Spring Senate budget to hike taxes

ly today passed a trillion-dollar fiscal 1987 budget that challenges President Reagan's opposition to new taxes and includes $19 billion less in military spending than the president requested.

Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., held telephone discussions on the budget compromise with Donald T. Regan, Reagan's chief of staff, who is traveling with the president in the Far East.

While the president has serious reservations about individual aspects of the Senate budget resolution, we believe it is important that the Senate pass a budget for 1987 and recognizes their efforts," Speakes said, adding that the president would "veto any budget buster."

The House Budget Committee, which had been awaiting Senate action, plans to move ahead with its version of the spending package next week.

The Senate ended two weeks of debate early today when it modified, 66-29, and then adopted routinely, 70-25, a spending plan passed in March by the budget committee.

The changes dropped new taxes in the plan to $13.1 billion, down from about $19 billion but still more than twice what the President proposed. Military spending, authorized at $295 billion in the original plan, was increased to $301 billion still $19 billion short of Reagan's request.

Conservatives said the spending plan repudiated the public's mandate when Reagan crushed Walter Mondale in the 1984 election, after Mondale said a tax increase was needed.

"Mondale won, it's as simple as that," said Sen. Bill Armstrong, R-Colo., after the vote. "Our team blinked.

State's jobless rate up in April

DALLAS (AP) - The Texas unemployment rate inched up 0.4 percent to 8.5 percent in April as the state continued to suffer from the fallout of plummeting oil and gas prices, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said today.

The April mark, up from March's 8.1 percent jobless rate, was the third consecutive time the state's unemployment figure remained above a percent. "Last year at this time the jobless rate was 6.7 percent," said Bryan Richey, regional commissioner for the Bureau of Labor Statistics. "The difference between that rate and the 8.5 rate is close to 150,000 workers unemployed."

Nationally, the jobless figure dropped slightly from 7.2 percent to 7.1 percent, with most of the nation benefitting from booming service and construction industries. Richey said Texas' oil-dependent economy was lagging behind the rest of the nation in employment.

"If we look at the state's economy, we are trailing the nation in virtually every sector of the economy," he said.

Many Texas jobs were lost in the oil and gas industry, which is suf-

DA insists local murder case still open

By SCOTT FITZGERALD Staff Writer

A seven-year-old murder case remains open, District Attorney Rick Hamby said Wednesday, although law enforcement officers who investigated it believe it has for the most part been solved.

Confusion regarding the mysterious and brutal deaths of a 38-year-old Big Spring woman and her 15-year-old son surfaced this week when a relative of the victims claimed she understood the case had been presented before the Howard County grand jury and was now closed. 'My attitude is the case is open in every sense of the word," Hamby said this week. "The door to my office is open to receive any new evidence."

The case involves Ann Laurie Reeves and Tracey Reeves, whose nude bodies were found at 1 a.m. April 26 on a dirt road 500 yards north of the Centerpoint School. Both victims died of wounds from a small caliber gun. They were abducted from a

Texaco service station they owned on the north service road of Interstate 20 during a robbery attempt and were killed "execution style," said Sheriff A.N. Standard.

Hamby said the most recent development in the case was submission of more evidence to a Howard County grand jury in November 1985.

"They returned no indictment concerning anyone and made no statement as far as guilt or innocence to anyone living or dead," Hamby said.

Mary Harvey of Dallas, Ann Reeves' younger sister, said county law enforcement investigators had mentioned several names to her as suspects when she visited Big Spring in September at Standard's request. She declined to disclose the names of suspects.

Standard, whose office investigated the murders, said Thursday that investigators from his office and Texas Ranger Charles Brune met with the family in September to reveal evidence that was 'documented and crossreferenced.

The evidence, Standard said, led to an identification of the murderer from a group of four primary suspects. Deputy George Quintero said the primary suspect was a former Big Spring resident, who has since died in a traffic "He had a homicidal history,"

Quintero said. He was never arrested because the murder weapon was never found, and charges can't be filed now that he is dead, the deputy said. The man believed to be the murderer had previously served time in the state penitentiary for homicide, Quintero said, and was known there for his violent behavior.

Standard described the man as someone who "lived a life that was rather outgoing and exposed himself in many situations that could have seriously taken his life.

Harvey said the suspect was described to the family as a man who had been in prison several years for murder and had been released a month before Ann and Tracey were fatally shot.

She said the family was informed that not enough incriminating evidence could be gathered to prosecute the primary suspect and that he was running loose on the streets for three to four years" before his

Fire linked to arson

LOS ANGELES - Investigators suspect that arson caused the fire that destroyed about 20 percent of the books in the historic Central Library, a newspaper reported today.

Lab tests were being conducted to confirm suspicions, the Los Angeles Times reported, quoting sources close to the investigation who spoke on the condition of anonymity.

Investigators from the fire department's arson squad and the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms were questioning the approximately 400 patrons and staff who were in the library when the fire broke out, it reported.

The 71/2-hour blaze Tuesday roared through the top two floors of the three-story building, which preservationists valued for its distinctive architectural style, interior murals and pyramid-shaped top adorned with mosaics.

CHICAGO — Playboy Enterprises is closing its last three company-owned Playboy clubs — its 26-year-old flagship club in Chicago, a year-old club in New York that was billed as the club of the future, and one in Los Angeles.

