Benefit concert

a success; Willie

may perform here

The Asleep at the Wheel, Heart of Texas Band Saturday concert to benefit restoration of Comanche Trail Park was a success, said coordinator Johnny Rutherford.

The possibility exists that Willie Nelson will perform here for another benefit concert next spring.

At least $3,000 for the effort has been raised, and about 800 people attended the concert, he said.

The Asleep at the Wheel group has indicated it would like to return for another benefit concert, he said.

Country singer Nelson has verbally agreed to perform here in March or April, Rutherford said. Scheduling and contractual details must be refined before a firm contract could exist, he said.

Nelson would perform free, and he said "he won't leave this town without us making money." Rutherford said.

The concert would be planned for the amphitheater, with Dorothy Garrett Coliseum as an alternate location.

Water bill report

5,764 accounts above average for period

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

A sliding scale will be developed to guide the City Council in considering partial refunds to customers whose water bills were exorbitant in July, August or September of this year, the citizen water bill committee decided at its meeting Monday night.

To qualify for a refund review, a customer's bill would have to fit the guidelines of the scale. Its details are to be finalized at next month's meeting.

According to the proposed scale, the more gallons a customer generally uses, the higher the percentage above normal the questionable bill would have to be to qualify.

As decided Monday, the scale begins with a minimum of 10,000 gallons a month usage and a 100 percent increase over the average. A customer's average will be determined from May, June and October, 1986, billings. Refund amounts will be determined by a formula the committee voted on at an earlier meeting: half the difference between the high billing and the average.

Refunds would have to be requested, and the customer would have to sign a document stating he believes he didn't use an excessive amount of water that month.

Committee members said that step is an attempt to weed out those whose bills were high because they filled their swimming pools during the time in question. Member Clayton Hicks said an average swimming pool is filled with about 25,000 gallons.

The measures were voted on after the committee heard a report from Tom Bates, city computer system engineer consultant. The report revealed how many water bills were above the customer's average, and by what percentage.

Of the 8,990 active accounts, the report

Council prepares for fund shortage

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

The city will delay capital expenditures and defer reimbursements to the revolving fund to prepare for a possible shortage in funds, City Manager Mack Wofford said at the Council work session Monday.

Capital expenditures to be postponed will be spread across the board, he said.

"We tried to keep it minimal," he said, and "in areas to affect operation as little as possible."

He explained that reimbursements to the revolving fund on $100,000 used for sealcoating streets will be postponed, as will a $110,000 payment on funds for the solid waste disposal plant, he said.

Wofford said the city may experience a shortage of $130,000. About $65,000 of that amount the city anticipated it would have left over from last year's budget, but didn't, he said.

The drop in sales tax collections refunded by the state accounts for another $61,000, he said.

City officials won't know for sure if the shortage will occur until an audit is completed in January, Finance Director Tom Ferguson said.

Wofford added this morning that binding budget revisions wouldn't be made until mid-fiscal year, about January or February.

In other business, the council appointed members Gary Don Carey, Johnny Rutherford and Russ McEwen to a liaison committee to meet with firefighters on the firefighters' lawsuit over retirement benefits.

Carey said the committee was organized to negotiate and "so our attorney can talk about it to us instead of calling a whole council meeting." The committee can take no action, but can offer recommendations to the council, he said.

Council members also decided to seek legal counsel on the matter of Mayor Cotton Mize providing a

Coahoma school board to make cuts in December

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

COAHOMA — Although the school board did not plan specific cuts for the 1987-88 school year, members Monday promised to seriously consider the first of many cuts at their December meeting.

Superintendent Jerry Doyle said that if oil remains at the $15-16 per barrel range, the board would have to cut the budget by at least $500,000.

"We come to every board meeting and we talk and we leave with no decisions. We need to do some concrete things. We don't have any money and these cuts are going to have to be made," Board Member Bruce Griffith said.

Fellow member Jim Wright agreed, and proposed priorities for the imminent budget slashing. He said non-degreed employees should be considered first for possible salary and personnel reductions, followed by extra-curricular activities and salaried teachers.

Doyle said it would be impossible to avoid cuts in teacher salaries and extra-curricular activities.

Griffin said it appeared impossible that the Board could dodge a $1.99 per $100,000 property valuation tax rate for the next school year.

"We've been putting it on Jerry (Doyle). I don't want to shun my responsibilities and let Jerry do all the dirty work," Griffin said, adding that the cutting should be done soon, in order for school employees to be forewarned.

"If they're going to start to work for us next year, then they need to be told. They need to know we're not mad at them, but they need to

County renews contract

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Lee Ambulance will service Howard County three more years, and Commissioners will act within four to six months on right-of-way for a proposed US Highway 87 expansion plan.

The items discussed and acted upon during Monday's Commissioners court meeting.

Commissioners unanimously approved a motion to extend its current $3,000 monthly payment with Lee over the next 34 months.

Ambulance owner Charles Ginn initially approached Commissioners in September and requested an additional $1,000 monthly.

Commissioners tabled the request, but voted to extend its contract to Dec. 1.

Ginn said patient nonpayment of services and a reduction in Veterans Administration services created financial shortcomings for his business.

An ambulance committee composed of Big Spring Councilmen and Commissioners studied the situation in hopes of attaining an agreement with Ginn.

Councilmen voted unanimously earlier this month to extend the city's contract with Lee. The city pays $4,000 monthly services and an additional $1,200 for ambulance utility fees and space.

Commissioner Bill Crooker, who served on the committee, said members "felt, basically, based on his financial report, (Ginn) was making a profitable return on his ambulance service."

Both Ginn and committee members agreed on extending services with the two governmental entities at no additional costs, based on information provided from the owner's certified public accountant reports, Crooker said.

Commissioners also agreed on a proposal by the state highway department to conduct a field survey of the proposed lane expansion of US Highway 87, south of Big Spring.

The state recently approved a lane expansion project, contingent

Poindexter resigns in arms issue

By TIM AHERN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, faced with mounting controversy over his decision to sell arms to Iran, today announced the resignation of national security adviser Vice Adm. John Poindexter and the firing of Poindexter's aide.

The announcement came as Attorney General Edwin Meese disclosed that as much as $30 million in money collected from Iran for arms was transferred to forces in Central America, presumably Contra rebels.

The president, looking grim, announced the departure of Poindexter and his aide, and added, "I was not fully informed on the nature of one" element of his secret policy.

In addition to Poindexter, whom he said would receive another assignment in the Navy, Reagan announced that Lt. Col. Oliver North, a principal aide to Poindexter on the National Security Council, had been "relieved of his duties."

President Reagan, left, is reportedly upset with reports of recriminations among members of his administration about U.S. arms sale to Iran, and he'd "just as soon that everybody shut up," White House chief of staff Donald Regan said in a published interview. Players in the Iran negotia-

Meese said $10 million to $30 million obtained from the sale of weapons to Iran had been diverted to the "forces in Central America," presumably U.S.-backed Nicaraguan rebels. He said, "The only person who precisely knew about this was Col. North."

Meese said Poindexter, who has been in his post slightly less than a year, was generally familiar with North's actions, but not in detail.

Reagan, meanwhile, continued to insist he had not made a mistake by approving the secret arms sale.

"No," the president replied as reporters shouted out questions, "and I'm not taking any more questions."

Sources told the Associated Press that Poindexter and North had both been asked to resign this morning.

"No one was let go. They chose to go," Reagan insisted.

Asked whether North faced possible legal action, Meese said, "We are presently looking into the legal aspects of it as to whether there was any criminality involved."

North was questioned by department officials, apparently on Sunday, according to a government source who demanded anonymity.

Reagan declined to answer shouted questions from reporters trying to learn whether Secretary of State George Shultz' job was in

'Scared straight' tactics not so scary

By SCOTT ROTHSCHILD
Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — A "scared straight" program to give juvenile delinquents a graphic preview of prison life from inmates may do more harm than good, Texas Youth Commission officials said Monday.

A legislative subcommittee is considering a program for Texas similar to one made famous in New Jersey. There, young offenders are given a short course on what they can expect in prison: brutality and sexual abuse. The confrontational and threatening technique is designed to scare youngsters from committing crimes again.

But that lesson may be lost on many TYC students who are already victims of abuse, TYC director Ron Jackson told the Sunset Advisory Commission.

Charles R. Jeffords, a TYC research specialist, said, "There is a thin line between what is a thrill and what scares them."

For many of the TYC's 4,000 students in residential programs or on parole, the only way to attain status among their peers is to go to prison, Jeffords said.

"For hard-core delinquents, it may enhance their image to go to prison," he said.

Jackson said the best way to combat juvenile delinquency is to keep children in school. "The public school system does not want to deal with these kids. They're too much trouble," he said.

The subcommittee is studying various methods to reduce the number of prisoners sent to the Texas Department of Corrections, including electronic monitoring of prisoners on probation and releasing violent offenders into community restitution centers.

Keeping tabs through an electronic device worn by the offender is cheaper than incarcerating them, a subcommittee report said.

The subcommittee also recommends that state laws be changed to allow placing violent offenders in community restitution centers. The subcommittee's report states that judges will not send violent offenders to these centers until funds are available to make the facilities more secure.

know that we don't have money and we're going to have to be more efficient.

"We're asking the community to keep the school open. If they don't like it, they can get another job. I wouldn't blame them. We're going to have a turnover rate here like you wouldn't believe. But we're going to have to cut everything we can and we're still going to have to double it," Griffin said.

Doyle said he would provide the Board with financial data at the next meeting so members will know where to begin. He added that Athletic Director Billy Kidd would have financial data on the athletic program ready before the December meeting.

