How's that? Fenway pitching drought

Q. When is the last time a left-handed pitcher for the Boston Red Sox won a World Series game in Fenway Park before Bruce Hurst did it last night? Who was that pitcher?
 A. It hasn't happened since 1918. The pitcher, Babe Ruth, went on to hit a few home runs for the Yankees.

Calendar Smorgasbord

- TODAY
- The Forsan Study Club will have a smorgasbord 6-7:45 p.m. at the high school cafeteria, preceding the football game. The fee is $4 for adults, $3 for students, and $2 for children under 12.
 - A senior citizens' dance will be at 8 p.m. at Industrial Park building 487. It is birthday night, and everyone is urged to bring their favorite dish. The Country Jammers Band will play. Guests are welcome.
 - The Jarvis Christian College Choir from Hawkins will sing Negro spirituals and sacred choral music at 7:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church, 10th and Goliad. There is no charge, and the public is invited.
 - The Merry Mixers Square Dance Club will have a square dance at 8 p.m. at the Square Corral. James Moore will be the caller, and everyone is welcome.
 - The Suez Shrine Temple is having its Fall Ceremonial today through Sunday at the Park Inn. On Saturday, there will be a parade at 10 a.m. starting on 10th and Main.
- SATURDAY
- The official seasonal time change is 2 a.m. Sunday. Clocks should be set back one hour tonight.
 - The annual Coahoma Region 2 high school rodeo begins at 2 p.m. at Coahoma Arena, one mile east of Coahoma. Tickets are $2 for adults, $1 for children under 6.
 - The Suez Shrine Temple will have a Shrine Parade on 10th and Main Streets beginning at 10 a.m.
 - Marcy Elementary School will have its fall carnival. The rooms will be open from 6-9 p.m. and the kitchen from 5-8 p.m. A chili supper will be served. Advance tickets will be sold at 8:30 a.m. Thursday and Friday. Tickets are 30 cents each or four for $1.

- MONDAY
- ALSA is having its second annual haunted house Monday through Friday from 8-11 p.m. at the Howard County Park. The cost is $1 for children and $2 for adults (13 and over). The house will be less scary for children, between 8-9 p.m. All proceeds go to the Howard County Association for Retarded Citizens.

Outside

Partly Cloudy

Partly cloudy skies are in the forecast today and tomorrow with highs in the 70's and the lows in the upper 40's. Winds will be from the north east at 9-10 miles per hour. Skies will be sunny Saturday with highs in the lower 70's.

Commission OKs Highway 87 funds

By SPENCER SANDOW
 Staff Writer

The Texas Highway Commission staff has recommended the funds be expended to widen Highway 87 to four lanes for a two-mile stretch south of Big Spring, commissioner Ray Stoker said.

Stoker was in Big Spring Wednesday to announce the project, which he estimated will cost $2.3 million.

Commissioners must approve the project, he said. They will meet Oct. 29.

Ray Green, public affairs officer for the Highway Department's Abilene office, said it will be at least a year, and probably longer, before a contract can be awarded. That length of time is necessary because it hasn't been determined exactly what kind of roadway would be constructed, he said.

The construction itself may take about a year, he said. If the entire length of the highway from Big Spring to Sterling City were to be upgraded, it would cost about $18 million, he estimated.

Big Springers, under Chamber of Commerce Transportation Committee chairman Arnold Marshall, have been lobbying with state officials to get the project done.

Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce officials, State Rep. Larry Don Shaw (D-Big Spring), and state Sen. John Montford (D-Lubbock) met before the commission in Austin in September to request the upgrade.

Marshall said he's been lobbying for the project for more than 20 years. The existing four-lane highway 87 north of Big Spring was completed in 1964.

"We should call it the Arnold Marshall Memorial Highway," Stoker joked.

The project hasn't been done yet, Green explained, because "we've never been able to justify the traffic volumes."

Stoker said commissioners analyze each highway project on a cost-effective basis, looking at accident and congestion rates.

The two-mile stretch of highway carries approximately 9,000 cars a day, he said.

"When a two-lane gets to 10,000 (cars) a day, we need to think about widening it," he said experts have said.

He suggested local officials proceed in obtaining the right-of-way for the highway, a step that must be taken before highway construction will begin.

County Judge Milton Kirby said about 20-25 land owners will be dealt with in getting the right-of-way.

The two-lane stretch is "dangerous and well-traveled" and upgrading it to a four-lane highway would help the economy by putting people back to work and helping boost tourism, Chamber President John Arrick said last month.

He said county commissioners have agreed to come up with the right of way, which could cost close to $1 million.

An award from the Good Roads Association was presented to Shaw at the luncheon by area chairman Bill Holland "for (Shaw's) work on the highway funding." The award is constructed from a piece of concrete bridge beam, Holland said.

Flood grant awarded

A $650,000 grant has been awarded to the City of Big Spring for repair of Comanche Lake Dam and Goliad Street, both of which were damaged during the Aug. 30 flood.

State Rep. Larry Don Shaw, D-Big Spring, said Wednesday he had received confirmation that Gov. Mark White approved the grant.

The money will be available at the conclusion of negotiations between the city and the Texas Department of Community Development, he said. The funds will be awarded from the department's disaster fund.

Mayor Cotton Mize said he hopes repairs can begin by the first of the year. Engineers estimate the dam can be reconstructed for $800,000.

Mize said that city officials hope "we can get a competitive estimate and get it (the cost) down." He said the engineering firms Freese & Nichols, and Parkhill, Smith & Cooper are bidding.

The mayor estimated another $135,000 would be needed to repair Goliad Street, but added that isn't as high a priority. He doesn't know yet if the state will stipulate the grant must be spent for both the dam and the street, he said.

A breach in the Comanche Lake Dam during uncommonly heavy rains Aug. 30 released approximately two-thirds of the lake's water, which flooded nearby low-lying areas.

The Red Cross estimated 68 homes were damaged in the flood, and a Big Spring woman drowned when flood waters swept her vehicle from Birdwell Lane.

Book sellers

Lucy Alvarado, left, and Shelia Anderson sort through a pile of books, preparing for the library book sale in the basement of the Howard County Library. The sale, of books withdrawn from library use, are available for sale through 4 p.m. today and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Water bills issue given to citizens

By SPENCER SANDOW
 Staff Writer

A committee of 10 citizens will be formed to investigate city water customers' accounts, Mayor Cotton Mize said Thursday.

The committee, whose members haven't yet been named, will include at least five people who have complained about exorbitant water bill charges, he said.

Members should be named this week, he said.

The committee's purpose will be to find out what caused some customers' water bills to double or triple during July and August, he said.

"We're going to make all the information available to them," Mize said.

The City Council decided at Monday's work session not to adjust anyone's rates until the cause of the problem is established, but indicated such a measure would be considered in the future if findings uncover a water system problem.

Mize said the council "worked real hard to try to find the problem" with no luck.

Councilman Russ McEwen at the Monday work session theorized that air in water lines drove up meter readings — a theory which Public Works Director Tom Decell said is "a valid question."

He explained, however, that the system was subject to a massive influx of air during a plant shutdown in late May, which failed to trigger the volume of bill complaints tallied in July and August.

Avery appointed to SSC task force

AUSTIN — Johnnie Lou Avery, a public relations specialist from Big Spring, was named Thursday afternoon to a nine-person task force established by Gov. Mark White. It is to coordinate and inform federal officials of advantageous Texas sites for the Superconducting Super Collider (SSC) research facility.

Several states are vying for the federal project that would be one of the world's foremost research centers in the study of atom particles.

White appointed Avery to serve until Feb. 1, 1987, according to Mary Ryan, assistant to the governmental appointments to boards and commissions. The governor has the option of reappointing her at that date, she said.

Garden City is among the leading state contenders for the project site. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has appointed a task force to further the cause of the Garden City site.

Big Spring considered for second male prison

By DARRELL BERKHEIMER
 Managing Editor

Chances of Big Spring getting a federal females' prison facility at this time appear to be slim or none. Instead, another facility, with a slight increase in jobs potential is being proposed.

Prison Camp Superintendent Anthony L. Belaski said a visit Wednesday by a regional director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons revealed that installation of a Level Two males' facility is under consideration for Big Spring.

Belaski said that could mean 80 to 110 new jobs at Big Spring, with all but about 20 of those jobs being made available to West Texas residents.

He reported earlier that the women's facility suggested for Big Spring would have created about 60 to 80 jobs.

"The women's institution idea was put on the shelf. The location here for females is not that well suited," Belaski said.

"Many are mothers, and one of the problems is the inconvenience of travel" to Big Spring, he reported. Belaski explained that prison authorities and others affected desire that the women's facility be located near a major airport or traffic corridor.

Belaski said the Level Two males' facility being considered for Big Spring would be a separate unit to house about 300 to 400 inmates and would be fenced.

He indicated the prospect of the savings in both time and money in locating a Level Two facility at Big Spring is what interests federal prison authorities.

The facility could be operational in a matter of months rather than three to four years it would take to erect a new facility, he said. In addition, he indicated the renovation of existing buildings could save several million dollars compared to new facility.

Belaski reported that the original idea for a women's facility here came as a result of the anticipated overcrowding at Level Two male prisons.

Current planning, he said, calls for moving the Level One females'

$250 million state agriculture plan proposed

AUSTIN (AP) — The state Department of Agriculture proposed today a $250 million fund as part of an overall plan to revitalize the Texas economy.

A 126-page report released by the department said the proposed plan would "clearly stimulate growth in rural areas" and would "have a tremendous impact on urban areas through increased job creation and the indirect benefits of expanded economic activity."

The Texas Growth Fund would be created out of 1 percent of each of the following state funds: Texas Employees Retirement System, Teachers Retirement System; Permanent University Fund, and Permanent School Fund.

The growth fund, which would require statewide approval of a constitutional amendment, would be divided into three sections:

- $25 million for high-risk venture capital including agricultural businesses.
 - $125 million for "mid-risk," innovative small businesses.
 - $100 million for guaranteed investments, such as treasury bills.
- "The farm crisis is a tragedy but also an opportunity," the report said. "The opportunity it provides is to forge a revitalized and diversified agricultural system that meshes new ideas and technologies with what has proven to be its most efficient economic unit, the independent farm or ranch."

The report said expansion of "alternative crops" mentioned in the report has the potential to generate 25,000 direct jobs, 50,000 indirect jobs and $6.1 billion of additional business for the Texas economy.

Alternative crops are those crops that are not widely produced Texas. They include blueberries; wine and grapes; shrimp; oriental vegetables and kenaf, a "cousin" to cotton.

Other proposals by the agriculture department include:

- Taxable bonds supported by a $20 million state guarantee and supplemented by private guarantees.
- Loans backed by up to $5 million in state certificates of deposit, with a 1:1 match by local banks.

$6.8 million refund may be delayed

Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — The $6.8 million refund of fuel overcharges that West Texas Utilities had hoped to credit on the December bills may not appear until January.

