Truck Owners and Operators Urged to Comply With State Laws; Violators to be Penalized

Do you drive a truck? Then buy your license, for such is the requirement of the state law with regard to motor vehicle highway traffic and the law must be complied with to avoid penalty.

In a conversation with Sheriff W. W. Hall recently he said it appeared that not many people understood this to be the essence of the law, but that persons owning their own truck and doing hauling for their own convenience are not obliged to have a chauffeur's license in order to do so, no matter how much they may use the state highways.

Quoting from a little booklet that is put out by the state, a copy of which was in possession of the sheriff, and which is entitled "Texas Laws Relating to Motor Vehicle Highway Traffic and Registration" we have the following:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or permit to be operated any commercial motor vehicle of over one ton carrying capacity upon the highways of this state, without having first obtained a chauffeur's license as provided in Article 6687 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, of 1925."

In order to assure himself that this means just exactly what it said, Sheriff Hall asked Mr. Kellar, chief of the highway patrol of this division, while he was in the sheriff's office recently, just what the meaning of the law was. Mr. Kellar replied that it meant just what it said, and that any person using a truck on the state highways which had a capacity of over one ton, must buy a chauffeur's license or be subject to a penalty, no matter for what purpose he was operating the truck. Such a license costs $3.00. The sheriff will furnish the license upon receipt by him of the price. If you are too busy to travel to the county seat to secure your license you may get it by sending in your application with the fees.

Poll Tax Payments.

It is stated from the sheriff's office that there has been the largest number of paid poll tax this year that has ever been known in Parmer county.

There is a total of 1533 poll tax receipts issued, and of this number Friona precinct ranks the highest in the county. Following is a list of the precincts with the number of poll tax paid in each:

Precinct 1, Black	76
Precinct 2, Friona	485
Precinct 3, Bovina	297
Precinct 4, Farwell	254
Precinct 5, Lazbuddy	152
Precinct 6, Oklahoma Lane	202
Precinct 7, Rhea	42
Precinct 8, Lakeview	45

Victim of Car Wreck Dies.

Sunday night a car turned over on the highway near Black and one of the occupants, a lady, was so seriously injured that she died in the Hereford hospital Monday night.

One of the tires blew out which caused the car to turn over, and is said to have turned three times. None of the other occupants were injured, all of whom lived in Clovis, according to reports reaching the Star office.

Dr. Wills of this place, it is reported, was closely behind the car when the accident happened and took the injured lady to the hospital in his car.

To Place New Steel.

The Santa Fe Railway company has a force of men employed scattering new steel rails that are to replace the steel now in use on the road. It is understood the track will be equipped with new 110-pound steel all the way from Hereford to Clovis.

Has Influenza Attack.

Mrs. A. J. Smith, affectionately known as "Grandma", who resides in the eastern portion of the city, has suffered the past week an attack of Spanish influenza. She usually enjoys good health, despite the fact that she is now in her 88th year. We are glad she is improved and hope she will be strong again soon.

Why Spoil the Block?

It seems strange that people will deliberately and needlessly spoil the appearance of the public property in their town, or even private property when it belongs to some other person.

It is noticeable that people are deliberately driving across the vacant block in the heart of Friona commonly known as the county block, for the reason that it belongs to the county. There is no need or occasion for such trespassing, since there are open and graded streets all around this block.

The members of the Friona Woman's Club have taken over this block of the city as a beautification project and have planted it with shade trees and ornamental shrubbery and flowers, and in due course of time it will be, if left alone, a beauty spot for the city. However, if people, who seemingly do not care for the looks of the city, continue to make roads in all directions across the block, the efforts of the ladies will be all in vain.

Well beaten automobile trails cross at least two of the corners of the block, with other trails crossing at other places. Only a matter of a very few seconds of time may be gained by cutting across these places, at best, and it is very seldom that time is so precious that a citizen would be justified in defacing the block in this way.

This practice is not confined to public property, as there are many vacant lots or blocks in town that have well beaten thoroughfares cut in all directions across them, simply because someone finds it more convenient to drive across his neighbors' property rather than to follow the streets and go the longer way around.

Moved to Farwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harvey, Jr., who have been living in Friona for the past year, where Mr. Harvey has been assisting his father in the management of the Heneman Grain and Seed Company, elevator, have moved to Farwell where he will take charge of another elevator. These young people have made a host of friends in Friona during their short stay here, all of whom regret to have them leave Friona.

Farm Machinery to Be Demonstrated Here Next Wednesday

There will be a machinery demonstration at Friona Wednesday afternoon, March 9, under the auspices of Buchanan & Rosson Company, whose local superintendent is H. G. Morris.

This popular firm will demonstrate many of the new featured machines now being put on the market by the manufacturers of its line of farm implements.

