Resident Tours Europe: Vera's Dream Comes True

Mrs. Jack Lenderson has returned from a six weeks' tour in Europe and with her came Vera De Potter, a pretty brown-eyed lass from Merilbeke, Belgium, a suburb of Ghent.

While a guest in the Ghent Home of Helene Bekeart, last year's foreign exchange student who made her home with the Lendersons, the Bekearts and Mrs. Lenderson were dinner guests one evening in the home of their friends, the De Potters.

It was then that Vera expressed her life-long dream of coming to America. Knowing Helene and listening to her tell of life here increased her desire to fulfill this dream.

Mrs. Lenderson continued to think of her wishes, and although she instantly liked Vera very much, she thought that it would be completely out of the question bringing her back.

Later, on a trip to Olstead, Vera's year to learn of America, the customs and school, prompted her to contact Mr. Lenderson and with his consent, they started on the whirlwind of getting papers, passports, etc. in order by the time Mrs. Lenderson was to return.

While this was being processed, she set out on her tour to see Europe.

The Bekeart family accompanied her on a week's tour of Holland. "It was a beautiful place," she said and "one of the most progressive in the Netherlands." Rotterdam, a chief commercial port, was demolished during the war and has been re-built and looks very much like our cities.

Touring the country by car, they went to Amsterdam, a city divided by the Amstel and numerous canals into 100 small islands; connected by more than 300 bridges. There, they visited the diamond cutting places and polishing factories, cheese factories, and flower shipping auction houses where fresh flowers were brought in early mornings, auctioned off to buyers and flown all over the world by night. They saw many cathedrals and museums. "Night Watch" by Rembrandt in the National Museum there was Mrs. Lenderson's favorite of all the old masters paintings displayed throughout Europe.

A boat ride up the canal and into the North Sea was also something to remember.

THE AMERICAN WAY — Vera De Potter was able to fulfill a life-long dream of coming to America and is learning about home life here in the Jack Lenderson home where she is living and attending Muleshoe High School as a

In Volendam Mrs. Lenderson and Helene found a place where costumes of the native Hollanders were supplied for tourists to dress and have pictures made of themselves. While dressed in the long skirts, wooden shoes and dutch bonnets, they went out onto the street for a picture and asked two Holland soldiers to pose with them for the shot. Before they got back into the building, other tourists mistook them for Hollanders.

The typical breakfast there was hard, dry bread, milk, cheese and strong coffee. Coffee and milk were poured from containers at the same time into two cups. "But" she said, "the coffee was so strong that you certainly had to have milk in it." Cheese was one of the main food items throughout Europe and was served just after the main course with all meals, and usually a choice of Holland, Swiss, or Italian cheese.

Paris was one place she was "determined not like" for political reasons mainly and not because so many raved about Paris that she thought surely she would be disappointed, but she too, found it fabulous.

The Cathedral of Notre-Dame was most interesting; begun in Paris in 1163 and is one of the finest examples of Gothic architecture in the world characterized by twin towers and exquisite portals. Mrs. Lenderson's celebration of the cathedral, marking its 800th year in existence.

This celebration program was called "Sight and Sound". The massive crowd gathered along the Seine River and flood light swere spotted on one section of the cathedral at a time with all nar-ano, Parma, Siena, through the Italian Riviera, and to Venice.

"Venice" Mrs. Lenderson said, "was the quaintest place. No cars there and all travel is by waterways." The Grand Canal is spanned by a Bridge, now a market place and from the Canal flows more than 150 lesser canals.

On this vast network of waterways countless gondolas take the people about. Innumerable lanes make each house accessible.

"We took a trolly boat into Venice and were told by the guides that we would leave the boat at the 17th station near our hotel. All the way to the 17th station, stops were made at each station where passengers got on and off."

"Our first night in Venice, we went on a moonlight tour on a gondola with a singing gondolier setting the mood with his beautiful tenor voice."

St Marks Square was also something to see with orchestra playing continually for those visiting the square and sitting at the tables on the open air restaurants and feeding the thousands of tame pigeons that stay on the grounds.

