How's that?

Mayor's office

Q. Why doesn't Mayor Cotton Mize have an office at City Hall? A. Under the city manager form of government, an office for the mayor at City Hall is not needed. His "office" is more or less the council chambers, said City Secretary Tom Ferguson.

Calendar

Dance

• A senior citizens dance will take place at the Colorado City. Boys Club at 7:30 p.m. with music provided by a live band. Everyone is invited. Admission is $2.50.

Gas prices take steep fall

LOS ANGELES (AP) -- Gasoline prices plunged nearly 8% cents a gallon in the past month, the steepest drop this year, and the decline should continue, an oil industry analyst said.

"This was so unpredicted. It was expected to rise after the Fourth of July," said Dan Lundberg, who surveys more than 15,000 gas stations across the nation every two

Safeway chain agrees to merge

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) -Safeway Stores Inc., the nation's largest supermarket chain, said it has agreed to a $4 billion merger with a holding company formed by a New York partnership.

Safeway has been trying to fend off a takeover bid from Dart Group

The merger agreement provides for SSI Holdings Corp. to pay $69 a share for up to 45 million shares, about 73 percent of Safeway's stock, according to a statement released Sunday by Safeway. The Dart Group had offered $64 a

U.S. seeking contact to free other hostages

WIESBADEN, West Germany (AP) — U.S. officials are willing to contact Shiite Moslems believed to be holding at least three Americans captive in Lebanon, but make a distinction "between contacts and concessions," a U.S.

diplomat said. Robert Oakley, American ambassador-at-large for counterterrorism, spoke at a news conference at the U.S. Air Force hospital in Wiesbaden Sunday after arriving with the Rev. Lawrence Jenco, a Roman Catholic priest who was released by his Lebanese kidnappers on Saturday

Jenco, 51, of Joliet, Ill., was freed in east Lebanon's Bekaa Valley after rearly 19 months in captivity. Oakley said the United States would 'work for the release of all hostages in Lebanon. We will not be satisfied until everyone is released. Islamic Jihad, a Shiite extremist group believed to have ties to Iran, has claimed responsibility for kidnapping five Americans, including Jenco. The group said it has killed one of the hostages, but no body has been found.

The kidnappers demand the release of 17 Shiites imprisoned in Kuwait for the 1983 bombings of the U.S. and French embassies there. Kuwait has rejected the demand.

Asked if the Reagan administration would make concessions to secure the release of the hostages, Oakley said: "We've always said in the past that we're prepared to make contacts, but we have tried to make a distinction between contacts and concessions.

Terry Waite, special envoy of the Archbishop of Canterbury, also appeared at the news conference after accompanying Jenco to West Germany, and said the three American hostages known to still be in captivity are "fine."

"Naturally they want to be free, but they are being looked after as well as one can expect under the circumstances," said Waite, who has visited Lebanon several times seeking the hostages' release.

He added, "I do not think it is in the interest of their security," to elaborate on the conditions of

About 50 people attended the annual National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Black and White Ball Saturday

The ball, one of the NAACP's main fundraising events for the year, was in the Halliburten Room of the Homestead Inn where a barbecue dinner was served.

Couples wore evening dress and danced to popular music. Fantasies lingerie shop of

Midland presented a fashion show with eight female and four male models

Dock Voorhies, NAACP president, said the organization broke even on the ball. "We had hoped for more" people to attend, he said. He pointed out, however, that this year's turnout was better than last year's.

Voorhies said the local chapter raises funds to support "as many youth activities," including sending young people to the NAACP national youth convention.

In addition, the organization has eight standing committees, such as "We think it's important to have an organization that involves as many people from as many segments of the community as possible," he said.

'We depend on fundraisers to support our organization" because most of the $10 yearly dues per person goes to the national organization, Voorhies said.

The dues are minimal, he said, because "we wanted to be affordable for all.'

The Safeway statement said Bankers Trust Co. of New York has agreed to form a syndicate of banks to provide $3 billion in financing for the acquisition.

Dart on Friday accused Safeway of violating federal securities laws by taking "collusive action" with an unknown third party in trying to thwart Dart's bid.

"We are outraged," Dart lawyer Robert Hirsch said Friday, threatening legal action if Safeway's board sold the company to a third party.

There was no answer at Dart's Landover office Sunday. Dart chairman Herbert Haft did not immediately return a message left at his home

Kohlberg Kravis, which earlier this year bought the Beatrice Cos. for $6.2 billion in a leveraged buyout, received a $15 million fee from Safeway in connection with the merger agreement, and will get an additional $45 million if the deal is called off under certain, undisclosed circumstances, Safeway's statement said.

County asks revisions on budget projections

By SCOTT FITZGERALD Staff Writer

Howard County commissioners tabled discussions on county jail personnel and indigent health care this morning, and resumed working with County auditor Jackie Olson on the 1986-1987 budget.

The jail personnel and indigent health care topics will be included on the next meeting's agenda, said Commissioner David Barr.

County judge Milton Kirby told commissioners that County Sanitarian James Luck and Dr. Jack Woodall, director of the Howard County Health Clinic, were out of town, necessitating the delay on the indigent care discussion.