Just where the demonstration will be held has not been definitely settled yet, but it will be in one of the fields adjoining the city limits, and thus convenient to all who may come to town to view it. They most cordially invite everybody to come and hope to give to all something worth their time in the way of handling and caring for farm machinery.

Mrs. Mitchell Much Improved.

Grandmother Mitchell, mother of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Roden who resides three miles east of town, has been suffering quite seriously from indigestion the past week. We are glad to report, however, that she is materially improved and has resumed her favorite work of quilting. At this she is an expert. It would be of interest to anyone to see the unusually splendid work she does in this line.

Bobbie Lee Roden Home.

Little Bobbie Lee Roden, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Roden who has been in the hospital at Hereford for the past ten days, was brought home Monday.

Bobbie Lee was seized with a severe affection of the throat and bronchial organs, which came near taking his life before he could reach the hospital, and the many friends of the family rejoice with them in the bright hope for his early permanent recovery.

Squabs Provide Part of Bill of Fare In T. F. Lawrence Home

T. F. Lawrence, one of Friona's highly esteemed citizens, has been feasting for the past several months on squabs, which he has raised in his own pigeon lofts. In fact he says he has eaten so many squabs during the winter that his shoulders are beginning to itch, and he fears he is on the verge of sprouting wings and turning to a pigeon and he is going to let up on squab meat and try some other kind for a while.

Mr. Lawrence says there is no meat that he likes better and the dainty morsels are so easy to raise and the parent birds breed so prolifically that it requires only a small flock to produce all the squabs an ordinary sized family will consume. He does not raise these birds for sale, but merely for his own use, although he has many calls for the young birds from which to start a flock, these demands coming mostly from boys who take a fancy for them.

He says there is hardly a day that some boy or boy's mother does not ask him if he has any young birds to give away, and his answer is that he does not. However, he will sell a pair of the young birds occasionally when he has them to spare, but the old birds he refuses to sell at all.

According to Mr. Lawrence, there is no kind of fowl that equals a squab for the table, the meat being quite tender, of a delicious flavor and easily cooked. There are various ways of cooking them and they are delicious when cooked any way. He wrings off their heads, dry picks and singes, and after drawing splits the back and fries, boils or bakes them. He says a waterless cooker is one of the best ways of cooking, and when tender remove lid long enough to brown. Squabs are best when taken at the time of leaving the nest, as they become tough if allowed to fly.

In addition to pigeons, Mr. Lawrence keeps poultry and has fared these hard times on chickens, eggs and squab. He does not propose to go hungry this summer, and is preparing to dine on lettuce, radishes, tomatoes and other vegetables raised in his own garden.

Work is scarce, and rather than sit idly by, he spends his time preparing for the future, and his plan, we believe, is a good one and should be adopted by others.

Mrs. Musiek Arrived.

Mrs. Grant Musiek arrived here from her home in San Bernardino, California, Thursday morning in response to a telephone message telling her of the condition of her father, John Giesler.

Friona being Mrs. Giesler's girlhood home, she has a host of good friends here who are pleased to greet her again. Her stay here for the present will be indefinite, owing to the low condition of her father's health.

Appendicitis Victim.

The daughter of Mrs. Crouch of Black was seized with an attack of appendicitis Sunday and was taken to the hospital at Hereford where an operation for removal of the appendix was performed Sunday night.

The young lady was in a critical condition when she arrived at the hospital and at this writing is not considered out of danger. Mrs. Crouch is a sister of our esteemed citizen, Glenn McCrate of Black.

Santa Fe Train to Demonstrate Farm Activities

The Santa Fe Railway is operating a farm and home demonstration train this spring over all its lines in Texas, including the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway.

This train is scheduled to be routed to principal towns in West and Northwest Texas, reaching Hereford at 1:30 p. m., Saturday, March 26, for a several hours stay.

This train is operated in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, which will present the entire program.

Four cars of exhibits are carried by the train, an up-to-date agricultural and livestock show of interest to every farmer and livestock grower in this territory, carrying a message of greater profit and better living. The exhibits include dairy and beef cattle, hogs, poultry, angora goats and sheep.

The program includes talks by experts from the College on the problems that face the farming and livestock industries in West and Northwest Texas today. The College has in the course of many years developed a practical and broad program for better and safer farming, lower production costs, and a balanced farming system for the entire year.

The train is conveniently located at the Santa Fe Railway station. After the speaking program the people have the opportunity to pass through the train and inspect the varied exhibits provided by the College. Representatives from the College will also be at every exhibit booth to answer questions.

The program will have something for everyone, including the women and the boys and girls. All are welcome. The Santa Fe is glad to be able to bring this school on wheels to the communities along its lines in West and Northwest Texas.

