How's that? AIDS test

Q. Where can I be tested for AIDS and how much will it cost?
A. If you are in the high risk group you can be tested for free at the Midland Health Dept., or the Ector County Health Dept. High risk groups are those who are homosexual, bi-sexual, intravenous drug users, hemophiliac, or someone who has multiple sex partners. If you are not in the high risk group your physician can order a blood test. The charge will be between $60-$80, said Tommy Langham, the disease intervention specialist for West Texas and the Permian Basin.

65 mph speed limit gets first approval

AUSTIN (AP) — Texans will be able to drive 65 miles per hour on rural interstate highways after May 9, the State Highway Commission decided Friday.

The commission order now goes to Gov. Bill Clements, who says he will approve it.

"Texans have made the argument for years that the sheer size of our state makes the current speed limit impractical. Many states half the size of Texas already have changed the speed limit to the maximum allowed," Clements said.

The new speed limit will include Interstate 20 from Interstate 10 to Odessa, Odessa to Midland, Midland to Abilene, Abilene to Fort Worth, Dallas to Longview, and Longview to the Louisiana state line.

Commissioners Robert Dedman and Ray Stoker Jr. approved the proposal after a brief hearing.

One opponent asked about the increased highway deaths predicted to occur if the speed limit goes above the current 55 mph.

"Can you live with your conscience if your decision today results in an increased death rate?" asked Lilla Barnes of Belton.

Dedman said statistics show as many as 80 percent of motorists on rural interstates in Texas now violate the 55 mph limit.

"At the same time we have had a decline in the fatality rate," he said. "Whether it is seat belt usage, better automobiles or better constructed highways, we don't know. But we are very gratified."

Leo Gossett, assistant director of the Department of Public Safety, said after the vote that the DPS was on record as believing increased speed can cause increased deaths. He did not testify before the commission voted.

"We think the decreased death rate on rural areas of interstates may be due largely to our DWI enforcement and to seat belt usage," Gossett said afterward.

The 10-mph jump in the speed limit will apply to 2,441 miles of the 3,147 miles of interstate highways in Texas, officials said.

In the designated sections, which are to be marked with 65 mph signs by noon May 9, private automobiles, light trucks, passenger buses and motorcycles will be allowed to travel 65 mph.

The new limit for heavy trucks will be 60 mph in daylight and 55 mph at night, said Byron Blaschke, deputy engineer of the highway commission. School buses are limited to 50 mph and house trailers to 45 mph.

Prior to 1974, the top Texas limit was 70 mph in daytime and 65 mph at night. During the energy crisis that year, Congress set a national limit of 55 mph and ruled that any state failing to follow that would be penalized by losing federal highway dollars.

When Congress passed the highway appropriations bill last month it said speed limits on rural interstates — those outside cities of 50,000 or more — could be set at 65 mph by states.

The new 65 mph limit doesn't apply to any other federal or state highways in Texas, to frontage roads along interstates or to turnpikes. The top limit on these remains 55 mph, Blaschke said.

George Gustafson, president of the Texas Safety Association, told the commission, "There is no doubt higher speeds bring higher risks."

Gustafson urged the commission to require strict enforcement of the speed limits and of Texas' mandatory safety belt law.

"We agree with you 100 percent about strict enforcement," said Dedman.

Robert A. Floyd, president of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, said the association was committed to the 55 mph limit because it had saved lives and also saved fuel, especially for tractor-trailer combinations and other heavy trucks.

Floyd said his association feared the different speed limits — 65 mph for cars and 60 mph for trucks — might cause some accidents.

Dedman said the commission realized the situation, but it would not make any changes.

"It would be up to the Legislature if they want to increase the limit for trucks," Dedman said.

Pocket park plan nears completion

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

On the north side of the new Howard County Courthouse Annex, there's a 50-foot wide, 200-foot deep eye-sore. Next to the pretty red bricks of the Annex is a forsaken lot covered with weeds and debris.

But relief is on the way. There's a plan to turn the lot into a "pocket park" between the Annex and the building to the north of the lot, said Big Spring Downtown Coordinator Terri Quinones Friday.

According to Quinones, the Downtown Steering Committee will meet May 19 to finalize plans by Big Spring architect Phil Fuerqueron. After that meeting, the committee should have an expected date of completion, Quinones said. She said she expects the pocket park to be completed by the end of the summer or sooner.

The lot is owned by Horace Tubb, and Quinones said Tubb has been cooperative in working with the steering committee. She said the city probably will enter into a long term lease with Tubb for the property.

The steering committee is considering calling the park the "Tubb Pocket Park." In fact, a sign posted in front of the lot already calls the lot the future spot for the "Tubb Pocket Park."

Fuerqueron was paid $1,500 for his work on the project, Quinones said. She said he projected the cost of the project at approximately $25,000.

Because the steering committee has budgeted just $20,000 for the improvements, the committee will request help from civic organizations.

The plans include 12 red oak trees, and Quinones said the committee will probably ask civic organizations to sponsor a tree, and perhaps to have a small plaque placed near their tree.

In addition, the plans include benches and four "railroad era" lampposts, Quinones said. There also is a tentative plan for a small stage at the east end of the park.

Quinones said the open lot was created when a building there burnt down in 1983. She said there is a basement underneath the lot, which precluded the construction of a new building.

"We feel like we're making the best of a bad situation," she said. "It's a subtle way to landscape the area."

The wall of the original building remains standing opposite the new Annex wall, and will be torn down to reveal the red brick wall of the adjoining building, she said.

Quinones explained it will be called a pocket park because it's a "pocket — an empty space between two buildings."

She said the committee plans eventually to make a walk-way from the county courthouse to City Hall, of which the pocket park will be the first leg.

The lot backs into an alley, and across from that is Poncho's. Next to Poncho's, however, there is another empty lot. Quinones said the committee may one day make that lot a park too, and the second leg of the walk to City Hall.

Farabee: transplant law will help Texans

AUSTIN (AP) — Texans will be happy to say "yes" when, under provisions of a new law, they are asked whether tissue and organs can be taken for transplant after the death of a loved one, the sponsor of the bill said Friday.

"It is a reality we need to discuss, even for those few people who might find just the discussion of it unpleasant, because that discussion will allow people to live and live productively," said state Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls.

Gov. Bill Clements recently signed into law Farabee's "routine inquiry" bill requiring hospitals to establish procedures for asking about organ donations. The questions would be asked to relatives of a patient whose death is imminent.

Farabee said organs and tissue that could save lives are buried in many cases because Texans are unaware of the transplant needs.

"We find that the success of these programs is directly proportionate to awareness and opportunity to participate," he said.

During his Capitol news conference, which coincided with National Organ Donor Awareness Week, Farabee signed a card allowing doctors to take organs and tissue from his body after death. He said signing the card is more effective than signing the organ donation statement on Texas drivers licenses. The signature on the drivers license can be smudged, he said.

Farabee acknowledged that some Texans might not even want to hear the questions about organ and tissue donation.

"But we found that the vast majority, like in the 90 percent area, do want to consider this. They simply are not aware of it."

New phone system, bee ban top news

The Big Spring area is getting a new phone system.

The latest in telephone systems, to be installed in less than a year, will speed connections and provide numerous customer services.

The system is scheduled to be operative by mid-February 1988, Darlene Gifford, Southwestern Bell's manager of public relations in Midland, said Tuesday.

Gifford announced the telephone company's plans to install the latest digital equipment and fiber optic cables at a news conference at the Big Spring Country Club.

The $6 million system is being installed to meet the Department of Justice's requirement of equal access, she said.

Equal access will enable customers to choose from several long distance services, Gifford explained. The area's long distance connections currently are provided by American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

No more bees.
That was the conclusion the City

Week in review

Council reached at a work session Monday, and an ordinance reflecting that attitude is expected at a future meeting.

Council members expressed support for banning bees from the city limits.

City Manager Mack Wofford said he has received seven or eight complaints from neighbors of Jesse T. Broseh, 1906 11th Place, who keeps about 18 hives at his residence.

The Council members indicated bees could be a threat to the public.

"I'd have concerns about my kids" if a beekeeper lived nearby, Councilman Russ McEwen said. He also noted that "if my dog gets out of my yard, I'm in trouble," but bees can't be confined to a yard.

Citizen Mamie Lee Dodds said she is unable to go into her yard when bees are present, because she is allergic to their stings, and once almost died from them.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District is causing the high water levels at Natural Dam Lake and is trying to push liability for it onto the county, county commissioners said Monday.

The Water District published an advertisement in the Herald24 stating that it wouldn't finance additional modifications or repairs to the lake without equal participation from the city and county.

The county, however, is not liable for Natural Dam Lake

Former Big Spring man receives Army's highest peacetime award

Army Sergeant First Class William B. Allensworth Jr., formerly of Big Spring, was recently decorated for heroism in ceremonies conducted at Fort Benning, Ga.

Allensworth was awarded the Soldier's Medal, the Army's highest decoration for heroism that can be awarded during peacetime.

His act of heroism occurred the night of Sept. 27, 1985, in the Republic of South Korea during his previous assignment as Scout Section Leader with the 1st Bn, 9th Inf., 2nd Infantry Division.

While constructing a rope bridge across the Imjin River, Allensworth disregarded his own personal safety to save the life of Sp4 Charles Gilden. Gilden had been pulled in to the raging current of the incoming tide.

Braving the current and risking his own life, Allensworth swam to Gilden, secured him by the shirt collar and pulled him to the safety of the river bank.

