Watering

Q. Why have citizens been asked not to water lawns when schools, the courthouse, the municipal golf course, etc. continue watering?

Q. Why is Canturbury allowed to run water night and day when everyone else is supposed to curtail usage? A. Judge Milton Kirby said Tuesday that courthouse sprinklers have been off for more than a week for repairs. He said the courthouse will probably limit watering after the system is back on line.

Canterbury director Bob Shapland said Wednesday the main sprinkler system there is on a timer and he would look into having it shut off. A lesser system, however, draws from a well, not city water, he said.

School Superintendent Lynn Hise said he wasn't aware of schools watering lawns and added that the school system is trying to comply with the city's request.

As for the city golf course, City Manager Mack Wofford said Wednesday the city watered greens Tuesday with well water, but will use treated effluent from the waste water treatment plant to water greens until the water situation improves.

Spring Water repair set for tonight

By HANK MURPHY Staff Writer

Thanks to conservation by citizens, city reservoirs may have ample water by day's end, allowing crews time tonight to fix a problem that for more than a week has thre atened Big Spring's water supply.

Ci.'y officials, however, strongly urge citizens to continue conserving water until the problem is remedied, which means no outsi de water use.

The city of Coahoma, which buys treated water from Big Spring, also is requesting its citizens refrain from watering lawns and other nonessential water uses, City Clerk Karen Bell said Wednesday.

City Manager Mack Wofford said this morning he's "cautiously optimistic" that with adequate reservoir levels, water plant pumps can be shut off at 10 tonight. Crews then will attempt to pull the malfunctioning mechanism from a 20-inch gait valve and seal the housing with a plate.

Reservoirs gained 1.1 million gallons of water Wednesday and this morning, Wofford said. The city had 5.5 million gallons in storage this morning.

"It appears the great majority of people are conserving," Wofford said, adding that city officials appreciate the citizens

If the repair goes as planned, there will be no interruption of water service. However, residents may be asked to continue limiting water usage until city of-ficials are sure the distribution system is back to normal.

Wednesday night, crews went through a "dress rehearsal" of the repair procedure set for tonight, Wofford said. Pressure checks were performed in and around the valve, and Wofford said officials were "optimistic at what they saw.

Measurements indicated the valve could be isolated from water pressure, Wofford said, and a fire hydrant will be opened on 18th Street to further bleed pressure from the repair area. However, he said it is difficult to predict what will ultimately happen when the valve housing is loosened. Also, he said he cannot estimate how long the procedure will take. The valve's cover plate has been manufactured and fit with a gasket, Wofford said. A crane, a team of workers and a welder will be standing by to assist in the operation, he added. "We're keeping our fingers crossed,"

Power plant to be built near Cosden

By SPENCER SANDOW Staff Writer

A cogeneration power plant to be built in Big Spring will provide 20 to 25 permanent jobs with an annual payroll of about $500,000, a Chamber of Commerce spokesman said this morning.

Troy Fraser, chairman of the Chamber's Industrial Team, which recruits new businesses into the area, said the figures were just preliminary, but should be close to the final ones. Considerably more jobs will be kilowatts, Sanders said. To put the new facility in perspective, he said, the Morgan Creek facility at Colorado City produces about 750,000 kilowatts. Most of the generated power will be used in West Texas, he said. However it is possible that some will be used in other areas. The power generators across the state are linked to distribute power according to need, he said.

The plant will provide more reliability of service for the electric company, Sanders said, as well as providing jobs for the community

A real goat-getter

Staff Writer Lucile Hollis of 603 W. 18th St. moved to Big Spring in 1926 and has attended Howard County Old Settlers Reunions ever since. She says the reunions are much the same today as they were 60 years ago.

"We go to all of them" except when illness prohibits, she said this week. Her husband, Earl, was born in Big Spring and attended the first reunion in 1924, she said

The reunion was almost canceled this year because of a lack of money. Reunion President Pat McNew said in June that l'arge contributors, especially oil companies, decided not donate to the reunion this year because of the poor economy.

But local residents refused to let the tradition die, and rescued the event by donating money and food.

The reunions "haven't changed very much" since 1926, Mrs. Hollis said, except that people brought their own picnic lunches then. Now the lunches are catered, and people over age 70 eat free. Born in 1914 in Eastland, Mrs. Hollis is the former Lucile Butler, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Butler of the Center Point

'Tax reform' means tax increase WASHINGTON (AP) - For middle-income families from a the rate cuts would come six more than 24 million couples and individuals — about one of every four who file returns -"tax reform" will mean a tax increase next year.

That's the latest estimate of the Joint Committee on Taxation, whose figures also show 70 million-plus taxpayers can expect to keep more money as a result of the tax-overhaul plan making its way through Congress. About 10 million would see no change The committee staff estimates that efforts to protect temporary tax increase in 1987 would penalize more than 2 million taxpayers with incomes under $30,000 a year.

The new figures are based on an analysis of the sweeping taxoverhaul plan passed by the Senate. Congressional negotiators are using the Senate bill as a model as they try to write a compromise between it and the version passed by the House

Either bill would repeal or reduce several deductions and slash tax rates significantly. But months after the deductions were taken away. So, taxpayers would lose their deductions for all of 1987 but would pay current tax rates for half the year and the new, lower rates for the last six months

That would mean a temporary tax increase even for those who, under the bill, would get a tax cut starting in 1988.

