Voter turnout forecast at 44 percent

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) — Secretary of State Myra McDaniel predicts the voter turnout Tuesday will be about 3.2 million, or only 44 percent of the state's registered voters.

Campaign headquarters for both Democratic Gov. Mark White and former Gov. Bill Clements, the Republican challenger, predicted a victory if Ms. McDaniel's forecast is correct.

"I think 3.3 million is about what we are going to have," said Dwayne Holman, White's campaign manager. "The higher it is, the better for White, but we can win with her prediction."

"I remind you that (President) Ronald Reagan alone pulled 3.2 million votes in Texas in the 1984 election," said Jack Rains of Houston, co-campaign chairman of Clements campaign. "I am confident that if the total vote is only 3.2 million, then Bill Clements can attract a majority of them."

Ms. McDaniel estimated 44 percent of the state's 7,287,173 registered voters will cast their ballots at 6,764 precincts.

In 1982, when White upset Clements, the first Republican governor this century, there was a 50 percent turnout with 3,191,091 voters.

The presidential election in 1984 had a 68 percent turnout with 5.3 million voters.

Ms. McDaniel said if her prediction is correct, only 28 percent of the voting age population will elect state and county officials this year.

"State and local elections consistently receive much less attention than presidential elections, yet most of the decisions determining the quality of life for citizens are made on the state and local level," she said in a statement.

Ms. McDaniel urged employers to encourage voter participation by adopting a flexible time schedule on Election Day, which would permit businesses to carry on activities but spread voting across the entire day.

State law requires that employees be given time off from work to vote without penalty.

Ms. McDaniel said all offices of county clerks, elections administrators and voter registrars will be open on Election Day to answer questions from local voters.

The secretary of state's office has a toll free line, 1-800-252-VOTE for any inquiries.

How's that?

Stamp faces

Q. Whose faces were on the first U.S. postage stamps?

A. Benjamin Franklin's face was on a brown, five-cent stamp, and George Washington was on a black, ten-cent stamp, both issued in 1847.

19 named Carnegie heroes

By PETER MATTIAE
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Alfred LaMere, retired and disabled, was working in his Aberdeen, Wash., home last year when he heard a young girl calling for help from the Wishkah River behind his house. A 12-year-old boy had fallen into the water and could not swim.

"The boy just fell into the river after feeding the ducks ... and the kid was just bobbing up and down in the water," LaMere recalled. "I ran out and jumped into the water and tried to get him to float and tried to get him to shore."

"I kind of went down myself because I was getting pretty tired. I was down on the bottom and I pushed myself up. Thank God I was close to shore," he said.

LaMere, 64, a retired crane operator, is credited with saving the life of Patrick M. Miller of Tacoma, Wash., on Aug. 27, 1985, a feat that earned him recognition as a hero by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission on Thursday.

LaMere and 18 other U.S. and Canadian residents, including four who died trying to save others, will each receive a medal and $2,500 in cash. The commission has honored 7,045 people for heroic acts since industrialist Andrew Carnegie established the fund in 1903.

LaMere, who is disabled by back problems and had one lung and part of his stomach removed by surgery two years ago, said Thursday in a telephone interview that he "didn't think at the time" of his physical problems.

"I was just trying to save the kid, thinking about the boy," LaMere said. "I just had to do something. It had to be done."

Authorities said LaMere swam to the boy and calmed him, as they moved toward shore. The exertion quickly tired LaMere.

"The kid wasn't a swimmer," LaMere said.

LaMere said medics finally pulled him out of the river. He was treated for mild hypothermia and exhaustion.

He said Thursday's recognition is "a surprise to me."

"I'm not used that kind of stuff either," he said.

Others named by the commission are:

• Gregory Ysais Jr., 36, of Mission Viejo, Calif., who saved a 5-year-old girl from a mountain lion at San Juan Capistrano, Calif., on March 23.

• Daniel Farling St. John, 20, of Prineville, Ore., who died trying to save a man from a burning house on Aug. 4, 1985.

• Raymond Leonard Mills, 15, of Syracuse, Utah, who died helping to save his 12-year-old brother, Jay, from drowning in a public pool

Commissioners race no longer friendly

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

What was a congenial Precinct Two county commissioner's race suddenly turned ugly Friday afternoon.

Both candidates seeking the county commissioner's job attacked their opponent on the subject of being a full-time commissioner.

"My opponent (incumbent Paul Allen) only offers half-time representation," said Republican challenger Leo Williams concerning Allen's employment at Fina Oil & Chemical refinery plant.

"I'm sorry if he (Williams) can't hold a job," Allen said in response to the attack regarding his position with Fina. "The total precinct wants a working man. If you want something done — you give the responsibility to a man who's working," he said.

Williams, in a candidate questionnaire profile conducted by The Big Spring Herald in April, said his occupation consisted of "farming operations, landowner and oil & gas."

"For a man at that age," Allen said referring to his perception of his 45-year-old opponent's occupation, "it shows one thing — he's probably incompetent to hold a job."

According to the latest voter's registration list from the county's tax assessor and collector's office, 5,545 eligible voters will decide on Tuesday who will serve as the precinct's commissioner beginning Jan. 1.

Williams, who was raised in Knott and has been a Howard County resident since 1941, said among the advantages he could offer by being a full-time commissioner would be his "accessibility" for precinct residents.

"I could be out in the rural area overseeing and checking problems. I could be visiting with the people and have more time to devote to the precinct," Williams said.

Allen said he rises early in the morning to address the needs of his constituency and "probably sees more people while he (Williams) is sleeping, than he does while he's awake during the day."

"I cover a wide circle and they (constituents) know my routine and how to get a hold of me," Allen said.

Williams is seeking his first political office.

"I don't like things the way they've been going," he said referring to his disapproval of all commissioners voting in favor of a four-cent tax rate increase in September.

He favors the idea of the county appointing a full-time sheriff's deputy in Coahoma and improving Midway Road by means of a bond election or petitioning the state to designate it as a farm-to-market road.

Allen is seeking a third term in office. He has been a county resident for 30 years.

The incumbent has traveled a unique road during the reelection bid.

He and challenger John Stanley tied during a runoff election in June. Both men received 641 votes and Allen earned the Democratic nominee when 18-year-old Michelle Oglethorpe selected his name as winner during a tie-breaking card drawing held in June.

There are no other formal Howard county races in this year's election.

David Barr, incumbent county commissioner in precinct 4 is running for reelection unopposed.

Also running unopposed are:

118th Judicial District Judge James W. Gregg;

County Judge Milton L. Kirby;

District Clerk Peggy Crittenden;

County Clerk Margaret Ray;

County Treasurer Ronnie Franklin;

County Surveyor Telesforo F. Fierro Jr.;

Precinct 2 Justice of the Peace Willie Grant.

All are Democrats.

Other races on which Howard County voters will express their opinions include:

Water district budget decreased 1 percent

Despite the anticipated beginning of the Stacy reservoir, the Colorado River Municipal Water District this week approved a 1987 budget of nearly one percent less than the current year.

Directors of the district Thursday adopted a 1987 budget which calls for the outlay of $12,695,327, down $121,146 from the present budget, reports secretary/treasurer Joe Pickle.

This year's budget will be under-run substantially because of power costs which did not materialize or which were further softened by fuel adjustment rebates, according to a release by the CRMWD.

Nearly all budget revenues are forecast from the sale of water and interest earnings, except for $90,000 from recreational sources. Supporting water rates cannot be set until after the year's end, but no substantial increases are anticipated, the release stated.

Operational expenses of $6,932,342 for 1986 will be down $546,170 from the present budget, and most of this is in pumping savings due to lower power outlay. Debt service will amount to $4,661,475, which includes $920,243 for coverage. The decrease is $129,786 or 2.53 percent.

The other major budget item is $1,101,510 provided for additional water supply facilities, namely Stacy. This anticipates the start-up of the project and is $346,510, or 98.47 percent, above the amount allocated in that category this year.

Mitchell County official starts write-in campaign

COLORADO CITY - Mitchell County Precinct 4 Commissioner Bill Preston has launched a write-in campaign in an effort to retain his position.

He was defeated in the May Democratic primary by Herman Mitchell, outpacing Preston by 26 votes. Mitchell does not have a Republican opponent in Tuesday's general election.

Preston has served as county commissioner for eight years and said he decided on the write-in campaign because of the narrow primary vote margin.

