Under a barrage of testimony Tuesday night by golfers and softballers upset by proposed fee hikes, a haggard City Council delayed indefinitely taking action on the fee package.

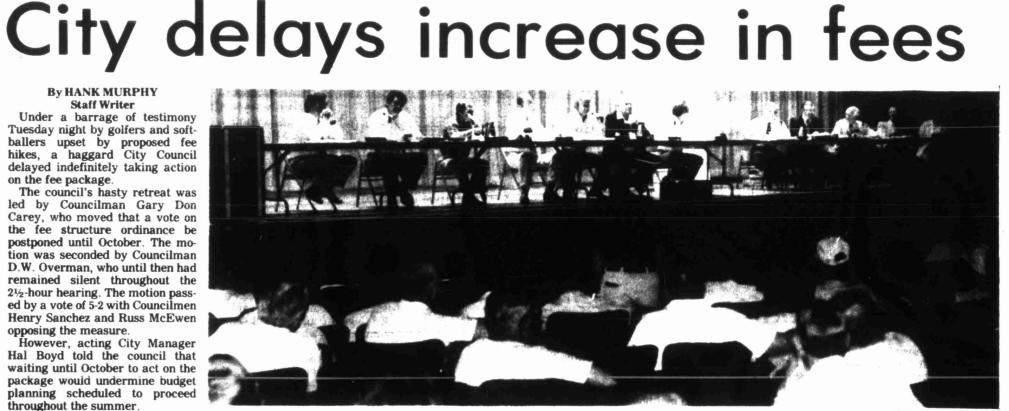

The council's hasty retreat was led by Councilman Gary Don Carey, who moved that a vote on the fee structure ordinance be postponed until October. The motion was seconded by Councilman D.W. Overman, who until then had remained silent throughout the 2<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-hour hearing. The motion passed by a vote of 5-2 with Councilmen Henry Sanchez and Russ McEwen opposing the measure.

However, acting City Manager Hal Boyd told the council that waiting until October to act on the package would undermine budget planning scheduled to proceed throughout the summer.

Finally, after a series of motions, rescinded motions, more motions and repealed motions that bordered on the bizarre, the council by a 6-1 vote simply delayed taking action indefinitely. McEwen again opposed the move.

"I'm at a loss at how this body cannot make a decision, and keeps putting this off," said an exasperated McEwen after the delay was pushed through.

"The issue had been discussed, dissected, hashed out and

rate hits 9%

County jobless

By JOHN RICE Managing Editor

A sluggish oilfield economy helped push the Howard County jobless level to 9 percent in March, the highest rate in 21/2 years, the Texas Employment Commission reported today.

Joe Wallis, area manager in Big Spring, said TEC computations set the March labor force at 15,625, with 14,222 persons employed and 1,403, or 9 percent, unemployed.

That's the highest rate since September of 1983, when unemployment reached 9.3 percent.

A revised computation for February puts the rate at 8.6 percent. Initially, TEC had reported the February level at 8.9 percent, Wallis said.

In March of 1985, the unemployment rate was 6.4 percent.

There were more people employed in March than in February, when the number with jobs was 14,084. But February's labor force - the number of people working or eligible and seeking work - was smaller, too, by 200 at 15.417

Compared to March 1985 there last month. Similarly, the March labor force was trimmer by 270 than it was in March 1985.

In March 1985, the labor force had 15,895 people; last month there were 15,625 people in the labor force.

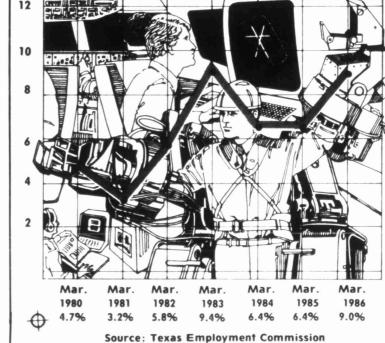

Within the city limits, the rate is higher, TEC reports. Big Spring's unemployment rate for March is 10.4 percent, Wallis said, compared to 10 percent in February and 7.4 percent for March 1985.

Wallis attributes the jobless rate to cutbacks in all phases of the oil industry - exploration, sales and supply. "Anything else is a ripple effect from the oil field," he said.

Fiberflex Products, Fiber Glass Systems and Halliburton Co., oilfield-related industries, all had layoffs during March. Wallis said there were four major layoffs during the month. He defines a "major" layoff as involving 25 people or more

More than twice as many newly jobless people filed claims for unemployment benefits in March as did in March 1985. During the month, 355 claims were filed, compared to 166 for March 1985.

hiring on hold

By SPENCER SANDOW Staff Writer

The Big Spring State Hospital's plan to hire 44 additional directcare workers has been halted, at least temporarily, superintendent A.K. Smith said this morning.

The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation determined the hospital needed 44 more workers to meet federally mandated staff-to-patient ratios based on a Feb. 19 patient population count, Smith said.

Since then, the patient population has declined, he said, so no additional workers may be needed.

"I have been pressuring the central office for relief in this area for many months," Smith said. "They just happened to get around to us' now

The hospital will hire as need arises to meet court-mandated ratios, he said, but he's not sure at this point how many will be hired, if any.

He said he is making "an educated guess" what the patient population count will be in the future to determine hiring needs. HOSPITAL page 2A

White seeks relief

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN - Gov. Mark White, who Sunday surveyed the damage in Sweetwater caused by Saturday's tornado, Tuesday asked President Reagan to declare Nolan County a major disaster area.

White's request will be sent to the president through the Federal Emergency Management Agency. If approved, the U.S. Small Business Administration and Farmers Home Administration will set up loan programs in the area

The federal government also is being asked to implement the Individual and Family Grant program and help with temporary housing, according to a news release from White's office.

