K mart store is closing here July 18

The Big Spring K mart store will close July 18, store employees were informed this morning.

Manager Steve Trezise confirmed this afternoon that the store will close as a result of failure to meet company requirements, implying the decision was related to failing to adequately meet profitability.

Officials from the store in February reported that 70 residents were employed at the local store.

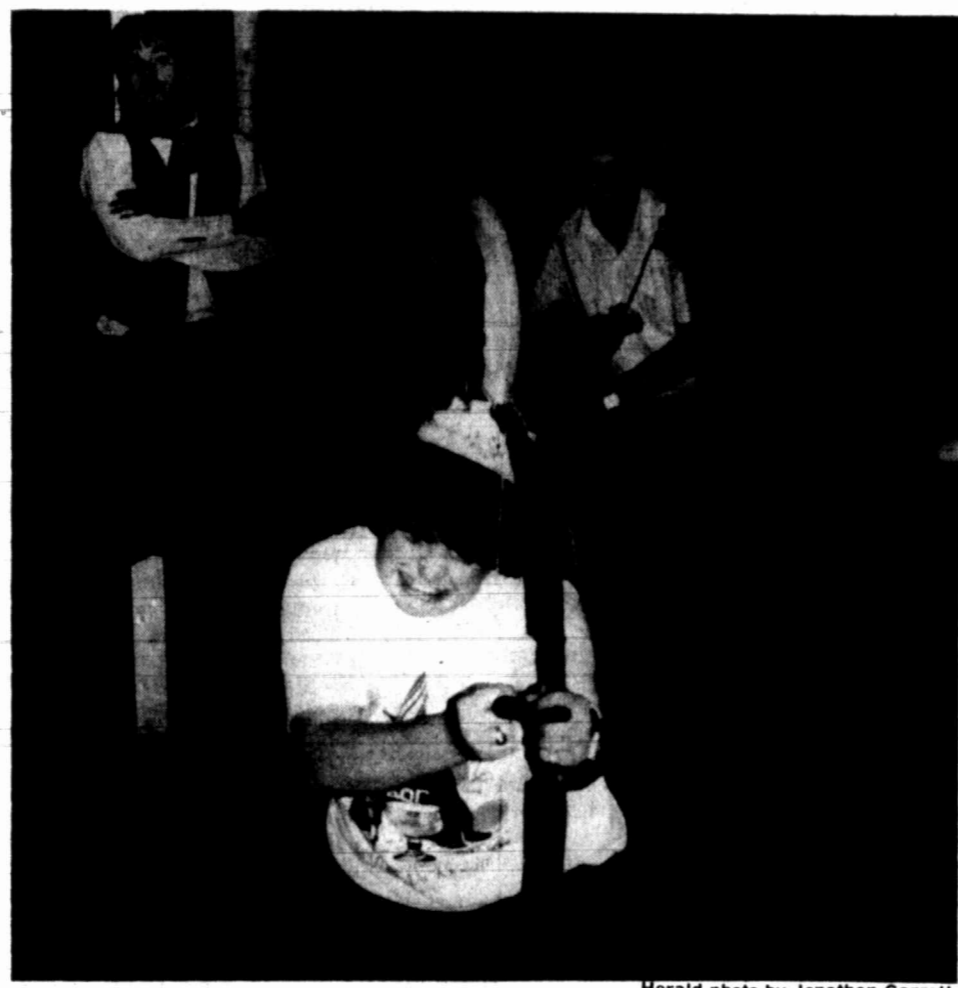

He did not know of any other K mart stores that will be closed. The store has not been sold, he said.

Employees have been told that they will be given "every consideration for future employment," at other K marts, Trezise said.

"We'll do whatever we can to get them other jobs in the community," he said.

K mart owns the Wonder World store in Big Spring and he gave no indication the closing will affect the College Park shopping center store, although K mart employees may apply for employment there, he said.

Trezise has been transferred to a Lubbock K mart, as store manager.

CRMWD statement tells flood concern

By KERRY HAGLUND
Staff Writer

Heavy rains could cause a disastrous flood in Howard County and Big Spring if additional modifications aren't made at Natural Dam Lake.

That's the belief of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, according to a position statement received by city and county officials Wednesday.

"The District is gravely concerned about the present situation and the prospects of its worsening with new rains," according to the statement.

The District neither owns nor is legally responsible for Natural Dam Lake, and won't perform additional work unless Howard County Commissioners' Court and Big Spring City Council agree to assume an equal share in the expenses, the statement says.

"The city's position previously has been cooperative with the water District, and I don't see a change in that," City Manager Mack Wofford said today.

The city has been supportive of the District's actions, because it believed 1986 modifications at Natural Dam Lake were a matter of public safety, Wofford said.

County personnel and equipment were used to raise the dam to 2,451 feet above sea level in May. The dam was raised again in July to 2,455 feet, and officials from the water District cut a spillway around the north abutment, according to the statement.

County Judge Milton Kirby declined to comment on county involvement with Natural Dam Lake until the legality of county financing is resolved.

Kirby noted Natural Dam Lake is located on private property, and the position statement adds that the lake is approximately 10 miles west of Big Spring.

Kirby said county commissioners probably will discuss the District's position during Monday's meeting of the Commissioners' Court, but added that "the city and county didn't create the problem" at Natural Dam Lake.

Owen Ivie, general manager of the CRMWD, today declined to comment on or add to the District's position statement. A copy of the statement is scheduled to be published in its entirety as a paid advertisement in Friday's Herald.

It explains that the District in 1986 made modifications at Natural Dam Lake "in an effort to head off a disaster that could have possibly caused injury or death and thousands of dollars worth of property damage" in Big Spring.

An attorney representing several businesses along Beals Creek, where flooding occurred, has stated that the District is responsible for approximately $360,000 worth of damage.

The District is concerned with the reactions to its 1986 efforts to avert a possible disaster, and is concerned that heavy rains during 1987 could cause enough water to flow over the dam or cause it to fail, the statement says.

Oil slicks blamed for two I-20 accidents

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

At least two accidents have occurred recently when vehicles entering Interstate 20 from Highway 87 struck oil slicks, according to police reports.

The number of oil slicks generally increases this time of year, corresponding with increased asphalt production, use and transportation during the spring, according to Junior Dorn, county roadway maintenance supervisor of the Texas Highway Department.

A common cause of oil spills are trucks filled too high, which overflow when driven uphill, he said. That is apparently the case in the I-20 situation, he said.

Another cause is truck valves that are not completely closed, he said.

The source of the asphalt, considered the likely culprit in the problem, is not known. Dorn explained that asphalt production should continue until about October, he said.

When an oil spill is reported, highway department personnel can have it covered with absorbing sand within 15 to 20 minutes, although the location of the spill is a factor in response time, he said.

Several oil slicks have been reported in different locations this year, he said, but he believes the two at I-20 and Highway 87 are the only slicks to occur there this spring. No more slicks than usual have occurred, he said. Dorn advises drivers not to apply brakes when they hit an oil slick, because the action can cause a vehicle to skid.

He also advises caution when braking immediately after driving through a slick, because the oil can collect on tires, making them slick.

A tractor trailer rig slid on a slick at I-20 and Highway 86 at 6:20 p.m. Wednesday, police reports state, but no one was listed injured.

Willie Harbuck Jr. of Columbus, Ga., tried unsuccessfully to brake when his rig hit the slick. The rig drove over the median and struck two highway signs.

A passenger, James Monday, 49, of Fortson, Ga., also was uninjured.

A passenger of a motorcycle that hit a slick in the same place Thursday, April 16, was not as lucky.

