Tax increase hearings planned

By MICHAEL HOLMES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) — With the chairman of the House taxation committee planning hearings next week on tax increase ideas, Gov. Mark White said Friday he believes the Legislature is moving to solve the budget crisis.

"I'm very pleased with the Legislature. They're dealing with the issue today," White said. White has proposed a one-year, 1 1/2-cent sales tax increase to be combined with spending cuts to erase the $2.8 billion budget deficit. The Senate supports higher taxes, but House opposition so far has stalemated any action on a tax bill. However, House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen, Friday said he plans a hearing "on the concept" of new taxes. "We're going to try to make Wednesday the first day," he said.

Schlueter also said that if a tax bill, which must start in the House, is to be introduced, he would sponsor it. "That's my responsibility," he said. During his weekly news conference, White said lawmakers finally may be reaching the same conclusion he did before the first budget-balancing session ended Sept. 4.

"Looking at it from the best advice that we have been able to find, it appears that the recommendation I made on the first day... is more and more appropriate," White said.

"I hope they'll consider it and adopt it as quickly as they can," he added.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby now backs a temporary sales tax boost and said he also favors a nickel hike in the state's 10-cent gasoline tax. But White stopped short of endorsing the gas tax idea. "I would hope we could avoid that," White said. If not, he added, "Then it would (have to) be a temporary tax only."

House Speaker Gib Lewis, meanwhile, continued to insist that spending cuts be completed before any tax action occurs.

"You pass a tax bill when it is needed, and we have not gotten to the point where it is needed," he said.

Lewis also sounded a warning that the 30-day time deadline for the second special session that began Monday could pose a problem in completing work on the fiscal crisis.

Asked if he was about time running out, Lewis replied, "That concerns me more than it concerns you, I assure you."

On other issues Friday, White told his weekly news conference:

• He hasn't made up his mind whether to sign or veto a bill allowing parimutuel wagering on horse and dog races. "I have several days left before I make a final decision on it," he said.

House approves 'rainy day' fund

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) — By the thinnest possible margin, the House approved Friday the establishment of a "rainy day fund" to prevent Texas from going through another deficit crisis.

The proposed state constitutional amendment was sent to the Senate on a 100-12 vote. Constitutional amendments must get two thirds of the votes, or 100, in order to get out of the House.

"The House passed this in 1979 and it failed in the Senate," said the sponsor, Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen. "If we had had that 1979 fund today we would not be here today."

The Legislature is going through its second special session of the year in efforts to solve a projected $2.8 billion budget shortfall.

If approved by the Senate, the proposed constitutional change will be on the 1987 general election ballot for a statewide vote.

Although about 35 House members were absent Friday, efforts to delay a vote on the measure until Monday failed.

There was no argument directly against the amendment, which Schlueter said was the result of conferences with the governor and legislative leaders.

He said 26 other states have similar provisions.

If approved by voters in 1987, the Economic Stabilization Fund would be established in the treasury department. The fund would get one-half of any surplus at the end of the state's two-year financial period, and any production taxes paid if oil prices get past $15 a barrel and if natural gas prices go past $1.50 per 1,000 cubic feet.

A key provision would put in 5 percent of any future new revenue source, such as an increase in the sales tax, for five years.

"This would give us a chance to lessen our dependence on oil and gas taxes," Schlueter said.

Opponents have argued previously that the estimated $242 million the measure would create in 1990-91 could be subtracted from the general tax bill the 1987 Legislature is expected to face.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a measure that would save $30 million by temporarily eliminating the sales tax reimbursement kept by retailers.

Retailers who pay the sales tax on time get to keep 1 percent of the total they collect.

In addition, the House passed a Senate-approved bill to create the Texas Treasury Safekeeping Trust Company to hold securities owned by the state.

Teen takes turn as missionary in Austria

By HANK MURPHY
Staff Writer

Nate Sprinkle's first plane ride is one he'll long remember.

The 15-year-old Big Spring Herald carrier's first venture aboard an airliner whisked him across the United States, across the Atlantic ocean and to the Western European nation of Luxembourg. From there he and 25 to 40 other teens hopped a train and rode the rails to just outside the city of Graz, Austria.

Why so far from home, and parents Bill and Margaret Sprinkle who live on Andrews Highway?

He and the other teen-agers spent four to five weeks building staff dormitories at a drug and alcohol rehabilitation center in Graz.

The young people's trip was sponsored by Teen Missions, a Florida-based religious organization whose charter calls for giving teen-agers a taste of missionary work in many parts of the globe.

Teen Missions, Sprinkle said, is interdenominational, sending Baptists, Lutherans, Methodists and teens from other religions together in teams. "They do teach you the Bible, but they never try to coax you to become a Baptist or Methodist or whatever," he said. When asked what part of his experience shined a bit brighter than any other, he said it was being a part of the team.

NATE SPRINKLE
...teen missionary

"You get real close to everyone," he said.

The team consisted of young men and women, and "they worked just as hard as the guys did," he said of the fair sex.

Before the team flew to Europe, they had a two-week "bootcamp" in Florida, where they learned the trades that enabled them to be productive.

Sprinkle said he worked primarily with masonry in helping to build 20-foot by 30-foot single person units.

In green Austria, "they use trolleys a lot around in the city and they use trains for travel a lot more than we do," he said.

Which is probably wise if what Sprinkle said about the roads are true.

"The roads are small and everyone drives a little wild — but I didn't see one wreck while I was there," he remarked.

Sprinkle said he thought Austrians were more trusting of one another than Americans. And although he said he didn't get to know many Austrians, he managed to find a pen pal, a girl he met at a church there.

And, perhaps he'll find more pen pals someday. The slender teenager said he liked the taste of travel, of seeing other lands and cultures.

"I enjoyed Europe," he said, despite his rather high cost of living. "But I'd rather visit the Far East, they've got teams that go there."

Lower county taxes result of value drop

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Many Howard County property owners probably will pay slightly more in 1986-87 taxes because of mineral value drops resulting from the oil prices slump, Chief Appraiser Gene Pereira said this week.

"Anytime a tax entity raises its rate, someone is going to have to pay it," Pereira said.

Howard County commissioners earlier this week increased the effective tax rate from 22 cents to 26 per $100 assessed valuation — an 18 percent increase.

Commissioners and County Judge Milton Kirby said the higher rate is needed because the total county property valuation declined by $191.4 million this year — a 10.8 percent drop.

"The amount (tax increase) is not very much," said Commissioner Bill Crooker about some property owners who will pay increased taxes in 1987.

"If the value of your property remained the same this year as last year's," Crooker said, "your taxes will increase slightly."

"It all rests on the difference of your taxable value from last year," he said.

A homeowner whose assessed valuation of $50,000 remains the same, for example, will pay an additional $20 in property taxes, Crooker said.

"We (commissioners) are asking for the same amount of revenues as last year in order to bring the same service," Crooker said.

"It's hard to get across to the people that we have additional expenses," he said. "We're required to do more."

He cited a $400,000 indigent health care cost forced on the county by state law, plus a projected loss of $240,000 in federal revenues.

The county's total valuation last year was $1.77 billion compared to this year's total of $1.58 billion, according to statistics provided by Appraiser Pereira's office.

The same statistics show the decline in the value of mineral properties mainly was responsible for the valuation loss.

The value of mineral properties dropped $194.4 million — from $916.2 million to $721.8 million.

Meanwhile, non-mineral property in the county actually increased slightly in value — from $858 million to $861 million. The $3 million increase amounts to

Howard College to honor alumni

Howard College will honor a former president of Getty Oil with its first Distinguished Alumni Award Sept. 27 at its 40th Reunion Banquet in the East Room of the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

ROBERT MILLER
...Distinguished Alumni

Robert Miller, president of Getty Oil from 1977 to 1984, is now part owner of an oil and gas exploration and production company. He began school at Howard College in Sept. 1946 when it was located at the old bombardier school, now site of the city industrial park.

"I took pre-engineering," Miller said from his home in Bastrop, near Austin. A lot has changed since the college conducted classes at the bombardier school, he added.