During a prehearing conference Thursday at the Public Utility Commission, commission examiner Paula Pugsley said the refund issue might require a hearing on Dec. 3.

WTU officials said the refund must be approved by the commission by Nov. 21 for it to be included on customers' December bills.

Those attorneys attending the prehearing conference, including representatives for the commission staff and the attorney general's office, promised to work together over the next few days to reach an agreement quickly and make a December refund possible.

However, staff and attorney general representatives said they needed more information from WTU before they could decide whether a hearing will be needed. Utility attorneys said they would try to satisfy those requests in plenty of time so that an agreement might be reached next week.

According to WTU testimony filed at the commission, typical residential customers can expect the refund to provide each of them with a one-time credit of $17, plus a 38 percent cut over the next five months on the fuel portion of their bills.

"We thought it would be a nice Christmas present," said Darwin Breeding, WTU's manager of rates and regulations.

But if a hearing is necessary or if the company, the commission staff and the attorney general's office cannot come to an agreement on the refund by next week, Pugsley said, approval is unlikely until sometime in December.

That means the refund could not be included until the January bill at the earliest, Breeding said.

Chief list reduced to final six

The number of police chief candidates has been reduced to six, City Manager Mack Wofford said this morning. The citizen screening committee met Thursday to reduce the field from 11 candidates.

Wofford said he expects to begin interviews in mid-November, and he plans to name someone to the position in mid-December.

"We're going to have to get with it, in order to do that," he said.

Personnel director Emma Bogard is beginning background checks on the candidates, verifying their resume information. Wofford said that process should be finished by about Wednesday.

Bogard also will be involved in the interview process, he said.

The citizen committee rated the applicants on education, experience and advanced law enforcement certificates, Wofford said earlier.

Originally 33 people applied for the position. The committee pared the applicant list to 20 names, then to 11, before Thursday's meeting.

The committee consists of Pat Porter, Cecilia McKenzie, William B. Allensworth, Tim Blackshear, Jaime Baldwin and Steve Morgan.

The remaining candidates are:

- Keith Burke, 38, police captain at Port Arthur.

- Joe E. Cooke, comptroller of public accounts-criminal enforcement in Austin. He lives in Georgetown.

- Sherrill Farmer, 49, Howard County adult probation officer, Big Spring.

- David Hadiburgh, former chief of police in Shawnee, living now in Killeen.

- Michael Wayne Jez, 35, chief of police at Alvin.

- Charles Oliphant, chief of police at East Texas Baptist University.

Big 'taters

Jim Reese, 1405 Tuscon Rd., holds four giant sweet potatoes he grew on his property in the Oasis addition. Reese said good soil, lots of rain and a fertilizer of Lester Adams' cotton burs helped the big potatoes grow. He said the biggest weighed six pounds. Don Richardson, the Howard County Extension Agent, said sweet potatoes are rare in Howard County.

Sheriff's log

Assault under investigation

John Richard Coffee Jr., 601 Avondale Dr., told Howard County sheriff's deputies Friday morning that four men assaulted him in the Brass Nail parking lot off Highway 87, south of Big Spring.

The alleged assault occurred after a minor accident in the parking lot about 2:10 a.m., according to a sheriff's report.

Deputies released Richard Darrell Clark, 32, no address given, from county jail Thursday morning after he served jail time for fines he owed the county.

- Police transferred Kelly Dawn Bradberry, 18, 622 Caylor, to county jail Thursday morning after she was arrested for suspicion of driving while intoxicated. She was released on $2,000 bond.
- Police transferred Clarence Lee Anderson, 20, of Midland, to county jail Thursday night after he was arrested for burglary of a habitation. He was released on $2,000 bond.

Police beat Theft and damages at local shop

Someone broke into Razzle Dazzle gift shop, 1105 E. 11th Pl., Wednesday night, causing $300 damage to a plate glass window and $20 damage to a display case. Stolen were 35 miscellaneous stuffed animals, valued at $250; a $38 Chinese vase; 10 sweat shirts, valued at $319.50; and two pairs of child's suspenders, valued at $37.99.

- Three rings were stolen from Laurie Jare, 1700 Creighton, between Saturday afternoon and Monday morning. Nicky Jare of that address told police Thursday afternoon. Stolen were a $325 opal ring with two diamonds, a $210 class of 1987 Big Spring High School ring, and a $60 gold promise ring.

- A registered Chinese pug puppy was stolen from Maybell Pavelko, 2517 Fairchild, Wednesday. The 10-week-old puppy, tan with a black face, was taken from the backyard. He is valued at $150.

- An AM/FM cassette stereo was taken from a 1979 jeep owned by Terry White, 617 Holbert, Wednesday night.

- Janie Martin, 3305 Maple, reported the theft of a $125, 19-inch color television and a $50 Panasonic jambox. The theft occurred some time Thursday.

- A $150, 10-speed bicycle was stolen from the front yard of Nancy Twining, 1021 Stadium, between Wednesday and Thursday nights.

- Ricardo Saucedo, 23, 1306 Stanford and Donnie Ray Davis, 17, 2525 Langley, were arrested at 2900 S. Gregg St. Thursday evening on suspicion of theft under $20.

- James Edward Conway, 20, of Borden County was arrested at 2600 Gregg St. Thursday afternoon for driving with no license and failure to maintain financial responsibility.

- Fred Rubio, 21, 621 N.W. Fourth St., was arrested at 2900 W. 16th St. early this morning on a warrant for disorderly conduct.

Weather

Forecast

By The Associated Press

Skies will become partly cloudy in most sections tonight, but fair in the far west, and mostly sunny Saturday. Temperatures will be a little cooler in most areas tonight, and become a little warmer in some sections Saturday. Highs Saturday will range from around 60 in the Panhandle to near 70 in the south, up to 80 in the Big Bend valleys. Lows tonight will be from 40 in the north to 50 in the south and 55 in Big Bend.

State

Showers and thunderstorms were reported in isolated areas of South Texas and West Texas and scattered light rain fell across an area of East Texas near the Louisiana border.

But the rain and shower activity was beginning to diminish, the National Weather Service said and skies were expected to begin to clear from the west Saturday.

Forecasts called for isolated to widely scattered showers of eastern and southern portions of the state through tonight. The rest of the state was to have partly cloudy to cloudy skies and cooler temperatures through Saturday.

Lows tonight will be in the 40s and 50s with a few readings in the 60s in South Texas. Highs Saturday will be in the 70s and 80s.

Nation

Rain from a weak storm system over the Gulf of Mexico fell today from east Texas to the middle and lower Mississippi Valley, Alabama and the western Tennessee Valley.

Locally heavy showers and thundershowers struck parts of Arkansas and Louisiana, while scattered showers fell on the central Plains, the lower Ohio Valley and northern California.

A flash flood watch remained posted for eastern Texas.

Thunderstorms rumbled across parts of New Mexico on Thursday night, producing hail and strong winds. Hail an inch in diameter fell near Artesia.

Heavier rainfall in six hours overnight included 2 inches at Barksdale Air Force Base in Shreveport, La., and Pensacola, Fla.

The northern Plains and Rockies reported fair skies. Skies were clear to partly cloudy across Utah and Arizona.

Today's forecast called for showers and thunderstorms along the western and central Gulf Coast, rain from central and eastern Texas and southeast Oklahoma to the lower two thirds of the Mississippi Valley, the Tennessee Valley, southern Appalachians and parts of the Ohio Valley. Scattered light rain was forecast for the northern Pacific Coast.

Most of the nation was expected to have high temperatures in the 50s or 60s; the 40s over northeast Minnesota, upper Michigan and northern New England.

White said he "finally had an indicator that the Dept. of Energy will make a recommendation to the President about the superconducting super collider by December."

"If Reagan decides to request funding for the multi-billion dollar SSC project for the 1988 fiscal year budget, he would give the go-ahead to Congress in January," White said.

Big Spring businessman Ralph MacLaughlin and state house representative candidate John R. Anderson have lobbied politicians and bureaucrats for the Garden City site.

MacLaughlin has proposed before Dept. of Energy officials that the Garden City site offers the lowest cost for the project at $2.8 billion.

Greenhouse facility dedicated Thursday

The Federal Prison Camp at Big Spring dedicated a new greenhouse facility Thursday with several community officials attending, plus J.D. Williams, director of the Bureau of Prisons' South Central Region.

Assistant Prison Superintendent Lloyd McMillan said the greenhouse is part of the Landscape Technology Program offered at the prison camp.

The landscape class, operated in conjunction with Howard Junior College and taught by Gary B. Tabor, began renovating the old Air Force Base swimming pool facilities in March.

McMillan said a maximum of 15 students are enrolled in the program and each completed a minimum of 1400 hours in order to receive a certificate from Howard College. The course is approved by the Texas Education Agency as a vocational training program, he added.

He said the operation calls for the landscape program to subsidize itself with sales of its products to military installations, other prisons and government agencies.

He said techniques in ornamental horticulture, landscape design and construction, chemical application, and greenhouse management are taught to the inmates on a full-time basis by Tabor.

At least 50 percent of the course includes hands-on experience, and the program provided inmates an opportunity to improve the prison's appearance in addition to learning the skill, McMillan said.

McMillan said the program is financed from the profits of Federal Prison Industries Inc., meaning it creates no cost to the taxpayers.

prisoners will be first time offenders with other aggravating factors, compared with the approximately 70 to 80 percent first-time offenders in Level One units.

None of the Level Two inmates are serious offenders with a history of violence, he said.

The revised proposal for Big Spring would involve the same site — about 60 acres adjoining the south end of the current Federal Prison Camp at the Big Spring Airpark.

As suggested in Belaski's earlier proposal for a women's institution, Webb Bowling Alley would become a dining hall and kitchen, and the former academic hall and consolidated mess hall would be remodeled into inmate dormitories.

Some of the savings in renovations would come through use of inmate labor at the current prison camp, Belaski had said.

The report that Big Spring is being considered for the Level Two men's institution was brought to Big Spring Wednesday by J.D. Williams, director of the South Central Region for the Bureau of Prisons.

Williams was in Big Spring for the dedication of the new greenhouse facility at the prison camp.

Pair: overcrowding is handled wrong

By JANET WARREN
 Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Texas' prison overcrowding could be handled more safely than with a new in-the-front-door, out-the-back release policy, two former prison board members said Thursday.

The prison system is manipulating laws to give more credit to prisoners' sentences to keep the prison population down, they said.

Instead, mentally retarded prisoners could move to a hospital, amputees and paraplegics could be taken out of prison and driving-while-intoxicated convicts could go to motels, said Harry Whittington of Austin, who was appointed to the board in 1979 by then-Gov. Bill Clements.

However, Governor Mark White contends that the policy was implemented at the time the two were on the board.

Whittington and former board Chairman Robert Gunn of Wichita Falls, appointed in 1981, spoke at a Capitol news conference. Both men left the board in 1985. They said they support Clements for governor.

