Lighter side

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Stockbroker Raymond Strohl hopes to reap dividends from a Civil War bond he bought for $500, but the state of Ohio says it's only worth a nice frame.

The $3,000 bond was issued in 1864 by the state to help finance its contribution to the Northern cause. It matured in 1871 and carried an annual interest rate of 6 percent.

Strohl figures the bond is worth $3.5 million, but state officials disagree.

State courts have ruled the state has limited liability for such old debts, said Paul Steiner, a lawyer for the state treasurer's office.

The bond was first issued to Alice Worthington, believed by Strohl to be a granddaughter of Thomas Worthington, one of Ohio's founding fathers. Strohl said he bought the bond recently from another stockbroker.

Doll review

Mrs. Capt. Carroll Braun of the Big Spring Salvation Army, left, and Cindy Stenholm, wife of Congressman Charles Stenholm look over some of the dolls during a gathering at St. Paul's Lutheran Church Saturday afternoon. The dolls were submitted in the Salvation Army doll dressing contest. Most of the dolls will be given away to local girls' whose families apply for Christmas food; the prize-winning dolls will be auctioned to buy more dolls for next Christmas.

Bentsen enters realm of 'pure power'

By ANDREW MANGAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen Texas moves into the realm of pure power as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee in January, where among his first acts will be a showdown with the Reagan administration over trade policy.

The distinguished-looking, 65-year-old senator will be calling on all the guile gained in 40 years of political maneuvering — starting as a county judge at age 25 — to pull off a trade policy change. It undoubtedly will be opposed by President Reagan and his conservative Republican colleagues.

"The administration has stiffed the Senate on trade for the past two years," Bentsen said in a recent interview.

At the top of the agenda will be bailing out U.S. industries crippled by foreign competition and unfair trade policies, a task Bentsen, D-Texas,

U.S. may have broken law with Iran dealings

By HENRY GOTTLIEB
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The vice-chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee said Saturday the Reagan administration may have broken the law by ordering the CIA to keep Congress in the dark about its secret dealings with Iran.

Sen. Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., raised the question hours after a public report that President Reagan issued a written order to CIA director William Casey on Jan. 17 to withhold information on arms shipments to Iran from congressional intelligence committees.

The White House would not comment on the report, made first in Saturday editions of The Washington Post, but a government source familiar with the issue said, "the story is accurate."

It was the latest revelation in a series of disclosures about the White House's attempt to woo Iranian officials and perhaps win release of American hostages in Lebanon through diplomatic overtures and the transfer of military equipment to Iran.

When the operation began, the president issued the written order to Casey to protect him from subsequent complaints from Capitol Hill that the Central Intelligence Agency had failed to live up to a pledge to keep relevant committees informed about intelligence activities, the Post reported.

That promise was made earlier in the administration after committee members complained their watchdog role in the intelligence field was being neutralized.

Leahy explained, "There is a provision in the law which allows the White House to delay reporting of a covert action provided it is reported in a timely fashion. It would seem this is the provision they relied on."

"If so, the director of the CIA would be bound by the order of the White House," he said.

But Leahy noted that 11 months passed between the start of the operation and disclosure of the arms transfer. Word of the deal, moreover, came because of revelations in Tehran and public acknowledgements by Reagan and his advisers, not in direct notification to the committees, Leahy said.

"Many Republicans and Democrats question whether 11 months is timely and whether there

Hispanic vote turnout low

AUSTIN (AP) — Despite the attraction of two Hispanics on the statewide ballot, fewer Mexican-Americans voted in the Nov. 4 statewide elections than in 1982, according to the Southwest Voter Registration Project.

Only 29 percent of the nearly 970,000 registered Hispanic voters went to the polls, said Bob Brischetto, executive director of the non-partisan institute.

In the 1982 gubernatorial election, 38 percent of the more than 830,000 registered Hispanic voters cast ballots.

The institute examined election results from 222 precincts with 80 percent or more Hispanics.

Institute spokesman Willie Velasquez said he did not know why the Hispanic turnout was low, but said he suspects it was due "not to apathy but to condemnation of the political system."

He noted that while the Republican Party had a Hispanic nominee — Roy Barrera Jr. for attorney general — fewer Hispanics voted for Republicans last month than in 1982.

While 84 percent of Hispanics voted for Gov. Mark White and 92 percent voted for Texas Supreme Court Justice Raul Gonzalez, both Democrats, only 28 percent voted for Barrera, Brischetto said.

"The results show that party is still an important consideration for many Hispanics," he said.

The 1978 and 1982 elections were benchmarks for Hispanics, as the difference between Hispanic turnout and the turnout of all other voters narrowed.

Velasquez and others had predicted that in the 1986 general election, the difference would drop to less than 10 percent.

"But it looks like the difference may in fact be approaching 20 percent," which would be a throwback to the 1960s, when Hispanics not only failed to vote but failed even to register, "since for them, the political process did not work," Velasquez said.

Wonder World opens Thursday

Wonder World Family Discount Store will open its Big Spring doors for business for the first time Thursday morning after a brief ceremony at 9 a.m.

The ceremony will include a ribbon-cutting arranged through the Chamber of Commerce and a flag-raising by the National Guard.

In addition, Ron Schiff, president of Wonder World Stores, will attend the event. Schiff will come from the Wonder World headquarters at Wilsonville, Ore., about 25 miles south of Portland.

Robert Shattuck, store manager, said the operation will open with 55 full-time employees and 18 temporary workers — some of whom he expects to eventually hire for full-time jobs.

Nearly all of the new employees are Big Spring residents, "and we have a few from Coahoma," Shattuck said.

"We interviewed more than 400 people," for the jobs, he said. Shattuck added that three members of the six-person management staff also are local people.

The two other previous Wonder World employees besides Shattuck are Glenn Zeman, assistant manager, from Valparaiso, Ind., and Alan Keel, floor supervisor, from Chicago.

Shattuck said the new store will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays, and noon to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

To get ready for the opening, he said he's been working some 20-hour days while many of the new employees have been working 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and beyond on a voluntary basis.

"We've just gone to two shifts, working 8 a.m. to midnight," he said Saturday.

Shattuck noted the Big Spring Wonder World will be the 14th in the chain is opening this year. "We've been busy opening two or three every week for the past three or four weeks," he said. The first of the 14 was opened in August.

He said the operation is based on volume sales with a low markup. It will have a central checkout area at the front of the store.

Weather

Forecast

West Texas: Mostly cloudy Sunday night becoming partly cloudy Monday. A chance of showers far west Monday. A little warmer Sunday. Highs Sunday in the 60s far west to the 70s elsewhere. Lows Sunday night near 40 Panhandle and mountains to mid 50s southeast. Highs Monday near 70 Panhandle and far West to upper 70s southeast and along the Rio Grande in the Big Bend.

State

Most of Texas was covered by clouds Saturday as scattered showers fell over parts of the Trans-Pecos, and light drizzle and fog dampened parts of the lower Rio Grande Valley.

An upper-air system moving out of Mexico caused showers in the Midland and Big Bend area. Low clouds hung over South Texas, and high-level clouds covered most of North and West Texas.

Clear skies were noted on satellite photos across the central section and extreme northern Panhandle, according to the National Weather Service.

Temperatures under the sunny skies were in the 70s, while the cloudy areas had 50s and 60s. Winds were gusty in far West Texas and along the New Mexico-Texas border.

The forecast for North Texas calls for cloudy skies through Monday with isolated showers. Highs should be in the 70s and 80s, with overnight lows in the 40s and 50s.

Reforms needed to better economy

By SCOTT ROTHSCHILD

AUSTIN — Gov. Mark White told a group of state business leaders Friday that he wishes well his longtime political rival, Gov.-elect Bill Clements, when he takes office.

And according to speakers at the annual Texas Research League meeting, Clements and the state Legislature will need all the good wishes they can muster as they confront mammoth economic and education problems.

White called for renewed teamwork between the public and private sector and said education and transportation improvements are key factors in helping lift the state from an economic slump brought on by low oil prices.

Speaking to league members, White said the state owes its schoolchildren "at least as good an opportunity that we were afforded and, hopefully, better."

He urged Clements, who defeated him in the Nov. 4 election, and the 1987 Legislature "to do right and risk the consequences."

Before White's remarks, a senior league researcher told members of the public policy research group that more taxes are inevitable.

John R. Kennedy said lawmakers will face an almost $1 billion deficit in the current budget cycle, ending Aug. 31, 1987, and a $4 billion to $5 billion deficit for the 1988 and 1989 fiscal years, despite tax hikes that go into effect Jan. 1. The state cannot solve that big a problem by cutting spending, he said. "We will have a tax bill," he said.

Kennedy said the major debate during the regular legislative session will focus on expanding the sales tax base and "who's going to pay."

Jared E. Hazelton, league president, urged members to put statewide interests over regional interests, especially in the field of education.

Texas ranks high among other states on education spending, but he added, "Just because we spend money on good doesn't mean we spend it wisely."

He said university mergers proposed by Select Committee on Higher Education Chairman Larry Temple are probably doomed because of parochial interests.

Hazelton said the structure of Texas government, in which power is diffused among many of-ficeholders, boards and commissions, makes it difficult to come up with any cohesive economic plan.

When a problem arises, a commission is appointed to study it, he said. "We sort of hang them on a Christmas tree," he said.

Pure power

Continued from page 1A of that protection it would be competitive, that it would take the measures to become more productive, that they'd make the capital investments that were necessary," Bentsen said.

Under current law, industries do not have to give the government assurance that they are going to be competitive in order to get temporary protection, the senator said. "And the president generally turns down that kind of a request, as he should. I would change the law to take care of that."

Secondly, Bentsen would consolidate the government's authority to conduct trade policy, now spread out among a number of agencies and committees, under a single entity — the U.S. trade representative, for instance.

"The administration should let (U.S. trade representative) Clayton Yeutter have that kind of responsibility and authority, but they keep him under a very closely checked rein," Bentsen said. "In this administration you've got everybody in charge of trade and nobody in charge of trade. One day it's the Defense Department, the next day it's the State Department, the next day it's the Commerce Department and the next day it may be Clayton Yeutter."

"It's an ad hoc response to wherever the most immediate pressure point is, whether it's heavy motorcycles or its cedar shake shingles out of Canada, or it's pasta," Bentsen said. Under the supervision of a single agency, U.S. trade policy would be able to develop rather than be reactive to global trade conditions, the senator said.

Another portion of the Bentsen trade bill would require the president to report to Congress more often on how talks were progressing at the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, scheduled to begin in Geneva later this year and to continue for at least four years.

The new talks will be the most extensive since the international 96-nation trade pact was formed 40 years ago.

For the first time, the agenda includes talks on cuts in agricultural subsidies, restrictions on foreign investment and barriers in trading services such as banking and telecommunications.

Reagan's authority to carry on negotiations at GATT runs out next year and Bentsen plans to use the opportunity to require the administration to report to Congress more frequently.

"The Congress cannot do the negotiations and should not. But the Congress should at least know in what direction and what he's trying to achieve and approve or disapprove that," Bentsen said.

Broken law

would have been notice if it hadn't been revealed by the administration and its newfound friends in Tehran," he said.

He said the legal issues involved in keeping the operation a secret from Capitol Hill will be among the chief questions in congressional inquiries scheduled to begin this week.

In a televised speech last week, Reagan acknowledged "involvement of government officials was limited to those with a strict need to know." At the same time, he said, "the actions I authorized were and continue to be in full compliance with federal law — and the relevant committees of Congress are being and will be fully informed."

Until Friday, involvement of the CIA in the Iranian operation had been described in terms similar to that of the State and Defense departments, which had distanced themselves from the program.

Clarifying the issue, White House spokesman Larry Speakes said Secretary of State George P. Shultz, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, Casey, and Attorney General Edwin Meese were involved when the policy was established.

"They were aware of the president's finding," he said.

In January, however, the operational details were assigned to the NSC and "the NSC conducted the operational details in conjunction with the CIA."

"Every contact that was made, there was a representative of the NSC and the CIA present. The State Department and the Defense Department were not actively involved in the operational details of the event, plan, program," Speakes said.

Officer finds relatives

PLEASANTON, Calif. — A policeman who was the first to arrive at the scene of a traffic accident found his mother dead and his aunt seriously injured, police said.