The three clubs will shut down at the end of June, Playboy said Thursday.

It blamed red ink incurred primarily by its new-concept Playboy Empire Club in New York, which opened in 1985, for a thirdquarter loss of $3.2 million.

'In light of its results and our assessment of its business potential, prudent business practice dictates the closing of the clubs in these three cities," said Christie Hefner, the company's president.

Drinking causes stroke

CHICAGO - Heavy drinkers can add another item to their list of reasons for cutting down on alcohol - nearly three times the risk of the kind of stroke that is most often fatal, according to a study published today.

'If you're a casual Joe, a social drinker, we're not recommending any changes in that behavior," said Richard P. Donahue, a researcher with the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute in Bethesda, Md.

'But if you're a heavy drinker, your risk not only of stroke but also of ... cancers and death from motor vehicles is higher," Donahue said in a telephone interview Thursday. "You should get yourself out of that category for a number of reasons and cut down on your

Three killed in collision

ROBSTOWN — An explosive highway collision killed at least three people and forced the evacuation of surrounding homes.

Officials said the chemical-carrying truck overturned on U.S. Highway 77 just northwest of Corpus Christi when a car apparently turned into the tractor trailer rigs path, said

George Elisondo.

The southbound rig hit the car, jackknifed, crossed the northbound lanes and then hit another car, Elisondo said.

Robstown Police Chief Eddie Mejin-said the ensuing fire gutted the vehicles involved in the crash so badly that it was impossible to say exactly how many people had died.

The Rev. Anthony "Tony" Clark and Philip Willis-Conger leave the U.S. courthouse in Tuscon, Ariz., Thursday after their conviction in the sanctuary trial. Clark was found guilty on one felony count while Conger was found guilty of two felony and one misdemeanor charges.

Sanctuary trial

Convicted activists vow to continue help

TUCSON, Ariz. — Eight sanctuary movement activists convicted by a federal jury that heard no evidence on humanitarianism or ethics say they will continue helping to smuggle Central American aliens into the United States.

Federal officials hailed the verdict Thursday even though three other defendants, including a founder of the movement, were acquitted of all charges.

A Presbyterian minister also considered a founder of the movement, a Mexican Roman Catholic priest and a nun were among six church workers convicted in U.S. District Court of conspiracy. Another priest and a lay worker were convicted of other felony charges.

U.S. District Judge Earl H. Carroll allowed the defendants convicted of crimes to remain free on their own recognizance pending sentencing July 1, and scheduled arguments May 16 on whether to hold a fullscale hearing on a defense motion accusing the government of singling the defendants out for prosecution.

Immigration and Naturalization Service Commissioner Alan C. Nelson, in a statement in Washington, said, "Above all, this case has demonstrated that no group, no matter how well meaning or highly motivated, can arbitrarily violate the laws of the 'Perhaps now that this verdict is behind us, those of me 11 defendants maintained they had lawfully aided people fleeing persecution in Guatemala and El Salvador, making them entitled to political asylum in Prosecutor Donald M. Reno Jr. succeeded in excluding from the scope of the trial such issues as religion, humanitarianism, international law and political asylum. The jury deliberated 48 hours over nine days following a trial that began more than six months ago.

"I'm not pleased to see any persons convicted of a crime," said Reno. "I'm only pleased the jury exercised its discretion properly.'

Juror David McCrea said the panel nearly failed to reach a verdict but finally decided it had to "follow the law," even though most jurors found it difficult to vote for conviction.

"I just feel really bad about the whole thing," said another juror, who spoke on condition of anonymity. "I think it was unanimous that we didn't want to find Defense attorneys, who rested their case without calling witnesses, said rulings by Carroll limiting what could be mentioned had precluded them from presenting all the available evidence. They said appeals would be filed.

"I'm disappointed, but this is just the first of a series of judicial decisions," said the Rev. John M. Fife III, a Presbyterian minister from Tucson and a movement founder who was convicted of conspiracy and two felony counts of aiding transportation of an alien.

Later, at a news conference following a prayer service attended by about 200 supporters, Fife said, "I plan for as long as possible to be the pastor of a congregation that has committed itself to providing sanctuary. Sister Darlene Niegarski 45 a Roman Catholic nun

Filipino violence hits 34

MANILA, Philippines — President Corazon Aquino, speaking a day after the worst street violence since she took office, said today her tolerance of supporters of Ferdinand E. Marcos proves the strength of her new government

Mrs. Aquino spoke at the Villamar Air Base a day after 34 people were hurt and 77 others were arrested in battles between her supporters and Marcos loyalists during and after a Labor Day rally.

The two sides threw stones and bottles, broke car windows and damaged businesses Riot police used tear gas, fire hoses and finally gunfire to force Marcos supporters away from the U.S. Embassy.

Death penalty opposed

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia - Nancy Reagan set out today on a campaign to encourage anti-drug efforts in Southeast Asia but declined to support Malaysia's tough program that mandates the death penalty for anyone convicted of drug trafficking.

Since 1975 when the Malaysian Parliament adopted the death sentence for drug trafficking, the penalty has been imposed against 109 people. Thirty-six people have been hanged and the others are awaiting appeals or dates for hanging.