Allensworth is assigned to the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit at Fort Benning, Ga., where he serves as a small arms marksmanship instructor. Allensworth also competes with the United States Rifle Team and has been a member of

Texas Nurses Week begins Sunday

Nurses throughout Howard County are involved in observing Texas Nurses Week, May 3-9, and National Nurses Day, May 6. The days give citizens a chance to remember RNs whose care had made a difference in their lives and the lives of relatives, according to a news release. The 1987 theme "Nursing Care: The Most For Your Health Dollar" emphasizes that nurses are rising to meet the challenges in today's health care settings by providing cost-effective quality nursing services. The scope of nursing practice today finds men and women in a variety of roles such as private practice in psychiatric nursing, primary family care practitioners and clinical nursing specialists. Practice settings may also vary, from the hospital and nursing home to the community health center, from a nurse's private office to home visits. Nursing care makes the most of the consumer's health care dollar by:

- Enabling Medicare patients to return to the community earlier.
- Providing the ambulatory care, community health, and other health services patients need to make the transition from the hospital to the community.
- Meeting the unique health needs of older consumers in the community, the home, and in long term care facilities.

- Ensuring that cost containment incentives will not diminish the quality of health care available to older Americans.
- Providing a choice for employers and employees seeking optimal care at affordable prices.
- Providing health teaching and preventive care in schools, industry and community clinics.

Texas has more than 109,000 registered nurses, and the U.S. has approximately 2 million.

Weaver uses animal hair in art work

HEREFORD, Texas (AP) — Priscilla Ham says it was the lean years of graduate school that led to an innovation she is still using in her art work.

"I read where some lady used hair from her angora cats to create sweaters, and finally it dawned on me that the sacks of hair I regularly brushed off my dog might be put to good use. Someone had given me poor quality wool, so I decided to incorporate the dog hair in with my weaving," says Mrs. Ham.

Weaving is just one of the artistic pursuits for which she was recently honored with a display at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Woven wall hangings, porcelain sculpture vessels, batik, water colors, and pottery were among her creations shown in the Chamber's artist-of-the-month exhibit.

"My mother said that I was always making something with my hands, even as a small child. I've been interested in creating something for as long as I can remember," she says.

Mrs. Ham moved to Hereford last November with her husband, Sid, an attorney, and their 3-year-old daughter, Lenzy.

"So many women marry and have children and neglect their own interests," Mrs. Ham says. "When Lenzy arrived, I was determined to never give up the things I enjoy so much just because I have a baby. I did slow down on my pottery because it's so messy, however."

Born in Amarillo, the 34-year-old artist is a graduate of Amarillo High School and Amarillo Junior College. She has a bachelor of fine arts degree from West Texas State University, majoring in pottery design and sculpture.

"It seemed I was always taking art classes but I never considered myself as having the temperament of an artist. In fact, I was a business major at WTSU until the accounting courses dissuaded me. So, in my senior year at WTSU, I tried art. I went from clay, sculptures, pottery, into weaving."

In 1976 she married Ham, who at that time owned the "Last Water West Restaurant" in Amarillo. Getting married slowed Mrs. Ham down from 18 hours to 8 hours a day for art work.

She says her husband was supportive and understanding; often their bathtub would be full of unwashed wool, soaking to remove impurities.

The couple enrolled in graduate schools at Texas Tech University, she working on her master's degree in fine arts while he went to law school.

"This was the period when we were really short of money," she recalls. "Sid built me a large loom of maple sticks using directions out of a book; a ready-built one would have cost 10 times as much.

Review

The Water District has a permit to pump water into the lake, and it has built what is a natural heel at the lake, said Commissioner David Barr, who added that many people don't realize an actual dam doesn't exist at Natural Dam Lake. "They created the problem, let them solve it," he said.

• Songwriter and performer Kris Kristofferson will perform a May 8 Big Spring benefit concert to raise money for the Comanche Trail Park renovation.

Councilman Johnny Rutherford made that announcement Monday when he called the City Council work session via conference phone from Austin.

Kristofferson will perform at 8 p.m. at the newly renovated amphitheater, he said. Tickets probably will cost $10 in advance or $12 at the door, he said.

Rutherford, who heads the park renovation effort, said he expects 2,500 to 3,500 people to attend the concert. The amphitheater will seat about 4,500, he said.

If the weather is inclement, the concert will be moved to Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, which seats 6,000, he said.

• D.D. Johnston is the newest City Council District 3 representative, sworn in Wednesday. Johnston won the runoff election Monday by 73 percent of the vote to incumbent Harold Hall's 27 percent, according to Finance Director Tom Ferguson.

Johnston received 363 votes to Hall's 132 votes, he said. The votes numbered 258 at the 18th and Main Street fire station, 208 at the Wasson Road fire station, and 29 absentee.

• A judge ruled Wednesday in the climax of a long, complicated school financing case that the state's system of funding public schools was unconstitutional.

In his decision, State District Judge Harley Clark said he found no evidence presented during the trial or anything in the law that spelled out "a compelling reason" that would justify continued discrimination against poorer school districts in receiving financial aid from the state.

• Police acted in a professional manner and justice was done after an accident April 12 in which a pickup crashed through a house, according to an investigating team.

City Manager Mack Wofford reported that conclusion to the City Council Tuesday evening, after an investigation into the matter by a committee appointed by the Council. The committee was composed of Wofford, Police Chief Joe Cook and Assistant City Manager Hal Boyd.

Lupe Dominguez, resident of the house at 302 Parkway St., had complained that the investigating officer acted as if he were in the driver's favor, and against the victims. She said after the report that she is glad justice has been done.

Dogs have nose for drugs

McALLEN (AP) — Two Belgian Malinois dogs assigned to sniff out drugs in vehicles passing through the Border Patrol's South Texas checkpoints are finding record pace loads of marijuana stowed in places agents might never have considered.

In an eight-hour shift alone, Rocky and Barco alerted agents to marijuana in two secret compartments and a false gas tank in three vehicles stopped at the Falfurrias checkpoint, officials said.

Agents had to use a torch to cut into one of those compartments as it had been welded shut, said Juan Garcia, assistant chief of the patrol's McAllen sector. Stowed in the hiding place were 92 pounds of marijuana.

The 92 pounds, worth $73,600, were just one of five seizures during the dogs' shift Wednesday night, resulting in a total of 1,644 pounds in confiscated marijuana.

Seventeen pounds of marijuana worth $13,600 were found in a sealed and hidden compartment of a car stopped at the checkpoint, and 13 pounds were found stowed in a false gas tank of an 18-wheeler truck.

The dogs' largest find of the shift was a cache of 1,516 pounds of marijuana hidden under a load of iced down cabbage in the bed of an 18-wheeler truck.

The drivers of all four vehicles were arrested, Garcia said. Additionally, the dogs sniffed out a box containing six pounds that was being shipped on a Valley

Transit bus, Garcia said. "These dogs did outstanding last night, working the midnight to 8 a.m. shift," Garcia said Wednesday.

With the help of Barco and Rocky, assigned to the sector as part of a pilot program, agents' seizures for the night were worth $1.3 million, Garcia said.

In less than a month on the job, the dogs helped agents seize more than two tons of marijuana worth $6.3 million.

That pushes the sector's totals for the first six months of the agency's fiscal year to a value of $79.7 million — almost half of all drugs seized by the border patrol nationwide last year, Garcia said.

Border Patrol agents across the country seized drugs worth almost $186 million last fiscal year.

Garcia said that locally the seizures in six months exceed the sector's combined totals for the past five years.

Most of the marijuana seized in the Rio Grande Valley is from Mexico, but agents have also confiscated pot from Colombia, he said.

The heavy flow of drug traffic in South Texas helped convince the Border Patrol to assign the drug-sniffing dogs to the McAllen sector. Four dogs were initially assigned to the sector, but two have since gone to the Laredo sector, officials said.

The two sectors are the only ones within the entire patrol using dogs.

Police beat Rifle, handgun stolen

Thieves stole a $100 semi-automatic rifle and a $200 22-caliber antique handgun and caused $150 damage to the driver's side window of a 1986 Ford pickup owned by Horace Murdoch, 1103 E. 19th St. The incident occurred between 7 p.m. Thursday and 8 a.m. Friday.

• A $100 Alpine equalizer was stolen and $50 damage done to a back window deck at the residence of Robert Wilbanks, 1206 Harding St. between midnight and 6 a.m. Friday.

Woman hurt in mishap

A Big Spring woman suffered minor injuries in an accident on the south service road of FM 700 at 12:19 p.m. Friday.

White was driving east on the service road, attempting to enter FM 700, when Kevin Lynn Allen, 22, Sterling City Route Box 42, failed to yield at a yield sign, police reports said.

Tina White, 21, 807 W. 16th St., was treated and released from Scenic Mountain Medical Center, a hospital spokeswoman said.

The two vehicles collided. A witness told police she saw White's turn signal flashing before the accident.

She was a passenger in a 1977 blue Chevrolet Monza driven by Roy James White, 22, of the same address, who suffered minor injuries but was not listed as needing medical treatment, police reports said.

Allen was ticketed for failure to yield right-of-way, and White for failure to maintain financial responsibility, the reports said.

Bakkers to forego fight

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. — Disgraced television evangelist Jim Bakker said Friday that he and his wife won't fight to regain leadership of the $129 million PTL empire and that "without a miracle of God, we will never minister again."

Bakker, in his first news conference since the disclosure of the sex scandal that led to his downfall, also said he has never been to a prostitute or engaged in wife-swapping and denied accusations he is a homosexual.