Officer Joseph Languemi, 42, is "taking it as just about anyone would do in the situation," said Pleasanton police Lt. Gary Johanson.

Languemi's mother, Sophie Agnes Languemi, 69, of Alameda, was dead at the scene. His aunt, Marie Dignan of Pleasanton, 66, was listed in serious but stable condition at Valley Memorial Hospital in Livermore after the accident Friday.

Prison escapees nabbed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — The prison sweethearts who staged a daring helicopter escape from federal prison earlier this month were arrested Saturday at a shopping mall, the U.S. Marshal's office said.

Ronald J. McIntosh and Samantha Dorinda Lopez were taken into custody without incident at the Birdcage Walk shopping mall in Citrus Heights about 3:20 p.m., said Deputy U.S. Marshal Rick Damiano.

A nationwide manhunt for the couple was launched after McIntosh allegedly flew a hijacked helicopter into a recreation yard at the Federal Correctional Institution in Pleasanton, Calif., on Nov. 5, picked up Mrs. Lopez from the prison yard, and flew away.

Barefoot ant fighter dies

ENGLEWOOD, Fla. — A man trying to terminate a troublesome colony of fire ants outside his home died from ant bites.

Edward F. Waterman died Monday 11 days after being hospitalized for anaphylactic shock, an allergic reaction, hospital officials said. He was buried in Cincinnati on Friday.

Waterman, 65, had gone out to his yard in this Gulf Coast city Oct. 30 armed with insect spray but barefoot. He was attacked by the fire ants after he stepped on, then sank into, an ant bed.

"He was comatose in 10 seconds," said his cousin, Frank Address of Cincinnati. "It was unbelievable."

Recovering 'his way'

RANCHO MIRAGE, Calif. — Entertainer Frank Sinatra was walking the corridors and joking with the hospital staff at Eisenhower Medical Center a week after undergoing emergency intestinal surgery, his doctor said Saturday.

Sinatra, 70, was in excellent spirits, Dr. Alan Altman said in a statement released by the hospital.

"Mr. Sinatra's vital signs are normal and his condition continues to be good," Altman said.

"Yesterday, he walked around the hospital corridor and joked with medical personnel," the doctor said.

A peace memento hangs on the gate to the White House, to mark the arrival of the peace march in Washington, D.C. Lynn Nadeau and her 19-month old daughter Alexa were among members of the Great Peach March for Global Nuclear Disarmament.

Peace march Cross country in nine months

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of balloon-carrying marchers on the final leg of a cross-country trek for nuclear disarmament rallied Saturday at a park near the White House, where well-wishers serenaded them with "This Land is Your Land."

"We made it!" marcher Timothy Trujillo of Los Angeles shouted exuberantly in Lafayette Park, across the street from the White House. "They said it couldn't be done. We did it. ... And just as they say we can't have a world without nuclear weapons, we will!"

The last stop on the arduous Great Peace March for Global Nuclear Disarmament was the Lincoln Memorial, where speeches, music and a candlelight vigil were on the program.

Trujillo and his fellow marchers crossed the Maryland border into the capital on Friday, capping a walk that for many began March 1 in California. It took them through the nation's deserts, mountains, farms and cities, down interstates and main streets, preaching the gospel of disarmament to all who would listen.

Festivities marking the end of the 3,700-mile march began early Saturday with music and speeches in a midtown Washington park named after Malcolm X. The second stop was Lafayette Park, where crowds of local supporters and some bused in from as far away as Iowa were waiting to welcome them.

"Blessed are the Peacemarchers" read one huge sign in gothic lettering. Bobbing pastel balloons imprinted with the words "World Peace" announced the approach of the marchers, who flowed into the park at noon as the sky lightened and the sun broke through for the first time that day.

Jerry Rubin, a marcher from Santa Monica, Calif.,

(no relation to the 1960s protester of the same name), unrolled a "Disarmament Declaration of Interdependence" claiming as inalienable rights "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness in a nuclear-free world."

"It's not necessary to walk across our country to show our commitment ... but it's very important that every one of us at least do a little bit more," Rubin said, exhorting his audience to work for a nuclear freeze by 1990 and global nuclear disarmament by the year 2000.

Sen. Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, who had spoken to the marchers in July when they passed through Iowa City, outlined a more modest set of goals: forcing the administration to adhere to the unratified SALT II treaty, reducing funds for the Strategic Defense Initiative, passing a binding ban on nuclear weapons tests and halting money for what he called the "Gucci guerrillas" — the Contras fighting the Nicaraguan government.

Other speakers included Rep. Ed Markey, D-Mass.; Eleanor Smeal, president of the National Organization for Women; pediatrician Benjamin Spock; and astronomer Carl Sagan. Folk singer Pete Seeger and others provided entertainment.

The Great Peace March left Los Angeles last March 1 with 1,200 participants. It foundered 10 days later in the desert near Barstow, Calif., because of logistical problems.

But by the end of the month, a core of 510 people had reorganized the march, begun fund-raising and resumed the walk. As of Saturday, they had spent $825,000, according to a publicist.

Deaths disrupt Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel — A Jewish seminary student was stabbed to death Saturday, Israeli soldiers shot a Palestinian youth to death and three Arabs were wounded in a series of apparently unrelated incidents in East Jerusalem and the occupied territories.

Amedi Eliahu, 22, a student from the Shuvu Banim seminary, was stabbed to death by three Palestinians in East Jerusalem near the Moslem quarter of the Old City, said police spokesman Rafi Levy.

"He fought back and succeeded in knifing one of them. They ran off and were chased by members of the border police who captured the three near the Church of the Holy Sepulcher," Levy told The Associated Press. "It was, without doubt, a terrorist attack."

Last G.I. leaves Bolivia

SANTA CRUZ, Bolivia — The last contingent of U.S. soldiers sent here last July to help in a crackdown on cocaine trafficking left Bolivia Saturday.

The soldiers provided logistical support to Bolivian anti-drug agents in raiding cocaine-processing laboratories in the tropical flatlands of the northern Beni region.

U.S. officials said the crackdown would continue in full strength, with U.S.-trained Bolivians replacing the Americans.

Hasenfus gets 30 years

MANAGUA, Nicaragua — A three-member People's Tribunal on Saturday convicted American mercenary Eugene Hasenfus of terrorism and other crimes against the state and sentenced him to a maximum 30 years in prison.

Hasenfus, who was brought to the courtroom to hear the verdict, acted as a cargo handler on a weapons supply flight to U.S.-backed Contra rebels fighting Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government. He was captured a day after the plane was shot down last month.

Soviet reactor entombed

MOSCOW — The newspaper Pravda on Saturday said workers have finished building a giant concrete casing around the Chernobyl No. 4 atomic reactor, destroyed in last April's nuclear disaster in the northern Ukraine.

The 198-foot-high structure, dubbed a tomb by Soviet news media, is intended to prevent radiation leaks.

Pravda, the Communist Party daily newspaper, said the structure is equipped with ventilation shafts containing equipment to monitor radiation levels and filters capable of trapping small particles of radioactive dust.

It gave no date for the completion of the structure, which Soviet media and officials have said is a key element in the vast cleanup operation at the Chernobyl nuclear complex, 80 miles north of Kiev.

Concert issues draw clarifications

To the editor:
In response to all comments pertaining to the Louise Mandrell and Maines Brothers Band concert, I want to clarify some false assumptions and statements as to the loss.

First of all, we did not pay these people $25,000 to perform, nor did we spend $5,000 in out-of-town advertising.

The loss of this event will be assumed by the reserve fund that has been accrued during the past several years. It will absolutely not affect any allocations from this campaign nor the one remaining allocation for 1986. The present campaign will continue to build for the 1987 year, and the agencies will receive the granted amount assuming the goal is accomplished.

This event was planned with great anticipation that the campaign would be completed and that profit from the concert would go above and beyond the goal.

The concert was a board decision and the lack of attendance was the factor in it not making a profit. Advertising was done in the surrounding area, knowing the Big Spring population would not provide the 5,000 persons hoped for.

I want to commend and praise the Herald, KBYG, KWKI-KKIK and KBST for the tremendous effort put forth for the concert. No dollar amount could be put on this. Please accept my most sincere "thanks to you" for your cooperation and support.

The blame of the misfortune naturally falls on the shoulders of the executive director. Therefore, may I state: Never have I taken the responsibility of an event that I didn't give my all to make it a success. The same was done for this one, hoping we could provide the agencies with 100 percent of their requests, amounting to $295,000.

But those who did not participate missed a great event as well as telling others you don't care. It breaks my heart to try so desperately to help Big Spring and its citizens and then hear the false statements from so many who don't participate.

I have no intentions of quitting because I care. Why won't you?

Band support appreciation told

To the editor:
I want to thank the people of Big Spring for their support of the Steer Band. The crowd that showed to cheer them home, with the great help of KBST, the police and fire department, was a great show of support and was definitely appreciated.

A note of appreciation to Mr. Murphy for going to Austin to cheer them on and Mr. Hise for his support in Odessa. A special thanks to Ricky Mitchell, Steve Waggoner, Pat Daniel and Traci Burch for their dedication.

Last, but not least, thanks to the Steer Band for all the years of entertainment they have provided during the halftime. They didn't lose anything in Austin. They may not have rated in the top five, but they're still a Class IV-A state band and #1 to Big Spring.

SHELANE & WAYNE ROBERTS

Band director thanks community

To the editor:
I want to take this opportunity to express my thanks to several groups of people who responded so positively during our past four weeks of Steer Band competition. We have achieved more this year than in any other, and part of it is because of the people of Big Spring.

I thank the schools and community for their support and encouragement. News releases, pictures, articles, signs, banners, announcements, phone calls, letters, brochures, car caravans, policemen, fire truck escorts, welcome home receptions — all of this had a tremendously positive effect on our morale and motivation.

It really made it worthwhile to know that so many people cared. We plan to continue working to keep that respect and confidence.

Next, I thank the Big Spring school administrators and school board for their willingness to help and their positive action. Money for regional and state competitions were not budgeted items, but the administration and board felt that this was a worthwhile endeavor for our students and staff, and that they should receive all the support that could be given.

In times of tight budgets and decreased tax base, they put the students first. That took a lot of courage, and they deserve a tremendous "pat on the back" for believing in us.

Third, I thank the Band Booster Club. This group spends hours behind the counters at concession stands, spaghetti suppers and carnival booths, as well as hours on the phone organizing support for rehearsal refreshments, receptions, etc.

They quietly move mountains that we don't realize are there until the work has been done. They run their own program and don't try to run ours. This means a lot to me and the staff. They make a lot of our job at lot easier.

Fourth, thanks to my staff and our families. Traci Burch is tops in her area. There is not a better color guard instructor or innovator around. Steven Waggoner and Pat Daniel have given more than asked, and have always been there to help, no matter what the situation.

Their experience and expertise are not only a great asset to me, but to Big Spring as well. We are fortunate to have these folks working with our students.

And to our families — maybe we'll get to see you every day now. Last, and most importantly, thanks to the Steer Band. This is the year we've been waiting for. We're 4-A, we have tremendous talent and leadership, and it all came together at the same time.

Thanks for your attitude; your patience; your willingness to try; your time; your hard work without complaint (usually). Also, thanks for believing in yourselves. We always knew you could do anything if you wanted to badly enough. You proved that this year.

This year is still young, and we still have other competitions. But we will continue to do better and better.

Thanks, Big Spring, for making us the best.

Patient tells hospital appreciation

To the editor:
The residents of Big Spring and Howard County are fortunate we have a hospital like Scenic Mountain Medical Center in our area.

Three weeks ago, I was badly burned in a home accident and was taken to the emergency room of the hospital. From the time I entered the door, I received the best of medical care in a compassionate and courteous manner.

I especially thank the staff in the emergency room, Dr. Matthews, the physical therapy staff and the fourth floor nurses in the hospital. Their concern for my care will not be forgotten.

THE GOOD NEWS IS: JAPAN FINALLY GOT OUT OF THE WHALE BUSINESS

Here's the 'secret history' about the birth of the U.S.

By DARRELL BERKHEIMER

It was 209 years ago yesterday when the United States really was born.