Most of the impact of delaying the rate cut to July 1 would fall on couples and individuals with incomes between $30,000 and TAXES page 2A

O'Neill backing Gramm-Rudman

WASHINGTON (AP) - House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. today endorsed the Senate decision to restore the automatic spending cuts of the Gramm-Rudman law as necessary to force Congress toward its deficit-reduction targets.

O'Neill said other Democrats would oppose the new plan, passed by the Senate 63-36 on Wednesday, because the authority to order the cutbacks would fall to President Reagan's budget director But he said Gramm-Rudman's current position - which would require the House and Senate to vote on the across-the-board cuts — wouldn't work.

"I don't think we could ever get to (make the cuts) in the House in an election year," O'Neill told reporters. Giving the power to the Office of Management and Budget, to overcome a Supreme Court ruling that voided the original cut-making scheme, would be acceptable "if you can weave it (the law) in such a manner" that congressional priorities were maintained

The court said the original scheme violated the Constitution's separation-of-powers doctrine because the comptroller general - an officer of Congress — would have ordered the executive branch's spending cuts Gramm-Rudman requires Congress and the president to keep next year's deficit below $144 billion. But few steps toward the goal have been taken - in part, lawmakers say, because the Supreme Court removed the threat of the across-the-board cuts.

The new plan gives the comptroller's job to the DEFICIT page 2A

TDC eyes Rusk hospital for mentally ill inmates

By JANET WARR:EN

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN - Texa: prison authorities are thinking about taking over the Rusk State Hospital in East Texas from the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to house its own mentally troubled prisoners.

discussed just about every state to another. hospital in Texas as a possible location for a new psychia tric facility in case TDC takes the Rusk facility, said MHMR spokesman Bob

Only Austin and San Antonio hospitals would not be considered for the relocation, Good said, because they are in urban areas. Other state mental hospitals are in Terrell, Wichita Falls, Vernon, Big Spring and Kerrville. 'We went over and looked at it.' Al Hughes, chairman of the Texas Board of Correction's, said of the Rusk facility. "It cloesn't really lend itself ideally to what we need. But it isn't the time in this state for the ideal situation.

TDC is under court order to build a 300-bed psychiatric unit. A spokeswoman for the attorney general's office said there is no court-ordered or agreed deadline for completing such a facility.

Hughes said he believes TDC could take over an existing structure, such as the Rusk hospital, rather than building a new facility.

If the agency decided to take the Rusk hospital, which has a maximum security unit for the criminally accusied, Hughes said, "I think we would take the whole facility. We would envision hopefully being able to convince the staff that is, there to stay and work for TDC.

The Rusk hospital has 270 patients in the mental hospital and 280 patients in the maximum security unit. It employees 1,400

Hughes said a committee apthe prisons' mental, dental and psychiatric services will consider the possibility of TDC taking over the Rusk facility.

A report from the group is expected in about two months. Hughes said.

The Legislature would have to make the final decision in transfer-And MHMR officials have ring an institution from one agency heard that TDC would like to purchase Rusk and turn the thing into a psychiatric unit and a minimum security prison.' However, Hughes said that he really doesn't know at this point if the facility, if taken by TDC, would be just for psychiatric patients or would also house minimum security prisoners. Good said MHMR would rather not turn over the facility to TDC.

"We would have to find room for our patients elsewhere. We would have to lay off a lot of people. A lot of people probably wouldn't be interested in transferring" to other state hospitals. Also, Good said about 70 percent of the employees at the Rusk hospital are women and may not be good candidates to go to work for TDC. "You can't have a large female population guarding a large male convict population," Good

Instead, MHMR should be paid by TDC to run a psychiatric unit for the troubled prisoners, Good said. 'We could locate it anywhere, whether it would be expanding at Rusk, putting it in another state hospital, putting it into another state facility, keeping it at Rusk and moving a part of the Rusk population elsewhere.'

'We could provide the psychiatric staff necessary to run it. They (TDC) wouldn't have to do hiring and write standards and make all the mistakes that would entail getting it set up. The only thing they would have to do is pay for it and provide extra personnel pointed by the governor to look into required to protect the psychiatric workers," he said.

Former Gov. Bill Clements will be in Big Spring next Thursday, Aug. 7, not today. The date was inadvertently omitted from an article in Wednesday's paper.

Also, the location for his campaign visit has been changed, said spokeswoman for the West Texas Republican Women. He will speak at 10:30 a.m. at the Park Inn International, instead of the First United Methodist Church. Before his speech, a reception will take place in his honor at 9:30 a.m. at the Howard County Airport "commit ourselves once again to balance the budget, to make the hard choices," said Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas. Preliminary economic projections for fiscal 1987 were included in the amendment, although Sen. Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M., the budget committee chairman, said they would be updated before final passage by Congress.

Based on information provided by the Congressional Budget Office and the president's Office of Management and Budget, the legislation envisions 3.5 percent average growth for the economy for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, with continued low inflation and an average three-year Treasury bill rate of 6.2 percent.

The OMB and CBO plan to release their updated economic forecasts in the next two weeks, and then on Aug. 20 will release their formal deficit projections under Gramm-Rudman. The comptroller general would still review those reports, but hand over to OMB the final certification of the required spending cuts.

Friday is work day at the new Humane Society property on Wasson Drive at Granada. Work will begin at 8:30 a.m. with volunteers from the community.

Rex Tucker, 15, son of Roger and Martha Tucker of 901 Dallas, is working to become an Eagle Scout, said Humane Society president Margaret Lloyd.

