Spring board

How's that?
Orchestra

Q. When does the Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra come to Big Spring?

A. The orchestra is scheduled to give a concert Oct. 2 at 8 p.m. in the Big Spring High School auditorium, and a children's concert at 9:45 a.m. Oct. 3 at that location.

Calendar

Seminar

MONDAY

• A senior citizens' dance will be 8 to 10:30 p.m. at the Boys Club in Colorado City, Third and Chestnut streets. Benny's Western Band will play. Everyone is invited.

WEDNESDAY

• Training for potential leaders of "Seminar for Parents on Adolescent Sexuality" will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Park Inn. The $6 registration fee covers the costs of a leader's guide. Call Donna Parker at the March of Dimes office, 263-3014, for more information.

FRIDAY

• The Downtown Lions Club will have its annual hamburger feast on the night of the Steers first home district game. The meal will be from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the East Room of Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The fee is $4 for adults and $2 for children. Proceeds are to go to local humanitarian causes.

Tops on TV

James Bond

Sean Connery stars as James Bond in "You Only Live Twice." Secret Agent 007's search for missing Russian and American space capsules leads him to the volcanic headquarters of Spectre in Japan. The movie airs at 8 p.m. on Channel 2.

Outside

Sunny

Skies today are sunny with a high near 90 and southerly winds at 10 to 15 miles per hour. Tonight and Monday will be fair with a low tonight in the mid 60s and a high Monday in the upper 80s.

Lighter Side

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An artist who turned a block of cheese into a likeness of Nancy Reagan is carving Venus de Milo out of a 12,000-pound cake of soap.

"It's going to be an absolute masterpiece," said Art Grant as he hacked away at the giant slab of Ivory soap Thursday. Grant, 59, of Mill Valley, has several serious paintings and sculptures to his credit, but he's best known for his tongue-in-cheek creations.

Ten years ago he carved a 16-foot American flag in ice. In addition to turning the 80-pound block of cheese into the first lady, Grant created a likeness of the president out of 10,000 jellybeans.

"Both were delicious," he said.

Bigger cut for Texans

By JIM CRAIG

Washington Bureau

A congressional study released Saturday by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen suggests Texans may realize a tax cut that is slightly greater than the national average under the pending tax reform legislation.

One reason, according to the study by the Joint Committee on Taxation, is that the proportion of tax returns from Texans which have itemized deductions is lower than the national average.

Under provisions of the tax reform plan, taxpayers who do not itemize will receive a significantly higher average tax cut than itemizers. In 1981, 25 percent of the tax returns from Texans had itemized deductions, compared to a 33 percent national average.

Another reason Texans, on average, can expect a larger tax cut, the report suggests, is the size of families in the state.

According to 1981 figures used in the study, the average Texas federal income tax return claimed 2.49 personal exemptions com-

14 hours later, negotiators agree

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — House and Senate negotiators sweated through nearly 14 hours of closed-door haggling before agreeing to a compromise of $510 million in spending cuts for 1987.

The action just before midnight Friday ended a three-day deadlock. The sole dissenter in the 11-1 vote was Rep. Mike Toomy, R-Houston, who said he opposed it because the budget cuts were not deep enough.

"This was real near the target we had in mind and we've finally gotten there," said Rep. James Rudd, D-Brownfield, chief House negotiator.

He added that he thought the $510 million total would help the House approve a tax bill. Many members in that chamber have said they wouldn't vote for a tax bill unless it contained at least $500 million in budget cuts.

All of the negotiations Friday went on behind closed doors in Rudd's office or that of Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby. Speaker Gib Lewis gave his approval in a telephone call from Dallas.

Only the final decision was announced in a public session just before midnight.

The final hurdle left that the 10 men had to settle between Senate and House differences involved budget cuts for state colleges and universities.

The compromise calls for a 6 percent reduction in 1987 appropriations for higher education. The Senate originally approved 2.5 percent and the House 13 percent.

The compromise also will allow colleges and universities who made voluntary savings in 1986 to regain up to 4.5 percent of those savings, which had been requested by the 1985 Legislature.

The compromise calls for a special fund totaling $21 million to be used to help schools that suffered income losses because of tuition rate changes made by the 1985 Legislature.

Funds for junior colleges will be reduced 9 percent in 1987 compared to the 6 percent originally approved by the Senate and 9 percent by the House.

Budget cuts for state colleges and universities tied up the conference committee during the past three days.

Hobby and Lewis met Thursday morning and said afterwards they were in agreement on overall spending cuts, but details remained to be worked out.

The House originally passed a spending reductions bill totaling $739 million from 1987 appropriations, while the Senate passed one for $413 million.

Broadcast portrays hostage frustration over captivity

NEW YORK (AP) — Lebanon hostage David Jacobsen, in a videotape broadcast Saturday, said he was upset he was still a captive after the release of an American reporter jailed in Moscow.

Jacobsen, one of six Americans missing in Lebanon, said the Reagan administration is interested in the case of correspondent Nicholas Daniloff, but not his, CBS News reported.

CBS obtained the tape Saturday, said spokeswoman Ramona Dunn. There was no indication on when the tape was made, or under what circumstances Jacobsen made the tape, the network said.

"The only thing I can tell you is we obtained it in Beirut," said Ms.

Dunn. The network broadcast only an 11-second portion of the message, which was about five minutes long, because Jacobsen "was saying basically the same thing over and over," said Ms. Dunn.

"I was emotionally upset because Daniloff has been exchanged for the Russian spy who was working against the American people and that I was still a captive," Jacobsen said in the brief portion of the tape broadcast on the CBS "Evening News with Bob Scheffer."

The appeal apparently was the second in two weeks from Jacobsen. A letter bearing his name was released Sept. 16 by Islamic Jihad, the Shiite Moslem group that claims to hold three American hostages and to have killed a fourth.

The letter asked for negotiations over the hostages and warned that the kidnappers might kill the Americans.

In a statement released along with the letter, Islamic Jihad urged the United States to negotiate for the release of the American hostages as it did with the Soviet Union for Daniloff's release.

The letter said the price paid to free Daniloff "was the release of the Russian spy who was working against the American people and that was clear."

"This price was great compared with the price that the American government will have to pay to release us," the letter said.

Commissioners to act on new budget

Howard County commissioners are expected to adopt a 1986-87 budget when they meet at 9 a.m. Monday morning in the commissioner's courtroom of the Howard County Courthouse.

The new budget is effective Oct. 1 and will have a carry-over of $2.8 million from the current budget, according to County Auditor Jackie Olson.

"I suspect they (commissioners) will approve it," she said Friday afternoon.

Expenditures in the new fiscal year are budgeted at $8.1 million with revenues projected at $6 million, Olson said.

"At the end of next year if we spend and receive according to budget, we will have a carry-over of $700,000," Olson said.

Commissioners will also discuss with Colorado Water River Municipal District officials' recent construction work undertaken at the Natural Dam Lake this summer to control spillage.

The district hired a Snyder construction firm to gouge a spillway around the southwest portion of the dam.

County Judge Milton Kirby said cost of the project

Howard College will celebrate 40 years

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor
Howard College's 40th anniversary will be recognized by a reunion Sept. 26-28.

Lee Whitehead, director of development and alumni relations says, "this is the first reunion ever for the classes of the '40s."

As a 1948 graduate of Howard County Junior College, Whitehead can take a personal interest, when she says she is looking forward to the reunion.

"A highlight of the celebration will be the presentation of the Outstanding Alumni award and the unveiling of the Honor Roll of Alumni plaque."

Graduates' names and the years they attended the college will be inscribed on the plaque.

"We have 63 names who have contributed $40 or more to the college. After the 40th anniversary it will cost $100 or more to be put on the honor roll of exes," Whitehead explained.

A spaghetti dinner and football game will begin the reunion on Sept. 26.

Activities will continue on the following day, beginning with brunch, a slide show of "The History of Howard College," an afternoon Hawk baseball game scrimmage, a bus tour of the original campus at the old Bombarrier School, a wine and cheese reception and the unveiling of the Alumni Memorial plaque and a presentation of the Distinguished Alumni Award.

Robert Miller, president of Getty Oil from 1977-1984, will receive the Distinguished Alumni Award. He is now part owner of an oil and gas exploration and production company. He began school at Howard College in 1946.

Dr. P.W. Malone, speaker at the ceremony, is an original member of the college's board of trustees. He has served on the board continuously for 40 years.

Joe Pickle, secretary/treasurer of the Colorado River Municipal Water District and former Big Spring Herald editor, will be master of ceremonies.

Personal visitation day will be Sept. 28.

State Trooper Barry Betis treads lightly on a collapsed Waller County bridge in Brookshire. A school superintendent was severely injured when he drove his car across the collapsed structure in darkness Friday morning. However, tragedy was averted when he was able to warn approaching school buses.

Official warns of bridge damage

BROOKSHIRE (AP) — A school bus superintendent was severely injured when he drove his car across a collapsed bridge, but he still managed to crawl out of the wreckage and walk nearly half a mile to warn school bus drivers.

Frank Jackson was in fair condition Saturday in the Katy Community Hospital after his Chevrolet Blazer flew into a creek bank Friday and jolted over the side onto a road, nursing supervisor Carole Simon said.

The Brookshire community of 2,150 is located about 50 miles west of Houston.

The Royal Independent School District superintendent suffered facial lacerations and a bruised heart and lung, hospital officials said.

The bridge apparently collapsed just before Jackson attempted to cross it in darkness at about 6 a.m., state troopers said.

The 50-foot-long bridge, within sight of the Royal High School and junior high, supported high volumes of traffic in and out of the schools.

Jackson, covered with blood, managed to get out of the Blazer, and starting walking to warn bus drivers not to cross the bridge.

He was leaning against a stop sign when the district's transportation director, David Alexander, spotted him.

"He said, 'I feel pretty good now but I just had an accident,'" Alexander recalled. "The bridge is out just before the school here. Run down and make sure nobody comes through."

Alexander then went to the scene where he discovered a car already had careened across what was left of the bridge, he said.

However, the driver wasn't seriously hurt and helped direct traffic away from the scene, including the first bus carrying four students.

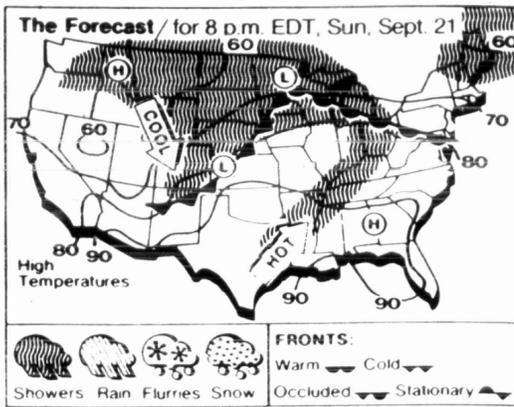

The creek bed was littered with broken concrete and timber as officials tried to determine why the late-1940s bridge broke.

A state report in November 1985 showed the structure was in good enough shape to support 15 tons, the state's minimum legal load for bridges.