A disaster designation by Reagan would open the way for federal aid for uninsured property that was damaged or destroyed. Preliminary estimates indicate that category would include about 500 homes, almost 40 mobile homes and more than 50 businesses, the release stated

The estimates don't include damage covered by insurance and therefore ineligible for federal disaster aid.

Residents also can apply for individual grants up to $5,000 per family for home and property repairs if the request is approved.

The state government will pay 25 percent, or about $500,000, of the individual grants, said Laureen Chernow, Division of Emergency Management spokeswoman. The money will come from the governor's contingency fund, which is used for grants, emergencies and various programs.

Judge hears cattlemen suit

LUBBOCK (AP) - A federal judge has taken under advisement a cattle producers' suit that contends a U.S. Department of Agriculture program to subsidize the slaughter of a million dairy cows pushed beef prices to an eight-year low.

Several witnesses testified Tuesday that the government's plan to cut milk production is devastating the beef industry.

A suit filed April 8 by several cattlemen and cattle associations seeks an injunction against the Agriculture Department. The suit alleges the buyout plan has had "the maximum conceivable adverse impact on producers of beef.

The plan has "created a tremendous amount of uncertainty" in the cattle market and caused a sharp decline in beef prices, a commodities broker testified.

"Following the announcement, the market opened sharply lower," David Hutchins of Amarillo said. "The market continued to decline through the week.

Hutchins was one of several witness to testify in a hearing before U.S. District Judge Halbert O. Woodward to determine whether the government buyout program should be halted

The hearing concluded Tuesday afternoon, but Woodward's ruling is not expected before next week.

The buyout program, announced March 28 and begun

April 1, involves the slaughter of dairy cattle over an 18-month period. Cattlemen contend that the USDA has not implemented orderly marketing procedures for the program and has glutted the market with beef and depressed cattle markets.

"We're in the 22nd day of the program and we've seen nothing but catastrophe in the cash market and the (cattle) futures market," argued Wayne Sturdivant, an attorney for the plaintiffs.

Five Texas cattlemen, a Montana producer and three beef industry groups claim in the suit that during the first week of the program, the actual loss in the value of beef cattle sold was more than $25 million

The show, staged jointly by the college music and tneater departments, is school's major production of the year, said director Tim Haynes.

The show will open at 8 p.m. both nights. Admission is $4 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens. Tickets are available at the door or can be reserved by calling the college.

The show is a conglomeration of musical and theatrical numbers, Haynes said, including "Sweet Georgia Brown," "One" from "A Chorus Line," "Rock Me, Amadeus" and the dance from "Steam Heat," Haynes said. There also will be a Texas segment.

Cases of sexual assault, Hospital. theft scheduled for trial

A case of sexual assault and in June. another of theft over $750 were set for trial next week in 118th District Court at Tuesday's docket call.

An Albuquerque, N.M., man is scheduled to stand trial Monday for allegedly refusing to return money that did not belong to him while he was an employee at Star-Com Distributing in Big Spring.

Wade Scott, 44, was indicted for theft over $750 and less than $20,000 by a Howard County grand jury in August.

According to the indictment, the incident occurred May 29.

District Attorney Rick Hamby said this morning the state alleges Scott was overpaid because of a bookkeeping error

Even though the defendant was aware of the error, he refused to pay back the money, Hamby said. The alleged overpayment was in excess of $2,000, Hamby said. Scott will be represented by court-appointed attorney Wayne attorney Alex P. LeFeuvre. Jury panels for the two criminal cases will be selected Monday and Scott's trial will begin immediately, said District Judge James Gregg.

Gregg said after the criminal trials, the court may have time to hear a civil suit filed by the state's attorney general office.

According to an amended petition filed in March, the state asks the court to award $6,728.79 in damages for a September 1980 accident that occurred on Interstate 20 in Big Spring.

The petition names Ennis Transportation, Inc., Royce Dent and Dent Truck Lines Inc. of Sweetwater as defendants. The suit alleges negligence in the accident, which caused extensive roadway

He expects to have an idea of the hospital's immediate plans by the middle of next week.

After the projections are made, the population count will be monitored for trends to project staff needs, he said. Smith said the patient population declines every spring with the end of cold weather and rises again every fall.

Also, the court has not yet answered certain questions about whether other staff, like licensed vocational nurses, can be included in staff-to-patient ratios, he said.

Government funds for hiring the additional personnel will be available for the hospital's use through Aug. 31, the end of the state fiscal year, he said. After that, additional funds may be available through a new budget. numerous applications for the 44 said.

Shultz warns Europeans

WASHINGTON - Secretary of State George P. Shultz accused the European Com-mon Market of "creating havoc" in world markets with subsidies designed to fence out lower-priced agricultural products.

"It's a major, major problem," Shultz said Tuesday. "Somehow the other countries of the world have to get at it."

He said Portugal and Spain had compounded the problem by moving to keep out $1 billion of U.S. farm sales. "We are objecting very strenuously to that," Shultz said in a Voice of America interview

Tax repeal gets support

WASHINGTON - President Reagan, coming to the aid of America's beleaguered oil industry, is campaigning for repeal of the windfall profits tax that was imposed in the days of skyrocketing prices and gasoline shortages.

Now, with the oil industry reeling from a worldwide production glut and collapsing prices, the windfall profits tax produces virtually no revenue for the Treasury but is a source of irritation for petroleum producers. Repeal of the tax would be welcome news in energy-producing states, particularly in Texas, which accounts for about one-third of the U.S. production and is a key battleground in presidential races.

Pension changes voted

WASHINGTON — The House overwhelmingly approved changes in the military retirement system in an effort to cut costs and keep people in the service longer.

The bill, passed Tuesday 399-7, will not cut the pensions of any of the 1.4 million retirees now drawing checks or the potential future pensions of the 2.1 million people now in the armed forces. Only those entering the services after the bill becomes law would be affected

The Senate Armed Services Committee also has a bill changing the pension program, but the panel hasn't yet acted. Any differences between the two measures would eventually have to be reconciled by a conference committee.