Tucker, a member of Explorer Post No. 5, will dig posts for the fence around the property as part of his Eagle Scout project, Lloyd said.

He will be assisted by Explorer Scouts Mark and John Barkley, Cary Lowry, Keith Tucker, Mark Richardson and Tommy Stevens. Troop leader is Gary Richardson. Scout Troop 5, under leader Bob Abbott, also will help with the project, Lloyd said. The Humane Society purchased the property recently to be used as an animal shelter for abandoned and abused animals. Currently, such animals are housed in private homes, Lloyd said.

Plane bomber sentenced

AUSTIN - Albert Lee Thielman, portrayed by his lawyer as a cocaine victim, has been given a 40-year prison sentence for placing a bomb on a commercial flight that carried his wife and three children.

The San Marcos man pleaded guilty June 10 to two charges stemming from a blast that damaged an Oct. 30 American Airlines flight from Austin to Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

LTV workers end strike

EAST CHICAGO, Ind. - Workers at LTV Steel Co.'s Indiana Harbor Works have ended a six-day strike as the company restored health insurance benefits to retired workers, a union official said.

Termination of the strike puts into effect an order issued Wednesday night by a federal bankruptcy judge in New York that permits LTV Corp. to resume payments of health and life insurance benefits to 66,000 retirees for six month's, a company spokesman said.

Local 1011, United Steelworkers of America, struck the East Chicago plant Friday after retirees' benefits were suspended as part of LTV's reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws.

MIAMI - The sooty but seaworthy Emerald Seas docked at the port of Miami today with 970 passengers after a shipboard fire that hospitalized 15 other passengers and two crew members.

The injured passengers were airlifted to Miami by U.S. Coast Guard helicopters while their shipmates spent a few hours on Little Stirrup Cay in the Bahamas, an island owned by Eastern Cruise Lines, operator of the ship.

All passengers were evacuated from the Emerald Seas when a smoky fire sparked storeroom explosions Wednesday morning just after the 623-foot liner anchored off the island.

MARIE ODETTE HENDERSON ...died shortly after birth

DERRICK POOLE ...Michele's father

Baby Michele Odette Poole was born Wednesday morning in a hospital in Santa Clara, Calif. A court order had kept a brain-dead, pregnant woman, Marie Odette Henderson, alive until she gave birth.

Healthy baby born to comatose mother

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — A brain-dead woman seven to 10 days. kept on life-support systems for 71/2 weeks until her pregnancy neared term was disconnected and died shortly after giving birth, hospital officials said.

The baby, named Michele Odette Poole, was delivered Wednesday by Caesarean section at Kaiser Permanente Hospital here and was "raring to go," hospital officials said.

The baby's father, Derrick Poole, fiance of 34-yearold Marie Odette Henderson, fought a legal battle with Ms. Henderson's parents, Edna and Otis Henderson of -Detroit, who wanted to disconnect their daughter's life-support systems. Poole, 31, obtained a court order to keep the life-support system connected, eventually reaching an agreement with her parents to keep her alive until the baby was born. He also was granted custody. Ms. Henderson was six months pregnant when she collapsed June 4 because of a stroke caused by a golf ball-size brain tumor. She was declared legally dead three days later. Dr. Stephen Fernbach, director of the neonatal in-

"She was more mature and more vigorous than I expected. She's a real pretty baby," said Fernbach. "She was more active than many normal deliveries. She was raring to go.

After the baby's birth, and the death of Ms. Henderson, Poole said Wednesday, "Knowing Odette, and how bad she wanted to have this baby, maybe it was God's will that today was the time for her — the time to take the baby.'

Michele was delivered by Dr. Donald Dyson, chief of perinatology at Kaiser Permanente Hospital. She weighed 4 pounds, 5 ounces and was 161/2 inches long. Dyson said only 5 percent of all brain-dead people survive more than two weeks on life support, adding that he had read about only five cases of babies being delivered to brain-dead mothers

Doctors decided to deliver the 32-week-old fetus after getting results of an amniocentesis Tuesday that showed the lungs were mature enough.

"I know how it feels to be a father now. She looked at tensive care unit at Kaiser, said the child is doing well me and I looked at her. I only wish Odette were here,' and probably will be ready to leave the hospital in said Poole, waiting outside the delivery room.

Aquino trial to reopen

MANILA, Philippines — A special commis-sion today said ousted President Ferdinand E. Marcos orchestrated last year's acquittal of 26 men charged in the assassination of his rival, Benigno Aquino.

The panel of three retired jurists recommended that the trial be reopened, saying it was "abundantly clear" Marcos not only told prosecutors and judges how to conduct the trial, but also made sure his orders were obeyed.

In its report to the Supreme Court, the commission accused the prosecution of suppressing evidence and said "witnesses were harassed, cajoled, perjured or threatened" to ensure the acquittal of former armed forces chief Gen. Fabian C. Ver, 24 other soldiers and a civilian.

AMMAN, Jordan - Vice President Bush, said by a spokesmen to be getting along with King Hussein "like back-porch neighbors," met with Fordanian officials today to discuss prospects for peace in the Middle East. Bush is on a 10-day swing through three Middle Eastern countries.

The vice president and his wife, Barbara, arrived in Amman from Israel on Wednesday and joined Hussein and American-born Queen Noor for dinner at Nadwa Palace.

