very difficult for the employees who have put their full shift in already. Transportation and appointments can be missed and baby sitters made angry when we are kept late. Once in a while is not minded, but I am writing after a 9 1/2 hour day on my feet, no coffee breaks, and an hour late out of the door. And this is the second time this week.

So, Abby, please be a dear and speak for those of us who can't very well speak for ourselves without offending our customers.

SPEAKING FOR MANY

DEAR SPEAKING: Consider me your spokesperson. I'm sure most customers who arrive late and shop leisurely are not deliberately thoughtless. Let's hope this makes the lateness more aware of the inconvenience they may cause.

(P.S. I am addressing only customers who can't decide whether to buy one or two-and-a-half yards of ribbon. I have heard of jewelers who cheerfully say open as long as it takes to close an important sale. And for a Texas oil tycoon, they might even have dinner sent in!)

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading you for years in the Leesburg (Va.) Commercial, so I know you are a great believer in donating organs. I recently saw a sign while driving on a Florida highway, and thought of you. It read: Recycle yourself. Be an organ donor!

ROBERT W. MERRIAM

(Every teenager should know the truth about sex, drugs and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet, send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 and a long, stamped (39 cents) self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

TWO-TONE IN NORTH CAROLINA

DEAR TWO-TONE: No. But after this hits print, I bet I will. Readers?

Furniture program presented to club

Mrs. Jack Lipscombe presented a program on furniture during the colonial era in Virginia and the New England states at a recent meeting of the Elisha Mack Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The chapter will continue to send subscriptions of the DAR Magazine and the National Defense Magazine to Howard County Library, Howard College and Stanton High School. A copy of Volume Three of the Patriot Index, an up-to-date cross index of the 115,704 wives of the DAR Patriots will be placed in the genealogical section of the Howard County Library.

Next meeting will be in the Kelly home on Old Gail Route April 19th.

Now for some fishing news. There were indications at both Lakes J.B. Thomas and E.V. Spence that the spawning season may be nearing.

This was the case with the crappie at Lake Thomas where a few light stringers were reported. There were also a few bass caught in two to four feet of water.

Several black bass were reported at Lake Spence and one fisherman came in with a 8-pound 10-ounce catch.

Switching to the subject of baseball. There are three players on the Howard Hawks baseball team that are hitting over .400, indicating Howard is no "easy pickings" at the plate.

First baseman Joe Cuellar lead the way with a .428 average. Third baseman Chad Baker follows with a .409 average and second basemen Bruce Smith rounds out the list with a .406 average.

Smith is the Hawks "power man" as he leads the team in homeruns (8) and extra base hits (16) and RBI's (28).

The alarming figure comes from Howard's pitching staff, who's combined earned run average is 8.29. The Hawks don't have a pitcher with a ERA under 5.0. Bryan Willis has a 6-2 record and Thad Webber sports a 5-2 slate.

Now switching to another sport that require a good swing — golf.

The foursome of Mike Weaver, Tommy Fletcher, Roddy Caffey and Frank Mitchell won the Country Club Four-Man Scramble play last week. The winners combined for a score of 119.

There have also be a pair of hole-in-one's recorded lately at Comanche Trail Golf Course.

Last Sunday Kevin Hirt of St. Lawrence pulled off the feat on the 156-yard 15th hole. The witnesses were Wayne Hirt, Susan Hirt and a host of others.

On March 16th in a benefit golf tournament Pano Rodriguez of Big Spring turned the trick on the first hole. The hole is 160 yards long.

Witnesses were Bimbo Jimenez, Larry Porras and Johnny Rodriguez.

Buckeyes win NIT title

NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe if Ohio State had played this way sooner, Coach Eldon Miller would be back later.

As it turned out, the Buckeyes went on to win the 49th National Invitation Tournament. They did it in Miller's final game with the team before his firing went into effect.

"I didn't say goodbye to them. I don't say goodbye to friends," Miller said after Ohio State beat Wyoming 73-63 in the NIT championship game Wednesday night. "But next year, they won't have a bigger fan than Eldon Miller."

Miller was dismissed Feb. 3, but was told he could complete the season at Ohio State. In the meantime, he was hired to coach Northern Iowa next year, and Boston College's Gary Williams was hired for the Ohio State job.

The Buckeyes completed the regular season at 14-14, yet managed to draw an NIT bid. And, with Miller continuing to recruit for Northern Iowa by telephone, Ohio State kept winning.

