MOMENCE, Ill. (AP) — Don Gilbert gave the electric company the shirt off his back.

He paid his June electricity bill by sending Commonwealth Edison a check written on an old white shirt.

"Just a mild form of protest," he said after finally getting the canceled shirt back this week. "I feel they're taking the shirt off my back. May as well write the ... check on it," he said.

Gilbert decided to pay by garment after comparing his $65.50 bill for June to the $25.80 he paid in June 1979.

Many people gripe about their utility bills, but few do anything to protest, said Commonwealth Edison spokeswoman Anne Ranallo.

"Not that many people want to give away their clothes," she said.

State banking bills near adoption

From wire and bureau reports
AUSTIN (AP) — Proposed solutions to two longtime controversies of the Texas banking industry — interstate banking and branch banking — have moved to the House.

The legislation was approved by the Senate Wednesday shortly after Gov. Mark White opened the special session to banking issues.

"We'll debate them as soon as we can, probably early next week," said Rep. Bruce Gibson, D-Cleburne, author of companion House measures.

"We've got the votes. It's just a matter of getting to it," Gibson added.

The three banking measures, including a proposed state constitutional change, were approved by the Senate Wednesday after three hours of debate.

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock,

voted Wednesday for bringing interstate and branch banking to Texas. However, Montford could not be contacted for comment on his reasoning for supporting the bills.

Only two members voted against all banking legislation on final passage — Sens. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, and Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas.

Sims said he is troubled especially with the branching legislation because big banks in the same county could branch out to the rural areas and put those small, locally owned and oriented institutions out of business.

"We're headed for an entirely new system of banking in the near future," Sims said. "These big banks will be able to offer more and give better interest on CDs and such and really hurt your little rural bank."

He said that in the rural areas the change will be a bit like the town's first big discount store. "They can sell anything cheaper, so the mom and pop stores dry up," Sims warned.

Only one major change was made in the interstate banking bill, which would allow ownership and management of Texas banks or holding companies by firms outside the state for the first time.

An amendment by Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, requires the state banking commissioner to determine if the purchaser will contribute to economic development of the community, particularly persons of low and middle incomes. The amendment was adopted 17-11.

"This just tells the bank commissioner to be sure this is the kind of bank we want to do business in Texas," Farabee said.

Sen. O.H. "Ike" Harris, R-Dallas, sponsor of the measures, argued that the requirement was just "another level of bureaucracy."

Another Farabee amendment to require out-of-state banks to pay a fee of 1 percent of the purchase price was defeated 17-11.

"It's just an entry fee for doing business in Texas," Farabee said.

"This really is a transaction tax and jeopardizes the whole bill," said Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin.

The interstate banking bill finally was passed on voice vote.

Harris' proposed constitutional amendment to repeal the prohibition against branch banks passed 26-2.

If approved by voters, the branch banking proposal would allow a bank to have a home bank and three branches within a city or

Federal bank interest rates sliced again

The Federal Reserve Board's key interest rate drops from 6 percent to 5.5 percent today in response to rising pressure to ease credit restrictions to spur economic growth by making borrowing more attractive.

The central bank's decision to cut the discount rate, the interest it charges banks, came on Wednesday after the Commerce Department reported lackluster consumer spending and a drop in housing starts.

The department reported that housing construction edged down 1.8 percent in July to an annual rate of 1.82 million units — the third straight monthly drop — although construction so far this year remains 9.1 percent ahead of last year.

Analysts attributed the string of declines to a rise in mortgage interest rates after a dramatic fall earlier in the year. They said with mortgage rates declining again, the housing industry is well on its way to having its best year since 1978.

On another front, the department reported that Americans' personal incomes rose 0.5 percent in July.

While some economists hailed the gain as the best economic news in some time, others cautioned that the increase in wages and salaries, the key component of the income statistic, remained sluggish and that consumer spending rose only slightly.

Despite the seemingly gloomy economic news that preceded the Fed announcement Wednesday, the Dow Jones industrial average climbed 18.42 points to 1,881.33 Wednesday, partly in anticipation that the Fed would act soon to drive interest rates lower.

Bond prices generally were higher and interest rates fell in reaction to the discount rate cut. But dealers said the market would have risen further had it not been for profit taking.

The dollar, meanwhile, moved lower against most major foreign currencies, while gold prices spurted higher.

The Fed's cut put the discount rate at its lowest level since August 1977, when it was 5.25 percent.

The central bank and Fed Chairman Paul Volcker have come under increasing pressure in recent weeks to take further actions to lower interest rates to boost economic growth.

Kent Hance, former Democratic U.S. Congressman from Lubbock and a former Republican candidate for governor, stumped for GOP candidate Bill Clements during a visit to Big Spring Wednesday. Hance defended

Clements' reversal on the sales tax increase. Clements said earlier this week that he would not veto a tax increase after saying two weeks ago that he was "absolutely opposed to any new taxes."

Hance backs Clements' switch

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

Former GOP candidate for governor Kent Hance said Wednesday that Bill Clements is "being realistic" in saying that he may not veto a tax increase if proposed by the Legislature.

Clements, the Republican candidate for governor, said at a press conference in Big Spring two weeks ago that he was "absolutely opposed to any new taxes. We don't need any new taxes," he added.

Hance, a former Democratic U.S. Congressman from Lubbock who became a Republican last year, was in Big Spring at the Chamber of Commerce to campaign for Clements.

He said Clements' reversal stems from new projections from the state comptroller, which anticipate a budget deficit of $5 million to $7 million.

"I think with those projections, Bill Clements is being realistic, and he still takes the position that 'I don't want any new taxes, I'm against taxes' — but if we have a $7 million deficit he's not going to go into deficit spending."

"He's going to do every thing he can to keep from raising taxes," Hance said. "But if oil goes to $7 a barrel, he's not going to close the University of Texas."

In commenting on a Tuesday Dallas Morning News story that reported Clements had until this summer owned $32 million worth of stock in Schlumberger Ltd., a company under fire for its continued business with Libya, Hance said:

"The company had bought his company (Sedco Inc.). That's the reason he had some shares. And the company's based in the Netherlands. One of their subsidiaries did some business with Libya. I think that probably when it was brought to his attention, he sold some stock. To try ... to say that Clements is close to Gadhafi is ridiculous."

Chamber's motel revenue falls $6,000 short of mark

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce received approximately $19,000 from the city's hotel/motel occupancy tax for the second quarter of 1986. But that amount is about $6,000 less than it should be, according to chamber President John Arrick.

That report was one of several heard by chamber directors during their regular meeting Wednesday noon.

Arrick said the chamber was due to receive about $25,000, but received less because some hotels failed to pay the tax.

City finance director Tom Ferguson said three local hotels had not paid the tax on time. It was due the last of July.

Ferguson added, however, that two hotels, who each owed less than $30 for the tax, have since paid.

The third — the Homestead Inn — still owes $13,000 in taxes that haven't been paid for three quarters, Ferguson said.

That figure is an estimate based on the occupancy rate filed last year, he said. Hotel owners file a return, he said, in a process similar to tax returns filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

Approximately one-third of that figure is owed by former owner Joe Speckles, who filed for bankruptcy earlier this year, the finance director reported.

Under the city code in effect at that time, the new owners of the inn aren't responsible for debts owed the city by the old owners.

Since then, however, a new code has been adopted, making the new

Gov. White expands session call

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Gov. Mark White opened the agenda of the special legislative session Wednesday to three issues he has been pushing since lawmakers returned to the state Capitol to grapple with the state's budget deficit.

White directed the Legislature to consider a temporary sales tax increase, prohibition of a state income tax and passage of a bill that would allow out-of-state banks to purchase Texas banks.

The governor said, however, that he would not add a state lottery or horse and dog racing to the session. "I don't believe that either of those measures, from the testimony given, will give us the revenues we need at this particular time to solve the deficit," White said.

House leaders seem peeved at White's attempt to limit the call, as well as his failure to include pari-mutuel wagering on horse racing and greyhound racing as possible revenue sources.

House Speaker Pro-Tem Hugo Berlianga, D-Corpus Christi, said he thinks the leaders in both houses are ready to send a pari-mutuel betting bill to the governor.