Bush and Hussein discussed a wide range of issues, "including the peace process, regional political and economic problems and the Iran-Iraq war," said Bush spokesman Marlin Fitzwater.

Zimbabwe has nothing to lose

In Zimbabwe recently, the Reagan administration fired a howitzer to humble a pesky gnat.

The United States suspended all its $13.5 million in aid to the African country because a Zimbabwean foreign ministry official showed bad manners at a Fourth of July party attended by former president Jimmy Carter.

The slight came when David Karimanzira, Zimbabwe's minister of youth, sport and culture, got up at the U.S. Embassy reception and harangued about the American refusal to impose economic sanctions on South Africa.

Carter left before the speech ended, and he had good reason to feel upset. The Carter administration had initiated much of the American aid that flowed to that African country since a black majority government assumed control in 1980.

Karimanzira was a boorish guest. He chose to criticize American foreign policy at America's birthday party. Even Zimbabwean president Robert Mugabe must have realized that, since he says he's going to send Carter a personal apology. But cutting American aid - then demanding a retraction of the offensive remarks to get it back — seems an extreme reaction.

We suspect that U.S. State Department officials had other bones to pick with the Mugabe government. Nevertheless, they chose to play their hand over a social faux pas.

That ignores the need to view U.S. aid as leverage against more serious misbehavior by a foreign government. We no longer can threaten to cut aid to Zimbabwe if that government mistreats Americans or represses its own people. The Zimbabwean government now has nothing to lose.

Women would lose jewels in sanctions

Donald Regan, the President's chief of staff, gave the only sensible answer to the question of economic sanctions against South

When asked by reporters about using tough measures against Pretoria Regan replied, "Are the women of America prepared to give up all their jewelry?

Though not the key question about South Africa, it certainly ranks up there with the important one. I hadn't realized this until Regan raised the issue as to how American women felt about their

As soon as the news article appeared I took it down to the beach and read it to some very attractive women. Then I asked, "Who among you is prepared to give up your jewelry to stop apartheid?"

"Are we talking about the jewelry we already have, or the jewelry we're going to get?' "It doesn't say," I replied. "But I would assume Regan was talking about jewelry futures. My understanding is that if we lay sanctions on the South Africans it means that we will not be able to buy diamonds and gold for a very long time. Women in this country will suffer like they have never suffered before. You could smell the fear on the

"I don't care about omelettes. I worry about my gold bracelets. My arms will be naked without them. Why can't we go along with sanctions for South Africa except for diamonds, gold and platinum.

"It's all or nothing. This is not my decision but Donald Regan's. It's one that the women of America must decide.

A man who wasn't in our party said, "Does it include men's gold chains as well?'

"Regan said nothing about them as far as I could see. But I would suspect eventually it would include men's jewelry as well. How do you feel about South African sanctions?'

The man put his head in the sand and said, "I don't want to talk about it."

One of the women asked, "Would the embargo include emeralds and rubies and sapphires?

"No, but what good are emeralds, rubies and sapphires without diamonds to make them look good? I know this is a very hard choice for every woman in America to make. At the same time who else is going to decide it? Politically the administration can't afford to cut off women's jewels just to show South Africa how tough we can be.

One of the women had a question. 'Would there be a safety net for those of us who don't have too many jewels to start with?"

I referred to the newspaper story. "There is nothing about a safety net in Regan's statement. If you want the truth. I think the administration is against sanctions and Regan wants to use the American woman to get the White House off the hook. When the administration starts feeling all the pressure in Congress to do something about South Africa, Regan will say I wanted to but the American woman wouldn't let me. She was afraid that with sanctions she'd have nothing to put on her "Go away," one of the women said.

"There is more," I told her. "If we have sanctions against South Africa we won't get any chrome for our bathroom fixtures.

For the first time everyone looked up in horror. "That does it," the lady said. "Tell Regan we'll support Ronnie's South Africa nosanction policy all the way.

Friends in Congress help persistent billboard owner

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON - Special interests with the right connections can thumb their noses at government agencies, the courts and the law of the land. All they need is a little help from their friends in Congress

Consider the mighty billboard industry, one of the biggest contributors of campaign funds and speaking fees to members of Congress, particularly those on such key committees as House Public Works. The industry's demand is simple, if outrageous: compensation for destruction of their billboards, even though the owners agreed not to ask for compensation when they got permission to erect

Harold Newman may be the most persistent billboard owner around. He owns 119 billboards in North Dakota, one of the states that allowed the outdoor-advertising industry to continue putting up its eyesores between 1965, when the Highway Beautification Act was passed, and 1972, when it took Newman took advantage of this grace period. But stamped on each of his 119 billboard permits was this condition: that he would not be compensated when the state ordered his signs torn down. In 1972, the state did just that - and Newman launched a legal battle.

Since then, Newman has been rebuffed by the state, courts, the governor of North Dakota, the state and federal departments of transportation and the U.S. Supreme Court. Was he discouraged? Not at all. He went to Congress for help - and got it. During the Public Works Committee's markup of the latest federal highway bill on June 25, Rep. Bud Shuster, R-Pa., offered an amendment that will pay Newman for removal of his signs. The amendment sailed through with the blessing of Rep. Jim Howard, D-N.J., the silver-haired water boy for the billboard industry, who is chairman of the committee. The outdooradvertising moguls pamper Howard with campaign donations, speaking honoraria and junkets to vacation spots like Palm Springs.

