Spring board

How's that?

Trapper

Q. Why does the county hire its own trapper when it could hire a state trapper and save tax dollars?

A. County Commissioner Bill Crocker said historically the county employed its own trapper. However, recent personality conflicts between ranchers favoring the state trapper and those favoring a county trapper forced commissioners to hire both trappers, Crocker said.

Commissioners favor the idea of hiring only one trapper next year to save tax dollars, he said.

He said commissioners are gathering information now from their respective precinct constituents to determine whether the county should employ the state or county trapper.

Calendar

Blood pressure

TODAY

• A free blood pressure check will be conducted at the Kentwood Older Adult Activity Center from 1 to 3 p.m.

• Big Spring Sports Boosters will meet at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

TUESDAY

Tops on TV

Little Gloria

The early life of Gloria Vanderbilt is explored as her aunt and mother fight for custody of the child during a much-publicized 1934 courtroom battle in "Little Gloria... Happy at Last." The movie, part 1 of 2, airs at 8 p.m. on Channel 13.

Outside

Hot

Skies today are sunny with a high in the upper 90s and easterly winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour. Tonight and Tuesday will be fair with a low tonight in the upper 60s and a high Tuesday in the upper 90s.

Lighter side

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Everybody in the audience knew the chief of the Albany police department was telling a lie when he took the podium, and they encouraged him to fib some more.

Chief Darrel Pepper was one of the contestants trying to deceive his way to an award Saturday in the liars' contest at the Oregon Heritage Festival at Oregon State University.

Pepper told a story about a burro that got stuck in a swamp. He didn't win any prizes.

Donna Comstock checks the damage to a Volvo today in Kill Devil Hills, N.C. The car was smashed Sunday when hurricane Charley hit the Outer Banks of North Carolina.

Charley limps northward

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Hurricane Charley, its punch dwindling, lashed the mid-Atlantic coast with high winds and heavy rains today, forcing the evacuation of thousands of coastal residents and dumping torrential rains on North Carolina's Outer Banks.

At least four deaths were blamed on the storm, authorities said.

As Charley headed northward over cooler waters by mid-morning, its 75 mph winds were "mainly in a few squalls over the open water," the National Weather Service said.

"We expect it to gradually decrease in the next 12 to 24 hours," hurricane forecaster Bob Case said. Hurricane warnings were discontinued over Chesapeake Bay, but continued from Ocean City, Md., to Sandy Hook, N.J. These might be discontinued by early afternoon, the weather service said.

"There are some indications the storm may be weakening and turning more toward the northeast this morning, with the center remaining offshore," the weather service said. "This reduces the threat to the New Jersey coast."

The storm hit New Jersey's south shore this morning with driving rain, winds at 50 mph gusting to 65 mph. Atlantic City reported heavy rains and reported 54 mph winds at 8 a.m., forecasters said. The death toll included three people aboard a small plane that crashed into the Chesapeake Bay near Baltimore during a hurricane-spawned storm Sunday.

Authorities said two bodies were recovered from the bay and the third victim was believed dead. A Manteo, N.C., woman died when her car apparently slipped into a canal on an Outer Banks causeway Sunday, state police said.

The hurricane knocked down trees and signs on Virginia's mainland Sunday evening and left about 110,000 people without power, authorities said, but caused no major damage.

South Texans draft education tax plan

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Hundreds of South Texas leaders, gathering in the spirit of regional cooperation, have forged a battle plan to help carry the area through its financial hard times.

The plan — adopted Sunday at the "Future of a Region" conference that drew 500 people here from El Paso to Victoria — calls for a tax increase to aid higher education and a regional economic development task force.

"One of the key points made today relates to the imperativeness and the willingness of this region to support higher revenues if necessary to maintain the base of higher education funding," said San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros.

It was Cisneros who called the group to the three-day conference.

Gov. Mark White, who addressed the convention on its last day Sunday, applauded that sentiment and assured the crowd he would protect reforms adopted two years ago.

"Texans are going to stick with educational reform and we're not going to tear it down in 1986," he said. "We need to put more money into research to make certain that we're going to be the cutting edge in areas such as agriculture, oil and gas and medicine."

Noting that South Texas does not have "one single university that is up to the level that it ought to be,"

Cisneros said the "present crisis in state financing is so overwhelming" that South Texas has been losing ground in recent years.

Statistics from the San Antonio Institute for American Studies show that unemployment in South Texas is the highest in the state and per capita income the lowest — under $8,000.

The devaluation of the Mexican peso, a depressed agricultural industry and poor oil prices have contributed to the region's woes.

Representatives adopted the majority of 54 pages of wide-ranging resolutions that included economic development, human needs, water, education, tourism and agriculture.

A proposal to endorse a state lottery to help finance higher education failed, although the delegates adopted resolutions asking for a bigger share of state dollars for higher education in South Texas, urging that no "raids" in educational funds be allowed or other vital economic programs in South Texas be cut.

Cisneros said the resolutions will be voiced in the special session of the Legislature, and will be carried into future ad hoc committees created by the newly formed task force.

"There's no question that we will find a way to articulate the issues,"

Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., center, holds hands with two fellow congressmen after negotiators approved a compromise tax overhaul plan. He's flanked by Sen. Bill Bradley, D-N.J., and Rep. Richard Gephardt, D-Mo.

Tax plan one of compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — It took tax experts 102 pages to summarize the complicated details of the tax-overhaul deal struck over the weekend.

Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., consummate Chicago pol, took only about 40 seconds to give his insight as to how Congress arrived at the verge of approving what many consider the most thorough federal tax code revision in a generation.

"The Senate came to the table insisting on their lower rates, and the House agreed. The House came to the table insisting on tax fairness for middle-income families and an end to... corporate tax abuses, and the Senate came around."

"We both compromised on the margins but clung to our principles... ladies and gentlemen, the political process worked. History will show that all were treated fairly."

Some do not see it that way.

Sen. John Danforth, R-Mo., a tax conferee, strongly supported the original Senate bill. As some of the business tax breaks he was trying to preserve melted away during bargaining, he came to oppose the conference committee's bill.

Big Spring company fails to show, loses suit

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

A Big Spring transport company owned by Stanton's mayor was found in default today and ordered to pay all claims against it after company representatives failed to appear in 118th District Court.

The suit was brought by Wilson Systems Inc., a Midland brine and water supplier, which claimed Fryar Transport, 1009 E. Third St., Big Spring, failed to pay for water purchases.

The default judgment, by District Judge James Gregg, orders Fryar Transport to pay a principle of $2,588.18 plus all accrued interest and legal fees.

Judge Gregg reported the transport company is owned by Stanton Mayor Danny Fryar.

The default action prompted Judge Gregg to send home the 49-member jury pool, but the judge ordered most of them to reappear

Thursday at 9 a.m. for another case.

According to the original petition filed by Wilson Systems in January, Fryar Transport failed to pay for brine and fresh water purchases made from October 1984 to March 1985.

The judge also dismissed 17 potential jurors, said District Clerk Peggy Crittenden.

The case scheduled Thursday involves a suit brought by Jeff Prosen of Midland against Kenneth Smith of Big Spring and Big Spring Yamaha-Suzuki Inc.

According to the suit's amended petition, Prosen purchased a motorcycle from the business in October 1983 with an understanding the bike was warranted for one year.

The petition contends the motorcycle was a "demonstrator model" and Smith claims Yamaha-Suzuki breached its contract, committed fraud and violated provisions listed in the Deception Trade Practices Act. The defendants deny all allegations.

Names in the news

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK — First Lady NANCY REAGAN says a good smile is a large part of beauty, but that lifelong discipline at the dining table also is important.

"Good sensible eating habits are instilled when you are young," she said in September's Harper's Bazaar magazine. "As a doctor's daughter, that was certainly true for me."

She admitted a weakness for cookies, however. "One year my staff had a birthday party for me and only cookies were served," she said.

The other women who credit sensible diet and exercise for their beauty are actresses Cybill Shepherd, Meredith Baxter Birney, Lisa Bonet, Priscilla Presley and Barbara Carrera; CBS anchor Maria Shriver; pop music star Whitney Houston; Diandra Douglas, documentary filmmaker and wife of Michael Douglas, and model Paulina Porizkova.

Mrs. Reagan said it takes more than a figure to be beautiful: "A special smile — wonderful laughter that's beautiful."

WAUSAU, Wis. — Pro basketball coach DON NELSON says the farm tractor he rode for 250 miles was comfortable enough, but he hopes he won't have to hit the road again to attract attention to farmers' problems.