Singing Convention Sunday.

The Parmer County Singing Convention will hold its annual session Sunday, March 6, at the Lakeview school house.

The people of Lakeview community extend a general invitation to all lovers of song to attend this convention. Bring your dinner basket well filled and stay all day and enjoy a feast of good singing.

Trios, quartets and choruses from many of the adjoining counties and towns are expected and there will be singing all day from the time the program begins in the forenoon until it closes late in the afternoon. Do not miss this convention.

Has Rheumatism.

Marvin Key, who has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with a severe case of rheumatism, was able to drive to town Monday to visit a physician.

Marvin had the misfortune to sprain his ankle Sunday, February 21, and from this injury the rheumatism set in and infected his knee to the extent that he was unable to leave his bed for several days. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Poultryman Urges Chicken Fanciers to Provide More Hens

According to the views of one of Friona's leading poultrymen, this is the year for people everywhere to raise lots of chickens, although the very opposite seems to be the prevailing opinion among people of the Friona territory.

Mr. Poultryman says that owing to the low price of eggs and poultry, people are taking it for granted that they are not worth the trouble and expense of raising, and for that reason incubator men and custom hatcheries over the country are finding it extremely difficult to sell their chicks when hatched.

According to his views, they should take advantage of the prevailing low prices of chicks and feed of all kinds including the commercial feeds, and should raise all the chicks they possibly can. He believes there will be a scarcity of hens the coming year all over the country, as practically all poultrymen and farmers generally have culled their flocks to the very limit, which will cause the scarcity of laying hens for the coming winter, and a corresponding scarcity of the egg supply, which will produce a tendency toward higher prices.

In addition for this very good reason for producing more poultry this year, is the fact that they can be so cheaply produced owing to the low price of feeds, that a large flock of hens about the home will make living expenses much lower, even though the price of eggs and poultry should be no higher than at present. In the way of cheaply produced eggs and fowls for the family table. It is a well known fact that every bit of food produced on the farm or about the home of the town and city dwellers takes just that much off of the family's living expenses—therefore raise lots of chicks this year.

Dr. Darnell Here Sunday.

Dr. F. M. Darnell, head of the Department of English at the W. T. S. T. C. Canyon, delivered a most able address at the Congregational church here Sunday. He was accompanied here by his daughter and Miss Esther Reeve of this place, who is attending college at Canyon.

Dr. Darnell is a master of the English language and his highly intellectual discourse was delivered in a clear, concise way which won the hearts of his hearers, yet his style of delivery was so simple that all who cared could grasp his every meaning.

He is a man of high intellectual attainments, and a deep but rational thinker along lines of religious thought. He is not extreme in his ideas nor impulsive in their expression, but has arrived at his religious conclusions by careful and conscientious deliberation. His hearers hope to have the pleasure of hearing him again.

W. V. Boydston Here.

W. V. Boydston of Childress was a visitor in this locality on Monday and Tuesday. He owns a tract of land west of town in township 1-3 and was here looking after his interests. He owns land near Childress and also in Oklahoma, but he says none of his land has produced any revenue for him the past year.

Mr. Boydston is a genial gentleman and well posted on economic conditions in all localities where his property holdings are located, as well as to the country generally. He says Childress is located in a cotton growing country, but that conditions are about the same as they are here. He made the Star office a pleasant visit while in town.

Seeking Highway Work.

There has been a group of highway workers camped here for the past few days who are on their way to some place in New Mexico where they expect to find employment at their line of work.

They have a number of good work horses and mules with them and are otherwise equipped for the work of highway grading and repairing. Their stop here was simply for a few days rest for their teams and to place their outfit in readiness for work when the work is located.

It was rather unusual to see so many head of work stock on Friona streets at one time, such as they presented while passing thru town two or three times a day to their watering place.

Friona Poultry Show Attracts Exhibitors from All Parts of County; High Class Birds

Apples and Grapefruit.

During the past winter Fallwell Brothers of this place have trucked into Friona from Colorado, New Mexico and South Texas an immense amount of Irish potatoes, apples, grapefruit and oranges. These potatoes and fruits have been sold in Friona and some neighboring towns, but by far the greater part of them have been disposed of right on the streets of Friona.

C. H. Fallwell stated that up to this time they have brought in 3500 bushels of apples and 400 bushels of grapefruit and oranges, mostly grapefruit.

The potatoes brought in came from the potato growing regions of Colorado, while the apples came from Colorado and New Mexico, where the crop of the past season was most abundant. Mr. Fallwell stated that the people in New Mexico where they obtained most of their apples were always pleased to see them arrive, as they knew it meant a sale of from 200 to 400 bushels, of which they had an abundance and practically no sale for them except to the truck men, who distributed them over the country, and the Fallwells took sometimes as many as four of their large trucks at one trip. On one or two of these trips they brought several bushels of the finest of pears which were eagerly taken by their Friona customers.

