Q. Is Health Maintenance Organization insurance available in Texas? Can anyone in Big Spring give information about it?

A. Bruce Carter, manager of the Big Spring Social Security office, said there are no Health Maintenance Organizations in his service area, which covers Big Spring, Stanton, Colorado City, Snyder and Lamesa, as well as Borden and Glasscock counties. HMOs exist mainly in larger cities, he said.

He said you can find the nearest organization by contacting the Office of Health Maintenance Organizations, Public Health Service, at 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md., 20857.

Ranger office closing here

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — With the departure of Texas Ranger Charles Brune from Big Spring for personal reasons, the Texas Department of Public Safety is closing his office and adding another Ranger to the Midland office.

Brune previously announced he would move to Corpus Christi. He asked for the transfer for personal reasons, saying he wanted to be closer to his family in South Texas.

DPS spokesman Mike Cox confirmed Tuesday that Brune will not be replaced at Big Spring. He said one big reason is the drop in oil field activity in the Big Spring area.

The current Big Spring office was opened in 1978, he said, with much of the Ranger's work aimed at investigating oil field thefts. "But the thefts have declined right along with the rest of the oil business," Cox said. "Now there's a lot less demand" for a Ranger's services.

"No one else will be assigned to Big Spring, but there will be an additional Ranger moved to Midland to replace Brune's position," Cox said. That will make a total of three Ranger privates, a sergeant and a captain at Midland, Cox said.

Midland is the headquarters for the Company E district, which includes much of West Texas within a boundary that runs roughly from El Paso to Brownwood to south of Del Rio.

Cox said the state has six Ranger regions, lettered A through F. The Department of Public Safety uses numbers to designate its regular regions. But the Rangers, whose first units were formed for frontier defense when Texas was an independent republic from 1836 to 1845, retain their traditional lettered designations.

Company E will continue to be served by a total of 13 Rangers, Cox said. The Midland office is being increased from four to five, and there are single Ranger offices at Snyder, San Angelo, Brownwood, Abilene, Del Rio, Pecos, El Paso and Eastland.

Big Spring will be served by the Midland office, about 50 miles away, Cox said.

Coahoma man is hit-and-run victim

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Anyone with information about the hit-and-run death of a 22-year-old Coahoma man is asked to contact the Howard County sheriff's office or the Department of Public Safety office, Trooper William Jennings said this morning.

Jennings identified the victim, found at 5:45 a.m. Monday on the south service road near Interstate 20, as Bradley Chance Wiginton.

Justice of the Peace China Long said this morning she ruled his death resulted from "multiple injuries as a result of being struck by a motor vehicle." The ruling was based on an autopsy performed by Dr. Robert Rember, a local pathologist.

Long said Wiginton suffered from internal bleeding, head injuries and a broken neck.

The autopsy also revealed that Wiginton's alcohol blood level at the time of death exceeded 0.10, Long said, which made him legally intoxicated, according to state law.

Jennings said an acquaintance of the victim identified him late Monday evening.

"The leads are slim" concerning the hit-and-run, the trooper said.

Jennings said the victim's clothing has been sent to the DPS lab in Austin for analysis of possible car paint flecks.

The trooper also has gathered information about Wiginton's whereabouts until 3 a.m., he said. "I lose him from 3 a.m. to 5 a.m.," the trooper said.

Jennings declined to disclose specific information about Wiginton's identity.

Accounts settled at Permian Bank

ODESSA (AP) — A line of 150 anxious depositors began entering the Permian Bank of Odessa today to retrieve their money from the failed institution, a victim of the crash of oil and gas prices.

After the bank was declared insolvent last week, federal officials were unable to find a buyer. Once all deposits are settled, the bank will cease to exist.

Police officers stood near the line that wrapped around the bank as a Coca-Cola van pulled up shortly before the bank was supposed to open at 9 a.m. CDT. However, a problem with a check-printing machine held up the opening until about 9:45 a.m.

Tom Bailey, head of security for the Midland office of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., said the federal agency bought the soft drinks to be distributed free to the customers, some of whom got in line at 5 a.m.

"We often do this, if it's a payoff we do," said Bailey, adding that the idea was to provide relief from the heat.

Officials were allowing customers to enter the building about four at a time. The bank was to remain open until 6 p.m. today and operate seven days a week until all accounts are settled.

Debra Henderson, 30, who has been a customer of the bank for nearly 10 years, was among the first to arrive when the line started forming before dawn.

"I spent about two hours yesterday on the telephone calling all my credit card companies to tell them the checks aren't any good," said Ms. Henderson.

She said she took the day off as a bartender at a restaurant because she expected to be in line for hours closing her savings and checking accounts. Ms. Henderson said she still hasn't decided to which bank she will transfer her money.

"But I know it'll be one that doesn't have a lot of oil loans out," she said.

About 5,700 depositors in this West Texas city, whose fortune has risen and fallen with the price of oil, received access to their money Tuesday.

Commissioners cool to CRMWD request

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Howard County commissioners remain undecided on a Colorado River Municipal Water District request that they help subsidize flood preventive measures at Natural Dam Lake.

But two commissioners expressed disfavor with the idea at a special meeting Monday afternoon during which commissioners and county engineer personnel visited the dam site.

At the site they talked with local farmers and assistant water district manager Rod Lewis about the district's project to increase the lake's capacity and control its overflow.

Lewis told commissioners that Grimmett Brothers of Snyder began work July 7 to gouge a 1,200-foot spillway around the southeastern portion of the lake to control overflow.

He said a portion of lake water would be channeled continuously into the spillway, which would divert it from Lake Spence.

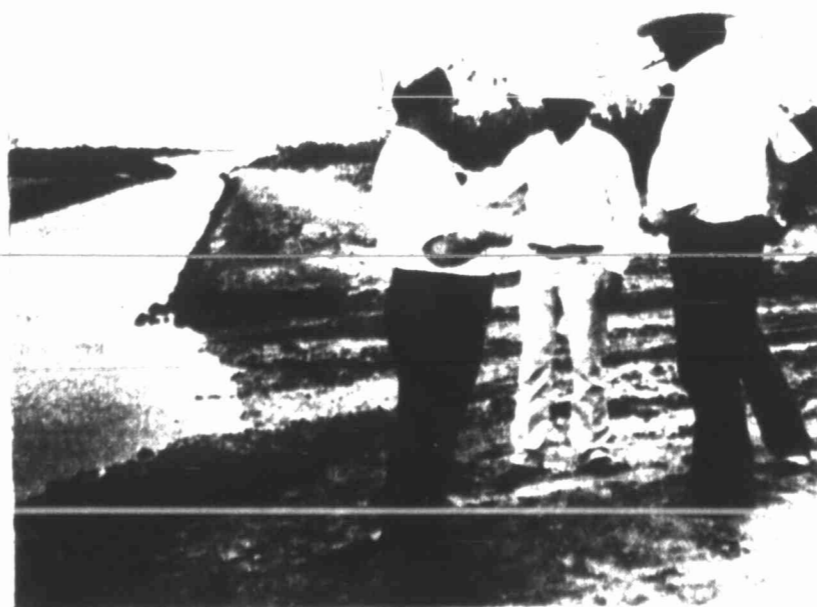

The construction firm also raised the level of the dam four feet to expand the lake's capacity to 39,000 acre-feet from 26,000 acre-feet, he said.

An acre-foot of water equals 325,851 gallons, Lewis said. Grimmett Brothers estimated total cost for the work at $35,000, he said.

Commissioner David Barr said taxpayers should not be burdened with paying for the project, but he acknowledged the need for the work. He said several farmers with property located north of the lake off Andrews Highway told him portions of their land was flooded.

"They need to get the water out quick before it ruins the land," Barr said.

He said Lewis told him the water district had pumped water from Three Mile and Four Mile Lakes into Natural Dam Lake, which increased its water level and water chlorides.

"There's no telling how many tons of salt has been pumped into Natural Dam Lake," Barr said. Commissioner O.L. "Louie" Brown also expressed disfavor with the idea of the county subsidizing the project.

Water district mulls cost of dam work

Colorado River Municipal Water District board of directors this morning discussed but took no action on appropriating $60,000 for construction work at Natural Dam Lake.

District manager Owen Ivie, who requested the item be placed on the agenda, suggested the $60,000 be drawn from the district's contingency fund.

The money would be used to finance work being done to control overflow at Natural Dam Lake, west of Big Spring.

The district has requested that the county and city subsidize 25 percent or $15,000 apiece for the project.

The city and county, however, have not taken action on the request, and the district is prepared to pay the full amount, a spokeswoman for the district said this morning.

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. — JEAN HARRIS has decided to withdraw any claim to $220,000 the man she killed had left her in his will, her attorney says.

State law prohibits criminals profiting from their crimes, but a court-appointed attorney had said he would try to show that Mrs. Harris was under extreme duress when she fatally shot her lover, Dr. Herman Tarnower, and therefore should be allowed to claim the money.

But attorney Michael Kennedy said Monday the 63-year-old Mrs. Harris, who is serving a 15-year-to-life sentence, never had any interest in the money.

"This lawyer ignored her wishes," said Kennedy, who is representing Mrs. Harris in efforts to gain a new trial for the 1980 slaying of the Scarsdale diet developer. "She fired him and asked me to withdraw the claim."

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands — Evangelist BILLY GRAHAM says he will explain rather than preach the Gospel when he makes his first trip to China.

JEAN HARRIS ... withdraws claim

Graham told a news conference Monday he has been invited to China, and said he would go there in a few years.

"I think to limit my ministry on that first trip to universities and the Academy of Sciences to explain Christianity, and not to preach it," Graham said.

AUSTIN, Texas — SUSIE

TED KNIGHT ... resting at home

NELSON says her biography of her father, singer WILLIE NELSON, is the best kind of present she could give him.

"I want to give Dad something I have never been able to give him before. It will be fun to give him something back for all the things he's given us," she said of the book she hopes to title, "You'll Always Be Just Dad to Me."

"It will be funny, and everything will be done in a positive manner," said Ms. Nelson, 29. "It's not a 'Mommie Dearest' or anything like that."

Ms. Nelson signed a contract this summer with Eakin Publications in Austin to write the biography.