At the end of his nine-day trip from Milwaukee, the coach of the NBA's Milwaukee Bucks said he had collected $160,000 for Nellie's Farm Fund and that he expected that to reach $200,000 to help farmers with agribusiness counseling and equipment maintenance.

"This tractor ride here is more comfortable than my Cadillac," Nelson said Saturday at the end of

LOS ANGELES — BILLIE JEAN KING says tennis has changed so much that she'd like to turn back the clock 20 years.

The former star said she didn't know if she'd be today's top player, but "I would have been right up there."

King, who now spends most of her time promoting TeamTennis, an indoor league, said the biggest difference between her and MARTINA NAVRATILOVA and CHRIS EVERT LLOYD is that she had five knee operations while they've had no serious injuries. "Knowing what we do now about conditioning, weights (and) staying healthy, my injuries might have been prevented," she said Saturday while watching the Virginia Slims of Los Angeles tournament at the Manhattan Country Club.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — BOB KEESHAN, better known as CAPTAIN KANGAROO, laments some changes in society since his children's show made its debut in 1955.

There are "many more single-parent households and mothers working outside the home," Keeshan, 59, said Saturday at the Kansas City Zoo. He also said he's concerned about the number of children living in poverty.

CBS dropped Captain Kangaroo two years ago. However, 180 public television stations have signed up for his show on PBS, which begins Sept. 1. The shows will be edited versions of his hour-long programs that ran during the 1982-84 season on CBS.

BOSTON — Sleuths tried to throw witches a curve, but Cher connected and splattered grapefruit across a softball diamond.

The play was in a game Sunday by the softball team from ABC-TV's "Spenser: For Hire." The cast and crew had challenged their counterparts in "Witches of Eastwick" to a softball match.

Police beat

Rifles, VCR taken from home

A $350 videocassette recorder, a $50 and a $75 rifle were stolen from Isabel Dominguez of 2107 1/2 Gregg St. Sunday evening. She told police visiting relatives broke into her residence and stole the items.

Someone stole a ladies wallet with checkbook and credit cards from a pickup owned by Bence Broughton of 3910 Parkway.

Orland Stockford of 300 N. Highway 80 No. 25 told police someone damaged four vehicles on his property Sunday night. Damage was estimated at $80.

Luis Rios Jr., 20, of 3206 W. Eighth St. was arrested for assault and disorderly conduct at 1601

Gregg St. Saturday night. Melborne Meek, 24, of 306 Lancaster St. was arrested at the Howard County fairbarns early Sunday morning for disorderly conduct.

George Arce Narbaiz, 19, of 1100 Marijo was arrested at 401 S. Birdwell Lane early Sunday morning on traffic warrants.

Douglas Dane Hittmire, 24, of Gail Route was arrested at 201 E. FM 706 early Sunday morning on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. He was transferred to the county jail and released on $1,000 bond.

Community rally planned

The Big Spring High School cheerleaders will lead the community to in cheering the Steers football team to a season of victory in the annual community pep rally. The rally will take place Sept. 2 at 8 p.m. in the amphitheater at Comanche Trail Park.

Sept. 2 is also the first day of school for Big Spring students.

The Steers this year compete in district 4-A instead of 5-A, which contains schools of a larger population.

The move gives the Steers a chance to start a winning tradition, varsity cheerleaders said.

The Steers first game is against the Riverside High School, El Paso, Rangers Sept. 5 in Big Spring.

Coaches and varsity football players will be introduced at the pep rally, said Jill Willbanks, cheerleader sponsor. Football and girls volleyball team players will be presented, and the Steers band will play.

Budgets to be discussed

A public hearing on the proposed 1986-87 Howard County Junior College District budgets will take place at the board of trustees meeting 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in the board room of the Howard College Student Union Building.

A preliminary budget was submitted at last month's regular meeting.

The budget for next year is $5,719,960, which is 5 percent less than last year's budget, said president Bob Riley.

The board is expected to approve the budget.

The board will take action on an insurance plan, employee resignations and other personnel matters, including employment of a business instructor, a licensed vocational nurse instructor in Del Rio, an Athletic Department trainer, an assistant men's basketball coach, and an electrical fabrication instructor at the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp.

Weather

Forecast

WEST TEXAS: Expect mostly sunny skies and warm temperatures through Tuesday. Isolated to widely scattered thunderstorms will be in the late afternoon and evening, mainly west of the mountains. Highs will be in the 90s, except around 100 in the Big Bend area. Lows will be in the 60s and 70s.

State

A weak pressure field was in place over Texas today, but no significant inclement weather was reported.

Skies were generally clear except for partly cloudy skies in Northeast and Southwest Texas, the lower coastal plain and parts of the Panhandle.

Winds were light and variable throughout the state. Temperatures ranged from the 60s to the 90s statewide. Overnight readings ranged from 65 at Marfa and Amarillo to 84 at Del Rio and Dallas.

The National Weather Service said the weather should continue mostly sunny and warm with widely scattered afternoon and evening thunderstorms in far West Texas and North Texas.

Nation

Hurricane Charley sent rain into the Atlantic Coast states today while thunderstorms were widely scattered across the West.

Coastal flood warnings were issued for the Delaware Bay and Atlantic coastal areas of Maryland and New Jersey, while flood watches were posted for much of New Jersey, the New York City metropolitan area, Long Island and extreme eastern Pennsylvania.

Rain and thunderstorms associated with Charley extended along the mid-Atlantic Coast, across southwest Virginia and the western Carolinas.

Heavy rain spread across southern New England and scattered showers reached into northern New England.

Thunderstorms were scattered across southern Florida, northern Louisiana, southwest Colorado and Arizona, while rainshowers dotted the eastern Dakotas.

Today's forecast called for showers and thunderstorms likely across southern New England and the mid-Atlantic region; showers and thunderstorms scattered across the rest of the Atlantic Coast states, the central Gulf Coast states and Appalachian mountain region; and showers and thunderstorms widely scattered across the northern Plains.

Cisneros said, adding that he was "surprised" at the level of agreement among the delegates during the setting of their goals.

Bexar County Judge Tom Vickers said the conference provides a blueprint for unified action for the region. Cisneros praised the participants for not allowing the state budget crisis to "overwhelm us."

The conference was sponsored by the Institute for Human Services, the San Antonio Institute for American Studies, the Texas Border Economic Development Task Force, the Texas Municipal League and the University of Texas at San Antonio's Center for Economic Development.

Sheriff's log

DWI offender released

Howard County sheriff's deputies released Randy Carl Wilbert, 29, 2902 Cherokee, from county jail Saturday morning after he served 13 days on a revocation of probation commitment from a driving while intoxicated judgment.

He was sentenced to jail on July 28 and credited 17 days as a jail trustee.

Police transferred Emma Leos, 24, 411 N. Scurry to county jail this morning after she was arrested on suspicion of DWI. She was released on $1,000 bond.

Deaths

Frankie Hill

Services for Frankie Florence Mason Hill, 72, of San Angelo a long time resident of Big Spring, will be Tuesday at 11 a.m. at Nalley-Pickle & Welch, at Rosewood Chapel with Rev. Sammy Sims, pastor of Crestview Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will follow at Trinity Memorial Park.

a.m. at Mt. Olive Memorial Park, with Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating.

She was born Aug. 24, 1903 and died Sunday morning Aug. 17, 1986, at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church since 1937, where she sang in the choir. She also was active in bowling leagues.

She moved to Big Spring with her family J. Herschell and Alice Smith. She worked for Cunningham-Phillips Drug store for 20 years. Later, she worked for the Civil Service at Webb Air Force Base.

She is survived by one son, Ernest W. Greer of Big Spring; one daughter, Barbara Hale of Corpus Christi; and three brothers, Alfred Smith of Houston, Palmer Smith and Marcus Smith, all of Big Spring. She is also survived by one granddaughter and four great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by two grandsons, Mike and Guy Olson; and two sisters, Ruth Olson and Myrtle Smith.

Palbearers will be Roy Phillips, N.G. Bostick Wayne Allen, Robert Nichols, Ray D. Anderson and Ocey Mason.

Funeral services will be J.H. Barnes, Viron Hartin, C.F. Whittington, Alton Rogers, Billy Scott, Herschell Johnson, Jerry Musgrove and Jim Harper. Honorary pallbearers will be Brother Hood of Railroad Trainmen, Masonic Lodge #1340 and the National Association of Retired and Veteran Railroad Employees.