It was Nov. 15, 1777 — not July 4, 1776, as most people believe.

And the majority of Americans don't know which city was the first capital of our new nation.

Some will say Boston, and others will suggest New York. Washington did not exist then.

Many may believe it was Philadelphia because that is where Continental Congress approved the Declaration of Independence on July 2, 1776.

The Declaration, however, didn't create the United States, although we date our nation's founding to the Liberty Bell's announcement of its signing that July 4th.

The Declaration simply announced that the 13 colonies declared they were 13 "free and independent states," no longer to be governed by Great Britain — with each state assuming the right to do "all acts and things which independent states may of right do."

But the 13 colonies didn't form a union until more than a year later.

The story of how that happened sometimes is referred to as "The Secret History of the Birth of the Nation." It's called that particularly by the people in the Pennsylvania city where it occurred.

"The Secret History" events began the summer of 1777 when the Second Continental Congress, then sitting in Philadelphia, received news that a great force of soldiers under British General Howe was approaching the city.

Bundling their public papers into guarded wagons, the representatives moved to Lancaster, about 65 miles west of Philadelphia.

Congress stayed there only about three days because its members apparently considered themselves too vulnerable to a forced march by the British troops. So Congress moved another 33 miles west, across the Susquehanna River to York Town, a community of about 200 houses.

Berky's babblings

Although it may be hard for Texans to visualize, the Susquehanna River between York and Lancaster counties is a mile wide. So the river, about 1 1/2 miles east of York, provided an excellent geographic obstacle, giving lookouts along the river an opportunity to sound an early alarm should British troops attempt to cross.

Congress convened in York on Sept. 30, 1777, and quickly was involved in daily debate over a draft of the Articles of Confederation.

On Nov. 15, the Articles officially were adopted, and Article 1 stated "this confederacy shall be The United States of America."

Until that moment, the United States did not exist.

The Articles weren't ratified until March 1, 1781, when the delegates from Maryland were the last to sign. But all attorneys and historians know that ratification, by definition, means assent as of the original event.

So York, Pa., was the first capital when our nation was formed. The event was recognized by a commemorative stamp issued 200 years later, in the autumn of 1977.

Congress continued to meet in York for nine months — until May 27, 1778. And at least three other important historical events occurred during that time.

The first national Thanksgiving proclamation was adopted Nov. 1, 1777, when Dec. 18 was selected for the observance that year.

The other two were the Conway Cabal and the signing of our nation's first treaty — the one negotiated by Benjamin Franklin with France.

The cabal involved Maj. Gen. Thomas Conway and others who plotted to remove George Washington as commander-in-chief. The scheme was discovered when a letter was intercepted.

If I recall my research some years ago into the incident, the conspirators thought they might have enough support for a resolution to remove Washington and were about to introduce it when Gen. Lafayette initiated a toast to Washington in York's Plough Tavern, where the group was meeting.

The toast effectively gave Washington a vote of confidence, serving to strengthen his position and killing the ouster attempt.

I know about these things partly because I was born and raised in York, and partly because history — the news of yesteryear — fascinates me.

In addition, I think it's pertinent to recall these events on the eve of next year's observance of the 200th anniversary of our U.S. Constitution. That document was adopted in 1787 because of the failure of the Articles of Confederation to appropriately bind the states as a single nation.

Church sets bad example

By JESSE TREVINO
Matters of religion are best left to preachers and bishops. But a meeting of U.S. Catholic bishops this week in Washington raised a fundamental question.

Can the Catholic Church, lately very preachy on everything from nuclear arms to the economy, set an example for others on basic human rights?

What the Catholic Church does on this issue is important to all Americans. But it especially is important to Hispanics, in whose cultural history individual human liberty has gotten short rift.

Because Hispanics comprise a growing share of the U.S. Catholic population, the church has a golden opportunity to teach a valuable lesson on tolerance and free thought to a people who have been stoically loyal for hundreds of years.

Far-sighted Texans and thinking Hispanics in the state share a keen interest in seeing that the Catholic Church impart a respect for individual liberty to all its members.

Until Catholic bishops began taking stands on issues of war, peace and hunger, their annual meetings drew little attention. But this past week's meeting has put the church on the defensive over two specific cases involving Vatican authority in the U.S.

One case involves the dismissal of a professor-priest at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C., and the other the disciplining of the archbishop of Seattle, Raymond Hunthausen. Firing of the priest, the Rev. Charles Curran, from his teaching position at the Vatican-chartered university, has triggered an old debate about free speech and thought within the church. Rev. Curran dissented from church teachings on abortion, homosexual relations and other controversial topics.

Hunthausen was penalized for some of the same errors. He was humiliated by a secret Vatican investigation and later had his authority stripped — without any semblance of due process.

While we may disagree with what either man believes, he should be entitled to fair hearings. But Hunthausen and Curran are not alone. Others, in Latin America and Europe, also have been censured.

The question remains — after all these years — how far any Catholic can go to freely express him or herself.

What direction the church takes in these unfortunate confrontations has a lot to do with how Hispanics develop politically and socially.

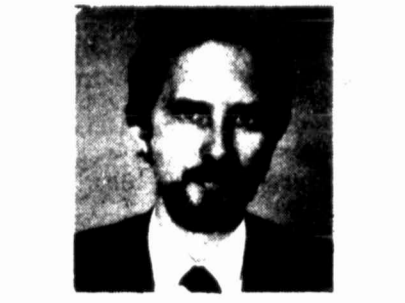

For better or worse, the church has been one of the major ingredients in the formation of the Hispanic character and personality. As such, the Catholic Church in the U.S. has a special responsibility to Hispanics to foster tolerance and to deepen freer thought.

Some Latin American bishops have done just that: In Brazil, the bishops took a strong stand against the Pope's intrusion into what the local bishops had approved as an appropriate mission for the church in Latin America — the use of the philosophy of liberation theology to minister to the faithful.

Liberation theology — the belief that the church should be an integral part in the social development of man — had been sanctioned by the Latin American bishops as a body earlier. Vatican infringement on the bishops' power to hold equal status as a Pope when meeting as a group was enough to make the Brazilian bishops draw the line. As a result, a compromise was reached with the Vatican.

But in the two cases involving Vatican authority in the U.S., the issue remains one of individual liberty, the cornerstone of our society.

Jesse Trevino writes on Hispanic social and political issues.

Jim Davis

Is it the old or the new Clements?

By JIM DAVIS

Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Now that the election is over, do we have the "old Bill Clements" or the "new Bill Clements" as our future governor?

The old one, political analysts tell us, was defeated in 1982 when he appeared too gruff and grumpy in seeking a second four-year term as governor. He tended to speak his mind without regard for the consequences and growled openly when a reporter asked a question he considered trivial or unnecessary.

His opponent, the smiling and media-slick Mark White, won hands down.

The new Clements appeared last year with the announcement of his campaign (perhaps crusade would be a better word) to make a political comeback and drive White from the Governor's Mansion. This one came packaged with a smile — more a dependable, loveable grandfather than a tough-as-nails, self-made businessman.

He spoke seriously at times, but never gruffly. He confessed that his politically savvy wife, Rita, had issued a two-word suggestion for the 1986 campaign: "Smile more." And it was a suggestion he embraced as law.

Which is the real Bill Clements? And which one will we have for the next four years?

The answer: both. Clements is one of the most down-to-earth people you'd ever want to meet. The old cliché about "what you see is what you get" was seldom truer.

The public's perceptions of Clements in 1982 and then in 1986 came mostly through the news media. Neither gave the whole picture.

A perception had developed that the governor talked tough, and the television cameras and newspaper reports frequently focused on that.

The strange thing was that many of the reporters found Clements' plain-talking manner refreshing.

His news conferences frequently were confrontational, with reporters asking questions they knew the governor didn't like and his rewarding them with obvious displeasure. But the exchanges mostly were good-natured, sprinkled with jokes and laughter.

But the evening news usually picked the serious parts for presentation, partly because that's where the hard news was and partly because the tough talking was what everyone expected from the governor.

That perception of a tough-talking Clements carried over into the 1986 campaign, and the candidate did little to relieve it. In reality, Clements probably smiled and laughed as much during the 1982 campaign as he did in 1986, but he didn't do it at the right times because he wasn't a good politician.

He has a good sense of humor. But he also doesn't hesitate to show his displeasure when the need arises.

Clements, at heart, is a problem-solving technocrat. Like many others who started off with nothing and ended up with a successful business and millions of dollars, he doesn't lack confidence. And that was part of his problem four years ago.

To Clements, the first Republican elected governor of Texas in more than a century, the 1982 re-election effort was merely a necessary distraction in his drive to put state government on a more businesslike track.

All that campaign talk about being a businessman instead of a politician wasn't just for the voters. Clements sees himself that way. He loves being a manager and solving problems. He really doesn't like campaigning.

In many ways, White is just the opposite. He seemed exhilarated this year by the campaign, by the constant moving and speaking and shaking hands. He frequently seemed burdened the past four years by the demands of administration and the weight of problems that seemed to grow no matter what he did.

White smiled naturally on the campaign trail; Clements had to learn how to do it the hard way.

FHA/SADD sponsor film, contest

The Stanton FHA/SADD committee is sponsoring a film against drinking while driving on Fri., Nov. 14. The film is entitled "Just Another Friday Night."

It is also sponsoring a poster contest which begins the same day. The rules of the contest are as follows: All ideas must be original; Posters must pertain to students drinking and driving; The posters may include drawings, pictures, and/or photos; The posters should be 28 by 22 inches in size.

They will be judged on neatness, originality, and effectiveness. Participants may be from Stanton

High School or Stanton Junior High School. There will be a $15 award for first place, $10 for second place, and $5 for third place.

Entries must be turned in to Mrs. Sandy Smith (at the High School), or to Mrs. Joyce Huckaby (at the Junior High School) between Nov. 14 and Dec. 2.

The FFA attended a contest in Midland recently. Jr. Chapter Conducting Team members include: Sparky Allred, Graig Fryar, Danny Mulkey, Chad Ringener, George Sanchez, Shelley Smith, Steven Townley, and Shawn Miller.

Sr. Chapter members include: Jeff Haggard, Jeff Hall, Cody Jones, Matt Myrick, Stephen Ramos, Eric Sanchez, and Steven Yates.

Following the contest Stanton FFA members and Advisor Randall Redder enjoyed a meal at the district banquet.

Three cross country runners placed in the top five at the district meet in Eldorado. Kerri Kirby, Jody Brandenberger, and Rafael Frausto won a trip to the regionals in Lubbock, and ran a race to be proud of on a cold November morning.

The cross country members could be seen running every afternoon and some mornings, working very hard for the district meet. Members were: Heather Colburn, Regina Newkirk, Jena Miller, Jana Heidelberg, Kelly Schoolcraft, Jody Brandenberger, Kerri Kirby, Tommie Smith, Val Flores, Greg Avery, Ector Barboza, and Rafael Frausto. Coach Wilma Stirl remarked, "I was very proud of their attitudes through pain and agony as they would still run to finish."

'Anti' clinic's deception practices are aborted

FORT WORTH (AP) — A judge has ordered an anti-abortion clinic to stop deceiving women and to tell potential customers that abortions are not being performed there.

State District Judge George Crowley on Friday fined the Pregnancy Problem Center $78,000 and issued an injunction forbidding the clinic from presenting itself as an abortion center.

Crowley's decision came more than a month after a jury determined that the center broke state law by misleading women.

According to the jury's finding, the center deceived women by avoiding questions from potential customers about whether abortions are performed there and by luring women into the center by making them think abortions were available.

Center employees said that was the only way to get women to listen to anti-abortion information they would not otherwise hear.

Shelby Sharpe, the center's attorney, said he was disappointed by the judge's decision, but said employees will comply with it until an appeal is lifted.

"It's a life-and-death matter for their (the customers') unborn babies," Sharpe said.

Jury says: $4 million in death

HOUSTON (AP) — A jury has recommended that a bank pay $4 million to the parents of a teenager who was killed as he made a deposit at a dimly lighted night depository.

Jurors returned the verdict Friday against the Gulf Freeway National Bank, now MBank, in the Oct. 22, 1980 killing of Russell Edward Austin, 19.

