Ambulance emergency still 263-8111

Although there is a change in ambulance service in Big Spring and Howard County today, the emergency telephone number for that service remains the same.

The City Council Tuesday ratified an ambulance service contract with Rural Metro. The company begins business in Howard County today.

The ambulance emergency phone number — 263-8111 — will not change, City Manager Mack Wofford said. The number is listed on the inside cover of the Big Spring telephone directory.

City Attorney Hardy Wilkerson said the contract set a $50 fee for ambulance stand-by special event coverage, such as football games.

Council members present were Pat DeAnda, D.D. Johnston, D.W. Overman and Johnny Rutherford.

Council institutes $75 ballpark fee

By SPENCER SANDOW
Staff Writer

A fee of $75 per day per field for use of Cotton Mize ballpark will be charged tournament participants, the City Council decided at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

The fee is an attempt to recover lighting and maintenance expenses, Councilman Johnny Rutherford said.

City staff was instructed to prepare an ordinance instituting the fee and an application process, for a future Council vote.

The Council also proposed to award a $360,902.50 street improvement contract to Price Construction of Big Spring, although South Texas Construction of Midland was the low bidder with a bid of $359,729, Public Works Director Tom Decell said.

State law says a contract can be awarded to the second lowest bidder if the low bidder is judged not

Ballfield location may be reconsidered

Herald staff report

Weeks of heated debate on the location of a proposed softball park were for naught, two City Councilmen said Tuesday.

"We're probably going to have to debate the issue all over again," said Councilman Johnny Rutherford.

Airpark funds originally destined toward construction of the ballpark have been marked for water and sewer lines and other costs related to the construction of a private detention center at the Air-park to house illegal aliens, Councilman D.D. Johnston said.

Therefore, construction of the ballpark will have to wait until the city has more money, he said. He added that money citizens donated to the project is being saved for that purpose.

The softball park was to be built at the Airpark near the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp, the Council decided in April on a 6-1 vote.

Airpark funds can legally be spent only on projects at the Airpark.

sufficiently responsible, City Attorney Hardy Wilkerson said.

Council members indicated they judged Price more responsible because it already is engaged in similar work for the city, he said.

The law does not require that the second lowest bidder be proved more responsible before it can be awarded the contract, Wilkerson explained.

Before actually awarding the contract, the low bidder must be given the opportunity to appear before the Council to demonstrate that it is responsible, he said. The meeting probably will be at the next regular Council session, he said.

Public hearings on the city budget and a potential zoning ordinance revision were set.

The hearing on the 1987-88 budget is set for 6:30 p.m. July 28 at City Hall.

The zoning hearing will be a joint session with the Planning and Zoning Commission, set for 6:30 p.m. Aug. 27 at Dora Roberts Community Center.

A copy of the proposed revision and accompanying map may be examined at City Hall Room 208, or at the Council meeting room at Big Spring McMahon/Wrinkle Airpark, Monday through Friday today through Aug. 17.

In other business, the Council:

• Appointed J. Robert McKenzie to the Airport Zoning Board and Dr. John Key to the Airport Zoning Commission. The two bodies were a requirement of a state grant for Airpark improvements, explained Nancy Brownfield, assistant to Airpark manager Hal Boyd. The commission works under the board.

• Passed on second and final reading an amendment of the City Health Code increasing service fees. Health Inspector James Luck corrected the ordinance to read $5 for immunizations and blood checks free. The ordinance previously read $4 for immunization and $2 for blood checks.

Private prison progress slow; officials meet

By KERRY HAGLUND

Efforts to develop a privately-operated detention center in Big Spring to house about 500 illegal aliens are continuing, but work on the project is going slower than expected, a local official said today.

"It's still very much alive," City Councilman Johnny Rutherford said of the proposal to build a medium-level detention center at the Big Spring McMahon-Wrinkle Airpark.

Rutherford, Public Works Director Tom Decell, Texas Utilities representative Daniel Cowan and Industrial Foundation representative Clyde McMahon Jr. met with developers Tuesday afternoon in Brady to discuss the proposal's progress.

"It's moving a little more slowly than what we initially expected," Rutherford said.

City officials originally expected construction to begin about 45 days after the June announcement, but now Rutherford speculates construction won't begin until January.

Developers are expected to seek a letter of intent from the Immigration and Naturalization Service's Washington, D.C., offices in about two weeks, he said.

They also will present INS officials with a design concept, Rutherford said.

Developers Ed Davenport of Brady and Roy Burnes, president of the Eden Detention Center, will be in Big Spring in about 30 days to detail the financial package, Rutherford said.

"They are very positive that this thing is going to happen," he said.

A recent article quoting Rep. Larry Don Shaw as saying Big Spring is an unlikely candidate for a new prison confused some people, Rutherford said, explaining that Shaw was referring to a state prison.

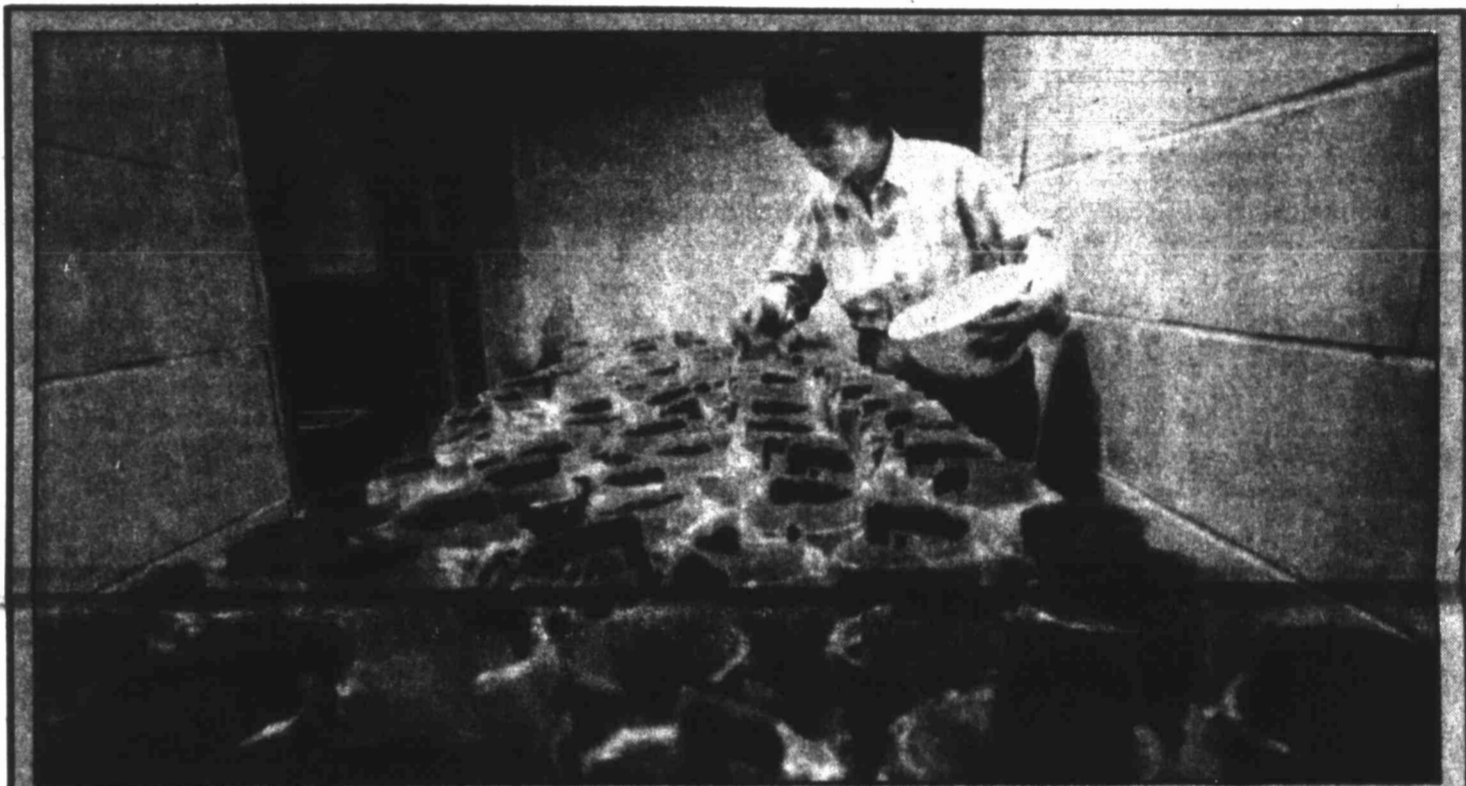

Davenport repeated his desire to use private contractors and suppliers for construction during Tuesday's meeting, Rutherford said.

The privately-operated detention center could provide 150 to 175 local jobs, he said.

City Council June 22 voted unanimously to authorize negotiations with the developers.

The city would receive about $1 per day per inmate or approximately $180,000 annually when the facility is at capacity.

The prison is projected to house 512 inmates — illegal aliens serving one- to two-year terms while awaiting deportation, developer Burnes said.

Party planning

Felice Lopez, Summer Reading Program co-director, fills some of the 254 cups with candy and other goodies in preparation for Thursday and Friday parties at the

Pampa damage nears $1 million

By The Associated Press

A tornado that destroyed nine mobile homes and injured 10 people — one woman critically — in Pampa struck with little warning and caused damages approaching $1 million, officials said.

High winds and hail some witnesses said was as large as baseballs caused extensive damage in Borger, about 28 miles to the northwest, while high winds damaged a feedlot and airport facilities in Spearman and Gruver in Hansford County at the top of the Panhandle, officials said.

The tornado slashed through a largely vacant seven-block area on the western edge of Pampa about 7 p.m. Tuesday, said Steve Vaughan, emergency management director for the Panhandle town.

Nine of the injured underwent treatment for minor injuries and one woman was admitted to the intensive care unit at a Pampa hospital, a nursing supervisor said.

Preliminary estimates of damages in Pampa were set at $900,000, Vaughan said.

Residents said they had no more than 30 seconds to take cover after emergency warnings were sounded.

Pampa Police Officer Gary Boydston said he was in his mobile home with his wife and two children when the storm hit the park.

The winds were so powerful they tore keys from his hand, he said.

"We were on the way out the door and the stuff started flying," Boydston said. "I was trying to get one of my kids, but the wind wouldn't let me."

