Library has new hours

The Howard County library will operate under new hours from July 28 through Sept. 30, librarian Judith Gray said.

The library will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday during that time, she said. The change will allow library employees to install and implement a new computer circulation system, she said.

The library will be closed Aug. 30 through Sept. 1, Gray said.

Jobless rate hits new high

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Texas Employment Commission office manager Joe Wallis said June figures regarding employment in Howard County are the worst he's seen.

"I wish we had something optimistic to put out, but I don't know what it would be," Wallis said Tuesday afternoon after releasing the figures.

According to TEC figures, 14.4 percent of the 15,856 total labor force in Howard County was out of work during June, the highest percentage since the commission began keeping such records.

This compares to 12.6 percent unemployment in May and 7.9 percent in June 1985, he said. The labor force in May totaled 15,686 and in June 1985 was 16,278.

Wallis attributed the rising unemployment to a continuing "ripple effect from the decline in oil prices."

He said he doesn't know whether many unemployed persons are leaving the area to seek work elsewhere.

"We are getting very few transfer claims out of here," he said, but he noted the local office would have no record of someone leaving the county and filing an initial claim somewhere else.

Texas Electric Service Company's customer records do not indicate a drastic rise in closed accounts, he said.

The number of unemployed persons in the county in June totaled 2,278, Wallis said.

This compares to 1,976 unemployed in May and 1,289 out of work in June 1985.

Persons who held jobs in June numbered 13,578, Wallis said, compared to 13,710 persons employed in May and 14,989 persons employed in June 1985.

Wallis said those who are out of work and are opting to stay here are basing their decision more on "hope than anything else."

He said his clerical staff is attempting to find openings for unemployed persons in manufacturing, sales and service-related jobs.

"We're shooting at every occupation out there and not having much luck on it," he said.

Council split on proposed alcohol ban

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

Over the objections of Councilmen D.W. Overman and Johnny Rutherford, City Council Tuesday night delayed action on a recommendation to ban alcoholic beverages and glass containers from all city parks and Moss Creek Lake.

The Council also heard a legal report with respect to closing a right-of-way between Third and Fourth streets.

The movement to ban alcoholic beverages from city parks grew as an afterthought to getting rid of glass containers from municipal property. The Parks and Recreation Board recommendation to prohibit alcohol from city parks was tied with the proposal to ban glass in the same agenda item.

While little Council opposition exists to banning glass containers, the proposal to outlaw beer, wine and liquor from city property had the Council split.

"I believe 99 percent of the people (who use Comanche Trail Park) are conscientious about what they do in the park," argued Councilman Henry Sanchez. "I don't see why we have to impose this on the people of Big Spring."

Rutherford, who supports the alcohol ban, said drinking at the park engenders a bad atmosphere for children and can lead to violence. He bolstered his reasoning by referring to the Easter Day shootings in the park.

"Had a child been killed as a result of that shooting, a case could be made against the city," he said. "We need to be stronger in this area than we are," he said.

Former parks superintendent Gary Tabor told the Council that drinking of alcohol has caused a "terrific problem at the park." He said much litter and vandalism is alcohol related.

Overman said after the meeting he wanted to approve the glass and alcohol ban. The newcomer to the Council said he has received a lot of

College faces tight budget

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

The Howard College budget this year is lean, President Bob Riley told members of the Howard County Junior College District board Tuesday.

The preliminary budget was submitted to the board at its regular meeting.

A public hearing will be conducted and the final budget approved at the August board meeting.

"I had a lot less gray hair before this (preparation of the budget) started," Riley joked.

The preliminary budget for the next school year is $5,719,960, which is 5 percent less than last year's $5,998,046 budget, he said, even though the cost of living has increased 3.8 percent.

A decreased tax base is the reason for the leaner budget, he said. The district's assessed value decreased this year by $159 million, but the tax rate remains at 16 cents per $100.

That means the district will receive about $250,000 less in taxes this year, he said.

Reductions will come in reduced travel; eliminating all but essential capital expenditures; not filling several open positions; and no salary increases above those already scheduled, Riley said.

The budget will retain a $750,000 reserve, 10 percent of the operating budget.

"We think we can operate a quality institution with this budget," Riley said.

Board member Harold Davis, who served on the budget salary committee, said there will be no layoffs or salary cuts.

In other business, the board: • Approved the appointment of Ron Brasel as dean of instruction at SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf. Brasel, due to start the position in August, replaces Sam Hill, who resigned June 1.

• Awarded to low bidder Hester & Robertson of Big Spring a $252,285 contract for the next phase of the water piping system project.

The contract calls for installing a 100,000-gallon water storage tank and underground piping, said

Prince Andrew marries Sarah

LONDON (AP) — Prince Andrew married red-haired English commoner Sarah Ferguson today at Westminster Abbey to bugle fanfares, pealing bells and a nation's cheers in a spectacle that mastered the pomp and glory of Britain's 920-year-old monarchy.

To Britons, it was an invitation to put aside their troubles for a day and celebrate the sturdier values of their heritage, which is anchored by Europe's most popular and enduring monarchy.

Miss Ferguson, dressed in a beaded ivory silk satin gown, and Andrew, in full Royal Navy uniform, took their vows in firm, self-assured voices. She stumbled just once, on one of Andrew's four names.

Andrew, the queen's second son and fourth in line to the throne, gently slipped on his bride's finger a ring of gold from the same Welsh mine that provided the wedding ring for his grandmother in 1923.

"I pronounce that they be man and wife together," the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Rev. Robert Runcie, told the kneeling couple at 11:50 a.m. (5:50 a.m. CDT).

Then, with only their close relatives present, they signed the register and legally became Prince and Princess Andrew, the Duke and Duchess of York. The queen conferred the dukedom, usual title for a sovereign's younger son, on Andrew 90 minutes before the wedding.

The couple walked down the aisle, hands clasped, pausing for Sarah to curtsy to Queen Elizabeth II, while Andrew bowed to his mother. The new princess smiled broadly to her mother-in-law.

Church bells chimed as the newlyweds, both 26, approached the door, and a huge cheer went up as they emerged from the abbey and waved to the crowds.

They mounted an open carriage — Andrew helped his bride gather up her 17½-foot train — and made a triumphal ride through London to Buckingham Palace.

More than an hour later, the newlyweds stepped onto the palace balcony and shared a tender kiss before hundreds of thousands of cheering spectators. During their brief appearance they smiled and waved, flanked by the queen and other members of the royal family and wedding party.

Andrew and Sarah reportedly were to jet to Portugal's Azores islands in the Atlantic later today for their honeymoon.

Queen Elizabeth watched proudly in a seat just behind the couple.

Jailed man dies of natural causes

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

A 62-year-old man, who earlier had been taken to a hospital complaining of stomach pains, died in city jail Friday afternoon of what Justice of the Peace Willie Grant said were natural causes.

Grant pronounced Ralph Cockrell of Post dead at 4:20 Friday afternoon at city jail. Cockrell was found unconscious in his cell by a jailer, acting Police Chief Lonnie Smith said Tuesday.

An autopsy ordered by Grant and conducted by local pathologist

Robert Rember revealed Cockrell died of acute alcohol withdrawal, Grant said.

Cockrell had been arrested Thursday evening at the Greyhound Bus Station on suspicion of public intoxication, according to police records.

At about 3:30 Friday morning, he was transported to Hall-Bennett Hospital after complaining of stomach pains, Smith said.

A nurse there examined Cockrell and found nothing wrong with him and he was returned to jail, Smith said. Cockrell "didn't want to cooperate with nurses there," Smith added.

Smith said jailers were instructed to keep a close watch on Cockrell, standard procedure when any prisoner complains of illness.

Normally, he said, prisoners are checked about twice a night, although he did not know how often Cockrell was checked.

On Friday morning, Cockrell went before acting Municipal Judge Gwen Fair who fined him $30 for public intoxication.

Cockrell, however, did not pay the fine and was returned to jail where he died later that day, Smith said.

Smith said he ordered an internal investigation into the death by Sgt. Ray Meek. Meek said Tuesday he was satisfied the correct procedure for sick prisoners had been followed.

Texas Ranger Charles Brune also was called in to investigate, Smith said.

Brune's secretary, Marilyn Carson, said Tuesday the investigation has been closed. Brune also determined Cockrell died of natural causes, she said.

City Manager Mack Wofford was notified of the death Friday, Smith said.

Wofford said he's confident police acting properly in handling the case. "I see no reason to doubt the information supplied to me by the police department," he said. "I believe the medical evidence bears that out. It's just one of those unfortunate things."

"We did everything we could do," Smith said. "Anytime there is a sickness or death there is concern. I hate to see anybody pass away."

input from his constituents asking to remove alcohol from city parks. "I'm going to vote their convictions," he said. "City Park (should have) a family atmosphere. You can't take your family and children into a situation like that and have a family atmosphere."

At meeting's end, Sanchez said he "opposed an ordinance that ... affects the way people are used to living. These people are taxpayers, too. This is a public park. It's up to the people to decide. "I'd like to prevent glass litter, I'm all for that," Sanchez said. But, he added, his constituents should be given a chance to respond before a ban on alcohol is imposed.

The parks board also urged the Council to remove street barricades and improve speed bumps at Comanche Trail Park. Those requests also were tabled.

On the matter of E.F. Henderson fencing off a road he claims the city could win a case against Henderson in court and reopen the street.

The street, a continuation of Franklin Street between Third and Fourth streets, was closed by Henderson after he bought the land as an investment. Henderson told the Council in June that he didn't want people driving over his property.

Corky Harris, owner of Harris Lumber, which is located near the disputed street, presented the Council with a 494-signature petition seeking Council action to reopen the street in June.

Harris told the Council that closing the road has created a large inconvenience for motorists in that part of town.

Miller referred to a number of legal cases where individuals have closed roads that had been used by the public for more than 10 years. In those cases, he said, judgment favored reopening the roads based on the principal of adverse possession.

The Council directed the city staff to draft a resolution whereby the city will pursue legal means to reopen the street.

In other business, the Council:
• Passed on first reading an ordinance approving and adopting the revenue-sharing budget for the next fiscal year. The $48,825 the city expects to receive in September will go toward construction of the proposed sports complex.

• Passed a series of resolutions authorizing the mayor to execute contracts with the Chamber of Commerce for promoting, cleanliness, industry, tourism and conventions in Big Spring.

• Passed a resolution supporting the construction of Stacy Dam.

• Passed on first reading an ordinance amending the city code regarding public amusements. Carnival and circus permits will now cost $250 and exhibitions deemed educational will be charged a fee of $25.

• Passed a resolution authorizing Big Spring's participation in the Main Street Program.

Stores report forgeries

The College Park and Gregg Street Safeway stores reported check forgeries Tuesday. The forgeries took place July 2, according to the police report.

• William Moren, assistant manager of Western Auto, told police Tuesday morning that someone he knows stole $350 from the store at 12:45 p.m. Tuesday.

• Lonnie D. Wright of 1618 E. 16th St. told police Tuesday afternoon that someone caused $200 damage to two doors during a break-in of his residence Tuesday.

• Gayle Furniss, manager of the Town and Country Store at 3104 Parkway Drive, told police Tuesday morning that someone rented two video cassettes valued at $80 May 18 and failed to return them.