TAX INCREASES: Taxes on corporations would be increased by $120.4 billion over five years. Hardest hit: profitable companies that have been able to escape taxes because of large legal deductions; they would be subject to a stiffened minimum tax of 20 percent. Special breaks for specific industries, including timber and banking, would be pared.

TAX RATES: Top corporate rate of 46 percent would drop to 34 percent. Small businesses would pay as little as 15 percent.

OIL AND GAS: The industry generally would be exempt from a new anti-shelter rule affecting losses from passive investments. It would retain most of the benefit associated with the depletion allowance and the quick writeoff of certain drilling costs.

MEALS, ENTERTAINMENT: Only 80 percent deductible, reduced from 100 percent.

Onlookers kill murderer

VAL VERDE, Calif. — Angry onlookers beat a man to death with fence posts after he killed a teenager with a shotgun blast to the face and fired at a crowd, wounding three people, authorities said.

Gerardo Valle, 17, of Val Verde, was shot and killed early Sunday as he attempted to break up a fight between two youths outside a party, said Los Angeles County sheriff's Deputy Chris Robbins.

David Mota, 20, of Pacoima, grabbed a 12-gauge shotgun from his car when he saw Valle intervene, and shot once, blasting Valle in the face, Robbins said.

He then turned and fired two to three shots at the crowd of 30 to 60 people, Robbins said.

"The remaining portion of the crowd charged Mota, jumped him and started beating him with a fence post," Robbins said. "They beat him to death in the street."

Fights disrupt concert

LONG BEACH, Calif. — A wave of fights and stabbings erupted during a "rap" music concert, injuring at least 24 people and prompting police to storm the arena and shut down the show.

Sunday's was the third since last month where violence erupted at a concert involving the rap group Run DMC.

Fires burn in six states

Thick smoke hampered firefighters battling blazes in Idaho's valleys as hundreds of lightning-sparked range and forest fires burned in six Western states.

"It's a no-win situation," said Lee Poague, a spokesman for the Boise Interagency Fire Center, the national forest fire command center. "The inversion keeps the fire down, but when the wind pushes the smoke away, the fires blow up."

The smoke cut visibility and curtailed helicopter flights and drops of retardant.

Telling curbs violence

WASHINGTON — Reporting domestic violence to police is an effective means of preventing its recurrence, according to federal figures that also show most law enforcement officials classify such assaults as misdemeanors.

About 41 percent of the married women who were attacked by their husbands or ex-husbands but did not call the police were assaulted again within an average of six months. Yet only 15 percent of the women who alerted police were assaulted again.

Soviet-Israeli talks end unexpectedly

HELSINKI, Finland — The first official talks in 19 years between Soviet and Israeli delegates broke off unexpectedly after 90 minutes today, but an Israeli official said both sides agreed on further contacts.

"The talks did not break up in anger," the Israeli told The Associated Press. "The Soviets said they want to send an eight-member team to Tel Aviv in October and that proposal will be presented to the Israeli government."

"For our part, the Israeli delegation presented a demand that the Soviets permit freer Jewish emigration. The Soviets said they will take that back to their government," the official said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

The Israeli official said both sides agreed to further contacts after they reporting to their governments. The Soviet Embassy declined immediate comment.

A Soviet source confirmed the talks broke off, but said he had no further information. The meeting originally was scheduled to last two days.

The talks, convened at the Finnish Government Compound under tight security, were the first formal discussions since the Kremlin severed ties with the Jewish state over the 1967 Six-Day War.

Soviet officials rejected an Israeli suggestion made through the Finnish Foreign Ministry that the delegates shake hands in the presence of photographers before the talks began, Israeli officials said.

The three Israeli delegates were under a government order to discuss Soviet Jewry with the two Soviet representatives, but the Kremlin had indicated an unwillingness to do so.

Israel says 400,000 of the Soviet Union's 2.5 million Jews have taken steps to emigrate, but are kept from doing so by the government. Thirty-one Jews were allowed to leave in July, the lowest figure in 11 months.

The Soviets maintain that most of those who want to leave have been allowed to do so.

The Soviets had said they wanted to discuss matters related to Russian Orthodox Church property in Israel and the occupied West Bank, and the status of Soviet citizens living in Israel, about 150 of whom are clergy.

Gorbachev to speak

MOSCOW — Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev will deliver an important foreign affairs speech on television today and may disclose whether the Kremlin will continue its nuclear test ban, a Soviet official said.

"It will be an important statement on international relations, and possibly about the moratorium," said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity. He declined to provide more details.

State-run television announced Sunday that Gorbachev would speak at the start of the evening news program "Vremya" (Time), which starts at 9 p.m. (1 p.m. EDT).

Four killed in explosion

TOULON, France — A car transporting explosives blew up early today in this Mediterranean port city, killing the driver and all three passengers, police reported.

The explosion, at about 1 a.m. near Toulon's central market, wrecked the car and started a fire in a nearby building.

The fire destroyed a store specializing in toys and baby clothes, police said. Witnesses said bits of clothing and shards of metal were scattered through the street, and windows shattered in nearby apartments.

Rioting marches begin

LAHORE, Pakistan — Police clashed with anti-government protesters for a sixth day today as the opposition called for mass marches to demand the removal of President Gen. Mohammad Zia ul-Haq. Six more riot deaths were reported.

The Movement for the Restoration of Democracy, an alliance of 11 opposition parties, planned major demonstrations today in Lahore, Karachi, Rawalpindi and elsewhere. Tens of thousands of people would march in the protests, the group said.

Refugees recount trip

TORONTO — The Sri Lankan refugees smuggled across the Atlantic in a small freighter's hold said they had little food or clean water and slept on decks awash with human waste during their two-week trip.

In weekend interviews, spokesmen for the 155 Tamils also said the ship's captain taunted refugees who complained of thirst during their voyage from West Germany and threatened to shoot anyone caught in his cabin after a can of Coca-Cola was stolen.

"We were fed tinned soup, liquidy rice, moldy bread and dirty water from two barrels," refugee Sivagnanam Sivapooranan said in Toronto.

Computer operators play political games

WASHINGTON (AP) — In politics, winning is usually everything, but there's a new way to play the political game so it doesn't really matter if you win or lose.

This game is a computer program. When you play it you get an idea of what it's like to stand in the shoes of a member of Congress, making a range of decisions from hiring staff to placating your party leadership.

The computer game was developed for the National Association of Manufacturers by Claremont College's Rose Institute of State and Local Government in Southern California. It is intended as an educational tool for NAM's members — especially companies that are unschooled in Washington ways, said NAM attorney Gary Lipkin. Of the trade association's 14,000 members, some 9,000 are small businesses with fewer than 100 employees, he said.

"The vast majority of our members do not have any Washington presence and are unsophisticated in the ways of Washington. They do not have any idea what their congressman does," Lipkin said in a recent interview. "Their idea of what their congressman does was derived from their social studies book in sixth grade."

The computer game can give them more understanding as to why a member of Congress, for instance, might vote against something that would seem beneficial to the home district.

Alcohol ban given endorsement

To the editor:
Our city got liquor by the drink because voters did not think it would pass. Let us stand up and be counted! I think we can and should ban alcohol from our parks.
Ms. Pat Deanda, let those people that want to get angry just get angry. Who is going to run the city? A few people are our city government.
You say they got no place to go. Let them go to each other's houses and drink all they want. And let families that want to enjoy the parks do so.
I am 63. I did at one time go to Moss Lake by myself and fish all night. Now I am almost afraid to go in the daytime by myself.

Tina Arguello, my hat is off to you for standing up for the right thing. And Mr. Rutherford, I think you are right — most people would vote to ban alcohol.
Why not run a survey and see? And to upgrade our parks, arrest the ones that get angry and vandalize places. Let them work off their fines by upgrading our parks. That would be beautiful.
V. L. CUTHBERTSON

Committee called positive step

To the editor:
The committee being formed to consider the subject of consumption of alcoholic beverages in the park is a positive step in a good direction.
Pat Deanda is to be congratulated for being willing to express the views of many Big Spring citizens to our city commissioners. It takes courage to step forward to present a minority viewpoint.
All of us want a safe community park and it is good that people are willing to work with Mrs. Deanda on the committee to discuss how best to bring this about.

Jesse Trevino, who writes for the Big Spring Herald on Sundays, also is bringing to our attention important issues that concern all of us. The importance of the Hispanic viewpoint must be considered.
Mr. Trevino writes with clarity from a background of understanding as well as knowledge. I hope we are listening and learning.
Would it be possible for us to have reports on important issues that concern Mexican-Americans in Spanish from time to time?