Carol Sanford, 50, of Monahans was treated and released from Scenic Mountain Medical Center, a hospital spokesman said, after she was injured in the accident.

She was a passenger on the 1976 Honda motorcycle driven by Truman L. Sanford, 53, of Monahans, who was not listed injured.

Sanford was turning southeast off Highway 87 when the motorcycle slid onto its right side and skidded approximately 20 feet before stopping, police reports said.

Rampant ticks endanger dogs

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

Dogs in the Big Spring area are endangered this spring by a proliferation of ticks, although there is no indication that humans face an increased danger, officials said this morning.

The problem came to the attention this week of Margaret Lloyd, Humane Society president, when a dog at the society became anemic and a blood transfusion was necessary to save its life, she said.

The dog was covered with ticks, which had sucked so much blood from it that it would have died without treatment, she said.

Dogs with ticks should be dipped, Lloyd said. The Humane Society is planning a dog-dip from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the First National Bank parking lot. The fee will be $4 for a small dog and $6 for a large dog, she said.

The problem is common, said Paula Tate of Highland Animal Hospital, where Lloyd's dog was treated.

The hospital performed several dog blood transfusions last year, and some dogs have died from tick problems, she said. Lloyd's dog was the first tick-related transfusion the clinic has performed this year, Tate said.

Tate advised people to check their dogs for ticks by examining the dogs' gums for a tell-tale white color.

Normally, the gums are pink, Lloyd said, adding that ticks tend to collect in dogs' ears, under their front legs and between their toes.

Ticks tend to avoid cats, for reasons neither Lloyd nor Tate could identify.

Dips are to be conducted by the society every three weeks in order to prevent new ticks from being born from eggs the parasites lay on dogs. Three weeks is the approximate gestation time for a tick, Lloyd said.

"If people will do it every three weeks, they'll have pretty tick-free animals," she said.

She added that the dip is harmful to cats.

The dip also eliminates fleas, she said. Fleas are a nuisance, but they are not as harmful as ticks, she said.

Lloyd also advised dog-owners to spray their yards to kill ticks.

Mike Bragg of the County Extension Agency, Agriculture, said yards should be sprayed about every 14 days to control ticks.

Homeowners can call an exterminator for the job, but can do the work more economically themselves with a hose-end sprayer, he said.

Such sprayers are available at feed stores or in the garden section of variety stores, he said. He advised using chemicals such as Diazinon, Dursban, Sevin or

Spring clean

Local groups enlist participation in Texas Trash-Off

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

Big Spring, you're about to be cleaned in a big way.

Groups that have adopted a highway under the state program by that name will be out in force Saturday, participating in the Texas Trash-Off Saturday.

At least six of the 11 groups that have adopted two-mile sections of Big Spring's highways have said their members will participate, according to Junior Dorn, county roadway maintenance supervisor of the Highway Department.

In addition, one group has applied but hasn't yet been approved, and another has expressed interest, he said.

He is encouraging the other groups to join in the Trash-Off.

Groups have adopted all of Highway 87 South to the Howard County line, and all of FM 700 from Highway 350 to Old Highway 80, he said.

Dorn said the highway department collects the bags of garbage the volunteer collectors leave along the road. Cleaning a two-mile stretch of highway takes a group two to three hours, he said.

In adopting a two-mile stretch of highway, an organization agrees to clean it at least twice a year, he has said. But he added that highways often need cleaning more frequently, especially during the spring, because of high winds and storms.

To participate in the program, interested persons should contact Dorn at the local state highway department office.

Ruling no surprise to Death Row inmates

HUNTSVILLE — There was little surprise on Texas' Death Row after the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling in a major capital punishment case removed most remaining barriers to continued executions.

On Wednesday, the high court voted 5-4 to uphold the Georgia death penalty law, saying the statute was constitutional despite statistics that show blacks convicted of killing whites are more likely to get the death penalty.

It is the latest in a series of Supreme Court rulings in recent years that have narrowed legal avenues for halting executions. "What is does is tell people there won't be any major movement away from the death penalty in quite a while," said inmate Lester Bower. "They've shut the door for quite a while and it'll take a pretty good crowbar to get the door open."

Clifford X. Phillips, a black man scheduled to die by lethal injection for his conviction of the slaying of a white Houston woman, said he held little faith in the court to begin with.

"I don't put my faith in the institutions of society," said Phillips, who prefers to be called by his Islamic name, Abdullah Bashir. "I think things will get worse long before they get better."

Phillips said he lost interest in the legal process after the 1982 execution of Charlie Brooks, the first of 22 men to be executed in Texas since the Supreme Court allowed the death penalty to resume. Phillips said continued interest in legal matters would have driven him to suicide.

"I've learned how to put my life above things I have no control over," he said.

Fellow death row inmate Jim Vanderbilt said the ruling did not surprise him.

"Bang, bang, bang," Vanderbilt said, noting that the court already has struck down arguments from death penalty opponents citing disproportionality of sentences and qualifications of jurors.

"The court doesn't pay any attention to statistics," Vanderbilt said. "It was dead in my mind before it got started."

Vanderbilt said a ruling against the death penalty in the Georgia case could have meant commutation for all of the 250 men and women on Death Row in Texas, which leads the nation in the number of executions.

Of the 22 people executed, 12 have been white, six Hispanic and four black. About 40 percent of the Texas Death Row inmates are black.

Unemployment in county, city declines during March

Unemployment rates declined slightly in Big Spring and Howard County during March, according to Joe Wallis, general manager of the Big Spring Texas Employment Commission.

Employment rates also declined slightly in Glasscock, Gaines and Dawson counties, but rose slightly in Borden County.

In Howard County 63 additional residents were working during March, lowering the county's unemployment rate from February's 9.5 percent to 9.2 percent in March.

The rate declined from 11 percent to 10.7 percent in Big Spring where 56 residents found work during the month.

The March unemployment rate in Borden County measured 0.4 percent higher than February's rate, according to Wallis.

It rose from 1986's 8.2 percent to 11.7 percent in March 1987.

Dawson County reported a slight decline in unemployment from 12.7 in February to 12.3 in March.

Gaines County unemployment declined 1.8 percent from 13 percent in February to 11.2 percent in March.

Glasscock County's unemployment dropped from a low 2.1 February rate to a lower 1.9 March rate.

Jackson likes 'super primary'

AUSTIN (AP) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson, who says he is exploring the possibility of another presidential bid, believes next year's multi-state Southern "super primary" would be an advantage for him.

"I feel good about it because I am a Southerner. I have lived in the region. I have served in the region. I would think my years of service would be a factor in the Southern primary," Jackson said Wednesday.

Jackson, who unsuccessfully sought the Democratic presidential nomination in 1984, told reporters he hasn't yet decided to launch a new campaign.

"At this point, the campaign is in formation. We are in the exploratory period," he said.

"To make the final decision, we must have a broad base of leadership ... The support base is growing. We must have adequate money to build the infrastructure. We have the know-how and the raw numbers to win. But we need the resource base to do it," Jackson said.

Jackson said he believes he has a track record that should appeal to the Democratic Party.

"For the record, I have registered more Democratic voters in the last 10 years than any Democrat alive," he said. "I am the championship Democratic voter registrar in America today."

In a speech to the Legislature, Jackson said he favors an oil import tax to provide needed money to offset the national debt and support the U.S. energy industry.

It would "get us back on the path to energy independence and get the oilfields of America working again," Jackson said.

"The Southwest needs some help from the Northeast. When New York went bankrupt ... the Southwest did not secede. We must all ... share the burden of the Southwest economic depression. After all, it's just one America," he said.