The warning was sounded late because spotters could not see in the heavy rain, Vaughan said.

"One of the things that hampered us was the visibility," Vaughan said. For 10 minutes before the tornado struck and 20 minutes afterward, the visibility was "line zero," he said.

A spotter south of the park saw one tornado forming, Vaughan said, and another spotter closer to the park saw power lines snapping moments later.

Students improve, gain confidence in special program

A personal interest drives Lorna Simmons in her efforts to help children overcome dyslexia.

Her nine-year-old son Zachery suffers from the learning impairment.

"The reason I got into this is because no one was helping him — so I decided to," she said.

In dealing with the variety of problems that come under the umbrella term of dyslexia, Simmons said she conducts a "pressure-free" method of teaching, known as the Language Retraining Program, which encourages the students to advance at their own pace.

One of the biggest problems dyslexic children face, she said, is the unintentional pressure put on them by parents and teachers.

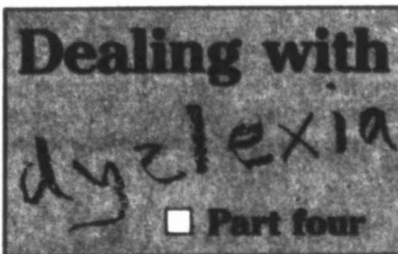

Simmons explained that children with dyslexia "... know the answers (to questions), they just can't come up with them" on demand.

She noted this sometimes prompts parents or teachers to regard the child as inattentive, or worse, as not wanting to learn.

To deal with the various forms of dyslexia, Simmons uses a phonetically-based teaching format that is basically the same for all of her classes at First United Methodist Church in Big Spring.

She begins with a review of the past few lessons, she said, explaining that dyslexic children require more repetition. "While most children learn things after only a few times of looking at it, the dyslexic child must go over the material an average of fifty times," Simmons said.

Unlike public school programs, where reading, writing, and spelling usually are taught separately, Simmons noted she teaches the three at the same time.

It simplifies their learning process, she said, so "they'll be learning one thing, instead of three separate ones."

Reading manuals are incorporated in the program — beginning at a first-grade level and continuing to the eighth-grade level.

Evaluation is constant, she said. "If one of them is progressing easily, or the class is holding him back, I'll advance him to the next class."

Simmons, who graduated cum laude with a double degree in Special Education and English from the University of Texas at Dallas, is quick to emphasize that her program is not a guaranteed

Poindexter 'protected' the President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former National Security Adviser John Poindexter testified today that he deliberately never told President Reagan about the diversion of Iranian arms sales profits to the Contra rebels to shield him from political harm.

"I wanted the president to be protected" if the matter ever became public, Poindexter said.

Reagan, who has insisted all along that he did not know of the diversion, said of Poindexter's testimony: "What's new about that?"

Poindexter supported Reagan's longtime statement on the issue that is at the core of the Iran-Contra affair — whether the president ever learned of the diversion of proceeds before Attorney General Edwin Meese III informed him last Nov. 24.

But the former top White House aide contradicted Reagan on another important issue, saying that the president initially approved selling weapons to Iran in late 1985 as a straight arms-for-hostages deal.

Testifying in a calm voice, Poindexter said he later destroyed the document bearing Reagan's signature to spare him political embarrassment. "I tore it up and put it in the burn bag behind my desk," after Meese told him last Nov. 21 that he was beginning an inquiry into the arms sales, Poindexter said.

Poindexter said he personally approved the diversion scheme in February 1986, and believed that Reagan "absolutely" would have approved the idea if he knew of it. "I'm sure the president would have enjoyed hearing about it," he said.

But Poindexter also said that he shielded Reagan from the knowledge "so I could insulate him and provide him some measure of deniability if it ever leaked out."

"Because it would be controversial, ... I wanted the president to be protected," he said.

Poindexter testified calmly and occasionally puffed on his pipe as he answered the most serious questions that have arisen in the affair — the extent of Reagan's knowledge of events.

At the White House, spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said he discussed Poindexter's testimony with Reagan. "The president doesn't recall signing the (arms-sale) fin-

Davis' lawyer withdraws from case

Dallas Times Herald Bureau
FORT WORTH — In a move that could delay further any new trials in the wrongful-death lawsuits pending against T. Cullen Davis, the oilman's lawyer told a district court Tuesday he no longer would represent Davis because Davis could not pay his fee.

Steve Sumner, who has been a part of Davis' legal defense team since the Fort Worth industrialist was tried for murder in 1977, said state District Judge Michael Schattman approved his withdrawal from the case.

The trustee appointed to oversee Davis' personal finances during bankruptcy proceedings will be responsible for finding a new attorney for Davis, Sumner said.

"Defendant's counsel has been informed ... that there are insufficient assets in the estate to pay the attorneys fees," Sumner said in the withdrawal motion filed with Schattman. "It is with deepest regret that Steve Sumner of Sumner and Associates has no alternative but to withdraw as attorney of record."

Prosecutor denounces minister

Dallas Times Herald Bureau
Angry denouncing the Rev. Walker Railey's repeated refusal to talk to police about the choking attack that left the minister's wife comatose, Dallas County's chief criminal prosecutor demanded Tuesday that Railey either "come before the grand jury or ... leave the country."

"I'm tired of this man messing with this investigation," said Norm Kinne, first assistant to District Attorney John Vance. "I'm tired of this man fooling with the justice system and with the life of his wife. It's about time he came down here and tried to clear up this matter."

Kinne's outburst came as he left a 2-hour meeting with Dallas police detectives who have been stymied in their investigation of the April 22 near-strangulation of Margaret "Peggy" Railey at the couple's Lake Highlands home. She remains in a coma and last week was transferred from Presbyterian Hospital to a nursing home in Tyler.

Kinne also said he would seek a subpoena for the First United Methodist Church minister and bring him before the grand jury "as soon as I can find him."

Man kills nephew from fear of AIDS

DENTON (AP) — Denton County authorities say a man told police he killed his nephew because he believed the nephew had infected him with the AIDS virus by biting him.

Denton County Sheriff's Sgt. Larry Brearley said Thomas Alexander Collins, 54, of Denton was charged with murder following Monday night's shooting of Billy Jack Collins, 38, of Dallas.

The elder Collins was in the county jail Tuesday awaiting bail review, Brearley said. The victim had been shot five times in the chest with a .38-caliber revolver at his uncle's house.

Collins surrendered to a sheriff's deputy outside his house, saying, "I shot him. I did it," according to an arrest report.

The nephew died at Flow Memorial Hospital.

The two men were arguing about the biting incident at the time of the shooting, according to the arrest report.

It was unknown for certain whether the victim was carrying the AIDS virus.

Couple locks son in 'naughty barn'

CEDAR HILL (AP) — Police in this Dallas suburb arrested a couple on charges of injury to a child after they discovered the couple's 7-year-old son locked in a storage shed the parents called "the naughty barn."

Police Capt. P.C. Hambrick said officers Tuesday found the boy's 8-year-old sister attempting to break one of the storage shed's padlocks with a broom in an attempt to free her brother. Officers had to climb through a window to reach the boy.

The children were placed in a foster home, a spokesman for the Texas Department of Human Services said.

Police said the children said their parents called the storage shed "the naughty barn."

Neighbors said they heard the boy scream for help Monday afternoon and again Tuesday morning. Police believe the boy was locked in the shed from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Monday, and again Tuesday morning when the mother left for work.

Texans receive North letters

Dallas Times Herald Bureau
WASHINGTON — Houston oilman Rob Mosbacher was somewhat puzzled when he received a letter from Oliver North in January 1986 thanking him for contributing to conservative fundraiser Carl Channell's effort to aid the Nicaraguan contras.

"I was a little bit surprised," said Mosbacher, who is active in Republican Party matters. "I had never met Ollie North. I just gave a contribution."

North testified Monday he signed "several hundred" letters to contra contributors.

The Iran-contra committees Tuesday released 38 messages sent by North to donors to Channell's National Endowment for the Preservation of Liberty. Thirteen were mailed to Texans, including four Dallas residents — Nelson Bunker Hunt, David A. Witts, Mrs. Page Nelson and Mrs. Martha Lynch. Another was sent to Ellen Garwood of Austin, who has testified before the Iran-contra committees.

"Your support has been essential to those who struggle against the tyranny and oppression of the totalitarian communist regime in Managua," North wrote in letters dated Jan. 24, 1986, when he was a National Security Council staff member.

One recipient of a North message, petroleum geologist John Ramsey of Wichita Falls, said he is sorry he can't frame it.

"I'm kind of mad about it," he said. "The grand jury has my copy of it."

A special prosecutor is probing North's role in the contra fundraising efforts. Channell, who pleaded guilty to defrauding the IRS by illegally seeking tax-deductible contributions, named North as his co-conspirator.

But donors contacted Tuesday had nothing but praise for North.

Ramsey called North "an exceedingly good communicator" who put on "a super show" during his congressional testimony.

"We've gotten a couple hundred millions of dollars in free advertising," he said. "I think this is a turning point in American foreign policy."

Another Texas donor, Evelyn McKinley of Robert Lee, also hailed North's testimony.

"I think it was great and I believe every word he said," said McKinley, who received a note from North. "He is a very, very true patriot. I'd say the wrong people are being investigated. Some of the senators and congressmen are reported to be the friends of the Sandinistas. I feel that they are the ones who should be investigated."

The committees also released details of a 24-city 1986 television advertising campaign designed by Channell to pressure congressmen to vote for contra aid, including four media markets in Texas. Channell's efforts in Texas were disclosed last December by the Dallas Times Herald.

Rep. Albert Bustamante, D-San Antonio, said the revelation confirms his speculation that the White House orchestrated the campaign in an effort to embarrass undecided Democrats.

Judge drops mail fraud convictions

Dallas Times Herald Bureau
FORT WORTH — After weeks of suspense, the threat of prison finally was lifted Tuesday from former state district Judge Tom Cave when a federal judge set aside three mail fraud convictions against him because of a new U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

Citing the high court's June 24 ruling narrowing the scope of the nation's mail fraud law, U.S. District Judge Mary Lou Robinson of Amarillo ruled Tuesday that the convictions be "set aside" and the charges dismissed.