Back in Belgium at the conclusion of the tour, Mrs. Lenderson found that Vera could come to the states with her as a migrant and would have to return to Belgium in a 3 to 6 months period. This would not have fitted into the plans as Vera would be forfeiting a year at the University there, since she graduated from high school last year, in order to attend school here for one term.

Going to the American Embassy there, they tried that route to get papers signed for a year's stay. After talking with the vice counsellor, this was granted — based on the fact that the Lendersons had had a Belgium foreign exchange student.

So Vera's dream came true . . . and of America she says "Its different, but I like it."

The 18 year old girl is the daughter of a Belgian doctor of veterinary and has attended a school for girls, Muleshoe High School is the first she has attended where both boys and girls go.

Among the things she finds different are the freedoms to choose school subjects whereas in Belgium, they had to take all subjects. No government, civics or homemaking is taught in her country. The age of dating is also different, starting young here and much older in her country. Vera likes tennis and swimming and art and is very good at sketching. She is taking art under Mrs. Elizabeth Black and will be attending the art course with Mrs. Lenderson which Dr. Emil Cabellero will begin teaching here in a seven month series. Her favorite music is classic and popular.

She speaks six languages: German, Flemish, French, English, Greek and Latin. She loves school and although she had only been enrolled in Muleshoe High School for about 7 days, she took six weeks examinations and made good grades.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenderson have extended an invitation to all the young people in the Muleshoe area to come by their home, 1818 West Avenue D, and visit Vera and also to adults who would like to meet her.

HOLLANDERS!!! — Not really, however other tourists along the streets of Volendam, Holland thought they were Mrs. Jack Lenderson and Helene Bekeart are pictured dressed in the native costume in a typical Dutch setting. The picture was made while Mrs. Lenderson and the Bekeart family were touring the country in August.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By REV. J. FRANK PEERY

AWAY WE GO
In New York City, Chicago, and Philadelphia it's the subway; in London it's the Underground or Tube; in Moscow and Leningrad it's the Metro. In the United States and England, the underground mode of transportation is for quick travel and the moving of millions of people from home to job and from job to home. In the Soviet Union, the Metro (subway system) is a source of pride. Not only is it a means of transportation it is a top sightseeing attraction. For example, every one of the 54 stations in Moscow is a masterpiece of Soviet architecture, sculpture, and symbolism. There are no vending machines, no advertising, no smoking, and no trash. One has the feeling he is in a museum rather than a transportation station.

In Leningrad, a city of over three million, the metro is 300 to 400 feet underground. Marshy conditions make it necessary to go this deep. The ground is frozen in order to support the building of the metro and the construction of super escalators which move people to and from the stations.
Fares on the Metro are low and fixed. For five kopecks (7 cents) you can travel the whole length of the metro in any Soviet city. The trains operate on a split-second and unerring timetable. At the end of each metro station is a clock. Every minute on the minute, trains come and go. I stood and watched for some thirty minutes in a Moscow station. Thirty trains passed minute on the minute. They are controlled by radio and television from

W. JENE MILLER

"Why in the world," people ask, "would any loyal American criticize even an extreme anti-communist?" Aren't they helping fight our worst enemy? Here's the answer to the concern over methods. Dr. Henry Lea, in THE INQUISITION OF THE MIDDLE AGES writes, on page 127:

"... the Council of Narbonne, in 1244, winds up an enumeration of the various indications by saying that it is sufficient if the accused can be shown to have manifested by any word or sign that he had faith or belief in heretics or considered them to be 'good men'... The kind of testimony received was as flimsy and impalpable as the facts, or supposed facts, sought to be proved."

Dr. Lea continues, "Great weight was attached to popular report or belief, and to ascertain this, the opinion of the witness was freely received, whether based on knowledge or prejudice, hearsay evidence, vague rumors, general impressions, or idle gossip. Everything, in fact that could affect the accused injuriously was eagerly sought and scrupulously written down."
Does this apply to extremists' methods? Look at the record: A national digest magazine prints a smear about a "pink fringe",

In the Soviet Union, it is interesting to note that buses, trolley buses and street cars operate without conductors. The driver drives. You pay your fare on the rear and drop your kopecks in a cash box. If you do not have the exact change, fellow passengers help you. Experience shows that people can be trusted. I just had to be shown, I doubted the honor system. On a trolley bus in Tbilisi, I didn't pay. Nobody came to collect my fare (4 kopecks); however, about six sets of eyes stared me into honesty. I got up and paid the cash box.