House Speaker Gib Lewis reiterated his strong stand against any tax increase during the special legislative session.

In addition, he said, he now believes the differences between the House and Senate stands on taxes could mean another special session in September.

State Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen, chairman of the House tax writing committee, vowed that White's proposal to increase the sales tax won't even receive a hearing in his committee.

He said the committee stands 10-3 against a tax bill at this time, and only about 45 House members are likely to vote for it should it ever come to the House floor for a vote.

White's session proclamation originally included only spending reductions in the face of a projected $3.5 billion revenue shortfall for the budget period ending Sept. 1, 1987.

White said the shortfall must be bridged through a combination of spending cuts and tax increases.

The Texas House last Friday approved $744 million in spending cuts only.

Although White commended budget writers, he said their plan to cut higher education would sacrifice the future of the state.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — DONALD O'CONNOR, JACKIE GLEASON, ROSEMARY CLOONEY and DINAH SHORE are eligible for inclusion in a GI's Entertainers Hall of Fame in this gambling resort.

Romero, 79, experienced severe back pain Tuesday while on location filming in California's Napa Valley.

LOS ANGELES — SYLVESTER STALLONE never loses a fight on film, but the star of "Rocky" and "Rambo" was beaten by California commuters before his latest flick was ever finished.

Cannon Films, producers of "Over the Top," abandoned plans to block the Simi Valley Freeway for filming and completed the movie without that planned sequence, a California Film Office spokeswoman said Tuesday.

"Over the Top," in which Stallone plays an arm-wrestling trucker trying to win back his son's love, called for a series of truck stunts on a 3.5-mile stretch of the freeway through the hills between the San Fernando and Simi valleys.

But the plan led to protests to government bodies by outraged drivers and the company decided the film could do without the scenes, said spokeswoman Lisa Rawlins.

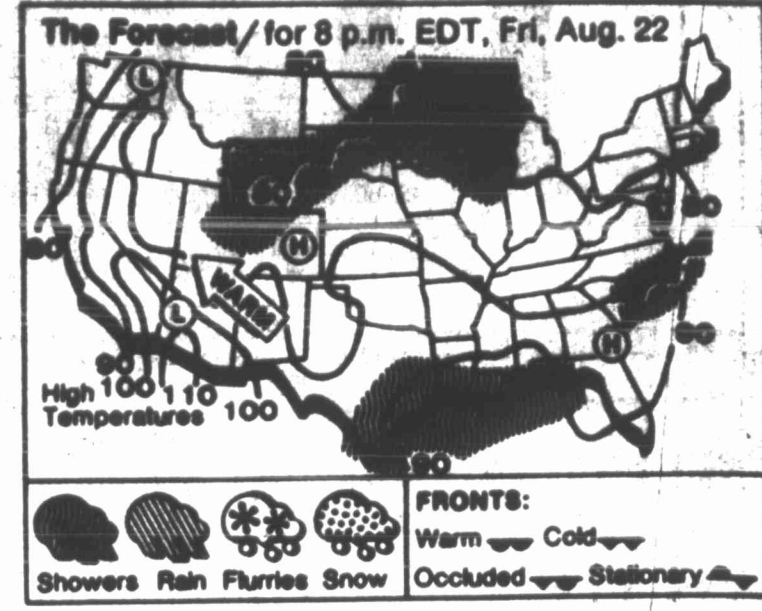

WESTLAKE VILLAGE, Calif. — Entertainer MICKEY ROONEY will be camera shy for at least a few weeks as he recovers from a bite on the nose by a friend's dog.

Publicist Red Doff said Rooney was bitten by the Doberman pinscher of producer Jim Aubrey as he played with the animal on Monday.

"He feels sorry that it happened," Doff said. "He was playing with the dog and the dog turned on him. He feels like it was his own fault."

Aubrey took Rooney, 65, to Westlake Hospital, about 40 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles, where his nose was stitched up, Doff said.

Forecast

By The Associated Press
West Texas: Scattered thunderstorms are expected in most sections except the far west through tonight. Some locally heavy rains are possible in the south plains and Permian Basin tonight. Widely scattered thunderstorms are expected in all sections Friday. Lows tonight will be in the low 60s in the north, and in the mid 60s in the southwest mountains to the mid 70s along the Rio Grande. Highs Friday will be in the mid 80s in the north to near 90 in the southeast, with temperatures in the mid 90s in the far west and 105 in the Big Bend valleys.

State

A slow-moving cold front triggered thunderstorms over much of the Texas Panhandle early today, and forecasters predicted additional rainfall to spread across the state later.

The front edged into the northern portion of the south plains just before sunrise. Elsewhere, isolated thunderstorms dotted a small section of South Central Texas near San Antonio.

The National Weather Service said middle- to high-level clouds were visible over the remainder of the Lone Star State.

Winds were light across much of Texas in the predawn hours. But winds shifted to a northerly direction at 10 to 20 mph behind the cold frontal boundary.

Early-morning temperatures in the Panhandle and higher elevations of Southwest Texas were mainly in the 60s. Elsewhere, readings in the 70s and lower 80s were common. State temperature extremes at 4 a.m. ranged from 59 degrees at Marfa to a warm 84 degrees at the Laughlin Air Force Base at Del Rio.

The weather service said it should be fair to partly cloudy with scattered thunderstorms through tonight across most of the state.

Thunderstorms were expected mainly in southeast parts of North Texas on Friday. Highs should be in the lower to mid 90s, with lows in the lower to mid 70s.

Nation

Rain and thunderstorms dampened broad sections of the nation today, prompting high water alerts in the South and West, after a day of drenching rainfall and record high temperatures.

Flood watches were posted across much of North Carolina, South Carolina and in southwestern Virginia.

A flood warning was issued for a large section of northern Utah and a flash flood watch was in effect across northeast and east central Nevada.

Rain and thunderstorms extended along the eastern Gulf Coast and southern Florida as well as from the Virginias across eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware.

Rain and thunderstorms also ranged from western Iowa across northwest Missouri, southeast Nebraska, Kansas, northern Oklahoma, the Texas Panhandle, southeastern Colorado and northern New Mexico.

Showers were scattered across the upper Great Lakes region and from southwest Wyoming across northern Utah and east central Nevada.

Newtownville, Ala., had 4.5 inches of rain in 35 minutes Wednesday, and around 4 inches of rain fell near Prague, Neb., in 35 minutes, the National Weather Service said.

Nearly an inch of rain fell at Clayton, N.M., within an hour Wednesday evening, and thunderstorm winds gusted to nearly 50 mph, the weather service said.

Today's forecast called for showers and thunderstorms scattered across the northern Appalachians and lower Great Lakes region, from central New England to southern Florida, across the eastern Gulf of Mexico coast and Georgia, and across the northern Rockies, northeast Nevada and central Oklahoma.

House OK's two bills to save state monies

AUSTIN (AP) — The House sent to the Senate two bills that could save the state $250 million next year by luring state workers into early retirement and changing state pay day.

Both measures won final House approval Wednesday.

The early retirement bill sponsored by Rep. Lena Guerrero, D-Austin, increases benefits for state employees who take early retirement between Nov. 30, 1986 and Aug. 31, 1987.

She told the House that 6,800 state workers would be eligible for the increased benefits, and as many as 4,100 probably would take advantage of it, saving about $50 million in 1987 salaries.

The retirements would mean fewer state workers would have to be fired to help meet the state budget crunch, she said.

No House members voiced opposition to the measure.

Rep. Mike Toomey, R-Houston, won final approval Wednesday for his bill that would change state pay day from the last day of the month to the first working day of the following month. The major effect would be to move the payment of one $200 million monthly payroll from fiscal 1987 to fiscal 1988.

Toomey's measure also drew no opposition on the floor.

county. Each branch office could have two nearby drive-in facilities.

Any bank holding company that now has more than one bank within the same county or city could convert them into branch offices.

Much of the debate on branch banking centered on an amendment offered by Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, to remove counties with less than 250,000 population from the measure.

"I resent that we were called down here for a fiscal crisis and then get these banking bills dumped on us," said Parker. "We certainly can wait for the regular session to deal with this."

