No room at hotels May 1-3

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

Nearly every Big Spring hotel room has been booked for the May 1 weekend by out-of-towners participating in several local events, according to Liz Taylor, manager of the Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Taylor said that of the approximately 600 Big Spring hotel and motel rooms, virtually all were reserved for May 1 and 2, although some are available for Sunday, May 3.

In addition, the Chamber has received numerous calls from potential visitors inquiring about lodging, she said, and others have indicated they'd be staying in Colorado City or Midland because they couldn't find space in Big Spring.

She said Big Spring has 14 motels and one hotel — the Park Inn. The difference is that a hotel provides full service, she said.

The SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf is hosting its annual SWCID Fest alumni/student reunion May 1-2. SWCID TITLE Bob Coletrane said he expects about 200 participants.

Activities also are open to the public, he said. The festival begins at 8 p.m. Friday evening, May 1, with an original play, "Molded," performed by SWCID students at the National Guard Armory on FM 700.

"Molded" was written by a young deaf playwright, Terrylene Theriot, and won the 1984 Young Handicapped Playwrights Award. Theriot, of California, is a Texas native and recently appeared on an episode of NBC's "Cagney & Lacey."

She is in Big Spring, and will attend SWCID Fest, Taylor said. "Molded" portrays a young dancer who performs at a prison, and comes to know a prisoner after he laughs at her, Taylor said.

On Saturday, May 2, a 10K run and two-mile run or walk begins at 8 a.m. at SWCID. The participation fee is $6 before April 25 or $8 on-site.

A dormitory dedication and unveiling of a portrait of SWCID founder Douglas Burke will begin at 10 a.m. at the administration building.

A bowling tournament at Highland Lanes begins at noon, with a $25 per person entry fee. The tournament is expected to be finished by about 6 p.m.

A Casino Night will be conducted at the National Guard Armory at 8 p.m., with admission at $5 per person. A cash bar, drinks and food will be available. Dress is black and white. Proceeds will go toward funds for interpreting services for the Highland Council for the Deaf.

A second activity that weekend is the Sports Car Club of America's Spring Sprints '87 May 2-3 at the Howard County Industrial Park.

Regional races will take place May 2, with practice

Road improvements on Commissioners' agenda

By KERRY HAGLUND
Staff Writer

Howard County commissioners will discuss road improvements at Monday's meeting of the Commissioners' Court.

Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Transportation Committee Arnold Marshall said he will discuss with the Court the need for road improvements on the outskirts of Big Spring and in general, but declined to mention any specific roads.

County Engineer Bill Mims is expected to ask the Court for equipment purchases and rentals for road repair, County Judge Milton Kirby said.

The agenda also includes discussion of a resolution to abandon a county road near Cosden Refinery. Kirby said Mims placed the item on the agenda, but he didn't know what road was involved. Mims said the District neither owns nor is legally responsible for Natural Dam Lake, but made modifications in 1986 to avoid a possible disaster that might have occurred because of heavy rains, the statement says.

An attorney, however, has stated that the District is responsible for approximately $360,000 in flood damages. The District won't perform additional work unless both the county and the city agree to share in the expenses, according to the statement.

Kirby has declined comment on the county's possible involvement with Natural Dam Lake until the legality of county financing is resolved. The lake is located on private property.

An open house is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Howard County Annex.

School officials urge AIDS films OK for students

BY KERRY HAGLUND
Staff Writer

Officials from the Big Spring Independent School District are urging parents to allow their children to view educational films about AIDS in school.

The films, which are part of a curriculum developed by the Texas Health Department, are designed to educate students about the dangers of AIDS and how to protect themselves.

The district's superintendent, Bill McQuary, said that the films are appropriate for students in grades 5-12.

He said that the films are available for viewing in school libraries and classrooms.

Parents are encouraged to contact the district office if they have any questions or concerns.

The district office is located at 100 W. 4th St., Big Spring, Texas.

Sewer surcharge, Stacy Dam top news this week

An interest and sinking fund will be established for $1.35 of a $2 per customer per month sewer service surcharge. City Council members decided at a work session Monday, City Manager Mack Wofford said.

The total should be about $160,000 a year, the amount needed to pay the annual installment on a 1979 debt for which the surcharge was enacted, he said.

The money probably will draw interest, he said.

The remaining 65 cents of the $2 fee will go to the sewer operating fund, Wofford said. Prior to the decision, the entire $2 went to the operating fund, and the money for the debt was withdrawn from it, officials have indicated.

Wofford said city staff was instructed to prepare legislation to be enacted by the Council at its next regular meeting, set for 6:30 p.m. April 28.

ducted, C R M W D secretary/treasurer Joe Pickle said.

The $30,726,804 contract was signed by John Taylor, Big Spring, Colorado River Municipal Water District president and Steve Zander, senior vice president of Brown & Root USA, Inc. Pickle said.

Ron Hayes, project manager for the Houston-based construction firm, said that portable buildings will be brought in soon and brush clearing will begin within 10 days, according to Pickle.

• About 87 Big Spring Safeway supermarket employees could be out of work since the chain closed its two Big Spring stores Friday.

Manager of the College Park store, Randy Reeves, said he doesn't know if any of the store's 60 employees will be transferred to other Safeway stores or retained by Furr's Inc. who signed a letter of intent to purchase the stores.

"I don't know what I'll be doing," after the stores close, he said.

Gregg Street Safeway Manager Frank Brooks said his store's 27 employees haven't received any information on their future job status.

Furr's Inc., a Texas corporation with headquarters in Lubbock, announced this month that it had signed a letter of intent to purchase the two Big Spring stores.

• City staff members will examine the feasibility of a city or city-county ambulance service, in addition to advertising for bids for a privately-owned service, officials decided at a meeting Monday.

City councilmen, county commissioners, members of the ambulance advisory committee, other city officials and Charles Ginn, owner of Lee Ambulance, attended the 45-minute meeting at the courthouse.

How's that? Vote

Q. Can I vote in the runoff election if I didn't vote in the general election April 4?

A. Registered voters who live in District 3 may vote in the runoff Monday between City Council incumbent Harold Hall and challenger D.D. Johnston, Finance Director Tom Ferguson has said. To determine your district, consult your voter registration card.

Tops on TV Pink Panther

The maniacal former police inspector Dreyfus directs a dozen assassins to eliminate the bungling inspector Jacques Clouseau in "The Pink Panther Strikes Again," starring Peter Sellers, at 8 p.m. on Ch. 8.

• "Zulu," at 7:05 p.m. on Ch. 11.

• "Facts of Life," at 7 p.m. on Ch. 13.

For the record

A quotation in a Friday article concerning superintendent appointee Bill McQuary was incorrectly reported by the Herald. His statement was "As a board, as a superintendent, as principals — we have to support what goes on it that classroom. If you support academics and take care of your academic business, then all your other problems are going to take care of themselves."

The Herald regrets any misunderstanding resulting from the error.

Contests show band improvements

The Big Spring High School and Steer Bands' performances at the University Interscholastic League and Sight-Reading contests this week improved over previous years, Band Director Ricky Mitchell said.

The contests were conducted at Midland Lee High School.

The Symphonic Band, directed by Steve Waggoner, was awarded a Division II Excellent rating in both concert and sight-reading.

The Honor Band, directed by Mitchell, received a Division I Superior rating in sight-reading and a Division III Satisfactory rating in concert.

The ratings were the highest earned by the Symphonic Band in five years, he said, adding that it had been five years since the Honor Band won a Division I rating in sight-reading.

Ratings for the Concert contest are determined by three judges and are based on each band's performance of three selections, including a march and two other pieces from a list, he said.

The Sight-reading contest also has three judges, and is based on each band's ability to perform a selection members have not previously seen.

Symphonic Band selections were "Hosts of Freedom" March by King, "Connemara Sketches" by Osborne, and "Adventures" by Spears.

Honor band selections were "Sabre and Spurs" March by Sousa, "Variations on a Korean Folk Song" by Chance, and four selected movements of "Carmina Burana" by Orff.

The final performance for all Big Spring bands will be the annual spring concert May 19.

ESP lecture

At least 75 Big Spring residents were interested in hearing Barbara Wallace discuss ESP Thursday night. Wallace, a spokeswoman for the Inner Peace Movement, said another free session is planned in the Park Inn International meeting room at 7:30 p.m. April 30. A $9 two-hour workshop follows the free lecture, and Wallace invites participants to visit her for a one-hour $35 session to determine personal strengths and traits.

AIDS films

Board Association's meeting, and that a member of the Big Spring school board recommended it.

"We always try to screen materials. When you get into these areas, they can certainly be controversial," he said.

Hise said the videos provided information about AIDS, which he feels is necessary in wake of predictions of an AIDS epidemic.