An import fee, he said, would increase domestic exploration, raise money to help offset the federal government's massive deficit and "address legitimate concerns about national security."

Jackson also urged help for U.S. family farmers, supporting a moratorium on farm foreclosures as "a grace period" for restructuring their debt.

Thieves steal savings bonds worth $1,450

Thieves burglarized the Peterson Agency, 506 E. Fourth St., taking 13 savings bonds valued at $1,450, approximately $1,000 cash, a $150 combination television, cassette player and radio, and damaging a steel door. Owner Ford Farris told police the incident occurred between 4:30 and 7:49 a.m. Wednesday.

A brown and gold Ford van owned by Salvation Army Director Carroll Braun was broken into at the Salvation Army parking lot, 811

W. Fifth St., between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Braun told police that thieves stole a $150 AM/FM cassette player, a $150 black and white portable television, and a $179 radar detector from the van, which he had left unlocked.

A $250 videocassette recorder, four VCR tapes and a $50 black and white TV were stolen between 2:30 and 10:30 a.m. Wednesday from the residence of Balinda Perez, 1209B S. Scurry St.

Thieves stole an $80 drill, a $55 hand impact wrench and a $12 drill from the residence of Charles Watson, 500 N.E. 11th St., between 10:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Vandals scratched the paint of a black and silver Chevrolet pickup with an unknown object, causing $400 damage, between 6 and 8 p.m. Wednesday at the College Park Safeway, pickup owner David Dobek, 2503 Albrook St., told police.

Emelinda Holguin, 120 Air-base Road Building 27 Apt. 2, told police that someone she knows intentionally broke a window at her residence at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Terry Watkins, 1708 Owens St., no age listed, was arrested at 2505 S. Gregg St. Wednesday night on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. He was transferred to the county jail and released on $1,000 bond.

Richard Joseph Nunez, 25, 710 Scurry St., was arrested at 401 Rannels St. Wednesday on a Wise County warrant for theft by check.

Sheriff's log

Burglar to serve nine years

Raymond Lopez Chavarria, 31, 1217 W. 16th St., pleaded guilty on a charge of burglary of a habitation in 118th District Court Wednesday. He was sentenced to nine years in the Texas Department of Corrections and given credit for 74 days in jail. Chavarria was arrested March 22 by city police on suspicion of parole violation and resisting arrest.

Ronnie Lee Moncada, 22, 1407 1/2 Settles St., pleaded guilty Wednesday in district court to revocation of probation on burglary of a vehicle. He was sentenced to two years in the Texas Department of Corrections and given credit for 39 days in jail. Moncada was arrested March 24 by the Howard County Sheriff's Office.

Strategic session scheduled

Joint city, county and chamber goals will be discussed at the third annual Strategic Planning Retreat, said LeRoy Tillery, executive vice president of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be conducted from 6-9 p.m. May 11, but a meeting location hasn't been set, Tillery said.

The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the event in which all city, county and school board officials will be invited, Tillery said.

The Howard College Board, the Industrial Foundation Board of Directors and school board officials from Forsan and Coahoma also will be invited, he said.

The meeting, formally an all-day event, will be conducted in the evening to allow more people to participate, Tillery said.

"We will identify fewer areas of concern and try to concentrate on major joint concerns," he said.

Each entity will be asked to make a presentation on their concerns and goals, and the group then will decide what concerns are joint, he said.

malathion. Those chemicals can be purchased without a license, and are not harmful to plants or animals, he said. But he added, caution should be observed when spraying.

He stressed reading the instructions on the products' labels, which caution not to get the chemical on skin. He also advised removing animals from the yard during spraying, until the chemical dries.

Do not use the chemicals on animals, he said. Products to kill ticks on dogs are typically available from veterinarians, he said.

Bragg agreed with Lloyd that the quantity of ticks this time of year is extraordinary.

He believes an unusually wet year and a mild winter are contributors. Yards that have benefitted from the weather are good environments for ticks, he said.

Lloyd said that she usually doesn't see such a quantity of ticks until June or July.

Tate said that in addition to sucking dogs' blood, ticks can carry disease.

A common disease that ticks in this area carry is ehrlichia, which destroys blood cells, she said. The disease affects dogs' eyes, causing them to go blind, she said.

The disease is not contagious from dog to dog nor dog to human, she said, but she believes that humans may be able to contract ehrlichia from ticks.

Ticks also can cause Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever, but that disease isn't seen in this area, she said.

Recovered items unclaimed

Stolen property recovered this month still remains to be claimed at the Howard County Sheriff's Office, Deputy Jack Howard said today.

An estimated $10,000 worth of goods recovered in Roswell, N.M. in February was transferred to Howard County this month.

The remaining unclaimed property will be placed in storage Monday, Howard said.

Anyone who has experienced a burglary should go to the sheriff's office to view the property, he said.

Televisions, stereos, jam boxes and jewelry are among the unclaimed property.

A Roswell couple were arrested in connection with the burglaries, according to the Roswell Sheriff's Office.

Boesky to plead today

NEW YORK — Ivan F. Boesky, at the center of a multimillion-dollar insider trading scandal that rocked Wall Street, was set to plead to a criminal charge a day after the prosecutor urged stiffer penalties for such acts.

The financier's U.S. District Court appearance today would be his first since he agreed six months ago to cooperate with investigators in implicating others in the scandal, which has led to congressional demands for reform in the securities industry.

Boesky, 49, agreed in November to pay the Securities and Exchange Commission an unprecedented $100 million penalty to settle its charges against him. He also agreed to plead guilty to an unspecified criminal charge.

According to the court schedule and the U.S. Attorney's office, Boesky was set to appear today before Judge Morris E. Lasker. Lawyers familiar with Lasker said he likely would issue a sentence four to six weeks from now.

Death penalty upheld

WASHINGTON — The future of capital punishment seems to have been assured by the Supreme Court in a decision that death penalty foes call an example of "simple racism."

The court Wednesday ruled that state death penalty laws can be valid despite statistics indicating they are carried out in racially discriminatory ways.

The 5-4 decision upheld Georgia's death penalty system even though killers of white people in that state are far more likely to be condemned to death than those who kill blacks.

The court, led by Justice Lewis F. Powell, said statistics indicating a pattern of racial bias in sentencing convicted murderers is not enough to prove constitutional violations.

Defendants must prove their own sentence was tainted by such bias, the court said.

The ruling dashed what many death penalty opponents considered to be their best chance of saving hundreds of the nearly 1,900 men and women on death rows nationwide, removing their last legal claim.

Boy given third surgery

PITTSBURGH — Seven-year-old Ronnie DeSillers, his small body ravaged by a massive infection, pneumonia and pancreatitis, was rushed into surgery early today to undergo his third liver transplant.

"They have identified a donor organ for Ronnie," said Lynn McMahon, spokeswoman for Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh.

"It's not the same blood type, but doctors believe it's a good match for Ronnie. The most important criteria in matching a donor with a recipient is body size," she said.

Surgery began at 1:30 a.m. and was expected to last about 12 hours, she said.

A donor was found for Ronnie just hours after he was placed on the waiting list for a third transplant.

"It really is amazing that within just a few hours after they decided retransplantation was necessary, doctors were able to identify a donor," Ms. McMahon said.

South Africa

Blacks protest striker deaths

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Tens of thousands of blacks stayed away from jobs and schools today in the Johannesburg region and the government called it an attempt to create a "revolutionary climate" before white elections in May.

The protest came one day after police killed six blacks in a clash with rail strikers. Thirteen people were injured, including seven police, and union and anti-apartheid leaders said the violence set the stage for greater confrontation.