There are no locally contested races on Tuesday's ballot. Running unopposed are Democrats Bill Carter for county judge; Bill Erwin for district clerk; Joan Beach for county clerk; Ann Hallmark for county treasurer; Joan Merket for precinct 1 justice of the peace; Jerry Hammond for precinct 1 constable; Johnny Shackelford for precinct 2 county commissioner; and, Ruby Claxton for precinct 2 justice of the peace.

Congressmen question nuclear waste documents

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Four congressmen have asked the Department of Energy to explain documents that studied the possibility of using only one site to hold all the nation's high-level radioactive wastes.

In a letter sent Wednesday to Energy Secretary John Herrington, the congressmen allege that the Energy Department may have violated the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 by authorizing the studies.

Under the Nuclear Waste Policy Act, two sites are to be selected. Three western sites have been chosen as finalists for the first repository, which would be restricted to 70,000 metric tons of uranium until the second repository is named. A metric ton of uranium is about 2,200 pounds.

Herrington announced in May, however, that the search for a second site in the East had been postponed indefinitely.

The letter was signed by Democratic Reps. Ron Wyden and Jim Weaver of Oregon, Al Swift of Washington and Edward J. Markey of Massachusetts, chairmen of the subcommittees that are investigating the site selection.

A DOE document, dated May 13 and released Thursday by Wyden, explores various strategy options involving the search for the waste dumps. One option would be to "concentrate on the first repository as the primary waste disposal facility."

Another paper, prepared for the DOE May 16 by Battelle Pacific Northwest Laboratory, details the potential to expand the three Western finalist sites.

"If adequate capacity is indeed available, considerations of systems costs would argue for opening only a single repository site," the study says.

It says the basalt site on the Hanford nuclear reservation in Washington could be expanded to hold 668,000 metric tons of uranium. But because basalt is an expensive medium, the study says, "there is less opportunity for achieving a savings by enlarging this repository in preference to opening up a second repository in a medium that may be less costly to develop."

The study estimated that the salt bed site in Deaf Smith County could be expanded to 107,000 metric tons of uranium.

The third finalist, the tuff repository site at Yucca Mountain in Nevada, could be expanded to a capacity between 78,000 and 136,000 metric tons of uranium.

"Another possibility which could provide additional capacity is expanding the repository site into adjacent areas which are less well defined and would require characterization," the study said of the Nevada location.

The congressmen asked Herrington to cite the section of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act that authorizes such studies.

They also asked him whether DOE is considering the possibility of selecting only one repository for all the nation's waste, and whether the potential for expanding the Hanford site was a factor in its selection as a finalist.

U.S. staff evacuated

WASHINGTON — The State Department said Friday the United States has evacuated members of its embassy staff from Beirut as an Anglican Church envoy talked of progress in liberating American hostages in Lebanon. President Reagan, questioned by reporters while on a political campaign tour in Washington state, said only, "I've got my fingers crossed." While Reagan, Secretary of State George Shultz, national security adviser John Poindexter and the president's chief spokesman voiced hope that the hostages might be released, none would say whether there was any reason to believe that was imminent.

Rights director quits

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, already rocked by budget cuts, is now losing its staff director, who charged Friday that Congress crippled the agency as a punishment for its conservative views. J. Al Latham Jr., 35, who has held the $68,700-a-year job since last December, wrote President Reagan that he was leaving Friday to return to private law practice. But in an interview, Latham said he could not "accomplish what needs to be accomplished under the sharply slashed funding level and crippling ... restrictions." A number of projects planned for next year are now in jeopardy, he said.

Gas deregulation sought

WASHINGTON — Natural gas producers feel they could take a $5 billion bite out of the federal trade deficit annually if the government eased price controls and mandated access to the country's interstate pipeline network. Figures released by the Commerce Department showed the trade deficit for September was $12.6 billion, with oil imports accounting for $3.1 billion, or about $12 billion a year. Nicholas J. Bush, president of the Natural Gas Supply Association, said in a prepared statement that at least $5 billion could be cut from the oil import figure each year with greater deregulation.

Government crackdown

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department is ending a lucrative practice by some farmers who have shuffled federal crop price support loans and payment-in-kind certificates to gain quick windfalls. In many cases, farmers have been advised and helped in the maneuvering by grain companies, officials said Thursday. But the new restrictions will "effectively put an end" to the dealings by the time local USDA offices close tonight.

South Korean ship captain Go Jong-Ryeong talks Friday with some of the Vietnamese refugees he rescued and brought to Bangkok this week. It was the fourth time that Go, 40, has rescued refugees in Southeast Asian waters.

Refugee rescuer

South Korean captain can't ignore boat people

By PETER ENG
Associated Press Writer

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — At a time when many ships ignore Vietnamese boat refugees in distress, South Korean captain Go Jong-Ryeong says he cannot avert his eyes because their lives are just as precious as anyone else's.

Go, a 40-year-old native of Seoul, this week rescued his fourth group of boat people, plucking 63 refugees from a jammed fishing boat and bringing them to Bangkok aboard his container ship.

He has rescued a total of 121 Vietnamese from Southeast Asian waters. Countless others have drowned, died of sickness and starvation, or were murdered by pirates.

"Every people have the same life. Even high-positioned men, rich men, very low men and very poor men," Go said Friday in an interview in his captain's quarters where a half-dozen refugee children scurried about playfully, tugging at his arms and legs, nudging him for a hug.

"If I don't pick up the refugees from the sea, maybe they will lose that life," said Go, a quiet and unassuming man.

He said his ship, the American-owned Sandy's Bay, was on its twice-monthly run from Hong Kong to Bangkok on Monday when he spotted the boat carrying 63 Vietnamese in the South China Sea, off the southern coast of Vietnam.

The refugees shouted for help, waved their shirts, and held up babies to the crew, Go said. They had been on the seas for three days.

"Weather conditions, you cannot guess. A gust comes, rough seas, and the boat sinks ... I worry," said Go, a Buddhist who keeps a sheet of spiritual sayings on the wall above his desk.

Go and his 20-member South Korean crew fed the refugees, let them bathe and gave them the crew's lounge to stay in. The 30 children were given the run of the ship.

The United States has provided Thailand with a guarantee that it will resettle the refugees if they cannot find homes in other countries. Some of the refugees said they had relatives in the United States, Canada and Australia.

According to the Bangkok office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, more than 590,000 Vietnamese have fled their country by boat since the communist victory in 1975.

The exodus has slowed, but almost 16,000 arrived in Asian countries in the first nine months of this year.

International aid officials have expressed concern that too many ship captains ignore vessels filled with boat people. In 1981, 21 percent of the refugees arriving in Asian asylum countries said they were rescued by ship captains, compared to only 7 percent three years later.

Aid officials said ship captains ignore refugees because they are concerned about added costs, delays, pirate attacks, and problems with getting countries to allow the refugees to land.

Hostage negotiations

LARNACA, Cyprus — Anglican Church envoy Terry Waite flew here Friday night by U.S. military helicopter after a surprise visit to Beirut, where he reported progress in efforts to free the American hostages.

A Christian radio station in Beirut said a hostage release was in the works, but the report could not be verified.

At least six of the Americans kidnapped in Lebanon still are held captive. A seventh missing American has been reported killed.

In Washington, the State Department said it had reduced an already scaled-down embassy staff in Beirut for security reasons but refused to say how many people were involved.

Soviet employees leave

MOSCOW — No change is expected in the Soviet order withdrawing Soviet employees from the U.S. Embassy and temporary American personnel will arrive soon to take over their duties, Ambassador Arthur A. Hartman said Friday.

In an unusual on-the-record briefing, he said the embassy staff was coping with the lack of maids, drivers, cleaners, translators and other employees and morale was high.

Some Americans have been less optimistic in private conversations. They say doing all the chores is difficult and the continuing uncertainty and extra work cause some stress.

Planes for Honduras

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras — Modernizing the Honduran air force is essential to military balance in Central America and negotiations are under way for new jet fighters, a U.S. Embassy official said Friday.

Asked what type of plane would replace the Honduran fleet of French-made Super Mystere aircraft, he replied: "That's part of the negotiations, and they are considering the different possibilities, but so far we don't know which type of plane, when they will be delivered or how many there will be."

The official spoke on condition of anonymity because of the issue's sensitivity.

Bokassa to be tried

BANGUI, Central African Republic — Jean-Bedel Bokassa, the former dictator who proclaimed himself emperor, will be tried soon on charges of treason, murder and cannibalism, President Andre Kolingba said Friday.

Bokassa left French exile voluntarily and in secret Oct. 22 and flew to Bangui, where he was arrested immediately.

He was tried in absentia and sentenced to death in 1980, a year after his ouster in a French-backed coup. A law still on the books from French colonial days requires that a person convicted in his absence be tried again when he is captured.