"This one was one of the better bridges in the county," Waller County Road Superintendent Donald Mathis said.

He speculated a load far in excess of the 15 tons caused the collapse.

Weather

Forecast

West Texas — Isolated afternoon and evening thunderstorms, are predicted, otherwise fair. Panhandle forecast calls for lows in the upper 50s, highs in the mid 80s Tuesday, down to lower 80s by Thursday. South Plains are projected for lows near 60 and highs in the upper to mid 80s. Permian Basin lows are to be in the mid 60s, with highs in the upper to mid 80s.

State

There were scattered showers and thunderstorms over South Texas, coastal waters and the southern part of North Texas Saturday afternoon, as the eastern half of the state was partly to mostly cloudy. Although southeastern Texas had considerable cloudiness, areas in the northwest had mostly sunny skies, and the rest of the state was partly cloudy, the National Weather Service said.

South to southeast winds breezed across most of the state at 5 to 15 mph. Sections of the High Plains had winds of 15 to 25 mph.

Temperatures at mid-afternoon were mostly in the 80s and 90s, with extremes of a rain-cooled 74 degrees at Austin and 94 at the Naval Air Station in Kingsville.

Legislators' voting

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — As the latest special legislative session enters its third week, lawmakers already have recorded some controversial votes on a personal and corporate income tax ban and postponing the state's contribution to state employee and teacher retirement funds. Here's how your local legislators voted on some of the week's more important or controversial legislation:

(Y=Ye N=Nay P=Present, Not Voting A=Absent E=Excused Absence)

HOUSE VOTE

Big Spring-area House members are Reps. Larry Don Shaw, D-Big Spring; Dick Burnett, D-San Angelo; Jim Rudd, D-Brownfield.

— A 99-31 vote to tentatively approve a constitutional amendments election this fall calling for a prohibition against a state corporate or individual income tax. The resolution will need 100 votes on final vote in order to go to the Senate for consideration.

Shaw (Y); Rudd (Y); Burnett (Y).

— A 74-54 vote failing to pass with the 100 votes necessary for a proposed constitutional amendment that would have created a Texas Growth Fund whereby the state's permanent and pension funds could make direct investments in the growth and expansion of Texas businesses.

Shaw (Y); Rudd (N); Burnett (Y).

SENATE VOTE

Big Spring-area senators are Sens. John Montford, D-Lubbock; Bill Sims, D-San Angelo; Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls.

— A 19-6 vote to tentatively approve a plan to help the state's cash-flow crisis by postponing the state's contribution to the employee and teacher retirement funds until February.

Montford (Y); Sims (Y); Farabee (Y).

Texas party nearing its end

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Sesquicentennial isn't over, but the party soon may be.

"About the only place you hear 'sesquicentennial' mentioned today is the Miller beer commercials," says Sam Garner, spokesman for the Texas Sesquicentennial Commission. "And even they probably won't be doing that much longer."

The fading hoopla isn't all that surprising, considering the current budget crisis and the fact that the historic events Texas is celebrating — such as its declaration of independence from Mexico and the battles of San Jacinto and the Alamo — occurred in the first four months of 1836, Garner says.

"We didn't expect the pace of interest to keep up with that of earlier this year," Garner says. "But that doesn't mean it's all over yet. There are still many local events planned."

Aside from the Texas State Fair that starts Friday and a 3,500-mile auto rally that begins Oct. 11 in Plano, no other statewide events are scheduled. But more than 1,000 smaller events with Sesquicentennial themes, ranging from festivals to parades and concerts, are in the works.

Officials expect interest to pick up slightly in December as Texans from Houston and San Antonio to Dallas wind up the yearlong birthday bash with "Texas Admits To Being in the Union" balls on New Year's Eve.

Officials and participants throughout the state are already calling the Sesquicentennial a success, despite a faltering economy that forced the Sesquicentennial Commission to halve its staff and cut deeply into profits from commemorative doo-dads.

"From a participatory standpoint, it has been a huge success," Garner said. "More than 2,700 communities and associations organized to celebrate it. But revenue projections on product sales and royalties that had gone into the millions were a little too heady."

Royalty income as of Aug. 31 was just over $750,000 on retail sales of about $15 million, he said.

"If we had had more money, we could have done more things," Garner said.

The Lone Star State grabbed national headlines all year with its Texas-sized celebrations that included a visit from Britain's Prince Charles, the world's largest birthday cake, the biggest coordinated fireworks show and a six-month-long wagon train.

"The Sesquicentennial has helped people learn more about their heritage and made them proud of Texas, and the events of this year will be remembered for years to come," said June Holly, development director for the Harris County Heritage Society.

"It increased our publicity internationally and helped us advertise Texas as a tourism destination," said Larry Todd, director of the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

pared to the national average of 2.42.

With increases planned in the amount allowed for personal exemptions (from $1,000 now to $2,000 by 1989), Texans can expect a larger tax cut than the national average, according to the report.

Repeal of the deductibility of state sales taxes on federal income tax has alarmed some Texans and was central to debate on tax reform. Sens. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, and Bentsen, a Democrat, fought to keep the deduction for state sales taxes paid.

Although the tax bill is not yet finalized since neither the House nor the Senate has given final approval, it is doubtful the sales tax deduction can be regained.

But the congressional tax study suggests that its loss may not be that great after all.

"There is sufficient information on state and local taxes to permit us to conclude fairly confidently that, contrary to the concern expressed on this issue, the repeal of the deduction for state and local sales tax will have a smaller impact on residents of Texas than on residents of most other states," the report said.

"Although Texas does not impose an income tax, the sales taxes imposed in Texas are nevertheless lower than those imposed by most other states," said the report, requested by Bentsen.

"There are some things that still concern me in that tax bill," Bentsen said, referring to, among other things, the change in the law governing Individual Retirement Accounts which limit that tax break.

"But overall, Texas do better than the rest of the nation under this new tax bill," the senator said.

Hawking new weapons

LAS VEGAS — Arms dealers hawk the latest in high-tech weapons and camouflage-clad mercenaries talk of fights waiting to be won as they mingle at the seventh annual Soldiers of Fortune convention.

Weapons ranging from exotic machine guns to blow guns to knives of all shapes and sizes went on display Friday at the Combat Weapons Expo, one of the highlights of the annual gathering.

"In a world of compromise, some men don't," said a sign above a sandbag hut featuring the latest in machine guns.

"Fight Crime — Shoot Back," read a T-shirt worn by one of an estimated 800 people attending the convention.

Crusier draws applause

BOSTON — A new missile cruiser was commissioned Saturday in the shadow of the nation's oldest warship and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy praised its high technology.

The USS Bunker Hill, which the Navy touts as "the most advanced warship in the world," is the sixth ship of the new class of Aegis guided missile cruisers, but it is the first with a vertical launching system capable of firing a variety of missiles without having to reload above-deck rail launchers.

Before a crowd estimated at 10,000 and within sight of the 189-year-old USS Constitution, better known as Old Ironsides, Kennedy applauded the state-of-the-art technology of the new 567-foot warship.

Tear gas bomber sought

GAFFNEY, S.C. — The tear gas bombing of a high school football game remained under investigation Saturday, and the state's lieutenant governor called it an act of terrorism.

"We're still going through a lot of eyewitnesses," Gaffney police investigator Richard Weaver said Saturday. "We have so many witnesses we have to question a lot of them."

Hundreds of people fled the stands Friday when a tear gas grenade went off with 57 seconds left in a game between Gaffney and Greenwood. The cloud of gas "settled like a blanket" on the crowd, said James Moncrief, principal of Gaffney Senior High School.

Protest investments

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — About 200 people protesting Yale University's $400 million investment in South Africa demonstrated at the inauguration of the Ivy League school's 20th president Saturday, and at least three people were arrested.

The demonstrators, some wearing white death masks and carrying miniature coffins, shouted "Apartheid Kills, Yale Pays the Bills" and other slogans denouncing Yale's South African investments.

Protesters shouted and clapped their hands as Benno C. Schmidt Jr.'s inaugural procession marched from the Gothic-style Sterling Memorial Library to Woolsey Hall for the ceremonies.

Aquino

Leader defies stereotypes

By BARRY SHLACHTER

Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Philippine President Corazon Aquino has joined a short but growing list of women who have gained political power in recent years and defied female stereotypes, political scientists say.

Mrs. Aquino, who stayed in the shadow of her husband, Benigno, when he was the chief political opponent of Ferdinand Marcos, quickly shook off the supporting role after he was assassinated.

And since assuming the presidency in February, political scientists say, she has given evidence of a common trait among female leaders through the ages: an uncommon willingness to display their mettle.

That includes such leaders as the Rani of Jhansi, a widow who ruled briefly during the 1857 Indian Mutiny against British colonial forces and was killed leading her troops into battle.

Three women who came to power after World War II — Indira Gandhi of India, Britain's Margaret Thatcher and Israel's Golda Meir — have been noted for their strong leadership.

"They have had to be tougher because they are fighting uphill battles," Stephen Haggard, an assistant professor at Harvard University, said in a telephone interview. "The trend is to be extremely tough cookies."

Women have not had an easy time with power-brokers over the ages, and many of the better-known figures were wives or lovers of monarchs.

"While there have been ebbs and flows for women in authority in the past and across different societies, there have been accelerating changes in recent years," said Nannerl Keohane, president of Wellesley College and a political scientist.

The very rarity of woman like Queen Elizabeth I and Cleopatra made them standouts in history, said Ms. Keohane. "Women found themselves placed in the situation, dropped in like on a parachute because of accidents of family."

Now there are women starting at the grass roots and "beginning to get closer and closer to the top" because of their own initiative, she said.

The biggest gains have been during the postwar years, with Argentina, Sri Lanka, Iceland, and Norway selecting female leaders.

President Corazon Aquino of the Philippines reacts as the hood of an honorary Doctor of Laws degree is placed over her head during ceremonies Saturday at Boston University. She has joined the ranks of several women defying female stereotypes by gaining political power.

But women leaders can find themselves in no-win situations, condemned for being too hard or for being too caring, said Kaval Gulhati, a Washington-based expert on women in management.

After her son, Sanjay, was killed in an air crash, then-Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi pointedly took the chief opposition leader aside at the funeral to discuss a political issue, said Mrs. Gulhati, director of the Center for Development and Population Activities.

"If she had an emotional breakdown, Mrs. Gandhi would have seemed unfit for office," she said. "But by appearing in charge, she also ran the risk of being criticized as a bad mother."

Mrs. Gandhi was later assassinated and succeeded by her younger son, Rajiv.

"It certainly is the case that most societies have feminine stereotypes and they don't fit images of the leader which tend to be patriarchal, dominant, aggressive," said Ms. Keohane. "On the other hand, we question what a leader has to be like. Does a leader have to be macho, aggressive, dominant?"

"There are other ways of leading, and I think we are starting to shoot holes in the stereotypes. And women are beginning to show they have a good deal of ambition and a good deal of effectiveness."