• The Kwiki store told police someone passed a $64 forged check there July 16.

• Evonne DeLeon told police Thursday afternoon that someone punctured two tires on her car while it was at 900 S. Gregg St. between 2 p.m. and 3:45 p.m. Tuesday. Damage to the tires was estimated at $240.

• Dan Hathcoat of 2619 Albrook St. told police Tuesday night that someone caused $200 damage to the windshield of his truck and to a CB radio between 10 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Tuesday.

• Elizabeth Ann Young, 26, of 538 Westover Road was arrested Tuesday on a Midland County theft warrant. She was transferred to county jail and released on $500 bond.

For the record

Jeffrey Scott Roman, 14, who was injured in a three-wheeler accident Thursday night, lives at Sterling City Route Box 201-B2, his father, Mike Roman, said this morning. The report in Saturday's Herald listed an Ackerly address for the boy.

Friends of Library to meet Thursday

The Friends of the Library will meet Thursday at 5:15 p.m. at Howard County Library.

Librarian Judith Gray said the group will consider purchase of a new copy machine and bringing in an author or illustrator for the Crossroads Fine Arts Festival, scheduled for October.

Two men enter guilty pleas

Two men pleaded guilty in county court this week, one to driving while intoxicated and the other to evading arrest.

• Louie M. Chavez, 21, of Odessa was placed on a 60-day jail sentence probated for two years after he pleaded guilty Monday to DWI. He also was fined $300 and ordered him to pay $131 court costs.

• Carmen Moreno Gonzales, 38, 632 N.W. 3rd St., will serve five days in county jail after pleading guilty to evading arrest. He was fined $100 and ordered to pay $96 court costs.

business manager Terry Hansen.

Money for the project will come from a Dora Roberts Foundation grant and from a $42,000 energy storage incentive refund from Texas Electric Service Co., Riley said.

• Awarded to low bidder Moffatt Carpet a contract to install tile in the men's dormitory for $11,775.50. Riley said the money for dorm upkeep came from a grant by Dorothy Garrett about four years ago.

• Agreed to provide a licensed vocational nursing program in Del Rio. The college already teaches an associate degree (RN) nursing program there, Riley said. The board also hired Billie Jeanne Robinson of McAllen to teach the program.

Riley said Valverde Memorial Hospital has agreed to provide the starting money for the program. After that, the state will fund it, he said.

• Voted to continue the health insurance plan contract with the Texas Association of School Boards.

• Authorized Riley to negotiate a grant to purchase two buildings currently used by the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, one for the drama arts department and the other for storage.

Riley said the federal government informed the college the buildings had not been purchased with the other SWCID buildings. The two can be bought as government surplus, he said.

• Approved changes in the catalog. One change eliminates degree credit given for developmental and remedial courses, as required by the Texas Coordinating Board of Higher Education.

Another change provides for fees for several courses that require extensive use of a computer. Also, the student activities board voted to increase its fee to $41 to provide more activities, Riley said.

• Approved faculty evaluation and course approval for salary increments changes to the faculty handbook. Riley said the changes reflect policy now followed, but which had not been in the handbook previously.

Course approval for salary increments is a policy providing more pay to instructors who receive more education, Riley said.

• Decided to appoint a communicable disease committee of three staff and two faculty members to meet in case such a disease is reported.

Riley said the action arises out of concern for spread of AIDS. Many institutions are taking this step, he said. Although no cases have been reported, it is wise to be prepared, he said.

• Accepted the resignations of three instructors: physical education instructor David Lammers and business instructor Martha Lammers, who are moving to Dallas; and Paula Catron, SWCID dormitory supervisor, who also is moving to Dallas.

• Rescinded the contract of auto body repair instructor Curtis Joslyn, who was approved for hire in May. Joslyn has declined the college's offer of employment, Riley said.

• Rescinded the contract of Joyce Moore, associate degree nursing instructor. Riley said the decision was made in the best interest of the district, adding that the college's attorney advised him not to comment further.

• Extended the contract of Charla Lewis, emergency medical technology instructor.

• Employed Cynthia A. Hill of O'Donnell as LVN instructor in Lamesa. She replaces Barbara Brooks, who took a position at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Man released from jail

James Robert Bair, 27, of 1404 Tucson Road was arrested Tuesday afternoon for violation of his probation from a driving while intoxicated conviction.

He was released on $1,000 bond.

• Domingo Gomez Jr., 26, of Snyder was released from county jail Tuesday morning after he served a jail sentence for violating his probation from a DWI conviction.

• Gloria Gale Hinkle, 47, Gail Route Box 43, was arrested Tuesday night by a Department of Public Safety trooper on suspicion of DWI.

She was stopped on the north service road of Interstate 20, one-half mile west of Highway 350.

• Deputies transferred five men to the Texas Department of Corrections facility this morning. They will either begin or resume serving prison sentences for felonies. They are:

• Dennis Edward Scott Ausbie, 25, of 2911 W. Highway 80, who will serve three years for delivery of marijuana.

• Don Flores Escobar, 32, of 1304 Scurry St., who will resume serving a five-year sentence for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

• Joe Flores Escobar, 35, of 1504 Mesa Ave., who will resume serving a six-year sentence for criminal mischief.

• Joe Louis Rivas, 31, 1702 Young St., who will resume serving a 10-year sentence for burglary.

• Steve Phillips, 19, of 1504 Kentucky Way, who will resume serving a seven-year sentence for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Governor stops train

LINCOLN, Neb. — A train carrying damaged radioactive fuel from the Three Mile Island nuclear plant was allowed to roll into Nebraska early today, 3½ hours after Gov. Bob Kerrey ordered it halted in Kansas.

Kerrey on Tuesday ordered the Nebraska State Patrol to stop the train, saying that U.S. Department of Energy officials had not notified him or the patrol that the fuel would be coming through on its way to Idaho.

The train was stopped at Marysville, Kan., about 9 p.m., and was given clearance to cross the border, about 10 miles away, at 12:30 a.m., said Union Pacific railroad spokesman John Bromley.

House approves bill

WASHINGTON — A bill that would make the Social Security Administration an independent agency and bar the government from using Social Security trust fund investments to increase federal borrowing authority, has been approved by the House.

The measure, passed 401-0 Tuesday, would break the Social Security Administration out from the Department of Health and Human Services.

The bill would establish a new agency headed by a bipartisan three-member Social Security Board appointed to staggered six-year terms by the president. A commissioner who would administer the agency would be appointed by the board to a five-year term.

Vaccine to be approved

WASHINGTON — A new vaccine to prevent hepatitis B infections was expected to be approved by the government today, marking the first time a vaccine produced through genetic engineering has been cleared for human use.

Dr. Frank E. Young, head of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, was expected to announce approval of the new vaccine at a news briefing.

The new vaccine is made by a special type of brewers' yeast that has been genetically altered to produce a part of the hepatitis B virus that spurs a protective immune system response.

Chairman issues plea

WASHINGTON — Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker warned today of growing "imbalances and strains" in the U.S. economy and urged America's major trading partners to do their share to keep the worldwide recovery alive.

Volcker, in his mid-year report to Congress, issued his strongest plea yet for Japan and the countries of Europe to push for stronger internal growth to take some of the pressure off the United States, the driving force behind the 3½-year-old recovery.

Volcker's testimony to the Senate Banking Committee came a time when the central bank is under renewed pressure to loosen its credit controls to spur the sluggish American economy.

Joint operations

Officials say cocaine industry paralyzed

EL ZORRO, Bolivia (AP) — U.S. and Bolivian officials, showing off the only cocaine laboratory seized in five days of joint operations, claim they have paralyzed this Latin American country's giant cocaine industry.

"Even if we don't seize any more laboratories, although we expect we will, we will at last have stopped cocaine trafficking in Bolivia," Ron Garibotto, a special agent for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, said during a tour of the lab Tuesday.

The processing complex, 140 miles northwest of the city of Trinidad in the heart of tropical northeastern Bolivia, was raided Friday in the first of six raids so far carried out by Bolivian police being ferried in U.S.-piloted American military helicopters.

The subsequent raids have failed to locate targets, either due to bad weather or poor information.

But Garibotto and other U.S. and Bolivian officials said fear of the operation has sent drug traffickers fleeing from the vast grasslands and jungle region known as the Beni, where dozens of cocaine processing centers are believed to be concealed.

The cloud cover at Trinidad lifted Tuesday, but officials refused to disclose whether new missions were under way or planned.

The raids have come under political and press criticism, but Interior Minister Fernando Barthelemy staunchly defended the program at a news conference in Trinidad, site of the operation's field headquarters 260 miles northeast of the capital of La Paz.

"I think that this work with the United States is successful from the point of view that we have broken the total structure maintained by the narcotics traffickers and we have stopped the fabrication, elaboration and export of cocaine from the time the operation began to this moment," he said.

"Many have asked why we have not had fundamental gains in all of the operations we have mounted," Barthelemy said. "The answer is that we could not obtain the collaboration of all of those who knew of this program and information was made public prematurely."

Barthelemy reiterated authorities' statements that the U.S. troops are only playing a supporting role in the drug sweep, piloting the six Black Hawk helicopters and never getting closer than about a mile to the drug factories.

"The U.S. crews stay in the helicopters and move them even farther back," Barthelemy said. "Afterward, they pick up the police and return to their base."

Gen. James Taylor, commander of the U.S. 193rd Infantry Brigade based in Panama, was asked if the mission was as successful as expected.

"As best as we could determine before we came down here, it pretty well matches up," he replied.

About 30 journalists were given a tour of the laboratory complex known as El Zorro, which covered a 600-square-yard area cleared from the surrounding wilderness.

It contained nine canvas-topped, log-framed buildings that included a laboratory, dormitories for about 75 workers, recreation centers and an airstrip.

Plastic tubs of chemicals used for cocaine processing, yards of tubing, packages of machine gun bullets and other material confiscated by the elite Bolivian narcotics police force, the Leopards, were on display for the journalists.

Garibotto said authorities estimated the lab could turn out as much as 3,300 pounds of processed drug a week.

China expels reporter

PEKING — New York Times reporter John Burns was expelled from China today after being accused by the government of photographing classified objects in a restricted military zone. He dismissed the accusations as nonsense.

Burns, 41, was taken this morning from the barred, padded cell where he had been held for six days without charge, and put aboard a CAAC state airlines flight for Hong Kong, said Times Executive Editor A. M. Rosenthal.

Howe, Botha in talks

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — British Foreign Secretary Sir Geoffrey Howe met today with President P. W. Botha in hopes of encouraging black-white talks on ending apartheid.

However, he was rebuffed by black leaders who accused him of trying to buy time for South Africa's white leaders.

Howe said upon arrival that he hoped to encourage negotiations that would "produce answers acceptable to all South Africans."

"The concern is apartheid, and the need for it to give way rapidly, without further violence, to a genuinely representative and non-racial community," he told reporters at Jan Smuts Airport.

Jolt panics thousands

POTENZA, Italy — Thousands of people fled into the streets in panic today when an earthquake jolted this southern Italian city and nearby towns in the quake-prone region of Basilicata, officials said.

Italy's Civil Defense Ministry said the tremor damaged some roofs and cornices and cracked the facades of a few old buildings in this regional capital.

There were no reports of casualties, the Rome-based office said.