Business' best-kept secret: quality pays

By TOM PETERS

The names Maytag, Federal Express, Digital Equipment and Walt Disney conjure images of high-quality products and services — as well as profitability and fast growth. Nonetheless, the degree to which customers are willing to pay for such quality remains one of the best kept business secrets.

Look at firms in any industry that's reeling — from autos to semiconductors — and you'll find, rhetoric aside, that relative quality is much higher on the list of thorny problems than relative cost.

While stories about quality-oriented firms induce nods, there is a surprising absence of systematic research that links quality and performance. The most decisive evidence comes from the Strategic Planning Institute of Cambridge, Mass. Its data base on business performance, called PIMS, for Profit Impact of Market Strategy, is based on thousands of companies that share detailed, confidential product-line data with PIMS researchers.

Early PIMS analyses focused on the strong tie between market share and profitability. But recently, as studies have delved a level deeper into cause-and-effect linkages, researchers have modified their tune. "Relative perceived product quality," they now say, is the clear-cut key to sustainable top performance. PIMS studies compare customer perceptions of tangible and intangible traits, other than price, among competing products. Companies rated in the top third on relative perceived product quality outearn those in the bottom third by about two-to-one (on return on investment) over the long haul. Alternatively, market share that's "bought" with a low-price strategy may yield a few good years, but it rarely lasts.

A striking confirmation of the chief PIMS conclusion comes from TRW Inc., a firm that is a microcosm of the economy, with activities ranging from financial services to automotive aftermarket parts and million-bit semiconductors. Dr. John Grocock, recently retired vice president for quality at the $5 billion company, compared customers' perceptions of relative quality for 140 productlines in 47 TRW business units, against 560 competitors' product lines.

The top one-third of TRW's business units earned a quality score of 4.6 out of a possible 5.0; the middle one-third rated 3.1; and the worst third scored 1.9. The top third outperformed the bottom by about a three-to-one margin. Return on sales for the top third ran 7.7 percent compared with the bottom third's 2.9 percent; return on assets employed were 26.6 percent and 8.9 percent, respectively.

There's more. Grocock also decisively found that it doesn't pay to practice an "in-between" strategy. The middle third's 1.4 percent ROS and 5.1-percent ROAE noticeably underperformed the bottom third! Other systematic research supports this finding. So does common sense. As one seminar participant put it, "You don't go to the Yellow Pages and look for a product with an average number of defects at an average price." Or take Sears' poor retail performance in the 1970s and early 1980s. It drifted between the low end and the high end of the retail market. The company could not resolve its identity crisis — did it want to be a Bloomingdale's or a K-mart? Confused customers responded by flocking to one or the other, at Sears' expense.

Look more closely, then, and you find that the top third of TRW's businesses were marked by products considered to be the very best; their prices were higher, too. The bottom third were of average quality, but at a distinguishably lower price. The middle third, those poor performers, had prices a bit on the high side, and quality that most often tied for first ("joint best," as Grocock calls it). The stunning implication is that to gain a profit and growth advantage, a product must not only be "good," it must be perceived to be noticeably better than that of competitors!

Grocock concludes: "The PIMS results for quality are so impressive that it is surprising that they have had so little effect on American management." Amen.

Despite the intuitive sensibility of these results, most people I talk with still seem surprised at the extent to which hard evidence — such as the PIMS or Grocock data — demonstrates that quality pays in any product or service arena. (Mainly, I'm constantly surprised that so few know about the PIMS data or have examined this relationship systematically on their own.)

Armadillo Balloon Co. recently packed its balloons and novelties and moved a few miles down FM 700 from Big Spring Mall to Highland Mall.

Owner John Parker said he has twice as many balloons at his new location and many more novelties, and added that Armadillo Balloon Co. has the largest selection of balloons in Big Spring. Balloon bouquets are delivered.

The Big Spring Police Department, Big Spring Mall and the Texas Automobile Dealers Association will have a safety belt demonstration at the mall Nov. 9, 1-5 p.m.

The demonstration will include the use of a "convincer," a sled-like device that simulates a head-on collision at 5, 7 or 10 miles per hour.

TADA president Gene Fondren said "we feel certain that adults who ride the convincer will be convinced that a safety belt is needed even at five miles per hour." Texas law has required, since Sept. 1, 1985, that front seat passengers in cars and pickups wear safety belts. The fine for violating the law is $25 to $50.

According to Department of Public Safety, fatalities of front seat occupants dropped more than 10 percent the first 10 months the law was in effect.

The KBST radio station news department was awarded the Distinguished Local Programming award Monday evening during the Texas Association of Broadcasters convention in San Antonio. The award was presented for Denise Crenwelge and Jeff Nicholson's news coverage the last week in May of the city's four-day water crisis.

KBST won in the medium market competition division, which includes radio stations in cities with 20,000 to 100,000 population.

Station owner and general manager David Wrinkle, his mother Betty Wrinkle and Crenwelge, attended the convention.

Clint Hollomon, owner of the Medicine Shoppe, was presented the 1986 award.

Hollomon won the award for offering free health care screenings. The screenings are conducted in conjunction with local health care professionals to check for signs of health problems like colon-rectal cancer, glaucoma and diabetes.

The local Medicine Shoppe is part of the St. Louis-based franchised pharmacy group with more than 650 shops in the 48 continental states. Each shop is individually owned and operated, specializing in low cost, high quality prescriptions.

The Lamesa Area Chamber of Commerce banquet will be at 7 p.m. Nov. 18 at the Lamesa High School Student Center. Dr. Duane Leach, president of the University of Texas of the Permian Basin, will speak.

Leach is a former chancellor of the University System of South Texas, and also has served as president of two universities and dean of the College of Idaho.

Tickets for the banquet are $10 and may be purchased by calling the Chamber at 872-2181.

The Texas Agricultural Statistics Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in late November to obtain acreage, yield and production totals for 1986 and for end-of-year livestock and poultry inventories.

The confidential interviews provide information used by producers to make their plans for the coming year.

Annual county estimates are published for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, field crops, small grains, fruits and pecans, vegetables and cash receipts from the sale of farm products.

Interviews are conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators.

Texas has become a stripper oil well state, said Railroad Commissioner Clark Jobe.

According to August production figures, oil well production dropped to an average of 9.9 barrels per well per day for the first time in Texas oil production history. The state's average production for August was 2,061,015 barrels per day.

An oil well is labeled a stripper well if it produces 10 barrels or less per day.

December, 1985 figures show the average was 10.33 barrels per well per day. Average production fell 4.16 percent in eight months, a 6.2 percent annual reduction.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices of crude oil and refined products have soared following the removal of Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani as Saudi Arabia's oil minister.

Analysts attributed the reaction on Thursday to a combination of technical factors and uncertainty over the effect Yamani's departure would have on efforts by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to limit production.

Prices also were boosted by reports that Yamani's replacement, Hisham Nazer, had called for an emergency meeting of OPEC's pricing committee, indicating the possibility that the cartel will renew its determination to push up prices.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Private analysts agreed with the Reagan administration that an improvement in the nation's trade deficit in September was welcome news, but some cautioned that it was not necessarily a sign of the long-awaited turnaround in trade accounts.

The Commerce Department reported Thursday that the merchandise trade deficit shrank to $12.6 billion from $13.3 billion in the previous month. It was the second consecutive month the trade deficit decreased.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Low mortgage rates and strong demand in the Northeast helped sales of new homes break a string of five straight monthly declines.

The elimination of the long loan-processing delays also encouraged buyers to enter the market again, analysts said.

Drilling report

These are the latest oil and gas activity reports filed with the Texas Railroad Commission for the five-county crossroads country.

Pumping 110 barrels of oil per day, plus 310 barrels of water, the No. 2 Chalk "A" well was completed in Howard County's Howard-Glasscock Field by Bob Calley. Drillsite is ten miles east of Forsan.

The well was drilled to 3,090-ft. total depth and will produce from perforations in the Gloria Formation, 2,720 to 2,911 feet into the wellbore. Location is in a 65-acre lease in the W&NW Survey.

A new producer was brought on line in Howard County's Howard-Glasscock Field, with Conoco Inc. as the operator.

Located six miles northeast of Forsan, the well is in a 130-acre lease in the W&NW Survey. It is designated as the No. 16 G.O. Chalk "A."

The well pumped oil at the rate of 35 barrels per day, plus 65 barrels of water. It was taken to a 7,475-ft. bottom, and will produce from a perforated interval in the Wolfcamp "7400" Formation, 7,246 to 7,312 feet into the wellbore.