Miller said he occasionally visits Big Spring to see relatives. He graduated from Big Spring High School, Howard College and the University of Texas at Austin.

The reunion dinner speaker will be Dr. P.W. Malone, an original member of the school's board of trustees. Malone has served on the board continuously for 40 years.

Joe Pickle, presently secretary/treasurer of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, and editor of the Big Spring Herald during the college's formative years, will be master of ceremonies.

The Sept. 26-28 weekend is the first reunion of the classes from the late 1940s. The junior college district was established by a county-wide vote in November, 1945.

The weekend's events begin with a spaghetti supper at 6 p.m. on Sept. 26. The District board of trustees hosts a brunch at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 27 in the Cactus Room, followed by a bus tour of the original campus at 3 p.m.

A wine and cheese reception at 7 p.m. in the coliseum foyer will honor Dr. and Mrs. R.B. Cowper, who have been named to the Coliseum Hall of Honor for donors to the college. In addition, a perpetual Honor Roll of Exes will be unveiled, honoring alumni who have donated to the Howard College Foundation.

Reservations are required for the reunion events no later than Sept. 22. Anyone who has attended Howard College is eligible to attend. For reservations and information call 267-6311, extension 313.

Autopsy report awaited for ruling on local death

Justice of the Peace William Shankles said Friday afternoon he is waiting for an autopsy report from Dr. Robert Rember before he rules on a cause of death for 35-year-old Micheal Gadbury.

He died Wednesday night on arrival at Scenic Mountain Medical Center emergency room, Shankles said.

The justice of the peace said he was notified by emergency room personnel about 10:50 p.m.

Shankles said he ordered an autopsy after speaking with the attending physician who said he couldn't determine whether Gadbury died of an overdose or not. An autopsy will hopefully reveal what Gadbury had orally ingested, Shankles said.

Police Chief Lonnie Smith said Friday afternoon his understanding of a police investigation into Gadbury's death revealed that nothing criminally was involved.

An incident report regarding the case has been written up by police, Smith said.

Police investigated the death because Gadbury was not the subject of medical attention up to the time of his death, Smith said.

Ferguson: water meters measuring accurately

City water meters seem to be measuring water use accurately, City Finance Director Tom Ferguson said Friday. "The meters look City Finance Director Tom Ferguson said Friday. "The meters look like they're running right," he said.

Ferguson's finding is based on a test of 25 meters that had higher than average readings. City employees tested the meters by running a fixed quantity of water through them, he said, and checked to see how the meter's measured the amount.

Eighteen of the meters in question measured water accurately, he said. The other seven were off by less than 2 percent, some measuring water slower and some slightly faster. Ferguson said a reading off by less than 2 percent would not have a significant impact on a customer's water bill.

The meter test was prompted when hundreds of citizens complained about what they said were higher-than-normal water charges from the last billing period. Many citizens say they used less water during that time because the city requested citizens refrain from watering lawns during problems at the water treatment plant.

Ferguson said he is still waiting to hear from the Dallas office of Neputine Co., the meter's manufacturer for results of meter tests performed there.

After Neptune's inspection results are made known, Ferguson said City Council will be consulted on how to proceed with the investigation of water billing.

Police investigate coastal satanic cults

By FELIX SANCHEZ
Austin Bureau

CORPUS CHRISTI — The scribbles on the walls at an abandoned schoolhouse praise Satan and denounce God.

A decomposing bird head lies near a burnt-out hole in the floor of one room, a pentagram — symbol of the satanic ritual — is etched in the floor, and on a nearby wall the word "death" is written.

Police here are investigating whether such activities are the work of teen-agers seriously dabbling in satanic worship that could lead to violent behavior, or simply juveniles joking around late at night.

There are at least two other locations in the school, the former Parkdale Elementary on Everhart Road, where a pyre has been built and satanic sayings and symbols drawn. The numeric symbol of the Antichrist, "666," is also drawn nearby.

Based on his preliminary investigation, one police officer in the department's Youth Bureau believes serious involvement by young teen-agers in devil worshipping is increasing. The investigator quotes a witness who saw from a distance a "ritual" being performed at the school, complete with fires.

"We've been seeing an increase in that type of activity," the investigator said, particularly involving those between the ages of 9 and 16.

In other remote parts of Nueces County, there are burned and charred areas where rituals apparently have taken place. Animal bones, apparently the evidence of sacrifices, are usually found nearby, the officer said, adding they didn't identify the bones.

"These aren't just plain rock 'n' rollers. They're isolating themselves. It's getting serious," he said.

Charles Bradley, 1206 Elm St., told police Friday morning that someone he knows stole a $150 clothes dryer, a $35 vacuum cleaner, a $100 TV, a $15 hatrack and a coin set from his home between 10:30 p.m. Thursday and 9 a.m. Friday.

Manuel Ramirez, owner of Gregg Street Shamrock, told police Friday morning that someone stole a $125 TV and a $30 radio from the business between 9 p.m. Thursday and 6:54 a.m. Friday.

Police discovered a burglary of Long John Silvers, 2403 S. Gregg St., at 5:20 a.m. this morning. No report was made of missing or damaged items.

Ricardo Saucedo, 23, 1306 Stanford St., was arrested Friday morning on an assault by threat warrant. He was released on bond.

However, the local rolls category, a subgrouping of non-mineral properties that includes dwellings, lots, rural acreage and commercial real estate, declined by $2.19 million — from $648.3 million to $646.1 million. Taxpayers who will pay more

Pereira said those added to the rolls this year include approximately 38 new homeowners in subdivisions bordering Kentwood and new commercial owners along East FM 700.

Revelation ordered

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — A federal judge on Friday ordered political extremist Lyndon LaRouche to reveal "who pays for the pork chop" and the rest of his food, shelter, clothing and similar expenses of daily life.

U.S. District Judge Claude M. Hilton upheld a magistrate's ruling that LaRouche must answer questions about his personal finances, and upheld fines of $2,000 plus $200 a day since Aug. 29 until he provides those answers.

Lawyers for NBC are seeking to compel LaRouche to answer questions about who pays his personal bills in an effort to collect on a $202,000 judgment won against LaRouche last year in a civil suit.

LaRouche contends he is penniless, has had no income in more than 10 years, and cannot pay the judgment.

AIDS policy expanded

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon, still refining its AIDS testing policy, has decided that students enrolled in the service academies or college ROTC programs must be discharged if they test positive for exposure to the disease.

Enlisted service personnel enrolled in Officer Candidate Schools, however, will be denied a commission but may remain in the service as an enlistee if they show no signs of the actual disease.

The new policy is spelled out in a memorandum to the armed forces signed on Aug. 25 by Deputy Defense Secretary William H. Taft IV. The three-page directive was released Friday.

Negotiation sought

WASHINGTON — The families of the men kidnapped in Lebanon joined former American captives Friday in pleading with the Reagan administration to negotiate for hostages' release in the same way it worked to get Nicholas Daniloff out of prison.

"We're encouraged by what has happened to Mr. Daniloff and we think it's a very clear precedent to do what needs to be done to resolve our situation," said Peggy Say, the sister of hostage Terry Anderson.

No inheritance

NEW YORK — Being born into a wealthy family doesn't always guarantee a hefty inheritance, especially for the offspring of so-called "new money" clans, a survey released by Fortune magazine says.

Of 30 multimillionaires polled over the past month by the monthly business publication, one-fifth said their children would be better off with only minimal inheritances and nearly half planned to leave at least as much to charity as to their heirs.

Daniloff

Incident could doom U.S.-Soviet summit

By R. GREGORY NOKES
AP Diplomatic Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration, which has refused to deal for captive Americans elsewhere, negotiated intensively for Nicholas Daniloff because the stakes were greater — a U.S.-Soviet summit conference and a possible arms control agreement.

But a summit in the near future could be a casualty of the Daniloff incident anyway, as the outcome showed that Moscow was not willing to compromise to save a meeting between the superpowers.

The administration has proposed a summit between President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev in Washington between the Nov. 4 elections and the Christmas holidays. A State Department official said Friday that the date is still possible, although he said the Soviets haven't yet agreed.