"She is in a tough situation," Mrs. Gulhati said. "But she is rising to the occasion. And here is someone who was not aspiring to be president. She has done as well as any man, or perhaps better."

Soviets: No reactions

MOSCOW — Soviet news media reported Saturday that Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze had met with President Reagan and Secretary of State George P. Shultz, but gave no clues about how the Kremlin assesses the talks so far.

Radio Moscow reported without comment that Shevardnadze and Shultz began a second round of talks Saturday.

The official Soviet news agency Tass reported Shevardnadze handed Reagan a personal message from Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev and commented:

"The Soviet approach to ensuring durable peace and comprehensive security through prevention of militarization of outer space, limitation and reduction of armaments, above all nuclear, up to their full elimination, and general reduction of the levels of military confrontation, was elucidated to the American side," Tass said.

It was not clear if Tass was referring to points in Gorbachev's letter or statements made by Shevardnadze at the White House.

Critics barking at play

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands — A four-act play with an all-dog cast opened to an enthusiastic full house, but failed to dazzle at least one critic, who complained that the stars did not remember their parts.

The play, "Going To The Dogs," was written by Dutch playwright-broadcaster Wim T. Schippers and featured six German shepherds. It opened Friday at Amsterdam's City Theater and was billed as a byzantine love story set in a rambling country manor.

"The actors ... seemed not to remember their parts, despite their rather simple text," wrote theater critic Jac Heijer in the newspaper NRCHandelsblad. "The dogs' behavior drew frequent hoots of laughter, but their parts were awfully monotonous."

Crash kills Americans

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — A Brazilian commuter plane bound for Florida crashed into a mountain in southern Brazil, killing the five crewmen aboard, including four Americans, the plane's manufacturer reported Saturday.

Mario Vinagre, a spokesman for Embraer, said the 30-passenger Brasilia plane had just departed from Sao Jose dos Campos when it crashed Friday afternoon. He said it was carrying no passengers.

An Embraer news release identified the American victims as three Atlantic Southeast employees — pilot Max Millican, co-pilot Larry Mcelwary, and maintenance technician Jay Murray — and Allen Wilson, Brazilian representative for Pratt and Whitney, the manufacturer of the plane's engine.

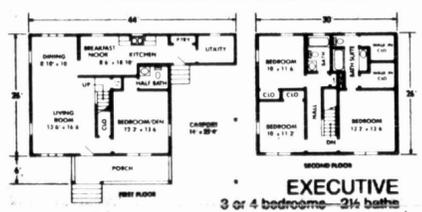

Embraer is the state-ran manufacturer of the Brasilia, and the one that crashed was being delivered to Atlanta-based Atlantic Southeast Airlines, according to Vinagre. He said it was bound for Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Parks proposal is basically fair

Big Spring's 18-member Parks and Recreation Board citizens' committee has developed a compromise proposal on the use of alcoholic beverages. It would prohibit their use at some parks and a large portion of Comanche Trail Park.

In addition, it would prohibit glass beverage containers from all city property.

Generally, the proposal seems well-considered and fair, worthy of support. It's good to see such compromises develop.

Certainly, we agree with the prohibition of glass containers. That will cause only a small inconvenience to park users because nearly all beverages are available in other types of containers.

Only a couple other items in the compromise remain out of line or unclear.

One involves the special permit for keg beer. A fee of $150 to $200 for the special permit seems exorbitant and discriminatory.

For example, suppose three brothers planned a reunion with their children and grandchildren. Should they be charged $150 to $200 just because they prefer keg beer?

We agree with the idea of an appropriate cleaning deposit that could be returned to the family. But a $150 to $200 fee is excessive.

Perhaps, instead, the fee should be much lower and the deposit could be higher, with the city retaining the deposit if permit users failed to act responsibly.

In addition, we question the proposal to limit consumption at the golf course to only alcohol purchased at the concession there. That proposal raises two questions: Can it be enforced? And is the city there to make money from selling booze or to operate a golf course?

So what if some people bring their own in a cooler to save a little money? They're still paying to golf there, aren't they? That item also hints at the major issue — enforcement — which remains unresolved.

As we stated before, enforcement through patrolling of the parks is the key to controlling problems. Without an adequate enforcement presence by law officers, it doesn't matter how many bans or regulations are on the law books.

Nevertheless, it's encouraging to see a large group of citizens, with such diverse representation, cooperate and produce a sound compromise on such a tough issue.

Cooperation said key to problems

To the editor: With the political and economical system continuing on its current course, community self-sufficiency is an inevitable necessity.

Our federal government has sunk past the trillion-dollar debt level in an apparent bottomless financial black hole.

Our state government has projected a $2.8 billion budget deficit for the coming fiscal year. Meanwhile, our current federal administration eyes reductions in social programs and subsidies. Consequently our federal government is unloading more and more financial responsibilities for social and individual assistance on the states.

The state government, in turn, in an effort to reduce annual spending and its deficit, is cutting financing of programs and institutions and placing more of the burden on individual communities.

Communities, then, face growing responsibilities for the development and maintenance of local affairs and projects.

John Kennedy said: "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." What we need to do now is ask not what our community can do for us, but what we can do for our community.

An example of what can be accomplished when people pull together with their abilities and efforts is what a group of Jehovah Witnesses are doing on Wasson Road. They are building a new Kingdom Hall.

Each weekend church members from Big Spring and the surrounding area (Midland, San Angelo, Lamesa, Snyder, etc.) gather and donate their time, equipment, skills and labor to the project.

This past weekend I stopped and talked to Spencer, one of the construction supervisors. He said the complex is going to cost about $90,000.

"If we would have contracted the work, it would have cost us an estimated $225,000," he said.

Completion is scheduled for the last weekend in October. On that weekend, approximately 400 to 500 people are expected to raise, detail, and complete the building.

These Jehovah Witnesses can be a living testimony and encouragement to us as to what can be accomplished and the money that can be saved by a group of dedicated, cooperative and highly spirited people. Of course, these people all have something in common — their religion. But don't we all have something in common by being of the same community?

Together as a community we now have both the need and opportunity to pull together. If we combine our abilities, resources, prayers and labors, we can gain self-sufficiency and become a highly successful and an economically efficient community in all of our needs and endeavors.

We can clean and develop the city, provide social services, even build a dam. If fact, if we pull together, there is no limit to what we can do. If we don't, failure and dissolution may well be our self-inflicted end as a community.

The choice is ours, and as I see it, it is an inevitable choice.

Herald's advisory board begins season this week

By DARRELL BERKHEIMER

A second year of monthly meetings by the Herald's Advisory Board will begin this Wednesday in our continuing effort to improve the newspaper and the understanding of its operations.

Although the board will operate much the same as it did last year, the name has been changed while its membership is experiencing some turnover and expansion.

Last year, the organization had been dubbed Friends of the Newspaper. This year, it will be known simply as the Herald Advisory Board.

The Friends moniker seemed appropriate at the time because it was being borrowed from the Friends of the Library organization. That group was formed to improve the library — to make it stronger, better used and more viable in the community.

The idea was to have a similar group that would help make the newspaper stronger in the community. That objective remains unchanged.

In the case of the newspaper, however, we suspect the "friends" name tends to give the impression that it's a "rubber stamp" group. Actually, many members are our most vocal critics because we purposely invite them to participate.

As I've told most who will be serving on this year's board, pats on the back are nice; they help build our ego and are good as motivational tools. But they likely won't yield the same thought and potential improvement that constructive criticism can bring.

Therefore a prime objective has been to recruit members who will be outspoken, regardless of their views.

In addition to changing the name, the group has been expanded this year to provide broader representation.

Two teen-agers from Big Spring High School have been asked to join the group, plus a student from Howard College who graduated from Forsan High School. Two retired persons also have been invited to participate.

I believe they will represent certain segments of the community that provide a different perspective on various issues.

Just as last year, their names and phone numbers will be published after our first meeting. That provides an avenue for other citizens to raise issues and questions at the monthly board meetings.

This year's board will begin with 22 members, and our goal is 60 percent participation at each of the meetings.

We anticipate some attrition as the year progresses, and that more membership changes will occur between this year and next. So if any additional readers have a strong inclination to join the group, they may contact me and I will retain that information for vacancies that develop.

On another issue, the Herald is planning to conduct a news seminar within the next few weeks for clubs and organizations in the community.

The objective will be to help clubs and community groups gain a better understanding of the best methods to get their news into the Herald.

The seminar will be designed specifically for presidents and club officers in charge of news releases.

Although the time and date will be reported later, I am announcing the event now because we do not have a complete list of the organizations and officers that we believe will want to participate.

If you or your organization is interested, I would appreciate a phone call or card during the next week, listing the officer and address to which I should mail the invitation.

Please direct that information to Darrell Berkheimer, managing editor, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring 79720, or call 263-7331 and ask for Berky.

Bigger battle still ahead

By JIM DAVIS

AUSTIN — The special session face-off between the Texas House and Senate the past several weeks has been marked by ill will and rancor, but the regular session next spring may make it look like a love-in.

Most of the regular session will be spent deciding how to adjust to the fact that we can't rely on energy taxes to carry us along as a modern state while holding other taxes to levels comparable to smaller, rural states.

Our recent legislative nastiness involved a few harsh words between houses over their differences in approach to solving the state's current budget woes.

A House member, for example, uttered a desire to slug some sense into a few senators. Another, citing his concept that Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby was refusing to even talk to the House, said Hobby reminded him of his communist captors in Vietnam.

These comments brought cries of indignation from senators, who, through the media, scolded House members as they would naughty children.

The House-Senate conference committee on budget cuts was marked by starts and stops and sometimes anger as the pro-tax senators and the anti-tax representatives sought an advantage.

An Austin newspaper reporter wrote after one committee session that even Sen. Ray Farabee had sounded irritated.

Farabee, one of the most widely admired legislators, is famous for his ability to suffer fools without losing his cool. But even the Wichita Falls Democrat reached his limit in the special sessions of 1986. These sessions may just be preparation for the five-month regular session of 1987, however. Maybe even Farabee should take a stress management course before January.

Jim Davis

This year's fight was simply over whether to tax a little more now and a bunch next year or to put off any tax increase until next year and then tax a whole bunch.

Unless there is some startling change in direction, the tax-now viewpoint of Hobby and a majority of the Senate is going to prevail.

Speaker Gib Lewis and a majority of the anti-tax House members had what should have been a popular cause in Texas but somehow was not. One member said the House lost the public relations war, and to some extent he's right.

The House, and Lewis in particular, came to symbolize frustrations of the sessions as Gov. Mark White, Hobby and numerous senators kept talking about taking immediate action to keep the state from going into the red. Special-interest groups, concerned about particular state budget cuts, cheered from the sidelines. Lewis finally caved in and said a tax hike is unavoidable.

That important switch stunned anti-tax House members, who now are crying, "Wait 'til next year!" They say they may have lost a battle, but the real war comes in 1987. And their claims are not just sour grapes.