While working nights at an electronics store, Austin agreed to drop off the nightly receipts at the bank's night depository, where he was robbed and killed about 8:10 p.m., said the Austins' attorney, Michael Saunders.

The decision against the bank came after a week-long trial over whether the bank failed to provide adequate lighting and safeguards which could have prevented the killing.

Attorneys for the teen-ager's parents said the bank had not adjusted its lighting system after the switch from daylight savings time and the area around the depository and automatic teller was bathed in shadows.

Nearby residents testified they heard a shot and saw two men running, but no clear identification could be made. No arrests have been made.

The bank's attorney, Edward Hennessey, argued that lighting would likely not have prevented the crime. He noted that well-lighted convenience stores are prime targets for robbers.

Dick Bryant, the bank's public relations manager, said the judgment likely will be appealed.

Bufs advance with 12-7 win over Iraan

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

ODESSA — The Forsan Buffaloes and Iraan Braves waged a defensive battle on the bright green astro-turf at Odessa's Ratliff Stadium Saturday night. As is usually the case in defensive struggles, the team with the fewest turnovers won.

The Buffaloes played turnover free football while the Braves lost two fumbles, and that was the difference as Forsan advanced to the second round of the 2A state playoffs by edging Iraan 12-7.

"It was mostly a defensive game. Both teams played good defense, and we were fortunate enough to score," Forsan coach Jan East said outside a jubilant Buffaloes' locker room.

There were 11 punts in this first round playoff game in which both teams combined to complete just five passes.

Wayne Wright, the Forsan halfback who gained over 1300 yards in the regular season, was held to 72 yards on 23 carries. He had 17 carries in which he gained three yards or less.

"They were keying on him. They had their defense set for Wayne.

But John Roman had a good game," East said referring to his fullback.

Late in the first quarter the Buffaloes mounted the game's first drive in that quarter, every possession ended with a punt.

As the Braves concentrated on Wright, Roman bolted up the middle for nine yards and Buffaloes quarterback Brant Nichols passed 11 yards to Brandy Bryan to spark the drive. With 10:44 remaining in the half Wright scored from the two. His extra point kick after was blocked.

For the rest of the half it was all Braves. In the second quarter, Iraan had seven first downs to two for Forsan.

In their most impressive drive of the night, the Braves grinded out five first downs, using 5:55 from the clock.

However, on first down on the Forsan 11, the Buffaloes' defense raised the fence. On the next three plays the Braves gained just one yard. A errant 27-yard field goal attempt squelched the threat.

The Buffaloes dominated the third quarter in impressive fashion, not allowing an Iraan first down while getting five themselves.

The pivotal play of the game occurred when Forsan's Lee Morris punted after the opening possession of the half and the Braves' Chewy Ulete fumbled on the 17. Lance Soles recovered for Forsan.

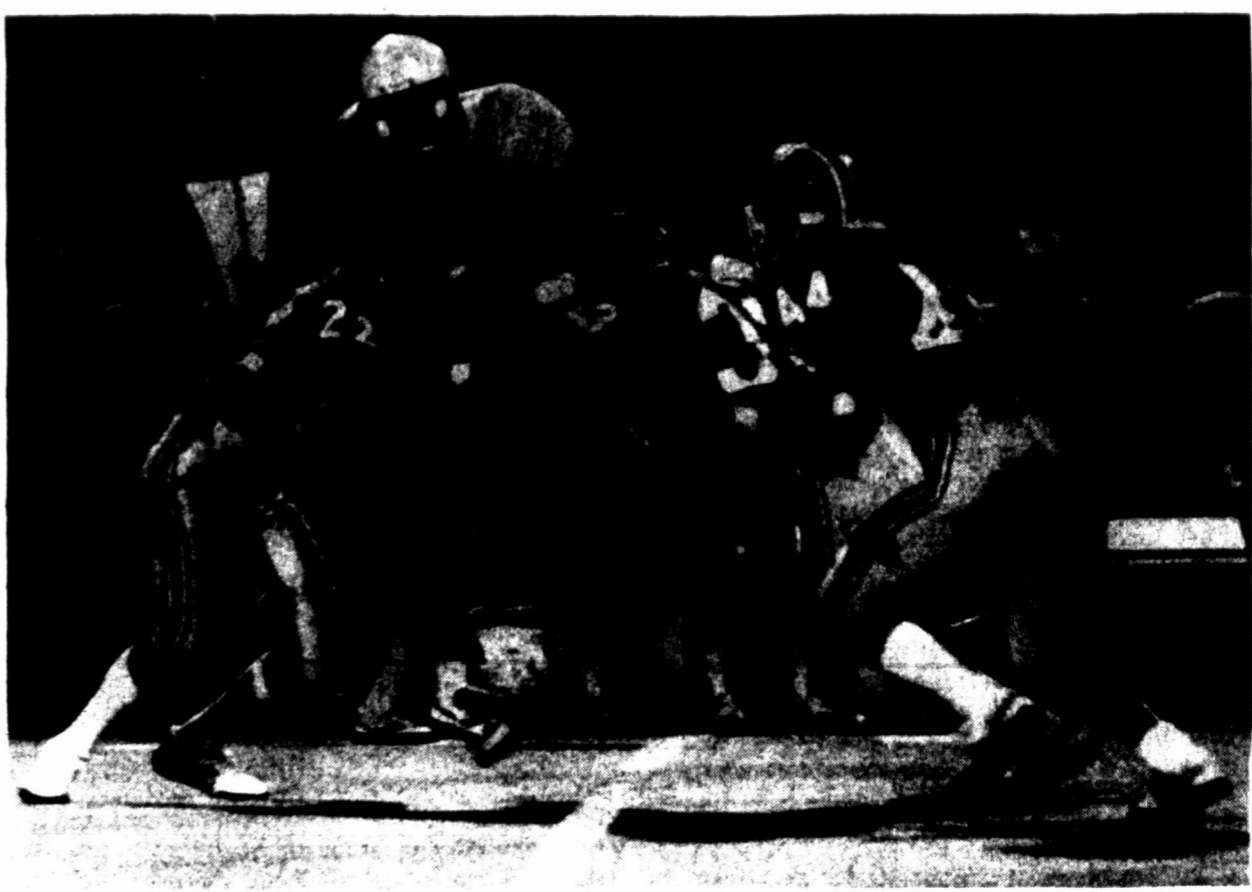

With the Braves' defense looking for Wright, Roman burst up the middle for eight yards, then scored from nine yards out on the next play. The two-point attempt was intercepted, but Forsan led 12-0.

Late in the third quarter, a Wright fumble ended another Buffaloes threat on the Braves eight.

With 5:25 remaining in the game, the Iraan managed its first first down of the half. Starting at their own 13, the Braves churned out three first downs, but were apparently forced to punt from their 45. The center snapped the football to one of the blocking backs, who hid the ball behind him.

As the Braves' interference rolled right, Billy Castaneda raised left and plucked the ball from behind his teammates. The Forsan defense was completely fooled, but recovered to stop Castaneda at the eight.

With 1:45 on the clock, substitute quarterback Robert King hit

Forsan Buffaloes wide receiver Brandy Bryan (82) is hit by two Iraan Braves' players in class AA playoff action Saturday night in Odessa. Making the tackle for Iraan is Billy Castaneda (22), Jacky Stone (33) while Jody Acosta (44) comes to assist. Forsan won the game 12-7.

Roland Pena in the end zone for the Braves second and last completion of the game. After the PAT, Forsan led by the final score.

Wright and Michael Self led the Buffaloes defense with 11 tackles. Mike Averette had 10 and Roman and Shane Clanton each had eight. Defensive lineman Stacey Munoz had two tackles for losses.

Next weekend Forsan will play Goldthwaite in a rematch of last year's playoff game won by Goldthwaite. The time and place have yet to be determined.

Runners face rough times

GEORGETOWN — Big Spring High School found the going rough at the State Cross Country Meet Saturday.

Big Spring contestants Manuela Bernal and Mario Gonzales failed to place in the top nine. Bernal finished 35th out of 105 contestants. She ran a 13.28.

Chloe Schuetzberg of Leander won the 4A girls two-mile run with a time of 11:58. Powderly North Lamar won the team championship with 44 points.

Gonzales ran an 18:30 to finish 18th. In the 4A boys three-mile run, Joey Chapman of Midlothian won with a time of 16:43. Midlothian won the team championship with 75 points. (Complete results can be found in scorebook on 4-B).

Hoop teams have good scrimmages

Both the Big Spring Steers varsity and junior varsity basketball teams fared well in a four team scrimmage Saturday afternoon in Steer Gym.

The Steers scrimmaged against

Colorado City, Levelland and San Angelo Central.

Each team played four 15-minute quarters. The Big Spring varsity won three and lost one.

The Steers defeated Colorado City twice, 42-13, 41-19. Guard Charles Young totaled 37 points in those two quarters. Post player Steve Gill scored 20 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

Big Spring also defeated Levelland 32-31. Young scored 14 points and Sidney Parker collected five rebounds.

Big Spring's only loss came to Central, by a 33-32 margin. Young scored 16 points and Parker added nine points and six rebounds.

The Steers junior varsity also lost to Central. The Bobcats won by a 29-26 margin. Big Spring defeated Colorado City twice, 31-26, 34-28. It also downed Levelland 25-21.

Ben Gonzales was leading scorer with 33 total points. Ian Walker scored 28, Kiley Jones, 23 and Tony Spears 19.

Queens win final game

CARTHAGE — The Howard College Hawk-Queens won their final game of the Panola Classic by defeating the Angelina Roadrunners 71-69.

It was a come-from-behind victory for the Queens, who trailed 36-27 at the half. Howard battled back and won on a last second shot by guard Terri Powell.

After scoring 50 points in the first two games of the tournament, Powell scored only four against Angelina. But forward Stefanie Massey took up the slack with 27 points and 10 rebounds. Trena Jackson added 19 points. The Queens are 5-2 for the season. They will be in action Thursday when they host the Hawk-Queen Classic.

ANGELINA (69) — Rayla Fields 5 0 10; Denise Ballinger 6 3 15; Lynette Jones 1 2 4; Janice Patton 1 0 2; Ladana Fisher 7 1 15; Regetta Edwards 1 0 2; Sarah Cooper 1 2 4; totals 29 11 69.

HALFTIME — Angelina 36, Howard 27.

Pokes to face Chargers

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Al Saunders says he's more interested in lifting the San Diego Chargers from mediocrity than spoiling the Dallas Cowboys' playoff chances.

"We've got to improve ourselves. We can't worry about spoiling other people's opportunities to win a division title or anything like that," said Saunders, who replaced Don Coryell two weeks ago as the Chargers head coach.

The Chargers, 2-8, ended an eight-game losing streak and gave Saunders his first career victory as head coach last week when they beat AFC West-leading Denver, 9-3.

On Sunday, the Chargers meet the 6-4 Cowboys, losers of two straight but still in contention for a postseason berth.

A third consecutive loss, something that has not happened to Dallas since November 1979, would make it difficult to catch the Washington Redskins and New York Giants, who are leading the NFC East by two games with 8-2 records.

The spoiler's role often is the last refuge of coaches of a last-place team, but it is no interest to Saunders.

"I guess some people might think that way in terms of their direction," Saunders said. "My concern is the San Diego Chargers. We've got a long way to go to make some progress to be an outstanding team and we're trying to take a step every day. We could care less what the record of our opponents are. The most important thing to us is to win the game, not what happens to other people if we win the ballgame."

At 39, Saunders is the youngest head coach in the NFL. Believing the Chargers suffered from a lack of discipline, he has lectured players on the importance of attention to detail as well as playing emotional, physical football for 60 minutes.

In practice, players now must run everywhere they go. Helmets stay on their heads throughout practice and they bend to one knee when Saunders addresses them as a group.

On the field, the Chargers also are reflecting the influence of their new head coach, who has employed a more conservative offense and stressed the importance of a physical, opportunistic defense.

Blue Bomber soccer player Josh Madison heads toward the goal as other members of the Golden Tornadoes give chase. The Bombers and Tornadoes squared off Saturday in the Big Spring Soccer Association championship game for 4-8 year-olds. Madison scored three goals in leading the Bombers to a 4-2 victory. The Bombers finished the season with a 7-0 record while the Tornadoes ended with a 4-1-1 slate.