"We hope all of the people we love so much will forgive us and help us to go on," Bakker said. He said he and his wife, Tammy Faye, would forgive their accusers and were not going "to spend the rest of our life hating people."

"Tammy and I are alive. We may not be too well," Bakker said.

Shooting victim testifies

NEW YORK — One of Bernhard Goetz's four young victims confronted the subway gunman Friday for the first time since the 1984 shooting, testifying Goetz calmly fired his gun and fled.

Troy Canty testified that as Goetz left the subway car, another youth, who was left paralyzed by the shooting, cried, "Why did he shoot me?"

Canty said he asked Goetz for $5 and the gunman replied, "You all can have it" before opening fire.

Canty, 21, was shot in the chest and spent 10 days in the hospital. He testified that he and the three other victims needed money from Goetz to play video machines, a ploy to convince arcade owners they weren't going to rob the games.

Canty admitted that robbing the video games was their plan when they jumped the turnstile and boarded the subway. Goetz was the first person he approached for money, Canty said.

Farm loans suspended

WASHINGTON — Subsidy payments and price support loans to farmers have been suspended until Congress approves more money for the remainder of the year, the Agriculture Department announced Friday.

Vern Neppel, acting vice president of the department's Commodity Credit Corp., said the agency has nearly depleted its $25 billion borrowing authority for the fiscal year that ends Sept. 30.

The action temporarily halts distribution of funds for commodity loans, warehouse and producer storage payments, deficiency and acreage diversion payments, dairy programs and federal cost-sharing under long-term conservation reserve contracts.

FBI job being pondered

WASHINGTON — Former Pennsylvania Gov. Dick Thornburgh has been asked to head the FBI and is weighing the offer, a source said Friday.

The source, who is outside government and spoke on condition of anonymity, said Attorney General Edwin K. Meese III made the offer this week.

Thornburgh, a Republican who left office last year after two terms, expects to decide on the offer "in the next several days," the source said.

"I wasn't on the phone when the call was made, but ... it's my understanding that they called and offered it," the source said.

Marchers drag an effigy of a double-tongued Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone on a cart during May Day parade in Tokyo Friday. They branded Nakasone as double-tongued referring to his promise he made during the last general election campaign that he would not introduce a large indirect tax as part of the tax reform plan. The Nakasone government put the five percent sales tax on the Diet, but the tax proposal was shelved following strong opposition from the public. The parade was occurring as Nakasone finished trade talks with Reagan.

Trade summit

Sanctions lifted "soon as possible"

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan said Friday he was optimistic the United States will begin narrowing its crushing trade deficit with Japan, and he told Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone he hopes to lift sanctions against $300 million worth of Japanese products "as soon as possible."

Reagan and Nakasone ended two days of talks with a White House declaration calling for cooperation, not protectionism, to solve economic disputes that have spurred tough congressional measures against Japan.

The president also called for regular annual U.S.-Japanese summit meetings to solve disputes.

"Both Japan and the United States recognize that the current trade imbalance is politically unsustainable and requires urgent attention," Reagan said in a Rose Garden farewell to the Japanese leader.

After listening for two days to Nakasone's proposals to open his country's markets to imports, Reagan said: "I am supportive of those positive actions and optimistic that we will soon see the situation begin to improve."

For his part, Nakasone acknowledged that "huge current account (trade) imbalances could bring about serious consequences for the health of the world economy. It is necessary to rectify this situation."

As the two leaders met, the Japanese Finance Ministry announced that its global trade surplus soared to a record $101.4 billion in the fiscal year that ended March 31. The surplus had been $61.1 billion in the previous year, according to Japanese statistics. U.S. figures put the Japanese-American gap at $58.6 billion in Japan's favor in the past year.

Nakasone, whose popularity poll rankings at home have fallen to their lowest levels since he became prime minister 4½ years ago, told a National Press Club luncheon audience: "I have not come here expecting souvenirs" — victories for Japan in the trade disputes.

But he said the open discussions he had with Reagan and congressional leaders would enable him to cite progress when he returns.

Reagan hailed assertions by Nakasone that Japan would take steps designed to expand foreign sales in his country and show more willingness to help solve the world's economic problems, notably by raising $20 billion in new funds for loans to impoverished nations.

On the most immediate trouble-making issue between the two countries, Reagan said that in mid-May he would review Japanese compliance with an agreement on trade in computer chips to see if he could lift the $300 million in punitive 100 percent tariffs against Japan for allegedly violating the pact.

Nakasone, who had called the sanctions "sore thorns" Thursday, repeated a plea that they "should be withdrawn promptly."

Ferryman fell asleep

LONDON — The man responsible for closing the bow doors on the Herald of Free Enterprise admitted Friday that he was asleep in his cabin when the ferry capsized off the Belgian coast with a loss of almost 200 lives.

He also testified that rum he drank three hours before the accident had not made him drowsy.

"I always closed the doors when I was on G deck," said assistant boatswain Marc Stanley. "No one would have known if I had not closed the doors. No one would have checked up."

Testifying on the fifth day of an inquiry into the March 6 disaster, Stanley said he fell asleep in his cabin after finishing maintenance duties while the ferry was in the port of Zeebrugge and didn't hear the call to "harbor stations" — the signal for him to close the bow doors on G deck.

Party calls for reforms

SEOUL, South Korea — A major new opposition party was formed Friday, and its leaders warned President Chun Doo-hwan to accept political reforms or face nationwide resistance.

Thousands of riot police were deployed around the city to prevent protests.

Kim Young-sam, who was named president of the Reunification Democratic Party, said the party would be a strong, united opposition that would fight to restore democracy and end the rule of military-backed governments that have dominated South Korea since 1961.

Kim urged the government to agree to immediate talks on changing the political system to ensure democracy and save the country from a major confrontation. The Korean people, he said, would accept nothing less.

Quebec reaches accord

MEECHLAKE, Que. — Quebec would become a full partner in the Canadian confederation and all 10 provinces would gain major new powers under an agreement among Prime Minister Brian Mulroney and the provincial premiers.

"It's a historic breakthrough for Quebec as a Canadian partner," Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa told reporters after the leaders reached the agreement Thursday.

The agreement, to be ratified at a constitutional conference within a few weeks, recognizes the majority French-speaking province as a "distinct society." But everything else offered to Quebec, including a veto over some future amendments, also was offered to the other provinces.

President asks asylum

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic — Former President Salvador Jorge Blanco asked Venezuela for political asylum Friday, claiming he was being persecuted and could not get a fair trial on corruption charges.

Jorge Blanco took refuge Thursday with his wife and two children in the residence of Venezuelan Ambassador Abel Clavijo Ostos.

"I have taken the serious decision to ask political asylum from the government of Venezuela through its ambassador in Santo Domingo, convinced that not doing so would offer an opportunity to those who are pursuing me right now from (positions of) power," Jorge Blanco said in an open letter to the Dominican people published in Friday's newspapers.

Minister's overdose probed

DALLAS (AP) — A Methodist minister who police wanted to question in the near-fatal assault of his wife took a drug overdose Friday in what authorities said appeared to be a suicide attempt.

The Rev. Walker Railey took the pills at Presbyterian Hospital where he has resided since his wife, Margaret, was hospitalized after being strangled by an unknown assailant 10 days ago, said Deputy Police Chief Marlin Price. She remains in a coma.

REV. WALKER RALEY
Minister's overdose probed

Railey was in critical condition, said hospital spokeswoman Pat Standiee. Police said they were investigating it as a suicide attempt and had found a note, but would not disclose its contents.

Police Capt. John Holt said authorities wanted to question Railey Friday and had determined that threatening letters sent to him and first considered a link in the case may have been written on a church typewriter.

"The thrust of the interview was to be an attempt to clarify some discrepancies that have come up, and Rev. Railey's account and whereabouts on the night of the crime," Holt said.

He wouldn't comment on whether Railey or anyone else at the church was a suspect.

Railey had received threatening letters attacking his stands against racism, which had been the theme of several sermons. The letters were investigated as a possible link in the April 22 attack on Mrs. Railey, 38.

Holt said authorities have determined the letters "appeared to have been typed on a typewriter located within the church."

Police found Railey lying on the bed in his room Friday morning when a guard was sent to ask him to come to police headquarters for questioning for the third time since the attack on Mrs. Railey, Holt said.

Ralph Shannon, a member of Railey's church, told reporters at the hospital he did not know what kind of drugs the minister had taken but that he had been prescribed sleeping pills since his wife's attack.

Railey, 39, pastor of the large and prestigious First United Methodist Church downtown, was known for his criticism of racial intolerance.

For use by teachers and parents at home and at school.
For use with issue: Mother's Tasks Now and Then

Main idea: To celebrate Mother's Day, this issue talks about what mothers did 200 years ago. Also included is a meal to make for Mother's Day. The following is a list of activities to be used with this issue. They are listed in order of difficulty, with the easier pre-reader assignments listed first. Ask the children to do the following:

1. Count the number of pictures on Page One. What do you see in each one? What are some modern appliances we use today? Look in your newspaper for pictures of appliances.
2. Draw a picture of your mother as she might have looked 200 years ago. Be sure to dress her in a Colonial outfit. You could picture her doing a chore as they did back then.
3. On what day is Mother's Day this year? Find and circle it on a calendar. Find out the date for next year.
4. What do you think life was like 200 years ago? Would you like to have lived back then? How has life changed in the past 200 years?
5. Design a card for your mother.
6. Pretend you have been given $15 to spend on your mother for Mother's Day. Look in your newspaper for something to buy.
7. Pretend you are giving your mother her favorite meal for Mother's Day. Make a list of what you want to make and what supplies you will need.
8. Look at the Mother's Day meal in this issue. Look through the grocery store ads in your paper to find the prices of the supplies you will need. Add them up to find the total cost.
9. Pretend you are a child living in the year 1787. Write a letter to a child living in 1987 telling what your life is like.

