How's that? Scholarships

Q. How much money does Howard College spend yearly on athletic scholarships?

A. College president Dr. Bob Riley said the college spends about $80,000 per year on athletic scholarships, which go to about 80 athletes each year.

He said the scholarship recipients bring the college about $250,000 a year in state revenues through contact-hour funding, based on one student in contact with one faculty member for one hour.

Considering state funds received and expenditures paid by the college, the athletic scholarship program "pretty well breaks even," he said.

Appraiser predicts tax hike

Property owners to feel brunt

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Most owners of family dwellings and commercial properties can expect to pay more in county taxes in 1986 than they did in 1985, Chief Appraiser Gene Pereira said this morning.

The increase will result from a decreased market value of the county's mineral rights and the slumping oil market, he said. Normally, mineral right holders are assessed a higher value, Pereira said. Commercial and real property owners will pick up the slack, he said.

This year's mineral rights appraisals were reduced an average of 13 percent, the chief appraiser said.

Also, the reduced selling prices of better homes in the county lowered their valuation, the chief appraiser said.

"The better housing subdivisions in the county lost more in value than the older ones," Pereira said.

Residential properties in high flood plain areas also were reduced in value, Pereira said. This includes certain lots in the Coronado subdivision and lots located near Jones Creek, he said.

Howard County Judge Milton Kirby said this morning that County Tax Assessor Dorothy Moore informed commissioners she calculated the county's effective tax rate for 1986 at 29 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The rate in 1985 was 22 cents per $100.

The judge said Moore's 29-cent calculation was based on the county's ability to raise the same revenues in 1986 as it did in 1985 without trimming the budget.

Kirby said he hopes commissioners are able to lower the rate to 26 cents after they approve budget cuts later this month.

The county's $3 million surplus a year ago was reduced this year, Kirby said, because of $1.5 million budgeted for the new courthouse annex and about $700,000 budgeted for indigent health care.

Spending cut plan set for House vote

AUSTIN (AP) — A $632.2 million package of spending cuts is headed for the House floor, where Speaker Gib Lewis said it will be approved and sent to the Senate.

"What we have tried to do is make some cuts that would not damage any services we provide," Lewis said after the appropriations committee voted 24-4 Wednesday for the measure now scheduled for Friday floor debate.

But one appropriations panel member said the cuts will cause pain — and possibly deaths. Doyle Willis, D-Fort Worth, said the plan takes too much out of human services programs, including a move that would prevent scheduled hiring of more investigators for child abuse cases.

"There's no doubt in my mind that if this bill passes without the people being allowed to investigate the complaints on abused children, we'll lose four or five children that will be killed," Willis said.

But when the vote was taken, with Lewis looking on, Willis voted "aye."

"I'm whipped," he said. The cuts are a major part of Lewis' plan to get the state through the cash crunch without the tax hikes pushed by Gov.

Mark White and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby are seen in a hearing room during a Senate Finance Committee hearing Wednesday in Austin. Richards told the Committee that unless lawmakers enacted new revenue measures during the special session, Texas will not be able to honor checks by September 1987.

The strong support shown here today indicates the willingness on the part of the House to make some very drastic cuts," Lewis said of the appropriations committee vote. "I'd like to challenge anyone from this point on who says there is any fat in state spending."

The cuts hit almost all areas of state government, including a 13 percent reduction for spending on higher education.

Voting against the bill were Reps. Eddie Cavazos, D-Corpus Christi; A.C. Garcia, D-Pharr; Frank Madla, D-San Antonio; and Tom Uher, D-Bay City.

State Treasurer Ann Richards told lawmakers Wednesday that cuts alone probably won't solve the budget crisis. She called for a tax hike to be enacted during the special session.

"A program of budget cuts solves the cash-flow problem only temporarily until August 1987, and delaying revenue measures until January will be too late," she said.

White said he is reviewing the House committee's plan. "We're still talking," he said.

The total state deficit is projected to hit $3.5 billion next August if taxes are not raised or spending cut. Lewis said a tax bill, if needed, should be considered in the regular 1987 session beginning next January.

The appropriations committee delayed action on another portion of the Lewis plan, a plan to raid the Permanent University Fund and Permanent School Fund for $1.1 billion.

Contra aid vote clears way for sanctions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's approval of President Reagan's $100 million plan to arm and equip Nicaragua's Contra guerrillas sets the stage for a vote this week approving sanctions against the white minority government of South Africa.

Debate opens on more than 50 amendments to a package of sanctions approved 15-2 by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Senators seeking the strongest possible sanctions want to strengthen the sanctions bill. Senators who oppose all sanctions seek to weaken it.

But the 89-11 vote by which the Republican-controlled Senate approved choking off debate on the sanctions legislation is a signal that there apparently is overwhelming support for at least some form of sanctions.

The Contra aid package is headed for a conference committee with the Democratic-run House, which approved $100 million for the rebels on June 25 as part of its version of the pending military construction appropriations bill. The conference is not expected to convene until after Congress returns from its three-week Labor Day recess in early September.

Contra aid and South Africa sanctions, two unrelated but highly controversial foreign policy issues, were linked in a complex and unusual agreement drafted by the Senate's Republican and Democratic leaders in an attempt to break a procedural impasse that was preventing action on either measure.