Faul Page of Big Spring has revealed plans to drill a 10,700-ft. wildcat well in Howard County. The operator has 640 acres leased, with drillsite in the Bauer & Cockrell Survey.

The venture has been designated as the No. 1 Guitar Trust. Drillsite is ten miles northwest of Big Spring.

Lasmo Energy has filed first production figures on a new oil well in the Pegs Hill Field, Borden County. The No. 1 Pegs Hill "B" showed ability to pump 29 barrels of oil per day.

The operator has 592 acres leased, with drillsite in the GTRR Survey, 12 miles northwest of Gail. The well will produce from a set of perforations in the Spraberry Formation, 6,130 to 6,149 feet into the wellbore. Total drilling depth was 6,310 feet, and the well was plugged back to 6,232 feet.

Union Oil of California has filed for permit to drill the No. 277 Reinecke Unit, a 7,000-ft. developmental well 18 miles southeast of Gail. Location is in a 4,358-acre lease in Borden County's H&TC Survey. The well will be drilled in the Reinecke Field. Union Oil of California is based on Midland.

The No. 1 Kemper has been given recognition by the Railroad Commission as the discovery well of the Katie Field.

Martin County Davis Oil is the well's operator.

Drillsite is 12 miles northeast of Lenorah in a 960-acre lease in the T&P Survey. The well indicated potential to pump 340 barrels of oil per day, plus 170,000 CF casinghead gas. Bottomed at 10,804 feet and plugged back to 10,697 feet, the well produces from perforations in the Fusselman Formation, 10,604 to 10,612 feet into the wellbore.

A 12,800-ft. wildcat well is planned by Mobil Producing of Midland at a drillsite ten miles northwest of Lenorah, Martin County. The location is in a 708-acre lease in the Ward CSL Survey. Well's designation is the No. 1 Sedgewick "252."

Tom Brown Inc. has abandoned two un-drilled locations in the Spraberry Trend Field, Martin County. The Nos. 5 and 6 J.C. Epley were to have been drilled three to four miles southeast of Tarzan, and each well carried permit for 9,350-ft. total depth.

An un-drilled wildcat location has been abandoned by RK Petroleum two miles southeast of Lenorah, Martin County. The well in question had been designated as the No. 1 Fryar Estate, and carried permit for 12,00-ft. total depth.

B&G Energy of Midland has filed for permit to drill the No. 1 Mon Etoile, a 10,350-ft. developmental well ten miles west of Garden City. Location is in a 160-acre lease in Glasscock County's South Dewey Lake Field, T&P Survey.

RK Petroleum is planning to conduct a workover operation at the No. 2 Leonard, a developmental well in Glasscock County's Spraberry Trend Field. Location is 11 miles southwest of St. Lawrence in a 160-acre lease in the T&P Survey. The operator originally completed the well Jan. 29, 1979, and is flowed 50 barrels of oil per day from Dean Formation perforations at 8,205 to 8,391 feet into the wellbore. RK is planning to seek production in the Clear Fork Formation at approximately 8,750 feet.

Whirlia Whip has ice cream flavor potpourri

By EDDIE CURRAN Staff Writer

As of today, Big Spring has a new ice cream shop — ice cream with a new twist, or rather, a whirl.

Diamond M Whirlia Whip moved from Colorado City to Big Spring Mall, and will serve its original brand of ice cream as well as an assortment of deli foods. Marvin Mayfield of Colorado City owns Whirlia Whip, and Gay Tarter is the manager.

Tarter said Whirlia Whip moved from Colorado City because of the lagging economy, low population and a bad location. She said Whirlia Whip is a franchise, but it is different from most franchises.

"It isn't like a Dairy Queen or a McDonald's where every store has the same thing," Tarter explained. "The ice cream and the yogurt are the same (as at other Whirlia Whips), but otherwise we can sell what we want."

Sandwiches, hamburgers, soups, salads, burritos, and superdogs also are on the menu, she said.

However, the primary attraction of Whirlia Whip is the ice cream. Customers can choose from a virtually endless supply of flavors. Whirlia Whip uses pre-cut sections of yogurt and chocolate and vanilla ice cream, and mixes it with chosen ingredients in the Whirlia Whip machine.

The machine mixes the ingredients and twirls out the final combination like a cake decorator.

A multitude of combinations can be made with several ingredients in each of five categories — candy bars, fruits, candy, cookies and Whirlia Whip Manager Gay Tarter demonstrates the Whirlia Whip machine, which mixes ice cream and many varieties of candy, fruits and nuts to make assorted ice cream combinations. Whirlia Whip opens today at Big Spring Mall.

cake, and nuts. You might decide to have a cone with Heath butterscotch-and-almonds ice cream, or a cup of banana yogurt with oreos and cashews.

There are 21 ingredients that can be whirlia-whipped into the ice cream and yogurt — the choice is yours. Cups, regular cones and homemade waffle cones are available to hold your choice. Malts are also served.

Sect member held for murder

MIAMI (AP) — A member of a religious sect was ordered held without bond Friday on murder charges in the shooting deaths of two men outside an apartment complex, but a spokesman for the group denied it was involved. Neriah Israel, also known as Robert Rosier, made a brief appearance in Circuit Court where he was automatically denied bond under Florida law restricting the release of suspects charged with a capital crime. At least one other man is suspected in the slayings, said Chief Assistant State Attorney Abe Laeser, but no arrests have been made. Police are running tests on two guns found near the scene of the shootings that are thought to be the murder weapons. Police have identified Israel, 33, as a member of the Yahwehs, also known as Hebrew Israelites, and said he gave the group's Miami Temple of Love as his address. Israel is accused in one of the two shooting deaths early Thursday outside an Opa-locka apartment

Texas first in education spending

WASHINGTON — Texas ranked first in the nation in school year 1983-84 for the percent of total local and state expenditures earmarked for all levels of education as a percent of total general expenditures, a national study shows. During that study period, according to a report issued recently by the National Education Association, Texas devoted 42.81 percent of local and state funds for education. That compared with a national average of 34.9 percent.

Texas was ranked 26th among the states for the amount spent per capita on all education. The state spent $504.41 compared with the $492.74 per capita average nationally. Alaska ranked first in that category, spending $2,123.76 per capita.

Texas ranked 28th in its per capita spending for police protection, 26th for fire protection and 37th for per capita spending on highways, according to the NEA study.

Customs offices to open in Texas

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Customs Service announced plans to open three new offices in Texas and add 132 new agents in the state as part of the new anti-drug effort. The new initiative was revealed by Sen. Phil Gramm who was contacted by the customs service. New offices will open in San Angelo, Alpine and Eagle Pass. That will give the state offices in 13 Texas towns.

"This expansion of customs service operations in Texas is sorely needed, both to ease the way for legitimate commercial traffic and to clamp down on drug smugglers," Gramm said.

Congress granted authority for the increase in the recently approval of anti-drug legislation.

"We expect the new offices to be fully operational and that the new agents, inspectors and investigators will be hired, trained and on the job by April," Gramm said.

FACTS

FACT: John R. "Rich" Anderson is spending a small fortune trying to convince us he never had anything to do with fringe extremist groups!

FACT: Anderson ran as a member of the fringe constitutional party against another conservative democrat — Congressman George Mahon.

FACT: Anderson bought advertising, leased the auditorium and lead the program for a Lyndon LaRouche candidate running for Chairman of the Texas Democratic Party.

WHICH PHILOSOPHY DOES ANDERSON REALLY REPRESENT?

Anderson has been associated with the fringe constitution party — the republican party — the democratic party — the Lyndon LaRouche extremist group.

LARRY DON SHAW
Democrat for State Representative

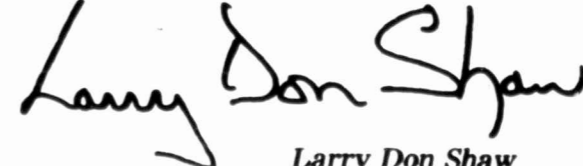

- ★ Rep. Larry Don Shaw is now a member of the powerful House Appropriations Committee.
- ★ The number of bills passed by Rep. Larry Don Shaw is four times the average for member's of the House and includes the following:
 - Cost cutting package trimming state spending by over $100 million a year.
 - A vigorous anti-crime package making it easier to prosecute drug dealers, rapists and criminals who sexually abuse children.
- ★ As Vice Chairman of the Natural Resources Committee Shaw helped draft and pass the first statewide water plan approved by Texas voters.

SO WHAT'S REP. SHAW DONE FOR US LATELY?