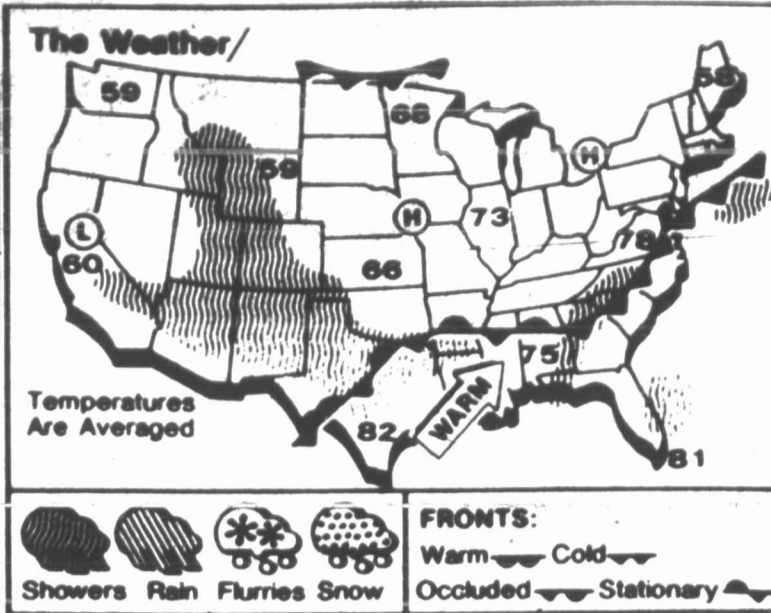

LOS ANGELES — Actor TED KNIGHT is resting at home after his doctor ordered him not to return to work because he is not fully recovered from cancer surgery, his publicist said.

The 62-year-old star of "The Ted Knight Show" and "Too Close for Comfort" was to report for a new season in mid-August, but his doctor ordered him to rest, publicist Henri Bollinger said Monday.

"His doctor said he has not fully recovered from surgery last year to remove a cancerous growth from his urethra," he said.

Knight previously starred as Ted Baxter, the egotistical but slow-witted television anchorman on "The Mary Tyler Moore Show."

If water district officials want money, "they can go to Midland and Ector counties and request it also," Brown said.

Both those counties purchase water from the district, Brown said.

"I don't think it's a taxpayer's responsibility," he said. "They (the district) are in the business of selling water."

Commissioner Bill Crooker, whose precinct contains Natural Dam Lake, declined to express an opinion Monday.

"We haven't come to a conclusion yet," he said.

County Judge Milton Kirby said the water district's request would be considered at the next meeting if he receives a final cost estimate before then.

He also said he would consult with city officials about the request.

The judge told commissioners during a July 14 meeting that the district wants the city and county to each subsidize 25 percent of the cost, and the water district would pay 50 percent.

the bank Friday after it was unable to find a buyer. Sexton blamed the closure on bad energy loans.

Ken Gorham, FDIC closing supervisor, said customers with less than $100,000 in deposits will get all their money. The bank has an estimated $38.8 million in assets. Gorham said those with more than $100,000 in the bank will be assured of receiving only 30 percent of the amount above the insurable limit.

Twelve banks have failed in Texas so far this year, the same number as in all of 1985.

FDIC auditors began balancing the Permian Bank books after the doors were locked Friday afternoon.

Sexton said the slump in oil prices contributed to the bank's decline. But he added he was not sure whether legal problems of the bank's former president, Melvin Max Malone, affected the failure.

Meat packers on strike

CHICAGO — Oscar Mayer Food Corp. on Monday began hiring temporary workers at its meatpacking plant to replace hundreds of union personnel locked out after they rejected a contract that called for a 10-month wage freeze.

Plant manager Allen Dieter said about 45 new employees began work Monday, and that the company would hire as many as 40 a day until the plant reaches full operating capacity.

He said the plant, which packages wieners, bacon and lunch meat, was operating at 5 percent to 8 percent capacity.

Endangered list grows

WASHINGTON — The backlog of plant and animal species that might qualify as endangered or threatened species is growing while the number of recovering species is declining, an advocacy group said Monday.

In a report on how the Endangered Species Act is working, Defenders of Wildlife said the Fish and Wildlife Service has identified 3,908 species, almost two-thirds of them plants, as candidates for the endangered and threatened species lists.

The Defenders' annual endangered species report last year said there were 3,827 species in the backlog.

Two reporters expelled

WASHINGTON — The United States is taking up the case of two American journalists who were expelled from Nicaragua.

U.S. officials said they would deliver a protest to officials of the Central American country today in a case involving Glenn Garvin, a reporter for The Washington Times, and Sue Mullin, a free-lance journalist-photographer.

The protest will be lodged against what the government said was Nicaragua's abusive treatment of the two journalists and the country's arbitrary attempt to censor the foreign press, State Department spokeswoman Sondra McCarty said Monday.

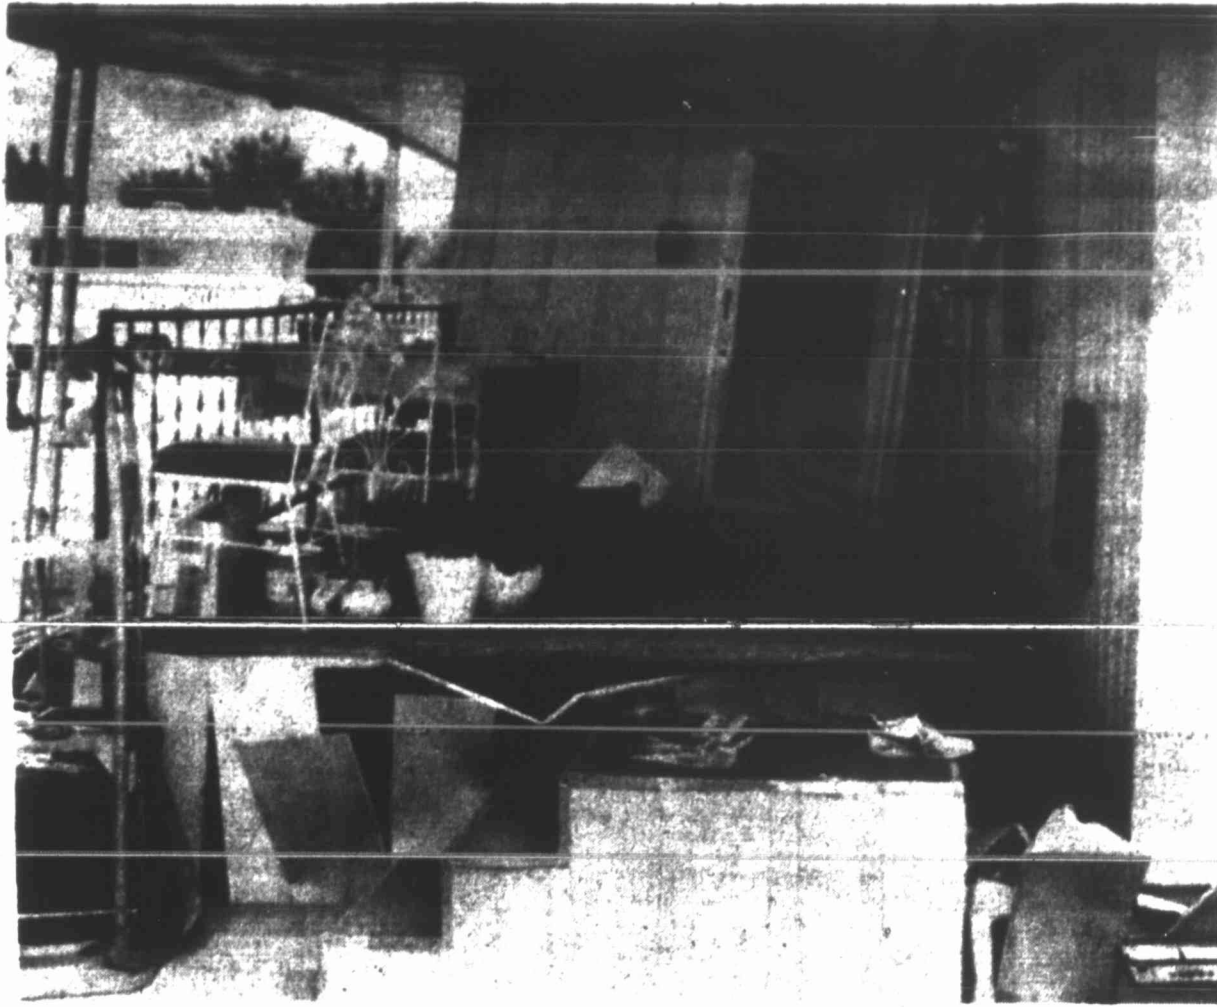

AIDS hits groups hard

NEW YORK — Blacks and Hispanics are disproportionately victims of AIDS, but the minority communities fail to recognize the problem, says the head of a drug treatment program.

"I think the black community is in the denial stage for AIDS," Dr. Beny Primm, executive director of the Addiction Research and Treatment Corp. of Brooklyn.

Primm, who is black, spoke Monday after moderating a session on substance abuse and acquired immune deficiency syndrome before the auxiliary of the National Medical Association, which represents some 14,000 black physicians.

Dr. Harold Jaffe, chief of the epidemiology branch of the AIDS control program at the federal Centers for Disease Control, told the session that blacks and Hispanics comprise some 37 percent of male AIDS victims and 73 percent of female victims in the United States, although they are only 20 percent of the population.

Fifth one in two weeks rattles west

BISHOP, Calif. (AP) — A severe earthquake and a powerful aftershock rumbled across California and parts of Nevada and Utah on Monday, wrecking up to 20 homes, cutting off a town's water and triggering rockslides in the High Sierra.

One giant fissure — 200 yards long and 150 yards wide — swallowed a parked pickup truck and stranded 50 campers near here, but no injuries were reported. Later Monday, violent thunderstorms prompted a flash flood warning.

The temblors measured 6.1 and 5.2 on the Richter scale, according to the University of California at Berkeley, the second strong earthquake in as many days. It was the fifth sizable quake to hit California in two weeks.

The quake struck at 7:42 a.m. in the White Mountains 240 miles north of Los Angeles and was felt from San Francisco to Las Vegas, Nev., and in Salt Lake City, more than 500 miles away. The aftershock came nine minutes later. Both were centered 15 miles north of Bishop in the same area where a 5.5-magnitude quake hit Sunday, said Dennis Meredith, spokesman for California Institute of Technology in Pasadena.

"A number of mobile homes were rocked off their foundations" in Chalfant Valley, 17 miles north of Bishop, Mono County sheriff's Sgt. Terry Padilla said.