Victories over Ohio University, Texas, Brigham Young and Louisiana Tech set up the championship game at Madison Square Garden, and the Buckeyes pulled together one last time to give Miller a memorable going-away present.

"I've experienced this feeling only one other time in basketball, 25 years ago," Miller said. "I was a senior at Wittenberg College and we won the college division national championship."

"I told our team at halftime that 25 years from now, I want to be able to celebrate two championships. Now, all I have to do is make it that far."

Junior guard Dennis Hopson scored 26 points, including nine straight field goals. Hopson keyed a 12-2 spurt late in the first half that put the Big Ten Conference team in control. Senior 7-footer Brad Sellers added 17 points and 12 rebounds.

In the consolation game, Louisiana Tech beat Florida 67-62.

"I have no special emotions," Miller said after the game. "I'm glad I've got a place to go Monday."

Miller, 47, has been at Ohio State for the last 10 years, compiling a 176-118 record that included four appearances in the NCAA tournament and three visits to the NIT.

In 24 years as a head coach at Wittenberg, Western Michigan and Ohio State, his teams are 404-241. Now, he's on to a new challenge.

"It's not like I'm going to the moon or outer space, I'm going to Northern Iowa," he said.

Wyoming, which finished 24-12, started out strong and jumped to a 12-6 lead. The Cowboys were sparked by 6-foot-4 sophomore Fennis Dembo, who finished with 27 points and seven rebounds.

But with Hopson hitting from the outside and Sellers working inside, the Buckeyes kept pounding away.

They took their first lead at 19-18 midway through the half and completed their 12-2 streak with a 29-22 lead.

Ohio State coach Eldon Miller is hoisted on his team's shoulders after they won the National Invitation Tournament over Wyoming Wednesday night in Madison Square Garden.

Wyoming trailed 35-28 at intermission and cut the margin to four points early in the second half, but high-scoring center Eric Leckner drew his fourth foul 2½ minutes into the period. With Leckner out of the game, Hopson moved inside and teamed with Sellers, the tournament MVP, to help Ohio State steadily pull away. Hopson made 12 of 17 shots while Curtis Wilson scored 10 for the Buckeyes.

Hopson, who scored 23 points in a semifinal victory over Louisiana Tech, said he was glad that Ohio State was not invited to the NCAA's 64-team tournament.

"We didn't have a good season," he said. "We were a .500 team. If we had gone to the NAAs, we probably would have lost in the first or second round. We had to be realistic and go where we had a chance."

Wyoming Coach Jim Brandenburg, who started five sophomores, said his team wore down and lost its direction as Ohio State surged.

"It seems we lost a little poise with our youth and did not execute," he said. "Our offense execution killed us. Our defense wasn't terrible, but it wasn't great. I thought we might run out of gas."

Les Bolden scored 14 for Wyoming, of the Western Athletic Conference, but Leckner had only six before fouling out.

The game between Ohio State and Wyoming, watched by 11,024 fans, was only the second ever between the two schools.

Making Final Four helps recruiting

DALLAS (AP) — A giant by-product of being in the NCAA Tournament's Final Four, besides the $850,000 payday for each team, is the wonders it works for recruiting.

"It's like having the U.S. government stamp meat with 'government inspected,'" said Louisiana State's colorful coach, Dale Brown.

"It makes recruiting easy. Nobody says 'LSU Who?' when you call. It's a distinct advantage to being in the Final Four."

Kansas Coach Larry Brown says, "I agree, it adds credibility to your program."

Duke Coach Mike Krzyzewski adds: "It should help next year's class. A youngster sees you are in the Final Four and perceives your program as being an excellent one."

Louisville Coach Denny Crum said a Final Four berth "makes it a lot easier to get your foot in the door to talk. After we won the title in 1980 it really helped us."

The four coaches discussed the matter on Tuesday in a national telephone hookup with the media.

Kansas arrived late Wednesday night with the other three teams expected today.

Louisville plays LSU at 2:42 p.m. Saturday in Reunion Arena, with Duke and Kansas meeting 30 minutes after the first game is over.

Local trap shooter sets national mark

SAN ANTONIO — Local trap shooter Kelly Rogers is back on the winning track in 1986 after placing first in the Collegiate Division of the Zone VIII International Trapshooting Championships in San Antonio recently. The Big Spring native is in his junior year at Texas Tech University.