The quake registered 4.2 on the open-ended Richter scale. The epicenter was in a mountainous region south of Potenza, the National Institute of Geophysics reported.

King to address nation

RABAT, Morocco — King Hassan II, who has been sequestered in a closed-door summit with Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres, will address the nation in a televised speech today, the official Moroccan news agency announced.

The news agency, Maghreb Arabe Presse, said the king would speak at 9:30 p.m. (4:30 p.m. EDT). It did not mention Peres' visit for the third straight day. Moroccan officials declined comment.

Western diplomats insisting on anonymity said Peres was planning to fly back to Israel later in the day, following 48 hours of talks with Hassan in the king's mountain retreat of Ifrane, 125 miles east of Rabat.

Peres, who arrived Monday, was the first Israeli prime minister in office to visit any Arab country other than Egypt.

Meese's report is censorship

Is it legal to have sex with a corpse if you're married to it? We must admit that's not a question that comes up every day, though it did occur to one of Attorney General Ed Meese's Commission on Pornography members a recent issue of The New Republic reports.

The commission's newly-released 1,960-page report — though available for the past two months — is full of the same kind of inadvertent comments. Conspicuously lacking, however, is any proof of the commission's preordained assertion: that pornography constitutes a meaningful threat to the public interest.

The commission concludes that sexually explicit material of a violent nature can cause "anti-social acts of social violence." Exposure to non-violent but sexually degrading materials "bears some casual relationship to the level of sexual violence, sexual coercion or unwanted sexual aggression in the population so exposed."

The commission said it reached the conclusions about non-violent materials with "somewhat less confidence."

The same humility should have characterized the whole report. The panel commissioned no original studies, and the psychologist who conducted one of the studies used has repudiated the commission's interpretation.

Two of the commissioners charge that the commission is guilty of "unacceptable efforts" to "tease the current data into proof of a casual link."

Despite its tortuous logic and tenuous conclusions, the commission is not say when it comes to offering remedies. The report outlines 92 recommendations calling for federal, state, local and private actions aimed at curbing pornography.

The recommendations range from making it a felony to knowingly possess child pornography to ordering immediate investigations and prosecutions by U.S. attorneys, aided by specially created task forces of prosecutors and federal agents.

The panel would outlaw obscene television programming, and it endorses "protesting" in the vicinity of stores that carry pornographic items. Such forms of protest, the report says, could include formal complaints to government authorities or boycotting materials that citizens find "harmful, immoral or objectionable."

The commission's report is not going to ignite some kind of national porn crusade, with attendant excesses, nor is it going to lead to the elimination of disgusting and degrading sexually explicit material, which undeniably exists.

What it will do is encourage the self-appointed censors among us who are perpetually crusading to ban "dirty" books from schools and libraries; it will inspire zealous prosecutors who decide that obscenity busts are a sure road to political advancement.

The result is censorship, however small, despite Attorney General Meese's assurances otherwise.

Billboard industry lobbyist trying to confuse Senate

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA
WASHINGTON — A billboard industry lobbyist who claims to be an environmentalist is trying to recruit state officials in the fight against a Senate bill that would toughen federal regulations of billboards.

Supporters of the tougher billboard rules believe George F. McInturf III is masquerading as an environmentalist in an effort to confuse state officials about the merits of the bill.

McInturf sent out a letter on June 2 to state highway officials, warning them about "extremely restrictive and punitive provisions" of the Senate bill. It would deny federal highway funds to states that fail to remove non-conforming billboards along federal roads.

"I suggest that you advise your senators as to your department's recommendations concerning this bill," McInturf wrote. The letterhead identifies him only as a "consultant on environmental affairs."

Although he admits to working for billboard interests, McInturf assured our associate Stewart Harris that his credentials as an environmentalist are solid: He belongs to five environmental groups and lives on the Chesapeake Bay. "I have a mallard mother on nine eggs under my porch," he said.

McInturf also spent eight years in charge of the Federal Highway Administration's controversial billboard removal project, which has not exactly denuded the landscape of outdoor advertising.

Nowadays, McInturf is better known for his work on behalf of the billboard industry. He describes himself as a "longtime consultant to the outdoor advertising industry" in a Jan. 13 memo advising

Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, July 23, the 204th day of 1986. There are 161 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: One hundred years ago, on July 23, 1886, New York City saloonkeeper Steve Brodie claimed to have dived off the Brooklyn Bridge into the East River.

On this date: In 1829, William Austin Burt of Mount Vernon, Mich., received a patent for his "typographer," a forerunner of the typewriter.

In 1885, Ulysses S. Grant, the 18th president of the United States, died in Mount McGregor, N.Y., at the age of 63.

In 1904, by some accounts, the ice cream cone was invented by a Charles E. Menches during the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis.

In 1914, Austria-Hungary issued an ultimatum to Serbia following the killing of Archduke Francis Ferdinand by a Serbian terrorist. The dispute led to World War I.

In 1945, French Marshal Henri Petain, who had headed the Vichy government during World War II, went on trial, charged with betraying his country. Although convicted and sentenced to death, Petain was spared.

In 1951, Henri Petain died. In 1958, Britain's Queen Elizabeth II named the first four women to peerage in the House of Lords.

In 1984, Vanessa Williams resigned as Miss America because of nude photographs of her that were being published in Penthouse magazine.

Ten years ago: One of three men sought in the Chowchilla, Calif., kidnappings of 26 children and their bus driver surrendered to authorities.

Five years ago: Israel's prime minister, Menachem Begin, labeled "astonishing" U.S. Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger's charge that Israel had set back Mideast peace efforts by bombing Iraq's nuclear reactor and Palestinian targets in Lebanon.

One year ago: In his first diplomatic ceremony since his cancer surgery, President Reagan greeted Chinese President Li Xiaonian at the White House.

Americans should be grateful

To the editor: We have just seen Miss Liberty in all her glory, with a celebration and cooperation in our country greater than we have seen in years. That is the way it should be.

Those who come to our shores, or are taken in by our shores, should be as loyal to our native land. They come here to better themselves, to escape war and terror of all things against any of that. In fact, I am proud our country can give them a better life and I am willing to help if I can. I just don't like to see any race organizing against the country that took them in and has helped them as best it can to be where they are.

I will always remember Issac Stern, a few years back on a morning show, when he told how grateful he was, as a young Jewish boy, to be able to come to this country and be taken in, given the chance he had to make his great music. What would our country be like without all our foreign musicians and singers and dancers. We won't forget our own. Black and yellow, brown and white, they are precious in His sight. We should all be grateful for our opportunities.

I just received a letter from S. I. Hayakawa asking if I think that English should be the general language of this country? I haven't had time to look it over yet, but I would say yes, I think. If you come over and get a job or any kind of help, I don't think it is too much to ask that they learn our language and be among those happy ones who become citizens.

I know a little about that, as my daughter is a kindergarten teacher. She had to take some extra classes in order to become a bilingual teacher, but she says it is better to have them all speak the same. They didn't tell her what to do when she came to class and found four little Vietnamese. They got along very well, though. It wasn't too long before they were all communicating.

I like the idea of a melting-pot world. We're all the same, only different. Because she teaches in kindergarten, we have acquired several Mexican friends in Lubbock. And I am to display my Mexican art at Septembre de Seis up there. I have sold some up there and I enjoy their music, dancing and food.

I think it is fine for a family to keep the old ways at home, and some families will not let their children lose the old ways. Fine! I believe in that, but we all have to live together. Thank God, for a free world!

Gramm-Rudman flaw can be removed

The Gramm-Rudman deficit reduction act was a welcome attempt to force the federal government to live within its means. But good policy produced a bad law. By its allocation of responsibility, the Supreme Court has ruled, Gramm-Rudman violates the constitutional separation of powers. Fortunately, if Congress is serious about containing the deficit, it can easily repair the law's defect.

The separation of powers is one of those features of the Constitution that command more interest among law professors than among the public at large. Unlike the First Amendment, it doesn't proclaim the inviolability of specific freedoms. Unlike the 14th Amendment, it doesn't enshrine the noble principle of racial equality.

These and other provisions spell out what the Constitution aims to guarantee. The separation of powers explains how the guarantees are given force. This fragmentation of power among opposing actors, designed to frustrate efforts to subvert freedom, is the framework of our government. It confronts the problem noted by James Madison, architect of the Constitution: "You must first enable the government to control the governed, and in the next place, oblige it to control itself."

Gramm-Rudman provides for automatic budget cuts when the deficit exceeds a prescribed amount. For each fiscal year, the Office of Management and Budget (which is accountable to the president) and the Congressional Budget Office (an agency of Congress) must estimate the gap between revenue and spending, with the final determination to be made by the comptroller general (who is appointed by the president but removable only by Congress). If this official says the deficit is greater than the law allows, the president must implement the automatic cuts.

The problem, as the Supreme Court sees it, lies with the removal provision. If only Congress can fire the comptroller general, then it is Congress' preference that he is likely to give greatest weight. If the Secretary of the Treasury were removable by Congress and not the president, it is hard to imagine that he would ignore Congress rather than the president — or, as some of Gramm-Rudman's supporters hoped of the comptroller general, that he would ignore both.

Despite the efforts of the law's defenders to portray the comptroller general as an independent official, the historical evidence is that both Congress and the men who have filled the post have always regarded the office as an extension of Congress. That Congress has never used its removal power doesn't prove that the post is effectively independent — contrary to what Justice Byron White argued in his dissent. It may only prove that its occupants have been careful not to offend Congress.

But though the comptroller general's tenure is at the mercy of the legislative branch, his task is to apply the law — which in this case gives him authority over the president. There is no way to portray this as anything but an executive responsibility, which can't be seized by the legislative branch.

The supposed saving grace of Gramm-Rudman is that, unlike Cabinet officers, the comptroller general has no say in policy, only the limited task of calculating the deficit. This may sound like a clerical job, but it isn't. Estimating the deficit is at best an imprecise science. A comptroller general susceptible to congressional pressure would have no trouble finding plausible excuses for choosing the CBO's estimate over OMB's.

Unfortunately, this unavoidable constitutional flaw heads off a highly creative way to reduce the deficit. Gramm-Rudman's genius was to take Congress' key to the refrigerator and give it to someone else — the comptroller general. Even though there was a risk that he would soft-heartedly open it, the deprivation imposed some discipline on Congress. If Congress has to vote to impose the automatic budget cuts — which are intended to be painful and politically dangerous — Gramm-Rudman is likely to become meaningless.

Fortunately, the flaw can be removed. All Congress has to do is change the law that established the comptroller general, giving up its power to remove him by joint resolution. That presumably would satisfy the Supreme Court's objection and allow Gramm-Rudman to go forward unimpeded. If Congress is truly more concerned about staunching the flow of red ink than about preserving its every prerogative, it will be eager to make the change. Gramm-Rudman is good policy, and it should be made into good law.

Take a vegetarian vacation with pasta!

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

You're invited to take a vegetarian vacation. Relax and visualize for a moment the glorious colors...the forest greens, the golden yellows, the ravishing reds and the textures...the coarse carrots, the smooth eggplants and the ridged celery.

Now imagine all that with pasta!