"Currently there are about 145 homes in the immediate Chalfant area with about 300 residents," Forest Service spokeswoman Lorraine Parrish said. "Of those, about 50 to 60 are mobile homes. ... Probably about 50 mobile homes were shaken off their foundations."

Chalfant firefighter Rick Mitchell said 20 homes, mostly mobile homes, were damaged beyond repair. But he said several non-mobile homes also were damaged, and one frame house nearly collapsed.

Customers of the Denny's restaurant in Bishop dove under tables or broke for the doors when the 6.1 quake hit, assistant manager Dave Campbell said.

"They were grabbing hold of each other and just trying to hang on," he said. "Anything that was laying down flat was just going across the counter."

Part of the ceiling caved in at a Burger King restaurant in Bishop, U.S. Forest Service spokesman Brian Miller said.

At Pleasant Valley campground near Bishop, 50 campers were stranded when a crevasse obliterated a road and swallowed a parked pickup truck, Inyo County sheriff's Sgt. Dick Wood said. All those in the camp's 200 campsites were safely evacuated later Monday, authorities said.

Wood said the opening was 150 yards wide and 200 yards long but didn't know how deep, although it was "enough to put a pickup truck down into."

The pickup truck sank about 30 feet deep and caught fire, said Ms. Parrish. At least one occupant was removed uninjured and the truck was later pulled out as well, she said.

A group of about 20 Sierra Club trail bluffers near Pine Lake also were stranded by rock slides but were unharmed, she said.

Syria severs relations

DAMASCUS, Syria — Syria today severed all ties with Morocco to protest Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres' visit to the North African nation, Damascus radio said.

"Syria, which cannot be silent in the face of this black treason, has decided to break all ... relations with the Moroccan kingdom and has asked all Arab governments to take measures which fulfill their national commitments," the radio quoted an official statement as saying.

The Syrian decision followed Peres' surprise visit Monday to Morocco. Morocco's King Hassan II is the first Arab ruler to publicly meet with an Israeli prime minister since then Egyptian President Anwar Sadat met with Menachem Begin in 1977.

Israel, Morocco meet

TEL AVIV, Israel — Prime Minister Shimon Peres flew to Morocco Monday for talks with King Hassan II that will be only the second public meeting of an Arab leader with an Israeli prime minister, officials reported.

The first, when President Anwar Sadat of Egypt flew to Jerusalem in 1977 and met with Menachem Begin, led to the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty of 1979.

Israel and Morocco are technically in a state of war but Hassan, who is pro-Western and a moderate Arab leader, was involved in the opening of peace contacts between Egypt and Israel.

The summit could help revive efforts toward peace in the Middle East, which have been stagnant since the breakdown in February of a joint venture by King Hussein of Jordan and Yasser Arafat, chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Mexico to get IMF loan

MEXICO CITY — Mexico today signs a bailout loan agreement with the International Monetary Fund that includes an unprecedented link to the price of oil on the world market, the Treasury Department announced.

Mexico, with a $98 billion foreign debt, has been negotiating for months with the IMF on a series of fiscal remedies to bring its escalating debt crisis under control.

Details of the agreement were not released, but The New York Times, quoting Mexican and international lending organization officials, said in today's editions that the agreement could lead to $12 billion in new loans.

Sri Lanka blast kills 25

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka — An explosion demolished a passenger bus in the north-central city of Vavuniya today, and at least 25 people died in the explosion, a government agency spokesman said.

The spokesman for Sri Lanka's Joint Operations Military Command said it was not immediately known if the bus had hit a land mine or was blown up by a bomb on board.

"We only know that at least 25 civilians have been killed, among them females," said the spokesman, who spoke on condition he not be identified.

State drilling applications plunge

AUSTIN (AP) — Applications to drill new oil and gas wells in Texas have plunged 57 percent and well completions 48 percent since Jan. 1, Railroad Commission Chairman James Nugent said Monday.

"We need some 1,000 rigs operating every day in Texas to sustain Texas production levels, yet we only had 211 working last week. A year ago we had some 660 working," Nugent said.

He said the number of drilling applications filed with the commission dropped from 2,590 in January to 1,124 in June and filings of well completion reports dropped from 2,063 to 1,064 during the same period.

"Without new discoveries to replace our depleting oil and gas reserves, we face a dismal energy future punctuated by steepening oil production declines, rising dependence on foreign oil, and possible shortages of natural gas," Nugent said in a statement.

5 billion mark raises concern

No cheers for the human race for its most recent population milestone. Earth's human population now is more than 5 billion.

That is just about as many people as the planet can feed, clothe, shelter and employ adequately, according to one organization that monitors population trends.

True, the growth rate has slowed somewhat in recent years. Family planning programs have had an impact in some places. Economic constraints and concern with the quality of life have caused some couples to delay starting a family.

But the effect is insignificant in comparison with the projected growth. The base is now so large that even a reduction in the growth rate points to huge population increases.

It took 10 to 12 years for the world's population to go from 4 billion to 5 billion. Some demographers predict the population will reach 6 billion in about 13 years and 7 billion about 11 years after that.

Even with the population at today's 5 billion, suffering and deprivation are widespread. What will conditions be in less than 25 years, when the world could have 2 billion more mouths to feed?

Nine out of every 10 babies born today will be raised in parts of the world where poverty, disease, hunger, illiteracy and unemployment make life a daily struggle for survival, according to the Population Institute. The implications go beyond the Third World. Hunger and desperation can lead to anarchy and demagoguery, which threatens peace.

More than half the governments in Africa now are encouraging their people to have smaller families. China has reduced its birthrate with a program that puts strict limits on family size.

In too many parts of the world, however, large families remain the norm. Continued efforts by governments and international organizations to change this thinking, and to provide families the knowledge and encouragement to have smaller families are not just desirable, they are essential.

Video violence is obscene, too

In Arlington, Va., where pornography commission chairman Henry Hudson earned a national reputation for prosecuting porn cases, reporter Robert Scheer interviewed the manager of a popular video store.

"I can rent movies that dismember and mutilate, but not those that show sex," he told Scheer, who writes about the porn commission in the August issue of Playboy.

Holding up a cassette, the manager said, "In this cute one, a woman is sun-bathing by a river and this killer comes along and chops her head off with a shovel, and you see the blood spurting out. And then it gets worse. But it's legal; it's not considered obscene. There's no explicit sex."

It makes us wonder which is the more obscene.

Today in history

Today is Tuesday, July 22, the 203rd day of 1986. There are 162 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On July 22, 1934, bank robber John Dillinger was shot to death by federal agents outside Chicago's Biograph Theater, where he had just seen the movie "Manhattan Melodrama," starring Clark Gable. Dillinger's death ended a 14-month crime spree.

On this date:
In 1587, a second English colony, fated to vanish under mysterious circumstances, was established on Roanoke Island off North Carolina.
In 1796, Cleveland, Ohio, was founded by General Moses Cleveland.

In 1812, English troops under the Duke of Wellington defeated the French at the Battle of Salamanca in Spain.

In 1916, a bomb went off during a Preparedness Day parade in San Francisco, killing 10 people.
In 1933, American aviator Wiley Post completed the first solo flight around the world in seven days, 18 1/2 hours.

In 1937, the U.S. Senate rejected President Franklin D. Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the U.S. Supreme Court.

In 1942, gasoline rationing began in the U.S. during World War II.

In 1943, Allied forces captured Palermo, Sicily.

In 1983, Maine schoolgirl Samantha Smith returned home, ending her two-week journey of peace to the Soviet Union.

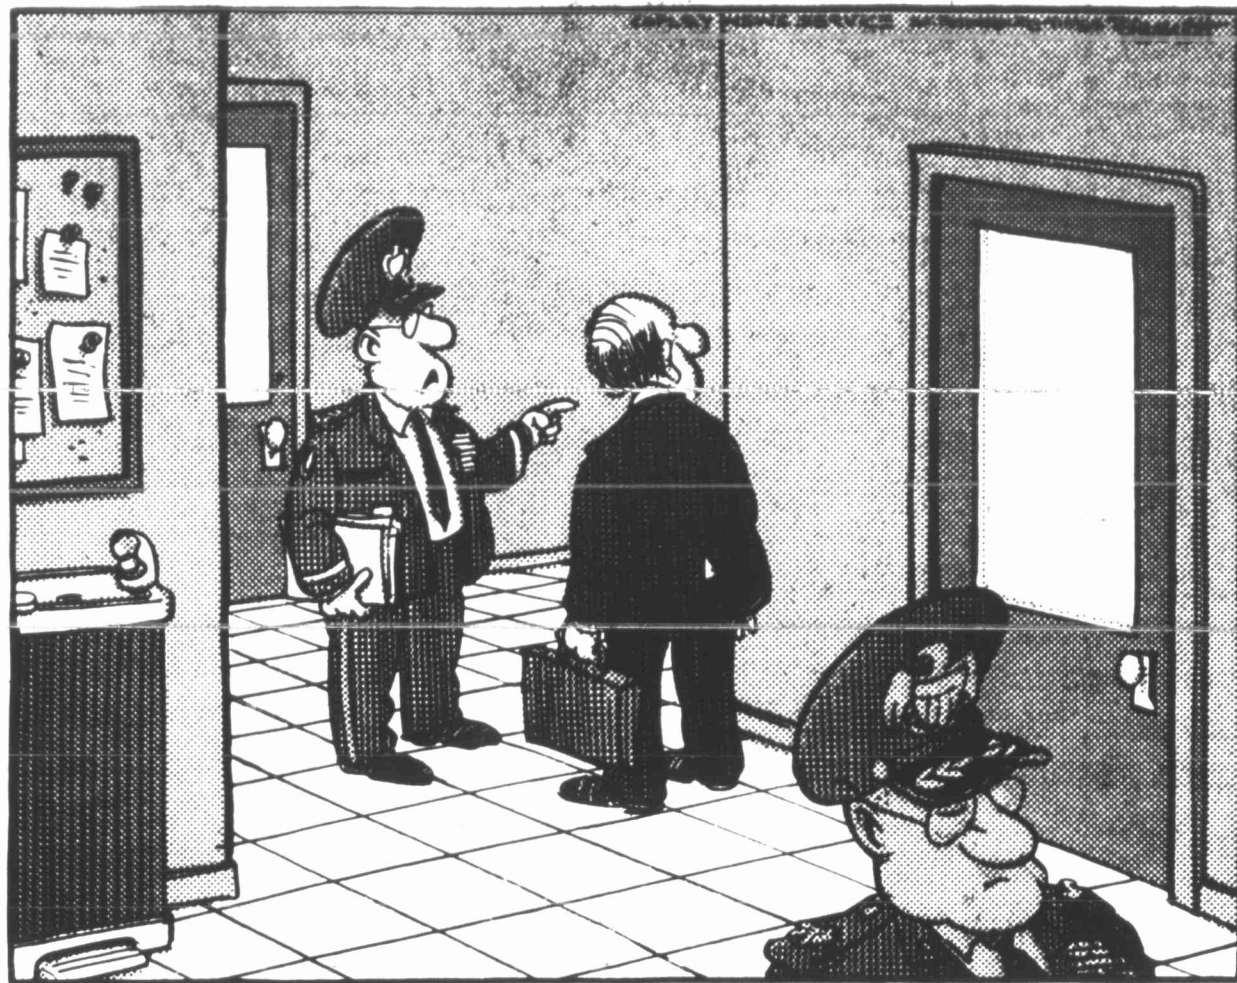

Ten years ago: An apparent malfunction was reported in the Viking I spacecraft's soil collection scoop, two days after the probe landed on Mars.