Teen-ager saves life

AMARILLO - An 11-year-old girl dived into a pool at a church-sponsored swimming party and saved the life of a boy who had sunk to the bottom

Matt Chamberlain, 6, doesn't remember what happened after he went down the pool slide Monday night, but Cheller Roach saw him lying motionless under water and pulled him to safety.

"I just saw a person at the bottom of the pool and when I tried to pick him up he looked dead," Cheller said. "When I picked him up I got really scared.'

Paper reports Libya now ruled by junta

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) -Western diplomats say the strength of Col. Moammar Khadafy's grip on the government is uncertain following U.S. air strikes last week, but a published report said today that Khadafy apparently has been forced to share power with other military officers.

Libvan officials assert Khadafy is in full control. Western diplomats in Tripoli say they don't know whether the April 15 U.S. air strike hurt Khadafy's hold on power, and that even Libya's Arab neighbors probably don't have a clear idea.

One Western diplomat in Tripoli, who spoke on condition that he not be identified, said it is possible Khadafy reasserted his control following the attack, or that there has been a major shift of power.

"One thing is sure — the last chapter hasn't been written," the diplomat told The Associated Press. "This is a time of great uncertainty."

The London Times reported today that Libya appears now to be ruled by a junta that includes Khadafy and four other military officers

"A five-man junta of military officers appears to be governing Libya in the aftermath of the American air raid - a collective leadership which includes Col. Khadafy as the nation's nominal leader but which has divested him of his exclusive control over the country," it said.

The report by Robert Fisk from Tripoli said, "Col. Khadafy now performs the tasks of a figurehead rather than the sole political and military leader.'

The Times said the four other members of the reported junta were Khadafy's deputy staff major, Abdul-Salam Jalloud; Commandant Hweldi al-Hamedi, the deputy chief-of-staff; the commander-in-chief of the army, Abu Boke, and the inspector general of the army, Mustafa Karroubi.

Jalloud, and not Khadafy, gave the first official high-level news conference following the U.S. bombing raid. Jalloud has been the No.2 man in Libya's government.

The mystery has been compounded by reports from Washington and by exile groups that there is internal unrest in Libya and that Khadafy may have fled the country briefly after the U.S. attack.

Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy gestures as he talks to Soviet journalists in Tripoli Tuesday evening.

U.S. warplanes dropped bombs on targets in Tripoli and Benghazi during last week's air raid. President Reagan claimed the two cities were the sites of installations for the training of terrorists.

London's Daily Telegraph newspaper on Tuesday quoted exiles and intelligence sources as saying Libya's head of internal security, Omar Latif, was fired 48 hours after the raids because he failed to take control in the absence of Khadafy.

The conservative daily also said there are persistent reports Khadafy flew to Marxist-governed South Yemen after the raid to get Soviet backing for his regime and returned 24 hours later. But the paper said he has not returned to his damaged home at Tripoli's Bab al-Aziyah barracks "apparently because he fears that dissidents may attempt a coup.'

It has been impossible to find out exactly who is in control in Libya, but there have been some unusual signs in the last few days:

With nearly 200 foreign journalists staying in Tripoli's Al Kabir Hotel, Khadafy has not held a news conference since the raid

A few hundred demonstrators have taken to the streets to chant support for Khadafy. Usually after U.S.-Libyan showdowns, thousands pour into the streets for government-sponsored marches and rallies in support of the 44-year-old leader.

Libya expels journalists

TRIPOLI, Libya - Libyan officials today ordered journalists representing the United States and Common Market nations to leave immediately in retaliation for new restrictions on Libyan diplomats in Europe and Britain's decision to expel 21 Libyans.

The government sent buses to transport the reporters from the hotel where they have been staying to the Tripoli airport.

Officials assigned by the Information ministry to supervise the 250 foreign correspondents staying in the Al Kabir Hotel since the April 15 U.S. bombing raid on Libya told the journalists at breakfast to pack their bags and board the waiting buses.

Israel denies arms deal

JERUSALEM - A retired Israeli general who was arrested for alleged involvement in a plan to sell $2 billion of U.S. arms to Iran was quoted today as saying Israeli authorities were aware of the plane.

But the Foreign and Defense ministries, in a joint statement, flatly denied Israel knew anything about the plan.

Seventeen people, including Avraham Bar-Am, the retired general, were charged Tuesday with conspiring to violate U.S. arms laws. Five men, including Bar-Am, were arrested in Bermuda, and four others were seized in New York. The eight others were still at large.

Botha repeals pass law

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa - The government today abandons enforcement of the pass laws that for years have restricted the presence of blacks in areas reserved for the white minority in what officials say is a bold move proving their commitment to racial reform

Many black leaders, although pleased by the demise of the hated laws, say the government's decision is "too little, too late." They say they will settle for nothing less than a full share of political power.

Opponents of apartheid had long demanded repeal of the pass laws, which barred blacks without permits from living and working in white areas.

Bonn expels 20 Libyans

BONN, West Germany – The Cabinet today decided to expel at least 20 of the 41 Libyans accredited to the radical Arab nation's embassy in Bonn and place restrictions on the rest, government sources said.

The expulsion order resulted from Monday's resolution by the 12-nation Common Market to reduce the size of Libyan embassies in response to suspected Libyan involvement in international terrorism.

Speaking to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity, the sources said the government also decided to reduce the number of West German embassy staffers in the Libyan capital from 22 to 19.

Opinion

The prospect of being hanged, said Samuel Johnson, wonderfully concentrates the mind. Probably it also keeps you awake, which means I could use it right now.

Having been prematurely roused from a pleasant slumber to bring you this column, my mind is concentrated, as much as any illrested mind can be concentrated on anything, on ... (yawn) ... excuse me ... um ... now, where was I? Oh, yes, on our society's general unappreciation of sleep.