Whittington said Texas prison officials are ignoring the original intent of "good time" laws, which give credit on sentences of well-behaved inmates, just to speed the release of convicts.

"Many people are getting out the day they arrive," Whittington said.

"Nothing is being done right now except turning people out. That is Mark White's solution," Gunn said.

White has decided to "open the back door just as wide as the front door," Gunn said. "If that's a logical and reasonable and fair way to deal with overcrowding, I don't want to live in this state."

White said allegations about good time manipulation are "absolutely false." When Whittington and Gunn were still on the board, a court-ordered prisoner classification plan was implemented governing the amount of good time prisoners can earn, he said. The plan is still in use, White said.

"These are their policies," White said.

White said he is unhappy with early releases but state prisons would have room for about 5,000 more people today if Clements hadn't vetoed a prison.

"We can't get away from whose fault it was," White said.

Gunn advocated a more selective early release program, saying about 30 percent of Texas prisoners could be dealt with in other ways

Delta suits grow

FORT WORTH — Lawyers in dozens of the suits filed against Delta Air Lines in connection with the crash of Flight 191 last year say their clients will seek punitive damages, a move that could boost damage awards by millions of dollars.

Dallas lawyer Windle Turley, head of a committee of lawyers representing families of victims, said the punitive damages are being sought because of what the plaintiffs call Delta's gross negligence in the Aug. 2, 1985 crash at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport. The crash left 137 dead.

Turley said raising the issue of punitive damages makes it almost certain that there will be a trial next year to determine who or what was to be blamed.

AIDS worker shunned

NEEDHAM, Mass. — A telephone repairman shunned by some fellow workers because he is dying of AIDS says he is willing to confront them and any others to discuss their fears.

"I'm willing to make myself available to answer any questions that anyone had," said Paul Cronan, 31.

His comments came Thursday night after the return to work of more than two dozen New England Telephone Co. repairmen who had walked off the job rather than work with him. Four other workers had refused to enter the office they share with the sick man and were given their assignments outside.

Peace March arrives

NEW YORK — The music was reggae instead of rock 'n' roll, but the mood still evoked the '60s as several hundred peace activists arrived at one coast after walking from the other.

The Great Peace March for Global Nuclear Disarmament streamed across a pedestrian walkway of the George Washington Bridge from New Jersey on Thursday.

"When I came over the bridge, I started bawling like a baby. I feel like maybe this time, they'll listen to us," said David Manning, 44, who owns an herb farm in Delray, W.Va., and joined the march in Pittsburgh.

Gunman disillusioned

KENSINGTON, Md. — Clarence Leake's disappointment with the Mormon church sparked his overnight armed takeover of a portion of the massive Mormon Temple outside Washington, D.C., the gunman's father and his former bishop say.

"He's been brainwashed by the Mormon church for years," said Donald Leake, as his son was charged with kidnapping, two counts of false imprisonment. "He supports it heavily but apparently was not progressing enough in their teachings so they dropped him. You know, to a person fairly religious, that can be devastating."

Graca Machel, widow of Mozambique President Samora Machel, rests her head on his coffin as Marcelino dos Santos, second in command in the Frelimo Party, attempts to comfort her Friday. Machel died Sunday in the crash of his plane just 200 yards inside the South African border.

Rumors

South Africa blamed for crash

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — An unattributed paragraph in a small twice-weekly newspaper unleashed worldwide claims that South Africa was responsible for downing a plane carrying President Samora Machel of Mozambique.

The article appeared Monday night in the Lowvelder, a newspaper with a circulation of 8,000 in Nelspruit near the crash site in eastern South Africa.

It noted that "rumors were already doing the rounds ... that the surviving pilot, a Russian, alleged that the aircraft was shot down."

The article referred to the survivor, Vladimir Novoselov, as a pilot, but Mozambican officials said he was the flight engineer. The Soviet pilot of the aircraft was one of the 34 people, including Machel, killed in the crash, they said.

Anti-apartheid groups, the Soviet news agency Tass and neighboring black countries quickly picked up on Novoselov's alleged comments as evidence of South African involvement.

His remarks have become a central issue in the debate on why Machel's plane crashed into a South African hillside Sunday night just a few hundred yards from the Mozambican border.

Referring to claims that Pretoria downed the plane, the government-controlled South African Broadcasting Corp. said Wednesday, "The circumstances of the tragedy provide much too valuable a weapon against South Africa for (its enemies) to be put off by the facts.

"In the present near-hysteria in the international climate, this country has become a legitimate target for the most far-fetched accusations."

AIM, Mozambique's national news agency, quoted Angolan Interior Minister Alexandre Rodrigues as saying, "South Africa had a hand in the crash," and suggested it was capable of forcing Machel's plane off course.

The Lowvelder's report was contained in a page-one editorial, which mentioned the rumors of the plane being shot down but also suggested bad weather or pilot error could have been the cause. It did not quote the Soviet survivor directly. Senior reporter Willie Jooste said the rumor was given to the paper by a Johannesburg aviation journalist, who said he got it from security sources.

South African newspapers picked up the angle and displayed it prominently Tuesday morning, without attributing it to the Lowvelder.

Stripped of its qualifiers, the report that the pilot said he was shot down spread worldwide, along with another survivor's comment, confirmed by South African and Mozambican officials, that there was a sound "like a bang or a shot" in the plane before the crash.

Walesa denied trip

WARSAW, Poland — Polish authorities on Thursday refused to give former Solidarity leader Lech Walesa a passport for a trip to the United States where he was to receive a humanitarian award, a Walesa aide said.

The aide, Wladyslaw Trzcinski, said officials at the Gdansk Interior Ministry told him Walesa had not completed the passport application properly.

Walesa, 43, was invited to the United States by the John-Roger Foundation, a California-based organization that named him one of three recipients of its annual "Integrity" award. The presentation ceremony is in Los Angeles on Friday.

Walesa, who has known about the prize since May, sent Trzcinski to the Interior Ministry on Thursday to request permission to travel to the United States, Trzcinski said.

Jury convicts Hindawi

LONDON — A jury today convicted a Jordanian of trying to blow up an Israeli jetliner with 375 people aboard by planting a bomb in his pregnant girlfriend's luggage.

Judge William Mars-Jones sentenced Nezar Hindawi to 45 years in prison, saying "terrorists can expect no mercy." The sentence means Hindawi will not be eligible for parole for at least 30 years, the Home Office said.

"This country will not tolerate the activities of terrorists," the judge said. "A more cruel and callous deception and a more horrendous massacre it is difficult to imagine."

Syria linked to bomb

London — Syria was ordered to close its London Embassy within 14 days this morning.

Howe announced the British Embassy in Damascus, the Syrian capital, will also be closed.

He said security surrounding the London operations of Syrian Arab Airlines were being tightened.

The foreign secretary said there was evidence Hindawi acted on orders of Syrian intelligence, traveled on a Syrian passport, met the Syrian ambassador immediately after the bomb plot was uncovered at London's Heathrow Airport and stayed in Syrian Embassy accommodations the night of the April 17 bombing attempt.

"There is conclusive evidence of Syrian official involvement with Hindawi," he said. "The whole House will be outraged by the Syrian role in this case."

Hasenfus says innocent

MANAGUA, Nicaragua — The lawyer for Eugene Hasenfus declared to a revolutionary tribunal Thursday that his American client was innocent of terrorism and violating Nicaraguan security.

Soviets appear cannibalistic

The Soviets wanted a summit meeting, so they released a captive American journalist. Then the summit ended prematurely and the Soviets wanted to send a message that they hoped to talk more. So the Kremlin released an ailing Jewish geneticist and his wife.

We're glad that David Goldfarb was given his freedom, but we're not fooled by the gesture. He had to wait seven years. Thousands of others are on emigration lists. Hundreds of thousands dare not apply, for fear of being labeled traitors.

What kind of government keeps human beings as live bait? The Soviets hold a ready supply of suffering and powerless people in captivity, so they can throw one to the West whenever they want to look conciliatory.

The degree of cynicism, anti-humanism and anti-Semitism inherent in this action is so deep that the Soviets don't even think the world sees it. They think they are doing a good deed.

And our open society unwillingly plays into their hands. Goldfarb appears on television and in heart-rending photos. How wonderful. A man in a wheelchair reunited with his handsome son.

How many families remain separated? How many Jews still pray, "Next year in Jerusalem," and never get farther than their dismal Stalinist-era flat?

How many Christians, how many Moslems, how many free thinkers, how many Russians would love to leave Stalag U.S.S.R.?

In 1979, more than 50,000 people were allowed to leave the Soviet Union. Now the number is down to 1,000 emigrants a year.

One more freed family is better than none. But this gesture shows the world that the proletarian Czars do not value human lives in themselves. Cannibal communism consumes individuals as nourishment for the state.

Our country puts precious value on each human life. Our government went to extraordinary lengths to free hostage Nicholas Daniloff because Americans believe that individuals come first, that society is made for them and not vice versa.

If our own safety and the world's didn't depend on it, we should thumb our noses at the Kremlin. But the future of thousands of other prisoners and the safety of the world depend on our skillful negotiation.

The next time our leaders talk, human rights must be put on the table. If the Soviets want to make a meaningful gesture, let them open the gates to all emigrants who want to leave. Until then, no thanks for the cynical gesture, Secretary Gorbachev.

Americans won't swallow live human bait.

Community thanked for support

To the editor: On behalf of Area 18 Special Olympics, I wish to thank and recognize several people, organizations and businesses in this community for their generous support of our recent Special Olympics Bowling Tournament.

These people have unselfishly given of their time, efforts and contributions to assist our local and area handicapped citizens' participation in the tournament. Without their participation and support, our handicapped citizens would not be able to enjoy their rewards.

I also thank the Brunswick company for donating part of the money for souvenir shirts for our athletes. State Representative Larry Don Shaw and Mayor Cotton Mize gave their valuable time to present awards and visit with parents and athletes. Mr. Shaw and Mr. Mize have shown us they truly care by supporting our local and area program in the past, and that they are very interested in the future of Special Olympics.

Coca-Cola and Southland Corp. provided lunch for our athletes. And thank you to First Federal Savings and Loan, Big Spring Savings, Howard College, Wal-Mart and the Big Spring Herald for the tremendous publicity.

One's faith in mankind is reassured by people such as these who are dedicated to their fellow man.

Screening committee criticized

To the editor: Twice I have read in the newspaper about the screening committee for a new police chief and twice Mr. Jamie Baldwin's name appears.

I called our City Manager Mack Woffard to ask why they continued his name when they knew he was no longer in town. His answer was that they knew about it, but decided to leave it like it was.

The idea behind the whole thing was to have a cross-section of the community involved in the selection process. What happened?

This city is always complaining about Mexican-Americans not participating. It's very easy not to especially when you are not called to do so. I, as well as Edward Garza, are alternates and have never been called as a replacement.