"It brings out facts that most young people don't know," Hise said. "It takes the approach of getting kids to know what it's all about."

Hise said the videos will remain at the school for another 10 days. Those who wish to see them can arrange a screening by calling Hise at the superintendent's office, at 267-8245.

Nancy Patrick gave the package a high recommendation, and encouraged everyone to see the it.

"I feel that it will be effective because it is factual. And I didn't see anything that was controversial from my point of view."

"My concern is that parents view the film, Parents, ministers, youth leaders — in other words, it would be good for the general public. I just hope people avail themselves of the opportunity to see it," she said.

Patrick added that she doesn't want to see young people get hurt by AIDS as she said they've been hurt by drugs.

"I don't want us to get caught napping on this one," she said.

Man's parole revoked after assault charged

Parole was revoked for a local man who has been charged with assaulting his mother.

The State Board of Pardons and Paroles revoked parole for 25-year-old Ronald Dale Mathis of 1511 Oriole St.

The Board notified District Parole Officer David Harman of the decision Friday. A parole hearing had been conducted March 25 in which Mathis was charged with assaulting his mother, Melba Mathis, Harman said.

Mathis will be sent to the Texas Department of Corrections, Harman said.

He had been sentenced to three years in prison on a burglary charge in February 1984, was released on parole in November 1984 and sent back January 1986 on a charge of assaulting his mother, Harman said.

Courthouse annex open house Monday

The Howard County courthouse annex will have an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. Monday, County Judge Milton Kirby said.

The Blue Blazers, a Chamber of Commerce women's group, will give tours of the annex and serve refreshments, Kirby said.

The annex is located at Main and Fourth Streets, east of the courthouse, and houses the tax assessor/collector's office, the tax appraisal office and the adult and juvenile probation offices.

The annex also has four juvenile detention cells. The county purchased the building that previously had been a Woolworth store for $62,000 in 1985 to relieve overcrowding in the courthouse, Kirby said.

The building's exterior was restored and interior offices were constructed by Johnston Construction of Big Spring for slightly more than $700,000, he said.

The annex has been open to the public since April 1, but Monday will be considered the official opening, Kirby said.

It was named Wednesday as the most improved Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce beauty spot of the month for April.

Girl with broken leg breaks second when struck by car

A Big Spring girl with her leg in a cast received another broken leg Friday afternoon crossing West Highway 80 when she was hit by a car, according to police.

Elida Granado, 16, 811 S. Johnson St., was in surgery for her injuries Friday night at Scenic Mountain Medical Center, a hospital spokeswoman said. Condition reports were unavailable, she said.

The accident occurred at 4:08 p.m. Friday on West Highway 80 in front of Airport Grocery, Police Sgt. Lee Everett said.

Granado was crossing the highway in a group of four or five others when a 1986 red Pontiac

Firebird driven by Salvado Calvio Jr., 18, 1208 Lindbergh St., was traveling east in the far right lane, Everett said.

Calvio swerved into the left lane to avoid Granado, but she stopped in front of his car and he was unable to avoid hitting her, Everett said.

He said a skid test indicated Calvio was driving slightly slower than the speed limit — 42 miles per hour in a 45-mile-per-hour zone.

Neither Calvio nor his passenger, 16-year-old Trisha Murley, 2514 Central Drive, were hurt, Everett said.

No charges were filed, he said.

and qualifying runs beginning at 8 a.m. and national races, 23 laps, beginning at 12:45 p.m.

Racers are expected in Big Spring from California, Colorado, and all of Texas.

The Big Spring Chapter of the League of United Latin American Citizens will hold its annual Cinco de Mayo celebration May 1-2 at Comanche Trail Park.

The celebration begins at 6:45 p.m. May 1 with a parade of charros, or horsemen, through the park with Mexican flags. A kickoff celebration with Mexican-American music and dancing will follow until midnight at the Old Settlers Pavilion at the park.

Festivities continue at 1 p.m. Saturday with music, pinatas for the children, an ALSA washer tournament at 2 p.m., the Low Riders car and bicycle show, and judging for the best Mexican attire. Music and dancing will conclude the evening.

Food and craft booths and other activities will be available. To reserve booth space, contact LULAC President Raul Marquez at 263-8859.

LULAC conducts the events and the Sixteenth of September celebration to raise money for three $1,000 college scholarships for local students.

This is the sixth Big Spring Cinco de Mayo celebration. This year's fiesta is co-sponsored by Coors.

Sports enthusiasts will also invade Big Spring the weekend of May 1-2 as a number of sporting events will be going on.

Heading the list is the Region I-AA track and field meet and tennis tournament.

The tennis tournament, attracting at least 16 schools from regions ranging from the Panhandle to the eastern part of West Texas, will be at Figure Seven Tennis Center in Comanche Trail Park. Action begins Friday and Saturday at 8 a.m.

As many as 50 schools are expected to be represented in the track meet at Blankenship Field, east of Big Spring High School. Track action gets underway at 6:30 p.m. Friday with the running prelims. On Saturday, field events begin at 9 a.m. and running finals start at 2 p.m.

For baseball lovers, the Howard College Hawks will be in Region V action at Jack Barber Field when they host the Ranger Rangers in a single game Saturday beginning at 2 p.m. On Sunday the Hawks will conclude regular season play with a double-header against the Rangers beginning at 1 p.m.

There's also softball action going on during the weekend. Cameo Energy Homes is sponsoring a men's slow-pitch softball tournament Friday through Sunday at Cotton Mize Softball Diamond, located at Comanche Trail Park.

At least 15 teams are expected participate, five of which represent other communities. Action begins at 7 p.m. Friday.

Howard College is sponsoring a men's basketball tournament May 1-3 at the old Howard College gym and Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. At least 10 teams are expected to compete.

Also on the weekend slate is the Big Spring Muzzle Loaders Black Powder Shootout and Western Sportsman Fun Day at the Western Sportsman Club, located on the Andrews Highway.

Festivities will be May 2-3 and will include everything from shooting matches, tomahawk throws and flea markets, to snacks and goodies.

There will also be awards for the most primitive dress. Activities begin at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Employee kills herself

ATLANTA — A disgruntled employee walked into a crowded office at Georgia Power Co.'s downtown Atlanta headquarters Friday, shot and wounded two of her supervisors, then sat at her desk and killed herself.

Mozella Dansby, 31, had been upset because she did not get a promotion, company officials and police said. She had submitted her resignation earlier this week, officials said.

Before killing herself, Ms. Dansby shot and wounded David Phillips, 33, her immediate supervisor, and John David English, 58, the utility's payroll manager, police said.

Len Sturdivant, who said he was in a cubicle adjacent to Ms. Dansby's, said he heard Phillips shout, "No, don't do that," and then heard shots.

No one else was wounded, police said, although there were as many as 100 people on the floor at the time.

Smoking ban denied

ALBANY, N.Y. — A judge struck down as unconstitutional Friday a set of sweeping regulations that would have limited smoking in most restaurants, workplaces and other public buildings in New York state beginning May 7.

The regulations, touted as among the most stringent in the country, would have banned smoking in taxis, food markets, banks, and limited smoking to designated areas in workplaces, larger restaurants, schools and other public places.

The state Public Health Council issued the regulations in February.

But Justice Harold Hughes ruled in trial-level state Supreme Court that the issue was not whether smoking should be banned, but that such widespread restrictions should be imposed by the Legislature, not by the Council.

Museum fakes found

DALLAS — The discovery that three prized ancient sculptures at the Dallas Museum of Art actually are cheap copies sent tremors through art circles Friday, as curators combed their collections for similar fakes.

A writer and an architect who determined the sculptures were made by a Mexican artist less than three decades ago say there may be more pieces in museums and art collections in this country and Europe.

"He started doing them in the 1950s and he says there's thousands," said architect E. Logan Wagner.

Several other U.S. museums, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York and the St. Louis Art Museum, were taken in by the sculptures, Wagner said.

William Cruse is arraigned in Brevard County court Friday. Cruse was charged with six counts of first-degree murder and other counts following a shooting spree in Palm Bay, Fla. Thursday in which six persons were killed and at least 13 injured.

Neighbors call gunman crazy

PALM BAY, Fla. (AP) — The gunman accused of slaughtering six people at two shopping centers was described by neighbors Friday as a silent, hostile man who frightened them with guns.

"The kids were all afraid of him," Eucal Grant said of William Cruse, 60, who lived three doors away. "I considered him off his head — crazy. He just acted crazy. No one talked to him, not even his next-door neighbors."

On Tuesday, the 68-year-old Grant said, Cruse carried a gun as he chased a child down a street in this modest, racially mixed subdivision of single-family homes.

Neighbors said they had complained to police about Cruse yelling at their children, but nothing was done. Some also said a neighborhood petition asking for action against Cruse was given to police last fall, but Palm Bay Chief Charles Simmons said he knew nothing about a petition.