In other business, the Board:

- Voted six to one, with Stanley Phillips dissenting, to make renters of school-owned housing responsible for maintenance costs after June 1. The houses rented by the superintendent and bus mechanic will be exempt.

The motion included a provision that each house except the superintendent's will be sold after those currently renting them voluntarily vacate. The Board, including Phillips, agreed that the inurance payments on the houses warranted their eventual sale.

The board initially considered selling the houses in the summer, but Griffith said it would be unfair to ask an employee to take a pay cut and then tell him to move.

- Approved unanimously the audit report from Steve Stone. Stone reported the school system was $119,124 in the black on Aug. 31, the end of the 1985-86 school year. Doyle said Coahoma schools haven't been in the black since before he arrived three years ago.

"You are definitely progressing in the right direction. Another ten years like that and you'll be okay," Stone said to the laughter of the board members.

Stone also reported that $105,000 in delinquent taxes had yet to be collected.

- Unanimously approved the annual performance report. Doyle told the board that 95 percent of Coahoma juniors passed the mathematics and 95 percent passed the language arts tests in the TEAMS exit exams. He said that corresponded to national averages of 62 percent in mathematics and 45 percent in reading and 56 percent in writing.

Marchers are honored at end-of-year banquet

Mike Ramey, Pat Collins, Tom McQueary and Rachel Tedesco were among the big winners at the Big Spring High School Steer Marching Band end-of-competition season banquet Monday night in Garrett Hall at First United Methodist Church.

Ramey, senior clarinetist, co-captain and drum major, was awarded the Zane Donald Memorial Award.

That award, given in memory of the former Band Boosters president, is presented to the senior who best exhibits the qualities of high moral character and scholastic aptitude.

Ramey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ramey.

Collins was given the Best Marching Spirit Award, presented to the student displaying the best attitude during the season. The son of Mr. and Mrs. George Collins, he is a junior trombonist and lieutenant for the Steer Band.

Tedesco, daughter of Mike and Kathy Tedesco, and McQueary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McQueary, were selected to share the Band Director's Award.

That award is given annually to the student who best demonstrates the attitudes and energies of a superior band member, but who often does not get the recognition deserved. The recipient is selected by the directors and staff of the Steer Band.

As a result of the large number of seniors eligible for the award, the directors this year decided to give it to both Tedesco and McQueary.

Tedesco is senior clarinetist and rifle for the band, and McQueary is senior percussionist.

In addition, the students select 10 of their members for recognition as the best marchers of the year. Selected this year were: Paul Blalack, senior clarinetist; trombonist Collins; Marilyn Corwin, freshman cornetist; Tyrone Foster, junior trombonist; Eric Kinman, junior cornetist; Cary Lewis, senior trombonist and assistant drum major; Jojo Paradez, junior cornetist; Sandy Rubinstein, sophomore saxophonist; Dawn Sampley, senior percussionist; and Stella Vidlak, junior cornetist.

Other "honors" presented at the banquet included the Big Mouth Award, Potty Mouth Award, Mr. and Mrs. Fur Piece to the most intimate couple, and Compass Award for the student who had the most problems marching.

Band members were treated to a barbecue dinner provided by the Boosters. Special guests included members of the district school board, administration staff members, trip sponsors and bus drivers.

stated 1,903 were under average, 1,323 were average, and 5,764 were above average. Of those above average, 1,474 exceed the 100 percent minimum for consideration.

Among its findings, the report revealed 376 customers' bills were more than 500 percent over their averages during the three months in question. But Bates cautioned that some of the numbers could be for new accounts whose average was zero previously.

The city collected $82,378.26 in funds for bills over the average during the three months.

Bates pointed out that July, August and September are traditional high water usage months. As a result, part of the above average billings could be a result of more water actually used.

The average family of three uses 3,000 gallons of water per month per person, he said.

The committee hopes to be ready to present its findings to the City Council at the next work session, scheduled for Dec. 8.

building for the proposed Big Spring State Hospital outreach center.

Council member Harold Hall said he believes it's a conflict of interest for Mize.

Carey and Rutherford disagreed. They said a conflict didn't exist because Mize wouldn't vote in the council's decision to provide utility money for the center.

Jack Stovall, director of community services at the hospital, reported that after a three-month search for an appropriate building, the mayor's property is the only one both adequate for the center's purpose yet not an object of public disapproval.

"It seems like, every time we find a building, something happens," he said. Downtown coordinator Terry Quinones agreed the center's location options are minimal.

The Council will decide the matter after consulting both the city attorney and Hall's attorney, Carey said. If the state Attorney General differs with the Council's decision, that decision will be revised, he said.

Wofford reported the city should have a new police chief in office after the holidays. Personnel Director Emma Bogard said candidate interviews are scheduled through Dec. 6.

Five candidates, including one from Big Spring, are on the list, reduced from an original field of 33.

upon the county providing the right-of-way.

Crooker said the agreement will inform the Commissioners concerning the amount of right-of-way needed.

Plans call for expanding the highway to four lanes from Hearn Street to Farm-to-Market Road 33, a distance of 2.2 miles.

Crooker said county officials learned Monday that the actual cost will be lower than the initial $900,000 estimate for right-of-way.

Pipelines are the only utility aspect involved in the project, and "it's entirely possible nothing has to be done such as lowering or casing the lines," Crooker said.

Other meeting items that Commissioners acted on or discussed were:

- Approved Jackie Olson's request to contact the Texas Association of Counties for prices on their automobile liability insurance. The county's automobile liability insurance contract with E.P. Driver expires on Dec. 31.

- Awarded the county's office supply bid to Tallant Printing at $3,284.71.

- Received an updated report from indigent health care screening officer Irene Rodriguez. The county has accepted 24 bills relating to health care and six are pending, she said.

County auditor Jackie Olson reported that the county has spent approximately $19,000 on indigent health care since the program began Sept. 1.

- Received an updated report from the county's delinquent tax collection agency, McCreary, Veselka, Beck & Allen of Austin.

During the past two years, the firm has collected $399,700 in past due taxes, penalties and interest.

Weather

Clear tonight. Cooler again Wednesday especially in the Panhandle and South Plains with mostly cloudy skies, mostly sunny skies remainder of West Texas Wednesday. Lows tonight will be in the upper 20s to lower 30s. Highs Wednesday will be in the 40s Panhandle and South Plains, 50s elsewhere except 60s Big Bend.

Man arrested after threatening security guard with knife

A man at the Big Spring State Hospital outpatient clinic was arrested Monday afternoon after threatening a security guard with a knife.

Security guard James M. Calvin told police the incident took place at 4:15 p.m. Monday, police reports state.

When police arrived, the man showed the knife to officers and stated he wasn't going to jail. The subject kicked a hole in the sheetrock of a counter, causing $200 damage, the reports state.

Police Sgt. Bill Anderson said the man was at the clinic to see a doctor, but he didn't know if he was a regular patient. Anderson said no one was hurt in the incident.

Dee Arvin Ratliff, 46, 200 Goliad St., was arrested at the scene Monday afternoon on charges of assault and criminal mischief.

- A $600 videocassette recorder, a $1,200 Pioneer component system, a $200 unicycle and $150 cash were stolen and a window and wooden door and frame damaged at the residence of Bobby Klatt, 100 Compress Lane, Monday afternoon.

- $75 cash, a $40 leather women's billfold and checks were stolen from Janie Andrews, 538 Westover No. 246, between 11:25 a.m. and noon Monday.

- Thieves stole a $200, 22-caliber revolver from Patsy Horn, 3607 Hamilton, between Nov. 11 and 23, she told police Monday.

- Someone left the Travel Inn, 3500 W. Highway 80, without paying for two days rent, $74.78. The incident took place between Oct. 11 and 21.

- A 7-month-old pit bulldog puppy, valued at $150, was stolen from Cynthia Menchaca, 405 N. Scurry St., at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

- Jose Munoz III, 21, 3000 W. Highway 80, was arrested at the 7-Eleven store at Highway 80 and Willia on suspicion of theft under $20.

- Jack Patrick Thompson, 51, 511 Highland Drive, was arrested Monday on two warrants for issuing bad checks. He was transferred to the county jail and released on a total of $400 bond.

- Ronnie Ray Mendoza, 17, 1903 Monticello, was arrested at Big Spring High School Monday on a warrant for drag racing and failure to appear in court.

Deaths

Vianna Wilson

Services for Mrs. S.A. (Vianna Lee) Wilson, 70, 2500 Seminole Drive, are scheduled for Wednesday at 2 p.m. at 14th and Main Street Church of Christ with Royce Clay, minister, officiating.

Mrs. Wilson died Monday evening at her home after a long illness. Burial will be at Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of the Nalley, Pickle and Welch Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wilson was born June 6, 1916, in Mason, and married S.A. Wilson Oct. 30, 1935, in Lynn County.

She had lived in Big Spring since 1938 and was a member of the 14th and Main Church of Christ where she was an active member of the Ladies' Bible Class program.

She also was a member of the African Violet Club, past Noble-grand of Rebekah Lodge, and participated in the Senior Citizens' Retirement group.

She raised and bred exotic birds for 26 years.

She is survived by her husband, S.A. of Big Spring; one daughter, Margaret Griffon of Big Spring; one son, Nollie Andrew Wilson of Alvin; one sister, Sue Neilson of Big Spring; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by two sons, Charles Leslie Wilson in 1966 and Virgil Lloyd Wilson in 1940.

The family suggests memorial to the American Cancer Society.

will officiate, assisted by Rev. Robert Bonnington, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, and Royce Clay, minister of 14th and Main Street Church of Christ.