Recipe exchange

PASTA WITH VEGETABLES AND SCALLOPS

- 1 pound pasta (fusilli, Penne or fettuccine)
- 1 tsp. grated orange zest
- 1 pound ocean scallops
- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 2 stalks celery
- 1/2 red bell pepper
- 2 carrots
- 3 green onions
- Pinch of red pepper flakes
- 2 tsp. sugar
- 2 tsp. olive oil
- 2 tsp. butter
- 3/4 cup grated romano cheese

Heat oil and butter, add julienned cut celery, carrots, green onions and cook, tossing until crisp and tender. Slice scallops in thirds (bay scallops can be used whole). Add to vegetables and toss until opaque, 1-2 minutes. Add sugar, wine, pepper flakes and orange zest. Cook quickly; pour over cooked pasta. Toss with cheese; garnish with minced parsley.

EGG NOODLE-SHRIMP SALAD WITH DILL DRESSING

- 8 oz. medium egg noodles (about 4 cups)
- 1 tsp. salt, optional
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 tsp. Dijon mustard
- 2 tsp. lemon juice
- Pinch cayenne pepper
- 3 tsp. safflower oil
- 2 tsp. olive oil
- 1/4 cup chopped dill
- 8 medium shrimp, cooked and chopped
- Dill sprigs

Gradually add noodles and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until just tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water; drain again.

In small bowl, beat egg yolk with mustard, lemon juice and cayenne pepper. Combine oils. Add oil in a very slow steady stream to egg yolk mixture, whisking constantly. Stir in chopped dill and shrimp. Garnish with dill sprigs. Garnish with additional shrimp, as desired.

- 1 tsp. salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 1 1/2 tsp. vegetable oil
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 cups diagonally-sliced yellow squash
- 1 cup diagonally-sliced celery
- 1/2 tsp. basil
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 cup sliced mushrooms
- 1 cup cherry tomatoes

Gradually add linguine and 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

In large skillet heat oil. Add garlic, squash, celery, basil, 1/4 teaspoon salt and pepper. Stir fry about 6 minutes or until vegetables are crisp-tender. Add mushrooms and tomatoes and stir-fry about 4 minutes or until heated through. Serve with linguine. Makes 4 servings.

MACARONI WALDORF SALAD

- 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 oz.)
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 3 cups diced red tart apples (about 3 medium)
- 1 cup dark seedless raisins
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1/2 cup broken walnuts
- 2-3 tsp. lemon juice
- 1 cup heavy or whipping cream
- 2 tsp. sugar
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla
- Salt
- Crisp salad greens

Gradually add macaroni and one tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water; drain again.

In large bowl, combine macaroni, apples, raisins, celery and walnuts. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Whip cream with sugar until soft peaks form; fold in sour cream. Add cinnamon, vanilla and salt to taste. Fold into macaroni mixture. Chill. Serve on salad greens.

ZUCCHINI-CHEESE STUFFED PASTA SHELLS

- 6 oz. jumbo macaroni shells (24)
- 1 tsp. salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 3 cups shredded zucchini (1 pound)
- 3 slices American cheese
- 2 cups skim milk
- 1 cup shredded part skim milk mozzarella cheese (4 oz.)
- 2 tsp. butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 2 1/2 tsp. all-purpose flour
- 1/4 tsp. oregano
- Dash black pepper

Gradually add shells and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. While shells are cooking, combine zucchini and cheese in a bowl. Coat a 13x9x2-inch baking pan with vegetable cooking spray; set aside. Stuff shells with zucchini-cheese mixture and place in pan open-side up.

In a medium-size saucepan, melt butter. Add onion and cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until onion is transparent, about 5 minutes. Quickly stir in flour until blended. Gradually add milk and continue cooking and stirring until well blended. Add oregano and pepper. Cook, stirring until mixture comes to a boil and is thickened. Pour over and around shells. Cover pan with foil. Bake in a 350° oven about 25 minutes.

PASTA PERFETTO

- 8 oz. fettuccini or other pasta (uncooked)
- 4 cups vegetables in bite-sized pieces (such as broccoli, red pepper, zucchini, peas and

- mushrooms)
- 1 1/2 tsp. butter
- 1/4 tsp. minced garlic
- 1 cup low-fat ricotta cheese
- 2 tsp. grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 tsp. low-fat milk
- 1 egg yolk
- 3/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. oregano leaves, crushed
- 1/4 tsp. ground black pepper

Cook fettuccini according to package directions. Meanwhile, blanch vegetables in boiling water to until crisp-tender, 2-3 minutes; drain. Drain fettuccini and place in a large serving bowl. Add vegetables to fettuccini; toss gently. Cover to keep warm. In a small saucepan melt butter. Add garlic. Saute until golden, about 30 seconds. Remove from heat. Stir in ricotta cheese, Parmesan cheese, milk, egg yolk, salt, oregano and black pepper. Cook and stir over low heat, until hot, about 3 minutes. Do not boil. Transfer to the container of an electric blender. Process until smooth and creamy. Pour over fettuccini and vegetable mixture. Toss gently. If desired, sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Ungargo preview

A model recently presented a wide gray woolen jumpsuit with a V-shaped blouse worn under a knee-length loosely fitting vest with puffed sleeves as preview of a French couturier Emmanuelle Ungargo for the fall/winter haute couture collection in Paris.

Diabetes: More than genetics are involved

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: In regard to your information on what may cause diabetes, I have this story to offer. Our daughter at age 11 became diabetic immediately after a bout with German measles. I has been my contention for years that there was a correlation. Can you comment? — O.M.P.

You are not alone in drawing such a conclusion. Many in the medical community support the hypothesis.

Let me explain first that Type 1 diabetes, the kind where insulin injections are used and which usually appears in younger years, results from destruction of insulin-producing cells of the pancreas. That is the immediate cause of the high blood sugar finding. Normal insulin supply prevents that from happening.

So the question is, what causes the pancreas cell destruction in the first place? The feeling is that the person has some genetic predisposition in those cells that permits their destruction. They are vulnerable, perhaps either to an infecting virus, or, as others feel, a tendency of their immunity system to turn against the cells and destroy them as though they were enemies.

Thus, by extension of logic you can say that if the person whose cells do have this inherent vulnerability never come in contact with the destructive viruses he may not develop diabetes. You will be interested in the fact that among the viruses implicated in the infection-diabetes cause-and-effect scenario is the one for rubella (German measles). Others that might be are those of mumps, mononucleosis, and even influenza. So the point is that more than genetics alone is involved in developing diabetes, at least in the view of those who hold to your theory.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Why are doctors so interested in blood sugar levels during pregnancy? I'm five months pregnant and my doctor has scheduled a sugar test. — Mrs. U.L.

It is to determine if you are developing gestational diabetes. It's something that can easily go undetected, for there may be a few or very mild symptoms. Or symptoms of it might be considered part of the normal events of pregnancy itself. So it is a very important test.

The blood testing is usually done between the 24th and 28th week of pregnancy. It's quite routine, or it should be routine in all pregnancies. Since your doctor is doing this, I am sure he will also alert you to the fact that a significant number of women who do develop gestational diabetes will come down with true diabetes five years or so later. That may happen even if sugar levels drop to normal after the pregnancy.

The chances are good that your sugar is normal or within the expected range. If it isn't, steps can be taken to correct that. And then you will need periodic tests after your pregnancy to keep track of your sugar situation. I don't have to tell you that it is important for the pregnant woman to maintain good sugar levels anyway, both for her own benefit and for that of the baby.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: You mentioned that the parathyroid gland may be responsible for high blood calcium and that "if so, there was an answer to that." What? — M.R.

The answer is to have the surgeon remove those glands.

You can lose weight if you really want to! The booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and without gimmicks — to the level best suited to your individual needs. For a copy write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11216, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and $1.00.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Army sergeant's marriage views give his wife battle fatigue

DEAR ABBY: I got married seven months ago to a soldier in the U.S. Army. When it came time for me to get my I.D. card, I found out that I married a man who already had a wife in Germany!

Now he tells me that the marriage that took place in Germany is not considered a legal marriage in the United States. Is this a line of bull or what? He lies so much I don't know where I stand with him. We've had some serious arguments over it. I'm not sure if I'm married or not.

He says he doesn't love me anymore and is bored. I would leave him, but I think I'm pregnant. Holy cow, what a mess!

Please tell me where I can get some straight answers. He's a sergeant and draws good pay.

DESPERATE ARMY WIFE

DEAR WIFE: See the Army chaplain and tell him exactly what you've told me. He will straighten out the mess, and your husband's commanding officer will straighten out the sergeant.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have a "gripe" I've never seen in your column. What do you think of a teenager sending a graduation announcement addressed to simply "Mary Brown," when Mary Brown is in her 80s?

One such girl just missed getting a nice graduation gift from me.

Where has respect for the elderly gone?

B.B. IN VA.
DEAR B.B.: In this case it hasn't "gone" anywhere. It never existed. Children cannot be expected to know what they haven't been taught. You missed an opportunity to give that young lady a valuable gift that would serve her for a lifetime: a book on etiquette.

DEAR ABBY: I am fuming over your "advice" to "Unappreciated in Ohio": "Do what you can for your parents without thoughts of being repaid."

This is the most disgustingly hypocritical, sanctimonious, holier-than-thou nonsense I have ever come across in your or any other advice column! What utopian planet do you live on? Old people can be selfish, greedy and ungrateful — just like young ones. This ungrateful old mom has lived off two of her eight children and has amassed a small fortune, which she is now proposing to distribute equally between all eight children, including the six who never did more than send a plant for Mother's Day. Legally, this is her right, but morally it is deplorable.

Abby, this was your golden opportunity to read a lecture on gratitude to ungrateful parents who take advantage of the good-natured child who takes them in while doting on the ones who ignore them.

If I were "Unappreciated," I would tell Mom to either start paying for her room and board or divide the pleasure of her company between all eight of the beneficiaries of her "share-and-share-alike" will. And to please let me know which of the other six plant-senders she'd like to "visit" starting next month. Old people deserve no special treatment just because they are old. They should take note of how their children treat them, and reciprocate accordingly in their wills.

Harsh advice? Yes, but fair. Anything else is garbage!

DISGUSTED IN BOSTON
DEAR DISGUSTED: Thus far the score: "Unappreciated in Ohio," 133; Abby, 27.

DEAR ABBY: I will be 13 in three months and am extremely mature for my age. I am more interested in boys than my mother thinks I should be at my age. I feel age itself shouldn't really matter — that a person should be treated according to how she acts.

I am a good student and I usually do what is asked of me. I respect my mother's feelings, but I do not agree with her on this subject.

My future with boys depends on your decision. Please help me.

TORMENTED
DEAR TORMENTED:

Regardless of how mature you think you are, you are a minor, and your mother is responsible for your future until you are no longer a minor. She makes the rules and you must act accordingly.

I presume your mother thinks you spend too much time thinking about boys, and she has made rules about your interaction with them, right? Don't fight her. If you want to prove how mature you are, respect her rules without whining or complaining. That's one way of showing you are mature.

(Every teenager should know the truth about sex, drugs and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet, send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 and a long, stamped (30 cents) self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 9823, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

(Problems? Write to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, P.O. Box 38823, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. All correspondence is confidential.)

The Country Store will sell handmade items at the fair

The Howard County Fair Association will sell homemade handcrafts, knitting, crochet, afghans, quilts, metal work, art, produce from home gardens and baked goods at the Country Store, to be located in the middle county barn, at the county fair Sept. 15-20.

