Tax plan gets strong backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest plan to drastically overhaul the federal income tax has so much momentum, backers say, that it stands a good chance of being passed almost intact by the Senate. But don't count your tax cut yet. The final version of a new tax law would be written, mainly behind closed doors, by a handful of senators and representatives picking and choosing from among hundreds of provisions in the separate 1,000-plus-page bills passed by the House and Senate. The list of winners and losers in the final compromise — the size of your tax cut — could be considerably different than under either bill. "You're going to get a tax-reform bill because nobody should ever bet against the most popular president of our time," said David Berenson of the Washington office of Ernst and Whinney accountants. "But the bill will be written in the conference (of senior House and Senate tax-writers). What you see now is not what you'll get." But this can be said with certainty: If Congress agrees this year on a tax bill, it will be one with radically lower tax rates, fewer deductions and exclusions, a sharply higher burden on corporations, a 100 percent income-tax cut for about 6 million of the working poor, and a tough crackdown on profitable businesses and wealthy investors who have managed to legally duck their share of taxes. Those elements are included in the bill that passed the House last December and in the version that emerged from the Senate Finance Committee by a unanimous vote on Wednesday. Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore.,

Finance Committee chairman and chief author of the bill, predicts it will suffer no major damage during the Senate debate, even though he acknowledged he is likely to lose some amendments. If everything goes according to plan — and it seldom does in Congress — the final version could be in President Reagan's hands for his signature in early August.

Speech students at Howard College protest the art department's egg drop at a "right-to-life" rally Thursday. The rally was part of a persuasive speaking class project on social movements.

Howard College students watch as the "Sesquicentennial Egg-speriment" is launched from the top of the Periman Building Friday afternoon, carrying a single egg passenger.

Phillip Koger holds the only casualty of the art department's egg drop Friday afternoon. It was aboard the "Sesquicentennial Egg-speriment" he designed for a class project.

Egg-speriment spurs student protest

By SPENCER SANDOW Staff writer

Howard College art students were "murdering" prenatal chickens, and another group of students determined to stop it.

"Worse and even more depressing than rape, murder, child abuse and car theft is the fact that a certain group of H.C. students have formed an alliance to destroy poor, defenseless eggs for their own, senseless, selfish pleasure," reads a brochure by the drama department's "right-to-life movement."

The movement is a product of Lois Brace's persuasive speaking class, which is studying social movements.

The class picketed, handed out brochures, and conducted a debate, a candlelight vigil and a "march for life" rally during the two-week project.

"It started out as light-hearted and silly, but it's gotten more serious," Brace said.

The students "protested" an egg drop by Becky Smiley's design class. Art students were to design a device that would protect an egg in a fall. The results were dropped from the top of the Periman Building Friday. Only one egg was cracked during the assignment, out of seven students.

The movement turned serious when a few art students, who took the protestors' message personally, confronted the right-to-lifers at the rally, Brace said, and some name-calling ensued.

J. Thomas Box, a student in Brace's class, said "at first the whole aspect didn't sound that serious. But after the first rally, when we began handing out brochures, they could see it wasn't just a gag."

"They were angry at us," said Joe Cuellar, another student in the class. "They were telling us they weren't doing anything wrong."

The movement's strategy was to first petition, then market the cause, attain new members and try to persuade the other side using logic, Brace said. If that doesn't work, a movement will engage in non-violent resistance, appeal to emotions, and finally "try to make the opponent look like a bad guy and us look like martyrs," she said. All movements follow that path, she said.

Students Jaime Gustin and Box spoke for the "right-to-lifers" in a debate during the logical persuasion stage. They argued against taking the lives of unborn chickens and claimed that dropping the eggs

LULAC to request probe of shooting indictment

The League of United Latin American Citizens plans to ask the Justice Department to investigate the indictment of a Big Spring man on manslaughter.

Preston Virgil Crawford, 33, of 3606 Calvin, was indicted by a grand jury last month for voluntary manslaughter in the November shooting death of 19-year-old Jimmy Yanez. A previous grand jury was asked to indict Crawford on murder, but passed on the case.

LULAC district director Joe Hernandez, a San Angelo lawyer, said he questions whether the indictment should have been for murder instead of manslaughter.

"We are requesting the Justice Department either reopen the case or re-evaluate the circumstances to see that the proper steps were taken," he said. "We want to see that justice is done."

A voluntary manslaughter charge differs from a murder charge in that it is "murder committed in a situation involving passion," District Attorney Rick Hamby said last month. The offense carries a 2- to 20-year prison sentence.

Hernandez was in Big Spring Saturday for the LULAC district convention at Dora Roberts Community Center.

County to set liquor election

By SCOTT FITZGERALD Staff Writer

Howard County commissioners are expected to set an election date Monday for Precinct 1 residents to vote on the law that prohibits sale of mixed drinks.

Commissioners will meet at 9 a.m. Monday on the second floor of the county courthouse. Other items they will discuss include indigent health care and renovation of the former Woolworth's building now owned by the county.

A liquor-by-the-drink petition drive last month calling for an independent election garnered the required number of signatures by registered voters.

Howard County tax assessor-collector Dorothy Moore said the 2,604 signatures validated by her office in April more than met the minimum 2,421-signature requirement.

The drive was organized and spearheaded by Citizens for Choice, who had seen two previous petition drives shot down in 1985 because of invalid signatures.

The group seeks to change a law that allows liquor to be sold only in private clubs within the county's Precinct 1, which includes Big Spring.

According to the state election code, commissioners must formally approve the signatures and call for an election within 21 to 30 days from Monday's meeting.

State law requires that the election be independent, meaning no other issues or candidates can be included on the ballot. This rules out the possibility of holding a joint election on June 7 when Precincts 1, 2, and 4 residents will cast votes in runoff elections forced by the May 3 primaries.

Runoff elections will determine the Democratic nominations for county commissioners in Precincts 2 and 4 and Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 Place 2.

At Monday's meeting, commissioners also will receive an

'Big Foot' joins ill-fated foray

Journey through Texas

By ALLISON COWAN
Among the rag-tag army of Texas Rangers and soldiers of fortune harassing the Mexicans here along the Rio Grande in this year of 1842 is "Big Foot" Wallace — a man with a mean reputation.

William A. Wallace, 6 feet 2 inches tall and 240 pounds, claims he wears only a 9½ size shoe. He was dubbed "Big Foot" while living in Austin when he was accused of stealing his neighbor's horses. The neighbor followed the thief's footprints until they stopped at Wallace's yard.

Wallace cleared himself by putting one of his own moccasins inside the imprint of the thief's. The thief's moccasins were a good two inches larger and belonged to a notorious Indian named Big Foot. Wallace had stalked the Indian many times, but with no luck. Despite his innocence, the nickname stuck.

Wallace came to Texas from Virginia in 1837 to avenge the deaths of his two brothers, who were murdered after the battle in Goliad. Although he's never been married, Big Foot is no loner. His concern for his community leads him to ride with the Texas Rangers who sweep across the prairies, protecting the settlers.

Big Foot automatically thinks if it isn't Indians causing trouble, it'll be the Mexicans, whom he considers a strategic and crafty lot. Their language, religion and politics are unfamiliar and most Americans cannot sympathize with their neighbors to the south.

Looking almost amused — perhaps at his narrow escape from Santa Anna — William "Big Foot" Wallace was the kind of tough Texas Ranger from which legends are made.

In the past few months there have been several skirmishes between Texan and Mexican troops along the border. This has prompted President Sam Houston to send out General Somerville and these troops which Big Foot has joined. Most believe the fighting is caused by increasing talk of the United States' plans to annex the Republic.

Things start out well enough for Somerville's troops with the cap-

Police arrested Tony Fuentes, 18, of 1906 Nolan St. at 4:03 p.m. Friday on local traffic warrants.

Police arrested Earl Perry Hank, 28, of Sterling City Route Box 135 at 1800 Gregg St. at 5 p.m. Friday on a warrant.

Police arrested Oscar Luis Puenta, 18, of 1007 S. Main St. at N.W. Seventh St. and Lamesa at 9:10 p.m. Friday for driving without a license, driving without insurance and on warrants for failure to appear in court.

Lone Star State sees another stormy day

By The Associated Press
Drenching storms that have saturated Texas for the last three days continued Saturday, dropping hail, downing power lines and gorging creeks and rivers that swept several cars from roadways, officials say.

At least one man, the publisher of a West Texas newspaper, died Friday when high waters washed his car from a farm-to-market road in Schleicher County, sheriff Orval Edmiston said.

In Austin, firefighters rescued three men from swift-flowing creeks Friday night after severe thunderstorms dropped as much as 3½ inches of rain in parts of the city.

The storms — which prompted tornado and flash flood watches throughout Central, North and West Texas — dumped up to 5 inches of rain in two hours in Gillespie County and forced a light plane to land on a highway in Comal County, authorities said.

Hail the size of golfballs fell near Dickens, Spur and Crane Friday night and early Saturday, the National Weather Service reported. Scattered power outages were reported all along the storm's path.

Flash flood watches and warnings were posted for much of the state and were to continue throughout the day in parts of North, Central and West Texas, the weather service said.

Denton, north of Dallas, was hit by nearly 5 inches of rain late Friday that swamped highways but caused no injuries or damage, police said. The Trinity River was expected to reach its flood stage of 30 feet sometime Saturday.

As in Denton, authorities throughout Texas reported no major damage or injury from the storms except for the death of Finis Clay Bratcher, 39, the publisher of the Schleicher County Leader.

Bratcher died after high waters washed his car from a road 3½ miles north of El Dorado at White Draw about 4:15 a.m. Friday, Edmiston said. His body was found about six hours later near his car in two to three feet of water.

Tax plan

Majority Leader Bob Dole says Packwood's bill — with unanimous endorsement of the Finance Committee and general support from Reagan — is so popular that "it's changed the whole landscape on tax reform." He sees it zipping through the Senate.

Reagan on Saturday described the Senate plan as "a giant step forward" although he noted it was not perfect. "The people won," the president said, endorsing the Packwood proposal.

Despite their agreement on basic principles, details of the House and Senate bills are so different that the tax burden of an average middle-income family could vary by hundreds of dollars. To other taxpayers, depending on their circumstances, it would make little difference which bill becomes law.