Athletes report stirs suspicions

To the editor:
It was with a great deal of interest that I read the question and answer regarding Howard College athletic scholarships in the "How's That?" published Thursday. It would appear the college is adopting stringent economic measures in order to be spending a mere $1,000 per year per athlete.
Only a year ago, according to a study done by the college administration in the spring of 1985, athletic scholarships were costing more than $1,400 per athlete per year. That represents a savings of nearly 30 percent and is commendable — if really true.
Even more interesting was Dr. Riley's assertion that the athletic scholarship program "pretty well breaks even." Clearly, Howard College has discovered a secret not widely known by colleges and universities — namely, how to make an athletic program pay for itself.
Nearly every year several colleges around the nation discontinue athletic programs because they are too expensive. Just this year, Amarillo College stopped its basketball program and U.T. Arlington ended its football program because of the expenses.

Perhaps Howard College officials could publish a book revealing their secret for running a "break even" intercollegiate athletic program. The insights could be invaluable to other colleges struggling with expensive athletics programs.
Hardin-Simmons might even find it feasible to resurrect its football program if it had this information. And the profits from the sale of the book could be used to provide academic scholarships and strengthen the educational programs of Howard College.
I must confess, however, that I suspect all is not as it is made to appear. Perhaps some clarity will arise in the public hearing on the junior college proposed budget for next year, scheduled Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Union Building at Howard College.
I plan to be there and I encourage other taxpayers to join me as the college board discusses how it plans to spend several million dollars next year.

Suggests letters on state park

To the editor:
I have this day (Aug. 14) written letters to Larry Don Shaw, representative for our district, and John T. Montford, our state senator, in regards to the closing of Big Spring State Park.
I think closing of this facility would be a disaster to our community. I would encourage all members of our community to write to these men expressing your feelings about this.

This park is one place we can go to enjoy a few minutes of peace, quiet and safety with our family. The picnickers, joggers, walkers, and all others need to feel a great sense of responsibility about this. I surely do.
Come on Big Springers, rise up and be heard. It's up to us.

U.S. and allies still selling arms to terrorist countries

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA

WASHINGTON — The United States and the Western allies continue to conduct secret talks and cut secret deals with Iran while the Ayatollah Khomeini's terrorist lackeys control the fate of three surviving American hostages — and several Europeans.
We've reported before on the secret tilt toward Iran by the Reagan administration's top policymakers. We have declined to detail the extent and exact nature of the contacts because they are so closely intertwined with the fate of the remaining hostages.

Jack Anderson

Primarily at Syria's instigation, the Iranian-controlled Moslem terrorists in Lebanon released the Rev. Lawrence Jenco, but there is no indication that they are willing to give up the other three — Associated Press reporter Terry Anderson and David Jacobsen and Thomas Sutherland of the American University in Beirut.
Intelligence reports show the hostages are moved frequently to avoid rescue, and were taken recently from the Bekaa Valley to Beirut.
Meanwhile, our allies are trying to placate Iran and two other terrorist states — Syria and Libya — by supplying them with arms and making profitable trade deals with them.
These backdoor arrangements give Iran, Syria and Libya the wherewithal to support and train terrorists — and provide Iran with the munitions and replacement parts it needs to continue the six-year-old war with Iraq.
Here are just some of the more outrageous weapons deals made by Western European nations with the terrorist states in pursuit of appeasement and profits:
● France. The state-owned conglomerate Luchaire secretly shipped hundreds of thousands of artillery shells to Iran. Some of the transactions have been shielded by arranging them through Luchaire's affiliate, S.E.A., in Turin, Italy.
Paris also has signed secret deals with Libyan dictator Moammar Gadhafi for 128 Otomat shipborne missiles (of joint French-Italian manufacture), Mirage jet fighter-bombers and dozens of Exocet antiship missiles.
Exocets wreaked deadly havoc on the British fleet in the Falklands war, and could endanger the U.S. Sixth Fleet if it maneuvers in the Gulf of Sidra again.

● West Germany. Perhaps primarily to make travel safer for its citizens, Bonn has agreed to supply Iran with four Type 209 diesel submarines, among other weapons. The carnage these undersea craft could produce in the Persian Gulf oil shipping lanes can easily be imagined.
Intelligence sources tell us the extent of West Germany's secret deals with Iran has made Lufthansa safer to fly than any other airline — with the possible exception of El Al, which relies on painstaking security measures rather than Israeli appeasement of terrorist-sponsoring governments.
● Austria, Greece, Sweden — and Israel. According to a startling report in this month's Reader's Digest by senior editor Nathan Adams, these supposedly anti-terrorist countries also have put the almighty dollar above the ethical and humane considerations involved in weapons dealing with countries that encourage terrorist activities.
● Italy. Nearly half of Libya's $10 billion worth of business with West Europe each year is with Italy, its former colonial ruler.
Last May, a former Italian intelligence chief disclosed that he had helped Gadhafi obtain arms and advised him on intelligence matters to secure better deals for Italian firms doing business with Libya.
Heavy weapons provided by Italian companies include missile-equipped warships, self-propelled howitzers, missiles and thousands of acoustic mines and torpedoes.

Italy's craven trucking to terrorists — demonstrated earlier in its refusal to arrest Abu Abbas, planner of the Achille Lauro hijacking last year — was exposed again last April. Italian police arrested one Arebi Mohammed Fitri for supplying a pistol to Libyan hit men who were planning to kill U.S. Ambassador Maxwell Rabb and Saudi Arabian and Egyptian envoys. Fitri, an employee of the Libyan Arab Foreign Investment Co. in Rome, was simply expelled instead of being prosecuted.

TOP TEAMSTERS: The generosity of the Teamsters union toward its officials continues apace. Recent figures show that union president Jackie Presser (even though he has been exposed as a sometime FBI fink) and 103 other top Teamsters — including Presser's chauffeur — each received more than $100,000 from the union treasury last year.
Meanwhile, the long-awaited 360-page report by Eugene Methvin of the now-defunct President's Commission on Organized Crime has finally been released. It links Presser and other Teamsters officials to organized crime figures, and criticizes the Justice Department for inaction on the situation.

MINI-EDITORIAL: We're indebted to the Federal Times for the disclosure that the Office of Personnel Management has developed its own manual to help its employees reduce job-related stress.
It recommends, among other things, a "sparkle smile" to curb tension, writing notes to yourself, developing outside interests and falling in love.

Mind you, this is the agency that hires federal workers, which could raise some interesting problems. That Internal Revenue Service examiner who's interviewing you, for example: Is he just sparkle-smiling to relieve his internal tension? Or is he falling in love with you?
Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Brutal story might apply in Nicaragua

Communist economies are notoriously inefficient at making the simplest goods, but they consistently outdo the capitalists in at least one industry: gruesome memoirs by former political prisoners.
The only defect of the product is its grim uniformity. Just as communists have yet to realize the creation of a new socialist man — or the "new Nicaraguan," now under construction by the Sandinistas — their methods of brutality are nothing novel, except perhaps in their thoroughness.
Try to guess which country produced this passage:
"As far as the toilet goes, the one hole in the floor, used by sixty-two prisoners, is a horror. ... All spreading slowly through the cell. ... Of course no one can hold himself indefinitely and so ... the mounds of excrement grow higher. Everyone who can fit moves onto the sleeping bench. The others stand around in it, exactly like pigs in a ..."

The Soviet Union? China? Cuba? Poland?
This description comes from "The Vietnamese Gulag," written with David Chanoff by Doan Van Toai, one of the lucky victims who found his way to the West.
It could have been written, though, by almost any political prisoner of any communist regime. It has the usual features: arbitrary imprisonment, overcrowding, deprivation, disease, isolation, torture, death.

Toai, despite years of work for the Communist National Liberation, which led to several arrests by the South Vietnamese government, disappeared for two-and-a-half years into this gulag. He never was accused of a crime, tried or convicted.
In fact, he was arrested because he was mistaken for someone else. His exit papers, next to "Reason for Arrest" and "Reason for Discharge," are left blank.
He wrote that he was kept in Le Dan Tuyet Prison with 2,000 other prisoners, 10 times the number kept there under the Nguyen Van Thieu regime.
The daily ration was two small bowls of a rice, and the only water came through a single hose for just 15 minutes each day.
The inmates never were let out of their cells. Ventilation was so poor that the inmates rotated constantly for one-minute turns at the one small outside opening. Ah, the genius of socialism: Even air is rationed.