The three-day stay-away was announced in pamphlets distributed by an unidentified "support committee," that said the goal was to protest evictions of blacks who have refused for months to pay rent for houses owned by their municipalities.

PUTCO, the bus company that carries nearly 100,000 commuters daily from the black township of Soweto, said it halted service this morning after buses from ran half full. Spokesman Robin Duff said two buses were hijacked and 77 bus windows broken by stone-throwers Wednesday, when the stay-away began.

South African Transport Services said trains from Soweto and other black communities around Johannesburg were 30 to 80 percent full this morning. The trains normally carry more than 100,000 Soweto commuters.

"Extra-parliamentary groups have been intensifying their efforts to create a revolutionary climate in South Africa," the state-run South African Broadcasting Corp. said in a radio editorial.

The editorial said radicals seek to "create a climate of uncertainty and confusion in which the new government that will be formed after the election will be denied a strong mandate from the electorate."

Whites vote in May for the dominant, white chamber of Parliament. Elections are not scheduled for the mixed-race and Indian chambers. The black majority is not represented in Parliament.

President P.W. Botha's National Party is expected win the election easily.

Railroad spokesman Dirk Beukes said paperwork would be completed today in the firing of 16,000 strikers that triggered Wednesday's fatal clashes with security forces in Johannesburg and Geriston, 22 miles to the southeast.

The railroad managing director, Bart Grove, told South African radio he believed the 6-week-old strike was linked to the United Democratic Front, the main anti-apartheid alliance, and to the outlawed African National Congress guerrilla group. However, he said he had no proof.

Wednesday's fighting was the worst in Johannesburg since the government imposed a state of emergency June 12, 1986, to quell agitation against apartheid.

Apartheid establishes a racially segregated society in which the 24 million blacks have no vote in national affairs. The 5 million whites control the government and economy and maintain separate districts, schools and health services.

After the strikers were fired, photographer Juhan Kuus said he saw about 50 black men carrying axes and clubs march a half-mile Wednesday to the downtown Doornfontein railroad station in Johannesburg from the headquarters of the Congress of South African Trade Unions.

The congress' affiliates include the South African Railway and Harbor Workers Union, which led the strike.

Kuus said officers blocked the marchers, and a white police major who tossed a tear gas canister was thrown up against a wall, beaten and stabbed. Police responded with gunfire, he said, and he later saw at least three dead strikers and four wounded policemen.

Witnesses said some injured strikers headed back to the union building. Security forces surrounded the building for four hours before moving in and taking handcuffed workers out to police vans.

Dissident to emigrate

MOSCOW — Dissident Anatoly Koryagin has been given permission to emigrate to Switzerland, the official Tass news agency said today in what was believed to be an unprecedented report.

The brief announcement was carried on both the Russian- and English-language services of Tass. The two-sentence dispatch was apparently the first time the official Soviet media reported on the departure of an individual dissident.

Koryagin, a 48-year-old psychiatrist who reportedly has been nominated for the 1987 Nobel Peace Prize, is expected to leave with his wife, Galina, his mother, and his three sons. One son was recently released from a labor camp.

Koryagin was released from a labor camp in February after being pardoned by the Supreme Soviet, the nominal parliament, in a review of dissident cases.

He had been sentenced to seven years in prison and five years in exile in 1981 on charges of anti-Soviet agitation and propaganda after accusing authorities of confining sane dissidents to mental hospitals.

Exercise scheduled

CASTEAU, Belgium — A major NATO exercise named "Dragon Hammer 87" is planned next month in the Mediterranean involving navy, amphibious and air forces from five countries, NATO's military command said today.

The total strength of the forces taking part in the May 3-15 exercise was not given. They will come from the United States, Britain, France, Turkey, Italy and the Netherlands.

France, which does not belong to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's integrated military structure, will join in the exercise as part of her normal training relations with her allies, the allied command said.

The United States will send a Marine Amphibious Unit and Air National Guard unit, it said.

Portions of the exercise will take place in Sardinia, elsewhere in Italy and in Turkey, it said.

Travelers raise $73,000

LONDON — Passengers moved by the plight of a critically ill 4-year-old Israeli girl raised $73,000 in a spontaneous collection during a flight from Tel Aviv to London, an airline official said.

An employee of the Israeli airline El Al said the 450 passengers aboard Wednesday's Flight LY315 passed the hat after hearing Maron Kadosh was flying to London for a possible liver transplant.

Maron's mother, Tova, 29, told reporters: "It is unbelievable. I cannot find words to thank the people for what they have done. It is a wonderful thing."

She said the money would go toward medical expenses. Liver transplant surgery is not available in Israel.

The El Al employee, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said children gave their pocket money, while "one or two very influential people on board, certain millionaires on board, gave heavily in a spontaneous movement of charity."

SOME OF THE THINGS DISCUSSED HERE MIGHT SHOCK YOU.

But not if you follow these tips for working around electricity while working around the house or on the job.

- Keep ladders and trimming tools away from overhead wires.
- Call an expert if your electric meter or fuse box needs to be moved.
- Don't dig if you suspect there are underground wires—call us first.
- Make sure you're clear of all wires when installing an antenna; think about where it might land if it falls during installation.
- Make sure all tools that run on electricity are properly grounded and treat them with respect.

We don't mean to alarm you. But too many people become accident statistics simply because they forget to be cautious around electricity. And that's the shocking truth.

Bride dies

Carole Zagorski-Phillips is shown in a photo on her wedding day April 3 with husband Peter. Two hours later the couple was in a car crash enroute to their wedding reception. Peter was killed instantly and the bride died Tuesday of injuries suffered in the accident.

Son's musical bed game breaks house rules

DEAR ABBY: My husband's 24-year-old son, "Clyde," does not live with us — he lives with a young woman. Clyde asked if they could spend the night at our home after attending a reception in our area. At bedtime, I offered the young lady our guest bedroom, Clyde was assigned our 14-year-old son's bedroom, and our son was given a sleeping bag.

Dear Abby

Clyde and the lady went upstairs to get ready for bed. Shortly thereafter, my husband and I retired.

At 3 a.m. the lights were still burning in our son's bedroom, which remained unoccupied. (They obviously disregarded our wishes that they occupy separate rooms.)

The following morning at breakfast, our 14-year-old son was aware that this unmarried couple had slept together and made the comment that maybe now he would become an "uncle"!

If my stepson can come into our home and share a bed with his girlfriend, what would prevent our son from assuming that it would be OK for him to do during his courting time?

Neither my husband nor I said anything to Clyde the next morning, but we were certainly upset about his judgment. What do you think?

OLD-FASHIONED AT 50
DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: Your stepson and his live-in ladyfriend should have respected your wishes in your home. You need not label yourself "old-fashioned" for disapproving of an unmarried couple sleeping together in your home.

In your home, you set the rules — in their own home, they can sleep five in a bed if they wish.

You and your husband should have said something the following morning in the presence of your 14-year-old to impress upon him that you do not approve of unmarried couples sleeping together.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday, a very dear friend of mine died after losing a long and painful battle with lung cancer. Although she would not want anyone to cry over her death, I hope that the flood of tears she caused by leaving us will extinguish more than a few cigarettes.

If my friend's tragic death is to have any meaning, let it be to change our government's idiotic policies toward tobacco: Part of it pays farmers to grow it; another part warns people not to smoke it; yet a third explores ways to make it "safe."

Abby, don't ever relax your campaign to get smokers to stop smoking, and to urge those who don't, never to start!

AL STROHLEIN,
SAN DIEGO

DEAR AL: You can count on me to carry on my anti-smoking campaign — and that's a promise.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G.G. IN MOSCOW, IDAHO: Money talks, but it doesn't tell where it came from. Be careful.