Although Ferguson said he had sent letters and registered letters to inform inn management of the situation, Bateman said the letters never reached his desk.

"The motel is doing well," he said. "We're showing real promise."

Bateman said he is negotiating a deal to purchase the inn from Johnson, who repossessed it from Speckles.

The members whose terms are expiring are Chris Christopher, Troy Fraser, Bruce Hogenmiller, Katherine Perry and Richard Atkins. Atkins was elected in May to replace Sam Hill.

The names were selected by a nominating committee.

"This is a good amendment," Farabee said. "This is not something we are in a rush about. We can act later when we find out if smaller cities want in this."

Granted $1,000 to the Original West Texas Baptist Association for its annual convention, conducted Aug. 5-7.

Approved the Business Committee's proposed purchase of $2,000 in used Christmas decorations from an Austin shopping center.

Approved a resolution urging state officials to improve Highway 87 between Big Spring and Sterling City, and urging county officials to do whatever necessary to obtain the right of way, including a possible bond election.

The Transportation Committee will appear before the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation in Austin on Sept. 24, with a San Angelo delegation, to urge the department to act on the matter.

Approved resolutions requesting that state and federal highway taxes be used for highway maintenance, and the funds not be put into state and national general funds, as has been proposed.

Voted to support House Bill 5021, which would levy a sales tax on out-of-state mail order company sales.

Approved ordering the fourth Big Spring belt buckle in the series, which board member Pat Porter said would depict an agricultural design.

Executive vice president LeRoy Tillery said the chamber has about 50 number-three series buckles left for sale.

Announced the chamber has received the governor's award from the Keep Texas Beautiful campaign for its efforts in beautifying Big Spring.

Announced results of the 1985 audit. Arrick noted no discrepancies were found. Last year "was a productive year, a good year," he said.

Basin Construction named in Dallas bankruptcy filing

Local developer Chris Christopher was named in a May 7 Chapter 11 bankruptcy filing in a U.S. District Bankruptcy Court in Dallas, said attorney Jack Bryant of Abilene.

The filing concerned a purchase agreement for an oil rig between Bryant's client, Jim B. Curry of Abilene, and Basin Construction of Big Spring, doing business as Texas Oil Properties, he said.

Bryant said during the time the lease agreement was in effect, "the rig was rat-holed in a canyon and substantially vandalized."

He said Basin, of which Christopher is a major shareholder, had paid $50,000 of a $120,000 total-lease-option agreement at the time of the filing.

Bryant said his client was not concerned about whether the bankruptcy would entail a liquidation proceeding, but was happy he was able to get back what was left of his oil rig.

Ships collide on lake

WASHINGTON — One American is dead and two others are missing following a collision on Lake Michigan between a Yugoslavian freighter and a small American fishing vessel.

A Coast Guard official in Washington said the collision between the Jablanica, a 630-foot-long freighter, and the 35-foot-long Razal Brothers fishing boat occurred at about 10:30 a.m. local time Wednesday.

All three people on board the Razal Brothers were thrown overboard by the impact of the crash, Lt. Robert Garrett, a Coast Guard spokesman, said early Thursday.

"It's like a semi hitting a guy on a bicycle," he said.

Sanctions go to House

WASHINGTON — The House is likely to agree to the Senate version of a South Africa sanctions bill in order to produce a measure that can survive a presidential veto, according to an informed legislative source.

The House has approved a bill that would virtually sever U.S. economic ties to the white-minority government in Pretoria. The Senate bill, approved last week, doesn't go nearly so far, although it also includes tough steps meant to convince South Africa to abandon its system of racial separation called apartheid.

Card provides high

WICHITA FALLS — A customized greeting card designed to raise a prisoner's spirits gave the inmate too much of a high for authorities' liking.

A Wichita County grand jury indicted Marsha Marie Shults Coleman, 26, Wednesday on charges of allegedly furnishing a controlled substance to a prisoner at the Wichita County Jail.

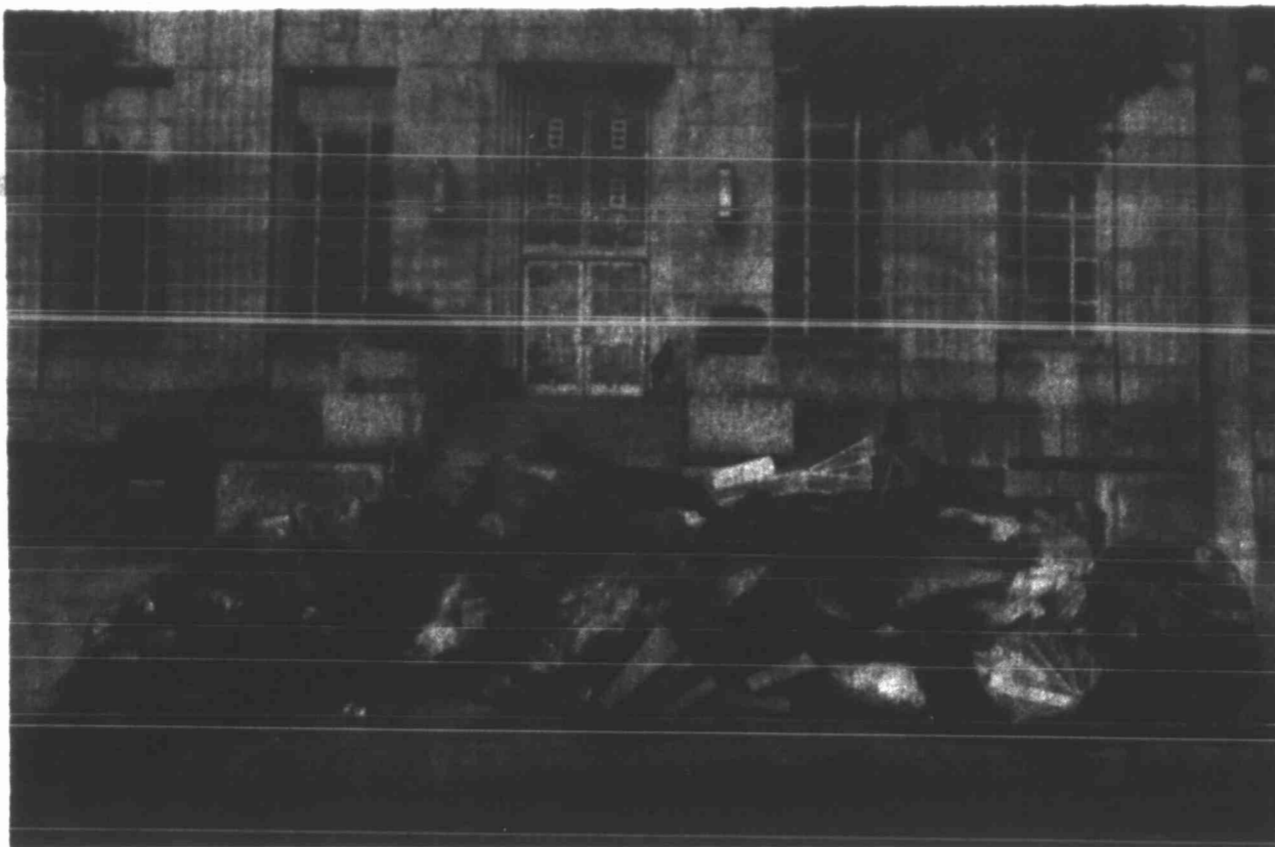

While delivering mail, jailers noticed the inner pages of a card addressed to a male prisoner had been torn and reglued. On closer inspection, officials noticed a "greenish, vegetable-like substance" concealed between the pages, an affidavit said.

Explosion injures four

ARLINGTON, Va. — Federal authorities are trying to discover why two men had a homemade 30mm anti-tank cannon in a gasoline station when the weapon accidentally fired, igniting an explosion that injured four people.

Robert G. Dilger, 54, of Xenia, Ohio, and Joseph R. Donahue, 40, of Killeen, Texas, were arraigned Wednesday and charged with possession of an explosive device.

Dilger, a retired Air Force colonel, had been working part time in the office of Rep. Denny Smith, R-Ore., since May 1985, according to Greg Walden, a Smith spokesman. Donahue is a retired Army warrant officer who won the Bronze Star while stationed in Vietnam, military officials said.