MARGARET E. McADAMS died Monday afternoon at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital after a brief illness.

Born Oct. 9, 1900, in Kansas City, Mo., she married C.R. McAdams in 1917 in Dallas. She was preceded in death by her husband in 1972.

She was an active member of the Philathea Sunday School class at the First United Methodist Church. She also was an active volunteer of the Salvation Army Corps in Dallas, where she lived from 1917 until moving to Big Spring in 1982.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Lloyd, of Big Spring; two grandsons, one granddaughter and one great-grandson, all of Big Spring.

Honorary pallbearers will be Joe Pickle, Harold Canning, Todd Stallings, Ray Adams, Guy Griffith, and Keith Briscoe.

The family suggests memorials to the Lion's Club Eye Bank or the Big Spring Humane Society.

Ethel Smith

Services are pending at Nalley, Pickle and Welch Funeral Home for Ethel Ellen Smith, 66, of Harleton, who died Wednesday evening in a Longview hospital.

Sheriff's log

Murder convict transferred to county from state prison

Howard County sheriff's deputies transferred Felisiano Zamora, 38, of Knott, Monday afternoon from the state penitentiary to county jail. Deputies acted on a warrant issued from District Judge James Gregg.

Zamora was found guilty of murder and sentenced to 30 years in prison last March by a district court jury. He was charged with fatally shooting his wife Maria Isabel Zamora at the Latin Quarters club on Nov. 16.

District Attorney Rick Hamby said this morning Zamora was returned to county jail to decide upon and consult with appointed legal counsel concerning his appeal. He filed for an appeal shortly after the jury returned its verdict.

- Big Spring police transferred Ennis Lee Cole Jr., 32, of Midland, to county jail Monday afternoon after he was arrested on forgery and evading arrest warrants.

He remained in county jail this morning in lieu of bonds totalling $60,500.

- Police transferred Edith Echols Pedro, 67, 212 Circle Dr., to county jail Monday morning after she was arrested on aggravated assault. She was released on $10,000 bond.

jeopardy. But Meese, who spoke to reporters after Reagan left the podium, said Shultz would remain in his post.

In making his announcement,

Reagan sought to lay to rest a political and diplomatic controversy that has mushroomed into one of the most damaging of his presidency. Shultz, Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger and the members of the Joint Chief of Staff all have made clear their opposition to the secret arms sale.

Reagan announced that he had asked Meese to review the secret arms sale and said today's announcement was the result of the inquiry's preliminary findings.

Meanwhile, William J. Crowe Jr., chair of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told Congress he hadn't been consulted about sending arms.

Armed man sought

EDNEYVILLE, N.C. — More than 100 law officers using helicopters and bloodhounds today searched a mountainous area for a "Rambo survivalist type" suspected in a string of robberies, and one deputy was shot in the face.

Police evacuated the area where Michael John Shornock, 21, was believed to be hiding. Shornock is accused of robbing a bank Friday in Cape Carteret and shooting at a deputy Saturday, said Henderson County Sheriff's Capt. George Erwin.

Judge OKs meeting

MIAMI — A coalition of unions at Eastern Airlines still plans to pursue its lawsuit to thwart the takeover of the company by Texas Air Corp. despite a judge's refusal to block Eastern's shareholders from meeting today.

But a spokesman for the coalition acknowledged Monday that trying to undo the $676 million deal after it gets its expected approval at today's meeting in New York would be like attempting to unscramble a scrambled egg.

The vote of shareholders is the last step in the Texas Air-Eastern deal, which has government approval. Houston-based Texas Air already owns 51 percent of Eastern's stock and Eastern's board last month elected Texas Air chairman Frank Lorenzo as its new chairman.

Bishop visits Hasenfus

BOSTON — An American sentenced to 30 years in a Nicaraguan jail for supplying arms to rebels is likely to be released early, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston said after a visit to the Central American nation.

Cardinal Bernard F. Law returned Monday from Nicaragua, where he had met with the prisoner, Eugene Hasenfus, and with President Daniel Ortega.

"I did not come away with any time frame other than he (Hasenfus) was not going to be there for 30 years," Law said during a news conference at Logan International Airport. "If he were to come home by (Christmas), I would not be surprised," Law said, "but if he were not to come home by that time, I would not be surprised either."

Speed limit suit filed

WASHINGTON — Two consumer groups, saying the federal government hasn't been tough enough on states that let motorists exceed the 55 mph speed limit, are suing to force the withholding of some federal highway money.

The lawsuit by the Center for Auto Safety and Public Citizen called on the court to order the Transportation Department to withhold highway funds immediately from Arizona and Vermont, both of which have been found to have too many speeders for two years running.

India

Gorbachev, Gandhi begin four-day visit

NEW DELHI, India — Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev today praised his country's long friendship with India as a factor in world peace and stability, while Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi welcomed him to India as a "crusader for peace."

The two men then went into a private meeting at the presidential palace, the first of two sessions scheduled during Gorbachev's four-day visit.

Gorbachev and his wife, Raisa, left Moscow on Monday and arrived this morning after a stop in Tashkent in the southern Soviet republic of Uzbekistan.

Cheering people — many bused in from nearby villages — lined the 10-mile route from the airport to the palace to give them a rousing welcome. Posters of Gorbachev and his wife hung along the streets.

At the airport, women scattered flower petals as the Gorbachevs walked along a red carpet to a canopied stand.

Two Indian schoolgirls presented them flowers. Gorbachev hugged one of the young greeters, but quickly removed a garland of red flowers she had placed around his neck.

"We hail you, Mr. Secretary General, as a crusader for peace," Gandhi told Gorbachev in a welcoming statement that also noted Soviet contributions to India's economy.

"You respect our non-alignment. We respect your consistent commitment to peace," he said. "We share a firm belief in nuclear disarmament as the essential procurer of a peace that is durable and guaranteed."

Gorbachev said the Soviet-Indian relationship has been "a factor in international stability and peace."

"We shall focus on Soviet-Indian relations and pressing problems of Asia and the Pacific Ocean in the context of efforts to prevent nuclear war and create a healthier international environment," the Kremlin leader said.

Police said they took into custody 55 Afghan refugees who tried to approach Gorbachev's route into the city to protest the presence of Soviet troops in Afghanistan.

"See, this is what they do to us in India, which is supposed to be democratic," one detainee shouted to reporters who were prevented from interviewing them.

When the late Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev visited in December 1980, a year after the Kremlin sent troops into Afghanistan to fight Moslem guerrillas, violent demonstrations by Afghan refugees forced a sudden change in Brezhnev's route.

Indian girls clad in bright and colorful sari dress kiss Soviet General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev as Mrs. Raisa Gorbachev looks on Tuesday upon arrival. The Gorbachevs will be in India for four days on his first tour of Asia.

Police had ordered about 150 Afghan exiles to stay at home during Gorbachev's visit. Home Ministry officials said they were discussing whether to charge the Afghans.

"They have not broken any law, they have only disregarded a government order to stay at home," one official told The Associated Press, speaking on condition of anonymity.

Although non-aligned India is friendly to both superpowers, it shares many Soviet views on international issues and buys most of its arms from Moscow.

Gandhi's mother and predecessor, Indira Gandhi, signed a treaty of friendship with the Soviet Union in 1971. Gandhi's first foreign trip as prime minister, in May 1985, was to Moscow, while his second was to the United States.

While in India, Gorbachev is to address a joint session of Parliament and meet with leaders of India's Communist Party. He and Gandhi are expected to discuss disarmament, the Soviet Union's push for better ties with China and Gorbachev's proposal for an Asian-Pacific security agreement modeled after the 1975 Helsinki accords on European security.

The Soviet leader proposed the security agreement on July 28, saying it would seek to reduce the region's military buildup, but did not give details.

India already has expressed fears it would mean carving up the region into U.S. and Soviet spheres of influence.

Gorbachev and Gandhi also are expected to discuss U.S. plans to sell airborne warning craft to India's rival, Pakistan, and Pakistan's reported program to build a nuclear bomb.

India and the Soviet Union will sign major economic agreements and the Soviets are expected to extend credits to India.

Cease-fire anticipated

MANILA, Philippines — The government said substantial progress was made today in peace talks with Communist rebels, and officials on both sides said an announcement was imminent.

"They (the negotiators) seem to be rejoicing," said a source close to the negotiators. "It looks like they've got a cease-fire."

Negotiators for President Corazon Aquino's government and the Communists have met intermittently since August. On Sunday, after the military foiled a coup inspired in part by opposition to her peace policies, Mrs. Aquino set a deadline of Nov. 30 for a truce to be reached.

Korean rally prohibited

SEOUL, South Korea — Top opposition leaders today said they planned to defy government orders and go ahead with plans to hold a massive rally in Seoul Saturday in support of proposed constitutional changes.

National police said the rally would constitute an "illegal meeting," and in a letter today ordered the opposition New Korea Democratic Party to cancel the gathering.

A senior police official, who spoke on condition of anonymity, told foreign reporters that police planned to place rally organizers and opposition leaders under "house protection" before the weekend in order to prevent the gathering.

The main purpose of the rally would be to demonstrate wide support for changes in the constitution that would provide for direct elections of the country's president.

Oil terminal attacked

MANAMA, Bahrain — Iraqi warplanes today attacked an Iranian oil terminal in the Strait of Hormuz, damaging three ships, after unidentified jets fired missiles at a Persian Gulf offshore oil platform, shipping sources said.

Five workers died in the oil platform attack, hospital sources said.