Back in the 1960s, flower children assured us that "what the world needs now is love." Of course it does. Everything would be much more pleasant if we all lived by Jesus' injunction to love our neighbors as ourselves.

Unfortunately, as He recognized, that sort of transformation is impossible, being in fatal conflict with fallen human nature.

Until the millennium, then, we ought to look around for more plausible means of easing our passage through this vale of tears. The first one that comes to my mind is sleep.

It has many of the same benefits as learning to love one's neighbor. For one thing, it's hard to plot malevolence against your fellow man when you're off in dreamland, and even if you can plot it, you can't carry it out without waking up. Another is that it eases social friction. Courtesy, patience and sympathy are a lot easier to practice on a good night's sleep, and insufficient rest no doubt accounts for the deteriorating quality of public manners.

On this I can enlist the support of Stanford scientist William Dement, president of the Association of Sleep Disorders, who says, "America is chronically sleepdeprived and sleepy in the daytime. We talk about things that make us sleepy: a heavy meal, a warm room or a dull book. But in reality, these things just unmask our sleep deprivation. If we were fully rested, we wouldn't get sleepy.

Anyone who has an infant child, as I do, needs no convincing on this point. There are 3.6 million births a year in the United States, which million sleep-deprived parents, and no tellng how many sleep-deprived blings.

a small fraction of the walking drowsy. Innumerable sources of stimulation steal time that should be spent sawing logs - caffeine, cigarettes and television being the most obvious. As a result, most people get considerably less than the nine hours a night he says they need.

This translates into a massive national sleep deficit. If the average American gets just one hour a night less than the optimum, the annual shortfall adds up to 87 billion hours worth of sleep deprivation. This may explain all sorts of problems, from lagging labor productivity to high crime rates

Serious as these afflictions are, I suspect they are not the worst. Drowsiness has political repercussions, too. Jesse Jackson, for instance, has no assets as a campaigner beyond a knack for keeping his audience from dozing off, which to a sleep-deprived electorate is no trivial talent. Adlai Stevenson's well-reasoned but droning speeches might suggest he would make a better governor of Illinois than Jim Thompson; unfortunately, only a well-rested voter would be able to stay awake long enough to judge.

Tax reform? A sleepy Congressman is easy pickings for corporate lobbyists armed with impenetrable gobbledygook about accelerated depreciation and leveraged ESOPs. The arms race? Being cranky from insufficient sleep is bound to make us hostile toward the Soviets - though that doesn't explain what makes them so ornery. (Probably chronic hangovers from all that vodka.)

So everyone would probably be better off if each of us would break his alarm clock, or at least devote part of each work day to a wellearned snooze. Fortunately, our political process has also provided an example that may inspire broad social change - namely Ronald Reagan, whose occasional political crises are said to have caused him several sleepless afternoons.

If the leader of the Free World can manage to get all the rest experts recommend, how can the rest of us plead more pressing business? With that in mind, and after 20 minutes' chewing.

"Gee, thanks, Prime Minister Nakasone!"

Jargon pervades every Pentagon specification

GI gum comes in stick or candy-coated tablet form, in peppermint, spearmint or fruit flavor. It's rated by a tasters' panel on a "hedonic scale" of one to nine. (The Hedonic philosophers in ancient Greece placed paramount importance on pleasure and gratification of natural desires - roughly the exact opposite of the soldierly Spartans.)

Joe may head for the playing field during the day Thanks to 22 pages of specifications, he can be confident that his athletic supporter has proven capable of withstanding two hours of baking at 300 degrees without losing its stretchability.

If Joe takes a date to the club on the base, he might buy her a martini or two, secure in the knowledge that 17 pages of specs have governed the olives, grading them in 10 official sizes from small to 'special super colossal.

And finally, if Joe plans some extra-military activities, he knows that his prophylactic device — whether red, blue, green, pink, black, yellow or clear - has been manufactured under 12 pages of Pentagon specifications and sample-tested for reliability.

FOIA FOLLIES: Food and Drug Administration officials complain that the time spent on filling Freedom of Information Act requests has quadrupled in the last three years - and it's not information for the public that's to blame. Nearly 75 percent of all requests to the FDA are from businesses hoping for commercial profit. Half of those are from "firms seeking a competitive advantage over each other,' the FDA reports, while the other half are from companies that sell the information they get from the agency THE OMBUDSMAN: Two years ago we reported the personal misfortune of Don and Pat King of Chase, Kan., who tried to adopt a baby from Mexico and instead were cheated out of thousands of dollars. The adoption ring leaders are now behind bars and the Kings' hometown policeman, John Grubb, is being honored by an award from the National Committee for Adoption this week. On his own, Grubb investigated the phony adoption swindle and found dozens of other couples who had paid large sums to adopt children they never received. Grubb isn't resting on his laurels. He told us he is now tracking three other suspected adoption swindlers.

Foreign policy is to blame

By HANK MURPHY Despite the gush of public sup-port behind President Reagan's orders to bomb Libya, I don't sense the national satisfaction that followed the interception of the Egyptian airliner with terrorists on board accused of murdering Leon Klinghoffer.

Americans take no delight in seeing innocents killed by our bombs and missiles, no matter what the circumstances. Despite hard evidence that Khadafy's henchmen were instrumental in the deaths of many children, most Americans deeply regret the death of an infant girl purported to be his adopted daughter.

This is an essential difference between Americans and terrorists. Terrorists believe it is holy to indiscriminately kill women and children to advance their political cause. Americans see the deaths of those innocent Libyans as the result of a powerful nation whose people have been singled out for murder again and again and again by a demented dictator.

It's not good that the U.S. bombed Libya, it was simply an inevitable reaction.

Reagan's actions here will be second guessed long after the fall out from the raid settles.

Yet it's not this raid where the second guessing needs to be focused. The focus needs to be why the Reagan administration has failed repeatedly to address the locus of Mideast terrorism, the Palestinian problem.