City Hall garbage piles up on the sidewalk during the second day of a wildcat strike by city garbage workers in Houston. The garbage was finally picked up late Tuesday.

Garbage strike

Protesting collectors return to work

HOUSTON — Almost all city trash collectors returned to work today, prompting one city official to say the three-day wildcat strike is over.

"It certainly appears that way," said Joann Adams, spokeswoman for Mayor Kathy Whitmire. "Basically, all (workers) have returned to work today except those who have been fired."

Hundreds of city garbage workers went on a wildcat strike Monday, in protest of the city laying off more than 200 sanitation employees.

Most refused to go back to work until today despite Ms. Whitmire's order that they return to their routes.

Ninety-one workers were fired after they returned to work on Mrs. Whitmire's orders but refused to do their jobs, Ms. Adams said.

The mayor Wednesday refused to grant amnesty to those workers, saying they "needed and deserved to be fired."

She threatened to fire more sanitation workers if they stayed at home today.

City officials reported that almost all garbage collectors had shown up for work today in all but one part of the city, Ms. Adams said.

She said she did not know how many strikers had not returned to work in the southwest neighborhood, but only 13 of the usual 35 garbage trucks were out in that area, she said.

"We expect to get them all out today," she said. Otherwise, all trucks, operated by city workers and temporary crews, were picking up garbage on the usual Thursday routes, she said.

The temporary workers were sent out Wednesday to help pick up garbage that had begun to mount in some areas during the wildcat strike as many sanitation workers called in sick or just didn't show up for work, she said.

City trash collectors crammed council chambers Wednesday to protest increased workloads caused by recent layoffs, saying some routes are so long they are impossible to finish.

Since Mayor Kathy Whitmire implemented municipal layoffs and instituted a 3 percent pay cut, more than 200 workers have been cut from the sanitation's department workforce. The effect was a 20 percent increase in routes.

"We're working so much, I'm running out of sweat," worker Marcus Johnson said.

Responding to the complaints, councilmen George Greanias, Dale Gorczynski, Ben Reyes, Ernest McGowen Sr., Rodney Ellis and Judson Robinson agreed to go on the routes with the men this morning, city officials said.

The garbage collectors also complained of the across-the-board 3 percent pay cut.

State law forbids public employees from striking, said Richard Timmons, business manager for a local American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. But he also said the law does not restrict individual action on job problems.

Soviets say total is 31

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union's atomic safety chief today confirmed that the death toll from the Chernobyl disaster is 31, and said the accident had severely damaged the country's atomic power program.

"The accident at the Chernobyl nuclear power plant has hurt the Soviet nuclear energy program badly," Andranik Petrosyants, chairman of the State Committee on Atomic Energy Safety, told a news conference called to discuss a government panel's report on the April 26 accident.

Anniversary observed

MANILA, Philippines — Filipinos today marked the third anniversary of the assassination of opposition leader Benigno Aquino with his widow, President Corason Aquino, calling the killing the seed that led to freedom for the nation.

"Tyranny sowed a bullet and reaped a revolution," Mrs. Aquino said at a nationally televised Roman Catholic Mass attended by 5,000 people at the suburban Manila church where her husband's body lay in state after his Aug. 21, 1983 shooting death.

Mrs. Aquino compared her husband's death to a biblical reference describing the seed that falls to bring forth a harvest: "One man sprawled on the tarmac, one seed fallen to the ground watered with blood. One man threw in his life ... and brought us home a harvest of freedom."

Olympic office bombed

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands — Bombs today damaged the building housing the Dutch Olympics organizing committee and a post office satellite dish in an apparent protest of Amsterdam's bid to host the 1992 Olympics, police said.

No injuries were reported and no immediate damage estimate was available, according to police spokeswoman Heleen van der Weijden. No one immediately claimed responsibility, she said.

Several protest groups object to Amsterdam's campaign to host the 1992 summer games, claiming the city is not large enough and that the event would disrupt the quality of life.

Party paper critiqued

PEKING — Newspaper editors should have the final say about what is fit to print and Communist Party leaders should not interfere, an official Chinese newspaper today quoted a party official as saying.

The English-language China Daily also quoted the official, Teng Teng, as saying the press should also initiate reforms to make newspapers more colorful. Teng is vice president of the Propaganda Department in the party's Central Committee.

Editors said at a recent conference that some party leaders ignorant about the business exercise too much control, the China Daily said.

H&R Block Tax Course Could Be Ticket To Extra Income

Thousands of people are finding that learning income tax preparation is the perfect way to supplement their incomes.

Many people use the tax preparation skills they learn in H&R Block's Income Tax Course to add to their incomes. H&R Block is now offering its basic income tax course starting September 22. Seminars and evening classes are available. No prerequisites are required to enroll.

During the 13 week course, students will study various phases of income tax preparation and receive actual experience in preparing individual returns. Experienced Block instructors will teach tax law, theory and application, as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom discussion on each tax subject and many practice problems. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both interesting and challenging.

Because tax preparation is needed during the months of January through April, you can put your skills to use immediately during the winter months and may be able to make enough extra money to pay off Christmas bills or make money for that summer vacation.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many accept employment with Block because of the flexible hours available. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H&R Block.

One low course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for completion of the course. Certificates and 7.5 continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course. Registration forms and a brochure for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting the H&R Block office at 1512 Gregg, Big Spring, 263-1981. We are open Monday and Friday, 9 to 4 p.m.

CARING is helping control costs.

We do more than say, "We care." We show it. One way is by making sure the funeral service is meaningful and dignified. Another important consideration is cost. Certainly we understand the family's need to control cost. In caring concern, we offer every available option to do so. (The cost does not affect the dignified quality of our service.)

Build Navy ship with donations

A news story the other day reported that Navy Secretary John F. Lehman's plan to build a large sailing ship for use in training sailors ran aground on an obstacle named Weinberger.

In his memo to Adm. Carlisle A.H. Trost, the chief of naval operations, Mr. Lehman, asserted the Navy needs a large, square-rigged sailing ship for training purposes, to augment recruiting programs and to serve as "a public symbol of the traditions and heritage of our naval service to enhance our relations with the American people."

"The ship," he continued, "will be delivered by 1990 to allow two years of preparing for the major world events that will occur in 1992 in celebration of the 500-year anniversary of the voyages of Christopher Columbus to the Americas." It would be built with money available through savings in other programs.

The trouble with Mr. Lehman's ordering Adm. Trost to begin design work on the ship, to be named USS United States, is that he failed to clear it with his boss, Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger, who first learned of the project through news reports.

"The secretary of defense has heard nothing about this plan," Robert Sims, the Pentagon's chief spokesman icily observed. "...The fact is, it is not approved and would not be approved. Any savings (from other programs) could be applied better elsewhere."

Secretary Weinberger is right, of course. Even if Mr. Lehman had not put him in an embarrassing position, it would not do for the secretary of defense to admit that Navy budgeting is so slack that sufficient millions of dollars could be saved here and there to fund the magnificent sailing ship being envisioned outside normal command channels.

But this is not to say the United States project should be abandoned. Aside from Mr. Lehman's bungled launch, the idea of a national sailing ship is worth pursuing.

The Navy ought to have a sailing ship to teach sailors and midshipmen the fundamentals of seamanship, just as do the navies of other nations that have favored us with their tall ships for our national celebrations.

Here then is a project worthy of all-out support from the Navy League and from every active and retired member of the U.S. Navy. Let funds be raised privately as was the case with the grandly successful Statue of Liberty restoration and with the revered Vietnam Memorial in Washington.

Building the USS United States could become the national focus for celebrating the 500th anniversary of Columbus's discovery of America, as Secretary Lehman suggests.

The sandwich that was the cat's meow

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

The insistent meowing caught my attention.

When one is raised with cats, calls of distress are immediately recognized. I searched for the source of the cries.

Out of the holly bushes in Grandma's front yard crept a miserable, starving cat. Its white and gray spotted fur was clean, but the cat's stomach stuck to its ribs.

It was starving to death.

"Oh, Grandma, we've got to feed it!" I exclaimed.