That impasse was ended Wednesday afternoon when the Senate, hurdling legislative roadblocks in three roll call votes, invoked cloture and limited debate on both measures. Eventually it voted 53-47 to approve Contra aid and $300 million in assistance for four of Nicaragua's neighbors: Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras.

Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., who strongly opposes Contra aid and strongly supports South Africa sanctions, said the time had come for the Senate to be practical.

"It has been a three-legged race for too long; the time has come to untie the runners," Weicker said after the Senate had at first come one vote short of cutting off the Contra debate.

"The time has come for the world to understand that President Reagan does not speak for the American people on this issue," Weicker said.

In the end, the Senate backed cutting off debate on Contra aid, 62-37.

In two days of debate on the Contra measure, the Senate rejected complaints it was giving the Reagan administration a blank check or that it was opening the door to sending American troops to war in Nicaragua.

Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Ind., the Foreign Relations Committee chairman, called that "nonsense."

Interstate banking approved by panel

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate Economic Environment Committee approved 8-1 on Wednesday an interstate banking bill so it will be ready for debate when, and if, Gov. Mark White opens the special session to the topic.

A committee vote on branch banking was scheduled later.

So far the governor, who has authority to set the agenda for a special session, has asked legislators only to debate 1987 budget cuts.

However, White has indicated he might approve consideration of banking issues after the fiscal problems are settled.

The House Financial Institutions Committee held a hearing last week on interstate and branch banking but left the issue pending for future action.

Sen. Ike Harris, R-Dallas, said Wednesday the Senate Economic Development Committee would attempt to complete committee work on his three proposed bills and have them ready for full Senate

"This is a joint effort to solve all Texas bank problems," Bruce LaBoon, of Houston, speaking for the Texas Association of Bank Holding Companies, told the Senate committee.

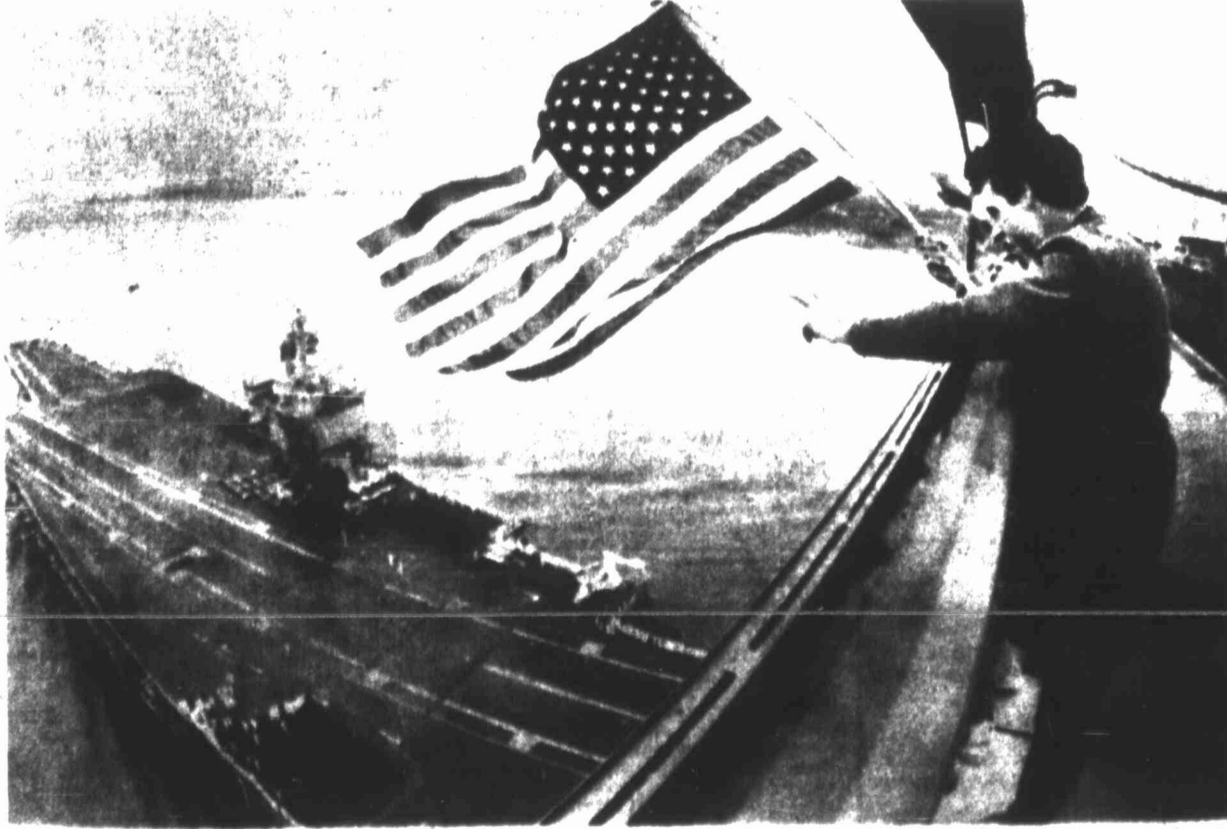

He said independent and holding company banks were agreed that nationwide interstate banking with no reciprocity was best for Texas. "This gives Texas banks more options rather than less," he said.