Neighbors say Cruse's latest rampage began Thursday night when two teens cut across his yard.

Cruse, a thin, gray-haired man, started shooting and hit John Rich, playing basketball across the street, in the back.

After that, Cruse, cursing and shooting, sped away from his white, two-story house toward the Palm Bay Shopping Center, neighbor Marguerite Hall said.

About 30 minutes later, police received their first report of shots in the shopping center.

"He was prejudiced against the Jamaicans, the Puerto Ricans and the blacks. And he hated kids," said Derrick Suarez, 14, who lives behind Cruse's house.

Suarez said that Cruse pulled a gun on him and other boys playing football across the street in October, accusing them of crossing his lawn.

"A lot of neighborhood people were frightened of him," said Ron Stearn, who is caring for Cruse's ailing wife, Millie.

"He chased my kids in his car," Stearn said. Cruse's wife suffers from Parkinson's disease, a chronic nerve disorder.

"She's very upset," Stearn said, adding that Mrs. Cruse would not make any comments about her husband.

Stearn said he had filed a police complaint against Cruse on Good Friday because he had made sexually suggestive remarks to his 6-year-old son.

"The police told me he was wacko... then they didn't do anything," Stearn said. "I would like to find out why they didn't prosecute him before this happened."

Arsonists plead guilty

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — Three men pleaded guilty at a court hearing Friday to federal charges of setting the New Year's Eve fire that killed 97 people at the Dupont Plaza beachfront hotel and injured 146.

They changed their pleas from innocent as part of a plea bargain with federal prosecutors that was not disclosed. The trial had been scheduled to begin Monday in U.S. District Court.

Hector Escudero Aponte, a 35-year-old hotel maintenance worker, also pleaded guilty to a charge of first degree murder in the death of U.S. Secret Service agent Manuel de Jesus Marrero Otero, who was in the hotel on a counterfeit money case.

The other two defendants are Armando Jimenez Rivera, 29, and Jose Francisco Rivera Lopez, 40.

18 wounded by bomb

PIRAEUS, Greece — A roadside bomb exploded Friday, spraying a military bus with shrapnel and debris that wounded 18 people, including 16 Americans, police and the U.S. Embassy reported.

Twelve of the Americans were military personnel, and the other four were civilians. An embassy statement said 14 Americans were treated at a hospital for minor injuries, but the other two remained hospitalized.

The bomb, detonated by remote control, blew a three-foot hole in a stone wall beside the road and smashed the windows of the bus. The vehicle careened off the road into a tree.

No group claimed responsibility.

Police said the bomb exploded at 5:10 p.m. near the central market in Piraeus, the seaport for Athens. The bus was en route to a U.S. Air Force base in the Athens suburb of Glydada on a regularly scheduled run, carrying both Greek and American personnel.

4,244 held without cause

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — The South African police, releasing the first complete government statistics on detainees, said Friday that 4,244 people, one-third of them children, were being held without charge on April 15.

The police also said more than 19,000 people have been detained at some time during the 10-month state of emergency.

Maj. Gen. Francois Steenkamp, from the personal staff of Commissioner of Police Johan Coetzee, gave the figures in an affidavit submitted to the Cape Town Supreme Court in response to an application by opposition politicians to overturn police restrictions banning calls for the release of detainees.

Builders baffled by tragic collapse

By JOHN GUSTAVSEN
Associated Press Writer

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Rescuers slowly cut through a 60-foot tangle of shattered concrete and bent steel Friday, searching for spaces that might hold missing survivors but finding only the bodies of the dead.

At least 12 workers were killed and 16 were missing when a downtown high-rise apartment building under construction collapsed Thursday. Forty-one workers were alive and accounted for, including six who remained hospitalized Friday, authorities said.

"We plan to pull out three more dead bodies tonight who are not part of the original nine," Lenny Grimaldi, spokesman for Mayor Thomas Bucci, said Friday night.

Earlier, Bucci had said the search was continuing. "We've told families that the chances that their loved ones are alive are slim," Bucci said.

Hopes fluctuated throughout the day, with rescue workers thinking they heard moaning and a member of a dog unit saying there were indications of survivors at another location. But as the search dragged on through the raw Friday evening, nothing was found.

Workers with acetylene torches were cutting steel reinforcing bars to release cement blocks and felling bent girders that towered 30 feet over the site of the L'Ambiance Plaza project.

"Right now, we're in a situation where we're trying to get as much concrete off the top and iron from over our heads so it doesn't come down on top of us," said Joe Egan, business agent for the ironworkers local.

Hundreds of workers had volunteered to search the rubble, but Friday morning organizers said all but 30 would be pulled off the site so the work could be more organized.

William Lone, a spokesman for the project developer, Delwood International, said at a news conference, "We've got about 15 theories before us" about what might have caused the tragedy, based on rescue workers' comments.

They include "implosion," a "domino effect" and swaying, "but obviously, at this point, there's a lot of conjecture. It's going to depend on the experts."

John Miles, regional administrator for the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, said one concern was whether the concrete had been cured. If it were "green" or improperly cured, it would have been weak.

This is the method used in constructing the type of building that collapsed Thursday in Bridgeport, Conn. Some witnesses said the top slab apparently slipped but another claimed one of the towers fell into the other, starting the collapse.

"It's a real catastrophe as far as we're concerned," said Robert A. Georgine, president of the AFL-CIO's 15-union Building and Construction Trades Council in Washington.

Georgine said construction safety experts in his office were in contact with OSHA officials and union representatives at the site.

"We're trying to find out what happened; we really don't know yet what the cause was," he said.

Seven Bridgeport police detectives carrying yellow legal pads and an aerial photo of the construction sites fanned out to interview survivors. Detective David Silva said they were hoping to reconstruct where workers were and what happened as the structure collapsed.

Federal mining engineers with experience from the 1985 Mexico City earthquake were setting up geophones, sensitive microphones that can hear through 1,200 feet of granite, said city emergency medical services director Jonathan Best.

Best said all equipment would be turned off and officials would call for silence so that the microphones could be used to check nine "alert areas" pointed out by dogs.

During the day Friday, the site went eerily silent while officials used less sensitive microphones, but Best said, "We haven't been able to get the kind of silence we need."

Police said the search for those missing could take a week because each concrete slab had to be lifted carefully from the wreckage.

Frank Mercaldi, director of the city Building Department, had said he inspected the site Monday. He said he saw no problems then but was there for only a few minutes. He said city inspectors looked at the site several times a week, and called the building's construction technique, known as lift-slab, "totally accepted" in the industry.

That technique involves pouring the concrete floors at ground level and then jacking them into place. Mercaldi said he believes a slab was being put into place when the building collapsed.

The $17 million project in Bridgeport, an industrial city of 142,600 people on the southern Connecticut coast 65 miles northeast of New York City, was to be 13 stories tall, with 218 units.

William Dwyer, construction management officer for the finance authority, said construction was two weeks behind schedule because of difficulties in pouring concrete during the cold winter months.

The building was to be completed by December, said Orest T. Dubno, executive director of the Connecticut Housing Finance Authority, a quasi-state agency that financed construction of the low- and moderate-income project.

Deaf playwright visits SWCID

By JONATHAN GARRETT
At the age of 17, young playwright Terryleen Sacchetti won the National Young Handicapped Playwrights Award in 1984 with the play "Imagine". Now, at the age of 20, she has evolved it into the play "Molded", which the SWCID Drama Department now has in production.

Sacchetti graduated from the Model Secondary School for the Deaf in Washington, D.C. in 1985.

In addition to her playwright achievements, she has several other accomplishments to her credit. Among them are numerous roles on The Silent Network, which is a television network created primarily for the Deaf. She also had a guest appearance on a recent episode of the television series "Cagney and Lacey," and she was on the cast of a Model School play, "God Spell", which toured Europe and Ireland.

Although a native Californian, she lived in San Antonio for five years and says, "It is great to be back home in Texas."

"The play is about a relationship between a deaf dancer and a prisoner following her dance performance at the prison he was in," explains Liz Wolter, drama instructor at SWCID.

Wolter and Sacchetti met at MSSD while Wolter was an intern and Sacchetti was a student.

"I ran into an old friend and asked about Terryleen. When they told me she was going to a playwright's workshop in England, I contacted her and we made arrangements to do her play," says Wolter.

"I wrote the play because I had something to say — which is that people change. We should judge them by who they are, and not by their appearance," Sacchetti says. "People usually won't relate to such things, but if I can show them, maybe then they will be able to relate."

Sacchetti also believes that her play does more than simply help people deal with others. It also can help them deal with themselves, she explains.

A cast of five Texans are preparing for the 8 p.m. May 1 perfor-

Annette and Frankie are back

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — The surf's up, Annette and Frankie are back on the beach and all's well with the world.