Jack Anderson

The Newman amendment and 17 others had been secretly discussed and agreed to beforehand by the cent study by the inspector committee's Big Four: Howard, Shuster and Reps. Glenn Anderson, D-Calif., and Gene Snyder, R-Ky. This is Standard Operating Procedure for the Public Works Committee.

Ordinarily, the Cadillac-driving Howard is careful not be directly linked to billboard legislation, leaving it to Shuster or others to take responsibility for the specialinterest legislation.

On the Newman amendment, however, Howard intervened personally, and in writing. Last Sept. 9 he tipped his hand in a letter to North Dakota's attorney general, saying that "inequities do remain" in the state's decision not to compensate Newman and other billboard owners holding the interim permits.

"I am, therefore, considering the need to clarify the compensable status of these signs," Howard

His letter drew protests from state and federal transportation officials, who mistakenly believed they had convinced Howard of the error of his ways. Nine months later, they were astonished to see the Newman amendment attached to the highway bill - along with five paragraphs of attempted justification.

"Mr. Newman is just persistent," a federal highway official explained to our associate Stewart

Final Exam

Harris. "He wants money for those signs and he will do anything on the books to get it. ... We are against it,

"The issue has been in the courts since 1973 and the question of compensability has been ruled in favor of the state," North Dakota highway commissioner Walter Hjelle complained in a letter to Shuster asking him to butt out.

Footnote: Newman's 119 billboards are still standing.

FUDDLE FACTORY: It takes the State Department 10 months on average to declassify and release documents that have been requested under the Freedom of Information Act, according to a regeneral. It's not a deliberate coverup, though, he concluded — merely incompetence. Specifically, the delays were blamed on lack of coordination, too much time wasted finding the documents and unduly voluminous requests by two or three individuals. The inspector general's proposed solution is weird: Limit the number of pages and the number of requests per person, and charge higher fees. This is freedom of information?

MINI-EDITORIAL: The "Scopes II" trial in East Tennessee has been as bizarre as it is disturbing. Fundamentalist Christian parents don't want their children exposed to textbooks that conflict with the parents' deeply held religious beliefs. They object to "Goldilocks and the Three Bears" (because the tot wasn't punished for breaking and entering), "Jack and Jill" (dancing in the moonlight is akin to devil worship) and "The Three Little Pigs" (dancing around the wolf in the kettle smacks of witchcraft). May we suggest to these upright, uptight folks that another children's classic, "Misty of Chincoteague," clearly suggests that ponies propagate?

Some people say laughter is the best medicine. If so, since Tuesday, I should be pretty healthy.

The Herald gets stories from around the world from the Associated Press. And Tuesday was a red-letter day:

Young mother's discipline provokes shopper's disgust

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday while grocery shopping, I witnessed a young mother screaming at her son to hurry up and choose between a Twinkie and a Ding Dong. The child was so frightened he couldn't decide. Instead of waiting, she grabbed him by his hair and whipped his head back! He started crying and fell to the floor. She reached down, pulled the little fellow to his feet, then slapped him as hard as she could and whipped his head back again. Needless to say, the child ended up with nothing.

I noticed that four or five other shoppers had witnessed this cruel scene and appeared as disgusted as

Von Willebrand's: An inherited bleeding disorder

Emcee for the event was Tim Howard College.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My children and I have just been diagnosed as having Von Willebrand's disease, which is also called hemophilia — Type C. I am wondering what other information you could relate about this disease.

Von Willebrand's disease is an inherited defect in the blood's clotting ability. It is not the serious problem that classic hemophilia is.

Among symptoms that may add up to Von Willebrand's are easy bleeding, prolonged bleeding with touch extraction, excessive menstrual flow, and skin bruising. The symptoms usually appear in childhood and may decrease somewhat as you get older.

In Von Willebrand's there's a missing blood protein, one that normally helps platelets stick together to form clots. There is also a less than normal amount of another blood-clotting factor, the same one that's involved in the classic hemophilia. But, as I noted, the bleeding of Von Willebrand's is usually less serious than in that classic form

Von Willebrand's cannot be cured, but it can be dealt with successfully. If you ever need surgery, all the doctors should, of course, know of the condition. You can be given the missing clotting factors beforehand. Offspring of patients should be checked, for half may have also inherited the problem.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Have you heard of using steroids for migraine headaches? Is this effective? - Mrs. T.P.

In certain situtions, steroids may be used. If a headache lingers for more than a couple of days, for example, one of the contributing factors might be inflammation of the head blood vessels. The vessel expansion of migraine may actually have subsided, but the lingering inflammation might be causing the residual pain. In such cases, steroids can quiet things in a few days, and the pain disappears. For your other migraine questions, see the booklet "Headache: CausesSymptoms-Cures," which other readers may order by writing me and enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and $1.00.

FOR S.D.L. - You must be referring to the ratio between total blood cholesterol and the amount of HDL (high density lipoprotein, the 'good'' cholesterol). If you divide total cholesterol by the HDL amount and get a result of six or lower, you have a good reading. If you get a higher number it means that either total cholesterol is too high or the amount of good cholesterol is too low. Ideal total cholesterol levels are between 180

To learn of the many factors involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia (which concerns the esophagus), write to Dr. Donohue, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of his booklet, 'Hiatal Hernia, Heartburn and Acid Reflux'

God's insturment of instruction (The Bible) is the only one that can be relied on as perfectly fit for God's purpose. In it we are sure that there is no deficiency to be found. Its order, its connection, its choice of words, its quality, its clarity of statements, are all the work of an unerring God, and therefore must be the fittest for its intended purpose possible. Its declarations are clear, just, and beneficent. Its motives are the most interesting and powerful that the boundless wisdom of God could make them. Its council, admonitions, reproofs, and threatenings, are full of wisdom, utility, and kindness, and its examples and histories are peculiarly impressive and instructive. In short, like its divine Author, it is in all respects perfect, and therefore no change can possibly be made on it without destroying, in proportion to the magnitude of that change, its fitness to accomplish its most benevolent and important purpose, to enlighten the mind, regenerate the heart, and rectify the conduct of mankind. God's instrument of instruction is alone safe. Read it for yourself.