In addition to allowing Texas to set its own rules in interstate banking, the proposed bills by Harris would require that no more than 25 percent of Texas banks could be acquired by out-of-state banks.

A Texas bank would have to be five years old before it could be purchased by an out-of-state holding company.

State Banking Commissioner James Sexton recommended an amendment Wednesday to the five-year rule for banks that fail.

"If out-of-state money can save a failed bank, they should have the chance," he said.

Study clears pill

BOSTON — The largest investigation ever into links between birth control pills and breast cancer provides "very reassuring information" on the safety of oral contraceptives used by millions of American women, a researcher says.

The study, published today, turned up no evidence that the pill causes breast cancer, even among women who might already be at higher-than-usual risk.

But experts caution that it still may be many years before all doubts are settled about the life-long effects of the pill.

Burgers to aid south

RIESEL, Texas — "Hey buddy, how about a hayburger?"

That will be the pitch to people passing through this Central Texas town Saturday when the First Baptist Church of Riesel sets out to sell 1,000 charbroiled burgers to buy bales of hay from Texas farmers to send to drought-stricken farmers in the Southeast.

"In this area, there are farmers who have more hay than they know what to do with," said the Rev. Liebert Armour. "They can't afford to give it away because that's their income. That's one reason we're buying hay rather than sending money. It also will help Texas farmers."

Organizers hope to send a bale of hay for each burger sold.

Judiciary panel to vote

WASHINGTON — President Reagan's plans to reshape the Supreme Court should clear an important hurdle with the Senate Judiciary Committee vote on the nominations of William H. Rehnquist and Antonin Scalia, lawmakers predicted.

The committee was to vote today on Justice Rehnquist's nomination to succeed the retiring Warren E. Burger as chief justice and on the nomination of Scalia, a federal appeals court judge, to fill the vacancy created by Burger's departure.

Democrats and Republicans predicted the panel would approve both nominations, sending them to the full Senate for expected confirmation next month.

Oilmen request tax veto

WASHINGTON — A Texas congressman and two oilmen plan to ask President Reagan today to veto the massive tax overhaul bill if it reduces oil and gas tax incentives for the domestic oil industry.

They want Reagan to make clear to House-Senate conferees on the tax bill that — on the basis of national security — he will not support legislation with negative tax changes for the industry.

The House-Senate tax conference committee, making final changes in the historic legislation, has a good chance of completing the bill by the end of the week, according to Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Firefighters, using water hoses, douse burning shops in the Christian east Beirut commercial district of Dora today shortly after a car bomb laden with 110 kilograms (242 pounds) of explosives went off. Police reported at least 19 people were killed and 90 others wounded.

Car bomb

19 killed; 90 hurt in Christian east Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A blue Mercedes-Benz sedan packed with explosives blew up next to a coffee shop today, devastating a neighborhood in Christian east Beirut. Police said 19 people were killed and 90 were wounded.

The Christian-controlled Voice of Lebanon radio station quoted unidentified witnesses as saying they saw a driver in the car moments before it blew up. Police said they could not confirm the report.

The car bombing, the fourth in the capital in 18 days, set two apartment buildings on fire, including one owned by President Amin Gemayel's family, police said. Rescuers used ladders to evacuate tenants trapped by the flames in the Gemayels' seven-story building.

No member of the president's family lived in the building, police said.

The blast, which occurred about 100 yards from St. Joseph Hospital, wrecked 30 shops and 27 cars. Seven bodies removed from the cars were charred beyond recognition, police said.

Five other buildings were heavily damaged in the 10 a.m. explosion.

Civil defense rescuers, fire engines and ambulances raced to the scene, and hospitals broadcast radio appeals for blood donations.

The Mercedes-Benz that blew up held about 242 pounds of explosives, according to army explosive expert Sgt. Maj. Youssef Bitar.

"It's a big, big explosion. We can't handle the casualties," said a nurse at St. Joseph Hospital reached by telephone who declined to give her name.

Fuad Abu Nader, a nephew of Gemayel who led a revolt Sunday within the Christian Lebanese Forces militia, is recuperating at the hospital from gunshot wounds suffered in an ambush Monday.

Abu Nader, 34, masterminded the revolt to oust the Christian militia's anti-Syrian commander, 37-year-old Samir Geagea. But police and Christian radios said there was no evidence the car bombing was linked to the inter-Christian power struggle.

Police said Geagea's forces staged a counterattack in east Beirut today and crushed the rebels.

Geagea's loyalists stormed into the Karm el-Zaitoun, Matahan and Ashrafiyeh districts at mid-morning and besieged rebels led by Abu Nader's supporter Maroun Mashalani, police said.

Mashalani surrendered after Geagea loyalists pounded his hideout with rocket-propelled grenades, police said.

The chief of the Phalange Party security department Butros Khawand took Mashalani, 26, into custody and Geagea's fighters withdrew from the three districts, according to police.

Schools empty today

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Secondary schools in several black townships were deserted today except for teachers and security forces as students boycotted classes. Sporadic violence, the most widespread since the declaration of the state of emergency, persisted.

