Fuel leaks into creek

KING OF PRUSSIA, Pa. — Crews continued flushing vapors from storm sewers early today after up to 220,000 gallons of gasoline leaked from an underground pipeline, forcing scores of residents from their homes.

The fuel leaked into a small creek near the huge King of Prussia mall Tuesday, spreading vapors into the air and under the shopping center. The mall, a school and as many as 100 homes were evacuated, authorities said.

A 22-mile section of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and several other major traffic arteries that converge in the Philadelphia suburb were closed because of the leak, snarling evening rush-hour traffic.

The cause of the rupture of the pipeline, operated by Sun Pipeline Co., was not immediately known, authorities said. There were no reports of injuries.

Wallis dies at home

LENDALE, Calif. — Hal B. Wallis, the pioneering moviemaker whose films won 32 Academy Awards, was remembered as the engineer behind the careers of Humphrey Bogart and Bette Davis and as one of the last all-around producers. Wallis, who produced or supervised more than 400 films, including "Casablanca" and "The Maltese Falcon," died Sunday at age 88 at his Rancho Mirage home from complications of diabetes. He was buried in a private service Tuesday at Forest Lawn Cemetery here.

"He knew everything about every facet of the business," said Walter Seltzer, Wallis' publicity director for 10 years and later a producer himself.

Soviets read U.S. mail

WASHINGTON — The Soviets were able to read sensitive U.S. diplomatic correspondence from Moscow for years because of a security lapse that allowed the Kremlin to install electronic bugs in embassy typewriters, a Senate panel says.

In a 141-page report on counterintelligence, the Senate Intelligence Committee said Tuesday that the incident marked the second time since 1978 that U.S. officials allowed Soviet agents to obtain typewriters while they were being shipped to the U.S. Embassy.

As a result, "for years, the Soviets were reading some of our most sensitive diplomatic correspondence, economic and political analyses, and other communications," the panel said.

LaRouche makes vow

WASHINGTON — Political extremist Lyndon LaRouche, declaring himself the victim of international political persecution, is vowing that "I will not submit passively to an arrest" if a federal case against his lieutenants is extended to him.

LaRouche, who has not been indicted, responded Tuesday to the sweeping federal fraud investigation that penetrated his inner circle with indictments and resulted in federal agents taking two truckloads of financial records from his Leesburg, Va., headquarters.

"I have committed no crime," LaRouche, 64, a frequent fringe candidate for president, said through a spokesman.

"Any arrest or attempt to arrest me would be an attempt to kill me. I will not submit passively to an arrest, but in such a scenario I will defend myself," he added in what aides called "a personal message" to President Reagan.

A man identified as Eugene Hasenfus is led away, hands tied in ropes, by Sandinista soldiers Tuesday following his capture. The rebel plane he allegedly was riding in was shot down by the Sandinistas. He may be tried by the government, but officials have not been told.

Nicaragua

Sandinistas may try American

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The Sandinista government may try an American captured when a cargo plane laden with supplies allegedly bound for Contra rebels was shot down over Nicaragua, an official said.

U.S. Embassy spokesman Alberto Fernandez said late Tuesday it had asked the government to allow an embassy representative to visit the captive American, Eugene Hasenfus, 45, of Marinette, Wis.

"We have done all we can do at the moment," Fernandez said. "We asked to see him a long time ago — this morning — so they have had plenty of time to think about it. We are still waiting for a response."

Defense Ministry spokeswoman Capt. Rosa Pasos, at a news conference where Hasenfus was shown briefly to reporters, and spokesman for President Daniel Ortega all said they did not know where the American was being held.

Three other men aboard the plane were killed when it was shot down Sunday, and the Nicaraguan Defense Ministry said Tuesday two of them were Americans while the fourth was of "Latin origin."

The government said the Americans were all identified by documents found on them or in the plane as U.S. military advisers in El Salvador.

The United States has 55 military advisers in that country, where it supports the government in a guerrilla war with leftist rebels.

Officials in Washington denied any connection between Hasenfus and the U.S. government. An official of the anti-Sandinista Contra rebels in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, also denied that it had anything to do with the plane or the crew.

Lt. Col. Roberto Calderon, chief of the southern military district where the C-123 was shot down, said Nicaragua's leftist government was deciding whether to put Hasenfus on trial, but did not specify what charges were under consideration.

Calderon identified the two other Americans as pilot William J. Cooper and co-pilot Wallace Blaine Sawyer. Hasenfus was flown by helicopter Tuesday from San Carlos to Managua for a news conference at the Government Press Center.

Dressed in the mud-spattered denim clothes in which he was captured, Hasenfus was on the stage for about 20 seconds before being led away.

"My name is Gene Hasenfus. I come from Marinette, Wis. I was captured yesterday in southern Nicaragua. Thank you," he said in a shaky voice.

Reporters complained at not being allowed to question the American, whom Calderon repeatedly called "the prisoner."

Earlier, speaking to local journalists in San Carlos near the crash site, Hasenfus said the plane began its journey in Miami, picked him up in El Salvador, then took a Nicaraguan aboard in Honduras and entered Nicaraguan air space from Costa Rica.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Pete Martinez said he had no information about either man. Calderon said Hasenfus carried an identification card issued July 28 by the Salvadoran air force giving him access to restricted areas of the Ilopango air base in southern El Salvador, where Hasenfus told reporters Tuesday he had boarded the C-123.

Another captured document was an identification card issued to Cooper by a company called Southern Air Transport, Calderon said. That company, which reportedly has flown supplies to the Contras, said Tuesday it knew nothing about Hasenfus or the flight.

The plane carried 60 AK-model Soviet-made rifles, 100,000 rounds of ammunition, dozens of rocket-propelled grenades and other military equipment, Calderon said. Nicaraguan authorities said the supplies were destined for the Contras.

Nicaraguan troops were working Tuesday night to recover the three bodies from the wreckage, located in dense jungle about 91 miles southeast of Managua and 30 miles north of the Costa Rican border.

Calderon said authorities were also deciding whether to return the bodies of the Americans to their families.

Book fair protested

BONN, West Germany — At least 100 Iranian demonstrators tried unsuccessfully today to storm the West German Embassy in Tehran to protest the closing of an Iranian exhibit at the Frankfurt Book Fair, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said.

The demonstrators, shouting "Revenge for Frankfurt," tried to force their way in with iron bars and saws, said the spokesman, Hans Schumacher.