The budget workshop was to continue this afternoon, Olson said, after commissioners requested that County Tax Assessor and Collector Dorothy Moore recalculate projected revenues for 1986. "She determined there was an error and thought there was too much discrepancy between last year's estimated projections and this year's," Olson said.

In other morning action, commissioners approved the hiring of Marilyn Carson as secretary in the Precinct 1 Place 2 Justice of the Peace office.

Carson has worked as a secretary in Texas Ranger Charles Brune's office, which will be eliminated Aug. 1. She will assume secretarial duties in William Shankles' office beginning Monday.

KENNER, La. — A woman posed as a nurse and robbed a 73-year-old man who suffered a heart attack at New Orleans International Airport, officials said.

The victim, retired Houston businessman Frank Paul, was pronounced dead Sunday when he arrived at St. Jude Hospital, said Gloria Maisano of River Ridge, a friend who met him at the airport.

She said that while some people were giving him cardiopulmonary rescuscitation, a woman who identified herself as a nurse took his wallet, saying she needed it to get in touch with his relatives

Lebanese Christian children help an elderly woman walk away from the explosion scene as flames consume a car shortly after a powerful car bomb exploded in Christian east Beirut today. At least 32 were killed and 140 wounded by the blast at the peak of the morning rush hour in the densely populated neighborhood of Ein Rummaneh.

Blast kills 32 Bomb rips Christian east Beirut

By RODEINA KENAAN Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A car bomb devastated a densely populated area of Christian east Beirut during morning rush hour today, and police said the blast killed at least 32 people, wounded 140 and trapped others in blazing buildings.

Firefighters scaled mobile ladders to the upper floors of seven apartment houses set on fire by the explosion and rescued more than 40 people who screamed from balconies and rooftops for help.

Rescuers hunted for at least seven people feared buried in buildings toppled by the blast's concussion. 'My brothers, my two brothers!" screamed Josiane Azar as rescuers pulled two bodies out of the rubble of a clothing shop her brothers owned. She then fainted.

Many victims were charred beyond recognition. "It was a mad scene," said Nawal Ghattas, an east Beirut resident. "People screamed. Motorists raced away, honking their horns, and the wail of ambulance sirens was deafening.'

No immediate claim of responsibility came after the car bombing, the sixth and deadliest in east Beirut this

Public Health Minister Joseph Hashem, a Christian, was in tears when he inspected the damage. "Words are too weak a vehicle to express the adequate condemnation of such a harbaric crime," he said. "I was ironing family clothes when it happened,"

Mrs. Ghattas said in a telephone interview. "I felt as if my eardrums were split as window glass shards fell all around me."

A huge black cloud of smoke hung over the area after the 8:28 a.m. explosion, which gouged a 6-foot-deep crater in Wadih Naim street near the Star cinema in Ein Rummaneh's Snoubra neighborhood.

Police said the car, a white Mercedes-Benz parked near the movie theater, had an estimated 440 pounds of Firefighters brought the flames under control several hours after the explosion. Police were unable to say how many people were still trapped inside buildings.

Three apartment buildings were gutted. Many balconies were blown off their smoke-blackened fronts. About 30 buildings were pronounced uninhabitable and 20 shops were completely destroyed. About 50 cars were destroyed.

Chopped-off power cables dangled into the water that filled the street as firefighters fought to put out the

The opening session adjourned after 90 minutes. Spokesman James Audu said ministers would hold informal talks later today and return for a full session on Tuesday.

Delegates of the 13-member Organization of Oil Exporting Countries last met in June on the Yugoslav island of Brioni, where a majority agreed to establish an average daily production ceiling of 17.6 million barrels for the entire cartel this year.

Ministers today presented their governments' responses to that plan, which would require lower national output quotas. Audu said the responses were "very positive."

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico - Opposition party supporters blockaded an international bridge in this border city for the fourth consecutive day to protest alleged election fraud.

The Bridge of the Americas is one of four across the Rio Grande connecting Juarez and El Paso, Texas, but it is the most important commercially. Both the U.S. Customs Service and Mexican customs keep import-export lots on both sides of the bridge where cargo trucks are inspected.

About 700 loaded trucks and 400 empty ones normally pass daily over the bridge with produce and parts for assembly plants in Juarez and the United States, said Nicholas Goldstein, Customs supervisory inspector for

A West Berlin police spokesman, speaking in a telephone interview with The Associated Press, said the hole was a little larger than one square yard.

The spokesman, who spoke on condition he not be identified, said the explosion occurred around 2:30 a.m. and blew out windows in several nearby buildings. Investigators were trying to determine what type of explosives

Freezing blood

Fear of AIDS and other blood transmitted diseases has led to yet another revolutionary use of technology in the United States: people freezing pints of their own blood in case they need it later.

For years, people planning elective surgery have donated their own blood in advance of their future needs....There's no question that a person's own blood is safest for transfusion. But beyond that, the issue of freezing and donating blood has raised more questions

If the practice of donating and freezing for private use catches on. the blood supply for thousands of other people would dry up. Some 4 million persons require transfusions of about 14 million pints each year. The Red Cross and other nonprofit groups rely on voluntary donations to meet those needs. Fear of AIDS is another issue. The Red Cross has done all it can toward safeguarding its blood supply, screening before donation and later testing each donated pint for AIDS antibodies

Blood is indeed the gift of life. We hope that regular donors will continue to give through regular channels, and that people who never have donated will begin.