Authorities said a gang of blacks burned a black woman to death and police killed one of the slain woman's attackers.

Today's violence was less sustained and intense than Wednesday, when students roamed the black township of Soweto, stoning and setting fire to vehicles.

Refugees are mystery

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland — Police said they are trying to determine why markings in German were found on life jackets worn by some of the 152 rescued Sri Lankans who said they sailed to Canadian waters from India.

A spokesman for the Sri Lankan Tamils, 46-year-old Nalliah Wijayanathan, repeated at a news conference Wednesday that the would-be refugees began their passage aboard an Asian-crewed freighter in India in the first week of July.

"We need not lie. I'm telling you the truth," he said.

But Rudolf Fischer, a West German state legislator, said he had information that the Sri Lankans left Jork, near the port of Hamburg, on July 27 bound for France, where they reportedly were to board a freighter for Canada.

Dollar falls on market

LONDON — The U.S. dollar hit a new record low since the late 1940s in Japan and fell against all other major currencies in early European trading today.

Gold bullion prices were little changed in mixed trading.

Dealers said the dollar fell on continued belief that the U.S. economy remains sluggish, but trading was quiet because there was little fresh market-moving news.

Most Frankfurt dealers said they didn't expect any major announcements from today's meeting of the West German Bundesbank's policy-setting Central Bank Council.

Two officials expelled

MOSCOW — The Communist Party expelled two senior nuclear power officials and reprimanded four others for negligence in the Chernobyl nuclear accident, the official party newspaper Pravda reported today.

Pravda said the party's control committee took the actions after "considering questions of responsibility of some leading workers."

The April 26 explosion that ripped open the power plant's No. 4 reactor occurred during an experiment to test how long a generator could keep the reactor operating in the event of a power failure.

Seven freedoms are symbolized by spikes on Liberty's crown

DEAR READERS: It all began when a Missouri reader asked me what the seven spikes on the crown of the Statue of Liberty stood for. I suggested that he write to the mayor of New York and inquire. He did. Mayor Koch replied (in part):

Dear Abby

"According to the Statute of Liberty/Ellis Island Foundation, there is a twofold symbolism in the seven spikes in the Statue of Liberty's crown. They stand for the seven seas and the seven continents. America brings together people from every continent and they have to cross every ocean to get here — or they did before the airplane." I should have known that answer was not quite accurate because actually there are not only seven seas — depending on one's definition of a "sea" — but that's another column.

Today, I received what appears to be a more authoritative explanation. It was published in Letters to the Editor in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette on the Fourth of July: THE SEVEN SPIKES OF LADY LIBERTY'S CROWN

As the 100th anniversary of the Statue of Liberty is observed, we should reflect upon what it stands for. It is the spirit of freedom that the Lady Liberty represents. We must not forget the principles involved. When we notice the seven spikes on her crown, we should consider the seven freedoms that number represents:

1. Civil liberty. The liberty of an individual to conduct his own affairs as he thinks proper, provided he neither infringes on the equal liberty of others nor offends against the good morals or laws under which he is living.
2. Moral liberty. Such freedom as is essential to render a person responsible for what he does or what he doesn't do.
3. National liberty. The liberty of a nation to make its own laws and elect its own executive.
4. Natural liberty. Unrestricted freedom to exercise all natural functions in their proper places.
5. Personal liberty. Liberty to go out of one's house or nation and return again without restraint.
6. Political liberty. The right to participate in political elections and civil offices, and to have a voice in the administration of the laws under which you live as a citizen.
7. Religious liberty. Freedom in religious opinions, and in both private and public worship, provided such freedom in no way interferes with the equal liberty of others.

The Statue of Liberty celebration will happen only once in our lifetime, and its commemoration of 100 years of liberty is what it's all about.

Sparking marriage routines will keep romance flame lit

CARSON, Calif. (AP) — After years of familiarity between spouses, the embers of love may start burning low, but in order to keep the flame lit, long-term couples must continue courtship behaviors for life, says a clinical psychologist.

The reason a relationship is so alive at the beginning is that the two people involved are working very hard to keep it vibrant, says Dr. Susan Regas, a lecturer in marriage and family counseling at California State University, Dominguez Hills, in Carson.

"They tell each other how attractive they are and what they like about each other," she explains. "When people are just getting to know each other, they do a lot of things to get it going. They do romantic things such as sending love letters, sending a rose. People, as soon as they get married, stop doing this."

The early fire won't be kept alive without hard work, she says, noting that it was hard work at the beginning but a little easier because the relationship was new.

"You did a lot of thinking about how to keep the other person happy. That has to be done even in the 15th year of marriage, or else it will die," says Regas, who offers some suggestions on keeping a marriage fresh:

Learn to love yourself first, something you must do before you can love anyone else. People who don't feel good about themselves don't give to the relationships — they pull things from other people.

— Really identify what you want in the marriage. A lot of people don't think about what they want in a relationship. They just feel unhappy, so they nag. Recognize what you want and communicate that to your partner in a way that doesn't blame him or her. Don't say, for instance, "You're a crummy husband, you're never home." Say, "I feel sad when I'm left alone every night at home."