"They retreated voluntarily after they failed to get in," he said. "No one was hurt, there was no harm done."

Iran's official Islamic Republic News Agency, monitored in Nicosia, Cyprus, said the protesters were students belonging to the fundamentalist Hezbollah, or Party of God, and that they demanded the Tehran government take "firmer action" against West Germany.

Chinese talks begin

PEKING — U.S. Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger met today with his Chinese counterpart for talks expected to cover regional security issues and America's modest but growing defense links with China.

Earlier, Weinberger and the 76-year-old Chinese defense minister, Zhang Alping, reviewed an honor guard of about 120 army, navy and air force personnel from China's People's Liberation Army.

Weinberger arrived Tuesday evening from Hong Kong at the beginning of an 18-day round-the-world trip which will also take him to India, Pakistan, Italy and Britain.

U.S. officials have said he is carrying private messages from President Reagan to top Chinese leader Deng Xiaoping and Premier Zhao Ziyang, both of whom Weinberger will meet Thursday. The content of the messages has not been divulged.

Island reports deaths

MANILA, Philippines — The government news agency today reported that Communist rebels had killed 600 suspected government agents in an "unprecedented bloody purge" on northern Mindanao island.

The Philippine News Agency quoted Brig. Gen. Mariano P. Adalem, regional commander for northern Mindanao, as making the disclosure during a meeting of area military commanders Tuesday.

Attempts to contact military officials in northern Mindanao for confirmation of the agency report were not immediately successful. The island is located some 500 miles south of Manila, the capital.

The Philippine News Agency said the killings began early this year and ended recently. It said defectors from the communist New People's Army rebel group led troops to many of the victims' graves.

Earlier this year, the army claimed to have found the remains of some 200 people slain by the New People's Army on Mindanao.

Wife offers to help

BEIRUT, Lebanon — The wife of hostage Thomas Sutherland offered today to act as intermediary between the U.S. government and the Islamic Jihad organization which holds him and two other Americans captive.

Jean Sutherland, who works at the American University of Beirut, said that she hoped to be contacted by members of Islamic Jihad as a first step to "open the door for a dialogue between the two sides."

She said she would go to the United States soon and hoped to meet with U.S. officials involved in the hostage case.

Peggy Say, sister of American hostage Terry Anderson, on Monday issued an appeal to Islamic Jihad in which she asked the group whom they wanted to negotiate with and offered to go to Beirut.

Candidates' offices swap charges

AUSTIN — With authorities investigating the alleged bugging of Bill Clements' political strategist's office, the two gubernatorial campaigns are swapping charges about possible motives for the incident.

"If that electronic device has been in place and in operation, then our campaign is literally an open book. That information would be of tremendous benefit to the competition," said Reggie Bashur, spokesman for the GOP gubernatorial candidate.

"They're talking about who would have something to gain from this, I think they would — by trying to distract attention from the race right now," said Mark McKinnon, spokesman for Democratic Gov. Mark White.

A law enforcement official, who declined to be identified by name, told some reporters that if the Clements security firm hadn't turned off the listening device, it might have been possible to trace its origin. "Our investigative options were extremely limited," the official told the Dallas Morning News.

CIA accused of link to base crash

WASHINGTON — The CIA contracted with civilian air transport firms in an unsafe plan to ferry men and supplies to rebels fighting in Nicaragua, resulting in two crashes in the past week, a congressman said.

U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-San Antonio, on Tuesday called for a House investigation into links between the CIA and the air transport companies and asked Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger to respond to the charges. A plane that crashed early Saturday at Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio was owned by Southern Air Transport, a Miami-based company which Gonzalez said has a history of CIA involvement.

The three-man crew aboard the Lockheed 100 Hercules L-382G, a civilian version of the C-130 cargo plane, died when the aircraft struck a hangar and the Base Operations Building shortly after takeoff.

Drinking death investigation begun

AUSTIN — University of Texas officials have started questioning pledges and members of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity in an investigation of the alcohol-related death of a pledge.

The Austin American-Statesman reported Tuesday that the 18-year-old Mark Seeberger of Dallas, who died after drinking some 18 ounces of rum, had been handcuffed and told to drink when he and two other pledges were taken on a fraternity ride in an automobile.

Quoting unnamed sources, the newspaper said Seeberger had one hand cuffed to the roof of a van and was ordered to drink with his free hand Sept. 17, the night before his body was discovered in his dorm room.

Seeberger, of Dallas, was found dead in his dormitory room on Sept. 18.

The Travis County medical examiner has ruled that Seeberger died of alcohol poisoning.

Brown said Tuesday the interviews are part of a "preliminary investigation" by the university into Seeberger's death.

Schools face food shipment delays

LUFKIN — East Texas public school officials say they are having to buy food to meet their schools' needs even though government-promised food sits in a local warehouse.

But Wayne Kuykendall, coordinator of the state food program, said the supplies at a Lufkin warehouse are for government food programs, not just the school lunch program.

"It is a presumption on somebody's part to say that the food for this program is sitting in the warehouse," he said, adding that the warehouse commodities make up only 20 percent of what local school districts need.

He said the Texas Department of Human Resources submits requests on the basis of the orders received, but food shipments sometimes are late.

The food distribution system, begun this school year, utilizes a centralized allocation system through a computer in Austin. It's the computer which school food directors are blaming for the delays and shortages.

Anti-abortion center found guilty

FORT WORTH — An assistant attorney general said a jury's finding that an anti-abortion center violated Texas' deceptive trade practices law should send a signal to similar clinics across the nation.

By an 11-1 vote Tuesday, a jury found that the Pregnancy Problem Center near downtown Fort Worth willfully deceived pregnant women by advertising that made it appear the center was a facility where they could go to get abortions. In state civil cases, at least a 10-2 vote is necessary for a decision.

Women who asked over the telephone if they could have an abortion performed at the center were told they could, center director Chuck Pelletier admitted during the trial.

However, women arriving at the center were shown graphic anti-abortion film, were asked personal questions about their sex life, and attempts were made to persuade them against having an abortion.

Operators of the anti-abortion center were ordered to pay a $39,000 fine and $69,000 in legal fees for violation of Texas' deceptive trade practices law.