Five years ago: Turkish terrorist Mehmet Ali Agca was sentenced in a Rome court to life in prison for shooting Pope John Paul II and two American women in St. Peter's Square.

One year ago: The Reagan administration criticized South Africa's system of racial separation, saying apartheid was largely responsible for the country's current cycle of violence.

Nuclear explosion in space could ruin satellite system

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR
WASHINGTON — Pentagon officials have yet another nightmare, and it's no pipe dream: A nuclear explosion in space could cripple the multibillion-dollar commercial satellite network the military uses for its worldwide communications.

The nuclear explosion could be intentional — a test by some aspiring member of the "nuclear club" — or accidental, as the malfunction of a nuclear generator used to power a reconnaissance satellite. Or it could be a deliberate "accident" staged by the Soviets, who agreed with the United States in 1963 to stop above-ground nuclear testing after a number of satellites were damaged.

Details of the Pentagon's concern are spelled out in an internal Defense Communications Agency study completed three years ago. Our associate Donald Goldberg obtained a copy.

"There exists today a very real concern that the current generation of commercial satellites with their extensive use of solid state devices (is) significantly more susceptible than the 'Early Bird,'" the report states. The reference was to satellites launched in the late 1950s and early 1960s that used vacuum tubes. The newer, solid state equipment is believed to be much more vulnerable to the electromagnetic pulse emitted by a nuclear blast.

"Compounding this increased susceptibility," the report continues, "is an unstable global environment wherein a proliferation of Third World powers have, or are well on their way to having, the capability to test a nuclear device in space. These countries are not constrained by the current nuclear test ban agreements."

The report then warns bluntly: "Such a test, whether intended to do so or not, could deliver a decisive blow to our commercial satellite assets, severely or totally disrupting our national telecommunications system."

Any adversary with the necessary liftoff power could stage an apparent nuclear accident. "This threat pertains to any device tested in low Earth orbit by a Third World country or intentionally by the Soviet Union to test the survivability and endurance of our commercial satellite services," the report states. "An 'accidental' nuclear event might be associated with the disintegration of a radioisotopic thermoelectric generator used as a prime power source on an operational reconnaissance satellite."

Another threat would be a high-altitude explosion near the "geosynchronous" orbits used by most communications satellites. Traveling at the same speed as the Earth's rotation, the satellites appear to hover over one spot.

"Such an event could conceivably be called accidental and a singular event," the report states, adding ominously: "Its consequences would be devastating. Such an event would, could, possibly destroy the entire fleet (of satellites) if the event was positioned near the center of the commercial satellite orbital arc."

A Pentagon task force considered three approaches to the problem — and discarded them as either too expensive or ineffective:

- Wait for the worst to happen and replace the damaged satellites. But replacement could cost $5 billion and would take five to 10 years.
- Store spare satellites in orbit, ready to turn on. But these, too, would be vulnerable while waiting in the bullpen.
- Launch a fully protected military satellite system of three $100 million satellites. But they would be "neither affordable nor survivable."

The study's final recommendation was obvious, if vague: "Harden" future commercial satellites with built-in protection against nuclear effects. What this protection would consist of, and who would pay for it, are yet to be determined.

MINI-EDITORIAL: Poor Araturo Tolentino. After boldly declaring himself president of the Philippines and occupying the ritzy Manila Hotel, he meekly admitted he couldn't stay long because "it's quite an expensive hotel." Even if he did sow up without luggage, that's no way to handle a haughty hotelier. A few thousand miles east a real president demonstrated the proper technique: Because the Santa Barbara Biltmore wouldn't give a discount, White House aides were moved to the Sheraton (even though it meant mingling with the press). Call it another Grenada if you will, but the Biltmore blinked — and the White House got its discount.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

White's respect gives him edge

To the editor:
With Governor Mark White's guts and alamo love for Texas, the teachers know he at least has respect for them. When Bill Clements was governor he let them know that he wouldn't go out of his way to give them the time of day. He vetoed two of their raises and branded them a pack of malcontents.

Now he is trying to tell the Texas voters he gave them a 49% raise while governor. In the May primary he told the people he had some quick sure cures for our problems, but when Governor White asked him to tell the lawmakers in Austin about them, he had to admit he once again had let his big mouth overload the clutter box on his gail goose's rear-end.

When you got to vote, ask yourself: with an election year coming up, would Bill Clements have touched House Bill 72 with a 20-foot sucker rod? Definitely not. He favors the Texas death trap, the nuclear waste dump in our backyard, and his snake in the grass stance on Stacy Dam in West Texas should cost him 500,000 votes alone.

Texas voters, there is a big difference in "Uncle Bill" and Governor Mark White and I'm sure you'll notice it.

Frenchman likes wine, people

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

The Fourth of July was a great day for Pierre Pitance, who is on a month-long visit to Big Spring from France.

"I felt proud to be French" because France helped America gain independence from England during the Revolutionary War and because it gave the United States the Statue of Liberty, the 21-year-old said later.

He said he was surprised at Americans' pro-French feeling, because of problems between the two governments.

Pitance is a resident of Ecully, population 20,000, a suburb of Lyon in southern France. He is staying with Bob and Susan Lewis of 1508 Dayton Road until Aug. 5.

A student at a French business school, Pitance is conducting a summer marketing project in Big Spring. He is researching plumbing contractors' and retailers' relationships with their suppliers, he said, focusing on small firms.

Big Spring is a good marketplace for the project, he said, because the city is not too large, but it's quite competitive.

This is his second visit to the Spring City, he said. He and his brother were Rotary Club exchange students four years ago, and stayed with the Lewises, whose two sons stayed with the Pitance family in France.

"I have never been homesick in Texas," because there are so many things to do here, Pitance said.

He especially likes the friendliness of the people, he said. Passers-by will speak to each other, he noted, and "you don't have to struggle to meet people."

Texas' wide-open spaces seem strange to him, he said. In France, buildings are closer

PIERRE PITANCE
...on visit to Big Spring together, so people walk when they go shopping. But here they must drive, he said.

He also was surprised at the number of houses here, he said. In France, it is customary to live in an apartment, he said, but in Texas "almost everyone has a house. That's great."

He said the houses are pretty, especially those with gardens.

"It doesn't look like a desert. It's much nicer," he said.

Pitance said he likes Mexican food and that Texas home cooking tastes good, but it's not very healthy.

He was impressed with the quality of Texas wine. Texas' climate is good for wine, he said. He plans to bring several bottles home.

In his spare time, he is busy soaking up Texas culture. He didn't arrive in time for the Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, but he hopes to be able to see a rodeo while he's in Texas, he said.

Campaign funds for Stenholm total $168,056

Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Rep. Charles Stenholm, who is unopposed for reelection this November, has $168,056 in his campaign bank account, according to records filed recently with the House of Representatives.

Stenholm, D-Stamford, this year has raised $21,406 and spent $46,284, according to his report. Most of his campaign surplus are funds left over from previous races.

The Texas lawmaker this year has collected $19,300 from political action committees, the campaign arms of special interest groups. His PAC contributions include $5,000 from the National Realtors Association, $2,000 from the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and $1,000 from the General Telephone Company in San Angelo.

Stenholm, 47, was first elected in 1978.

• Sgt. Audrey J. Farrar-Spillman, daughter of Clark and Lily Farrar of Colorado City, has been enlisted in the U.S. Army at Letterman Army Medical Center, Presidio of San Francisco, after seven years of military service.

She is an operating room specialist.

Shankles improving after heart attack

Justice of the Peace William "Bill" Shankles was in serious but stable condition this morning after suffering a heart attack Sunday night, said the charge nurse at Malone-Hogan Hospital's Intensive Care Unit.

The nurse, who asked not to be identified, said Shankles' condition has improved since Monday when he was described in critical but stable condition.

Shankles' sister-in-law, Joyce Shankles, said this morning, "He's getting stronger every day."

He may be transferred to Lubbock General Hospital later for additional care, but Joyce Shankles said that hasn't been decided.

Shankles was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital Sunday afternoon by Lee Ambulance paramedics Shane Schaffner and Jesse Eads after he complained of chest pains, Schaffner said. He suffered a heart attack while in the hospital emergency room, said Carmen Phillips, director of nursing services.

Shankles, 50, who won the Democratic primary for Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 Place 2, was appointed to the position last month to fill a vacancy created by the death of incumbent Lewis Hefflin.

Shankles faces no Republican opposition in the November general election.

He previously served as a county sheriff's deputy for almost nine years.

Amusement park lawsuit settled

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston family seeking $6.5 million in damages from operators of an amusement park where a woman drowned last year settled the case out of court just as attorneys were to deliver closing arguments before a jury considering the case.

Judge Jack O'Neill announced the settlement in the case of the family of Donna Newcomb, 30, who drowned June 9, 1985, at Waterworld amusement park in Houston.

Neither the attorneys nor the judge, however, would disclose the amount of settlement, reached Friday.

"It has not been lightly made," O'Neill told jurors in his only comment about the amount.

Testimony in the nine-day trial indicated Mrs. Newcomb went under in eight feet of water in a swimming pool.

When it's time to replace your old air conditioner, it'll probably only take you a little while to find a new one that looks pretty good and doesn't cost much. But it'll take a lot longer to realize a quick bargain is likely to cause a slow burn on your wallet every month.

A high-efficiency air conditioner could make a difference in your cooling costs this summer and every summer. A high-efficiency choice means steady savings because you're getting the same amount of cooling using less electricity than with a low-efficiency unit. On top of this, you'll get a valuable rebate from your electric company if your central air conditioner or window unit meets our Energy Action standards.