Grandma didn't like cats — she was allergic to them. She didn't want cats in her house.

We both knew that once you feed a cat, it adopts you.

Grandma didn't even want a cat in her yard.

But Grandma wouldn't let any creature starve.

Her huge Sunday dinners would keep everyone lazily content for the rest of the afternoon. Her peach cobbler would rival the finest ambrosia.

She brought a chunk of leftover roast beef from the fridge, and I fed the pitifully thin creature bite-sized pieces.

The next morning, a visiting cousin saw the cat, felt sorry for it and secretly fed it. That afternoon, an uncle sneaked food to it.

From then on, Grandma had a cat.

Resigned to the inevitable, she bought canned cat food at the grocery store. Grandma wasn't about to feed an animal expensive roast beef intended for the family.

Around the rim

She put the leftover cat food in an anonymous tupperware in the refrigerator.

Granddaddy, oblivious to all but his fruit trees and "Gunsmoke" reruns, didn't know about the cat.

He would rise for work before the sun, pack a lunch, and trek downtown to his wholesale produce shop.

One morning, in a hurry, he scraped an unidentified meat conglomeration he found in the refrigerator onto bread for his lunch.

Never one to complain about food, Granddaddy only commented casually at supper that evening, "That was the funniest-tasting barbecue I ever ate."

Art Buchwald

Grass grows greener on own lawn

(Art Buchwald has taken a few weeks off. He left behind several columns which he found in his trunk.)

A 68-year-old man in Lawrence, Kan., was jailed after he refused to pay a fine and court costs for waving a pellet gun at two men mowing his lawn. The city of Lawrence has an ordinance that requires the mowing of grass once it gets more than 12 inches high.

Since the man refused to do it, the city sent out a crew to do the mowing and then billed him for the labor. When the men came back to mow it again, the homeowner tried to chase them away with a pellet gun.

This story upset me very much, and I believe the reason it did is that I identify so closely with the man who didn't want to cut his lawn. There are some ordinances that are good for the entire community, and there are others, such as this one, that seem to infringe on a person's freedom. What right does any city have to tell a person how high his grass should grow, or to send people on his property to mow it?

I'll be very honest, I happen to like tall grass. To me there is nothing more beautiful than sitting on the porch steps watching thousands of blades of grass waving in the warm summer breeze. It can't grow too high as far as I am concerned.

My wife, on the other hand, likes short grass. She believes everybody's lawn should look as smooth as a putting green on the August National Golf Course. She also is afraid of her neighbors.

It seems almost every week she'll say something like, "I believe it's time someone cut the lawn."

"How do you know?"

"Because Seigel is cutting his," she says.

"Seigel is always mowing his lawn. I think he has a grass fetish."

"Sullivan is cutting his also."

"The only reason Sullivan is cutting his lawn is because Seigel started mowing his. I talked to Sullivan the other day, and he said he wished Seigel would take a rest for a few weeks and paint his kitchen instead."

"If we don't cut our lawn, everyone in the neighborhood will start talking about us."

"What can they possibly say?"

"They'll say we're troublemakers because we let our grass grow too tall."

"I don't see what the height of a person's lawn has to do with whether he is a good neighbor or not. People shouldn't be judged by the length of their grass."

"I hear Guggenheim's lawn mower going now."

"Sure, and do you know why? Because his wife saw Seigel and Sullivan cutting their lawns. I know for a fact that Guggenheim would rather play tennis today than mow his grass."

"How do you know that?"

"Because he had a game with Symington."

"My wife looked out the window. Then how come Symington is taking his lawn mower out of the garage?"

"Because Guggenheim canceled his game! Don't you see what's happening to all of us? We've become a nation of lawn mowers. We've lost the pioneer spirit that made this country great."

"Do you think Thomas Edison would have had time to invent the electric light bulb if his wife had kept going down to the cellar and telling him it was time to mow the lawn? We wouldn't have the telephone if Alexander Graham Bell had worried about his grass. Henry Ford couldn't have given a tinker's damn about his front yard."

"Do you want me to cut it, or are you going to do it?"

"I'll cut it later when the weather cools off. I have an errand to run first."

"What are you going to do?"

"I think I'll go out and buy a pellet gun."

"What on earth for?"

"Just in case Seigel tries to cut my lawn."

Vacation spot a bargain but only for the managers

By JACK ANDERSON
and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — One of the great bargain vacation spots in the Caribbean is Water Island in the U.S. Virgin Islands. It may not be a bargain for the vacationers who stay there — you could easily spend $3,000 for a week at the Sea Cliff hotel — but for the resort operators it's a cut-rate bonanza, thanks to a benevolent Uncle Sam.

Water Island, a former Army base, is owned by the U.S. taxpayers, in whose behalf it has been mismanaged for the last 34 years by the Interior Department. Thanks to an incredibly generous lease, the resort owner, Water Isle Hotel and Beach Club Ltd., made more than $1 million last year — but paid the Interior Department the magnificent sum of $18,635 for a year's rent on the entire island.

Until 18 months ago, when the current leaseholder built a $12 million hotel and resort complex, the government never got anything approaching $18,000 for its annual rental. Terms of the lease set the monthly rent for the island at $250 — about what you might pay for a couple of days in one of Sea Cliff's air-conditioned rooms. The government was also supposed to collect a tiny percentage of the tenant's gross receipts above $200,000 a year, but before the hotel was built, the government's cut never amounted to much — for a variety of reasons.

Chief among these reasons, according to an inspector general's audit, was that the earlier leaseholders consistently underestimated their gross receipts to arrive at the government's percentage. Another reason may have been that the earlier leaseholders never paid any rent at all. No one can be sure, because the Interior Department failed to keep proper records on its potentially lucrative resort property.

Thwarted by the department's inadequate files, the auditors asked for the current leaseholder's ledgers, only to learn that they had been destroyed in a flood that hit the Illinois office of the parent company. The auditors set to work painstakingly reconstructing the revenue figures from work papers and other surviving documents.

"Results showed that reconstructed gross receipts were significantly higher than amounts used by (the previous leaseholder) to compute rent payments," the auditors reported. They estimated the difference to be $122,211 in 1978 and $372,234 in 1979.

Interior Department official Larry Morgan blamed the terms of the lease. "The lease was designed to provide economic development on the island because the federal government didn't want to put any money into it," Morgan told our reporter David Davis. But, he added, the lease was drafted in such vague terms that development of the island's potential was not made mandatory.

So for years a succession of leaseholders simply paid the $250 a month rent and did nothing to develop their bargain property. They ran a low-budget resort in the island's old fort, and rented much of the island in small lots for vacation homes.

How the inspector general got into the act is instructive: The Environmental Protection Agency served Interior with papers in 1982 charging the tenants on Water Island with serious violations of federal and territorial laws. Garbage was being burned and land-filled without proper permits, while raw sewage was being dumped directly into the Caribbean. "Literally, what they had was hoses running from houses," Morgan said.

Alerted to the island's problems (and perhaps to its existence) by the EPA, Interior officials found that such records as there were had been scattered among three different agency offices. The inspector general's bloodhounds were called in to sniff out the facts.

It was only then that the Interior Department's lackadaisical management of its valuable property for 34 years was discovered — and the tenants' years of abuse.

UNDER THE DOME: Congress and the Pentagon have a spiritual issue to resolve. According to Capitol Hill insiders, there aren't nearly as many priests and rabbis in the armed forces as the number of Catholic and Jewish servicemen and women would seem to call for. A House bill is pending that would require the Pentagon to correct the imbalance. Defense Department officials deny the disproportion is due to any Pentagon policy; they say it's simply that there is a limited number of priests and rabbis from which to recruit military chaplains.

MINI-EDITORIAL: Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., was furious last week when it was reported that he and a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee staff were under investigation for allegedly disclosing classified information to the right-wing dictatorship in Chile. "The thing that amazes me most," said Helms, "is the way the major media in this country never hesitates to pick up on a matter of this sort." The asinine comment prompts us to tell the senator a few things: 1) For the time being, at least, there is a free press in this country; 2) When a U.S. senator is accused of leaking official secrets, it is news; 3) If Helms finds the press offensive, he could take up residence in Chile. The boys in Santiago know how to handle reporters.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Lately he has been mentioning two people — Jean and Marion. I don't know anyone by either name. I am losing sleep trying to get more information out of him, but I can't understand what he says because he mumbles. I am curious to know who Jean and Marion are, and why they are in my husband's dreams. My question to you, Dear Abby, is this: Is there anything to sleep-talking? He has been known to cheat.