The first is to tighten the enforcement of laws against obscenity -acategory of speech defined by the Supreme Court as "patently offerisive" material meant to "appeal to the prurient interest," which has "no serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value." Part of this effort is a campaign against child pornography. The second step is to use citizen groups to discourage retailers from selling non-obscene but sexually-oriented other demands. The Supreme Court's treatment of obscenity makes some censorship constitutional, but it doesn't make it any less censorious. To declare some exercises of press freedom worthless is to contradict the central idea of the First Amenament that the government may not prescribe what ideas are acceptable and ban those that are not.

But in demanding an assault on obscenity, the commission at least acknowledged the constitutional limits of what the government may do. In urging community organizations to picket and boycott stores that offer material that is sexually oriented but not legally obscene, it abuses its official position.

That's exact!y what it did when it sent letters to several corporations, including the owner of most 7-Eleven stores, accusing them of trafficking in pornography and threatening to publish their names. A federal judge forbade the commission to publish the names of these companies, calling the threat "a form of pressure amounting to an administrative restraint of their) First Amendment rights."

Since the Constitution prevents it from banning these publications. the commission wants citizens' economic pressure. While people have every right to spurn companies that defy their preferences whether on pornography or investment in South Africa - the government has no business promoting their cause. It is as unsavory as if a commission had recommended that, because non-Christian faiths can't be outlawed Christians should discourage them by picketing synagogues and mosques But the central offense of this commission is its glib insistence that what is harmful should be forbidden. It declares, on the basis of thin evidence, that violent depictions in pornography provoke "antusocial acts of sexual violence and that non-violent depictions of "degrading" sexual relationships are also likely to promote sexual violence.

The question is interesting and even important, but it is utterly irrelevant to the issue of how the law should treat pornography. Depictions of sexual sado-masochism may evoke sexual violence, just as Nazi leaflets may produce racial attacks and communist books may lead to revolution. We do not, therefore, ban these types of material. The First Amendment obliges a different approach — to prosecute the crimes, not to censor the material that inspires them. If any material that has the potential to cause harm could be suppressed, our liberty would be gone.

The commission pretends that the issue is whether pornography is offensive and harmful. An affirmative answer thus justifies whatever action is needed to suppress it. Asking the wrong question leads to the wrong answer. The real issue, to which the commission is proudly indifferent, is freedom.

Moslem religion, are either imprisoned or shot. The plight of Bulgaria's ethnic Turks, who number about 1 million, or nearly 10 percent of the population, is described in cables to the State Department from the U.S. Embassy in Sofia. Our associate Lucette Lagnado has seen the cables and interviewed experts on the subject. Here's what she learned about this littlepublicized tragedy:

• The communist regime does not acknowledge that there are Turks in Bulgaria. One embassy cable noted that the government "eliminated from statistical existence more than 1 million persons previously identified as (Turks).' This official creation of "unpersons" is "a socio-political feat of truly Orwellian proportions," the cable commented.

• In the past two years, the embassy reported, there have been 'well-documented ... police terror tactics used to isolate remote villages and force inhabitants to change their full names from Islamic to Slavic/Christian Bulgarian names."

Jack Anderson

 The embassy reported that violence has resulted when ethnic Turks chose to resist the name changes and other attempts to eradicate their cultural identity. The militia, backed by the army, entered major Turkish communities and used "deadly force to reduce resistance," an embassy cable stated, adding: "There were several reported cases of mass civil violence, which resulted in hundreds of deaths and many more injuries." • While some resisters were imprisoned on political charges, this relatively mild treatment was reserved for the "Turkish minority elite - party officials, teachers, etc.." the embassy reported. Most of the recalcitrant ethnic Turks were subjected to naked force. "Refusal to agree quickly to a name change was met by documented cases of summary executions. Individual killings seem to have been more widespread.

 As the poorest, least assimilated and already worsttreated of any minority in Bulgaria, the ethnic Turks are considered easy targets for Khomeinistyle Moslem fundamentalism - a possibility that frightens the communist rulers. The embassy has received "reports of razed mosques and ... pressure agains@fundamental Islamic religious practices such as circumcision and funerals.'

 Turkish-language publications were once numerous and widely read by the ethnic minority. But last year the government stepped in and the publications were "abruptly published only in Bulgarian," the embassy reported. At the same time, Turkishlanguage radio broadcasts were eliminated. "Today, not a single word of Turkish is published in Bulgaria," the embassy reported.

• The communist regime prudently applies its anti-Turkish discrimination to military service. As the embassy has explained:

"The Bulgarian constitution's alleged 'equal treatment' of citizens does not apply to the Turks when it comes to military duty. The Turks are placed into uniformed labor battalions and are not entrusted with weapons. Very few Turks serve in the normal armed forces.