Steers play Saturday

The Big Spring Steers, winners of District 2-4A will play District 1-4A runner Hereford, Saturday night at 8 at Texas Tech's Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

The Hereford Whitefaces finished second in the district behind Lubbock Estacado. Big Spring's only loss of the season was a 56-6 decision to Estacado in the second game of the season. The Steers are coming off a 27-0 win over Andrews while Hereford defeated Borger 19-13 Friday night.

Razorbacks hold off No. 7 Aggies, 14-10

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Quarterback Greg Thomas, dismal a week ago, helped Arkansas keep the ball away from explosive Texas A&M and the Razorbacks kept the seventh-ranked Aggies out of the end zone twice in the fourth quarter Saturday for a 14-10 victory.

Texas A&M is 5-1 in the Southwest Conference with games against Texas Christian and Texas remaining. The 17th-ranked Razorbacks, a 29-14 loser to Baylor last week when Thomas completed just two of eight passes, are 5-2 in the league, the same as Baylor and Southern Methodist. SMU, which is on probation, completes the Razorbacks schedule next week. Texas is 4-2 in the SWC.

Thomas, who completed 11 of 14 passes for 112 yards, split A&M defenders on a 10-yard touchdown run that gave Arkansas a 14-7 lead late in the third quarter. That drive started after Nate White picked off a Kevin Murray pass — Murray's first interception after 159 passes.

Murray, who rallied the Aggies from deficits of 17 points against Baylor and 11 points against SMU, had two chances in the fourth quarter. His last one died on fourth down from the Arkansas 12 when he threw into the right corner of the end zone. The ball was deflected and then knocked out of bounds by Charles Washington with 28 seconds left.

On third down, Murray, who completed 21 of 35 for 180 yards, had thrown a pass that was too high. Shea Walker and Eric Whitted had broken up Murray's second-down pass for Keith Woodside, who made 12 receptions in the game.

Arkansas is 8-2, A&M 7-2.

Southern Meth. 13, Texas Tech 7. LUBBOCK (AP) — Bobby Waters threw a 47-yard touchdown pass to Ron Morris and Brandy Brownlee added two field goals as Southern Methodist defeated fumble-plagued Texas Tech 13-7 in Southwest Conference football Saturday.

SMU raised its record to 6-4 for the year and 5-2 in SWC play. Tech fell to 6-4 and 4-3.

Ervin Farris scored on a 30-yard run in the fourth quarter for the Red Raiders' only score.

Texas Tech lost an interception and five fumbles, the last of which, at the SMU 26 with 5:25 to play, killed the Raiders' last serious threat.

Roland Mitchell's 32-yard scamper to the SMU 33 on a fake punt, on fourth-and-1, brought Tech fans to their feet with less than six minutes to play.

But on the next play, after Tech quarterback Billy Joe Tolliver completed a short pass to Wayne Walker, linebacker Rudy Harmon jarred Walker loose from the ball and fell on it at the 26, and SMU began a drive that used up the clock.

SMU running back Jeff Atkins did not play because of an ankle injury. The Mustangs also had to play without tight end Albert Reese, who was suspended after a publicized report that he has been living since last May in a rent-free apartment provided by an SMU alumnus.

Baylor 23, Rice 17

HOUSTON (AP) — Freshman quarterback Ed Lovell, subbing for injured Cody Carlson, threw a 25-yard touchdown pass and No. 18 Baylor stopped Rice at the 1-yard line as time expired to salvage a 23-17 Southwest Conference victory over the Owls Saturday.

Rice quarterback Mike Comalander ran 7 yards for a first down at the Baylor 1 with the clock running and no time outs remaining.

With time stopped to move the yardage chains, Rice got one more play, and Comalander was stopped for no gain as time expired.

Carlson, who suffered bruised ribs in last week's 29-14 victory over Arkansas, sat out the game, while Lovell powered the Bears to a 17-10 halftime lead.

Lovell threw a 25-yard touchdown pass to John Simpson on Baylor's first possession and the Bears never trailed in the game.

Lovell threw four interceptions in his most extensive playing time of the season as the Bears improved their record to 7-3 for the season and 5-2 in the SWC.

The LaMarque freshman completed 12 of 22 passes for 208 yards and rushed 49 yards on eight carries. The Bears also lost two fumbles and had six turnovers in the game.

The Bears are expected to return to Rice Stadium on New Year's Eve to play in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Matt Clark dove 1 yard for a touchdown and Terry Syler kicked a 31-yard field goal in the first half.

Steers have right ingredients

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

First year Big Spring basketball coach Boyce Paxton won't have any trouble fielding a team that opens their season Tuesday night in Denver City. That's because Paxton has no less than 16 varsity team candidates.

With so many to choose from, Paxton is enjoying the early going as head mentor for the Steers. Paxton, who coached at Port Lavaca for the past eight years, says his main concern right now is "working on some attitudes."

"Right now the biggest battle I'm facing is changing attitudes," said Paxton of the team that finished a dismal 4-23 last season. "We have a new coach, a new program and I'm trying to establish new attitudes and enthusiasm," he said.

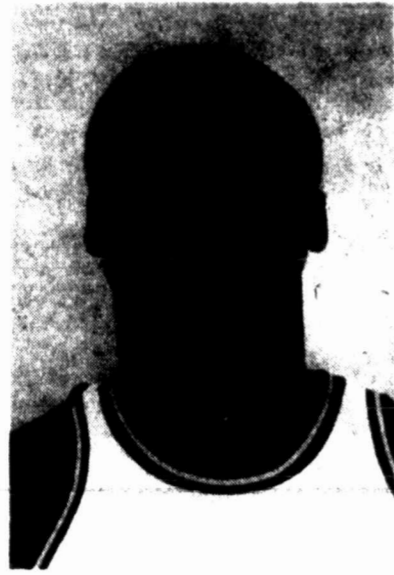

By watching a brisk Steer workout, it's evident he making progress. "I'm trying to get the kids to work hard and blend together. The key is teamwork. I've been preaching to them, if you want something good to happen to you, help someone else get what they want."

Paxton and the Steers want desperately for something good to happen to them, and the Black and Gold has some good tools to work with.

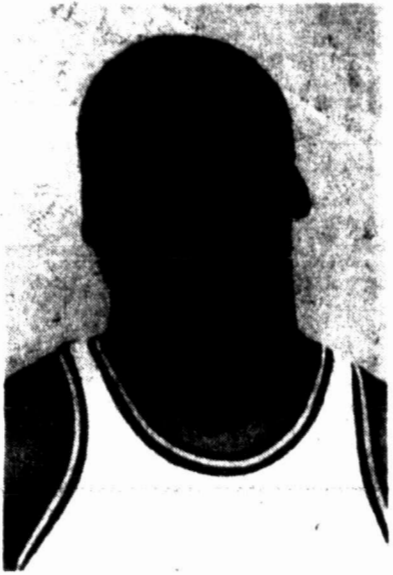

The Steers have been practicing since school started. From those practicing now, Paxton has eight possible varsity players. When football is over he'll have eight more prospects. "I see a lot of potential from the players that have been working out since school. I'll get some good players from the football team. We'll probably get two-and-a-half starters from football, and they'll all be strong from playing football."

In his present group, Paxton has two returning lettermen. They are senior forward Sidney Parker and 5-8 senior guard Charles Young. Both started last season. Last season Parker used his 6-3, 230-pound frame to average 12 points and seven rebounds per game. The left-handed Young averaged 10 points and two assists per contest.

Paxton has two other guards in his present group of players.

CHARLES YOUNG
...returning starter

There are senior Chris Lopez and sophomore Doug Young, (Charles' brother). Paxton also has been practicing three players that can play down low. They are senior Randy Odom and juniors Steven Gill and Dewayne Anderson. Odom stands 6-4 and Gill and Anderson are 6-3.

Six-foot junior Tyrone Foster is a player Paxton says that has really impressed him. Foster can play either the guard or forward position.

While Paxton has the current talent, it looks just as good as far as the talent he'll get off the football team. Of the eight prospects, one was a starter and two saw considerable varsity duty last year.

"All Everything" Brian Mayfield, last year's 4-5A Sophomore of the Year, returns with a 21 point, 11 rebound and three blocked shots per game average to back it up. The 6-6 Mayfield started on the varsity as a freshman.

Also adding experience is junior guard Shawn Shellman and senior forward Cedrick Banks. Banks averaged five points and two rebounds last season. Shellman, one of the quickest players on the squad, averaged three points.

Sophomore Abner Shellman (Shawn's brother) is another guard prospect.

Paxton will also inherit four other players that can play down low. Paul Decker and John Olsen, and pair of 6-2 seniors will help underneath as will juniors Bruce Jones (6-1) and Kenneth Banks (6-4, Cedrick's brother).

Paxton says Steer basketball will be action-packed. "We'll play up tempo basketball and hard-nosed defense. We won't be run-and-gun, but we'll run when we can."

As far as the new district, it won't be a walk along boulevard. "No doubt it, this district will be tough, said Paxton. "There will be three real strong teams. Andrews is the top dog, Lamesa has the tradition, Snyder will have a lot of size and talent and Monahans will be the dark horse."

"But we won't take a back seat to anyone. We're just like a cake, all the ingredients are there, we just have to put them together."

With their new attitude and abundance of talent coming back, the Steers are hoping to bake a good cake.

Lady Steers will be improved

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

According to Big Spring Lady Steers coach C.E. Carmichael, there is one sure thing about this year's girls basketball team — they will be improved.

The Lady Steers will enter their first year of competition in District 2-4A, and in doing so, enters a league that is perhaps stronger in basketball than 4-5A.

"I'm looking forward to the season," said Carmichael, who's entering his second season as Lady Steers hoop coach. "We'll be improved, but how much I don't know. We'll have some experience, but we'll still be young," he said of his team that went 10-16 last season.

Big Spring returns five players, including three starters. Leading the way will be 5-8 senior forward Teresa Pruitt, a three-year letterwoman. The Lady Steers also return 6-1 senior forward Sheri Myrick and sophomore post players Tammi Wise and Kathryn Burrow.

The only returning guard for Big Spring is junior Katrina Thompson. Pruitt, Myrick and Thompson were all starters last season. The 6-0 Wise and 5-11 Burrow saw lots of playing action last season.

The Lady Steers will find themselves playing in a basketball-rich district. Sweetwater, who has won the district the last three years, is ranked fifth in the state in the preseason polls.

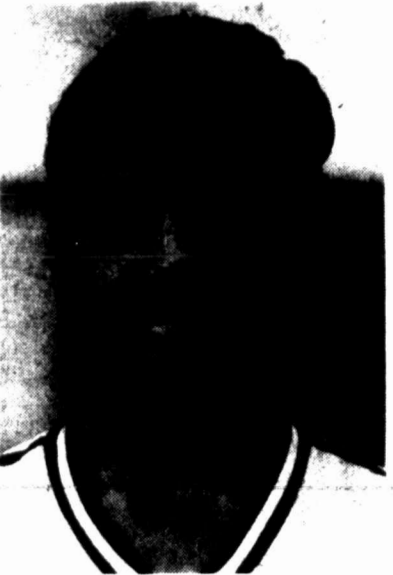

"I really think this district may be stronger than the one we played in last year," Carmichael said. "I saw it was stronger in volleyball and I think it may be that way in basketball."

Carmichael worked wonders with the Lady Steers last season. He turned a team that won just three games the previous season into a competitive squad. "Last year we played people tough, but we couldn't pull it off because we didn't have the experience or tradition."

Carmichael is working hard on getting a "basketball tradition" for the Lady Steers. He opened the gym during the summer so that all those who wanted could come work on their games. "We had some girls that spent a lot of time in the gym this summer. They worked hard, they want to be good ball handlers."

Pruitt will be a force again this season. Last season the first team all-district selection averaged 15 points and nine rebounds. "Teresa is one of the players who spent a lot of time in the gym this summer. She's an aggressive player and a hard worker."

Myrick will be switching from post player to forward. Last season she averaged six points and four rebounds per contest. "I think the move will be good for Sheri. I think forward is her natural position. Last year we had her at the post because we had Pruitt and Monique Jones at forwards."

The 5-6 Thompson will be back running the offense. "I think Katrina will be much improved from last year," said Carmichael.