Toai said he saw one inmate flogged until he choked to death from swallowing his tongue, which in his agony he had bitten off.
This account does not justify the United States' role in the Vietnam War, though it will be used for that purpose by conservatives.
But it is important to remember that many liberal Americans once hailed Ho Chi Minh as a liberator and that Vietnam has been saluted by many of these people as an evolving socialist paradise.
The government that imprisoned and tortured Toai had been applauded by Tom Hayden and Straughton Lynd for its "humane socialism ... a socialism of the heart."

While Toai was rotting in Le Van Duyet, the American Friends Service Committee was praising Vietnam for building "a new society based on justice and equality."
Similar words are heard today about Nicaragua, even though the Sandinistas have jailed thousands of political dissidents.
The reality of totalitarianism infallibly emerges in each new member of the communist bloc, but the more extreme partisans of the left always insist that this time, true socialism will flower, if only American imperialism will let it.
They have been wrong before — about the Soviet Union, China, Cuba, Vietnam — and they are wrong now. If the Sandinistas are allowed to consolidate their hold on Nicaragua, it will join the ranks of nations whose main contributions to civilization are the autobiographies of their political prisoners.

Gossipy woman looks for dirt in the wrong place

DEAR ABBY: I am a 65-year-old woman living in the home of a dear old gentleman as a combination housekeeper and nurse. One of the women from the church comes over once a week to pray for the mister. It has come back to me that this church woman has been telling the other ladies of the church that I keep a dirty house.

Abby, I am frequently up all night caring for the mister, and I'm so pooped the next day that I can't get all the housework finished, but what right has this lady got to speak so lowly about a few unwashed dishes? I am here 24 hours a day, seven days a week!

Some people can be so unkind. Now her gossip about my "dirty" housekeeping has spread like wildfire in the church circle.

Should I go to the priest? I may be a bit messy, but I am not dirty.

UPSET IN WISCONSIN
DEAR UPSET: Go straight to the source. Tell the "lady" that you are deeply wounded to learn that she's been telling the ladies at church that you are a dirty housekeeper. Explain that you are often up all night, but do your best to keep the house in order. It may not silence her vicious tongue, but you'll feel better. And it seems to me that this gossipy woman who comes to "pray" is in need of some prayers herself.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how Glenn Scott of Haughton, La., was able to accumulate 204 pairs of socks in the U.S. Army. (I presume that he kept one pair to wear after sending 203 pairs to his fiancée to wash.) Have they stopped holding inspections in the Army?

I believe that Glenn and his fiancée are pulling your leg (and your foot). Do you know how much space 203 pairs of socks can take up? What G.I. has that many footlockers "in the field," as Scott says he is? On the other hand (foot?), maybe he is a supply sergeant who indulges in a bit of moonlight requisitioning.

Here's hoping you hear from the Pentagon about this.

Dear Abby

HOSE COUNTER,
WHITTER, CALIF.

DEAR HOSE COUNTER: I have not (thus far) heard "boo" from the Pentagon, but I can assure you that there was no attempt made to pull my leg.

DEAR ABBY: I have not paid anything back toward my student government loan. I heard President Reagan talk recently about "getting" me for it, and I am afraid.

After graduating from college, I was unable to find a job in my field, so I worked for years at low-paying jobs and couldn't afford to pay back the loan.

Now I am in a position to begin payments, but I'm afraid to come forward because they might expect full restitution. I am fully aware that I will have to pay penalties, and that is justifiable, but I can't pay it back all at once. How should I handle this?

STILL HIDING

DEAR HIDING: Come out, come out, wherever you are. Start repaying your student loan in regular installments; small as the amount may be, it will show good faith. Something is better than nothing.

Phlebitis: Deep or surface veins?

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have phlebitis. The veins in my legs somehow got inflamed. My doctor feels only the surface veins are involved, and he prescribed support hose and warm soaking of the leg. My girlfriend says I should be on medicine? What kind is used? Are blood-thinners proper for this? — Mrs. K.D.V.

I'm not here to second-guess your doctor from this distance. I'm sure he has a handle on your situation. But I can tell you about phlebitis in general.

Almost always, phlebitis begins with formation of a clot in the vein. As they do whenever trouble arises in the body, white cells rush to that area. That creates the inflammation.

What can be done? It depends on where those inflamed veins are situated. If they are just under the surface, treatment is more conservative than if they are deep-lying. And the surface-vein problem is easily noted. In addition to the pain, you can notice redness and warmth. The veins, in fact, can be felt as sinuous ropes under the skin.

For this type of phlebitis, the treatment is much as your doctor is recommending — the soaks and the stockings, and perhaps mild pain medicine. Phlebitis of surface veins is not considered dangerous.

Not so with deep-vein phlebitis, where the danger exists of a bit of the clot breaking off (embolization). That bit can drift off to the lungs and disrupt circulation there. As you know, the lungs are the destination of venous blood.

In the face of this threat, treatment is more aggressive. Here is where the blood-thinners you mention come into play. They prevent further growth of the clot and keep things in control.

Dr. Donohue

You didn't ask (but others have) about causes of phlebitis. They include aging, obesity, pregnancy, connective tissue disease, and clotting problems, as in polycythemia (discussed recently). Any instance of sluggish blood flow can lead to phlebitis.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: The question that is bothering me at the moment is, what is palindromic rheumatism? — D.V.H.

You don't run across that phrase much today. It used to mean (and I assume it still does) short episodes of joint pain with long periods of complete relief from all symptoms. It may evolve into rheumatoid arthritis. As you may have guessed, palindromic is a Greek word, meaning returning. I guess we don't hear that phrase today, for now we get right at the rheumatoid arthritis diagnosis without having to use vague descriptions.

Today the word, palindromic, is more familiar in reference to the literary device in which a statement reads letter for letter exactly the same backwards and forwards: "Able was I ere I saw Elba" is the example my Webster's cites of a palindrome.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I was experiencing a brownish vaginal discharge for a few days a while back and had it checked out. My doctor, who is a thorough person, gave me a good examination. He said I was fine, that the discharge was physiologic. He said I am a healthy 27-year-old female. But what did physiologic mean? I meant to ask, but felt a little foolish. — P.F.

He meant to say that after his examination, he concluded that the discharge you had was a normal part of your menstrual cycle. Some women may have such a short duration discharge of this type from changes in their hormone levels during their cycle. It could have meant only a premature shedding of your endometrium (uterine lining). That can happen just before the regular menstruation.

UT awarded $15 million contract

AUSTIN — The University of Texas will be awarded a Defense Department contract for $15 million to $17 million to design and build a repetitive-fire, anti-tank gun, U.S. Rep. Jake Pickle says.

The weapon will serve as the prototype electric gun for tanks and armored vehicles of the future, Pickle announced Saturday.

The money will go to the UT Center for Electromechanics, which received a $6.1 million defense contract in July to develop a single-shot rail gun in a laboratory environment.

The new contract will call for UT to take the technology developed for the single-shot version and develop a weapon that can be test-fired away from the laboratory, said Bill Weldon, director of the electromechanics.

The advanced weapon will have to have its own power source and be able to be field-tested, Weldon said. But he said it will still weigh up to 20 tons.

A rail gun is not like a conventional weapon, which uses gas expansion to drive projectiles through a chamber. A rail gun uses a powerful supply of electricity to push projectiles along two parallel rails or rods at tremendous speed.

Pickle's administrative assistant, John Bender, said developing such an anti-tank gun is the Defense Department's second weapons priority behind the Strategic Defense Initiative, the so-called Star Wars system.

Plant explodes in Houston channel

PASADENA — A gas plant explosion early today rocked the area around the Houston Ship Channel causing a towering fire and injuring at least three workers.

The explosion before 5 a.m. at the Ethyl Corp., west of Pasadena around the Houston Ship Channel, was felt 35 miles away in Mont Belvieu, according to one employee who was en route to work.

Officials at the plant could not be reached for immediate comment.

The plant's fire department and the Houston Fire Department were called to put out the blaze caused by the explosion, officials said. The fire was out within two hours.

Three employees, whose names were not released, were taken to a local hospital. Two were transferred by Life Flight to Houston's Hermann Hospital, where they were listed in serious condition, a hospital spokeswoman said. She said she did not know the extent of their injuries.

About 65 employees were working at the plant when the explosion occurred. Employees reporting for the day shift were not turned away.