• The ethnic Turks are also frozen out of political activity that might conceivably win them better treatment some day. Most are kept from membership in the Communist Party as a result of the regime's "biased perception of the Turks," the embassy noted.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD: Skilled spotters at seven airports within easy striking distance of the Statue of Liberty had computerized lists of 293,000 privately owned airplanes' registration markings to guard against terrorism over the Fourth of July weekend. The lists were provided by the Federal Aviation Administration's Mike Monroney Aeronautical Center in Oklahoma City. Using the lists, the spotters could identify instantly the owners of any planes straying into the area where President Reagan, French President Francois Mitterrand and other dignitaries were gathered for the centennial celebration of "Miss Liberty.

But as 1986 began, cable sta-tions found a way of scrambling their signals, consumers panicked and the dish industry

On Jan 1, there were 1.5 million dishes dotting the land-scape, 625,000 of them sold in 1985 to people answering adspromise gree movies and TV sports events.

The signal scrambling began earlier this year. Without a special box in the satellite to decode the algorithm - a series of zeros and ones - the scrambled stations were unwatchable.

A lot of marginally financed dish dealers saw sales come to a virtual halt.

John R. MacDougall of Ocala, Fla., who confessed to being the video pirate (the so-called Captain Midnight) who took Home Box Office off the air one night in protest, said, "I was watching the great American dream slip from my grasp.'

In the first half of 1986, only about 100,000 dishes were sold, compared with 265,000 for the same period a year earlier, according to a survey to be released this week by CSP International, a communications planning consulting organization in New York.

After analyzing the figures, Michael Tyler, president of CSP, said he thinks the industry has bottomed out. "A modest turnaround appears to have vices retail for about $20-$25 a begun," he said, although he year.

conceded the picture won't be clear until the normal Fall buying season.

Dealers in rural areas are the first to be making a comeback, said Joe Boyle, spokesman for the dish industry group SPACE.

The CSP report products sales of 19,000 for the second half of 1986, and another 380,000 to 500,000 dishes next year, with 3.5 million to 5 million installed by the end of 1990.

"Widely held misconceptions include the ideas that it is necessary to buy a separate decrambler unit for each program channel," the CSP study said, "and that the descrambiing standard may soon change, making present-day descramblers obsolete." Both beliefs are wrong, the study

Consumers did not understand that many TV services would never scramble and there would be a decoder — a single descrambling unit - to translate anything designed for viewing by the public, CSP said.

That unit is the Videocipher II, which sells for $395. So far. 25,000 have been sold by MA-Com, Channel Master and Anixter. Another 50,000 are available.

Less expensive models will be built into new dishes at the

A call to a toll-free number registers the customer and gets the descrambler turned on with a signal from space in a matter of minutes.

Eight days of testimony turned the federal court in this quiet community in the hills of northeast Tennessee into a battleground for two Washington-based interest

Farris, a former Moral Majority director in Washington state, was hired by the conservative Concerned Women for America.

Timothy Dyk, a specialist in constitutional law who represented the Hawkins County school board, was hired by the liberal People for the American Way, founded by television producer Norman Lear.

The families said the books contained material on pacifism, secular humanism, the occult and other themes that they say are anti-Christian. They objected to L. Frank Baum's "The Wizard of Oz" because it portrayed some witches as good.

Daughter remembers grief

KILLEEN — The daughter of the man who commanded the doomed space shuttle Challenger says not an hour or day goes by that she doesn't think about her father and the way he was taken away.

"The public will always think of im as a hero because he died on a was the hottest. I was so over shuttle mission. I don't think they'll ever forget any of the men and women - they were all heroes,"

Four killed in house fire

BEAUMONT — A house fire killed four people early today, including three children, authorities said.

The dead were a 26-year-old woman and her two daughters, aged 4 and 8, and her 14-year-old niece, said Justice of the Peace Harold Engstrom. He said the names were being withheld pending notification of relatives.

The mother and daughters were found huddled in the home's hallway, apparently trying to escape the billowing smoke, Engstrom said. "They probably had been disoriented by the smoke," he said.

'There was a lot of smoke. The niece, who also apparently had tried to get out of the house. was found beside her bed, the justice of the peace said.

Elderly couple commits suicide

HIGHLAND PARK - Don and Betty Morris were a joyful couple who loved fishing, the outdoors and romance, and after 50 years of marriage decided to die together rather than die slowly apart, their children say.

Morris, a semi-retired psychiatrist, and his wife, a retired psychologist, both 76, were found dead by police in the bedroom of their home last Monday after the Southwestern Medical School received a letter explaining that they had taken lethal doses of Nembutal, a depressant.

After their long, blissful marriage and successful medical careers, the couple couldn't bear the thought of being separated or finishing out their lives in a nursing home, their children say.

Two suicide notes were found in the small bedroom of their modestly furnished home. In a note to his three surviving children, Morris said he feared that as his heart condition grew worse, he would be hospitalized, to die slowly instead of in a "decent and respectable

Soldier socks it to Abby for wedding advice

DEAR ABBY: I just read that letter signed "Not Sure in Louisiana," and I can't believe you took that letter seriously. I don't know what the socks smelled like, but that letter sure smelled like a phony to me.