Adkins says God spoke to him

DALLAS — On Feb. 13, 1980, when he was aboard a light plane that developed mechanical trouble over New Mexico, God first spoke to him, telling him to become a candidate for president, Gordon Adkins says.

A "small, still, inner voice" said, "Fear not, for that which is occurring I am allowing for you to go to (a friend) and tell him I've instructed you to announce for the highest office in the land," said Adkins, who lives in Dallas.

Initially, he had interpreted God as wanting him to be elected in 1980, but the voice returned to him later with a campaign slogan, "The White House will be mine in '89." Adkins, who will be 50 later this month, is the only candidate of the People's Party, a name also provided by God, he said.

If elected, Adkins promises to:

- Eliminate all defense spending, because God instructs us all to love our neighbors;
- Remove most women from the work force — some belong, he said, but most should be home taking care of their children;
- Make public welfare a function of churches instead of government.

Channel fire

A fire continues today on the Barge Hollywood 3003 after two explosions rocked the barge left seven people injured Tuesday. A man knocked off a nearby tanker when the barge exploded is still missing, officials said. The barge was loaded with methyl tertiary butyl ether, a gasoline additive.

Girl Scouts to have garage sale

Senior Girl Scout Troup #36 will have a garage sale, 4007 Wasson Dr., on Oct. 11.

Proceeds from the fundraiser will be used by the girls to visit the Girl Scout World Center, Our Chalet, in Switzerland during their senior year in 1988.

The trip has been a long term goal for the troop and their leaders, Debbie Burrow and Joan Rock, since the Junior Girl Scout troop was formed in 1980. Each girl is responsible for earning enough money to pay her own way.

To accomplish this task, there has been and will be a variety of fundraising projects each year. Some of the projects have included car washes, bake sales, garage sales and booths at the Heart of the City Festival and the Crossroad Stampede.

Donations for the garage sale will be accepted and appreciated. For more information call 263-4992 or 263-8962.

DEAR ABBY: Almost five years ago we suffered the loss of our newborn baby. I later called the hospital, hoping the photographer had been there before he died, but was told, "We take pictures only of the healthy babies, not the 'sick ones in case they die.'" (They are the ones that should be taken first, in case they do die!) We grieved not only for the baby but also because we didn't even have a picture of him to keep. Then one day a picture arrived in the mail unexpectedly — a nurse had taken one, and a doctor who knew we had been asking about it sent it to us. How elated we were, and how grateful to that dear nurse!

Dear Abby

babies who died, but nobody thought to take one.

If you would print this, Abby, it might mean that hundreds of families will have pictures of their babies who might not otherwise. They, too, will be grateful to nurses and to you. Sincerely, inherited from each of us. Otherwise we'd never know he had his father's chin and long, tall body, and my eyes and poker-straight hair, or that his little toe was crooked.

ELSIE SIEBEN,
BROCKTON, MASS.

TO AN UNKNOWN NURSE

The picture has allowed us to see ourselves in our child as we would have done for a lifetime had he lived; without your thoughtfulness, that chance would have been lost to us forever. You have acknowledged our precious baby, and in so doing you have given us a priceless gift we will treasure for the rest of our lives. Thank you, nurse!

A Very Grateful Mother

DEAR ELSIE: Thank you for sending me that letter to share with my readers. It could bring everlasting joy to countless mothers who left the hospital with empty arms and heavy hearts.

(For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send a check or money order for $2.50 and a long, stamped (30 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 38823, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

I have written the following to her, not only to thank her, but also to encourage other nurses in newborn nurseries to do the same. (A picture can always be left in the baby's file if he dies, and if the parents don't want it right away, it would be there for them if they changed their minds later.) We have met many parents now who'd give anything for a picture of their

Three ways 'not' to lose weight

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am 23 years old and for the last few years I have been taking a lot of diet pills, diuretics, and laxatives (among others things) to help me lose weight. My concern is about the laxatives. Can laxatives help you lose weight? I don't see any harm in them, really? Can they be harmful or can you get an addiction to them? I just can't seem to stop and I'm too embarrassed to ask my doctor about this, I'm afraid, and I thought it might help relieve some tension knowing all was OK. — V.L.M.

Dr. Donohue

I'm afraid I can't offer much comfort, V.M. You've chosen three methods (at least) of losing weight, and everything, probably including the part involving the "other things" you refer to, is wrong and unhealthy. You must stop all of them, at least those you mention. I'm not going to dwell on the diet rying food through your digestive tract so fast that your intestines don't have time to absorb its nutrients — proteins, minerals and, yes vitamins. You are building toward a nutritional disaster, if you are not there already.

Chronic laxative use can upset the natural rhythmic contractions (peristalsis) of the digestive tract. Perhaps this is what you mean when you say you can't seem to stop them. For with time, the muscles of the tract lose their vigor through disuse. They get lazy.

pills or diuretics for now except to say that you're not losing any fat with either of those. I will focus on the laxative abuse.

If you do lose weight with laxatives it's at the expense of your body's total nutrition. You are hur-

My advice is that you break down and tell your doctor what you've been doing. He can help you through the period of bowel retraining that most certainly will be needed to get your digestive tract back in working order.

Lean Cream: Half the fat and all the flavor

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

Lean Cream has half the fat and a third fewer calories than regular sour cream, but all the delicious flavor.

In this week's recipe exchange, I have included some recipes that feature Lean Cream. It'll be more fun eating sour cream when you know you're cutting down on calories, but not on flavor.

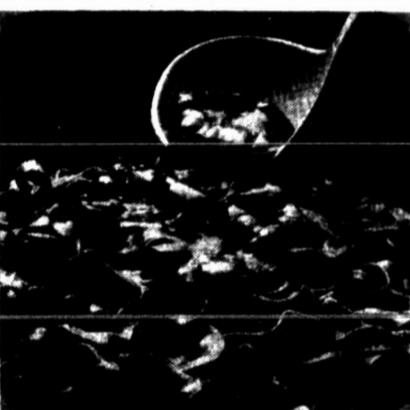

Recipe exchange

FRESH N'CREAMY FRUIT DIP

8-oz. carton Land O Lakes Lean Cream
2 tbsp. Grand Marnier or orange liqueur
Brown sugar, if desired
Fresh fruit dippers

In small bowl stir together Lean Cream and Grand Marnier. Cover, chill 2 to 3 hours. If desired, sprinkle with brown sugar, serve with fresh fruit (apples, pears, nectarines, grapes, strawberries.)
Yield: 1 cup.