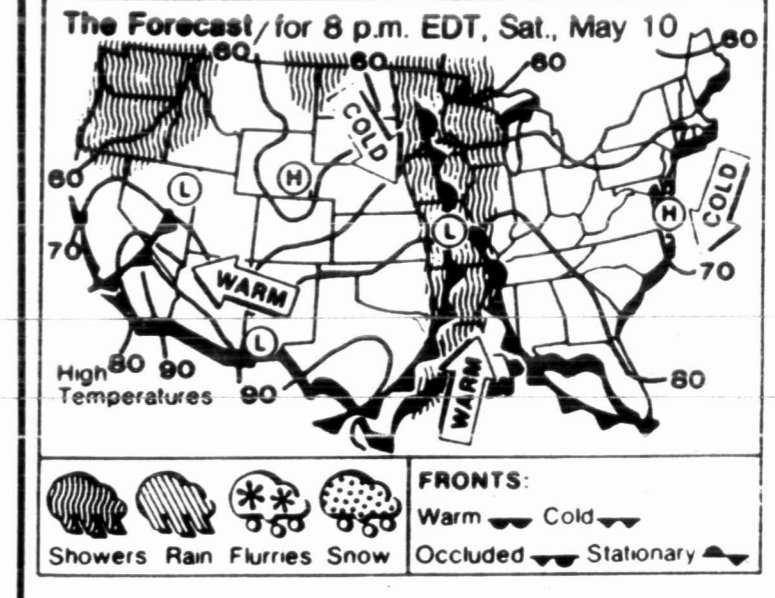

The National Taxpayers Union, which supports the Senate bill, calculates, for example, that a two-earner couple with two children, $44,000 income and average deductions would pay $4,170 under the House bill and $3,963 under the Senate plan. The family now pays $4,310.

A one-earner couple with no children and income of $31,000 now pays $3,482. The House bill would cut the tax to $3,131; the Senate, to $3,042.

Here are some of the major differences affecting individual taxes:

RATES: The House voted to cut the top individual rate (now 50 percent) to 38 percent, although most people would pay at either a 15 percent or 25 percent rate. In the Senate version, most would pay 15 percent; on paper the top rate would be 17 percent but some upper-income people could pay around 32 percent because of restrictions in other parts of the updated report from architect John Gary about the final drawings his firm has made for the former Woolworth's building on the corner of Fourth and Main Streets.

Commissioners purchased the building last summer and retained Gary's services to remodel the structure into an annex that would relieve overcrowded conditions in the courthouse.

County Judge Milton Kirby said if commissioners approve the final drawings Monday, a public hearing might be conducted at the May 27 meeting for contractual bidding on the renovation work.

"I've had several calls from Houston already" from interested bidders, Kirby said. "They want to know about it."

Commissioners also will discuss the state's indigent health care bill with Dr. Jack Woodall, director of the Howard County Health Clinic, and James Luck, county sanitation supervisor. The bill becomes effective Sept. 1.

Woodall and Luck were scheduled to appear before commissioners April 28, but requested more time to prepare paperwork.

Kirby said last month that Woodall would assist commissioners in setting eligibility criteria for persons to receive indigent health care benefits.

The health care bill, passed in the last Legislature, requires counties without public hospitals to absorb medical services for persons who are too poor to pay for health care. Counties such as Howard must provide care to indigents up to $30,000 per year per patient or 30-day hospital expenses — whichever is less.

As a result of the bill, the county must contract for medical services with a local hospital and a local pharmacy, Kirby said.

Sheriff's Log

6 transferred to county jail

Six people were transferred to the county jail from police custody Friday night and Saturday.

Edward Orlando Ramirez, 24, of 611 N. San Antonio was transferred at 12:55 a.m. Saturday after being arrested for a second offense of driving without insurance. He paid a $500 bond, but was then arrested by the sheriff's department on a capias pro-fine warrant from Ector County.

Sheriff A.N. Standard said that means he failed to pay a fine in Ector County by a set date. No bond may be set on the charge, he said; the fine must instead be paid. He will be transferred to the Ector County sheriff's department, Standard said.

John David Tombs, 26, of 1515 E. 17th St. was transferred at 11:30 a.m. Saturday after his arrest for unlawfully carrying a weapon. He was released on $500 bond, according to sheriff's reports.

Harold Ray Ott, 20, of Coahoma was transferred at 8:50 a.m. Saturday after his arrest on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. He was released on $1,000 bond.

Adam Valencia, 25, of 600 N.E. 10th St. was transferred at 12:35 a.m. Saturday after his arrest on a charge of resisting arrest. He was released on $1,000 bond.

Alexander Valencia, 28, of 1609 Lark St. was transferred at 10:20 p.m. Friday after his arrest for unlawfully carrying a weapon. He was released on $500 bond.

Ricky Gene Moore, 26, of Stanton was transferred at 3:20 p.m. Saturday after his arrest in Stanton on a revocation of probation warrant. No bond was set, according to sheriff's reports.

was wasting nutritious food, which could be used to feed the starving.

Art student Jeff Dever, speaking for the other side, countered that eggs contain cholesterol, which contributes to heart trouble. Besides, he said, eggs people eat are not fertilized and therefore will never grow into chickens.

The brochure was the movement's emotional appeal, Brace said.

"Inside that fragile shell is the void that one day could be seen running around the barnyard — a chicken! Now, with 'Smiley's Smashers' throwing good eggs off an eight-story building those poor voids will never see the light of day," the brochure reads. "Humanity cries out to these monsters pleading for an end to such a travesty."

The group's experience closely paralleled that of a genuine movement, Cuellar said, adding that it was a difficult assignment.

Box said the class had fun and learned a lot about movements. "Education took place," Brace said. "Everything I set out for the assignment was accomplished."

The students are also studying ways people persuade others on a one-to-one basis, ways people manipulate others, the use of propaganda and ethics, Brace said.

Jury acquits governor

NEW ORLEANS — Gov. Edwin Edwards and his four co-defendants were acquitted Saturday of all charges in a federal racketeering and fraud case involving state approvals for new hospitals and nursing homes.

The trial was the second for the governor, his brother Marion and three business associates. A trial last year ended in a hung jury, but with jurors leaning heavily toward acquittal.

This time, the defendants mounted no case of their own, saying they felt the government's case was too weak to warrant a response.

Dairy slaughter delayed

WASHINGTON — The nation's cattlemen have won a concession from the Agriculture Department that the industry says will help it withstand the effects of the government's subsidized reduction of the nation's dairy herd.

The National Cattlemen's Association announced Friday that the Agriculture Department had agreed to ask dairy farmers to delay the slaughter of their herds.

The association called the agreement a victory in a lawsuit it had filed in U.S. District Court in Lubbock, Texas.

Under the 18-month, $1.8 billion program, the government is paying farmers to sell 1.5 million cows, heifers and calves for slaughter or export. But about two-thirds of the herd liquidation had been planned for the first of three slaughter periods, which would have created surpluses and depressed beef prices, the cattle industry complained.

Shuttle probe continues

WASHINGTON — Two rocket-company whistleblowers who tried to stop the launch of the space shuttle Challenger have told a presidential commission they have been punished for disclosing their efforts, and the panel's chairman called their treatment shocking.

The commission Saturday released a transcript of a closed hearing that shows there were objections to the design of the shuttle booster rockets back to 1971 — 10 years before the first flight — and that the commission is concerned pressure to resume flying could repeat some of those problems.

Hispanics voted Demo

SAN ANTONIO — Despite the presence of a Hispanic on the state Republican ticket, most Hispanics participated in the Democratic primary, according to the Southwest Voter Registration Education Project.

Robert Brischetto, the project's research director, said Friday the organization is still surveying its sample of 100 precincts in Texas but that "it seems to run very strong in one direction and is very lopsided in favor of the Democrats."

Too late

9-month-old dies during liver transplant

BOSTON (AP) — A 9-month-old boy whose desperate need for a new liver caught the attention of Nancy Reagan died while undergoing transplant surgery Saturday, doctors said.

Alex Kevin Girard's condition had rapidly deteriorated, forcing a heart-lung bypass, just as a donor organ was found, said doctors at Children's Hospital.

Dr. Hardy Hendren, chief of surgery, called surgeons' efforts "a desperate attempt under almost impossible circumstances."

The infant's plight attracted national attention when Mrs. Reagan called his parents Friday to offer her support. She told Paul and Ellen Girard that Air Force jets would be available if needed to transport a donor organ.

The Girards had mounted a massive publicity campaign in an effort to find a donor organ for their son, who had been hospitalized since May 1.

Physicians flew to Houston, Texas, on a private plane late Friday night to pick up the liver, and surgery began Saturday morning.

"Unfortunately, it looks as if we're just about 24 hours later than we would like to have been," Hendren had said earlier Saturday.

The liver was connected by 2:45 p.m., said hospital spokeswoman Flora Iacchia. Alex died about an hour later of cardiac arrest "secondary to his liver failure," she said.

"The operation went all right, (but) his heart and lungs continued to deteriorate despite the best effort of the transplantation team," she said. "He was in such bad shape when he arrived in the operating room. It was not because of the operation, it was because he was in a very deteriorating condition."

She said the news of the infant's death was withheld for 3½ hours at the parents' request.

"They were trying to get in touch with close relatives instead of having them hear it from the press," she said.

The parents were not immediately available for comment, but they had said earlier that they remained hopeful although they realized the situation was grave.

The couple, speaking to reporters in a hospital conference room during the surgery, held hands, their faces pale and voices cracking as they fought back tears.

"We have been grasping at slim straws all along, and we're continuing to grasp at every one we can," Girard had said. "Again, we need prayers and we need hope for Alex. This institution is just performing to keep the baby alive. We have to leave it in their hands and the hands of God."

After a three-day nationwide search for a tiny liver to replace Alex's, doctors Friday learned of a suitable liver in Texas.

At 3 a.m. Saturday, while doctors were removing the liver of a dead child at Methodist Hospital in Houston, Alex was being hooked to a heart-lung bypass device to stabilize the severe deterioration of his heart, lungs and kidneys. Hendren said.

While trying to stabilize the infant's respiratory and circulation systems, the team of 20 also began preparing Alex for the transplant. Hendren called Alex's other problems "two strikes against us."

Alex's liver was destroyed by a rare strain of hepatitis, doctors said.

The family of the donor child apparently did not know about Alex's plight, said Holly Franz of the New England Organ Bank. They asked that no information be given out about the infant.

Elaine Crispin, Mrs. Reagan's press secretary, said the first lady told the Girards: "Be sure and give Alex a kiss for us."

"She wished them well and hoped there would be good news over the weekend for the baby," Mrs. Crispin said.

Britain expels Syrians

LONDON — Britain on Saturday ordered the expulsion of three Syrian diplomats after the Syrian Embassy refused to waive their immunity and expose them to police interrogation about an attempt to bomb an Israeli airliner.

A Foreign Office statement said Damascus was willing for the three to be questioned inside the embassy, but under the cover of diplomatic immunity.

Scotland Yard rejected the offer, believing that whatever evidence was obtained under such conditions would not stand up in court, and the government ordered the diplomats leave within seven days, the statement said.

Terrorists held in Spain

MADRID, Spain — Police have arrested 10 members of a terrorist group that received orders from Libyan diplomats and planned to attack U.S. businesses and American citizens in Spain, the Interior Ministry said Saturday.