I've been reading your column for at least 20 years in the St. Louis Globe Democrat, and if you believe that letter was for real, there's a bridge in Brooklyn I'd like to sell

Let me explain: When I shipped the socks, they were clean. As cartons pass through certain countries, the customs people spray them with pesticides. This makes them smell "funny" and sometimes ruins the contents - an accepted hazard to us in the military. I had so many pairs of socks because when a foot soldier spends months at a time in the a man who ships her 203 pairs of

Drug isn't always the answer for sleep apnea

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Can you please recommend drugs to alleviate sleep apnea occurrences? I have been examined and it is definite — sleep apnea. — M.K.

Let's familiarize other readers with sleep apnea first, M.K. Typically, the story is of a person who is a snorer, and whose snoring builds up to a crescendo followed by a long pause of stillness. In that still period, he is not breathing, is apneic. The breathless period is followed by tossing and turning, part of the attempt to restore respiration. He is aroused or semiaroused. This may happen many times in a night, so there are complaints of daytime fatigue or sleepiness.

Now, you were asking about medicines used in treatment. I can mention two drugs when the apnea is caused by obstruction of upper airways. They are protriptyline and medroxyprogresterone.

But this may be getting ahead of our story. We have to get a few things straight. Appea is treated in many other ways than with drugs. The first and most important treatment often is losing weight when one is overweight. A 10 to 15 percent reduction may be the only thing needed. Or sometimes surgery to remove excess obstructing tissue at the back of the throat is the answer. Also, creation of a new airway into the windpipe may bring relief. Sometimes, a combination of approaches works best.

Since often the apneic person is not really awakened from sleep, he may never realize why he is so sleepy during the day. An observant spouse or relative often is the one who notes the sleep phenomenon. Still, for accurate documentation, the person usually must be tested in a sleep laboratory, where a record can be made of breathing, of heart action, and other body behavior during observation of an occasional snoring episode for clear diagnosis. I hope you plan to pursue this, for when properly diagnosed, most sleep apnea can be treated successfully

renshaw ends slump with crazy club

Austin's Ben Crenshaw has all the congratulations he can handle in Grand Blanc, Michigan Sunday after winning the Buick Open Golf Tournament. Crenshaw won $90,000 for his four round 13-under-par victory.

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) ed him as a threat to challenge - The way Ben Crenshaw won the Buick Open was enough to set a duffer's heart aflutter.

He overcame debilitating iliness, a triple-bogey, a slow-play warning and then saved the tournament with an upside-down 9-iron.

"It was one of those shots that come out of the blue," said the 34-year-old Texan, called "Gentle Ben" by his friends. "I never dreamed I could get it that close to the pin. It was a dandy little shot.'

And one that hundreds of 24-handicapers will doubtless attempt to duplicate, having watched Crenshaw pull it off on national television.

Crenshaw, who was warned for slow play midway through the final round, went on to shoot a 68 on Sunday to win the $500,000 tournament with an 18-under-par score of 270

Crenshaw, who hadn't won since the 1984 Masters, finished one stroke ahead of hardcharging J.C. Snead and Doug Tewell to earn $90,000.

"When you're in a slump, sometimes you think there's no way out," Crenshaw said. "Dave Marr has always kidded me that I'm on my 21st comeback. It feels tremendous to win again.'

It was the 11th PGA Tour victory for Crenshaw and establish-

British Open champion Greg Norman at the PGA Championship in nearby Toledo, Ohio, in two weeks:

Crenshaw started the final round in a four-way tie for the lead with rookie Davis Love III, Steve Pate and Tom Purtzer, all at 14-under.

Love bogeyed the last hole in shooting a 71 to finish at 15 under. Neither Pate nor Putzer could get anything going, either. Pate had a final-round 72 for 274 while Purtzer shot 73 for 275.

Crenshaw's greatest test came on No. 13, a 490-yard, par-5. He hit his second shot under a pine tree and couldn't get to the ball in his natural stance.

So Crenshaw turned a 9-iron over and, playing left-handed with the back of the club, knocked the ball onto the green about three feet from the pin.

He sank the putt for a birdie to go 17 under, bringing a thunderous roar from the crowd alongside the 7,014-yard Warwick Hills Golf & Country Club

"I don't know if I could have hit it that close right-handed," Crenshaw said On the next hole, the 322-yard, par-4 14th, Crenshaw birdied from five feet to go 18 under.

over. Crenshaw hooked his second shot on the 580-yard, par-5 16th into the grass of a large tree root. He knocked that between two smaller trees and onto the green and saved par.

"I used the 9-iron again, right side up this time, and it came out just right," Crenshaw said. 'Those two shots were the tournament, no doubt about it."

Tewell had the best chance to overtake Crenshaw, or at least force a playoff, but he could manage only a single birdie on the back nine, a side that generally produces low scores.

On the 18th, a 435-yard, par-4, Tewell needed only to hole a fivefoot putt for birdie to go 18 under, but the ball broke too soon and slid past the hole.

"I hit the putt too soft," Tewell moaned. "I played very well. "I couldn't buy a putt coming in."

Snead birdied No. 11 go to 17 under, but gave it back with a bogey at No. 15. He had to birdie the final hole for his 17 under.