What's the problem here?

Water bills prompt reconsideration

To the editor: Since our councilmen have seen fit not to refund any of our outrageously high water bills, we think that in the next election for councilmen there will be some that won't be voted in again.

To keep monies that the city isn't entitled to is stealing from the people and is another way the city does it.

"... Okay, men, let's try this one, which is the road to Managua?!"

CIA uses Baltimore bank for clandestine arms deals

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — The crash last week of a "mystery plane" carrying guns for the Nicaraguan contras shed some unwelcome light on the shady reality of international arms smuggling. The CIA stoutly denied any hand in the incident, but the denial was greeted with widespread skepticism.

It is rare indeed that CIA involvement in the murky world of arms trading can be pinpointed beyond a reasonable doubt. But bills of lading, purchase orders, bank records and other documents obtained by our associates Corky Johnson and Donald Goldberg show conclusively that a respected Maryland bank was caught up in the web of clandestine CIA arms deals.

The documents show that for more than 10 years the First National Bank of Maryland in Baltimore has been the transfer point for millions of CIA dollars used to buy and ship military hardware around the world.

Two transactions in 1982 and 1983 alone involved the shipping of about 100,000 rifles, worth $5 million, to ports indicating that the weapons may have been delivered to CIA-supported rebel groups in Nicaragua, Angola and Afghanistan.

The two companies that carried out the transactions were Associated Traders Corp. of Baltimore and the Washington, D.C. office of Sherwood International Corp., a Los Angeles-based licensed arms exporter. Associated Traders used First National Bank to make payments to Sherwood for handling the arms shipments.

Associated Traders is a CIA "front," our sources have confirmed. It was incorporated in 1969 as a Baltimore firm, but now operates in Vienna, Va., not far from CIA headquarters in Langley. The front company's offices are in a building that houses classified federal government operations.

Robert Maxwell, a former First National senior executive, acknowledged that the bank handled the Associated Traders account with the clear understanding that the company was really the CIA.

Maxwell told us he was instructed by his bosses to do "whatever Associated Traders requested." The requests included hidden financial transfers of dubious legality. Associated transferred huge sums to offshore banks in the Cayman Islands, then to banks in Panama and finally to Switzerland. The point of the scheme was to make the arms purchases difficult to trace.

Maxwell said the money laundering sidestepped normal banking procedures and may have violated federal laws, including the Bank Secrecy Act requiring that transactions of more than $10,000 be reported to federal regulators.

In a memo to his superiors in February 1985, Maxwell expressed his concern, writing: "When Bob Benson (of Associated) dropped off his request he expressed concern at having the comptroller of the currency or any type of federal investigation learning about Associated Traders. He wants us to locate another bank ... in Panama, and he is looking to set up another account for fear of investigation into the Cayman money market accounts."

Maxwell then wrote: "My conversation with Benson has compounded my concerns and fears regarding this corporation ... I question if our bank should be involved."

Maxwell also complained about

Associated Traders' practice of transferring large amounts without identifying itself in the authorization. One telex from First National to the Panama bank, for example, ordered the transfer of $5.3 million to a Swiss account "by order of a client."

For his own protection against charges of violating the banking laws, Maxwell demanded written authorization from his superiors to handle Associated's "requests." When he failed to get the written authorization, Maxwell resigned.

He said one bank official told him the CIA had blocked the request for written authority. About the same time, Maxwell's boss, Senior Vice President John Bond, also left the bank. Another bank official who handled the CIA account, Roy Teather, transferred to the bank's Pennsylvania office.

Bond and Teather's names appear along with Maxwell's on bank records dealing with Associated Traders. Maxwell's name also appeared on the CIA account, but he said it was listed without his consent.

Footnote: The CIA, Associated Traders, Sherwood International and First National Bank officials refused comment.

MINI-EDITORIAL: Whatever else is may have achieved, the non-summit conference in Reykjavik sure gave a boost to the Icelandic economy.

The bleak Viking island is hardly a mecca for tourists even in the best of times, and the idea of visiting Iceland in October is enough to chill almost anyone.

So the landlords of Reykjavik have leaped at the chance to capitalize on their unexpected windfall — reportedly charging as much as $15,000 for a week in a three-bedroom apartment. Yum-pin! Yiminy! Who says the Scandinavian countries have deserted free enterprise for socialism?

Empty nest syndrome a reality

Stephen Chapman is on vacation for one week. During his absence we are substituting columns by Donald Kaul.

By DONALD KAUL

Autumn is a poignant time for some — particularly those who are not playing with a full deck. I never understood the so-called "empty nest syndrome," that feeling of abject loneliness that afflicts certain parents when their elder children leave home. The kid can be an apprentice ax-murderer, but when he takes off, his parents look at each other with tear-filled eyes and say: "The place won't be the same without him."

And when the last one goes off to college, the silence can be deafening. The phone stops ringing, the stereo stops playing obnoxious music and nobody with a funny haircut shows up at the front door anymore.

Yes, autumn is a poignant time for some — particularly those who are not playing with a full deck.

Personally, I always looked forward to the time when my children would leave home, largely because I knew the place wouldn't be the same without them. Even when they were fairly small I used to give them tips on running away, but they never took them.

Not that I didn't like them, you understand. They were fine children. I would have matched them against any kids you'd care to name, excepting of course those few who showed a talent for making money rather than spending it. The problem was, well, they were kids.

What adult in his or her right mind, given a choice, would choose to live in the close company of teenagers? It's like being occupied by a foreign army. They go days without saying anything intelligible, they take over your favorite part of the house and they break things.

My eldest daughter, also grown and working in New York, was better at the taking-over part of being a teen-ager. Books, magazines, umbrellas, sweaters, record players, bathtubs — she'd take them over and make them hers.

She shared her record collection with us, I'll give her that. She was always putting a record on the player and saying: "Listen to this. What do you think of it?"

I would respond with something like: "Poor devil. It sounds like a horrible way to die. What was his crime?" But it didn't discourage her. She kept right on playing her records, loud enough to blow out your sinuses.

So I took it quite in stride when our children, one by one, went off to college. I never felt so much we were losing a child as gaining increased access to the refrigerator.

But this year we took Rachel to St. Andrews University in Scotland for her junior year abroad. And on the flight back home it occurred to my wife and me that Scotland is a long way away and that there will be no weekend trips home, not many telephone calls and precious little contact. And our other two are busy with their lives in New York.

And that our nest is truly, at long last, empty. We shared a long sigh. Young friends, people in their 30s, sometimes ask us whether, if we had it to do over again, we'd have children. I always say, "If you have to ask, you can't afford it."

That's a flip answer, of course. You have children and attempt to shape their lives to your desires and find that they've filled yours to their needs. They've slipped in the cracks with laughter and pain and anxiety and love and formed your lives in ways you would not have predicted nor dared contemplate.

It's a good and natural thing when they fly off, and the freedom they leave behind is extraordinary. But do it again? yes. Hell yes.

ARC plans workshop expansion

The Howard County Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC) and a member from the Greater Big Spring Rotary club met Tuesday.

The group discussed the ways to fund a larger building for the workshop. More space is needed for adequate room for the training of the clients.

The local clients of the workshop and surrounding area workshops will have a Halloween party Oct. 27 at LaVerdera.

The association has applied for a license from the State Bingo Commission to operate bingo in Big Spring as a fund raiser.

Carol Green, president, announced that the Alsa Club is sponsoring a Halloween carnival for the association.

Mike Cowley, treasurer, reported funds from the wishing wells, which are placed in local businesses.

Next meeting will be Nov. 18 at 7 p.m. at 901 Johnson.

Wife tired of fixing breakfast and lunch

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am a part-time student and a full-time working woman. My husband commutes to work and must arrive there by 7:45 a.m. My problem: He expects me to prepare his breakfast and pack his lunch every morning. He contends that he can't do it — he doesn't have the time. I have been doing it for the last two years, and he hasn't seemed to appreciate my efforts.

For the last week I have refused to perform the above-mentioned services. I've told him that he must become responsible and take care of his own needs. Since then he has been buying his breakfast at a fast-food restaurant and spending lunch money we do not have.

How should I handle this?

counseling before your husband is not only eating out — he starts sleeping out.

DEAR ABBY: I've written to you many times saying, "Please help me, Abby!" None of those letters were mailed, but I'm writing to you now because I don't need your help anymore.

I was abused when I was a child, and for 20 years I was afraid of everything — afraid of failure, afraid of men, dating guys, and even calling for a dental appointment!

After a year of counseling, I am not afraid anymore. I can do anything I want to do. I can ask a guy out or go to a job interview with confidence because I know I'm a good person. It's like all my adult life I've been trying to get past a cement wall, and I suddenly broke through and found a whole new world!

I went to visit the father I had hated for so long, and it was like a miracle. I learned that we really loved each other. We just didn't know each other. Now we can laugh and talk!

Life isn't all roses, but thank God last year when I wanted to die, I didn't have the nerve to kill myself.

I'M 22 AND LIFE IS BEAUTIFUL

answer to. My best friend's mother says that when the bride comes down the aisle, the guests are not supposed to stand. She says that people originally stood at funerals to show respect for the dead. I would like to know the answer so that my mother will know whether to stand or not.

I would hate for my wedding to be confused with a funeral.

MARRIED OR DEAD?

DEAR MARRIED: In some (but not all) areas, it's traditional for the guests to stand when the bride comes down the aisle. If you want the guests to stand when you come down the aisle, designate a few people to stand, then everyone else will follow suit.

DEAR ABBY: I just received your booklet, "How to Be Popular," and have read it through twice. It is excellent for older people as well as young. I think it should be in every home and high school library. I am not a teenager; I am a retired school teacher. Keep up the good work.

Making wreaths is presentation

The Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association met on Oct. 20.

Manerva Lewis, owner of Country Flowers, presented a program on wreath making. She explained ways to use keepsakes on wreaths and how to use tumbleweeds, cactus and other easily obtainable items on a wreath.

Joyce Phillips, Mary Holloman and Lupe Dominguez volunteered to chair this year's Boss Night activities.

The November meeting will be a brown bag supper and the program will be "Sell Your Talent Night." Each member will bring an item to demonstrate her talent and the item will be auctioned. Proceeds will go to the scholarship fund.

Mad-hatters Dream is Rush Social

Theme of the Rush Social for the Big Spring Chapter Xi Pi Epsilon on Oct. 18 was "A Mad-Hatters Dream." It was hosted at the home of Robert and Becky Wash. Each member wore a hat and were judged. Winners of the event were Cindy Meyer and Tommy Moore.

Becky Wash hosted the Oct. 21 meeting. Plans were discussed for a Christmas gift wrapping project.

The Oct. 7th model meeting was at the home of Lisa Murphy. Officers gave individual reports on their duties and each committee chairman explained what her responsibilities are and what is involved in her particular committee.