According to government figures, there are about 110,000 known drug addicts in Malaysia, a nation of 16 million people.

Libyan film claims proof

LONDON - Libyan television showed film of what it said was the helmet of an American flier who took part in the April 15 U.S. bombing raid on Libya.

The television program, monitored in Britain late Thursday, showed the helmet with the name "Lorence" visible on the browpiece, and said it had washed ashore west of Tripoli. Earphones and an oxygen mouthpiece with "28 Mar" written on it were attached.

One U.S. F-111 fighter-bomber which took part in the raid was lost and the U.S. Air Force identified the two crewmen as Capt. Paul Lorence, 31, and Capt. Fernando Ribas-Dominicci, 33. Both were based at the U.S. air base at Lakenheath in Suffolk east of London.

Tokyo steps up security

TOKYO — The tightest security ever mounted in the Japanese capital was in effect today as Japan braced for the arrival of President Reagan and other Western leaders for the international economic summit.

Forewarned by rocket attacks by Japanese radicals who vowed to "crush" the summit, authorities have turned a large area of central Tokyo into a virtual armed camp.

Italian Premier Bettino Craxi, the first summit leader to arrive, saw elements of a specially mobilized force of some 30,000 police headquarters for all but the U.S. delegation.

Secretary of State George P. Shultz has described the gathering as "a juicy target" for terrorists, and Japanese authorities have moved to erect a secure buffer zone surrounding the meeting site itself and the places leaders will stay.

New nuke plants opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A majority of Americans say they don't think the United States should build any more nuclear power plants, but they're not ready to shut down the ones already operating, the newspaper USA Today reports.

The poll, based on a survey of 726 adults selected at random across the nation, was published in today's edition of the paper. The poll was taken in the wake of the accident at the Soviet nuclear power plant at Chernobyl.

Just over half of those responding, 54 percent, said they do not think the United States should build any more nuclear plants, while 38 percent said construction should continue. It did not say how the remainder felt.

Twenty-four percent of those responding wanted to close the plants already operating in this country. Sixty-four percent said they favored keeping the plants open. It did not say how the remainder felt.

Wise is choice for county judge

One primary election to be decided Saturday is of particular importance to Howard County. In the Democratic Primary, we urge voters to consider Warren Wise as their choice for the

The county judge plays a pivotal role in county government. He heads up the county commissioners court and thereby has the opportunity to forge a plan of action for county commissioners to consider. He handles some juvenile criminal matters — and juvenile crime is of particular concern in Big Spring right now. He is judge for many misdemeanor criminal offenses, including first offense driving while intoxicated.

It could be the judge's role — if the judge so chose — to seek out areas of city-county cooperation and encourage alignments that could save taxpavers money while keeping quality of service high. It is the county judge's duty to set the commissioners court meeting agendas. They should be written clearly and completely, in a fashion that encourages citizen participation.

The position is a demanding and vital one. We probably are more concerned about this particular race than any other recent local race. We also are concerned that a large number of county residents who will choose to vote in the Republican primary will not have a voice in choosing their county judge.

It is essential that Howard County voters elect a candidate who is more than a nice guy. The county needs an able administrator, a perceptive public official and a criminal judge who will return fair, firm and consistent verdicts. We think Warren Wise fills that bill.

Thanks!

Wonderful kids

To the editor:

You hear so much about "bad kids" today, let me tell you about a bunch of "great kids". They are the kids at Forsan High School Band Department and the director Mr. Bob Fishback. These great kids sold meat and cheese and donated their profits to me and two other people in the Forsan area. Not many "bad kids" would do this. My sincerest thanks to these wonderful "kids" and Mr.

I was severely ourned in July and did not have any insurance, so the Band did this for me. I had help from lots of people in Big Spring. I want to thank everyone who contributed money, sent cards, flowers and the prayers that were said in my behalf.

Everyone helped me to keep going and not to give up and now I am back to work and doing great.

These people are the kind of people we have in Big Spring and Forsan and Coahoma. Let's be proud of our town and the people in it.

To the editor: I would like to compliment the Howard College for the Red Hot Revue they put on last Friday and Saturday nights at the coliseum. There is so much talent in this area and I really wonder if the people in our city know it. The young people in our high

Volunteerism

To the editor:

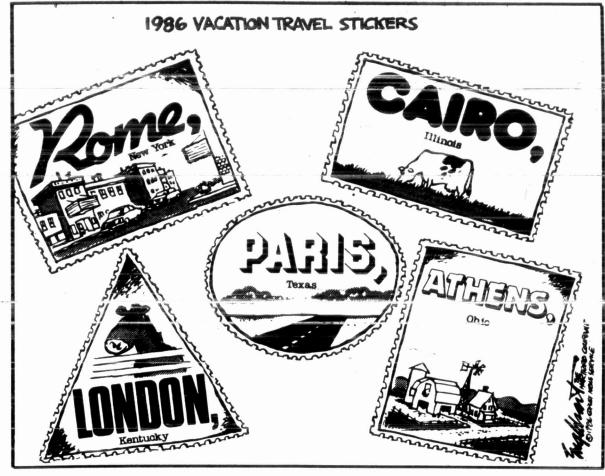

If you ever meet someone who harbors doubts concerning the viability of voluntarism in the

them about Suzanne Haney and her volunteer staff and volunteer army of musicians who, when combined with the appropriate mix of mercenaries, pulled off something of a coup on April 12th.