SOME PEOPLE BUY AIR CONDITIONERS LIKE THERE'S NO TOMORROW.

When it's time to replace your old air conditioner, it'll probably only take you a little while to find a new one that looks pretty good and doesn't cost much. But it'll take a lot longer to realize a quick bargain is likely to cause a slow burn on your wallet every month.

A high-efficiency air conditioner could make a difference in your cooling costs this summer and every summer. A high-efficiency choice means steady savings because you're getting the same amount of cooling using less electricity than with a low-efficiency unit. On top of this, you'll get a valuable rebate from your electric company if your central air conditioner or window unit meets our Energy Action standards.

See your recognized Energy Action air conditioning contractor or dealer for help in choosing a high-efficiency air conditioner or heat pump. Tomorrow, you'll be way ahead of the game.

BREATH-TAKING BONAIRE

For the water-sport enthusiast, Bonaire, in the Caribbean, is a paradise. In fact, this island is one of those rare places that is better known underwater than it is ashore.

This fact is a testament to the island's magnificent living reefs and windowpane water. It is a mecca for scuba enthusiasts from all over the world. Ashore, nature displays pink flamingos and hundreds of other kinds of birds in an extensive bird sanctuary. Hotels cater mostly to divers, and have the most modern services and equipment. Other water-related activities are available for non-divers. Many of the reefs are so close to shore, however, that even the least avid snorkeler would find them hard to resist.

Under or over the water, from the desert to rain soaked forests to the cool temperatures of Alaska, there is only one place to come to make your travel dreams come true ... that is BIG SPRING TRAVEL, 608 Scurry. Let us discuss what you like to see and do and then we can help you select the destination points that will make it all come together. Our professional staff is more than happy to assist you in all your travel arrangements. So to get away from it all, come down to BIG SPRING TRAVEL today. Tel. 263-0225. Open 8:30-6:30 Mon.-Fri.

Reagan praises Mexico for economic courage

By SALLY JACOBSEN
Associated Press Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — President Reagan said in an interview published Sunday that Mexican officials have shown "extraordinary courage" in proposing programs to overcome the nation's tough economic problems.

Reagan, in an interview with the Mexico City newspaper Excelsior, also said Mexico's recent accord with the International Monetary Fund "is an equitable agreement that will permit Mexico to grow and satisfy its financial obligations."

The interview was published just days after President Miguel de la Madrid visited Washington, D.C., to meet with Reagan and other top U.S. officials. The interview was published in Spanish.

Reagan said his discussions with de la Madrid provided an opportunity for "a friendly, frank and open dialogue among friends."

"Mexico and the United States are above all good neighbors. What affects Mexico in fact affects the United States and vice versa," he was quoted as saying.

Reagan was asked about tensions in recent years between the two countries, particularly the stiff criticism handed out by some members of Congress about alleged corruption in the Mexican government and lack of democratic elections.

He replied that one of his main foreign policy objectives has been maintaining a close relationship with Mexico and said: "It is important to distinguish very carefully between the policy of the government of the United States and the private viewpoints of individual citizens."

Reagan also said, "I believe that the relations between our two countries are excellent and are typical of the relations between old friends: we have our differences, but none of them can surpass our fundamental ties and common concerns."

He praised de la Madrid and his Cabinet members for taking steps to bolster the sagging economy.

De la Madrid's administration, he was quoted as saying, has "demonstrated extraordinary courage and the required political will to propose programs and policies to overcome the economic difficulties and restore economic growth."

Mexico, the world's fourth largest oil producer, has been badly hurt by the sharp fall in crude prices. In the past, it has depended on oil sales for about 70 percent of its foreign revenues, money used to pay interest on its foreign debt of nearly $100 billion.

It recently worked out an arrangement with the International Monetary Fund for a $12 billion rescue package that should ease its financial woes.

Reagan said the government's fresh economic steps augur well for the future and that he has urged other countries to follow Mexico's example.

The president also said that U.S. relations with Latin American nations are at a high level and that the return to democracy of many of those countries has helped strengthen those ties. He said the Contadora plan for peace in Central America is not completed and not yet ready to be signed.

The negotiators' main problem, he said, is that the leftist Sandinista government in Nicaragua is not ready to seriously negotiate key points of a peace plan.

Kelly and Bills agree to terms

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Quarterback Jim Kelly has agreed to a contract worth about $7.5 million over five years with the Buffalo Bills, according to a published report. The deal makes Kelly the highest paid player in the NFL.

The Buffalo News reported in today's editions that after about 10 hours of negotiations, Kelly and his agents reached an agreement with the Bills at about 2 a.m. EDT today in Houston.

Kelly was expected to fly to Buffalo this morning and sign the contract at a news conference.

Quarterback Joe Montana of the San Francisco 49ers is currently the highest paid player at $1.3 million a year.

Kelly was Buffalo's first-round draft pick in 1983 but chose to sign with the Houston Gamblers of the United States Football League on June 9 of that year. That league has suspended play, at least until 1987, and the New Jersey Generals, who merged with Houston, had given Kelly the OK to negotiate with Buffalo, which holds his NFL rights.

Dave Senko, a spokesman for the Bills, declined to comment Sunday on the status of the negotiations.

On Saturday, the Houston Post said Kelly was demanding $10 million over five years to play for Buffalo.

The Buffalo News also said another NFL source reported that the Bills' $7.5 million offer is the same the Los Angeles Raiders would offer Kelly if they were to negotiate a deal for him.

Kelly sat in a private box with owner Ralph Wilson of the Bills Saturday night to watch the Bills-Oilers preseason game in the Astrodome at Houston.

Campbell retires

HAMMOND, La. (AP) — Running back Earl Campbell, who needed only 593 yards this coming NFL season to reach the 10,000 mark, is retiring, the New Orleans Saints announced today.

No reasons were given, but Campbell had scheduled an 11:30 a.m. CDT news conference at the Saints training camp on the Southeastern Louisiana University campus at Hammond.

Campbell, once the stalwart of the Houston Oilers offense, had a less than spectacular career at New Orleans. He came to training camp weigh-in at a trim 225 pounds — considerably lighter than last year. At his first news conference, he said he was determined to break the 10,000 mark and remove the bitter taste of a bad 1985 season.

But the 1977 Heisman Trophy winner's performance in two preseason games wasn't impressive. He had 78 yards for 25 carries or about 3.1 yards per carry at a time when Saints fans and the new coaching staff, headed by Jim Mora, were hoping for better.

Campbell won NFL Most Valuable Player honors three times. He led the NFL in rushing during his first three years (1978-80). His best season was in 1980 when he rushed for 1,934 yards — No. 3 in NFL history.

His best years were under Coach Bum Phillips at Houston. Phillips, after being fired at Houston, took over at New Orleans and brought Campbell over six games into the 1984 season — dealing away a first-round draft pick in a trade that brought immediate criticism.

Campbell had begun the 1984 season with 8,296 yards, but was having a relatively bad year at the time of the trade, averaging 2.9 yards per carry.

Tyson KO's Ribalta

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — While Mike Tyson keeps winning, his manager keeps planning.

The manager of the undefeated Tyson, who claimed his 26th victim Sunday night, must decide between a matchup of the 20-year-old heavyweight against former International Boxing Federation champion Larry Holmes or the HBO boxing tournament.

Jose Ribalta lasted nearly the full 10 rounds — something only two of Tyson's opponents have been able to do — before referee Rudy Battle stopped the fight Sunday at 1:37 of the final round.

The victory could put Tyson in a position to take on either Holmes, who had won 48 straight fights before losing to Michael Spinks and then losing an April 19 rematch, or World Boxing Council champion Trevor Berbick.

Bill Cayton, Tyson's manager, said he's not sure he wants a Tyson-Holmes matchup.

"We would fight Holmes, but where do we go from there?" Cayton said. He said he is considering putting Tyson in the Home Box Office heavyweight tournament instead, where his fighter could work toward a planned 1987 bout unifying the major heavyweight titles.

Tyson, from Catskill, N.Y., floored Ribalta, of Miami, with a right uppercut in the second round and a straight right to the head in the eighth that drove Ribalta through the ropes.

Early in the 10th round, Tyson dropped Ribalta with a combination of a straight right and a left hook. After Ribalta rose to beat the count, Tyson unleashed a flurry of body punches that prompted Battle to stop the bout.

Ribalta fell to 23-4-1 with 16 knockouts.

Tyson was heavily favored over the 23-year-old Cuban-born Ribalta, whose record includes a loss to Marvin Frazier last September in a 10-round decision.