Carmichael says that his two sophomore towers, Wise and Burrows, will also be much improved. "They are much further along because they got playing experience last year as freshmen."

The Lady Steers will also have three players who played junior varsity ball last season. Nikki Rodriguez, a 5-7 junior guard, will fight for a starting job. Kelly Myles, a 5-10 junior post player will be a valuable asset as will 5-7

Carmichael is expecting help from two transfer guards. One is 5-5 junior Paige Clawson, who transferred from May. The other is 5-4 freshman Peggy Smith from Memphis, Tenn.

The second year Big Spring coach says the team will be more versatile this season. "We've added more things because we're more experienced. We'll play more man-to-man and pressure defenses. We'll also play the full court, both offensively and defensively."

"Last season we went to the forwards a lot, this year we've got others who need to get their hands on the ball."

Carmichael expects his girls to be fierce competitors. "I told the girls we've got to be hungrier than other teams, we've got to want it more and show it in workouts as well as the games."

The Big Spring Lady Steers will start their season Tuesday night at Steer Gym when they host the Denver City Mustangs. Junior varsity begins at 6 and varsity play follows at 7:30.

Syler added field goals of 24 and 29 yards in the second half and the Owls cut the margin with an 11-yard pass from Quantis Roper to Darrell Goolsby with 10:05 left in the game.

Freshman Glen Ray Hines kicked a 46-yard field goal, the first of his career, and Quantis Roper threw a 19-yard touchdown pass to Keith Lewis in the first half.

Rice dropped to a 2-7 overall record and 1-6 in the SWC.

TEXAS 45, Texas Christian 16
FORT WORTH (AP) — With the verdict still in doubt, Texas punter Alex Waits fumbled a snap at the lip of the Longhorn goal Saturday and saw his life flash before his eyes.

"I said to myself, 'Oh, hell, I'm in big trouble now.'"

But the left-footed kicker coolly sidestepped the Texas Christian defenders, sailed a 66-yard kick downfield and the Longhorns rolled on to a 45-16 Southwest Conference victory over the Horned Frogs.

"I was just very lucky," said Waits, whose kick came in the third quarter with TCU flirting with a safety and trailing at the time by only eight points.

"We've got to get the safety, not almost get the safety," grumbled TCU coach Jim Wacker, referring to a play shortly before the punt when it appeared the Frogs had tackled Texas fullback Darron Norris in the end zone.

Then came the bobbled snap and miracle kick by Waits. "They have a bad snap and we have to make it happen," said Wacker, observing that "we're in the ball game if we just suck it up and go out there and do what we have to do."

Lossing, he suggested, is the pits and "I'm sick of it."

Texas coach Fred Akers said he could ask nothing more from his best players, including quarterback Bret Stafford and kicking ace Jeff Ward.

Stafford winged three touchdown passes and Ward set a SWC field goal record as the Longhorns maintained their historic mastery over the embattled Frogs.

Knicks bite Bullets

NEW YORK (AP) — Six points each by Bill Cartwright and Kenny Walker keyed a 14-1 run by New York in the final period that gave the Knicks to a 104-97 victory over the Washington Bullets.

A jumper by Walker, who scored 18 points, started the late spurt, and Cartwright, who finished with 23, followed with three straight baskets to give the Knicks the lead for good at 98-96 with 1:31 left.

Gerald Wilkins had 22 points for the Knicks. Washington's Jeff Malone led all scorers with 24 points, but none in the final quarter. Dan Roundfield added 21 points and Johnson 17 for the Bullets.

CELTICS 118, Pistons 111
PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Robert Parish scored 34 points and Larry Bird added 26 to lead the Boston Celtics to a 118-111 victory over the Detroit Pistons.

Adrian Dantley scored a season-high 41 points for Detroit, and Isiah Thomas added 33. Kevin McHale scored 20 points for Boston. Dennis Johnson added 19.

Hawks 106, Nets 90
EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J.

(AP) — A 14-2 surge by Atlanta, including four points apiece from Randy Wittman and Dominique Wilkins, led the Hawks to their seventh victory in eight games when they topped the New Jersey Nets 109-90.

The victory marked the fifth time in six games that Atlanta has held an opponent to 100 points or less.

Mavericks 111, Cavaliers 96
DALLAS (AP) — Mark Aguirre scored a game-high 25 points to lead the Dallas Mavericks to a 111-96 victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers.

The Mavericks, 5-4, took control early, capitalizing on Cleveland mistakes. The Cavaliers, 3-5, had 18 turnovers in the first half that resulted in 21 Mavericks points.

Suns 116, Spurs 109
SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Walter Davis scored 25 points to lead the Phoenix Suns to a 116-109 victory over the San Antonio Spurs. Phoenix' Mike Sanders came off the bench to score 17 points as the Suns, 4-5, won their first road game in six tries this season.

Number two team falls

By JIM DONGHY
AP Sports Writer

Minnesota dealt second-ranked Michigan's national title hopes a severe blow Saturday with a last-second 20-17 Big Ten victory as many teams throughout the nation jockeyed for bowl position.

Chip Lohmiller kicked a 30-yard field goal as time ran out to give the Gophers the victory over Michigan.

Third-ranked Penn State defeated Notre Dame 24-19 at South Bend and seems assured of moving from No. 3 to at least No. 2 in the next Associated Press poll thanks to Minnesota's victory.

Indications are that Penn State and No. 1 Miami, Fla., the nation's only unbeaten-untied teams, will meet in the Fiesta Bowl on New Year's Day. It would be the 21st pairing of No. 1 vs. No. 2 since the AP poll began in 1936.

Miami hosted Tulsa Saturday night.

The defeat snapped Michigan's unbeaten streak at 15 games. The Wolverines dropped to 9-1 for the season, 6-1 in the Big Ten, as Ohio State took over first place in the conference.

Minnesota, which beat Michigan under similar circumstances to spoil the Wolverines' 1977 season, improved to 6-4 and 2-1. The two upsets represent the only times Minnesota has beaten a Michigan team coached by Bo Schembechler.

Quarterback Rickey Foggie led the Minnesota attack, passing for one touchdown and running for another. Foggie's 31-yard run to the Michigan 17-yard line on a third-and-5 set up Lohmiller's winning field goal.

College Roundup

Thomas Wilcher scored on an 8-yard run for Michigan, Gerald White scored on a 1-yard dive and Mike Gillette kicked a 35-yard field goal for the Wolverines.

Michigan's touchdown came with 2:26 remaining, but Foggie led the Gophers 58 yards in eight plays for the clinching field goal.

John Shaffer threw a 37-yard touchdown pass to Ray Roundtree late in the third quarter and scored from the 1 for the decisive score as Penn State rallied to defeat Notre Dame.

Penn State's defense, ranked ninth nationally, preserved the victory with two great plays after Notre Dame had a first down at the Nittany Lions' 6-yard line in the final minute.

Shaffer's touchdown pass to Roundtree with 2:19 left in the third quarter was Penn State's longest scoring pass of the season and gave the Nittany Lions a 17-13 lead. It also was Shaffer's ninth touchdown pass this season, a career high.

The senior quarterback's short run at 3:11 of the final quarter made it 24-13 and offset an 8-yard touchdown pass from Notre Dame's Steve Beuerlein to Tim Brown with 7:37 left.

No. 4 Oklahoma 28, Colorado 0
Quarterback Jamelle Holieway rushed for 126 yards and halfback Patrick Collins scored two touchdowns, leading Oklahoma over Colorado in a key Big Eight game, moving the Sooners one step closer to an Orange Bowl berth.

Oklahoma, which rushed for 344 yards but did not attempt a pass, improved its conference record to 6-0 and overall mark to 9-1 heading into next week's title showdown with Nebraska, which already has one league loss. Colorado, plagued by four turnovers and punting-game breakdowns, had its five-game winning streak snapped and fell to 5-1 in the Big Eight and 5-5 overall.

No. 6 Nebraska 70, Kansas 0
Keith Jones scored two touchdowns in an 11-second span of the first quarter as the Cornhuskers routed woeful Kansas. It was the worst defeat in Jayhawks history.

Nebraska, beating the Jayhawks for the 18th straight year, scored 21 points in the first quarter and led 35-0 at halftime.

The victory put Nebraska, 9-1 overall and 5-1 in the Big Eight.

Just two weeks ago on this same field, Oklahoma handed Kansas its second-worst all-time loss in a 64-3 setback.

No. 9 Ohio State 30, Wisconsin 17
Vince Workman scored two touchdowns and carried the ball 29 times for 172 yards, and Matt Frantz kicked three field goals as Ohio State moved a step closer to a Rose Bowl with Arizona State.

Workman's touchdowns came on runs of 32 and three yards in the first quarter as Ohio State took a 17-0 first-quarter lead. The Buckeyes, 9-2 and 7-0 in the conference, led 27-10 at halftime. The rushing total was a career high for Workman. The sophomore running back had 168 yards in a victory over Utah earlier this season.

No. 10 Washington State 19, UCLA 17

Jeff Jaeger's 27-yard field goal as time expired gave the Huskies a tie with UCLA in an error-filled Pac-10 Conference game attended by representatives from six bowls.

The three-pointer came after the Huskies drove 84 yards in 14 plays to the UCLA 9. The drive included a 26-yard pass completion from quarterback Chris Chandler to Darryl Franklin.

Representatives from the Citrus, Gator, Cotton, Sun, Fiesta and Freedom bowls saw nine turnovers at Husky Stadium.

No. 11 Alabama 24, Temple 14
Bobby Humphrey scored three touchdowns, two in the fourth quarter, as Alabama withstood another solid effort by running back Paul Palmer to defeat Temple.

Palmer, the nation's leading rusher, gained 149 yards on 29 carries to give him 1,781 yards for the season.

Temple stayed within reach of Alabama until the first play of the final quarter, when Humphrey ran 39 yards to put Alabama ahead, 17-6.

Alabama moved to 9-2 heading into its final SEC game against Auburn on Nov. 29. Temple ends its season next Saturday at Rutgers.

Maryland 17, Clemson 17
David Treadwell's 21-yard field goal with two seconds remaining gave Clemson a tie and clinched the ACC championship for the Tigers.

Coaches Danny Ford of Clemson and Bobby Ross of Maryland, under ACC sanctions because of previous altercations with officials, were banished from the sidelines. They viewed the game from the press box, along with scouts from eight bowl games.

The Tigers, 8-2-1 overall and 5-1-1 in the ACC, gained the tie on an 88-yard drive kept alive by a fourth-down pass with Rodney Williams.

Tennessee 22, No. 20 Mississippi 10
Jeff Francis' 38-yard pass to Joey Clinkscales and William Howard's 2-yard run gave Tennessee its upset victory. The loss ended a four-game winning streak for the Rebels, who had climbed in to the Top Twenty poll for the first time in 10 years. It also sidetracked Ole Miss' bid for at least a share of its first SEC championship since 1963, with the Rebels falling to 6-3-1 overall and 3-2 in the SEC. Tennessee, 4-5 and 1-3, also got three field goals from Carlos Reveiz covering 27, 39 and 19 yards.

Other Games
Scouts from the All-American, Hall of Fame, Citrus and Peach bowls attended Florida State's 49-13 victory over Southern Mississippi. Bill Oakley of the All-American Bowl in Birmingham, Ala., said his group is very interested in luring the Seminoles for '87.

Carolina State defeated Duke 29-13 as Wolfpack quarterback Erik Kramer became the school's all-time passer. He completed 18 of 36 passes for 214 yards and one touchdown, bringing his career total to 4,346 yards. That broke the record of 4,286 yards established by Dave Buckley in 1975.

Boston College, 7-3, extended its winning streak to six games with a 27-9 victory over Syracuse as scouts from the Peach and Hall of Fame bowls looked on.

Quarterback Gary Morris passed for 237 yards and three touchdowns and running back George Swann ran for 143 yards to lead Miami of Ohio to a 34-20 victory over Eastern Michigan and a Mid-American Conference championship. The victory sends Miami to the California Bowl Dec. 13. Miami needed Western Michigan's 27-7 victory over Kent State to win the title with a 6-2 conference record, 8-3 overall.