Since the grapefruit season has come in they have been sending two of their trucks to the citrus country in the Rio Grande valley for their citrus fruits, while the other two trucks have continued their visits to the apple regions of New Mexico. The apples have ranged in price from 75 cents to $1.50 a bushel, while the grapefruit and oranges have gone at $2.00 a bushel.

These hustling and energetic people have thus been able to add a little to their personal income and at the same time have made it possible for their neighbors to have an abundance of delicious fruits and good vegetables at a very moderate price.

Dr. F. M. Darnell, or Canyon, Speaks To Congregationalists

Dr. F. M. Darnell, head of the English department of W. T. S. T. C. Canyon, was the principal speaker at last Sunday's services. Dr. Darnell's address was sincerely religious, sensible and scholarly and was listened to with deep interest by his entire audience, and many expressions of sincere appreciation of Dr. Darnell were heard.

The program for the following Sunday is as follows:

Doxology: Congregation.

Invocation: Hurd Whitefield, Leader.

Gloria: Congregation.

Remarks by Leader.

Vocal Solo: Mrs. D. W. Hanson.

Reading: "Little Towns of Texas"; Mrs. Maples.

Song: "Texas Our Texas"; Congregation.

Offeratory.

Talk: "Commemorating the Alamo"; L. G. Symson.

Readings: "Texas"; Nora Hefel Mahon; "Easter Lilies"; Grace N. Crowell, Mrs. F. W. Reeve.

Address: "Development of Education and Religion in the Panhandle"; A. D. Smith.

Closing song.

Dismissal.

This being "Texas Week" the above program has been arranged in conformity with the idea and many of the numbers bear special reference to our great state, Texas.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Attorney of Parmer County, subject to the decision of the Democratic primary on the 23rd day of July, 1932.

J. D. THOMAS,
County Attorney.

The poultry show put on here Friday and Saturday of last week, managed by the boys of the agricultural class of the high school and sponsored by the local chamber of commerce, was a decided success so far as interest and good exhibits were concerned.

It was well attended both days, there being an almost continuous string of people going through the aisles of coops containing the exhibits, and expressing pleasure or surprise at the fine array of really excellent exhibits.

The boys had used excellent taste in their arrangement of the exhibits, and the room was decorated with attractive and very showy signs representing practically every business concern in Friona, which added a sort of gala day appearance to the show, and was apparently appreciated by the visitors.

It is stated that there were not so many entries this year as last, but that the lack was fully made up in the quality of those that were in, and many complimentary remarks have been heard concerning the many fine poultry flocks that were represented there, an indisputable evidence of the increased interest being taken by the people of the Friona territory in trying to produce only the best possible.

The Star has been favored with a list of the winners as they were determined by Dr. Lansden, the A. P. A. certified judge. They are as follows:

COUNTY ATTORNEY THOMAS SEEKS RE-ELECTION

In another column of this issue of the Star will be found the announcement of County Attorney J. D. Thomas of Farwell, who is again offering himself as a candidate for the office which he now holds.

Mr. Thomas has served two or more terms as county attorney, in which office he has rendered faithful service to the people of the county, and has given universal satisfaction.

While Mr. Thomas says he has no statement to make other than that he is running for the office, we feel perfectly safe in stating that if re-elected to this important office, Mr. Thomas will continue to render to the people the very best and most faithful service in his power to give.

DO YOU HAVE A PERMIT TO KILL THE COMMUNITY VALUE OF YOUR DOLLARS?

When one Friona man asked another why he sent away for so much of his merchandise, the reply was: "Because I can get it cheaper." When asked what was the Friona price on the same merchandise he replied, "I don't know." He could have saved money if he had known.

P. T. A. Meeting.

The Friona Parent-Teacher Association met in regular session Monday evening, February 22, at 8:00 o'clock.

After the matters of business were attended to the pupils of Miss Boston presented an operetta, "In the Land of Dreams Come True." This was very entertaining and was well received.

A candle lighting ceremony, a song by the fifth grade girls, and a talk by Rev. Annis completed the program.

P. T. A. meets on the third Monday evening of each month at 8 o'clock. The date for the next meeting is March 21. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Methodist Church Notes.

Last Sunday was a big day for Friona Methodists. The house was filled at the 11 o'clock hour at the beginning of which service an impressive baptismal service of children was held and following the sermon the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to a large number.

During the day the audiences were entertained by special music furnished by the orchestra of the intermediate class and vocal duets by Misses Edna Earl Curry and Margaret Lacy.