Salvation topic for Hyperions

Barbara Anderson presented a discourse on "Man's Search for Salvation" the 1906 Hyperion Club meeting.

The group met at the home of Lila Brewster. Anderson said that "historians tell us that man's worship began many centuries before Christ. While worship is innate, it needs a vehicle, which we call religion. Religion is the search and worship of God, Gods or idols."

She said that there are 11 major religions in the world and she outlined the characteristics of four of them: Hinduism, Buddhism, Islam and Christianity.

Oil-Aid Weekend Extravaganza begins April 24

Due to the difficulties in the oil industry, many are attempting to survive its ill effects.

Many have lost their jobs, their homes, their pride and their sense of being. Others are simply trying to hold on until things get better.

With these factors in mind, a diversified and concerned group of oil men, businessmen, professionals and business firms from the Midland and Odessa area have decided to have "Oil-Aid Weekend Extravaganza," according to a release from T. Roberts-Wemus Promotions.

"Oil-Aid Weekend Extravaganza" is an attempt to bring key oil industry personnel to Midland from all the oil producing states, such as New Mexico, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Colorado and Texas to celebrate a weekend of alliance and comradery to help boost morale within the industry itself, the release stated.

The motto of the extravaganza is "We may be down, depressed and dispondent, but we're not dead."

An "Oil-Aid Party Extravaganza" will be Friday night, followed by an "Oil-Aid Concert" Saturday night, starring one of West Texas' own — Roy Orbison. The concert is open to the public.

Orbison will appear in concert at the Chaparral Center in Midland. Danny Raines and The Liquidators from Lubbock will be the opening act.

Tickets go on sale at the Chaparral Center Box Office April 6 and the Endless Horizons in Midland and Odessa for $13.50 in advance and $16 at the door. For additional information, call the Chaparral Center at 685-4584.

Measure pasta the easy way

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Without a kitchen scale, it's helpful to know some cup measurements for dry and cooked pasta.

Better Homes and Gardens Pasta Cook Book says four ounces of uncooked elbow macaroni or conchiglie measures about one cup. When cooked, it will yield about 2½ cups of pasta.

Four ounces of uncooked medium noodles measures about three cups and when cooked, you'll have about three cups of pasta. Four ounces of uncooked 10-inch-long spaghetti held together in a bunch has about a one-inch diameter. When cooked, it will equal about two cups of pasta.

House OKs driving and drinking bill

AUSTIN — House members have approved a bill that would make drinking while driving a $200 offense.

The measure, tentatively approved on a voice vote Wednesday, is the survivor of numerous "open container" measures proposed in recent legislatures.

After final approval in the House, the Senate-passed measure must return to senators can consider House amendments.

The bill would basically allow a police officer to issue a court summons, similar to a traffic ticket, if the officer sees a driver taking a sip out of a can or bottle of beer.

As originally proposed in 1985, some bills would have allowed a driver to be put in jail if an open bottle or can was found within 5 feet of the driver's seat.

"People who operate a motor vehicle have a responsibility to operate it in a responsible manner," Rep. Bill Blackwood, R-Mesquite, said Wednesday. "And when a driver drinks in public it becomes a public matter."

A violation would allow an officer to give the driver a written notice to appear in court, and the driver would have to sign a written promise to appear. The maximum fine that could be levied for the misdemeanor would be $200.

Lightning Whelk named official state seashell

AUSTIN — With a lustrous white Lightning Whelk next to him, Gov. Bill Clements signed a resolution Wednesday designating the shell as the state seashell.

"I've never seen one this large," said Clements when he was presented with the shell.

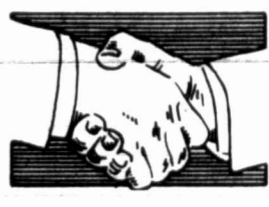

The sample was found off the Texas Gulf Coast, said Mildred Tate, curator of the Brazosport Museum of Natural Sciences.

Museum officials asked Sen. Buster Brown, R-Lake Jackson, and Rep. John Willy, R-Angleton, to sponsor the resolution.

State officials hope designation of the shell will promote Texas beaches and draw more tourists to the state.

The shell, named for colored stripes on the outside, is one of the few that opens on the left side. The shell, found only on the Gulf Coast, appears on U.S. postage stamps.

Senate blocks whistle-blower bill

AUSTIN — Senators have blocked debate on a proposal to encourage employees to complain when they find unsafe working conditions.

Sen. Carl Parker got a 17-12 vote Wednesday on his proposal to "do away with inhibitions of employees when it comes to complaining about unsafe conditions in the workplace," but he needed 19 votes to debate the bill.

Parker, D-Port Arthur, described the measure as "a true whistle-blower bill, and all it does ... is protect an employee who reports an unsafe condition."

The Senate approved on voice vote a measure increasing the penalty for a "terroristic threat" from a Class B misdemeanor to a Class A misdemeanor, punishable by one year in jail and a $2,000 fine.

"It probably should be a felony, but there's no room in our prisons," said bill sponsor Cyndi Krier, D-San Antonio.

It also authorized blood banks to report positive test results, with the donor's name, to other blood banks without breaching confidentiality.

Suspect uses TV to accuse wife

EL PASO — A fugitive who accused his wife on a live newscast of being unfaithful to him surrendered peacefully and was released from jail after posting bond on charges of assaulting a policeman.

Erich Beitzel posted $6,000 bond on the assault charge, paid $441 in cash for seven outstanding traffic citations and was released late Wednesday from El Paso County jail, said sheriff's Deputy Frank Telles.

Beitzel, 24, was accused of pointing a shotgun at El Paso police officer Daniel Christman when Christman responded to a report of a domestic dispute at the Beitzel home Tuesday morning.

Beitzel eluded police until he called KVIA-TV Tuesday night and asked for a live interview during the 10 p.m. newscast, agreeing to surrender to police afterward. While on the air, he accused his wife — Michelle Beitzel, 22 — of having an affair with a Silver City, N.M., police officer, whom he named.

He also said El Paso police were persecuting him because the Silver City officer was a friend of the department. The accusation is totally unfounded, El Paso police spokesman Lt. J.R. Grijalva said Wednesday.

Gary Warner, a KVIA news anchor and executive producer, made the decision to put Beitzel on live, said news director Dan Krieger.

"We disclaimed it as quickly as we could afterward," Krieger said Wednesday. "I think he (Warner) made a good decision."

Only in Texas ...

AUSTIN — You can let people walk all over you at the Capitol, but it'll cost $300.

A weathered 500-foot walkway leading to the south entrance of the Capitol must be replaced because it has deteriorated and become dangerous, said Capitol Architect Roy Graham. The once black-and-white walkway now is a huge stumbling block for Capitol visitors.

For $300 each, Texans can buy a 28-inch cement block in the shape of a diamond to be used for the new walkway, said Lowell Lebermann Jr., president of the committee in charge of raising restoration funds.

Thursday Notes

By Eddie Curran

Coahoma sharpshooter Shana Fowler, named to both the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches all-state team and the Texas High School Girls Basketball Association all-state team, will enjoy another honor this weekend.

Fowler will play for the North team in Saturday's TABC All-Star Game in Waco. Fowler averaged over 20 points and 10 rebounds per game, and shot 78 percent from the foul line.

Here's wishing Fowler good luck in Saturday's contest.

Softball fans, take notes...

A benefit slowpitch softball for the Medina Childrens Home has been scheduled for the weekend of May 15-16 in Coahoma. T-shirts and prizes will be awarded.

For more information, call Robbie Tindol at 394-4438 or 394-4831; or Mike Hughes at 263-0234.