Touchstone new mall manager

Bryan Touchstone, 26, is the new Big Spring Mall manager.

He replaced Todd Duff on April 22, according to the Beaumont native. He said Duff will continue in another capacity with Bramalea Limited, the corporation which owns the mall.

Touchstone and his wife Tanya moved to Big Spring from Houston, where he managed office buildings and strip shopping centers for the past four years. "I'm thrilled to be in Big Spring — it's a clean town," he said. He has completed the five-week Bramalea Ltd. management training program, which included brief stints at Bramalea mall locations in New Mexico, Oklahoma and Maryland.

A major goal, he said, will be to increase occupancy in the mall, and increasing the mall's involvement in community affairs. He said that participation in the Chamber of Commerce is in his plans.

He attended Lamar University in Beaumont, where he studied communication.

Sterling attends beef meeting

Lucille Sterling of Colorado City recently attended a meeting of the Beef Promotion and Research Board in Atlanta, Ga. She represents Texas on the board.

The board approved a consumer marketing budget for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, which includes expanded efforts in beef promotion and research financed by a $1-per-head check-off.

The $30.5 million consumer marketing budget includes continuing national beef advertising with a theme of "Beef: real food for real people."

It also includes expanded consumer information programs aimed at key influence groups such as doctors, teachers, dieticians and health-care professionals. The board approved $1 million for research and development of new products.

The 113-member board represents cattle, dairy and veal producers in all parts of the country.

Park Inn wins in UGLY contest

The Park Inn won first place in the Big Spring division of the UGLY Bartender contest to raise money to benefit victims of multiple sclerosis.

The Pump Club won second place, Doc Holliday's third and Sunset Tavern fourth. Nelda Burnett of Big Spring received an UGLY Agent award for outstanding support.

The awards were given by the West Texas Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society at an April 20 banquet.

Over 55 restaurants in Big Spring, Midland and Odessa participated in the campaign to collect votes at 25 cents each to be named the ugliest bartender. UGLY stands for Understanding, Generous, Lovable You.

Campaign chairman Joe Dar reported that more than $38,000 was raised, to be used for equipment and services for persons with multiple sclerosis, and to fund research to find a cure for the often crippling disease of the central nervous system.

Cotton planting date May 18

The Mitchell County Pest Management Steering Committee has designated May 18 the uniform planting date for cotton growers in the county.

A severe boll weevil problem may occur this year after two mild winters, said County Extension Agent Mike Mauldin.

He said area entomologists are reporting high numbers of boll weavils in overwintering sites. Peak emergence of overwintered boll weavils is usually the last week of May through the first two weeks of June.

The weavils feed only on one-third grown cotton squares, he said, adding that without the squares, they will die in about 18 days after emerging.

Big Spring Best Western awarded

The Best Western/Mid Continent Inn of Big Spring received the Best Western Star Award in a regional competition involving Best Western motels in Odessa, Abilene and San Angelo.

The award was given for having the most reservations during March, serving motorists and truckers. It was presented at the district meeting in Snyder. Motel manager Joyce Cole cited the dedication of the Inn's employees.

The motel on Interstate 20 was constructed in 1979 and employs approximately 20. It maintains 156 units, including those with kingsize and longboy beds, three-room suites and conference rooms.

New business opening May 18

R.C. Enterprises, a Las Vegas, Nev., telemarketing firm has set an opening day for its Big Spring branch at 7 a.m. May 18, according to LeRoy Tillery, executive vice president of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce.

Delays in telephone installation prevented the business from opening by the beginning of May, as was planned, he said.

Owner Richard Clark said the business on the fifth floor of the Cosden Building, 202 W. Second St., will employ 20 to 25. In six months, he expects it will employ 50 to 60, he said.

The company sells executive gift items — "anything you can print a business name on," he said.

Job applicants can contact Manager J.W. Parmley Jr. at 263-2096 or 263-1010, or apply at the office May 18.

Dairy Queens offer free cones

Texas Dairy Queens is raising funds this month for the national Children's Miracle Network Telethon May 30-31.

This weekend, Dairy Queens across the state are offering a free ice cream cone to customers making a contribution to this year's telethon, which donates money to children's hospitals across the nation.

In addition, Texas Dairy Queens will donate 50 cents for every Blizzard ice cream treat sold during the telethon week May 25-31.

Dairy Queen national corporation, which raised $1.6 million for children's hospitals last year, is the telethon's largest national corporate sponsor. Texas Dairy Queen operators have set a goal to collect $350,000 this year, a 25 percent increase over 1986.

In Texas, the telethon will be broadcast live to television stations in Amarillo, Austin, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio, Tyler, Waco and Temple, and on a limited basis to stations in Abilene, Beaumont, Dallas/Fort Worth and Midland/Odessa.

Ford, Chrysler sales increase

Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp. and imported car manufacturers captured a greater percentage of Texas buyers during February, according to the Texas Automobile Dealers Association.

General Motors sold to 36.5 percent of new car buyers in Texas, while Ford sold to 22 percent, Chrysler 11.3 percent, and imported cars were purchased by 30.2 percent.

New car and truck registrations were down 37.3 percent in February and 30.19 for the year to date, compared to last year.

Association President Gene Fonden said the numbers mean a good market for buyers. Inventories are large, many manufacturers are offering incentive programs, and consumers should be able to get great deals, he said.

He said the market should strengthen late this summer, which means the gap between major manufacturers should close considerably.

Striking it rich

Monahans woman wins at real Monopoly

The new Monahans McDonald's had been open just two days when Monahans resident Linda Jean Heard won $10,000 in the national chain's Monopoly game.

Also in the game, a Monahans couple won $1,000 at an Odessa McDonald's.

Heard was handed the $10,000 winning Monopoly piece April 21 when she bought a Coke through the drive-through window for her son.

"I didn't know what to do. I'd never won anything like this in my life," she said.

There's never a bad time to win $10,000, but that was a particularly good time for the Heards.

"My husband was laid off for about eight months last year. There are some bills I want to pay off and a vacation I've been waiting 20 years to take," Heard said.

She said she plans to travel to Wisconsin to visit her sister.

McDonald's owner/operator Kevin Byrne said "bringing McDonald's to the Monahans area has been great in itself, and now we've been able to put $10,000 directly back into the community. We'll have to work pretty hard to top that."

Rose Mary and Javier Orlando Lyles of Monahans are $1,000 richer after playing Monopoly at an Odessa McDonald's.

Javier Lyles, a self-employed machinist, said the money came just at the right time.

"I plan to give half the money to my mother for eye surgery, and the other half will be used for the baby that's on the way," he said.

Terry Boone, owner/operator of that McDonald's, said that in addition, "we've had scores of winners of cash, prizes and McDonald's food gift certificates."

The $40 million Monopoly game is being conducted in 7,100 participating McDonald's restaurants in the U.S., in cooperation with Parker Brothers, manufacturers of the original Monopoly game.

McDonald's serves 20 million people a day in more than 9,400 restaurants in 46 countries. 75 percent of the establishments are owned and operated by independent entrepreneurs. McDonald's is one of 30 companies that compose the Dow Jones Industrial Average.

Will business schools lead the industrial transformation?

By TOM PETERS

As we face the wrenching transformation of every nook of our economy, business schools remain part of the problem rather than the solution. While experimental courses and programs dot the academic landscape, there is no evidence of radical reform.

Yet radical it must be. In preparation for a recent speech to business educators, I formulated a five-part agenda for business education.

1. — Induce more faculty interaction with industry and vice versa. Most young business-school faculty are technically or theoretically oriented. Few have held line jobs, and fewer have managed many people. Not many even seem to be interested in business except as an abstract proposition.

A publish or perish philosophy discourages junior faculty members from consulting. And those who do consult generally address relatively conceptual problems, distant from the day-to-day reality of the operations center or sales region.

Retired businessmen occasionally hold guest lecturer slots at business schools, and prestigious advisory boards abound. However, hands-on executors — e.g., plant and distribution center managers, marketing brand managers — seldom make more than cameo campus appearances.

New incentives, such as revised tenure criteria, are required to get the faculty involved in real line problems. Businesses also need incentives (such as full-time presence of faculty members in trade) for sending their line operators to campus for extensive stays.

Peters on excellence

2. — Emphasize student co-op experience. Cooperative programs, which alternate lengthy work periods with classroom time, are hard to manage and require a major investment in "sales" and oversight by the school's faculty. Yet there is no substitute for real job experience in the midst of the educational process.

3. — Face up to altered disciplinary premises. Virtually every business-school discipline needs a major overhaul, to align with the changing environment.

For example, marketing courses must highlight fleet-of-foot market creation, not tools to achieve slight market-share gains in stable environments.

Accounting should emphasize measurement of revenue-generation variables like quality, factory flexibility, innovation and customer satisfaction, while reducing its cost-accounting focus stemming from the days of the model-T.

Economics should stress neglected dynamic models of competition rather than static theories that are its current preoccupation.