But the Daniloff case has cast a cloud over prospects for improving superpower relations. It showed that some Soviet leaders may not care whether there is a summit. And it may make it more difficult for Reagan to sit down with Gorbachev in the spirit of give-and-take that is essential for a successful meeting.

The interim solution was a gain for the Soviets because they managed to get Gennadiy Zakharov, who has been accused of spying, released from a U.S. jail on exactly the same terms that applied to the Daniloff's release from a Soviet jail. Daniloff is an American reporter whom the Soviets accused of spying.

Both men were turned over to their ambassadors, but cannot return home.

"It's just plain outrageous," said an angry Secretary of State George Shultz. "The basic situation has not changed. The only thing that has changed is the location of these two people."

"Of course it damages our relations and our ability to move forward," Shultz said when asked about the impact on the summit.

He said he still considers Daniloff a hostage of the Soviets. David Gergen, Daniloff's editor at U.S. News & World Report, agreed: "Nick Daniloff is not a free man. Nick Daniloff is still a hostage."

Miranda Daniloff, daughter of American reporter Nicholas Daniloff, puts her hands over her heart and smiles during a news conference in Boston Friday as she discusses the release of her father from jail in the Soviet Union. Daniloff spent 13 days in custody in Moscow on espionage charges.

In seizing Daniloff on Aug. 30, and charging him with spying a week later, the Soviets had to know they would be putting the summit at risk.

The Soviets had already shown that they didn't mind putting other interests ahead of a summit. They broke off a summit planning meeting between Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze last April to protest the American bombing of Libya.

Now it was the administration's turn to react to a Soviet action. One obvious response would have been to hold the next Shultz-Shevardnadze meeting — scheduled for New York on Sept. 19-20 — in abeyance until Daniloff was released unconditionally.

But instead, the administration disclosed within 24 hours of Daniloff's arrest by Soviet agents that the incident needn't have any effect on the Shultz meeting or the summit itself. It also went ahead with a meeting on arms control issues with the Soviets at the State Department last week.

In retrospect, some administration analysts say the initial White House reaction was a mistake. "They never should have said that," said one analyst, who insisted he not be identified. A State Department official called it "an incomprehensible thing to do." They said it signaled the Kremlin that the administration would be willing to compromise.

Court orders retrial

MANILA, Philippines — The Supreme Court on Friday voided the acquittal of 26 men in the slaying of Benigno Aquino, ruling that ousted President Ferdinand E. Marcos had rigged the proceedings.

The decision clears the way for a new trial. "The court is constrained to declare the sham trial a mock trial, the non-trial of the century, and that the predetermined judgment of acquittal was unlawful and void ab initio (from the start)," the court said in a 7-2 opinion.

Youths detained

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Opposition groups said Friday the government was coercing some detained youths into attending "reorientation camps," but authorities insisted attendance was voluntary and the instruction non-political.

Monitoring groups have said that between 3,000 and 4,000 teen-agers have been detained since the government imposed a nationwide state of emergency June 12.

The government has confirmed that more than 9,600 people, including adults, have been detained for more than 30 days. Monitoring groups have placed the total closer to 14,000.

Israel destroys boat

SIDON, Lebanon — Israeli warplanes strafed a fishing area south of this port city Friday and destroyed a boat. The Israelis said it belonged to guerrillas, but Lebanese police said it was a fisherman's motor launch.

Police also said four civilians were wounded in the second Israeli air strike on Sidon's outskirts in three days.

Police here said the boat, which they described as the property of a local fisherman, was set afire by the Israeli jets.

They said the five-minute late afternoon attack also set a crane ablaze near the Sinig bridge on the coast road south of Sidon.

Peace talks sought

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The first Israeli-Egyptian summit in five years achieved agreement to work for an international conference on the Middle East, but a series of formidable obstacles has to be cleared away before such a meeting can be held.

Prime Minister Shimon Peres and President Hosni Mubarak announced Friday they had agreed at their two-day summit on forming a preparatory committee that Peres said would discuss procedures for and composition of an international forum.

But before a conference can convene, solutions will have to be found for such questions as the nature of Palestinian representation, Soviet involvement and even whether Israel's divided coalition government would support such a meeting.

Diez y Seis celebration

Staff and wire reports
With the Texas Sesquicentennial as a backdrop, celebrations begin this weekend in Big Spring and throughout the state for Mexican Independence Day, which commemorates the day in 1810 when a Mexican priest called on his countrymen to revolt against their Spanish rulers.

Beginning Saturday, thousands of people will gather in the Mexican-American communities across the state, listening to mariachi bands, patriotic speeches, viewing folkloric dancers and plays, crowning queens and eating ethnic foods.

Sept. 16 — Diez y Seis de Septiembre — is regarded as Independence Day in Mexico, much like July 4th in the United States.

Celebrations in Big Spring began today at 10 a.m. with a parade at North Seventh and Lamesa Highway and will continue through the weekend at Comanche Trail Park in the Old Settler's Pavilion.

Other activities will include fajitas and menudo cookoffs with prizes for first, second and third places. Food will be sold at various booths on the grounds. No admission is charged.

A Dieciseis queen will be crowned at the dance tonight, which begins at 8 p.m. Music will be provided by a "conjunto" named Gallitos. Celebrations tomorrow will begin at 11 a.m. with a dance beginning at 5 p.m. until 10 p.m.

Chon Marquez, League of United Latin American Citizens treasurer, said 3,000 people are expected to attend the festivities in Big Spring. He said no speeches or political activities are planned, but "just a good time."

Some celebrations will climax Monday night when local dignitaries will cry for independence, trying to emulate the shout given by Father Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla on Sept. 15, 1810, in Dolores, Mexico.

The shout is known as "El Grito de Dolores" or the "Cry of Dolores." The priest, who later was executed for stirring revolt against the Spanish rulers, is regarded as the "Father of Mexican Independence."

Although Texans have celebrated this year the state's 150-year independence from Mexico, many Mexican-Americans continue to celebrate Mexican Independence Day.

"I've always argued that Mexican-Americans are bicultural people. They have allegiance to two countries," said Dr. Arnoldo De Leon, a history professor at Angelo State University. "Their patriotic allegiance is to the United States and their cultural allegiance is to Mexico."

In Laredo, a parade on Saturday will wind down the streets of the border city into Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, which is hosting its annual nine-block fair and exposition. A softball tournament, 10 kilometer run, a fashion show and dances also are on the agenda in Laredo.

Mike Herrera III, chairman of the Laredo festivities, said the border celebration is unique.

"It's more of an authentic flavor because the ambience is so strong here because of the interaction of the two cultures," Herrera said. "That's what it really is: friendship and camaraderie."

In San Angelo, thousands are expected to gather on the grounds of Fort Concho for a four-day celebration, beginning Saturday.

New business

Big Spring Mall gets additional tenants

Three new stores have moved to Big Spring Mall, and two others have signed leases with the mall, said mall manager Todd Duff.

Joshua Tree, a women's clothing store from Snyder and Sand Hill Orphanage toy store recently opened in the mall. Hobo Art Gallery opened earlier this summer.

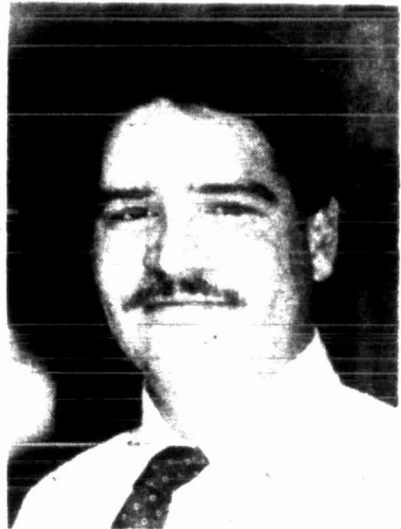

Whirl Whip of Colorado City, a sandwich, soup, ice cream and yogurt shop, has signed a lease, as has the Clothes Connection of Colorado City, which sells women's wear and lingerie, Duff said.