Unless there is a sudden and unexpected turnaround in Texas' general financial condition, state government is going to face severe fiscal problems next year, too.

Just increasing the sales tax a penny or so, as the governor would do, is a relatively easy task. The hard part comes next year when the lawmakers must decide whether to expand the sales tax base to include now-exempt items, everything from attorneys' fees to septic tank service.

Every special-interest business and profession will be lobbying for keeping its exemption. The fight will be long and hard, and maybe not so one-sided as this year's.

Rep. Mike Toomey, R-Houston, says the House will be better prepared to take on the Senate next year.

"This is a relatively young House," he said. "Probably half of us have been here less than four or five years. Gib has been speaker for three years, and Hobby has been lieutenant governor for 14 years." He said the lessons of 1986 have been well learned.

Rep. Stan Schlueter, the Killeen Democrat who is chairman of the House committee that considers tax bills, puts it this way: "The intramural fight will be next session. This has been child's play. The big enchilada is next session."

How regional primary will affect Texas

By JESSE TREVINO

The flow of recent politics demonstrates that Hispanics do not operate in a political vacuum.

Last week the Texas Senate passed and sent to the House a bill joining Texas' primary elections to a southern regional primary.

While the bill would make Texas a prime player in the coming presidential sweepstakes, it undercuts in part the political development of Hispanics in Texas.

But Hispanics must nevertheless now support the bill co-authored by State Sens. John Traeger of Seguin and Chet Edwards of Duncanville because of events outside Texas.

As now written, the bill would move contests for county and state offices from a May to a March primary.

The net effect would be to prolong the political campaign year, making campaigns prohibitively expensive for Hispanics. As a result, younger Mexican-Americans would be shut out of campaigns that already are too long, too expensive and, arguably, undemocratic.

Already this year, statewide nominees such as Supreme Court Judge Raul Gonzalez and State District Judge Roy Barrera Jr., candidates respectively for the Supreme Court and attorney general, have faced serious financial problems. Even in local elections, two additional months could prove a burden.

The bill should be amended so as to divorce the proposed March presidential primary from the current May election date.

There is no question a southern regional primary can help move the Democratic party's political epicenter south and westward. Texas could dominate a 17-state primary because of its size. Currently, the Texas primary comes too late to have the kind of impact its size merits.

Hispanics, in particular, should push for the presidential primary election in Texas because it would propel the Hispanic vote into the first important battle of the presidential political year.

Texas' Hispanic population alone equals that of several of the other states involved in the nominating process. While each state obviously would have its own primary, the attention the Hispanic voter would get would be significant because Hispanics form an important voting bloc in the largest state voting that day.

But certain stakes are risked with a regional primary, too. A regional primary could raise some issues important to Hispanics to a national stage with unknown results.

Immigration, bilingual education, the English-only movement and even U.S.-Mexico relations could become political footballs in a region that — excluding Texas and Florida — has little knowledge or understanding of Hispanic issues.

The English-only movement, in particular, with its base in Florida, could become a highly politicized national issue in the proposed super primary.

Sen. Jesse Helms, with his native North Carolina a partner in the regional primary, could use the primary in an ill-advised manner to create more mischief in U.S.-Mexico relations.

While the Hispanic vote now is decidedly insignificant in the presidential selection process because of Texas' and California's late primaries, the only Hispanic group with a conceivable voice in a regional primary with national attention could be Cuban-Americans. Florida already has joined the regional primary bandwagon.

With Cubans already disproportionately influencing national politics because of their role in the Spanish-language media, the only recourse to Texas Hispanics is to join the regional primary.

Jesse Trevino writes on Hispanic social and political issues.

Hunt is on for biggest bug

DALLAS (AP) — From darkened closets in the heart of Texas to humid kitchens on the Florida coast, the great cockroach hunt is on as people compete to see who can bag the biggest bug.

Enterprising pest controllers and hardware store owners in several states have been sponsoring contests, offering cash or merchandise like bug spray for the huskiest insect as a means of bringing in extra customers.

Promoters say there's more than commercialism at work for the businesses and the entrants.

"They're doing it for the silliness of it — that's why they bring in a Zip-Lock bag with a roach in it," said Ronnie Dyer, owner of Drusilla Ace Hardware in Baton Rouge, La.

"We already know we have foul weather and bad mosquitoes. We claim to have the worst government here in Louisiana. Why shouldn't we have the biggest roach?" he said. "We might as well have some fun."

Woman donates burial plot

HOUSTON (AP) — A woman donated a cemetery plot to bury an impoverished 15-year-old who was killed this week while trying to sell boxes of candy to support his wife and children.

"I figured that would be one way to help the family," said Barbara Girard of Houston. "That was one special young man."

Her generosity allowed the family of Steven Davis to hold a graveside service Saturday, said Jack Hilliard, funeral director of Hilliard Funeral Home.

The family had no money to bury the teen-ager. The boy had dropped out of eighth grade to support his 18-year-old common wife, Angie Davis, a 2-year-old stepson and his own 1-year-old son.

He was struck by a car Thursday as he tried to sprint across a freeway. He was going to try to sell candy to highway construction workers.

Trial first, then election

WACO, Texas (AP) — The trial of McLennan County District Attorney Vic Fezell on racketeering charges could begin within three months and will probably be heard in a U.S. district court in Austin.

A clerk for U.S. District Judge Walter Smith said the judge currently plans to conduct the trial in Austin because the 12-count indictment charging racketeering and mail fraud was handed down by a federal grand jury there.

U.S. Attorney Helen Eversberg said she expects a trial to be held within 70 days from Fezell's initial appearance before Smith, in accordance with the speedy trial act. Fezell was arrested Wednesday at the McLennan County Courthouse, then freed on personal recognizance bond by Smith.

Fezell, a Democrat, is running for re-election in November. He said he is innocent of all charges, and claims they were made in retaliation for his criticism of the Department of Public Safety's handling of self-professed mass murderer Henry Lee Lucas.

A new flag flies over Texas

AUSTIN — Texas on Saturday became the first state to raise a "Just Say No" flag against drug abuse.

"With the 'Just Say No' campaign, we have the most powerful weapon to attack drug abuse. We've got kids telling kids that drugs are out," said Texas first lady Linda Gale White.

"The 1986-87 school children of Texas will be remembered as the class that got drugs out of school and into the garbage can," said the former school teacher.

Approximately 500 children and adults chanted "Just say no" as Mrs. White, her three school-age children and others gathered to hoist the flag near the south steps of the Capitol. Others participating were child television performers Cherie Johnson and Lauri Hender and Olympic swimmer Steve Lundquist.

The raising of the flag — bearing the inscription "Texas Says No to Drugs" — marked the beginning of a national effort to combat drug abuse by forming "Just Say No" clubs in schools and communities.

Just Say No

Michael Williams, two, and Shawna Rumbley, 10, were having fun saying no Saturday in Austin at the "Just Say No" rally on the shores of Town Lake to kick off a national campaign against drug abuse.

Nuclear plant is criticized

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission has cited the Palo Verde Nuclear Generating Station for alleged problems reporting an inspection performed this summer.

The violations involved mainly technical changes made and unreported to the commission in an annual report, as required, the NRC said in serving the plant's operators with a notice of violation.

The inspection was performed between July 1 and Aug. 3, the commission said.

The incident referred to by the NRC occurred July 12, when the reactor stopped generating power in what it knows as a "trip" after it received a signal of low coolant flow, the government said.

"We continue to have some concern with the level of quality exhibited by your post-trip review process," NRC inspectors wrote.

Although plant operators reported the situation to the NRC, they failed to indicate certain details concerning the reactor's coolant system, the NRC said. The alleged violation is a low-level problem that carries no fine, officials said.

A woman who answered the phone on Friday night at the Arizona Nuclear Power Project, which manages Palo Verde, said she was unaware of the complaint.

Coming weeks crucial to state

By JIM DAVIS

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — After almost seven weeks of strain and frustration, Texas legislators this week face some critical decisions that could either send them quickly home or bog them down further in their attempts to address the state's fiscal crisis.

The key question will be whether the Texas House of Representatives will agree to pass a tax bill, an action that has been demanded by the Texas Senate as part of an overall plan to keep the state from writing hot checks.

House Speaker Gib Lewis opened the way for a final resolution on the tax question last week by agreeing with Gov. Mark White and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby that an increase would be needed to keep state finances in the black.

Lewis said he would work for a tax bill as soon as a House-Senate conference committee worked out an agreement on how deeply to cut current state spending. That agreement came late Friday night in a $510 million-budget-reduction package that includes 10.5 percent cuts for higher education.

Disagreement between the chambers centered on the Senate's call for tax legislation to go along with budget cuts and cash-flow changes to save money or put off spending. Most House members preferred deeper budget cuts, particularly in the area of higher education, and no tax hike.

The differences sparked hot tempers and harsh words on some weeks and parts of two special sessions, still must be approved by each House early in the week, but committee members predicted that won't be a problem.

That final approval of the budget cuts is expected to be the key to allowing the legislators to go home.

Final approval "should mean that they'll probably pass a tax bill and be out of here in four or five days," Tim Conger, Lewis' press spokesman, said. "But don't plan an out-of-town trip based on that," he told a reporter. "You know how things have gone this session."

Legislators agree that whatever increase is adopted will only help tide the state avoid some cash-flow problems later this year. Other tax measures and/or budget cuts will be necessary next spring to solve the overall budget shortfall.

Before a House vote on a temporary tax bill can be taken this session, Lewis must find a way to get it out of the House Ways and Means Committee, which is dominated by Republicans who remain opposed to any tax plan.

Sources in the House say the most likely vehicle for a tax bill will be a minority report from the committee, which would allow the majority to express its opposition while still sending a bill to the House floor for debate. Once the bill reaches the floor, it faces a hostile coalition of anti-tax forces. A key question is whether the tax bill can attract a two-thirds vote in the House that would allow it to take effect immediately.

Without that two-thirds vote in both houses, no new taxes could be collected until 90 days after the end of the special session, meaning after the heavy Christmas shopping season.

If the House leadership cannot muster even a majority vote for a tax bill, or if a bill passes that is unacceptable to the Senate, all agreements could start coming unraveled and the session could end on Oct. 7 with no budget-saving action.

That situation could put Gov. Mark White in quite a bind. He would have to decide whether to call a third special session on the budget crisis.

To do so would mean another possibly divisive session when White and some legislators want to be out campaigning for the Nov. 4 general election. To fail to do so would open White to Republican attack for failing to push a budget solution through the Legislature.

Events of the coming week or two in the special session could affect Texas politics and government for years to come.

Tuesday night with the NBA

Tuesday night, Big Spring will receive a treat of the rarest sorts. When ten National Basketball League stars walk into the middle of Dorothy Garrett Coliseum for the opening tip of the Big Spring Shootout, it will be more than a game. It will be an event.

So many things will be going on inside the big gym before the tip-off. You can expect the Los Angeles Raider cheerleaders to be running around sparking excitement, country singer Libby Hurlley belting out tunes, and in the middle of it all, NBA stars like Larry Nance and George Gervin warming up with crowd pleasing dunks.