— Always keep the relationship alive sexually and romantically. Keep up or start doing the candlelight dinners, romantic walks and hand-holding. Set aside time to be devoted to affection and sex.

— Have friendships outside the marriage. There's no way one person can meet all your needs. Each spouse needs his or her own friends and the pair also need joint couple friends. These need to be good couples, not troubled couples. The basis of the friendship should be strength, not trying to rescue the couple. However, outside friendships can't be more important than time spent alone as a couple.

— Beware of becoming over involved with each other. A couple can get enmeshed, too involved. So when one spouse is in a bad mood, the other takes it as a personal offense because every need is being met by the spouse. Unless there are other people in your life, you can't stop that over involvement.

— Trust each other. Without trust, you cannot know if the other person will stay around to work out problems. Commitment to stay together is the underlying basis of a good marriage.

Some sunburners need special care

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have a serious problem with sunburn. I've tried all the sun-blocks and screens on the market, but I always break out with very bad rashes. And I still get sunburned very severely. I never tan, always one bad burn over another. I am a bike rider taking part in competitive events. Last year, I came home looking like a lobster. I could hardly move. With the burn, I got fevers of 104, and I don't have an appetite. Sometimes I end up fainting due to the heat and the burn. Do you have any suggestions about avoiding getting these burns? — K.W.

Dr. Donohue

You've got to see a dermatologist. These are not ordinary sunburns.

Many people have such idiosyncratic reaction to ultraviolet light. Some, like you, are actually allergic to it, breaking out in rashes and turning deep red when exposed even for short times.

You'll have to make a checklist of any drugs you may be taking. Water pills (diuretics) oral diabetic tablets, and certain antibiotics can create sun sensitivity in some people. Porphyria, having to do with metabolism of certain substances called porphyrins, causes extreme sun sensitivity.

I haven't given you all the possibilities, and I haven't been able to do justice to these few. But you can see why a visit to a doctor is important. Start with your family physician. Obviously, you cannot continue to punish your skin this way every summer.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have been told that I have cataracts, and frankly it scares me! I would appreciate any information you can send me on the subject. — N.T.

Don't let it scare you. The fact that you have cataracts doesn't mean you'll go blind. And, depending on your diagnosis, it may not even mean surgery necessarily. For most, cataracts develop very slowly. Only when the eye lens clouding starts to interfere with vision is the surgery done.

You ask (another part of your letter) about several aspects of cataracts and treatment. There's really little you can do to change the course of the condition. No diet alteration helps, and no vitamin slows things. I might mention that some studies are being undertaken to see if aspirin prevents cataracts, but it's far too early to speculate further on that.

I should mention one other point about cataracts. People with them should wear sunglasses outside. They should have the kind of glasses that filter ultraviolet light — the polarizing lenses. There is good reason to suspect that overexposure to that kind of light plays a role in cataract progression. I'm sending on the booklet, "Cataracts and Glaucoma," which others may order by writing me and enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I had heart artery bypass surgery two years ago and have felt great since. Am I still considered a "heart patient"? — Mrs. R.R.

My first thought on reading your note was, what a strange question! Then it occurred to me that many people have a misconception about bypass surgery. It does alleviate the immediate problem — the clogged arteries — but it doesn't change the factors that brought it about and necessitated the surgery.

So, in that regard you have to consider yourself a heart patient still. You cannot throw caution to the winds and think you have automatically a whole lifetime of use from your squeaky new vessels. The vessels used for the bypass can themselves clog up.

You have to watch your cholesterol and keep your blood pressure under control. You have to maintain ideal body weight, exercise to your tolerance, and quit smoking (if you smoke now). In these respects, we are all "heart patients."

The Colorado City Bass Club will host its Fifth Annual Open Bass Tournament Saturday, Sep. 5, at lakes Colorado City and Champion.

The first 20 places will receive prize money. First place will win $2,000; second place, $750; and third place $400. Entry fee is $35 and $5 for calcutta competition. Defending champion is Big Spring's Vic Keyes. For more information call 728-8436 or 737-2748.

The KUFO foursome of Kenneth Carey, Tommy Sullivan, Mike Stewart and Ken Bearden came away with first place honors in the Crossroads Stampede Media Golf Tournament held last Saturday at Comanche Trail Golf Course.

KUFO won in a sudden-death playoff over the KWKI-KKIK team. KWKI-KKIK team members were General Mills, Chris Hutson, Larry Porras and Greg Brooks. Both teams shot a three under par.

While on the subject of golf, the Comanche Trail Ladies Golf Association played its nine hole scramble play Monday at Comanche Trail Golf Course.

The team of Martha Saunders, Bobbie Patterson, Dolores Hull and Betty Ray Coffee came in first with a two over par 40. Finishing second with a four over par 42 was the team of Tammy Newsom, Angela Cevallos, Julie Hall and Vicky Denton.

Local semi-pro baseball team, the Big Spring Cardinals will play the Odessa Colt 45's for the West Texas-New Mexico League Championship.

The first game of the best two-of-three series will be Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at Roy Anderson Complex. The Cardinals, who won the title in '84, bring a 22-6 record into the game.