Miss Irene Sachs, daughter of Mrs. Chara Sachs, of Rhea community, has been suffering from an attack of the influenza, but is out and about again at this writing.

Jesus Washes His Disciples' Feet

John 13:1-15

1. Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own that were in the world, he loved them unto the end.

2. And during supper, the devil having already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him,

3. Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came forth from God, and goeth unto God,

4. Riset from supper, and layeth aside his garments; and he took a towel, and girded himself,

5. Then he poureth water into the basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6. So he cometh to Simon Peter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?

Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt understand hereafter.

8. Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9. Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.

10. Jesus saith unto him, He that is bathed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit; and ye are clean, but not all.

11. For he knew him that should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12. So when he had washed their feet, and taken his garments, and sat down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?

13. Yet call me Teacher, and Lord; and ye say well; for so I am.

14. If I then, the Lord and the Teacher, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

15. For I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done to you.

Golden Text: The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.—Matt. 20:28.

Time: The triumphal entry, Sunday, April 3. Controversy and teaching, Tuesday, April 4. Retirement in Bethany, Wednesday, April 5. The last supper, Thursday, April 6. Place: Bethany and Jerusalem.

Introduction.

Six days before the passover Jesus returned to Bethany, the home of Lazarus and his sisters. It is now the beginning of the last week of his ministry. John, after telling of the Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem on Sunday and the coming of the Greeks on Monday, with the discourse that followed, hastens on to the events and the teachings in the upper room on Thursday evening before the crucifixion on Friday. The events of our lesson occurred soon after they entered that sacred room.

As John looked back over the long years to that never-to-be-forgotten night the one thing that hung like a halo over all that Jesus said and did, was his love. "Having loved his own he loved them unto the end." He loved them, in spite of their dullness and their spiritual failures.

The Upper Room in Jerusalem.

The upper room had been prepared for the coming of Jesus and his disciples. There was the table about which the couches were arranged; there was the little table with the lamp; and over near the door the basin, a pitcher of water and a towel, put there for the washing of the feet of the group which would come in from the dusty streets.

But there was no servant, and one of the disciples would have to perform the lowly duty of foot washing. We do not doubt that often one of them had thus served his Master and brethren. On this evening, however, none volunteered. As they entered every man went to his place, waiting only, perhaps, until the Master himself had reclined. None was in a mood for being a servant, since they had been disputing about who was greatest.

The Self-Seeking Disciples.

Luke tells us that even in this last evening there was a contention among them as to which of them was greatest. "And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest."—Luke 22:24. A most lamentable and discouraging fact, but he loved them just the same. His own mind and heart were burdened by the knowledge that "his hour had come," he saw clearly the sufferings which lay just ahead of him, but he was not too burdened to teach and comfort those whom the Father had given him. They were on the brink of the darkest valley they would ever pass through; and he gave them his love's best gifts. So it was all through his ministry—just when they needed him most he was near. And so it has been all through the ages.

Jesus' Act of Humility.

"Riset from supper, and layeth aside his garments." The immediate cause of our Lord's act of humility and service was undoubtedly the unworthy strife among the disciples—not the first that had occurred—as to which of them should have precedence in the kingdom of which Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem and his popularity since had given them renewed hope (Luke 22:24-27). Very likely this strife was brought to a head by some foolish struggle for the chief seats at the table, those on the right and the left of Jesus. "And he took a towel, and girded himself." With the towel for a girdle, he fastened up his long robe out of the way. He waited till it was clear that no one else would do it, and then he did it himself.

Jesus Washes the Disciples' Feet.

"Then he poureth water into the basin." A pitcher of water was ready as part of the arrangements of the room made in advance by Peter and John, and the usual large copper basin lay beside it. "And began to wash the disciples' feet." He began to wash them as they reclined on their couches at the low table, their bare feet stretched outward, away from the tables. "And to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded." How plainly do all these details mark the narrative as that of an eye-witness!

"We have a principle laid down; the same that the Romans referred to in the proverb, 'Servire est regnare.' To serve is indeed to reign. Where will you find a nobler legend than that on the escutcheon of the Prince of Wales? 'I serve!'—Rev. David James Walford, D. D.

"Christ had full knowledge of his glory and dignity, and in spite of that—nay, because of that—he emptied himself of his glory and took upon himself the form of a servant. What is the meaning of this to us? It means that here we have a sample of the divine life, and therefore a standard for all human life."—Prof. Hugh Black. "Service—that is the keyword for life, for Christ, and for all his followers. And mark, further, that it is service in order to cleanse."—Alexander Maclaren.

Peter's Protest.