And...the Big Spring Slow-pitch Church League is having a meeting tonight at 7 in the Highland Lanes meeting room. Tonight is the deadline for any church teams to enter.

And...the Midessa Association of the Deaf will host a men's and women's slow-pitch softball tournament May 9. The entry fee is $90 per team, and there will be 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th place trophies, all-stars and MVP's for both the men and women. The tourney proceeds will go towards the Bill Williams softball complex at Hogan Park in Midland. For more information, call A. Walker Estes at 263-1133, or, in Midland, call 682-2547.

And...the first annual Astros Softball Tourney is slated for May 15-17 in Hobbs, with a $100 entry fee and a deadline set for May 13.

Tournament features include: USSSA sanctioned; double elimination; 55-minute time limit on games; team trophies for 1st through 3rd; winners are awarded free entry next year; class D and C brackets; trophy games will be videotaped; individual first place trophies; and it is a regional qualifying tournament.

For more information, call Rick Miller at (505) 393-1942; or Frank Woodward at (505) 393-1711; or, after 6 p.m., Merv Roberts at (505) 393-8539. Send checks to: Astros; P.O. Box 1410; Hobbs, N.M. 88240.

The Midland Angels are conducting a youth baseball clinic from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday at the Roy Anderson complex in Big Spring.

The clinic is free for all kids, coaches and parents. Also, here's a reminder that little league teams and coaches always get free admission at Angel Stadium. Call the Angel office at 683-4251 to let them know your team is coming.

Those Comanche Trail Ladies golfers were at it again on Mondays. The team of Ramona Harris, Julie Hall, Mary Malone and Betty Ray Coffee won the nine-hole scramble with a 2-under par 36.

Two teams tied for second at even par 38. They were: the team of Mary Ruth Robertson, Bobbie Patterson, and Ruby Honea; and the team of Natalie Peurifoy, Holly Peurifoy, Mitze Bailos and Kim Helfenbien.

The Big Spring Muzzle Loaders is sponsoring a Black Powder Shootout in conjunction with the Western Sportsman Fun Day at the Western Sportsman Club May 2-3.

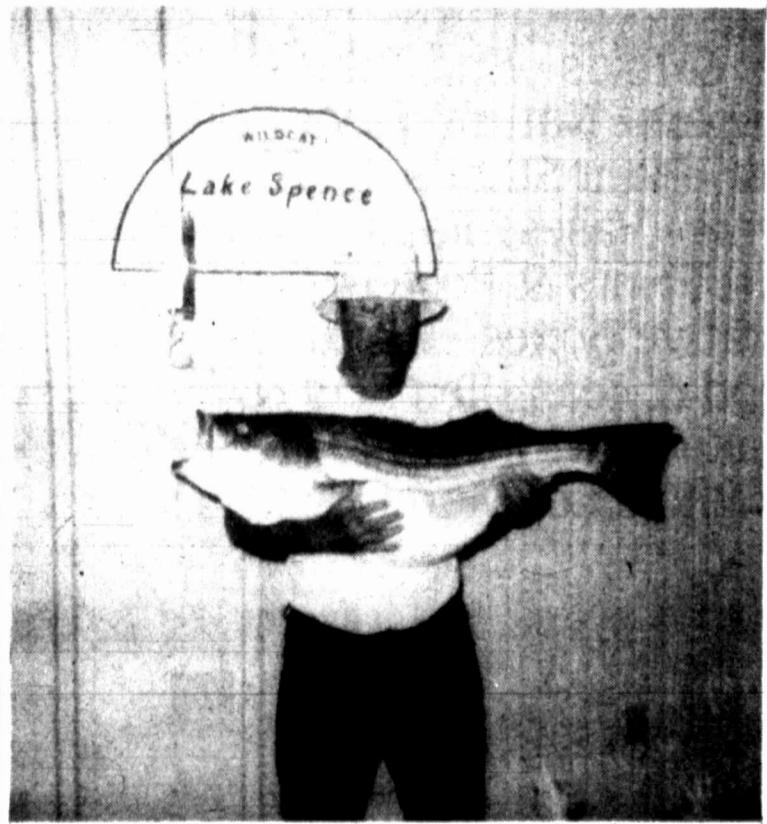

There will be everything from shooting matches, tomahawk throws to flea markets and snacks and goodies.

For more information on the Black Powder Shootout call Bob Ballard at 267-7880. For information on the Sportsmans Club Fun Day call Walt Lane at 267-3012.

Big Spring fisherman David Hodnett caught himself a monster Monday at Lake Spence.

Hodnett bagged a lake record 33-pound striper, while trolling with a top water lure. The superfish was weighed and certified by Tom Francis.

Hawks ink five hoopsters

All five are Texans, and the recruiting's not over

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

The Howard College Hawks have signed five Texas recruits, and will continue their recruiting in the hope of getting a post player or two, said Coach Larry Brown Wednesday.

One of those signees, Andrews' Bernard Williams, use to be from Big Spring. The 6-0 Williams was the district 2-4A MVP, and was third-team all-state.