As it is, the coliseum is an impressive modern structure, and is a nice place to take a seat in even if you're the only person there. And with some 4,500 cheering fans to keep you company, and pro basketball out on the floor, the Coliseum on Tuesday night should be the place to be, not only in Big Spring, but in West Texas.

To be honest, the players won't approach the game with the intensity of say, the NBA finals. In fact, who's on what team has yet to be determined. According to Howard College head men's basketball coach Larry Brown, who's responsible for the Shootout, the players will divvy up the teams themselves — sort've like a pick-up game.

The good thing about the relaxed atmosphere is that the players will be able to try things they wouldn't dare do in a season game. Larry Nance, on a breakaway, might bounce the ball off the backboard and jam it backwards in Big Spring. If he misses, so what — Coach Stan Albeck will laugh and the other players will too. In a season game, he'd get booed, and the coach would fine him.

This isn't to say the game won't be competitive. As coach Mo McHone said in an earlier trip to Big Spring, these players have big egos. Michael Cooper doesn't want George Gervin scoring 40 points and making him look bad in front of 4,500 fans, no matter what else is at stake.

McHone said that when players come to these games, they come to have fun and get in shape for the regular season. He also said the players are great with kids, often giving away their shoes and sweat bands after the game, and signing autographs 'til the line ends.

"The people of Big Spring are getting ready to see some of the best athletes in the world. They will get to be introduced to George Gervin and Artis Gilmore, and you'll get to see that they're everyday people. They're just big guys making a lot of money", said McHone.

"When these guys come to town, you'll find you've never met a nicer group. They'll do anything for you — they'll go out of their way."

As another added attraction before the game, Coach Brown and Hawk-Queens' coach Don Stevens will introduce their teams for the upcoming season. It will be a good chance for Big Spring basketball fans to become familiar with this year's players, who will also work as ushers. The men's team, comprised almost totally of freshmen, will be full of new faces.

I've done a bit of investigative reporting, and found out what's going to be on TV Tuesday night. NBC will feature "Doing Life" (melodramatic made for TV movie about a death row inmate — sure to lift your spirits); CBS is showing "Firefighter" (more of the same); and, on ABC, first "Moonlighting" and then "Jack and Mike" (both of these are cornball romantic comedy shows about pretty Yuppie types who find something to fight about each week so they can kiss and make up before the last commercial.)

I don't know about you, but I'm going to be at the coliseum, where the action is.

Cougars upset OSU, 28-13

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Reserve quarterback Mark Davis came in for an injured Gerald Landry to spark a second-quarter Houston surge, and the Cougars went on to defeat Oklahoma State, 28-12, in NCAA college football Saturday.

Junior fullback Sloan Hood rambled 111 yards on 19 carries and scored two touchdowns for Houston, which improved to 1-1. The Cowboys fell to 1-2.

Hood, at 5-11 and 223 pounds, picked up 88 yards in the first half, plunging in from the one for Houston's first score early in the second quarter.

Oklahoma State junior quarterback Ronnie Williams, who was benched after the first half in favor of freshman Mike Gundy, completed only two of 11 passes and gave up an interception that led to a 49-yard touchdown strike down the right sideline from Davis to flanker Paul Smith.

Davis completed six of seven passes for 108 yards for Houston of the Southwest Conference. The Cougars' offense outgained Oklahoma State, 393 yards to 283, with 236 of the Houston yardage coming on the ground.

Arkansas 34, Tulsa 17
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Tulsa Coach Don Morton said Arkansas quarterback Greg Thomas made some great athletic plays on Saturday. Arkansas Coach Ken Hatfield was just as happy about the plays Thomas didn't make.

"Early in the game when some things weren't working, he kept us in the game," Hatfield said. "Plus, he didn't force anything in the passing game."

Thomas, who played high school ball at San Angelo Central, completed six out of eight last week, picked his spots against Tulsa and hit on eight of nine for 104 yards and two touchdowns. He also kept the ball 16 times for 59 yards, including a 30-yard gain that set up the clinching touchdown in the 12th-ranked Razorbacks 34-17 victory over Tulsa.

Thomas didn't see his first touchdown toss, a 44-yarder that Donnie Centers caught parallel to the ground in the end zone. "It was a heckuva catch, I hear, and that's a tribute to Donnie," Thomas said.

That score gave Arkansas a 14-7 lead and then Thomas threw to fullback Derrick Thomas for 11 yards and the score that made it 24-7 early in the third quarter.

"On the touchdown pass to Derrick Thomas they had a rover blitz and Bryan White did a great job of picking it up," Hatfield said. "Greg just found Derrick open. It was a classic play."

Texas 27, Missouri 25
COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Bret Stafford engineered three first-half scoring drives and then Texas weathered a 23-point second half rally Saturday to post a hard-fought 27-25 victory over Missouri.

The Longhorns, 1-1, led 24-3 at halftime and seemed on their way to an easy victory. But sophomore quarterback Ronnie Cameron uncorked scoring runs of 10 and 68 yards and threw a 5-yard touchdown pass as Missouri, 1-1, outscored the visitors from the Southwest Conference 22-3 after intermission.

University of Texas tailback Charles Hunter (26), formerly of Odessa High School, leans forward as he picks up six yards against the University of Missouri during first quarter action in Columbus, Ohio.

Stafford led long touchdown drives on Texas' first two possessions. Tim McCray caught a 2-yard scoring pass to cap an 82-yard march, then Darron Norris' 1-yard plunge finished a 13-play, 89-yard march.

Texas' Jeff Ward kicked field goals of 49 yards in the first half and 39 in the second, pushing his career total to 50 and wiping out the school record of 49 set by Russell Erxleben in 1975-78.

Texas Tech 14, New Mexico 7
LUBBOCK (AP) — Wide receiver Wayne Walker caught five passes for 70 yards and a touchdown Saturday night as Texas Tech hammered out a 14-7 non-conference verdict over New Mexico's winless Lobos.

I-back Ervin Farris burst three yards for a Tech touchdown in the fading moments of the first half and quarterback Billy Joe Tolliver winged a 30-yard scoring pass to Walker early in the third period.

Walker, a 5-9, 160-pound sophomore, took the pass at the 15, shook loose a defender with a nifty move and won a foot race to the end zone.

After a clipping penalty wiped out a 17-yard touchdown run by Texas Tech fullback James Gray, the Lobos drove 99 yards in 8 plays and scored on a 25-yard pass from quarterback Billy Rucker to Terance Mathis.

Southern Cal 17, Baylor 14
WACO (AP) — Southern California's Don Shafer faced a 32-yard game-winning field goal against Baylor Saturday under the most trying of circumstances.

"I called all the elements down on him, and he still made it," said Baylor Coach Grant Teaff of Shafer's kick in a driving rainstorm that beat the ninth-ranked Bears 17-14. "He hooked it a little, but he did an absolutely great job."

Baylor outgained USC 408 yards to 197 but lost.

"You can't ask a team to play any better," Teaff said. "I've never had a team play better defense and lose."

Texas A&M 48, North Texas St. 28
COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M, led by Kevin Murray and Keith Woodside, proved they could outscore North Texas State's starters 48-7 Saturday and then turned the game over to the A&M subs in the third quarter.

Outmanned North Texas State then scored 21 points in the fourth quarter, reducing A&M's victory to 48-28, but there was little doubt about the Aggie domination.

"It was a two-game deal," A&M Coach Jackie Sherrill said. "We got 48 points to their 7 and after that, we put in a lot of our young people and went into a big of disarray."

"But that's good. It gets them a lot of game experience."

Murray completed a 50-yard pass to Rod Harris on the first play of the game and although he also suffered an interception, he finished the game in sixth place on the Southwest Conference all-time completion list.

Woodside gave the Aggies a 100-yard rushing performance in the absence of Roger Vick, who was injured on the first play of the game and did not return.

Ira Valentine scored two touchdowns in a 34-point first half A&M explosion.

North Texas Coach Corky Nelson was not disillusioned by his team's 21-point fourth quarter, but he was glad to get the points.

"In the first half, we made mistakes but basically it was too much A&M," Nelson said. "But the second half at least will give us something to build on."

Texas Christian 35, Kansas St. 22
FORT WORTH (AP) — Quarterback David Rascoe ran for two touchdowns and passed for another as Texas Christian defeated Kansas State 35-22 in an inter-sectional college football game Saturday night.

Rascoe ran for 25 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter before tossing a shuffle pass to Tony Jeffrey that the running back turned into a 30-yard scoring play early in the second period.

The sophomore quarterback set a TCU record for consecutive completed passes when he hit on his first nine attempts. His only incomplete pass in the first half killed a TCU scoring drive on the Kansas State 1 with 1:10 left before halftime. Rascoe rushed for 135 yards on 20 carries and completed 11 of 18 passes for 136 yards.

The Horned Frogs, who constructed 80-yard scoring drives on their first three possessions, also got a 1-yard touchdown run from Tony Darthard on their opening possession.

Rascoe also scored on a 3-yard run with 5:35 left in the third quarter.

Jeffrey, who set a Southwest Conference record with 343 yards rushing against Tulane last weekend, scored on a 6-yard run early in the third quarter. His score was set up by Bobby Davis's 72-yard run on the first play from scrimmage in the second half.

Jeffrey finished the night with 54 yards rushing on 17 carries.

Klondike nips Ira, 33-32

IRA — The Klondike Cougars raised their record to 2-1 by taking a 33-32 win over the Ira Bulldogs in six-man football action Friday night.

Klondike running back Cisco Arrendondo scored the winning touchdown on a 10-yard run in the fourth quarter. Cougar quarterback Kurt Tidwell tossed three TD's in the win.

Washington crushes BYU, 52-21

By The Associated Press
With Kris Chandler passing for four touchdowns and running for a fifth, seventh-ranked Washington rolled over its second consecutive ranked opponent Saturday, crushing No. 11 Brigham Young 52-21.

It was the worst football defeat in 13 years for BYU. Last week, Washington handed Ohio State its worst loss in 19 years as the Huskies mauled the Buckeyes 40-7.

The nation's top-ranked team, Oklahoma, also romped to its second straight victory, crushing Minnesota 63-0.

College Roundup

"Oklahoma played 80 players. I'm satisfied they didn't try to run up the score," Minnesota Coach John Gutekunst said.

Three Top Twenty teams were upset and a fourth, No. 13 Florida, tumbled to fourth-ranked Alabama 21-7.

No. 7 Washington 52, No. 11 BYU 21
Robert Parker grabbed the opening kickoff and raced 94 yards to give BYU a lead against the Huskies. But Washington responded by scoring 52 points before BYU could score again.

Chandler, a redshirt junior, threw touchdown passes of 27 and 12 yards to Lonzell Hill, 11 yards to Darryl Franklin and 6 yards to Rod Jones — all in the second quarter. Washington rolled up 413 yards as Chandler completed 13 of 22 passes for 202 yards without an interception. BYU's offense was held to 225 yards and didn't score a touchdown until backup quarterbacks Mike Young and Bob Jensen threw for scores in the final 6:24.