The detainees — three Lebanese, four Spaniards, a Jordanian, a Syrian and a Portuguese — belonged to an anti-Zionist group called "The Call of Jesus Christ," the ministry said in a statement.

Soviet criticizes Kremlin

MOSCOW — A Soviet official was quoted Saturday as saying the Kremlin should have reported the Chernobyl nuclear accident sooner and that two more people died as a result of the disaster, bringing the official death toll to four.

The Soviet Union on Saturday released radiation figures from the accident that it said showed Kiev was "absolutely safe," and said the fire in the graphite of the reactor core was out.

The West German newsmagazine Der Spiegel quoted Valentin Falin, chairman of the Soviet news agency Novosti, as saying the two had been among 18 people who were hospitalized in serious condition as a result of the April 26 accident.

Police sweep township

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — More than 1,600 policemen and soldiers conducted a security sweep Saturday in the violence-torn black township of Alexandra. They erected roadblocks, searched homes and passed out pamphlets urging residents to inform on troublemakers.

In a day-long operation that began at midnight, the security forces sealed off the township on the northeast edge of Johannesburg and searched vehicles and pedestrians trying to enter or leave.

Scores of police and military vehicles patrolled the township's streets. No disturbances were reported, and by midnight many of the uniformed policemen had withdrawn, although soldiers and plainclothes men remained.

TAX TIDBITS

Here's some information on what's been happening with taxes:

- The Tax Court has just decided that shareholders of old AT&T stock did not have dividend income of 39 cents on each share when AT&T was broken up. Taxpayers who reported this amount as income on their tax returns can now get refunds.
- The IRS interest rate on overdue refunds and late taxes drops from 10% to 9% on July 1, 1986.
- President Reagan signed the Consolidated Omnibus Reconciliation Act into law on April 7. Provisions with some general interest include extension of the 16 cents a pack cigarette tax, changes in the coverage employer group health insurance plans must provide to be deductible, and clarification on when January Social Security checks are to be reported as income when they are actually received in December of the preceding year.
- We may not have heard the last on auto recordkeeping requirements. The IRS recently issued clarification stating that contemporaneous logs are not required to prove business usage. Deductions may be substantiated with either adequate records or sufficient written or oral evidence. Since the examples of what constitutes adequate substantiation are all in written form, such as account books, diaries, and trip sheets, taxpayers are left with the impression that written evidence is still the best way to go. There are bills pending in Congress that would change the recordkeeping rules again. Whether new legislation will include revisions in this area remains to be seen.
- Many homeowners have refinanced mortgages because interest rates have dropped lower than they've been in years. The points charged for refinancing may be tax deductible. The tax code isn't clear on this point, and the IRS says it's studying the issue. Be sure you pay any points separately; do not have them included as part of the loan amount or pay them out of an account with the same lender.

The two to watch
in June election

By JESSE TREVINO

Years from now, June 7, 1986, may be the day that changed Texas politics forever.

On that day, Republicans in the GOP runoff election may have made San Antonio State District Judge Roy Barrera Jr. their nominee for attorney general while Democrats were defeating their only serious candidate for statewide office in history, State Supreme Court Judge Raul Gonzalez of Corpus Christi.

Taken together, that would leave Democratic party leaders with a massive public — and political — relations headache and hand the Republicans astounding entrance into a key voter group in the Democratic party's base.

While neither Barrera's nomination nor Gonzalez' defeat in June are as yet assured, Barrera looms only a scant few percentage points from the nomination. Receiving 46 percent of the vote last Saturday, Barrera should be able to elbow Williamson County District Attorney Ed Walsh out of the picture — especially as GOP big money moves into the winner's column.

On the other hand, Gonzalez picked up solid Mexican-American support but will have a tough time, having picked up only 39 percent of the vote Saturday. Challenger Jay Gibson of Odessa climbed into second place against Gonzalez with 29 percent of the vote; the rest of the vote scattered.

Gonzalez hopes for a victory in the runoff are clouded by what is always a huge drop off in the Mexican-American vote in runoff elections. Gonzalez will not have the benefit of the numerous local races that brought Mexican-Americans to the polls on Saturday. (One bright spot for Gonzalez should be the hotly fought race for the Democratic nomination for the 21st senatorial district between Laredo and San Antonio featuring State Democratic Vice Chairman South District Senator and State Rep. Billy Hall.)

But it is Barrera's near-win which is reverberating around the state. His imminent presence on the GOP ticket puts immediate pressure on the Democratic leadership. Gov. Mark White must now embark on a campaign to put his own appointment to the court, Gonzalez, over the top.

If Gonzalez loses, Barrera will wave the flag of opportunity to Hispanics in Texas. The Barrera Pandora box, once opened, may help unravel the alliance between the liberal wing of the party and Mexican-Americans.

How this could happen could be seen in the unlikely spectacle of Speaker of the House Pro Tem Hugo Berlanga of Corpus Christi getting off the steering committee of liberal State Sen. Oscar Mauzy's campaign for the Supreme Court two weeks before the primary.

In the two weeks preceding the election, Mauzy aligned himself with Gonzalez' opponent to the court, Jay Gibson, in a voter mailout which reached homes only in North and West Texas. Incensed at what Berlanga and Mexican-American Democrat chairman Ruben Bonilla considered was a slap in the face of Hispanics by a supposed liberal friend and a double-cross of Gonzalez, they came within 500 votes of delivering Nueces County (Corpus Christi) to Mauzy's opponents — helping force Mauzy into an expensive runoff statewide.

The point is clear: If Gonzalez does not win in June, some Mexican-American Democrats may have cause to drift away from the party that rejected one of their own to a party which may have nominated a bright, young energetic Hispanic for statewide office.

With a Barrera race against incumbent liberal Attorney General Jim Mattox nearing reality and with Mexican-American sensitivities running high, a race against Barrera may well leave Mattox pondering how hard to hit Barrera, should Barrera be the only Mexican-American running for statewide office.

Mattox may do well to remember the vote delivered against Democrat Kent Hance by Mexican-Americans in the 1984 senatorial runoff after Hance aired television political commercials on illegal immigrations that bordered on racist, demagogic appeals.

While most Mexican-Americans probably favor immigration controls, they bristled at what they considered Hance's xenophobic characterizations. Their votes changed dramatically after the primary and he lost the runoff.

Given Mattox's generally liberal credentials, more than a few Mexican-Americans may wander into the Republican column, especially if they have additional reason, such as the kinds of campaigns Mattox has waged in the past against other opponents.

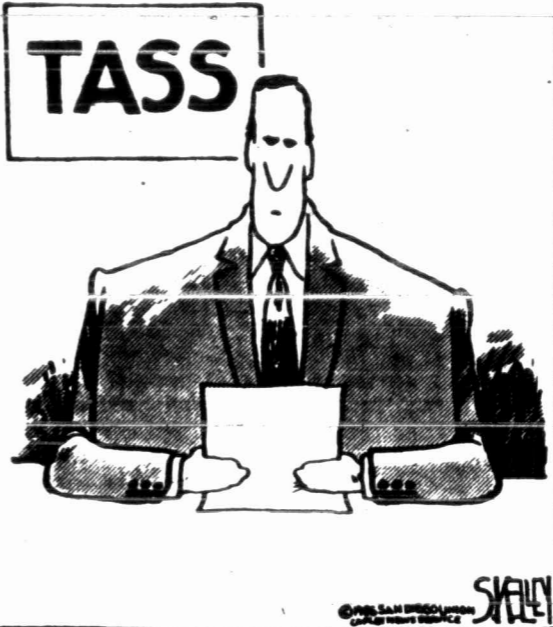

Any way you slice it, Barrera's success leaves a lasting impression on Texas and its politics.

Billboard industry tactics topic of FBI investigation

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — Campaign contributions and push junkets for Washington congressmen — courtesy of the powerful billboard industry — have been the subject of recent columns. Now, we've learned that at least one sign company has been discussing how to reward its friends and punish enemies at the local level as well.

Our associate Stewart Harris obtained a copy of tactics discussed by Naegele Outdoor Advertising Co., third largest in the country, during a company seminar in Minneapolis four years ago. A Naegele spokesman insists that the ideas were presented only for "discussion purposes" and that Naegele doesn't use them.

Among the suggestions were to give the local mayor free billboard space for his favorite charity. "The mayor (being a politician) will recognize the value of being able to get credit for favors to various civic-minded persons," the agenda explained.

Critics accuse the industry of using variations of this tactic, as when a billboard company fighting a court suit in Des Moines, Iowa, erected a sign saying: "A Shriner never stands so tall as when he stoops to help a crippled child."

The judge presiding over the billboard suit was a Shriner in the neighborhood where the sign was posted, according to the Des Moines city attorney.

During the Naegele seminar, company executives discussed ways to oppose anti-billboard campaigns. The agenda included such things as the number of votes required on a city council, the mayor's and city attorney's ability to help — and a cryptic question: "Bribe suggested?"

The last was on the agenda as a "preventive measure" so company officials would know how to turn down a city official proposing a bribe, the spokesman said.

For the record, a two-year FBI investigation in North Carolina led to the 1985 conviction of a Naegele official there on charges that he ordered company employees to falsify their income tax forms to avoid taxes on bonuses they had passed along to local politicians as campaign contributions.

FOOTNOTE: Until last fall, a media conglomerate called Ackerley Communications had been a good friend to the American Heart Association. The company for years had given the association free billboard space for its public service announcements.

But then the Heart Association stepped over the line: It voiced its opposition to billboard advertising of cigarettes. The tobacco industry, along with the liquor and airline industries, is one of the major clients of billboard companies like Ackerley.

In a memo dated Nov. 14, 1985, a top Ackerley official instructed the company's billboard, radio and television subsidiaries to cease forthwith the donation of air time or billboard space to the Heart Association.

"Their position on cigarette advertising is not compatible with our company," the memo explained. "Please consider this to be the same as the American Cancer Society; we will no longer give either organization any support."

As it happened, Ackerley rescinded the memo so fast that the Heart Association never noticed any interruption in the posting of their public service announcements on airport billboards. And the company's attorney, Eric Rubin, said that the memo "does not reflect the company's policy — it never did." He insisted that the billboard company remains committed to both the heart and cancer charities, continues to provide free space for them and has even won awards from them.

Rubin would not explain, however, why the company sent a letter to the Seattle chapter of the Cancer Society in March 1984, rejecting its request for free ads. The letter said the company was "also urging that this action be taken by both the Outdoor Advertising Association of America and the National Association of Broadcasters."

Actually, the Seattle cancer chapter told us that Ackerley never made good on its threat, and that a local Ackerley radio station still runs Cancer Society announcements.