To enter items in the country store, one must enter something in competition in the women's division, art show, ag division or garden show. The recovery coupon from the competition will be used as the identifying number for the country store.

Five items may be placed in the country store to be sold. As each item sells, it may be replaced to keep a maximum of five. All items must be new.

The fair will take 20% of the sale price and the maker will receive 80%, about two weeks after the fair.

Items that are not sold may be picked up Sept. 20 at 9:30 p.m. or Sept. 21.

Rules and regulations are published in the Howard County Fair Catalog, which will be out August 1. Catalogs may be obtained from the county library, county agents office, any fair board member or at the friends of the fair fish fry. For more information call Helen Larson at 263-3920 after 6 p.m.

Almost perfect

I survived my second District III Little League Tournament and let me tell you I enjoyed this one even more than the first.

I'm crestfallen that a Big Spring team didn't win the championship, but I must say our local Little Leaguers play pretty good ball.

Unlike last year, there was no heavy favorite coming in to the tournament. Last year Midland Eastern was rated the top team — and proved it. The went through tournament play undefeated with three pitchers that were almost untouchable.

This year's tourney was balanced. There were at least three teams that had a good chance to win it all. In the end it was the Odessa Jim Parker crew that played the consistent ball it takes to win a championship.

It was the first year Jim Parker and fellow Odessa teams Salinas, Alamo and North East Texas played in the tournament. Those four did nothing but make the field more competitive.

Then there's the Big Spring American League All-Stars that built up quite a reputation for the Spring City. The team, coached by Johnnie Hobbs and Dub Clinton, came within three runs of a tournament title.

In essence, the Americans made me eat my words when I said the National League was the strongest league in the city this season. I stand corrected.

The Americans were a gem to watch. There were other teams that hit the ball better, but none played better defense. That, mixed with adequate pitching, was enough to gain them a second place finish.

Led by big lefty Jeromaine Gonzales, who won his first three starts, the Americans rode into the title game with good inside baseball. For 11- and 12-year olds, they double stole, sacrifice bunted and turned the doubled play with the precision of players much older.

Gonzales was the workhorse of the pitching staff. While posting a 3-1 record, he gave up five hits per game. Jonathan Downey wasn't bad himself, posting a 2-0 record in wins over the first and fourth and first place teams.

Let's not forget "fireman" John Kennedy. The smooth throwing curve-baller who came in to extinguish two possible rallies while picking up saves.

As far as fielders go, the Most Valuable Player Award belongs to center fielder Billy Bob Sumpter. Sumpter hit consistently throughout the tournament, and really went wild during the last three games.

All he did was go 5 for 8 at the plate and drive in 8 runs. In his team's 6-5 win over Odessa North East Texas in the third place game, he had a hand in all six runs. One thing about Sumpter, he hit the ball so well one tended to overlook his performance in the field. He robbed hitters of extra-base hits more than once.

Then there's the unsung hero in the form of Patrick Martinez. The diminutive 11-year-old played shortstop like he was made for the position. He handled the hot shots and made plays on balls that had to be charged and fired to first. He was also tough at the plate, hitting .500 in the last three games. He and Downey, who also batted .500 in the last three games, were the best contact hitters on the AL squad.

Third baseman Cort Petterson also proved to be a good one. He also hit .500 in the last three games. Possessing a good eye, Petterson got his share of walks, turning them into stolen bases.

But there were many stars and highlights of the tournament. Champion Jim Parker had its share with hitting stars like Danny Copeland, Raul Samaniego and Mark Zebrowski. Samaniego, with his herky-jerky windup, proved to be a top pitcher, defeating the Americans in the championship game.

Other top players were North East Texas' Stormy Case, who blasted out three homers; and Midland Eastern left fielder Jim Culpepper, who was one of the best leadoff hitters in the tournament.

Another impressive performer was Midland Tower's Robert Thorns. The ex-Big Springer was perhaps the most talented, versatile player in the tournament. The pitcher-catcher averaged 14 strikeouts in two starts, while banging out two homers.

If Thorns had still been living in Big Spring he would have been playing for the American League. With he, Gonzales and Downey in the starting rotation, the AL would have been hard to beat.

But perhaps the most awesome overall pitching performance was turned in by Midland North Central's Brian Rounding. In three starts he won all of his games. He pitched two no-hitters, and allowed two hits in his other decision.

Big Spring did have its share of star pitchers. Besides Gonzales and Downey, there was Texas Leaguer Charlie Garcia. When the Texas All-Stars met Midland Tower, Garcia and Thorns hooked up in a pitcher's duel deluxe.

The Texas Leaguers won 2-1 as Garcia fired a three-hitter and fanned 10 while Thorns pitched a five-hitter while striking out 9.

But the pitching performance that stands out the most occurred on Wednesday, July 9. Big Spring National League pitcher Joe Conway fired a no-hitter against Odessa West in the Nationals 3-0 win. Conway, who fanned eight, came within one batter of pitching a perfect game. A error in the fifth inning killed his hopes.

But from a pitching standpoint, it was a perfect game because Conway threw all the right pitches on that night. But from the scorer's point of view, it was an almost-perfect game.

Just like this was an almost perfect tournament. The only flaw was Jim Parker's 7-3 win over the Americans in the championship game.

Howser's tumor malignant

By The Associated Press
The Kansas City Royals learned that manager Dick Howser's brain tumor was malignant, then had to go out and play a game.

The players were told the bad news in a team meeting before Tuesday night's game. Howser had undergone surgery earlier that afternoon, and the diagnosis made shortly afterward.

"After the meeting, the more we talked about it, the more depressed we got, and the more we wished we didn't have a game to play," said Frank White, the Royals' second baseman.

"If you believe in miracles," White said, "you hope there's one left for him. He's a heckuva guy."

George Brett thought back to when the shoulder injury that recently inactivated him seemed so important.

"I remember when I was on the bench, I was feeling sorry for myself, and I was feeling bad at the All-Star Game not being able to play. I said, 'This is really a bummer.'" Brett said. "Hey, that's not a bummer. A bummer is having surgery and not knowing what they'll find."

"If God knocked on the door, and said, 'What's more important to you? Winning the World Series or Dick Howser's health?' There'd be 24 guys saying Dick Howser's health."

Kansas City general manager John Schuerholz conducted the pre-game meeting.

"A few of the heads hung down, probably in disbelief," said Howser's friend, Mike Ferraro, who is serving as interim manager.

"It was real sad in there," rookie outfielder Mike Kingery said. "You could tell by the way people were walking around that there was bad news coming up. It definitely hurts the team. We're praying for him."

Ferraro and catcher Jim Sundberg said they used the game as a distraction.

"I'll be glad when the game starts," Ferraro said beforehand. "I went to the racetrack today to forget. I knew what was happening. You can't prepare yourself for something like that, but you always hope for the best."

Afterward, Ferraro said, "Now I can go home and think about the game."

"It always helps, whenever you have adversity in life, to stay active," Sundberg said. "That helps you deal with it."

The Royals were playing in Baltimore, and Orioles General Manager Hank Peters recalled and worried about the young player he signed out of Florida State when he was the Kansas City Athletics' scouting director.

"I've known him since he first broke into pro ball, and have watched him grow as a player and as a manager," Peters said of Howser.

"It's distressing news," Peters said. "We pray that with treatment, Dick can recover and continue to lead a very useful life."

In New York, Manager Lou Piniella — who played for Howser's 1980 Yankees — called the news "devastating."

"He is a very dear friend of mine and I learned a lot of baseball from Dick," Piniella said.

Others among Howser's colleagues reacted similarly.

"He is a very dear friend. I love him very much. It is sad to hear," Los Angeles Dodgers Manager Tom Lasorda said. "I hope and pray somehow he can beat it."

Chicago White Sox Manager Jim Fregosi said, "I know that myself and the entire club are upset about that. He's quite a gentleman and we've been friends for years."

Texas Tech assistant coach Clarence James follows through on his swing in the Texas Tech Day in Big Spring golf tournament held yesterday at the Big Spring Country Club. The tournament was won by Tech head football coach David McWilliams, Mike Weaver, James Balios, Steve Fraser and Steve Hedges. The team shot a 14 under par 57.

Sims calls it quits

ROCHESTER, Mich. (A) — Former Heisman Trophy winner Billy Sims, the most successful running back in Detroit Lions history, will retire Wednesday, team officials said.

Sims, who hasn't played since suffering a knee injury midway through the 1984 season, has scheduled a news conference for 1 p.m. EST, when he is expected to end his five-year career, Bill Keenist, a spokesman for the National Football League team, confirmed Tuesday.

Keenist said team officials anticipate the 30-year-old Sims, of Hooks, Texas, will fail his annual preseason physical exam Wednesday morning. Sims' knee has failed every physical since the injury.

Sims hurt his knee Oct. 21, 1984, in a game at Minnesota. He underwent surgery for ligament damage, but has been unable to come back despite intensive rehabilitation.

The Lions' all-time leader in touchdowns and rushing yardage, Sims already is believed to have filed a claim on an insurance policy he purchased prior to the 1984 season. The policy guarantees payment of Sims' $4.5 million contract in the event of a career-ending injury.

A two-time consensus All-America player at Oklahoma, Sims was the Lions' No. 1 pick in the 1980 collegiate draft. Sims won college football's Heisman Trophy following the 1978 season, rushing for 1,762 yards and averaging 7.6 yards a carry.

In 1981, Sims set team season records with 1,437 rushing yards and 16 touchdowns. His career rushing total of 5,106 yards is one more than longtime Lion Dexter Bussey on the team's all-time list. His 47 touchdowns are nine ahead of Terry Barr.

Four Big League pitchers one-hit Borger in 8-1 win

ABILENE — The Big Spring 16-18 year old Big League All-Stars remained in sub-sectional tournament play by defeating Borger 8-1. Manager Terry Brumley used four pitchers to combine for a one-hitter. Aaron Allen started and got the win, he was followed by Brian Mayfield, James Thompson and Mike Ritenberry. Thompson allowed the only hit and run for Borger.

Chad Jordan led the Big Springers by going three-for-four at the plate. Joe Ray Jacques and Mike Dodd also added two hits. On Sunday Big Spring dropped a 7-5 decision to Borger. Jacques was the losing pitcher as Borger erupted for five runs in the third inning.

Big Spring will play the Abilene All-Stars today at 6 p.m. at Rose Park.

Junior Leaguers eliminated
LUBBOCK — The Big Spring 13-year old All-Stars' season came to a halt as they dropped two games to the Lubbock Northeast All-Stars in junior league sub-sectional playoff action.

Northeast's Dion Thompson limited Big Spring to six hits and started a third inning rally with a run-scoring double as Northeast completed a sweep by downing Big Spring 16-5 at Dixie Park last night.

The initial game of the best-of-three series was suspended in the fourth inning Monday night by rain. Northeast completed a 15-5 win Tuesday before Thompson led Northeast to victory in the series' second game.

Northeast advances to sectional play in Abilene beginning

Thursday.

Senior Leaguers drop first game
LUBBOCK — The 14-15 year-old Senior League All-Stars also had a rough night as they dropped a 15-0 decision to the Lubbock Northeast All-Stars in their first best-of-three series.