Steers center a 'Charlie Hustle'

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

When Big Spring Steers' senior center Charlie Ogle started on the offensive line as a sophomore two years ago, he had a problem. Ogle, it seems, had a temper.

"I got real frustrated and got down on myself, but I kind of got rid of that last year. But when I did get mad, I focused it on getting the job done," Ogle said.

Ogle began that fateful season at 201 pounds, though he said he was the "marshmallow type." Before season's end, Ogle had sweated off the marshmallow and trimmed to a svelter 167 pounds. For an offensive lineman, maybe that wasn't so good.

"It was real rough — a game of survival. Back then, I played a lot of guys that outweighed me by 90 pounds. I'm glad that's over," said Ogle. He added that one of his most often used blocking techniques that year was the offensive hold.

"I got beat on quite a bit. But the thing it taught me is not to quit, to always try, and that helps me now."

This year Ogle doesn't need to grab opponents' jerseys to keep them from Steer ballcarriers. He has evolved from the 167 pound sophomore who could bench press 200 pounds into a 210 pound senior who can bench press 330 pounds and manhandle defenders.

As a junior, Ogle bench pressed 220 pounds. Needless to say, he worked hard on the weights in the offseason. Ogle's offensive line coach, Scott Knippa, said hard work is just second nature for his veteran center.

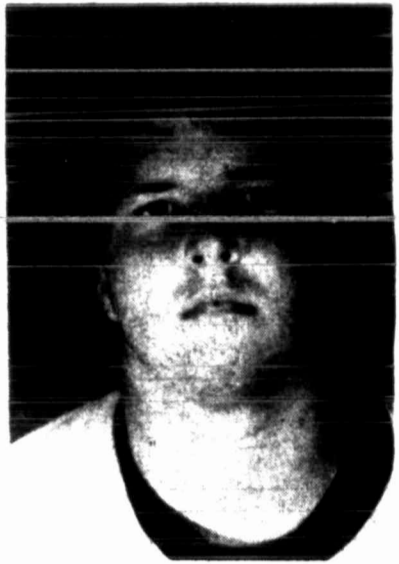

"Charlie gives great effort in practice, no matter what he's doing. Charlie has one speed, and that's full speed," Knippa said, and was interrupted by head coach Quinn Eudy, who wanted to talk about Ogle.

"Charlie leads by example. Number one, he gives great effort. Two, he doesn't blow assignments — he's extremely intelligent. And three, Charlie's got quick feet and understands our blocking assignments. We ask him to do a lot more things than most centers. We take advantage of his abilities."

Ogle agreed that hard work, rather than incredible quickness or great strength, is the key to his game.

"My strength is never giving up, always trying, always going to the whistle, never giving up on a block. If I get knocked down, I can still crab and keep him from making the tackle.

"This year, we don't have to keep the holes open as long, because they (the Steer backs) hit the holes quick. We can go on downfield and find somebody else," Ogle said.

...Steers' senior center

The three year starter said last year's offensive line was a good one, though he believes this year's front of Mark Gomez, Matt Burrow, John Moore, John Myer, Kyle Carrol and himself is a little better.

Ogle said one of the reasons for the improvement in this year's offensive line is the competition they get in practice. He said the Steers' defensive line is "strong", and is a big factor in the offensive front's success so far this year. He doesn't say it, but the defensive line certainly gains in the deal as well.

As the center, Ogle battles the Steers' all-district nose guard Todd Coker every day, and according to Ogle, the two have some wars. It's a competition that keeps both sharp, and maintains a high level of intensity at practice.

"Today I got the best of him, but he'll come back and get me — we usually trade off," Ogle said, smiling about his battles with his practice partner.

Ogle said he would love to play college football, and would play anywhere that gave him a scholarship. Grades won't be a problem, because Ogle's report card is full of A's and B's, with C's as rare as the occasional algebra class.

But before Ogle starts worrying about which college he'll attend, he wants to take care of the business at hand. Specifically, he wants to take care of Lamesa.

"I've had enough losing for two years. It's my turn to win," the senior center said. No longer a marshmallow, Charlie Ogle is ready to block the Steers to the division championship.

Booster Club plans trip

The Big Spring Steers' Booster Club will sponsor a bus leaving the high school at 6 p.m. for Friday night's game against Lamesa. The cost of the trip is $3, and all students and fans are urged to participate.

The Booster Club also requested everyone going to Lamesa to wear black and gold. A spokesperson for the club also said there will be a caravan of cars following the bus to Lamesa. Persons in the caravan are urged to decorate their cars.

Boxing club preps for tournament

The Big Spring Boxing Club, located at front entrance of Industrial Park in building 625, is asking all club members to come and train for the upcoming tournament in San Antonio.

Training hours are from 6-8 p.m. weekly, and from 10 a.m.-noon and 1-3 on Saturdays.

For more information call Zeke Valles at 263-6023 or Joe Martinez at 267-4365. The boxing club number is 267-9013.

Special Olympic bowling tourney

Highland Lanes will be the site of a bowling tournament Saturday, Oct. 11 for Area 18 Special Olympics teams. The tournament will be from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Teams from Big Spring, Stanton, Odessa, Midland and Ft. Stockton will be competing. A parent reception is also planned along with a bowling clinic, which will be conducted by a professional bowler.

Stanton Classic rescheduled

The Stanton Fall Men's Classic Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament rained out last weekend, has been rescheduled for this weekend.

Entry fee is $100 per team and the first five teams will receive team trophies. There will also be awards for an all-tournament team, MVP, golden glove and sportsmanship.

To enter, call Robbie Dickenson at 756-3240 (home) or 756-268 (work).