Billy Graham

Satanic forces are deceitful

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you believe it is possible for us to make connections with people who have died? I miss a relative of mine very much and I especially miss his wise advice. Do you think it is possible to get advice from him, as some people believe? — Mrs. E.W.A.

DEAR MRS. E.W.A.: The Bible consistently and pointedly commands us not to have anything whatsoever to do with occult activity — including any type of spiritism or attempt to communicate with the dead. God commanded His people in ancient Israel, "Let no one be found among you... who is a medium or spiritist or who consults the dead" (Deuteronomy 18:10-11). The final step in the disobedience and downfall — and eventual suicide — of King Saul came when he sought out a spirit medium in order to seek advice from the dead, instead of from God (see 1 Samuel 28).

Why does the Bible say this so strongly? In the first place, such activity — whether or not you realize it — originates with satanic forces that will deceive and harm you. We need to take this very seriously, for Satan is "a murderer from the beginning, not holding to the truth, for there is no truth in him" (John 8:44). In the second place, this kind of activity diverts you from God, who is the one you truly need. God loves you, and His Word, the Bible, will give you the guidance and wisdom you need to live as you should.

Don't be misled. Instead, turn to Jesus Christ and invite Him to come into your life by faith. He alone is able to forgive you for your sins, and He alone can guide you correctly and give you hope for the future. When you know Christ, you can turn to Him in every situation, for He is only a prayer away. He has a perfect plan for your life, and if you will seek it He will show it to you. Let Christ be the center of your life from this moment on.

Being fair means
no endorsements

To the editor:

In reference to your answer to my letter in the April 28th issue of your newspaper, which you entitled "ENDORSEMENTS ARE UNFAIR TO READERS," if you would read the complete letter, I emphasized also that it was unfair to the other candidates when you make an endorsement at zero hour preceding an election.

In two elections in less than 30 days, your endorsements have only been accepted by the residents at the polls with a 33 percent approval. It appears you might be out of touch and tune with the people of Big Spring as they are affirming at the polls.

You did a tremendous job on Sunday, April 27th with the special insert in your newspaper providing information to all candidates involved. My hat goes off to you for that! You should have stopped there with a job well done.

Once again, how about being fair to all candidates. Print news if you have news. Help us if you have anything to help us with. If not, then listen to Mr. Donald E. Smith (May 1st letter to the Editor) and LEAVE IT ALONE!

Conservative diplomat always on move

By BRYAN BRUMLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Vernon A. Walters was military attaché to Brazil in 1964, before he dreamed he would represent his government at the United Nations, Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko butted him at a reception and criticized U.S. diplomats.

"The trouble with you Americans is that you never want to learn anyone else's language. You always demand that people speak English with you," said Gromyko.

Walters, politely told the ambassador in English that he was mistaken, then shifting to Russian, said forget "these Communist fairy tales," and challenged him to debate in Portuguese.

Fomin, aware that Walters could outduel him in Portuguese, carried the day with a riposte in English: "Walters, you may be a good soldier, but a diplomat you are not."

As the chief U.S. representative at the United Nations, "Dick" Walters is striving to prove himself as a diplomat as well as a linguist, traveling throughout Africa last year and visiting Latin American countries this year to sway them to the U.S. point of view in their votes at the United Nations.

Among the milestones of his U.N. tenure, says Walters, were endorsements by the Security Council and the General Assembly last December of U.S.-sponsored resolutions condemning terrorism and hostage takers. He is also proud of U.N. decisions to report on human rights in Afghanistan, Nicaragua and Iran, three governments hostile to Washington.

Walters, who does not have a college degree, shares the conservative views of his predecessor, Jeane J. Kirkpatrick. But he avoids the ideological lectures that characterized Mrs. Kirkpatrick, a university professor, and instead makes his points with jovial anecdotes, puns and occasional sharp jabs in any of the eight languages he speaks.

"I wouldn't say I've turned the tide in the United Nations," Walters said. "I would like to leave the legacy that we have started a movement towards changing these countries' voting according to some imagined alignment rather than according to their own national interest. A great number of the countries that vote against us as part of the non-aligned bloc really have common interest with us."

As roving ambassador for President Reagan 1981-85, Walters, 69, logged 10,000 miles a week. He has slowed the pace only slightly since taking the U.N. post in May 1985, moving his bulky 6-foot-3-inch frame, often in secret, from continent to continent carrying messages from the White House to presidents and prime ministers.

On a mission last month, Walters was unable to sway America's European allies — except for Great Britain — to support the U.S. air raid on Libya.

In an interview in his modest sixth-floor office at the State Department, he declined to discuss reports that French leaders, while denying U.S. bombers permission to fly over France en route to Libya, had urged tougher action to topple Col. Moammar Khadafi.

"If I were to comment on that I would never be able to talk to the French again because they would never trust me, never talk to me again. That would not be, I think, in the interest of my country."

Walters has been speaking to the French in their own language since he spent a decade there as a child. He also learned Spanish, Italian and German in childhood, and has since added Portuguese, Dutch and Russian.

Except for four years during the administration of Jimmy Carter, Walters has served his country since 1941, when he enlisted in the Army as a private.

His linguistic prowess led him quickly up the ranks in the intelligence service, as an interrogator and staff aide mainly in North Africa and Italy.

Early in the war, Walters translated for Winston Churchill, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, Eleanor Roosevelt, Gen. George Marshall and the future King Hassan of Morocco.

After the war, he served as translator and aide to President Truman, helped Marshall implement the Marshall Plan in Europe, assisted Averell Harriman in unsuccessful negotiations with Iranian leader Mohammed Mossadegh, and accompanied President Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon on sensitive diplomatic missions.

As military attaché in Paris in the early 1970s, he helped Henry Kissinger conduct clandestine talks with the North Vietnamese and arranged the secret meetings that paved the way for the trips by Kissinger and Nixon to Peking that opened the door to better U.S.-Chinese relations.

Nixon rewarded Walters with an appointment as deputy director of Central Intelligence in 1972. But Walters' loyalty was to his country, and he threatened to resign when administration aides asked him to deflect heat from the White House to the C.I.A. during the Watergate crisis that led to Nixon's resignation.

Walters retired from the Army in 1976 as a three-star general.

Hospital plans lecture series

Malone-Hogan Hospital will sponsor a series of lectures this week as part of the May 11-17 celebration of National Hospital Week, which honors the nation's 6,000 hospitals.

"Hospitals Make Healthy Neighbors" is the theme for the week.

The three 40-minute lectures will be presented at noon in the hospital classroom on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, said hospital spokeswoman Emily

Study: Working mothers preserve family lifestyle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Working mothers are preserving family living standards in two-parent households that otherwise would have experienced substantial declines in income over the past decade, says a study released Saturday.

"If more mothers had not gone to work, the loss in family income since 1973 would have been more than three times as great," said Rep. David Obey, D-Wisc., chairman of the Joint Economic Committee.

Income in two-parent families fell 3.1 percent from 1973 to 1984 and would have dropped 9.5 percent if mothers had not increased their earnings and participation in the work force, according to a statistical analysis performed for the committee.

The report said family income increased on a yearly basis prior to 1973, but the level that year has not been matched since. Median family income in 1984 was 6.2 percent lower than in 1973, it said.

The measurements were adjusted for inflation, the panel said. Thus greater dollar earnings would not rule out a drop in real income. It said that in 1973 an average 30-year-old man earned $25,253 annually in 1986 dollars; it said the amount had dropped to $18,763 by 1983.

The most dramatic decrease has been among young men, the study said, with a 30-year-old man earning 25 percent less on average in 1983 than in 1973.

"The increasing willingness of American mothers to assume the dual responsibility of a job outside the home and raising a family is a major reason why American families have retained much of the prosperity they enjoyed in the early 1970s," the report said.

Mothers joining the work force at the fastest rate are not single heads of households but those from traditional two-parent households with children under 3 years old, the study found.

Citing Labor Department statistics, the report said the participation rate of single female heads of household in the work force increased from 38.5 percent in 1973 to 44.5 percent in 1985. Over the same period, the participation rate of married mothers with children under 3 rose from 29.4 percent to 50.5 percent.

Although working mothers have averted a substantial decline in gross family income, the study said, additional costs associated with two-earner families have made the effect on net income more modest. It said the extra wages are significantly offset by money spent on child care, additional clothing, transportation and services formerly performed in the home.

"The fact that more and more mothers are, nevertheless, joining the work force appears to indicate the growing degree of economic necessity," Obey said.

The committee staff said it is preparing another study on the degree to which these expenses cut into the additional income.

Purebred dogs win at local show

Ninety-three purebred dogs and their owners from throughout the Big Spring participated in the Big Spring Kennel Club's annual AKC dog show Sunday.

Best in match was Renz's Golden Sasha C.D., a golden retriever owned by Dale Renz of Midland. High scoring obedience dog was Gretchen, a Rottweiler handled by Charlotte Cave of Lubbock.

Best junior handler was Stephanie Payne of Midland, showing Pharoah Hound Ch. Kamara Saqara. Best puppy in match was ibizan hound Istur Sucio by Danzanta, owned by John O'Malley of Lubbock.

Stand-out at the match, according to a news release, was 8-year-old Tricia Cunningham of Snyder. She was the only child showing a dog in obedience competition. She showed her miniature schnauzer, Brian's Duke of Snyder, to first place in the terrier group.

Other winners were:

A MOTHER'S VISION
I have been examining the eyes of mothers for over 27 years and I have yet to see those eyes in the back of the head that any kid will swear is there. Nor have I ever been able to understand that uncanny vision a mother has that allows her to take one look at a child who seems perfectly fine to me and determine correctly if the kid is sick, well, lying, telling the truth or a jillion other things the kid and I wonder how she knows. Something else that mystifies me is the mightiness of a mother's protective love. I call it a "Mother Hen" love. You might get by with picking a few feathers off the Mother Hen, but if you dare mess with her "chickens" she will peck you to death. Her love is also self-sacrificing. Many times I have seen Mother Hens come into the office wearing old frames held together with tape, wire, glue and a prayer. They were "making-do" while the chickens got the new stuff. And, of course, we all know that chickens come first. So... today I say to my own Mother Hen, my child's Mother Hen, and to all the Mother Hens I have known with uncanny vision and eyes in the back of the head...
HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY and GOD BLESS YOU.

Garden City

Awards given at banquet

By LEANN SEIDENBERGER
The UIL banquet was held Tuesday, honoring many of Garden City's outstanding achievers. The Rats Paw award went to Carol Hoelscher and Trey Willey. The UIL honors were given to Charlene Schrader and Greg Stringer. Abby Madrid and David Montgomery were awarded Mr. Crunch, the football player of the year. The Hump-Thump award for basketball was given to Lady Bearkat Jana Hunter with Doyle Schafer also being honored. Tennis Ace went to singles champions Danette Holdampf and Corky Turner. Tracksters Gena Schafer and Jessie Lopez were honored, both being chosen as Fleetfoot. Jackie Halfmann was given the John Phillip Sousa award for her achievement in band.