Timmy Gutierrez was the losing pitcher for Big Spring. Big Spring was hampered with leaving men on base in the five-inning game. Twice it left the bases loaded.

The two teams will play tonight at 7 p.m. at the Dixie Park.

UGSA Stars ready for regional play in Andrews

The Big Spring United Girls Softball Association All-Stars will compete in the UGSA regional tournament in Andrews which begins Thursday.

The teams will play a round-robin format over a three-day period. The team with the best record will advance to the next round of competition.

The Big Spring Division I All-Stars will play their first game Thursday at 9:30 a.m. against Jal, New Mexico. They will play another game at 8 p.m. against Lovington, N.M.

Local Division II All-Stars will play Jal, N.M. at 11 a.m. Thursday. They will play Andrews at 9:30 later on that night.

Division III All-Stars will play

Ft. Stockton at 8 a.m. Thursday. They will play Lovington, N.M. at 9:30 p.m.

Also on Thursday, Division IV All-Stars will play Andrews at 6:30 p.m. They'll follow by playing Kermit at 8.

Ex-University of Texas hurler returns for degree

AUSTIN (AP) — Burt Hooton, who pitched in the major leagues for 15 years after leaving the University of Texas, plans to return this fall to get a college degree.

"I've always wanted to come back and get my degree and haven't had the opportunity to do it until now," said Hooton, 36.

When he was drafted and signed by the Chicago Cubs, he was about 40 semester hours short of a degree in business.

While he's at UT, Hooton probably will serve as a volunteer coach with the Texas Longhorns. He said baseball coach Cliff Gustafson "has asked me to help with the program and work with Clint (Thomas), his pitching coach. I'll work with him and see what we can do."

Hooton, a three-time, first team All-

American in 1969-71, compiled a 35-3 record in college and went on to put together a 151-136 record in the major leagues, with his most productive years coming during his 10 seasons with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

His final season in 1985 was with the Texas Rangers, and he spent the spring with them before being released.

JULY 23 1986

Members of the Cincinnati Reds and New York Mets engage in a bench-clearing brawl during the 10th inning of their game Tuesday night in Cincinnati. The brawl started when Reds baserunner Eric Davis slid into Mets third baseman Ray Knight in a stolen base attempt.

A night of brawls for NL

By The Associated Press
They were brawling in Cincinnati and St. Louis. Nolan Ryan was holding a strikeout clinic in Houston and Ken Griffey was hitting three home runs in a losing cause in Atlanta.

Welcome to the National League, where three-time Gold Glove winner Dave Parker drops a fly ball with two outs in the ninth inning to set the stage for a rumble. Ryan pitches a one-hitter, strikes out a league-high 14 batters and settles for a no-decision, managers Whitey Herzog and Roger Craig shove and call each other names and the Atlanta Braves can't find a baserunner for Griffey to drive in.

"I'm only human," Cincinnati's Parker said in explaining how he dropped Keith Hernandez' fly ball, allowing two runs to score and sending the Reds-Mets game into extra innings. Howard Johnson won the five-hour, 14-inning marathon 6-3 for the Mets with a three-run homer off Ted Power. But Johnson's homer was almost an afterthought to the previous fireworks.

"I stumbled, but I still should have caught it," said Parker, whose two-run homer in the third inning — his 20th — loomed as the game-winning blow until he dropped the ball. "I feel worse than anyone else."

The fun really started in Cincinnati in the 10th, when the Reds' Eric Davis stole third base and exchanged shoves with New York's Ray Knight.

"He said, 'You pushed me.' I said, 'I didn't push you on purpose.'" Knight said. "He said, 'Don't push me again, you so-and-so.'"

"He came at me. His eyes looked like he was mad. He was moving toward me, so I popped him. It was just reaction."

Players from both benches piled onto the field for a series of fights that delayed the game about 15 minutes. Knight, Davis, Mets outfielder Kevin Mitchell and Reds pitcher Mario Soto were ejected for fighting. Earlier in the game, Mets outfielder Darryl Strawberry and Reds Coach Billy DeMars were ejected for disputing separate calls.

The Mets, who have been involved in four brawls this season, protested the ejections, which forced them to shuttle pitchers Roger McDowell and Jesse Orosco between the outfield and the mound. The Reds protested when the umpiring crew permitted Orosco to take warmup pitches after returning to the mound for the second time.

"That was the strangest game I've ever been involved in," Mets Manager Dave Johnson said.

Astros 1, Expos 0
Glenn Davis witnessed Nolan Ryan's awesome display in a scoreless duel with Montreal's Floyd Youmans and decided to do something about it.

"I was thinking about it early in the game, the way both pitchers were going that's the way it had to end," said Davis, whose 10th-inning homer decided the issue.

It was Davis' 21st of the season, tying him with Mike Schmidt for the league lead.

Ryan allowed one hit in 9 1/3 innings before Dave Smith, 3-6, came on in relief for the victory. Davis' homer was only the third Houston hit off Youmans, 10-6. It was the 159th time in his career that Ryan struck out 10 or more hitters.

Cardinals 10, Giants 7
There also were punches thrown in St. Louis, where Herzog and Craig were slinging some mud of their own.

"I don't care what he says; that's bush league. If he wants to send me a note that he'll stop trying to hit home runs, we'll stop running," St. Louis Manager Herzog said of San Francisco pilot Craig.

A bench-clearing brawl broke out at home plate in the seventh inning of a contest in which Vince Coleman stole two bases after St. Louis had erupted to score eight runs.

Umpire John McSherry ejected Craig and two San Francisco players in the aftermath of a Cardinal rally that was started and ended with Andy Van Slyke's triple and home run.

The Giants retaliated when Coleman came to bat in the seventh after first trimming St. Louis' 10-2 advantage to 10-4 in the sixth. Both benches emptied after Coleman was struck by a Frank Williams pitch.

Dodgers 4, Pirates 3
With relief ace Cecilio Guante on the mound protecting a two-run lead, it looked like the Pittsburgh Pirates would enjoy their post-game meal. But rookie Reggie Williams spoiled the celebration with a two-run homer after Los Angeles had drawn within a run in the ninth.

Phillies 5, Braves 4
"I think I did it in Little League, but the fences were a lot closer," Griffey said of his three homers. Noting that all three were solo shots, he added, "That's just the way things have been going for us lately."

Cubs 6, Padres 4
San Diego lost its fifth straight game despite a four-run eighth inning that left Padres Manager Steve Boros wishing his club could score more runs early.

This kind of jolts you back to reality and makes you wonder how important baseball really is."

"This game means absolutely nothing," Tigers Manager Sparky Anderson said. "Life is real but this game tonight will disappear tomorrow. Dick's situation is eternity."

Bosox on losing skid

By The Associated Press
The American League East is starting to look creepy to the first-place Boston Red Sox.

Boston continued to struggle Tuesday, losing for the sixth time in seven games with a 4-2 defeat to Oakland. Later, the Red Sox saw their lead shrink to four games — their smallest margin since June 24 — when New York routed Texas 9-1.

A's 4, Red Sox 2
Dave Kingman hit a two-run single in the first inning and Carney Lansford followed with an RBI double as Joaquin Andujar and host Oakland beat Boston.

Yankees 9, Rangers 1
Dave Winfield and Don Mattingly hit home runs in the first inning, and Rickey Henderson and Claudell Washington homered on consecutive pitches in the sixth as New York sent Texas to its sixth straight loss.

New York finished with 15 hits with Winfield, who drove in three runs, Mattingly and Henderson rapping three each at Yankee Stadium.

Starting pitcher Dennis Rasmussen, 12-2, won his seventh straight game, but left in the seventh inning when he was hit near the left elbow by a line drive off the bat of Toby Harrah. Rasmussen was taken to a hospital for X-rays.

Rasmussen gave up three hits, including a solo-home run to Tom Pacliorek.

Indians 8, White Sox 4
Chris Bando's two-run double capped a six-run first inning and Tony Bernazard rapped two of Cleveland's eight hits during the uprising against Chicago.

Joe Carter, Mel Hall, Brook Jacoby and Pat Tabler had RBI singles in the Indians' first. Brett Butler later added two triples for Cleveland.

Orioles 5, Royals 4
Cal Ripken hit a solo home run with two outs in the eighth inning and lifted Baltimore over Kansas City. Ripken's 15th homer came off Bud Black, who had relieved Bret Saberhagen after five innings.

Rookie Jim Traber homered twice and drove in three runs for the Orioles, and teammate Fred Lynn also homered.

Don Aase, 4-3, got the victory. He escaped a bases-loaded jam in the top of the eighth when Lynn made a diving catch on pinch-hitter Jorge Orta's sinking liner to center field.

Hal McRae hit a two-run homer for the visiting Royals. The home run came against Storm Davis, making his first start since June 26 after coming off the disabled list.

Mariners 8, Blue Jays 7
Phil Bradley's two-out single in the 12th inning drove home Spike Owen from second base and lifted Seattle over Toronto.

Owen, who went 4-for-5 with three runs batted in, led off the 12th with a single against Bill Caudill, 2-2. Owen moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on Bradley's single off Stan Clarke.

The visiting Blue Jays led 4-0 after the first inning. George Bell had an RBI single and Jesse Barfield hit a three-run homer. Barfield leads the majors with 24 home runs.

Tigers 3, Twins 0
John Grubb homered twice and drove in three runs and Walt Terrell pitched three-hit ball for 8 2/3 innings as Detroit blanked visiting Minnesota.

Terrell, 9-8, held the Twins hitless until Kent Hrbek doubled with two outs in the sixth. Singles by Hrbek and Tim Laidner and a walk loaded the bases with two outs in the ninth, and Willie Hernandez got the final out for his 19th save.

Brewers 6, Angels 2
Cecil Cooper drove in four runs with a double and single and Rob Deer hit his 17th homer.

Flutie may switch

The Heisman Trophy winner who got a million-dollar ticket into pro football from the quarterback's slot, may switch to the receiving end to avoid sitting on the bench.

How well he catches the ball may decide his playing time with the New Jersey Generals.

Thanks to a merger between the Generals and the now-defunct Houston Gamblers, Flutie is on the same team with Jim Kelly, twice the United States Football League's leader in total offense and passing.

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This day can have some very upsetting conditions connected with it. However, "all's well that ends well" and the evening brings romance, peace, and happiness.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You may find it difficult to get rid of worries during the daytime, but the evening can bring happiness.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Communicating with others is rather difficult during the daytime but social life can be positively brilliant.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Use much care in the outside or business world and guard your reputation. Use tact and diplomacy.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Make the right contacts, but avoid one who is overly glamorous who would not be good for you.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) See what can be done to keep promises. Then you can have much happiness with the one you love.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A depressed partner can be a nuisance to you during the daytime but take this in your stride and be cheery.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be alert to obstacles in the path of your progress. Enjoy the company of many friends in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You may find it difficult to push your special talent in the morning, but persevere. Romance tonight!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) In the morning you think the conditions at home can never improve, but by evening all is right.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You may find it difficult to communicate with others during the day because of certain obstacles.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can get into financial trouble if you take any unnecessary risks during the daytime.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get poised early otherwise you could be going higher and on without real purpose. Remember your mate.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will early need fine training in ethical tenets if the life is to become successful, be it in business or more personal activities and should get as fine an education as money can buy. Permit participation in all sports early in development.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Card of Thanks 115

JACK & MATTIE and employees of Jack and Mattie Cafe wish to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone for letting us have our vacation and a little remodeling. We will return Monday July 21st. We still have our Senior Citizen 10% discount and for retired Senior Citizens 15% after 1:00 p.m. Monday thru Friday. Hope to see you Monday. Thanks again.