I can imagine it now, their mouth agape and breath held as I relate how you turned on aging, abused and out-of-tune six-foot Steinway into an aging, out-of-tune but usable nine-foot Baldwin. And as if this were not enough, having the instrument tuned and the ivories replaced. They will also no doubt marvel at the staggering difference between the rehearsal and performance tapes. You actually fulfilled Dr. Gabbi's (symphony conductor) prophecy that she made out of exasperation, Somehow, just like magic, it will all come together this evening."

Please accept my warmest thanks not only for a job done extremely well, but for carrying on amiably under circumstances that one would have to consider less than ideal.

Congressman's role help influence Pentagon brass

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA WASHINGTON - Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., the hard-working chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, generally rules on Pentagon matters with the impartial wisdom of King Solomon.

But when a Wisconsin company was in danger of losing a lucrative Army contract, Aspin intervened and, emulating the biblical monarch in his most famous ruling, suggested that the baby be cut in two. And unlike the harlot in the Old Testament story, the Army agreed to have its contract cut in twain. And it

In acquiescing to the chairman's urging, the Army overrode three detailed studies. Here's what attracted:
Attraction wanted an economical replacement for magnesium batteries, which don't work well in subrne answer seemed to be lithium batteries, which perform well in the cold, are more powerful and last longer. Lithium batteries cost more than magnesium batteries, but the Army figured it was worth it, and last year decided to switch

The General Accounting Office, though not sure about the Army's cost figures, concluded that "the operational advantages of the lithium battery justify the Army's decision to move from magnesium to lithium batteries.

A study by the Army's communications/electronic command predicted that the conversion to lithium would save $1.5 million over the next five years. The lithium contracts may total $50 million in the first

A third study, by a chemistry professor, two Navy scientists and two outside consultants, said: "The Army's program to concentrate on lithium batteries is reasonable." The experts found that the need for more power at lower temperatures "can realistically be met only with lithium batteries.

Finally, the Pentagon inspector general is scheduled to report on the matter shortly. Sources told us the report will say the lithium batteries are better but more expensive, and that some batteries made of lithium and some made of magnesium may be preferable until a cheaper, second-generation lithium battery can be developed.

Against the formidable array of expert opinion, the magnesium battery had only one thing going for it: Ray-O-Vac. The firm is the sole contractor for the Army's magnesium batteries and has its headquarters in Madison and five other plants at various locations in Aspin's home state. As it turned out, this was enough.

Ray-O-Vac primed the powerful committee chairman with information and Aspin set out to change the Army's mind. Correspondence obtained by our associate Les Whitten includes a letter from Aspin to Assistant Army Secretary Jay Sculley last Sept. 18 saying: "It might make more sense to abandon the idea of a universal battery." Instead, Aspin suggested, the Army could buy lithium batteries for 'specialized needs and a larger quantity of cheaper magnesium patteries.

Aspin added pointedly; "I would appreciate your personal attention on this matter.

The Army didn't take the hint, so Aspin wrote Sculley again on Nov. 8 to inform him that "nrivate industry" had provided technical data that contradicted the GAO report, the mainstay of the prolithium case. The same day, the congressman also wrote the Army's auditor general to express

The generals finally saw the light, and decided to buy both magnesium and lithium batteries at least this year and probably much longer.

Footnote: An Aspin spokesman defended the Army's switch and Aspin's role in it. The fact that a Wisconsin corporate constituent of the chairman benefited was irrelevant, he said, adding: "The system saw the logic and reversed itself.

OOZE NEWS: The Pentagon is secretly working on a substance it hopes will thwart any burglar, no matter how skillful. We're told it's a thick, slimy glop that will be released to ooze over any lock being tampered with, presumably causing the burglar to give up in disgust.

Rescue effort almost works

By SCUTT FITZGERALD Every night at 8:30 this week, she trudged through my backyard on her way home. She looked tired. Emotionally wracked. Home is survival in the woods.

She's a wild cat. She was the mama of a litter of kittens I found near my kitchen door Sunday morning. I awoke to their meows. Mama wasn't around. I called Garner Thixton who specializes in picking up stray animals and was informed that Big Spring's Humane Society was sponsoring its adopt-a-pet program that afternoon in the Big Spring

Great, I'll put those little critters in a box, hustle them down to the mall and maybe someone will provide a home for them

They can grow up to be like my house pet - a lazy, no good, worthless white cat. Easier said than done.

When I approached the four kittens with a box, they scattered.

Thixton told me later that was because I was probably the first human they had encountered.

After an hour of playing hide 'n' seek with the kittys, I captured two of them. They didn't object. The box was complete with a blanket. The third kitty (I don't know how) managed to hide in a dryer vent. I captured him in the kitchen. Luckily, my cat was locked up in the bathroom.

And the fourth kitty — that's who mama probably searched for and wondered about this week -

He retaliated with hisses and scratches. Twice he wretched nimself free of my grasp. He ran of a neighbor's automobile.

No, no, no, kitty.