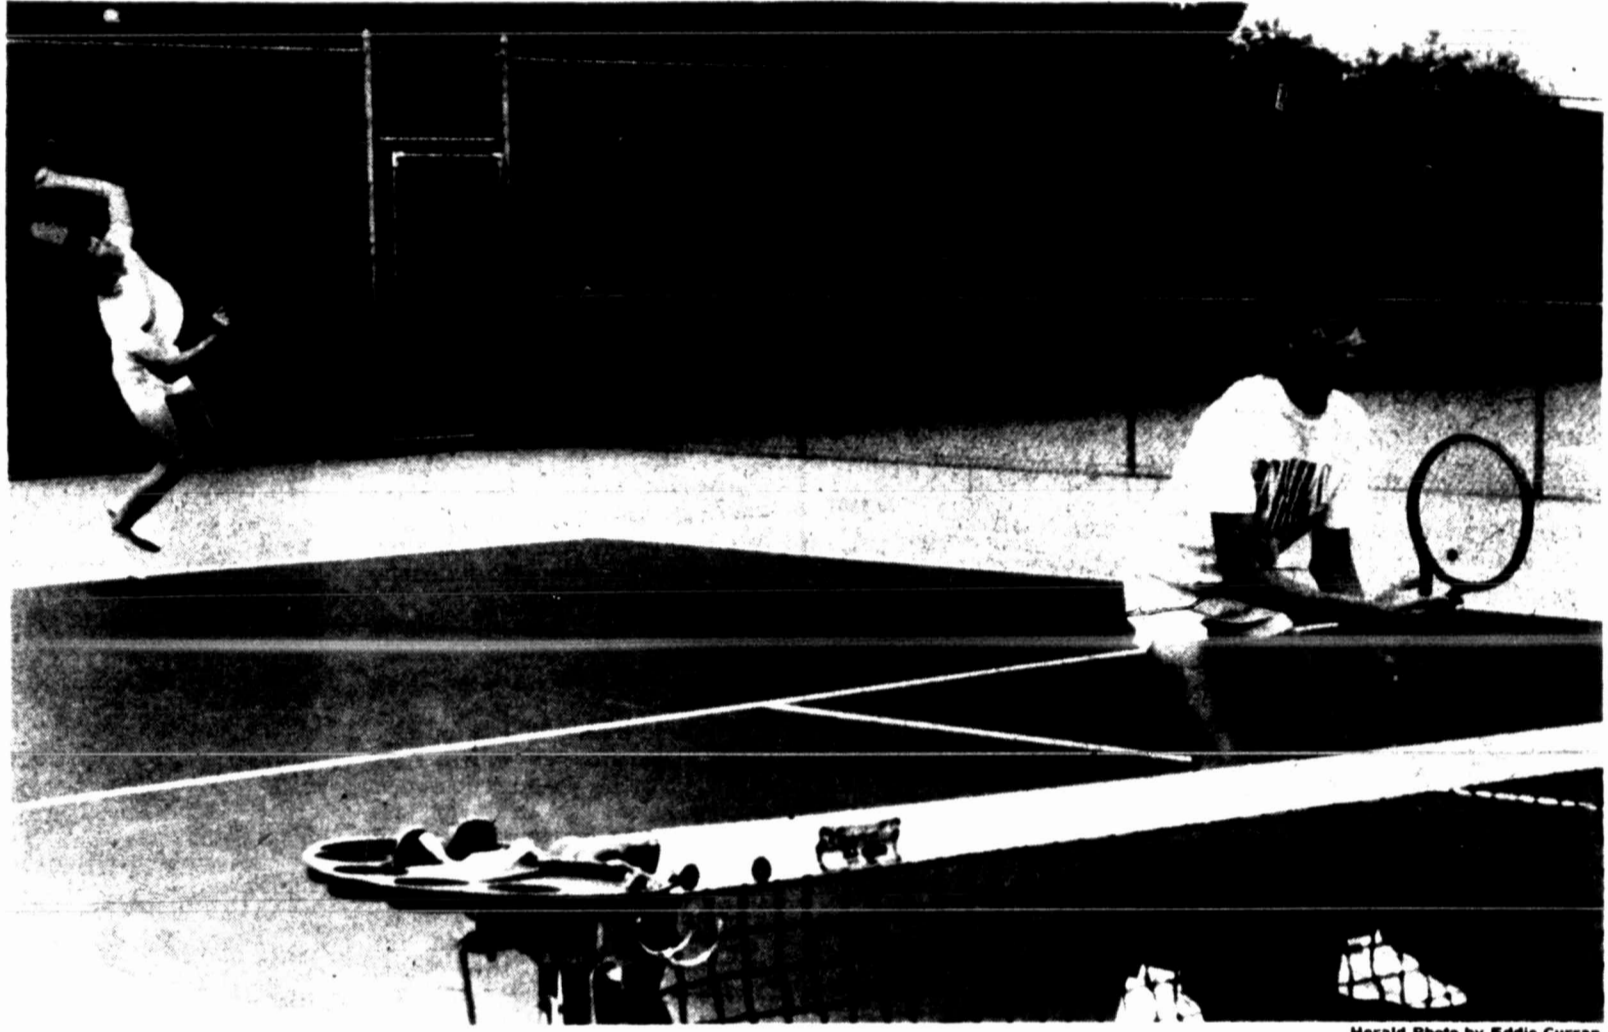

City golf championship on tap

The Big Spring City Golf Championship will be Oct. 11-12 at Comanche Trail Golf Course.

Entry fee is $30, but juniors will be allowed to play free. Divisions include men, women, seniors and boys and girls junior. All divisions will be flighted.

Entry deadline is Thursday, Oct. 9 at 5 p.m. According to golf Comanche Trail Golf pro Al Patterson, the tournament will be cancelled if entries don't pick up.

For more information call Patterson at 263-7271.

Awaiting serve

Big Spring Steers' tennis player Binky Tubb waits on doubles partner Aaron Allen's serve Tuesday afternoon at Figure 7 Tennis Center. Tubb and Allen, the Steers' number two doubles team, defeated Lamesa's number two team 6-0, 2-0. For more results, see Scoreboard, page 4-B.

Sooners favored by 24 over Longhorns

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — When Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer leads his sixth-ranked football team down the Cotton Bowl ramp on Saturday to play Texas, it will mark the 21st time he has taken part in the game.

Not much has changed during the years.

"Bevo's changed," Switzer said Tuesday in reference to Texas' famous longhorn mascot. "And I'm sure we've changed a few horses" in the Sooner Schooner.

"Nothing else has changed other than the records of the two teams." The oddsmakers disagree, having made Oklahoma a 24-point favorite. The Sooners enter the game with a 3-1 record after three convincing victories and a loss to top-ranked Miami. Texas is 2-1, having lost to Stanford and squeaked past Missouri and Rice.

Switzer said point spreads mean nothing, particularly this week.