Dear Abby

WIDE-AWAKE READER
DEAR WIDE-AWAKE: Undoubtedly there is, but interpreting dreams (and "sleep talk") is a matter of theory — not fact. (The jury is still out on the accuracy of Freud's symbols.)

If you really want to know who Jean and Marion are, ask your husband. He may tell you the truth, and he may not. A man who cheats will usually lie.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a jewel of a husband. He's 33 and I'm 28.

We have two beautiful daughters, ages 5 and 3. My problem is that my husband has a 7-year-old son by a previous marriage. The boy came to live with us on a temporary basis last year, but his mother is sickly (so she says), and now it appears that this boy will be living with us permanently, which is the problem I am leading up to.

Does this boy have to be in our family portraits? I don't feel comfortable having him included with the rest of my family. My husband says the boy will feel hurt if we leave him out, but I am just not comfortable with this boy in the portrait.

Please advise me.

UNCOMFORTABLE
IN FLORIDA
DEAR UNCOMFORTABLE: The "boy" is your husband's son, and he belongs in your family portrait as much as your daughters do. You need family counseling to find out why you feel threatened by this innocent 7-year-old child who finds himself living with a stepmother who clearly doesn't want him. Your wonderful marriage to this jewel of a husband may turn sour if you don't sweeten up.

DEAR ABBY: I am a victim of allergies. Luckily, it hasn't caused my total withdrawal from society. Coming up soon is an office party with many people who play key roles in my husband's future. My husband wants me to meet these people, and I want to attend, but there will be food served that I cannot and should not eat. (Just breathing fumes from vinegar can make me "tipsy.")

What is proper etiquette in these situations? I don't care to make my allergy a topic of conversation.

HIGHLY ALLERGIC
DEAR ALLERGIC: Eat at home — and don't call attention to your problem. Having allergies is not a crime; neither is it anything to be ashamed of. It might surprise you to know how many others share this condition to some degree.

DEAR ABBY: To "Loged in Montana and New Mexico" who understand a man's true worth: They are right. A test of a man's devotion, loyalty and love is not in the cards he sends, anniversaries and birthdays remembered, or gifts he buys.

My husband is very "sensitive and caring" about remembering special days, etc. — he always gives cards and special gifts. In fact, he often sends duplicate cards and gifts to his girlfriend. Sign me...

Steers to scrimmage Dunbar

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

The Big Spring Steers will get a chance to hit somebody other than themselves when they take on the Lubbock Dunbar Panthers in a controlled scrimmage tonight at 7 p.m. in Lubbock.

The two teams will clash at Chapman Field, located next to Lubbock High School. Junior varsity action will start things off at 5 p.m.

Coach Quinn Eudy's Steers are in the second week of two-a-day workouts. Saturday was the first time the Steers put on the pads. There was a brief intersquad scrimmage in which things went fairly well, said Eudy.

Eudy says his squad has had a tough three days in pads this week. "Monday was rough because of the extreme heat in the pads. This kind of weather will help us work our way into condition though."

Lubbock Dunbar, coached by Jimmy Lee, is a member of District 1-4A. The Panthers return 17 lettermen, including four starters each on offense and defense. Last year Dunbar finished with a 6-4 record.

The Dunbar Wishbone attack will be led by quarterback Corry Crooks, a 6-0, 170-pounder with 4.5 speed. The offensive line is led by 6-3, 200-pound tackles Travis Dennis and Greg Thornton.

Linebacker Greg Furnace (6-1,

The Steers will go into the contest with two key defensive players out and another nursing an injury. Todd Coker and Jay Burcham, starters last season at defensive tackle and noseguard, will miss the contest with hand injuries.

Burcham has a broken hand, and is expected to be out three weeks. Coker aggravated a wrist injury and is expected to miss one week.

Victor Pruitt, a possible starter at defensive end, will see limited action because of a bruised leg.

"With these players hurt, it will give us a chance to get some players experience in a hurry," said Eudy. Juniors Steve Rains and Rocky Ramirez along with sophomore Greg Jackson will get valuable playing time on the line.

The scrimmage, which will give each offense the ball for a series of 20 plays, will give Eudy a chance to look at his new style of defense. The Steers will still run the 50 defense, but there will be different reads by the players in order to stop the run.

"We started looking at this defense last spring. Our new defensive coordinator Mickey Findley has done a great job with it. Right now I think it's looking better than it did anytime last year. It's a good defense because we have so many running teams in our district," Eudy said.

Eudy said he has been pleased with the play of his secondary and linebackers. "The secondary has been covering well and the Steers page 2B

No-hitters steal show in L.L. World Series

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — After unprecedented back-to-back no-hitters, the 40th Little League World Series is down to the final four.

The teams remaining represent oil-rich Maracaibo, Venezuela, more than half a million residents of Tainan, Taiwan, and the Sun Belt cities of Tucson, Ariz., and Sarasota, Fla.

Sarasota's Philip Olson allowed just one baserunner, struck out 10 and had a bases-loaded double in throwing a 5-0 no-hitter to eliminate Brunswick, Md., Wednesday.

Not to be outdone, Tainan's Wu Chun-Liang no-hit Valleyfield, Quebec, striking out 12 and hitting a two-run homer in a merciless 26-0 rout.

Maracaibo was scheduled to play Tainan in today's 2 p.m. semifinal, with Tucson meeting Sarasota at 5 p.m.

Tainan tied a Series record with 21 hits and came within one of the runs record, both set by a 1973 champion from Tainan, while the French Canadians were reduced to trying to punt their way on. They managed two grounders to second and put down three bunts.

No-hitters are not unheard of — there have been 11 in 40 Series — but there had never been two in one day.

"There are very good pitchers on all teams," Tainan manager Lee Ming Chen said. "We thought we would probably play the South or West team in the championship game."

He can't be blamed for looking ahead to Saturday's nationally televised final. The Far East regional winner has gone to the finals 16 times in the past 19 years, winning 15 times. Taiwanese teams have reached the finals 10 times, Tainan twice.

The Sun Belt has dominated the U.S. bracket since 1973, with the West sending eight teams to the finals, the South sending five.

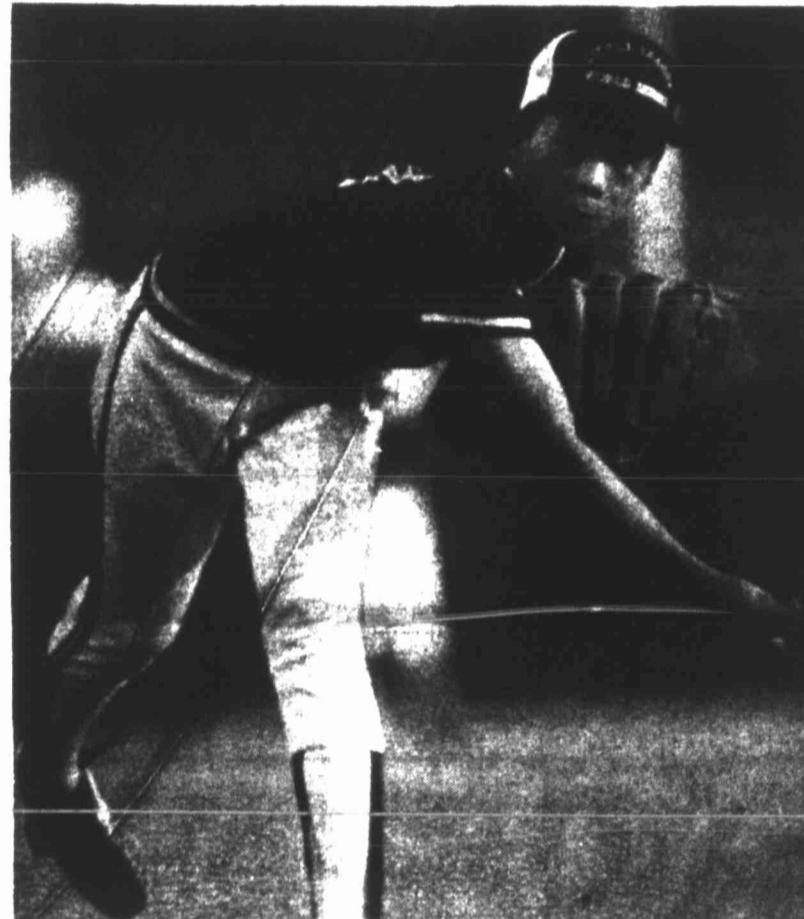

"He was fantastic," Thurston said. "He's one of the best in Little League. He throws whatever I tell him to. Curve, drop, sidearm, underhand curve, overhand fastball, whatever."