Ed Fiori was alone at 16-under 272 with a 67 in the final round.

"I'm happy with the 67," Snead said. "I haven't been in the hunt much, so it was fun to make the good swings."

Bobby Wadkins carded a finalround 68 to tie Love at 273. Gene Sauers had 71 to finish at 274. Still, his work was far from

Lemond claims Tour de France

He beat French legend to become first ever American winner

PARIS (AP) — A band played 'The Star-Spangled Banner' on the Champs Elysees, while more than 200,000 spectators and French Premier Jacques Chirac saluted Greg Lemond, the first American ever to win the Tour de France cycling race since it was first held

"Finally, everything went very wells Lemond said Sunday, after days of cycling over 2,500. miles of rolling seaside fields and towering mountains in the world's premier cycling event.

The final leg of the race, 158 miles from Cosne to Paris, was mostly level and offered more opportunity for last-minute color than Spectators lined the Champs Elysee, the most glamorous avenue in Paris, to welcome the 132 tired riders.

The racers entered Paris from the south, circled the Place de la Concorde, and went up and down the famed avenue six times before finishing near the presidential Elysee Palace.

Italian Guido Bontempi won the final sprint to the finish line, but all the other cyclists were close enough behind to be awarded the same time of six hours, 51 minutes and 55 seconds, causing no alteration in the overall standings.

Lemond's winning composite time was 110 hours, 35 minutes and 19 seconds. In second place, three minutes and 10 seconds back, was his teammate Bernard Hinault, who at 31 is already a legend in cycling with his five Tour de France championships.

Urs Zimmermann of Switzerland was third and American first-year pro Andy Hampsten finished

Last year, Lemond supported

Hinault's successful bid for a record-tying fifth victory, and finished second himself. Hinault, known to French fans as "The Badger," said 1986 would be the year his protege Lemond would take over.

But just a week ago, Hinault was showing his competitive streak, and rumors of a growing rivalry between the two were the big story of the tour.

"There was a bit of tension on our team," Lemond said Sunday night. "I think he wanted to win his sixth Tour de France and I wanted to win my first.

Hinault finally assumed the leader's symbolic yellow jersey after the 12th leg of the tour, which moves counterclockwise around France in 23 daily races that started on July 4.

But Lemond, who lives near Sacramento, Calif., finished third in a gruelling climb through the Alps in the 17th leg to take the overall lead from Hinault, who finished 13th that day.

In the 18th leg, Hinault set an early pace to eliminate Zimmermann, their strongest opponent, while Lemond conserved his strength. Then Lemond caught Hinault and thanked him for the pace-setting chores.

The two finished that stage in a side-by-side, arm-raising show of unity. Lemond allowed Hinault to edge ahead near the finish line, but Lemond still had the overall lead.

Hinault's final shot came in the 20th leg, a time trial where cyclists compete individually, released from the team obligations that come first when the pack is racing sprained ligament in his elbow, is hoping to stay in the rotation.

"I haven't been sound all year," said Ryan, 7-7. "Some days I can throw longer than others. If I'm capable of taking my next turn, I will."

After the Phillies took a 1-0 lead in the first, on Mike Schmidt's RBI single, Houston tied it in the second on Craig Reynolds' fifth home run of the year.

Houston went ahead 3-1 in the third on an RBI double by Billy Hatcher and a run-scoring single by Kevin Bass.

The Phillies scored their final run in the fifth on Glenn Wilson's eighth homer of the season.

Phillies starter Kevin Gross. 6-8, who has not won a game since June 19, allowed only four hits over eight innings, none after the third.

"Kevin got mad at himself after Reynolds' homer," said Phillies Manager John Felske, "and he lost his concentration in the third inning. After that, he pitched very well."

Gross tried a no-windup delivery recently employed by teammate Charles Hudson.

"I just wanted to see if it would work for me," Gross said, because right now, basically I'm just looking for a rabbit's foot. "I'm just trying to get into a winning way. When you pitch eight innings, allow four hits and don't win, it's pretty darned frustrating. But I just have to try to keep battling and keep hoping I can straighten this out.

The victory, combined with Pittsburgh's 7-0 victory Sunday over San Francisco, enabled Houston to take a 21/2-game lead over the Giants in the National League West.

Braves gladly say goodbye to unwelcome Mets

(AP) Well, at last we've seen the last of HIM

Each of Sunday's losers in the National League could say that as each team completed a season series with an opponent from the other division

The Expos could say it about Eric Davis, whose two-run single in the eighth gave Cincinnati a 9-7 comeback victory.

The Giants could say it about Rick Rhoden, who combined with Don Robinson on an eight-hit shutout — by fair means or foul as Pittsburgh beat San Francisco,

The Phillies could say it about Nolan Ryan, who struck out 10 batters and combined with Aurelio Lopez on a two-hitter in Houston's 3-2 victory

The Braves could say it about three men - Gary Carter, Darryl Strawberry and Kevin Mitchell. The three hit consecutive homers, providing all the Mets' runs in Atlanta's 5-1 loss.

The Padres will not likely again see Andy Van Slyke, who gave St. Louis a 3-2 victory with a seventhinning single, until 1987.