"So he cometh to Simon Peter." Something notable always happens when the narrative reaches this forthright apostle! "He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?" "The two pronouns, thou, my, stand together at the beginning of the sentence in emphatic contrast: 'Do thou of me wash the feet?'"—Prof. Marvin R. Vincent. It was characteristic of Peter to be the first to protest against Christ's act—and doubtless to be proud that he was the first to protest! This deed of Christ's gives us "The full substance of the gospel concentrated into a single lesson, the whole of practical Christianity in a single symbolic act."—Rev. George Whitefield Fisher.

"Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet." The negative is very strong, and is translated by Weymouth, Never while the world lasts shall you wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

"Simon Peter saith unto him." He speaks with the impetuosity that marks all his appearances in the first three Gospels also. "Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head." "To have no part with Christ—that was more than he could bear. It is as though he would say, 'A great part in thee!' First of all, he had wished to differ from the others in not being washed at all. Now that he must be washed, he would be washed most of all. Ah, the subtle danger of wanting to be first, even in goodness!"—Prof. W. G. Kimball.

The Example of Jesus.

Our Lord's words, verse 14-15, might be paraphrased: If I, whom you regard as your Leader and Teacher, am willing to be your servant, and in lowly ways, why, it follows that you, if you are to be my true disciples, must imitate me in humble paths of service, and especially in the path of self-sacrifice.

"For I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done to you." "We should never lose sight of the fact that Christ is our pattern. We are called to imitate him. Some one has said, 'If you would become a painter, take the pencil and study Raphael; if you would become a sculptor, take the chisel and study Phidias; if you would become a poet, take the pen and study Homer; but if you would become a Christian, take the New Testament and study Christ.'

He gives us an example, and binds us down to that, only that by the closeness of our servitude our souls may expand."—Henry W. Clark.

"At the battle of Waterloo, Lord Hill pointed to a bursting shell and said to the Duke of Wellington, 'What are your instructions, and what orders do you leave us, if you are killed?' 'Do as I am doing,' quietly responded the great commander."

Special Lesson.

The Italians have a proverb: "There is only one way that goes upward, and it goes downward."

"My Master's example teaches me to be willing to lay aside every thought of personal superiority, if I can do the humblest of my brethren good. If my brother needs it, I am, even literally, to wash his feet; but whether it be by washing his feet, or filling his hand, or drying his tears, or covering his infirmities, or forgiving his faults, or praying for his soul, I am to imitate my Lord's perfect loveliness and perfect love."

Baptist Church Notes.

There was a fairly good attendance at all services. A number of visitors were present and their presence was appreciated. At the evening service Mrs. Dilger rendered a solo entitled, "O Would He Know Me," which was an inspiration to the congregation. Next Sunday evening Mrs. Highfill's Sunbeams are to present a number, and as each number presented heretofore by these little folks has been better than those previously rendered, we may confidently expect something worth while.

The pastor announced his sermon subject for next Sunday to be "Living For and Encouraging Others". The following is the program for the senior group of B. Y. P. U. for next Sunday evening. Subject, Consecration of Mental Powers. Leader: Eva Dilger. Introduction: Leader. The Mind's First Great Problem: Finding and Knowing Christ: Rosella Dixon. The Mind's Second Great Problem: Finding and Filling Your Place in Life: Alice Baker. The Mind's Third Great Problem: Using Leisure Properly: Hazel Ware. The Mind's Most Thrilling Task: Seeking the Best Means of Serving through Christ's Church: Melvin Baker. Christ Challenges Youth: Vaden Coventry.

Disgusting, But True.

Despite all the warning given through the press, people continue to purchase edibles that are put out in stores and which in this unprotected state are easily contaminated. Great quantities of small cakes, candies, dates, figs, etc. (edibles that may not be cleaned by water or by thorough heating) laden oftentimes with germs of disease, are encountered in many market places.

If enough people will protest such displays and clamor for clean food, purveyors will have to provide protection for their wares or else have left on hand much that is stale and unseizable.

It is easy to realize that there are foods which, coming in contact with disease-laden hands or being baptized with "sneezes and snuffles," can scarcely fail to harbor the seeds of illness.

Those who have watched the holiday trade and noted the unwise food displays, attribute much of the season's illness to poor protection against contamination.

It has been pointed out over and over again that the common cold, influenza and diphtheria are all droplet infections and may be sprayed into the air not only by sneezing and coughing but also by laughing and talking around and over food.

Dried fruits, candies and cakes are no longer hidden by wrapping them up but the cellophane paper now used really adds to their attractiveness by its crisp, translucent luster. It is inexpensive and merchants should want to insure their goods against filth and disease.

A story is related of a woman who made cleanliness her life hobby—scrubbing and cleaning and disinfecting from dawn 'til dark, but her vigilance could not safeguard all that she ate or drank, and she lost her life from drinking dirty water. If she had realized that the typhoid germs in the water could have been killed or if she had the prophylactic treatment against the disease she might still be waging war against all forms of household dirt.