A Cappella Chorus To Sing Here At Church of Christ

The 52-voice "A Cappella Chorus" from Lubbock Christian College, will present a program of sacred music at the Muleshoe Church of Christ at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 29.
A Muleshoe student, Mary Cornelison, is singing in the first alto section of the chorus. Miss Cornelison is a 1962 graduate of Muleshoe High School and a sophomore secretarial science major at LCC. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cornelison, 1521 West Avenue B.

Muleshoe is the final stop for the chorus on their first concert tour of the fall semester. Performances scheduled prior to the one at Muleshoe are at Midland which was a distortion of truth and refused to print a retraction. A U. S. Senator had to be censored for vicious and unfounded attacks upon a Protestant Bishop. A Representative made charges about the mayor of a great city that he knew were dishonest. A national broadcaster smeared a church youth group and even though his dishonest source was pointed out to him, refused to retract. One loud "anti-communist" admitted he was lying when he made up percentage figures about Catholic clergymen being communist. One man publishes smearing reports "without comment" purporting to show Presbyterian and Methodist clergymen have been procommunist.

Even one of the most able anti-communists made the unhappy statement that the best propaganda weapon of the Communists was the First Baptist Church of Moscow. But worst of all is a radio preacher's loud screams that liberalism in the pulpit always means communism. This means a religious test for political loyalty, and that was exactly the basis upon which the Inquisition was conducted.

Americanna Prize For Students Set At Jr High School

An American history-current events prize was established by a Muleshoe woman for Muleshoe Junior High school yesterday, according to Neal Dillman, schools superintendent.

To be a monthly cash presentation, the "Goodrow American History Award", will be given to the Junior High pupil writing the best original composition on some facet of American history or current event concerning the American way of life.

Believing that early original research into the nation's history will not only build scholarship and patriotism, but also a better student understanding of America's world position and responsibilities, Mrs. Betty Goodrow, instituted the award in the name of better knowledge.

The prize will be distributed each month and judged on composition originality and research accuracy. Junior high English and History teachers will narrow the entries to three. Mrs.

Goodrow will select the winner from among those. An American history hobbyist, Mrs. Goodrow, has had articles published in Horizon, D. A. R. Research, American Historian and others.

Mules Win First Conference Game 24-0

By JAY SPAIN

A fired-up team of Mules came through with an important win Friday night as they romped over the favored Morton Indians in their conference opener and their first win of the 1963 football season.

The Mules had the spirit and determination from the opening whistle to the final gun with both defense and offense sparking more than anyone thought possible. As the Mules kicked off to Morton, the Indians with the aid of a penalty moved the ball to the Mules 8 yard line before the ball went over on downs. Muleshoe took possession and moved to their own 49 before they had to punt which went into the end zone and set the ball up on the 20 for Morton. The Indians ran only two plays before they fumbled and it was recovered by Muleshoe on the Morton 30. Eight plays later Kenny Heathington ran over from the two yard line to score the first tally of the upset. PAT was no good with one minute and 45 seconds left in the first quarter.

The Indians took the kick on their 15 and moved to the Mules 37 before the ball went over on downs. Muleshoe then moved to the Morton eight before they let the ball change hands. The Indians moved only to their 21 before they punted their 43.

The Mules moved again into scoring position on the Morton 12 before Morton intercepted a pass and moved out to the Muleshoe 47 before the half ended with the scoreboard reading 6-0 in favor of the Mules. As the second half opened Morton took the kick on their own 14 and pushed to the Muleshoe 30 before they gave up the ball on downs. The Mules started a power drive that moved the whole distance with Scott Oliver rambling over from the 24 to tally the second TD. PAT again was no good. The Indians received the kick again on their 10 and moved only 15 yards before punting to their 42. The Mules couldn't move and punted to the Morton 3. As Morton again tried to move but couldn't penetrate the Mule forward wall and had to tackle Bill Harbin and sophomore tackle Ronnie Swint fell on the ball in the end zone for the first TD of his career and the third Mule tally of the night. Again PAT was no good. The Mules kicked to the Morton 19 and the Indians moved out to their 33 before punting to the Muleshoe 46. Muleshoe then powered for a fourth TD with Dan Smith carrying the pigskin four times for a total of 42 yards. Smith scooted over for the TD from the 13. Kick for the extra point was wide.