The Cubs could say farewell to Los Angeles' Mike Scioscia, whose single beat them 13-11 — but not to Wrigley Field, where an 8-5 game after seven innings turned into a scoreathon with 11 runs in an inning and a half.

The six season series, 12 games each, ended closely for the most Houston and Philadelphia split 6-6 this year; so did Los Angeles and Chicago. St. Louis and Cincinnati won their respective series 7-5. San Francisco took eight of its 12 games with Pittsburgh.

Atlanta can make a somewhat pathetic case for having been tough on the Mets this year. New York won the series 8-4: "only" a .667 percentage, as opposed to the Mets overall .681 success rate.

If the West clubs beat the East this season or vice-versa, don't look to these matchups. The 72 games split 36-36 between lowered his earned-run average to divisions

Reds 9, Expos 7 Cincinnati trailed 7-2 after 61/2 innings, but scored four runs in the seventh and three in the eighth against Montreal relievers.

Expos starter Floyd Youmans struck out seven Reds and allowed just four hits before leaving after the sixth with a stiff shoulder.

Tim Burke came on for the seventh and loaded the bases with none out, then gave up a two-run single to Kal Daniels and a runscoring ground out to Davis. Tim Raines' fielding error in left field let in another run.

Jeff Reardon came in to pitch the eighth. On his second pitch, Nick Esasky hit a home run. The Reds again loaded the bases with two outs, and Davis' soft line drive became a two-run single.

"It was the perfect situation for me," said Davis, one of the Reds time since a July 20, 1974 game hottest hitters with a .403 average against the San Diego Padres. over his last 19 games.

losing streak. Sid Bream hit a two-row. run double and a two-run single, backing an eight-hit shutout by Rhoden and Robinson.

Bream's hits gave the Pirates a 4-0 lead, then Pittsburgh added three runs in the eighth, two on a homer by Jim Morrison, who was 4-for-4.

Rhoden, 10-6, gave up six hits in 6 2-3 innings. He gained his first victory since July 2, following two losses and two no-decisions. He 2.29, second-best in the league.

The Giants became the latest team to allege that Rhoden is doctoring the ball. "Bob Brenly came back to our bench one time and said, 'Why don't they just throw away the rule book and get the guy a chainsaw?','' San Francisco Manager Roger Craig said.

Craig said Rhoden glues a small piece of sandpaper to his hand or glove, then scuffs the ball with it. 'We caught him in San Francisco but he stuffed it in his pants and the umpires can't search a guy's uniform," Craig said. "I'd think if they caught him, he could be suspended.

The Dodgers had 21 hits in the game and the Cubs 13.

Steve Sax and Reggie Williams doubled leading off the ninth against Frank DiPino, 1-4. Sax scored on Jeff Hamilton's infield single. After an intentional walk loaded the bases, Scioscia singled, giving the Dodgers a 12-11 lead.

Red Sox woes continue as Sutton beats Seaver

(AP) Tom Seaver couldn't have cared less about his matchup with Don Sutton — the second this century between 300-game winners. He was more concerned with the plight of the stumbling Boston Red

"It has more appeal to the fans and the press," Seaver said Sunday after after Sutton and the California Angels handed the Red Sox their 10th loss in 13 games.

The 3-0 setback reduced what had been an eight-game bulge on July 10th to a three-game advantage over the New York Yankees in the American League East. And the Red Sox, whose only victories in the last two weeks have come when ace Roger Clemens has pitched. are well aware of their predicament.

"The press in this situation, expecially in Boston, has been negative," said Seaver, 4-9, whose career mark is now 308-201

Sutton, who like Seaver allowed eight hits, came out after Tony Armas began the seventh with a single. But Gary Lucas and Donnie Moore, who collected his 10th save, limited the Red Sox to one hit over the final three innings as the Angels increased their lead in the AL West to three games over

The lack of offense by Boston, limited to just 15 runs in its last six games, had Manager John McNamara perplexed.

'We had runners on base in every inning but we couldn't do anything with it," McNamara explained. "Sure we're getting edgy. We know what we're playing for. We're not panicking, but we're uptight.

The game was scoreless until the fourth when Bobby Grich led off with his seventh homer.

Gary Pettis added a run-scoring single in the fourth inning, and Bob Boone drove in the other California run, off reliever Dave Stewart in the eighth.

Sutton and Cleveland's Phil Niekro met on June 28 in the only other matchup of 300-game winners in this century. Prior to that, it from the minor leagues after Mur-

Orioles 11, White Sox 3 Rookie Jim Traber may not make Baltimore fans forget about injured first baseman Eddie Murray, but his instant success as a hitter is easing the pain somewhat. Traber's latest contribution, a grand slam that keyed a nine-run fourth inning was his fifth homer in nine games since being recalled

"Everybody knows I'm not going to come up here and take Eddie's place, and I'm the first to admit that," said Traber, who has driven in 13 runs with 11 hits. "I just want to go out and try to produce.'

'We'll find a spot for him .... doubt about that," Manager Earl Weaver said

Singles by Larry Sheets and Tom O'Malley, each of whom had three of Baltimore's 16 hits, ignited the fourth inning for the Orioles, who have won four straight. Chicago has lost seven in a row.