Unbeaten Penn built a 17-0 lead behind a pair of Rich Comizio touchdowns and held on for a 17-10 Ivy League victory over Harvard. The victory moves the Quakers, 9-0, within one game of their first perfect season since 1904. Penn and Cornell, both 6-0 in the league, play next Saturday for the Ivy League crown.

Jeff Johnson ran for a career high 185 yards and the game's first touchdown as Cornell defeated Columbia 28-0 to extend the Lions' losing streak to 30 games, longest in Division I. Columbia now has lost all 16 games in Lawrence A. Wien Stadium since it opened in 1984.

Jeff Bentrin scored three touchdowns to break the NCAA Division II mark for career TDs and lead North Dakota State to a 62-13 victory over North Dakota Saturday in North Central Conference football.

 Mr. & Mrs. Arcanio Chavez
 Mr. Gus Ochotorena

In his lifetime and especially after retirement, my husband, Alfred W. Moody, made a practice of visiting hospitals and ministering to the ill. In his last illness, it was a warming experience to be on the receiving end of compassion such as that shown by Dr. Douglas Park, Dr. James Cowan, Dr. Rudy Haddad, the nursing staff of Scenic Mountain Medical Center, and the tender care and prayers of so many friends. This has brought me great consolation.

Clockmaking brings couple joy

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

Making clocks helps J.C. Eudy pass the time.

The 71-year-old and his wife, Ellen, 68, have been making clocks as a hobby for the past six years.

When Eudy retired in 1980, he realized that he needed to stay busy to avoid getting "fidgety," he said.

He had worked as a parts manager at Crawford Pontiac for 41 years and for 21 years worked for Cecil McDonald and handled Studebaker cars, Eudy recollected.

Making the clocks gives him something to do now. Plus, "it helps boost our social security," he said.

Eudy says they aren't in the clock business to get rich, but he does make a profit. When he prices each clock he figures how much money he has put into them, not how much time he has spent on each of them.

"We couldn't charge by the time we put into them ... they'd be too expensive," Mrs. Eudy said.

Not only do the clocks range in price, they also range in size, shape and character.

The couple has made clocks on hand paintings, poster pictures, wooden boards, skillets, plates and wash boards. Others are featured with numerals made from dominoes, roman numerals and regular numbers.

Home for the clocks is the side porch of the cou-

Mrs. Eudy shared. Each has a picture of a cotton boll, and make use of small rivets to represent each number.

"People who have anything to do with the cotton business love them. We have these clocks all over West Texas," Mrs. Eudy remarked.

The most expensive cotton boll timepiece was sold

Eudy says they aren't in the clock business to get rich, but he does make a profit. When he prices each clock he figures how much money he has put into them, not how much time he has spent on each of them.

ple's home beautifully displayed on top of an antique cloth which covers its wooden walls.

As they tell about each clock, a sense of pride in their hard work was obvious.

One of their favorite and most expensive style is their cotton boll clocks, for $50, she said.

"Being creative is half the fun," she added.

Although many of their creations are original, they also get inspiration by attending arts and crafts shows and fairs.

Putting dominoes on the clocks was an idea they got when they visited "the hill country — where the bluebonnets are" (near San Antonio), Mrs. Eudy said.

It's a team effort, they said.

For example, Mrs. Eudy glues on the numbers and the dominoes and her husband installs the battery mechanism of the clock.

Eudy says he can't do the intricate work because his hands aren't steady enough.

They also shellac and varnish the clocks.

"We use heavy duty batteries," Eudy said, "they'll last a year."

The busy time of the year is approaching and the couple is already making plans to sell many of their clocks for the Christmas season.

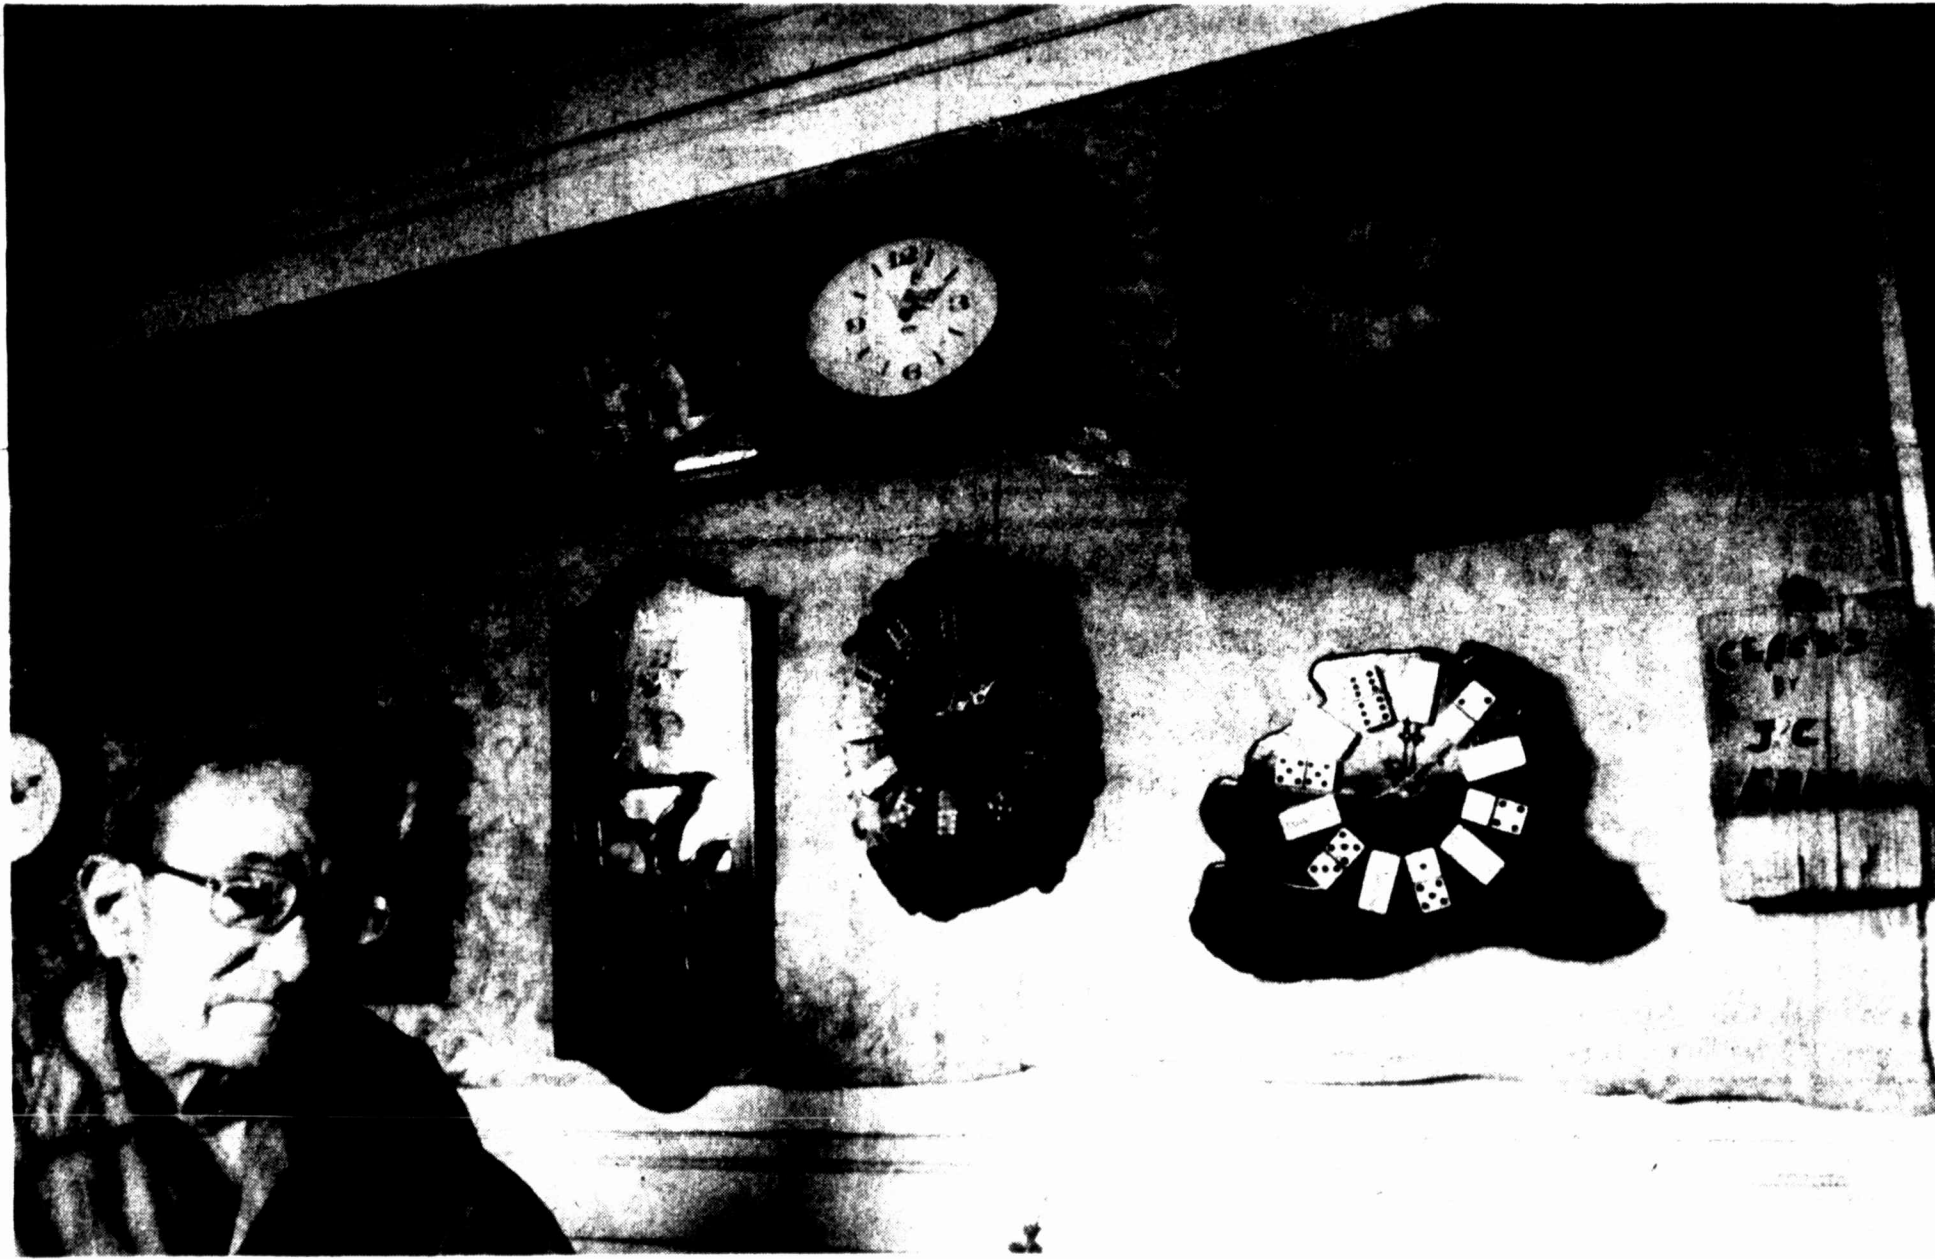

"We'll sell about 40 between now and then," Mrs. Eudy said.

There was a time when sales were better — the economy has affected their clock business. One result has been a lowering of prices.

Despite that, this clockmaking couple still finds joy in creating their "timeless" products.

This clock, above, was made from an antique plate. J.C. Eudy tightens the clock on the plate as he finishes up his newest creation.

Clockmaker J.C. Eudy talks about his hobby earlier this week. The clocks in the background have all been handmade by Eudy and his wife, Ellen. The couple say they have been making the clocks since Eudy's retirement six years ago.

Meredith Baxter Birney in movie about bulimic housewife

Meredith Baxter Birney says she knew little about eating disorders when she first agreed to play a housewife suffering from bulimia. She stars in NBC's "Kate's Secret" as a housewife and mother whose lie and marriage are falling apart because of her disorder. Ben Masters and Summer Phoenix, background, play her husband and daughter.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Meredith Baxter Birney acknowledges she knew little about eating disorders when she first agreed to play a housewife suffering from bulimia.