Members of the Cardinals are Tony Rubio, Robert Rubio, John Morelino, Frankie Rubio, Robert Roman and Jerry Anderson. Others include Boy Olague, Ysa Rubio, Joe Martinez, David Renteria, Eddie DeLeon and Tony Fierro. Manager is Frankie Rubio Sr.

The Odessa Permian High School Tennis Booster Club will have the First Annual Petroplex Tennis Tournament Aug. 22-24 at the Permian tennis courts.

Entry deadline is Aug. 15. For more information call Gene Wiske at 362-6948.

The Texas Tech Executives Association in Big Spring is sponsoring a bus trip to the Texas Tech-Texas game in Lubbock on Nov. 1.

The trip is open to the public, and will cost $30 per person. The $30 includes game ticket, bus fare, and refreshments on the bus. For those who already have tickets, the trip will cost $16.

The bus will leave the First Methodist Church parking lot at 9 a.m., and will return at 8 p.m. following dinner in Lubbock after the game.

If you are interested, notify the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce by Aug. 25. For more information, call 263-7641.

The Crossroad Stampede men's and women's golf tournaments will be Saturday and Sunday at the Comanche Trail Golf Course.

There will be a two player men's scramble tourney and a two player women's scramble tourney. Entry fee is $100 per team. Teams will be flighted after the first day. A barbecue will be held Saturday at 7 p.m. at Dora Roberts Community Center.

First place will receive a set of irons, second place, a set of woods, and third place, a golf bag.

Send entries to Jim Balios, 1709 Alabama, Big Spring, Tx., 79720.

The Crossroads Stampede junior and adult tennis tournaments will be Friday and Saturday at the Figure 7 Tennis Center.

The junior tournament will be on Friday with age divisions from 12-and-under to 18-and-under. The adults will play on Saturday.

Entry fee is $8. For more information, call Charlene Sparling at 267-7777.

In conjunction with the Crossroads Stampede, a couples washer tourney, sponsored by the ALSA Car Club will be Saturday.

The tournament will begin at 1 p.m. at the Old Settlers Pavilion. The entry fee is $10, and trophies will be awarded to the top three finishers. For more information, call Arthur Palomino at 267-4334.

Two local men's slow-pitch softball teams fared well this past weekend at the Class C State Softball Tournament in Midland.

L.G. Nix, managed by Bill Battle, came away with fifth place in the 102-team tournament. L.G. Nix, which finished second in the tourney last year, won six games and lost two. Pitcher John Weeks was named to the State All-Tournament Team.

The Big Spring Kings, managed by Lupe Lara, came away with 11th place in the tournament. The Kings won five games and lost two, proving that Big Spring has its share of top notch softball players.

The Big Spring Southwest Football Officials Association will have a meeting tonight at 7 in the vocational building at Big Spring High School.

All persons interested in officiating football are encouraged to attend.

Walker to don pads Friday

Dorsett not taking big salary very well

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Herschel Walker is expected to practice in a Dallas Cowboys uniform for the first time on Friday and soothing the hurt feelings of teammate Tony Dorsett might be one of his priorities.

Walker agreed on Wednesday to a five-year contract with the Dallas Cowboys for an estimated $1 million a year and left training camp for personal business in New Jersey with the belief everyone was happy he was aboard.

Dorsett was cordial in an earlier meeting with Walker, the biggest star in the USFL, kidding him: "Don't rob the bank." Dorsett said it would be a "dream" to be in the same backfield with Walker.

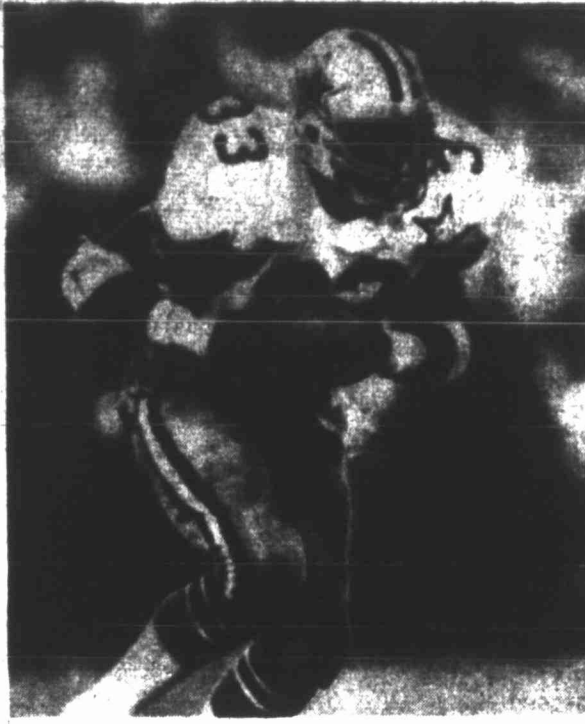

Then Dorsett, who renegotiated his contract up to $450,000 per year last season, started hearing about Walker's contract.

"If this team does not pay me like they are paying their other back, I would suggest strongly that the team try to trade me or pay me because I'll be very unhappy and... I can be a very disruptive force," said Dorsett, who is going into his 10th year in the NFL.