President Carter's greatest foreign policy achievement, the Camp David accords, laid the ground work for a Palestinian homeland on the disputed West Bank.

Reagan, though, could never pick up the ball and run with it. One half-hearted Mideast peace initiative after another limped along pays outlandish prices for coffee pots and ballpeen hammers is the rigid insistence on detailed specifications for every item purchased.

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA WASHINGTON — One reason the military often

Most of the voluminously described specifications, or "specs," are necessary safeguards against shady contractors who might cut corners to save money But some, in page after page of barely decipherable jargon, simply hamstring procurement officers who might otherwise use their common sense to find better buys on the open market.

Our associate Stewart Harris has reviewed several reams of military specs on everyday items used by the military. Here are the highlights of "A Day in the Well-Specified Life of GI Joe:

At breakfast, Joe can be confident that his doughnut, when "cut vertically or horizontally with a sharp knife, shall not be greasy over one-eighth inch in depth at any place on the cut surface," according to specs in force since 1962. Why Joe would want to slice his doughnut horizontally, like a bagel, or have to use a sharp knife to cut it vertically before dunking, the specs don't explain. They do add that frosted doughnuts must retain their glaze when 'subjected to ordinary shocks of transportation.

Joe might decide to do his stomach lining a favor and choose hot chocolate instead of coffee. A safe

By The Associated Press 1 oday is Wednesday, April 23, the 113th day of 1986. There are 252 days left in the year. This is Secretaries' Day

Today's highlight in history: April 23, 1564, is generally regarded as the birthdate of the English poet and dramatist William Shakespeare. He died on the same date 52 years later.

On this date:

In 1789, President-elect George Washington and his wife moved into the first executive mansion, the Franklin House, in New York.

In 1791, James Buchanan, 15th president of the United States, was born in Franklin County, Pa.

In 1896, the Vitascope system for projecting movies onto a screen was demonstrated at a music hall in New York City.

In 1940, about 200 people died in a dance hall fire in Natchez, Miss.

In 1968, the Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church merged in a ceremony in Dallas to form the United Methodist Church.

In 1969, Sirhan Sirhan was sentenced to death for the assassination of New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. The sentence was later reduced to life imprisonment.

Ten years ago: Tens of thousands of people marched through the heart of Boston in a "procession against violence" to try to ease the city's racial

Five years ago: The federal government gave the go-ahead to adjustable-rate mortgages; and the Labor Department reported consumer prices rose six-tenths of 1 percent in March 1981

One year ago: The Coca-Cola Co. announced it was changing the secret flavor formula for Coke, the world's best-selling soft drink. Following months of protest from old-Coke lovers, the company resumed selling the original formula, along with the new version.

Today's birthdays: Actress Janet Blair is 65. Former actress and U.S. Ambassador Shirley Temple Black is 58. Fashion designer Halston is 54. Singer-songwriter Roy Orbison is 50. Sen. Steve Symms, R-Idaho, is 48. Actor David Birney is 47. Actor Lee Majors is 46. Actress Sandra Dee is 44. Actor Herve Villechaize is 43. Irish nationalist Bernadette Devlin McAliskey is 39. Actress Joyce DeWitt is 37. Actress Valerie Bertinelli is 26.

Thought for Today:

"All the world's a stage, And all the men and women merely players: They have their exits and their entrances;

And one man in his time plays many parts..."

- From "As You Like It," by William Shakespeare (1564-1616).

choice: 20 pages of specifications set the standard for GI cocoa. Its "pH" - a measure of acidity/alkalinity familiar to gardeners - must register within one point of the middle on a 14-point scale. At least 14 percent of the cocoa powder must be butter fat, and it can't have big chunks of cocoa bean: "When washed with petroleum ether, not less than 98 percent by weight shall pass through a U.S. Stan-dard No. 200 sieve." This may explain what the Army cooks were doing in those mysterious pre-dawn hours before we showed up the KP: sniffing etherwashed cocoa

This being the New Army, Joe may decide to have a marshmallow or two in his hot choc. Nine pages of specs cover the size and ingredients. If the marshmallows are colored, they must be a pastel shade; otherwise, military marshmallows will be white.

During the day, Joe may decide to relieve the tension with some GI chewing gum. It's a favorite of urchins around the world, and no wonder: 17 pages of specs require, among other things, that the gum "impart a pleasing characteristic taste sensation" and retain at least a "residual characteristic flavor" only to be knocked aside by more aggressive political factions. Reagan's last effort to bring peace in the region ended with more than 240 dead marines in an indefensible Beirut compound after he backed an unpopular Christian president, himself blamed for atrocities, in a Moslem country. That was followed by the shelling of Druse in the Lebanese hills by the battleship New Jersey.

Reagan let America's political strategy slip from being an honest broker for peace in the Mideast to what Arabs perceive as a staunch ally of Israel. And the madmen in the region are making sure we suffer for it.

Terrorists score a victory in Beirut

By R. GREGORY NOKES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The exodus of most of the remaining Americans from West Beirut Tuesday completes a victory for terrorists in a nation once declared "a vital interest" by President Reagan – even as he challenges terrorists in another place, Libya

In a very real sense, the U.S. bombing of Libya occurred because of what happened in Lebanon where hundreds of Americans were killed in terrorist attacks, including 241 servicemen in the suicide-truck bombing on the U.S. Marine headquarters in 1983

"Definitely it is a victory for terrorism," Abdullah Bouhabib, the Lebanese ambassador to the United States, said Tuesday of the departure of Americans. Bouhabib has said previously he felt the United States should have stuck it out.

Ten Americans who had stayed in West Beirut despite the threat of kidnapping by Islamic extremists fled the city's Moslem sector under heavy guard. They went to East Beirut, a safer locale, from which most are expected to leave Lebanon altogether.

A State Department official, Michael Austrian, said "only a handful" will remain in Lebanon out of the thousands who used to live and work in the prosperous Western-oriented nation. He said all Americans who aren't there on official duty have been urged to leave.