WILLIAM K. (BUSS) GRESSETT Perhaps you sang a lovely song, or sat quietly in a chair; Perhaps you sent beautiful flowers,

If so, we saw them there. Perhaps you sent or spoke kind words

As any friend could say; Perhaps you prepared some tasty food,

Or maybe furnished a car; Perhaps you rendered a service unseen,

Near at hand or from afar; Whatever you did to console the heart

We thank you so much, whatever the part.

From the family of William K. Gressett

New JP suffers heart attack

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Justice of the Peace William "Bill" Shankles was reported in critical but stable condition this morning after suffering a heart attack Sunday night, said Carmen Phillips, director of nursing services at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

The 50-year-old former sheriff's deputy admitted himself to the emergency room at 5:40 p.m. Sunday, complaining of chest pains, Phillips said.

He suffered a cardiac arrest in the emergency room, Phillips said, and was administered cardiopulmonary resuscitation by the emergency room personnel.

"He responded very well to the treatment,"

Phillips said. His heart beat was revived, and he was transferred to the intensive care unit for further care, she said.

Shankles, who won the Democratic primary for Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 Place 2, was appointed to the position last month to fill a vacancy created by incumbent Lewis Hefflin's death.

Shankles faces no Republican opposition in the November general election.

Howard County Judge Milton Kirby said this morning he will handle office operations while Shankles is hospitalized. He said he may refer Shankles' case to Justice of the Peace China Long, who serves Precinct 1 Place 1.

Shankles won the Democratic primary runoff June 7, narrowly defeating his opponent, Stanley Bogard.

BIG SPRING TRAVEL TALK
by Mary Valli

AMERICA'S LAST GREAT FRONTIER

Are you thinking of visiting Alaska for the first time? Why start with its capital city? Juneau conjures up a vision of a fjord, a Norwegian village beside a fjord, a town in the Berkshires, a wild frontier. Just 900 air miles from Seattle, Juneau meanders 3,108 square miles around mountains, through wooded valleys to an island, and up an ice field, city sits in the twin shadows of Juneau and Mt. Roberts (14,000 feet). Thirteen miles downtown is the largest and accessible of the several glaciers within the 1,500 mile Juneau Ice Fields. It is a beauty of crystalline beauty. Juneau's recently expanded port, the rest of Alaska is flight away.

On step away and then away and your travel dream true. A step away ... to BIG TRAVEL, 608 Scurry, where tend to all the details necessary make your ... flight away ... experience of a lifetime. Call today and let our expert professional staff plan your getaway. We are the door to great frontiers of travel at Tel. 263-0225. Open Mon.-Fri.

— HINT —
While in Juneau, go aboard a chartered plane to see the ice fields from the air.

New JP suffers heart attack

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Justice of the Peace William "Bill" Shankles was reported in critical but stable condition this morning after suffering a heart attack Sunday night, said Carmen Phillips, director of nursing services at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

The 50-year-old former sheriff's deputy admitted himself to the emergency room at 5:40 p.m. Sunday, complaining of chest pains, Phillips said.

He suffered a cardiac arrest in the emergency room, Phillips said, and was administered cardiopulmonary resuscitation by the emergency room personnel.

"He responded very well to the treatment,"

Phillips said. His heart beat was revived, and he was transferred to the intensive care unit for further care, she said.

Shankles, who won the Democratic primary for Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 Place 2, was appointed to the position last month to fill a vacancy created by incumbent Lewis Heflin's death.

Shankles faces no Republican opposition in the November general election.

Howard County Judge Milton Kirby said this morning he will handle office operations while Shankles is hospitalized. He said he may refer Shankles' case to Justice of the Peace China Long, who serves Precinct 1 Place 1.

Shankles won the Democratic primary runoff June 7, narrowly defeating his opponent, Stanley Bogard.

BIG SPRING TRAVEL TALK
by Mary Valli

AMERICA'S LAST GREAT FRONTIER
Are you thinking of visiting Alaska for the first time? Why not start with its capital city? Juneau conjures up a vision of a small Norwegian village beside a fjord, an artsy town in the Berkshires, and a wild frontier. Just 900 air miles from Seattle, Juneau meanders for 3,108 square miles around mountains, through wooded valleys, onto an island, and up an ice field. The city sits in the twin shadows of Mt. Juneau and Mt. Roberts (3,600 feet). Thirteen miles from downtown is the largest and most accessible of the several dozen glaciers within the 1,500 square mile Juneau Ice Fields. It is a marvel of crystalline beauty. From Juneau's recently expanded airport, the rest of Alaska is only a flight away.

On step away and then a flight away and your travel dreams come true. A step away ... to BIG SPRING TRAVEL, 608 Scurry, where we attend to all the details necessary to make your ... flight away ... an experience of a lifetime. Come in today and let our experienced and professional staff plan your next getaway. We are the doorway to the great frontiers of travel adventure. Tel. 263-0225. Open 8:30-5:30 Mon.-Fri.

Identity sought hit-run victim of possible

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Law enforcement officials this morning were trying to determine the identity of a man found dead at 5:45 a.m. on the south service road of Interstate 20 near Sand Springs.

The man, described as a white male with blond curly hair, 20 to 25 years old, is suspected to be a victim of a hit-and-run driver, said sheriff's deputy Robert Stapp. His body was found about one block east of the Salem Road exit.

Justice of the Peace China Long pronounced the man dead at the scene at 6 a.m. and ordered an autopsy by Dr. Robert Rember, a local pathologist. Long said she will rule on cause of death after the autopsy is completed.

Sheriff A.N. Standard said fingerprints from the victim have been submitted to the FBI and the Department of Public Safety office in Austin for identification.

A DPS spokeswoman in the regional office in Midland said late this morning the victim's identity still was undetermined. She would not disclose other information about the case.

DPS Trooper William Jennings, who Standard said is investigating the case, could not be reached for comment.

Justice of the Peace Long said she was notified by sheriff's department personnel after they had received a call 15 minutes earlier from a passer-by who reported a body on the roadway.

Stapp, who reached the scene first, said the telephone caller did not identify himself.

Long said the victim, clad in blue jeans and socks, was lying on his back in the eastbound lane with his head facing south. A pair of cowboy boots were at the scene, she said, but no shirt was discovered.

"There was no identification on him. No driver's license, no wallet," Long said.

Deputy Stapp and Trooper Jennings did find $1 to $2 in the victim's pants pocket, she said.

Long said the victim had "multiple bruises and abrasions" and it appeared one of his legs was broken. Also, there was blood on the pavement, she said.

"He hadn't been there very long," Long said. She guessed he was at the scene about half an hour before being discovered.

Long said ambulance attendants transferred the body to Malone-Hogan Hospital for the autopsy.

Tip takes deputies to marijuana patch

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Howard County sheriff's deputies, acting on a tip, confiscated approximately $1,200 to $1,500 worth of marijuana plants Saturday morning and arrested a 23-year-old man at his residence for possession.

Paul William Schlipf III, Route 2 Box 27, was arrested by deputies George Quintero and Bennie Green for possession of marijuana over four ounces. He was arraigned and released on $1,500 bond.

Quintero said he will transfer approximately 150 plants that he and Green pulled from the marijuana patch growing in Schlipf's backyard, to the Department of Public Safety laboratory in Midland to be weighed and analyzed.

Pending final lab results, Quintero said he will file formal charges sometime next week.

"The lab results will give us the exact weight for prosecution purposes," Quintero said.

If the plants are reported to weigh over four ounces, Schlipf could face a third-degree felony charge, Quintero said. According to the Texas Penal Code, a person convicted of a third-degree felony can be imprisoned for 15 to 99 years and fined a maximum amount of $250,000.

Quintero, who works as a criminal investigator for Sheriff A.N. Standard, said Schlipf gave Green and him consent to search the premises when they arrived this morning.

Schlipf's consent nullified securing a search warrant, Quintero said.

The plants that Quintero and Green pulled from the patch were growing in an open cesspool, Quintero said.

Little League title game

The championship game of the District III Little League Tournament will be tonight at 8 p.m. at the American League Park.

The game will pit the Big Spring American League All-Stars against the Odessa Jim Parker All-Stars.

West wins six-man clash

STEPHENVILLE (AP) — Trey Richey of Jaytown rushed for 172 yards and was part of four touchdowns to lead the West to a 35-14 victory over the East in the Six-Man Coaches Association all-star football game Saturday night.

Richey, selected the game's most valuable offensive player, rushed for two touchdowns and completed two passes for touchdowns as the West scored 22 points in the fourth quarter.

Benjamin Beaver of Trent rushed for 131 yards for the East squad and scored one touchdown.

The East's Cody Bowman of Paint Rock was named the game's most valuable defensive player.
The game was played at Tarleton State Memorial Stadium.

Howard coach in U.S. Festival

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

In what he calls one of his greatest coaching opportunities, new Howard College Hawks basketball coach Larry Brown will serve as assistant coach of the South basketball team at the U.S. Olympic Festival.

Brown will be coaching some of the nation's best college players when the South team competes against players from the North, East and West. Bill Foster, head coach at Northwestern University in Evansville, Ill. is head coach of the South squad and Brown and Ronnie Arrow of San Jacinto Junior College will serve as assistants.

"Coach Arrow (Ronnie, assistant coach) will have one group of players and I'll have the other. Coach Foster will be observing it all. We'll let them scrimmage and then we'll put them all together."

Brown and the other South coaches arrived in Houston Friday to start preparing for Monday's opening workouts. He says that the 12-member team will go through two workouts per day until the Olympic Festival begins July 27.

"I'm excited to say the least," said Howard College's new head coach of men's basketball. "It will be a great experience coaching those caliber of players. A lot of these players will be on the 1988 Olympic basketball team."

Brown and the other South coaches will have some excellent young players to work with. They were selected at the tryouts in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Parts of Olympic Festival basketball play will be televised on ESPN during the week. Brown says that most of the South's games will be played at 8 p.m. CST.

Brown was only one of two high school coaches to get selected by the Olympic Committee. When he was selected in March, he was still serving as head coach at Bryan High School.

"I remember the day very well," Brown said, "I was coaching off-season basketball and a young lady came and told me I had a phone call."

"I told them to take a message and tell them I'd call them back. Then she told me it was from the Amateur Basketball Association."

"So I went and took the call. They told me I had been selected as one of the South coaches. I'm sure glad I took the call," he laughed.

Brown's record certainly indicates he's worthy of the job. He has compiled a .650 winning percentage in his 14-year high school coaching career. In his last seven seasons at Bryan High School Vikings, he registered a sparkling 185-71 at the AAAAA school.

He led the Vikings to the state playoffs in each of those years, including state championships in '83 and '84. He was named Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches.

Brown admits though he may have had some inside help with getting the selection. He speculated North Carolina University head coach Dean Smith put in a good word for Brown to the Olympic Committee.

"I think coach Smith had something to do with it because he brought up the subject after I had been selected — like he knew it all along," Brown said.