More important, new or neglected disciplines must achieve equal status with the old pillars. Among them are quality, innovation, customer service, service-sector management, plus management of sales and service forces, manufacturing and operations, and international activities.

At best, most of these are tacked onto mainstream courses as afterthoughts. All of the "new" areas are execution oriented, rather than conceptual. Most span several traditional functional disciplines. Functional walls must be destroyed in schools as in the commercial world.

4. — Shift the basis of all instruction from analysis to synthesis and from static to dynamic.

Students are taught how to decompose static problems, not how to create units or organizations as a whole that exhibit the distinctive skills necessary to compete today, such as obsession with instant response to ever-changing customer needs.

For instance, understanding the origins of hustle and inertia — i.e., how a system executes or delays in the face of change — must replace the current over-emphasis on long-range planning that assumes a predictable future.

5. — Teach business history. There's little or no time devoted to the study of business history, yet learning our business roots is more essential than ever.

Our most basic assumptions, such as our obsession with bigness and the limited conception of labor's role in adding value, are out of whack with the marketplace.

Understanding where we've been is the first step to understanding the magnitude of the change required and our deeply entrenched resistance to such change.

The business schools mirror corporate woes. Each point on my agenda, such as the need for more commerce with the external world, directly corresponds to a major corporate failing. Can the schools change from pale reflection to lodestar? I fear not.

The prestigious schools are experimenting ever so gingerly. Undergraduate business education is a wasteland. It teaches outdated techniques to inexperienced young men and women.

Drilling report

The price of West Texas crude is $18.78, as of Friday.

These are the latest oil and gas activity reports filed with the Texas Railroad Commission for the five-county crossroads country.

Flowing 104 barrels of oil per day, plus 160,000 CF casinghead gas, the No. 28-2 Southeast Luther (Fusselman) Unit was completed in Howard County's Southeast Luther Field. The operator is EP Operating.

Drillrite is two miles southwest of Luther. The operation was drilled to 9,941-ft. total depth and will produce from perforations in the Silurian Devonian Formation, 9,888 to 9,986 feet into the wellbore. Production tests were run on a 26/64-in. choke.

The location is in a 3.534-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

Howard County's Howard-Glasscock Field gained two new producers when Mobil Producing completed the No. 28 Chalk Estate and the No. 2 Chalk "Sec. 99". Drillrites are six miles northeast of Forsan and 13 miles southeast of Big Spring, respectively. The No. 26 well is run an 80-acre lease in the W&N Survey, while the No. 2 well is in a 160-acre lease, same survey.

The No. 2 well showed ability to flow 244 barrels of oil per day, plus 139,000 CF casinghead gas on a 15/64-in. choke. Flowing tubing pressure registered 500 PSI. Bottomed at 7,954 feet and plugged back to 7,862 feet, production will be from perforations in the Wolfcamp Formation, 7,364 to 7,386 feet into the wellbore.

The No. 26 well pumped ten barrels of oil per day from perforations in the San Andres Formation, 2,094 to 2,168 feet, into the wellbore. Total drilling depth was 2,560 feet.

Mobil Producing has filed first production figures on four wells in the Howard-Glasscock Field, Howard County. They are designated as the Nos. 45, 46, 50 and 52 Owens-Chalk, and are located 12 to 13 miles southeast of Big Spring in a 240-acre lease in the W&N Survey.

The wells indicated potential to pump oil at the combined rate of 77 barrels per day, plus a combined 76 barrels of water. Each well bottomed at 2,500 feet. Production will be from perforations in the San Andres Formation, ranging from 2,041 to 2,261 feet into the wellbore.

At a location 12 miles north of Gail, Remington Resources completed a wildcat well in Borden County.

The well is designated as the No. 1 Miller "587", pumping 123 barrels of oil per day, plus 50,000 CF casinghead gas.

Location is in a 480-acre lease in the H&C Survey. Bottomed at 5,391 feet, the well will produce from a perforated interval in the Spraberry Formation, 5,272 to 5,288 feet into the wellbore.

Little Bull, with drillrite eight miles northeast of Gail. The operation had carried permit for 8,600-ft. total drilling depth.

Mrs. W.M. Keck, Jr. has revealed production figures in the No. 7 Edmondson, a developmental well in the Sharon Ridge Field, Mitchell County. The operation is located five miles northeast of Cuthbert in a 120-acre lease in the Kirkland & Fields Survey.

The well indicated potential to pump 45 barrels of oil per day, plus 95 barrels of water. It bottomed at 1,855 feet and was plugged back to 1,780 feet. Production is from perforations at 1,681 to 1,706 feet into the wellbore.

R.W. Patterson is planning to seek deeper production at the No. 1 Patrick, a developmental well in Mitchell County's Beak Creek Field. Drillrite is in a 40-acre lease in the SPRR Survey, 16 miles southwest of Colorado City.

Brasos Petroleum et al. originally completed the well Dec. 11, 1981, and it pumped 21 barrels of oil per day plus 27 barrels of water from perforation in the Wichita-Albany Formation at 3,682 to 3,685 feet into the hole.

Patterson is planning to seek production at approximately 4,900 feet in the Wichita-Albany Formation.

A new producer was brought on line in Martin County's RK Field, with RK Petroleum as the operator. Located four miles northeast of Tarzan, the well is in a 157-acre lease in the T&P Survey. It is designated as the No. 1 Elizabeth Taylor "A". The well indicated ability to pump 177 barrels of oil per day from perforations in the Devonian Formation, 11,798 to 11,811 feet into the wellbore. Total drilling depth was 11,828 feet.

The same operator has revealed the temporary abandonment of the No. 1 Woodard Fox, a developmental try in the RK Field, Martin County. The well is located six miles northwest of Lenora in a 160-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

Spudded Jan. 11 of 1986, the venture was bottomed at 11,887 feet and plugged back to 8,750 feet.

A Midland-based operator has staked location for the No. 1 N.J. Bolen, a wildcat well to be located one-half mile southeast of St. Lawrence. With projected total depth of 10,500 feet, the well will be drilled in a 640-acre lease in Glasscock County's T&P Survey. The operator is Exxon Corp.

Union Texas Petroleum of Midland has filed for permit to drill the No. 1 Glass "13", a 10,706-ft. wildcat well nine miles southeast of Garden City. Location is in a 960-acre lease in Glasscock County's T&P Survey.

Terra Resources of Midland has revealed plans to drill an 8,300-ft. developmental well in the Dewey Lake Field. The operator has 80 acres leased, with drillrite in the T&P Survey. The venture has been designated as the No. 7 Lois Blalock Drillrite is 13 miles northwest of Garden City, Glasscock County.

'The Fantasticks'

Tonight's the last night for this fun Howard College production

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

Howard College's production of the musical "The Fantasticks" is right on the mark — it's goofy, engaging and a lot of fun.

With its bare set and fantastical plot, the play allows you to do something you don't often do at the movies or in front of the tube — use your imagination.

The play opens with the dashing El Gallo (also The Narrator) soulfully singing the oh-so-romantic "Try to Remember." Jay Johnson's strong, sensitive rendering of the song does get you to remembering, and then the action switches to the young lovers.

And that's what this play's about — young love, and remembering young love. I'll bet you remember being young and in love, and making a fool of yourself once or twice a day because of it. Well, the silly lovers in "The Fantasticks" are yours for the mocking, but don't be a hypocrite.

We first meet Luisa (played by Liz Lowery), a self-enthralled bathhead who's lost in the pleasures of being 16, beautiful and gifted with gobs of imagination. When she sings, "I love to taste my tears — I'm special," the audience gets a kick out of her. The girls in the crowd (and maybe some of the boys) may be reminded of extended sessions in front of the mirror.

We are then introduced to Matt (played by Kelly Draper), the boy next door. Matt, young as he is, isn't playing with a completely full deck either. He's as in love with Matt (Kelly Draper) and Luisa (Liz Lowery) goggle at one another during a dress rehearsal earlier this week for the Howard College production of "The Fantasticks". In the background, El Gallo (Jay Johnson) watches the young lovers from atop his perch on a step-ladder.

Luisa as she is. In between their "yards" is a "wall". The set is in minimalist style, and the yard is a wooden stage and the wall is a tall step-ladder. We're supposed to believe there's a wall between the lovers, and we do.

Matt climbs the ladder (which doubles as a tree next to the wall) and proclaims his love to Luisa, who takes great pleasure in his proclamations. The two hold hands and kiss at the top of the "tree". They separate, however, when their mothers come into the yards.

It seems the mothers have a long-running feud, and the mothers warn their offspring not to talk to the neighbors. But in a private conversation between the mothers, we learn they are using a little reverse psychology in the hope of matching Matt and Luisa.

They tell the two not to talk to one another on the principal that young people are going to do the opposite of what they're told. When the two mothers (Diana LeFevre and Tracie Wilkerson) reveal this, it's one of the play's funnier moments.

But the mothers make a drastic move to unite their children. They hire El Gallo to first attack the girl, and then to allow Matt to beat him up and successfully defend Luisa. The mothers hope a daring rescue will endear Matt to Luisa.

In what is the most outrageous song of the play, El Gallo sells the mothers on his different plans to "rape" Luisa — he shows them a catalogue with the various "rapes" and their prices.

"The Rape Ballet", sung mostly by El Gallo, at first catches you off-guard; but once you recover, you laugh. It's a good bet you've never seen rape treated in such a flippant manner. It's also a pleasant, weird surprise to find yourself laughing at this most unfunny of subjects.