Connie Edgemon, president, reminded all members that Lincoln House sales need to be in by Nov. 1. Four members presented a skit using the characters from the Wizard of Oz to introduce Beta Sigma Phi to their guests. Edgemon presented a program "10 Ways to Raise a Terrific Kid."

Tonita Reid presented a program on "Friendship" at the September meeting.

Coming activities will be a cook-out with the Preceptor Delta Chapter at the home of Linda Coskey on Oct. 25 and a Preferential Tea on Oct. 26 at 2 p.m. at Lisa Murphy's home.

"Motivating Others" was presented by Connie Edgemon.

God brings minister to Texas

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

Earl Wood, minister of Faith Baptist Church, says he dreamed that God wanted him in Texas.

"The Lord decided He wanted me to go to Big Spring," the 64-year-old said. "Two years ago I had a dream that we (he and his wife, Reba) were somewhere in Texas. It seemed the Lord spoke to me and wanted me in Hamlin, northwest of Abilene. We tried to get to Hamlin, but the Lord didn't open the door."

A year later, the couple moved to Hamlin, Wood said, and everything worked out beautifully.

"I prayed to the Lord and asked Him if he wanted me to do work in Hamlin. I asked Him, if He didn't want me to, to close the doors. At that time we were trying to buy property and it was sold right out from under us."

The Lord maneuvered him to West Texas and positioned him in Big Spring, the native of Wisconsin said. He has been the minister at Faith Baptist, 1209 Wright St., since Aug. 1.

Faith Baptist, a quaint church on the west side of town, was built about 27 years ago. It attracts people from all over the city, the minister said.

"We're a friendly church. We preach and teach strictly the Bible. The Bible is our literature."

Before moving to Texas, Wood was pastor of a church in Windsor, Col. for two years and Earl Wood studies the Bible in the sanctuary of Faith Baptist Church where he has been ministering since Aug. 1.

in Levelland for 2½ years.

Wood has been serving the Lord for the past 34 years, he said.

"As long as I'm serving the Lord the way He wants me to, then I'm satisfied — but, I'll never be satisfied with the size of the church. Once you're satisfied, you're not serving the Lord. It's our obligation to go out and reach the lost."

Faith Baptist's membership roll comprises approximately 80 people, Wood said, but averages attendance of about 50 each week.

"I'm not here to upset anyone, but if the people aren't being taught in the church they attend — I'm after them. A preacher must train his people and teach them to grow. My calling is to pastor a church and build it."

And that is exactly his intention.

"I'm planning to do more building when the Lord provides the way. I will not run a church deep into debt to do it."

He wants to build a fellowship hall and a larger sanctuary. If a balcony and more pews are added, the church will be able to seat more than 300 people, he said.

Although the minister is nearing typical retirement age, he has no intentions of retirement.

"If anyone says a minister should retire, they don't know what they're talking about," Wood said.

He added that the only way he'd quit ministering is if he was unable to do it.

Wood's life has not always centered on serving the Lord, he said. Before becoming a minister, he was a journeyman machinist.

"I felt a conviction within my heart when I was 30. The day I surrendered, I was standing next to a stack of sheet metal and I felt a tremendous weight, like that stack of metal was on my chest. I asked the Lord if he wanted me to serve Him to give me a sign and I would. All at once the weight was lifted. I had a desire to serve the Lord that I just couldn't shake."

After graduating from the Bible Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, Wood ministered part-time and continued working as a machinist.

"I wasn't serving the Lord as well as I was supposed to until He crippled me up and I had to go to the ministry full-time."

Now his life revolves around God, his wife, three children and nine grandchildren.

"They're all precious."

Catholic church picks woman for tough job

NEW YORK (AP) — Facing a tough, practical problem of financing upkeep of retired personnel, the Roman Catholic Church has turned to a woman to find ways to foot the bill.

It's a big one — a liability of about $2.5 billion to meet unfunded pension obligations for past service rendered by thousands of older priests and nuns.

"They're in real difficulty," says Sister Mary Oliver Hudon, picked as director of efforts to solve the predicament in a church that bars women from its ruling clerical ranks.

But to cope with a basic, everyday urgency of livelihood, the church's U.S. bishops and superiors of religious orders jointly chose a woman, Sister Hudon, for the job.

"Maybe it bodes well for the church," she said when asked about that aspect in a telephone interview. "I hope it's a signal the church is recognizing women more. A crisis is supposed to mean a turning point."

Although generally the "talent of women hasn't been used in the administration of the church," she suggested a special reason for it in this case, saying, "Women happen to be very good problem solvers."

The pension-financing problem in the religious orders, brought on in part by the members' customarily low compensation and rising proportion of older members, strikes at the church's most dedicated selfless servants.

They've taught the young, nurs-

SISTER MARY OLIVER HUDON ...to solve financing problem

ed the sick, taken care of the old and poor, served in mission fields, filled chaplains, done it all for scanty pay under their vows of poverty. But provision for the aged ones are lacking.

Many are on government welfare rolls.

"The situation has hit the women congregations the hardest," Sister Hudon said.

Among the reasons, women are paid less, their orders have experienced the sharpest declines in young, wage-earning nuns, and men's orders generally have had more sources of support, including mail fund drives.

There are about 500 women's orders in the country, with membership totalling 113,658, and about 200 men's orders, totalling 22,028 priests and 7,429 brothers.

They differ from diocesan priests, who do not take poverty vows as do both men and women in the religious orders. But an estimated 60 percent of them work for dioceses, while others run their own far-flung agencies and institutions.

"Their purpose is to serve those in need, often people who can't pay for it," Sister Hudon said. They serve in schools, hospitals, clinics, prisons, soup kitchens, homes for orphans and the old and in many other service roles.

However, 37 percent of the sisters are now over 70, nearly half of them over 65, while 18.7 percent of the men are over 70 and 28.6 percent are over 65, a recent church survey found.

It also found that the orders were $2.5 billion short of funds to meet past service pension obligations, even subtracting $1 billion worth of facilities that can be sold to meet such liabilities, otherwise totalling $3.5 billion.

Another $2.8 billion worth of properties, including hospitals, universities, colleges and schools, were classified as unavailable for retirement needs.

The male orders — 58 percent of them — were $388 million short of retirement funds, while 78 percent of women's orders lacked $2.12 billion. The needs were based on pension requirements of $8,292 annually for men and $8,556 for women, including any Social Security benefits.

Sister Hudon, 53, of the School Sisters of Notre Dame, a native of Rochester, N.Y., who holds a Ph.D. in education, was academic dean of the College of Notre Dame in Maryland for eight years before assuming her new post July 1.

With offices at the U.S. Catholic Conference in Washington, she said she plans a multi-faceted approach to the problem, first of all to educate church members at large about it and how it arose.

"For years, the sisters have lived off meager pay, and the number of younger wage-earners among them has decreased radically while the number of aged increased," she said.

"Even though it's more economical to live in communities as most nuns do," she said, many "have had only enough to keep food on the table and clothes on their backs, with no reserves for retirement."

The religious personnel, particularly nuns, often are paid about half what lay workers get in similar tasks, such as teaching. But whatever their earnings, it all goes to the order, which allots them moderate living allowances.

Hudon said her job also will necessitate raising reserve funds to meet the large deficit through various means — a probable church-wide collection, seeking gifts from foundations and donors and a direct appeal to lay people.

Church briefs

Area churches to pray for peace

Leaders of various faiths will assemble in Assisi, Italy on Oct. 27th to pray for world peace.

Pope John Paul II has called for a daylong truce in countries where there is fighting. In conjunction with this, special opportunities for gathering for prayer are being offered in Big Spring.

Unity House of Prayer, 1104 Benton, will be open between 6 and 7 p.m.

Special prayer will be given at the Salvation Army "Christmas in October" luncheon at noon in the basement of Dora Roberts Citadel.

A community mass for world peace will be given at 4 p.m. at the Big Spring State Hospital.

A peace mass will be said at 3:30 p.m. at the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

These opportunities for concerted prayer are open to people of all faiths.

Ten Commandments to be taught

Pastor Rose B. Wilson will teach the commandments at the Church of God Seventh Day in Jesus Name, 2606 Barksdale Dr., on Saturdays beginning at 10 a.m.

Annual Youth Fall Round-up slated

The youth department of the Hillcrest Baptist Church will host their annual Youth Fall Round-up on the church grounds, 2000 W. FM 700, tomorrow from 4-9 p.m.

Proceeds will be used by the youth department.

Fun booths such as a dart throw, dart toss, duck pond, fishing pond, ring toss, spinning board, dunking booth, basketball toss, hay ride, sweet shop and cake walk will be featured at the event.

In case anyone is hungry hot dogs, nachos, frito pie, pizza, barbecue sandwiches and cokes will be available.

Added attractions this year are a pet-a-zoo and a special presentation of a puppet matinee by Stan and Melinda Fraiser. The half hour puppet show will be at 6 and 7:30 p.m.

A country store will sell arts and crafts, handmade items and canned goods. A drawing for a painting and storage chest will be at 8:30 p.m. and remaining merchandise will be auctioned at 9.

The public is invited to attend. For more information contact Gary Phillips, 267-1639 or 263-1565.

The 3 G's travel to Carlsbad, N.M.

The Golden Glory Gang (the 3 G's) Senior Adult Choir, sponsored by College Baptist Church were in Carlsbad, N.M. Oct. 16 to sing at the Blodgett Street Baptist Church.

This is the fifth time the choir has been invited to sing where Brother Bobby Fuller guest preaches.

The 3 G's is a singing group with members over 55. They sing twice a month and meet for fellowship once a month. Clayton Hicks is the adult leader and Deena Smith is the tour leader.

In addition to singing for the church in Carlsbad, the group toured the Carlsbad Caverns, the Guadalupe Mountains (west of Carlsbad) and Sitting Bull Falls National Park.

Joint overuse causes bursitis

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I'm a 41-year-old woman. I've heard of bursitis, but didn't think I'd ever have to be writing to you about it. We moved into a new home recently, and it was a mess. I don't think that woman ever washed her floors.

For an entire week I sweated with my husband, scrubbing, etc. I ended up with a clean house, but terrible looking sacs under my knees (in front). I have to wear socks to hide them. My doctor aspirated a sac and said it wasn't gout, just overuse, plain old bursitis, he said. Will I ever get rid of this? Are aspirins (which I take) enough? I have heard of surgery. Is that possible for me? The aspirin amount I take causes stomach upset. Please discuss bursitis. — Mrs. J.E.N.

Normal bursae are wafer-thin sacs interposed between tendon, bones and muscle where joint movement occurs. They are nature's ballbearings. Overuse of a joint easily turns bursae into troublemakers. They are easily inflamed and then you feel pain in that area. When they swell they can, if near the skin surface, be unsightly protrusions.

Even though the doctor feels fairly certain the cause is overuse, he still wants to rule out things like infection or an illness (like gout). That's why he aspirates fluid and examines it.