The Clothes Connection should be here by the first of October, he said, and Whirl Whip by the first of November.

In addition, Duff has a letter of intent from a "major tenant" to occupy the former Sleep Haven space, 9,200 square feet, he said.

Duff wouldn't reveal the identity of the prospective tenant, saying company policy prohibits such a revelation because it might endanger the agreement.

The unnamed company will add traffic to the mall and "grant certain amenities that don't exist here, in the entertainment field," he said.

The addition of Whirl Whip was designed to provide mall shoppers with a place to eat in the mall, to keep them in the mall so they'll be encouraged to shop there more, Duff said.

It is also designed to attract people into the mall, he said.

The new tenants are the result of the mall's new management lowering the lease rates, he said.

Management also has become more flexible in arranging leases, he said, including offering a free leasing period on a lease of five years or more.

"Our leasing strategy was based for a larger market, more of a regional market" such as in Midland, he said. "We've now geared it down to a middle market center."

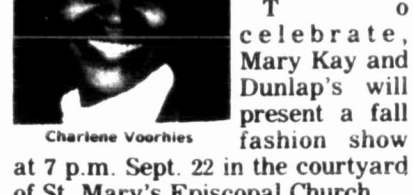

Duff continues his search for mall tenants. He's looking for two types of eating places: a fast food place and a "nice, sit-down restaurant."

He said he also would like to attract a well-stocked record store, bookstore, children's clothing shop and perhaps a drug store.

"We're trying to offer enough different types of merchandise here so people won't go to Midland to shop," he said.

Bills unrealistic for modern times

By TOM PETERS

The refrain in a mid-1960s song goes like this: "Those were the days my friends, we thought they'd never end." Congress and the administration can still be heard humming this tune at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue. Major bills dealing with tax reform, farm aid and trade constitute a revisionist effort, more consistent with Pax Americana of 1946-1973 than with today's altered world order.

Peters
on excellence

The tax bill. There are many attractive features in the tax bill such as the end of numerous obscene tax shelters. But in an effort to produce "revenue neutral" tax reforms, about $120 billion over five years is being transferred from the backs of individuals to businesses.

Many people argue that it's about time companies pay their share. Fine enough in bygone days. Business readily could pass the burden to the consumer, whose robust annual wage increases could easily absorb the price rise. It worked beautifully through the mid-1960s, when Japanese auto imports ran but one-tenth of 1 percent. But in today's violently competitive market, what goes around, comes around.

Today business has two sorry choices. If it passes along the tax hike by raising prices, you and I will look even harder at foreign products. Korea, for instance, doesn't tax the goods its industries produce for the export market. Or business can keep on the price lid and instead cut investment.

Tax reformers are retracting recent favorable capital-gains tax cuts. So much for our economy's brightest light—the burst of venture capital-funded businesses that those earlier tax cuts kindled. The move may well drag us further behind Japan, which doesn't tax capital gains at all.

As usual, incentives are conspicuously stingy for training and retraining our work force, which is so out of sync with newly needed skills. In fiscal 1986 the government provided $80 billion of special tax incentives for capital, contrasted with $25 million in training incentives, according to TRW's highly-regarded Pat Choate.

So we are handicapping business and still failing to spur exports at this critical juncture. Worse yet, we are stuffing the budget with huge and counterproductive farm supports.

The farm bill. The psychological tie to the yeoman farmer remains strong, especially among farm-belt Republican senators looking to the elections. The great farm fiasco act of 1985 will cost taxpayers about $35 billion this year (twice the projections when the bill was passed).

The problem: We still have far too many farmers. On the supply side, everything from the microprocessor to genetic engineering is drastically reducing the land required to feed the stable and weight-conscious U.S. population. On the demand side, we are no longer required to feed the world—even India now runs a grain surplus. And debt-strapped, impoverished nations are using every trick in the book to push farm products our way (we'll run our first farm trade deficit in decades this year).

However, they'd be hard pressed to top the U.S. in the guild department. As the New Republic recently reported, "Paraguay, with a foreign debt of almost $5 billion, finds that the United States is selling beef to Brazil at 30 cents a pound, half of what Paraguay can charge. We do this because the government has millions of pounds of excess beef on its hands. And why is that? Because we paid dairy farmers to slaughter their cattle under a $1.8 billion plan to prop up U.S. milk prices. ... The word for this is 'dumping'—which we're happy to use when accusing the Japanese ... of practicing it."

The trade bill. HR 4800 is a disgraceful trade bill that will soon lead Congress' pre-emption, let's-blame-somebody-else-for-our-nagging-problems agenda. (I call it IPA86, the Incompetents Protection Act of 1986.) Congress' razor's edge failure to overturn the textile bill veto suggests that it will pass some form of new protective legislation, leading us one more step down the slippery path to world economic constriction through restrained trade.

In addition to agriculture, the prime beneficiaries of protection in the last dozen years have been steel, textiles and automobiles. As usual, they have used their consumer-financed "breathing space" either to move away from the business or as an excuse to continue to under-spend on modernization.

The recent negotiation by the harried administration of a pledged 20 percent share of the Japanese market for U.S. semiconductor makers underscores the hypocrisy of the trade debate. Several U.S. manufacturers reacted to the move by saying they now look forward to immediately starting operations in Japan. Why? Those U.S. firms that do already operate in Japan produce the highest quality "American" chips.

This is bizarre. First, internationalist U.S. chip makers such as Texas Instruments are already thriving in Japan, proof positive that the market is not so closed as the whiners claim. Second, if, as the excess say, the reason for our shaky performance relative to Japan is the poor quality of U.S. factories' output, can you really call wholesale movement of their production to Japan a solution to the U.S. industry's woes? Third, if we do get up to our 20 percent share, mainly via U.S. production in Japan, it doesn't go on the books as a reduction of our trade deficit anyway!

The three vital bills and the mania surrounding them add up to a poisonous dose of wishful thinking. Policymakers should stop humming and wake up to the fact that we are unprepared to compete against others who (1) pointedly spur business investment at the expense of marginal personal consumption, (2) don't treat the export market as a pox, and (3) have the audacity to make products that work.

Stock market rollercoaster

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices gyrated wildly in record trading Friday, and even the old salts of Wall Street confessed to feeling a little seasick.

In the aftermath of an unprecedented 86.61-point drop in the Dow Jones industrial average Thursday, the market suffered another steep setback in the early going Friday.

As the session passed, prices struggled to recover, but then dropped again. Amid the rush of activity, many analysts said they simply couldn't draw any conclusions yet about whether the market was going through just a passing storm or something worse.

"We've never had numbers like this before," said William LeFevre at the firm of Purcell Graham & Co.

The ticker tape reporting trades in New York Stock Exchange-listed issues ran more than 30 minutes late during the morning, and trading volume on the exchange exceeded Thursday's record pace.

The late tape was evidence of a lot of public selling, said Newton Zinder, who has been a technical analyst at E.F. Hutton & Co. since the early 1960s.

By all accounts, Thursday's selloff was due in large measure to computer program selling by professional investors playing individual stocks against futures contracts on market indexes.

On Friday, by contrast, the primary sellers at the opening appeared to be individual investors who had been frightened by news accounts about the market's plunge. "This is the people, as opposed to the programs yesterday," LeFevre said.

While some market forecasters were proclaiming the end of Wall Street's four-year bull market, and others were insisting that the drop was only a short-term setback, the Reagan administration professed to be unconcerned.

Larry Speakes, the White House spokesman, said the economy remains healthy. "I don't think we have ever tried to explain the stock market," he added.

For those who do try to explain it, the fluctuations of the past couple of days demonstrated a new problem they have to contend with: A degree of volatility, or at least of perceived volatility, that has seemed to make the market even more emotional than before.

With point changes in the Dow Jones industrial average as a gauge, the five biggest declines ever in the market have occurred in the first nine months of 1986.

Drilling report

These are the latest oil and gas activity reports filed with the Texas Railroad Commission for the five-county crossroads country.

Flowing 180 barrels of oil per day, along with 175,000 CF casinghead gas, the No. 1 Fisherman was completed in Howard County by Montero Operating.