El Gallo hires two helpers to assist in the "rape", thus making Matt's defense of Luisa all the more impressive. His assistants, Henry and Mortemar (played by Jay Purser and Stacey Leonard), offer comic relief to a play that doesn't need it. Their lunacy increases the confusion, but this is one play in which confusion adds rather than subtracts to the playgoer's pleasure.

That's enough of the plot. As the old saying goes, "if you want to find out what happens, see it yourself."

As for the singing and acting, it's good. Johnson's El Gallo is charismatic and gallant and worldly. His El Gallo's got a little bit of Errol Flynn, with a touch of Perry Como and a dash of the fairy godmother.

Lowery's Luisa is sweet, pretty and in her own world. She's also fickle, funny and quick with a song, sort of like a lot of 16 year old girls would be if they could sing.

Draper, as Matt, may have the strongest voice in the cast. When he belts it out, it's either full of love or full of woe. It's an earnest, flamboyant performance.

The other characters are good also, especially Purser as Henry the Actor. Henry's is the kind of nonsense that at first seems stupid, but grows on you and becomes funny.

"The Fantasticks", which opened last night, ends its short run tonight. The play begins at 8 p.m. at the Howard College Auditorium.

"The Fantasticks" is directed and designed by Bill Doll. Lighting Design and Control — Jeanette Lackey. Pit Orchestra Director — Adolphe Labbe. Costumes Design — Jonathan Garrett. Choreography — Laurie Churchwell and Liz Lowery.

The cast will include 30 people, with 16 roles for men and 14 for women. The director will be Carl B. Moore. The production date has been tentatively scheduled for the end of August.

MIDLAND

• "A Night to Honor Israel," will be at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, May 4 at the Holiday Inn Convention Center in Midland on W. Hwy. 80. May 4 is the 39th anniversary of the founding of Israel, and the 20th anniversary of the reunification of Jerusalem.

"A Night to Honor Israel" is being organized by representatives of the Permian Basin's Christian and Jewish communities. It's a non-sectarian event designed to demonstrate friendship towards Israel.

Texas' Jewish and Christian leaders will speak, and Israeli folk songs and traditional dances will be performed.

• The Midland Community Concerts Association has announced its 1987-88 membership drive, which will last until May 9.

Membership is $20 for adults and $10 for students. New subscribers will get a bonus, free admission to the "Ballet Folclorico de Mexico", on May 5. For more information, call 699-2444, or 694-0176.

ANDREWS

• Andrews Senior Citizens Center holds senior dances every Monday. Out-of-town guests are invited.

ODESSA

• Fiesta '87, an outdoor art show at the Art Institute of the Permian Basin, has been scheduled for May 8-10.

Fiesta will include many local artists and craftsmen. There will be a May 8 kickoff dance featuring Maggie Nettles and the Stingers, a country-western band from Billy Bob's in Fort Worth. The party will be from 8:30-12:30 p.m., with Mexican food and wine and beer being served.

Children will be able to enjoy a dunking booth and a petting zoo, and other treats.

• Open auditions for new members of the Globe Repertory Theatre Company will be at 2 p.m. today and at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Globe Theatre. For more information about auditions or plays, call the Globe Theatre at 332-1586.

• "A Touch of Class," the show choir of the University of the Texas at the Permian Basin, will perform hits spanning 60 years of America's popular songs at 7:30 tonight in the Performing Arts Center.

Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for students and senior citizens. For more information, call 367-2146.

SAN ANGELO

• The San Angelo Art Club wants West Texas artists to know about its "Fiesta in Realism", with $5,000 in cash awards for realistic work in oils, watercolors and acrylics.

There will be professional and non-professional entries. For entry forms or information, call (915) 949-8615 or 944-1851; or write: Kendall Art Gallery, 119 West 1st St., San Angelo, Texas 76903.

POST

• The last performances of the Garza Theatre's production of William Inge's famous "Bus Stop" will be tonight and tomorrow night in the historic Garza Theater on East Main Street.

The award winning tragedy-comedy is designed and directed by Will McCrary. The players are all from Post.

Tickets for the four performances may be purchased by mail at the Garza Theatre Box Office, 226 East Main St., Post, Texas 79356; or reservations may be made by calling (806) 495-4005 from between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Adult tickets are $6 and children under 12 get in for $3.

Performances start at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and the Sunday matinee begins at 2 p.m.

SUNDAY, MAY 3, 1987
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is an interesting day when you can enjoy conventional and established romantic outlets. Be sure you look at everything from proven and enlightened attitudes.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Forget business affairs and do whatever you enjoy the most. Make yourself charming and go after your dreams.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Stick to whatever has been proven and plan how to gain your wishes. Make this a very happy day.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Contact close friends who are important in your existence and enjoy them immensely today.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are more charming than you have been for some time, so get out in public and use this quality.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) It's an ideal day to see advisers you admire. Get into whatever can bring you the greatest amount of happiness.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make a plan to gain your personal longings, and then follow through. Be sensible and stay on your budget.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) This is a good day to see bigwigs at leisure. If you have some social debt to repay, do it now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Look into new outlets that could bring you added profits in the future. Study your newspaper for ideas.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) It's a good day to plan how to make your assets more valuable. The evening can bring romance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show more warmth when dealing with allies and improve relationships. Gain more success in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find the right way to make your environment more charming. Improve the value of your property.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) It's a fine day to see as many persons as you can. Do everything that will insure your personal security now.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...he, or she, will be most affectionate and very loving. This child will be able to put across ideas in an intelligent and well-organized manner. A good education is important in this life. Good manners will prove beneficial.

The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you!

MONDAY, MAY 4, 1987
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Handle the ideas for whatever has to do with promise made to your family. Also take time to have some fun at the special place you like the most.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Study whatever is expected of you by kin and try to please them. Make a special effort to please your mate.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Get your routines working more efficiently. Do some entertaining at home tonight and be charming.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Give special attention to important business matters. Consult a financial expert who can be most helpful.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Begin the new week properly by gaining personal wishes that mean a great deal to you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Study the specific details of any project you are contemplating. Take time for a little social gathering.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Think of those friends you want to see more of and contact them. Go after your intimate wishes.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle outside affairs wisely. The evening is best for gaining personal aims and being very sociable.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can garner the added data you need for some new interest and make it work more successfully.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Study your assets and liabilities more carefully. Talk a new project over with your mate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Listen carefully to what an associate has to say before you state your own views. Enjoy romance tonight!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study every phase of your interests and know how to improve them. Contact a partner who can help you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Plan the amusements you like and then get busy with the practical work connected with your job.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...he, or she, will have every ability at bringing harmony into the home and be most helpful to those around him, or her. A fine education is important here since, upon reaching maturity, your progeny can take on any executive job that will require organization.

The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Steers lead track pack

BROWNWOOD — The Big Spring Steers had some good luck and bad luck in the opening day at the Region I-AAAA track meet at Gordon Wood Stadium. But coach Randy Britton's team is leading the pack with 22 points going into tomorrow's finals.

The good luck came in the 400 meter relay, where the teams that had the two fastest regional qualifying times, failed to make the finals. Lubbock Estacado, who had run a 41.0, dropped the baton, and Lubbock Dunbar, who had run a 42.0, had a runner pull a muscle on the relay.

The bad news is that leading point scorer, Brian Mayfield's ankle isn't at full strength. Mayfield qualified in the 110 hurdles, but didn't compete in the 300 intermediate hurdles or the 1600 meter relay. "The ankle started hurting him after the hurdles so I think I'll just let him high jump tomorrow," said Big Spring coach Randy Britton last night.

The other bad news is that sprinter-long jumper Phillip Mathews hurt his ankle on his last attempt in the long jump. Mathews finished fourth with a jump of 21-9. Charles Thompson of Monahans won the event with a leap of 22-4. Britton said it is not known if Mathews will be able to run today.

The regional title was supposed to come down between Big Spring and Estacado. Estacado has two points after the first day. "Estacado helped us when they dropped the stick but we hurt ourselves because Mayfield can't compete, and we don't know the status of Phillip's ankle," said Britton.

The Steers 400 meter relay team of Danny Williams, Charles White, Dennis Hartfield and Mathews had the third best time in 42.3, despite what Britton calls "poor handoffs." "We had extremely bad handoffs. They were the poorest handoffs we've had all season. If we just get two of three good handoffs, there's no doubt in my mind we can win this thing," said Britton.

Monahans and Ft. Worth Northside had the best time at 42.0.

Again the one-two distance duo of Mario and Ben Gonzales got Big Spring off on the right foot by finished first and second in the 3200 meters. Mario won in 10:06 and Ben followed in 10:07.

"All year long I've been able to count on those two and they came through again. There was runners close to them about the first mile, but it broke everybody's back when they tried to stay up with them. That's what we wanted," Britton said.

Mayfield qualified in the 110 hurdles in 15.1. Junior sprinter Charles White ran a 10.6 to qualify for the finals in the 100 meters. Quartermilers Cedrick Banks and Rodney Bailey ran 49.6 and 49.7 to make the finals.

In the 1600 relay, the foursome of Bailey, Andy Dominguez, Sean Jackson and Banks ran the fourth fastest qualifying time of 3:22.0 in the 1600 relay. Estacado had the fastest time in 3:16.90 and Wichita Falls Hirschi was next with a 3:18.0.

There was no prelims in the 800 meters and Jackson will compete in that for the Steers. The Gonzaleses will also run the 1600 meters. In the field events Big Spring will have Paul Decker in the pole vault and Mayfield in the high jump.