Frazier, the son of former heavyweight champion Joe Frazier, faced Tyson July 26 and wound up on the canvas following two stunning uppercuts in the first 30 seconds of the bout.

"I've seen some of (Ribalta's) fights where he did more running than Carl Lewis," said Tyson, who is ranked No. 1 by the World Boxing Association and No. 2 by the WBC.

"Tonight he stood and fought with me more. I respect that. He took all my best punches and I commend him for that," Tyson said.

Ribalta complained about the referee stopping the fight, saying he could have lasted the full 10 rounds. If so, he would have joined Mitch Green and James "Quick" Tillis in an elite circle of Tyson's victims that have lasted that long.

San Francisco Giants' hall of famer Willie Mays (left) and present day Giants president and general manager Al Rosen wave to the crowd at Candlestick Park in San Francisco Sunday before the start of an old timers game featuring members of the 1954 New York Giants and Cleveland Indians who played against each other in the '54 World Series that the Giants swept. Rosen, a member of the '54 Indians, and Mays, a member of the '54 Giants, are now both members of the San Francisco Giants organization.

The dreaded knock of the Grim Reaper

Ben Bennett, a free agent QB, battles to ward off the career ending knock

For the lucky ones — the veterans and hotshot rookies assured of a spot on the roster — a pro football training camp is a time of preparation. The isolation from family and the twice a day practices are, says Houston Oilers backup quarterback Oliver Luck, "a necessary evil."

But with 80 odd athletes in camp fighting for 45 positions, for many, training camp amounts to much more than a difficult prelude to the regular season. For the free agents, late round draft choices and aging veterans, training camp becomes a fiercely fought struggle for survival.

No mistakes. Faster. Hit harder. Pay attention. Do anything it takes. Anything to avoid the knock of the Grim Reaper — the banging on the door on cut day, and the coach's beckoning to be let in.

"I'm sorry son. You worked hard, and you deserve to play somewhere in this league, but..."

But... good luck with your life, and here's a plane ticket. Don't let the door hit you on the way out, he might as well say, because what he does say doesn't help. The fact is, you're out of a job, a lot of money, and the future you'd counted on.

Tomorrow, when the league requires that all rosters be trimmed to 60, the NFL season, and probably this particular career, will come to an abrupt end for approximately 20 Houston Oilers. Free agents Ben Bennett and Larry James, neither of whom have played a down in the NFL, are on the fence. Each has taken a very different approach towards the looming possibility of an end to football.

Bennett graduated from Duke in 1983 as the all-time NCAA leader in passing attempts, completions and yardage, though Doug Flutie has since broken some of Bennett's records. Like Flutie, the main knock on Bennett is his size. Though he's listed at 6-1, he's more like 5-11, and the prevailing attitude is that short quarterbacks can't make it in the NFL. Forget that Joe Montana and Joe Theismann won recent Super Bowls without towering over opponents.

"When it comes down to it, you want somebody who's going to win football games for you," Bennett says, with the obvious implication that he thinks he can win football games.

It is quickly apparent that the former Duke quarterback does not lack in confidence. He speaks his mind, and he does so with quick assurance. It's a good bet that Bennett grew up as the class loudmouth — funny, popular, and a bit of a smart aleck. And also a leader.

"Confidence is probably the key to my whole game. You have to let everything hang out when you play this game," he says.

Bennett is not quite sure where he stands with the Oiler coaching staff, and he bristles at the thought that his career could be over before it began.

"I'm not sure exactly what to think. I know that when I get the opportunity, I'm playing well. But I don't know how much that's counting for. I didn't play a down in the Ben Bennett (left), a former Duke all-American struggling to make the Houston Oilers roster this year, clowns around with Jim Kelly, now of the Buffalo Bills (see above story). This picture appeared in a recent story about Kelly in Sports Illustrated. Bennett and Kelly are roommates in Houston.

Ram's game (the Oilers first exhibition game, a 17-14 win over the L.A. Rams). It would be silly to bring me down here and not give me the opportunity," he says.

Bennett admits his chances with the Oilers are slim. He says the team plans to keep two quarterbacks, and Warren Moon would be impossible to oust. Veteran backup quarterback Oliver Luck's position also appears secure.

To make matters worse, the Oilers made Purdue quarterback Jim Everett their number one draft pick. Everett is holding out for more money, but if he comes to terms with the Oilers, Bennett will be the odd man out — no ifs, ands or buts.

"I'm hoping he's enjoying fishing as much as I hope he is. Because as soon as the bonus baby comes, I'll be seeing zero playing time and most likely a plane ticket home," he says, with a grunt of a laugh.

Other Oilers agree that Bennett's status depends almost wholly on

Cowboys find bright spots in loss to Raiders

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Slowly but surely, the slumbering Dallas offense seems to be coming around. And it's about to receive a very significant addition.

The Cowboys tallied their first touchdown after 17 quarters without one and got four field goals in their National Football League preseason game Saturday night against the Los Angeles Raiders.

While all that wasn't enough — the Raiders downed the Cowboys 24-19 — Dallas Coach Tom Landry seemed pretty satisfied. And he'll have standout running back Herschel Walker in uniform for the first time when the Cowboys practice Monday.

"It's still very early in the preseason," Landry said. "We played a lot of people because we need to find out if they can play or not, and that hurt our continuity."

"All in all, we played pretty well and had a good effort. I feel a lot better than I have the last two weeks. I saw a lot of improvement."

Walker signed a five-year contract with the Cowboys last Wednesday. He watched Saturday night's game at the Los Angeles Coliseum in street clothes on the sidelines.

Before Saturday night, the Cowboys hadn't scored a touchdown since the first quarter of their 30-16 loss to San Francisco in the final game of the 1985 regular season. Dallas later lost a 20-0 decision to the Los Angeles Rams in the playoffs and had been beaten this summer by Chicago 17-6 and San Diego 20-0.

Landry wasn't the only coach feeling better about his team after the game — Coach Tom Flores of the Raiders expressed similar sentiments.

"Last week we played lousy but tonight there was a tremendous turnaround," Flores said. "Our improvement was very evident. We played much harder and made some big plays. All three of our quarterbacks threw the ball well and our offensive line protected very well."

The Raiders were crushed 32-0 by San Francisco in their preseason opener on Aug. 10.

Los Angeles got a touchdown pass each from quarterbacks Jim Plunkett, Marc Wilson and Rusty Hilger in winning the nationally televised contest against the Cowboys. Chris Bair completed the Los Angeles scoring with a 45-yard field goal.

The Los Angeles offensive line, which allowed 12 sacks by the 49ers, gave up only one to the Cowboys.

The Raiders fell behind 3-0 on a 42-yard field goal by Rafael Septien with 4:14 left before halftime, but Plunkett then engineered a 75-yard, eight-play drive to put Los Angeles in front. The touchdown came on a 14-yard pass from Plunkett to running back Steve Strachan.

The Cowboys went in front 10-7 after just 2:22 of the third quarter on a 1-yard scoring run by Robert Lavette, four plays after linebacker Steve DeOssie intercepted Wilson's first pass of the night and returned it 24 yards to the Los Angeles 12-yard line.

But Wilson fired a 60-yard scoring strike to Rod Barksdale with 6:01 left in the period to put the Raiders ahead for good.

"We still have a long way to go," Flores said. "We worked very hard in practice this week and it showed. Jim (Plunkett) played well, Marc started out with an interception, but he wasn't flustered. When he came back to hit the long one to Barksdale, that showed me a lot."

Wilson is listed as the Raiders' starting quarterback, with the 38-year-old Plunkett No. 2 and Hilger No. 3. Hilger provided Los Angeles with its final points, throwing a 56-yard touchdown pass to Mark Pattison with 8:02 remaining in the game.

Sports briefs

Soccer registration begins

Registration for the fall season of the Big Spring Soccer Association will begin today and will last until Sept. 10.

Registration is being held at the Big Spring YMCA on 801 Owen Street. Players must be at least four years old by Sept. 1, and the registration fee is $15. Any parents interested in coaching or helping should contact either Val at 267-8337, or Mark at 267-6178, after 5 p.m., or David at 267-2677.

Pee wees look for coaches

The possibility of a third and fourth grade pee wee football league is depending on the help of interested coaches, sponsors and players. The league is trying to organize teams in Forsan and Coahoma.