All rodeo fans take note that it's rodeo time in Big Spring again, and the juniors are working just as hard to please the fans as the pros did last month.

Bullriding, calf roping and bareback riding are just a few of the events that are sure to provide more thrills than tonight's scheduled sitcoms and soaps. The eight-andunder cowboys and cowgirls are especially fun to watch.

It's also nice to spend some of the day under an open sky without a scalding sun to run you indoors. For more reasons than one can think of, the rodeo bowl is the place to

The Grand Entry starts at 7:30. See you there.

A drive to Monahans, which is but a hop-skip-and-a-jump in Texas, is all that separates dedicated softball fans from cheering on one of three Big Spring teams playing this

The girls are vying for the United States Girls Softball Association National Championships, and all indications are that these girls will bring home some trophies.

The Division II girls, age 10-12, looked particularly strong at last week's regional tournament in Andrews. They went undefeated, whipping every opponent. Their closest game was a five run breather.

I'm sure the girls would be proud and honored to hear a crowd full of Big Spring voices cheering them on. It might be all they'll need.

Reports from Lake Whitney tell us that the sandies are biting, with several stringers of as many as 40 sandies getting reeled in. Benny and Judy Scott were responsible for that high number, and Clifford Davis was right behind with a stringer of 32 sandies.

In the Nolan River, 65 channel catfish were caught using grasshoppers, and several big stripers were caught in Mc-Cown Valley and and around the Katy Bridge.

The lake temperature is 75 degrees, and the lake elevation is 532.78 feet, just a bit below normal.

Sorry to report that the Adult Highway 80 Tennis Tournament scheduled for this weekend at Figure 7 Tennis Center has been cancelled due to lack of entries.

Charleen Sparling at Figure 7 said the next scheduled adult tournament is the Crossroads Stampede, scheduled for August 15-17.

Forsan High School football coach John Schafer said Forsan athletes will be getting their physicals at the same times and places as Big Spring High School athletes.

The first session will be Wednesday, August 6 at the Malone-Hogan Clinic at 5 p.m. The second session will be Saturday, August 9 at 8:45 a.m. at a site to be determined.

The cost of the physicals is $8. There will be more information coming in the August 3 edition of the Herald.

The Nomads will have a co-ed softball tournament August 15-17 at Johnny Stone Memorial Park.

Entry fee is $100 per team and entry deadline is August 14. To enter call 267-1649 (day) or 267-5980 (night).

The Second Annual All-American Classic men's softball tournament will be August 1-2 at Johnny Stone Memorial

The first six finishers will receive team trophies. The first four finishers will also receive individual trophies. There will be 10 all-tournament picks, MVP, sportsmanship and golden glove awards.

To enter call Rocky Vieira at 267-7773.

The Crossroad Stampede men and women golf and tennis tournaments will be August 16-17. The golf will be played at Comanche Trail Golf Course, and the tennis will be at Figure Seven Tennis Center. The tennis will begin August 15.

There will a two player men's scramble tourney and a two player women's scramble tourney. Entry fee is $100 per team. Teams will be flighted after the first day. A barbecue will be held August 16 at 7 p.m. at Dora Roberts Community Center.

First place will receive a set of irons, second place, a set of woods and third place, golf bag. Send entries to Jim Balios, 1709 Alabama, Big Spring, Tx., 79720.

The Big Spring United Girls Softball Association is requesting donations to help pay for last week's trip to Andrews and this week's trip to Monahans for the National Championships, said Kay Barnett. Three of four Big Spring teams qualified for the National Championships and will travel to Monahans where they will stay from Wednesday to Sunday. Barnett said that expense money for this week's trip is badly needed.

Donations are being taken at Neil's Pharmacy on 600 Gregg Street. For more informion, call Kay Barnett at 267-8963.

Calf ropers and goat baggers put on a show

By EDDIE CURRAN Staff Writer

The future stars of the professional rodeo circuit showed their mettle Wednesday night as the 41st annual Howard County 4-H Club Junior Rodeo got underway at the Howard County rodeo bowl.

The breakaway ropers, both boys and girls, put on quite a show last night, with a high percentage of the calves running across the arena with rope around their necks.

Mitzi Mayes of Manor roped her calf in a lightning quick 3.33 seconds to edge Abilene's Lari Dee Guy's 4.06 second roping in the girls 13-15 age bracket.

In the 16-19 girls competition, Aspermont's Karen Cochran roped her calf in 3.19 seconds, the third fastest time of the night, including the boys. Rachel Everett of Snyder finished second with a 3.43 second

A 12-and-under boy, Jeffrey Yates of Corsicana, recorded the second fastest roping of the night when he lassoed his calf in 3.10 seconds. Toby Beyer of Stephenville was right behind him with a 3.17 second run.