Hours later, Thixton and I found him mashed to death on the pavement. His brothers and sisters were in custody of the Humane

"Three out of four," Thixton said in summation of my effort, "that's a darn good job.'

The compliment went to my head until I saw the mama cat later If only it had been four out of official summed up the mood here this week after the perils of life in the nuclear age shifted from academic theory to grim reality. After the Chernobyl accident in the Soviet Union, news from elsewhere seemed less compelling. For now, Michael K. Deaver's travails looked like a minor footnote by comparison and so did Maria Shriver's wedding. Even the adventures of Moammar Khadafy appeared to be tame stuff next to what happened in the Ukraine.

Terrorism usually directly afflicts only small numbers of people but a nuclear disaster can affect thousands, perhaps millions. And for the dozens of other countries who rely on nuclear power, the response was universal: Could it happen here?

Once again, the mind-numbing lexicon of nuclear energy was filling newspapers, with its array of baffling terms like meltdown. millirems, fuel rods and containment structures. To most people, the accident meant one thing: huge amounts of cancer-causing radiation particles were spilled into the atmosphere.

In the U.S. government, officials began talking about nightmarish scenarios. Would milk for Swedish and Polish children be safe? Would a wind shift endanger the countries along the Soviet Union's western border and beyond?

Would contamination rob the Soviets of some of their most productive terrain? Would the Black Sea, with its resort towns and rich fishing waters, suddenly be off-limits? Would all four reactors in the Chernobyl area go up in

There were other types of questions. Why were the Soviet authorities being so secretive about the incident? Were they overwhelmed by the magnitude of the disaster?

What about the four nuclear reactors being built in Cuba less than 200 miles from Key West, Fla., with the help of Soviet technology? Will they be safe?

President Fidel Castro has stressed that the reactors will possess state-of-the-art safety features. But the official line in Cuba is that nuclear accidents can occur only in capitalist countries because "class interests" produce engineering "deficiencies." That position was spelled out in the Cuban press 17 months ago.

If Reagan administration officials felt smug over the Soviet misfortune, they weren't indicating it publicly. The official posture was: don't gloat, extend deep regrets and offer

For the Reagan administration, the disaster transcended ideological boundaries. Much like the outpouring of U.S. food aid last year to drought-stricken Ethiopia, a loyal ally of Moscow, the administration felt this week that the usual criticism of the Soviets should be set aside and replaced by offers of help.

Since the halcyon days of their World War II alliance, there have only been rare instances of Soviet-American cooperation in lifethreatening situations. Thus it was something of a novelty Tuesday when Assistant Secretary of State Rozanne Ridgway told Soviet diplomat Oleg Sokolov the United States was prepared to offer doctors and other forms of assistance

But when the administration asked for details of the disaster, Soviet diplomats have gone no further than the scant information that has been carried in the Soviet media.

For once, it was the Europeans who were criticizing the Soviets more than the

"The Soviet Union has an obligation and duty to the international community to give the fullest possible explanation of what happened and why," Britain's foreign secretary, Sir Geoffrey Howe, said at a West European ministers' meeting in Italy.

Swedish officials were especially angry, contending Soviet authorities were remiss in not alerting Sweden about the accident before the wind-blown radiation particles passed over that country early this week.

The State Department offered only a hint of criticism about Moscow's unresponsiveness, mindful that a more confrontational approach might make the Kremlin even less inclined to cooperate.

Meanwhile, the administration was in the dark about radiation levels in Moscow, where about 250 U.S. diplomats, businessmen and journalists reside.

There was a nagging suspicion that the Soviets were keeping the world in the dark, a concern that was reinforced by a Dutch ham radio operator who quoted an Englishspeaking Russian as saying from the disaster

'We heard heavy explosions ... you can't imagine what's happening here (with) all the death and fire. (There are) many hundreds of dead and wounded. Please tell the world to

Conservation awards set

Farmers and ranchers operating with practical water and soil conservation methods are encouraged to compete in an awards program sponsored nationally, according to the Texas Farmers Union.

The program is sponsored by the National Endowment for Soil and Water Conservation and the Dupont Co. and will award $1,000 to three national winners, according to the union.

TFU county nominating committees have until May 10 to submit applications for designation as "state nominee" to the TCU state office in

The Texas winner will receive an award certificate and compete for national honors. Ten national finalists and their spouses will receive an expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C., to attend a White House awards ceremony. From that group of 10, three will receive the $1,000 awards.

The farmers union has had members win the competition, and the organization is encouraging members to submit nominees whom they believe deserve public recognition for their conservation practices, said TFU president, Joe Rankin.

Stacy project to be reviewed

Colorado River Municipal Water District directors will survey problems connected with the Stacy reservoir project when they meet May 8, said Joe Pickle, district secretary.

They also will look at the general financial picture and the possible advantage in restructuring the outstanding debt, in view of interest rate

The finance and the long range planning committees will meet at 11 a.m., and the board of directors will meet at 2 p.m. at the water district

Part of the Stacy discussion will deal with efforts to attain a 404 permit from the U.S. Army Engineers in order to start construction of the dam by mid-1987, Pickle said.