Olson stands 5-foot-7, a few inches taller than most of the 11- and 12-year-olds at the Series. He is 9-0 in the tournament, including a 16-strikeout performance in the regionals.

His no-hitter was preserved in the sixth and final inning when shortstop Joe DePastino soared a blooper into short left, the only ball to leave the infield. DePastino was scheduled to pitch today.

Olson and DePastino had back-to-back singles in the first, and Olson came in on a passed ball.

In the fifth, a single by Shawn

Wu Yu-Kuan, Taiwan Little League pitcher, follows through while pitching a no-hitter against Valleyfield, Quebec, Canada in the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa. Taiwan won the game 26-0.

McLure, a double by Kelvin Parker and an infield single by Doug Forde loaded the bases for Olson, who lined a double off the left-center wall. DePastino followed with a two-run single.

The runaway nightcap was decided quickly. Chen Ho-Wen knocked the fourth pitch from Valleyfield's Pascal Chiasson over the center field fence, and Tainan sent 13 men to the plate in the first, scoring seven runs. They batted around in the second, scoring five.

Raiders get weekend warrior

OXNARD, Calif. (AP) — The decision allowing Ensign Napoleon McCallum to play pro football on the weekends may have been a departure from tradition for the Navy, but it may not be enough for the Los Angeles Raiders.

"We really need him on almost a full-time football season basis rather than just a weekend basis," Raiders Coach Tom Flores said Wednesday.

"With all that's needed during the course of a week, it would be very difficult for any player to be able to contribute on Sunday if he just showed up on Sundays or just Saturday and Sunday. There's just so much work to do."

"It's tough to be a weekend warrior on a 45-man roster," said Raiders Assistant Coach Steve Ort-mayer, who works with running backs. "We're going to be able to probably keep four running backs, and if one is only going to be here two days, it's going to awfully tough on this team to practice and those kinds of things."

The 23-year-old McCallum was selected by the Raiders in the fourth round of the NFL draft last April — even though he faced a minimum five-year military commitment.

McCallum's schedule with the Navy has already been mapped out.

"Right now, his working hours are 5 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Monday through Friday. He also has duty, 24 hours on the ship every fifth day, plus whatever else comes up," said Commander David Dillon, Director of the Navy Information Office, West.

"His availability to go to practice or play games is at the discretion of the commanding officer, Captain K.R. Barry."

Barry was on another ship and would not be available until late Thursday.

According to a Navy statement released at the Pentagon, Navy Secretary John F. Lehman accepted a recommendation from the chief of naval operations and the commandant of the Marine Corps "to allow Ensign Napoleon McCallum to participate in professional football games on a not-to-interfere basis with his military duties."

"The permission to participate is given to Ensign McCallum with the understanding that his responsibilities as a commissioned naval officer are primary and his participation will not be allowed to conflict with assigned shipboard duties."

The Navy, in its statement, sought to play down the decision by stressing it was consistent with the service's general policy on civilian employment. The Navy allows its personnel to hold second jobs "as long as there is no conflict with military duties."

NAPOLEON McCALLUM

Falcons player disgusted with decision

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons' Eddie Meyers, whose football career has been stymied by his military service, says he is "a little disgusted" about concessions the Navy has made for Napoleon McCallum of the Los Angeles Raiders.

McCallum, a former Navy star running back, was authorized Wednesday to play with the Raiders by Navy Secretary John F. Lehman.

The Navy reworked McCallum's orders, stationing him at a disabled ship in Long Beach, Calif., shortly after he was picked by the Raiders in the fourth round of the National Football League draft last April. That puts him a 30-minute drive from the Raiders' camp.

The Navy said the same decision would apply to Meyers, a 1st lieutenant in the Marine Corps based at Camp Pendleton, Calif., but that Meyers would have to work it out on his own time.

Meyers, who held most of the 26 records McCallum broke at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., had been trying to mesh his military and football careers since he left the academy in 1982. But the Navy, which controls the Marine Corps, has refused to transfer him to Atlanta.

He has been using his annual leave to train with the Falcons.

"I'm a little disgusted about it," Meyers said.

"I've made pleas. I've made appeals. I tried to make a deal with them and I get nothing out of it. That they would be so capably willing to help him, while they haven't given me a chance, I find it disgusting. I'm disappointed."

He added, "Even if they freed me to play, it would be too late this year and next year I'm out of the service."

He said he feels he would have had a better chance to make the team two or three years ago than today. He has not played in either of the Falcons' exhibition games so far this season.

Coach Dan Henning said he will try to get Meyers into Saturday night's exhibition against the Cleveland Browns but offered no promises.

Two no-hitters spoiled in 9th

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

Wait Terrell was within one out of a no-hitter. Then, Wally Joyner made sure — again — that the California Angels were not part of history.

Terrell pitched 8 2-3 hitless innings Wednesday night before Joyner lined a clean double to right field as the Detroit Tigers beat the Angels 3-0.

"I'm not disappointed. I just wanted to win the game," Terrell said after finishing with a one-hitter.

Terrell, 11-9, had retired 16 straight hitters before Joyner came to bat in the ninth. The left-handed Joyner, who earlier in the year broke up a no-hitter by Texas Ranger pitcher Charlie Hough, pulled Terrell's first pitch into the right-field corner.

"I'd throw the same pitch to him again — maybe a little more inside. You can't second-guess yourself. If you do that, you're not going to last in baseball," Terrell said.

The Angels had not come close to a hit at Tiger Stadium before Joyner doubled. And while Terrell's teammates stuck with superstition and did not talk to him about his progressing no-hitter, they were talking among themselves. Right fielder Kirk Gibson and shortstop Alan Trammell even bet on it.

"When we took the field to start the ninth, I said to Tram, 'A buck, you choose,'" Gibson said. "Tram said he'd do it. I'd have paid a buck to see him do it. Jeze. He just hung a slider with nothing on it."

Red Sox 9, Twins 1
Roger Clemens, the top winner in the major leagues, pitched a two-hitter for his 19th victory as Boston beat Minnesota.

Clemens, 19-4, struck out six and increased his AL-leading total to 186, while walking a season-high six. He also lowered his league-best ERA to 2.54.

Jim Rice, Don Baylor and Dwight Evans hit home runs to power a 14-hit attack by the Red Sox. Rice, who drove in two runs, also rapped two doubles, Wade

Boggs added a triple, double and single and Bill Buckner had three singles.

Rangers 7, Royals 1
Charlie Hough tossed three-hit ball for 8 2-3 innings and reliever Dale Mohorcic tied a major-league record in getting the final out as Texas downed Kansas City.

Hough, 10-8, ended his four-game losing streak. He threw a run-scoring wild pitch in the first inning, but went on to retire 18 straight batters.

Mohorcic tied the record set by Los Angeles' Mike Marshall in 1974 by pitching in his 13th straight game.

Scott Fletcher, who drove in three runs, and Curtis Wilkerson each rapped three hits for the visiting Rangers. Scott Bankhead, 6-7, was the loser.

Blue Jays 4, White Sox 1
Lloyd Moseby connected for a two-run homer and Joe Johnson pitched eight strong innings as Toronto beat Chicago for its fifth straight victory.

Johnson, 3-1, shut out the visiting White Sox on five hits for eight innings before leaving after allowing a leadoff single in the ninth. Tom Henke, who gave up an RBI single to Ron Hassey, got the final three outs.