"We were favored by four or five against Miami and lost by 12," he said at his weekly media luncheon. "I look at film of last year's game and I get scared. I look at it and say that guy's back, that guy's back, that guy's back, that guy's back."

tempts while Meirhoff had nine kills in 12 attempts. Most of the kills were executed because of the consistent setting of the 5-6 McQueen.

When Azuna and Meirhoff weren't nailing kills, Lorina Archuleta and Lucy Ayala were. Archuleta was four of eight and Ayala was a perfect five-of-five. As a team Pecos downed 28 of 48 kill attempts for a sizzling 58 percent. On the other hand, Big Spring was 10 of 41 for 24 percent.

Not that Big Spring wasn't getting on the offensive. Sheri Myrick, Katrina Thompson and Michelle LeGrande hit some hard shots at the visitors, but most of the time Pecos managed to return the ball, as indicated by its 12 blocks, eight by Azuna.

Myrick was Big Spring's leading spiker, downing three of 14 attempts, to go along with her three blocks. Cary Brooks and LeGrande had two kills each.

"You can't hit anything down on them," said Stone of Pecos' defense. "They play defense so well they pick just about all our spikes up."

Nikki Rodriguez served the first point of the match in the opener as Big Spring took a 1-0 lead. After that, it was all Pecos. Azuna got hot and downed six of her first nine spike attempts and Pecos jumped out to a 9-1 lead. From that point the Eagles disposed of the home team in just 10 minutes.

In the second match Big Spring played even better. It started out as a match of long volleys and the Lady Steers held their own. Hale served two points and Rodriguez, who hustled all over the court, served another as Big Spring took a 3-0 lead.

Pecos crept back into the match, tying it up at 4-4 and stretched it to 9-4 behind the service of Yvonne Acosta. From then on the Eagles outscored the Lady Steers 6-1 to win the match.

"Overall our girls played well. I'm not upset with them at all," said Stone. "It was the first game of the second half of play and they really wanted to win this one. They were really disappointed. I told them if they play the rest of their games as intense as this one, we'll do all right."

The Lady Steers are 2-7 in district play and 6-13 overall. PECOS MAKES IT A SWEEP. The Eagles made it a sweep by winning the freshmen and junior varsity games.

Pecos won the frosh contest 15-9, 15-6. The Lady Steers fall to 3-12. Pecos won the JV game 15-5, 15-4. Big Spring falls to 4-5 in league play and 8-9 overall.

The Freshmen, JV and varsity will be in action Saturday afternoon in Steer Gym against San Angelo Lake View. Freshmen action starts at 1 p.m.

Landry says Redskins' rivalry not the same without Allen

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Tom Landry doesn't particularly miss George Allen but he believes the rivalry between the Dallas Cowboys and Washington Redskins does.

"Joe Gibbs is just too nice a guy," Landry says of the current Washington coach. "We always get fired up for Washington. We had some great games back in the 1960s but it (the rivalry) is not quite the same without Allen."

Allen often was accused of spying on the Cowboys when he was the Redskins' coach.

"It's still a good rivalry," Landry says. "Maybe it's not as intense as it once was but it's still a big game when we play them."

The 3-2 Cowboys meet the 5-0 Redskins at noon CDT Sunday in a critical NFC East showdown at Texas Stadium.

Both teams are banged up. The Cowboys aren't certain about their starting lineup. Landry said on Tuesday defensive tackle Don Smerek will be activated. Smerek, who hasn't played this year because of a severely sprained knee, will start in Randy White's position should the All-Pro's hamstring pull fail to respond.

"Randy doesn't have a defect in the hamstring pull and could be ready to go on Sunday," Landry said. "We worked Smerek in pads last week but he was very rusty. It could take him a while to get into a groove."

Quarterback Danny White has a pulled groin muscle that caused him to miss Sunday's 29-14 loss to Denver.

"We just don't know Danny's status," Landry said. "He has trouble just setting up to throw a pass. We'll work with (Steve) Pelluer. He did a remarkable job against Denver. He'll be better this week and shouldn't have many problems against Washington."

Running back Tony Dorsett, who also didn't play against the Broncos because of a sprained knee and ankle on the same leg, will put on a knee brace in practice this week.

"We're not sure it will work," Landry said, "but Tony is getting better. He has a chance to play."

"It's not an ideal circumstance to be playing an unbeaten team without your starting quarterback and tailback."

The Cowboys lost defensive back Victor Scott for at least eight weeks with a dislocated wrist but Landry said there would be no move to sign Dexter Clinkscale, who refused to report to camp.

"We'll go with the seven defensive backs we have," Landry said. "We're trying to get Clinkscale a job somewhere else."

Spurs whip Mavs 115-95

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (P) — In the NBA's first exhibition game of the season, the San Antonio Spurs defeated the Dallas Mavericks 115-95 Tuesday night in a contest that featured heavy substitutions on both sides. The game marked the head coaching debut of the Spurs' Bob Weiss, who was assistant to Dallas Coach Dick Motta last season. Tyrone Corbin, Alvin Robertson and Mychal Thompson scored 12 points each for San Antonio. Rolando Blackman led the Mavericks with 14. The Spurs used 17 and the Mavericks 15.

Preventative measures save lives

By TINA STEFFEN

No one wants to see their house go up in smoke.

Fire prevention measures will not guarantee one against having a fire; however, they will help safeguard against the possibility.

Therefore, fire prevention is important at all times, said local fireman E.G. Miller and Fire Chief Carl Dorton.

Prevention measures are simple to perform and also will make fighting a fire easier.

An important fire prevention measure is to plan at least two fire escape routes for your home, even if it means busting out windows. Make sure that everyone in the family, including the very young children, knows how to get out, Dorton said.

When planning the routes and informing the family, stress where family members must meet outside the house during a fire, such as by a car, the neighbor's home or a tree, he noted. This ensures all are accounted for.

"The first thing firemen ask when arriving at a fire is if anyone is still in the home. Firemen will remove people first, then fight the fire," explained Dorton.

Homes and buildings with more than one floor need rope-type ladders or some secondary exit from the upstairs to be used for fire escape, Miller said.

A neat home helps fire prevention, Dorton said.

Fires in neater homes are easier to fight and escape from, he added.

Dorton said clothes should be put away and not piled up on the floor; closets should be kept neat; oily rags should be kept in containers; papers should be kept from furnaces and fireplaces; screens should be kept in front of fireplaces, and objects should be kept out of pathways.