The board also will consider problems in obtaining liability insurance for its weather modification program, he said. Other items for consideration are: participating in an environmental lawsuit; monitoring the next legislative session; reducing the daily contract quantity of Mabee Oil Co. Reports; and granting of a power line

Staff Writer COAHOMA — The City Council at a special meeting Thursday night submitted a proposal to the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 that could end a dispute which has raged for more than 10 years.

Two lawsuits by the district against Coahoma and a countersuit by Coahoma have been filed during the past year.

No action was taken at Thursday's meeting, but water district officials said they would consider the proposal at their next meeting, and may call a special meeting for the purpose.

The district had submitted a proposal to the council in February, but the council said Thursday it could not vote on the proposal then because it did not have a full council. Two seats were vacant until the April 5 election.

The main points of contention involve paying for the replacement of a water line not presently in use, but needed for a back-up unit; a tax levied by the district in 1962 to pay for the installation of a water line; and water rates charged Coahoma by the district.

Citizens of Coahoma believe the district has collected enough money since 1962 to pay the balance of the debt the district owes for a water line it had installed, and that the tax should be removed, said Mayor Eleanor Garrett. The debt is scheduled to be paid off in 1988, she said. The district counters that the tax money above what's needed to pay the debt goes into its budget for miscellaneous purposes.

The water line the district wants Coahoma to replace is one that has so deteriorated it has not been used in several years, Garrett said. Ted Fowler, district representative, said the line is needed for a back-up unit in case something goes wrong with the line presently used.

The district has a lawsuit pending against Coahoma regarding replacement of the line.

Coahoma's proposal includes replacement of the line in question, if the district would pay a third of the cost, $15,000.

The third point of disagreement is over the amount of money Coahoma pays for its water.

Garrett maintains that since the district has not repaired lines in Coahoma and "has not done anything for the maintenance of the lines," Coahoma should pay only what the district pays for water. The district buys its water from

The district is currently charging 20 cents per 1,000 gallons above the cost it pays Big Spring for water, an amount Coahoma has refused to pay. In addition, the district has been charging the city 10 percent per month on the outstanding debt plus 11/2 percent delinquent charge, said city clerk Karen Bell.

The district's second lawsuit against the city is for payment of this money. Coahoma has filed a countersuit to this one, Garrett $34,000. Coahoma's proposal to the district is for the city to pay 15 cents per 1,000 gallons above the cost of the water and that the district would be responsible for lines and storage facilities. It also states Coahoma would keep the money placed in escrow. Garrett said the money would be used to pay for the replacement of

Lifestyle Editor Jerry Simonek, Christian mystic and Siddhi yogi, believes that we are moving into a dynamic time of change which is being brought about by the awakening of our inner consciousness.

His is not traditional religious

This change is a powerful experience and is going to transform our lives, he said. It will blossom the Age of Aquarius, the alignment of the stars, and will create a universal consciousness.

'As the change comes about, there are two paths we can travel,' he said. An individual and collective awakening to a universal love is one path, Simonek says, which will shift the course of mankind to planetary love, peace and cooperation. The second path is a selective anniliation for those who are resistors of the growth, he says. People who are greedy and out for their own interests. "People like Reagan and Khadafy are resistors of the individual awakening of universal love. They're into hatred and a mode of violence." These resistors will be self-destructive by the wars they create, he said.

and the weeding out has been done. "After the paths have been taken we will have a cultivated garden.

Those of us left will be like the nourishing plants and we will be at a higher level of self consciousness," Simonek said.

Self-awareness is happening now, he said. "The meltdown in Russia is an illustration of that. Things like this bring dire consequences into our lives. It motivates concern and a quest for answers and soul searching for deeper answers," Simonek said.

Because of this expanse of energy, consciousness is rising and we're going to have to deal with it. "Ideally we are evolving where we can atune to the dynamic force of love, prosperity and peace. Things we can do to get in tune with these three essential phenomenas are to be intimately aware of cause and effect, polarity and expanding energy and consciousness, Simonek said.

"As we move into an age of unlocking and combusting subatomic energy within an atom, we are also moving into an age of unlocking and combusting the dynamics within our souls," he said. Simonek says, the process of awareness and engaging in these phenomenas begins with watching how we act, feel and think; looking deeper into our souls and seeing everyone we meet as a true extension of our hearts, minds and souls; and learning to give and receive love and understanding to everyone we meet.

The rising of energy is being caused by the evolution of consciousness. Each life we come back and become a higher incarnation, he said. "I know reincarnation, not as a theory, but as a fact. I've been here many times before, not out of speculation, but out of knowing. Each time you open up to all of this, past lives come back to you. You begin to perceive. I evolved through different types of entities and finally I came into this entity of man," Simonek said. He believes our souls passes from birth to birth and it retains its memory and experiences. Each lifetime has greater meaning and significance," he said.

'As energy rises it's going to br ing more emotional, mental and physical demands on us. Emotional tension will happen and on a psychic level," Simonek said. He practices yoga to help him be strong and handle the tensions, he said. He also practices Siddhi yoga which involves healing.

"I'm very Christian," Simonek says, "I'm Christ-like. I have a conscious relationship with God."