The raid on the makeshift oil terminal at Larak, at the entrance to the Persian Gulf about 750 miles from the nearest Iraqi air base, was the farthest Iraqi jets have ventured in their attempts to cripple Iran's oil exports. The two countries have been at war since 1980.

Man with bombs caught

BRISBANE, Australia — A former mental patient who said he wanted to firebomb Pope John Paul II because he "has too much money" was charged today with threatening the pontiff's life, police said.

Police inspector Fred Angus said the 24-year-old man was grabbed outside city hall with five gasoline bombs seven hours before John Paul visited the downtown building.

Assistant Police Commissioner Ron Redmond said the man was from Sydney and had recently been released from a mental institution in New South Wales.

Border of law, not just wire

Immigration reform has been signed into law with political fanfare. Illegal aliens praying for amnesty rejoiced privately. But on the border, the triumph of law over anarchy was seasoned with skepticism and anxiety.

Parents clutching babies prepared to make their way through the Canyon of the Dead, near Tijuana, unaware of the new law. Undocumented workers labored in the fields and sweatshops, unsure of their status. Employers worried about going to jail and some panicked, firing Hispanic-American workers.

Already, opponents of reform were pointing the finger. The president signed immigration law — but nothing happened.

Yes, on the surface, little seemed to change. But beneath the barbed wire, the legal terrain has changed irrevocably for illegal aliens and employers. America's borders soon will be monitored by employers, as well as the Border Patrol.

"Should we come out of hiding?" aliens ask.

Not yet. Until the amnesty program is instituted, undocumented workers should not turn themselves in. But they should begin gathering papers to prove residence in this country.

"Should we fire aliens?" employers ask.

No. Firing employees could violate civil rights. Employers can request documents from employees and wait for regulations.

The coming months will be a test of action for the Immigration and Naturalization Service. The INS must swiftly draft regulations. It must organize an unprecedented legalization campaign. And it must educate employers, undocumented workers and foreigners about the new law.

The cooperation of the American people and of private and religious institutions is vital. Churches and community groups should serve as good-faith intermediaries between undocumented workers and the INS.

We hope Hispanic leaders who fought immigration reform will join the effort to legalize undocumented workers and their families. We hope they continue to speak out against injustice.

But we must not confuse the outcry against past injustice with a cry of hope for the future.

Employers who resisted employer sanctions should obey the law and not take out their anger on minorities. The Justice Department must prosecute violators and protect civil rights.

Those who fought for immigration reform have a special obligation to fight for its just implementation. Congress did not approve a generous amnesty for the INS to take it away. Nor did it pass tough employer sanctions for the INS to look the other way. The battle for reform now moves to the workshop and the INS office.

The naked eye can't see the change made. But it is there, replacing lawlessness and injustice with rights and responsibilities.

The border between America and the rest of the world is no longer defined by barbed wire. It is distinguished by law.

Local services draw criticisms

To the editor:

I wouldn't normally use the newspaper to vent my frustration, but in this case it may be necessary to wake the Big Spring community. I am tired of everyone waiting for oil to come back as if that were the total solution to our local economy. From what I have seen in the three months since relocating here, I'm not sure the Big Spring business community could handle "oil coming back." Let me share with you some of my Big Spring experiences.

After waiting six weeks for a local fire extinguisher supplier to deliver a small order of 10-pound extinguishers, we canceled the order and made the purchase in Odessa. How difficult is it for a fire extinguisher supplier to deliver a commonly used extinguisher?

After our recent fire, a $30,000 switching panel required replacement. When the time came to make the decision from whom to purchase the panel, we could not locate the Big Spring area sales representative and, again, the money was spent in Odessa.

Because of unsatisfactory forklift repairs, we have diverted all that business to Odessa. Because of availability, price and service, we even buy common nuts and bolts out of Odessa.

While relocating to Big Spring, I boarded two cats at a local animal hospital for two months. When they were taken to our new home, it was obvious that one of them had lost a lot of weight. His health continued to deteriorate for three weeks until he was returned to the animal hospital for examination — where he died the next day.

It was insisted that I pay the $59.50 office call and lab test fees for the cat that became ill while under the animal hospital's care. There was no concern as to the cause of death other than the test that I paid for.

When an animal becomes ill while under the care of a "professional," and ultimately dies under his care, you would think there would be some concern as to the cause. If it was an environmental condition that other animals may have been exposed to, you would think there would be a little concern on the part of the "professional."

Now what does all this have to do with whether oil comes back or not?

There are some very fine businesses here in Big Spring. We have an obligation to successfully support our community and its businesses. But thus far I am not convinced that many of our local businesses want or even deserve that support.

Plant Manager
Western Container Corp.

U.S. mercenaries link CIA to attempted Ghana revolt

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — Eight American mercenaries were caught running guns off the coast of Brazil last spring in what they claim was a joint U.S.-Israeli covert operation to overthrow the Marxist government of Ghana.

Like Eugene Hasenfus, the American captured in Nicaragua after his weapons-carrying cargo plane crashed last month, the eight men now being held in a Brazilian jail have said they were working for the CIA. Unlike the not-so-secret Nicaraguan war that Hasenfus was fighting, however, there has been no publicity about any U.S. role in an attempted invasion of the West African nation of Ghana.

Information family members have received from the imprisoned men is accurate, the United States was involved with Israel, Argentina and possibly South Africa in a scheme to topple Jerry Rawlings, the military dictator of Ghana. Here is the bizarre story, pieced together by our reporters Corky Johnson and Robert Young:

In mid-March, Brazilian police seized the Argentine freighter Norbistor, loaded with machine guns, grenades, inflatable rafts and other military hardware. The eight Americans were arrested on board the ship.

In letters and a diary sent to their families, the prisoners say they were part of a CIA operation to pick up about 100 Ghanaian rebels off the Ivory Coast, train them in use of the weapons and then launch a seaborne attack on Ghana next door. The expedition began in Miami and from there the eight soldiers of fortune — all Vietnam veterans — flew to Argentina.

There, according to the prisoners' jail-house confessions, they acquired the ship and weapons with the aid of Argentine military and intelligence officials.

Two of the mercenaries, Steve Hedrick and Tim Carmody, said the operation was controlled by a man named Solomon, whom they believed to be an agent of Mossad, the Israeli secret service. He reportedly worked out of Bophuthatswana International Ltd., which is suspected of being a joint CIA/Mossad front in New York City.

The company is listed by the Justice Department as a registered agent of the so-called "Republic of Bophuthatswana," a black tribal region of South Africa. The company now appears to be doing business as B International, at a Madison Avenue address.

Company president Ronald Greenwald said neither he or his company was involved in an anti-Ghana mission. He said he had never worked for U.S. or Israel intelligence, but did say he had been instrumental in obtaining the release of an Israeli pilot held in Mozambique in 1980.

Greenwald said a man named Solomon Schwartz worked out of his office, but had no connection with his company. Schwartz said he wasn't the Solomon the mercenaries referred to, but he has admitted having ties to the U.S. intelligence community.

Court records show he was accused in 1984 of charges similar to those arising from the anti-Ghana fiasco, according to David Kirby, a U.S. attorney in New York. As a result, Schwartz faces trial in February on charges of shipping military equipment to Argentina during the Falklands war and selling weapons to Eastern European countries.

Schwartz claimed the weapons scheme was part of a Pentagon plan to obtain a Soviet-built tank from Poland.

All of the countries implicated by the American mercenaries in the alleged plot against Ghana have denied any part in such an operation. The CIA denied any involvement.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Chamber reports

Chamber activities varied

Editor's Note: This article initiates a monthly column by the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce.

By JOHN ARRICK
President, Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce
Do you ever wonder just what the Chamber of Commerce does in our community?

Have you ever considered that many of the things that happen, and are successful, happen because of the involvement of the Chamber of Commerce?

You might be surprised to learn that many of the things that we often think "just happened" in our community are a part of some project or plan by one of the many committees in the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce has more than 30 committees working on some project or program to benefit this community. Some of their general areas are economic development, tourist development, community development and member services.

Many times people think economic development is the primary goal of a chamber of commerce. It certainly is an important part of our job, and the chamber has been working on recruiting new industries to Big Spring.

We've assisted new industries such as Freecom, which opened this year at the Airpark, and Falcon Seaboard Co-Generation, which is scheduled to break ground in December.

Some of our other economic development projects have been an additional prison facility, a new industrial presentation booklet to help attract new industries,

Highway 87 improvements and expansion, and redevelopment of the downtown into an active retail service area.

Of course, all these projects are done in cooperation with the city and county because without their support the chamber would not be complete, and we are all working toward the same goal.

Tourist development is another area that sometimes is overlooked in many communities, but it is as important as any of the chamber's programs.

The chamber aids the tourist program through such activities as providing informational brochures about Big Spring and the surrounding area, providing city maps, maintaining a comprehensive calendar of community events, and assisting and supporting those events that attract people to Big Spring.

Such events are the Heart of the City Festival, the Crossroads Stampede, the Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, and the Howard County Fair. Also, the chamber contacts area athletic teams to use Big Spring as a neutral site for playoffs and tournaments.

Community development activities tend to be the most visible to people in the community. They include raising money to buy and maintain the city's Christmas decorations, staging the annual holiday parade, and coordinating the CLEAN program to keep our downtown and major thoroughfares free of weeds and trash.

Others include the park cleanup programs, assisting with park fundraising events, coordinating the July 4th fireworks show, and participating in the Crime Stoppers program in cooperation with local law enforcement agencies.

Chamber committees also are involved in many of the cultural and arts activities in Big Spring.

Finally, what does the chamber offer to its members?

The benefits are many, including those mentioned above. But non-members benefit from those programs as well.