Some things never change, and some people, too. Although they both have grown children, Annette Funicello and Frankie Avalon aren't much different from the years when he pursued her in "Beach Blanket Bingo," "How to Stuff a Wild Bikini" and other mindless teen-age movies of the mid-1960s.

Paramount Pictures is sponsoring a reunion of the pair in "Back to the Beach," in which they play onetime beach lovers who move to Ohio. He is a successful car dealer who wins a trip to Hawaii. On the way they stop in California to visit their college-age daughter.

The movie was recently filming on Malibu Pier under the direction of Lyndall Hobbs, a newcomer from Australia. The scene had Avalon and Miss Funicello storming up to an apartment over a bait shop. They suspect — horrors — that their daughter is shackled up with a surfer.

Could that ever have happened in one of their movies?

"Never," Miss Funicello said. "Frankie was always trying to get me, but my line was 'Not without a ring.'"

"Maybe we'd have a little kissing in the back seat of the car," Avalon said. "That was it."

Miss Funicello, 43, and Avalon, 47, are pop icons from a more innocent age. She was the San Fernando Valley girl who became the most popular member of Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse Club (1955-59). She moved into features with "The Shaggy Dog" and "Babes in Toyland" and recorded the hit singles, "Tall Paul" and "How Will I Know My Love?"

He was the south Philadelphia boy who organized his own band at 14, was discovered and made million sellers with "Venus" and "Swingin' on a Rainbow." He starred with Alan Ladd in "Guns of Timberland" and John Wayne in "The Alamo."

The independent American International Pictures united the young stars in 1963 with "Beach Party" and the pairing continued until "Fireball 500" in 1965.

"We made those picture in three weeks — 15 working days — but we got a lot into them," Miss Funicello recalled. "The budget of 'Back to the Beach' is up to $10 million, and we're shooting it in 8½ weeks."

Their appearances together since that time have been sporadic: a Dick Clark special now and then, her appearing as a guest on his CBS variety show. They followed separate careers. She had occasional TV shots ("Love Boat," "Fantasy Island") and was the nine-year spokeswoman for Skippy peanut butter; he was a headliner in Las Vegas, Atlantic City and elsewhere.

"I have been trying to retire for a long time," Miss Funicello said. "A couple of years ago I went back into a recording studio for the first time in 18 years. I did a country and western album in Nashville, and I was scared to death. Singing has always frightened me, so I decided I had to do it."

"I loved it, and now I'm back into recording because of this picture. We're going to have a soundtrack album."

In 1965, she married her agent, Jack Gilardi, and they had three children, now 21, 17 and 12. The marriage ended in 1983.

Business briefs

Taco Villa becomes Texas Taco

BIG SPRING — Taco Villa, now Texas Taco, has changed only its name, Owner Gary Cox said. "We're not going to lock up and go away; we're here to stay," he said, noting that the business is now eight years old. Because of changes in the Taco Villa franchise, Cox said he decided it was time for his own change. The menu will stay the same, but a few specialty items will be added. "Now we have the freedom to give the customers what they want," Cox said. Cox also owns the Texas Burger and together with the Texas Taco employees about 50 people. The number will not change, he said. Cox said he has been involved in Taco Villa since 1970 when he was a manager, so the change "wasn't done lightly."

A grand opening is planned for May.

Pilands named in business contest

COLORADO CITY — Eddie and Joy Piland, owners of Eddie's Pharmacy Inc. of Colorado City, have been named alternates in the Small Business Person of the Year competition sponsored by the U.S. Small Business Administration. The Pilands were named alternates in the 71-county area which comprises SBA's Lubbock District.

National Small Business Week is proclaimed annually by the President to honor the nation's 15 million small businesses.

Last year, Raymond and Virginia Fuller of Colorado City, owners of Fuller's Foods, were named as the Lubbock District Small Business Person of the Year.

Chamber seeking nominees

The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Business Committee is seeking nominations for the Small Business Person of the Year award for the Big Spring area.

The award is to be presented at the next community luncheon on May 14.

Nominees must be involved with a locally-owned business which has no more than 50 employees; be someone who has given to the community in other than his normal business service; be recognized by the community as successful; and be a member of the Chamber.

Nominations should be sent to the Chamber, Box 1391, Big Spring 79721. The name and type of the nominee's business, involvement in business organizations and community service activities should be cited.

Scott awarded for nutrition service

Kenna M. Scott of Coahoma, chief dietician at the Big Spring State Hospital, was awarded a certificate of appreciation by State Commissioner Gary Miller at the Annual Nutrition and Food Service Management Seminar in March.

The certificate was awarded for her outstanding achievements as chief dietician, according to a hospital spokesperson. She was employed Dec. 23, 1983.

Scott also teaches nutrition at Howard College, helps with the annual Health Fair, and participates in West Texas Dietetic Association meetings. She and her husband Edmund Scott have two boys.

Senators, columnists to speak

Sen. Chic Hecht (R-Nevada), former Sen. Cliff Hansen (R-Wyoming), and columnists Hugh Sidney and Mark Shields are scheduled to speak at the Independent Petroleum Association of America midyear meeting in Reno, Nev. May 5-8.

Independent oil and gas producers will gather at Bally's Hotel in Reno to discuss "The Challenge of Change," this year's theme.

Hecht, elected in 1982, is the only member of the Senate to serve on the Energy and Natural Resources, Banking and Intelligence Committees at the same time.

Sidney is Time Magazine's White House correspondent and has been reporting and writing about the American presidency for more than 25 years. He has been author and contributor to six books on the presidency and has been a panelist on the public affairs talk show "Agnorsky & Co." for more than 15 years.

Shields is a syndicated newspaper political columnist, a humorist, and what the Washington Post described as "a walking almanac of American politics."

Hansen is a member of the National Steering Committee of the Jefferson Energy Foundation, established to heighten public awareness of national energy issues.

Fina announces net income

DALLAS — American Petrofina Inc., announced last week a net income of $19,829,000, or $1.50 per share. The income compares to a net loss of $39,696,000, or $3.31 per share for the first quarter of 1986. Sales and other operating revenues increased to $539,454,000 from $504,447,000 in the same period last year.

Drilling report

The price of West Texas crude is $18.60, as of Friday.

These are the latest oil and gas activity reports filed with the Texas Railroad Commission for the five-county crossroads country.

A new producer was brought on line in Howard County's Howard-Glasscock Field, with Robert G. Cox as the operator.

Located eight miles northeast of Forsan, the well is in a 160-acre lease in the W&NW Survey. It is designated as the No. 1 Patti Batjer.

The well indicated potential to pump 92 barrels of oil per day, plus 126 barrels of water. It bottomed at 2,900 feet and will produce from perforations in the Middle Clear Fork Formation, 3,271 to 3,772 feet into the wellbore.

At a location 25 miles southeast of Big Spring, Mobil Producing (finaled) an oil producer in Howard County's Howard-Glasscock Field.

The well is designated as the No. 18 Douthitt "B", pumping 46 barrels of oil per day, plus 23 barrels of water.

Location is in an 80-acre lease in the W&NW Survey. The operation bottomed at 2,500 feet, and will produce from a perforated interval in the San Andres Formation, 2,146 to 2,238 feet into the hole.

An 11,500-ft. wildcat well is planned by Barbara Fasken of Midland at a drillsite nine miles west of Big Spring. The location is in a 160-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

The well will be known as the No. 29-1 Jack Wilkinson.

Anardarko Petroleum has suspended operations at the No. 1 White, a developmental well in the Middleton Field, Howard County. The well is located 17 miles northwest of Big Spring in an 80-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

The operation was spudded last Oct. 30, and was bottomed at 8,626 feet and plugged back to 4,256 feet.

A Big Spring-based operator has staked location for the No. 2 Nail, a developmental well to be located 17 miles south of Loraine. With projected total depth of 7,200 feet, the well will be drilled in a 328-acre lease in Mitchell County's H&TC Survey, HVA Field. The operator is John S. Goodrich.

A 3,500-ft. developmental well is planned by William H. Zahone, Jr. of Mattson, Illinois, at a drillsite one mile south of Iatan, Mitchell County. The location is in a 40-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

Well's designation is the No. 2 Virginia Lotzsch. It will be drilled in the East Iatan Howard Field.

No commercial shows have been logged at the No. 1 Mayce, a wildcat well in Mitchell County. Primary Fuels was the operator. The well was located 11 miles southeast of Colorado City in a 680-acre lease in the H&TC Survey.

Spudded March 8, the well was taken to a 7,500-ft. bottom.

The No. 1 R. Key, an 8,500-ft. developmental well, is scheduled to be drilled in Borden County's South Rafter Cross Field. Talley Production of Midland is the operator. Drillsite is six miles east of Gail.