Cave had been charged last November with using the mail as part of a scheme to defraud the citizens of Tarrant County of "their right to the honest, loyal, unbiased and faithful services of their public official," wrote Robinson, who presided over Cave's five-week sex-for-lenience trial.

But on June 24, the Supreme Court voted 7-2 that the nation's mail fraud law should be applied only to those who use the mail to cheat another out of property or money.

"That means that there are no convictions," said Cave, 57, who faced up to 15 years in prison for the three felony convictions. "That means that I'm home free."

The ruling lifts a cloud that has shrouded Cave's life since it was revealed last year that he was being investigated on allegations that he traded lenient rulings for sex with female defendants.

Cave was Tarrant County's senior criminal court judge when he was indicted in November — along with a Fort Worth lawyer and a Fort Worth bail bondsman — on charges of conspiring to violate the civil rights of female defendants.

Leak forces shutdown

MINERAL, Va. — A leak of radioactive water forced the shutdown today of a reactor at the North Anna nuclear power plant, and a small amount of radioactive gas was released to the atmosphere, utility officials said.

Virginia Power declared an alert, the second-lowest of four emergency classifications, after the accident at one of two North Anna reactors.

The utility said it appeared that the release of gas, from a secondary system, "continued for about an hour and a half and was well below the station's technical specification limits."

Iran hearings to rotate

NEW YORK — Soap fans can rejoice, news addicts won't be deprived and the networks will save millions of dollars under a plan to rotate daily coverage of the Iran-Contra hearings beginning Thursday.

A similar arrangement was used during the 1973 Watergate hearings.

The networks began extended, daily, live coverage of the joint congressional hearing last week when Lt. Col. Oliver North began testifying.

The live coverage is costing the networks between $600,000 for NBC and $1 million for CBS in lost advertising revenues each day.

Trade deficit widens

WASHINGTON — The U.S. trade deficit widened to $14.4 billion in May, reversing two consecutive months of improvement, the government said today. Contributing to the worsening of the trade balance was a record $34.8 billion in imports — up from $33.5 billion in April.

The Commerce Department said the May trade imbalance increased from deficits of $13.3 billion in April and $13.6 billion in March.

The report came as a disappointment to economists who had expected continued improvement in the trade balance under the pressure of a weaker U.S. dollar.

The May deficit was the highest since a $15.1 billion deficit in February.

Airline complaints soar

WASHINGTON — Complaints from travelers about shoddy airline service soared during the first six months of the year including a six-fold increase in June, the Transportation Department said Tuesday.

The air carriers with the poorest service record during the six-month period were Continental Airlines, Northwest Airlines, Eastern Airlines, Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways, according to the department.

Explosions kill 67, injure 300

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Two car bombs and two other bombs exploded within moments of each other at rush hour in downtown Karachi, killing at least 67 people and wounding more than 300, officials said.

No group claimed responsibility for Tuesday's bombings, the worst terrorist attack in Pakistan's 40-year history. The municipal government issued a statement saying: "The explosions appeared to be the work of saboteurs of foreign origin." It did not elaborate.

Officials at two hospitals said they had received a total of 67 bodies. But Sattar Edhi, who runs the city's largest private ambulance service, said his workers were still removing charred bodies from cars this morning, and that the death toll could rise to 75.

The bombs exploded at about 6:30 p.m. in the fashionable Saddar shopping district, which was crowded with shoppers, commuters and street vendors.

Dozens of bystanders were killed instantly, and flames leapt from nearby cars and buildings. Witnesses said terrified people ran screaming down the broad boulevard where the car bombs exploded, as glass from shattered windows rained onto the street.

Ghulam Qadir, Pakistan's deputy principal information officer, said in the capital, Islamabad, that the explosions were "the worst bombing ever in Pakistan."

Thousands of weeping people gathered today at Karachi's two central hospitals to try to identify loved ones from grisly color photos posted on bulletin boards outside.

Karachi, a bustling seaport of 7 million people on the warm waters of the Arabian Sea, has a history of ethnic and political unrest. But until Tuesday it had been spared the terrorist bombings that have plagued four other Pakistani cities this year.

There has been speculation that recent bombings in other parts of the country were the work of Pakistanis opposed to the administration of Prime Minister Mohammad Khan Junejo, who governs with the backing of Gen. Mohammad Zia ul-Haq, the president.

Dr. Abdul Karim of Jinnah Post-Graduate Hospital and Dr. Abdul Maquim of Civil Hospital said they had counted 67 bodies and 300 injured people, many in critical condition. The doctors said they did not count body fragments in figuring the death toll.

Car explosion kills 12

TRIPOLI, Lebanon — A car bomb exploded today outside a busy supermarket in this northern Lebanese city and police said at least 12 people were killed and 30 wounded.

Another car bomb exploded a half-hour later in eastern Lebanon's ancient city of Baalbek, killing a woman and injuring five other people.

Most of the victims of the Tripoli blast were women and children.

The initial explosion occurred at 11 a.m. (4 a.m. EDT) on Azmi street in a residential neighborhood of this Syrian-policed city. The bomb, placed inside a red Fiat, went off at the entrance to the supermarket.

Demjanjuk 'confused'

JERUSALEM — A confused John Demjanjuk was unable to decide today whether to go through with the firing of his chief defense attorney, American Mark O'Connor, midway through his Nazi war crimes trial.

Demjanjuk requested a second special court hearing on the issue. Presiding Judge Dov Levine, although obviously frustrated by the use of court time, scheduled the hearing for Monday.

It was the first time Demjanjuk spoke about O'Connor, of Buffalo, N.Y., since he wrote a June 30 letter dismissing him. O'Connor has contended that Demjanjuk was confused, did not really want to fire him and wrote the letter under the influence of his family.

Gorbachev speaks

MOSCOW — Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev told a gathering of writers and artists that his campaign for openness and reform is designed to strengthen socialism, and will never lead to its replacement.

Iraq bombs oilfield

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Iraq said its warplanes today bombed and destroyed an Iranian offshore oilfield in the Persian Gulf just north of the strategic Strait of Hormuz.

50 feared dead in dam break

ANNECY, France (AP) — An earthen dam collapsed, and a wave of mud and water from a rain-swollen river swept into a campground filled with Bastille Day vacationers, leaving 50 people dead or missing, authorities said today.

Hundreds of rescue workers were digging through dirt and rocks in the French Alpine village of Grand Bornand, and by midday the death toll had reached 22, with 28 others feared dead. Ten people were seriously injured and dozens were treated for shock.

A statement from the Haute Savoie regional government said 17 of the dead were found at the campsite or along the route of the torrential current. Swiss police said they found an 18th body in the Arve River on the outskirts of Geneva, 30 miles from Grand Bornand. And officials in Anancy said Swiss police reported seeing four more bodies that had yet to be recovered.

The dam of rocks holding back the Arve River beside the village broke in a storm on Tuesday, Bastille Day, at the end of the long holiday weekend. The water cascaded over tents, trailers and recreation vehicles, and pushed mud and huge rocks into the campsite, leaving no time for escape, witnesses said.

More than 250 rescue workers searched for the missing until about midnight Tuesday. Another 250 joined the effort at first light today, lifting fallen trees, opening flooded vehicles buried under more than three feet of mud, and searching door-to-door among villagers for those reported missing by their families.

Officials said there were about 150 campers and 70 trailers at the time the dam broke in the flat, grassy valley between two forested mountains. It was not known how many foreigners were among the campers at Grand Bornand, a winter ski resort popular with French tourists.

Three bodies were discovered immediately after the flood, and 16 more were found by midday today. A mortuary was set up in Grand Bornand today and authorities began trying to identify the dead.

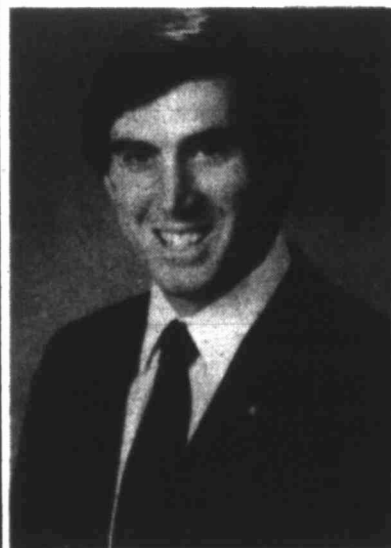

According to witnesses, five or six of the missing people were buried in the mud. Others were believed drowned, officials said.

Among the 10 people seriously hurt was a 3-year-old taken to the Anancy Hospital in serious condition. About 30 others were treated for shock and released, according to police.

The river later receded, leaving the campsite covered with mud and debris.

Rescue workers, including police, firefighters and gendarmes, said efforts to find survivors were hampered because narrow mountain roads to the campsite were blocked by trees blown over in the storm that preceded the mudslide.

Company's coming

Easy Southern recipes for hungry guests

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following recipes were taken from the Southern Heritage "Company's Coming" Cookbook.

It is easy to see why the Southerner has always loved company. Farms and ranches were far apart, towns were few and far between, and transportation was arduous. To have company was to revel in the transient guest and his stories of other places he'd been and perhaps new of mutual acquaintances. From Day One in the South, "company's coming" has been the signal to "put the big pot in the little one."

This week's recipe exchange includes easy Southern dishes that recapture the hospitality of the Virginia plantation and the Big Sky country of Texas.

The Three o'clock dinner is not unknown in Charleston, S.C., even today. Dinner is soup, meat or fish, rice in some form, two vegetables, and dessert. Since the humid or "giddy" weather makes pastry unpredictable, a baked meringue forms the base for the luscious lemon cream in this menu.

Cold cucumber soup starts a South Carolina dinner. Add crisp corn sticks. Carrot ring mold containing green peas, and delicious Plantation Shrimp Pilau.

COLD CUCUMBER SOUP

- 3 tbs. butter
 - 2 medium onions, chopped
 - 2 (1 1/2-ounce) cans chicken broth, undiluted
 - 2 medium potatoes, peeled and cubed
 - 1 1/2 tbs. chopped fresh parsley
 - 2 tsp. dry mustard
 - 1/2 tsp. salt
 - 1/4 tsp. pepper
 - 3 large cucumbers, unpeeled and sliced
 - 1 cup half-and-half
 - Cucumber slices
- Melt butter in a large saucepan. Add onion; saute 10 minutes or until tender. Add broth, potatoes, parsley, mustard, salt and pepper; cook over low heat 30 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Combine potato mixture and cucumber in container of an electric blender; process 3 to 4 minutes or until pureed. Chill at least 4 hours. Stir in half-and-half before serving; garnish with cucumber slices. Makes 8 cups.