The benefits exclusive to members include the SOS Hot Check Alert System for businesses, the monthly newsletter Focus, and first-hand information about workshops, seminars and legislative issues that affect our city, county and state.

In addition, members have the opportunity to participate in and view programs such as the Free Enterprise program presented at the last Community Luncheon. Those who were there know it was an outstanding program.

Members also have the opportunity to advertise in the Chamber's Membership Director — distributed to businesses and visitors coming into the chamber office.

But probably the most valuable benefit is the opportunity to network in the community and voice opinions with a group of similar merchants and farmers who care about Big Spring and are concerned enough to invest in this community's future.

Additional information on the advantages of membership is available by contacting the chamber office. We think it's time for all to show how much we care about this community.

Quality time not taken for granted

By ART BUCHWALD

You hear a lot about quality time. Quality time is the time that parents are supposed to devote to their children when they don't have a lot of real time to give them.

For example, Dad comes home from work late and has to go to a dinner party. The time he spends with the kids after he showers and gets dressed and before he leaves for the party is called quality time. And because of its intensity, it is considered the finest time of all.

"It isn't how many hours you share with the children," Milton Dunlap, who is a quality time salesman, told me, "but what you do with the time that counts. The 15 minutes I devote to the kids each day means more to me than the three or four hours I spend watching football on television."

"And the kids feel it," I said.

"Last week I had to go to Detroit. I insisted the entire family ride to the airport with me so we could put in some quality time together. We got more than we asked for."

"How come?"

"My plane was an hour late. I used my time to find out where they were going, and they used theirs to find out where I was coming from."

Dunlap continued, "The trip to the airport gave me a wonderful idea. It occurred to me kids should give as much quality time to their parents as the parents give to them."

"That's ridiculous," I said. "Where would kids find any time for their parents? Have you ever seen a teenager's calendar?"

"It won't be easy, but even young people can make time if they really want to. The trouble with our offspring is they think just because they are in the same room playing a Madonna record that they have spent time with us."

"This isn't true," he said. "Parents secretly want their kids to listen to them and share their pain. That is why quality time has so much meaning."

"Kids should drop whatever they are doing and pay attention to parents who are trying to get their attention. Teenagers are so wrapped up in themselves that they tend to forget the needs of grown-ups. Just because fathers and mothers say very little does not mean they aren't dying to communicate with their children."

"What makes parents hurt the most?"

"How would you like to spend $40,000 to send your daughter to college and find the only time you hear her voice is on her answering machine?"

"Are you trying to tell me that listening to an answering machine is not considered quality time?"

"Not really. But that doesn't mean parents are unwilling to settle for it."

I asked Dunlap, "How much quality time do you think a child owes his parents?"

"Five minutes would be sufficient," he said.

"You're crazy. Where could a kid find five minutes to spend with his parents?"

"Many children could do it when they're choking down their breakfast."

"If I could get five minutes with my kids I'd be sitting on the top of the world," I said.

"You have to make children realize how important quality time is. If kids produce a generation of surly and unruly senior citizens they will have no one to blame but themselves."

Club notes

Area development is club's topic

Elizabeth Taylor, manager of Big Spring Convention and Visitor's Bureau, was guest speaker at the Big Spring Desk and Derrick Club's November meeting, conducted at Alberto's Cafe.

Taylor spoke optimistically about the oil industry and about possibilities for growth in the Big Spring area. She discussed further development at Comanche Trail Lake, the Amphitheatre, guided bus tours to local attractions, downtown revitalization and additional museums for both local and tourist interest.

Grace Kinney gave the invocation. During the business meeting, officers for 1987 were elected. They are Margaret Wise, president; Anna Sheedy, vice president; Barbara Edens, secretary; Charlotte Sheedy, treasurer; and Gertrude McCann, board member.

The group voted to enter a wreath in the Second Annual Christmas Tree and Wreath Festival to be at the Heritage Museum Dec. 3-17. Mrs. Wise will chair the committee to obtain the materials for the members to make the wreath.

Mrs. McCann will take the money and gifts that were donated to the Big Spring State Hospital for the Operation Santa program.

Next meeting is Dec. 1 at the home of Christine Stewart, 1808 E. 15th St., for a covered dish supper, Christmas party and installation of 1987 officers.

'Historical Big Spring' presented

Captain Elisha Mack Chapter of the DAR (Daughters of the American Revolution) met Nov. 19 at the home of H.D. Cowden with Curtis Driver, regent, presiding.

Mrs. Polly Mays presented a program on "Historical Big Spring." She showed slides of the various areas in Big Spring of historical importance.

Other presentations were from Mrs. Tom Barber and Mrs. C.G. Barnett. Mrs. Barber shared a message from the President General. Mrs. Barnett reported on national defense from excerpts of an address given by the Honorable Jeane Kirkpatrick, former United States Ambassador to the United Nations.

Mrs. John Cobean was appointed chairman of the DAR Centennial Jubilee in 1990. Chapters will celebrate the occasion each year until that date.

The chapter will enter a wreath in the Heritage Museum's Christmas program.

Next meeting will be Dec. 17 at 5:30 p.m. with a salad supper and program "Christmas of Long Ago."

Club meets for Thanksgiving lunch

The Elbow Extension Homemakers Club met Nov. 20 for a Thanksgiving luncheon at the home of Eloise Wynn.

Nine members and one guest, Jean Cantrell, attended. Roll call was answered with "Who taught you to use a thimble?"

Zula Rhodes demonstrated making peanut brittle candy. On Dec. 15, several members will sort canned food for the Salvation Army Food Distribution project for Christmas. The group will donate money to the Foster Care program.

Next meeting will be Dec. 4 at the home of Myrl Soles. Members will have a cookie swap. Each member will bring four dozen cookies to the meeting, give one dozen to the hostess and trade three dozen with other members. Cookie recipes also will be traded.

Veterans celebrate Thanksgiving

A Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings was enjoyed by the National Association of Retired and Veteran Railway Employees at the Kentwood Older Adult Center on Nov. 20.

J.T. Anderson, presided at the meeting. A moment of silence was conducted for Frank G. Sholte, who recently died.

Those reported ill were: Mrs. S.A. Wilson, Mrs. J.T. Culpepper and George Hill.

Those present having November birthdays were J.L. Appleton, G.P. Morrison and Claudia McCreary.

Next gathering will be a Christmas party at 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 17. Each member is requested to bring their favorite goodies.

TOPS shares arts, crafts projects

TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Club Chapter Tx. 21 met on Nov. 20 with 17 members present.

The November Turkey Contest winner was Rachel Willis, who was also the best loser for the month. Members shared arts and crafts projects they have been working on.

TOPS meets on Thursdays at 1 p.m. at Canterbury South, 1700 Lancaster St. Next meeting will be Dec. 4. Guests are welcome. For more information, contact Linda Wilson, 263-4662.

Heart says aye, head says nay to Irishman

DEAR ABBY: I am a 30-year-old single woman, attractive, successful (real estate) and, like most people who write to you, I have a problem. I have fallen in love with a charming, handsome 29-year-old man who my friends tell me is feeding me a line.

He came here from Ireland, his visa expired and now he is an illegal alien. My friends say he's only using me so he can remain in the States and bring his girlfriend over from Ireland.

He told me about the girl back home, but says he really loves me and will break off with her when he can tell her in person because he doesn't want to hurt her. Abby, I have been in love before, but never like this. We have a wonderful time together, and the chemistry between us is perfect.

Now for the bad part: He has borrowed money from me — yet unpaid; I've caught him in several small lies; he drinks more than he should; and he has a bad temper. I know all his faults, but I am drawn to him like a giant magnet. I need an objective opinion. Half of me argument about our relationship. We are married to brothers. She says she is not related to me.

Last Christmas she gave my husband a beautiful woolen scarf, which I thought was wonderful, but, to my distress, there was no gift for me, even though I had given her one. She says she is not related to me but she is a sister-in-law to my husband. I say we are sisters-in-law. What do you say?

SISTERLESS OUT EAST
DER SISTERLESS: The big issue is not whether your brother-in-law's wife is your sister-in-law; it's her rude insistence that she is not related to you when you claim her as your sister-in-law.

I don't know how they figure relationships "out East," but "out West," where I come from, my husband's relatives are mine, and mine are his.

Lysine not a herpes cure

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Why do you not recommend lysine as a herpes cure? I have found it effective in preventing and curing my fever blisters. Lysine is a natural amino acid and produces no side effects. The tablets are found in natural food and drug stores. You would be doing your readers a favor by passing this long. — L.A.

I don't think I would be doing anyone a favor because I don't believe the lysine story. I can't believe it makes a difference in herpes, whether the cold sore or genital kind. Yet, lysine testimonials are legend.

I would not recommend lysine to others and would not use it myself. But I am forced to conclude that so long as it does not cause trouble for the person taking it, why not let him take it? If you feel it is helping you, fine.

Lysine and lysine diets gained popularity following laboratory observations made while doing herpes virus experimentation. Researchers did find that the virus grew less well when nourished with lysine than when it was nourished with arginine, another amino acid. Some drew the radical conclusion from this that lysine would inhibit herpes growth in the body as it did in the laboratory.

It was never proven, yet today many are taking the lysine tablets or adhering to the special diet high in lysine foods (fish, chicken, lamb, milk, beans) and low in arginine (chocolates and nuts).

Shingles can be a painful disease! For a copy of the booklet, "The Facts About Shingles," write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and $1.00.
Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Jets crash in Miami

MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Dolphins and New York Jets didn't really switch uniforms Monday night in the Orange Bowl. It just seemed that way.