Perhaps your biological curiosity has already been piqued, as mine has been, by the fact that humans are supplied with pairs of organs

I don't know the answer. But, generally speaking, loss of one of these paired organs does not usually affect the total function previously enjoyed with both. It's just a quirk of biology. Perhaps a provident nature foresees something happening to one.

Sports Editor With a 4-14-1 Region V record, the Howard College Hawks have nothing left but to be spoilers. The Hawks played the role perfectly as they dropped the Northwood Institute Knights 7-1 in baseball action Thursday

The Knights came into the contest with a 9-12-1 region record. They needed a three game sweep over Howard to assure themselves of a state playoff berth. Now they must win today's double-header to force a tie with Ranger Junior College.

If Northwood does sweep the double-header, then Ranger would have to finish a game with Howard that called with a tie score. The game would take place Saturday at Jack Barber Field. But if the Hawks split with Northwood, then the Knights are out of the playoff any hopes of a Northwood sweep.

Willis pitched a masterful nine innings, allowing four hits, striking out four and walking three. He was in control all the way as the Knights managed only two solid hits against the right-hander from Midland. The other two hits were infield squibbers, which had the effect of a well-placed bunt.

Willis had a perfect game going for the first three innings. It was ruined on a double by Northwood's Shawn McKennon with one out in the fourth. McKennon tried to stretch it into a triple but was thrown out at third on a good relay throw by shortstop Steven Keller.

Meanwhile Willis' teammates were banging out 12 hits against Northwood starter Dale Ray and reliever Ted Porter. Ray was chased from the game in the sixth innings with his team trailing 5-1. He allowed nine hits during his stint. The bulk of the Howard's hitting damage was done by the foursome Steve Briere walked and scored on and Fred Lopez; the Hawks killed who combined for 10 hits. Medina was the big RBI man as he drove in three runs. He got three singles in four trips to the plate.

Lopez singled and doubled in three trips, driving in two runs. Smith got two fence-ringing doubles and a single while scoring two runs. Hays got a single and double in three times at bat.

Then there was center fielder Richard Messer who got only one hit. But he left his mark with a solo homer over the right field fence in the fifth.

Howard started on its road to victory by scoring its first run in the bottom of the second. Keller walked to start off the inning and eventually scored on a single by Medina

The Hawks added another run in the third when Hays doubled. Pinch runner Chad Baker scored on a single by Joel Chimelis.

Northwood scored its only run of the game in the top of the fifth. of Medina, Smith, Hays and Lopez, a infield hit by Alan Knapp.

Messer hit Ray's first pitch out to give Howard a 3-1 lead in the fifth.

Howard added two more runs in the sixth. Bruce Smith started things off with a double. He scored on a single by Medina. A few batters later Lopez drove in pinch runner Scott Smith with a single.

Howard added two insurance runs in the eighth. Bruce Smith again got the ball rolling with his second double of the day. Again he scored on a Medina single, giving Howard a 6-1 lead. The final run came when Lopez doubled, scoring

The win gives Howard a 5-14-1 region record and 25-20-1 overall

Today's double-header begins at 1°p.m. After the first game the field will be dedicated to Jack Barber. Bucks even series

MILWAUKEE (AP) - The Milwaukee Bucks knew they had to win Game 2, with or without allstar guard Sidney Moncrief.

Moncrief knew it, too, and played with an injured left heel to give the Bucks an inspirational boost that carried them to a 119-107 victory Thursday night over the Philadelphia 76ers in an Eastern Conference semifinal game of the National Basketball Association

"A gutsy performance by one of the best," Milwaukee Coach Don Nelson said.

"Sid played because he wanted to, and that meant a lot to our team, milwaukee forward Terry Cummings said.

Moncrief, a seven-year veteran. said it was something that had to be done if the Bucks were to even the series at a game apiece. Games 3 and 4 are in Philadelphia on Saturday and Monday.

Moncrief missed Game 1 because of the injury suffered in first-round play against the New Jersey Nets, and the 76ers defeated the Bucks in Milwaukee Thursday, he scored 16 points in 37 minutes, handing out five assists and getting six rebounds. Terry Cummings' performance definitely showed up in the box-score: 30 points and 15 rebounds. Philadelphia's Charles Barkley still finished with 26 points and 15 rebounds to lead Philadelphia. Julius Erving had 24 points and Maurice Cheeks added 23.

Ricky Pierce added 16 points for the Bucks, including six during a key third-quarter stretch.

Milwaukee outscored Philadelphia 30-21 in the third period to take a 91-76 edge into the fourth quarter. Milwaukee led by as many 17 points in the third quarter and early fourth quarter.

The 76ers closed the gap to 106-97 with 3:45 left after a technical foul shot by Cheeks, but a strong Bucks defense and accurate free-throw shooting down the stretch sealed the victory.

Milwaukee's Sidney Moncrief (4) drives around Philadelphia's Charles Barkley while going up for a basket in NBA action Thursday night.

The Bucks led 61-55 at halftime. Pierce scored six points during a

Milwaukee lead with 4:11 remain-

13-3 spurt that stretched a 78-71 ing to 91-74 with 34 seconds left in

Kentucky Derby figures to be two-horse race

LOUISVILE, Ky. (AP) — In D. Land he'll meet Saturday. Wayne Lukas' meteoric rise as a trainer, the Kentucky Derby has been one of the few prizes to escape

Badger Land carries Lukas' hopes for Saturday's 112th Derby against solid favorite Snow Chief, winner of five straight races and the richest Derby starter ever with $1.7 million in earnings.