Secret code words help communication

ABBY: I never thought the day would come when I'd have a contribution to the Dear Abby column, but you asked for amusing code signals.

Years ago, when I was taking care of neighborhood children, to let them know their zippers were down, I'd say "XYZ" (for "examine your zipper"). They caught on quickly and zipped up, and soon were on their way to play again. This is not an original. It was around when I was a kid.

ELIZABETH M. WEYFORTH, ST. JAMES CITY, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: I'm still laughing about how to subtly make a male aware that his zipper was open.

I'm an immigrant from the "old country" and was brought up on Shakespeare. In our family, we'd say, "Ah, woe is me" — the rest of the phrase, "for I am undone," was of course, unnecessary.

DEANISE BIGGINS, FAIRPORT, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: If we are on the phone while someone is present and we can't talk openly, we say, "64." That means, "Ask questions that can be answered with 'yes' or 'no.'" (It comes from "The $64,000 Question.")

And when we want to signal, "You're talking too much," we say, "Edith." That's from Archie Bunker's famous phrase, "Stifle yourself, Edith."

Dear Abby

SYLVIA GILLIS, EUGENE, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have a special code we use when it's time for us to go home. One of us will subtly get the other's attention by lightly tugging our own ear. If things keep going, and it seems we might be even longer, we'll often tug the other person's ear.

We've found it works quite well and allows us to be discreet at the same time.

MOUNTLAKE TERRACE, WASH.

DEAR MOUNTLAKE: When I was a girl back in Sioux City, Iowa, a close family friend used to say, "K.K.L.M.G." — short for "Koom, koom, lauz mere gain." Translation: "Come, come, let us go."

DEAR ABBY: A very common code phrase to tell a woman her slip is showing is, "It's snowing down south." In my family, if a woman's slip is showing, I say, "Your Saturday is longer than your Sunday."

My wife is fond of dresses with plunging necklines that shows a lot of cleavage, and every once in awhile if a little too much cleavage is showing, I say "valley" and she readjusts her blouse.

TEXAS READER

DEAR ABBY: You asked for family code words, so here's ours: Our mother was a great lady, but she was a non-stop talker, and when she got going nobody else could get a word in edgewise, so our family devised a signal to let her know that she was talking too much.

We'd say, "For God's sake, Mother, please shut up and give someone else a chance!"

It wasn't very subtle, and to be perfectly honest, sometimes it worked and sometimes it didn't.

J.D. IN L.A.

DEAR ABBY: During our 40-year marriage, my late husband and I used two codes: a two-toned whistle to attract one another's attention beyond normal speaking range, and the phrase "Don't forget," used in saying goodbye in public or on the telephone. This was shortspeak for, "Don't forget how much I love you."

Just before he sank into his last coma, he opened his eyes and whispered, "Don't forget, Honey. I never have. Sign me..."

REMEMBERING IN NEW ORLEANS

DEAR ABBY: Due to rapidly advancing age (we're in our 50s), my husband and I were guilty of repeating a story we've told several times before. Our children (in their 30s) came up with a secret word to let their doddering old parents know we were repeating ourselves. The secret word is "Rumpelstiltskin."

Because my hubby and I refuse to admit that we may be getting senile, we usually finish the story anyway, but at least we know why everybody goes to sleep.

Most heart victims return to work

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: How soon after a heart attack should a man return to his work? My husband (57) had a serious attack, from which he is now recovering at home. I am afraid for him, because I know how he is, and that he will want to go back way too soon. He talks of it constantly, and is even calling the office now. He has a desk job, and that is even more reason (he thinks) why he should be back yesterday. I know this isn't much to go on. He does light exercise regularly. This was his first attack. — Mrs. K.I.

Generalities fail miserably in trying to answer such questions, so I'm sure you'll forgive the medical columnist's bromide, that "his doctor should be the one to decide this." Tests that determine the present strength of his heart will help the doctor determine the timing.

Generally, doctors prefer their patients to return to work as soon as they're physically able to do so. Fully 90 percent of heart attack patients do go back to their jobs. The average recovery period from such a heart attack as your husband's might range from two to three months for those engaged in manual labor. It can be as brief as one to two months for white-collar workers.

Your husband's anxiety is classic. Many patients undergo psychological stresses from forced inactivity that often outweigh the moderate physical stress of work. Frequently, those judged at too great a risk to return to previous positions are able to withstand less taxing ones. Encourage your husband's prescribed exercise. Those who do that at home in the early periods of recovery fare better than those who don't.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Is it true that older people need more vitamin D? — J.F.

Older people need supplements if (1) they fail to get sufficient sun exposure, or (2) they have severely limited food intake that deprives them of that source. Sunlight manufactures vitamin D by acting on what was called precursors. Older people tend to get less sun exposure and besides, they have fewer of these vitamin D skin precursors than do younger folks.

Americans Stars go down, 7-3

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

The Odessa Jim Parker All-Stars got a strong pitching performance from Raul Samaniego and two clutch doubles from Danny Copeland as they defeated the Big Spring American League 7-3 in the championship game of the District III Little League Tournament last night at the American League field.

Samaniego went the distance while scattering seven hits and Copeland, the center fielder for Jim Parker, keyed rallies by cracking doubles in the fourth and fifth innings.

It was a sad ending for the for the Big Spring Americans, as they ended tournament play with a 5-2 slate. Meanwhile the Odessa team advances to bi-district competition by going through tourney play with a 5-1 record.

It wasn't one of Big Spring's better games. Starting hurler Jeromaine Gonzales, who had two wins in tournament play, was chased from the game in the fifth inning. He went four-and-one third innings, allowed six runs on four hits. Two of the runs were unearned, due to an uncharacteristic five AL errors. Gonzales was relieved by Jim Bob Sumpter, who gave up an unearned run in the sixth inning. Jim Parker struck for two runs in its first at-bat. Two Big Spring errors were the main cause. Jeff Thomason's single was the only hit in the inning. He scored when Samaniego grounded out. Mark Zebrowski, who walked, scored on Will Wagner's ground out.

Big Spring scratched for a run in the bottom of the first. Leadoff hitter Jonathan Downey, who got two hits in the game, singled. He scored on a wild throw by the first baseman when he tried to catch Downey stealing third base.

Jim Parker came back with two more runs in the fourth. Chad Sandell singled and scored when Copeland hit his first double of the game. He socked Gonzales' offering against the left field fence. Copeland scored when Zebrowski singled.

Jim Parker padded its lead to 6-1 in the fifth. Samaniego reached on an error by the second baseman, moved to third on wild pitches, and scored on a wild pitch. That's when Sumpter was called in to spell Gonzales.

Sumpter was greeted with Copeland's second double of the night, this time against the left-center field fence. The hit scored Sandell, who had walked, and the Odessa team held a five run lead.

Big Spring rallied for two runs in the bottom of the fifth. Catcher Brian Gordon doubled and Downey reached base on an error. Both scored when third baseman Cort Petterson singled.

Jim Parker added one final run in the sixth. Thomason reached base on an error and eventually scored on a sacrifice fly by Samaniego.

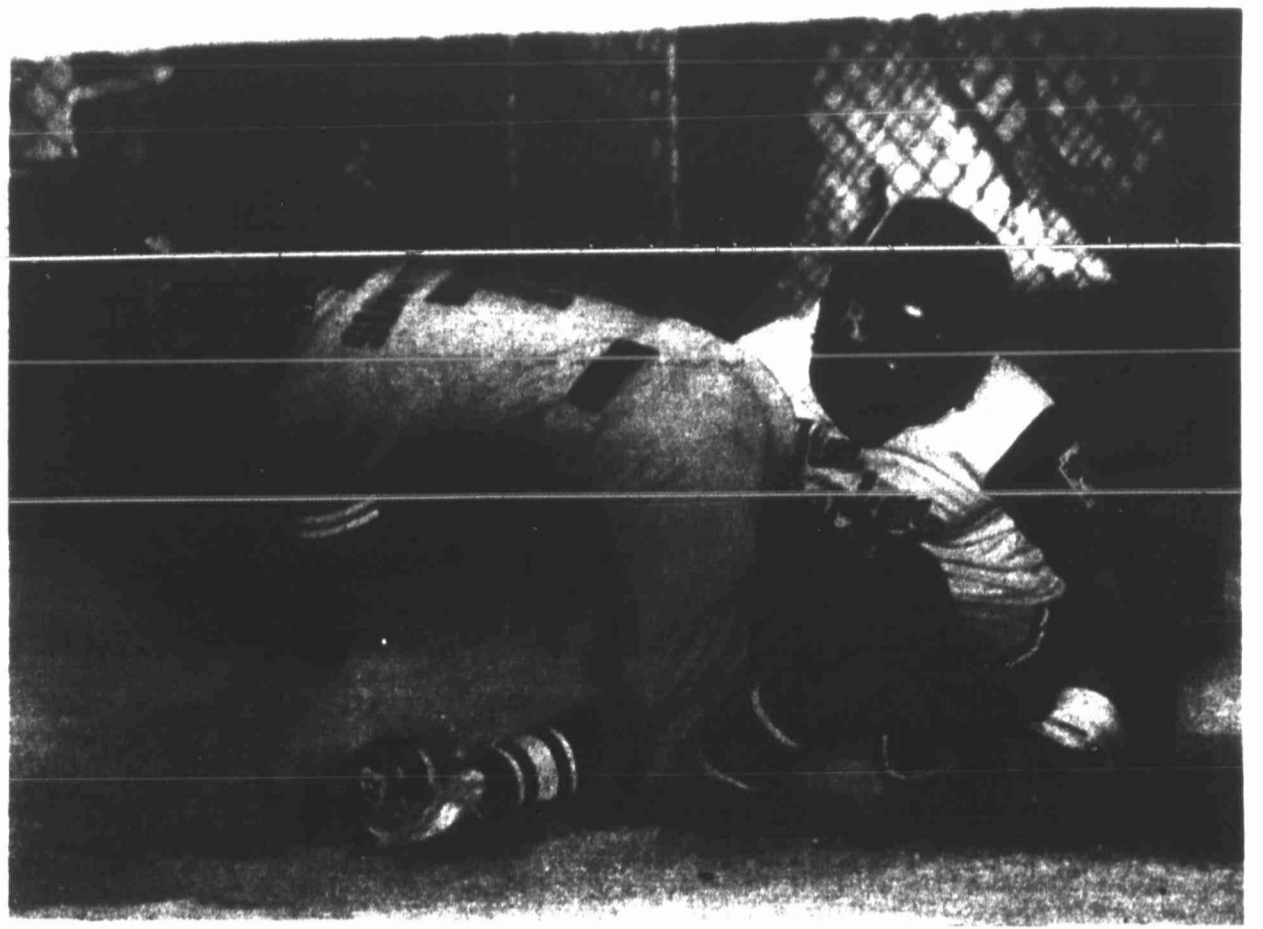

Big Spring had the making of a rally in the final inning. Billy Bob Sumpter got an inside hit and Patrick Martinez reached on an error. It looked like the bases would be loaded when Brant Laster hit a high chopper to the second baseman. The second baseman fielded the ball and missed the tag on Martinez going to second.