Brown has assisted in basketball camps around the country with such notable coaches as Smith, ex-UCLA coach John Wooden and Indiana mentor Bobby Knight. He attributes much of his coaching philosophy to those legendary coaches.

"I've known Dean Smith and Bobby Knight for about five years now. I've worked nine years in camps with John Wooden. So you see, I've been fortunate to be around the best and I worked and learned from them," he said.

Brown call Smith the "most innovative coach there is."

"He's always coming up with something new. He likes to run multiple offenses and defenses. I know in high school, we were doing some things that other schools hadn't seen or heard of. I learned a lot of it from Coach Smith," Brown said.

On the other hand, Brown says Knight's philosophy is the opposite of Smith's.

"Bobby Knight is very simple with his game plan. He runs a h-nosed system. He's one-minded. He likes a tough man-to-man defense and the passing game."

Brown says that Wooden stands head and shoulders above the rest.

"John Wooden is the most successful basketball coach there has been, or will be. Ten national championships, including seven in-a-row don't lie."

"He's a great fundamentalist. It's great to just sit down and talk to him about the game. He knows it better than anyone," Brown about Wooden.

Brown said he doesn't forecast major differences in coaching college players from high school players.

Americans keep title hopes alive

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

How do the Big Spring American League All-Stars spell relief? Last night they spelled it J-O-H-N K-E-N-N-E-D-Y.

Kennedy pulled off some last-inning pitching heroics as the Americans downed Odessa Jim Parker 5-3 in District III Little League Tournament action. The win forced a final game to see who will be the District III champions. The contest will be played Monday night at 8 at the American League field.

Kennedy was called upon to relieve starter Jonathan Downey in the bottom of the sixth with the game on the line. AL manager Johnnie Hobbs optioned to bring Kennedy in with the bases loaded and one out with the Americans leading 5-2. A tough situation for an 11-year old playing in his first Little League All-Star tournament.

But Kennedy handled it like an old pro. The curve ball specialist got the two outs without allowing a hit. Downey, who pitched a four-hitter in five and one-third innings, ran into trouble at the start of the sixth. He walked Jay Johnson and hit Kenny Border with a pitch. He then got Jim Parker clean-up hitter Raul Samaniego, who had homered in the second inning, to hit a grounder back to the mound. Border was forced out at third base.

Next Downey loaded up the bases by walking Brian Tucker, prompting Hobbs to insert Kennedy. Kennedy got Mark Zembrowski to hit a grounder in the hole to shortstop Patrick Martinez. Martinez stepped on third to get Samaniego for the second out. Border scored on the play, cutting the margin to 5-3.

Kennedy then ended the game by fanning Jeremy Ash, forcing a final game on Monday.

The Americans struck first in the top of the first inning. Kennedy, batting in the second spot, walked. After Cort Petterson walked and Travis Sinclair fanned, Kennedy scored when Billy Bob Sumpter singled.

Sumpter continued to swing a hot bat as he went two-for-three, driving in three runs. He also made a diving catch from his center field position on a potential extra base hit in the fifth inning.

The Americans threatened to turn the contest into a blowout in the second inning by scoring four runs on four hits. Martinez, who had an excellent defensive game, singled, but was forced out at second by Jeremy Edens' grounder. Brian Gordon walked and Downey singled, driving in Edens with the first run of the inning.

Kennedy followed with an infield hit, loading up the bases for Petterson. Petterson walked, scoring Gordon. After Sinclair fanned again, the ever-present Sumpter singled to left field, scoring Downey and Kennedy with the Americans' final runs of the game.

Jim Parker scratched for two runs in the bottom of the second. Samaniego led off the inning by taking Downey's first pitch deep over the left field fence, just inside the foul line. The other Jim Parker run came when Zembrowski reached on a fielder's choice and scored from third on a wild pick off attempt by Downey.

American League All-Stars' Partick Martinez is forced out on second base in second inning action last night in District III Little League Tournament play at the American league field. Jim Parker second baseman Mark Zembrowski takes the throw. Martinez was forced out on a grounder by Jeremy Edens.

Number of abandoned animals rising in city

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

Summer brings barbecues, water sports and no school, but to Big Spring, it also brings a multitude of four-footed troubles.

The number of abandoned animals in Big Spring has increased dramatically with the warm weather, and it is worse this year than in the past, said city animal control officer Gary Snowden.

He said abandoned animals are often found in poor condition — covered with fleas and blood-sucking ticks, and poorly-fed.

In addition, the animals often break into people's garbage cans and destroy their newspapers, he said.

Margaret Lloyd, president of the Big Spring Humane Society, agrees many of the abandoned animals arrive in poor condition.

One dog she recalls was near death from ticks. It had been left alone in a tiny pen for three weeks while its owners went to look for a job.

Calls to catch abandoned animals have been keeping both Snowden and Lloyd busy lately. One day last week, Snowden received 28 calls. "That's a lot," he said.

Lloyd said she often receives 12-14 calls per day, not counting calls to other society members.

"I have too many (animals) in my yard," she said. "I have a terrible flea and tick problem." Even though Lloyd's animals are dipped against fleas and ticks, a new animal will bring them and re-infect all the others, she said.

The problem comes when people leave town and don't take their dogs, Snowden said. Some even leave the dogs in the house or tied in the yard.

When an animal is left in a house, officials must find the owner to obtain entry, he said. If the owner could not be found, a warrant would probably have to be issued, Snowden said, but that has not yet happened.

Lloyd said the economy has been the main factor the numbers have increased this year. Divorce has also been a factor, she added.

When you lose your job, "the first thing you think of is not always your dog," she said. But "when people have money in their pocket and are feeling good, they usually take better care of their animals." In response to the growing number of animals the society must deal with, it has purchased a house and two acres for a shelter. The shelter should be open for business next month, Lloyd said last week.

Lloyd said the society tries to encourage people to spay or neuter their animals, to diminish the population of unwanted animals. In the long run, the policy will pay off, she said.

NAACP to have annual ball

The third annual National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Black & White Ball will be held Saturday at 9 p.m., according to Dock Voorhies, club spokesman.

The ball will be held at the Halliburton Building of the Homestead Inn. It is open to the public.

Music will be provided by "Poochie" of Sweetwater. Entertainment is coordinated by Debra Woods, Voorhies said.

Admission is $10 per couple or $7.50 per person. The fee includes a barbecue dinner with "all the trimmings," he said.

The ball is one of the NAACP's main fund-raising events, he said.

Military

Navy Seaman Recruit Larry D. Harp, the son of Linda J. Woodley of Andrews Lane, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command in Orlando, Fla.

During the eight-week training cycle, Harp studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

His studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid.

He is a 1985 graduate of Forsan High School.

Contestants strive for queen title

Queen competitors for the 41st Annual Junior Rodeo are busy selling tickets, according to this year's queen contestants Tonya Bridge, Shanna Richardson, Sandy Swafford and Carrie Burton.

The girl who sells the most advance rodeo tickets will be crowned queen, said Ella Bridge, contest chairwoman. The queen will win a belt buckle, gift certificates and a $200 scholarship to Howard College, she said.

Each contestant must be a member of a 4-H club and be between 9 and 19 years old.

TONYA BRIDGE, daughter of Mikel and Ella Bridge of Sterling City Route, is an eighth-grader at Forsan. She is a member of Forsan 4-H Club and enjoys sewing, swimming and raising sheep.

SHANNA RICHARDSON, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Richardson, 516 Scott. Hobbies include tennis and showing steers. A Big Spring High School sophomore, she is a member of Lucky Acres

4-H Club.

SANDY SWAFFORD, eighth-grade student at Forsan, is the daughter of Marvin and Patty Spivey of Sterling City Route. She is a member of the Forsan 4-H Club and enjoys swimming, camping and sports.

CARRIE BURTON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnal Burton, is a freshman at Big Spring High School. She is a member and reporter of the Lucky Acres 4-H Club and enjoys rodeos and showing lambs and pigs.

The Junior Rodeo, sponsored by the Adult Leaders Association, will be July 30-31 and Aug. 1-2 at 7:30 p.m. at the Howard County Rodeo Bowl. Admission is $3 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

Proceeds from the rodeo will finance the 4-H programs for the year, which include leadership training opportunities for members and the development of projects in such areas as food and nutrition, clothing, crops and animals.

Permian Bank in Odessa closes doors

By SCOTT ROTHSCHILD
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — The Permian Bank at Odessa failed Friday because of losses due to the decline in oil prices, the Texas Department of Banking said.

The state-chartered bank, with assets of $39 million including $34 million in deposits, was tendered by its board of directors for liquidation, Banking Commissioner

James Sexton said. Permian Bank became the 12th Texas bank to fail this year, equalling the number of bank failures in 1985, said a spokesman for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Following the bank's closing at 3 p.m., Sexton appointed the FDIC as the receiver.

Sexton, who was at the bank with a state banking examiner, said Permian had struggled for the last four years because of "liberal lending to energy-sector entities during the early 80s."

Sexton said repeated managerial and regulatory efforts to save the bank failed. "The recent decline in oil prices proved a factor of some consequence in that outcome," he said.

Falling oil prices endanger the ability of borrowers to repay loans, which in turn causes banks to set aside larger reserves. This drains bank earnings.

Ken Gorham, closing manager for the FDIC, said the failure took most bank employees by surprise, although he said many knew the bank was in trouble.

Gorham said he did not know how much of the bank's loans were related to energy, but said the oil and gas loans "were a substantial part of their portfolio."

He said many depositors had visited the bank to investigate the situation, but that by 7 p.m. most had gone home.

The FDIC guarantees payment of accounts up to $100,000, Gorham said.

He said depositors should be able to receive their money by Tuesday morning. There are approximately 7,000 depositors at the bank, he said.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY REVIEW

Hall services lawn equipment

Hall Aircooled Engine's business is in small engines.

Hall services all makes of lawn mowers, gasoline-powered equipment and small engines. The firm also sells and services Toro lawn equipment, as well as chain saws, generators, lawn mowers, pumps and weed trimmers. "We service anything with a small gas engine on it," says owner Jerold Cox.

Hall has factory trained mechanics. Its staff participates in all the annual update seminars offered by all small engine manufacturers, including Toro.

In addition to its service work, the firm carries a full line of parts and supplies for lawn and garden equipment, such as Briggs and Stratton, Kohler, and Tecumseh brands.

Hall Aircooled Engine is a family-owned business operated by several family members.

Jerold Cox owns and operates the business and works as a mechanic and parts man. He has 28 years in the small engine repair business.

In 1958, Cox started his career in the same building that Hall Aircooled Engine is in presently. He was employed by Harold Hall and Hall Auto Parts at that time. In the 1960s, the business name was changed to Hall Aircooled Engine.

Cox sold auto parts and worked on small engines throughout the years. In 1982, he bought the business from one of Hall's sons and kept the business' name. Since that time he has expanded the business in total inventory and service area.

Other members of Cox's family employed by the business includes his wife Betty, the office manager. The couple's daughter, Debra Casey, operates the parts department, and their son-in-law, Jerry Farmer, is a mechanic.

Hall Aircooled Engine is the place for buying commercial or residential motorized lawn equipment or having it serviced. The business is located at 508 Gregg and may be contacted by calling 267-1028.