As the Indians received this time and tried to move the ball Swint proceeded to take the ball away from the Morton quarterback and the Mules took possession on the Indian 32.

David Roberts ran into the end zone from the 28 but was called back. Due to penalties the Mules decided to kick a field goal on the Morton 1 foot line.

As Morton tried to throw out of coffin corner, but Joe Adams intercepted a pass on the Indian 32. As time ran out Muleshoe had moved the ball to the Morton 25 and the scoreboard read 24-0 in favor of the Mules.

Freshmen Down Olton 27 to 6 In B Team Play

Muleshoe's aggressive freshmen team romped over the Mustang B-team 27-6 Thursday night at Benny Douglas Stadium. The Mules rugged defense kept the Mustang offense in check as they piled up scores. Quarterback Terry Trapp started things off with a 40 yd. scamper around left end in the first period, then on the Mules 1st series of plays Phillip Short went over from the 10. Andy Stovall kicked both extra points. Olton then scored on a 35 yard run right by the surprised Mules. The Mules came roaring back and Phillip Sort went over from the 1. The 1st half ended with the score 2-6. The second half was marked by drives and miscues from the powerful Muleshoe offense and aggressive play from their defense, until Ransom Jones broke up the middle on an eighty-five yard STOPPED — Friday's Muleshoe-Morton game was hard fought from its first play to the final run. Just how hard fought is pictured in this critical play; Dan Smith, Mule full-back, pushing it across from the Mule 40 to the Morton 37 yardline for the first down, which enabled him to push it over for a 42 yard gain and TD from the 13 four plays later. The eyes of a young Texan light up over a painting depicting one of the Lone Star State's finest moments—Sam Houston leading his troops at the Battle of San Jacinto. When the smoke cleared away, Mexican General Santa Anna was defeated and Texas became a Republic with the tough, six-and-a-half foot Houston as its first president. The portrait of Houston, twice president of Texas and its U. S. Senator, is one of 75 historic paintings, "Faces of Freedom," an art exhibit presented by the American Heritage Foundation and the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company. It is currently on display at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

Bailey County's Junior Stock Show Scheduled To Get $250Q From U.F.

The Bailey County Junior Stock Show is scheduled to receive $2,500 of the $13,000 Muleshoe Area United Fund.

The show is a volunteer function conducted by a board of directors headed by Chairman Eugene Black.

The county agent and four vocational agriculture instructors in the county cooperate with the board by supervising boys and girls who attend school in Bailey County and wish to fit and show barrows and gilts, fat lambs and beef calves in the annual show staged each year one week prior to the Lubbock Fat Stock Show.

This show has had an unbroken run in March each year since the end of World War II. It has the unique distinction of paying the highest prize money and costing businessmen less than any stock show of its kind in Texas. The management accomplishes this feat by avoiding the auction sale of stock that often runs the selling price of show animals up to $26,000 dollars over their actual market value.

The Bailey County show leaves the distribution of rewards to a competent judge of livestock. As the show has grown prizes have gradually increased until approximately $2500 will be required to pay prizes offered in the show March 5-8-7, 1964. Another big saving, compared to other counties, is the conversion of the huge Muleshoe High Bus Barn into a show facility for three days each year rather than voting a bond issue for a show barn. Farmers bale bedding free of charge or charge only the price of baling for the benefit of the show thus saving hundreds of dollars.