The fastest rope of the night belonged to Marty Wells. It took only 2.47 seconds for the Sulphur, Okla., cowboy to get the job done. Another Yates boy from Corsicana, Marty, finished second with a 3.21 second roping

One of the highlights of last night's show was the goat sacking contest. Rodeo announcer Wayne Henry beckoned all the children 10 and under in the crowd to enter the arena and take a burlap sack.

"Here come the goatsackers!" Henry called, as a pack of small cowboys and cowgirls lined up in the center of the rodeo bowl. The frightened goats huddled in a circle as the eager youngsters, in sprinters start positions, awaited the go-ahead.

Henry, expressing what was on everybody's mind, asked, "How would you like to be a goat, crowd, with this group coming at you?"

When the kids heard the anticipated, "On your mark — get set go!", they raced to the herded goats, who huddled, looked at one another, and scattered like

NEW YORK (AP) — The USFL, which had hoped for, and expected, a financial bonanza from a jury, is trying to get quick relief from the courts rather than depend on the long and tedious appeal process.

"Obviously, time is not one of our great luxuries," Harvey Meyerson. the league's lead attorney, said Wednesday, outlining four possible legal courses the USFL will follow in its appeal of the jury's decision to award $1 - trebled to $3 rather than the $1.69 billion the league had sought in its antitrust suit against the NFL.

Myerson and USFL Commissioner Harry Usher assailed what they saw as the contradiction between the finding of the six jurors, who ruled that the NFL monopolized pro football in violation of antitrust laws, and the award of just that single dollar, although Judge Peter K. Leisure's 155-page charge specifically told the jurors they could do just that.

Myerson said his alternatives

 A request for a new trial solely on the damages issue, probably with a new jury. He said that is the avenue he personally favors based on the allegations by Miriam Sanchez, a juror who said outside the courtroom that she favored substantial damages but agreed on the nominal dollar assuming that Leisure could award more.

A request for a new trial on all

- A direct plea to the Second Circuit Court of Appeals, the next highest court.

Myerson, who met with Leisure and NFL attorneys for 15 minutes to set a timetable for the normal post-trial motions, cited Sanchez's claim that she favored an award to the USFL of between $200 million and $300 million and that at least one other juror agreed with her

However, another juror, Margaret Lilienfeld, said that she never heard that larger figure mentioned and said the jurors were quite aware of what they were doing when they awarded the $1.

Clemens explodes as Sox falter; Slaught beats Orioles in 11th

By DICK BRINSTER AP Sports Writer

Despite a slump that has seen them lose 12 of their last 16 games, the Boston Red Sox remained confident they would win any time ace right-hander Roger Clemens stepped on the mound. But Boston, which has lost half of its eight-game lead in the American League East this month, never figured to lose because Clemens would fail to step on first "There's no question in my mind

I got the bag," Clemens said of the decisive fifth-inning play that gave the Chicago White Sox the goahead run in a 7-2 victory Wednesday night. Clemens, 17-3, not only missed the bag — at least in the opinion of umpire Greg Kosc — he missed the rest of the game after making contact with the arbiter, who promptly tossed him out of the game. "He said I bumped him, but his arm bumped up against me when he pointed to the bag," Clemens said if the dispute that followed. "He said I'm gone. "I lost it (his composure) when I realized I was being taken out of a situation to win a ballgame and to win for my team," said Clemens, who has three of Boston's four victories in those 16 games. "I had to calm down, I was hyperventilating.

John Cangelosi scored the goahead run when Kosc ruled Clemens had failed to touch the bag on a throw from Bill Buckner, who had handled Harold Baines' grounder

"I honestly believe I had the play right," Kosc said. "Why would I want call the guy safe?" The video replay appeared to show that Baines was out. "The replay is wrong because they got the wrong angle," Kosc

But McNamara refused to say the play had cost the Red Sox the game.

After a brief decline prior to his All-Star Game appearance, Milwaukee's Ted Higuera has returned to his early-season form. Higuera, 13-7 after winning his third consecutive game, was 1-2 in the four starts prior to the break. He struck out six in completing his

Blue Jays 7, Royals 2 Toronto's Joe Johnson was hap-

Bobby Valentine to some rest before the Rangers start a road 'It just so happened that he needed me tonight in the 10th and things worked out for us," said Slaught, whose two-run homer in the 11th inning was his 11th homer of the season, setting a new club record for home runs in one year by a catcher.

Jeff Russell, 2-1, the fourth Ranger pitcher, picked up the victory. Pete Incaviglia hit a threerun homer, his 17th, for the Rangers son, Nettles lead Padres past Reds

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Write

Ed Whitson heard something he hasn't heard for quite a while - a standing ovation. And Graig Nettles saw something he hasn't seen for quite a while - his batted ball going over the fence.

The two rare occurrences added up to a 9-3 victory for the San Diego Padres over the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday night.

"I've been a long time waiting for something like that," said Whitson after gaining his first victory since rejoining the Padres July 9 in trade with the New York Yankees.

Pittsburgh Pirates Barry Bonds is out at first as Montreal Expos pitcher Jay Tibbs reaches base first during first inning action in Montreal

Nettles, meanwhile, broke out of a 2-for-18 slump with a pair of homers, his first since June 19.