The varsity girls track team will travel to Austin on Friday to compete in the state track meet. Gena Schafer, regional 800-meter champ, will be running in Austin for the fourth time in four years. The 800-meter relay, consisting of Diana Garcia, Michele Pechacek, Jacque Jost and Carol Hoelscher placed second at regional and will be competing on Friday also. Diana Garcia, Michele Pechacek, Jacque Jost and Gena Schafer took second place at regional in the 1600-meter relay, enabling them to "go for the gold" in Austin.

The speech class will present the play "Beauties & Beasts" for the public at 7 p.m. Tuesday. Immediately following, the sixth grade, junior high and high school bands will give their annual spring concert.

Pro hoops is fun again; but there's room for improvement

By EDDIE CURRAN
Sports Writer

It seems like only yesterday when one could pick up a sports page and have a good chance of finding a dreary story about the woes of the NBA. And no wonder. To John Q. Sportsfan, pro basketball was no fun; it was a bunch of ball-hogging drug addicts playing in arenas so empty you could hear the echo of the bouncing ball.

When Mr. Sportsfan decided he'd rather be watching golf, the NBA on CBS practically vanished. I'll never forget the Sunday seven years ago when Magic and the Bird met for the first time as pros. CBS had been plugging the game for weeks. During church that day it was all I could think of. With butt on sofa, feet on table, remote control in hand, I was ready for the tipoff to a new era in pro hoops. What I got was a chorus of "Mutual of Omaha is peeeeee, you can count on when the goin's tuuuuff." I had been preempted. Rather than Magic and Larry, it would be Marlon and Jim.

Now, as it should have been all along, the NBA is fun again. Some credit goes to Commissioner Stern for the tougher drug policies. Even more credit goes to Magic and Bird for elevating passing to an art form. Dishing the ball off has become infectious, and pro basketball is a more team-oriented game because of it.

But, like in Hollywood, you gotta have the stars. Without the foxes and the studs, business stinks. And in the past two years, the NBA has been blessed with a decade worth of studs, not to mention curiosities. Why waste space with last names when your talking about Ralph, Akeem, Michael J. and Patrick. As for unlikely, take Spud, Manute and Charles Barkley, the Round Mound. That group would look more at home in an Armour hot dog commercial than the NBA.

The NBA is, without doubt, better than it was.

But it's nowhere near as good as it could be, and as it should be, for the NBA is blessed with arguably the best minor league system in all of pro sports. I'm talking about NCAA college basketball. Here is a minor league system more popular than its big brother, and for good reason. In college basketball, Chiminade can beat Virginia with Sampson, and Villanova, unranked in preseason, can win it all.

I wish someone would come up to me and say, "Mr. Curran, take your pick. You can have either these front row, 50-yard-line Super Bowl tickets, these World Series tickets, these NBA championship tickets — including flights back and forth, or this top row Final Four ticket and some binoculars."

I have a hard time deciding what I want at McDonald's, but this would be easy. Take me to my Mecca, the Final Four, any day.

The Final Four is strategy, defense, and sudden death, and it always goes down to the wire. The NBA championship is late night TV, home court advantage and much too long.

In the NBA there are too few surprises. With a 24-second clock, and four out of seven games, the best team always wins. It's fun, but fairly nerve racking. Great sports should be nerve racking. Watching the Final Four I get butterflies, and I am very, very happy. Watching the NBA, I mostly just get off on dunks.

Rutherford nails perfect 10

Sidewinder boys fare well in evening performances

By EDDIE CURRAN
Sports Writer

Big Spring Sidewinder Will Rutherford attacked the parallel bars Saturday night at the state YMCA championships and scored a perfect 10, bringing the crowd to its feet for a thundering ovation.

Rutherford, along with teammates Drew McEwen and Bill Carey, led a strong Sidewinder boys squad which appeared to be in command of the boys competition, though complete results were not available at presstime.

The Big Spring Class III girls team, led by Tracie Carpenter, Niki Anderson, Kisa McEwen and Cheri Wyrick was also in the thick of things Saturday night. They were battling a strong Midland team led by Jeanie Stewart, who flipped and twisted her way through a spectacular floor show.

In the morning's competition at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, Torrie Paine of Arlington won the floor, the vault and the bars on her way to the Girls Class IV Eight and under all around title. In the Class IV 9-11 competition, Wichita Falls' Angie McBride took the overall title after winning the floor and placing second on the bars.

In the girls 12-14 Class III-C competition held in the afternoon session, Angela Van Roekel from Arlington placed first on the beam and finished second in two events on her way to the all around title. Jeanne Folkers of Wichita Falls won the 9-11 Class III-C title with an overall score of 33.85. Team-mate Kristie Workman took the 12-14 class IV title with a 34.95 score.

In the all-around team competition, Wichita Falls won the class IV division, and Midland took the class III-C honors. The overall champion, which included the evening's competition, was not determined at presstime. Saturday night's results, as well as the overall team results, will be in Monday's Herald.

Lakers win opener, 119-107

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 31 points Saturday to lead the defending NBA champion Los Angeles Lakers to a 119-107 victory over the Houston Rockets in the opener of the Western Conference finals.

The second game in the best-of-7 series will be played at the Forum Tuesday night with the third and fourth games scheduled at Houston next Friday night and Sunday.

Abdul-Jabbar, 39, defended most of the time by 7-foot-4 Ralph Sampson, went over and around his younger foe with relative ease as the Lakers beat the Rockets for the ninth time in 11 games between the teams dating to the beginning of the 1984-85 season.

Abdul-Jabbar, the NBA's all-time leading scorer, has averaged 32 points in those games, usually getting the best of Sampson and 7-foot Akeem Olajuwon, Houston's other "Twin Tower."

The 7-2 Abdul-Jabbar had 28 of his points in the first three quarters Saturday as the Lakers took command of the game, played before a sellout crowd of 17,505 at the Forum and a national television audience.

The Lakers, who are attempting to become the first team to repeat as NBA champions since the Boston Celtics 17 years ago, led 64-58 at halftime thanks mainly to 20 points by Abdul-Jabbar.

The Rockets got as close as three points three times early in the third quarter, but led by Earvin "Magic" Johnson, the Lakers took a 10-point advantage midway through the period and weren't seriously threatened after that.

Johnson had 10 of his 26 points in the third quarter and also finished with a game-high 18 assists. Byron Scott added 18 points for the Lakers.

It was 94-82 entering the fourth quarter and Houston wasn't closer than eight points in the final 12 minutes.

Olajuwon led the Rockets with 28 points and 16 rebounds. Sampson finished with 19 points.

The Lakers, who are trying to win the Western Conference title and earn a berth in the NBA Championship Series for the fifth straight year, led 34-32 after the first quarter, as they made 14 of 15 free-throw attempts.

The Rockets, meanwhile, tried only two, which Olajuwon made with 14 seconds left in the period.

Olajuwon had 12 points in the first quarter and guard Mitchell Wiggins came off the bench to add 10 for Houston, but Wiggins picked up his third foul with six seconds left in the period and didn't play again until the second half. Wiggins finished with a career-playoff high 24 points.

Neither team led by more than four points until the Rockets tallied the first nine points of the second period to take a 41-34 advantage.

Shortly later, it was 44-36, but then the Lakers got hot, scoring 13 straight points to take a 49-44 lead midway through the period.

The Rockets responded with seven straight points to go ahead 51-49. Then the Lakers rattled off eight consecutive points to make it 57-51 in their favor.

Los Angeles, which led the rest of the way, settled for its six-point lead at halftime.

Abdul-Jabbar had 14 points in the second quarter to give him 20 in the first half. Olajuwon had 18 of his points at halftime and 26 after three periods, but managed only two in the fourth quarter.

Rodney McCray (22) of the Houston Rockets, is triple-teamed by Los Angeles Lakers James Worthy (42), Michael Cooper (21) and Peter Gudmundson (34).

Darling and Mets steamroll past Reds, 5-1

By The Associated Press
The New York Mets are off to the best start in the major leagues, but Ron Darling says he sees room for improvement. Cincinnati player-manager Pete Rose says he's seen enough.

Baseball

"The Mets have no weaknesses right now. They are going to steamroll you when they are as hot as this," Rose said Saturday after the Mets beat the Reds 5-1.

Darling pitched three-hit ball for eight innings and George Foster and Gary Carter homered as New York won its seventh straight game and improved to 20-4 this season.

The Reds fell to 6-19 with their 14th loss in their last 15 games. Despite their hot start, Darling looked toward the way Detroit opened the 1984 season. The Tigers started 35-5 and went on to win the World Series.

"We're 20-4. That means we have to go 15-1 to do what the Tigers did," Darling said. "That's unreal."

In other NL games, Montreal beat Los Angeles 3-2 in 11 innings, Chicago downed San Diego 6-3, Houston beat Pittsburgh 6-3, Atlanta beat Philadelphia 3-1 and St. Louis topped San Francisco 6-3.

In the American League, Chicago beat Cleveland 4-0 in 11 innings, Boston beat Oakland 4-2 in 10 innings and Baltimore downed Kansas City 5-2. In later AL action, it was New York at Texas, Detroit at Minnesota, Toronto at Seattle and Milwaukee at California.

Darling, 3-0, held the Reds to one unearned run and did not give up a hit until Buddy Bell led off the fifth with a single.

Jesse Orosco pitched a hitless ninth in completing the combined three-hitter. Orosco has not given up a run in 15 1-3 innings this season.

Loser Tom Browning, a 20-game winner last season, fell to 0-4.

Foster hit his second home run of the season in the fourth inning for a 1-0 lead. Keith Hernandez delivered an RBI single in the fifth, and singled ahead of Carter's fourth homer in the eighth.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Expos 3, Dodgers 2

Herman Winningham's single drove home Al Newman from second base in the 11th inning, giving Montreal its seventh straight victory.

Newman led off the 11th with a single, his third hit of the game, and took second when Los Angeles reliever Ken Howell fielded Mike Fitzgerald's sacrifice and threw late to second. Winningham then grounded a single to left field.

Dan Schatzeder, 2-0, pitched two innings and gave up one hit for the victory. Howell, 0-2, took the loss.

Cubs 6, Padres 5

Pitcher Dennis Eckersley and Jody Davis hit two-run homers and Keith Moreland added a solo shot, powering Chicago over San Diego.

Eckersley, 1-2, gave up 12 hits in 5 2/3 innings, but helped himself with his second career homer in the second inning off LaMarr Hoyt, 0-1.

Padres rookie John Kruk hit his first major-league homer and Graig Nettles connected for his 371st career homer, moving him ahead of Gil Hodges and into 29th place on the all-time list.