The Big Spring Lady Steers had only one runner to compete. Senior Teresa Pruitt ran a 60.04 in the 400 meters to qualify for the finals. Her time was the fourth fastest time, said her coach Mike Randle. The fastest time was 58.70.

Yolanda Green will compete in the discus today at 11 a.m. Running finals get started at 2 p.m.

The Crossroads Country's only entry took an early exit in the Region I-AA tennis tournament at Figure Seven Tennis Center Friday.

The Forsan Buffaloes boys double duo of Kelly Garrett and David Henson was defeated in the first round by the duo of Tom Sloan and Mike Kirk of San Saba 6-1, 6-7, 4-6. Sloan and Kirk was defeated in the quarterfinal round 6-4, 7-5 by a team from Memphis.

A puzzled Henson said after the match, "I really don't know what happened. We had them going in the first set, but we couldn't get it going after that."

The Memphis tennis teams are doing well in the tournament. Memphis qualified a boys doubles team, girls singles player and girls double team to the semifinal round.

Semifinal action this morning will get started at 9 a.m. Finals in the boys and girls doubles will begin at noon and finals in the boys and girls singles will start at 1:30 p.m.

Shoemaker after 5th Derby crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jockey Bill Shoemaker's bid for a record-equaling fifth victory in his 25th Kentucky Derby is one of the main threads that will tie together Saturday's 113th renewal.

The 55-year-old Shoemaker, who won last year with Ferdinand, will ride Gulch in the storybook race at Churchill Downs.

The Derby might have become a tale of tragedy Friday.

Demons Begone, the early 5-2 favorite almost collided head-on with a horse running along the inside rail in the wrong direction.

"He (Demons Begone) was coming to the quarter pole going really strong," trainer Phil Hauswald said. "I don't even know who the other horse was. But it was too damn close for comfort, I'll tell you that."

Exercise rider Gary Smith, who was on Demons Begone, said Hauswald was standing near the starting gate, and "all he could do was shake his head."

"If they took my pulse rate right then, it was way up there," the 29-year-old Hauswald said.

Pat Day will ride Demons Begone, the Arkansas Derby winner who is unbeaten in three starts this year, in the 1 1/4-mile Kentucky Derby.

A field of 17 3-year-olds, each carrying scale weight of 126 pounds, is scheduled to go to the post at 5:33 p.m. EDT at Churchill Downs. If all start, the 113th Derby will be worth a record $793,600, with $618,600 to the winner.

ABC will televise from 4:30-6 p.m. Shoemaker will be trying to tie the record of five winning rides held by Eddie Arcaro and Bill Hartack. But winning, not the record, is the thing on The Shoe's mind.

"I just want to win the Derby," said Shoemaker, who finished fifth on Count Flame in his first Derby in 1955. His wins were on Swaps in 1955, Tomy Lee in 1959, Lucky Debonair in 1965 and Ferdinand last year.

Shoemaker had planned to ride Temperate Sil for Charlie Whittingham, who also trained Ferdinand, but Temperate Sil will miss the race because of illness. He got the mount on Gulch, the Wood Memorial winner, because Jose Santos was committed to ride Florida Derby winner Cryptoclearance.

The Kentucky Derby is never a one-horse or a one-person story. There is 61-year-old trainer Scotty Schulhofer's bid to win the Derby in his first trip to Louisville. He will saddle Cryptoclearance.

Trainer Wallace Dollase is at his first Derby with Momentus, who was seriously injured when he jumped the inside rail at Hawthorne Park and sheered off the eighth-mile pole last Sept. 27. Jockey Alex Solis escaped injury.

Don Brumfield, who is the leading jockey in races and wins in Churchill Downs history, will ride Momentus. It will be the 12th Derby for the 48-year-old Brumfield, who won with Kauai King in his first Derby in 1966.

Trainer Joe Manzi is at his second Derby with Masterful Advocate, a leading contender, whom he bought by mistake for $5,500.

Manzi had bid unsuccessfully on a couple of yearlings at the 1985 Keeneland Fall Sale and went to $4,500 on Masterful Advocate.

Someone then bid $5,000, and Manzi, who said he thought the bidding would go much higher, signaled he was dropping out. But the spotter thought Manzi was bidding, and Masterful Advocate was his.

The colt, owned by Harry J. Belles and Dave Leverton, won two of five starts in 1986. He won stakes in his first three starts this year.

D. Wayne Lukas will saddle a three-horse entry in a bid for his first Derby victory. Capote, an $800,000 yearling who was 1986 2-year-old champion, War and On The Line will give Lukas 12 starters in seven Derbies. Lukas' powerful stable has won a total of 134 stakes and earned $23.4 million.

Jockies Angel Cordero Jr. and Jacinto Vasquez and trainers LeRoy Jolley and Woody Stephens will be seeking their third Derby victories.

Cordero, who will ride Capote, won with Cannonade in the 100th Derby in 1974 and with Spend a Buck in 1985.

Vasquez, who will ride Leo Castelli, won with Foolish Pleasure in 1975 and with the filly Genuine Risk in 1980. They were both trained by Jolley, who trains Gulch and Leo Castelli.

Stephens' winners were Cannonade and Swale in 1974.

The kiss of death

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The label, 2-year-old thoroughbred champion, has been the kiss of death in the Kentucky Derby the past seven years. On the Churchill Downs backstretch, there are a myriad of explanations.

Late bloomers, the competition, and health are among the opinions offered.

Five of the last seven 2-year-old champions never got to Run for the Roses the first Saturday in May because of illness or injury. That group includes Lord Avie (1980), Deputy Minister (1981), Roving Boy (1982), Devil's Bag (1983) and Tasso (1985).

Forsan doubles team takes early exit

Moon says blacks still shunned as NFL OB's

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers quarterback Warren Moon says the failure of NFL teams to draft Texas A&M's Kevin Murray this week is a slap in the face to black quarterbacks.

Murray could have returned to A&M for another year, but announced his decision to leave the Aggies late. He was passed over in all 12 rounds of the draft.

"I feel it's a slap in the face to all black quarterbacks," Moon said Thursday. "Here's a guy who's not the stereotype black quarterback. He didn't come out of a school that ran the veer. He didn't run much, but he threw a lot."

"Murray holds SWC passing records. He took his team to the Cotton Bowl the last two years. He came back from a major injury. He deserved the right to be drafted," Moon said.

He said excuses of Murray not being highly rated and his declaring his eligibility late weren't good excuses for teams to not draft him.

"I'm not really sure what being black has got to do with it," Moon said. "It's just the stigma. You look at his numbers, his winning, his athletic ability. It's probably as good as some of the guys who went early."

Moon, Philadelphia's Randall Cunningham, Washington's Doug Williams, and Dallas' Reggie Cunningham are the NFL's black quarterbacks. Tampa Bay selected Mississippi State's Don Smith in the second round, but he is viewed as a prospect at running back.

Hawks in crucial series

The Howard College baseball Hawks hold their destiny in their hands this weekend when they host Ranger Jr. College for a three-game series starting at 2:00 p.m. Saturday at Jack Barber Field.

The Hawks must win two of the three games to clinch a spot in the state Junior College tournament. If they fail to win the necessary two games, Ranger must lose one of their games next week against Northwood Institute in order for the Hawks to make the tournament.

The series kicks off with one game Saturday at 2:00. The teams will play a doubleheader Sunday starting at 1:00 p.m.

Sampson after new pact

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's Ralph Sampson, whose contract expires at the end of this season, said Friday new contract talks between his agents and the Rockets have bogged down.

Things right now are at a standstill.

Sampson said in an interview with KRIV-TV, Houston. "I think my agents will continue to talk with the Rockets and try to resolve it."

Sampson, represented by Gene Perry and Arthur Wilkinson of Philadelphia, said he did not know why the talks were at a standstill.

"I don't know the reasons because I'm trying to concentrate on playing basketball," Sampson said. "If I get into it and get emotional, I can't concentrate like I should."

Parrish gets suspended

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Parrish of the Texas Rangers has been suspended for two games for bumping umpire John Hirschbeck in a game against Boston on April 24, American League President Bobby Brown announced Friday.

The league office said Parrish has decided not to appeal the suspension and would sit out the Rangers' games Friday and Saturday against Toronto.

Ryan hits, pitches Astros to victory

ATLANTA (AP) — Nolan Ryan, flirting with his sixth no-hitter for 5 1/3 innings, gave up three hits and one run in 6 2/3 innings and hit a three-run homer Friday as the Houston Astros routed the Atlanta Braves 12-3.

The 40-year-old right-hander lost his no-hit bid when Ken Oberkfell grounded a 1-2 pitch back through the middle in the sixth inning.

Ryan, 22, retired the first 10 Braves in order before walking Oberkfell in the fourth. The Braves loaded the bases on another walk and an error before Ryan worked his way out of the jam.

Ryan, who walked three and fanned four to increase his major league career-leading strikeout total to 4,317, lost his bid for his 55th career shutout in the seventh on Glenn Hubbard's RBI single.

Padres 7-5 Friday.

With one out in the eighth, Dawson hit his seventh homer of the season to tie the score 5-5 against reliever Lance McCullers, 2-3, and one out later Jody Davis singled.

Pirates 4, Giants 2

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mike Diaz hit a tie-breaking solo homer and Sid Bream added a two-run shot to back Rick Reuschel's four-hitter Friday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the San Francisco Giants 4-2.