PLANTATION SHRIMP PILAU

- 6 slices bacon
 - 2 cups water
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1 cup regular rice, uncooked
 - 3 cups shrimp, peeled and deveined
 - 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 tbs. all-purpose flour
 - 3/4 cup chopped celery
 - 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 - 3 tbs. butter or margarine
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1/2 tsp. pepper
- Fry bacon in large skillet until crisp. Drain bacon, reserving 3 tbs. drippings. Crumble bacon, and set aside. Combine water, salt, and drippings in a large saucepan. Bring to a boil; stir in rice. Reduce heat; cover and cook 20 minutes. Sprinkle shrimp with Worcestershire sauce; dredge in flour. Sauté shrimp, celery, and green pepper in butter for 3 minutes. cover and cook 2 minutes. Remove from heat, and stir into rice. Add salt, pepper, and reserved bacon, stirring well. Serve hot. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CARROT RING MOLD

- 3 cups mashed cooked carrots (about 1 1/2 pounds)
- 1 1/2 cups cracker crumbs
- 1 1/2 cups half-and-half
- 1 cup (4 ounces) shredded extra-sharp Cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1 small onion, grated
- 1 1/2 tsp. sugar

GREEN PEAS

- 1 cup water
 - 4 cups shelled fresh green peas
 - 1 head lettuce, shredded
 - 1 parsley sprig
 - 4 green onions, sliced
 - 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 - 1 tbs. heavy cream
 - 1 tsp. sugar
 - 3/4 tsp. salt
- Bring water to a boil in a large saucepan; add peas, lettuce, parsley, onions, and butter. Bring to a boil; cover, reduce heat, and cook 30 minutes or until tender. Remove parsley. Stir in heavy cream, sugar, and salt; cook 1 minute. Makes 6 to 8 servings. NOTE: The fresh green peas may be served in center of carrot ring, if desired.

CRISP CORN STICKS

- 1 cup yellow cornmeal
 - 1/4 tsp. salt
 - 1/4 tsp. baking soda
 - 1/4 cup vegetable oil
 - 2 tbs. light corn syrup
 - 1 cup buttermilk
- Combine first 3 ingredients in a mixing bowl; set aside. Combine oil, corn syrup, and buttermilk; mix well. Stir into dry ingredients. Place a well-greased cast-iron corn stick pan in 400 degree oven for 3 minutes or until a drop of water sizzles when dropped on pan. Remove pan from oven; spoon batter into pan, filling each section one-half full. Bake at 400 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes or until golden brown. Makes one dozen.

LEMON CREAM MERINGUE

- 4 eggs, separated
- 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 tsp. grated lemon rind

or until thick. Remove from heat, and let mixture cool completely. Beat 1 cup whipping cream until soft peaks form; fold into lemon mixture. Spoon into meringue pie shell; refrigerate overnight.

To serve, beat remaining 1 cup whipping cream until foamy. Gradually add 1 tbs. sugar, and continue beating until soft peaks form. Spread whipped cream over filling. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

A Texan can and will tell you all you need to know about chili. First, the meat should be either cubed or, next best, very coarsely ground. Second, chili contains no beans, spaghetti, or other adulterants. Red beans are, however, a respectable side dish. Nothing warms the bones so well in winter as a bowl of double hot chili; hot with heat and with chiles. While a salad is not mandatory, the contrast of something cool can be very comforting.

HOME-STYLE CHILI

- 4 1/2 pounds boneless round steak, finely diced
- 2 tbs. vegetable oil
- 3 (1 1/2-ounce) cans whole tomatoes, undrained
- 4 (4-ounce) cans chopped green chiles, undrained
- 2 cups water

Fruity desserts gain popularity

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — As Americans continue to watch their weight and waistline, fruit is gaining in popularity as a dessert.

In fact, fresh fruit is served for dessert 54.4 percent of the time, according to a Better Homes and Gardens consumer panel.

A good way to serve fresh fruit is to combine new or unusual fruits with old favorites. Better Homes suggests teaming kiwis, papayas and mangoes with strawberries and grapes. The fruit platter will look colorful while providing a variety of tastes.

1 tsp. salt
 3/4 tsp. ground cumin
 1/2 tsp. red pepper
 Brown steak in oil in a large Dutch oven. Add remaining ingredients; bring to a boil. Reduce heat; and simmer 2 to 3 hours, stirring frequently. If a thicker chili is desired, simmer an additional hour, stirring frequently.
 Makes 8 servings.

TEXAS RED BEANS
 2 pounds dried pinto beans
 4 quarts water
 1 pound salt pork, washed and diced
 1 onion, chopped
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1/2 tsp. salt
 Sort and wash beans. Place in a large Dutch oven, and cover with water. Let soak overnight. Add remaining ingredients, and bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer for 3 hours or until desired degree of doneness, adding water if necessary.
 Make 8 to 10 servings.

GRAPEFRUIT AVOCADO SALAD
 4 medium-size ripe avocados, peeled and sliced
 2 tbs. lemon or lime juice
 4 medium-size pink grapefruits, peeled and sectioned
 Leaf lettuce
 Green or red maraschino cherries (optional)
French dressing
 Sprinkle avocado slices with lemon juice; toss well. Arrange avocado and grapefruit slices on lettuce leaves. Cover and chill 2 to 3 hours. Serve with French dressing. Garnish with green or red maraschino cherries, if desired.
 Makes 6 to 8 servings.

French Dressing
 1 cup olive oil
 1/4 cup vinegar
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 2 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. pepper
 Combine all ingredients, mixing well; cover and refrigerate 1 to 2 hours. Makes about 2 cups.

FLOUR TORTILLAS
 4 cups all-purpose flour
 2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. baking powder
 3/4 cup shortening
 1 cup plus 3 tbs. hot water
 Combine flour, salt, and baking powder; stir well. Cut in shortening with a pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Gradually stir in water, mixing well. Shape dough into 1 1/2-inch balls; roll each on a floured surface into a 6-inch circle. Cook tortillas in an ungreased skillet over medium-high heat about 2 minutes on each side or until lightly browned. Pat tortillas lightly with spatula while browning the second side if they puff while cooking. Serve hot.
 Makes about 2 dozen.

SOPAPILLAS
 1 package dry yeast
 1/4 cup warm water (105 to 115 degrees)
 4 cups all-purpose flour
 1 1/2 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. baking powder
 2 tbs. sugar
 1 tbs. shortening
 1 1/2 cups milk, scalded and cooled
 Vegetable oil
 Powdered sugar (optional)
 Honey (optional)
 Dissolve yeast in warm water;

Bowls of home-style chili served with Texas red beans and flour tortillas are a favorite.

let stand 5 minutes. Combine flour, salt, baking powder, and sugar; cut in shortening. Make a well in center of mixture. Add yeast mixture and milk, mixing well. (Dough will be sticky). Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface, and knead 15 to 20 times. Roll dough to 1/4-inch thickness; cut into 3-inch squares.
 Heat 1/4 of oil in a large skillet to about 370 degrees. Gently place dough squares in oil, a few at a time, lightly pressing down with a spatula until dough starts to bubble and puff. Turn and cook on other side until barely golden in color; drain. Sprinkle with powdered sugar or serve with honey, if desired.

NOTE: When frying sopapillas, leave a few in skillet while adding additional ones. The ones left in the skillet will absorb the heat of the oil and keep it from overheating.

Eight-year-old wins grand national title

Cassie Henkel, 8, daughter of Billy and Tena Henkel of Sterling City Route won the title of Grand National Queen at the Stars of the U.S.A. National pageant in Dallas July 24.

She competed against girls ages 0 to 18-year-old.

In addition to being crowned the over-all queen, she also won Little Miss Model, Pro-Am model, and the beauty and talent competition.

She received an all-expense paid trip to London, England, crowns, banners, trophies and $300 in savings bonds.

CASSIE HENKEL ...crowned over-all queen

Broken plans break bride's bank and heart

DEAR ABBY: I became engaged last Christmas. We set our wedding date for June. When Joe (not his real name) proposed to me, he revealed that he had lived with a girl before I knew him. She became pregnant; he didn't want to marry her; she didn't want an abortion, so she had the baby. Joe convinced me, and my mother and father, that he had no obligation whatsoever to this woman or the child—that his attorney had settled it with her and her attorney. Joe is 29 and I am 24.

Two weeks before our wedding date, Joe told me that he had been "suddenly" served with papers for child support, and he decided to support this child, and ask for visiting rights as well!

Because our life together would be changed drastically, and because I think Joe lied to me about his obligation to his child, I called the wedding off. My parents spent thousands of dollars preparing for our wedding—the deposit on the hall (not refundable), my gown and trousseau, engraved invitations, deposit for flowers, etc. I think Joe should repay my parents for all this. Joe disagrees because I'm the one who called the wedding off. (I called it off because he misrepresented himself and his intentions.)

I need your opinion.

BROKENHEARTED IN N.J.

DEAR BROKENHEARTED: I'm in your corner. Retain an attorney and have him work it out with Joe's attorney. (I hope that Joe has his attorney on a retainer. If he hasn't, he should.)

Rejoice. You could have married this man. I think you (and your parents) got off cheap.

DEAR ABBY: Last year I was widowed, so my daughter and son-in-law took me on a little trip to cheer me up. When I returned, I learned that my neighbor, who had been a dear friend of many years, came to my home and took my old dog to the veterinarian and had him "put out of his misery" — that's the way she put it.

Granted, the dog was on his last legs and he wouldn't have lasted much longer, but I was devastated. She explained that my dog would have to be put to sleep soon anyway and she knew I wouldn't have the heart to do it, and she thought she was doing me a big favor.

I just cannot get over the unmitigated gall of this woman to have taken it upon herself to do such a thing. My daughter thinks I should take legal action against the neighbor for kidnapping my pet and putting him to death, and also the veterinarian who performed the job. What do you think?