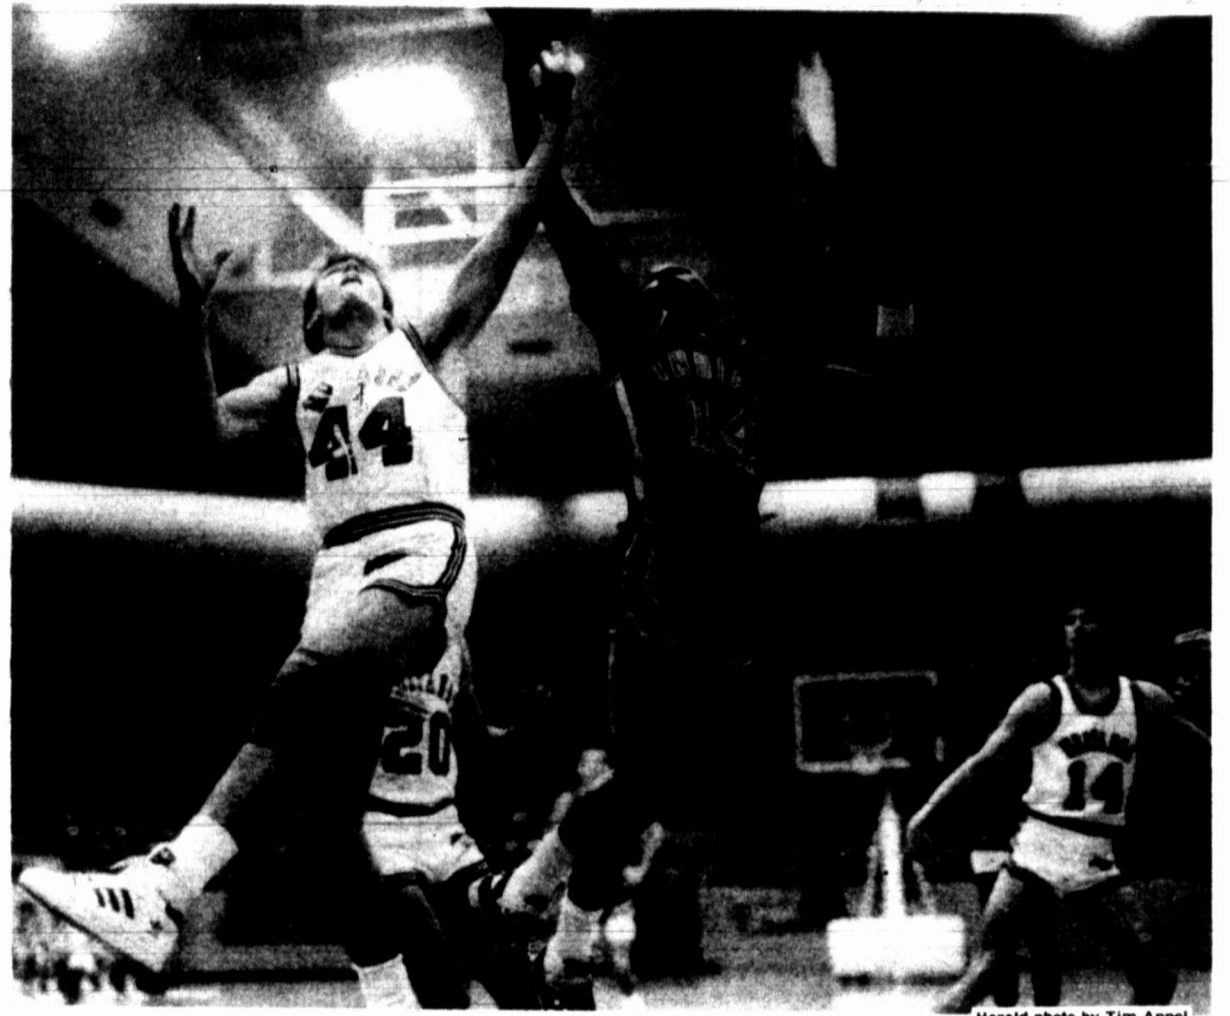

"He's an impact player. I'm looking for him to come in and start for us. We recruited him as a scorer. We'll be expecting him to lead the conference in scoring before he leaves here," Brown said.

And the Hawks' coach said he will expect Louis Clay, Williams' 5-6 teammate at Andrews, to lead the conference in assists before ending his tenure in Big Spring. Clay was a first-team all-district player for district champion Andrews this year.

Brown also signed two players from Morton, the AA state champion. Jerry Joyce, at 6-5, is the tallest player so far recruited by the Hawks. Joyce is a two-time all-state player, and this year was the AA player of the year in Texas. Brown called Joyce a "great player," and said he was "real pleased" that the Morton star signed with Howard.

Joyce's teammate, 6-0 guard Kenneth Johnson, also inked with Howard. Johnson was second-team all-state this year for the Indians.

The other Hawks' signee is Kevin Welch, 6-3, an all-district 5A player from Houston MacArthur. Brown called Welch "a tremendous defensive stopper."

Morton's Kenneth Johnson (14) goes for a rebound against Shallowater's Brian Green in Region I-AA basketball action in March at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. Johnson recently signed a scholarship agreement with Howard College.

He said Welch's brother started for New Mexico State this year as a freshman. Brown said he feels good about his recruiting, but that he is not finished. Brown and his assistant, Scott Horstman, are continuing to look for some big men, and Brown said he is looking out of state for those type players. Several players are scheduled to visit Howard, he said.

Werner leaving YMCA

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

Ken Werner, the boys gymnastics coach at the YMCA, is leaving Big Spring to build his own gymnastics facility in Wisconsin. Werner said yesterday that this is his last week here.

In 11 meets this year, Werner's team has won nine, and finished second once and third once. He said they have won approximately 95 percent of all the individual first place trophies in the meets they've entered.

The Sidewinders will compete in the state championship this weekend in Austin, and Werner is hoping for a first or second place finish in his last meet as coach of the team. He said the best team in the nation is from Texas, and that a first place finish will be difficult.

Werner said the team will have two meets after he leaves — a meet in San Angelo and the state YMCA finals — but he said the Sidewinders will win those meets "easily."

Werner has quite a challenge ahead of him. He said he plans to build the complex himself, with help from his brother and stepfather. He said the facility will cost approximately $500,000, which he hopes to receive from corporate funding.

Werner said it is important to begin building soon, because of the Wisconsin winter. He said he has not yet determined a building site, but will do so soon. He added that the complex should be finished by September if funding comes through.

Werner is confident he can get funding because several important gymnastics people have promised support. Olympic gymnast Bart Conner and his coach, Paul Zert, have said they will do clinics at Werner's facility, and have pledged to help him raise money.

Also, Gary Goodson, the national technical director for boys gymnastics, has promised his support.

"They think I can do it so they're going to help me," Werner said Wednesday.

Werner said his facility will be twice as big as the one at the Big Spring YMCA. He said Milwaukee and Chicago have recently lost their good gymnastics coaches, and he hopes to draw gymnasts from those areas. He plans to coach girls and boys.

He said one of the reasons Zert and Goodson promised their support is because Werner is one of only four coaches to put a boy on the Independent Gymnastics Club's national team. Werner said that

Homers power Yankees past Tigers

By The Associated Press

The New York Yankees were determined to play better at home this year. So far, they couldn't be doing any better.

Rickey Henderson and Ron Kittle hit two-run homers Wednesday night and the Yankees won their ninth straight game by beating the Detroit Tigers 4-1.

All nine victories came at Yankee Stadium as New York went 9-0 on its first homestand of the season. The Yankees are 12-3 overall, their best start since 1949.

Baseball

In other AL games, Boston shaded Kansas City 1-0, Oakland edged California 7-6. Baltimore beat Texas 3-2 in 10 innings, Toronto downed Cleveland 6-3, Seattle defeated Minnesota 4-3 and the Milwaukee at Chicago game was rained out.

Red Sox 1, Royals 0
Bob Stanley pitched a four-hitter and Dwight Evans had an RBI single in the fourth inning as Boston beat visiting Kansas City.

Athletics 7, Angels 6
Stan Javier's first major-league homer, a three-run blow, helped Oakland open up a 7-0 lead, enough to hold off host California.

Orioles 3, Rangers 2
Ray Knight, the AL's top hitter, walked with the bases loaded in the 10th inning, leading Baltimore over Texas.

The visiting Orioles loaded the bases on a single by Alan Wiggins and a walk to Rick Burleson off Matt Williams, 0-1. Greg Harris retired Cal Ripken Jr. on a line drive, walked Eddie Murray and then struck out Fred Lynn. Knight, batting .423 and 3-for-7 in his career against Harris, walked on a 3-1 pitch.

Dave Schmidt, 2-0, pitched 1 1-3 innings for the victory.

The Rangers tied the game with one out in the ninth on Pete Incavaglia's solo homer, his sixth, off Mark Williamson.

Blue Jays 6, Indians 3
Garth Iorg hit a tiebreaking sacrifice fly in the ninth inning off reliever Steve Carlton and Toronto won in Cleveland.

Singles by Ernie Whitt and Kelly Gruber, a sacrifice and an intentional walk loaded the bases for Iorg. Carlton, 1-2, then left after walking Lloyd Moseby, and George Bell hit a grounder that skipped between third baseman Brook Jacoby's legs, allowing two runs to score.

Mariners 4, Twins 3
Harold Reynolds singled home the tiebreaking run in the eighth inning and lifted Seattle over Minnesota.

Mike Kingery singled off George Frazier, 1-2, and Rey Quinones and Reynolds followed with singles.

Mark Langston, 2-2, pitched a seven-hitter and struck out nine.

Quinones' second home run of the season made it 1-1 in the fifth. Al Newman, who tripled and scored in the first inning, hit a two-run single in the fifth that gave the host Twins a 3-1 lead.

Dodgers 5, Giants 3
Wednesday night, Alex Trevino hit a game winning double against Giants pitcher Scott Garrelts. This time he swung at the first pitch, hitting a game-winning two-run double as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Giants 5-3.

In other National League games Wednesday, it was Montreal 7, Philadelphia 3; New York 8, Pittsburgh 7; Chicago 5, St. Louis 4; Houston 6, Atlanta 0, and San Diego 6, Cincinnati 3.