The well will be spudded in a lease in the T&P Survey. The well is aimed at production in the Ellenburger Formation.

Enron Oil & Gas has completed a re-entry operation at the No. 1 Lemley-Red Mud Creek "324", a developmental well in Borden County's West Myrtle Field. The well is located 13 miles east of Gail in a 648-acre lease in the H&TC Survey.

The operation showed potential to pump 60 barrels of oil per day, plus 60 barrels of water. Production will be from perforations in the Ellenburger Formation, 8,111 to 8,184 feet into the wellbore.

Nortex Gas & Oil originally completed the well Nov. 29, 1983, and it pumped 50 barrels of oil per day, plus 70 barrels of water from Strawn Formation perforations at 7,961 to 7,990 feet. Bottomhole was at 8,184 feet.

Drillsite has been staked for the No. 2 Elma L. Slaughter "B", a 10,250-ft. developmental well in the Sulphur Draw Field, Martin County. The operation will be located 12 miles north of Lenorah in a lease in the Bauer-Cockrell Survey. The operator is Sabine Corp. of Midland.

Westland Oil Development of Montgomery has filed for permit to drill the No. 1 Doralee Newell, an 11,500-ft. wildcat well six miles north of Garden City. Location is in a 643-acre lease in Glasscock County's T&P Survey.

A Midland-based operator has staked location for the No. 1 L. M. Harrison et al, a wildcat well to be located 11 miles northwest of Garden City. With projected total depth of 9,000 feet, the well will be drilled in a 164-acre lease in Glasscock County's T&P Survey.

The operator is Texaco Inc.

Mobil Producing has given up on its efforts to make a producer out of the No. 1 McDowell "Sec. 34", a wildcat well in Glasscock County. The operation was located 11 miles northwest of Garden City in a 644-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

The well was spudded last Oct. 16, and probed to a dry bottom at 8,900 feet.

Amoco Production has cancelled plans to drill the No. 8 E.L. Powell, a developmental well in the Dewey-Lake Field, Glasscock County. The operation had carried permit for 8,900 feet of hole, and was to have been located 11 miles northwest of Garden City in a 1,845-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

New retirement center to provide alternative to nursing home care

Canterbury North and South retirement homes soon will be joined by a third facility, Bob Shapland, executive director of St. Mary's Episcopal Retirement Homes Inc., has said. The new project is designed to provide a higher level of care for the elderly who need assistance with daily activities but don't need nursing care, he said. The facility should fill a gap in the local market, according to Shapland, usually those customers must choose between living in a nursing home or with relatives. Shapland said surveys by mail and in the Herald and a survey by an independent company indicate a strong market for the facility. The $3 million, 96-apartment building is planned for a location just west of the Canterbury houses, at Lancaster and 17th Streets.

Construction will begin in about 6 months and will be completed in about a year, he said. Feasibility studies and some architectural work have been completed, and the design phase is beginning, he said. Although originally, one- and two-room plans were designed, plans have been altered to include five different floor plans, up to a two-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment, he said. Rent will vary according to floor plan and will include three meals per day, housekeeping, activities, a full-time nurse and assistance with transportation to stores, church, banks and other places, he said. Canterbury North and South house about 190 residents, and has a waiting list, he said. The newer Canterbury North building opened in August 1985.

Catch of the Day

Melvin Dickerson is the owner of Mel's Catch of the Day Fish Market at 504 South Gregg St. The store sells fresh fish and seafood, ranging from catfish, shrimp and oysters to frog legs and octopus. It opened March 26, and is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. If he does not have a particular item in stock, he can special order anything, Dickerson said — "If it swims in water, we can get it."

Safeway employees weather last day

DALLAS (AP) — Almost 8,500 Safeway employees, including approximately 87 in Big Spring, tried to spend their last day of work normally Friday, the closing day of 131 of the company's North Texas supermarkets, despite the shoppers who emptied the shelves around them.

Most of the stores have been purchased by other grocery store chains, but few of the workers were guaranteed jobs with the new owners.

The two Big Spring Safeways were purchased by Furr's Inc. "We're kind of misty-eyed about it. There are a lot of memories and there's been a lot of hard work," said Tolbert Runyon, a clerk for Safeway for 11 years.

Runyon and other employees at a Safeway in the Lakewood section of Dallas spoke of their co-workers and customers as members of a family.

"I hate to leave the people. They've gotten used to us and we've gotten used to them," said Amelia Young, manager of the deli section, which had been emptied of all but a few items.

The store's meat counters and produce shelves featured only empty trays and old price stickers, and many other shelves were barren. Customer Martha Heimberg said she expected to miss the familiarity of the store and its workers.

"It feels like my mother said it felt when they closed down the A&P's," she said. "I know the people here. I don't know how they're going to replace them."

At a Safeway in Paris, in northeast Texas, workers planned a party to gather with family and friends one last time.

"After that, Monday is mainly going to the unemployment office and looking for jobs," clerk Karen Jackson said. Only a few management employees are expected to be transferred to other Safeway divisions, said Dallas regional Safeway spokesman Brian Dowling.

"All of us under the circumstances are feeling badly ... you can imagine how they're feeling. It's tough," he said.

Safeway announced the restructuring April 3, saying the stores were either being sold or closed for the company to become cost-competitive.

Company officials said they did not know how many of the former Safeway workers would get jobs with the various buyers of the stores

Add zest to bureaucracy bashing

By TOM PETERS

We all agree that bureaucracy in general impedes action, and that inaction is intolerable in today's fast-changing business environment. And in a recent column I paid special heed to the necessity of smashing functional barriers, in order to speed product development as well as all forms of responsiveness to customers.

But how do you get your arms around the gray, amorphous mass called bureaucracy in any practical way? The annual plea to "cut bureaucracy" helps not a whit; neither does the paperwork-reduction committee.

But there are two surprisingly effective tools: fun and participation by all. Turn the dull chore of unraveling the red tape and dismantling the vertical, functional fiefdoms into a spirited campaign. And be sure to measure the results.

Be colorful, even zany. Lock your office door for good and move your desk into the central work area. Get rid of all your file cabinets — a colleague calls this "just-in-time inventory management for white-collar workers."

Refuse to read any reports that are longer than three pages. Put big, cardboard boxes around your desk, and throw unnecessary or excessively long reports into them — unread.

Label the boxes in red: "This month's unread paperwork." At the end of a month or so, order beer and pretzels, and have your colleagues join you at the incinerator. Burn in public the accumulated, unread paper.

Have everyone continuously nominate forms and irritating regulations that they want eliminated. Appoint a high court, of principally line and junior people, to evaluate the nominations — fast. Insist that at least 50 percent be accepted.

Peters on excellence

Each month or so, perhaps coincident with the paper burning, have an awards ceremony, with prizes for all those Mickey Mouse regulation-removal ideas have been accepted. Add the newly nixed forms and procedures to the incinerator.

Encourage direct communication by allowing generous limits on expenses for airplane travel and phone bills, if they are aimed at freeing up projects or negotiations stuck at crucial milestones.

Insist on a monthly, one-page report on log jams unblocked by personal presence — again, give awards for those who have sped action the most.

Include special positive recognition for committee meetings missed in order to personally unblock a stalled project. Most of the committee meetings are, after all, devoted to projects that are stuck. It's far better to act than to debate and apportion blame for the inaction.

As for breaking down those vertical, functional barriers, begin by treating your group like a company — treat other internal functions like outsider vendors and customers. Practice "customer" listening and "customer" visiting. Reward your "salespersons" (that is, everyone) for keeping suppliers and customers happy. Hold "vendor" and "customer" appreciation days and open houses for those other functions.

Suppose you are in manufacturing. Invite the entire division controller's staff to your next Friday beer bust. Invite the distribution center to the one after that.

Send one of your shift supervisors to the purchasing department for two months to work on a special project. Send a thank-you note to the person in the accounting department who worked all weekend to get the numbers you needed for a critical project, with a copy to his boss and his boss' boss.

In fact, direct 25 percent of your formal pats on the back and discretionary bonus awards to those in other functions who vigorously supported your group.

Devote another 25 percent of that discretionary bonus pool for spot and year-end merit awards to people in your group for notable acts of interfunctional skid greasing.

In other words, keep piling on attention getters that say in a host of ways that every manager's chief objective should be to proactively facilitate action, not block it in the name of preserving functional integrity.

Here are a couple of other bureaucracy busters: Allocate a quarter of your weekly staff or monthly operations meetings to reviewing and devising acts of cross-functional cooperation and barrier removal.

Also at that meeting, poke fun at bureaucratic behavior, starting with your own. Give yourself a report card, citing violations such as excessive paperwork and turf-guarding actions.

Also grade your dealings with every other key function — and have the outside functions submit their grade of you. Rotate responsibility for report-card preparation among staff members — give kudos for most thorough report cards No "A" grades allowed!