Much of the success of the show can be attributed to the help of the chamber of commerce and the two local banks for contributing a total of more than half of the prize money until recently when Muleshoe businessmen shouldered most of the chamber

FHA Toughens; Good Farmer Will Get Loans In The Future

The agricultural agency which handles Uncle Sam's big loan business with Texas farmers made it plain Wednesday that from now only the good farmer is going to be considered a good loan risk. Officials of the Farmers Home Administration state headquarters indicated to a meeting of state "agribusiness" leaders that the FHA is switching from "recommending" to "insisting" that borrowers follow the most modern, proven farming methods.

This means such things as soil tests, crop rotations, observing planting dates and plentiful use of fertilizers and insecticides. "This doesn't mean," said state FHA director L. J. Cappleman, that his agency will be pushing any specific product over another. A questioner had asked if he knew of a local FHA supervisor had done so last year.

Cappleman said he knew of only two such instances in the state and they were speedily "corrected." It is strictly against FHA policy to recommend just one chemical, he stressed.

Another questioner asked if it is true that in Wharton County Negro program staff assistant in plement called on Rock Robinson, the state office, to answer.

"I have told banking groups that if we have one single loan among our thousands, that you want at reasonable terms you can certainly have it," Cappleman said. "We don't think we can afford to sit back and let the fleahoppers or boll weevils tear up everything we've accomplished on a farm."

Hoyt Gaston, FHA farm management specialist, told the group, "Average (farming) is not good enough for the FHA. Our job is to get the family farm back to private credit as soon as possible. The 'average' farmer can't recover from trouble and get back to the bank. Our 1964 intention is to get the family farm back to private credit as soon as possible."

Local farmers and Muleshoe firms have been quite willing to donate the needed balance to board members. It is the belief of the board that joining the United Fund will benefit all concerned and make possible the continued steady growth and success of the stock show.

Members of the board are: Buford Bates, Lewis Scoggin, Ed Little, Gordon Murrach, Joe Wheeler, Bud Warren, Carl Polard, Buck Medin, Pete Black and Leon Lewis.

pleman to explain FHA's past record and its new 1964 fiscal year. The audience of about 200 persons included representatives of Texas A&M, other federal farm groups, banks, fertilizer and insecticide industries, county agents, ginners, research agencies and farm organizations.

"If the family-type farm, which is our agency's concern, is to succeed in the next few years in Texas they must learn how to properly use fertilizers, insecticides, herbicides, and the latest farm methods," said Cappleman. He said that his agency's main aim is to return the farmer to the point where he can go to private concerns for his financing.

Spokesmen report that the PT-A has obtained 97 new members as a result of the drive which will end Tuesday. Membership now totals 208. This is 68 more than the group's total membership last year. The Drive's slogan is "Children and school need you, join this American team today!"

sive program is based on latest research findings by state, federal and private organizations, as well as on personal visits to outstanding farmers for practical, realistic information."

The "family farm" is no longer a team of mules and 40 acres, it's a $50,000 investment that requires $6,000 to $15,000 just to make a crop, said Gaston. Roy Tisdale of the real estate loan division chief, gave a rundown on the money loaned by his agency in recent years. The 1963 fiscal year total in Texas was $50,351,615; since 1935 the total is $681,569,122. The FHA has collected 91 per cent of the loans that have matured in that period, with $38,628,945 in interest, he said.

18th Anniversary Of Soap Box of World

During the darkest days of World War Two, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill met on a warship in the U-Boat infested waters of the Atlantic. They came together for a definite purpose . . . they came to plan for a better future . . .

The President and the Prime Minister came together to lay down the Atlantic Charter . . . and their meeting was a Milestone in social progress!

This week the United Nations Charter will have been in force for 18 momentous years. But what does it all mean? Is it good . . . is it all good? Is it bad . . . can it be all bad? This much we know . . . it's confusing, plenty confusing!

But hold on a moment, friend. Surely this is not confusing . . . surely you will agree to this. The prospect of total war . . . A-bomb, H-bomb war . . . is now so horrible that the UN must continue to work . . . not for just these 18 years . . . but for 18 more, and 18 more, and 18 more after that. In fact, for all the years necessary to achieve and to preserve a peace which remains elusive.