Astros 6, Pirates 3

Glenn Davis had two homers and a double and Bob Knepper became the National League's first six-game winner to lead Houston over Pittsburgh.

Davis homered into the left-field seats in the sixth inning against starter Rick Rhoden, 2-2, and added a two-run shot in the eighth off Bob Walk after Bill Doran had singled as the Astros maintained first place in the NL West.

Knepper, 6-1, allowed eight hits, walked three and struck out five in seven innings. Frank DiPino finished up for his first save.

Braves 3, Phillies 1

Solo homers by Claudell Washington and Terry Harper backed Zane Smith's five-hit hurling over seven innings to lift Atlanta.

Washington led off the third with his fourth homer off loser Charles Hudson. Harper brought home another run in the third with a sacrifice fly and led off the eighth with his third homer.

Smith, 3-2, allowed five hits and struck out eight to regain the league lead in strikeouts over Houston's Mike Scott before leaving the game in the eighth when a

Cardinals 6, Giants 3

Pitcher Ray Burris' bases-loaded double in the second and catcher Mike Heath's two-run single in the third helped St. Louis.

Burris, batting for the first time since pitching with Montreal in 1983, doubled past third base after Giants starter Roger Mason, 2-2, walked the bases full. Heath's two-run single off reliever Bill Laskey marked his first hit of the season off a right-handed pitcher.

Burris, 1-0, went seven innings in his first major league start this season. He was called up earlier this week from St. Louis' Triple A club at Louisville after being signed as a free agent following his release by Milwaukee.

Bean holds two stroke lead

DALLAS (AP) — Andy Bean birdied the final hole and — with help from Bobby Wadkins — stretched his lead to two strokes Saturday in the third round of the $600,000 Byron Nelson Classic.

Wadkins, playing well in front of Bean, held the lead alone until he finished bogey-bogey and left the top spot to Bean.

Bean took full advantage of the situation, rapping in a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th to complete a three-shot swing on the last two holes.

Bean, a one-stroke leader after 36 holes, had a 3-under-par 68 and completed three rounds over the rain-soaked Tournament Players Club at Las Colinas in 201.

Baseball

11th inning and three Chicago pitchers shut out Cleveland on three hits.

Red Sox 4, A's 2
Don Baylor's two-run homer in the 10th inning won it for Boston.

Baylor followed Jim Rice's one-out single, Rice's 2,000th career hit, with a blast 10 rows deep into the left-field seats off Steve Ontiveros, 0-1. The homer made a winner of Bruce Hurst, 3-2, who went all the way, scattering 10 hits and striking out 11.

Orioles 3, Royals 2

Mike Boddicker, activated from the disabled list earlier in the day, pitched three-hit ball for eight innings and Fred Lynn hit his first home run in a month for the Orioles.

Boddicker, 3-0, hit Willie Wilson with the first pitch of the game, and Wilson scored on singles by George Brett and Frank White. The Royals didn't get another hit until Steve Balboni led off the seventh with his fourth homer.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The City of Coahoma is planning to file an application with the Texas Department of Community Affairs for a Texas Community Development Program grant. The City's application will be submitted to TDCA on or before June 30, 1986. A public hearing will be held at 7:00 PM on May 13 at the Coahoma Community Center to discuss the City's community development needs. All citizens are encouraged to attend this public hearing and present their views to the City. Written comments will be accepted by the City up until the time that the application is submitted to TDCA. A second public hearing will be scheduled at a later date and announced by public notice to discuss the specific details of the application which the City of Coahoma will be submitting to TDCA. The basic intent of the TCDP program is to eliminate slums, blighted housing and deteriorated neighborhoods by providing improved streets, parks and community centers; improved utility systems; better drainage; and other public facilities. TCDP funds may also be used for special assistance. For further information on the TCDP program, contact Mayor Eleanor Garrett and 394-4287. Handicapped individuals who might have trouble in attending this hearing should contact City Hall to arrange for special assistance.

Thinking of you, Mom

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

Mother you are made of love,
You were given to us by the Lord above,
You share our joys and sorrows, too,

You show your love by the things you do,
When no one else seems to care,
Mother you are always there,
So we use today to show that we
Will love you mother 'til eternity.

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY
Kindergarten students at Marcy Elementary School, like youngsters everywhere, have definite ideas about what mothers are for. This week, several students from Annette Godfrey's afternoon kindergarten class shared their ideas:

"Buys things. She loves. They make our bed, feed, they give."
— Andy Ortega, 5

"To love, wash clothes and feed you. She helps me fix my bed and helps me reach things that are high."
— Jackie Albert, 6

"To work and get money and love. She washes clothes for me and washes dishes."
— Shanna Piercefield, 6

"Love. She washes the clothes and gives us food."
— Peggy Edmundson, 6

"For love. She cleans up the house, I think."
— Sebastian Goillandeau, 6

"To feed you cereal, to wash clothes and to wash dishes. She does all kinds of different things."
— Darel Smith, 6

The afternoon kindergarten class of Annette Godfrey, at Marcy Elementary, spent the afternoon, Thursday working on Mother's Day cards. Six-year-old Jeremiah Meikle, above, is busy making a special Mother's Day card for his mom. The children were very creative with their artwork. Meikle is shown drawing flowers on his card.

Trophy on wheels thrills Mary Kay sales director

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

Dene Sheppard has made her mark in the history of Howard County and Big Spring by being the first ever to be awarded the pink Buick Regal from Mary Kay Cosmetics.

"Mary Kay has only given 750 pink Buicks in the whole nation," said Sheppard, sales director for Mary Kay Cosmetics. "I received the first, but it won't be the last," she said.

To win the pink Buick, Sheppard said that her unit had to maintain a certain level of productivity for two consecutive quarters. "The way I feel is they (her unit) helped me get it by taking care of business," she said. "It's a trophy on wheels!"

Sheppard began her career as a Mary Kay consultant in June 1982. She had worked for the Civil Service for about 15 years as the Chief of Volunteer Services at the Veterans Administration Medical Center. "I decided I needed a change of life," she said. Sheppard became a full-time volunteer for numerous organizations. "I did everything I wanted to do."

In 1982, her husband, Bill, fell ill and she needed to work in a career that allowed flexibility, she said.

At 47, she started her "new life." "It was very difficult," Sheppard said. "I couldn't see myself in Mary Kay. I didn't think of it as a career or a business until I went to a seminar in Dallas." It was at the seminar that she saw "so many women having fun and making money! I saw a company with benefits who didn't put limits on the individual," she said.

After six months as a consultant, Sheppard became a sales director and later won the Oldsmobile, Firenza. "I was among the first in the company to ever win it and became a charter member of the VIP Club (very important performers.) It was great, I got to drive a car for two years without payments or insurance," she said.

Sheppard is a woman who sets goals. "I'll have the pink Cadillac by December," she said. Another of her goals is to be a national sales director in five years.

"I feel that high school and college students' goal will be to be a director of Mary Kay."

The company was established in 1963 and has produced 15 millionaires already, Sheppard said. "No other company is as good to women as Mary Kay is. But then, it was made by a woman."

One of Sheppard's greatest satisfactions at Mary Kay, besides the money and prizes, is that she "can touch a lot of lives and help women to be businesswomen," she said.

When asked about driving a pink car, Mr. Sheppard said, "I'll drive anything they give us — even if it has polka dots. I'm proud to drive a pink car."

Dene Sheppard, above, poses proudly with her 1984 pink Buick Regal. Sheppard received the car from Mary Kay Cosmetics on April 28 because she (and her unit) maintained a certain level of productivity for two consecutive quarters.

Anniversaries

The Cresencio Padillas

Cresencio and Lupe Padilla, 300 N.E. 8th, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Saturday with a reception at the Dora Roberts Community Center dining room hosted by their children.

A mass will be said on their behalf May 12 at St. Thomas Catholic Church.

Padilla and Mrs. Padilla, the former Lupe Herrera, were both born in Charlotte. They met in Stanton in September 1941. The following November, Padilla was drafted into the army and returned to Texas in November 1945. The couple was married May 12, 1946 at Santa Rosa DeLima Catholic Church in Charlotte with Reverend Wenzel Lieb, officiating.

The couple have four children: Thomas, of Big Spring; Jose, of Midland; Yolanda Rodriguez, of Lawton, Okla.; and Leticia Torres, of Big Spring. They also have six grandchildren.

During their marriage, the couple has lived in Stanton until May 1, 1950 when they moved to Big Spring.

Padilla retired from the Veterans Administration Medical Center in 1979 where he worked as an electrician for 30 years. Mrs. Padilla is a housewife.

The Padillas are a member of Saint Thomas Catholic Church. Padilla is a member of St. Joseph Men's Society and Knights of Columbus. Mrs. Padilla is a member of the St. Thomas Ladies Altar Society and is a Guadalupe. Hobbies of the couple include going out to their 88-acre farm in Charlotte and keeping their grandchildren.

Mrs. Padilla also enjoys sewing. When asked to comment about their marriage, they said "We both feel our marriage has been a very good one. Only by giving and taking can we make sure the togetherness we have shared will continue to grow through the years."

The Joe Fulesdays

Joe and Pauline Fulesday, 4039 Vicky, were honored Saturday with a family get together at their home in recognition of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Fulesday was born in Clearfield, Pa. and Mrs. Fulesday, the former Pauline Slape, was born in Denison. The couple met while roller-skating at Washington Park in El Paso. They were married in a Baptist church May 9, 1946 in Las Cruces, N.M.

Children of the couple are John,

Val, and Reveille Patterson, of Big Spring; and Charles and Karen Lee, of El Paso. The couple has 10 grandchildren.

During their marriage, the couple has lived in El Paso; Kwajalein, Marshall Islands; and Big Spring. They are owners of Arrow Refrigeration and members of St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Hobbies of the couple are bowling, restoring old furniture and working on the building project at their church.

Weddings

Read-Lane

COAHOMA — Kerri Jo Read became the bride of Tony Kent Lane, both of Abilene, in a ceremony held Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church of Coahoma with the Reverend Ray F. Bell, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noble Read, Rt. 3 Box 349. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ray Lane, 3235 Drexel.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with matching seven-branch brass candelabras accented with daisies, roses baby's breath and English ivy. Centering the altar was an arrangement of Sonja gladiolus, gerber daisies and spider mums. Completing the altar setting were large stands of fern.

Instrumentalists were Louis Shive, pianist and Keith Ross, organist. Andrea Gee was the vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a Victorian dress of white schiffli lace featured with a high illusion neckline and a fitted bodice. A deep lace ruffle formed the sleeves. Satin bows trimmed the shoulders and the waist. A softly pleated skirt draped into a chapel-length train. Floral wreaths capped the bride's traditional bouffant veil.