Everyone's annual performance evaluations should have a major component devoted to progress on proactive, functional barrier bashing. Anything less than a high grade on this vital attribute eliminates the possibility of a merit raise; on the other hand, a very high grade on this activity virtually ensures a sizable merit raise.

The issue of speeding all action through barrier bashing and bureaucracy reduction is of the greatest strategic consequence to almost every firm.

So put them at the top of your agenda through fun, outrageous acts, participation, awards, rewards, report cards, ceremonies and annual evaluations. Get everyone involved in seeking out and removing hurdles that block fast innovation and overall responsiveness.

Allen's pitching, big sixth stall the Tors

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

The Big Spring Steers blew open a tight game in the sixth inning and went on to defeat the Lamesa Tornados 9-3 in District 2-4A baseball action Friday afternoon at Steer Field.

Holding a 4-3 lead going into the bottom of the sixth, Big Spring erupted for five runs to put the game on ice. The rally capped off a nifty pitching performance by Steers' hurler Aaron Allen.

Allen went the distance while allowing just four hits. The junior left-hander fanned 12 Lamesa batters while leading Big Spring to its fifth district win in seven outings, and a tie for second with Pecos. The only time he had trouble with the Tors came in the third and fourth innings. He had a wild streak in the third and errors hurt him in the fourth.

The Steers' big sixth inning was started off by Eric Kinman, who singled. Kinman was forced out at second when Danny Gambol grounded to the shortstop.

Matt Garrett, who had two singles in four trips to the plate, singled. This spelled the end for Lamesa starter David Scott. Scott went five-and-one-third innings, allowed six runs and eight hits. He was relieved by Tim Berry.

Berry walked Ramon Ontiveros, loading the bases for third baseman Eric Thompson. Thompson came through with a single, scoring Gambol and Garrett. It was Thompson's second single of the game and his second and third RBI.

Allen, who had the best day at the plate for the Steers, followed with a double that scored Ontiveros. Allen got two doubles and a single in three trips to the plate, driving in two runs.

The final two Big Spring runs scored when Chad Wash hit a high chopper to the shortstop. The Lamesa first baseman missed the throw and Thompson and Matt Burrow, running for Allen, both scored, giving Big Spring a 9-3 lead.

Big Spring got its 4-3 lead behind some aggressive base running, as the Steers slid safely on four of five base stealing attempts.

"After the first two times we stole second I knew their catcher couldn't throw us out," said Steers' coach John Velasquez after the game. "We really do have good speed on the basepaths."

Big Spring took a 2-0 lead after the first inning of play. Ontiveros led things off with a walk and pro-mply stole second. Thompson followed with a walk and Allen's single scored Ontiveros. Wash followed with a single, scoring Thompson.

The score stayed that way until the top of the third, when Allen suffered control problems. He started off the inning by throwing 14 consecutive balls, loading the bases for Lamesa center fielder Willie Butler.

Butler got Lamesa's first hit of the game when he banged a long single off the left field fence. The hit scored Robert Caballao. But Armando Jimenez was thrown out at third when he raced halfway to home, saw he had no chance to score, and retreated back to third. Steers' catcher Charley Ogle's throw was there in plenty of time for the out.

Then Allen regained his control and ended the inning by fanning Wes Shook and Scott. Velasquez said he was on the verge of putting in a relief pitcher for his ace.

"He came within one pitch of getting pulled. When Aaron doesn't walk people, he's a great pitcher," said Velasquez.

In the fourth inning Lamesa took a brief 3-2 lead, thanks to two Big Spring errors. Butler had the only hit of the inning. His double scored Brian Wilke, who had walked, and Carl Pennington, who had reached base on an error. But Allen pitched out of a bases loaded jam by getting Shook to ground out to second.

The Steers regained the lead in the bottom of the fourth. Felix Rodriguez walked, stole second and went to third on a bad throw from the catcher. After Kinman and Ogle made outs, Garrett drove in Rodriguez with a single, tying the score at 3-3. Garrett then stole second and advanced to third on a bad throw by the catcher. He scored on Thompson's infield hit.

This set the stage for the decisive sixth inning.

The win gives Big Spring a 9-12 overall record. Lamesa falls to 2-6 in district play. Big Spring was supposed to play Fort Stockton today at 1 p.m., but the game has been postponed again because of wet fields. The game will be played Monday night at 7 p.m. in Fort Stockton.

Two tales of two high jumpers

Nichols shoots for a return trip

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

FORSAN — Brant Nichols wants to go to Austin again.

For Nichols, a junior at Forsan and a high jumper, the road to Austin leads through Blankenship Field. He'll have to cross that road at the Region I-AA track meet May 1-2 to return to the capital city.

Last year Nichols high jumped a career-best 6-4, got second at regional, and made the trip to the state track meet. At Austin he jumped 6-2 and wasn't in the running.

Last week at the District 6-2A meet, Nichols jumped a school record 6-8 and won the gold medal, thus winning the rubber-match with Stanton jumper Derek Sorley (see related story).

It marked the third time they had met. The two traded wins on each other's turf. Sorley beat Nichols at Forsan's meet, and Nichols beat Sorley in Stanton.

But Sorley won't be competing in the regional meet because he had knee surgery this week to correct a nagging knee problem.

But Nichols will have his hands full even if Sorley isn't at the other meets. There are three other jumpers that have gone 6-8 or better.

Add that to the fact that Nichols has a hard time jumping on the Blankenship Field surface, and Nichols has all he can handle.

"I jumped in Big Spring last year and this year at the ABC Relays," he said. "I had an off day and won the JV division with six-foot. That Big Spring track is rough on your feet. It's solid asphalt. I've been having a bruised heel problem and it started after the ABC Relays."

After the ABC Relays things started to get better for Nichols. He jumped a personal best 6-6 at a meet in Wall and capped it off by going 6-8 at regional. It was a smooth 6-8 at that. Starting at 5-10, he didn't miss once until trying 6-9.

"I was very consistent, which is something I wasn't at the other meets. I had one good jump at 6-9. I think I've got a 6-9 jump in me.

"But I've been thinking, with the surface the way it is at Big Spring, maybe 6-6 might take it. This is probably the toughest region in the state for AA high jumpers and it's going to be tough to go to the big house."

But Nichols has already proved that he knows how to cross that road.

Sorley's not counting his luck

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

A lot has changed for Derek Sorley over the past week.

Last week the Stanton senior was one of the premier high jumpers in District 6-2A and the entire area. He had earned a trip to the Region I-AA meet in Big Spring by jumping a career-high 6-6 while finishing second to Forsan's Brant Nichols. He had also just gotten a brand new Camaro.

This week, he doesn't have a car, and he's sporting a brace on his right knee, because of surgery he underwent in Midland. Needless to say, he won't get to jump at regional.

It was a shocking turn of events for Sorley, who recently signed a letter-of-intent to play football for Bethany College in Lindsborg, Kansas. This is the way the tale goes.

Sorley, an All-District and All-Crossroads Country linebacker, injured the knee about the middle of football season. He missed two games and returned to finish the season. Although the knee continued to bother him, the 6-2, 175-pounder played basketball, earning All-District honors and helping lead the Buffaloes to the state playoffs.

Sorley changed doctors and his new doctor scheduled surgery for him Monday. That way he could compete in district on Thursday. The surgery was to be a minor arthroscopic procedure. As planned, the doctors would remove cartilage and Sorley would recover in time to compete at regional.

But it didn't turn out that way. The doctor found more damage in the back of his knee, and minor surgery turned into major surgery. Instead of coming back in three days, Sorley will be in a brace and use crutches for six weeks.

As for his car, it was totaled by a drunk driver who ran over it while it was parked in front of Sorley's house Friday night.

"When I woke up from surgery I had a brace on my knee," he recalled. "I was wondering what was going on. Then the physical therapist brought me some crutches. Next my dad came over, grabbed my hand and said 'Son, your high school career is over.'"

"It was really a tough break because I was hoping to push Brant (Nichols, Forsan high jumper) at regionals. In fact, I thought it was my time to win since he had beaten me at district," he laughed.

But now Sorley has gotten over the initial shock of everything and is ready to carry on.

"I just want to get off these crutches and get my knee back into shape for football. And I've already found a Firebird that I like. But I've got to face it. My high school career is over. The future is now."

Sikma led Bucks edge Sixers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Jack Sikma scored 11 fourth-quarter points Friday night, including a 10-foot jumper with 54 seconds left for the go-ahead basket, as the Milwaukee Bucks defeated Philadelphia 107-104 in the opening game of their NBA playoff series.

Sikma's basket gave the Bucks a 106-104 lead and Dudley Bradley added a free throw with 13 seconds left after the 76ers lost the ball twice in the final 32 seconds with a chance to tie.