Jose DeLeon, 3-2, took the loss. DeLeon walked Willie Upshaw with two outs in the fifth and Moseby followed with his 17th home run. It marked the 13th consecutive game that Moseby has scored a run.

Yankees 5, Mariners 2
Don Mattingly and Dave Winfield hit two-run homers and New York broke a three-game losing streak by beating Seattle.

The visiting Mariners had won four straight games. Winfield hit his 300th career home run, and his 19th of the season, in the second inning to put the Yankees ahead 2-0. Mattingly hit his 23rd home run in the third off Mike Moore, 7-11.

Brewers 6, Indians 3
Rob Deer and Ernest Riles hit three-run homers and Bill Wegman combined with two relievers on a six-hitter as Milwaukee, last in the AL East, got back to .500 by beating Cleveland.

National League

Buddy Bell, usually satisfied with making solid contact, is showing that he's also capable of carrying some thunder in his bat.

"The home runs are a surprise," Bell said after his sixth homer in seven games carried the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night. "I'm not really surprised by my hitting the ball hard. It's unusual for me to hit the ball up. Usually my hits will be a line drive over the shortstop's head or a line drive to center."

An infield hit by Bell, an error, another infield hit and a soft single by Bo Diaz gave the Reds a 1-0 lead in the first. They extended the lead to 3-0 in the fifth when Kal Daniels tripled and Bell followed with his 15th homer, three less than his career high for a season.

"Sometimes it seems so easy, other times you can't figure it out," Bell said of his recent hitting streak. "It must be in the water or something."

Cincinnati right-hander Bill Gullickson, 10-8, pitched shutout ball for eight innings against the Cardinals. A leadoff homer in the ninth by Andy Van Slyke, who went 4-for-4, accounted for St. Louis' only run.

Phillies 1, Giants 0
Don Carman retired 24 straight San Francisco batters before Bob Brenly hit a sun-aided double leading off the ninth, then Philadelphia won it in the 10th on Juan Samuel's homer.

Carman, who has spent most of his career in the bullpen, was trying to become the 16th major-league pitcher to throw a perfect game. But Brenly's long drive, which went off the glove of center fielder Milt Thompson, ended his hopes.

"When it was first hit, I was sure it was going to be a home run. I was thinking about going from a perfect game to a loss in one pitch," Carman, 6-4, said.

Pirates 4, Astros 1
First-place Houston stayed 7 1/2 games ahead of San Francisco despite losing to Pittsburgh and Rick Rhoden.

Rhoden, 14-7, knocked in the Pirates' first run and pitched a five-hitter, retiring the last 16 Houston batters after giving up a fourth-inning single to John Mizerock.

With Pittsburgh trailing 1-0, Rhoden tied the score with a single in the fourth inning and later scored on a three-run double by Bobby Bonilla off Bob Knepper 15-9. Rhoden's hit broke a streak of 21 consecutive scoreless innings by the Pirates overall and 36 straight against the Astros.

The Astros scored their only run in the first inning on Craig Reynolds' RBI single.

Mets 7, Dodgers 5
New York, leading the NL East by 1 1/2 games, posted its first series sweep in Los Angeles since 1968 by beating the Dodgers for the third straight time.

Sid Fernandez, 14-4, won for the ninth time in his last 11 decisions although he gave up all five Los Angeles runs in the fifth inning. But his two-run single in the second inning helped the Mets take a 6-0 lead.

Braves 8, Cubs 3
David Palmer pitched and batted Atlanta past Chicago.

Palmer, 9-8, allowed five hits in 7 1-3 innings and combined with Jeff Dedmon on a six-hitter. Palmer also keyed a 17-hit attack by the Braves with three hits and three RBIs.

"The hits were lucky," Palmer said. "I just happened to get the bat on the ball and I hit 'em where they weren't."

Ken Griffey and Rafael Ramirez both singled in the fourth and scored on Palmer's two-out double off Dennis Eckersley, 6-8. The Braves added two more runs in the sixth on run-scoring singles by Palmer and Omar Moreno.

Padres 3, Expos 2
Hot-hitting Kevin McReynolds homered twice in support of Eric Show as San Diego edged Montreal.

McReynolds hit an opposite-field drive to right in the fourth inning and a two-run homer deep into the left field seats in the sixth to account for all of the Padres' runs. McReynolds now has 12 RBIs in his last five games.

linebackers have been getting to the football well."

Eudy has a very direct approach for his offensive game plan tonight. "We'll try to run the first 20 plays, then we'll pass the next series and mix it up on the last series. We want to check out all phases of our offense."

Eudy said his offensive line, which has only one returning starter, is coming along fine. "So far the offensive line has performed well. I think we'll be alright if it continues to improve."

Eudy also had praise for his backs and receivers. "The backs are finally starting to come around. They have started doing things they are capable of doing. We have as good of set of receivers as we've had in a while. They've been catching the ball and we've got more speed than last year."

Chad Wash and Kenneth Banks, along with wide receivers Cedrick Banks, John Olson, Derrick White, Shawn Shellman and Heath Stewart.

The Steers final scrimmage will be against Friendship Aug. 28 at 7 p.m. at Memorial Stadium.

Information about your changing telephone service from Darlene Gifford, Manager-Community Relations

Texas rates among nation's lowest

I recently came across a national survey conducted by the investment firm Smith Barney that shows residential rates for local basic monthly phone service in Texas are among the lowest in the country.

The study says Texans serviced by Southwestern Bell Telephone (SWBT) pay on average less than $10 per month, despite the fact that the cost per line is more than double that amount.

A quick review of my files confirmed for me that most of SWBT's residential customers haven't experienced a rate increase in more than two years. What's more, basic local phone rates will remain unchanged even with the recent rate case.

Compared with costs of other goods and services, local telephone service is an excellent value. The average one-party residential rate for most Texans has increased in the range of 40 to 50 percent since 1977. In contrast, the Consumer Price Index has increased about 80 percent during the same period.

A commitment to technology

One reason we are able to provide convenient, efficient service to you at such reasonable prices is that we constantly look for new and innovative ways to improve our technology and reduce our expenses.

I learned just how true this statement was the other day when I read some interesting numbers: It seems that in 1925, we employed 208 people for every 10,000 access lines (roughly equivalent to a phone number). By 1950, we had reduced that ratio to 173 per 10,000. This year, we employ about 54 men and women for every 10,000 lines.

These numbers are truly impressive when you consider that in the same time span, SWBT has dramatically increased the number of customers it serves, while developing quicker and clearer call transmission to virtually every nook and corner in Texas. Of course, these developments were made possible by technological wizardry.

An investment in the future

To support our technology, SWBT has continued to commit significant dollars to growth: Over the last eight years, we have invested $1 billion annually to maintain, expand and improve our service.

Rest assured, SWBT will always look for ways to improve the quality of your phone service, while keeping the cost affordable. Telephone service has come a long way since our pioneering days — many of you may remember some of our milestones. With this proud history behind us and our continued commitment to you, our valued customers, that service will be even better tomorrow than it is today.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Both the day and evening find you eager to make new inroads into the ambitions that attract you the most. Check your figures carefully.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Avoid a higher-up who is in an irate mood. Be careful when handling your credit affairs.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get busy at some business matter that is pending. Be sure to listen to suggestions from your mate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A business person could lead you in the wrong direction, so be very careful and use good judgment.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Take care you do not get stung by outsiders. Keep busy at your own job and be co-operative.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Get into creative work. Your mate can give you fine suggestions that you should follow in this area.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget seeking pleasure today. Concentrate on home affairs and pleasing family ties that will be supportive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have neglected to handle communications and should get caught up with them now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take a rest period. Think about how to improve your monetary affairs. Avoid one who is pushy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have exact plans on how to gain your personal goals but use tact in executing them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can work some matter out. Put aside personal aims for now. Don't argue with others over them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't worry over a secret anxiety that you can do little about. Be kind and generous.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't mix into any arguments between friends. Look to a bigwig you know for assistance.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be able to carry through with plans that are well organized. Your child should be taught early not to get into arguments at the slightest provocation nor to take everything at its face value. Also teach to use the energy wisely and not waste it foolishly.