A small embassy staff, headed by Ambassador Reginald Bartholomew, remains.

Five kidnapped Americans remain hostages, unable to leave. It was the murder of a sixth American hostage, Peter Kilburn and two British hostages in the aftermath of the bombing of Libya that led to Tuesday's exodus. A large group of British citizens also left on Tuesday

No other government had become as deeply involved as the Reagan administration in trying to save Lebanon for the West following the 1982 Israeli invasion, which was aimed at driving out Palestinian terrorists.

The administration sent Marines to Beirut on a peace-keeping mission in 1982 on grounds Lebanon was vital to American interests. But Lebanon is scarcely mentioned now by administration officials, obviously sensitive to the probability it will go down as the administration's most clear-cut foreign policy defeat

More American servicemen were killed in Lebanon than in any other conflict since the Vietnam war. Unable to stem the attacks, the administration reluctantly withdrew the Marines in 1984, which marked the beginning of the end for American involvement in Lebanese affairs.

American aid for Lebanon has also plummeted. Congress approved $150 million in 1983 to help rebuild the country, but half of that was later diverted for other purposes. Only $65 million has actually gone to Lebanon, including $15 million this year. The administration is requesting only $2 million for fiscal 1987

While the U.S. defeat in Lebanon marked a low point in the struggle against terrorism, it served to galvanize some administration officials to devise a strategy for fighting terrorism that included preemptive and retaliatory strikes against countries that allegedly sponsor terrorism.

Secretary of State George P. Shultz, who opposed the pullout from Lebanon, argued long and hard for the new strategy. Three countries were prime targets – Syria, Iran and Libya. Last week, the attack came, with Libya the target Shultz had insisted for two years that using force against terrorism would entail risks the killing of innocent people, the loss of American servicemen, even the threat of more terrorism. But he said not fighting back at terrorism amounted to surrender.

Lebanon was his example of the consequences.

Others, however, find another lesson in Lebanon. They recall that Israel mounted its 1982 invasion in an effort to destroy Palestinian-based terrorists.

William Quandt, a former Carter administration Middle East specialist now at the Brookings Institution, had predicted one result of the invasion would be to disperse Palestinian guerrillas throughout the Middle East and provoke more terrorism from an even more desperate people.

Quandt said in an interview that he has been proved right. He said the new terrorists are "quite literally the children of people massacred in Sabra and Chatilla," the Palestinian refugee camps near Beirut.

Quandt also said there is danger the Palestinian will conclude from Lebanon "that violence works, that you achieve goals that way. That image of Shiite resistance driving the Israelis out of Lebanon is a very potent one. It's a mistake to think Palestinians can do the same, but it is widely believed the Shiites have done something impressive.

Grieving Mother feels guilty about thefts

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my know how 2-year-old son died in a tragic way.

His death was a great shock to me. I expected to go through the normal grieving process, and I did. However, something unexpected happened. I started to steal. I had no use for anything I took, but I was helpless to stop. Even more disturbing, I stole from people I love and am very close to. This started soon after the death of my son and stopped a few months ago.

The death of my son and the terrible guilt I felt over stealing nearly drove me to suicide twice.

I want very much to return the items I took and apologize to the owners, but I am afraid they will probably say they "understand," but they'll never trust me in their homes again.

Please don't tell me to seek professional help because my compulsion to steal seems to have left me as quickly as it came.

I need some answers. I've never stolen anything in my life before this. Why did I steal - especially from people I'm close to? The guilt and confusion are weighing me down. Please help me. I want to students. She attends Montana

Springtime is a time for salads

Springtime is the season for longer days, nicer weather and time to enjoy the outdoors. Who wants to spend all their time in the kitchen cooking? One way to beat the kitchen blues is to make salads. They're light and healthy, but most important, it doesn't require a lot of labor in the kitchen to make them. In this week's recipe exchange I've included salad recipes to eat as a meal or to accompany with your meal.

BIG SPRING (TEXAS) HERALD, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 1986

More to life than winning

It was inevitable; you could see the handwriting on the wall. Larry Holmes' career was at the end of its road. You could tell it was getting close when he squeaked out decisions over Tim Witherspoon and Carl Williams two years ago. Then he wanted to take on a young light heavyweight by the name of Michael Spinks last September. Holmes thought he would have little problem with this up and coming star. "I'm too strong, too experienced," he thought.

Spinks proved him wrong as he commandingly decisioned the champ. This broke Holmes' streak of 48 consecutive career wins, one behind the legendary Rocky Marciano, whose record Holmes was shooting for. It was a heartbreaking defeat for Holmes, who wanted to go down in the record books as "The Greatest."

He didn't take the loss well. That's easy to understand when you've never lost before. But Holmes took it to the extremes. He used foul and racial language during his postfight interview. Making it even worse were the derogatory remarks he made about Marciano with members of the late fighter's family sitting in the audience.

Not a very smooth move, Larry.

I tried to overlook his outburst. It takes time for a person to learn how to handle losing. Maybe the loss would help Holmes see that there's more to sports than being a proud winner

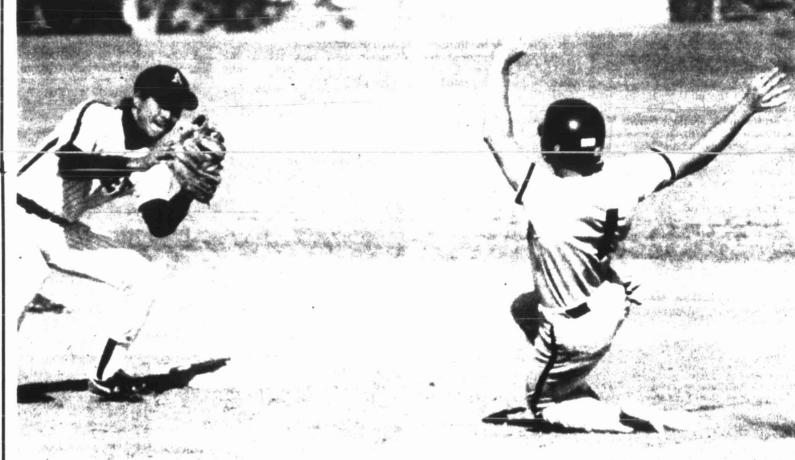

Anyway I was glad to see he would get a rematch with Michael Spinks. But evidently Holmes didn't learn anything about being a gracious loser. He knocked the Nevada State Boxing Commission for the judges' inability to score bouts. He later made a public apology, but only because Nevada fight officials threatned to not let him box in the state in the rematch against Spinks.