"I knew I'd had some success against him, but he's not normally the type of pitcher I hit well," said Netties, who had a three-run homer in a five-run third off John Denny. In other National League action, it was Montreal 3, Pittsburgh 2; St. Louis 6, Philadelphia 3; Houston 4, Atlanta 2; Chicago 4, New York 3, and Los Angeles 4, San Francisco

Padres 9, Reds 3

After hitting his three-run homer in the third, Nettles capped the Padres' scoring with his two-run shot in the eighth. The homers gave him 14 for the season and 382 for his career, tying him with Frank Howard for 24th on the all-time list. Whitson, 1-2, allowed six hits, struck out three and walked five in 7 2-3 innings before needing relief help from Gene Walter. Whitson won 14 games with the 1984 National League Champion Padres, but was signed by the Yankees the following year as a free agent. He was a frequent target of booing Yankee fans during his two years in New York.

"This reminded me of 1984,"

Whitson said. "But this one seemed a little louder than all of those." Denny, 7-10, gave up 10 hits and six runs in 5 1-3 innings.

Expos 3, Pirates 2 Andre Dawson scored from third on a wild pitch for the Expos' second run in the seventh inning, carrying Montreal over Pittsburgh. The Expos trailed 2-1 heading into the seventh but pinch-hitter Wallace Johnson's first homer in the majors, off Jim Winn, 2-4, tied the game with nobody out. Two outs later, Dawson walked, took third on a single by Hubie Brooks and raced home when Winn's pitch sailed by his catcher, Tony Pena.

Jay Tibbs, 5-6, who hasn't won a game since June 10, was the winner with late relief help from Bob Mc-Clure and Jeff Reardon, who registered his 23rd save.

each singled home a run in the fifth inning and reliever Todd Worrell earned his 21st save with a sparkling relief performance as St. Louis defeated Philadelphia.

The game was tied 2-2 in the fifth when the Cardinals collected four straight singles, including the runscoring blows by Ford and Pendleton Worrell then worked out of a tough situation in the seventh, getting Mike Schmidt and Von Haves with the bases loaded, to preserve Bob Forsch's 10th victory in 16 decisions and fourth in a row. Forsch pitched six innings, giving up nine hits.

"Put Worrell down as your Rookie of the Year," said St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog. "He throws 93, 4, 5 miles-an-hour, throws strikes and he's big. He scares vou. Astros 4, Braves 2

held Atlanta to four hits in 8 2-3 innings and Glenn Davis hit a solo homer, leading Houston over the Braves

Deshaies, 6-3, struck out nine and walked only one before needing last-out relief help from Dave Smith, who recorded his 19th save.

The only runs off Deshaies came on a two-run homer in the ninth with one out by Ken Griffey, his fifth. Loser Jim Acker, 1-1, pitched 4 1-3 innings and gave up four runs, three earned, on eight hits.

Houston took a 3-0 lead in the first on RBI singles by Kevin Bass, Alan Ashby and Craig Reynolds. The Astros increased their lead to 4-0 in the fifth when Davis hit his 23rd homer, tying him with Cincinnati's Dave Parker for the National League lead.

Cubs 4, Mets 3

Ron Cey drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double in the first inning and Dennis Eckersley and two relievers combined on a sevenhitter as Chicago defeated New York in a rain-delayed game.

Eckersley, 5-6, struck out four and walked one in five innings before rain halted the game in the top of the sixth for nearly two hours. Frank DiPino and Lee Smith finished up, with Smith gaining his 19th save.

Sid Fernandez, 12-4, suffered his second straight defeat after seven wins in a row, despite striking out a season-high 11. He allowed three walks, all in the first inning, to set the stage for Cey's double.

Dodgers 4, Glants 2 Bob Welch and Tom Niedenfuer combined on a six-hitter and Mike Scioscia's squeeze bunt capped a three-run first inning as Los Angeles defeated San Francisco, completing a three-game sweep of the slumping Giants. Welch, 5-9, retired 18 of the first 19 batters and allowed four hits over seven innings while striking out eight. Niedenfuer pitched the final two innings for his sixth save. Welch held the Giants scoreless until the seventh, when Joel Youngblood hit a two-run homer.

The Dodgers scored three times in the first against rookie lefthander Terry Mullholand, 0-4. Steve Sax, batting for Welch in the seventh, delivered the fourth Dodger run with a single off reliever Jeff Robinson.

The defeat was the fourth in a row for the second-place Giants.

FORECAST FOR PRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1988 GENERAL TENDENCIES: The month of August is ushered in by most everyone having a restless and nervous reaction to whatever happens. Use the mind which is logical.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get yourself well-organized so you can follow through in the right direction and not scatter your forces. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study some monetary matter carefully so that you do not make a costly mistake and suffer. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are nervous and cannot decide which course to follow, so deliberate a little longer than usual. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Be more dependable with your mate and stop flitting around. Don't make radical changes

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Study all phases of some new proposal and then you can come to the right decision. Spend time with your mate.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) This is not a good day to ask favors of important people. Next week you may get far better results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Study those changes you plan to make more carefully or you could run into major difficulty.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Forget about discussing that topic with your mate on which you always SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) It may be difficult to come to an agreement with a partner. Not a good day to solve problems.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't worry over some minor health problem since you can soon get rid of it. Have more faith.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You want to get into many amusements which is fine provided you do not appear to be giddy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Criticism can begin quite a ruckus at home. Not a good day to invite guests in. Much care is needed in motion.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will study many subjects, both intellectual and manual, so be encouraging in this. Teach perseverance in whatever has been started and not to drop it when the sledding gets a little too tough. This will make a fine and successful person.