When Bradley missed the second free throw, the 76ers got a last-chance 3-point field goal attempt. But Charles Barkley misfired and Julius Erving was tied up by Paul Pressey with four seconds remaining.

The Bucks' Terry Cummings then missed two free throws with two seconds to go. Cummings led the Bucks with 21 points, while Sikma added 17.

Barkley, playing on a sprained ankle, scored 21 points for the 76ers. His steal and full-court drive tied the game at 104-104 with 1:10 to go.

Maurice Cheeks and Roy Hinson added 20 points apiece for the 76ers.

Cheeks scored 12 points in the third quarter, including eight in an opening 16-7 spurt that gave the 76ers a 67-58 lead.

Trailing 76-70 with 3:30 left in the period, Cummings, Sidney Moncrief and Craig Hodges converted three-point plays as Milwaukee took a 79-78 lead and held an 85-84 advantage entering the final period.

Hawks 110, Pacers 94

ATLANTA (AP) — Dominique Wilkins, shaking off a poor-shooting first half, scored 27 of his 35 points in the second half and carried the Atlanta Hawks to a 110-94 victory over the Indiana Pacers Friday night in the opener of their first-round NBA playoff series.

Game 2 of the best-of-5 series will be played Sunday night in Atlanta.

Wilkins, the second-leading scorer in the NBA with a 29.1 average, connected on three of 13 shots in the first half and had eight points as the Hawks managed only a 54-51 halftime lead.

The 6-foot-7 forward, however, hit nine of 10 field-goal attempts in the second half, including 5-for-6 in the third period when the Hawks opened a 75-67 lead.

Wilkins had 15 points in the final period, hitting four shots without a miss, including a 3-point goal. Wilkins was 10-for-10 from the free throw line.

Neither team led by more than five points until 5:17 remained in the third period when Randy Wittman's jumper gave Atlanta a 64-58 lead.

The Pacers, who split six regular-season games with Atlanta, including two victories at the Omni, stayed close behind the shooting of Steve Stipanovich, Chuck Person and Wayman Tisdale.

Stipanovich had 22 points, Person 21 and Tisdale 20.

Kevin Willis kept the Hawks in the game in the first half, collecting 15 of his 21 points.

Cliff Levingston scored Atlanta's first four points of the final period to give the Hawks a 79-67 lead before Wilkins took charge, scoring 10 of Atlanta's next 14 points for a 93-74 margin with seven minutes left.

Pistons 106, Bullets 92
PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Isiah Thomas scored 15 of his 34 points in the second quarter Friday night as the Detroit Pistons beat the Washington Bullets 106-92 in the opening game of their Eastern Conference playoff series.

The best-of-five series resumes Sunday night in the Pontiac Silverdome.

Thomas scored 11 of his second-quarter points during a 21-8 run that saw the Pistons go from a one-point deficit with 4:50 remaining in the period to a 57-45 lead at halftime. Detroit led the rest of the way.

The Pistons scored the first six points of the second half for an 18-point lead, but the Bullets, with Jeff Malone hitting 12 of his 20 points, cut the deficit to 73-71 with a minute remaining in the period.

However, the Pistons outscored the Bullets 7-2 in the final 60 seconds for an 80-73 lead going into the final period.

Thomas and Adrian Dantley then helped the Pistons pull away in the fourth quarter.

Dantley, who missed all of last year's playoffs with the Utah Jazz because of severe back spasms, finished with 19 points.

Terry Catledge led Washington with 25 points.

Extra-inning homer halts Astros' streak

HOUSTON (AP) — Ron Oester's two-run homer in the 11th inning powered Cincinnati to a 4-3 victory over Houston, ending the Astros' nine-game home winning streak.

Oester's home run, his first of the season, came off loser Charlie Kerfeld, 0-2, and also scored pinch-runner Leo Garcia.

Rob Murphy, 3-1, was the winner in relief, going two innings and striking out two while walking one. Ron Robinson came on in the 11th to register his third save, although he gave up a solo homer to Kevin Bass.

Houston's Billy Hatcher had his 16-game hitting streak halted, going 0-for-5.

Kal Daniels hit his NL-leading seventh home run to lead off the game for Cincinnati.

Mets 2, Cardinals 1

NEW YORK (AP) — Sid Fernandez pitched six-hitter, striking out 11, and Keith Hernandez's RBI single keyed a two-run rally in the sixth inning, giving the New York Mets a rain-soaked 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The game began in a light drizzle and ended in swirling showers with temperatures in the upper 40s.

Fernandez, 3-1, walked only one batter, Vince Coleman, in the sixth, and it led to the game's first run. Coleman stole second and scored one out later on Terry Pendleton's opposite-field single to right.

Greg Mathews, 1-2, shut out the Mets until the sixth, when New York scored both of its runs on only one hit.

Mookie Wilson walked and moved to second on a sacrifice. Hernandez followed with his RBI single and Mathews then walked Gary Carter and Darryl Strawberry to load the bases. Kevin McReynolds hit a ball back up the middle that deflected off reliever Ray Soff's glove. Soff recovered to throw out McReynolds, but Hernandez scored without a throw.

Cubs 6, Expos 4

MONTREAL (AP) — Former Montreal star Andre Dawson had three doubles and two RBI while Leon Durham homered and drove in three runs to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 6-4 victory over the Expos Friday.

Giants 7, Braves 5

ATLANTA (AP) — Candy Maldonado drove in three runs with a two-run homer in the first inning and a tie-breaking single in the eighth as the San Francisco Giants downed the Atlanta Braves 7-5 Friday night.

The victory snapped a two-game losing string for the Giants and ex-

American League

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rob Deer hit his major league-leading eighth homer and Glenn Braggs' run-scoring single broke a 4-4 tie in the seventh inning as the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Baltimore Orioles 6-4 Friday night.

The game was the first since the Brewers' season-opening winning streak was stopped at a record-tying 13 games with a loss to Chicago Tuesday night.

Teddy Higuera, 4-0, allowed seven hits, struck out five and walked two in completing his second game of the year. He retired 15 straight batters after allowing four runs in the second inning.

Paul Molitor started the Brewers rally in the seventh with a bloop single to right, advanced to second on Robin Yount's sacrifice bunt and went to third when Baltimore starter Scott McGregor, 0-3, balked. Braggs' ground single to right scored Molitor and chased

McGregor for Mark Williamson, Royals 7, Tigers 3

DETROIT (AP) — Bo Jackson and Jamie Quirk scored consecutive runs on wild pitches as Kansas City, despite committing five errors, beat the Tigers, handing Detroit its fifth straight loss.

The Royals took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Kevin Seitzer walked, moved to second on a passed ball by Tigers catcher Orlando Mercado and scored on Juan Beniquez's single. The run broke a 20-inning scoreless streak by Kansas City, which had been shut out its last two games and in four of its previous five.

Angels 8, Twins 1

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Wally Joyner had four hits, including a three-run double in the fourth inning, and Don Sutton earned his 311th career pitching win as California beat Minnesota.

Sutton, 1-3, moved into a 13th place tie with Tom Seaver for career victories. He struck out two, walked one and allowed one run while working 6 2-3 innings.

Joyner hit a three-run double in the fourth inning to give California a 7-0 lead. He also had three singles.

Indians 6, Yankees 5

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cory Snyder lined a run-scoring single to center to cap a two-run rally in the bottom of the ninth inning, giving Cleveland Indians the victory and ending New York's 10-game winning streak.

The Yankees had rallied from a 4-1 deficit to a 5-4 lead behind home runs by Rickey Henderson in both the eighth and ninth innings.

Pat Tabler, however, led off the bottom of the ninth with a single to center off reliever Cecilio Guante.

Dave Righetti, 2-1, New York's ace reliever, came on and walked Julio Franco and yielded a single to Joe Carter that loaded the bases.

Pinch hitter Andre Thornton hit a sacrifice fly to left to tie the game. Snyder followed with his game-winning hit, scoring Franco from second.

Steve Carlton got the victory despite allowing three runs on three hits in two innings in relief of Phil Niekro, who was seeking his 313th lifetime win. Instead, Carlton got his 325th.

With two outs in the ninth, Wayne Tolleson's fly ball fell between center fielder Dave Gallagher and shortstop Franco for a single. Henderson followed with his fifth home run of the season, a shot to left.

Gooden to check out of rehab soon

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Mets pitcher Dwight Gooden will be released from a drug rehabilitation center next week, his attorney said Friday.

"I believe it's Thursday, but I don't believe the date is definite," Charles Ehrlich said in an interview from St. Petersburg, Fla. "It could be a day earlier or a day later, but it's in that time frame."

Gooden, who won the National League's Cy Young Award in 1985, was admitted to the Smithers Center for Alcohol and Drug Treatment on April 2 after he tested positive for cocaine.