The wildcat well is located three miles northeast of Big Spring. It was drilled to 9,545-ft. total depth and plugged back to 8,267 feet. Production will be from a perforated interval in the Lower Wolfcamp Formation, 7,784 to 7,818 feet into the wellbore.

The location is in a 148-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

At a location 13 miles southeast of Big Spring, Mobil Producing has finished an oil producer in Howard County's Howard-Glasscock Field.

The well is designated as the No. 23 Chalk Sloan, pumping 26 barrels of oil per day.

Location is in an 80-acre lease in the W&N Survey. Bottomed at 8,800 feet and plugged back to 7,515 feet, the well will produce from perforations in the Wolfcamp Formation at 7,336 to 7,436 feet into the hole.

EP Operating of Midland has revealed plans to drill two new wells in Howard County.

The No. 1 Hamby is a wildcat operation to be located two miles southwest of Luther. Drillite is in a 320-acre lease in the T&P Survey. The well carries permit for 10,066-ft. total depth.

The No. 36-5 Southeast Luther/Fullman Unit will be located one mile southwest of Luther in a 3,594-acre lease, same survey. The well will be drilled in the Southeast Luther Field. It is projected to 10,000-ft. total depth.

Lyle Cashion Oil has abandoned an undrilled location in Howard County's North Iatan Field.

The well had been designated as the No. 12 W. R. Reed "B", with drillite eight miles east of Coahoma.

Bond Operating has revealed production figures for a re-entry operation at the No. 9 TL&M "C", a developmental well in the East Iatan Howard Field, Howard County. The well is located three miles southeast of Coahoma in a 320-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

The venture indicated ability to pump 17 barrels of oil, plus 83 barrels of water from San Angelo Formation perforations at 3,042 to 3,058 feet into the wellbore.

Bond Operating was the original operator. It was originally completed October 19, 1981, and pumped 25 barrels of oil per day from perforations in the Glorieta Formation at 2,783 to 2,910 feet into the hole. Original total depth was 3,040 feet. Bond deepened the well to 8,980 feet and plugged back to 3,250 feet.

Mrs. W.M. Keck, Jr. has bought the No. 18 J.D. Fuller on line in Mitchell County's Sharon Ridge Field.

The well is located three miles southeast of Ira. Drillite is in a 201-acre lease in the Kirkland & Fields Survey.

The well demonstrated potential to pump 45 barrels of oil per day, plus 49 barrels of water. It was taken to a 1,875-ft. bottom, and will produce from perforations in the 1700 Formation, 1,664 to 1,703 feet into the wellbore.

The operator is based in Lafayette, La.

The same operator has revealed plans to drill two 2,000-ft. developmental wells in the Sharon Ridge Field. The wells have been designated as the Nos. 10 and 12 Coleman Ranch "A". Drillites are three miles northeast of Cuthbert, Mitchell County.

The wells will be drilled in a 130-acre lease in the H&TC Survey.

Anschutz Corp. has given up on its efforts to make a producer out of the No. 1625 Lehman, a wildcat well in Mitchell County. Drillite was two miles northeast of Lorraine in the T&P Survey. Spudded July 17, the well bottomed at 7,352 feet with no commercial potential.

Amoco Production has completed a work-over operation at the No. 4 Peg's Hill, a developmental well in the Peg's Hill Field, Borden County. The well showed potential to pump 49 barrels of oil daily, plus 154,000 CF casinghead gas from perforations in the Mississippi Formation at 8,750 to 8,824 feet into the wellbore.

The well is located 12 miles northwest of Gail. Drillite is in a 640-acre lease in the GTRR Survey.

Amoco originally completed the well Jan. 21, 1986, and is pumped 159 barrels of oil per day from perforations in the Ellenburger Formation at 9,030 to 9,036 feet into the hole. The original total depth was 9,115 feet. The operator plugged the well back to 8,960 feet.

The No. 1 Hamilton, an 8,700-ft. wildcat well, is scheduled to be drilled in Borden County. Patter-son Petroleum of Snyder is the operator. The well will be spudded in a 482-acre lease 11 miles northeast of Gail in the John H. Gibson Survey.

Martin County's Spraberry Trend Field gained four new producers when Atkins Petroleum completed the Nos. 1 through 4 Scheenecker "32" 16 miles northwest of Stanton.

The wells indicated ability to pump oil at the combined rate of 190 barrels per day, plus a combined 168,000 CF casinghead gas and 345 barrels of water. Total drilling depths were 9,585, 9,585, 9,608 and 9,540 feet, respectively. Production will be from perforations in the Spraberry Formation, ranging from 7,820 to 9,476 feet into the wellbore.

The operations are in a 320-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

RR Petroleum has filed first production figures on a new oil well in the Fran-Glass Field, Martin County. The No. 2403 Schenecker demonstrated potential to flow 80 barrels of oil per day, plus 220,000 CF casinghead gas on a 9/64-in. choke. Flowing tubing pressure registered 1,050 PSI.

The well will produce from a perforated interval in the Strawn Formation, 10,543 to 10,555 feet into the wellbore. Total drilling depth was 12,290 feet, and the well was plugged back to 11,440 feet.

Primary Fuels has filed production figures on a work-over operation in the Belspec Field, Martin County. The well in question is the No. 1 Flanagan, located three miles north of Stanton in a 160-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

It showed ability to flow 54 barrels of oil per day, plus 510,000 CF casinghead gas on an 8/64-in. choke. Flowing tubing pressure was gauged at 1,200 PSI.

The operator originally completed the well Sept. 22, 1985, and it flowed 1,700,000 CF gas per day from Strawn Formation perforations at 10,152 to 10,163 feet into the hole. Bottomhole was at 11,334 feet.

At a location 16 miles northwest of Garden City, West Texas Oil & Gas has finished a new oil producer in the Blacklock Field, Glasscock County.

The well is designated as the No. 10 Woody "A", pumping 32 barrels of oil per day, plus 36,000 CF casinghead gas.

Location is in a 400-acre lease in the T&P Survey. Bottomed at 11,430 feet and plugged back to 11,108 feet, the well will produce from perforations in the Wolfcamp Formation at 9,118 to 9,160 feet into the wellbore.

Drillite has been staked for the No. 41-4 Currie, a 10,500-ft. wildcat well in Glasscock County. The operation will be located ten miles west of Garden City in a 40-acre lease in the T&P Survey. The operator is Apache Corp. of Houston.

Judy Rodman steps ahead

By JOE EDWARDS
 Associated Press Writer
 NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Singer Janie Frickie recently complained, in good humor, that she couldn't find her records on sale at a store.

But she told her good friend Judy Rodman that she found hers right out front.

Miss Rodman has been a solo recording artist for less than two years, but she's stepped ahead of a pack of other new faces — and a few old ones — to rack up a No. 1 hit on the country music charts, "Until I Met You."

The 35-year-old singer, who last spring was voted the most promising female vocalist by the Academy of Country Music, has emerged from the ranks of Nashville's background singers to a top solo entertainer.

Besides having the No. 1 record, in the short span of two years she has performed on the two FarmAid concerts, made her debut on the Grand Ole Opry and picked up a rare tribute from singer-songwriter Bob Dylan.

However, she thought her first record in February 1985 would never make it to the public to launch her rapid rise.

"They said the record would be out 'this week,' then 'next week.' Then the truck carrying the records got stuck in ice up north and this put it back another couple of weeks," she said.

The record, "I've Been Had by Love Before," made the country charts along with her next two. Dylan, the legendary folk-pop singer, said "I've Been Had by Love Before" was his favorite pop song at that time.

"Until I Met You," a vivid, wistful song about the pleasure of meeting someone special, made No. 1 in July.

"It's a good, beautiful song," Miss Rodman said in an interview a few days after performing on "The Tonight Show."

Judy Rodman, a former background singer, has moved into the spotlight with a number one hit on the country charts, "Until I Met You."

"People like its stark beauty. It's a simple song and pulls out emotion that a complex song wouldn't do."