"Keep all flammable items stored in a completely separate building from the house and children," Dorton said, suggesting a storage building unattached to the home.

Also, maintain fire extinguishers in the home and know how to use them, he added.

Fire extinguishers are simple to use, Dorton said.

"Have one inside the door to the kitchen, utility room and accessible to any storage room."

"A lot of people say you don't know how bad it is to have a fire until you've had one," Dorton said. Although insurance normally covers possessions, it is impossible to replace lives and personal things.

"Lights left on in closets often cause fires," Dorton warned.

Things tend to accumulate on the closet shelves, and sometimes something falls against the closet light bulb. It will take a little while for a fire to start this way, he said, but it does happen.

When anyone is ever in doubt about a burning smell, a short in the wiring, or smoke in the house, Dorton said it is best to call the fire department.

Smoke and heat detectors do not prevent fires, but can help avert extensive damage and loss of lives during a fire, Dorton said.

"Smoke inhalation is the leading cause of death in all fire incidents. The actual fire kills very few people."

Ninety-nine percent of what smoke is derived from is carbon monoxide and carbon dioxide, he reported.

Carbon monoxide is a poisonous gas. Although carbon dioxide is not poisonous, it does not allow oxygen to get to a person's respiratory system, he explained.

Smoke detectors are the leading product for in-home use, Dorton said. They are inexpensive and easy to install and maintain.

The average home should have two or three smoke detectors, a cost of $30 to $40, he estimated. When purchasing a smoke detector, select one that has UL approval and/or the Fire Marshall's office of the State of California's approval, he recommended. Their approval standards are based on the National Fire Protection Association's standards.

Smoke detectors have two ways to check the battery's operation ability: a touch test, and a periodic beeping when the battery is low. These procedures are built-in to remind the owner to replace the battery.

Smoke will often set off a smoke detector before the heat will set off a heat detector. In places where there are many smokers or where it's naturally smoke filled, a heat detector may be a more practical choice.

Dorton suggested using a heat detector in the den and a smoke detector in the hall adjacent to bedrooms in a home with this situation.

About two years ago, Texas passed a law requiring smoke detectors to be installed in every place there is a bedroom in hotels, motels, and rental property. The smoke detector doesn't have to be in the bedroom, Dorton said, but accessible to the bedroom.

"I recommend smoke detectors in all (home) cases, but I understand cases where smoke detectors can't be used, such as those places where heat detectors are more practical. But use it in conjunction with a smoke detector."

Smoke detectors make excellent Christmas gifts, Dorton said. Several types are on the market. Electric smoke detectors do not function if the electricity goes off during a fire, so he recommends 9-volt battery models.

To use smoke detectors in the home, Dorton has the following tips:

- Having one smoke detector is good. Having more than one is better. The first detector should be placed in the hallway near the bedrooms. The second one should be placed in a room adjacent to the kitchen and fireplace areas. Additional detectors should be spread throughout the home where the resident feels comfortable with them, such as each bedroom.

- A kitchen is not a good place for a smoke detector. Smoke detectors are often triggered while people are cooking, thus becoming a nuisance. Place the detector in an adjacent room to the kitchen.

- Place detectors as close to the ceiling as possible. Also, do not sleep with doors closed if a smoke detector is located in the hall and not in the bedrooms.

Ann Richards says involvement is key

By SPENCER SANDOW

To have a positive influence in matters that affect them, women must make the effort to get involved in government and business, said State Treasurer Ann Richards.

Richards spoke Saturday morning at the annual Women's Conference at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, sponsored by the Blue Blazers division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Women must stop being just spectators and get involved, she said. Even if this generation doesn't see the benefit of it, "our daughters will."

"It's more than a coincidence that things that concern the family have come into the spotlight when women are represented in greater numbers in Washington, not just in Congress, but in the press and other areas, she said.

She said there's no substitute for the power to influence and change that comes from being president of a company or governmental entity, because that's where policies and laws are produced.

Richards said she was married 30 years before running for office, and has raised four children.

Things that are now taken as a matter of course, such as women athletes, didn't exist when she was growing up, she said.

"We saw government, business, commerce, profession as something alien, for the men-folks," she said, but those things influence women's lives every day. In addition, she said, women's sociological training is to withdraw, even when offered the chance of leadership.

But, she added, if anyone ought to be involved in business, government and politics, women should.

"It's the one natural ability and the one piece of training we get as young girls that's absolutely pervasive in public life," she said.

"The higher I go in politics, the more I'm exposed to business, the more like a PTA fundraiser it gets," she said. "There are just more zeros added. It's a matter of establishing a goal and getting together the money to accomplish it."

If women are willing to take the risk and invest the money and effort, they can achieve, she said.

"You can do it with the innate intelligence and the ability you already possess; and it doesn't take any magic," she said.

In addition, she said, women can contribute a different point of view because their experiences have been different.

For example, she has been in the hospital four times, when she bore her four children, but her husband never has been, she said.

Gail Earls, 4016 Parkway, speaks to State Treasurer Ann Richards following the Saturday morning Women's Conference at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

"We've heard so much about 'women's issues', as if those are the only things we're interested in," she said. But health care, retirement, education, employment, safe communities, crime, taxes, transportation, and clean air and water, to name a few, are also "women's issues," she said.

Other Bourbons are just distilled. W.L. Weller is bred.

In Kentucky we nurture W.L. Weller every step of the way. We use only naturally-filtered limestone water and the finest grains. Then, to ensure smoothness, we add a touch of American wheat. The result is a Bourbon with the lineage of a champion since 1849, a hand-made Kentucky sour mash that's bred for greatness.

16-year-old entrepreneur Robbie Wilbanks is co-owner and manager of Poster Fantasies, recently opened at Big Spring Mall.

Poster Fantasies opens

Fast cars, pretty girls and slinky jungle cats stare from the walls, along with unicorns and other fantasy designs at Poster Fantasies. The store opened Sunday at Big Spring Mall, next to the Candie Shop. Poster Fantasies is owned by 16-year-old entrepreneur Robbie Wilbanks and his father, Bob Wilbanks. Young Wilbanks manages the store in the afternoon, after he is dismissed from school. The store sells laser prints, which have the appearance of a photograph, and regular prints, which appear more like paintings. Posters are available plain, or they can be mounted, framed under glass, or mounted and framed, Robbie Wilbanks said. Mounting protects the poster, he said. It takes about a week, because it must be done in Midland, he said, but soon he hopes to have his own mounting machine. Poster Fantasies can mount customers' personal posters or photographs, he said. Catalog orders are also available. The store is open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Business briefs

• Patty Sisson has become assistant manager of Gordon's Jewelry at Big Spring Mall.