She carried a cascading bouquet of Sonja roses and cattalya orchids accented with baby's breath and English ivy.

Matron of honor was Kim Read, sister of the bride, of Snyder. Best man was Kenneth Lane, father of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Jim Read, brother of the bride, of Lubbock and Gary Roberts, of Snyder.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the social hall and courtyard of the First Presbyterian Church. The bride's table featured a cake accented with fresh flowers, English ivy, freshia, kalanchoe blossoms and Sonja. Peach ribbon completed the table setting with crystal appointments. The bridegroom's table featured a boot-shaped German chocolate cake with his initials written in brass. The table was draped with an ecru cloth and decorated with brass spurs, a candle centerpiece and wild flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School and Texas State Technical Institute. She is employed by Media Southwest as a graphic designer in Abilene.

MRS. TONY KENT LANE ...formerly Kerri Jo Read

The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Abilene Christian University. He is a credit manager for Norwest Financial.

After a cruise to the Bahamas, the couple will make their home in Abilene.

Amonett-Clayton

Jeannie Amonett and Jerry Clayton, both of Big Spring, were united in marriage April 25 in the home of the bridegroom's parents with Reverend Pat Githens, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. James Zinck, of New Orleans, La. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Clayton, 1810 Donley.

The couple stood before an open doorway decorated with greenery, decorated with two 15-branch brass candelabras. English ivy was intertwined on the candelabras and purple mums, daisies and white carnations were used as decoration throughout the home.

Wedding music was provided by Paul Nabors.

The bride was given in marriage by her sons, Aaron and Andy Amonett. She wore a lavender lace tea-length dress with a high neckline, puffed sleeves, a scalloped hemline and a dropped waist highlighted by a lavender bidium orchids in lavender, pink and yellow.

MRS. JERRY CLAYTON ...formerly Jeannie Amonett

Maid of honor was Kathy John, of Big Spring. Best man was Carl Condray, of Big Spring.

Candlelighters were Aaron and Andy Amonett. Ashley Amonett was ring bearer.

Following the wedding, the reception was also held in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The bride's table, draped with a lace cloth with orchid underlay, featured a tiered cake decorated with lavender roses, wedding bells and doves. The cake was topped with a bride and bridegroom, a present from the bridegroom's sister.

The bride attended college in San Antonio and is a secretary for Dr. John Marshall in Big Spring.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attend college in San Angelo. He is employed by radio station KSPL in San Marcos.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in San Marcos.

Home Improvement Specialists

by Bob and Jan Noyes
REPLACEMENT WINDOWS AND DOORS
 More energy is lost through windows and doors than through any crack or crevice in a house. Today's smart consumers look for houses that are as efficient as they are attractive. It makes sense to replace windows and doors that are energy bandits, especially if one plans to live in the house for a significant time. Short-term recovery rates for replacement doors and windows are in the 70 percent range. If the energy savings accrued over three to four years are added in, a profit with this home improvement may be achieved. Before buying new windows to replace those that exist, consider some possibly substantial changes. For instance, substituting a bow window for an ordinary window could do something special for a home's interior.
 Vinyl clad replacement windows are easy to maintain. Most are designed to that the glass can swing in to allow windows to be cleaned on both sides. At BOB'S CUSTOM WOODWORK, we do all kinds of remodeling and rebuilding including room additions, carpentry, decks, and sun porches. Come to 613 North Warehouse Road in the Industrial Park. Tel. 267-5811. Open M-F, 8-12 or by appt.

Controlling one's use of credit

By NAOMI HUNT
County Extension Agent

The use of credit can either make your money management system function smoothly or keep you awake with nightmares. This depends on whether you keep your credit use under control.

This discussion focuses on the amount of credit you can afford to have outstanding, strategies for breaking the credit card habit, keeping your credit under control and what to do if there is an error in your credit card bill.

The maximum amount of credit you can afford before the system falls apart is:

Fifteen to 20 percent of your monthly take-home pay (excluding your home mortgage but including charge accounts, credit cards, installment loans and car payments); or

One-third of your discretionary income. To find this amount, subtract food, clothing and shelter costs from your take-home pay and divide that figure by 3.

Breaking the Habit

- If you are over your limit, leave your credit cards at home.
- Reduce the number of cards you own to avoid temptation and

- reduce yearly fees.
- Keeping Credit and Costs Under Control
- Keep an accurate record of your charge purchases and total the amount spent after each purchase. When your monthly limit is reached, it is time to stop spending.
 - It helps some people to not charge anything that will be consumed before the bill arrives. This includes meals, theatre tickets and gasoline.
 - Always shop with a list and never charge anything that is not on that list.
 - Make sure your monthly statement is accurate.
 - If you must use credit, shop for it and compare rates.
 - Read all credit contracts carefully before you sign them.
 - Never co-sign a credit contract with someone unless you stand ready and willing to pay if the other borrower cannot.
 - Make your credit payments on time.

If There Is An Error In Your Bill

- Send a letter to your creditor within 60 days. If you miss this deadline, you may end up paying more than you should.
- The creditor must answer your letter within 30 days, and after 90 days the amount in dispute must be corrected or clarified.
- If only part of your bill is in dispute, the part not under dispute must be paid on time.
- If you complain, but the bill is correct, you will be responsible for extra finance charges accumulated while payment was delayed.
- If your bill is in error, you will have the normal amount of time to pay the difference, if any. If you have overpaid, the amount must be credited promptly or if you request it, a refund will be made.
- Pay attention to when your bill is mailed to you. The Fair Credit Billing Act requires it be mailed at least 14 days before your payment is due.

Debit Cards

Some banks now offer debit cards. Do not confuse these with credit cards. A debit card is similar to a check in that the amount charged is deducted from your checking account soon after your purchase. This is very different from the 3-to-5 week payment schedule allowed for most charged purchases.

Lifestyle guidelines

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement, wedding, silver or golden anniversary in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this. The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form must include a name and telephone number of a person whom we can reach during the day for more information.

We will use a picture of the couple in the announcement. Or in the case of engagement announcements where a picture of the couple is not available, we will use one of the bride-elect. The picture must be a professional quality studio photograph. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print. We ask for this kind of photograph so that it will reproduce well in the newspaper. Following the picture's publication, it may be picked up at the Lifestyle department.

The information for the story may be brought to the Lifestyle department of the Herald, which is located at 710 Scurry. Or it may be mailed to Lifestyle Department, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Call us at (915) 263-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

ENGAGEMENTS

Information of engagement announcements must be submitted to the Lifestyle department of the Herald anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks prior to the wedding. Anything closer than three weeks will not be published. The engagement form must be submitted no later than Wednesday noon prior to the Sunday it is to be published.

If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to the Herald. If only grandparents live in our area, please give their names and addresses.

WEDDINGS

If a wedding writeup is submitted to the Herald after the wedding has occurred, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

BIRTHS

Local hospitals supply information for Storkclub. If a child is born elsewhere in the newspaper's circulation area, or is born to out-of-town parents with local or area grandparents, please contact the Herald Lifestyle Department with Storkclub information.

Information needed for Storkclub is: newborn's name, sex, time and date of birth, weight, place of birth, parents' name and address. If the baby is born outside the circulation area but has local grandparents, please include their name and address. The local grandparents serve as the area connection for the information.

Around the county

By DANA DOLAN
Forsan 4-H

Upcoming activities scheduled

There are some very interesting things coming up in 4-H very soon. Please mark your calendars so that you won't miss any of them.

Families that are interested in the 4-H Teen In-graduate County Exchange Program are to meet Tuesday, May 13, 7:00 p.m., at the Dora Roberts Barn. Our agents have received the information from Haywood County Agents in North Carolina, concerning the 4-Hers, leaders, personal data, background, leisure interest and study interest. We will try to match 4-Hers to host families in Howard County. This should be a very interesting experience for us all.

The County Fashion Show is just around the corner. We will have project day Saturday, May 10. The Fashion show will be held May 24, at Coahoma Elementary School AV Room. Judging will be from 1:30 to 3:30 P.M. At 5:00 p.m. the Fashion show and Awards Program will be held. Entry forms and records are due in the Extension Office Tuesday, May 20, no later than 5:00 p.m.

Entry classes for the Fashion show are: 2nd Grade and younger; 3rd Grades — 11 years old — Junior I; 12-13 years old — Junior II; 14-19 years old — Seniors. Junior I will compete in Daytime Wear, Active Sportswear, Specialty Wear, and Historic Clothing. Juniors II and Seniors will compete in Tailored Daytime Wear, Non-Tailored Wear, Active Sportswear, Evening and Specialty Wear, Historic Clothing. A Textile Project Show will be held in conjunction with the Fashion Show. This is a chance to enter your hand work items. In this project you can enter in the following categories: Personal Accessories — can be made from anything you have courage enough to wear. Home Accessories — useful or decorative items for the home. Must be made of fibers or textile materials.

Club assignments for the Fashion Show are: Decorations — Coahoma, Publicity — Knott, Refreshments — Lucky Acres, Program — Forsan, Clean Up — Everyone.

It is time again to get your order in if you are going to raise Capons for the Stock Show to be held in January. The deadline for ordering your capons will be 12:00 noon, Tuesday, May 20. If you are planning to show Capons you must order at this time because the birds have to come from a recognized source hatch and delivery date be shown.

District VI 4-H Horse Camp will be held at Prude Ranch, in Fort Davis, June 2-6, 1986. The cost of the camp will be $150 per 4-H member. Leaders may attend for $110 without a horse. This includes meals and room accommodations. We will be able to accommodate 30 4-H members on a first come first served basis with a $50 deposit due now. The remainder of the fee will be due on arrival the 2nd of June.

We are very proud of our District Round Up winners. The senior winners will be attending State Round-Up June 9-12 at Texas A&M campus. In Method Demonstration Shauna Richardson will show Companion Animals, Wade Carper in Beef Cattle Junior Symposium, The Senior Livestock Judging Team made up of Lance Robinson, Jimmy Miller, Vance Christie, Duncan Hamlin, and Kurt Henry will compete at State Round Up June 3-9 at College Station.

Deadline for purchasing steer projects for the 1986-87 show season is Monday, June 30, 1986. In addition Steer Validation Day will be held on this day, also.

Well this is all the news that I have for this time. Have a good summer and keep 4-H progressing.

Serve Your Community, Volunteer for PAC

People Against Crime

People Against Crime (PAC) is a volunteer citizens group that will help the Police Department patrol the city. Volunteers are needed for PAC. If you are 18 years or older, you can sign up. Volunteers work in 2-man citizen patrol units, which are private automobiles equipped with 2-way radio communication (CB with a base station).

All Big Spring citizens are urged to volunteer. Volunteer hours will be very limited on a monthly basis and will be during the night. The more volunteers, the less time each person is needed each month.