Yankees 4. Twins 1 A rehab assignment last week in Albany served Ron Guidry well. He came off the diabled list to win for the first time since May 10.

The New York left-hander, 5-8, celebrated his return by striking out nine batters in five innings, including the first five he faced.

"Disabled list or no disabled list, that was vintage Guidry," Minnesota Manager Ray Miller said. "He had the good slider that comes in looking like the fastball all the Guidry got help from Dave Righetti, who got his 23rd save, and Rod Scurry. They combined to strike out four more, and retired the last 11 Twins. The game was tied 1-1 in the fifth when Claudell Washington, who struck out in three other plate appearances against Bert Blyleven, 9-10, hit a two-run homer into the right-field seats. Blyleven has allowed 33 homers this season. Royals 5, Tigers 4

Coming out of the bullpen was a strange felling for Kansas City's Cy Young Award winner Bret Saberhagen, but as a winner he didn't mind.

You just have to be a minuteman," he said of the difference between starting and relieving. He had missed a start due to a tender arm, and was asked to pitch two innings.

Saberhagen, 6-10, won in his first relief appearance since 1984 as Steve Balboni, who had three hits and two RBI, singled in Willie Wilson with two outs in the top of the ninth inning. Willie Hernandez, 6-5, walked Wilson with one out. George Brett flied out, but Jorge Orta singled Wilson to second and Balboni followed with bloop to center field, just out of the reach of Chet Lemon. Brewers 8. Mariners 1 Tim Leary was a starter on the verge of losing his job. But in scattering seven hits over eight innings, he saved it for the time being.

"No doubt about it. It they pitch good they get another chance, if they don't they don't get to pitch,' Milwaukee Manager George Bamberger said matter-of-factly.

Bill Schroeder hit a two-run homer, his third, to cap a six-run third inning as Leary, 7-10, snapped a personal five-game losing streak dating back to June 20. He struck out four and did not walk a man in going the distance for the third time this year.

A's 1. Blue Javs 0 Oakland's Alfredo Griffin didn't mind going 0-for-6 as long as he was taking one for the team. "I wanted to get a base hit instead of a walk, but in that kind of game you just try to win any way you can," the Oakland shortstop said after his bases-loaded walk enabled the A's to edge the Toronto Blue Jays to extend their winning streak to seven games.

Griffin drew the walk with two out off reliever Stan Clarke.

Toronto, held scoreless over the last 26 innings, wasted 10 shutout innings from Jimmy Key. Indians 8, Rangers 3

The heat was on in Texas, and Tom Candiotti felt fully cooked by the time he'd put in seven sweatfilled innings with the thermometer at 101 degrees.

'This is probably the worst heat I've ever pitched in," said Candiotti, 10-7, who shares the AL lead in complete games (9) with California's Mike Witt. "My legs felt like spaghetti.'

The Rangers' Edwin Correa, 6-9, fanned nine in 4 1-3 innings, but four walks, three stolen bases and an error hurt his cause.

Tyson demolishes Frazier in first

Joe Frazier praises son's conqueror for brutal, quick KO

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP) -Though it was a blow to Frazier family pride, Joe Frazier said he has a professional sort of admiration for what undefeated chin. That buckled Frazier's legs, heavyweight boxer Mike Tyson did to his son Marvis "That's the kind of way I'd like to

"He shook Marvis up right away," said Frazier, who manages and trains his son. "I'd like to see what he's got myself. What is this guy, an animal or something?"

Tyson had Frazier in trouble from the opening bell as he charged across the ring and dug a right uppercut into his opponent's chin. The two fighters traded punches briefly before Tyson pinned

Frazier was checked by Dr. Frank Folk, supervising physician for the state boxing commission, and he appeared all right at a news conference following the brief nationally televised bout. Frazier said he made a mistake by letting his guard down, allowing Tyson's dangerous uppercut to land on his chin. According to Frazier, the shot was the hardest he had absorbed since he was knocked down by

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, JULY 29, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is an unusually good day and evening to do whatever you wish that will add to the value of your property. Seriously consider what you can afford.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get practical affairs well arranged so that you are better off financially. Contact experts in such matters.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get your appearance at its best and then be off to the social pleasures you have planned. Be happy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Rid yourself of whatever keeps you from being happy and tonight enjoy the company of friends.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) A good time to see as many friends as you can. Gain your aims quite LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You look dynamic today and can make big headway in public, so accept worthwhile invitations. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you are practical-minded you can get into new outlets that are profitable. Study these things first.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be more serious with those who have articles you want to purchase and you can make a good investment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you want to have new partners, charm them socially and they can come to an agreement with you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make sure that you handle present activities in a brilliant way and become more successful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan recreations that you like and this can bring you more happiness than you've had in a while.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Now is a good time to make your home more attractive. Entertain there tonight and feel proud.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Communicate with others and show how much you admire them and gain more good will for the future. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will have the ability to please just about anyone he or she comes in contact with, but will be practical and charming at the same time. Give an education that will fit your progeny for whatever has to do with beautification of property, luxury, or artistry.