Sisson comes to Gordon's from Zales Jewelers, where she has been employed for 18 years, the last five as manager. "I'm really enjoying it," she said of her new position. Sisson said she left Zales because of a disagreement with the management.

• David Mitchem, owner of Mitchem & Son Wrecker Service, has purchased a Rollback wrecker, which, he says, provides damage-free auto towing.

The Rollback is designed so that the car rests on top of it. "You don't drag the car down the road; you haul it," he said. "It's fairly new on the market."

Mitchem has been in business in Big Spring since 1976, when he retired from the military. He also owns Mitchem Auto Sales, Mitchem Transport and Big Spring Taxi.

• Clint and Mary Hollomon, owners of the Medicine Shop, are taking on a new management partner. Stan Morgan will be managing the shop and buying it over a nine-year period, Clint Hollomon said.

Morgan has been operations director of Medicine Shop International, based in St. Louis, for four years. Before that, he was an area manager of Southland Corp. for seven years. Hollomon said Morgan hopes to eventually acquire about eight Medicine Shops.

"Mary and I plan to take some more time off and do some things we've always wanted to, but haven't had time," he said. But he stressed the two will still be involved with the Medicine Shop. Hollomon also is looking for an additional pharmacist. He has owned the shop since 1979, when it opened.

• Farris McDonald, manager of Anthony's in Big Spring, won a Caribbean cruise for outstanding performance. The store won over 15 other Anthony's stores in sales gain, advertising, inventory control and operations cost.

Snyder and Sweetwater stores also won in their groups, said M.C. Grigsby, major stockholder in C.R. Anthony Co.

McDonald took charge a year ago of the store Grigsby opened in 1941.

• The rig count climbed slightly recently, according to Hughes Tool Co. As of Sept. 29, there were 38 rigs actually making holes in District 8 West Texas, including Howard County. The figure compares to 33 rigs Sept. 22 and 2; and 125 rigs Sept. 30, 1985.

• The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will sell to the highest bidder six mobile home-type buildings, formerly used to house personnel assigned to a radar site associated with Reese AFB.

The buildings are located at Mobile Estate No. 2, Mustang Drive and First Avenue, Andrews. Each building is 24 by 60 feet for a total of 1,440 square feet. The buildings rest on a concrete block foundation, have plywood floors and walls covered with sheet metal on steel frame.

The trailers were built in 1972 and have had their wheels and axles removed. They are being sold unfurnished but with a porch and air conditioner attached. Each must be removed within 45 days of the bid opening. Prospective bidders may view the property by contacting Linda Thomas at 523-3842.

Bid packages can be obtained from the Fort Worth District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, ATTN: SWFRE-MD, P.O. Box 17300, Fort Worth 76102-0300; telephone 817-334-4042.

Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. Oct. 9 in trailer no. 406 located in Mobile Estate No. 2, Andrews.

• Oct. 5-11 is National Employ the Handicapped Week, according to a news release from the Texas Rehabilitation Commission.

The commission helps people with a wide range of disabilities, including spinal cord injuries, mental retardation, mental impairments, epilepsy and other internal disorders, hearing impairments, learning disabilities and orthopedic impairments.

It provides counseling, guidance, medical treatment, job placement assistance, training and other services.

In 1985, it helped 15,312 disabled Texans get jobs. For more information about the commission or about National Employ the Handicapped Week, call the TRC office in Big Spring at 263-3715.

• The public still wants beef in its diet, but prefers a leaner cut, according to a national study on consumer beef preferences.

The study showed that people on the West Coast favor the leaner cuts, while those on the East Coast still prefer choice, grain-fed beef. Those in the mid sections of the country fell in between.

The study also showed a segment of the population would pay more for lean, grass-fed beef.

In recent years ranchers have produced leaner cows through selective breeding. The waste fat of cows in past years was brought on by too much grain feeding, the study said.

Need something repaired? Call the Furniture Doctor

The Furniture Doctor offers repair to wood, metal, modern and antique furniture "from water, fire, and moving damage to complete refinishing from just old age," says Jan Noyes, owner. In the carpenter shop, the Furniture Doctor's staff performs the smallest repair from gluing a chair to manufacturing replacement parts, repairing veneers and turning table and chair legs, stretchers, rungs, and chair backs. They also do sheet case replacement. Jan weaves rush chair seats and repairs minor vinyl damage from burns and tears. In the strip shop, the staff chemically removes paint and varnish finishes from wood and metal.

In the finish shop, the crew sands, stains, seals and finishes or paints all the stripped furniture and new furniture and cabinets. The service also offers minor repairs to furniture in your home. The Furniture Doctor has hard to find specialty hardware for trunks, cedar chests, desk locks, brass hardware and screws, and other antique accessories. For your furniture repair needs, contact The Furniture Doctor at 267-5811. The firm is affiliated with Bob's Custom Woodwork and located at 613 N. Warehouse Road in the Industrial Park. The shop is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. or by appointment.

Gifts, decorations are at Green Acres

Green Acres Nursery is the place to go when selecting Christmas gifts, decorations and greenery this year. "For Christmas, we will have living and cut Christmas trees, silk trees and silk wreath decorations," says Debra Lusk, owner. The nursery also carries a new line of country gift and decorating novelties for the home. Some of these include painted wooden hearts, painted wooden flower boxes, Christmas ornaments, silk hanging baskets and silk floral arrangements. Green Acres offers a friendly, down-home country atmosphere. If you haven't visited the nursery in a while, come by, Debra says. "Things are really changing for the better." Green Acres now has a wider selection of plants and gift items and a full landscape crew. "We are the best tree trimmers in town," Debra adds. Green Acres offers free estimates on landscaping and tree trimming. The nursery also carries Fertilon insecticides and fertilizers for every need with free advice on diseases and nutrient deficiencies. Call and let Debra, Linda or Lila help you with your special needs, gift selections or floral deliveries. Green Acres' number is 267-8932. It's located at 700 E. 17th Street, three blocks east of Goliad. "(Green Acres Nursery) is an out of the way place, but worth the trip," Debra says.