"I didn't know much about it," she said. "I thought it was about vomiting. I thought it was a bizarre method to maintain weight. I didn't realize it was a compulsion. I thought it was something people had control over."

Baxter Birney stars in NBC's "Kate's Secret" as a housewife and mother whose life and marriage are falling apart because of her eating disorder. The two-hour movie, which will be telecast Monday, also stars Edward Asner, Sheri Belafonte-Harper and Ben Masters.

Prior to filming last July, Ms. Birney met with Dr. Murray L. Zucker, medical director of the Eating Disorders Program at Northridge Medical Center in Los Angeles. She spent time at the hospital talking to members of the staff and to patients.

Bulimia, commonly referred to as "binge and purge," is an eating disorder in which a person, usually a young woman, repeatedly gorges on food and then forces herself to vomit. Severe cases can cause such fatal problems as stomach rupture, heart attack or abnormal heart rhythm.

"Bulimics eat a large amount of food, not to fill a hunger but to fill an emptiness," said Ms. Birney. "The oral aspects are sensual. You eat and eat until you reach a point where it's too much. The Romans used to do it. They had vomitoriums. I talked to women who would cry and say, 'I can't believe I've eaten so much. But, God, I love it.' Then they would vomit, which releases a chemical that is a sedative."

She plays Kate Stark, a young housewife who hides her problem.

"It's very private," she said. "You would no more tell anyone than engage in a sexual activity in front of people. It's done privately. But I heard some bizarre stories. It's not really about eating. It's a voracious need."

She talked about the movie during a lunch break from NBC's "Family Ties." The trim actress ate a vegetarian lunch in her dressing room.

She had just come from rehearsing a scene in the family living room with Michael Gross, who plays her husband, and Justine Bateman, who plays their daughter Mallory. There, with a blue-covered script in hand, she had gone through a scene in which Mallory announced her intention to marry Nick.

She said she was pleased that she was cast in the movie five weeks before filming.

"I've never had the luxury of that much lead-time before," she said. "It gives me time to research the role and talk to people. It's nice, too, to be called in early and not after Meryl Streep has turned it down."

The hit comedy "Family Ties" is now in its fifth year. Ms. Birney previously starred in the series "Bridget Loves Bernie" with her husband, David Birney.

It was on that series in 1971-72 that they met and married. Later, she starred in "Family," the critically acclaimed drama that ran for three years on ABC.

The couple has five children, Theo, who is 19, Eva, 17, Kate, 11½, and 3-year-old twins Mollie and Peter.

Why is her series such a success? "It's the family," she replied. "I don't think it's a coincidence that 'The Cosby Show' and 'Family Ties' are about families and how they react with one another and how they resolve problems. People get to know the characters and they like the warmth and the humor. Hopefully, the humor. Without the humor you're lost."

The actress and her husband also recently did a videocassette called "Drop Everything and Read."

"It promotes reading in the family and getting kids to read," she said. "It convinces children that reading is a form of entertainment and not a punishment."

Weddings

Layman-Sampley

LUBBOCK — Lisa Renee Layman of Lubbock and Shawn Aaron Sampley of Hereford exchanged wedding vows Nov. 15 at 7 p.m. at the Oakwood Methodist Church with Terry Jones, pastor of Slide Baptist Church, officiating.

Parents of the bride are R.L. and Martha Layman of Hereford. Bridegroom's parents are Edward Sampley of Lubbock and Dottie Sampley, 1702 Goliad.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with a 1-arch candelabra with two spiral candelabras on both sides with greenery and peach flower accents. Pews were marked with peacock feathers and peach bows. The unity candle, a gift from the bridegroom's mother, featured a ring of peach flowers.

Organist was Melva Flournoy and pianist was Judy Thomason. Vocalists were Judy Thomason and Tony Phillips.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of white bridal satin with a sweetheart neckline. The bodice was overlaid with alencon lace. A drop waist fell to a straight skirt. Sleeves were made from illusion with lace accents.

Pearls accented the neckline, sleeves and chapel-length train. Her finger-tip veil was attached to silk flowers with pearl accents.

She carried a bouquet of white silk rose buds with peach baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Holly Drinnon, sister of the bride, of Elk City, Okla. Bridesmaids were Kasi Clark of Lubbock, Jana Sledge of Lubbock and Sharla Sharry of Eakly, Okla.

Best man was Edward Sampley, father of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Jeff Terry, Randall Durrett and Charles Hendrix, all of Lubbock.

Ushers were Danny Devehouse, Michel Myers, Alan Hendrix, Rhea Cooper, Lance Sampley and Trent Layman. Candelighters were Trent Layman, brother of the bride, and Dawn Sampley, sister of the bridegroom.

Following the wedding, a reception was hosted at the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table, draped with a white cloth and lace overlay, featured a three-tiered white cake topped with a Precious Moments bride and bridegroom. The table was

MRS. SHAWN SAMPLEY ...formerly Lisa Layman centered with a bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School, Angelo State University and Texas Tech University. She is a secretary to the chief accountant at Furr's Inc.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Cooper High School and is a sales representative for Plains Leather Co.

After a wedding trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, the couple will make their home in Lubbock.

Frerich-Bucki

DALLAS — Lelani Kay Frerich and Andrew Joseph Bucki, both of Dallas, exchanged wedding vow Nov. 15 at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, with Rev. William F. deHaas, C.M., officiating.

Parents of the bride are Hubert and Annette Frerich of Garden City. Bridegroom's parents are Edwin and Natalie Bucki of West Seneca, N.Y.

Instrumentalists and vocalists were John and Ruth West, guitar and piano.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Maid of honor was Stephanie Frerich, sister of the bride, of College Station. Best man was James Bucki, brother of the bridegroom, of West Seneca, N.Y.

Ushers were David Frerich of College Station and Greg Frerich of Midland.

Following the wedding, a reception was hosted at the 2001 Club at the Bryan Tower in downtown Dallas.

The bride is a graduate of Garden City High School and North Texas State University in Denton where she obtained a bachelor and master of science degree in accounting. She is employed as a certified public accountant with Coopers and Lybrano in Dallas.

The bridegroom is a graduate of St. Francis High School in Buffalo, N.Y. and Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y. where he obtained a bachelor of architecture degree. He is employed at Brown Reynolds Watford Architects.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will make their home in Dallas.

Anniversary

The J.C. Eudys

J.C. and Ellen Eudy, 611 Johnson St., will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary today from 2-4 p.m. at the fellowship hall of Baptist Temple Church.

Children and grandchildren of the couple are hosting the event.

Eudy was born in Southmayde and Mrs. Eudy, the former Ellen Frazier, was born in Arlington. The couple met at a party on Jan. 1, 1934 at the home of some friends. They were married Nov. 21, 1936 at the pastor's home in Colorado City with Rev. A.D. Leach, officiating.

Children of the couple are Mrs. Charlene Brasher of Lubbock and Mrs. Freeda Billingsley of Ackerly. Grandchildren of the couple are Suzie Langley, Cindy Cave and Mike Wington, who is serving in the United States Navy.

During their marriage, the couple has lived in Big Spring except for seven years when they lived in Arlington, for five years, and Ft. Worth, for 2 years.

Eudy is retired from working with automotive parts for 41 years and now enjoys making clocks.

They are a member of Baptist Temple and the Masonic Lodge #1340.

When asked to comment about

MR. AND MRS. EUDY
...celebrate 50th anniversary their marriage, the couple said "we have been fortunate to live in Big Spring and to educate our children. We have made numerous friends throughout the years."

Eudy enjoys collecting knives and Mrs. Eudy collects ceramic chickens and birds.

Time and overuse will wound all heels

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I play softball. This past season I was plagued with heel trouble. After running around the bases a couple of times I develop excruciating pain in the right heel. I have to rest and leave the game. Sometimes I'm out for a couple of games because of it. I have jogged and not had the problem, but I tried it recently, and had the same heel trouble. Comment please? — J.S.

Time and use or abuse catch up with many heels. I can't list all the possible causes. Plantar fasciitis can do it. That's inflammation of the tough sling of tissue attached to the undersurface of the heelbone. Overuse causes it.

Dr. Donohue

If you have plantar fasciitis, the treatment is usually forced on you — rest. Heel pads or special plastic heel cups may help, and aspirin can ease the inflammation. Sometimes a shot of cortisone will be needed.

A heel bruise is another cause. Aspirin and warm soaks along with rest can be all that's needed for a return to action. Another explanation is inflammation of a bursa near the heel bone. That can be a tough problem, requiring special attention. A doctor can diagnose it.

In all of these conditions, certain universal treatments apply. After rest has eased the inflammation, warm soaks and leg elevation will help. And (if you don't have any circulation problem) you can try contrast baths. Get two buckets. Fill one with hand-hot water, the other with water into which you dump a tray of ice cubes. Alternate immersion of the entire foot into the two buckets, a minute and a half in each for a 10-minute session.

Your best bet now is to let a doctor examine the heel and make a diagnosis of just which of the various problems is causing disruption of your softball career.

There's an old saying — if you feet hurt, you hurt all over. Dr. Donohue's booklet, "Relief and Care of Your Feet," shows you how to avoid and take care of foot problems. To get your copy, write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and $1.00.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

"I appreciate the opportunity to help families through one of their most difficult times."

Becky Headrick

Soon after I started serving on the staff of Nalley-Pickle & Welch, it became a way of life, not something I think about only from nine to five. Working for this funeral home has been very rewarding over the past five years. It gives me a sense of accomplishment to help the families we serve with their concerns and questions. The many details that one has to face after the death of a loved one can sometimes be confusing. I'm glad I'm here to help.

Living will gives dignity to those dying Newcomers

DEAR ABBY: I clipped this letter from your column in the Atlanta Constitution several years ago:
DEAR ABBY: Thank you for helping to get the Living Will legalized in Georgia. It's long overdue.

Dear Abby

I stood by helplessly and had to watch my terminally ill mother suffer for months when she begged to die. She was in her 90s and had always been such a proud and independent woman. How I wished I could have disconnected all those machines that kept her alive love after her life held any meaning.

Yesterday I went to an antique shop and asked the owner if I could come in and browse. She said, "Please come back later — we are just about to take Fifi to the vet to be put to sleep." In her arms she held a beautiful little white poodle with a bright pink ribbon in her hair. Her nails were painted matching pink.

The woman said, "Fifi is very old. She's incontinent, lame and nearly blind. The vet said she should be put out of her misery." (Lucky dog!)

Abby, I agree with you. We all have a right to die with dignity. I for one will never go to a nursing home where people are alive, but not living. I don't want my grown children to say, "You go see Mama this Sunday. I went last week."

RUTH IN ATLANTA
I stuck it in my stationary box to remind me to write for a Living Will — the document a person signs to prevent the doctors from hooking him up to life support machines when there is no hope for his recovery. Of course I never did send for a Living Will and now I don't even know how to get one. Please tell me where I write and how much it costs. Thanks from an Arizona procrastinator. Sign me.

MARTY IN TUCSON
DEAR MARTY: You can obtain the Living Will by writing to: Society for the Right to Die, 250 W. 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10107. Please include a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Society for the Right to Die is a non-profit organization. It does not charge for Living Wills, but in order to cover the cost of my documents, I sent a check for $10 requesting five documents.

In my view, it's the best investment in peace of mind I've ever made.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a country girl, 18 years old, and work as a clerk in a nice department store. For some time I have been visited at my counter by a bald but handsome well-dressed gentleman who is considerably older than me. At different times he has told me that he is divorced with young children, a college graduate and a veteran of the Korean War. He has asked several times if he could take me to Atlantic City. So far I have refused.

Quite by accident I found out that my suitor is still married with grown children and he's a grandfather. He's never been to college and is a veteran of World War II. I am very much attracted to him, but something tells me not to see him outside the store. I've never been to Atlantic City and I'd like to see it. Should I go? And why did he lie to me?

COUNTRY GIRL IN SYRACUSE

DEAR COUNTRY GIRL: The something that tells you not to see him outside the store is "good judgment." He lied to you because he wants you to believe he's younger and also available — which he is not. Find another way to see Atlantic City, and tell your "suitor" you're in the store to sell — not buy.

(To get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions," send a check or money order for $2.50 and a long, stamped (30 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38823, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)