But the base umpire ruled Martinez interfered with the second baseman because he ran in front of him. Instead of having the bases loaded with no outs, it was men on first and second with one out.

Samaniego ended the contest by fanning Greg Skelton and Gordon for his fifth and sixth strikeouts of the game.

Hits — Jim Parker 6, Americans 7; LOB — Jim Parker 7, Americans 4; Errors: Jim Parker: Zebrowski, Thomason, Wagner, Sandell; Americans: Downey (2), Petterson, Sinclear (2); SB — Jim Parker: Zebrowski; Americans: Downey (2), Petterson; 2B — Jim Parker: Copeland (2); Americans: Gordon; WP — Samaniego; LP: Gonzales; Time: 1:45.

Jackson finds hitting eye

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (A) — Heisman Trophy winner Bo Jackson whose professional baseball career is off to a jerky start may have finally found his "timing" in the batter's box, his boss says.

Jackson, who had an eight-game hitting streak snapped Monday night, was named Monday as player of the week in the Southern League.

"When his (batting) average wasn't good he was still doing the right things mechanically," said George Lapides, president of the Memphis Chicks.

"His timing was off which was to be expected because he hadn't played," Lapides said. "Now he's played and he's getting his timing."

Jackson made headlines when he rejected a multi-million dollar offer from the Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the National Football League to give baseball a try.

He signed with the Kansas City Royals and was sent to the Chicks, a Class AA farm club in the Southern League.

During his hitting streak, Jackson had collected 11 hits in 26 times at bat, for a .423 batting average.

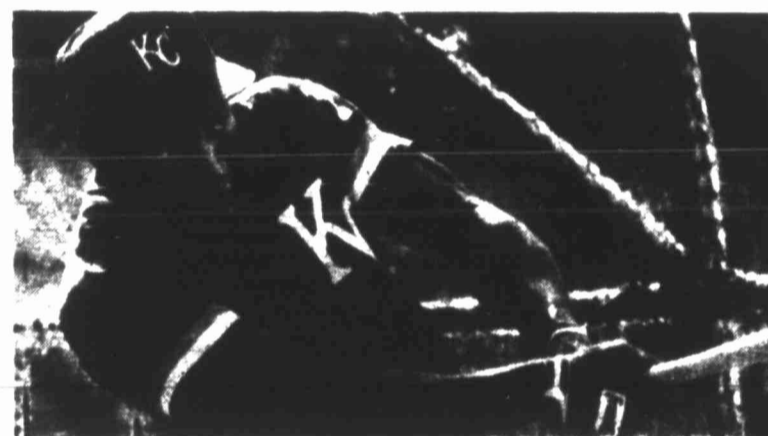

He scored seven runs and brought in 11 others.

Overall, Jackson is hitting .203 for his 21 games as a professional, with 15 hits in 74 at-bats. Jackson has struck out 34 times.

A 6-foot-1, 220 pounder, Jackson was billed as a potential slugger, but he managed only two hits in his first 31 trips to the plate, putting his batting average at .065.

Team officials said he needed time to develop as a baseball player, despite his abilities on the football field.

"I think he's doing

Heisman trophy winner Bo Jackson is getting his timing down in the Southern League playing for the Memphis Chicks. Jackson was named Player of Week in the league for having a eight-game hitting streak.

everything you could ask of him and more," Lapides said.

On July 17, Jackson hit a grand slam homerun against the Greenville, S.C., Braves.

The ball traveled 554 feet, said Ted Tornow, a spokesman for the Chicks.

"It seems like he's seeing the ball a little bit better," Tornow said.

Yankees down Rangers, 8-4

By The Associated Press

Mike Pagliarulo is one player who doesn't believe in setting goals for himself, but that doesn't bother the New York Yankees, because he already has exceeded his home run production of last season.

"I never really have set any ... because I never had a chance to play regularly," Pagliarulo said after hitting a three-run homer Monday night to lead the Yankees to an 8-4 victory over the Texas Rangers that moved New York within five games of Boston in the American League East.

"I'm not surprised, but I'm very happy about Pags," Yankee Manager Lou Piniella said. "He hit 19 last year, and he platooned all year. The way he's going now, he has a chance to lead the league."

Especially since he is playing every day. "He earned that," Piniella said. "Nobody gave it to him."

Rickey Henderson and Mike Easler also hit home runs to help make a winner of rookie Doug Drabek, 2-2.

Rangers shortstop Scott Fletcher extended his hitting streak to 17 games, the longest in the American League, with a double in the fifth.

AL

Indians 5, White Sox 2

Mel Hall had his 17th homer as red-hot Cleveland cooled off visiting Chicago.

Hall, seriously injured last season in an auto accident, has given up wondering if fractures to his left clavicle and pelvis and other assorted injuries would keep him from playing to his full potential this season.

"Even three months ago it was hard for me to envision anything. I just expected to come out strong and what happened, happened," Hall said driving in two runs with his homer and a single. "I didn't expect this. It's good to know that I'm fully recovered."

The Indians, who got 4 2-3 innings of scoreless, two-hit relief from Rich Yett, 4-0, who retired 14 of the 16 hitters he faced.

Blue Jays 8, Mariners 3

Jesse Barfield and George Bell each hit two homers to help Toronto overpower Seattle in the Kingdom.

"I set my goals and I'm sure George sets his. I think we really complement each other," said Barfield after he and Bell helped lead a 16-hit attack.

The Blue Jays' outfielders jumped on Seattle starter Mark Huisman, 2-3, for back-to-back home runs to set off a five-run rally in the fourth inning.

Barfield said that his goals for the season were 35 homers, a .300 batting average and 100 or more RBI. "I'm on track for my goals, if I reach them early I'll just have to make new ones," said Barfield, who has 67 runs batted in.

Bell is right behind him with 22 homers, and 74

RBI.

A's 5, Red Sox 2

Oakland left-hander Curt Young may have lost his bid for to shut out Boston on Dwight Evans' two-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning, but he wasn't about to lose sleep over it.

"I got the win, and that's all that matters," Young said. "I'll take a 5-2 win any day. A shutout is a bonus."

Young, 7-6, allowed only three hits and retired 14 consecutive Boston hitters in one stretch.

Tony Phillips hit his fifth homer and Dave Kingman his 22nd for the A's off Bruce Hurst, 5-4, who was making his first start since May 31.

Twins 1, Tigers 0

Kirby Puckett scored on Kent Krbek's sixth-inning bloop single to give Minnesota its victory over Detroit.

"I just ran as hard as I could," Puckett said. "I knew I was going to third easy and saw T.K. (third base coach Tom Kelly) waving me in. I thought there was a chance he would and I didn't break stride. I was three-quarters home, when I saw (shortstop Allen) Trammell throw the ball."

Trammell, whose relay throw bounced in front of the plate, allowing Puckett to score the game's only run, had taken a weak throw from rightfielder Kirk Gibson. Puckett had walked to open the sixth inning.

Frank Viola, 10-8, outdueled Mark Thurmond, who lost his first American League start. Viola and Keith Atherton, who got his eighth save, combined on a four-hitter as the Twins ended Detroit's five-game winning streak.

Royals 6, Orioles 1

Steve Balboni doubled in the eighth and hit a two-run homer in the ninth to give Kansas City its win in Baltimore.

Even though he's on a 9-for-19 tear, Balboni wasn't ecstatic about facing Baltimore's Ken Dixon. "He has a good breaking ball and mixes up his pitches," Balboni said in explaining why he started the game just 2-for-13 against the Oriole right-hander. "He's been tough on me. But he got a breaking ball up a little bit."

Balboni hit his 19th homer off Brad Havens in the ninth.

Danny Jackson, 6-6, allowed four hits in seven innings as the Royals snapped a 10-game road losing streak.

Fred Lynn hit his 15th homer for Baltimore.

Brewers 5, Angels 3

Rob Deer and Dale Sveum each drove in two runs in the fourth to lead visiting Milwaukee over California.

Deer, Sveum and Jim Gantner singled to produce a run in the second off Ron Romanick, 5-8. Deer's two-run single and Sveum's two-run double in the fourth gave Bill Wegman, 3-8, all the backing he needed.

Astros regain first place

By The Associated Press

Now that the Houston Astros have won four straight games, they're looking to get hot.

"We put three or four together before. We've been consistent, but we just haven't gotten hot yet," Bill Doran said Monday night after the Astros rallied for two runs in the ninth inning and beat the Montreal Expos 8-7.

The victory put Houston in sole possession of first place in the National League West, one game ahead of San Francisco.

Jose Cruz, who went 4-for-5 with a homer and double, and Glenn Davis drove in three runs apiece for the Astros. Davis singled home the tying run in the ninth and Cruz followed by singling home the game-winner.

NL

"Games like these are great if you win, but if you lose you go home and have some sleepless nights," Houston Manager Hal Lanier said.

In other NL action, St. Louis downed San Francisco 8-3, New York beat Cincinnati 4-2, Philadelphia got past Atlanta 3-1 and Chicago defeated San Diego 6-1.

Tim Raines, who homered, and Andre Dawson each drove in three runs for Montreal. The visiting Expos had broken a 6-6 tie in the eighth against Charlie Kerfeld, 7-1, when Wayne Krenchicki singled and later scored on shortstop Craig Reynolds' throwing error.

The Astros came back in the ninth against Jeff Reardon, 6-5. Billy Hatcher led off with a single and stole second. After Denny Walling walked, Davis tied it with his single.

A bunt single by Jim Pankovits loaded the bases and Cruz followed with his single.

"He's been driving the ball well for us," Lanier said. "That's what we need."

Cruz, a .300 hitter the last three seasons, had gotten off to a slow start this year but has raised his average to .262. He had an RBI double in the fourth as the Astros took a 4-0 lead, and a solo homer, his second, in the sixth.