Americans who believe that the United Nations is the best we have to depend on for the present, sometimes are offended by one question put to them. The question is this: "What does the United States get out of its investment in the UN?" Stated somewhat more baldly, the question then becomes: "What's in it for us?" Now, this is a perfectly legitimate question . . . deserving of an honest answer. Nations, like men, act from self-interest. To survive, they must.

Today the US has been a going concern for 18 years. Sometimes not going too fast, sometimes gobbling up the distance . . . once in awhile sliding backward.

Actually, if you place all of your hopes in the UN . . . all of your hopes for peace and only your hopes . . . with no regard for the practical reservation . . . then you are bound to be disappointed. If you think that the General Assembly is a glorious "Magna Charta For The World" as it was precipitously advertised 18 years ago . . . if you think a meeting of the Security Council is the most important get-together since the "Last Supper" . . . then your unrealistic hopes can only lead to desperate disillusionment. For by these standards, the UN has been a great flop!

But . . . the solid contributions made by the UN far outweigh the disadvantages.

A score of peaceful settlements show the UN's delicate hand — the creation of the Kingdom of Libya and the Republic of Indonesia; truces in Kashmir and Palestine; safeguarding of Greece from Communist attack and the peaceful creation of 11 new nations in Africa.

The world still lies heavy-hearted under the threat of war. That hideous danger is still with us, of course. But there are many sober-minded diplomats who sincerely believe that it would have broken out long before now had it not been for the United Nations.

. . . and so, the peoples of the world raise their eyes toward a new and very real hope . . . the United Nations. Most of us know that these first 18 years are only a beginning . . . most of us expect no miracles, nor do we expect miracles now! But most of us agree with the words spoken by a young UN diplomat, when he said: "It's better that ten delegates get ulcers at the UN Assembly than that one young man gets shot in a war." With this, we must agree!

"East is East, and West is West and never the twain shall meet" wrote Rudyard Kipling . . . but wait a minute, Sir Winston Churchill takes exception! He had this to say: "The United Nations is the expression of the heart's desire of the vast majority of all the peoples . . . to earn their daily bread in peace."

The UN is now 18 years old . . . who do you like in the 18th. Kipling or Churchill? In any case, we can dismiss this Kipling concept . . . never the twain shall meet . . . because it just isn't true anymore.

For years now the United Nations has been the place, the only place where steady diplomatic contact is maintained between East and West. It's the place where the issues that divide the world are dragged out into the open and put before the world to be seen and judged. It's a "Soapbox For The World."

And its great strength . . . its unique moral power . . . derives from its ability to mobilize a great irresistible intangible . . . world public opinion. Proof of the moral and public-opinion value of the UN is the fact that the Communists are not impervious to the UN's moral writ in the globe-circling battle for men's minds, they cannot afford to be.

Therefore . . . as long as the United Nations remains . . . there exists a court of public-opinion before which both sides must present themselves and their actions. Take away that court and you take away the necessity to make an accounting! The United Nations is truly "A Soapbox For The World!"

The United Nation's most successful, if least-known, work as its continuing effort to rescue half the world's population from poverty and distress. They face appalling statistics . . . most of the human race cannot read or write; each year 300 millions suffer from malaria; two-thirds of the world's 900 million children are underfed. Yet . . . a bare handful of UN men and women cover the earth, seeking by peaceful methods to bridge the gap between the world's haves and have-nots.

Despite the terrible anxieties we face today . . . the past 18 years have seen the UN accomplish near-miracles in many fields. Agreements on aviation, trade, agriculture, finance, political and social affairs and many others. Thirty-seven thousand lighthouses blaze out the warm-hearted fact of international cooperation for safety at sea! Drop a letter in a mailbox at your corner . . . and rest assured that it will be speedily and safely delivered on the other side of the world. Pick up your phone and call any one of 81 million telephone subscribers outside the US. The World warns of storms in Asia, of Locust pests in the Middle East. 1947 saw vaccines and other medical supplies flown to Egypt to stop an epidemic of cholera in six short weeks . . . in Panama, one week was enough to stamp out a yellow fever epidemic . . . 20 million children in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East have been vaccinated against tuberculosis.

Now to return to that question we asked earlier . . . what DO we get out of the United Nations