Besides keeping careful watch over the "mighty microbe" of foods one's own hands should be washed frequently as it is easy to pick up germs from articles handled by infected persons or insects.

Freshman Picnic.

The most important class in high school, the freshmen class, had a picnic February 25. We went about a half mile east of town and played baseball until about six o'clock. Miss Deaton, our famous pitcher, knocked two home runs. We roasted weiners and marshmallows. A good time was declared by all.

REPORTER.

Home Ec. Club Meeting.

The Home Ec. club met February 25 in room 17 at the high school building from 3:15 to 4:00. The meeting was called to order by the president, and the roll was called by the secretary. The following program was in charge of Minnie Reed:

Reading: Goldina Highfill. Report on Lincoln's Life: Inez Campbell.

Reading, "Being a Girl": Edna Reed. Comments on Washington: Reba Hill.

Comments on Edison (This part was omitted on account of lack of material.)

"Frankie and Common Sense", a story by Alice Kelly which was read by one of the members.

A short social meeting was held until time for the bell. We were pleased to have visitors present and invite them and any others back at any time.

Volley Ball.

The high school girls started playing volley ball Tuesday with Miss Handley as their coach. From the interest that is being shown it is certain that Friona will have a strong team. The volley ball tournament will be held at Friona March 25 and 26.

Music.

Perhaps one of the most interesting features of the Parmer County Track Meet is music. Only a few of the students have considered entering music, but it is undoubtedly one of the most important events and is due more consideration. As time draws nearer we are more determined to win over the other schools of the county. With the valuable help of Mr. Armstrong, Friona will make some one fight hard if he wins. There will be both junior and senior entrants from here, who will make a good fight for first place. Let's all start boosting now for Friona.

Literary Activities In Meet.

The high school has begun preparations for the literary events in the approaching county meet which will be held at Farwell Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2. Everyone is looking forward to this event with much enthusiasm, and there is a great possibility of Friona being more successful than ever before.

Friona will be represented in all of the literary events, these being debate, extemporaneous speaking, declamation, essay, typing, mathematics, spelling, glee club, quartet, duet and harmonica. Those who are participating in these events are doing everything in their power to make themselves victors. Not only are the students enthusiastic, but the members of the faculty are more than willing to do their bit toward promoting winners in the county meet.

We won both cups last year and we are making preparations to do the same this year.

Commercial Law Answers.

1. The word detriment means the doing by the one making the promise of something that he was not legally obliged to do.

2. Gambling contracts, Sunday contracts, Usurious contracts. A contract is void when the subject matter is illegal.

3. Contracts contrary to public policy are: Contracts in restraint of trade. Contracts obstructing public service. Contracts in restraint of marriage. Contracts tending to injure public service.

4. Certain apparent considerations that have been declared invalid to enforce a contract are: Moral consideration. Past consideration. Impossible consideration. Illegal consideration.

5. The purpose of Statute of Frauds is to prevent fraud and perjury in the proving of certain contracts. Since parties of the contract were not allowed to testify for themselves in court, witnesses were often hired to give false testimony.

6. No, the contract is not binding because contracts must be entered into willingly and freely. If one party compels another, by means of threats or actual violence to enter into an agreement, it is said to be obtained under duress, which is void.

7. No. The watch that A gave to B for the rest of the debt is considered by law as sufficient consideration for the rest of the amount, therefore the matter is closed and B cannot collect the rest of the money. If A had not given B the watch in consideration for the rest of the amount B could have collected the money because there was not sufficient consideration on the part of A.

8. No, he cannot collect anything for this because it is past performance and because he did this on his own free will. If you do a thing like this just because you want to, you cannot collect. Considerations of past performance do not make a binding contract.

Adult Class In Home Making

The Adult Class in Home Making will begin its work this semester on Tuesday evening, March 8, at 7:30. The subject to be studied is "Time Saving Meals". The class will meet on Tuesday evenings for approximately five weeks. All ladies interested in this unit of work are invited to be present at the first meeting in Room 14 of the Friona high school building.

Local Teams Win In Debates.

Friona's debating teams, both girls and boys, won in the contest debate held here Tuesday night at the school auditorium.

Ray Landrum and Junior Coneway composed the local boys team while Noble McLean and Seva Welch represented the girls. Their opponents were two young men and two young ladies from the Hereford high school, whose names were not given to the Star.

B. E. Club.

After studying the poem, "Enoch Arden," by Tennyson, we decided to make a book illustrating it. Each division of the class was to make one. Faye Hartsfield directed the east division and Irene Boggs directed the west division.