Davis had a sacrifice fly in the first and a run-scoring single in the seventh.

Cardinals 8, Giants 3

Willie McGee hit two homers in a game for the first time since Game 3 of the 1982 World Series, helping St. Louis beat Steve Carlton and visiting San Francisco.

Carlton, who hit a three-run homer, fell to 4-10 overall, including 0-2 in three starts for the Giants. He allowed three earned runs on five hits in six innings.

McGee hit a solo homer in the first inning and a two-run shot in the fourth, giving him six this season. He became the first Cardinal to hit two home runs in a game since David Green on July 27, 1984.

Tommy Herr's suicide squeeze bunt gave host St. Louis a 4-3 lead in the sixth. Pinch-hitter Curt Ford's three-run double highlighted a four-run seventh.

Winner Greg Mathews, 5-2, gave up four hits over seven innings, including Carlton's homer in the second. Mathews left the game after being hit in the right forearm by a pitch from Jeff Robinson in the seventh inning, but he is not expected to miss his next start Saturday.

Mets 4, Reds 2

Gary Carter hit a two-run single and Rick Aguilera checked Cincinnati for eight innings as New York beat Mario Soto and the Reds.

Aguilera, 3-3, gave up eight hits and struck out a career-high nine. Jesse Orosco pitched a scoreless ninth for his 13th save.

Soto, 3-8, activated for the disabled list earlier in the day, had been sidelined since June 19 because of shoulder problems. He left in the fifth inning and gave up three runs on six hits.

Carter's single put the visiting Mets ahead 2-1 in the third. Darryl Strawberry hit a sacrifice fly in the fifth and Wally Backman added an RBI single in the sixth.

Phillies 3, Braves 1

Mike Schmidt, who had been intentionally walked twice earlier in the game, hit a two-out, two-run single with the bases that broke a ninth-inning tie and lifted Philadelphia over Atlanta.

The Phillies loaded the bases on a pinch-single by Tom Foley, an error by reliever Jeff Dedmon and Juan Samuel's hit by pitch. Schmidt then singled, giving him the league lead with 71 RBI and 21 homers.

Kent Tekulve, 3-1, got the victory and Steve Bedrosian gained his 12th save. Dedmon, 3-5, took the loss.

The visiting Phillies broke a scoreless game in the eighth on Von Hayes' RBI single. The Braves tied it in their half of the eighth on Andres Thomas' RBI double.

Cubs 6, Padres 1

Jerry Mumphrey went 4-for-4, highlighting a 13-hit attack that led Chicago over San Diego.

Rookie Jamie Moyer, 2-2, shut out the Padres on five hits over eight innings. LaMarr Hoyt, 5-5, took the loss as San Diego fell for the fourth straight time.

Ron Cey and Chris Speier had RBI doubles for the host Cubs.

WIND SURFIN' U.S.A.

The multi-colored sails sweep across the blue surface of the lake, dwarfing the tiny hangers-on.

The combination surfboard-and-sailboats swerve into the wind, then splash. The sail lies horizontal on the water, and the surfer lands in the lake.

Spills happen frequently, but no one seems to mind on a hot summer afternoon.

Wind surfing has become a popular way to beat the dry heat of a West Texas summer. Weekends find groups of swimsuit-clad surfers from all over the Big Country collecting at the lakes near Big Spring.

"It's great when the breeze gets going," said 25-year-old Roger Trimble of Midland. "It's a good sport for West Texas because it's usually windy, even though you have to drive to find water."

Trimble and his two friends were surfing Saturday at Red Lake, also known as Hog Wallow. The privately-owned lake lies off the north service road of Interstate 20 between Big Spring and Midland.

Once a dry bed because of drought, the lake is now a haven for wind surfers.

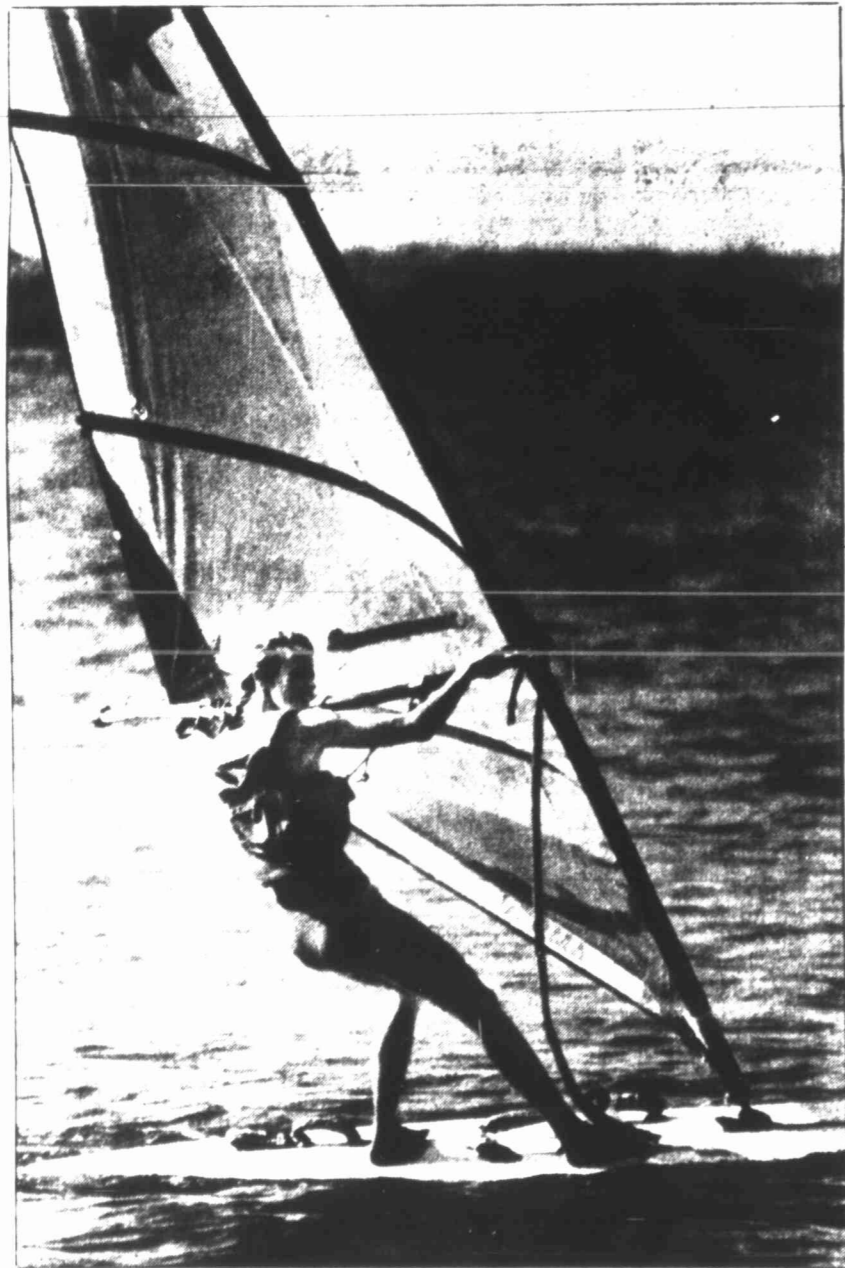

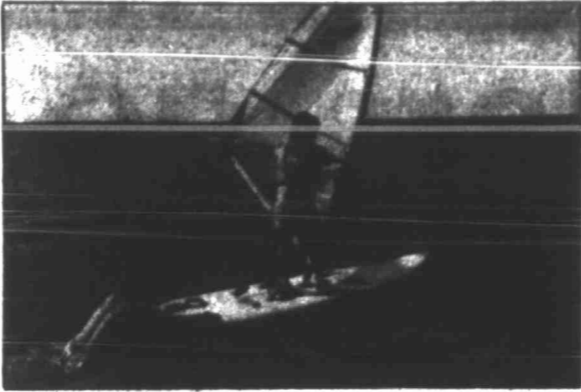

For Bill Severns, 26, of Midland, Saturday was his second time to try the sport.

"It's just a matter of getting your balance," he said. "It's a lot like skiing."

Trimble said a surfer uses his body weight to turn the sail, holding onto the "boom," a metal bar stretched horizontally across the widest part of the triangular sail.

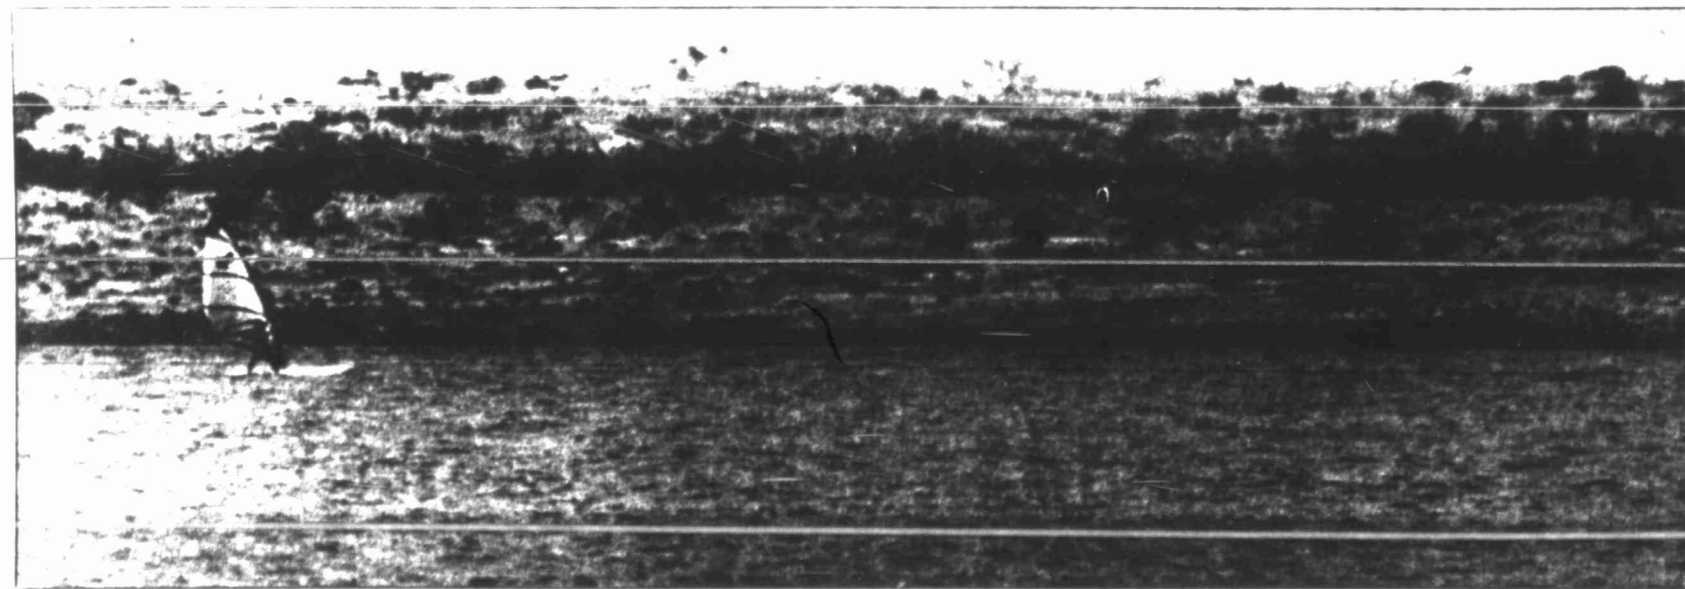

It's the rubber universal joint at the base of the sail that makes the surfboard work, he said. The joint enables the sail to be turned in any direction.