While the least productive rushing offense in the NFL ran for 189 yards on 36 carries against the league's best rushing defense, the 27th-ranked defense held the fourth-best offense to three points — and the Dolphins, now 6-6, trampled the AFC East-leading Jets 45-3.

The Dolphins, who had been plagued by ill-timed penalties and turnovers all season, also benefitted from several costly penalties and four turnovers by the Jets, who had avoided those kinds of miscues while winning 10 of their first 11 games.

The personality transformation started early, as a strong rush forced Jets quarterback Ken O'Brien, the most proficient passer in the league, to throw wildly on a third-and-3 play on their first possession. Then, on the Dolphins sixth offensive play, halfback Lorenzo Hampton burst up the middle for a 54-yard touchdown, the longest Miami run since 1980.

The tone had been set, and the Jets couldn't do anything to alter it. Hampton finished with 148 yards and two touchdowns on 19 carries, the first 100-yard rushing performance by a Miami player in 41 games.

Meanwhile, the Miami defense allowed only 280 total yards, with just 89 coming on the ground. In two games against the Dolphins last year, Jets running back Freeman McNeil ran for 280 yards by himself.

Miami quarterback Dan Marino, who passed for six touchdowns in the overtime shootout in the team's first meeting, and four more Monday night. Hampton and Bruce Hardy each caught 1-yard TD passes and Nat Moore caught a pair from 21 and 22 yards as Marino hit 29 of 36 for 288 yards. The four-year veteran also became the first NFL player to throw for 30 or more touchdowns in three seasons.

Miami's other scored came a 1-yard run by Hampton and a 39-yard field goal by Fuad Reveiz as the Dolphins scored on seven of their first eight possessions.

The Jets finally got on the scoreboard late in the third quarter with a 45-yard field goal by Pat Leahy to cut the gap to 28-3. But they could earn only one first down on their next two possessions as the Dolphins pulled away.

The jubilant Dolphins were talking playoffs, although their 6-6 record makes them a real longshot. Across the way, the Jets didn't sound like a team that's still tied for the best record in the NFL. "We got beat pretty bad and we got beat in all phases," said Jets Coach Joe Walton. "Now we'll see the character of this team. We got knocked down tonight. We've got to get up off the floor."

The Jets' injury-plagued defense was knocked around by a much-maligned Miami offensive line. In 11 previous games, the Dolphins had managed a combined rushing total of 944 yards.

The Miami defense had even more to prove after giving up 581 yards in total offense in the first meeting with New York. Defensive back William Judson said he felt the Dolphins showed their true ability Monday night.

Last time, O'Brien passed for 479 yards and touchdowns of 65, 50, 21 and 43 yards. This time, he completed only 11 of 21 passes for 168 yards before being lifted in the fourth quarter.

"They came out and played excellent football," O'Brien said. "We made mistakes and didn't make the plays when we had to."

The Dolphins were the big-play team this time, converting on 12 of 16 third-down opportunities and getting interceptions from Judson and Bud Brown and fumble recoveries from T.J. Turner and Mark Brown.

Miami Dolphins running back Lorenzo Hampton (37) evades an unidentified New York Jets defender to dash for a first quarter touchdown Monday night.

Two TCU coaches resign

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Christian University has accepted the resignations of two defensive coaches at the end of a 3-8 season, just two days after the team was humiliated by Texas A&M, 74-10.

School officials said Jim Dawson, who was in charge of the defensive secondary, and Tom Perry, who coached the outside linebackers, submitted their resignations to head coach Jim Wacker Monday.

"There comes a time when change has to be made," Wacker said. "We had just not played as well defensively as we felt we should have. And we felt it was best to try something else."

Texas Christian finished last in the Southwest Conference this year in defense, giving up 376 points and allowing an average of 445 yards per game.

Wacker Monday received an endorsement from TCU Athletic Director Frank Windegger.

"I have no problem with the credibility of our program," Windegger said. "And I have absolutely no problem with Jim Wacker."

Wacker said that despite having back-to-back 3-8 seasons, he feels no pressure from TCU officials to make any coaching changes.

Both Dawson and Perry had been assistants to Wacker for the past eight seasons, including four at Southwest Texas State where Wacker coached before coming to TCU in 1983.

Memphis St. in NIT semifinals

By The Associated Press
Memphis State and Western Kentucky got strong play from their centers and joined Temple in the semifinals of the preseason National Invitation Tournament Monday night.

Seventh-ranked Oklahoma was at No. 5 Nevada-Las Vegas in a late quarterfinal game, with the winner to face Temple in Friday's semifinals at Madison Square Garden in New York. Memphis State meets Western Kentucky in the other half of the semifinal doubleheader.

On Monday night, Temple beat Villanova 80-73. Western Kentucky edged Texas Christian 96-90 and Memphis State defeated Michigan 82-76.

Center Marvin Alexander had 21 points and nine rebounds and ignited a second-half surge for Memphis State against Michigan 82-76.

Dwight Boyd scored 18 points for the Tigers, while Vincent Askeew and freshman Sylvester Gray added 15 each. Gary Grant led all scorers with 20 for the Wolverines.

Alexander scored six of Memphis State's first 10 points in the second half as the Tigers, who trailed 31-28 at halftime, took a 38-33 lead after four minutes. Memphis State's biggest lead of the half was 72-51 following a free throw by Alexander with 5:30 remaining.

A late 14-3 run by Michigan, which led by as many as nine in the first half, was not enough to challenge the Tigers' lead.

At Bowling Green, Ky., senior center Tellis Frank had a career-high 25 points and 12 rebounds, leading Western Kentucky past TCU.

Clinging to a two-point lead with 3:30 left in the game, Western Kentucky scored six straight points for an 89-81 edge with 2:41 left, and the Horned Frogs never trailed by less than six after that. Frank keyed the outburst with a jump shot and tip-in.

Kannard Johnson scored 22 points for Western Kentucky, while Jamie Dixon scored 31 points and Carl Lott 21 for the Horned Frogs. TCU took a 53-49 halftime lead on the strength of a 24-9 scoring run that began with 7:41 left in the half and ended six minutes later with the Horned Frogs leading 51-45. The Horned Frogs scored four three-point field goals during that stretch, including three by Dixon.

At Philadelphia, Nate Blackwell scored 14 of his 18 points in the second half for Temple against crosstown rival Villanova.

Blackwell made just one of 10 field goal attempts in the first half but, with the Owls trailing 61-60, the senior guard scored eight points during an 11-2 surge that put Temple ahead 71-63 with 3:08 to play.

Vreeswyk finished with 19 points and Howard Evans added 14 for Temple. Kenny Wilson scored 21 points and Doug West 19 for Villanova.

Arizona St. drops to number eight

By The Associated Press

Miami, Penn State and Oklahoma held onto the top three spots in the Associated Press college football poll today while Arizona State saw its national championship hopes die.

The Sun Devils, No. 4 last week, plummeted to eighth place after losing to arch-rival Arizona for the fifth year in a row, 34-17.

Miami, No. 1 for the ninth consecutive week, received 54 of 58 first-place votes and 1,156 of a possible 1,160 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters. The 10-0 Hurricanes, idle last weekend, conclude their regular season Thursday night against East Carolina.

Penn State, which has been runner-up in five of the last six weekly polls, finished its second consecutive 11-0 regular season by trouncing Pitt 34-14. The Nittany Lions, who seem headed for a national championship showdown with Miami in the Fiesta Bowl, received the other four first-place votes and 1,090 points.

Oklahoma, 10-1 after a last-gasp 20-17 triumph over Nebraska, received 1,056 points.

Michigan rallied to beat Ohio State 26-24 and the Rose Bowl-bound Wolverines leaped from sixth place to fourth with 878 points.

LSU's 21-19 victory over Notre Dame lifted the 8-2 Tigers from eighth place to fifth with 862 points. They wind up the regular season Saturday night against Tulane.

Nebraska's loss to Oklahoma dropped the Cornhuskers from fifth to sixth with 834 points. Alabama had a week off before this week's final against Auburn and climbed from ninth place to seventh with 763 points. Ohio State, last week's No. 7 team, fell to 11th.

Eighth-place Arizona State received 723 points, followed by Arkansas, up from 11th to ninth with 670 points after mauling Southern Methodist 41-0. Texas

A&M, which crushed Texas Christian 74-10, rounded out the Top Ten with 625 points. The Aggies were 13th last week.

Southern California, which had been 10th, skidded to 17th place after losing to UCLA 45-25.

The Second Ten consists of Ohio State, Arizona, Washington, Auburn, UCLA, Baylor, Southern Cal, Georgia, North Carolina State and Iowa.

Last week, it was Arkansas, Washington, Texas A&M, Arizona, Auburn, Stanford, Baylor, UCLA, Clemson and Georgia.

North Carolina State made the Top Twenty again after a two-week absence by downing Western Carolina 31-18 to finish 8-2-1 and Iowa reappeared after a two-week hiatus with a 30-27 victory over Minnesota that gave the Hawkeyes an 8-3 record.

Stanford dropped out by losing to California 17-11 and Clemson disappeared after tying South Carolina 21-21.

The Top Twenty teams in the Associated Press college football poll, with first place votes in parentheses, 1986 record, total points based on 20-19-18-17-16-15-14-13-12-11-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 and ranking in last week's poll.

It's official: Mr. October won't be back with Angels

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Reggie Jackson won't be back with the California Angels next season.

Jackson and Angels' General Manager Mike Port met at Anaheim Stadium for about 90 minutes Monday. After the meeting, Port announced that Jackson would not be back with the American League West champions in 1987.