No. 1 Oklahoma 63, Minnesota 20
Fullback Lydell Carr scored on runs of 40 and 3 yards in the first quarter, and quarterback Jamelle Hollieway scored from 5 and 12 yards out as the defending national champion Sooners ran away to a 35-0 halftime lead.

Among Oklahoma's other scores were a 66-yard tight end reverse by Keith Jackson, a punt return and an interception return.

Michigan 31, Oregon St. 12
Quarterback Jim Harbaugh passed for two touchdowns and ran for another to lead the Michigan Wolverines to victory despite Oregon State's potent passing attack.

OSU quarterback Erik Wilhelm set school records for both passes attempted and completed and just missed the record for yardage. He completed 39 of 64 attempts for 339 yards and one touchdown. He had one pass intercepted.

Harbaugh's 22-yard TD run in the third period broke open a tight game and gave Michigan a 24-12 lead. Michigan led by just 14-12 at halftime.

No. 4 Alabama 21, No. 13 Florida 7
Two long third-period scoring drives engineered by quarterback Mike Shula carried Alabama over Florida in a Southeastern Conference game.

Shula capped a 71-yard march at the start of the second half with a 10-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Humphrey to pull Alabama into a 7-7 tie. Then David Casteel scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 4-yard run to finish off a 15-play, 91-yard drive, giving 'Bama the lead for good.

Florida's first-half touchdown was set up by a 52-yard interception return by Ron Moten.

No. 10 Auburn 45, East Carolina 0
Junior quarterback Jeff Burger passed for two touchdowns as Auburn rolled over East Carolina and extended the Pirates' NCAA leading consecutive loss streak to 12 games.

Burger had second-period touchdown tosses of 51 yards to Lawyer Tillman and 48 yards to Trey Gainous.

Clemson 31, No. 14 Georgia 10
A 46-yard field goal at the gun by David Treadwell boosted Clemson over Georgia in an error-plagued game.

Clemson, which overcame five turnovers, marched 34 yards to the Georgia 30 in the final 1:11 to set up the game-winning kick.

Georgia lost the ball four times on turnovers, including a fumble on the Clemson 10 with 4:39 remaining.

No. 15 Florida St. 10, North Carolina 10
Three missed field goals by Derek Schmidt, the last one a 36-yarder with eight seconds left, meant Florida State had to settle for a tie.

The Seminoles took a 10-7 lead in the third period when backup quarterback Peter Tom Willis threw a 28-yard scoring pass to freshman Ronald Lewis. Willis then passed to Herb Gainer for the two-point conversion.

Earlier in the period, Florida State got its first score when Felton Hayes blocked a North Carolina punt and the ball went out of bounds in the end zone for a safety.

No. 17 Arizona 41, Oregon 17
Alfred Jenkins passed for 233 yards and David Adams rushed for more than 100 yards for the third consecutive week as Arizona downed Oregon in the Pacific 10 Conference opener for both teams.

Adams carried the ball 31 times and had 101 of his 130 yards at halftime as Arizona built a 24-7 lead by intermission.

Michigan St. 20, No. 20 Notre Dame 15

Quarterback Dave Yarema teamed up with Mark Ingram on a 40-yard scoring pass play and cornerback Todd Krumm returned an interception 44 yards for another score as Michigan State stopped Notre Dame.

Chris Caudell added two short field goals for the Spartans and Krumm intercepted another Notre Dame pass, this one on his own 17, to halt an Irish threat with less than two minutes to play.

SEPTEMBER 21 1986

Mets whip Phillies, 9-5

NEW YORK (AP) — Stanley Jefferson and John Gibbons hit their first major-league homers and pinch-hitter Danny Heep lined a two-run single as the New York Mets defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 9-5.

Jefferson's three-run homer and Heep's single powered a five-run sixth inning that broke a 3-3 tie and ended the Mets' streak of six straight losses to Philadelphia. Gibbons' fourth hit of the game, a bases-empty homer, came in the eighth.

Ron Darling, 14-5, allowed three runs on seven hits over seven innings. Tom Hume, 4-1, allowed all five runs in the sixth, four of them unearned.

NL

Reds 9, Dodgers 5

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pinch-hitter Kal Daniels broke a tie with a two-run double in the bottom of the seventh inning and the Cincinnati Reds rallied from a 5-0 deficit to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-5.

Dodgers reliever Dennis Powell, 2-6, took the loss. Rob Murphy, 3-0, the third Cincinnati pitcher, got the victory. Alex Trevino had a three-run double for Los Angeles, and Steve Sax enticed his hitting streak to 18 games.

Cardinals 3, Expos 1
MONTREAL (AP) — Rick Horton pitched a five-hitter in his first complete game in more than two years as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Montreal Expos 3-1.

Horton, 4-3, struck out five and did not walk a batter in his seventh start this season. He retired the first 11 batters. Rookie Sergio Valdez, 0-3, took the loss. He pitched five innings and gave up three runs on seven hits.

Braves 2, Giants 1
ATLANTA (AP) — Right-hander Charlie Puleo pitched a three-hitter and knocked in a run Saturday to lead the Atlanta Braves to a 2-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Puleo earned his first major league victory since July 3, 1984 but lost the shutout in the eighth when Will Clark homered, his 11th. Puleo struck out six, walked one and did not allow a runner past first base until the Clark homer.

Mike LaCoss, 11-12, yielded six hits in five innings for the loss. Atlanta got a run in the third inning when Albert Hall singled with one out, stole second and, following a walk to Ken Oberkfell, scored on a single by Dale Murphy.

The Braves added to their lead in the fourth when Rafael Ramirez doubled with one out and later scored on Puleo's single to left.

The first two hits given up by Puleo were one-out singles by Robby Thompson in the first and fourth innings. The Giants' only other baserunner was Bob Brenly, who walked with one out in the fifth.

Astros 10, Padres 6
HOUSTON (AP) — Mike Scott struck out 11 batters as he allowed five hits over seven innings and led the Houston Astros to a 10-6 victory over the San Diego Padres Saturday night.

The Astros had 16 hits as they took an 11-game lead over San Francisco and Cincinnati with 14 games left. Their magic number for winning the National League West is four.

San Diego's Tony Gwynn stole five bases in the game, becoming only the fifth man since 1900 to do so. The last was Alan Wittgens in 1984.

Scott, 17-10, allowed three runs on five hits and increased his major-league leading strikeout total to 285 — the most for Houston since J.R. Richard struck out 313 in 1979. It was the 10th time this season that Scott has struck out 10 or more.

Scott's major-league best ERA rose to 2.33.

Jose Cruz hit a two-run homer for Houston. He drove in three runs in the game and Bill Doran and Glenn Davis drove in two each.

Angels edge Chisox, 8-7

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Wally Joyner scored from the third base on rookie catcher Ron Karkovics' passed ball with one out in the ninth inning Saturday, giving the California Angels an 8-7 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The victory reduced California's magic number for winning the American League West to seven. The Angels have a nine-game lead over runnerup Texas, which played Minnesota at night.

After Chicago's Harold Baines tied the score 7-7 with a solo homer, his 21st, in the top of the ninth, Joyner hit a one-out double off Dave Schmidt, 2-5. Joyner moved to third on a wild pitch, and the White Sox intentionally walked Mark Ryal and Reggie Jackson to load the bases.

AL

On the first pitch to Doug DeCinces, Karkovics committed his second passed ball of the game.

Indians 6, A's 5

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Brook Jacoby hit a one-out single in the 10th inning to drive in Mel Hall with the tie-breaking run, and the Cleveland Indians defeated the Oakland A's 6-5 Saturday.

Hall opened the Indians 10th with an infield single off reliever Jay

Howell, 2-6. After Cory Snyder struck out, Dave Clark walked and Jacoby followed with a single to left, scoring Hall.

Trailing 5-4 in the eighth, the Indians tied it against Howell when Hall led off with a double and scored on Snyder's single.

Yankees 5, Tigers 2
DETROIT (AP) — Rickey Henderson and Ron Kittle homered during a five-run first inning, and Ron Gaudry surrendered three hits in seven innings Saturday to lead the New York Yankees to a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Gaudry, 9-10, walked two, hit a batter and struck out three for his third straight victory. The veteran left-hander allowed Detroit's first run in the first inning on a hit batter, a single by Larry Herndon, a walk and Darnell Coles' sacrifice fly.

New York scored all its runs in the first inning off Detroit starter Frank Tanana, 11-8. Henderson led off with his 27th home run and his eighth leading off a game this season, breaking the American League record of seven he set in 1985.

Wayne Tolleson followed with single and Dave Winfield walked before Kittle hit his 20th homer of the season to stretch the lead to 4-0.

Twins 3, Rangers 2

ARLINGTON (AP) — Tom Brunanky hit a two-out, two-run homer in the eighth inning Saturday night that rallied the Minnesota Twins to a 3-2 victory over the Texas Rangers.

Brunanky's 23rd homer of the season came off reliever Mitch Williams, 8-5, and scored Gary Gaetti, who had singled with two outs. It ended Texas' four-game win streak.

Minnesota starter Frank Viola, 15-12, allowed two runs — one earned — on seven hits in seven innings, with 10 strikeouts and one walk. George Frazier finished for his fifth save.

Pete Incaaviglia of the Rangers struck out three times, giving him 169 for the season and breaking the major-league record for strikeouts by a rookie set by Juan Samuel in 1984.

Jose Canseco of Oakland went into Sunday's game against Cleveland with 167.

The Rangers took a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the seventh, a half-inning after Minnesota tied the score.

Scott Fletcher gave the Rangers a 1-0 lead in the third with his third home run of the season.

But the Twins tied it in the seventh when Tim Laudrum drew a one-out walk, went to third on a single by Billy Beane and scored on pinch-hitter Ron Washington's sacrifice fly.

Toby Harrah's sacrifice fly put Texas ahead again.

Howard College

Remembering the past: Looking forward to the future

By CARLEEN EVERETT
 Lifestyle Editor

Forty years ago, Howard College was no more than a dream. The dream became a reality in 1946 and Howard College became the first institution in the state of Texas to admit students regardless of race, color or creed, according to Dr. P. W. Malone, the longest serving trustee in the United States.

Big Spring never had an educational system more advanced than high school before 1945, Malone said.

In the early 1940s, the war clouds were flying in the Far East and over Europe. It seemed inevitable that the U.S. would be involved in a conflict. He said "there was an extreme shortage of war material and trained personnel — especially well-trained pilots. The federal government began a non-college civilian pilot training program and then a bombardier school at the Big Spring Municipal Airport (west of the city)."

"After the war was over, the bombardier school closed and the personnel moved away. There was building space available at the airport. I felt it was feasible to form a junior college here in Big Spring."

After presenting the idea to the superintendent of Big Spring Independent School District, the city manager and the Chamber of Commerce, a committee investigated the possibilities, Malone explained.