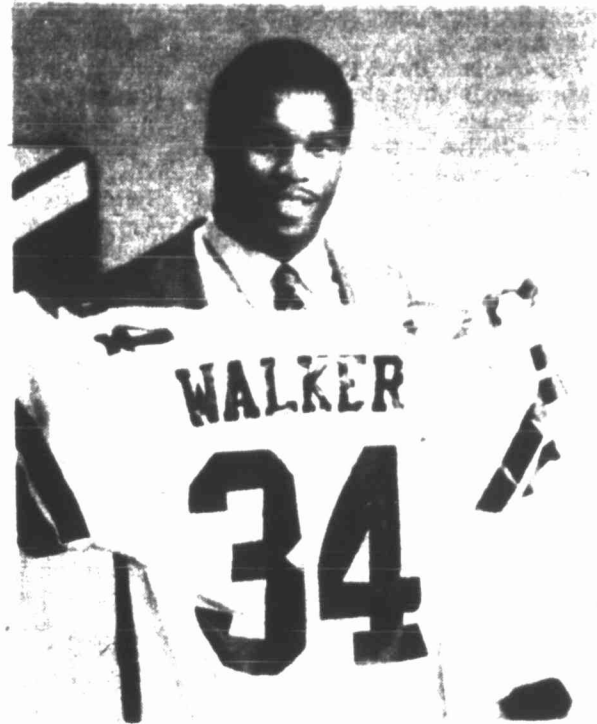

"I'm unhappy about it, who wouldn't be?" Dorsett said. "I'm on the verge of passing Jim Brown to become the second all-time leading rusher in NFL history (behind Walter Payton) and you're going to bring in a guy who has not contributed one yard to the team's success and you pay him twice as much as you pay me. I'm definitely upset."

Dorsett said he was not alone in his anger.

"If those figures are true, a bunch of guys will be unhappy. I don't want to be here. When you pay a guy more than me you've told me he's your back. I'm not second to anyone."

Dallas Cowboys running back Tony Dorsett says he's unhappy with Walker's one million dollar per year contract. Dorsett, who makes $450,000 per season, says he will ask for more money.

Walker was to return Friday to Thousand Oaks. He will attend but not play in Saturday night's exhibition game in Los Angeles against the Raiders.

Walker said he was hoping to be in shape to play for Dallas' final exhibition game on Aug. 30. The Cowboys' first regular season game is against the New York Giants Sept. 8.

"It'll give us a great opening Monday night rating — Dallas vs. the Giants," said NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle after Walker's signing.

George Young, general manager of the Giants, said Walker will have to prove himself like anyone else. "They don't carry the Heisman Trophy on their helmets," Young said.

Walker, who though becoming the highest paid player in the Cowboy's history, was placed at the bottom of the depth chart at tailback behind Dorsett and Robert Lavette. "I want to be 100 percent when I play. Of course, when I do play is up to Coach (Tom) Landry."

Walker, a fifth-round NFL draft gamble by Dallas in 1985, admitted "I'm very far behind. But I'll work hard."

Walker, 24, the 1982 Heisman Trophy winner who set a professional football rushing record for one season with 2,411 yards, reached the bottom of the depth chart at Walker page 2B

Bryant becomes a Redskin

By The Associated Press You can now add the illustrious names of Kelvin Bryant with that of Herschel Walker to the growing list of ex-USFL players to join the NFL.

Bryant, the leading rusher of the Philadelphia-Baltimore Stars, signed a four-year pact with the Redskins reportedly worth about $750,000 a season.

Meanwhile, the New Orleans Saints, Houston Oilers, Miami Dolphins, Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears and Atlanta Falcons also came to terms with new players acquired from the beleaguered USFL, which has decided to forego the current season.

Redskins Signing with the Redskins was a dream come true for Bryant.

"I've been a Redskins fan all my life, and I'm pretty happy," Bryant said. "Right now I'm just anxious to get to work."

The signing had been delayed because of a contract problem Bryant had with his USFL team, the Baltimore Stars, but Bryant said that had been taken care of.

Bryant is the seventh USFL player signed by the Redskins. All but one of the players, linebacker Angelo Snipes, play offense.

Quarterback Doug Williams, who agreed to a three-year contract Tuesday, passed his physical

Wednesday and will begin learning the Redskins' offensive system immediately.

Saints The Saints signed three more former USFL players, two inside linebackers and a 300-pound offensive lineman. The signings bring to five the number of USFL players signed by the Saints since the league announced it was suspending play for the 1986-87 season. Safety Antonio Gibson signed last week, but had to wait until this NFL page 2B

Hawk hoop team adds 9 Texans

By STEVE BELVIN Sports Editor

This year's version of the Howard College Hawks basketball team will have a new look. For the first time in a number of years the squad will have a number of state-based players.

First-year coach Larry Brown has been busy on the recruiting trail, attempting to beef up his team for a tough Western Junior College Athletic Conference schedule.

The Hawks will have a new look, since Brown and assistant coach Scott Horstman are keeping only three players from last year's squad that finished with a 11-18 record. Coming back will be sophomores Walter Walker and Mitchell Porter along with red-shirt freshman Billy Giggins.

Although he is not through recruiting, Brown has reached agreements with nine players, all of whom are from Texas.

Walker, a 6-0 off guard, started for Howard last season. The Stateville, N.C. product averaged six points per game.