Friday morning we had two judges, Albert Coneway and Fran Lacy. Albert Coneway and Frances Lacy. The judges' decision was that the west side's book won.

Miss Deaton told us "The Merchant of Venice," which was very interesting.

We cordially invite visitors to our club.

Letter Men.

Twelve letters were awarded in football the past season. Those receiving letters were Clifford and Wilmont Crow, Douglas Frost, Charles Reeve, Dennis White, Merle Harry, Red Whitefield, Conway Frost, Clifford Boatman, Weldon Whitefield, Bud Barnett and Hilton Lansdown.

Seven letters were awarded in basketball, to Russel Loflin, Clifford and Wilmont Crow, Wilbur Meade, Captain Roy Johnson, Lex Alexander and Conway Frost.

The sweaters have been ordered and in a few days the Chiefs will be dressed in scarlet slip-over sweaters with the letter trimmed in white and with white service stripes over the arm.

Rays of Sunshine.

Don't contradict people, even if you are right.

Don't be inquisitive about the affairs of even your most intimate friends.

Don't underrate anything because you don't possess it.

Don't believe that everybody else in the world is happier than you.

Don't repeat gossip, even if it does interest a crowd.

Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile.

Learn to attend to your own business. This is a very important point.

Shoot square, play the game fair, work and live within your income.—Transit Grain and Commission Co.

B. E. Club.

The B. E. club patrol 3 met Friday. The different groups made a booklet of Enoch Arden and these were shown in class. Helen Schlenker judged the books, and her decision was that the book of Harold Lillard's group won. We then had a short program, conducted by Harold Lillard.

REPORTER, Bennah Burton.

Track.

Monday afternoon Coach Stevens and the boys went to work for the coming track meet to be held at Farwell. The first day was spent taking exercises in the gym. The following week they meet in Mr. White's pasture. A new track was laid out and the work proper began. The following have turned out for track: Dennis White, Captain; Hilton Lansdown, Orville Lansdown, Lawrence Lansdown, Conway Frost, Clifford Boatman, Weldon Whitefield, Russell Wyatt, Clifford Crow, Roy Johnson, Paul Parr, A. C. Foote, George Green, Gilbert Boatman and Lex Alexander. There are others who are coming out for track as soon as they recover from colds and sickness.

We are trying to make this a very successful year in track, and we hope it turns out in favor of Friona. LEX ALEXANDER.

Funds Not Recovered.

E. M. Hart, who lost over $200 in a bank failure in California a few weeks ago states that he has as yet been unable to recover any part of his money.

Mr. Hart received this money while visiting in California during the early part of the winter and placed it in the bank there for safe keeping, so that he might have it with which to pay his school, county and states taxes here, and upon leaving California to return to his home here, he received a cashier's check for the amount and deposited it in the Friona State Bank, but during the time the other bank failed.

Appendicitis Victim Improving.

Mrs. Everette Harry, who was taken to the hospital at Hereford last Saturday morning suffering from an attack of appendicitis, is reported gradually improving, with apparently every prospect for her early recovery from the surgical operation removing the appendix.

It was not generally known that Mrs. Harry had suffered the attack and had been removed to the hospital, even by some of her own family, until the operation had been performed. Her many friends rejoice in the way she stood the ordeal and in the hopes for her early recovery.

FRIONA STATE BANK

Spends Week End at Home Here.

Miss Frances Annis, of the department of home economics in the Olton high school, spent last week end with her parents here. She reported the Olton school as having a good year's work and was particularly enthused over a "play school" which she had recently conducted for the benefit of her girls who are interested in the play life of small children. Sub-school age children were assembled daily for a period of scientific supervised play as an object lesson for the girls.

Visit Son Here.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Fleet of Seminole, Oklahoma, spent Saturday and Sunday here visiting their son, R. F. Fleet and family. This is the first time these good people have been in Friona for several months.

County Assessor J. W. Magnes of Farwell spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Friona doing assessing for the county. He made his headquarters in the J. W. White insurance office while in Friona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Miller and daughters of Clovis were guests in the J. W. Ford home west of town Sunday of last week.

Today's Working Man

Enjoys Life Better Than Yesterday's Millionaire

Fifty years ago only a rich man could afford to burn 25 candles to read by, and, if he burned them, he got no more light than the man of modest means gets from one ordinary electric lamp today.

Fifty years ago the best entertainment available to rich men could not remotely compare with the Electric "Movies" and the Electric Radio which practically all can afford today.

Fifty years ago Electricity was just an experiment. Today it is the biggest single convenience in life. In fact, Electricity is so wide spread in its application today that without it the wheels of the world would actually stop.

Now comes the question: Are you letting Electricity do for you what it is ready and willing to do? Considering what it can accomplish, Electricity is one of the cheapest commodities on the market today!