Such a development had been rumored for several months, but Port said he didn't make the announcement earlier as a matter of courtesy.

"As great a player as Reggie Jackson has been and what he has meant to this club, I certainly owed it to Reggie to sit down with him, man-to-man and face-to-face," Port said. "Trying to get together took some doing, but like last year with Rod Carew, I wanted to deliver that message in person."

Jackson, 40, who joined the Angels as a free agent in 1982 and whose five-year contract with them expired at the end of the 1986 season, said that if he doesn't sign with another club, "I'll step aside with dignity."

After meeting with Port, Jackson released a prepared statement that said: "Things just didn't work out for 1987. As to what offers there will be in '87 depends on the other clubs."

"I'm prepared to play baseball physically and mentally. If it doesn't come about, then I'll step aside with dignity."

Jackson, who served mostly as the Angels' designated hitter this year, batted .241 in 132 games, with 18 homers and 58 runs batted in. He had said during the season that the Angels had told him he would not be offered a contract for 1987.

"Because of the friendship and the great player he has been, the conversation with Reggie was perhaps the most difficult I've ever had," Port said after the meeting. "He handled the decision with tremendous class."

"I explained that, while our situation and direction for 1987 does not include him, his baseball career remains Reggie Jackson's decision. If Reggie is satisfied with an offer tendered him in the months ahead, then I'm certain he will approach the season with the same work and dedication he has provided us the past five years."

"The situation is easy to accept when Mike Port says to me that I'm part of the Angels family," Jackson said. "We discussed the possibility of post-baseball opportunities with the organization and agreed that time will dictate that possibility."

"I appreciate Mike's honesty in letting me know my services could be beneficial."

Jackson failed to live up to his nickname of "Mr. October" in the playoffs for the AL West champion Angels. He went 5-for-26, with no homers and just two runs batted in in the seven-game series with the Boston Red Sox. He also struck out seven times. He had earned the nickname for his World Series performances with the Oakland A's and New York Yankees.

In his five seasons with the Angels, Jackson batted .239 with 123 homers and 374 RBI as the club won two division titles.

He hit his 500th career home run at Anaheim Stadium on Sept. 17, 1984, becoming the 13th major league player to reach that milestone.

The head man

Big Spring Steers Head Football Coach Quinn Eudy listens to his coaches on the earphones as they discuss some strategy during Saturday night's bi-district clash with the Hereford Whitefaces. Hereford won the game 26-17 and the Steers ended the season with a 9-2 mark.

Pokes seek playoffs Oilers seek respect

Dallas will spend holiday with Seattle

IRVING (AP) — Saying the Cowboys must put Sunday's 41-14 loss of Washington behind them and look ahead, Dallas Coach Tom Landry says Herschel Walker and Mike Sherrard will probably start in Thursday's game with Seattle.

"We are going to put our best people that have performed the best on the field Thursday," said Landry. "They're the guys that have been producing for us."

"Now I think Thursday is a toss-up game. We've both played about the same the last four weeks. I think both (teams) are talented. They've got an excellent runner (Curt Warner), they've got a defense that can play," Landry said.

The Redskins' convincing victory all but eliminated any remaining hope Dallas had of successfully defending its NFC East crown. But the Cowboys, 7-5, are still in the running to participate in post-season play as a wild card entry.

"We're not out of the playoffs yet," Landry said. "We have a chance."

The Cowboys enter the final month of the regular season three games behind Washington and the New York Giants in the NFC East.

Since it is highly likely one of those two will get one wild card birth, Dallas hopes to become the other entry and thus qualify for the playoffs for the 20th time in the last 22 years.

Landry said Dallas can hit its stride in time to make a playoff run.

"You can't predict it, you've just got to get a swing," he said. "You have to throw caution to the wind and not worry about winning or losing."

"That's not what we did yesterday. We were worried about winning or losing instead of just going out and playing the game. You can't do that, especially against a team that deserved to come back tough."

After hosting the Seahawks on Thanksgiving, Dallas plays in Los Angeles against the Rams, then closes the season with home games against Philadelphia and the Chicago Bears.

Listed as questionable for Thursday's game is tight end Thornton Chandler, whose thigh is bruised.

Listed as probable are tight end Doug Cosbie, achilles tendon injury; safety Michael Downs, twisted ankle; guard Crawford Kerr, sprained knee; quarterback Steve Pelluer, bruised hip; and tackle Howard Richards, knee and ankle injury.

Houston in upset bid against Bengals

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Coach Jerry Glanville says the Oilers used a short fuse and long memory to get their third victory of the season.

"Our players remembered what happened a year ago when they were ahead of us 30-something to 6 with a minute to go and they were throwing bombs into the end zone," Glanville said Monday.

Indianapolis, 0-12 this season, hasn't won a game since they beat the Oilers 34-16 in the Astrodome in the 1985 finale.

The Oilers had a chance to turn the tables on the Colts in Sunday's rematch after they scored 21 points in the third quarter and took a 31-3 lead into the closing seconds.

The Oilers will try to remain on the winning track when they battle the division-leading Cincinnati Bengals.

Glanville kept starting quarterback Warren Moon on the field from start to finish but Glanville said the Oilers didn't try to run up the score in the fourth quarter.

They got mad and they got even.

"What goes around, comes around but we showed a little more class than that," Glanville said. "But we did remind our players every day of last year's game."

The Oilers simply didn't want to be the first team the Colts beat this season.

"Everyone was talking about that," Glanville said. "I can remember going to Tampa Bay when they had never won a game in history. Nobody wanted to go down there and be the first team to lose to them."

Moon completed 22 of 35 passes for 294 yards and three touchdowns but the Oilers didn't throw a pass in their final drive.

"We'd have put Oliver (Luck) in the game if we were going to pass, we wouldn't let Warren get hit at that stage of the game," Glanville said. "But all we were doing was running."

Glanville said Sunday's victory marked the Oilers' progress since last season.

"We thought we could come out and get real physical with them and make them surrender," Glanville said. "I think we showed that we've improved against a team that beat us pretty bad a year ago."

The Oilers loosened the Colt defense with a halfback pass by running back Mike Rozier and an end-around pass from wide receiver Ernest Givins to Moon.

"Trick plays don't work unless you have a base," Glanville said.

McMahon may miss rest of season

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — No one can say for sure if the slam Chicago Bears quarterback Jim McMahon took from Green Bay nose tackle Charles Martin was the blow that may sideline the quarterback for the remainder of the season.

A sore-shouldered McMahon said Sunday after the Super Bowl champion Bears' 12-10 victory over the Packers that the slam didn't help the injury.

Then on Monday, Bears Coach Mike Ditka announced McMahon had seriously aggravated a rotator cuff tear that has bothered him all season long, and added that "I doubt if we will have his services the rest of the year."

"I'm sure the flagrant foul affected him," Ditka said Monday of the Martin slam, "but he was having problems before that."

McMahon was scheduled to leave for Los Angeles today to meet with Dr. Frank Jobe, an orthopedic specialist.

In the second quarter of Sunday's game, Martin slammed McMahon to the ground — earning an immediate ejection from the game for the personal foul by referee Jerry Markbreit.

"The ball had been thrown, the quarterback was at rest and he (Martin) came in and took the quarterback, picked him up and stuffed him," Markbreit said.

McMahon, making his first start in nearly a month, landed on the injured shoulder.

In Green Bay on Monday, Packers Coach Forrest Gregg reviewed films of the game and said Martin "was wrong, and he was thrown out, which should have happened."

"We don't teach dirty football. We teach aggressive football," Gregg added.

Martin admitted he made a mistake.

"I did the wrong thing, true enough, and they took me out of the game for it," Martin said. "I think I got a little too rough."

National Football League official Dick Maxwell said the NFL automatically reviews plays involving ejections, and Martin faces possible fine or suspension.

"But we will await review," he said.

McMahon, who had run-ins with NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle over headbands last season, cautioned "I'd be surprised if they gave him anything, seeing it was me he slammed."

McMahon discussed his situation with Ditka and Bear trainer Fred Caito.

"He told me after practice last week he was getting better," said Caito. "There was no indication of pain. Today he said he really didn't feel that well last week. It was a question of communication."

McMahon practiced last week and threw so well Wednesday that Ditka announced he would start against Green Bay.

But the former Brigham Young quarterback found the going rough Sunday. He had trouble throwing and completed only 12 of 32 passes for 95 yards with three interceptions.

"Evidently, he was hurting more than we knew," said Ditka. "He's a much better player than he showed. He wanted to play, but I would rather he had said something to me."

"His arm was dropping. I first noticed it in the warmups," said Ditka. "It kept dropping more and more in the game. He went to his left twice, and both times he threw the ball into the ground."

Ditka left McMahon in the game until after the Packers took a 10-9 lead in the fourth quarter.

Mike Tomczak took over and directed the Bears' offense in two series of plays before Kevin Butler kicked his game-winning field goal with 2:37 left in the contest.

Tomczak, who has started and won four times this season during McMahon absences, will start at home against the Pittsburgh Steelers this Sunday, but the Bears also will concentrate on getting recently acquired Doug Flutie ready for action.

Chicago Bears quarterback Jim McMahon winces on the sidelines during the Bears-Green Bay Packers game Sunday. A shoulder injury may keep McMahon out the remainder of the season.

"We've got to get Doug Flutie ready to play in the next two weeks," said Ditka.

Flutie was acquired from the Los Angeles Rams for a sixth-round draft choice last month as insurance because McMahon has a history of injuries.

The Bears other quarterback is veteran Steve Fuller.