Her next single, "She Thinks That She'll Marry," is another tender ballad. It's about a woman's dreams of romance and her disillusionment before gaining the upper hand on her romantic interest.

"I'm new but I'm not a neophyte," she said. "I've got a lot of living and music behind me. I think my music is original and unique. It's real, not a formula and not plastic."

People say, "I don't know who you sound like." It's a compliment to me because a singer must be unique."

Miss Rodman was born in Riverside, Calif., to an air traffic controller who played bluegrass music for fun. Her family moved frequently, living in various cities in Mississippi, Alaska and Florida. She spent her last two years of high school and her college years in Jacksonville, Fla.

From 1971 to 1980 she made a living recording commercial jingles in Memphis, Tenn. She moved to Nashville in 1980 and began compiling an impressive list of credits: Kellogg's, Miller Beer, Chevrolet, Budweiser, McDonald's and Coors.

She also sang background vocals on such hits as "Finally" by T.G. Sheppard, "Potential New Boyfriend" by Dolly Parton and "Tell Me a Lie" by Miss Frickie.

When actress Mary Tyler Moore launched a new record company, Miss Rodman was the first to sign a contract as a solo artist.

"Some artists record years before they get a No. 1 record," she said. "We've made an incredible rise in one-and-a-half years. I'm just a babe in the eyes of the industry. I look forward to not being new. It's still like an audition time for me, and I'm tired of auditioning."

"People like things they know, and they are still getting to know me. I want sold out concerts and platinum albums."

She's getting excellent advice and help. Loretta Lynn loaned her her band for FarmAid I. The two singers share the same manager, David Skepper. And Miss Frickie, her roommate when the two were in Memphis together, gives her advice. "We're friendly competitors."

Miss Rodman plays the piano and guitar, and in picking material to sing, she says: "I like the song to have a range with a pretty melody and a bluesy touch someplace. I like the lyrics to be about life, about emotions."

"I can sing traditional country and be on the pop side at the same time," she said. "I can do bluesy stuff, funky country-rock, beautiful ballads with strings or join my father on a bluegrass number."

"I like to stretch out. I get bored doing the same thing over and over and over."

Rivalry sparks starry success

Movie reviewers Ebert and Siskel begin their ninth season

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of the few things Gene Siskel and Roger Ebert agree on is that their rivalry sparks their movie review show.

Siskel and Ebert agree on little else, and that keen sense of competition has helped make stars of two Chicago film critics who still consider themselves just working newspapermen.

This month they begin their ninth season on the air with a new version of their movie review show, called "Siskel & Ebert & The Movies."

"The success of the show still astonishes us," said Siskel. "None of it was planned. I think it shows that newspaper people who are given a beat and given time to develop expertise can become very effective communicators on television."

"Roger and I are intense competitors. I think it's this rivalry and competition that fuels the show. The key is that we're two newspapermen who sit around and argue about movies."

Chicago has always been a city of intense newspaper rivalry. Siskel was the daily film critic for the Chicago Tribune for 17 years and will continue writing reviews and commentary for the newspaper and its syndicate twice a week. Ebert has been with the Chicago Sun-Times for 19 years and in 1975 became the only film critic to win the Pulitzer Prize for distinguished criticism.

The rivalry is such that they asked to be interviewed separately. Siskel, who is tall, slim and has a receding hairline, was first. Then came Ebert, who is shorter and rounder, has a mop of curly hair and wears hornrim glasses.

"Our professional competition has been a fact of life since 1969. We were not really on speaking terms," Ebert said.

"We were film critics for rival morning newspapers. We'd go to the same screenings, but we wouldn't speak. People talk about our chemistry, but that had nothing to do with our original selection to do this show."

In 1977, a Chicago public television station asked Siskel and Ebert to participate in a weekly show reviewing the arts. At first the show was distributed free around the country, then it was bought by a majority of the PBS stations. "Sneak Previews" went on to become the highest-rated half-hour weekly show in the history of PBS.

In 1982 their new show, "At the Movies," was syndicated to commercial stations by Tribune Entertainment. Beginning this season their new show will be syndicated by Buena Vista Television. Both said they felt the show was being pushed harder by the new syndicators — and in many cities it was moving to higher-rated stations or getting a better time slot.

After the move to Buena Vista was announced the Tribune replaced Siskel as daily critic. He now writes twice a week for the newspaper and is syndicated by Tribune Media Services. "They said he was overextended," said Ebert. "During the four years we were with Tribune Entertainment they never said he was overworked."

Siskel and Ebert usually see each other only on the day they tape the show.

"The staff never indicates to either of us what movies the other person has seen, when he's in town, where he's traveling or who he's talking to," said Siskel. "Any messages relayed to us on the set are written on paper. All I need is to hear that so-and-so called Roger and I can figure out what's happening."

Ebert said they each write their reviews in advance and that certain parts of the show are scripted so that the director will know when to cue the excerpts from the movies being reviewed. But their discussions and arguments are unscripted and unrehearsed. Ebert said that when he and Siskel are having at each other they will ignore signals from the stage manager to cut it short.

Siskel and Ebert seem to have spawned a cottage industry of television film reviewing in Chicago. "Sneak Previews," continues on PBS with Jeffrey Lyons and Michael Medved. "At the Movies" will be taken over by Rex Reed and Bill Harris.

Ebert said he's still amazed to be doing the show.

"This fell out of the sky," he said. "We're not slick entertainers. We're a couple of guys talking about our beat."

"I'm tickled about the whole thing. I live in Chicago and work for a newspaper, yet I'm on national television. Few people have the opportunity to do what they really love."

TV movies now being produced celebrate Lone Star State's history

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Texas, which is celebrating its sesquicentennial, has its history celebrated in two television movies now in production in the Lone Star State.

Sam Elliott stars as frontier statesman Sam Houston in "Gone to Texas: The Sam Houston Story." The three-hour movie for CBS tells of the man who helped create the Republic of Texas and later the state of Texas.

Houston was governor of Tennessee, twice president of the Republic of Texas and later served 10 years as U.S. senator.

His career ended when he refused to take an oath to the Confederacy at the outbreak of the Civil War. He died in 1863.

Meanwhile, James Arness as Jim Bowie is defending Texas in the NBC movie, "The Alamo: 13 Days to Glory." The movie also stars Brian Keith as Davy Crockett, Lorne Greene as Sam Houston and Alec Baldwin as Col. William Travis.

The NBC movie is being filmed at Brackettville, Texas, the same location used in the 1960 movie, "The Alamo," starring John Wayne.

Matadors' speed overwhelms Steers

Estacado returns three punts for touchdowns in routing Steers 56-6

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

With 1:50 remaining in Friday night's game between Big Spring and Lubbock Estacado, Big Spring Steers Offensive Coordinator Scott Knippa emerged from his perch in the west side press box, shook his head, and said two words.

"Unbelievable...Unbelievable." How else to describe a game in which the Steers surrendered three touchdowns on punt returns, and completed just two of 19 passes with two interceptions. At the end of the third quarter, the score was Estacado 56, Big Spring 6. Mercifully, it ended that way.

"Not much to say, we just got beat. They're a good football team, and we didn't play well...at all. I wasn't surprised with how quick they were, but I was surprised at our inability to tackle them," said Steer head coach Quinn Eudy after the game.

Big Spring won the toss, and elected to receive. Four plays later, the Steers punted for the first of six times. The swift Matadors would score on three of those punts, including this one.

Return man Ronald Collins fielded Brian Mayfield's punt at his own 45, ran to his right, and sped 55 yards untouched for the first score just 1:52 into the game.

The Steers held tough in the first quarter, as Deeg Young recovered a Matador fumble and the teams traded punts. The quarter ended at 7:0.

With 11:55 remaining in the second quarter, Estacado quarterback O.T. Thomas hit Randy Luke for a 29-yard touchdown pass to take a 14-0 lead.

Moments later, Steer running back Charles White lost a fumble on the Steer 37. The Matadors drove deep into Steer territory, and the Steer defense found themselves backed up to their one-yard line. The Steers held on a gutsy goal line stand, and the home fans went wild. It would be their last chance to cheer for some time.