DEAR STILL: What happened was presumptuous and outrageous. But a legal judgment will not compensate for the pain of your premature loss. Your neighbor undoubtedly meant to do a kindness for a dear friend. Forgive her.

Thursday Notes

Chalk one up for the pitchers

Let's hear it for the pitchers of the major leagues. After last night's All-Star game, it restored my confidence in the pitching forces of pro baseball.

The way the first half of the season had gone, I had just about come to the conclusion that only a handful of hurlers could prevent a good hitting team from scoring less than five runs.

But the National League's 2-0 win Tuesday night changed all of that.

For 13 long innings the best hitters in the world weren't even close to the same level as the best pitchers in the world. And this is the year of the juiced-up ball; the year of the home-run brigade. This is the summer lab technicians are busily picking apart baseballs.

If the ball is juiced-up, they must have slipped in some balls from the late '70s and early '80s — a time when hitting 40 homers in a season and driving in 120 runs was considered a worthy feat.

Those statistics contrast considerably with this year's, which show sluggers like Mark McGwire and Jack Clark are at paces to hit 61 homers and drive 160 runs.

It was a different story in the All-Star game. Hitters haven't looked so hapless since the darkest days of baseball's power shortage — two decades ago when the sport was so desperate for offense that juicing up the ball was being considered.

That was when league officials also pondered lowering the pitching mound and toyed with the designated hitter's rule.

During one All-Star stretch, AL pitchers retired nine straight batters; in another, they retired 13 of 14. No NL runner made it to third base until the ninth inning.

Only one AL runner made it that far, and he was a dead duck when he tried to score. It was the ninth inning when Dave Winfield tried to score the winning run and was thrown out at the plate on a fine play by pitcher Steve Bedrosian.

It wasn't a bad idea, considering the AL had only four hits to that point.

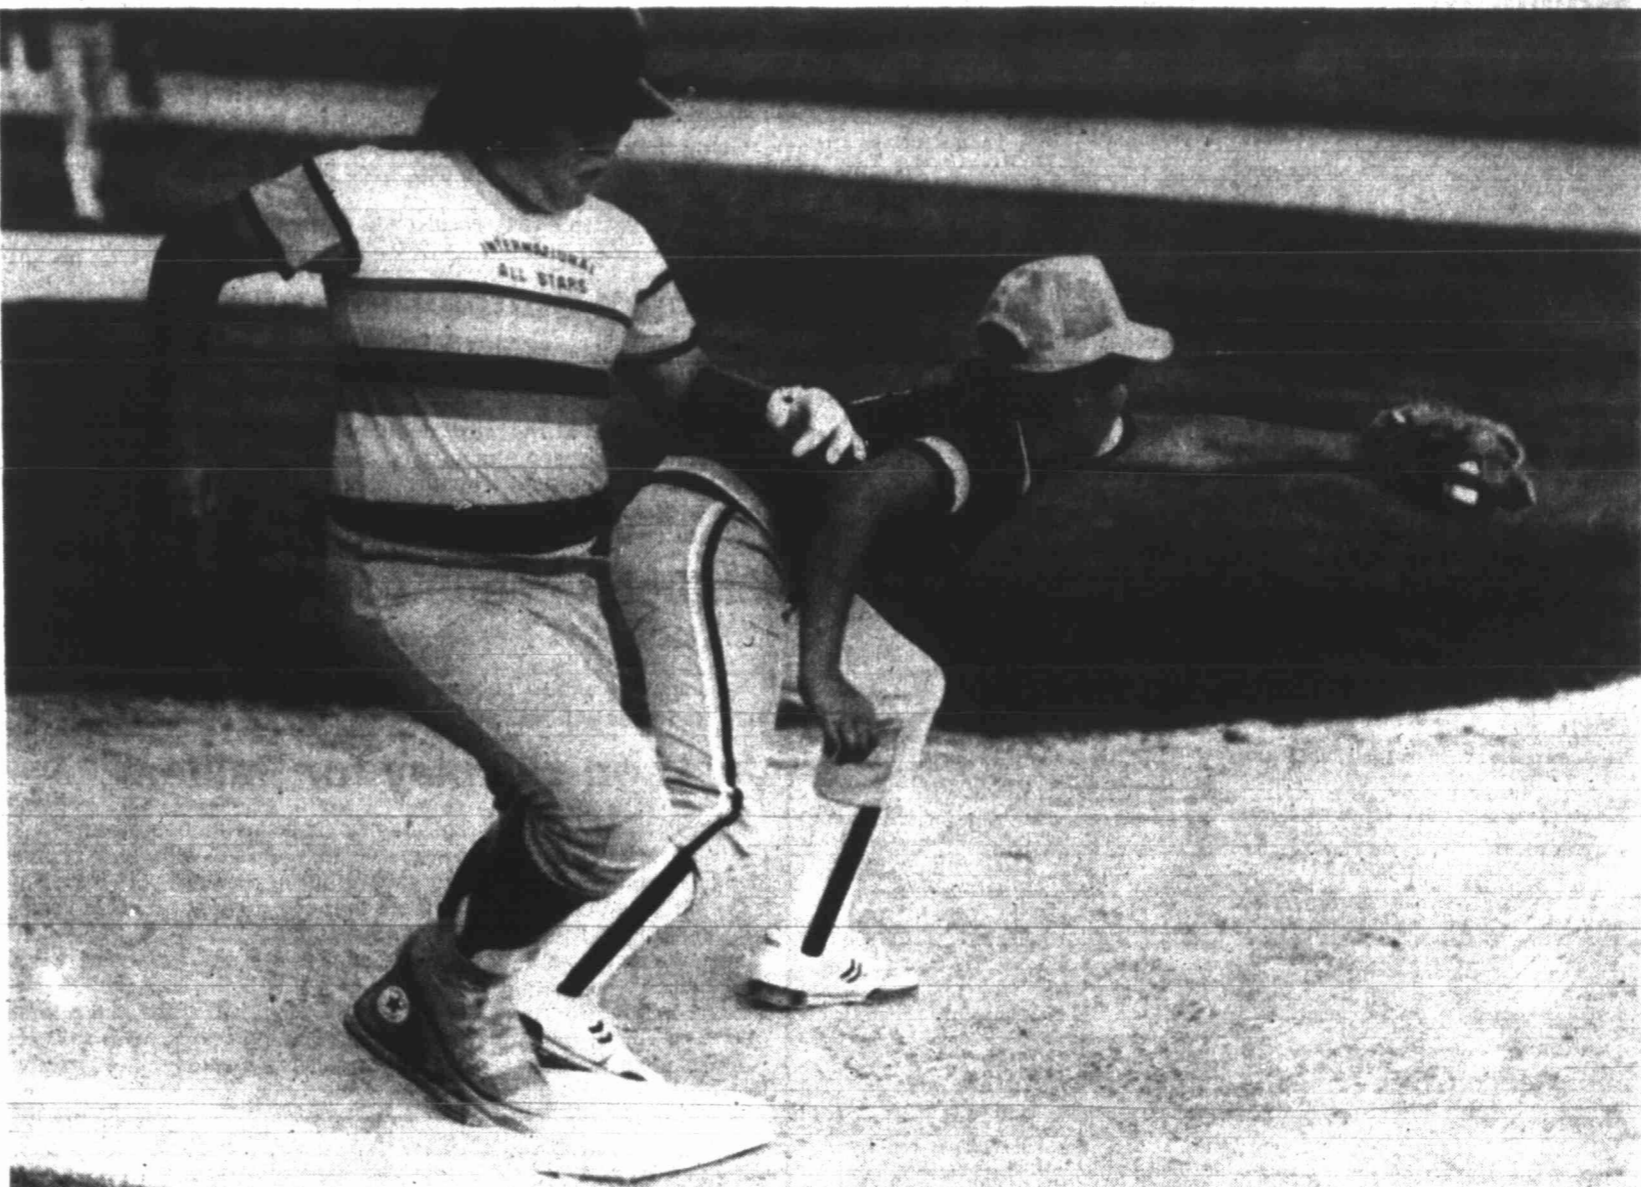

I know three-fourths of the game was played in twilight, with shadows creeping across the field, folding half of it in sunlight and the rest in shade. It had to affect the hitters.

But during the last five innings the shadows were gone. It should have been the hitter's time to shine. Instead, in the last five innings, the two sides combined for only five hits.

"What's the old saying? Good pitching stops good hitting," said AL outfielder Kirby Puckett, answering his own question.

NL first baseman Keith Hernandez echoed those sentiments.

Big Spring International League pitcher Joey Perez gets to first just before the throw from Lamesa second baseman Jimmy Rodriguez to first baseman Michael Garcia. Perez was called safe to avoid the near double-play. He had hit the ball to short, and Richard Perez was thrown out at second before the throw. Lamesa won the game 10-1 to advance in the winners' bracket of the district all-star tournament in Big Spring.

Homers sink IL All-Stars

While the bats of the major league all-stars were sleeping Tuesday night in Oakland, the bats of the Lamesa all-stars were rocking and reeking at American League park.

Nathaniel Scott smashed two solo home runs and Cole Adams hit a two-run shot to lead the Lamesa stars past the Big Spring International League All-Stars 10-1 in first round action of the District III All-Star Tournament.

In other games last night, Midland Tower beat last year's champs Odessa Jim Parker, 1-0; and West Odessa beat Odessa North East Texas 3-2.

With Scott and Adams leading the offense, Lamesa pitcher Wesley Diaz was making it easy on his defense. Diaz struck out 12 and surrendered just four hits and four walks. The Lamesa fielders played superbly, making just one error.

The International's pitcher, Joey Perez, opened the game by walking Lamesa shortstop Marty Martinez, who stole second and then third before scoring on Jonathon Contreras' RBI infield ground-out.

The home team held the damage to one run when shortstop Billy Breedlove showed a strong arm by gunning Lamesa's Roman Salazar out at first.

International's right fielder Richard Perez made it look deceptively easy when he opened the bottom half of the first with a single into right-field against Diaz. The Lamesa pitcher didn't allow another hit until the fourth, and by that time his team had a comfortable 6-0 cushion.

Diaz started a one-out rally in the second when he knocked a single into left. Scott, who would go three for three, lined a single that appeared to go through Perez's glove. Louiz Macias walked to load the bases.