Officials at the University of Texas at Austin who were contacted recommended that Big Spring have a county-wide tax supported district, elect a board of trustees comprised of seven people to manage the school and have a bond issue of some reasonable amount to finance the activities, he added.

Responding to the suggestions, an election was called in November 1945 to establish the community-wide district — tax supported, elect seven board of trustees and name the institution Howard County Junior College.

Shine Phillips, local pioneer, expressed the following sentiments in the September 29, 1946 issue of the Herald: "We have no choice: Either we have a community where everybody has a fair education or we have a community where the folks are not able to send their kids to college. The junior college gives everybody a chance, and every kid or returnee who doesn't get this chance is going to have to remain in the rear ranks. Get behind this junior college."

"It was approved by an overwhelming majority," Malone said.

"The bombardier school, located on the eastern part of the airport property, was an ideal temporary home for the junior college. We spent $25,000 in remodeling the buildings. Each structure was wooden with concrete foundations. There would be a college administration building, classrooms, two dormitories to house the students and a gymnasium," Malone reminisced.

The first session began in September 1946. E.C. Dodd was the first president of the school and P.T. Piner was president of the first board of trustees.

With the initial transition period behind, Howard Junior College, which was the first county-wide unit to be created from scratch in the state, spread its wings and looked to the future, according to Howard College historical records.

Eight students graduated and received associate in arts degrees.

They were James Yuill Butts, Billy C. Clanton, Charles Wesley Deats Jr., Bobbie Lanelle Green, Harman DeLloyd Hooser, Harvey Carroll Hooser Jr., John Luther Rudeseal Jr., and Georgia Warene Wise.

The first years were relatively uneventful, before a fire destroyed the college gymnasium on February 14, 1948. Planning to relocate the campus began.

During this era, segregation was the norm.

"Big Spring grade schools and high schools were segregated," Malone said. "Two young blacks from the negro high school on the north side graduated with honors. Several people mentioned to me that it was a shame they couldn't continue their education because their families were very poor and loans were very scarce at that time."

Serving as the newly-elected president of the board of trustees, Malone said he thought the college "should admit negroes and whites into the college."

A resolution was composed: "Howard County will admit any student regardless of race, color or creed who is otherwise educationally qualified." Malone presented it to the board of trustees.

All of the members voted aye except one man who was from the South and said he just couldn't vote to mix the races, Malone said.

"After Howard College started the movement, almost all other junior colleges agreed to admit blacks into their schools. It was a situation whose time had arrived and had been post-poned too long. The next term we had six negro students and never had any difficulties."

In 1951, the campus was moved to a 100-acre lot on 11th Place and Birdwell Lane, at its present location, Malone said.

The college continued to grow and areas around the college developed with churches and schools. In 1951, two dormitories and the Dora Roberts Student Union Building, a gift from the Dora Roberts Foundation, were constructed, according to the college historical records.

In 1977, a campus beautification project was initiated. During the next few years several projects were completed, such as the P.W. Malone Plaza and the B.W. Keese Memorial. Construction on the

According to records, the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum was dedicated in 1978. An annual average of 71 functions are presented in the multi-purpose facility. The 90,000-square-foot facility, with a seating capacity of 6,500, cost $2.5 million.

"In 1980, Howard College aspired to reach another important branch of achievement in the education of deaf students, with the creation of the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf. SWCID is housed in the former Webb Air Force Base Hospital."

The college, under the direction of Dr. Bob E. Riley (the fifth president for Howard College in 40 years), now offers students 27 transfer programs, 21 occupational education programs, intramural activities, sports, interest clubs, student government and social events for future life-enhancing experiences, records state.

"Howard College has become one of the dominant factors in the economy of Howard County," Malone said.

Wedding

Griffin-Merrill

AUSTIN — Patricia Anne Griffin and Jerry Steven Merrill, both of Austin, exchanged wedding vows Sept. 20 at St. Mary's Cathedral with Rev. William Donahue C.S.C., officiating.

Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Griffin, 1605 Kiowa. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Merrill of Austin.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with white gladiolus laced with white poms and yellow enchantment lilies with pew bows and greenery.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin gown fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline. The bodice was overlaid with alencon lace and accented with seed pearls. The Victorian sleeves of alencon lace came to a point at the wrist. The white satin skirt fell from a dropped waist to a cathedral-length train. The mid-length veil of bridal illusion was adorned with rhinestones and fell from the gathered headband of flowers and seed pearls.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and English ivy.

Matron of honor was Mary Kathleen Kinder, sister of the bride, of Midland. Bridesmaids were Anne Mullen of Big Spring, Kathy Nolen of Houston; Melodie

MRS. JERRY MERRILL
...formerly Patricia Griffin

Merrill, sister of the bridegroom, of Lubbock; and Diane Merrill, sister of the bridegroom, of Austin.

Best man was Rickie Merrill, brother of the bridegroom, of El Paso. Groomsmen were Jerome

DeSalme of San Antonio; Jeff Sieder of Abilene; James Robert Griffin, brother of the bride, of Dallas; and John Morrow of Fort Stockton.

Following the wedding, a reception was hosted at the Hyatt Regency Town Lake Hotel. The bride's four-tiered, white cake was decorated with yellow enchantment lilies and topped with a bride and bridegroom figurine used by the bride's parents on their wedding cake.

The bridegroom's cake was chocolate with mocha icing and carved with roses.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Big Spring High School and a 1985 graduate of Texas Tech University where she obtained a bachelor of business administration degree in finance. She is an investor accounting analyst with First Federal Savings in Austin.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Fort Stockton High School and a 1983 graduate of Texas Tech University with a bachelor of business administration in finance. He is a branch manager and assistant vice president of Home Savings and Loan Association in Austin.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will make their home in Austin.

Engagements

DATE SET — Carroll and Judy Husted, 2312 Lloyd, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Debbie, to Larry Phillippe, 1209 Lloyd. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Guy and Elwanda Phillippe of Idalou. The couple will wed Dec. 20 at the First Baptist Church Cahpel with Rev. Gary Fine, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church, Carlsbad, N.M., formerly of Big Spring, officiating.

LAURINBURG, N.C. — DATE SET — Mr. and Mrs. Ozzie Loridon of Warren, Mich. announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Del Maggiorino of Laurinburg, to Randy Stukel, formerly of Big Spring, now of Laurinburg. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stukel of Big Spring. The couple will wed Oct. 18 at the First Baptist Church in Laurinburg.

COUPLE TO WED — Mrs. Jo Davis of Fort Worth announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Julie Byrd, 538 Westover, to James Bailey, 107 E. 20th. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bailey, 1910 Runnels. The couple will wed Oct. 4 at Hillcrest Baptist Church with Gene Gage, minister of First Baptist Church in Andrews, officiating.

Mathews-West

FARMERS BRANCH — COUPLE TO EXCHANGE VOWS — Dean and Mildren Mathews of Dallas announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Marie, to Samuel Jaret West, formerly of Big Spring, now of Denton. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are S.R. (Bob) and Helen West, formerly of Big Spring, now of Dallas. The couple will wed Oct. 18 at Valley View Christian Church in Farmers Branch with Weldon Gilmore of Valley View Christian Church and Mike Peters of Prestoncrest Church of Christ, officiating.

American Legion Auxiliary welcomes new members

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit #506 recently welcomed three new members, Evelyn Redman, Myrtel Pipes and Doris Gibson, to their club.

Delegates to the 19th District Convention in Lubbock were chosen. Lila Holland, Jean Graham and alternates, Irene Maxwell and Evelyn Redman, will attend the convention on Oct. 11 and 12.

Thank-you notes for helping in the department convention in July and for sponsoring Marshal Long of Ackerly in a scholarship fund were read by Lila Holland, president.

Mattie Roberts, chaplain, gave the invocation.

The unit donated to the Bible fund, retarded children for Big Spring, to the cancer research fund, the education fund and the poppy fund.

Next meeting will be November 21.

Garrett-Trego

SAN ANGELO — Rosemond Kay Garrett, 1400 Sycamore, became the bride of Gary E. Trego of San Angelo at an evening ceremony on Aug. 29 at the Concho River Bridge with Justice of the Peace Ruth Nicholson, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Parnell Garrett, 1400 Sycamore. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Trego of Trenton, Neb.

The couple were married outdoors on the Concho River foot bridge surrounded by a natural setting.

The bride was given in marriage by John Moore of San Angelo. She wore a semi-formal length white, taffeta gown. A fitted bodice draping one shoulder was accented with a large sash bow. A white satin pill box hat trimmed in pearls featured white netting that covered the bride's face and veils that layered to below the waistline.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and English ivy. Attendants were Samantha Agan of San Angelo and Jerry P. Garrett of Big Spring.

Following the wedding, a reception was hosted at Bentwood Country Club. The bride's table, draped with a white, polished linen cloth and a white lace overlay, was centered with a basket with lace, roses and balloons. It featured a three-tiered white cake decorated with birds, lace and white roses.

The bride attended Big Spring High School and Texas A&M University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Farmington High School in Farmington, N.M. and Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, N.M. He is the owner of Trego Real Estate.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple made their home in San Angelo.

Dennis-Pechacek

Raymie "Missy" Dennis of Garden City became the bride of Curtis Pechacek of Miles on Sept. 20 at St. Lawrence Catholic Church with Father Frank Beasley, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Dennis of Garden City. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pechacek of St. Lawrence.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with white mums, greenery and small candelabras.

Organist was Janell Werner, cousin of the bridegroom, of Wall. Vocalists were Ellen Seidenberger and Rory Niehues, both of St. Lawrence.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a long gown of white crystal organza with beaded silk venise lace. The fitted bodice was designed with a V-neckline edged with lace. Long, tapered sleeves of crystal organza featured lace motif and lace at the wrists. The full skirt fell from the basque waistline. A deep ruffle of organza with a wired edge finished the hemline, flowing to a semi-cathedral length train. Her headpiece was made of a short layered puffed band with organza flowers and strings of pearls.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations, bridal red roses, staphanotis, baby's breath and California ivy.

Matron of honor was Dana Henrichs of St. Lawrence. Bridesmaids were Michele Pechacek, sister of the bridegroom, of St. Lawrence; Tammy Dennis, cousin of the bride, of Odessa; and Brenda Niehues, cousin of the bridegroom, of Norton.

Best man was Kent McMilian of Miles. Groomsmen were Richard Werner, cousin of the bridegroom, of Wall; Ronald Niehues, cousin of the bridegroom, of Norton; and Jimmy Deckard, cousin of the bridegroom, of Sweetwater.

Ushers were Ed Wayne Cypert of Garden City; Trey Willey of College Station; Terry Dennis, cousin of the bride, of Odessa; and Chuck Deckard, cousin of the bridegroom, of Sweetwater.

Following the wedding, a reception was hosted at St. Lawrence Parish Hall. The bride's table, draped with a white cloth, featured a white tiered cake with a fountain of red roses entwined through the cake surrounded by doves.