The Churchill Downs oddsmaker has made it a two-horse race, listing Snow Chief at 6-5 and Badger Land at 3-1, leaving plenty of longshots from the crowd of more than 100,000 to bet on

Snow Chief will have to be a better horse than he was in the Florida Derby to beat us again," said Lukas, who arrived at the track Thursday from California. "The Badger Land that Snow Chief beat four times will not be the Badger

The other 14 3-year-olds were rated from 10-1 to 30-1 in the early line for their first try over 11/4 miles. Of interest among the other starters is Bold Arrangement, the first English-bred to run in the Derby since 1974.

The early line said little for such Derby prep winners as Rampage from the Arkansas Derby, Broad Brush from the Wood Memorial, Mogambo from the Gotham, Vernon Castle from the California Derby, Fobby Forbes from the Garden State Stakes and Bachelor Beau from Blue Grass Stakes. A $609,400 purse from a record gross purse of $784,400 awaits the winner

Lukas was the nation's leader in purses won last year and ranks No. 1 this year. He's had two Preakness winners in Codex (1980) and Tank's

Prodpect (1985) and has won two 1985 Breeders' Cup races

He realizes winning the Derby is not an easy task. In the past six years, he has saddled eight horses for the Derby, including such standouts as Tank's Prospect, Marfa, Muttering and the brilliant filly

"I've learned something from the past Derbys," said the 50-yearold Lukas, a former basketball coach and quarterhorse trainer who turned to thoroughbreds in 1978. "They were coming off their best races going into the Derby and were probably going down. We haven't seen Badger Land's best race yet. 'This colt's on an upward spiral and rising to the occasion. That's something I've tried to do with every horse I've had here for the Derby and I've done it with none.

And if Badger Land fails again. Lukas said. "Everybody wants to win the Derby, but if we don't win it this year, we'll win it next year. We've got too many good colts not

Badger Land, winner of three of five starts this year, including fourlength triumphs in the Everglades and Flamingo, will leave from the No. 10 post position under jockey Jorge Velasquez

'I'd have been happy with the 8-9-10 post positions," Lukas said. 'Just what we wanted.'

Snow Chief, a California-bred who has won all four starts this year, drew the No. 12 post and will have Alex Solis aboard.

While many of the other contenders are going into the Derby off recent races, both Snow Chief and Badger Land will make their first start in almost a month

Snow Chief last went in the Santa Anita Derby April 6, while Badger Land won the Flamingo on April 5. 'Everyone says Snow Chief is the horse to beat and so do I," said Mel Stute, the trainer of the colt who has nine wins in 13 career

In their meetings as 2-year-olds, Snow Chief was third and Badger Land fourth in the Del Mar Futurity won by Tasso, and Snow Chief won the Norfolk Stakes at Santa Anita as Badger Land finished sixth.

This year Badger Land ran second to Snow Chief in both the El Camino Real Derby at Bay Meadows and the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

"This is probably the closest the Badgers will get to the roses," said Lukas, putting down his alma mater's opportunity to make the Rose Bowl. Lukas is a University of Wisconsin graduate and a former assistant basketball coach for the

The field, in post position order with odds, includes 1, Ferdinand, 20-1; 2, Mogambo, 10-1; 3, Wise Times, 12-1; 4, Bold Arrangement, 12-1; 5, Icy Groom, 12-1; 6, Southern Appeal, 12-1; 7, Vernon Castle, 30-1; 8, Rampage, 20-1; 9, Broad Brush, 10-1; 10, Badger Land, 3-1; 11, Wheatly Hall, 30-1; 12, Snow Chief, 6-5; 13, Bachelor Beau, 15-1; 14, Groovy, 30-1; 15, Zabaleta, 12-1, and 16, Fobby Forbes, 12-1.

Haas becomes first five-game winner

By The Associated Press Some of the questions Milwaukee had about right-hander Moose Haas' future were answered Thursday.

Haas pitched eight strong innings and became the first fivegame winner in the major leagues as the Oakland A's defeated the Brewers 7-2. Haas, 5-0, said the triumph in the ballpark he called home for nine years was special.

Baseball

"Sure, it was the only team I hadn't beaten," Haas joked.

The 30-year-old Haas was traded to the A's during spring training for four minor leaguers. Thursday's game marked Haas' first appearance against his former team. and he allowed two runs on six hits.

With Milwaukee, Haas had a record of 91-79, including a leaguebest winning percentage of .813 in 1963 when he went 13-3.

Dwayne Murphy and Jose Canseco hit two-run homers to support Haas.

"I always knew he was capable of it," Milwaukee Manager George Bamberger said of Haas. "The trade was the best thing that could have happened to him. Going to a new club, having to prove yourself again, that gives you a litte bit extra drive.' Haas struck out one and walked two before being replaced for the ninth inning by Bill Mooneyham. AMERICAN LEAGUE

April building costs show gain

By HANK MURPHY Staff Writer

City construction costs for April shot up almost $180,000 over March and nearly $119,000 over April of last year, according to City Hall records.