The second time around Spinks again came away with a win. Only this time it wasn't so decisive - a split decision. Holmes fought gallantly, like a true champion, never giving up. He made a strong surge at the end but it wasn't enough to get him over the hump. The 36-year old warrior had come to the end of his journey.

Again he didn't handle losing very well. He figured the remarks he made a week before questioning the integrity and drinking habits of Las Vegas fight judges had set him up for the fall-he-had just taken.

"I was a bad boy and they slapped my wrist," he said 'For the first time in my life I cried after a fight. I cried because they took my title that I worked so hard for.'

Holmes is no newcomer to boxing. He knows that if it's close enough to be a split decision most of the time the win goes to the champion. That's happened in his favor when he got past Witherspoon and Williams a couple of years ago. So Holmes has vowed to hang up his gloves while there is still some glitter sprinkled in his career. "It's over, I'm done," he said after the bout. I won't fight again. There is no sense chasing ghosts anymore."

Steers fall 7-1 Eagles kill playoff hopes

By STEVE BELVIN Sports Editor

So close and yet so far. That cliche could best be applied to the Big Springs Steers after they dropped a 7-1 decision to the Abilene High Eagles yesterday at Steer Field

The loss kills any hopes the Black and Gold had of reaching the state playoffs. It came to a club the Steers had already beaten twice this season. It also came to a squad that has won all of their district games on the road

The loss, coupled with Midland High's 6-5 win over Odessa Permian, leaves the Steers out of the playoff picture and moves Midland High into the state playoffs. Midland is now 9-3 in district play while Big Spring and Odessa Permian fall to 7-6. Abilene Cooper 10-2) is in first place performance from Victor Rodriquez and took advantage of four Steer errors to get their sixth district win in 13 tries. Rodriquez, a big righty, went the distance while firing a four-hitter at the home team. He set the Steers up with his fastball and then mowed them down with a sweeping curve. While raising his district record to 2-2, he struck out 11 batters and walked only one. He rendered base hits to Eli Torres, Aaron Allen, Felix Olivas and Raymond Ontiveros

Meanwhile the Steers used three pitchers. Senior Mike Dodd started the game and lasted two and onethird innings. He took the loss as he allowed four runs on five hits. Freshman Timmy Rodriquez came in a did a good job in relief until walks got him in trouble the top of

The Eagles got a strong pitching the seventh. Guiterrez allowed only one hit, but rendered three runs, two which were unearned.

> Carey Fraser came in to get the last out for Guiterrez in the seventh

A very solemn Steers coach John Velasquez didn't have much to say after the defeat. "We did not play well," he simply said. "We had too many errors and walks but there's really nothing you can put your finger on; it was alot of little things that hurt us. Abilene High played a very good game, but it sure wasn't one of our better games.

The game didn't start off like one of the Steers' better games either. In the top of the first, AHS catcher Chris Priddy singled. Pinch runner Luis Petino advanced to third on a throwing error by Dood on a pickoff attempt at first. He later scored when Dodd misfired another attempt trying to pickoff Mike Keith at first.

Big Spring had a chance to score in the first when leadoff hitter Matt Garrett walked, stole second and advanced to third on a shrarp single by Allen. But the inning ended quitely when Rodriguez struck out Randy Hayworth and Garrett was picked off third.

Abilene padded it lead to 3-0 in the top of the second. Left fielder Todd Johnson's double scored James Amos, who had walked; and Peter Rodriguez, who reached base on a single AHS took a 4-0 lead in the next inning as they chased Dodd from the mound. Mike Keith got a infield hit, stole second and scored on a single by Tim Waldmann.

Big Spring scratched for its only run in the bottom of the fourth. Hopes page 2B

Time will tell, but this time there's no reason to doubt Holmes' sincerity.

He was a great winner, it's just too bad he never learned to handle losing.

Celtics, Rockets complete sweeps

By The Associated Press

Winning in the playoffs, when teams play each other in consecutive games instead of sporadically, often becomes a matter of problem-solving.

The Boston Celtics' problem was Michael Jordan, the Milwaukee Bucks' problem was 73 first-half points by the New Jersey Nets and the Denver Nuggets problem was an injury to center Wayne Cooper. All three teams found the solutions they needed Tuesday night, and joined Philadelphia, Houston and Detroit in the victory column.

Boston, which won the first two games of the best-of-five series against Chicago despite 49 and a playoff-record 63 points by Jordan, held him to 19 in Game 3, while Kevin McHale scored 31 in a 122-104 Celtics victory that moved them into the second round.

New Jersey shot 65 percent from the field and surpassed its playoff scoring record for a half in taking a 73-55 lead at halftime, but Milwaukee held New Jersey to 40 points and 36.1 percent shooting in the second half. The Bucks' 118-113 victory also completed a series sweep

Blair Rasmussen, starting in place of Cooper, scored a careerhigh 26 points, 11 more than his previous best, leading the Nuggets to a 115-104 victory over Portland, giving Denver a 2-1 lead.

Elsewhere, Houston completed a 3-0 sweep over Sacramento with a 113-98 victory; Philadelphia took a 2-1 edge over Washington with a 91-86 triumph over Washington; and Detroit got its first win in three games against Atlanta, a 106-97 decision.