The bridegroom's table, draped with a brown Spanish lace cloth, featured a chocolate, boot shaped cake.

MRS. CURTIS PECHACEK
...formerly Missy Dennis

The bride is a graduate of Garden City High School.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Garden City High School and is employed by Miles Coop Gin.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will make their home in Miles.

Prevention/removal of mildew is easy

By NAOMI HUNT
County Extension Agent
My office has received several questions recently about mold and mildew due to the "monsoon season."

Mildew is a thin, often whitish, growth produced on many kinds of surfaces by molds. Molds are simple plants belonging to the group known as fungi. Though always present in the air, molds that cause mildew need moisture and certain temperatures in order to grow. They commonly develop in muggy summer weather, especially in houses that are closed.

Molds that cause mildew grow on anything from which they can get enough food. In homes they develop most often on cotton, linen, rayon, silk, wool, leather, wood, and paper. Many manmade fibers are resistant to mildew.

Molds that cause mildew flourish wherever it is damp, warm, poorly aired, poorly lighted — in cellars, in crawl spaces of houses without basements, in clothing closets, on draperies and rugs in basement recreation rooms, on shower curtains, on damp clothes rolled up for ironing. These molds are also likely to grow in a newly-built house because of moisture in the building materials.

As the molds grow they cause considerable damage. They often leave a musty odor. They discolor fabrics and sometimes eat into them so severely that the fabrics rot and fall to pieces. They discolor leather and paper.

Focus on family

Removing mildew — Clothing and household fabrics
Remove mildew spots as soon as they are discovered. Don't give the mold growth a chance to weaken or rot the material. Brush off any surface growth outdoors to prevent scattering the mildew spored in the house. Sun and air fabrics thoroughly. If any mildew spots remain, treat washable articles as described below. Dryclean non-washable articles.

Wash mildew-stained articles at once with soap and detergent and water. Rinse well and dry in the sun. If any stain remains, bleach with lemon juice and salt or use a bleach. Test colored fabrics for colorfastness to the bleach.

Lemon juice and salt
Moisten stain with a mixture of lemon juice and salt. Spread in the sun to bleach. Rinse thoroughly.

Peroxygen bleach
Mix 1 to 2 tablespoons of sodium perborate or a powdered bleach containing sodium perborate or potassium monopersulfate with 1 pint of water. Use hot water if safe for the fabric; otherwise use lukewarm water. Sponge stain or soak stained area in the solution. Or sprinkle the dry powder directly on the dampened stain. Let solution or powder remain on the stain 30 minutes or longer, then rinse thoroughly. If the mildew stains have been on the fabric for some time, it may be necessary to soak in the bleach solution overnight. If safe for the fabric, the use of sodium perborate solution at or near the boiling point may remove stubborn stains.

Chlorine bleach
Mix 2 tablespoons of liquid chlorine bleach with 1 quart of warm water. Sponge stain or soak stained area in the solution. Allow bleach to remain of fabric from 5 to 15 minutes, then rinse thoroughly. Never use a chlorine bleach on silk, wool, or spandex fabrics. Some fabrics with wash-wear or other special finishes may be damaged by chlorine bleaches. Articles with such finishes should have a warning on the label or hang tag cautioning against the use of chlorine bleach.

Contact my office (267-8469) if you have further questions or would like a copy of the government publication on Preventing and Removing Mold and Mildew.

RULES OF THE ROAD

Have you ever had the awful experience of driving down the street in your car and nearly hitting a kid on a bicycle who was going lickety-split and ran right out in front of you? It happened to me just yesterday and besides adding a few more gray hairs it prompted this column on bicycle safety — Parents, when you present your kid with a bike, PLEASE take him/her for an eye examination to check for good visual acuity, color perception, depth perception and peripheral vision. Then go over the rules of the road from Seymour Safety Bikers Guide.

- 1.) Obey all traffic regulations, signs and signals.
- 2.) Observe all local laws pertaining to bicycle operation.
- 3.) Drive with traffic, not against it. Drive single file. Stay on the far right. Remember, the right side is the right side!
- 4.) Watch out for drain grates, soft shoulders, and other road hazards.
- 5.) Watch out for the sudden opening of car doors, or for cars pulling out into traffic.
- 6.) Don't carry passengers or packages that interfere with your vision or control.
- 7.) Never hitch a ride on a truck or any other vehicle.
- 8.) Be extremely careful at all intersections, especially when making a left turn.
- 9.) Use hand signals to indicate turning or stopping.
- 10.) Protect yourself at night with proper lights, reflectors, and retro-reflective material.
- 11.) Drive a safe bike; have it inspected to insure good mechanical condition.
- 12.) Drive your bike defensively. Watch out for the other person.
- 13.) Give right-of-way to pedestrians and motor vehicles.

Abusive men are offered scorn, not help

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest any and all articles I can find about abused wives and children. I've read literally hundreds of them, and they all have one thing in common, a total disregard for the other party involved — namely, the abuser. Men who physically abuse their families are in dire need of help and support.

The abused wife and kids have shelters, financial support, counseling, support groups and sympathy. What does the abuser have? Nothing but public scorn. He is made to feel ashamed, hated and less than human. He is locked up and kept away from his family. How do I know how an abuser feels? I am one. For three years I beat on my wife, but never without provocation. I never enjoyed hitting her, but I couldn't help myself. Afterward, I felt sick to my stomach.

I need as much help as my wife, but there is no help for me. We are now separated and a divorce is pending. I love her and I love my kids, but I have lost them because of a few violent attacks on them. I am begging you for your help, Abby. I can't afford professional help, but I know I need it real bad.

HURTING IN FRESNO

DEAR HURTING: The person

Dear Abby

who admits that he needs professional help has taken a giant step in the right direction. You're wrong to say that you can't afford it — you can't afford to be without it. Counseling is available for both the abused and the abuser in some shelters for battered women. If it's not offered where you live, contact your local mental health facility. Counseling is available for everyone, and it's as near as your telephone book — at a price you can afford.

***

DEAR ABBY: I was recently married at a most beautiful wedding. My parents were divorced 10 years ago, and since that time they had barely spoken a civil word to each other. They both attended my wedding, and were not only polite to each other, they were downright friendly! Abby, it was the best wedding present either of them could have given me.

Please print this in hope that other divorced couples may see themselves, and realize it's possible to put aside their hostilities and bitterness for just one day for the sake of their child. It made my wedding day perfect in every way.

NEW BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: Here's your letter with a message to divorced parents: "Read and heed, and you will compound the joy of a joyful occasion."

***

DEAR ABBY: You missed a chance to educate the 15-year-old "Oregon Smoke Hater." May I present some information to this young lady?

Dear Smoke Hater, please don't be so hard on your mother because she smokes and then tells you not to. As hypocritical as this may seem, she has her reasons.

I quit smoking two years ago, so I know how hard it is to quit. Smoking is both a physical and psychological addiction — a double whammy! Some experts say that smoking is harder to kick than heroin. And harder to give up than alcohol. If a person smokes one pack a day, at approximately 15 "hits" per cigarette, that amounts to 300 "hits" of tar and nicotine a day. Does that sound like an easy habit to break?

I started smoking 22 years ago because my friends did. There was some talk about it being bad for your health, but nobody made a big deal out of it. I never dreamed I'd become addicted. (No one ever believes he is going to become addicted to anything.)

I finally quit because I had to, and I will never smoke again. My lungs are damaged and I recently watched two beloved relatives die of lung cancer.

Don't be so hard on your mother when she tells you not to smoke. She's trying to help you do what she couldn't do. She's trying to tell you that the easiest way to kick a habit is not to start.

American Business Women's Day

to be observed by local club

The Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA) will observe Sept. 22 as American Business Women's Day. The observance, also the anniversary of ABWA's founding in 1949, provides an occasion to recognize the contributions that more than 48 million working women in the United States have made to the private and public business sectors.

American Business Women's Day was developed in 1981-'82 because the ABWA's national board of directors believed women workers in the United States should be recognized for their accomplishments.

The United States Senate and House of Representatives passed a joint resolution in 1983 recognizing Sept. 22 as American Business Women's Day. President Ronald Regan signed a proclamation the same year.

The ABWA is a national, non-partisan, educational association dedicated to bringing together business women of diverse backgrounds and providing opportunities for them to help themselves and others grow personally and professionally through leadership, education, networking support and national recognition.

More than 112,000 women are members of the 2,100 chapters throughout the United States and Puerto Rico. All ABWA fund raising proceeds are donated to women for scholarships.

Evergreen plants are attractive year-round

By DON RICHARDSON

County Extension Agent
Exterior planters which flank many contemporary homes may represent an asset of beauty or a problem of poor plant choice and poor plant growth.

Perhaps the best solution in choosing the best plant for planters is to use permanent dwarf evergreen plants which provide year-round attractiveness and supplement the planting with seasonal flowering or foliage plants for an accent.

Oftentimes, the home gardener will miss a planting date, thus, the area which is to accent remains void for the season. Without permanent plantings, the winter season, too, presents a time of void for the planter.

Over the past several years, plant breeders have developed outstanding dwarf plants which are very adaptable to limited planting areas such as the planter. The homeowner today has a wide choice from which to choose, yet her choice must be made in regards to the growth conditions of the planter. Is the planter well drained... deep or shallow... in sun or shade?

Do not overplant. Allow ample room for ultimate plant size and eliminate later pruning or removal of plants. Keep the planting simple, neat, and attractive, yet avoid monotony.

Due to location, some planters do not provide the best plant production. Those beneath roof overhangs receive little rainfall and must be watered manually. Planters against west, brick walls radiate summer heat and become much too hot for many types of plantings. Many planters have poor drainage and others have inadequate soil.

The springtime gardener who prefers the air-conditioned home to summer gardening should choose plants which demand very little care and attention such as Dwarf Nandina, Yucca, Dwarf Yaupon, Lantana, Daylilies, Dwarf Bamboo, Confederate Jasmine, Liriope, Aspidistra, or Dwarf Barberry.

The sunny planter may include Yucca, Dwarf Nandina, Yaupon, Dwarf Pyracantha, Dwarf Junipers, Liriope, Daylilies, Dwarf Hollies, Dwarf Pomegranate, Silver Mound, Dwarf Barberry, Asiatic Jasmine, or Japanese Purple Honeysuckle.

Planters in shade may be enhanced with Aucuba, Fatsia, Fatshedra, Mahonia, Indian Hawthorne, English Ivy, Dwarf Azalea, Ajuga, or Holly Fern.

For the planter which received sun and shade, or part sun or shade, the gardener may choose from Dwarf Yaupon, Dwarf Hollies, Indian Hawthorne, Liriope, Vinca, Confederate Jasmine, Japanese Black Pine, Dwarf Sasanqua, or Japanese Purple Honeysuckle.

Choices for the planter are numerous, yet the gardener's success with the planter depends on the proper choice of plants for the existing growth conditions. Every planter should be attractively planted so as to require low maintenance and at a reasonable expense... and to always produce the real accent intended.