In addition to his winning performance in San Antonio, Rogers was in on two new National Records recently officially recognized by the National Rifle Association.

On June 25, 1985 in Prado Tiro, California, Kelly and two team members, Mike Coleman of Ackery and Ken Blasi of Wichita, Kansas, broke the International Olympic Three-Member Civilian Team 450 target record with a combined score of 415 targets.

On May 26, 1983 in Fort Benning, Georgia, Rogers and two team members, Todd Graves of Laurel, Mississippi and Shawn Brack of Garden Grove, California, broke the Olympic Trap Three-Member Team 450 Targets, Junior Record with a combined score of 403.

The following times and distances were recorded by Crossroads Country athletes. Top times and distances are updated on a weekly basis. The Herald sports desk requests that coaches phone in times from 8:30 a.m. through 12 noon Monday through Wednesday. Phone 263-7331.

Stanford's Davis to fill Houston vacancy

HOUSTON (AP) — University of Houston athletic director Tom Ford decided to confirm or deny the story, but a radio station announced that Stanford University's Tom Davis will succeed Guy Lewis as the Cougars' new head basketball coach.

Davis arrived at Houston International Airport late Wednesday afternoon with his family, Houston radio station KTRH reported.

UH officials called a news conference for noon today, but the conference was scheduled last week, and it was disclosed what the news conference would concern.

Lewis announced in January his retirement after 30 seasons. UH officials said last week they hoped to hire a successor by the end of this week.

Ford had announced earlier Wednesday that Iowa's George Raveling had asked that he no longer be considered for the UH head coaching position. Although Ford called Raveling "a highly qualified candidate," he said Raveling was never officially offered the job.

Raveling, 48, is expected to take the basketball coaching post at the University of Southern California.

Ford met with Davis for several hours Wednesday night, but declined comment about the meeting upon his return home about midnight, the station said.

KTRH sportscaster Ken Silverstein said Davis and his family were met at the airport by UH regent Don Sanders, who is in charge of the coaching search committee.

"I would assume that your assumptions (of Davis' succeeding Lewis) are correct, but that's basically all I know," Sanders replied later in the night.

"He is someone we would feel very fortunate to have. If Tom said this is the man we want, believe me I would be 100 percent behind him."

Silverstein said the station learned through telephone calls that Davis and his family had hotel reservations in Dallas Wednesday night, but sent a reporter to the Houston airport after a chance call to an airline confirmed that Davis was booked on a flight from California to Houston.

Davis appeared stunned when KTRH reporters greeted him upon his arrival, the station reported, and replied tongue-in-cheek that he was in Houston because he had missed connections to Dallas, where he plans to attend the Final Four and a coaching clinic.

"We're on our way to the Final Four. We got off at the wrong spot. It was a good opportunity to take a look at Houston," Davis replied.

Concerning the UH vacancy, the Stanford coach replied, "I'm certainly interested. I have been all along. I appreciate their interest in me."

Asked how close he and university officials were on an announcement, Davis said, "I really can't comment on that at all. Anything would have to come from Mr. Ford and the university."

Stanford athletic director Andy Geiger told KTRH late Wednesday that Davis "hasn't indicated anything other than the fact that he was going back to Houston to visit."

When he talked to me, I'm not sure what his inclination was or what Houston's inclination was."

Davis, 46, has a record of 58-59 in four years at Stanford, including a 14-16 mark in the season just ended. In 15 years of college coaching, including previous stints at Lafayette College and Boston College, his record is 274-150.

GOD...The questions: "Where did God come from?" and "What then is the cause of God?" in no way prove there is no God, it only proves the limited knowledge of finite mankind and proves God had to reveal whatever knowledge of himself that there is to know if we are to know anything about him. JEHOVAH GOD (for his name is Jehovah, Exodus 3:14;6:3) has revealed in the Word of God (the Bible) what his NATURE is like. Since Jehovah God cannot be totally defined (for he is infinite), these definitions of his nature are "incomplete" in the sense of each term cannot fully express all that God is.

1. God is LOVE-1 John 4:8 (This is the nature of God in His divine compassion.)
2. God is LIGHT-1 John 1:5 (This is the nature of God in His divine unchangeable, immutable character.)
3. God is a CONSUMING FIRE-Hebrews 12:29 (This is the nature of God in his divine holiness.)
4. God is SPIRIT-John 4:24 (This is the nature of God in his divine essence.)