Tonight, Los Angeles is at San Antonio and Dallas at Utah. The Mavericks and Lakers both lead 2-0

Celtics 122. Bulls 104

Boston, which never trailed, got 23 points from McHale in building a 66-52 at the half before Chicago cut the deficit to 72-61. The Celtics responded with 15 consecutive points to turn the game into a rout. The outcome was decided long before Jordan, who scored just five points after the first guarter, fouled out with 51/2 minutes left. He received a standing ovation from the Chicago Stadium crowd.

Bucks 118, Nets 113 Milwaukee Coach Don Nelson, after watching New Jersey shoot 44.4 percent in the first two games of the series, couldn't believe what happened in the first half of Game

Milwaukee outscored the Nets

36-22 in the third period to draw within 95-91, then took the lead down the stretch behind key plays from Terry Cummings and Paul Pressey

Otis Birdsong paced the Nets with 28 points and Buck Williams had 25. Each scored 18 points in the first half as New Jersey surpassed its previous first-half playoff scoring mark of 69 points

Nuggets 115, Trail Blazers 104 Rasmussen, who averaged three points per game during the season and played fewer minutes than any other first-round draft pick, was the difference for Denver against Portland.

The Nuggets led by as many as 12 points in the third period, but the Trail Blazers rallied to tie the score. Rasmussen then hit a threepoint play to put Denver on top for good at 94-91 with 4:34 to play. Pistons 106, Hawks 97

Kelly Tripucka scored a gamehigh 33 points as Detroit stayed alive with a home victory after the Hawks won the first two games in Atlanta

Tripucka hit 10 points during a 13-4 streak as the Pistons built a 31-22 advantage after one quarter. They pulled away to lead by as many as 18 before the Hawks cut into the deficit.

76ers 91, Bullets 86

Sedale Threatt scored eight points and Julius Erving and Bobby Jones added six apiece during a 26-6 streak that helped Philadelphia overcome a 13-point Washington lead.

The Bullets, who overcame a 17-point deficit with an 18-0 streak in Game 1, cut a 10-point deficit to 89-86 with 16 seconds remaining with a 7-0 streak, five of them by Gus Williams, who finished with 28 points. But Erving sank two free throws with 11 seconds left to blunt the comeback

Rockets 113, Kings 98

Ralph Sampson and Lewis Lloyd scored 25 points each, leading Houston into the second round with a victory over Sacramento.

The Kings, who had won 11 consecutive games at home on Tuesday nights, wasted a 33-point performance by Eddie Johnson.

Sacramento led briefly in the first half until a 10-foot jumper by Lloyd put the Rockets up 29-28 with 10:30 left in the second quarter, and Houston never trailed again.

Sampson scored 11 of the Rockets' 17 points during a rally that gave them a 40-32 lead with 7:57 left in the first half. The Rockets shot 88.9 percent from the floor, while the Kings hit 33.8 percent during the run.

CINCINNATI (AP) Former Pittsburgh Manager Chuck Tanner says he'll defend outfielder Dave Parker against allegations his cocaine use affected his play for the Pirates, suing the outfielder for breach of contract.

Tanner, now manager of the Atlanta Braves, said Parker always gave his best.

"You're damn right I'll defend him," Tanner told the Cincinnati Post. "He played hard every day. I don't know anything about cocaine, but I know he played hurt."

Parker, 34, testified in federal court in Pittsburgh last year that he used cocaine while with the Pirates. Parker said he stopped before he came to the Cincinnati Reds as a free agent after the 1983 season.

Ex-Pirates manager will defend Parker

Parker led the National League last year with 125 runs batted in and 42 doubles, and was second with 34 home runs.

The Pirates announced Monday that they are suing Parker in an effort to block payment of $5.3 million in deferred payments the club owes him under a 1979 contract. The team alleges that Parker breached terms of the fiveyear contract by failing to reveal his cocaine use

Tanner told the Post, for a story published Tuesday, that he isn't convinced that Parker's drug use affected his performance.

"You can't be the Most Valuable Player in the league every year, you know," Tanner said. "You hit your peak. Just look at Roberto Clemente. He had bad years, and they say he was the greatest player ever to play for Pittsburgh." The Pirates want their lawsuit tried in Allegheny County Common Pleas Court in Pittsburgh. Tanner questioned whether a jury could judge a player's performance and whether drug use affected it.

"How do the current owners know how he played? Does batting average dictate how he played? How do they know?" Tanner said. Parker said after a team workout Monday in Cincinnati, "Why don't they just leave me alone?

FORECAST FOR THURS., APRIL 24, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's full moon aspects give you a big opportunity to work out whatever practical problems you have with other people so that they will more easily be resolved.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can get early action in whatever monetary interests you have in mind and get good results with them.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) It is less difficult now to come to a better understanding with others, especially with those whose views have been different.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you garner more data concerning your work, you can gain greater benefits from your routine activities.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Plan how to have more entertainment during this full moon and it will make you happier.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Handle home affairs in a confident fashion and improve the situation there. Invite people in to solve problems.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Try to garner the data you may need to solve some problem very easily now. Endeavor to gain greater prestige with the public.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Study every possible way through which you can add to present income and add to your present possessions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Put that plan to work that can gain you your cherished desires and they are soon yours. Socialize this evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Concentrate more on activities that are vital to your welfare and stop daydreaming so much. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get your personal aims clear in your mind so that you can soon attain them. Join with good friends later in the day. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) The moon is full and you can gain the energy to go after your finest ambitions and make real progress today.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You want to gain more knowledge and should go after it with more enthusiasm and open-mindedness. Make new contacts.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be dynamic and will want to work hard and long at whatever the ambition may be, so be sure to give as fine an education as you can. Slant it along investigative lines since your progeny has a proclivity for this.