The first treatment for overuse bursitis is rest and hot packs. The usual advice is to apply the hot packs to the swollen area 20 or 30 minutes several times a day. Meanwhile you take aspirin on a regular basis, not only for its analgesic (pain-killing) effect but its ability to fight inflammation. If you cannot tolerate aspirin, other anti-inflammation drugs can be tried.

I guess this is where you are in your treatment. If this regimen isn't helping, your doctor might move to the next step, which would be use of steroids injected into the area. If nothing is helping, then in a week or so he might refer you to an orthopedic doctor for an opinion about the need to remove the sacs. That would end the problem. What you have described to me goes by the name "housemaid's knee."

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I had an obstruction of the transverse colon. What is the transverse colon? I still have abdominal discomfort. I am taking Metamucil for this. I wonder if this laxative is advisable to take for this problem. — A.G.

The colon is the large bowel. You can trace its path in the body. It starts on your right side down near the groin. It ascends to belly button level, then goes across to the left side of the abdomen, finally making a 90 degree turn down the left side, terminating at the rectum. The transverse colon, the part that goes across, is the scene of many obstructions.

You didn't tell me much about yours, but in any event the Metamucil is a good idea. It's safe, and it's not really a laxative, but a source of fiber, the stuff your grandmother may have called bulk. It helps keep intestinal contents moist and prevents constipation. It is often offered to those who have had a colon obstruction. For your related questions, see the booklet "The Way to Stop Constipation." It's still available by writing me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What is the status of oral chelation products to clean out clogged arteries? My father has a large supply of some pills he is told will help him avoid surgery. None of us knows what is really in the products. What is it? — R.R.B.

I don't know what your father is using. From my limited knowledge, I would guess the pills contain a mixture of vitamins, minerals, amino acids, perhaps a dash of the drug, edetate disodium. That's what most contain. To date, we have no evidence that those substances help get rid of arterial buildup. They might help clean out your father's wallet, though.

FOR M.W.R. — Punch grafting may or may not be your answer. In that procedure, little plugs of hair (3/16ths of an inch) are removed from a well-endowed area and transplanted to bald sections, follicles and all. It can take between 200 and 400 such grafts to provide a good cosmetic effect. Your doctor can recommend a surgeon who does this work.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To learn more about it, write to Dr. Donohue for his booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and $1.00. Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dogs or hogs?

Brandy, a 5-year-old Queensland Blue Heeler, looks like she would like nothing more than to be rid of these two piglets nursing at her side. But it was the dog, owned by Danny Kuykendall and his family, who adopted the porkers when Kuykendall found them drowning in mud on his farm near Grayville, Ill. Since then, the young piglets have begun to behave more like dogs than hogs, he said.

Big Spring (5-1) at Pecos (5-2)

If you take away the Sweetwater win, and please don't, the Steers' district schedule has resembled nothing so much as a staircase. Starting at the bottom, the Steers stomped second to last place Lakeview, stepped up and crushed third to last Lamesa, and then brought their foot down on fourth from the bottom Fort Stockton.

Pecos, Monahans, and Andrews remain, as does lowly Snyder. To use an old phrase, the going's going to get tougher.

Pecos is 3-2 in district play, and playing at home. Though the Steers have played extremely well on the road this season, Pecos is a good bit farther down the road than either San Angelo or Lamesa. Pecos has that in their favor.

Unfortunately for the Eagles, this year's Steers are bigger, stronger, and more experienced than they. The Steers are also playing football like they mean business. That'll be too much for the out-manned Eagles.

Big Spring 28, Pecos 12

Stanton (5-1) at Forsan (6-0-1)

This game promises to be perhaps the top inter-Crossroads County battle of the year. The Buffaloes Stanton have their best team in years, and the same could probably be claimed for the Buffaloes Forsan, though there've been good teams aplenty in Forsan.

Both teams have strong defenses and running games. Stanton's defense has allowed just 79 points this season, and Forsan has allowed one touchdown less than that.

If Forsan wins this game, they will almost certainly capture the district crown and go to the playoffs, having tied Reagan County last week but having beaten them on penetrations. If Stanton wins, they'll set up a big showdown with Reagan County.

Either way, neither of these teams will lack motivation tonight. Forsan's passing game and the home field advantage will be the difference.

Forsan 21, Stanton 12

Brady (5-2) at Coahoma (0-7)

Brady lost to Clyde last week in something of an upset. The week before they stomped Colorado City.

Coahoma played Colorado City evenly in one of the Bulldogs best games of the season. You have to figure the overmanned Bulldogs could play their best game of the year tonight and it wouldn't be enough.

The Bulldogs are in a down year and Brady is up and mad after last week's loss.

Brady 35, Coahoma 12

Midland Christian (5-1)

at Sands (4-3)

This is a non-district game for the Sands Mustangs and a very big one. But the Mustangs are out for business because they are still in the hunt for a playoff berth. They need a good game to get ready for Loop next week.

Jay Fryar will give the boys from the Tall City fits with his running and passing. The Mustangs' defense will be impressive.

Sands 48, Midland Christian 30

Garden City (0-7)

at Water Valley (0-6)

Both teams should be fired up with the prospect of a win. The young Bearkats need desperately to get that first one under their belts.

Tonight, Kenny Bennett will connect with Doyle Schaefer not once but twice for scoring strikes. The second touchdown will make the difference, and the Bearkats will taste the big cheese.

Garden City 13, Water Valley 8

Loop (4-3) at Klondike (2-5)

The Klondike Cougars are on a two game skid. They need this one badly to get their morale going again. Meanwhile, Loop is in the playoff hunt and a loss here would end its hopes.

This will be a classic battle to the end. Klondike, with no playoff pressure, will pull out all the stops. Cisco Arrendondo will run like the wind and Kurt Tidwell will air it out. It's going to be a good show, but it's no playoffs for Loop.

Klondike 45, Loop 41

Grady (0-7) at Wellman (7-0)

Going by the records this game should be one-sided, and it will be. The Grady Wildcats just don't have the size and experience to stay on the same field with these possible district champions.

This game won't go the duration.

Wellman 67, Grady 12

Dawson (1-5) at B-County (4-2)

The Borden County Coyotes get something of a breather this week against a struggling Dawson squad. Borden County was caught napping once with a loss to Loop, but they won't let it happen again.

Shannon Bond and Brice Key will raise havoc on the Dawson defense. Mickey Burkett will lead a charged-up Coyote defense. Borden County will remain in the playoff hunt.

Borden County 55, Dawson 20

Colorado City (1-5-1)

at Clyde (4-3)

Clyde bushwacked Brady last week, and that's pretty good credentials against Colorado City when you consider Brady more than bushwacked the Wolves two weeks ago.

Clyde 28, Colorado City 6

Fenway failures forgotten

Rested Hurst paves way for rested Clemens

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox beat the New York Mets, not themselves.

They put a history of Fenway failures behind them Thursday night and, when a classic Red Sox collapse seemed all too possible, instead moved within one victory of their first World Series championship since 1918.

"I guess we got the home-court advantage off our backs," Dave Henderson said after pitcher Bruce Hurst helped Boston avert a three-game sweep at its own ballpark by winning 4-2.

Now, leading the Series 3-2, the Red Sox hope Roger Clemens, who started the year with a perfect record, can put a perfect ending on the 1986 season. Clemens, the winningest pitcher in the majors, will have five days' rest when he starts Game 6 Saturday night in New York against Bob Ojeda, working with just three days off.

A situation so scary to the Red Sox just one day ago suddenly has the Mets preparing for the worst.

Hurst, like Clemens, got an extra day's rest because Boston Manager John McNamara pushed back his rotation. The move seemed shaky when longshot Al Nipper lost Game 4, but Hurst made it look wise.

"Mac called a little team meeting. He said we had our backs to the wall and that he had taken some criticism for his pitching decision, but he said he felt we were where he wanted us to be," Hurst said.

"I felt stronger, but I didn't really feel like I was at my best tonight."

True, he did not pitch as well as he did in winning Game 1, when he shut out New York for eight innings on four hits. This time, he gave up 10 hits before ending the game by striking out Red Sox nemesis Lenny Dykstra with a runner on base — thus becoming the first Boston left-hander to win a Series game at Fenway since Babe Ruth in 1918.

But if Hurst was not at his best, Dwight Gooden was far worse.

Gooden, working on three days' rest for the first time this season, pitched poorly for the second time in the Series and got his second loss.

"It is very disappointing. I have to prepare for the 1987 season," said Gooden, knocked out in the fifth inning after allowing nine hits and four runs. One of those runs, however, was unearned as the Mets' fielders again did not come to his defense.

Boston finished with 12 hits, two

Boston Red Sox winning pitcher Bruce Hurst points to the stars as he leaves the mound following the Red Sox' 4-2 victory over the New York Mets in the fifth game of the World Series at Boston's Fenway Park Thursday night.

by Marty Barrett. That gave him 20 in the combined playoffs and Series, the most ever.

The defeat saddled Gooden with an 0-3 record in the postseason, including a loss and a no-decision in the National League playoffs.

The Mets, with Gooden on the mound, felt supremely confident of knocking off Boston for the third straight night.

But it was New York that got knocked out. Henderson's liner was misplayed into a one-out triple in the second, and Spike Owen followed with a sacrifice fly that put the home team ahead for the first time in this Series.

With Ted Williams — the team's greatest player of all time, but also a reminder of 68 years without a championship — stirring the crowd of 34,010 from the commissioner's box, the Red Sox scored again in the third on an error and Dwight Evans' RBI single.

They made it 4-0 in the fifth when Jim Rice hit a wind-blown triple and scored on Don Baylor's bloop single, and Henderson doubled home another run.

"Sometimes in a seven-game series, the best team doesn't win," Mets third baseman Ray Knight said. "Sometimes, drive and determination can overcome talent."

Boston had all three Thursday night. But it did not look that way at the start.

The Red Sox were just 1-for-10 with runners in scoring position in Wednesday night's loss, yet started reversing that trend in the second inning.

Henderson hit a line drive which right fielder Darryl Strawberry let deflect off his glove near the wall, and Dykstra fell down while backing up the play. Owen's fly to medium left field was deep enough to score Henderson ahead of Mookie Wilson's throw.

In the third, Buckner hit a routine grounder that Rafael Santana fumbled for an error. While Red Sox relievers were waving white towels in the bullpen to encourage fans, Jim Rice followed with a single and Evans stroked a two-out fastball up the middle.

Buckner, playing with bad knees and a torn Achilles' tendon, wobbled around third base and scored with a head-first dive. He lay at the plate for a moment, then limped to the dugout to a standing ovation led by Williams.

"I died at home. But I made it and that's what counts," Buckner said.

The Mets ended Hurst's shutout string in the Series at 15 innings in the eighth when Tim Teufel hit a fly ball to right field that the wind pushed into the stands for a home run.