Padres 6, Reds 3
Kevin Mitchell drove in a career-high four runs to lead San Diego over Cincinnati. Mitchell knocked over in a pair of runs with a third-inning double and hit a two-run homer in the sixth.

The third baseman came into the game with just one homer and three RBI.

Expos 7, Phillies 3
Tim Wallach's leadoff homer and Mitch Webster's bases-loaded triple highlighted a six-run sixth inning and Montreal went on to defeat Philadelphia.

Neal Heaton, 2-1, overcame a shaky first inning to get the win, allowing four hits, striking out five and walking one in 7 2-3 innings before being relieved by Andy McGaffigan.

Mets 8, Pirates 7
Tim Teufel drove in New York's first three runs, and Mookie Wilson and Kevin McReynolds homered before the Mets held on to edge Pittsburgh.

The Mets led 7-1 before Pittsburgh made a run for the lead, capped by ninth-inning home runs by Sid Bream and Barry Bonds.

Cubs 5, Cardinals 4
Hitting only 157 going into the game, Andre Dawson connected for his third career grand slam to cap a five-run seventh inning and power Chicago over St. Louis.

Dawson's home run, his third of the year, came off St. Louis relief ace Todd Worrell.

Astros 6, Braves 0
Left-hander Jim Deshaies gave up four hits and struck out a career-high 11 in seven innings as Houston defeated Atlanta to remain undefeated at home this season.

Deshaies, 1-0, walked two in his first start of the season, while Larry Anderson and Dave Smith finished up.

Bill Doran led off the first with an inside-the-park home run. It was the first inside-the-park home run in the Astrodome since July 3, 1983.

Glenn Davis led off the Astros' two-run fourth with his second homer of the season. Singles by Kevin Bass and Jose Cruz, and a walk to Craig Reynolds loaded the bases. Palmer then walked Deshaies, forcing in Bass.

Houston increased its lead to 4-0 in the sixth on a double by Bass and an RBI single by Alan Ashby, then added two more in the seventh on an RBI single by Bass and an RBI grounder by Ashby.

Ex-Cowboy found dead

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Larry Bethea, a first-round draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys, died today of an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head, police said.

Sgt. Lynn Pearson of the Newport News police said a .38-caliber automatic handgun was near Bethea when he was found behind a friend's house. Bethea had a gunshot wound to the right temple.

"Evidence in the shooting indicates that Mr. Bethea apparently committed suicide," she said.

Bethea, 30, was a defensive lineman for the National Football League team from 1978 to 1983. He was brought to Hampton General Hospital by a Newport News ambulance at 2:05 a.m., hospital spokeswoman Jan Dunning said.

"He had a very faint pulse and blood pressure and was actually pronounced dead at 2:08 a.m.," she said. "He did have a gunshot wound on the right side of the head and that was the probable cause of death."

Bethea's body was taken to the Norfolk crime lab for an autopsy, she said.

On Jan. 23, Bethea was given a suspended four-year prison term for stealing $64,000 from his mother.

Newport News Circuit Judge J. Warren Stephens also ordered Bethea to serve two years on probation and repay the money he had taken from an attic safe in the Newport News home he shared with his mother Alice. The money was her life's savings.

Bethea was arrested Aug. 4 by Dallas police with $61,375 in cash in his pockets after he allegedly accosted his estranged wife, Gloria. Dallas police, summoned by Gloria Bethea, found her bruised and her lip bleeding.

Bethea's mother reported the next day that $64,000 was missing.

"I feel grateful to the Commonwealth that it understood some of my total background and situation, and that I'm not a person to cause problems," Bethea said after the sentencing.

"I got a little confused in the big picture, and I hurt my family," he said.

Bethea pleaded guilty in 1985 to setting three fires in Mount Rainer National Park in Paradise, Wash. He was ordered to pay $1,000 to the park to cover the cost of fighting the fires.

He was chosen out of Michigan State by the Cowboys as the 28th overall selection of the 1978 NFL draft. He left the Cowboys and signed a contract with the USFL in 1984, playing for the Michigan Panthers. His final season, 1985, also was spent in the USFL with Oakland and Houston.

Bethea lettered at Michigan State from 1974 to 1977.

Bethea holds the school record for most sacks in a career with 43 for 230 yards. He was named to the first team of the Big Ten Conference All-Star team in 1977 and to the second team in 1976.

He played in the East-West Shrine game and the Challenge Bowl following his final collegiate season.

Werner

team is chosen by Russian standards, and that Will Rutherford was one of only four American boys ever selected.

Werner, an Illinois native and an avid backpacker, said he looks forward to returning to the green hills and streams of Wisconsin.

"I'll miss all the kids, but that happens when you move. You expect that, I guess," he said.

Wallace Gill, the general director at the YMCA, said he's sorry to see Werner leave.

"We hate to see Ken leave because he's done such an outstanding job, but I can understand his desire to do his own thing."

Werner started the boys program from scratch over two years ago, and is the only boys coach the Big Spring YMCA has had. Gill said Werner's assistant coach, Scott McDonald, will coach the boys while Gill searches for a replacement.

Gill said he has already begun advertising for a new coach, and that he intends to continue the program at "the highest level possible."

Islanders edge Flyers

"I accept complete responsibility for the miscue on the bench penalty," said Philadelphia Flyers coach Keenan said after the Islanders beat the Flyers 2-1 Wednesday night with the help of an unexpected power play in the last minute.

Parick Division
In scoring his winning goal, Makela took a pass from Tomas Jonsson and sent it by Flyers rookie goalie Ron Hextall's stick side at 19:57.

The Flyers' Doug Crossman had snapped a scoreless tie with a power-play goal at 5:53 of the third period. But Denis Potvin tied it for the Islanders on a power play under a 45-foot slapshot that slid under Hextall at 7:57.

Adams Division
Michel Goulet and Basil McCrae scored 17 seconds apart early in the third period to end a scoreless duel, and Quebec held off a Montreal rally to beat the Canadiens for a 2-0 lead in their series.

The game was in marked contrast to the opener of this series, which produced 12 goals in a 7-5 Quebec victory. Wednesday night's contest belonged to the goaltenders — Mario Gosselin of Quebec, and especially Brian Hayward of the Canadiens, who was selected to start over Patrick Roy. It ended a streak of 25 consecutive Stanley Cup playoff games for Roy, last year's most valuable player in the series.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 24, 1987

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You start out the day with very good business judgment. Push ahead with whatever you have in mind, but put your best effort into it so that it works smoothly.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Use good judgment and you can increase production at this time. Don't run off on any tangents.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be energetic in trying to gain your personal wishes. Your friends can be helpful to you now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't argue with a talkative associate. Make a good impression on an influential person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Listen to the ideas of one whose experience is different from your own. Follow the suggestions you get.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Go to an expert for advice and follow it instead of listening to that scatter-brained acquaintance.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Listen carefully to the suggestions of a wise partner and follow them. Don't argue with your family now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can labor harmoniously with fellow workers today, but trying to communicate with outsiders is hard.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) It's a good day to plan some pleasure that you will enjoy, but count the cost first. Express your finest talents.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Find the articles that can make your home more functional. Don't force your ideas on kin.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan the meetings you want to have with other individuals so that mutual benefits can be gained.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Financial affairs are most important to you now. You can gain knowledge about investments.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can easily handle whatever requires your undivided attention. Try to keep your temper under control.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he, or she, will require much study of the right principles since this child is quite sensitive. There is an artistic ability here as well as the understanding of practical affairs. Schooling should combine these two talents for the greatest success in life.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