With Martinez back at the plate, Diaz scored on a wild pitch, and Scott came in moments later when he beat the throw to the plate from International's first baseman Larry Thomas. Martinez had grounded to the pitcher, who threw him out at first.

With Macias on second, Thomas came to the plate. Meanwhile, many of the fans had been looking on with envy at eight Lamesa fans perched on a big camper parked outside the fence in left-center. One fan was heard to mutter that he'd pay the player who could hit the camper.

Thomas almost made him pay up. His two-run shot had the aim, but it appeared to fall just short of the trailer. It went over the fence, but a thump was not heard. Still, Thomas' blast was enough to give the Lamesas a 5-0 lead after two.

Louis Bustamante opened the bottom of the second by walking and stealing second, but Diaz struck out the next three batters to squish the rally.

Neither team had a hit or run in the third, though the International's threatened when Thomas walked and Saul Burciaga crushed the ball towards center. But Lamesa second baseman Jimmy Rodriguez stabbed the hot shot to end the inning.

Hitters' game turns into dud

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The All-Star Game ventured into the twilight zone again to boost television ratings and found itself back in the dead-ball era.

A string of zeros stretched across the scoreboard until the 13th inning Tuesday night when Tim Raines tripled home two runs to give the National League a 2-0 victory over the American League.

More than a dozen pitchers, part of a beleaguered brotherhood victimized by so-called "juiced-up" balls this year, took the sluggers back to a time of low scores and earned homers.

It was a brand of baseball rarely seen this year, a mound duel spiced with some spectacular defense that perhaps only a true baseball fan could really enjoy.

They played in a squinty twilight in which pitcher Jack Morris said he could hardly see the plate and .375 hitter Wade Boggs said he could barely see the ball.

Bret Saberhagen threw the first pitch at 5:40 p.m. PDT, prime time in the East. The starting time was chosen to please NBC-TV, but not the batters.

While home runs are up 22 percent in the majors this year, the only balls that came close were fly ball outs in the 10th by Kevin Seitzer and the seventh by Mark McGwire, the major league leader with 33 homers.

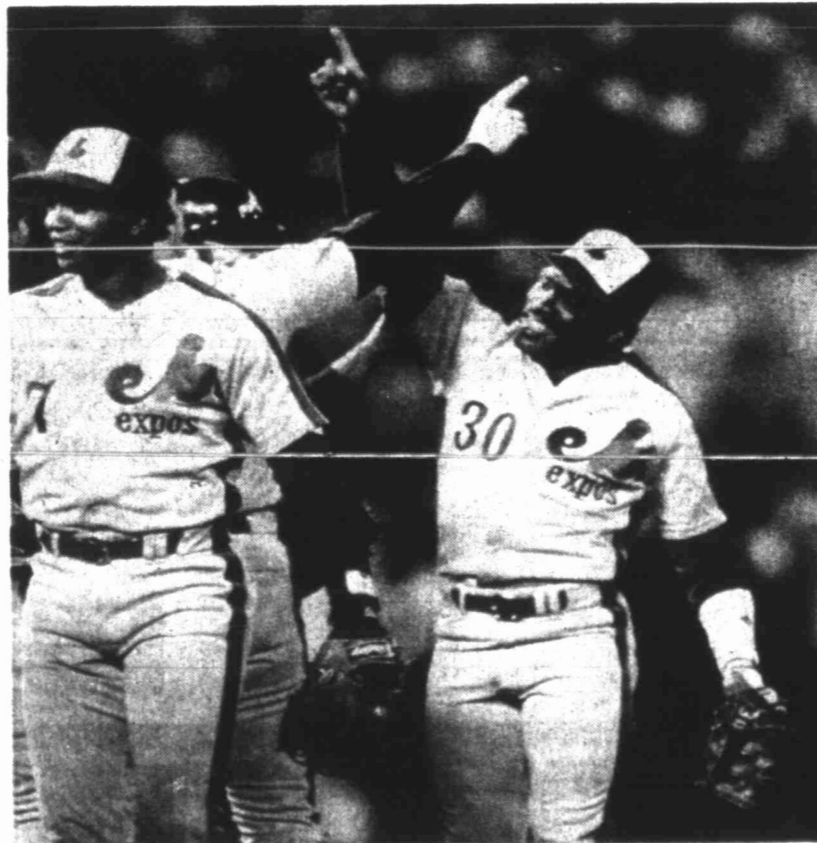

McGwire said he didn't hit his fly ball well, but thought it might fall in the right field corner.

"So much for the lively ball, right?" he said.

The pitchers, of course, didn't mind seeing the batters struggle.

Saberhagen, pitching with the shadows creeping over the front of the infield, threw three innings of one-hit ball against a lineup that boasted 140 homers among its first seven batters.

It was the third-longest All-Star Game in history, exceeded only by 15 innings in 1967 and 14 in 1950, and it kept the Nationals unbeaten in eight extra-inning games.

All-Star game Most Valuable Player Tim Raines (30) of the Montreal Expos celebrates the National League's 2-0 victory over the American League with teammates at Oakland Coliseum.

The NL now leads the series 27-20-1 and has won 14 of the last 16, 22 of 25. The AL, which was trying to win two in a row for the first time since 1957-58, instead was shut out for the fourth time.

In 1984, when the game was last played in twilight in San Francisco's Candlestick Park, pitchers notched 21 strikeouts. This time, they struck out 17.

Meanwhile the batters cursed the semi-darkness and marched meekly from the plate. The Nationals managed only eight hits, the Americans six in the first All-Star Game to go scoreless for more than five innings.

The Americans nearly won the game in the ninth, but the winning run was cut down at home plate after NL reliever Steve Bedrosian made a diving save of a wide throw to first base by shortstop Hubie Brooks. Bedrosian threw home where Virgil withstood a collision with Dave Winfield for an inning-ending double play.

"It was just full extension, one of those Ozzie Smith-type catches," Bedrosian said. "I just went for it. You either do it or you don't."

Bedrosian walked Winfield. After a sacrifice bunt by Tony Fernandez, Dwight Evans drew another walk to put runners at first and second.

Harold Reynolds followed with a grounder to the right side. It was fielded by first baseman Keith Hernandez, who threw to second to force Evans. Bedrosian was covering first when he made his saving game-saving dive.

"You saved the game," Brooks told Bedrosian.

"I thought I was going to have a little more time," Virgil said. "I looked up and he (Winfield) was there. All I saw was his shirt. He's like a Mack truck."

The only batter to solve the pitchers was Raines, who had three hits after entering the game in the seventh. He said he promised his wife one hit, but the last one was for the guys in the dugout.

"A couple of guys told me they were about to go to sleep on the bench," Raines said.

The Montreal speedster, 0-for-7 in six previous All-Star Games, jumped up and down when he reached third base after driving home Virgil and Brooks with the winning runs off Oakland's Jay Howell.

"It was just a thrill knowing when I rounded second that I had knocked in the winning runs," said Raines, who won the game's Most Valuable Player and made the point he tried to make all winter as an unwanted free agent.

He missed spring training and didn't play until May 2 because he felt he should be paid with the game's best players. With no offers, he finally re-signed with Montreal.

"I've proven myself in the last six years," said Raines. "If people haven't realized that, it's their fault."

Howell, whose 4.96 earned run average was the highest among the 17 All-Star pitchers, heard boos coming and going. The home crowd lustily booed the Oakland reliever during introductions and razed him after he gave up the winning hit.

Lee Smith pitched three innings of two-hit ball with four strikeouts for the victory, and the New York Mets' Sid Fernandez, the last player left on the NL roster, pitched the 13th for a save.

Queens sign guard

The Howard College Hawk-Queens have signed Lonia Hutchon, a 5-5 guard from George Washington High School in San Francisco.

Hutchon averaged 26.3 points, 10 steals, 12 assists and five rebounds per game her junior year, when she was named first team all-city. She also shot 80 percent from the foul line.

Her stats were similarly impressive for her freshman and sophomore years, but she didn't play her senior year because of knee surgery.

Queens' coach Don Stevens said Hutchon is an excellent shooter and ball-handler who can play either the point or shooting guard positions.

"I am very pleased to sign a player possessing the talents Lonia has. She has the quickness and shooting touch that will ensure success at the college level," Stevens said.

Hutchon was first team all-city her freshman and sophomore years as well. She averaged 29.3 points per game her freshman year, and 24.6 her sophomore year.

George Washington made the state play-offs in each of Hutchon's three seasons.

Texas' hunters to get a boost

AUSTIN (AP) — Charles Allen called it an historic event and he could be right. Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's new wildlife-division director (he took the job in March) is not one to let grass grow under his feet.

Recently, Allen announced the signing of the first Type II Wildlife Management Area (WMA) agreements, which promise to put low-cost hunting at the fingertips of the average sportsman.

The Type II WMA concept is a risky business in Texas, where tradition states that you either hunt for free on the state's scant public areas or pay a landowner to hunt on private property. Some landowners are going to view Allen's ambitious plan as a threat to their hunting business, and some hunters are going to see Type II WMAs as removing from the public domain some properties they once hunted for free.

"It would have been safe for me to come in here and not mess with the system," says Allen. "It boiled down to a question of whether I want to keep a job or do a job. We know we'll have some problems with Type II WMAs the first year, but that's the risk I'm willing to run to offer low-cost public hunting."

In other words, the bases are loaded with potential hunters and Allen is swinging for the fences.

In June, he signed agreements with two East Texas timber giants, Kirby Lumber Co., a subsidiary of Louisiana Pacific, and Temple-Eastex, to place 186,000 acres in the Type II WMA program.

Allen and his staff are juggling, considering and scouting for additional properties daily, eventually including some U.S. Forest Service lands that hunters are accustomed to using for free. He hopes to have more than 300,000 acres in the program by the time hunting permits go on sale Aug. 1.

Under the Type II program, a hunter may purchase a $35 annual permit that provides him access to any Type II property. Youths under 13 may hunt for free when accompanied by a parent with a permit.

TP&W has Type I WMA hunting available on more than 200,000 state-owned acres, but Type I big game hunts are allowed on a drawing bases and the state is unable to keep up with demand. Last year, there were 24,000 applications for 6,800 gun deer hunts allowed on Type I WMAs.

Moreover, those Type I hunts are for two days and cost $40.