- ★ Larry Don Shaw as instrumental in stopping the closing of Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, West Texas Children's Home and Scenic Mountain State Park.
- ★ Shaw successfully negotiated the appointment of a West Texan from our district to the SSC Task Force which could bring new jobs and billions of dollars to our district.
- ★ Larry Don was a key player in winning approval of a new four lane highway for our district.
- ★ Shaw was instrumental in stopping attempts to close Sul Ross, UTPB and the McDonald Observatory.
- ★ Larry Don was the driving force in attaining $650,000 in State aid for Big Spring after severe floods this summer.

I hope each voter will ask himself these two questions: First, which candidate more closely represents my positions? And second, which candidate can command the respect it takes to make West Texas's case in a Legislature now dominated by urban members?

Larry Don Shaw,
State Representative

Steers outlast Monahans, 28-27

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

The Big Spring Steers didn't so much defeat the Monahans Lobos as they outlasted them in the Steers' 28-27 win Friday night at Memorial Stadium.

The nail-biting, momentum changing game was everything one would expect from the number nine and 16 ranked teams in the state. It was hard played down to the very end and had more knockouts than a bar room brawl.

The contest was delayed no less than six times because of injuries and twice Monahans' players had to be carried away by ambulance. Lobos' linebacker Nate Petty was carted off with a severely sprained ankle and wide receiver Steve Valenzuela was hauled off with a possible neck injury.

It was also a rough physical contest for the Steers. Fullback Charles White played only a quarter, leaving the game with a foot injury and halfback Phillip Mathews and noseguard Todd Coker left the game time and time again with nagging injuries. Mathews was battling leg cramps and Coker was suffering from a leg injury.

"We were down to our last two running backs," said a relieved Steers' coach Quinn Eudy after the game. "If we had lost another one, I would have had to go to the defense for a running back."

But Mathews turned in perhaps his best game of the season. The gutsy 155-pound senior cut, twisted and dived to 148 yards in 18 carries. He and quarterback Paul Decker almost single-handedly led the Big Spring offense in the second half.

Decker had a remarkable game, running the veer offense to perfection. The 170-pound senior ended the night with 100 yards on 19 carries, 75 of those in the second half.

In fact, after the first quarter-and-a-half, the Steers offense rolled almost at will. James Harlin chipped in with 55 yard rushing; Shawn Shellman caught two key passes; wide receiver Cedric Banks became a passer and Coach Quinn Eudy had a few tricks up his sleeve on Halloween.

But the game started out like it might be a Monahans' rout. The Lobos scored the first two touchdowns of the game and held a 13-0 lead midway through the first half. Then the Black and Gold got it together and reeled off the next four touchdowns to grab a seemingly comfortable 28-13 lead.

But the Lobos put the game in jeopardy with two closing touchdowns as Big Spring had to hang on for a one-point win.

Monahans lit up the scoreboard on the fourth play of the game. Speedy junior halfback Charles Thompson went around the right end and motored 66 yards to paydirt with the game two minutes old.

The all important extra point attempt by Lonny Cox sailed wide. Thompson, the district's leading rusher, was a thorn in the Steers' defense's side all night. However, after the 66-yard run, the Steers kept him from breaking the big gainer as he ended the game with 125 yards in 14 carries.

On the other side of the coin, the Big Spring defense — led by ends Deeg Young and Victor Pruitt, linebackers Mike Cahill and James Weaver and tackle Jay Burcham, stopped fullback Dana Amos cold. Amos, the district's second leading rusher, was held to 18 yards in 13 carries.

Monahans' second score of the game came after some bad luck by the Steers. Big Spring had driven the ball from the Monahans' 34-yardline to the eight. From there Harlin went around end, got close to the endzone and was hit and fumbled. Unfortunately the ball rolled into the endzone and out of bounds for a touchback.

Monahans promptly marched 60 yards in seven plays for the score. The big play was a 58 yard pass from quarterback Jeremy Denman to Valenzuela. Amos scored from the two. This time Cox's extra point was good, and Monahans led 13-0 with 8:58 left in the first half.

That's when the Steers offense really went to work, as it scored on four of its next five possessions.

The first scoring drive resulted from Eudy's trickery. Facing a fourth and six from their 34, the Steers executed a successful fake punt which netted them eight yards and a first down. Center Charley Ogle snapped the ball to up-back Shellman, who kept the drive alive.

On the very next play Eudy went to his bag of tricks again. This time flanker Cedric Banks came around on a reverse, then he pulled up and lofted a pass to a wide open Shellman downfield. The result — an easy 59-yard scoring play.

John Olsen's PAT cut the score to 13-7 with 4:32 left in the half.

On Monahans' next possession, the Lobos drove to the Steers' 37. On a fourth and two from the 37, cornerback Matt Garrett dropped Thompson for no gain and the Steers took over.

From there the Steers marched 63 yards in nine plays. The big plays were a 33-yard run by Mathews and a seven yard pass play from Decker to Shellman. Decker scored from five yards out. Olsen's PAT put the Steers in the lead for good at 14-13, and that's the way the first half ended.

Big Spring took up where it left off in the second half. On their second possession of the half, the Steers marched 75 yards in 12 plays. It was a picture-perfect drive, with Decker, Harlin and Mathews taking turns eating up the Monahans defense.

Decker capped off the drive with nine yard scoring run. Olsen's PAT gave Big Spring a 21-13 lead with 4:22 left in the third quarter.

The Steers' defense set up the final scoring drive. Pruitt, who had two sacks along with Burcham, Big Spring Steers defensive end Victor Pruitt (66) gets ready to level Monahans Lobos quarterback Eric Bishop on Friday night's Big Spring-Monahans game. Pruitt sacked Bishop on the play, forced a fumble which was recovered by Mike Cahill. Big Spring won the game 28-27.

Owls wear down Buffaloes

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes mounted one impressive drive and played gutsy defense in the first half, but the Reagan County Owls' relentless running attack wore down the Buffaloes in a 14-6 Owls' win.

Stanton fell to 5-3 and lost all realistic playoff hopes when they could manage just two second half first downs, one of those coming on a penalty against the Owls.

After Stanton received the opening kickoff and punted, Stanton defensive back Salvador Reyna intercepted Owls' quarterback Scott Lysey's first pass. Stanton then mounted their only drive of the game.

Stanton's lightning fast running back James Vidal took a pitch and raced 34 yards down the sideline, almost breaking away for the score. Vidal added a 14-yard run and Greg Barnhill ran 17 yards on the drive as the Buffaloes found room plentiful on sweeps.

With 7:16 remaining in the first quarter, Barnhill bulled over from one. The PAT was blocked.

In the first half the Buffaloes' defense would tire after spending too much time on the field.

defense bent but did not break. Twice on fourth and short they stopped the Owls deep in Buffaloes' territory. Reagan County running back James West, who gained 124 yards in the first half, fumbled at the end of a 14-yard run to end one Owl threat.

In the second quarter, the Buffaloes enjoyed their last threat of the half when quarterback Reyna found Carlos Ortiz for a 37-yard completion to the 15-yard line. The Owls' defense, tough all night, held the Buffaloes on downs.

The half ended 6-0, though the Owls outgained the Buffaloes 164 to 137 and ran nine more plays than the Buffaloes. The number of offensive plays may have been the big statistic, because Stanton's defense would tire after spending too much time on the field.

A penalty against Stanton on the last play of the first half was marked off on the opening kick, and the Owls returned the kick to the Buffaloes' 43-yard line. The methodical Owls wore the Buffaloes defense down, getting four first downs in the 43-yard drive for the touchdown. Lysey snuck over from the one, and Reagan County led 7-6 with 7:46 remaining in the third quarter.

West gained 25 yards on the drive but hurt his knee and was finished for the night. He ended the game with 149 yards on 23 carries.

On their next possession, the Buffaloes were forced to punt. A 50-yard punt to the 20-yard line was called back on a Stanton face mask penalty. Forced to punt again deep in their territory, the Owls returned the second punt to the Stanton 36. The penalty cost the Buffaloes 44 yards and gave the Owls great field position.

Moments later Roland Salibar bobbled a pitch, gained control, and bolted 27 yards for a touchdown with 3:43 remaining in

Queens slaughter San Jacinto

WACO — The Howard College Hawk-Queens made a perfect sweep at the McLennan Classic as they drummed San Jacinto by a 73-46 score Friday afternoon. The win gives Howard three victories at the season opening three-day tournament.

A new star emerged in this contest. This time it was freshman post player Leslie Carter, who gunned in 18 points. The 6-4 Carter, who's from Dickens, led all scorers with 18 points. Trena Jackson was the only other Hawk-Queen in double figures with 14 points.