With 3:10 remaining in the half, Mayfield punted for the fourth time, nailing his longest punt of the game for 50 yards. Collins repeated his earlier feat, returning this punt 60 yards for the score.

Edward Walker, who led the Matadors in rushing with 112 yards on 12 carries, punched in a one-yard touchdown with 23 seconds remaining in the half. The disastrous second quarter ended with the Lubbock Estacado leading 28-0.

The Steers ended the half with two first downs and 46 total yards. Following an interception in the first quarter, Steer quarterback Paul Decker would throw 12 times before his next completion. Two of those, however, should have been caught.

The Matadors' quickness, both offensively and defensively, had overwhelmed the Steers in the first half. It didn't take long for Estacado's speed to assert itself in the second half.

On the first play from scrimmage following the opening kickoff, Matador wingback Farias Walker took a counter handoff around the left end, twisted toward the middle, broke several tackles, and sped 79 yards for the score with just 19 seconds elapsed from the clock.

It was an incredible run, and it was typical of the Matador's dominance. Their running backs were simply too fast, too strong and too slippery for the Steer tacklers. If Big Spring didn't gang tackle, it seemed it didn't tackle at all. Rarely did a Steer defender stop a Matador runner one on one.

With 9:22 remaining in the third quarter, and Big Spring down 35-0, the Steers made a break for themselves.

Backed up to their own 12-yard line, facing fourth down and long, the Steers took a chance. Mayfield took the long snap from center, faked a punt, and raced around the right end. He busted through one Matador tackler and raced 88 yards for the score. The two-point attempt failed.

Mayfield's run would account for almost half of the Steer's total yards, and 19 more yards than the other Steer runners combined yardage.

Decker had several good runs on the night, including a 25-yarder that was called back. Five sacks for a total of minus 37 yards, however, meant he would lose ten yards on 12 carries on the night.

Lubbock Estacado's Alvin White (20) has a convoy of blockers as he streaks for yardage against the Big Spring Steers defense. Leading the way for White are teammates Wes Issac (2) Prennis Dial (30). Estacado won the game 56-6.

One minute after Mayfield's run, the Matadors answered with a 53-yard run from Walker, who won a foot race with three Steer defenders.

Two minutes later, Jimmy Doss scored from 53-yards on the third punt return touchdown of the night.

An 18-yard pass from Thomas to Robert Johnson with :47 remaining in the quarter closed out the quarter's, as well as the night's scoring.

Five touchdowns had been scored in the wild third quarter. Four for Estacado, one for Big Spring.

Estacado head coach Louis Kelley said his team played "very intense," but he added he hadn't expected such an easy win.

"I'm very surprised the way the score ended. Big Spring has too good a team. I don't know...I know they're gonna come back," Kelley said.

Stanton runs by Coahoma, 20-6

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

COAHOMA — The Stanton Buffaloes used a well balanced wishbone attack and a stingy defense to ruin the Coahoma Bulldogs homecoming by taking a 20-6 win.

The Buffaloes offense powered for 330 yards, including 277 on the ground. Meanwhile, the Buffalo defense, led by defensive tackle Steve Villa, linebacker Derek Sorley and end Stan Young, did a good job on the Coahoma offense most of the time.

Coahoma, which had less than 100 yards total offense last week in a 13-0 loss to Seminole, did manage to get its offense untracked in the game. Surprisingly, it was via the pass that Coahoma moved the ball, rather than the run, which the Bulldogs normally depend on.

The duo of Coahoma quarterback James Wallace and tight end Jimmy King hooked up four times for 126 yards and Coahoma's only touchdown of the game. That score came in the final quarter.

While King and Wallace were the offensive stars for the Bulldogs, the entire Stanton starting backfield of quarterback Skip Hopkins and running backs James Vidal, Derek Sorley and Greg Barnhill all had star-studded games.

Sorley, the fullback in the wishbone, led all rushers with 101 yards on 12 carries. After being held to only three yards in two carries in the first half, Sorley came on like a ball of fire in the second half, averaging 10 yards per carry in the half.

Vidal, a speedy halfback, was just a few yards behind Sorley. He ended the night with 91 yards on 16 carries. Barnhill, who gained 86 yards last week in the Buffaloes win over Seagraves, gained 51 yards in 17 tries. Hopkins accounted for 78 total yards.

Stanton's first score of the contest was set up on a blocked punt by Tommy Smith. Smith roared through the middle and blocked White's attempt in the first quarter. The ball was recovered at the Coahoma nine.

Coahoma running back Dee Jon Douglass (43) tries to get outside on the Stanton Buffaloes defense in non-district football action Friday night at Memorial Stadium. Stanton defensive tackle Steve Villa (74) tries to make the tackle. Stanton won 20-6.

On the next play Barnhill took a pitch and swept around the end for the score with 6:04 remaining. The extra point attempt failed.

That was the way the score stayed for the remainder of the half. Stanton made two more impressive drives in the half, but stalled when the Buffaloes lost the ball on downs. Once they drove to the Coahoma one-yardline. But on a fourth and nine play, Hopkins was stopped inches short.

On the other drive Stanton drove to the Coahoma 35 before Hopkins was sacked on fourth down by David Woods and Schaeffer Musser.

Coahoma mounted an impressive drive of its own in the first half. In a five-play drive, the Bulldogs marched 69 yards to the Buffaloes' one. Big plays included a face mask penalty and a 35 yard reception by King.

But with only seconds left, Craig Wallace fumbled at the one.

Stanton scored on its second possession of the second half. The 55-yard drive took only four plays. Sorley got most of it when he burst off tackle and rambled 45 yards to paydirt.

Barnhill added two two point conversion with a sweep around the end with 4:40 left in the third period.

Fullback George Valeriano ran the second score in from the one-yard line with 5:22 left on the clock but the PAT was no good. The third touchdown followed a few minutes later with 3:22 remaining in the second quarter when Wayne Truesdell ran 13 yards for the score.

The first score of the game was made in the second quarter by senior halfback Wayne Wright of Forsan. He ran four yards for six points, and then made the extra point with 9:09 left in the half for a 7-0 Buffaloe lead.

Jayton massacres Klondike

KLONDIKE — The Jayton Jay Birds scored in every quarter en route to a 62-13 massacre of the Klondike Cougars in the second game of the season Friday night.

Richard Boswell of the District 14A-North Jay Birds was the top rusher of the evening with a total of 287 yards. He scored the first touchdown on a 17-yard run with 6:07 remaining in the first quarter. One minute later, Boswell bounced back and scored on a 41-yard punt return. Steve Morales kicked for the extra point.

The Jay Birds scored again on a 1-yard run by Morales, who also kicked the PAT. With 6:44 remaining in the second stanza, the Cougars struck paydirt when Gilbert Guerra-reached the end Jayton remained strong through the third and fourth quarters as they racked up an extra 26 points to seal the victory. Outstanding player for the Cowboys was Mike Kenyon, who ran for 77 yards.

The good news is that Ft. Worth Poly High School has a football player who is 6-5, 370-pound sophomore Anthony Williams. The bad news is that he is unable to play until he can find a football helmet to fit his size nine head.

Make room for Kitchen II

FORT WORTH (AP) — Matters have come to a head for a sturdy high school sophomore who coaches say could be a good footballer — if only they could find a helmet big enough to fit him.

At 6-feet-5 and 370 pounds, Anthony Williams, a student at Polytechnic High School here, has a bigger head than even the Chicago Bears' William "The Refrigerator" Perry, says Coach Lewis Ritcherson.

Another big man in football, the Dallas Cowboys' Nate Newton, dubbed "The Kitchen," weighs 320 pounds.

Williams wears a size 9 helmet, or would if one could be found. James Willingham, the Fort Worth assistant athletic director in charge of football, says he's contacted four different helmet manufacturers and can't find anything bigger than a size 8 1/2.

A size 9 helmet would require a circumference of between 27 and 28 inches. By comparison, a size 7 helmet is 22 inches.

Dallas Cowboys defensive end Ed "Too Tall"

Jones wears an 8 1/2 size helmet.