"I already know what Steve can do, and I know what Mike can do," Ditka said of his quarterbacks. "Now I want to know what Flutie can do."

Longhorns now playing spoiler's role

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas A&M, 8-2, will play for a Southwest Conference football title and host spot in the Cotton Bowl on Thanksgiving. What will Texas, 5-5 and going nowhere, play for?

"To win, to upset a decided favorite — an old rival," says

Texas coach Fred Akers.

"I think there's enough motivation to do your best to win this game just on who they are and who we are," Akers told a news conference Monday.

Texas is faced with the possibility of its first losing football season in 30 years, but Akers says he has not had any thoughts that Texas' game with A&M might be his last as coach.

The Longhorns' last losing season was 1-9 in 1956. Darrell Royal became coach the next year and won for 20 years. Akers replaced Royal for the 1977 season and is completing his 10th year.

Akers, whose 2-9 year at Wyoming in 1975, was his only losing year as a coach, said, "We turned that around pretty quick."

Loftin, Ferguson paces swim team

PECOS — Cade Loftin and Scott Ferguson were the two big winners for the Big Spring swim team at the Pecos Individual Saturday.

Loftin came away with first and second place in the 100 meter butterfly and 50 freestyle. Ferguson placed fourth in the 200 individual medley and second in the 500 freestyle. Loftin's swim a 57.92 in the butterfly and 23.55 in the freestyle. Ferguson's swim a 2:30.48 in the individual medley and 6:02.04 in the 500.

The duo helped the Big Spring boys to a sixth place finish in the meet. The Big Spring girls finished eighth.

Howard College travels to Cisco

The Howard College Hawks and Howard College Hawk-Queens will be in action tonight in non-conference play when they travel to Cisco to take on Cisco Junior College.

The Queens, 8-2 for the season, are coming off three wins in the Hawk-Queen Classic this past weekend. They defeated Cisco earlier 80-65. Game time is 6 p.m.

The Hawks, 4-4 for the season, are coming off two straight losses at the Tyler Classic. The Hawks defeated Cisco 101-83 earlier this season. Game time is 8 p.m.

A's outfielder Rookie of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland A's outfielder Jose Canseco, who hit 33 homers and drove in 117 runs, was named Rookie of the Year in the American League today, beating Wally Joyner of the California Angels in a close vote.

Canseco received 16 of 28 first-place votes and 110 points to 12 first-place votes and 98 points for Joyner. Two writers from each of the league's 14 cities participated in the selection for the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Toronto Blue Jays reliever Mark Eichhorn finished third with 23 points on a 5-3-1 basis, while outfielder Cory Snyder of the Cleveland Indians totaled 16. Danny Tartabull of the Seattle Mariners wound up with four points and Ruben Sierra of the Texas Rangers got one.

Canseco, who was born in Cuba and lives in Miami, Fla., is the first Oakland player to win the award. The last A's player to win it was Harry Byrd in 1952, when the team was based in Philadelphia.

Though he hit just .240, the 22-year-old Canseco tied for fourth in the league in home runs and second in RBI to Cleveland's Joe Carter, who had 121.

Canseco led the league in strikeouts, however, fanning 175 times. He also had the longest batting slump in the majors, an 0-for-40 drought that ended in late August with a game-winning double that beat New York's Dave Righetti.

Joyner started strong and had 16 homers by the end of May. He wound up batting .290 with 22 homers and led California with 100 RBI.

Players in long distance trouble

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Five Texas A&M football players will be arrested next week on charges they used long-distance telephone access codes illegally, the director of campus security says.

Robert E. Wiatt, director of the A&M campus police, said one of the five players will be charged with a felony, but he declined to name any of the players.

Theft of any amount more than $750 constitutes a felony. The other four will be charged with misdemeanors, Wiatt said.

Jackie Sherrill, head football coach and athletic director at Texas A&M, said, "I don't know anything about it." His team plays its final regular-season game Thursday against the University of Texas in Austin.

Howard Perry, an associate vice president for student affairs, said his office had not heard of any complaints against football players.

Wiatt said his office received complaints from three long-distance services that do business in College Station — University Communications, MCI and Star Tel — at noon Monday. Formal charges will not be filed until next week because his office cannot complete the necessary paper work until then, Wiatt said.

The five football players are among 10 A&M students named by the companies who will be processed within the next week "unless the phone companies pull the rug out" and decide not to prosecute, Wiatt said.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, NOV. 26, 1986

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a day and evening when you need to do everything possible not to get caught in a web of confusion. Don't take the bait of a scheming individual.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be sure you know what is expected of you. Contact those in power. Take no risks where credit is concerned.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A new contact has a new project that seems promising. It needs further study before you get into it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Home situations are not as they appear to be, so find out the truth. Try not to spend too much on amusements.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Check messages and calls and be sure they are on the up-and-up. Straighten out a family quarrel.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Study that financial matter well before you carry through with it. Don't waste time with a boring person.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) It's not wise to attend an affair with a friend, so postpone it. Set up a better budget instead.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Do nothing about a private worry. Don't try to fool your mate in some way. Spend time with good friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want to get your views across at almost any cost, but let them work out naturally instead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure you understand the nature of your job and handle it well. Use tact in personal pursuits.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Your hunches are not very good. Be careful in handling your credit. Be tactful about a worldly matter.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make sure you know what your mate desires of you before you waste your energy. A new idea needs study.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Listen to the complaints of an associate and do something about it before you carry on with other affairs.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will need to be taught more carefully than others since it is difficult for this child to get into the practical world and is apt to be living in the dream world. Once the feet are on the ground, your progeny will seek much knowledge and use it wisely.

Prospects send 'em running

Sulphur mine may reopen; applicants respond in a rush

FORT STOCKTON (AP) — With area unemployment running at near 13 percent, rumors that Comanche Creek sulphur mine near Fort Stockton may reopen sent hundreds of applicants scurrying to the Texas Employment Commission in search of jobs at the mine. Recent rumors that the Texasgulf mine, closed since 1983, would reopen and create about 100 jobs have generated 20 to 40 applications a day, said Lewis Robison, a Texas Employment Commission spokesman.

Fort Stockton is located approximately 50 miles south of Monahans. A Fort Stockton newspaper recently quoted a Texasgulf spokesman as saying the company is considering reopening the mine.

OPEC feeling crunch of oil collapse

By LAURA TOLLEY
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON — The oil price collapse will cause members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to earn up to $50 billion less in 1986 than in 1985, according to a recently released world oil study.

The loss, however, is helping to motivate the OPEC nations meeting next month in Geneva to push prices up to $18 a barrel, instead of the $15 it has been averaging, officials said.

Oil prices in the next six to 12 months probably will experience $2-$4 swings around the $15 range, according to World Oil Trends, a report released Monday by Arthur Andersen & Co. and Cambridge Energy Research Associates.

The study said that even if key OPEC members were to retreat from their year-old "market share" strategy, establishing criteria and a durable system for production management would still be a difficult task.

"In short, there's no obvious recipe for stability" in the oil industry, Daniel Yergin, president of Cambridge Energy, said from Washington. The price risks will continue to impact the industry along with the more familiar geological and political risks, he said.

Richard Adkerson, managing director of Arthur Andersen's Oil and Gas Industry Services Program, said companies in the industry will continue to analyze costs to help cope with the unpredictable conditions.

"The industry will live with it as we've seen in the past," said Adkerson, adding that not all companies will be able to survive.

Depressed oil prices have led to sharp declines in oil exploration and development, particularly in North America where demand for oil is increasing, he said.

U.S. net oil imports were 30 percent higher in the first nine months of 1986 than in the same period the year before, and the current situation points to continuing increases in such imports, according to the report.

In addition, the report noted that companies have dramatically reduced investments in North American oil and gas projects.

Major companies are allocating a greater portion of their capital budgets to other regions of the world because of lower per-barrel costs of exploration, development and production, the report said.

The report also indicates the industry will have to brave more intense market competition.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY REVIEW

CRYSTAL LAMPS — Iris McGlothlin and Roy Peet show a few of the crystal and cut crystal lamps at Inland Port 213, 213 Main.

Christmas shopping season has arrived at Inland Port 213

With the coming of the Christmas shopping season, you may be interested in finding an alternative to the more usual gifts that end up under the tree. If so, Inland Port 213, at 213 Main, may give you some truly unique gifts this year.

They have one of the finest selections of turquoise jewelry in West Texas. They also have selections in brass from India and other parts of the world. They feature selections in Early American and wooden accessories in walnut, monkey pod, and other unique wood. They also have a very unique selection of gifts from the Orient.

Roy Peet (the man responsible for bringing the gifts here), truly has an eye for the unusual and the interesting. His selections of gifts from around the world is certain to make Christmas shopping easy and fun.

From Switzerland, Inland Port has cuckoo clocks, always a good gift. From Germany, you can find music boxes with Hummel figurines. If you think music boxes aren't interesting enough, how about a musical peppermill. Inland Port has several with different designs that will interest anyone.

Their selection of crystal is outstanding and includes beautiful bowls, vases, dishes and other pieces.

Inland Port must have the best selection of candles in town, as well as all kinds of party decorations that will add an interesting flavor to any holiday party.

Their selection of brass and copper will keep shoppers busy for hours just looking and enjoying them. They have dozens of brass sculptures and crystal figures. Inland Port also has the kind of selection of wood carvings that is hard to find anywhere else.

If you know someone who is just beginning to fix up a new home or apartment of their own, begin looking for gifts for them at Inland Port 213. They have a selection of large planters and other home items that will delight any homemaker.

They will be more than happy for you to come in and browse and look at their selections.