Howard will be in action Nov. 11 when it hosts Cisco in its season opener at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Lefty's pals predict he'll be back

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Lefty Driesell, his friends insist, is only in temporary exile.

"Lefty without basketball is like a hand without fingers," Southern Cal Coach George Raveling said.

"Somebody will have enough common sense to know a great coach is available," said Norm Sloan, a former ACC rival now coaching Florida.

After a yearlong forced sabbatical, friends predict, Driesell will be coaching college basketball again. Probably with a vengeance.

Under pressure, Driesell ended a 17-year coaching career at Maryland on Wednesday, resigning to become an assistant athletic director in charge of sports promotion.

Driesell was absolved of blame for drug and academic problems uncovered after the drug-induced death of basketball star Len Bias, and he retained much of his lucrative contract for the next eight years.

Jack Jackson, who has been close to Driesell during his 27 years as Maryland's baseball coach, thinks Lefty will return to coaching, and soon.

"This will do nothing more than turn up the fire in Lefty," Jackson said. "His aggressiveness will make this a challenge ... to show them here that they were wrong."

"He wants to show the country, not just Maryland, that he can still coach," said Coach Billy Hahn of Ohio University, who played for Driesell at Maryland. "If I were a betting man, I'd bet he'll be back."

That what practically all his friends and rivals say.

"He'll coach again," said Coach Jim Valvano of North Carolina State, one of Driesell's longtime adversaries in the Atlantic Coast Conference. "When the season ends, there tends to be a number of openings, and the left-hander will have a lot of knocks on the door."

"If that's what he wants to do, the opportunity will be there," Valvano said.

2-4 Roundup

Pecos 27 Lamesa 18

LAMESA — The Pecos Eagles rebounded from last week's loss to the Big Spring Steers to beat the Lamesa Tornadoses 27-18 in Lamesa Friday night.

Ricky Evans scored first for the Eagles with a two-yard run early in the first quarter. The teams traded touchdowns in the second quarter, with Lamesa striking first on a one-yard sneak by quarterback Gary Woodberry.

Pecos answered with 2:29 remaining in the half with Lucias Flores' 15-yard run interception return for a touchdown. Less than a minute later, Lamesa ended the half's scoring when Mark Aldridge ran nine yards for the score. Two errant Lamesa PAT's were the difference, and the Eagles led 14-12 at the half.

Lamesa took the lead in the fourth quarter when Woodberry ran one yard for the score. The try for two failed. Pecos scored twice late in the fourth quarter to secure the win. Pecos' record improved to 6-3, and Lamesa fell to 2-6 and 1-5 in the district.

Andrews 21 Lakeview 12

SAN ANGELO — The Andrews Mustangs defeated the San Angelo Lakeview Chiefs 21-12 in district action Friday night.

Andrews scored the first touchdown on a 38-yard run in the first quarter by David Criswell. The PAT by Mike Moissant was good.

The team scored a touchdown in each of the first three quarters while Lakeview scored all 12 points during the second quarter. Lakeview scored in the second quarter on a three-yard run by Eric Dumas, but the PAT failed.

Andrews shot back on a 54-yard run by Criswell. The kick, by Moissant, succeeded. Lakeview answered with a 40-yard run in the second quarter by Dumas. The two-point PAT pass attempt was intercepted.

Criswell scored for Andrews on a 69-yard run in the third quarter, and Moissant kicked the PAT. The fourth quarter was scoreless.

Sweetwater 43 Snyder 6

SWEETWATER — The Sweetwater Mustangs did much to further their playoff chances by demolishing the Snyder Tigers 43-6 Friday night in Sweetwater.

The Mustangs gave up just two Tigers' field goals as their defense completely dominated the overwhelmed Snyder offense.

Meanwhile, the Mustang offense galloped at will.

Bearkats blast Bulldogs 33-0

BALLINGER — The Ballinger Bearkats whipped the Coahoma Bulldogs 33-0 Friday night in Ballinger.

With 10:33 in the first quarter, the Bearkats' James Fischer ran 15 yards for the first touchdown. The PAT was no good.

Ballinger totally dominated the second quarter. With 11:18 Jerome Williams ran 12 yards for the second touchdown. Tommy Saucedo kicked the PAT. A few minutes later, with 6:18 on the board, Terry Strambler ran five yards for the touchdown, and Saucedo's PAT was good.

With only six seconds on the clock before the half, quarterback Eric Lugo threw a pass 32 yards to end Jason Psutke for the third touchdown of the quarter. The PAT was no good.

The last touchdown of the game came with 4:45 on the clock as Lugo ran one yard for the touchdown and Saucedo again kicked a successful PAT.

Coyotes down Eagles 36-24

GAIL — The Borden County Coyotes outran the McCaulley Eagles for a 36-24 victory Friday night at Borden County.

Borden County was the first to make a touchdown in this tug-of-war. With 5:47 on the clock, Brice Key ran two yards for the score. The PAT failed.

McCaulley decided not to let the quarter get away without evening the score. With only :54 seconds left in the quarter, Pete Perez scored on a three yard run, but the PAT failed.

In the second quarter, the Coyotes took the go ahead lead with 8:57 on the clock. Rockie Harbar scored on a six-yard run. The PAT failed.

With 7:20 in the half, Key raced 28 yards for the score. Shannon Bond kicked the PAT.

A few minutes later Bond threw an 18-yard pass to John Stephens, who ran for the score. Bond kicked the PAT.

As the first half began to wind down, the Coyotes got their second wind and Bond made a 67-yard pass to Mickey Burkett for the fourth touchdown of the quarter. Bond's PAT was good.

The Eagles fought back and struck twice in the third quarter.

With 5:10 on the clock, Perez completed a 22-yard pass to Todd Matthews for their second touchdown. The PAT failed.

With 2:38, Perez passed six yards to Matthews for another score. The PAT failed.

The Eagles were determined not to let the Coyotes win, but their efforts were unsuccessful. Perez ran four yards with 2:51 on the clock for the last touchdown for McCaulley. The PAT again failed.

Standouts were Mickey Burkett with 18 tackles and Michael Murphy made 16 tackles and one interception. Shannon Bond made 16 tackles. Pete Perez had 157 yards rushing on 25 carries.

For Borden County, Rockie Harbar ran 85 yards on 15 carries and touchdown. Mickey Burkett had 110 yards on 4 catches and one touchdown.

Buffaloes destroy Eagles

ELDORADO — The Forsan Buffaloes stomped the Eldorado Eagles 41-14 in District 6-2A action, leaving Forsan 3-0-1 in district and 8-0-1 for the season. Eldorado fell to 2-2 in district and 3-6 for the season.

Forsan scored the first touchdown with 7:48 on the clock in the first quarter on a 10-yard pass from quarterback Brant Nichols to tight end Brandy Bryan. Wayne Wright kicked the PAT.

Nichols scored again in the second quarter with 3:54 on the clock, on a pass to split end Lee Morris. Wright kicked the PAT.

With 25 seconds on the clock, Nichols scored on a six-yard pass to Wright. Wright's PAT, attempt failed.

Wright scored on a four-yard run in the third quarter with 7:26 on the

A 41-yard run by Wright earned Forsan another touchdown with 2:11 on the clock. The PAT by Wright was good, leaving the team with 35 points to Eldorado's zero at the end of the third quarter.

Eldorado scored at last during the fourth quarter, with 11:07 on the clock on a two-yard pass from tailback Russ Dary to split end Craig Gutierrez. The PAT was a run by Shawn Hamilton.

Forsan scored on a 27-yard run by halfback Stacey Munoz with 5:25 on the clock. The PAT by Wright failed.

Eldorado scored the final touchdown with 3:07 on the clock during the fourth quarter on a pass from Carter Edmiston to Gutierrez. The PAT run for two points was no good.

Wright was the leading rusher, with 21 rushes for a total of 189 yards. That brings his season total to 1,223 yards.

Nichols completed six of 12 passes for 125 yards and three touchdowns, bringing his season total to 1,024 yards passing.

Cougars thrash Wildcats 53-33

GRADY — The Klondike Cougars beat the Grady Wildcats 53-33 Friday night in Grady.

The underdogs remain winless at 0-9 and the Cougars are 3-6.

Grady started out the evening on the right foot. With 7:11 left in the opening quarter, quarterback Walt Stone passed the ball 19 yards to end Julian Valle for the game's first score. Stone passed the ball to end Scott Terrell for the PAT.

Klondike's fire started and it was hard to put out the rest of the game.