A part-time starter, Diaz's fifth homer of the season led off the Pirates' fifth against losing pitcher Mark Davis, 3-1. Diaz has averaged a homer per every nine at-bats this season.

After Diaz singled with two outs in the Pirates' seventh and was lifted for pinch-runner R.J. Reynolds, Bream hit his fifth homer over the right field wall.

Reuschel, 1-1, struck out five and walked three, checking the Giants on one hit after his wild pitch scored Will Clark in the Giants' third.

Mets 7, Expos 6

NEW YORK (AP) — Pinch-hitter Tim Lincecum homered with one out in the ninth inning Friday night to give the New York Mets a 7-6 victory over the Montreal Expos.

Lincecum, batting for Wally Backman, sent a 2-1 pitch from Bob McClure, 0-1, over the left field fence. McClure had taken over for reliever Randy St. Claire to start the ninth and retired Lenny Dykstra on a fly ball before Lincecum hit his first home run of the season.

Twins 7, Yankees 4

MINEAPOLIS (AP) — Gary Gaetti hit a tie-breaking home run to ignite a five-run fourth inning and Steve Lombardozzi had the first two-homer game of his career as the Minnesota Twins defeated the New York Yankees 7-4.

Winner Bert Blyleven, 2-1, allowed eight hits in eight innings-plus and struck out 10. The right-hander left after Dan Pasqua's two-run homer in the ninth inning and Jeff Reardon took over for his fifth save.

Reds 8, Phillies 5

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eric Davis hit two home runs, including a grand slam, and Buddy Bell added a solo shot as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 8-5 in a home run battle Friday night.

Davis now has a National League-leading nine homers, while the Reds have hit 21 homers in 23 games and lead the major leagues with 35. There were a total of seven homers in Friday's game, including Mike Schmidt's seventh of the season and 502nd of his career.

Out of the blocks
Runners in this heat of the girls 100 meter hurdles come out of the blocks in the prelims at the Region I-AA track meet at Blankenship Field Friday night. Field events get started at 9 a.m. today and running finals begin at 2 p.m.

Baseball

Blue Jays 3, Rangers 2

TORONTO (AP) — Jesse Barfield's second home run of the game leading off the bottom of the 10th inning gave the Toronto Blue Jays a 3-2 victory over Texas on Friday night, snapping the Rangers' six-game winning streak.

Barfield hit a 3-2 pitch from Mitch Williams, 2-2, over the right-field fence to give Toronto its fifth straight win.

Toronto rookie Jeff Musselman, 2-0, who pitched a perfect top of the 10th, was the winner as the Blue Jays won for the fourth time in as many extra-inning games.

Texas had tied the game 2-2 in the sixth on Pete Incaviglia's ninth home run of the season, a solo shot off Toronto starter Jimmy Key.

Texas starter Jose Guzman had retired 13 batters in a row when Barfield hit his sixth homer of the year over the right-field fence in the fifth. It was the first home run off Texas pitching in 60 1/3 innings.

White Sox 5, Orioles 1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Greg Walker, Ivan Calderon and Tim Lincecum hit six-inning home runs as the Chicago White Sox beat the Baltimore Orioles 5-1 Friday night behind the eight-hit pitching of Floyd Bannister.

The three homers in one inning tied a club record for the White Sox, who had only 10 homers in their first 18 games.

Walker, who snapped a 4-for-61 slump with a single in the third, hit his third home run of the season to launch the sixth-inning uprising.

Cubs 7, Padres 5

CHICAGO (AP) — Andre Dawson tied the score with a home run and Shawn Duntson singled to put Chicago ahead as the Cubs rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to beat the San Diego

Padres 7-5 Friday.

With one out in the eighth, Dawson hit his seventh homer of the season to tie the score 5-5 against reliever Lance McCullers, 2-3, and one out later Jody Davis singled.

Pirates 4, Giants 2

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mike Diaz hit a tie-breaking solo homer and Sid Bream added a two-run shot to back Rick Reuschel's four-hitter Friday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the San Francisco Giants 4-2.

A part-time starter, Diaz's fifth homer of the season led off the Pirates' fifth against losing pitcher Mark Davis, 3-1. Diaz has averaged a homer per every nine at-bats this season.

After Diaz singled with two outs in the Pirates' seventh and was lifted for pinch-runner R.J. Reynolds, Bream hit his fifth homer over the right field wall.

Reuschel, 1-1, struck out five and walked three, checking the Giants on one hit after his wild pitch scored Will Clark in the Giants' third.

Mets 7, Expos 6

NEW YORK (AP) — Pinch-hitter Tim Lincecum homered with one out in the ninth inning Friday night to give the New York Mets a 7-6 victory over the Montreal Expos.

Lincecum, batting for Wally Backman, sent a 2-1 pitch from Bob McClure, 0-1, over the left field fence. McClure had taken over for reliever Randy St. Claire to start the ninth and retired Lenny Dykstra on a fly ball before Lincecum hit his first home run of the season.

Winner Bert Blyleven, 2-1, allowed eight hits in eight innings-plus and struck out 10. The right-hander left after Dan Pasqua's two-run homer in the ninth inning and Jeff Reardon took over for his fifth save.

Reds 8, Phillies 5

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eric Davis hit two home runs, including a grand slam, and Buddy Bell added a solo shot as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 8-5 in a home run battle Friday night.

Davis now has a National League-leading nine homers, while the Reds have hit 21 homers in 23 games and lead the major leagues with 35. There were a total of seven homers in Friday's game, including Mike Schmidt's seventh of the season and 502nd of his career.

Doc's housecalls not over yet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Charles Barkley scored 25 points and Julius Erving added 22 as the Philadelphia 76ers overcame a 17-point first-half deficit to beat the Milwaukee Bucks 124-118 Friday night and send their NBA first-round playoff series to a fifth and deciding game.

The 76ers and Bucks meet Sunday in Milwaukee, with the winner earning a second-round berth against the Boston Celtics.

The Sixers finally tied the score at 67 with 7:25 left in the third quarter and built a seven-point lead twice, the last at 77-70 with 3:44 to play.

But the Bucks scored eight straight points to take their last lead at 77-77, before Maurice Cheeks made a jump shot with 1:11 left in the period, sending Philadelphia ahead to stay. The 76ers led 84-80 after three quarters.

Barkley scored 12 points and Erving added 10 in the final period, as the Bucks never got closer than five points in the final 10 minutes.

Cliff Robinson added 21 points for Philadelphia, while Cheeks had 13 points and 11 assists.

Milwaukee's Terry Cummings led all scorers with 29 points, including 14 in the second period. Sidney Moncrief added 18 for the Bucks.

Hawks 101, Pacers 97

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Atlanta's Dominique Wilkins scored 30 points, including the go-ahead basket and a clinching pair of free throws in the closing minutes, as the Hawks beat the Indiana Pacers 101-97 Friday night to win their first-round NBA playoff series.

The Hawks' 3-1 victory in the best-of-five series moves them into the Eastern Conference semifinals against Detroit. That series opens Sunday in Atlanta.

Wilkins had 14 of his points in the final period and put the Hawks ahead for good at 95-93 with 1:32 to play, scoring on a rebound of a missed free throw by teammate Glenn Rivers. Wilkins then stole the ball from Pacers rookie Chuck Person and hit two free throws after he was fouled by John Long.

Rivers stole the ball again and Randy Wittman, who backed Wilkins with 21 points, scored to put Atlanta up by six. The Pacers got as close as 100-97 with seven seconds left on a basket by Person, who had 40 points, but Cliff Livingston added a free throw two seconds later to complete the scoring.

Indiana rallied from eight points down in the third quarter, tying the game at 61-61 on a basket by Person. There were six more ties and 10 lead changes after that.

The Pacers' final lead was at 88-87 before two baskets by Wilkins and one by Jon Koncak helped the Hawks to a 93-89 edge. Person and Long then scored, tying the game for the final time.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION The State of Texas To RUBE S. MARTIN, and all unknown owners and heirs of unknown owners and all other persons claiming any title or interest in the below described lands, Defendants in the cause numbered and entitled below.

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court, 118th Judicial District of Howard County, at the courthouse in Big Spring, Texas, at or before 10:00 a.m. of the first Monday next after the expiration of 42 days from April 8, 1987, the date of issuance of this citation, by filing a written answer to Plaintiff's Original Petition that was filed in the court on April 7, 1987, numbered 3228 on the docket of the court, and entitled BOBBY S. WASH, Plaintiff, v. RUBE S. MARTIN, ET AL, Defendants.

The nature of this suit, briefly stated, is one of trespass to try title, in which Plaintiff, for cause of action, would show the court that: (1) On or about January 1, 1960, he was lawfully, in fee simple, seized and possessed of realty situated in Howard County, Texas, and legally described as Lot 9 and Block 28, of the ORIGINAL TOWN OF FORSAN, Howard County, Texas.

(2) Defendants unlawfully entered on the above described premises and ejected Plaintiff from those premises. Defendants unlawfully withheld from Plaintiff the possession of those premises to his damage in excess of the minimum jurisdictional limits of the court. Plaintiff requests judgment for title to and possession of the land and for such other and further relief to which he is entitled, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Original Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served without 90 days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved. The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve it and make due return according to requirements of law, and the mandates of this citation.

Issued under my hand and the seal of the court at Big Spring, Texas, on the 8 day of April, 1987. GLENDA BRASEL, District Clerk, 118th Judicial District Court of Howard County, Texas. By Cheryl L. Cahill, Deputy. 4144 April 11, 18, 25 & May 2, 1987.