"They just don't make a size 9," Willingham said. "To do it, they'd have to create a new mold and that would cost about $70,000."

Willingham already has special ordered pants for Williams — waist size 62 with a 36-inch thigh. And he wears size 17-EEE shoes.

Williams hadn't thought about playing organized football before last spring, when Polytechnic coaches urged him to try out for the team.

"A guy that size is a coach's dream," Ritcherson said. "He has a good attitude and surprisingly good agility. He can be a real good football player, depending on how soon we can get him in a suit."

Until suitable headgear is found, Williams can't take to the field. But he says, that doesn't bother him. Williams said he spends his practice time studying the school playbook or running.

"I'm not frustrated, but I do want to play," he said. "I guess if I don't play I'll just help the managers."

Indians scalp Wolves, 34-18

COLORADO CITY — The Seminole Indians crushed the Colorado City Wolves 34-18 Friday night in the second game of the season, giving the Indians a perfect 2-0 record, and dropping the Wolves' to 0-1.

Roberts scored again in the second quarter on a 1-yard run with 9:37 on the clock.

Blackwell stomps Wildcats

Touchdowns abounded in a battle between Grady Wildcats and the Blackwell Hornets in Grady Friday night as the Hornets won the contest, 74-32.

In the first quarter, Blackwell scored on a 4-yard run by running back Terry Jackson.

Roberts scored for Seminole on a 3-yard run with 4:16 on the clock in the third quarter. Jaime Nave ran for two points after the touchdown.

Fullback Hector Jaques scored when Jason Shipman ran two yards with 9:20 on the clock. The PAT by Ray Walls was good.

Andy Lee ran six yards for a second touchdown, and the PAT by Walls was also good.

A third touchdown by Shawn

Murphy, who ran 11 yards with three minutes left on the clock, brought the score to 24-0.

But Grady lived up to the game when Walton Stone threw a 63-yard pass to Chris Stone for a touchdown.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

SUNDAY, SEPT. 14, 1986
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Not a good day to make any drastic changes or to upset prearranged courses of action. Study objectively how best to progress in the forthcoming days.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Don't permit the antics of good friends to get you down. The planets are acting up, but keep poised.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Take no risks with influential people today. This may get you more than you bargained for.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): You may be tempted to break away from your orthodox way of living, but you may live to regret it.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Be sure to use only your mature judgment today. Your mate may be edgy, but don't react.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Be careful to avoid the unconventional today and be with friends who are tried and true. Enjoy tranquility.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Do not use unusual methods in trying to make others happy. Gain more energy and feel happier.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You are tempted to overspend for fleeting pleasures. This is unwise. Be more concerned with security.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): It is not wise to invite guests now. Don't make any thoughtless changes you may later regret.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Your studies of philosophy may have brought you to the point of confusion, so drop it for now.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You may feel depressed about finances, but cheer up and go after whatever will improve this.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Avoid any acquaintances who have a tendency to make you feel nervous. Be with those who are soothing.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Know what your personal goals are and gain them by proven methods. Your mate is frustrated, so be kind.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will learn much about life through trials and tribulations that may arise early in life, but this will be an opportunity to test the real mettle in this nature. The experiences could cause your progeny to rise above the crowd, making this child a success.

Holtz makes debut at Notre Dame

By The Associated Press

A new chapter in Notre Dame's storied football history begins Saturday when the Fighting Irish debut under Coach Lou Holtz.

And while the beginning of the Holtz era may not be anything to write home about — the Irish open against third-ranked Michigan — it is expected to have a happy ending before too much time goes by.

Perhaps sooner than anyone really expects.

Near the end of Thursday's practice it began to rain, but Holtz didn't seem to notice.

"We're not leaving this field until we're ready to beat Michigan," he snapped as he ordered his players behind an enclosed fence and away from prying eyes.

The Saturday schedule also features two games between members of the Associated Press Top Twenty — seventh-ranked Texas A&M at No. 14 LSU at night and 10th-rated Ohio State at No. 17 Washington.

Top-ranked Oklahoma is idle, along with No. 5 Penn State, No. 6 Nebraska, No. 9 Auburn, No. 13 Florida, No. 15 Florida State and No. 16 UCLA.

But second-ranked Miami entertains Texas Tech in a night game, No. 4 Alabama meets Southern Mississippi in Birmingham and No. 8 Tennessee plays host to Mississippi State. Elsewhere, New Mexico is at No. 11 Brigham Young, Louisiana Tech at No. 12

Baylor under the lights, No. 18 Arkansas faces Mississippi at night in Little Rock, Duke is at No. 19 Georgia and No. 20 Michigan State at Arizona State for a night game.

But many eyes, including those of ABC-TV (3 p.m., EDT), will be watching South Bend to see if Holtz can turn around a program that never lived up to expectations in five years under Gerry Faust. For the first time since 1964, Notre Dame was not in the AP's preseason Top Twenty.

Holtz is realistic about his chances, but he isn't backing away from the challenge.

"When our athletes came to Notre Dame, they came expecting to compete against teams like Michigan," he says. "We don't go in there awed or intimidated or anything else."

"This game isn't going to be won with trickery. This game is going to be won with the team that's the most physical, blocks and tackles the best and makes the fewest mistakes."

"Our football team's made an awful lot of progress and it'll be very, very interesting."

Michigan was 10-1-1 and finished second in the nation a year ago and has been picked in some quarters to win it all this fall. "Your basic national championship contender," says Holtz of Michigan, whose 665 victories are 19 more than even Notre Dame can boast.

Miami returns home after defeating South Carolina and Florida on the road and Coach Jimmy Johnson's task will be to keep the Hurricanes from looking ahead to Sept. 27 when Oklahoma comes to town.

"It has been a long time since we have played a game with more of our fans in the stadium than what our opponent has," Johnson says. "Our approach is the same as usual — we will play one game at a time and concentrate on being 3-0 after the Texas Tech game."

"Texas Tech is a much-improved football team. Their coaching staff is well-respected and we know they will do some things on offense that are different than what Tech has done in the past."

Like throw the football. The Red Raiders unleashed a school record 55 passes — including 27 on first down — in last week's 41-7 rout of Kansas State. Last year, they didn't throw their 55th pass until the fifth game.

The pass-happy offense has been dubbed "Air McMail" for David McWilliams, Tech's new head coach, who played against Johnson in college and was the defensive coordinator at Texas the last four years when Johnson's oldest son, Brent, was a strong safety for the Longhorns. In addition, Carlos Mainord, Miami's secondary coach, held the same position at Tech the last two years.

"Everybody kept asking all week if we were really going to throw it," McWilliams says. "Maybe they will believe me now."

Texas A&M's visit to LSU will mark the Aggies' first game on natural grass since they defeated Oklahoma State in the 1981 Independence Bowl. By contrast, LSU played only two of its 12 games last year on an artificial surface.

After winning the Southwest Conference title in 1985, the Aggies are after bigger game — the national championship.

"There are a lot of holes to be filled," says Coach Jackie Sherrill. "But in college football there are always holes to be filled. That's the nature of the game. We're fortunate at this time that we do have some maturity and some players who have been here for a while."

LSU Coach Bill Arnsparger says the Tigers "had a real good spring and summer. We've had quite a few players step to the forefront, so to speak, such as (running back) Sammy Martin and (wide receivers) Rogie Magee and Wendell Davis."

In their search for a successor to record-setting Jeff Wickersham, the Tigers have turned to redshirt freshman Tom Hodson.

Ohio State has had 2½ weeks since its 16-10 loss to Alabama in the Kickoff Classic to prepare for Washington, which hasn't played a game yet.

"We were not a very good football team against Alabama," says Coach Earle Bruce. "But a team normally makes its greatest improvement between its first and second games."

"I can tell you this — it will be a game between two good football teams. Washington is big, good, talented and well-coached. And we will be better than we were against Alabama. We have the makings of a good team and I think you will see an improved football team in Seattle."

Washington's Don James sounds like Bruce's echo, describing the Buckeyes as "really a solid club."