Porter, a 6-3 small forward, saw part-time starting duty for Howard last season. The Hattiesburg, Miss. native averaged three points and three rebounds per game.

Giggins is a 6-2 off guard from Dallas.

Of the nine new players, seven are incoming freshmen. One played his freshman season at a junior college in Kansas and the other played his frosh season at a four-year school in Texas.

"All of these new players come from playoff teams," said Brown of his latest signees. "I think that's important because they know how to win. A lot of coaches recruit just raw talent and try to build them into winners. I like to recruit winners and mold them into a quality team."

These guys are not real tall, but they fit the mold of the type of game I like to play, which is running, pressing and getting up and down the court. They all run the court well. Right now I think we're sitting in pretty good shape.

I know all these players personally and I know their coaches. They are not problem players. They come from quality programs and it will be enjoyable working with them."

Brown added that he has his sights set on a few out-of-state players and that he's working on rounding out the squad. All players will report Aug. 22. There will be practice sessions for all walk-ons beginning Aug. 25. "We welcome anyone who thinks they are capable of making the team."

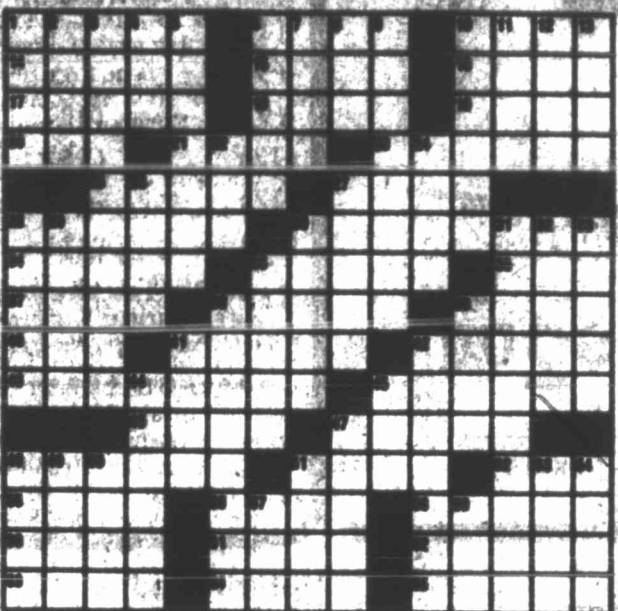

- Here is a list of Howard's new players:
• Johnny Davis, 5-7, point guard, Palestine H.S., Fr.
• Dennis Rhodes, 5-8, point guard, Bryan H.S. (played one year at Paul Quinn University), Soph.
• Rod Martin, 6-1, off guard, Brookham H.S., Fr.
• Pat Santos, 6-2, off guard, Laredo United H.S., Fr.
• Myron Wright, 6-4, small forward, Conroe H.S., Fr.
• Russell Nichols, 6-4, forward, Amarillo Tascosa, Fr.
• Bruce Mitchell, 6-4, forward, Temple H.S., Fr.
• Sam Williams, 6-5, forward, Jefferson H.S. (played one year at Cowley County Junior College, Kan.), Soph.
• Sammy Jackson, 5-10, point guard, Bay City, H.S., Fr.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

Is it all held up with just those strings?

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RUGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 15, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You will have some fixed and difficult problems today in putting across various comprehensive ideas.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You want to get started on a new course of action, but this is not the right time for such.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Not the ideal time to take positive action where business interests that intrigue you are concerned.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A blunt partner can make things hard for you by harping on any mistakes you make, if you allow it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Carry through with whatever you are now working on even though you are not so enthused.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Some amusement plan can be very costly and not work out as you like, so forget it. Use more patience.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Use wisdom but keep silent at home. Wait until tensions have been removed before inviting guests over.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you accept outsiders as they are and not try to make them different you can get along well with them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try to cut down on expenses and build up your bank account. More attention to exercise is important.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be less forceful in going after your wishes and be more thoughtful of others than usual.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A worry should not deter you from handling outside and civic duties. Don't quarrel with your mate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be subtle in trying to gain your intimate wishes. Being forceful could get you absolutely nowhere.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study your outside associates well and know what they really desire from you. Don't take any risks.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be able to comprehend a variety of philosophies so be encouraging in this important study that can make the life happier and more successful. A most interesting life here so be sure to give the right kind of training for best results. Gentle sports are best.

MARRIAGE is designed by God to be the part of life that is the fulfillment of LOVE. Love in marriage is described as: seeking the highest good of another, outgoing concern for another's well being; a willingness in the mind to totally give yourself to another; the strong desire to impart (from yourself) into another everything you believe is good and healthy and right to be and do; a sense within that you "belong to" another and they "belong to" you; an awakening within your mind of a sense of the value another person is to you, as you find yourself considering them precious to you due to their value to you and the pleasure you derive from them; it is a "friendship", a glow in the heart kindled by the perception of that which you see or believe to be in the person which gives you pleasure because of the kind of person you believe them to be.

EVERY MARRIED COUPLE should strive to mature into this kind of love relationship with each other....the effort will be worth the end result. Love produces: long suffering with partner's weaknesses, kindness toward the other and does not keep account of failures.