Dr. Donohue

Tips on rowing machine use

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I got a brand new rowing machine. I'm not sure if I am using it correctly. There must be more to it than just sitting there rowing. How do I know if I'm doing it correctly? — S.L.

I'm surprised you didn't get one of those helpful little manuals for use along with it. Go back to the store. You may have one coming.

In any event, I can tell you a few basics. You check the correctness of any exercise, rowing included, the same way — by taking your pulse. For aerobic effect, you must raise the pulse to a level where there is some stress on the heart.

I've mentioned this many, many times. I've used the standard rule of establishing a training pulse rate goal by subtracting your age from the arbitrary number, 220, then taking 70 percent of that result. That is a reasonable training pulse goal for most people.

However, if you cannot manage that, then you still get some training effect even if you get your heart beating only 20 times more a minute than it does at rest.

Now, if all this pulse-taking is going to turn you off, forget it. Aim for something like the following: A beginner at the rowing machine should start at 12 strokes per minute. As you gain strength, endurance (and skill), you can work up to 25 strokes a minute. You will find that is a hard workout. At every stage of advancement, you should be able to maintain the effort for 20 minutes. If you cannot, then go back to the lower stage.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: In a recent letter, a mother said that her son's coach makes him run in a plastic suit. I agree it is not an effective way to lose solid weight. However, it is useful for cutting some weight quickly. We use this method often to cut quick weight before a wrestling meet. You said it was dangerous. Explain that. — J.R.

I don't care what kind of weight loss you're talking about, fat or solid, quick or slow, this is a deceptive and foolish way to lose. It's possibly dangerous. If we did it to animals someone might call in the humane society.

Why do I say this? Because encasing yourself in a plastic suit makes it very hard to lose body heat and maintain normal body temperature. You sweat profusely and thereby lose lots of fluid. That will make you think you've lost fat. You haven't. The only weight you've lost is water.

Now the above is for those who try to lose this way for non-competitive reasons. You are a wrestler. By dehydrating yourself this way, you are really seriously retarding your athletic ability. So whatever your goal is, the plastic suits don't make sense. Better you should wrestle in a higher weight class at your normal level. If you had told me the school you go to, I would send your coach a copy of this.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I knew someone who when he had a cold would bundle himself up in clothing and then run. He did it in order to "sweat out" the cold bug. Is there any evidence that this helps cure a cold? — T.M.M.

No evidence support that idea. In fact, there is evidence that exercise during a viral infection prolongs the illness. Put that idea in the same wastebasket with the "feed a cold, starve a fever" idea, also with the opposite notion. Neither has validity.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I think my new racing bike is giving me a pain in the back. Am I leaning the wrong way? — J.E.

If you have to stretch too far forward you are doing it wrong and giving yourself a lower back ache.

There is a way to measure the correct distance between the bicycle seat and the handlebars. Put your elbow against the front of the seat. With your elbow there, you should be able to touch the midpoint of the handlebars with your fingertips. Speed bikers do allow a couple of additional inches. They use the extra inches to permit the low crouch that cuts down on wind resistance. If you are not into competitive biking, forget the ultra crouch.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What is Becket's syndrome? What are the symptoms and how is it treated? — Mr. & Mrs. W.S.

I hope you really mean Behcet's (beh-SET's) syndrome. If it really is Becket's, write again, please. I have no present reference for that, if it exists.

Behcet's syndrome causes a collection of signs and symptoms, including mouth and genital ulcers and eye inflammation, the hallmarks. Quite often joints and veins are inflamed, too, meaning many with Behcet's have arthritis and phlebitis. You don't have to have all these symptoms to have Behcet's, though, just several of them at once.

The ulcers last several days or weeks and heal without scarring. I have to say (once again!) that this is an illness whose cause is unknown. It's treated with cortisone drugs.

Millions of out-of-shape men and women desire fitness, but shy away from formal programs because they think it's all too complicated and difficult. Dr. Donohue's newest booklet, "Introduction to Fitness," puts the esoteric terminology of aerobics into plain language and offers a fitness program anyone, regardless of age, can adapt.

For a copy write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11216, Chicago, IL 60611. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and $1.50. Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Abby

Special thanks are due to Mama's special love

DEAR READERS: The following Mother's Day column has been requested for an annual rerun. I think it's worth repeating, and hope you agree.

DEAR ABBY: I am a long-time reader but have never written before. I am enclosing a part of your column that I have kept in my Bible for years. As you can see, it is yellowed and shredded, and half of it is missing. I don't know how many hundreds of times I have read it. It gave me such a feeling of peace and comfort. It was titled "A Prayer for Mama."

Will you please print it again? I would love to have another copy. Thank you.

DOROTHY L.

DEAR DOROTHY: With pleasure:

DEAR ABBY: My beloved mother passed away recently, so I called the minister and asked him for the wording of a prayer I could say for my mother.

He said, "I'm too busy — and a lot of good prayer will do her now!" You see, Mama went to church long ago, but my father never liked to go, so Mama finally quit going. Abby, I can't believe that heaven is open only to church members.

I've called all the bookstores in town and they say there aren't any prayers for the dead in any of the prayer books they have. I've heard there are places where you send a few dollars and they pray for the dead, but I don't know their addresses.

Abby, I'd be so grateful if you would print a short prayer I could say for my mother before I go to sleep. Any faith is acceptable. I can't let you send it to my home because my father looks over the mail first and I'm sure I'd never get it. Please don't turn down my odd request. It means the world to me. Thank you, and God bless you, Abby. Sign me...

A PRAYER FOR MAMA

DEAR PRAYER: I found this prayer in my Union Prayer Book. It is the one Jews recite on Yom Kippur (the Day of Atonement) to honor the memory of a deceased mother:

In Memory of a Mother

"I remember thee in this solemn hour, my dear mother. I remember the days when thou didst dwell on earth, and thy tender love watched over me like a guardian angel. Thou hast gone from me, but the bond which unites our souls can never be severed; thine image lives within my heart. May the merciful Father reward thee for the faithfulness and kindness thou hast ever shown me; may he lift up the light of his countenance upon thee, and grant thee eternal peace! Amen."

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE GREATEST

MOTHER-IN-LAW ON EARTH — ROSE PHILLIPS IN MINNEAPOLIS: Happy Mother's Day...I love you!

CONFIDENTIAL TO ANYONE FOR WHOM IT IS NOT YET TOO LATE:

The gestation period of a mother's advice is anywhere from one week to 50 years. Losing one's mother before having thanked her for the many precious things she taught you is one of life's greatest tragedies.

(Problems? Write to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. All correspondence is confidential.)

Store winter clothing carefully

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK — Trading heavy winter clothes for the lighter, airier garments of spring may be one of the truly pleasant "spring cleaning" chores. By May — even if the temperature still dips at night — most of us are ready to think about packing away heavy woolen coats in favor of lighter sweaters and jackets.

"Even though you might be tired of your heavy winter clothing, don't forget the investment you've made in these garments," advises Lynn Scott, fashion advisor for The Wool Bureau. "Next fall, you'll want them to look as good and work as well in your wardrobe, so it is especially important to take care when packing them away now."

Scott advises taking an inventory of what you have — prior to storage — to decide how and what to pack away. "Not all of your woools need storage," she adds. "The lighter weight woools, such as worsteds and gabardines, can be worn comfortably in most parts of the country virtually year round. A perfect example of the year-round suit is an unconstructed jacket and matching skirt in a neutral color.

Wool jersey dresses work equally as well in most climates.

"Lightweight woools are especially ideal for those who work in chilly air-conditioned offices."

The Wool Bureau, the U.S. Branch of the International Wool Secretariat, offers the following tips for storing wool apparel you won't be wearing during the warmer months:

- Clean all clothing before packing away. Thorough cleaning, so that there are no food particles on the fabrics or in pockets, will help prevent damage by hungry moths, silverfish and roaches.

- Store garments in your home or in places that have adequate ventilation, such as an attic or closet, under your bed or in the backs of the dresser drawers.

- Pack or hang in zippered garment bags that can be purchased in department or novelty stores. Use padded or sculpted hangers.

- Tailored garments — suits, jackets, coats, blazers, skirts and slacks — should be hung. Knitwear should be folded flat — not put on hangers — to guard against shape distortion. Wool folds easily, and because of its resilience will bounce back into shape when you're ready to wear your sweaters again.

- When packing away knitwear, fold with tissue paper — white and blue only. Other colors may adhere to the fabric.

- Fold sweaters in a drawer or box, leaving spaces in between each sweater so the wool can "breathe."

- If you are unsure whether a wool garment is "moth-proofed," store with mothballs, crystals, or sachets. If you have a cedar chest available for storage, mothballs are not needed.

- Never use mothballs in conjunction with plastic, such as dry cleaner bags. Mothballs can act as a solvent. Also, avoid using mothballs with colored tissue paper, as mothballs can transfer the dye in the tissue to the wool fibers.

"So before spring fever strikes, give some thought and care to those garments that kept you comfortable during the chilly months of winter," says Scott. "If you take proper care of them, they'll last and you'll enjoy them for years."

Maintenance helps weed control

Home lawn weed control can be very frustrating. Following a good maintenance program will help a lot in building a dense turf that will discourage the invasion of weeds. On the other hand, a weak, thin turf will allow weed seed germination and establishment.

Once a weed is established, it can either be removed physically by digging or it can be removed chemically. Physical digging is fine if the weeds are few and if they do not have underground reproduction organs. The dallisgrass plant is a good example of just such a plant. You can dig it up but the chances are it will just regrow from the underground parts that you don't get.

When considering chemical weed control, it might be well to remember that you are trying to remove an undesirable plant that is growing around desirable plants and many times it is not an easy task.

Generally, lawn weeds may be divided into two groups, those that have broad leaves such as chickweed, henbit, spurge, etc. and those that have grassy type leaves such as dallisgrass, crabgrass, goosegrass, etc.

Grassy type weeds may be controlled in bermuda lawns with other MSMA (monosodium methanearsonate) or DSMA (disodium methanearsonate). Several applications may be necessary and the bermuda may turn yellow, but it should recover. Grassy type weeds cannot be selectively controlled in a St. Augustine lawn. They may be removed by spot treating just the individual weed with either of the above chemicals or with glyphosate (trade name — Roundup or Kleenup).

Broad leaf weeds are usually controlled with products containing 2,4-D MCPP and dicamba. These chemicals are not safe for every lawn or for every situation. The only way to be sure is to check the label on the container. Be sure the chemical will control the weed you are after, is safe to use on the type of lawn you have and will not injure nearby ornamental plants.

For best results, apply the herbicide only when the weeds are actively growing. The hardest time to kill a weed is when it is hot and dry and the weed is under moisture stress. Try to pick a cooler day with little wind movement and when soil moisture levels are fairly high.

Always follow the directions on the label.