Hurst faced one last threat when, after retiring the first two batters in the ninth, Mookie Wilson doubled and scored on Santana's single.

Stallings and Cardinals will try again Sunday

IRVING (AP) — Gene Stallings returns home Sunday in a bid to spring an upset with his battered and bruised St. Louis Cardinals against his former NFL employers, the Dallas Cowboys.

Stallings, who coached the Cowboys' secondary for 14 years, lost a 31-7 encounter with Dallas Coach Tom Landry on Sept. 29 in St. Louis. Landry is 10-3-1 against his former pupils.

There are six current NFL head coaches who either played or coached under Landry.

Dallas has won 13 of its last 16 games with the Cardinals, who are 2-12 in Texas Stadium. The Cowboys will be seeking their 100th victory in the stadium with the hole in the roof.

The 11-point favorite Cowboys are 5-2 in the NFC East, one game behind Washington, while the Cardinals are 1-6 with their only victory coming against Tampa Bay.

The Cowboys struggled to a 17-14 victory over Philadelphia last Sunday, while the Cardinals fell behind 21-0 but rallied to only lose 28-21 to Washington.

"There's no question Dallas is a much better team than the one we played last month," Stallings said.

"They look better on both sides of the ball. The Cowboys are capable of scoring a lot of points and we'll need to keep pace with them offensively if we expect to have a chance to win."

The Cardinals have been riddled with injuries. St. Louis played last week with four starters on the injured reserve list and four more starters hurt.

"Our biggest problem has been getting our good players on the field," Stallings said. "And we've been getting a lot of silly penalties."

Landry said he thought the Cardinals were rapidly improving with Stump Mitchell as the top running back. Ottis Anderson was traded to the New York Giants.

"Stump Mitchell is a better runner," Landry said. "Mitchell is a dangerous runner."

Landry said he hoped the Cowboys take the Cardinals more seriously than they did the Eagles.

A sellout of 63,855 was assured for the 3 p.m. CST kickoff.

Demotion likely for Lefty at Maryland

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — University of Maryland basketball coach Lefty Driesell probably will be reassigned to an administrative job within the athletic department, according to a published report.

The Washington Post, quoting unidentified sources, reported Friday that Driesell's exact duties under the expected reassignment are yet to be defined completely. But the sources said he likely would become an assistant athletic director, dealing with the public as a fund-raiser and with the department as an administrator.

Driesell's job status has been in question since the investigation surrounding the circumstances of the death of Maryland star Len Bias. The All-American forward died June 19 of cocaine intoxication.

Two basketball players were indicted on cocaine possession and obstruction of justice charges, but those charges were dropped Monday. Bias' friend, Brian Lee Tribble, has been charged with supplying the cocaine that killed him.

In addition, investigations revealed that Bias and several basketball players did not do well in their studies. Bias did not pass any courses in his last semester and rarely attended class.

The deal would require Driesell's approval. Sources close to Driesell say that, although his lawyers would urge him to accept the deal, he might yet fight reassignment.

The Post reported.

Driesell, who said little for more than three months after Bias' death on the advice of attorney Edward Bennett Williams, recently has been vocal in trying to overcome an image he says unfairly portrays him as a coach who stressed sports over academics.

"There have been accusations made that basketball players didn't go to class and that I didn't have any concern about them not going, and that is not true," Driesell said. "I had a check system to use my two graduate assistants to check on class attendance daily."

Parents of some of the basketball players concurred that Driesell stressed academics, and several of the parents met with Slaughter at the chancellor's home Tuesday night. There has been some indication that a few parents might make a public statement of support for Driesell. The Baltimore Sun reported Friday.

NFL clubs ordered to return drug test fines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arbitrator Sam Kagel ruled that nearly 200 NFL players were improperly fined last January for refusing to submit to drug tests as part of their postseason physical exams after the 1985 season.

Kagel, in a 34-page decision, concluded late Thursday that the clubs' actions were not permitted under the 1982 collective bargaining agreement and ordered that the fines of $1,000 per player be returned to them within 30 days.

"We will abide by Arbitrator Kagel's decision," said Peter Ruocco, a spokesman for the NFL Management Council, the club owners' labor relations arm.

Ruocco said the clubs will continue to test as they have in the past, "in preseason and for reasonable cause," which is permitted in the collective bargaining agreement.

Kagel found the New York Jets, St. Louis Cardinals, Tampa Bay Buccaneers, New Orleans Saints and Indianapolis Colts guilty of improperly fining their players. In his ruling, Kagel stated that only preseason testing and testing for reasonable cause were mentioned in the contract. There had been no discussion of postseason physicals, he said, and it could not be read into the agreement.

Broncos, Seahawks battle for West

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

The Denver Broncos, plagued by costly penalties, turnovers, dropped passes and the like in a loss to the New York Jets that prevented them from being the only unbeaten team in the NFL, will have to get a tighter grip on things if they are to retain their lead in the AFC West.

And the Broncos, who also managed to rush for just 38 yards in the 22-10 loss to New York, will have to do it Sunday against the turnover-conscious defense of the Seattle Seahawks.

The Seahawks, who intercepted four passes in a 17-12 victory over the New York Giants last Sunday, lead the AFC with 21 takeaways. They have turned the ball over just 11 times for a plus-10 ratio.

"We stress turnovers," said Seattle Coach Chuck Knox, whose 5-2 Seahawks can tie for the division lead with a victory at Denver's Mile High Stadium.

The 6-1 Broncos, who turned the ball over three times and were assessed 87 yards in penalties against the Jets, are looking to take a firm hold on first place in the division.

"We have the opportunity to be two up at the halfway point of the season and have a little breathing room," Reeves said. "Otherwise, we start the second half all even."

Knox, however, was not pushing the game as a "must."

"This is an important game because it's a divisional game," he said. "But it's too early in the season to say it's a key game."

One problem for Denver could be the health of quarterback John Elway, who sustained a concussion in the fourth period against the Jets. He is listed as probable.

Falcons-Rams

Atlanta, which holds a half-game lead in the NFC West at 5-1-1 after a 10-10 overtime tie with San Francisco, will try to sweep the season series from Los Angeles for the first time. The 5-2 Rams have won 17 of 18 home games against the Falcons.

The game matches the NFL's top rusher, Eric Dickerson, who has 860 yards for the Rams, against the Falcons' Gerald Riggs, who is third with 652.

Lions-Bears

Chicago plans to start quarterback Jim McMahon, who sat out the 6-1 Bears' 23-7 upset loss to Minnesota with back and shoulder problems. The Bears have won 21

Miami Dolphins' quarterback Dan Marino will need a good game Sunday against the Indianapolis Colts to overcome a porous Dolphins' defense that has allowed 220 points in seven games. Miami is 2-5.

fifth straight victory with the AFC's top-rated defense yielding just 267.6 yards per game. A victory, coupled with a Seattle win at Denver, would move the Raiders within a game of the lead in the West.

Houston has lost six straight since an opening-day victory.

49ers-Packers

Green Bay, 1-6 and coming off a victory over Cleveland, will have its hands full against 4-2-1 San Francisco. The 49ers have the league's top receiver in Jerry Rice, who has caught 37 passes for 781 yards and eight touchdowns.

Browns-Vikings

The Minnesota pass rush, which recorded six sacks against Chicago, will be the most immediate concern for Cleveland. The Vikings, 5-2, are looking for their seventh straight victory over the 4-3 Browns.

Dolphins-Colts

Miami, which has allowed a league-high 220 points in compiling a 2-5 record, is seeking to extend the NFL's longest winning streak against a single opponent to 13 games. Hapless Indianapolis, 0-7, has scored a league-low 68 points.

Patriots-Bills

Another winning streak, 4-3 New straight games with McMahon as the starter.

Detroit, 3-4, needs another top-notch performance from running back James Jones, who has rushed for 543 yards and caught passes for 207 more.

Saints-Jets

New York, off to its best start ever at 6-1, is looking to win six straight games for the first time since 1974. Ken O'Brien, hampered by a knee injury, starts at quarterback for the Jets, who hold a two-game lead in the AFC East on the strength of his passing to Wesley Walker and Al Toon.

Reuben Mayes gained 172 yards for the 3-4 Saints in a 38-7 victory over Tampa Bay.

Cardinals-Cowboys

Dallas, tied with the 5-2 Giants for second in the NFC East, was expected to go with banged up veteran quarterback Danny White, who played sparingly in a 17-14 overtime victory against Philadelphia. Herschel Walker leads the Cowboys with 363 rushing yards and 378 more as a receiver.

St. Louis, 1-6, is coming off one of its better games, a 28-21 loss at Washington.

Raiders-Oilers

Los Angeles, 4-3, is looking for its England's eight-game hold on 2-5 Buffalo, is on the line. The Patriots have a hot quarterback in Steve Grogan, who has thrown six touchdown passes in the last two games. But he was listed as questionable with a hand injury.

Bucs-Chiefs

Kansas City, 4-3 after a 42-41 victory over San Diego, must win to stay in the AFC West race in the AFC West. Tampa Bay, 1-6, released three veterans this week — tight end Jimmie Giles, wide receiver Kevin House and running back Ron Springs.

Bengals-Steelers

The 5-2 start by AFC Central leader Cincinnati is its best since 1982. At 1-6, Pittsburgh is off to its worst start since Coach Chuck Noll's 1-13 debut in 1969. The Steelers reached a low-water mark last week when they were blanked 34-0 by New England.

Chargers-Eagles

Inconsistent Philadelphia, 2-5, played well enough to win against Dallas despite the absence of quarterback Ron Jaworski. He was expected to start, but could be spelled by Randall Cunningham. San Diego, 1-6 and winless since opening day, will start quarterback Mark Herrmann. Dan Fouts is out with a concussion.

Aggies QB talks after zapping Baylor 31-30

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Pressure comes three ways for Texas A&M quarterback Kevin Murray — from blitzing defenders, injuries and the media.

After media reports last season about his automobile leasing arrangement led to an NCAA investigation, Murray stopped giving interviews, speaking only after games about his performance.

"I felt it was better for me not to get my mind off football," Murray said. "I still feel I'm misunderstood. I used to be laid-back and relaxed around the media. That was when I was young. Now, I know you can be taken advantage of."

Murray's poise and passing have helped Texas A&M gain the No. 10 spot in The Associated Press college football poll.

In the Aggies' 31-30 Southwest Conference win over then-No. 20 Baylor, Murray completed 25 of 40 passes for 308 yards and three touchdowns and ran for another score.

A&M Coach Jackie Sherrill called it "the greatest day I've ever seen by a college quarterback, and I've been around a few good ones."

Murray, a junior after receiving a hardship ruling from the SWC, decided to grant an interview to the AP after being reminded it wouldn't hurt his All-America or Heisman hopes.

The NCAA investigation into A&M, sparked by the reports about Murray's car, still has not been resolved.

"It's out of my hands and I can't control anything about it," he says. "But I'm not pulling my hair."