"What happens with Type I WMAs is that a hunter, even if he gets drawn for a hunt, cannot spontaneously decide he wants to go hunting on a given weekend," Allen explains. "He can't take his kids on a Type I hunt, and we need a program that gives youngsters a place to hunt. They're the sportsmen of tomorrow."

On Aug. 1, when Type II permits go on sale in 28 TP&W law enforcement offices statewide, they will be accompanied by a map that shows the location of Type II properties. The Hunter buys his $35 permit and decides where he intends to hunt.

Allen says Type II properties will eventually cover the spectrum of outdoors recreational opportunities from hiking, bird watching and fishing to hunting of most popular game species.

"Nobody without a permit will be allowed on the Type II WMAs," says Allen. "That means hikers and bird watchers will be required to buy a permit, as will the hunters. Half of our operating budget goes to law enforcement to make sure people who don't buy permits are not using the land."

Protection of the property is a big attraction to participants such as Temple-Eastex and Kirby, who have followed the popular trend of closing their land to the general public because of abuse.

Landowners who participate in the program will also receive other benefits, including state management and stocking of game along with lease payments. Under Allen's plan, landowners should receive about 19 cents per acre for their Type II WMA properties the first year, escalating to $1.45 per acre by the third year.

from the CARROLL RIGNER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1987

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Use resourcefulness and ingenuity to overcome minor problems in business and personal affairs. This will inspire trust in your associates and help you progress in many areas.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Concentrate on business matters today — home worries can wait for now. The evening is good for social affairs.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You may have difficulty communicating with people other than relatives today, so stay at home as much as possible.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Postpone dealing with money matters and assist a friend. Visiting would be nice, but be sure to drive carefully.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) If someone makes a strange comment, don't take offense, as it may not have been meant for you directly.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Continuing to procrastinate would be a big mistake. Take care of those problems which have needed attention.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Steer clear of people who usually impose on you. Get together with friends you haven't seen for a long time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Today is a bad time for asking favors of an important person, as he or she may be too busy to help you right now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Contact those who have been successful and get their advice. You know little about this area, so don't go solo.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Avoid arguing about bills before you double check the facts. Be alert to a great opportunity nearby.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A problem between you and a partner is best left to blow over. Relax at home tonight with some quiet entertainment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Speak to a public figure you know about how to improve your situation. Listen carefully to advice given you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Forget about that expensive recreation and concentrate on problems which require immediate attention.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she should be taught to overcome nervousness with reason and logic. Be sure to give your child plenty of praise for a job well done, but don't dwell on shortcomings. Having plenty of good books around would be a good way to help pique intellectual curiosity.

Area youth in horse show

Herald staff report
The top youth horsemen of Texas — including three from Howard County — will participate in the 1987 State 4-H Horse Show in Abilene, July 20-25.

The silver anniversary show will begin at 6 p.m. July 20 with a cutting horse competition and continue through July 22 with a qualifying show, according to Howard County Agricultural Extension Agent Don Richardson.

Some 500 youth and their horses are expected to participate in the annual event, said B.F. Yeates, horse specialist with the Extension Service. The Extension Service is the parent organization of the 4-H program.

The three Howard County horsemen that will be involved are Wade and Jody Carper, Coahoma, and Dane Driver, Big Spring, Richardson said.

In addition to the cutting horse competition, the open show will feature events in judged roping, breakaway roping, team roping, reining, hunter jack, hunter under saddle, hunter seat equitation, working hunter, jumping, filly futurity, gelding futurity and western pleasure futurity.

An added feature of this year's show will be a reining horse clinic.

Peter Young, right, is manager and Angela Young assistant manager of the Happy Chinese restaurant in College Park, which is scheduled to open July 16. Business hours will be 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. The first 50 customers will receive a gift, Peter Young said.

Indigent care costs below local budget

Howard County has spent 35 percent of the $342,000 budgeted for indigent health care, County Auditor Jackie Olson said.

Olson presented a report on indigent care during today's meeting of the Howard County Commissioners Court.

The report details how much money was spent on each individual since the program began in October. It adds that 80 cases have been processed and 30 of them were denied.

The most assistance given was $13,706 to a person hospitalized for 26 days.

Herald to sponsor parade

By Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce

Clint Holloman, Business Committee Chairman, has announced that during the last committee meeting, the Big Spring Herald agreed to become the sponsor for the annual Holiday Parade each December.

The committee members and chamber will continue to be actively involved in the planning and coordinating of the parade, but the sponsorship will go to the Herald.

The Texas Good Roads Association has proposed a resolution that the Transportation Committee has taken to the chamber's Executive Committee for approval.

The resolution seeks continued highway financing at the level established by the State Legislature in 1984. Specifically, the resolution covers three points:

1. It urges the Legislature to make the 15-cent-per-gallon state fuel tax permanent.

2. It urges state officials to follow the mandate of Texas voters in continuing to use state and federal highway user fees for the intended purpose — to improve state highways.

3. And it opposes proposed increases in the federal fuel tax for general revenue spending.

The chamber's Executive Committee approved the resolution and is sending it to Austin.

Each quarter the chamber has a drawing for $250 to go to any member who has displayed outstanding service in membership recruitment. Each membership dollar sold by a member gains one point.

After 360 points, the member is eligible to be included in the $250 drawing. Each 120 points over the initial 360 adds the member's name one more time to the drawing.

This quarter Dean Spencer had his name in the pot four times; Tito Arencibia two times; and Mike Weaver two times. Tito was the winner.

The Beautification Committee has announced a desire to increase Big Spring's possibilities in winning the Governor's Award for Beautification for next year.

The winner in each population category receives $50,000 in assistance in beautification projects for the city.

This year Big Spring was one of six finalists in its population category.

Two of the six competition areas were considered to be weak for Big Spring — public awareness and education in the schools.

These two areas are what the Beautification Committee will emphasize during the next year to increase Big Spring's chances of being a $50,000 winner.

Belt buckle No. 5 still is available in the chamber office. Several of them, which depict the rattlesnake, still are available in solid brass for $20.

Belt buckle No. 6, depicting the longhorn steer, will be available about mid-August.

Weddings

Everett-Haley

LOS ANGELES — Carleen Marie Everett and Bee Haley, both of Big Spring, were united in marriage at 4 p.m. on June 27 at the Chapel of the Wedding Bells in Bellflower, Calif. with the Rev. Harold Baker, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Clair E. Everett of Artesia, Calif., who celebrated their 34th wedding anniversary the same day. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Simmit Haley of Haleyville, Ala.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with two candelabrum and a unity candle flanked by two baskets filled with pink and white carnations and white orchids with greenery. The pews were decorated with candles and pink bows.

Vocalists were Brian Everett, cousin of the bride, of Minneapolis, Minn. and Leslie Everett, uncle of the bride, of Pipestone, Minn. The bride and bridegroom sang a duet — "Always" — and the bridegroom sang "Forever and Ever Amen" to the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She wore a formal-length gown of white silk organza fashioned with a Victorian neckline and leg-o-mutton sleeves overlaid with appliques of schiffli embroidery and embellished with pearls. Schiffli embroidery appliques adorned the A-line skirt and chapel-length train. She also wore a garter, which was worn by her mother on her wedding day.

Her headpiece was a V-shaped band of pearls with crystals and a pearl side spray accented with silk flowers and an o filamend edge pouff and veil.

She carried a cascading bouquet with rumburum lilies, pink roses, white carnations, stephanotis and fern.

Matron of honor was Gail Meeter of Fullerton, Calif. Bridesmaids were Beth Everett, cousin of the bride, of Lubbock and Debbie Everett, cousin of the bride, of Mankato, Minn.

Flower girl was Allison Greer of Westminster, Calif. Ring bearer was Seth Haley, son of the bridegroom, of Haleyville, Ala.

Best man was Heath Haley, son of the bridegroom, of Haleyville, Ala. Groomsmen were Dennis Everett, brother of the bride, of Phoenix, Ariz. and John Greer of Azusa, Calif.

Ushers were Kenny Everett, brother of the bride, of Westminster, Calif. and Bruce Everett, brother of the bride, of Cypress, Calif.

Candlelighters were Robbie and Billy Everett, nephews of the bride, of Lakewood, Calif. Guest book was Jean Everett, sister-in-law of the bride, of Cypress, Calif.

After the wedding, the couple and wedding party were taken an outdoor reception at the home of the bride's brother in Westminster in a limousine. The bride and bridegroom's table featured a large flower arrangement featuring the same flowers used in the bride's bouquet. The couple's traditional four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with pink flowers with silver leaves and topped with a C&R Unique Ornaments bridegroom holding a bride called the "Be Couple."

The bride is a graduate of Richard Gahr High School in Cerritos, Calif. and California State University at Fullerton where she majored in communications with an emphasis in public relations and minored in Spanish. She is the lifestyle editor at the Big Spring Herald.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Haleyville High School and is a singer and rhythm guitarist for the Heart of Texas Band at the Brass Nail Nightclub.

After a wedding trip to Las Vegas and vacationing in Southern California, the couple has made their home in Big Spring.

Robison-Simmons

MRS. JOHN SIMMONS ...formerly Elizabeth Robison

AUSTIN — Elizabeth Michelle Robison and John Edmond Simmons exchanged wedding vows July 3 at the First United Methodist Church in Austin with the Rev. Dr. Jack Heacock, officiating.

Parents of the bride are former Big Spring residents Mrs. James R. Connor, now of Austin, and Carlisle Robison, now of Richardson.

Bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Mary Scott of Bastrop and Joe Simmons of Snyder.

The bride attended Richland College and Sam Houston State University and is employed by the Texas Industrial Accident Board. The bridegroom attended Odessa College and Southwest Texas State University. He is employed by White Construction Company.

Anniversary

The Eddie Everetts

Eddie and Ada Everett, 2707 Larry Dr., will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with a reception today from 2-4 p.m. at their home. Hosts for the occasion are children and grandchildren of the couple: Eddie, Buddy and Ken Everett, all of Midland; and Dick and Carolyn Stein; Richie Stein, Toni and Ron Perry, and Tami and Roger Morris, all of Denison.

Everett was born in Gatesville and Mrs. Everett, the former Ada Appling, was born in Wichita Falls.