In the first quarter, with 5:52 left, running back Cisco Arrendondo ran 14 yards and kicked the extra point, which tied the game at 7-7. Quarterback Steve Cope ran 17 yards with 3:50 left and Arrendondo kicked the extra point. With only 32 seconds remaining in the first quarter quarterback Kirk Tidwell passed the ball 25 yards to Jason Sutton. The PAT was unsuccessful, but the Cougars were leading 22-7.

Arrendondo ran one yard for a touchdown with 7:48 left in the second quarter. The extra point was no good. Tidwell passed the ball 14 yards to running back Wesley O'Brien.

Second and fourth quarter were uneventful and no scores were made.

Leading rushers for Colorado City were Beau Reese who ran 75 yards on 18 carries and Ralph Gonzalez who ran 84 yards on 18 carries.

Wylie's leading rushers were Chapman who ran 52 yards on 10 carries and Josh Allen who ran 68 yards on 7 carries.

C-City fumbles to Wylie 14-0

COLORADO CITY — Friday night's game between Colorado City and Wylie was filled with fumbles and interceptions and ended in a 14-0 victory for the Wylie Bulldogs.

Wylie tailback Mike Chapman ran 23 yards and made the first score of the evening with 10:07 left in the first quarter. He also kicked the PAT.

Third quarter score was made on a 5-yard driving catch by wide receiver John Atkins who received sacked backup quarterback Eric Bishop, who fumbled the ball. Cahill recovered at the Monahans 25.

Big Spring Steers quarterback Paul Decker (12) eyes a Monahans defender as he gets ready to make a move on an option play in Friday's night game against the Monahans Lobos. Big Spring won the game 28-27.

Two plays later Mathews took a handoff, started left, cutback right and scored from 15 yards out. Olsen's final PAT of the night gave Big Spring a 28-13 lead with 3:28 left in the third quarter.

But as soon as Steers' fans started to sit back in their seats and relax, Monahans came back like gangbusters.

The Lobos quickly went 75 yards in only three plays for their next score. Denman, who ripped the Steers secondary for nine of 12 completions for 166 yards, had completions of 42 and 18 yards to tight end Patrick Willis. The 18-yarder was good for the score.

The try for two failed and the Big Spring lead was cut to 28-19 with 2:26 left in the third quarter.

The final Monahans scoring drive covered 71 yards in six plays. Denman hit Chad Wood for a 22-yard gain and scrambled for 15 yards to keep the drive going on a third down play.

The elusive Thompson scored from 10 yards out. Thompson also ran in the two point conversion, cutting the lead to 28-27 with 10:36 left in the game.

Monahans had a chance to win the game late in the game. Facing a fourth nine from its own 26, Den-man's pass went through Jeff Parrass' hands, and for all practical reasons the Steers had kept their district record perfect.

"It was a great game to see," said Eudy. "The injuries took a lot away from the game. Both teams got cold standing on the field with all the delays. Monahans has a class outfit. They did a good job."

Big Spring is now 7-1 for the season while Monahans drops to 4-2 in district play and 6-2 overall.

the third quarter. The PAT ended the night's scoring. Salibar, replacing West, gained 84 yards on nine carries in the second half.

Late in the third quarter, Stanton Coach Dale Ruth gambled when he called all three of his time-outs on consecutive plays, hoping to force the Owls to punt into the wind deep in their own territory. The risk seemed to pay off when Lypsey shanked his punt and the ball took a Stanton bounce back to the life of scrimmage.

The Buffaloes took over on the 18, but were unable to move the football. In the second half, Stanton managed just 35 yards and only 14 total offensive plays.

The Owls' defense contained the Buffaloes' speedsters and clogged the middle, while the Owls' offense moved the ball relentlessly in five yard chunks. They had 35 offensive plays in the second half, more than twice the Buffaloes' total.

In the fourth quarter, Ruth's gamble seemed to backfire as the Buffaloes were unable to stop the clock and Reagan County ran the ball, rarely stopping the clock themselves.

Vidal led the Buffaloes' ballcarriers with 72 yards on 14 carries, with 65 of those yards in the first half. Barnhill gained 35 yards 12 carries. Fullback Derek Sorley, who had missed the last two games with a bad knee, was able to play, but not at full speed. Sorley did, however, contribute mightily to the Buffaloes' defense.

Tech coach faces old teacher

LUBBOCK (AP) — David McWilliams, in his first year as head coach of Texas Tech, gets fidgety when questioned about the possibility of replacing Texas Coach Fred Akers, whom he coached under for nine years.

Like it or not, McWilliams may have a hand in deciding Akers' fate at Texas. A Tech win over the Longhorns this weekend could be another nail in Akers' coffin as head coach.

McWilliams says he doesn't like to consider speculation that a victory could secure him Akers' job. "It's unfair to me and it's unfair to coach Akers," McWilliams told The Dallas Morning News. "No, 1, there's no job there. I guess I could say I don't want it, just like I could say I don't want to be president because the job's not open."

"The other thing is that I enjoy it here at Texas Tech. I'm happy." McWilliams says he wants to beat Texas solely for the respect it would gain him.

Considered Akers' likely successor at Texas when he was an

DAVID McWILLIAMS...Tech coach assistant there, McWilliams turned down a few jobs because of it, but he left last December, tired of waiting. McWilliams was a center, linebacker and co-captain on Texas' 1963 national championship team and spent 16 seasons at the school as an assistant. At Tech, McWilliams has made his own way. After suffering blowouts by Miami, Baylor and Texas A&M, the Raiders have rebounded by upsetting Arkansas and beating Rice, their first consecutive Southwest Conference victories since 1983.

Early this week Tech was favored over Texas for the first time in 10 years, and for the first time in more than a decade, bowl officials have expressed interest in the Red Raiders.

While Tech's fortunes have changed during the fall, McWilliams has remained laid-back, win or lose. He has added stability to Tech's program, which has seen five coaches in the last 12 years.

The Raiders have become attached to McWilliams in the last 10 months.

"I've been through some coaches here," said senior Tech center Chris Tanner, "and when he came in, I took a wait-and-see attitude. But he didn't. He wanted to win from the beginning." "Everybody's comfortable with him."

Mavericks romp over Spurs

DALLAS (AP) — Mark Aguirre scored 18 points as the Dallas Mavericks held Utah to one of its lowest scores ever in a 103-77 victory Friday night in the NBA season opener for both teams.

Dallas, aided by 13 points from Sam Perkins, allowed Utah to shoot just 29 percent from the field in the first three quarters in building a 79-51 lead. In the fourth period, Coach Dick Motta turned the lowest ever in a quarter for a Mavericks opponent, and the 26 combined also were the lowest total in Dallas' six-year history.

Utah managed to hit only four of 23 in the quarter for 18 percent and Dallas hit six of 19 for 32 percent.

DENVER 134, San Antonio 104

DENVER (AP) — Lafayette Lever and Alex English combined for 49 points Friday as Denver overcame the loss of forward Calvin Natt and center Wayne Cooper to register a 134-104 opening-night NBA victory over San Antonio.

Lever scored 25 points and English added 24 to help Denver lead from start to finish.

The victory turned out to be a costly one for Denver as Natt — a seven-year veteran — went down with a torn Achilles' tendon in the middle of the third quarter, and Cooper left in the second period with a pulled hamstring.

The Nuggets also collected 16 points from Bill Hanzlik and 12, all in the final quarter, from rookie forward Mark Alarie.

San Antonio was led in scoring by rookie guard Johnny Dawkins, who had 16 points. David Greenwood added 15, and Jon Sundvold had 14 for the Spurs.

The Spurs' first-year coach, Bob Weiss, rested his regulars for most of the second half once the game became one-sided.

Bucks 120, Pistons 104

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks, gunning for their seventh successive NBA Central Division title, got 22 points from Sidney Moncrief and 21 from Ricky Pierce Friday night as they opened the season with a 120-104 victory over the Detroit Pistons.

The Bucks grabbed the lead for good, 13-12, on two free throws by Paul Pressey with 7:05 remaining in the first quarter.