A surfer need not be in top physical condition to enjoy the sport, said Lee Digel, 24, of Midland. Digel has been surfing two summers, he said, and he is a member of the Midland Wind surfing Club, which has a membership of more than 100.

Wind surfing is not just a sport for the men, as one woman tries her luck against the wind.

The heavy rains of April and May have turned Red Lake into a haven for wind surfers. The surfers call it the perfect place to go, saying the lack of surrounding obstructions means the wind on the lake is nearly always constant.

A lone surfer finds plenty of maneuvering room on which to guide his craft. Wind surfing has become a popular way to beat the dry heat of a

West Texas summer.

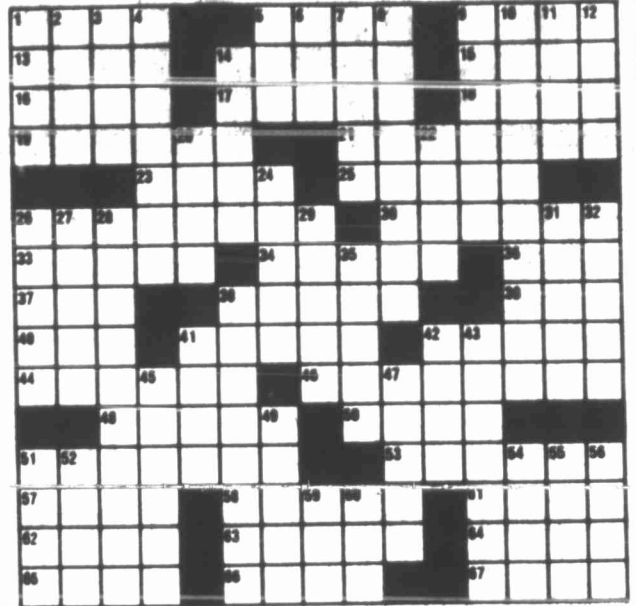

Control of the boom allows the sailor to move the sail, thus changing the direction of travel.

Browns put 10th pick on waivers

By The Associated Press
 The Cleveland Browns aren't waiting to find out what happens to 10th-round draft pick Willie Smith, who was arrested last month on charges of possession of cocaine and carrying a concealed weapon.

Browns spokesman Kevin Byrne said the team will put the former University of Miami (Fla.) All-America tight end on waivers Tuesday.

"We waited until we received all of the information and have decided to waive our rights to Willie Smith. We think it's in the best interests of the Cleveland Browns that he be given the opportunity to play elsewhere," Byrne said Monday.

NFL

Assistant State Attorney Joe Rosenbaum said in Miami earlier Monday that if Smith successfully completed a drug counseling program, Florida would drop all charges against him. He said if Smith didn't finish the program or is re-arrested the case would be set for trial.

Smith was arrested after a woman called police claiming a man was chasing her. The woman told officials that the man had picked up her purse after she dropped it during the chase.

At the time, Metro-Dade police spokesman Jim Hutton said police found Smith sitting in a car with what appeared to be a plastic bag containing cocaine and a .357-caliber Magnum pistol on the seat beside him.

Two star quarterbacks started training on Monday.

Dan Marino made $850,000 just for showing up at the Miami Dolphins' training camp. He collected on an appearance bonus in the contract he is trying to negotiate. He said he has no plans to walk out of camp despite not having the new contract he wants.

Marino's original four-year, $2 million deal, which had the huge appearance bonus written into it, expires Feb. 1. Marino's agent, Marvin Demoff, said he and Dolphins owner Joe Robbie have discussed a new deal in the past few months with no apparent progress.

San Francisco 49er Joe Montana tested his throwing shoulder for the first time since arthroscopic surgery seven weeks ago. "It felt good, it felt real good," Montana said. "I threw a little harder than I expected to."

Montana hurt the shoulder in last December's playoff loss to the New York Giants. In minicamp this spring, he experienced pain while throwing, and he decided then upon the surgery.

Three second-round draft choices signed contracts Monday.

The New Orleans Saints signed running back Dalton Hilliard to a three-year contract, ending a three-day holdout by LSU's all-time leading rusher.

Darryl Clack ended a two-week absence from the Dallas Cowboys' camp, signing a four-year contract for some $250,000 per year.

The New York Giants signed Arkansas safety Greg Lester, their fifth pick overall and fourth in the second round. No terms were disclosed.

Running back Joe Morris did not report to the Giants' training camp Monday because of a contract dispute. Morris is in the option year of his contract and is looking to renegotiate after rushing for 1,366 yards and scoring 21 touchdowns last season.

Giants General Manager George Young said Morris, who is entering his fifth season with the team, is under contract for this year and will be fined for failing to report with the rest of the veterans.

Veteran defensive tackle Mark Duda, one of six experienced St. Louis Cardinals holding out, signed at terms not disclosed. A team spokesman said Duda would join drills at Eastern Illinois University on Tuesday.

Cliff Branch, nine days short of his 38th birthday, reported to the Los Angeles Raiders' training camp. Branch had been expected to retire.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY REVIEW

Hall services lawn equipment

Hall Aircooled Engine's business is in small engines.
 Hall services all makes of lawn mowers, gasoline-powered equipment and small engines. The firm also sells and services Toro lawn equipment, as well as chain saws, generators, lawn mowers, pumps and weed trimmers. "We service anything with a small gas engine on it," says owner Jerold Cox.

Hall has factory trained mechanics. Its staff participates in all the annual update seminars ofered by all small engine manufacturers, including Toro.

 In addition to its service work, the firm carries a full line of parts and supplies for lawn and garden equipment, such as Briggs and Stratton, Kohler, and Tecumseh brands.

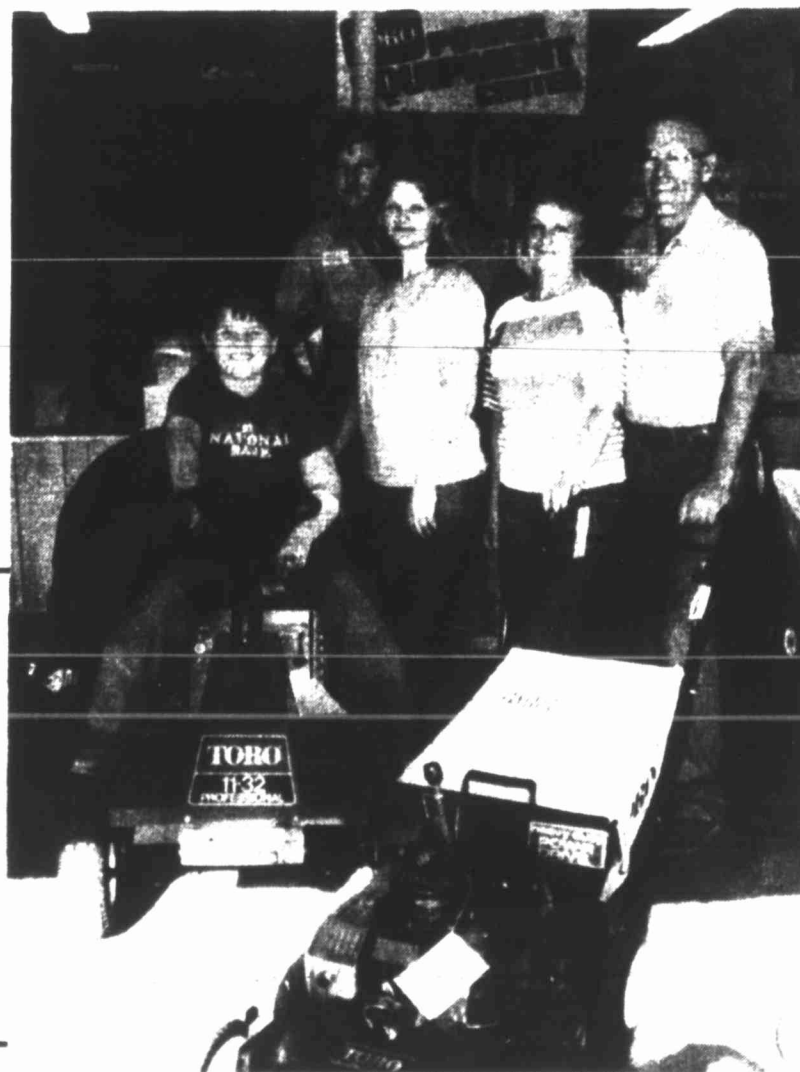

Hall Aircooled Engine is a family-owned business operated by several family members.

Jerold Cox owns and operates the business and works as a mechanic and parts man. He has 28 years in the small engine repair business.

In 1958, Cox started his career in the same building that Hall Aircooled Engine is in presently. He was employed by Harold Hall and Hall Auto Parts at that time. In the 1960s, the business name was changed to Hall Aircooled Engine.

Cox sold auto parts and worked on small engines throughout the years. In 1982, he bought the business from one of Hall's sons and kept the business' name. Since that time he has expanded the business in total inventory and service area.

 Other members of Cox's family employed by the business includes his wife Betty, the office manager. The couple's daughter, Debra Casey, operates the parts department, and their son-in-law, Jerry Farmer, is a mechanic.
 Hall Aircooled Engine is the place for buying commercial or residential motorized lawn equipment or having it serviced. The business is located at 508 Gregg and may be contacted by calling 267-1028.