The couple met in December 1936 while visiting friends in Brackettville where Everett was stationed in the United States Army. The couple was married July 3, 1937 at the Methodist Parsonage with the Rev. L.G. Beasley, officiating.

Children of the couple are Eddie B. Everett of Midland and Carolyn Stein of Denison. They have five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

During their marriage, the couple has lived in Monahans; McCamey; Hobbs, N.M.; Denver City; and Big Spring.

Everett is retired from Shell Oil Company after 38 years.

CARLA BENNETT

Carla Bennett has become associated with ERA Reeder Realtors, 506 E. Fourth St.

She is a member of the Big Spring Board of Realtors, the Texas Association of Realtors and the National Association of Realtors.

Bennett is married to Lee Bennett. The couple has three daughters: Melissa, 13; Tammy, 10; and Amy, 8. They are members of Midway Baptist Church. Bennett enjoys horseback riding and visiting friends.

Morrison-McMurray

LOMETA — Cheryl Morrison, 2609 Wason Rd. #30, became the bride of Wade McMurray, 1011 E. 14th St., at 7 p.m. on June 27 at the Church of Christ in Lometa with Edwin Young, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Morrison of Lometa. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edman McMurray of Big Spring.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with a white archway with greenery and white flowers flanked by two wicker baskets of gladiolas, spider mums and greenery with two large ferns.

Billie Nobles was the organist and Weldon Kirby and Kim Becker were the vocalists.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an organza gown with beaded schiffli yoke and collar. A silk venise bodice and basque waist which flowed into a beautiful semi-cathedral length train.

She carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias, sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Denise Morrison, sister of the bride, of Lometa. Bridesmaids were Wendy

MRS. WADE MCMURRAY ...formerly Cheryl Morrison

Hodge of Lometa; Leanne Richardson, cousin of the bride, of Brownwood; and Mary Anne Lowe of San Angelo.

Best man was Edman McMurray, father of the bridegroom, of Big Spring. Groomsmen were Jerry Price of Austin; Ramon

Miranda of Garland; and Nicke Lowe of San Angelo.

Ushers were Tommy Morrison, brother of the bride, of Lometa and Eddie West, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, of Lometa.

After the wedding, a reception was hosted at the Church of Christ Annex. The bride's table, draped with an Army/Navy cloth covered a royal blue cloth and centered with the bride's bouquet, featured a three-tiered traditional white cake with pillars between layers and blue roses topped with a traditional bride and bridegroom.

The bridegroom's table, draped with a blue cloth overlaid with a white fringed cloth, featured a two-layered chocolate cake decorated with the bridegroom's initials. A silver coffee service and blue flowers centered the table.

The bride is a graduate of Lometa High School and Angelo State University. She is the assistant manager at Wal-Mart.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Forsan High school and Angelo State University. He is the manager at the Water Store.

After a wedding trip to Austin, the couple has made their home at 2609 Wason Road #30.

Local Rainbow Girls return from session

The Big Spring Assembly #60 International Order of the Rainbow for Girls returned home late Wednesday night from a four-day session of the grand assembly of Texas.
 More than 1,600 attended the annual meeting, which was conducted in the Taylor County Coliseum in Abilene. Mrs. Pearl Mills, supreme deputy in Texas with Tammy Jaye Booker, grand worthy advisor, presiding.
 Rebecca Reed of Big Spring was appointed to be grand representative from new York to Texas at the Grand Assembly in Houston in 1986.
 She received another grand appointment this year — to be the junior member of the Grand Historian Committee for 1987-'88.

 Twelve Big Spring assembly girls attended. They were Sonnet Summers, Ruth Oliver, Shawn Rhoads, Rebecca Reed, Shawna Tidwell, Marci Weaver, Stephanie Mauch, Joy Petty, Susan Aaron, Kristen Marshall, Amber Grisham and April Williams.
 Adults who attended were Adele Tibbs, Ina Stewart, Al Tidwell, Byron Smith, Ann Weaver, Virginia Oliver, Ann Read and mother advisor Mrs. Edie Fryar. Big Spring Assembly was the co-host this year.
 Stephanie Mauch and Susan Amber sang in the grand choir. Mrs. Edie Fryar, who has been mother advisor for Big Spring Assembly for many years is also a grand visitor for grand assembly for the five assembly in the area — Midland, Odessa and Big Spring.

 She accepted the appointment of grand visitor again for 1987-'88 grand assembly which will be in Lubbock in June 1988.

College classes require test

Howard College news service Students who plan to enter Howard College and take English and math this fall now are required to take a placement test.
 Howard College officials say that students enrolled in college work equal to their ability level are more likely to be successful and achieve their desired educational and career objectives.
 The first testing dates are July 16 and 30, as well as Aug. 11 and 18, from 8 a.m. to noon, 1 to 5 p.m., or 6 to 9 p.m. Spring testing dates are listed in the District Calendar at the front of the catalog.
 The testing program to assess students registering for certain courses applied to English 1301, Mathematics 303, 307, 1302, 1303, 1306, 1309, 1311, and any other mathematics course offered if the student has not taken a mathematics course previously at the college.

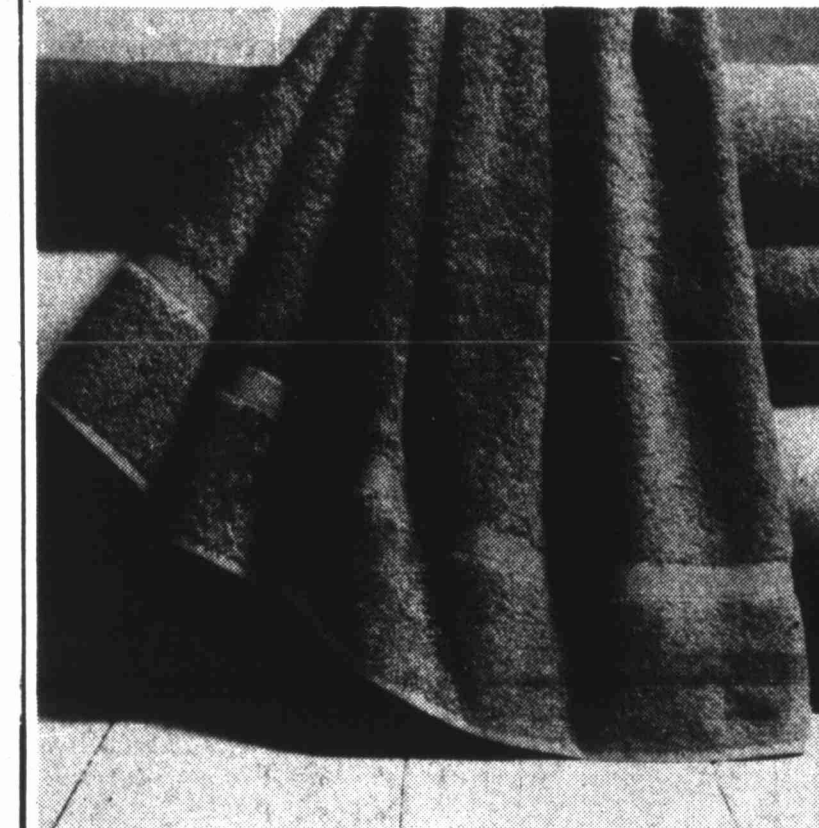

The testing will occur during the registration time in the coliseum, and early testing is encouraged to help counselors have sufficient time to interpret results.
 Students who have taken the ACT or SAT examinations may substitute satisfactory scores for Howard College's placement tests for English 1301.
 A score of 12 on the ACT or 300 on the SAT are acceptable.
 An appeal process is available to any student who can show by high school grades, a college transcript, or additional test scores that their Howard College placement test is not indicative of their academic skills.
 Such evidence should be presented to the counselors in the Guidance and Counseling Center prior to registration. The counselors will evaluate the information, and a decision will be issued as deemed appropriate.

Furniture Doctor prescribes TLC

RX: TENDER LOVING CARE — No repair job is too difficult for The Furniture Doctor. Recent items brought to the Doctor's office include a 1920's buffet that was damaged in a fire, nesting tables that got caught in a flooded house, and a set of antique folding chairs rescued from a dismantled courthouse. The Doctor's staff includes (left to right) Jan Noyes, Robert Loveless and Craig Neighbors.

Take a good look at the furnishings in your home or office. Chances are you'll find a few pieces that are "ailing" — scratches, loose dowels, faded or out-of-date finish. These are jobs for The Furniture Doctor.

The Furniture Doctor repairs wood or metal furniture, either contemporary or antique.

"We tackle everything," says Jan Noyes, owner, "from smallest repair to total renovation from fire or water damage."

Restoration of antique furniture is a specialty. This includes repairs, parts replacement or "complete refinishing from just plain old age," says Jan.

The Furniture Doctor has hard-to-find specialty hardware for trunks and cedar chests, desk locks, brass hardware, screws and other antique accessories.

A visit to The Furniture Doctor's office may find the staff working on such diverse jobs as restoring an upright piano, stripping an ornate door, refinishing a chest or desk, stripping an antique child's rocker, and refinishing a fire-damaged buffet.

In the carpenter shop, The Furniture Doctor's staff performs repairs as small as gluing a chair to manufacturing replacement parts. They repair veneers, replace sheet cane, weave rush chair seats and repair minor vinyl damage from burns and tears. They turn table and chair legs, stretchers, rungs and chair backs.

In the strip shop, the staff chemically removes paint and varnish finishes from wood and metal, rendering the surface ready for refinishing or painting by the staff or the customer.

In the finish shop, the crew sands, stains, finishes or paints newly stripped furniture, or new furniture and cabinetry.

The Furniture Doctor does make house calls. He will come to your home or office to give estimates, or make minor repairs on the spot. In most cases it is advisable to send the ailing furniture to the Doctor's office where adequate tools are available.

For your furniture repair needs — great or small — call The Furniture Doctor at 267-5811. The firm is affiliated with Bob's Custom Woodwork and is located at 613 Warehouse Road in the Industrial Park. The shop is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. or by appointment.

JUST A MINUTE — Janet Hull peruses one of the handsome inspirational books from Hester's, 209 Runnels. These books, on a variety of subjects, as well as fine quality boxed greeting cards are ideal for those times when you need to send a special remembrance. Hester's, home-owned and operated, is Big Spring's complete shopping haven for office supplies and stationery.