Then there was the joust with the Milwaukee Brewers of the American League over the contract he signed coming out of North Dallas High School.

Murray quit pro baseball after his 1982 rookie season to play college football at A&M, and the Brewers went to court saying he owed them money. They lost.

"Now you can see why I don't like to give interviews," Murray says. "I don't want to let anybody down, but the media can't just keep it football."

And Murray has a lot to say about football.

"I'd love to be a major college coach," he says. "It would have to be in the right situation, working under good coaches like Coach Sherrill. I've learned a lot under (offensive coordinator Lynn) Amedee. Now, the defenses are clear to me. I know what's going on and keep auditioning to plays until something positive happens. I'd like to do that as a coach someday."

Goliad B 0, Snyder 0
SNYDER — For the fourth time this season the Goliad Mavericks B football team tied an opponent. The tie leaves Goliad undefeated with a 3-0-4 record.

It was a rough night for the Goliad offense because it had three touchdowns called back. Coach Mike Ritchey said that Tim Duffey, Nick Roberson and Moses Luna played good games.

Goliad A 34, Snyder 14
SNYDER — The Mavericks A team pushed its record to 7-0 by thrashing Snyder 34-14 Thursday night in football action.

Ralph Labrew led the charge with scoring runs of 15 and 35 yards. Abel Hilario threw a 20-yard scoring pass to Cort Peterson. Peterson also threw a 30-yard scoring pass to pat Chavarria.

Coach Ritchey said that Mike Ramirez, Donald Cervantez, John Downsy, Lance Reeves, Shannon Crenshaw and Fernando Alvarez all played good games.

Coahoma JV 26, Tahoka 6
COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs junior varsity gridders ran their record to 5-3 by taking a 26-6 win over Tahoka.

Coahoma's first score came in the first quarter when Trey Gardner recovered a fumble in the endzone. Coahoma took a 12-0 halftime lead on a 56-yard pass play from Curtis Hudson to Dale Phillips.

The Bulldogs their lead to 20-0 after three quarters thanks to a six-yard run by Brad Madry. Tahoka's only score came in the final quarter on a 98-yard interception return. Coahoma's final score came on a 65-yard scoring pass from Hudson to Kevin Jones.

Coahoma coach Kim Nichols said that David Molina, Jeff Rawson and Randy Self all played good games.

Runnels B 34, Snyder 6
The Runnels Yearlings B football team upped its record to 5-1 by taking a convincing 34-6 win over Snyder Thursday night at Blankenship Field.

It was Snyder's first loss of the season and the first time its defense had been scored on.

Joe Miramantes led the way with scoring runs of 14 and 18 yards. Quarterback Louis Soldan also had a big game, tossing three TD passes. Two went to Greg Green on plays of 15 and 72 yards. The third TD pass went to Richard Kriesen, covering 15 yards.

Defensively coach Ed Gauer said that defensive tackle Shawn Finch, who recovered two fumbles, and Fermin Gutierrez played good defensive games.

Snyder 12, Runnels A 8
 It was a case of winning the battle and losing the war as Snyder took advantage of four Runnels turnovers while taking a 12-8 win last night at Blankenship Field.

Though they dominated the game, the Yearlings had three fumbles and one interception. The interception hurt dearly. On the third play of the game, Snyder intercepted a pass and returned it 55 yards for a touchdown.

Runnels came right back with a scoring drive of its own. Neal Mayfield, who rushed for 135 yards in 17 carries, scored from 19 yards out. Mayfield also ran in the two-point conversion and Big Spring held a 8-6 lead.

The winning score came late in the first half when Snyder scored on a fake reverse play with :23 left.

Two times Runnels got inside the Snyder 10-yardline and fumbled, in the second half.

Coach Gauer said that Shane Myrick, Freddie Rodriguez, Rigor Moran, Frank Garza and Santos Martinez all played good games for Runnels.

The Yearlings are now 1-5 for the season.

Big Spring JV, Midland 21
The Big Spring Steers football team and Midland High battled to a 21-21 tie Thursday night at Memorial Stadium.

Quarterback Craig Knocke was the "man of the hour" for Big Spring, passing for two TD's and running for the other. Knocke threw a 80-yard strike to Dewayne Woodal and a 50-yarder to Bruce Jones. Knocke scored the final TD on a three-yard run.

Timmy Gutierrez passed for a two-point conversion to Thomas Asley and Mike Martinez kicked an extra point. Paul Chavez caught two passes for 100 yards in the game and David Kilgore got an interception.

The JV's record is 5-1-1 for the season.

Leonard to fight Hagler?

BOSTON (AP) — Sugar Ray Leonard reportedly has signed a contract to meet Marvelous Marvin Hagler in a 12-round middleweight boxing match April 6 at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas.

The Boston Globe Friday said Leonard's lawyer, Mike Trainer, reported the fighter had signed the contract and agreed to have Bob Arum promote the bout.

All that is needed is Hagler's signature, Trainer told the newspaper, which said it was told by unnamed sources that Hagler is not likely to sign until next week.

Leonard signed last week and is very happy with the terms, which were not disclosed, Trainer said. The last hurdle was the number of rounds.

Leonard wanted no more than 12 rounds, but Hagler wanted 15, Trainer said. Boxing tacticians think Hagler would have the advantage in a longer fight because he is stronger.

The Globe said Hagler will agree to 12 rounds because the World Boxing Association approves 15 rounds and recognizes the South African Boxing Commission. Hagler is believed ready to take a stand against South Africa's apartheid policy.

Hagler, from Brockton, Mass., holds three titles, including the WBA crown. The World Boxing Council, which does not recognize the South African commission, approves the 12-round distance and said it will sanction the bout as a championship match if Leonard passes a physical examination.

Trainer said Leonard is not interested in title sanctions. "You have to understand Ray is not seeking sanctions, he just wants this fight. Ten rounds would be fine with Ray."

Your Kitchen Range Comes With A Warranty... Your Home Should Too!
A Home Warranty makes buying or selling a home a lot easier. For the seller that means cost-free coverage for any covered items that might require attention while your home is on the market. If your home doesn't sell, you've had cost free protection. But if something does go wrong, you pay only a minimal deductible. For the buyer a Home Warranty means protection from repair or replacement bills caused by mechanical failures for one full year after closing, again only subject to a minimal deductible. So if you're buying or selling a home, ask us about our Homeowners Home Warranties. We'll make your life a lot easier!

Your DAILY HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, OCT. 25, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime can bring considerable problems if you are now objective in your reactions to others. Do what you can to build your health now.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) The situation at home may be somewhat tense. Your romantic life improves tonight. Be charming.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Plans for taking little trips could go awry early. Later all will straighten out for you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan how to improve your monetary status, but don't take any risks doing this. Be with friends.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Get personal situations straightened out in a positive way. Try to be less extravagant.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) If you try to get an outside contact together with a good friend the results will not be good.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study your most intimate aims and know how to gain them in the near future. Diplomacy is important.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Use care in the handling of civic and world affairs. Show that you are a kind and generous person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You may find it hard to get in motion those ideas you think can be of help to you. Avoid a new contact.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be conscientious in handling promises you have made. Avoid making errors that could be costly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You want to have more harmony with an associate who is troubled so postpone discussions now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You may find it difficult to get work done or be of service to others, but tonight all changes for the better.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A stumbling block in the path of recreation may spoil your plans, but take this in your stride.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have every ability to handle whatever has to do with financial and property affairs. One who will need more rest in order to be able to think out plans before getting into best activities. Fields along merchandising lines will be fine here.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

CIA planes flying over San Antonio

WASHINGTON — U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez says he believes CIA-backed planes are still flying through San Antonio to supply rebel forces in Nicaragua despite two recent crashes and the ensuing controversy.

Gonzalez, D-San Antonio, charged that the crash of a cargo plane at Kelly Air Force Base Oct. 4 and that of another cargo plane in Nicaragua were part of a covert CIA-backed network to supply anti-Sandinista Contra rebels.

Gonzalez said his office has received reports that the supply flights are continuing through his home city despite the crash, which killed three civilian crewmen, and that the cargo includes crates of assault rifles.

"What might have been questionable two weeks ago today is moot because the president has signed the Continuing Resolution, which includes the $100 million to fund the Contras," Gonzalez said Thursday.

Galveston must raise $8 million

WASHINGTON — The Navy has warned Galveston city officials that they have until Christmas to come up with $8 million to match $30 million in federal funds for construction of a port for five military ships.

But Mayor Jan Coggeshall said Thursday she knew nothing about a December deadline for the cash or its equivalent and that there was no way the city would be able to meet one.

"We're only a community of 61,000 people and we don't have the $8 million to hand over to the Navy," Ms. Coggeshall said from her Galveston office. "We have offered $9.9 million in infrastructure improvements to the Navy."

Chase Untermeyer, assistant secretary of the Navy for manpower and reserves, says the Department of Defense — not the Navy — is the "bad guy" in this situation.

Lubbock woman victim of stabbing

LUBBOCK — Investigators said they believed they had a suspect in the death of a Lubbock woman whose body was found in a muddy ditch with her head almost severed from a knife wound, authorities said.

The fully clothed body of Tammy Everett, 23, was spotted by a motorist about 10:30 a.m. Thursday along a stretch of highway just outside the city.

Sheriff's deputies said the suspect was a man seen speaking with Miss Everett about midnight outside the Lubbock Elks Lodge where she worked as a waitress. Late Thursday police had obtained a warrant to search his home but the man had disappeared, chief deputy Early Bartley said.

Sheriff's department investigators said the woman's head was nearly severed and she had stab wounds in the left side of her chest.

Miss Everett's purse, containing a set of car keys and her wallet, was found next to the body, he said.

Gold, silver discovery prompts skepticism

UVALDE — So far this is more of a gold "so what?" than a gold rush.

A day after a San Antonio company announced that it had reason to believe the gold and silver are here, people hereabouts weren't rushing out to dig.

Unless things change, folklore may be robbed of such places as Brackettville Mill, the Hondo Lode or the Eighty-Sixers.

On Wednesday, James Sigmon, president of Exploration Co., said significant traces of gold and silver have been found in soil taken from a 3,900-acre tract it owns.

As a result of its discovery, Sigmon said, the company has purchased or leased an additional 150,000 acres in Kinney, Uvalde and Medina counties.

But, on Thursday, several people here expressed their surprise.

Bill Dillahunty, tourism director for the Uvalde Chamber of Commerce, said, "There's legends of buried Spanish gold, and Jim Bowie was supposed to have had a silver mine near Concan. But a gold mine? I never heard of it." Officials at the Garner Abstract and Land Co. in Uvalde said no significant mineral filings on record for years.

A clerk in the county clerk's office said, "The Leader-News newspaper ran a story on the front page about a gold discovery as an April Fool's joke. That's the only gold I've ever heard of here."

Discovery of any precious minerals would be great with Uvalde County residents, however.