Celtics 120, Bullets 102

BOSTON (AP) — Dennis Johnson scored 26 points and Larry Bird 24 as the Boston Celtics celebrated the raising of their 16th NBA championship flag with a 120-102 romp over the Washington Bullets in the season opener for both teams.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY, NOV. 2, 1986
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Only by exercising your charm and magnetic radiation will you be able to avoid some thwarting problem. Be considerate and understanding of those around you.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Your hunches could be off base today, so rely pretty much on your mature judgment, thereby avoiding trouble.
Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Do a favor for a troubled associate you want to keep in good humor. Brush off outside problems.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): This is a good day to be of assistance to those people you know who are having a difficult time.
CANCER (June 22 to July 22): You feel like ripping into one who has done you wrong, but this will only bring trouble.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21): Be more concerned with maintaining harmony at home. Don't disturb others by launching too much activity.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Consider those different options you have in handling some important matter and decide on the best one.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Study how to have a greater abundance in the future. Take it easy tonight and rest up.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): You look attractive today and feel cheerful, so see as many persons as you can and cheer them up.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Be more understanding of one who is having troubles. You can give much-needed relief.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A good friend may be in serious trouble. Stand by loyally and help alleviate the problem.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Your worldly affairs are being well-scrutinized, so be on your guard. Take care of that credit matter.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some new condition intrigues you, but you need to study the details more closely. Take no risks with reputation.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be shown the practical way of life in order to become successful. Make sure that enough education is given and teach that honesty is the best policy. There can be success during this lifetime. Sports are fine here and musical training would be wise, too.

FORECAST FOR MONDAY, NOV. 3, 1986
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This Monday starts the week with a chance to analyze and plan what you would like to do in the days ahead rather than putting any new plan of action into motion.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You can handle certain responsibilities if you stick to them and are precise. Find better methods for future use.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Be tactful in handling a clever partner. Don't commit yourself to any further outside interests.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Your work may seem annoying as the week opens, but keep at it studiously. Avoid the limelight later.
CANCER (June 22 to July 22): Do whatever will soothe your mate's feelings. Carry through with the work you had scheduled.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21): Take time to get rid of any tensions at home. Show that you are truly devoted and affectionate.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Make sure you reply to questions accurate where your work is concerned. Don't permit outsiders to irritate you.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Handle that important financial matter. Get the data you need for making out reports.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Don't be so eager to have your own way. Forget a plan that could cost you too much money.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You may seem stalemated at gaining some personal aim. Later you are able to get it.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Do not try to convince a stubborn friend with your views. Plan how to fix a problem.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Don't go to any bigwigs for favors. Get your work done and all will be fine. Avoid an irate friend.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Use mature judgment and rely less on some hunch that keeps pecking at you. Study that civic matter.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those fascinating young persons who will have some unusual ideas. Make sure that the education is the best you can afford. Add foreign languages to it, since there is bound to be much travel during this lifetime. Do not neglect religious training.

Boot industry recovering after urban cowboy fad

By DORALISA PILARTE
Associated Press Writer
EL PASO (AP) — When the urban cowboy fashion craze rode off into the sunset, it apparently went barefooted, leaving behind a strong hankering for boots, the footwear of the West.

Boots are enjoying an enduring popularity in markets far beyond the Southwest, where the cowboy footwear is not a fashion, but a tradition, industry watchers say.

Boots were an integral part of the Western wear look made famous by the John Travolta-Debra Winger movie hit "Urban Cowboy." The fad faded, and many people hung up their Stetson hats and retired the wide belt with the big buckle. But they kept wearing the boots.

"In the urban cowboy era, you strolled out in a costume. That was very short-lived," said Frank Scivetti, vice president for sales and marketing of Justin Boot Co., a division of Fort Worth-based Justin Industries. "Now it's not uncommon for a man in a three-piece suit to be wearing a pair of boots."

Justin Industries, a conglomerate that also owns Nocona Boot Co., is one of the leaders in the high-quality, hand-crafted segment of the bootmaking trade. Its biggest competitor is Tony Lama Co. Inc., an El Paso family business that grew up to become a corporation with shares traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Justin and Tony Lama both limped through a sales decline starting three years ago, but executives of the two companies believe better days are ahead. "I think we're in the upswing," said Frank Tisdale, a member of the Tony Lama board of directors. Lama now employs 850 people and had $67 million in sales in 1985. Ninety percent of the company's business is boots, but it also sells belts, wallets and other leather products.

The golden age for the two companies were the Western wear boom years of 1980-82. They both hired armies of workers, and Justin added Nocona to its holdings. Pressed to keep up with demand, both Justin and Tony Lama also built new plants in El Paso, the border town that is the capital of Western bootmaking.

"It probably wasn't a very bright thing to do, in retrospect," Scivetti said. "We're back down to our basic market, which is substantial."

There still are 16 boot manufacturers in El Paso, but employment, which peaked at 3,300 people in 1982, has stabilized at 1,300, just slightly less than the average of 10 years ago.

Hector Venegas, a labor market analyst for the Texas Employment Commission, said the urban cowboy fad introduced people in the Northeast and Midwest to the comfort and style of boots, and many have remained loyal to the cowboy footwear. That is good news for El Paso, Venegas said.

"You've got the best ones (boot-makers) in the world right here," he said. "It's an industry that over-expanded to meet the fad and then contracted. For the moment, it's in a state of stabilization."

Venegas expects employment in the industry to increase during the final quarter of 1986 as the boot-makers brace for the Christmas demand.

Rick Savitz, vice president and comptroller of Justin Industries, said sales from the company's three bootmaking divisions was about $100 million in 1985.

"Our unit shipments are about the same level as last year and the company anticipates a good fall season," he said.

A depressed economy in the Southwest, triggered by slumping energy prices, has slowed buying in the best Western boot market, said Jessica Gallia, vice president of Eppler, Guerin and Turner, an investment firm.

"One of the reasons for the urban cowboy movie was because Texas was 'in' and this was the place to be. People always love a winner," said Ms. Gallia.

Now, though, she said, "The boot business is suffering from weakness in the Texas economy and weakness in the oil patch. Business is soft and it'll stay soft for a while."

But fashion watchers believe a change is coming.

Tomi Block, a spokeswoman for the National Retail Merchants Association, said denim and boots look ready to kick their way back into style.

"Cowboy boots are back again," she said. "I was just on Seventh Avenue (in Manhattan's apparel district) and about half of the boots on the displays were Western."

Antonio Tavarez works on a pair of boots at the Tony Lama Co., Inc., in El Paso, where he has been making boots for 27 years. The large pair of boots in the foreground, size 26-D, are being custom made for Andre the Giant, a professional wrestler.

Disabled El Paso girl elected school sophomore princess

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Except for a special bus and use of the school elevator, wheelchair-bound Gloria Fernandez gets no special treatment at El Paso Hanks High School.

But she'll get the royal treatment today when she joins the homecoming court as the sophomore princess.

Ms. Fernandez, 15, who has used a wheelchair since a car accident disabled her two years ago, beat the odds and 20 other sophomore girls for a place on the court.

"I was happy, excited, nervous, but it felt good," she said. "It's my way of being a part of the school."

"She's just an incredibly outstanding young lady," Sally Jameson of the district's Special Education Department told the El Paso Times. "She's adapted extremely well to her disability."

Ms. Fernandez' dream of being a professional dancer was wiped out when a drunken driver hit a car she and other teen-agers were riding in. Before the accident, she had danced with El Paso's Grupo Folklorico Jalisco, a Mexican dance troupe.

"It was a hard blow to all of us. She was among the best of dancers," said Robert Parra, group director.

But her fellow dancers helped spur her slow recovery.

"They stuck with me while I was in the hospital and during physical therapy," Ms. Fernandez said.

Ms. Fernandez is still involved with the dance troupe, attending practices and performances. She also helps with modern dance choreography at Hanks.

At her 15th birthday party, Ms. Fernandez tried a wheelchair waltz and demonstrated her own version of the jarabe tapatio.

She aspires to be a dance choreographer, plans to pursue art and hopes to inspire other disabled people to overcome their physical limitations.

"She's very independent, just a strong-willed young woman," said Hanks' Assistant Principal David Marcum.

Guilt-free chocolate cake?

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene-splicing and other laboratory techniques may soon produce lettuce that fights disease, peaches that don't grow on trees, or perhaps most importantly — calorie-free chocolate cake.

"Can you imagine what the public demand for these products will be?" asked Sanford Miller, director of the Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

Laboratories using the new technologies have been able to create chocolate cake and ice cream that taste exactly like the real thing but contain few calories, Miller said Thursday at a conference on food safety and nutrition sponsored by the FDA and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Gene-splicing, in which individual genes associated with specific traits can be incorporated into plants in new ways, allows plant traits to be modified and recombined as is done in traditional plant breeding but with greater speed and a much broader range of options.

Other chemical manipulations focus on the development of substances similar to foodstuffs but constructed in such away that they are not absorbed by the body, and thus contain no calories.

Eventually, Miller said, the technology could produce foods with all the tastes, textures and odors of the originals.