Those interested should call Earl Sherrill at 263-0613. Equipment donations are welcome. There will be a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, Aug. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

Trip to Tech-Texas game is planned

The Texas Tech Executives Association in Big Spring is sponsoring a bus trip to the Texas Tech — Texas game in Lubbock on Nov. 1. The trip is open to the public, and will cost $30 per person. The $30 includes game ticket, bus fare, and refreshments on the bus. For those who already have tickets, the trip will cost $16.

Whitt's homer in 11th sinks Rangers; Astros lose

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

While Detroit Manager Sparky Anderson played by the book, the Boston Red Sox tried to convince him to find some new reading material by hitting run-scoring doubles following three intentional walks.

"Sometimes those things backfire," said Boston's Marty Barrett, who doubled home the go-ahead run following an intentional walk to Wade Boggs in a three-run sixth inning which the Red Sox rode to a 7-5 victory Sunday.

The Red Sox tied an American League record with the three intentional walks in the sixth inning en route to a victory that increased their AL East lead to five games over New York.

Calvin Schiraldi, who replaced starter Bruce Hurst in the sixth, earned the victory in his first AL decision.

Indians 11, Orioles 6

The intentional walk also played a large role in Cleveland, where Indians rookie Cory Snyder followed one to Mel Hall with a three-run homer in a six-run third inning that chased Baltimore's Mike Boddicker.

Snyder, who also had a single, and a solo homer in the eighth, has hit 16 home runs and driven in 40 runs in 58 games with Cleveland since his recall from the minors. Pat Tabler went 3-for-3, giving him 35 hits in his last 82 at-bats, a .427 average that lifted his overall mark to .302.

White Sox 7, Brewers 4

Chicago's Steve Carlton didn't have anything to say after allowing three hits in 7 1-3 innings for his first AL victory. He passed the 5,000-inning milestone in the sixth during a stretch in which he retired 11 straight Milwaukee hitters.

"He hit the corners when he had to, and he had a great curveball," catcher Ron Karkovice said of Carlton.

Angels 7, A's 3

California's Don Sutton, who joined Atlanta's Doyle Alexander as the only active pitchers to beat all 26 major-league teams, wasn't thrilled because he had pitched for Oakland most of last season.

"But it was another day at the office... business as usual," said Sutton, who scattered six hits over six innings as California upped its lead in the West to a season-high 4½ games over Texas.

Sutton, 11-9 this season, is 306-237 in his career.

Royals 5, Yankees 0

New York was swinging through the pitches of Mark Gubicza, 7-5, who struck out a career high 10 batters in a six-hit performance. But Ron Guidry, 6-10, wasn't fooling anybody. He gave up three homers — to Willie Wilson, George Brett and Frank White — in a game for the third time this season.

Wilson hit a two-run homer in the seventh to tie his career high with six. Brett's 13th homer, a solo shot in the first, extended his hitting streak to nine games. White had three hits, including his 14th homer leading off the fourth.

Blue Jays 8, Rangers 7

For Ernie Whitt, whose homer in the bottom of the 11th off reliever Jeff Russell gave Toronto a three-game sweep of Texas, it was simply a case of looking and hoping.

"I knew I'd hit it hard enough. I was just hoping it would stay fair," said Whitt, whose 11th homer of the season hit the foul pole in right.

The Rangers got two homers from Oddibe McDowell, his 16th and 17th.

Mariners 11, Twins 1

Seattle played long ball in passing Minnesota to move into sixth place in the West.

Alvin Davis homered for third consecutive game, Ken Phelps hit a three-run shot and Scott Bradley homered and drove in three runs in support of Mike Morgan's six-hitter.

National League

Problems have not lasted long for the New York Mets this season. Their longest losing streak of 1986 was about three hours old when it ended.

The Mets lost their fourth straight game to the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1. But they were playing a double-header Sunday, and they won the second game 9-2.

In the second game, the National League's strongest pitching team started Randy Niemann, who last won a major-league start in 1979. He won.

Niemann, called up from Tidewater on Saturday, gave up one run on five hits in six innings on Sunday.

The Mets played six games over the last four days, suffering a serious injury to Gary Carter and minor ones to pitcher Rick Aguilera and reserve outfielder Lee Mazzilli.

Braves 4, Astros 3
The game was tied 2-2, then 3-3, then Atlanta's Bob Horner drove in Rafael Ramirez with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning and Houston's three-game winning streak was over.

Ramirez had three hits in the game and scored twice. He singled leading off the seventh, stole second and went to third on catcher Alan Ashby's throwing error.

Cliff Speck, 2-0, relieved Zane Smith at the start of the sixth, pitched 1 2-3 hitless innings and got the victory. Gene Garber earned his 18th save.

Larry Andersen, 2-1, took the loss in relief of Nolan Ryan.

Glenn Davis, second in the NL in homers, gave Houston a 2-0 lead in the third inning with his 25th of the year.

Dodgers 2, Giants 0
Rick Honeycutt gave up only two hits in eight innings and Alex Trevino homered, sending Vida Blue and San Francisco to defeat before the biggest crowd at Candlestick Park this season — 49,496.

Blue, 9-7, allowed 12 hits but only two runs in 7 2-3 innings.

Cubs 2, Expos 1
Manny Trillo doubled in the top of the ninth inning and scored the winning run on Terry Francona's sacrifice fly. Trillo had hit a sacrifice fly in the fourth for Chicago's first run.

Scott Sanderson and Lee Smith held Montreal to six hits. Smith, 9-7, went two innings, allowed two hits and got the victory. He stranded Tim Raines at third in the ninth, helped by Francona's two-out sliding catch of a line drive at first base.

Padres 9, Reds 5

In Cincinnati, Bruce Boddy hit a two-run double in San Diego's four-run fifth inning and singled in a run as the Padres scored three more times in the sixth. The Padres took an 8-1 lead, then survived three Cincinnati home runs in the sixth — by Buddy Bell, Barry Larkin and Ron Oester.

Four more Padre pitchers saved the victory for LaMarr Hoyt, 7-9. Rich Gossage pitched the last two innings without allowing a hit.

Phillies 5, Pirates 1
Rain ended the game before the sixth inning could start. Philadelphia scored four times in the bottom of the first on a leadoff homer by Gary Redus, doubles by Von Hayes, Mike Schmidt and Glenn Wilson, and a single by Ron Reynolds.

Bennett

Continued from page 8 the "Everett situation." Former all-pro wide receiver John Jefferson, himself a free agent trying to make the team, says, "Ben's looking good — he's working hard. Of course, he's aware of the Everett situation."

What does veteran wide receiver Tim Smith think of Bennett's chances? "It depends on the Everett situation." Free agent linebacker Larry James, who has defended against Bennett's passes in camp, nails Bennett's predicament on the head. "He could probably set the world on fire, and they'd still go with the established quarterbacks," he says. Hence, Bennett's frustration. He remembers what it was to throw for all those yards in college. And he hasn't shrunk since then, nor has his confidence diminished. There's no doubt in his mind he could throw for big yards in the pros.

But he probably won't get the chance, and he's not one to hide his feelings. He doesn't take well to not being the master of his own fate; rather, Jim Everett, a man he doesn't even know, holds the key to the career in football Bennett thinks he deserves.

But, if the Oilers do cut him, will he give up hope of becoming an NFL quarterback? "It's too late in the season to get on with anybody else. This is the last stop for me. It would be over."

What then, and it's a difficult question, would he do if he didn't play football?

"It depends on what they do to me after I got arrested for mass murder of the coaching staff," he says, matter of factly.

Seriously... He shrugs. "I want to play football. It's what I do best." It's as if he thinks, somewhat superstitiously, that he might will a nine to five life on himself simply by considering it for a moment. So he doesn't think about it.

If Bennett does make the team, you get the feeling he'd be one of the hardest working of Oilers, and certainly one of the happiest. But if the coach with the plane ticket knocks on his door, he might not take it well. They may have to drag him to the airport.

Tell the coach with the plane ticket to bring a few linemen with him. And tell them they better put cotton in their ears.

Ben Bennett wants to play football, and he won't go quietly.

Tomorrow, the story of Larry James, a USFL refugee who's taking a different approach to the do-or-die plight of training camp.

"Come in and hear the difference."

WHY an IN-THE-EAR AID?
Modern audiological research has shown that locating the hearing aid in the ear—the place provided by nature—offers the best possible help for hearing impairment.
By means of an in-the-ear aid, sound is received at the most natural place.
An in-the-ear aid is very comfortable, and since there are no dangling cords or tubes, the user has a feeling of unlimited security in everyday life, even during sporting activities.