Ehrlich said doctors at the center determined that Gooden was an occasional cocaine user, not an addict.

"We always felt that was the case," he said. "We knew that Dwight was not a big drug user."

Ehrlich said he expects Gooden to return to the Mets within a few weeks after he is released from the center.

"He's still in good shape, but he'll need some time to get his pitching eye back," he said.

Ehrlich said he is confident Gooden will be able to handle the pressure he will face when he returns to the Mets.

"Pressure is part of his business," he said. "All he's thinking about right now is getting back on the field and playing baseball again. He's feeling good. He's anxious and ready to go."

Mets spokesman Jay Horwitz would not comment on reports that Gooden would be released Thursday. Dr. Allan Lans, associate director of the center, also declined comment.

Horwitz said the Mets will know more about the 22-year-old pitcher's status after General Manager Frank Cashen talks with doctors at the Smithers Center this weekend. He also said Mets' officials will discuss Gooden's situation with baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberroth before making any decision about the pitcher's future.

Richard Levin, a spokesman for Ueberroth, said the commissioner will be involved in the final decision on Gooden's playing status. Gooden was not penalized by Ueberroth because he agreed to undergo treatment.

In 1985, Gooden was 24-4 with a 1.53 ERA and became the youngest player to win a Cy Young Award. Last season, he slipped to 17-6 with a 2.84 ERA and was hit hard in two World Series starts.

During the past year, Gooden has been involved in a series of off-the-field incidents.

Colts set on Bennett

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Colts, picking second in Tuesday's NFL college draft, intend to take linebacker Cornelius Bennett of Alabama, and Coach Ron Meyer said Friday he sees nothing that will change that decision.

Tampa Bay, which picks first, has already signed quarterback Vinny Testaverde of Miami, leaving Indianapolis free to take any other player or make a pre-draft trade.

Meyer said the Colts have heard from every other team in the league trying to lure them into a trade for the draft pick.

"To be honest, I've initiated a few calls just to see what was available," he said. "Yet our feeling is to go ahead and pick our guy and get him signed."

The 6-foot-2, 236-pound Bennett heads Meyer's list of three or four top players available in the draft. He wouldn't identify the others on his list because, he said, Bennett is the one he wants.

"I don't see anything changing that. I, as a coach, have liked this youngster from day one. ... The Colts will be well served for many years."

Meyer, who guided the previously winless Colts to victories in their final three games after Rod Dowhower was fired last season, said there is almost no likelihood he would trade the draft pick because no team could ever offer enough in compensation.

If Bennett is picked, it would be the second year in a row the Colts made an Alabama player their top draft choice. Last year, Indianapolis drafted defensive end Jon Hand, who became a starter as a rookie.

Oilers trade receiver Tim Smith

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers wide receiver Tim Smith, the team's top receiver in 1983-84, was traded to the San Diego Chargers Friday for an undisclosed draft choice in 1988, the NFL club said.

Smith, a native of San Diego and an off-season resident there, had 152 catches in the 1983 and 1984 seasons, more than any other AFC wide receiver in that time span.

"This is an excellent opportunity for Tim to finish his career in his hometown of San Diego," Oilers General Manager Ladd Herzog said. "All of the Oilers wish him the best."

Smith caught 206 passes in seven seasons with the Oilers and was their primary receiving threat until he was replaced last season by a faster Ernest Givins and Drew Hill.

Smith ranks third on the team's all-time list with 3,107 receiving yards and 12 touchdowns.

Levi leads Houston Open

THE WOODLANDS, Texas (AP) — Wayne Levi birdied three of his first four holes, then broke away from six challengers on the final three holes Friday to take a 1-shot lead after 36 holes of the $600,000 Houston Open.

Levi, who started the day four strokes off the first-round pace set by Dave Barr and Ed Fiori, got his sixth birdie with a 20-foot putt on the par-4, 413-yard No. 7 hole and finished with a 5-under-par 67.

It was good enough to break him from the pack for a two-round total of 137, 7 under par for the par-72, 7,042-yard Tournament Players Course at The Woodlands Country Club.

The 156-man field was cut to 73 players who shot 1-over par 145 or better for 36 holes. Failing to make the cut were No. 3 money winner Ben Crenshaw and host pro John Mahaffey.

"The ball kind of slipped about 20 feet past the hole and I made it coming back for a birdie," said Levi, who has missed four cuts and withdrawn once in 10 tournaments.

Schuler named NBA's top coach

NEW YORK (AP) — Portland Trail Blazers rookie coach Mike Schuler was voted runaway winner of the Red Auerbach Trophy as the NBA's 1987 Coach of the Year on Friday, after rebuilding his team around defense and a gaping hole left by the injury of Sam Bowie.

"There's no substitute for winning," Schuler said, and he proved that.

He led the Blazers to 49 victories, the third-best record in the Western Conference, even though Bowie was lost to the club in its fifth game with a broken leg.

In voting announced by the NBA, Schuler was named on 30 of a possible 78 ballots cast by three media members from each league city and nine national media representatives.

Schuler developed much of his defensive strategy under Knight. He also coached under Don Nelson and Larry Brown in the NBA.

WASH, Plaintiff, v. W.M. GAGE, ET AL., Defendants.
 The nature of this suit, briefly stated, is one of trespass to try title, in which Plaintiff, for cause of action, would show the court that:
 (1) On or about January 1, 1950, he was lawfully, in fee simple, seized and possessed of realty situated in Howard County, Texas, and legally described as Lot 13 and 14, Block 28, of the ORIGINAL TOWN OF FORSAN, HOWARD COUNTY, TEXAS.
 (2) Defendants unlawfully entered on the above described premises and ejected Plaintiff from those premises. Defendants unlawfully withheld from Plaintiff the possession of those premises to his damage in excess of the minimum jurisdictional limits of the court. Plaintiff requests judgment for title and possession of the land and for such other and further relief to which he is entitled, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Original Petition on file in this suit.
 If this citation is not served with 90 days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.
 The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve it and make due return according to requirements of law, and the mandates of this citation.
 Issued under my hand and the seal of the court at Big Spring, Texas, on the 8 day of April, 1987.
 GLENDA BRASEL
 District Clerk
 118th Judicial District Court of Howard County, Texas

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY, APRIL 26, 1987
GENERAL TENDENCIES: It's a remarkably good Sunday for you to sit down and plan whatever new ventures you have in mind. Chart a course of action that uses current ideas and methods.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have powerful wishes that can be attained if you go after them in a precise and positive manner.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Consult with experts at leisure and gain the good advice you need. Be happier with your mate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can gain the assistance of good friends for any project you have in mind, so discuss it with them.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Make sure you complete some work left undone. Tonight is fine for gadding about town and having fun.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Become better adhered to the philosophy you follow. Plan a trip that can bring you more of the things you desire.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Enjoy the pleasures that your mate prefers. Shop around for whatever articles you need, or want.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It's a good day to go out and meet new personalities. Revising a new association is also possible now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) It's a good day to do something thoughtful for those you have not seen for some time. Keep busy and alert.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get into the amusements that most appeal to you and have a fine time. Take friends along with you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be more appreciative of your family's finest qualities. Entertain interesting people at home tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get in touch with as many persons as you can and renew old friendships as well. Be happy today.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can get fine ideas for increasing your income. Set up a new, detailed budget that will work nicely for you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have fine creative ideas. Your progeny, however, must be taught to finish whatever has once been started if the life is to be really successful. The education should be as thorough as possible since this child has a fine mind and sturdy body.

FORECAST FOR MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1987
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Make decisions about what you want to do and let others know about your new projects. Wind up whatever is not completed before getting your new ideas working.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan how to gain personal aims and get busy on them. Get financial problems well-solved by the evening.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study your private aims and make a private plan to gain them in a practical way.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You get good ideas from a new acquaintance concerning a troublesome matter. Make progress in personal affairs.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) A prominent person that you will back him, or her, in worthwhile project.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Get some inspired idea working and later you can get the backing of an influential person you know.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Keep the promises you hastily made to your mate over the weekend. Go ahead with new business matters.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Contact an outsider who can help you make a new project work well. Improve your career in the public's eye.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Finish that new plan that makes whatever you're working on less difficult. Utilize the ideas of co-workers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Find an ingenious way of doing what your mate desires. You get an invitation from a new contact.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get your home improved just as you planned. Contact your buddies and arrange for some fun later on.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) It's an ideal day to get into some new venture. Look at your property and know how to improve it.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Handle some financial plan that is vital, then be off to the activities that can improve your welfare.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be interested in whatever is of a modern nature. Give this child a fine education in modern schools since he, or she will do well in business and be very practical. A professional ability here. Participation in sports will make your progeny strong.

THE STARS IMPEL: they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you!
